9 then wrote Rehum the chancellor, and Shimshai the scribe, and the rest of their companions; the Dinaites, and the Apharsathchites, the Tarpelites, the Apharsites, the Archavites, the Babylonians, the Shushanichites, the Dehaites, the Elamites, and the rest of the nations whom the great and noble Osnapper brought over, and set in the city of Samaria, and in the rest of the country beyond the river, and so forth. This is the copy of the letter that they sent unto Artaxerxes the king; Thy servants the men beyond the river, and so forth. Be it known unto the king, that the Jews which came up from thee are come to us unto Jerusalem; they are building the rebellious and the bad city, and have finished the walls, and repaired the foundations. Be it known now unto the king, that, if this city be builded, and the walls finished, they will not pay tribute, custom, or toll, and in the end it will endamage the kings. Now because we eat the salt of the palace, and it is not meet for us to see the king's dishonour, therefore have we sent and certified the king; that search may be made in the book of the records of thy fathers: so shalt thou find in the book of the records, and know that this city is a rebellious city, and hurtful unto kings and provinces, and that they have moved sedition within the same of old time: for which cause was this city laid waste. We certify the king that, if this city be builded, and the walls finished, by this means thou shalt have no portion beyond the river. Then sent the king an answer unto Rehum the chancellor, and to Shimshai the scribe, and to the rest of their companions that dwell in Samaria, and <sup>11</sup>in the rest of the country beyond the river, Peace, and so forth. The letter which ye sent unto us hath been <sup>12</sup>plainly read before me. And I decreed, and search hath been made, and it is found that this city of old time hath made insurrection against kings, and that rebellion and sedition have been made therein. There have been mighty kings also over Jerusalem, which have ruled over all the country beyond the river; and tribute, custom, and toll, was paid unto them. Make ye now a decree to cause these men to cease, and that this city be not builded, until a decree shall be made by me. And take heed that ye be not slack herein: why should damage grow to the hurt of the kings? Then when the copy of king Artaxerxes' letter was read before Rehum, and Shimshai the scribe, and their companions, they went in haste to Jerusalem unto the Jews, and made them to cease by force and power. Then ceased the work of the house of God which is at Jerusalem; and it ceased unto the second year of the reign of Darius king of Persia.

5 Now the prophets, Haggai the prophet, and Zechariah the son of Iddo prophesied unto the Jews that were in Judah and Jerusalem: in the name of the God of Israel I pro-

2 phesied they unto them. Then rose up Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel, and Jeshua the son of Jozadak, and began to build the house of God which is at Jerusalem; and with them were the prophets of God,

3 helping them. At the same time came to them Tattenai, the governor beyond the river, and Shethar-bozenai, and their companions, and said thus unto them, Who gave you a decree to build this house,

4 and to finish this wall? 2 Then spake we unto them after this manner. What are the names of the men that make this building? But the eye of their God was upon the elders of the Jews, and they did not make them cease, till the matter should come to Darius, and then 3 answer should be returned by letter concern-

6 The copy of the letter that Tattenai, the governor beyond the river, and Shethar-bozenai, and his companions the Apharsachites, which were beyond the river, sent unto Darius the king: they sent a letter unto him, wherein was written thus: Unto Darius the king, all peace.

8 Be it known unto the king, that we went into the province of Judah, to the house of the great God, which is builded with great stones, and timber is laid in the walls, and this work goeth on with diligence

9 and prospereth in their hands. Then asked we those elders, and said unto them thus, Who gave you a decree to build this house, and to finish this wall? We asked them their names also, to certify thee, that we might write the names of the men that were at the head of them. And thus they returned us answer, saying, We are the servants of the God of heaven and earth, and build the house that was builded these many years ago, which a great king of Israel builded and finished.

12 But 4 after that our fathers had provoked the God of heaven unto wrath, he gave them into the hand of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, the Chaldean, who destroyed this house and carried the people away into Babylon. But in the first year of Cyrus king of Babylon, Cyrus the king made a decree to build this

13 house of God. And the gold and silver vessels also of the house of God, which Nebuchadnezzar took out of the temple that was in Jerusalem, and brought them into the temple of Babylon, those did Cyrus the king take out of the temple of Babylon, and they were delivered unto whose name was Sheshbazzar, whom he had made governor;

14 and he said unto him, Take these vessels, go, put them in the temple that is in Jerusalem, and let the house of God be builded in its place. Then came the same Sheshbazzar, and laid the foundations of the house of God which is in Jerusalem: and since that time even until now hath it been in building,

17 and yet it is not completed. Now therefore, if it seem good to the king, let there be search made in the king's treasure house, which is there at Babylon, whether it be so, that a decree was made of Cyrus the king to build this house of God at Jerusalem, and let the king send his pleasure to us concerning this matter.

6 Then Darius the king made a decree, and search was made in the house of the 5 archives, where the treasures were laid up in Babylon.

2 And there was found at 5 Achmetha, in the palace that is in the province of Media, a roll, and therein was 3 thus written, for a record. In the first year of Cyrus the king, Cyrus the king made a decree; Concerning the house of God at Jerusalem, let the house be builded, the place where they offer sacrifices, and let the foundations thereof be strongly laid: the height thereof threescore cubits, and the breadth thereof

4 threescore cubits: with three rows of great stones, and a row of new timber: and let the expenses be given out of the king's house; and also let the gold and silver vessels of the house of God, which Nebuchadnezzar took forth out of the temple which is at Jerusalem, and brought unto Babylon, be restored, and brought again unto the temple which is at Jerusalem, every one to its place, and thou shalt put them in the house of God. Now therefore, Tattenai, governor beyond the river, Shethar-bozenai and 5 your companions the Apharsachites, which are beyond the river, be ye far from thence: let the work of this house of God alone; let the governor of the Jews build this house of God in its place. Moreover I make a decree what ye shall do to these elders of the Jews for the building of this house of God: that of the king's goods, even of the tribute beyond the river, expenses be given with all diligence unto these men, that they be not hindered. And that which they have need of, both young bullocks, and rams, and lambs, for burnt offerings to the God of heaven, wheat, salt, wine, and oil according to the word of the priests which are at Jerusalem, let it be given them day by day without fail, that they may offer sacrifices of sweet savour unto the God of heaven, and pray for the life of the king and of his sons. Also I have made a decree, that whosoever shall alter this word, let a beam be pulled out from his house, and let him be lifted up and fastened thereon; and let his house be made a dunghill for this: and the God that hath caused his name to dwell there overthrow all kings and peoples, that shall put forth their hand to alter the same, to destroy this house of God which is at Jerusalem. I Darius have made a decree; let it be done with all diligence.

13 Then Tattenai, the governor beyond the river, Shethar-bozenai, and their companions, because that Darius the king had sent, did accordingly with all diligence.

14 And the elders of the Jews builded and prospered, through the prophesying of Haggai the prophet and Zechariah the son of Iddo. And they builded and finished it, according to the commandment of the God of Israel, and according to the decree of Cyrus, and Darius, and Artaxerxes king of Persia.

15 And this house was finished on the third day of the month Adar, which was in the sixth year of the reign of Darius the king.

16 And the children of Israel, the priests and the Levites, and the rest of the children of the captivity, kept the dedication of this house of God with joy.

17 And they offered at the dedication of this house of God an hundred bullocks, two hundred rams, four hundred lambs; and for a sin offering for all Israel, twelve he-goats, according to the number of 18 the tribes of Israel. And they set the priests in their divisions, and the Levites in their courses, for the service of God, which is at Jerusalem; as it is written in the book of Moses.

19 And the children of the captivity kept the passover upon the fourteenth day of the first month.

20 For the priests and the Levites had purified themselves together; all of them were pure; and they killed the passover for all the children of the captivity, and for their brethren

21 the priests, and for themselves. And the children of Israel, which were come again out of the captivity, and all such as had separated themselves unto them from the filthiness of the heathen of the land, to seek the LORD, the God of Israel, did eat,

22 and kept the feast of unleavened bread seven days with joy: for the LORD had made them joyful, and had turned the heart of the king of Assyria unto them, to strengthen their hands in the work of the house of God, the God of Israel.

7 Now after these things, in the reign of Artaxerxes king of Persia, Ezra the son of Seraiah, the son of Azariah, the son of Hilkiah, the son of Shallum, the son of Zadok, the

6 chief priest: this Ezra went up from Babylon; and he was a ready scribe in the law of Moses, which the LORD, the God of Israel, had given:

7 and the king granted him all his request, according to the hand of the LORD his God upon him. And there went up some of the children of Israel, and of the priests, and the Levites, and the singers, and the porters, and the Nethinim, unto

8 Jerusalem, in the seventh year of Artaxerxes the king.

9 And he came to Jerusalem in the fifth month, which was in the seventh year of 10 the king. For upon the first day of the first month began he to go up from Babylon, and on the first day of the fifth month came he to Jerusalem, according to the good hand

11 of his God upon him. For Ezra had set his heart to seek the law of the LORD, and to do it, and to teach in Israel statutes and judgements.

12 Now this is the copy of the letter that the king Artaxerxes gave unto Ezra the priest, the scribe, even the scribe of the words of the commandments of the LORD, and of his 13 statutes to Israel. Artaxerxes, king of kings, unto Ezra the priest, the scribe of the law of the God of heaven, perfect and so forth. I make

14 a decree, that all they of the people of Israel, and their priests, and the Levites, in my realm, which are minded of their own free will to go to Jerusalem, go with thee.

15 Forasmuch as thou art sent of the king and his seven counsellors, to inquire concerning Judah and Jerusalem, according to the law of thy God

16 which is in thine hand; and to carry the silver and gold, which the king and his counsellors have freely offered unto the God of Israel, whose

17 habitation is in Jerusalem, and all the silver and gold that thou shalt find in all the province of Babylon, with the freewill offering of the

18 people, and of the priests, offering willingly for the house of their God which is in Jerusalem; therefore

19 thou shalt with all diligence buy with this money bullocks, rams, lambs, with their meal offerings and their drink offerings, and shalt offer them upon the altar of the house of your God which is in Jerusalem.

20 And whatsoever shall seem good to thee and to thy brethren to do with the rest of the silver and the gold, that do ye after the will of your God.

21 And the vessels that are given thee for the service of the house of thy God, deliver thou before the God of Jerusalem. And whatsoever more

22 shall be needful for the house of thy God, which thou shalt have occasion to bestow, bestow it out of the king's

23 treasure house. And I, even I Artaxerxes the king, do make a decree to all the treasurers which are beyond the river, that whatsoever Ezra the priest, the scribe of the law of the God of heaven, shall require of you, it be done with all diligence, unto an hundred talents of silver, and to an hundred measures of wheat, and to an hundred baths of wine, and to an hundred baths of oil, and salt without prescribing how much. Whatsoever is commanded by the God of heaven, let it be done exactly for the house of the God of heaven; for why should there be wrath against the realm of the king and his sons? Also we certify you, that touching any of the priests and Levites, the singers, porters, Nethinim, or servants of this house of God, it shall not be lawful to impose tribute, custom, or toll, upon them.

25 And thou, Ezra, after the wisdom of thy God that is in thine hand, appoint magistrates and judges, which may judge all the people that are beyond the river, all such as know the laws of thy God; and teach ye him that knoweth them not. And whosoever will not do the law of thy God, and the law of the king, let judgement be executed upon him with all diligence, whether it be unto death, or to banishment, or to confiscation of goods, or to imprisonment.

27 Blessed be the LORD, the God of our fathers, which hath put such a thing as this in the king's heart, to beautify the house of the LORD which is in Jerusalem; and hath extended mercy unto me before the king, and his counsellors, and before all the king's mighty princes. And I was strengthened according to the hand of the LORD my God upon me, and I gathered together out of Israel chief men to go up with me.

8 Now these are the heads of their fathers' houses, and this is the genealogy of them that went up with me from Babylon, in the reign of Artaxerxes the king. Of the sons of Phinehas, Gershom: of the sons of Ithamar, Daniel: of the sons of David, Hattush. Of the sons of Shecaniah: of the sons of Parosh, Zechariah: and with him were reckoned by genealogy of the males an hundred and fifty. Of the sons of Pahath-moseb, Eliehoenai the son of Zerariah: and with him two hundred males. Of the sons of Shecaniah, the son of Jahaziel: and with him three hundred males. And of the sons of Adin, Ebed the son of Jonathan: and with him fifty males.

7 And of the sons of Elam, Jeshaiab the son of Athaliah: and with him seventy males. And of the sons of Shephatiah, Zebadiah the son of Michael: and with him fourscore males.

9 Of the sons of Joab, Obadiah the son of Jehiel: and with him two hundred and eighteen males. And of the sons of Shelomith, the son of Josiphiah: and with him an hundred and threescore males. And of the sons of Bebai, Zechariah the son of Bebai; and with him twenty and eight males. And of the sons of Azgad, Johanan the son of Bakakan: and with him an hundred and ten males. And of the sons of Adonikam, that were the last; and these are their names, Eliphelet, Juel, and Shemaiah, and with them threescore males. And of the sons of Bigvai, Uthai and Zabbud: and with them seventy males.

15 And I gathered them together to the river that runneth to Ahava; and there we encamped three days: and I viewed the people, and the priests, and found there none of the sons of Levi. Then sent I for Eliezer, for Ariel, for Shemaiah, and for Elnathan, and for Jariib, and for Elnathan, and for Nathan, and for Zechariah, and for Meshullam, chief men; also for Joiarib, and for Elnathan, which were teachers. And I sent them forth unto Iddo the chief at the place Casiphia: and I told them what they should say unto Iddo, and his brethren the Nethinim, at the place Casiphia, that they should bring unto us ministers for the house of our God.

18 And according to the good hand of our God upon us they brought us a man of discretion, of the sons of Mahli, the son of Levi, the son of Israel; and Sherebiah, with his sons and his brethren, eighteen: and Hashabiah, and with him Jeshaiab of the sons of Merari, his brethren and their sons, twenty: and of the Nethinim, whom David and the princes had given for the service of the Levites, two hundred and twenty Nethinim: all of them were expressed by name. Then I proclaimed a fast there, at the river Ahava, that we might humble ourselves before our God, to seek of him a straight way, for us, and for our little ones, and for all our substance. For I was ashamed to ask of the king a band of soldiers and horsemen to help us against the enemy in the way: because we had spoken unto the king, saying, The hand of our God is upon all them that seek him, for good; but his power and his wrath is against all them that forsake him. So we fasted and besought our God for this: and he was intreated of us. Then I separated twelve of the chiefs of the priests, seven Sherebiah, Hashabiah, and ten of their brethren with them, and weighed unto them the silver, and the gold, and the vessels, even the offering for the house of our God, which the king, and his counsellors, and his princes, and all Israel there present, had offered: I even weighed into their hand six hundred and fifty talents of silver, and silver vessels an hundred talents; of gold an hundred talents; and twenty bowls of gold, of a thousand darics; and two vessels of fine

And I said unto them, Ye are holy unto the LORD, and the vessels are holy; and the silver and the gold are a freewill offering unto the LORD, the God of your fathers. Watch ye, and keep them, until ye weigh them before the chiefs of the priests and the Levites, and the princes of the fathers' houses of Israel, at Jerusalem, in the chambers of the house of the LORD. So the priests and the Levites received the weight of the silver and the gold, and the vessels, to bring them to Jerusalem unto the house of our God.

31 Then we departed from the river of Ahava on the twelfth day of the first month, to go unto Jerusalem: and the hand of our God was upon us, and he delivered us from the hand of the enemy and the liar in wait by the way. And we came to Jerusalem, and abode there three days. And on the fourth day were the silver and the gold and the vessels weighed in the house of our God into the hand of Meremoth the son of Uriah the priest; and with him was Eleazar the son of Phinehas; and with them was Jozabab the son of Jeshua, and Noadiah the son of Binnui, the Levites: the whole by number and by weight; and all the weight was written at that time. The children of the captivity, which were come out of exile, offered burnt offerings unto the God of Israel, twelve bullocks for all Israel, ninety and six rams, seventy and seven lambs, twelve he-goats for a sin offering: all this was a burnt offering unto the LORD. And they delivered the king's commissions unto the king's satraps, and to the governors beyond the river: and they furthered the people and the house of God.

9 Now when these things were done, the princes drew near unto me, saying, The people of Israel, and the priests and the Levites, have not separated themselves from the peoples of the lands, doing according to their abominations, even of the Canaanites, the Hittites, the Perizzites, the Jebusites, the Ammonites, the Moabites, the Egyptians, and the Amorites. For they have taken of their daughters for themselves and for their sons; so that the holy seed have mingled themselves with the peoples of the lands: yea, the hand of the princes and rulers hath been chief in this trespass. And when I heard this thing, I rent my garment and my mantle, and plucked off the hair of my head and of my beard, and sat down astonished. Then were assembled unto me every one that trembled at the words of the God of Israel, because of the trespass of them of the captivity; and I sat astonished until the evening oblation. And at the evening oblation I arose up from my humiliation, even with my garment and my mantle rent; and I fell upon my knees, and spread out my hands unto the LORD my God; and I said, O my God, I am ashamed and blush to lift up my face to thee, my God: for our iniquities are increased over our head, and our guiltiness is grown up unto the heavens. Since the days of our fathers we have been exceeding guilty unto this day; and for our iniquities have we, our kings, and our priests, been delivered into the hand of the kings of the lands, to the sword, to captivity, and to spoiling, and to confusion of face, as it is this day. And now for a little moment grace hath been shewed from the LORD our God, to leave us a remnant to escape, and to give us a nail in his holy place, that our God may lighten our eyes, and give us a little reviving in our bondage. For we are bondmen; yet our God hath not forsaken us in our bondage, but hath extended mercy unto us in the sight of the kings of Persia, to give us a reviving, to set up the house of our God, and to repair the ruins thereof, and to give us a wall in Judah and in Jerusalem. And now, O our God, what shall we say after this? For we have forsaken thy commandments, which thou hast commanded by thy servants the prophets, saying, The land, unto which ye go to possess it, is an unclean land through the uncleanness of the peoples of the lands, through their abominations, which have filled it from one end to another with their filthiness. Now therefore give not your daughters unto their sons, neither take their daughters unto your sons, nor seek their peace or their prosperity for ever: that ye may be strong, and eat the good of the land, and leave it for an inheritance to your children for ever. And after all that is come upon us for our evil deeds, and for our great guilt, seeing that thou our God hast punished us less than our iniquities deserve, and hast given us such a remnant, shall we again break thy commandments, and join in affinity with the peoples that do these abominations? wouldest not thou be angry with us till thou hadst consumed us, so that there should be no remnant, nor any to escape? O LORD, the God of Israel, thou art righteous; for we are left a remnant that is escaped, as it is this day: behold, we are before thee in our guiltiness; for none can stand before thee because of this.

10 Now while Ezra prayed, and made confession, weeping and casting himself down before the house of God, there was gathered together unto him out of Israel a very great congregation of men and women and children: for the people wept very 2 sore. And Shecaniah the son of Jehiel, one of the sons of Elam, answered and said unto Ezra, We have trespassed against our God, and have married strange women of the peoples of the land: yet now there is hope for Israel concerning 3 this thing. Now therefore let us make a covenant with our God to put away all the wives, and such as are born of them, according to the counsel of my lord, and of those that tremble at the commandment of our God; and let it be done according to the law. Arise; for the 4 matter belongeth unto thee, and we are with thee: be of good courage, and do it. Then arose Ezra, and made the chiefs of the priests, the Levites, and all Israel, to swear that they would do according to this

 5 word. So they swore. Then Ezra rose up from before the house of God, and went into the chamber of Jehohanan the son of Eliashib;
 6 and when he came thither, he did eat no bread, nor drink water: for he mourned because of the trespass of them of the captivity. And they
 7 made proclamation throughout Judah and Jerusalem unto all the children of the captivity, that they should gather themselves together
 8 unto Jerusalem; and that whosoever came not within three days, according to the counsel of the 9 princes and the elders, all his substance should be forfeited, and himself separated from the congregation of the captivity. Then all 10 the men of Judah and Benjamin gathered themselves together unto Jerusalem within the three days: it was the ninth month, on the 11 twentieth day of the month: and all the people sat in the broad place before the house of God, trembling because of this matter, and for the 12 great rain. And Ezra the priest stood up, and said unto them, Ye have trespassed, and have married 13 strange women, to increase the guilt of Israel. Now therefore make confession unto the Lord, the God of your fathers, and do his pleasure: and separate yourselves from the 14 peoples of the land, and from the strange women. Then all the congregation answered and said with a loud voice, As thou hast said concerning us, so must we do. But the people are many, and it is a time of much rain, and we are not able to stand without, neither is this a work of one day or two: for we have greatly transgressed in this 15 matter. Let now our princes be appointed for all the congregation, and let all them that are in our cities which have married strange women come at appointed times, and with them the elders of every city, and the judges thereof, until the fierce wrath of our God be turned from us, until this matter be

15 despatched. Only Jonathan the son of Asabel and Jahzeiah the son of Tikvah stood up against this matter: and Meshullam and Shal-bethai the Esvite helped them. And the children of the captivity did so. And Ezra the priest, with certain heads of fathers' houses, after their fathers' houses, and all of them by their names, were separated; and they sat down in the first day of the tenth month to examine the 16 matter. And they made an end with all the men that had married strange women by the first day of the first month. And among the sons of the priests there were found that had married strange women: namely, of the sons of Jeshua, the son of Jozadak, and his brethren, Maasiah, and Eliezer, and Jarib, and Gedaliah. And they gave their hand that they would put away their wives; and being guilty, they offered a ram of the flock for their 17 guilt. And of the sons of Immer; Hanani and Zebadiah. And of the sons of Harim; Maaseiah, and Elishah, and Shenaijah, and Jehiel, and Uziah. And of the sons of Pashhur; Eliezer, Maaseiah, Ishmael, Nethanel, Jozabad, and Elasah.
 18 And of the Levites; Jozabad, and Shimei, and Kelaijah (the same is Kelita), Pethahiah, Judah, and Eliezer. And of the singers; Elia-shib, and of the porters; Shallum, and Telem, and Uri. And of Israel; of the sons of Parush; Ramiah, and Uziah, and Malchijah, and Mijamin, and Ekazar, and Malchijah, and Benaiah. And of the sons of Elam; Mattaniah, Zechariah, and Jehiel, and Abdi, and Jeremiah, and Eliah. And of the sons of Zattu; Eliezer, Elia-shib, Mattaniah, and Jeremoth, and Zabad, and Aziza. And of the sons of Pebai; Jehohanan, Hananiah, Zabbai, Athlai. And of the sons of Panti; Meshullam, Malluch, and Adaijah, Jashui, and Sheal. And of the sons of Zabai; of the sons of Zabai; Adna, and Chelal, Benaiah, Maasiah, Mattaniah, Bezalel, and Elnui, and Manasseh. And of the sons of Harim; Eliezer, Ishijah, Malchijah, Shemaiah, Shimeon, Benjamin, Malluch, Shemariah.
 19 Of the sons of Hashum; Mattaniah, Mattathah, Zabad, Eliezer, Jeremiah, Manasseh, Shimei, of the sons of Bani; Maadai, Amram, and Uel; Penamah, Bedaijah, Chelubai; Vaniah, Meremoth, Elia-shib; Mattaniah, Mattathah, and Jussai; and Panti, and Elnui, Shimei, and Shelemiah, and Nathan, and Adaijah, Machabedai, Shashai, Shashai, Azazel, and Shelemiah, Shemariah, Shallum, Amariah, Joseph, of the sons of Nebo; Jehiel, Mattithiah, Zabad, Zebina, Idai, and Joel, Benaiah. All these had taken strange wives: and some of them had wives by whom they had children.

Now it came to pass in the month

Chislew, <sup>2</sup> in the twentieth year, as

2 I was in Shushan the <sup>3</sup> palace, that Hanani, one of my brethren, came, he and certain men out of Judah; and I asked them concerning the Jews that had escaped, which were left of the captivity, and concern-

3 ing Jerusalem. And they said unto me, The remnant that are left of the captivity there in the province are in great affliction and reproach: the wall of Jerusalem also is broken down, and the gates thereof are

4 burned with fire. And it came to pass, when I heard these words, that I sat down and wept, and mourned certain days; and I fasted and prayed before the God of heav-

5 en, and said, I beseech thee, O Lord, the God of heaven, the great and terrible God, that keepeth covenant and mercy with them that love him and keep his command-

6 ments: let thine ear now be attentive, and thine eyes open, that thou mayest hearken unto the prayer of thy servant, which I pray before thee at this time, day and night, for the children of Israel thy servants, while I confess the sins of the children of Israel, which we have sinned against thee: yea, I and my father's house have sinned.

7 We have dealt very corruptly against thee, and have not kept the commandments, nor the statutes, nor the judgements, which thou com-

8 mandedst thy servant Moses. Remember, I beseech thee, the word that thou commandedst thy servant Moses, saying, If ye trespass, I will scatter you abroad among

9 the peoples: but if ye return unto me, and keep my commandments and do them, though your outcasts were in the uttermost part of the heaven, yet will I gather them from thence, and will bring them unto the place that I have chosen to

10 cause my name to dwell there. Now these are thy servants and thy people, whom thou hast redeemed by thy great power, and by thy strong

11 hand. O Lord, I beseech thee, let now thine ear be attentive to the prayer of thy servant, and to the prayer of thy servants, who delight to fear thy name: and prosper. I pray thee, thy servant this day, and grant him mercy in the sight of this man. (Now I was cupbearer to the king.)

2 And it came to pass in the month Nisan, in the twentieth year of Artaxerxes the king, when wine was before him, that I took up the wine, and gave it unto the king. Now I had not been beforetime sad

2 in his presence. And the king said unto me, Why is thy countenance sad, seeing thou art not sick? this is nothing else but sorrow of heart.

3 Then I was very sore afraid. And I said unto the king, Let the king live for ever: why should not my countenance be sad, when the city, the place of my fathers' sepulchres,

4 lieth waste, and the gates thereof are consumed with fire? Then the king said unto me, For what dost thou make request? So I prayed

5 to the God of heaven. And I said unto the king, If it please the king, and if thy servant have found favour in thy sight, that thou wouldst send me unto Judah, unto the city of my fathers' sepulchres, that

6 I may build it. And the king said unto me, (the queen also sitting by him,) For how long shall thy journey be? and when wilt thou return? So it pleased the king to send me;

7 and I set him a time. Moreover I said unto the king, If it please the king, let letters be given me to the governors beyond the river, that they may let me pass through

8 till I come unto Judah; and a letter unto Asaph the keeper of the king's <sup>4</sup> forest, that he may give me timber to make beams for the gates of the castle which appertaineth to the house, and for the wall of the city, and for the house that I shall enter into. And the king granted me, according to the good hand of my God upon me. Then I came to the governors beyond the river, and gave them the king's letters. Now the king had sent with me captains

10 of the army and horsemen. And when Sanballat the Horonite, and Tobiah the servant, the Ammonite, heard of it, it grieved them exceedingly, for that there was come a man to seek the welfare of the children of Israel. So I came to Jerusalem, and was there three

11 days. And I arose in the night, I and some few men with me; neither told I any man what my God put into my heart to do for Jerusalem: neither was there any beast with me, save the beast that I rode upon. And I went out by night by the valley gate, even to-

12 ward the dragon's well, and to the

dung gate, and viewed the walls of Jerusalem, which were broken down, and the gates thereof were consumed with fire. Then I went on to the fountain gate and to the king's pool: but there was no place for the beast that was under me to pass. Then went I up in the night by the brook, and viewed the wall; and I turned back, and entered by the valley gate, and so returned. And the rulers knew not whither I went, or what I did; neither had I as yet told it to the Jews, nor to the priests, nor to the nobles, nor to the rulers, nor to the rest that did the work. Then said I unto them, Ye see the evil case that we are in, how Jerusalem lieth waste, and the gates thereof are burned with fire: come and let us build up the wall of Jerusalem, that we be no more a reproach. And I told them of the hand of my God which was good upon me; as also of the king's words that he had spoken unto me. And they said, Let us rise up and build. So they strengthened their hands for the good work. But when Sanballat the Horonite, and Tobiah the servant, the Ammonite, and Geshem the Arabian, heard it, they laughed us to scorn, and despised us, and said, What is this thing that ye do? will ye rebel against the king? Then answered I them, and said unto them, The God of heaven, he will prosper us; therefore we his servants will arise and build: but ye have no portion, nor right, nor memorial, in Jerusalem.

3 Then Eliashib the high priest rose up with his brethren the priests, and they builded the sheep gate; they sanctified it, and set up the doors of it; even unto the tower of Hammeh they sanctified it, 2 unto the tower of Mananel. And next unto him builded the men of Jericho. And next to them builded 3 Zaccur the son of Imri. And the fish gate did the sons of Hassemaah build; they laid the beams thereof, and set up the doors thereof, the bolts thereof, and the bars thereof. 4 And next unto them repaired Meremoth the son of Uriah, the son of Hakkoz. And next unto them repaired Meshullam the son of Berechiah, the son of Meshezabel. And next unto them repaired Zadok the son of Paana. And next unto them the Tekoltes repaired; but their nobles put not their necks to the work of their lord. And the old gate repaired Joiada the son of Paseah and Meshullam the son of Besodeiah; they laid the beams thereof, and set up the doors thereof, and the bolts thereof, and the bars thereof. And next unto them repaired Melatiah the Gibeonite, and Jadon the Meronothite, the men of Gibeon, and of Mizpah,

8 Next unto him repaired Uzziel the son of Harhaiah, goldsmiths. And next unto him repaired Hananiah one of the apothecaries, and they fortified Jerusalem even unto the broad wall. And next unto them repaired Rephaiah the son of Hur, the ruler of half the district of Jerusalem. And next unto them repaired Jedaiah the son of Harumaph, even over against his house. And next unto him repaired Hattush the son of Hashabneiah. 11 Malchijah the son of Harim, and Hasshub the son of Pahath-moab, repaired another portion, and the tower of the furnaces. And next unto him repaired Shallum the son of Hallohesh, the ruler of half the district of Jerusalem, he, and his daughters. The valley gate repaired Hanun, and the inhabitants of Zanoah; they built it, and set up the doors thereof, the bolts thereof, and the bars thereof, and a thousand cubits of the wall unto the dung gate. And the dung gate repaired Malchijah the son of Rechab, the ruler of the district of Beth-hachcherem; he built it, and set up the doors thereof, the bolts thereof, and the bars thereof. And the fountain gate repaired Shallum the son of Col-hozeh, the ruler of the district of Mizpah; he built it, and covered it, and set up the doors thereof, the bolts thereof, and the bars thereof, and the wall of the pool of Shehiah by the king's garden, even unto the stairs that go down from the city of David. After him repaired Nehemiah the son of Azbuk, the ruler of half the district of Beth-zur, unto the place over against the sepulchres of David, and unto the pool that was made, and unto the house of the mighty men. After him repaired the Levites, Rehum the son of Banl. Next unto him repaired Hashabiah, the ruler of half the district of Keilah, for his district. After him repaired their brethren, Bavaï the son of Henadad, the ruler of half the district of Keilah. And next to him repaired Ezer the son of Jeshua, the ruler of Mizpah, another portion, over against the going up to the armoury at the turning of the wall. After him Baruch the son of Zabbai earnestly repaired another portion, from the turning of the wall unto the door of the house of Eliashib the high priest. 21 After him repaired Meremoth the son of Uriah the son of Hakkoz another portion, from the door of the house of Eliashib even to the end of the house of Eliashib. And after him repaired the priests, the men of the law. After them repaired Benjamin and Hasshub over against their house. After them repaired Azariah the son of 32 the corner and the sheep gate repaired the goldsmiths and the merchants.

4 But it came to pass that, when Sanballat heard that we builded the wall, he was wroth, and took great indignation, and mocked the Jews.
2 And he spake before his brethren and the army of Samaria, and said,
What do these feeble Jews? <sup>5</sup>will they fortify themselves? will they sacrifice? will they make an end in a day? will they revive the stones out of the heaps of rubbish, seeing 3 they are burned? Now Tobiah the Ammonite was by him, and he said,
Even that which they build, if a <sup>6</sup>fox go up, he shall break down
4 their stone wall. Hear, O our God; for we are despised: and turn back their reproach upon their own head, and give them up to spoiling in 5 a land of captivity: and cover not their iniquity, and let not their sin be blotted out from before thee:
for they have provoked thee to anger
6 before the builders. So we built the wall: and all the wall was joined together unto half the height thereof: for the people had a mind to work.

7 But it came to pass that, when Sanballat, and Tobiah, and the A-rabians, and the Ammonites, and the Ashdodites, heard that <sup>7</sup>the repairing of the walls of Jerusalem went forward, and that the breaches began to be stopped, then they were

8 very wroth; and they conspired all of them together to come and fight against Jerusalem, and to cause 9 confusion therein. But we made our prayer unto our God, and set a watch against them day and night,
10 because of them. And Judah said,
The strength of the bearers of burdens is decayed, and there is much rubbish; so that we are not able 11 to build the wall. And our adversaries said, They shall not know, neither see, till we come into the midst of them, and slay them, and 12 cause the work to cease. And it came to pass that, when the Jews which dwelt by them came, they said unto us ten times <sup>8</sup>from all places, Ye must return unto us.
13 Therefore set I in the lowest parts of the space behind the wall, in the open places, I even set the people after their families with their swords, their spears, and their bows.
14 And I looked, and rose up, and said unto the nobles, and to the <sup>9</sup>rulers, and to the rest of the people, Be not ye afraid of them: remember the Lord, which is great and terrible, and fight for your brethren, your sons and your daughters, your wives 15 and your houses. And it came to pass, when our enemies heard that it was known unto us, and God had brought their counsel to nought, that we returned all of us to the 16 wall, every one unto his work. And it came to pass from that time forth, that half of my servants wrought in the work, and half of them held the spears, the shields, and the bows, and the coats of mail; and the rulers were behind 17 all the house of Judah. They that builded the wall and they that bare burdens laded themselves, every one with one of his hands wrought in the work, and with the 18 other held his weapon; and the builders, every one had his sword girded by his side, and so builded.
And he that sounded the trumpet 19 was by me. And I said unto the nobles, and to the <sup>9</sup>rulers and to the rest of the people, The work is great and large, and we are separated upon the wall, one far from 20 another: in what place soever ye hear the sound of the trumpet, resort ye thither unto us; our God shall fight for us. So we wrought in the work; and half of them held the spears from the rising of the morning till the stars appeared.
22 Likewise at the same time said I unto the people, Let every one with his servant lodge within Jerusalem, that in the night they may be a guard to us, and may labour in the day. So neither I, nor my brethren, nor my servants, nor the men of the guard which followed me, none of us put off our clothes, <sup>11</sup>every one went with his weapon to the water.

5 Then there arose a great cry of the

2 their brethren the Jews. For there were that said, We, our sons and our daughters, are many: let us get corn, that we may eat and live.

3 Some also there were that said, We are mortgaging our fields, and our vineyards, and our houses: let us get corn, because of the dearth.

4 There were also that said, We have borrowed money for the king's tribute upon our fields and our vineyards. Yet now our flesh is as the flesh of our brethren, our children as their children: and, lo, we bring into bondage our sons and our daughters to be servants, and some of our daughters are brought into bondage <sup>already</sup>; neither is it in our power to help it; for other men have our fields and our vineyards.

6 And I was very angry when I heard 7 their cry and these words. Then I consulted with myself, and contended with the nobles and the <sup>1</sup> rulers, and said unto them, Ye exact usury, every one of his brother. And I held a great assembly against them.

8 And I said unto them, We after our ability have <sup>2</sup> redeemed our brethren the Jews, which were sold unto the heathen; and would ye even sell your brethren, and should they be sold unto us? Then held they their peace, and found never a word.

9 Also I said, The thing that ye do is not good: ought ye not to walk in the fear of our God, because of the reproach of the heathen our enemies? And I likewise, my brethren and my servants, do lend them money and corn on usury. I pray you, let us leave off this usury.

11 Restore, I pray you, to them, even this day, their fields, their vineyards, their oliveyards, and their houses, also the hundredth part of the money, and of the corn, the wine, and the oil, that ye exact of them. Then said they, We will restore them, and will require nothing of them; so will we do, even as thou sayest. Then I called the priests, and took an oath of them, that they should do according to this promise.

13 Also I shook out my lap, and said, So God shake out every man from his house, and from his labour, that performeth not this promise; even thus be he shaken out, and emptied. And all the congregation said, Amen, and praised the Lord. And the people did according to this promise.

14 Moreover from the time that I was appointed to be their governor in the land of Judah, from the twentieth year even unto the two and thirtieth year of Artaxerxes the king, that is, twelve years, I and my brethren have not eaten the bread of the governor. But the former governors that were before me <sup>3</sup> were chargeable unto the people, and took of them bread and wine, <sup>4</sup> beside forty shekels of silver; yea, even their servants <sup>5</sup> bare rule over the people: but so did not I,

16 because of the fear of God. Yea, also I <sup>6</sup> continued in the work of this wall, neither bought we any land; and all my servants were gathered thither unto the work. Moreover there were at my table of the Jews and the <sup>1</sup> rulers an hundred and fifty men, beside those that came unto us from among the heathen that were round about us.

18 Now that which was prepared for one day was one ox and six choice sheep; also fowls were prepared for me, and once in ten days store of all sorts of wine: yet for all this I demanded not the bread of the governor, because the bondage was heavy upon this people. Remember unto me, O my God, for good, all that I have done for this people.

6 Now it came to pass, when it was reported to Sanballat and Tobiah, and to Geshem the Arabian, and unto the rest of our enemies, that I had builded the wall, and that there was no breach left therein; (though even unto that time I had not set up the doors in the gates.)

2 That Sanballat and Geshem sent unto me, saying, Come, let us meet together in <sup>one of</sup> the villages in the plain of Ono. But they thought to do me mischief. And I sent messengers unto them, saying, I am doing a great work, so that I cannot come down: why should the work cease, whilst I leave it, and come down to you? And they sent unto me four times after this sort; and I answered them after the same manner. Then sent Sanballat his servant unto me in like manner the fifth time with an open letter in his hand; wherein was written, It is reported among the nations, and <sup>7</sup> Gashmu saith it, that thou and the Jews think to rebel; for which cause thou buldest the wall: and thou wouldest be their king, according to these words. And thou hast also appointed prophets to preach of thee at Jerusalem, saying, There is a king in Judah: and now shall it be reported to the king according to these words. Come now therefore, and let us take counsel together.

8 Then I sent unto him, saying, There are no such things done as thou sayest, but thou felgest them out of thine own heart. For they all would have made us afraid, saying, Their hands shall be weakened from the work, that it be not done. But now, <sup>8</sup> O God, strengthen thou my hands.

10 And I went unto the house of Shebiah the son of Deiah the son of Mehetabel, who was shut up; and he said, Let us meet together in the house of God, within the temple, and let us shut the doors of the temple: for they will come to slay thee; yea, in the night will they come to slay thee. And I said, Should such a man as I flee? and who is there, that, being such as I, <sup>9</sup> would go into the temple to save his life? I

For this cause was he hired, that I should be afraid, and do so, and sin, and that they might have matter for an evil report, that they might reproach me. Remember, O my God, Tobiah and Sanballat according to these their works, and also the prophetess Noadiah, and the rest of the prophets, that would have put me in fear.

15 So the wall was finished in the twenty and fifth day of the month. 16 Elul, in fifty and two days. And it came to pass, when all our enemies heard thereof, that all the heathen that were about us <sup>1</sup>feared, and were much cast down in their own eyes: for they perceived that this work was wrought of our God. 17 Moreover in those days the nobles of Judah sent many letters unto Tobiah, and the letters of Tobiah came unto them. For there were many in Judah sworn unto him, because he was the son in law of Shecaniah the son of Arah; and his son Jehohanan had taken the daughter of Meshullam the son of Berechiah to wife. Also they spake of his good deeds before me, and reported my words to him. And Tobiah sent letters to put me in fear.

7 Now it came to pass, when the wall was built, and I had set up the doors, and the porters and the singers and the Levites were appointed, that I gave my brother Hanani, and Hananiah the governor of the castle, charge over Jerusalem; for he was a faithful man, and 3 feared God above many. And I said unto them, Let not the gates of Jerusalem be opened until the sun be hot; and while they stand on guard, let them shut the doors, and bar ye them; and appoint watches of the inhabitants of Jerusalem, every one in his watch, and every one to be 4 over against his house. Now the city was wide and large: but the people were few therein, and the houses were not builded. And my God put into my heart to gather together the nobles, and the <sup>2</sup>rulers, and the people, that they might be reckoned by genealogy. And I found the book of the genealogy of them which came up at the first, and I 6 found written therein: <sup>3</sup>These are the children of the province, that went up out of the captivity of those that had been carried away, whom Nebuchadnezzar the king of Babylon had carried away, and that returned unto Jerusalem and to Judah, every 7 one unto his city; who came with Zerubbabel, Jeshua, Nehemiah, Azariah, Naamah, Nahamani, Mordecai, Bishan, Mispereth, Bigvai, Nehum, Baanah. The men of Anathoth, an hundred twenty 28 and eight. The men of Beth-azmaveth, forty and two. The children of Immer, a 41 thousand fifty and two. The children of Pashhur, a thousand two 42 hundred forty and seven. The children of Harim, a thousand and 43 seventeen. 56 the children of Elsera, the children of Temah; the children of Nezhiah,
59 Darkon, the children of Giddel; the children of Shephatiah, the children of 60 Hattil, the children of Pohereth-hazzebaim, the children of Amon. All the 61 Nethinim, and the children of Solomon's servants, were three hundred ninety and two.
62 And these were they which went up from Tel-melah, Tel-harsha, Cherub, Addon, and Immer; but they could not shew their fathers' houses,
63 nor their seed, whether they were of Israel: the children of Delaiah, the children of Tobiah, the children 64 of Nekoda, six hundred forty and two. And of the priests: the children of Hobaiah, the children of 65 Hakkoz, the children of Barzillai, which took a wife of the daughters of Barzillai the Gileadite, and was called after their name. These sought 66 their register among these that were reckoned by genealogy, but it was not found: therefore <sup>2</sup> were they deemed polluted and put from the 67 priesthood. And the Tirshatha said unto them, that they should not eat of the most holy things, till 68 there stood up a priest with Urim and Thummim. The whole congregation together was forty and 69 two thousand three hundred and three score, beside their menservants and their maid servants, of whom 70 there were seven thousand three hundred thirty and seven: and they had two hundred forty and five singing men and singing women. Their 71 horses were seven hundred thirty and six; their mules, two hundred forty and five; their camels, four hundred thirty and five; their asses, six thousand seven hundred and 72 twenty. And some from among the heads of fathers' houses gave unto the work. The Tirshatha gave to the treasury a thousand darics of gold, fifty basins, five hundred and 73 thirty priests' garments. And some of the heads of fathers' houses gave into the treasury of the work twenty thousand oxen of gold and two thousand and two hundred <sup>4</sup> pound 74 of silver. And that which the rest of the people gave was twenty thousand darics of gold, and two thousand pound of silver, and threescore and seven priests' garments. So the 75 priests, and the Levites, and the porters, and the singers, and some of the people, and the Nethinim, and all Israel, dwelt in their cities.

<sup>5</sup> And when the seventh month was come, the children of Israel were in their cities. And all the people gathered themselves together as one man into the broad place that was before the water gate; and they spake unto Ezra the scribe to bring the book of the law of Moses, which the LORD had commanded to Israel. And Ezra the priest brought the law before the congregation, both men and women, and all that could hear with understanding, upon the first day of the 8 seventh month. And he read therein before the broad place that was before the water gate <sup>6</sup> from early morning until midday, in the presence of the men and the women, and of those that could understand; and the ears of all the people were attentive unto the book of the law.
9 And Ezra the scribe stood upon a <sup>7</sup> pulpit of wood, which they had made for the purpose; and beside him stood Mattithiah, and Shema, and Ananiah, and Uriah, and Hil-
10 kiah, and Maaseiah, on his right hand; and on his left hand, Pedaiah, and Mishael, and Malchijah, and Hashum, and Hashbaddanah, Zechariah, and Meshullam. And Ezra 11 opened the book in the sight of all the people; (for he was above all the people;) and when he opened it, all the people stood up; and Ezra blessed the LORD, the great God. And all the people answered, Amen, Amen, with the lifting up of their hands; and they bowed 12 before their heads, and worshipped the LORD with their faces to the ground.
13 Also Jeshua, and Bani, and Sherebiah, Jamin, Akkub, Shabbethai, Hodiah, Maaseiah, Kelita, Azariah, Jozabad, Hanan, Pelaiah, and the Levites, caused the people to understand the law: and the people stood
14 in their place. And they read in the book, in the law of God, <sup>8</sup> distinctly; and they gave the sense, <sup>9</sup> so that they understood the reading. And Nehemiah, which was the Tirshatha, and Ezra the priest the scribe, and the Levites that taught the people, said unto all the people, This day is holy unto the LORD your God; mourn not, nor weep. For all the people wept, when they heard the words of the law. Then he said unto them, Go your way, eat the fat, and drink the sweet, and send portions unto him for whom nothing is prepared; for this day is holy unto our Lord: neither he ye grieved, for the joy of the LORD
15 is your strength. So the Levites stilled all the people, saying, Hold your peace, for the day is holy;

12 neither be ye grieved. And all the people went their way to eat, and to drink, and to send portions, and to make great mirth, because they had understood the words that were declared unto them.

13 And on the second day were gathered together the heads of fathers' houses of all the people, the priests, and the Levites, unto Ezra the scribe, even to give attention to the words of the law. And they found written in the law, how that the LORD had commanded by Moses, that the children of Israel should dwell in booths in the feast of the 14 seventh month: and that they should publish and proclaim in all their cities, and in Jerusalem, saying, Go forth unto the mount, and fetch olive branches, and branches of wild olive, and myrtle branches, and palm branches, and branches of thick trees, to make booths, as it is written. So the people went forth, and brought them, and made themselves booths, every one upon the roof of his house, and in their courts, and in the courts of the house of God, and in the broad place of the water gate, and in the broad place of the gate of Ephraim.

17 And all the congregation of them that were come again out of the captivity made booths, and dwelt in the booths: for since the days of Jeshua the son of Nun unto that day had not the children of Israel done so. And there was very great gladness. Also day by day, from the first day unto the last day, he read in the book of the law of God. And they kept the feast seven days; and on the eighth day was a solemn assembly, according unto the ordinance.

9 Now in the twenty and fourth day of this month the children of Israel were assembled with fasting, and with sackcloth, and earth upon

2 them. And the seed of Israel separated themselves from all strangers, and stood and confessed their sins, and the iniquities of their fathers. 3 And they stood up in their place, and read in the book of the law of the LORD their God a fourth part of the day; and another fourth part they confessed, and worshipped the LORD their God. Then stood up upon the stairs of the Levites, Jeshua, and Bani, Kadmiel, Shebaniah, Bunni, Sherebiah, Bani, and Chenani, and cried with a loud voice unto the LORD their God. Then the Levites, Jeshua, and Kadmiel, Pani, Hashabneiah, Sherebiah, Hodiah, Shebaniah, and Pethahiah, said, Stand up and bless the LORD your God from everlasting to everlasting: and blessed be thy glorious name, which is exalted above all blessing

6 and praise. Thou art the LORD, even thou alone; thou hast made heaven, the heaven of heavens, with all their host, the earth and all things that are thereon, the seas and all that is in them, and thou preservest them all; and the host of heaven worshippeth thee. Thou art the LORD the God, who didst choose Abram, and broughtest him forth out of Ur of the Chaldees, and gavest him the name of Abraham; and foundest his heart faithful before thee, and madest a covenant with him to give the land of the Canaanite, the Hittite, the Amorite, and the Perizzite, and the Jebusite, and the Girgashite, even to give it unto his seed, and hast performed thy words; for thou art righteous.

9 And thou sawest the affliction of our fathers in Egypt, and heardest their cry by the Red Sea; and shewedst signs and wonders upon Pharaoh, and on all his servants, and on all the people of his land; for thou knewest that they dealt proudly against thee; and didst get thee a name, as it is this day. And thou didst divide the sea before them, so that they went through the midst of the sea on the dry land; and their pursuers thou didst cast into the depths, as a stone into the mighty waters. Moreover thou leddest them in a pillar of cloud by day; and in a pillar of fire by night, to give them light in the way wherein they should go. Thou camest down also upon mount Sinai, and spakest with them from heaven, and gavest them right judgements and true laws, good statutes and commandments: and madest known unto them thy holy sabbath, and commandedst them commandments, and statutes, and a law, by the hand of Moses thy servant: and gavest them bread from heaven for their hunger, and broughtest forth water for them out of the rock for their thirst, and commandedst them that they should go in to possess the land which thou hadst lifted up thine hand to give them. But they and our fathers dealt proudly, and hardened their neck, and hearkened not to thy commandments, and refused to obey, neither were mindful of thy wonders that thou didst among them; but hardened their neck.

4 and in their rebellion appointed a captain to return to their bondage: but thou art a God ready to pardon, gracious and full of compassion, slow to anger, and plenteous in mercy, and forsookest them not. Yea, when they had made them a molten calf, and said, This is thy God that brought thee up out of Egypt, and had wrought great provocations; yet thou in thy manifold mercies forsookest them not in the wilderness: the pillar of cloud departed not from over them by day, to lead them in the way; neither the pillar of fire by night, to shew them light, and the way wherein they should go.

21 Yea forty years didst thou sustain them in the wilderness, and they lacked nothing, their clothes waxed not old and their feet swelled not.

22 Moreover thou gavest them kingdoms and peoples, which thou didst allot after their portions: so they possessed the land of Shihon, even the land of the king of Heshbon and the land of the king of Basan.

23 Their children also multipliedst thou as the stars of heaven, and broughtest them into the land concerning which thou didst say to their fathers, that they should go in to possess it.

24 So the children went in and possessed the land, and thou subjugatest before them the inhabitants of the land, the Canaanites, and gavest them into their hands, with their kings, and the peoples of the land, that they might do with them as they would. And they took fenced cities, and a fat land, and possessed houses full of all good things, cisterns hewn out in the rocks, and vineyards, and fruit trees in abundance: so they did eat, and were filled, and became fat and delighted themselves.

25 In thy great goodness, Nevertheless they were disobedient, and rebelled against thee, and cast thy law behind their back, and slew thy prophets which testified against them to turn them again unto thee, and they wrought great provocations.

26 Therefore thou didst deliverst them into the hand of their adversaries, who distressed them: and in the time of their trouble, when they cried unto thee, thou hearest from heaven; and a covenant, the manifold mercies thou gavest them, savious who saved them out of the hand of their adversaries. But after they had rest, they did evil again before thee, therefore testest thou them in the hand of their enemies, so that they had the demand over them: yet when they returned and cried unto thee, thou hearest from heaven: and many times didst thou deliver them according to thy mercies, and to testeth against them, that thou mightest bring them again unto thy law, which they dealt proudly, and hearkened not unto thy commandments, but sinned against thy judgments, which if a man do, he shall live in them, and withdrew the shoulder, and hardened their neck, as thou wouldst not hear. Yet many years didst thou bear with them, and testest them against them by thy spirit through thy prophets: yet would they not give ear: therefore gavest them into the hand of the peoples of the lands. Nevertheless in the manifold mercies thou didst not make a full end of them, nor forsake them: for thou art a gracious and merciful God. Now therefore, our God, the great, the mighty, and the terrible God, who keepest covenant and mercy, let not all the travail seem little before thee, that hath come upon us, on our kings, on our princes, and on our priests, and on our prophets, and on our fathers, and on all thy people, since the time of the kings of Assyria unto this day.

33 Howbeit thou art just in all that is come upon us: for thou hast dealt truly, but we have done wickedly: neither have our kings, our princes, our priests, nor our fathers, kept thy law, nor hearkened unto thy commandments and thy testimonies, wherewith thou didst testify against them.

34 For they have not served thee in their kingdom, and in thy great goodness that thou gavest them, and in the large and fat land which thou gavest before them, neither turned they from their wicked

35 works. Behold, we are servants this day, and as for the land that thou gavest unto our fathers to eat the fruit thereof and the good thereof, behold, we are servants in it. And it yieldeth much increase unto the kings whom thou hast set over us because of our sins: also they have power over our bodies, and over our cattle, at their pleasure, and we are in great

36 distress. And yet for all this we make a sure covenant, and write it: and our princes, our Levites, and our priests, seal unto it.

37 Now those that sealed were, Nehemiah the Tirshatha, the son of Hachabiah, and Zebadiah, Seraiah, Azariah, Jeremiah, Pashhur, 4 Amariah, Malchiah, Hattush, 5 Shebaniah, Melchiel, Harim, Meremoth, Obadiah, Jaddai, Ginnethai, Parash, Meshallam, Abigah, Miamin, Maaziah, Bilgai, Shemaiah, these were the priests.

38 And the Levites, namely, Joshua the son of Azariah, Benaiah of the sons of Henadai, Kamuel, and their brethren, Shebaniah, Hodiah, Kelita, Beniah, Hanan, Micah, Rehab, Hashabiah, Zaccur, 13 Sherebiah, Shebaniah, Hodiah, 14 Panti, Keritai. their daughters, every one that had came to their brethren, their nobles, and entered into a curse, and into an oath, to walk in God's law, which was given by Moses the servant of God, and to observe and do all the commandments of the LORD our Lord, and his judgements and his statutes; and that we would not 30 give our daughters unto the peoples of the land, nor take their daugh-

 of the land bring ware or any victuals on the sabbath day to sell, that we would not buy of them on the sabbath, or on a holy day: and that we would forgo the <sup>1</sup>seventh year, and the <sup>2</sup>exaction of every 32 debt. Also we made ordinances for us, to charge ourselves yearly with the third part of a shekel for the service of the house of our God; 33 for the shewbread, and for the con-

 the set feasts, and for the holy things, and for the sin offerings to make atonement for Israel, and for all the work of the house of our 34 God. And we cast lots, the priests, the Levites, and the people, for the wood offering, to bring it into the house of our God, according to our fathers' houses, at times appointed, year by year, to burn upon the altar of the LORD our God, as it is written 35 in the law: and to bring the firstfruits of our ground, and the firstfruits of all fruit of all manner of trees, year by year, unto the house 36 of the LORD; also the firstborn of our sons, and of our cattle, as it is written in the law, and the firstlings of our herds and of our flocks, to bring to the house of our God, unto the priests that minister in the 37 house of our God: and that we should bring the firstfruits of our <sup>3</sup>dough, and our heave offerings, and the fruit of all manner of trees, <sup>4</sup>the wine and the oil, unto the priests, to the chambers of the house of our God; and the tithes of our ground unto the Levites;
 for they, the Levites, take the tithes 38 in all the cities of our tillage. And the priest the son of Aaron shall be with the Levites, when the Levites take tithes: and the Levites shall bring up the tithe of the tithes unto the house of our God, to the chambers, into the treasure house.
 39 For the children of Israel and the children of Levi shall bring the heave offering of the corn, of <sup>4</sup>the wine, and of the oil, unto the chambers, where are the vessels of the sanctuary, and the priests that minister, and the porters, and the singers: and we will not forsake the house of our God.
 11 And the princes of the people dwell in Jerusalem: the rest of the people also cast lots, to bring one of ten to dwell in Jerusalem the holy city, and nine parts in the 2 other cities. And the people blessed all the men that willingly offered themselves to dwell in Jerusalem.

 3 Now these are the chiefs of the province that dwell in Jerusalem:
 but in the cities of Judah dwell every one in his possession in their cities, to wit, Israel, the priests, and the Levites, and the Nethinim, and the children of Solomon's servants.
 4 And in Jerusalem dwell certain of the children of Judah, and of the children of Benjamin. Of the children of Judah: Athaiah the son of Uziah, the son of Zechariah, the son of Amariah, the son of Shephatiah, the son of Mahalalel, of the 5 children of Perez; and Maaseiah the son of Baruch, the son of Col-hozeh, the son of Hazaiah, the son of Adaiah, the son of Jolarib, the son of Zechariah, the son of the Shilonite. All the sons of Perez that dwell in Jerusalem were four hundred threescore and eight valiant 7 men. And these are the sons of Benjamin: Sallu the son of Meshullam, the son of Joed, the son of Pedai-seiah, the son of Itiel, the son of Je-nine hundred twenty and eight. And Joel the son of Zichri was their overseer: and Judah the son of Hassenuah was second over the 10 city. Of the priests: Jedaiah the son of Jolarib, Jachin, Seraiah the son of Hilkiyah, the son of Meshullam, the son of Zadok, the son of Meraioth, the son of Ahitub, the 12 ruler of the house of God, and their brethren that did the work of the house, eight hundred twenty and two: and Adaiah the son of Jero-ham, the son of Pelaliah, the son of Amzi, the son of Zechariah, the brethren, that kept watch at the gates, were an hundred seventy and two. And the residue of Israel, of the priests, the Levites, were in all the cities of Judah, every one in his inheritance. But the Nethinim dwelt in Ophel: and Ziba and Gishpa were over the Nethinim. The overseer also of the Levites at Jerusalem was Uzzi the son of Bani, the son of Hashabiah, the son of Mattaniah, the son of Mica, of the sons of Asaph, the singers, over the business of the house of God. For there was a commandment from the king concerning them, and a settled provision for the singers, as every day required. And Methabiah the son of Meshezabel, of the children of Zerah the son of Judah, was at the king's hand in all matters concerning the people. And for the villages, with their fields, some of the children of Judah dwelt in Kirjath-arba and the 2 towns thereof, and in Dibon and the 2 towns thereof, and in Jekabzeel and the villages thereof; and in Jeshua, and in Moladah, and Beth-pelet; and in Hazar-shual, and in Beersheba and the 2 towns thereof; and in Ziklag, and in Mecconah and in the 2 towns thereof; and in En-rimmon, and in Zorah, and in Jarmuth; Zanoah, Adullam, and their villages, Lachish and the fields thereof, Azekah and the 2 towns thereof. So they encamped from Beersheba unto the valley of Hinnom. The children of Benjamin also dwell from Geba onward, at Michmash and Aija, and at Beth-el and the 2 towns thereof; at Anathoth, Nob, Ananiah; Hazor, Ramah, Gittaim; Hadid, Zeboim, Neballat; Lod, and Ono, the valley of craftsmen. And of the Levites, certain courses in Judah were joined to Benjamin.

12 Now these are the priests and the Levites that went up with Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel, and Jeshua: Seraiah, Jeremiah, Ezra: Amariah, Malluch, Hattush; Shecaniah, Rehum, Meremoth; Iddo, Ginnethoi, Abijah; Mijamin, Maadiah, Bilgah; Shemaiah, and Joiarib, Jedaiah; Salu, Amok, Hilkiyah, Jedaiah. These were the chiefs of the priests and of their brethren in the days of Jeshua. Moreover the Levites: Jeshua, Binnui, Kadmiel, Sherebiah, Judah, and Mattaniah, which was over the thanksgiving, he and his brethren. Also Bakkukiah and Unno, their brethren, were over against them in wards. And Jeshua begat Joiakim, and Joiakim begat Eliashib, and Eliashib begat Joiada, and Joiada begat Jonathan, and Jonathan begat Jaddua. And in the days of Joiakim were priests, heads of fathers' houses: of Seraiah, Meraiah; of Jeremiah Hananiah; of Ezra, Meshullam; of Amariah, Jehohanan; of 5 Malluchi, Jonathan; of Shebaniah, 15 Joseph; of Barim, Adna; of Merai- 16 oth, Helkai; of Iddo, Zechariah; of 17 Ginnethon, Meshullam; of Abijah, Zichri; of Miniamin, of Moadiah, 18 Piltai; of Bilgah, Shammua; of 19 Shemaiah, Jehonathan; and of Joiarib, Mattaniah; of Jedaiah, Uzzi; 20 of Salai, Kallai; of Amok, Eber; 21 of Hilkiyah, Hashabiah; of Jedaiah, 22 Nethanel. The Levites in the days of Eliashib, Joiada, and Johanan, and Jaddua, were recorded heads of fathers' houses: also the priests, 6 in the reign of Darius the Persian. 23 The sons of Levi, heads of fathers' houses, were written in the book of the chronicles, even until the days of Johanan the son of Eliashib. 24 And the chiefs of the Levites: Hashabiah, Sherebiah, and Jeshua the son of Kadmiel, with their brethren over against them, to praise and give thanks, according to the commandment of David the man of 25 God, ward against ward. Mattaniah, and Bakkukiah, Obadiah, Meshullam, Talmon, Akkub, were porters keeping the ward at the store-houses of the gates. These were in the days of Joiakim the son of Jeshua, the son of Joradach, and in the days of Nehemiah the governor, and of Ezra the priest the scribe.

27 And at the dedication of the wall of Jerusalem they sought the Levites out of all their places, to bring them to Jerusalem, to keep the dedication with gladness, both with thanksgivings, and with singing, with cymbals, psalteries, and with harps. And the sons of the singers gathered themselves together, both out of the plain round about Jerusalem, and from the villages of the Netophathites; also from Beth-gilgal, and out of the fields of Geba and Azmarveth; for the singers had builded them villages round about Jerusalem. And the priests and the Levites purified themselves; and they purified the people, and the gates, and the wall. 31 Then I brought up the princes of Judah upon the wall, and appointed two great companies that gave thanks and went in procession; whereof one went on the right hand upon the wall toward the dung gate; and after them went Beshaiiah, and half of the princes of Judah, and Azariah, Ezra, and Meshullam, Judah, and Benjamin, and Shemaiah, and Jeremiah, and certain of the priests' sons with trumpets: Zechariah the son of Jonathan, the son of Shemaiah, the son of Mattaniah, the son of Micaiah, the son of Zaccur, the son of Asaph; and his brethren, Shemaiah, and Azarel, Milalai, Gilalai, Maai, Nethanel, and Judah, Hanani, with the musical instruments of David the man of God; and Ezra the scribe was before them; and by the fountain gate and straight before them, they went up by the stairs of the city of David, at the going up of the wall, above the house of David, even unto the water gate eastward. And the other company of them that gave thanks went to meet them, and I after them, with the half of the people, upon the wall, above the tower of the furnaces, even unto the broad wall; and above the gate of Ephraim, and by the old gate, and by the fish gate, and the tower of Hananel, and the tower of <sup>1</sup>Hammeah, even unto the sheep gate; and they stood still in the gate of the guard. So stood the two companies of them that gave thanks in the house of God, and I, and the half of the <sup>2</sup>rulers with me; and the priests, Eliakim, Maaseiah, Miniamin, Micalah, Elioenai, Zechariah, and Hananiah, with trumpets; and Maaseiah, and Shemaiah, and Eleazar, and Uzzi, and Jehohanan, and Malchijah, and Elam, and Ezer. And the singers sang loud, with Jeremiaiah their overseer. And they offered great sacrifices that day, and rejoiced; for God had made them rejoice with great joy; and the women also and the children rejoiced; so that the joy of Jerusalem was heard even afar off.

44 And on that day were men appointed over the chambers for the treasures, for the heave offerings, for the firstfruits, and for the tithes, to gather into them, according to the fields of the cities, the portions <sup>3</sup>appointed by the law for the priests and Levites: for Judah rejoiced for the priests and for the Levites that <sup>4</sup>walted. And they kept the ward of their God, and the ward of the purification, and so did the singers and the porters, according to the commandment of David, and of Solomon his son. For in the days of David and Asaph of old <sup>5</sup>there was a chief of the singers, and songs of praise and thanksgiving unto God. And all Israel in the days of Zerubbabel, and in the days of Nehemiah, gave the portions of the singers and the porters, as every day required; and they sanctified for the Levites; and the Levites sanctified for the sons of Aaron.

13 On that day they read in the book of Moses in the audience of the people; and therein was found written, that an Ammonite and a Moabite should not enter into the assembly of God for ever; because they met not the children of Israel with bread and with water, but hired Balaam against them, to curse them: howbeit our God turned the curse into a blessing. And it came to pass, when they had heard the law, that they separated from Israel all the mixed multitude.

4 Now before this, Eliashib the priest, who was appointed over the <sup>6</sup>chambers of the house of our God, being allied unto Tobiah, had prepared for him a great chamber, where aforetime they laid the meal offerings, the frankincense, and the vessels, and the tithes of the corn, the wine, and the oil, which were given by commandment to the Levites, and the singers, and the porters; and the heave offerings for the priests. But in all this <sup>7</sup>time I was not at Jerusalem: for in the two and thirtieth year of Artaxerxes king of Babylon I went unto the king, and after certain days <sup>8</sup>asked I leave of the king; and I came to Jerusalem, and understood of the evil that Eliashib had done for Tobiah, in preparing him a chamber in the courts of the house of God. And it grieved me sore: therefore I cast forth all the household stuff of Tobiah out of the <sup>9</sup>chamber. Then I commanded, and they cleansed the chambers; and thither brought I again the vessels of the house of God, with the meal offerings and the frankincense. And I perceived that the portions of the Levites had not been given them; so that the Levites and the singers, that did the work, were fed every <sup>10</sup>one to his field. Then contended I with the <sup>11</sup>two rulers, and said, Why is the house of God forsaken? And I gathered them together, and set <sup>12</sup>them in their place. Then brought all Judah the tithe of the corn and the wine and the oil unto the treasuries. And I made treasurers over the treasures, Shelemiah the priest, and Zadok the scribe, and of the Levites, Pedaliah; and next to them was Hanan the son of Zaccur, the son of Mattaniah; for they were counted faithful, and their business was to distribute unto their brethren. Remember me, O my God, concerning this, and wipe not out my <sup>13</sup>good deeds that I have done for the house of my God, and for the observances thereof.

15 In those days saw I in Judah some treading winepresses on the sabbath, and bringing in <sup>14</sup>sheaves, and lading asses <sup>15</sup>therewith; as also wine, grapes, and figs, and all manner of burdens, which they brought into Jerusalem on the sabbath day; and I testified <sup>16</sup>against them in the day wherein they sold victuals. There dwelt men of Tyre also therein, which brought in fish, and all manner of ware, and sold on the sabbath unto the children of Judah, and in Jerusalem. Then I contended with the nobles of Judah, and said unto them, What evil thing is this that ye do, and profane the sabbath day? Did not your fathers thus, and did not our God bring all this evil upon us, and upon this city? yet ye bring more wrath upon Israel by profaning the sabbath. And it came to pass that, when the gates of Jerusalem began to be dark before the sabbath, I commanded that the doors should be shut, and commanded that they should not be opened till after the sabbath: and some of my servants set I over the gates, that there should no burden be brought in on the sabbath day. So the merchants and sellers of all kind of ware lodged without Jerusalem once or twice. Then I testified against them, and I said unto them, Why lodge ye about the wall? if ye do so again, I will lay hands on you. From that time forth came they no more on the sabbath: And I commanded the Levites that they should purify themselves, and that they should come and keep the gates to sanctify the sabbath day. Remember unto me, O my God, this also, and spare me according to the greatness of thy mercy.

In these days also saw I the Jews that had married women of Ashdod, of Ammon, and of Moab, and their children spake half in the speech of Ashdod, and could not speak in the Jews' language, but according to the language of each people. And I contended with them, and cursed them, and smote certain of them, and plucked off their hair, and made them swear by God, saying, Ye shall not give your daughters unto their sons, nor take their daughters for your sons, or for yourselves. Did not Solomon king of Israel sin by these things? yet among many nations was there no king like him, and he was beloved of his God, and God made him king over all Israel: nevertheless even him did strange women cause to sin. Shall we then hearken unto you to do all this great evil, to trespass against our God in marrying strange women? And one of the sons of Jehoiada, the son of Eliashib the high priest, was son in law to Sanballat the Berothite: therefore I charged him, from me. Remember them, O my God, because they have defiled the priesthood, and the covenant of the priesthood, and of the Levites. Thus cleansed I them from all strangers, and appointed wards for the priests and for the Levites, every one in his work: and for the wood offering, at times appointed, and for the firstfruits. Remember me, O my God, for good.

THE BOOK OF ESTHER.

1 Now it came to pass in the days of Ahasuerus, this is Ahasuerus which reigned from India even unto Ethiopia, over an hundred and seven and twenty provinces: that in those days, when the king Ahasuerus sat on the throne of his kingdom, which was in Shushan the palace, in the third year of his reign, he made a feast unto all his princes and his servants; the power of Persia and Media, the nobles and princes of the provinces, being before him, when he shewed the riches of his glorious kingdom and the honour of his excellent majesty many days, even an hundred and fourscore days. And when these days were finished, the king made a feast unto all the people that were present in Shushan the palace, both great and small, seven days, in the court of the garden of the king's palace: there were also, a great white cloth of dyed green, and of blue fastened with cords of fine linen and purple to silver rings and pillars of marble: the couches were of gold and silver, upon a pavement of red, and white, and yellow, and black marble. And they gave them drink of vessels of gold, the vessels being diverse one from another, and royal wine in abundance, according to the bounty of the king.

8 And the drinking was according to the law; none could compel: for so the king had appointed to all the officers of his house, that they should do according to every man's pleasure. Also Vashti the queen made a feast for the women in the royal house which belonged to king Ahasuerus. On the seventh day, when the heart of the king was merry with wine, he commanded Mehuman, Biztha, Harbona, Bigthan, and Abagail, Zethar, and Carcas, the seven chamberlains that ministered in the presence of Ahasuerus, the king to bring Vashti the queen before the king with the crown royal to shew the people and the princes her beauty: for she was fair to look on. But the queen Vashti refused to come at the king's commandment by the chamberlains: therefore was the king very wrath and his anger turned against him. Then the king said to the wise men, which knew the times, for so was the king's manner to call them, that knew law and judgement: and the next unto him was Carshena, Shethar, Admatha, Tarshish, Meres, Marsena, and Memucan, the seven princes of Persia and Media, which saw the king's face, and sat first in the kingdom. What shall we do unto the queen Vashti according to law, because she hath not done the bidding of the king Ahasuerus by the chamberlains? And Memucan answered before the king and the princes, Vashti the queen hath not done wrong to the king only, but also to all the princes, and to all the peoples that are in all the provinces of the king Ahasuerus. For this deed of the queen shall come abroad unto all women, to make their husbands contemptible in their eyes, when it shall be reported. The king Ahasuerus commanded Vashti the queen to be brought in before him, but she came not. And this day shall the princesses of Persia and Media which have heard of the deed of the queen say the like unto all the king's princes. So shall there arise much contempt and wrath. If it please the king, let there go forth a royal commandment from him, and let it be written among the laws of the Persians and the Medes, that it be not altered, that Vashti come no more before king Ahasuerus; and let the king give her royal estate unto another that is better than she. And when the king's decree which he shall make shall be published throughout all his kingdom, (for it is great,) all the wives shall give to their husbands honour, both to great and small. And the saying pleased the king and the princes; and the king did according to the word of Memucan: for he sent letters into all the king's provinces, into every province according to the writing thereof, and to every people after their language, that every man should bear rule in his own house, and should publish it according to the language of his people.

2 After these things, when the wrath of king Ahasuerus was pacified, he remembered Vashti, and what she had done, and what was decreed against her. Then said the king's servants that ministered unto him, Let there be fair young virgins sought for to the king; and let the king appoint officers in all the provinces of his kingdom, that they may gather together all the fair young virgins unto Shushan the palace, to the house of the women, unto the custody of Hegai the king's chamberlain, keeper of the women; and let their things for purification be given them; and let the maiden which pleaseth the king be queen instead of Vashti. And the thing pleased the king; and he did so.

5 There was a certain Jew in Shushan the palace, whose name was Mordecai, the son of Jair, the son of Shimei, the son of Kish, a Benjaminite; who had been carried away from Jerusalem with the captives which had been carried away with Jeconiah king of Judah, whom Nebuchadnezzar the king of Babylon had carried away. And he brought up Hadassah, that is, Esther, his uncle's daughter: for she had neither father nor mother, and the maiden was fair and beautiful; and when her father and mother were dead, Mordecai took her for his own daughter. So it came to pass, when the king's commandment and his decree was heard, and when many maidens were gathered together unto Shushan the palace, to the custody of Hegai, that Esther was taken into the king's house, to the custody of Hegai, keeper of the women. And the maiden pleased him, and she obtained kindness of him; and he speedily gave her her things for purification, with her portions, and the seven maidens, which were meet to be given her, out of the king's house; and he removed her and her maidens to the best place of the house of the women. Esther had not shewed her people nor her kindred: for Mordecai had charged her that she should not shew it. And Mordecai walked every day before the court of the women's house, to know how Esther did, and what should become of her. Now when the turn of every maiden was come to go in to king Ahasuerus, after that it had been done to her according to the law for the women, twelve months, (for so were the days of their purifications accomplished, to wit, six months with oil of myrrh, and six months with sweet odours, and with the things for the purifying of the women,) then in this wise came the maiden unto the king, whatsoever she desired was given her to go with her out of the house of the women unto the king's house. In the evening she went, and on the morrow she returned into the second house of the women, to the custody of Shaashgaz, the king's chamberlain, which kept the concubines: she came in unto the king no more, except the king delighted in her, and that she were called by name. Now when the turn of Esther, the daughter of Abihail the uncle of Mordecai, who had taken her for his daughter, was come to go in unto the king, she required nothing but what Hegai the king's chamberlain, the keeper of the women, appointed. And Esther obtained favour in the sight of all them that looked upon her. So Esther was taken unto king Ahasuerus into his house royal in the tenth month, which is the month Tebeth, in the seventh year of his reign. And the king loved Esther above all the women, and she obtained grace and favour in his sight more than all the virgins; so that he set the royal crown upon her head, and made her queen instead of Vashti. Then the king made a great feast unto all his princes and his servants,

1 release to the provinces, and gave gifts, according to the <sup>2</sup>bounty of the king. And when the virgins were gathered together the second time,
then Mordecai sat in the king's gate.
20 Esther had not yet shewed her kindred nor her people; as Mordecai had charged her: for Esther did the commandment of Mordecai, like as when she was brought up with 21 him. In those days, while Mordecai sat in the king's gate, two of the king's chamberlains, Bigthan and Teresh, of those which kept the 3 door, were wroth, and sought to lay hands on the king Ahasuerus.
22 And the thing was known to Mordecai, who shewed it unto Esther the queen; and Esther told the king 23 thereof in Mordecai's name. And when inquisition was made of the matter, and it was found to be so,
they were both hanged on a tree:
and it was written in the book of the chronicles before the king.
3 After these things did king Ahasuerus promote Haman the son of Hammedatha the Agagite, and advanced him, and set his seat above all the princes that were with 2 him. And all the king's servants, that were in the king's gate, bowed down, and did reverence to Haman:
for the king had so commanded concerning him. But Mordecai bowed not down, nor did him reverence.
3 Then the king's servants, that were in the king's gate, said unto Mordecai, Why transgresstest thou the 4 king's commandment? Now it came to pass, when they spake daily unto him, and he hearkened not unto them, that they told Haman, to see whether Mordecai's <sup>4</sup>matters would stand: for he had told them that 5 he was a Jew. And when Haman saw that Mordecai bowed not down, nor did him reverence, then was Haman full of wrath. But he thought 6 scorn to lay hands on Mordecai alone; for they had shewed him
the people of Mordecai: wherefore Haman sought to destroy all the Jews that were throughout the whole kingdom of Ahasuerus, even the 7 people of Mordecai. In the first month, which is the month Nisan, in the twelfth year of king Ahasue-rus, they cast Pur, that is, the lot, before Haman from day to day, and from month to month, to the twelfth month, which is the month Adar.
8 And Haman said unto king Ahasue-rus, There is a certain people scattered abroad and dispersed among the peoples in all the provinces of thy kingdom; and their laws are diverse from those of every people:
neither keep they the king's laws:
therefore it is not <sup>6</sup>for the king's 9 profit to suffer them. If it please the king, let it be written that they be destroyed: and I will pay ten thousand talents of silver into the hands of those that have the charge of the king's business, to bring it 10 into the king's treasures. And the king took his ring from his hand, and gave it unto Haman the son of Hammedatha the Agagite, the 11 Jews' enemy. And the king said unto Haman, The silver is given to thee, the people also, to do with them as it seemeth good to thee.

12 Then were the king's <sup>7</sup>scribes called in the first month, on the thirteenth day thereof, and there was written according to all that Haman commanded unto the king's satraps, and to the governors that were over every province, and to the princes of every people; to every province
according to the writing thereof, and to every people after their language; in the name of king Ahasue-rus was it written, and it was sealed 13 with the king's ring. And letters were sent by posts into all the king's provinces, to destroy, to slay, and to cause to perish, all Jews, both young and old, little children and women, in one day, even upon the thirteenth day of the twelfth
month, which is the month Adar, and to take the spoil of them for 14 a prey. A copy of the writing, <sup>8</sup>that the decree should be given out in every province, was published unto all the peoples, that they should 15 be ready against that day. The posts went forth in haste by the king's commandment, and the decree was given out in Shushan the palace: and the king and Haman sat down to drink: but the city of Shushan was perplexed.

4 Now when Mordecai knew all that was done, Mordecai rent his clothes, and put on sackcloth with ashes, and went out into the midst of the city, and cried with a loud and a 2 bitter cry: and he came even before the king's gate: for none might enter within the king's gate clothed with 3 sackcloth. And in every province, whithersoever the king's commandment and his decree came, there was great mourning among the Jews, and fasting, and weeping, and wailing; and <sup>9</sup>many lay in sackcloth and 4 ashes. And Esther's maidens and her chamberlains came and told it her: and the queen was exceedingly grieved: and she sent raiment to clothe Mordecai, and to take his sackcloth from off him; but he re-5 ceived it not. Then called Esther for Hathach, one of the king's chamberlains, whom he had appointed to attend upon her, and charge him to go to Mordecai, to know what 6 this was, and why it was. So Hathach went forth to Mordecai unto the broad place of the city, which 7 was before the king's gate. And Mordecai told him of all that had happened unto him, and the exact sum of the money that Haman had promised to pay to the king's treasuries for the Jews, to destroy them.
8 Also he gave him the copy of the writing of the decree that was given out in Shushan to destroy them, to shew it unto Esther, and to declare it unto her; and to charge her that she should go in unto the king, to make supplication unto him, and to make request before him, for her people. And Hathach came and told Esther the words of Mordecai. Then Esther spake unto Hathach, and gave him a message unto Mordecai, saying: All the king's servants, and the people of the king's provinces, do know, that whosoever, whether man or woman, shall come unto the king into the inner court, who is not called, there is one law for him, that he be put to death, except such to whom the king shall hold out the golden sceptre, that he may live: but I have not been called to come in unto the king these thirty days. And they told to Mordecai Esther's words. Then Mordecai bade them return answer unto Esther. Think not with thyself that thou shalt escape in the king's house, more than all the Jews. For if thou altogether holdest thy peace at this time, then shall relief and deliverance arise to the Jews from another place, but thou and thy father's house shall perish: and who knoweth whether thou art not come to the kingdom for such a time as this? Then Esther bade them return answer unto Mordecai, Go, gather together all the Jews that are present in Shushan, and fast ye for me, and neither eat nor drink three days, night or day: I also and my maidens will fast in like manner; and so will I go in unto the king, which is not according to the law: and if I perish, I perish. So Mordecai went his way, and did according to all that Esther had commanded him.

5 Now it came to pass on the third day, that Esther put on her royal apparel, and stood in the inner court of the king's house, over against the king's house: and the king sat upon his royal throne in the royal house, over against the entrance of the house. And it was so, when the king saw Esther the queen standing in the court, that she obtained favour in his sight: and the king held out to Esther the golden sceptre that was in his hand. So Esther drew near, and touched the top of the sceptre. Then said the king unto her, What wilt thou, queen Esther? and what is thy request? It shall be given thee even to the half of the kingdom. And Esther said, If it seem good unto the king, let the king and Haman come this day unto the banquet that I have prepared for him. Then the king said, Cause Haman to make haste, that it may be done as Esther hath said. So the king and Haman came to the banquet that Esther had prepared. And the king said unto

Esther at the banquet of wine, What is thy petition? and it shall be granted thee: and what is thy request? even to the half of the kingdom it shall be performed. Then answered Esther, and said, My petition and my request is; if I have found favour in the sight of the king, and if it please the king to grant my petition, and to perform my request, let the king and Haman come to the banquet that I shall prepare for them, and I will do to-morrow as the king hath said. Then went Haman forth that day joyful and glad of heart: but when Haman saw Mordecai in the king's gate, that he stood not up nor moved for him, he was filled with wrath against Mordecai. Nevertheless Haman refrained himself, and went home; and he sent and fetched his friends and Zeresh his wife.

11 And Haman recounted unto them the glory of his riches, and the multitude of his children, and all the things wherein the king had promoted him, and how he had advanced him above the princes and servants of the king. Haman said moreover, Yea, Esther the queen did let no man come in with the king unto the banquet that she had prepared but myself; and to-morrow also am I invited by her together with the king. Yet all this availeth me nothing, so long as I see Mordecai the Jew sitting at the king's gate. Then said Zeresh his wife and all his friends unto him, Let a gallows be made of fifty cubits high, and in the morning speak thou unto the king that Mordecai may be hanged thereon: then go thou in merrily with the king unto the banquet. And the thing pleased Haman: and he caused the gallows to be made.

6 On that night could not the king sleep; and he commanded to bring the book of records of the chronicles, and they were read before the king. And it was found written, that Mordecai had told of Bigthana and Teresh, two of the king's chamberlains, of those that kept the door, who had sought to lay hands on the king Ahasuerus. And the king said, What honour and dignity hath been done to Mordecai for this? Then said the king's servants that ministered unto him, There is nothing done for him. And the king said, Who is in the court? Now Haman was come into the outward court of the king's house, to speak unto the king to hang Mordecai on the gallows that he had prepared for him. And the king's servants said unto him, Behold, Haman standeth in the court. And the king said, Let him come in. So Haman came in. And the king said unto him, What shall be done unto the man whom the king delighteth to honour? Now Haman said in his heart, To whom would the king delight to do honour more 7 than to myself? And Haman said unto the king. For the man whom 8 the king delighteth to honour, let royal apparel be brought which the king useth to wear, and the horse that the king rideth upon, and on the head of which a crown royal is 9 set: and let the apparel and the horse be delivered to the hand of one of the king's most noble princes, that they may array the man withal

 whom the king delighteth to honour,
 and cause him to ride on horseback through the street of the city, and proclaim before him. Thus shall it 10 be done to the man whom the king delighteth to honour. Then the king said to Haman. Make haste, and take the apparel and the horse, as thou hast said, and do even so to Mordecai the Jew, that sitteth at the king's 11 gate: let nothing fail of all that thou hast spoken. Then took Haman the apparel and the horse, and arrayed Mordecai, and caused him to ride through the street of the city, and proclaimed before him.
 Thus shall it be done unto the man whom the king delighteth to honour.

12 And Mordecai came again to the king's gate. But Haman hasted to his house, mourning and having his 13 head covered. And Haman recounted unto Zeresh his wife and all his friends every thing that had befallen him. Then said his wise men and Zeresh his wife unto him. If Mordecai be of the seed of the Jews, then shall not prevail against him, but shall surely fall before him.
 14 While they were yet talking with him, came the king's chamberlains, and hastened to bring Haman unto the banquet that Esther had prepared.

15 So the king and Haman came to banquet with Esther the queen.
 2 And the king said again unto Esther on the second day at the banquet of wine. What is thy petition, queen Esther? and it shall be granted thee:
 and what is thy request? even to the half of the kingdom it shall be 3 performed. Then Esther the queen answered and said. If I have found favour in thy sight, O king, and if it please the king, let my life be given me at my petition, and my 4 people at my request: for we are sold I and my people to be destroyed, to be slain, and to perish. But if we had been sold for bondmen and bondwomen, I had held my peace.
 5 Although the adversary could not have compensated for the king's name.
 Then spake the king Ahasuerus, and said unto Esther the queen. Who is he, and where is he, that durst presume in his heart to 6 do so? And Esther said. An adversary and an enemy, even this wicked Haman. Then Haman was 7 afraid before the king and the queen.
 And the king arose in his wrath from the banquet of wine, and went into the palace garden: and Haman stood up to make request for his life to Esther the queen; for he saw that there was evil determined against 8 him by the king. Then the king returned out of the palace garden into the place of the banquet of wine; and Haman was fallen upon the couch whereon Esther was.

 Then said the king. Will he even force the queen before me in the house? As the word went out of the king's mouth, they covered Haman's 9 face. Then said Harbonah, one of the chamberlains that were before the king. Behold also, the gallows fifty cubits high, which Haman hath made for Mordecai, who spake good for the king, standeth in the house of Haman. And the king said. Hang 10 him thereon. So they hanged Haman on the gallows that he had prepared for Mordecai. Then was the king's wrath pacified.

8 On that day did the king Ahasuerus give the house of Haman the Jews' enemy unto Esther the queen. And Mordecai came before the king; for Esther had told what he was unto 2 her. And the king took off his ring, which he had taken from Haman, and gave it unto Mordecai. And Esther set Mordecai over the house of Haman.
 3 And Esther spake yet again before the king, and fell down at his feet, and besought him with tears to put away the mischief of Haman the Agagite, and his device that he had 4 devised against the Jews. Then the king held out to Esther the golden sceptre. So Esther arose, and stood 5 before the king. And she said. If it please the king, and if I have found favour in his sight, and the time seem right before the king, and I be pleasing in his eyes, let it be written to reverse the letters devised by Haman the son of Ham-6 medatha the Agagite, which he wrote to destroy the Jews which are in all the king's provinces: for how can I endure to see the evil that shall come unto my people?
 or how can I endure to see the 7 destruction of my kindred? Then the king Ahasuerus said unto Esther the queen and to Mordecai the Jew.
 Behold, I have given Esther the house of Haman, and him they have hanged upon the gallows, because he had his hand out against the Jews.
 8 Write ye also to the Jews, as it liketh you, in the king's name, and seal it with the king's ring: for the writing which is written in the king's name, and sealed with the king's ring, may no man reverse.
 9 Then were the king's scribes called at that time, in the third month, which is the month Siwan, on the three and twentieth day thereof;
 and it was written according to all that Mordecai commanded unto the Jews, and to the satraps, and the governors and princes of the

And he wrote in the name of king Ahasuerus, and sealed it with the king's ring, and sent letters by posts on horseback, riding on <sup>1</sup> swift steeds that were used in the king's service, bred of the stud: wherein the king granted the Jews which were in every city to gather themselves together, and to stand for their life, to destroy, to slay, and to cause to perish, all the power of the people and province that would assault them, their little ones and women, and to take the spoil of them for a prey, upon one day in all the provinces of king Ahasuerus, namely, upon the thirteenth day of the twelfth month, which is the month
- 13 Adar. A copy of the writing, <sup>2</sup> that the decree should be given out in every province, was published unto all the peoples, and that the Jews should be ready against that day to avenge themselves on their enemies. So the posts that rode upon swift steeds that were used in the king's service went out, being hastened and pressed on by the king's commandment; and the decree was given out in Shushan the palace.
- 15 And Mordecai went forth from the presence of the king in royal apparel of blue and white, and with a great crown of gold, and with a robe of fine linen and purple; and the city of Shushan shouted and was glad. The Jews had light and gladness, and joy and honour. And in every province, and in every city, whithersoever the king's commandment and his decree came, the Jews had gladness and joy, a feast and a good day. And many from among the peoples of the land became Jews; for the fear of the Jews was fallen upon them.
- 9 Now in the twelfth month, which is the month Adar, on the thirteenth day of the same, when the king's commandment and his decree drew near to be put in execution, in the day that the enemies of the Jews hoped to have rule over them; whereas it was turned to the contrary, that the Jews had rule over them that hated them; the Jews gathered themselves together in their cities throughout all the provinces of the king Ahasuerus, to lay hand on such as sought their hurt: and no man could withstand them; for the fear of them was fallen upon all the peoples. And all the princes of the provinces, and the satraps, and the governors, and they that did the king's business, helped the Jews; because the fear of Mordecai was
- 4 fallen upon them. For Mordecai was great in the king's house, and his fame went forth throughout all the provinces: for the man Mordecai waxed greater and greater.
- 5 And the Jews smote all their enemies with the stroke of the sword, and with slaughter and destruction, and did what they would unto them that hated them. And in Shushan the palace the Jews slew and destroyed five hundred men. And Parshandatha, and Dalphon, and Aspatha, and Poratha, and Adalia, and Aridatha, and Parmashta, and Arisai, and Aridai, and Vaizatha,
- 10 the ten sons of Haman the son of Hammedatha, the Jews' enemy, slew they; but on the spoil they laid not their hand. On that day the number of those that were slain in Shushan the palace was brought before the king. And the king said unto Esther the queen. The Jews have slain and destroyed five hundred men in Shushan the palace, and the ten sons of Haman; what then have they done in the rest of the king's provinces! Now what is thy petition? and it shall be granted thee; or what is thy request further? and it shall be done.
- 13 Then said Esther, If it please the king, let it be granted to the Jews which are in Shushan to do tomorrow also according unto this day's decree, and let Haman's ten sons be hanged upon the gallows.
- 14 And the king commanded it so to be done; and a decree was given out in Shushan; and they hanged Haman's ten sons. And the Jews that were in Shushan gathered themselves together on the fourteenth day also of the month Adar, and slew three hundred men in Shushan; but on the spoil they laid not their hand. And the other Jews that were in the king's provinces gathered themselves together, and stood for their lives, and had rest from their enemies, and slew of them that hated them seventy and five thousand; but on the spoil they laid not their hand. This was done on the thirteenth day of the month Adar; and on the fourteenth day of the same they rested, and made it a day of feasting and gladness.
- 18 But the Jews that were in Shushan assembled together on the thirteenth day thereof, and on the fourteenth thereof; and on the fifteenth day of the same they rested, and made it a day of feasting and gladness. Therefore do the Jews of the villages, that dwell in the unwalled towns, make the fourteenth day of the month Adar a day of gladness and feasting, and a good day, and of sending portions one to another.
- 20 And Mordecai wrote these things, and sent letters unto all the Jews that were in all the provinces of the king Ahasuerus, both nigh and 21 far, to enjoin them that they should keep the fourteenth day of the month Adar, and the fifteenth day of the same, yearly, as the days wherein the Jews had rest from their enemies, and the month which was turned unto them from sorrow to gladness, and from mourning into a good day: that they should make them days of feasting and gladness, and of sending portions one to another, and gifts to the poor. And the Jews undertook to do as they had begun, and as Mordecai had written unto them; because Haman the son of Hammedatha, the Agagite, the enemy of all the Jews, had devised against the Jews to destroy them, and had cast Pur, that is, the lot, to consume them, and to destroy them; but when the matter came before the king, he commanded by letters that his wicked device, which he had devised against the Jews, should return upon his own head; and that he and his sons should be hanged on the gallows. Wherefore they called these days Purim, after the name of Pur. Therefore because of all the words of this letter, and of that which they had seen concerning this matter, and that which had come unto them, the Jews ordained, and took upon them, and upon their seed, and upon all such as joined themselves unto them, so as it should not fail, that they would keep these two days according to the writing thereof, and according to the appointed time there-

28 of, every year; and that these days should be remembered and kept throughout every generation, every family, every province, and every city; and that these days of Purim should not fail from among the Jews, nor the memorial of them <sup>1</sup>perish from their seed. Then Esther the queen, the daughter of Abihail, and Mordecai the Jew, wrote with all <sup>2</sup>authority to confirm this second letter of Purim. And he sent letters unto all the Jews, to the hundred twenty and seven provinces of the kingdom of Ahasuerus, with words of peace and truth, to confirm these days of Purim in their appointed times, according as Mordecai the Jew and Esther the queen had enjoined them, and as they had ordained for themselves and for their seed. <sup>3</sup>In the matter of the fastings and their cry. And the commandment of Esther confirmed these matters of Purim; and it was written in the book. 10 And the king Ahasuerus laid a tribute upon the land, and upon 2 the isles of the sea. And all the acts of his power and of his might, and the full account of the greatness of Mordecai, whereunto the king advanced him, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Media and 3 Persia? For Mordecai the Jew was next unto king Ahasuerus, and great among the Jews, and accepted of the multitude of his brethren; seeking the good of his people, and speaking peace to all his seed.

THE BOOK OF JOB.

1 THERE was a man in the land of Uz, whose name was <sup>1</sup>Job; and that man was perfect and upright, and one that feared God, and eschewed evil. And there were born unto him seven sons and three daughters. His <sup>2</sup>substance also was seven thousand sheep, and three thousand camels, and five hundred yoke of oxen, and five hundred she-asses, and a very great household; so that this man was the greatest 4 of all the children of the east. And his sons went and held a feast in the house of each one upon his day; and they sent and called for their three sisters to eat and to drink 5 with them. And it was so, when the days of their feasting were gone about, that Job sent and sanctified them, and rose up early in the morning, and offered burnt offerings according to the number of them all: for Job said, It may be that my sons have sinned, and <sup>3</sup>renounced God in their hearts. Thus did Job continually.

6 Now there was a day when the sons of God came to present themselves before the LORD, and <sup>4</sup>Satan came also among them. And the LORD said unto Satan, Whence comest thou? Then Satan answered the LORD, and said, From going to and fro in the earth, and from 8 walking up and down in it. And the LORD said unto Satan, Hast thou considered my servant Job? <sup>5</sup>for there is none like him in the earth, a perfect and an upright man, one that feareth God, and escheweth evil. Then Satan answered the LORD, and said, Doth Job fear God for nought? Hast not thou made an hedge about him, and about his house, and about all that he hath, on every side? thou hast blessed the work of his hands, and his 11 But put forth thine hand now, and touch all that he hath, and he will renounce thee to thy face. And the LORD said unto Satan, Behold, all that he hath is in thy <sup>2</sup>power; only upon himself put not forth thine hand. So Satan went forth from the presence of the LORD.

13 And it fell on a day when his sons and his daughters were eating and drinking wine in their eldest brother's house, that there came a messenger unto Job, and said, The oxen were plowing, and the asses feeding beside them: and <sup>3</sup>the Sabeans fell upon them, and took them away; yea, they have slain the <sup>4</sup>servants with the edge of the sword; and I only am escaped alone to tell thee. While he was yet speaking, there came also another, and said, The fire of God is fallen from heaven, and hath burned up the sheep, and the <sup>4</sup>servants, and consumed them; and I only am escaped alone to tell thee. While he was yet speaking, there came also another, and said, The Chaldeans made three bands, and <sup>5</sup>fell upon the camels, and have taken them away, yea, and slain the <sup>4</sup>servants with the edge of the sword; and I only am escaped alone to tell thee. While he was yet speaking, there came also another, and said, Thy sons and thy daughters were eating and drinking wine in their eldest brother's house: and, behold, there came a great wind <sup>6</sup>from the wilderness, and smote the four corners of the house, and it fell upon the young men, and they are dead; and I only am escaped alone to tell thee. Then Job arose, and rent his mantle, and shaved his head, and fell down upon the ground, and worshipped; and he said, Naked came I out of my mother's womb, and naked shall I return thither: the LORD gave, and the LORD hath taken away; blessed be the name of the LORD. In all this Job sinned not, nor charged God with foolishness.
2 Again there was a day when the sons of God came to present themselves before the LORD, and Satan came also among them to present himself before the LORD. And the LORD said unto Satan, From whence comest thou? And Satan answered the LORD, and said, From going to and fro in the earth, and from walking up and down in it. And the LORD said unto Satan, Hast thou considered my servant Job? <sup>7</sup>for there is none like him in the earth, a perfect and an upright man, one that feareth God, and escheweth evil: and he still holdeth fast his integrity, although thou movedst me against him, <sup>8</sup>to destroy him
4 without cause. And Satan answered the LORD, and said, Skin for skin, yea, all that a man hath will he give for his life. But put forth thine hand now, and touch his bone and his flesh, and he will renounce thee to thy face. And the LORD said unto Satan, Behold, he is in thine hand; only spare his life. So Satan went forth from the presence of the LORD, and smote Job with sore boils from the sole of his foot unto his crown. And he took him a potsherd to scrape himself withal; and he sat among the ashes. Then said his wife unto him, Dost thou still hold fast thine integrity? renounce God, and die. But he said unto her, Thou speakest as one of the <sup>9</sup>foolish women speaketh. What? shall we receive good at the hand of God, and shall we not receive evil? In all this did not Job sin with his lips.

11 Now when Job's three friends heard of all this evil that was come upon him, they came every one from his own place; Eliphaz the Temanite, and Bildad the Shuhite, and Zophar the Naamathite: and they made an appointment together to come to bemoan him and to comfort him. And when they lifted up their eyes afar off, and knew him not, they lifted up their voice, and wept; and they rent every one his mantle, and sprinkled dust upon their heads toward heaven. So they sat down with him upon the ground seven days and seven nights, and none spake a word unto him: for they saw that his <sup>10</sup>grief was very great.

3 After this opened Job his mouth, and cursed his day. And Job answered and said:
3 Let the day perish wherein I was born.
And the night which said, There is a man child conceived.
4 Let that day be darkness:
Let not God <sup>11</sup>regard it from above,
Neither let the light shine upon it.
5 Let darkness and <sup>12</sup>the shadow of death claim it for their own;
Let a cloud dwell upon it;
Let all that maketh black the day terrify it.
6 As for that night, let thick darkness seize upon it:
Let it not <sup>13</sup>rejoice among the days of the year:
Let it not come into the number of the months.
7 Lo, let that night be <sup>14</sup>barren;
Let no joyful voice come therein.
8 Let them curse it that curse the day,
Who are <sup>15</sup>ready to rouse up leviathan.
9 Let the stars of the twilight thereof be dark:
Let it look for light, but have none;
Neither let it behold the eyelids of the morning:

Nor hid trouble from mine eyes.

5 Or, like my meat	24 For my sighing cometh <sup>5</sup> before I eat,	19 How much more them that dwell in houses of clay,	16 Or, like
	And my roarings are poured out like water.	Whose foundation is in the dust.	17 Or, From morning to evening
6 Or, the thing which I feared is come &c.	25 For the thing which I fear cometh upon me.	Which are crushed <sup>16</sup> before the moth!	18 Heb. broken in pieces.
7 Or, I was not at ease ... yet trouble came	And that which I am afraid of cometh unto me.	20 <sup>17</sup> Betwixt morning and evening they are <sup>18</sup> destroyed;	19 Or, Is not their excellency which is in them removed?
	26 <sup>7</sup> I am not at ease, neither am I quiet, neither have I rest;	They perish for ever without any regarding it.	20 See ch. xv. 15.
	But trouble cometh.	21 <sup>19</sup> Is not their tent-cord plucked up within them?	21 Or, indignation
	4 Then answered Eliphaz the Temanite, and said,	They die, and that without wisdom.	22 According to many ancient versions, the thirsty swallow up.
	2 If one assay to commune with thee, wilt thou be grieved?	5 Call now; is there any that will answer thee?	23 Or, iniquity See ch. iv. 8.
	But who can withhold himself from speaking?	And to which of the <sup>20</sup> holy ones wilt thou turn?	24 Heb. the sons of flame or of lightning.
	3 Behold, thou hast instructed many.	2 For vexation killeth the foolish man.
	And thou hast strengthened the weak hands.	And <sup>21</sup> jealous slayeth the silly one.
	4 Thy words have upholden him that was falling,	3 I have seen the foolish taking root;
8 Heb. loosing.	And thou hast confirmed the feeble knees.	But suddenly I cursed his habitation.
9 Or, art grieved	5 But now it is come unto thee, and thou <sup>9</sup> faintest;	4 His children are far from safety.
	It toucheth thee, and thou art troubled.	And they are crushed in the gate.
	6 Is not thy fear of God thy confidence,	Neither is there any to deliver them.
	And thy hope the integrity of thy ways?	5 Whose harvest the hungry eateth up.
	7 Remember, I pray thee, who ever perished, being innocent?	And taketh it even out of the thorns.
	Or where were the upright cut off?	And <sup>22</sup> the snare gapeth for their substance.
		6 For <sup>23</sup> affliction cometh not forth of the dust,
		Neither doth trouble spring out of the ground;
		7 But man is born unto trouble,
		As <sup>4</sup> the sparks fly upward.
		8 But as for me, I would seek unto God.

	And unto God would I commit my cause;	3 For now it would be heavier than the sand of the seas:
	9 Which doeth great things and unsearchable;	Therefore have my words been rash.
	Marvellous things without number:	4 For the arrows of the Almighty are within me,
	10 Who giveth rain upon the earth,	The poison whereof my spirit drinketh up:
	And sendeth waters upon the fields:	The terrors of God do set themselves in array against me.
	11 So that he setteth up on high those that be low;	5 Doth the wild ass bray when he hath grass?
	And those which mourn are exalted to safety.	Or loweth the ox over his fodder?
	12 He frustrateth the devices of the crafty,	6 Can that which hath no savour be eaten without salt?
1 Or, can perform nothing of worth	So that their hands <sup>1</sup> cannot perform their enterprise.	Or is there any taste in <sup>7</sup> the white of an egg?	7 Or, the juice of purslain
	13 He taketh the wise in their own craftiness:	7 <sup>8</sup> My soul refuseth to touch them:	8 Or, What things my soul refused to touch, these are as my loathsome meat
	And the counsel of the froward is carried headlong.	They are as loathsome meat to me.	9 Or, Though I shrink back
	14 They meet with darkness in the day-time,	8 Oh that I might have my request;	10 Or, harden myself
2 Heb, out of their mouth.	And grope at noonday as in the night.	And that God would grant me the thing that I long for!	11 Or, though he spare not
	15 But he saveth from the sword <sup>2</sup> of their mouth,	9 Even that it would please God to crush me;	12 Or, That
	Even the needy from the hand of the mighty.	That he would let loose his hand, and cut me off!	13 Or, concealed
	16 So the poor hath hope,	10 Then should I yet have comfort;	14 Or, sound wisdom
	And iniquity stoppeth her mouth.	<sup>9</sup> Yea, I would <sup>10</sup> exult in pain <sup>11</sup> that spareth not:	15 Or, Else might he forsake
3 Or, reproacheth	17 Behold, happy is the man whom God <sup>3</sup> correcteth:	12 For I have not <sup>13</sup> denied the words of the Holy One.	Or, But he forsaketh
	Therefore despise not thou the chastening of the Almighty,	11 What is my strength, that I should wait?
	18 For he maketh sore, and bindeth up;	And what is mine end, that I should be patient?
	He woundeth, and his hands make whole.	12 Is my strength the strength of stones?
	19 He shall deliver thee in six troubles;	Or is my flesh of brass?
	Yea, in seven there shall no evil touch thee.	13 Is it not that I have no help in me,
	20 In famine he shall redeem thee from death;	And that <sup>14</sup> effectual working is driven quite from me?
	And in war from the power of the sword.	14 To him that is ready to faint kindness should be shewed from his friend;
	21 Thou shalt be hid from the scourge of the tongue;	15 Even to him that forsaketh the fear of the Almighty.
	Neither shalt thou be afraid of destruction when it cometh.	15 My brethren have dealt deceitfully as a brook,
	22 At destruction and dearth thou shalt laugh;	As the channel of brooks that pass away;
	Neither shalt thou be afraid of the beasts of the earth.	16 Which are black by reason of the ice,
	23 For thou shalt be in league with the stones of the field;	And wherein the snow hideth itself:
	And the beasts of the field shall be at peace with thee.	17 What time they <sup>16</sup> wax warm, they vanish:	16 Or, shrink
	24 And thou shalt know that thy tent is in peace;	When it is hot, they are consumed out of their place.
4 Or, habitation	And thou shalt visit thy <sup>4</sup> fold, and <sup>5</sup> shalt miss nothing,	18 <sup>17</sup> The caravans <sup>18</sup> that travel by the way of them turn aside;	17 Or, The paths of their way are turned aside
5 Or, shalt not err	25 Thou shalt know also that thy seed shall be great,	They go up into the waste, and perish.
	And thine offspring as the grass of the earth.	19 The caravans of Tema looked.
	26 Thou shalt come to thy grave in a full age,	The companies of Sheba waited for them.
	Like as a shock of corn cometh in in its season.	20 They were ashamed because they had hoped;
6 Heb, for thyself.	27 Lo this, we have searched it, so it is; Hear it, and know thou it <sup>6</sup> for thy good.	They came thither, and were confounded.
	6 Then Job answered and said,	21 For now ye <sup>18</sup> are nothing;	18 Another reading is, as like thee, etc.
	2 Oh that my vexation were but weighed,	Ye see a terror, and are afraid.
	And my calamity laid in the balances together!	22 Did I say, Give unto me?
		Or, Offer a present for me of your substance?
		23 Or, Deliver me from the adversary's hand?

Or, Redeem me from the hand of the oppressor?

24 Teach me, and I will hold my peace: And cause me to understand wherein I have erred.

25 How formidable are words of uprightness! But what doth your arguing reprove?

26 Do ye imagine to reprove words? Seeing that the speeches of one that is desperate are as wind.

27 Yea, ye would cast lots upon the fatherless, And make merchandise of your friend.

28 Now therefore be pleased to look upon me;

2 For surely I shall not lie to your face.

29 Return, I pray you, let there be no injustice:

Yea, return again, <sup>3</sup> my cause is righteous.

30 Is there injustice on my tongue? Cannot my tongue discern mischievous things?

7 Is there not a <sup>4</sup> warfare to man upon earth? And are not his days like the days of an hiring?

2 As a servant that earnestly desireth the shadow, And as a hawking that looketh for his wages,

3 So am I made to possess months of vanity, And wearisome nights are appointed to me.

4 When I lie down, I say, 'When shall I arise?' but the night is long;

And I am full of to-doings to and fro unto the dawning of the day.

5 My flesh is clothed with worms and clowd of dust;

My bed is broken up and breaketh out afresh.

6 My days are swifter than a weaver's shuttle,

And are spent without hope.

7 O remember that my life is wind: Man's eye shall no more see me.

8 The eye of him that seeth me shall I be like to no more.

Thy eyes shall be upon me, but I shall not be.

9 As the cloud is consumed and vanishes like dew,

So he that seeth down to the Sheol shall come up no more.

10 He shall return no more to his house.

Neither shall his place know him any more.

11 Therefore I will not refrain my mouth:

I will speak in the anguish of my spirit;

I will complain in the bitterness of my soul.

12 Am I not of a season's work?

That thou sufferest a watch over me?

13 When I say, My bed shall comfort me,

My couch shall ease my complaint;

14 Then thou scarest me with dreams, And terrifiest me through visions.

15 So that my soul chooseth strangling, And death rather than to see my bones.

16 <sup>5</sup> I loathe my life: I would not live always.

Let me alone; for my days are vanity.

17 What is man, that thou shouldest magnify him,

And that thou shouldest set thine heart upon him?

18 And that thou shouldest visit him every morning,

And try him every moment?

19 How long wilt thou not look away from me,

Nor let me alone till I swallow down my spittle?

20 If I have sinned what do I unto thee? O thou watcher of men?

Why hast thou set me as a mark for thee,

So that I am a burden to myself?

21 And why dost thou not pardon my transgression, and take away mine iniquity?

For now shall I lie down in the dust; And thou shalt seek me diligently, but I shall not be.

8 Then answered Eliphaz the Shu-bite, and said,

2 How long wilt thou speak these things?

And how long shall the words of thy mouth be like a windy wind?

3 Doth God pervert judgment? Or doth the Almighty pervert justice?

4 If thy children have sinned against him,

And he has delivered them into the hand of their transgression:

5 If thou wouldest seek diligently unto God,

And make thy supplication to the Almighty;

6 If thou wert pure and upright; Surely now he would awake for thee.

And make the habitation of thy righteousness prosperous.

7 And though thy beginning was small, Yet the latter end should greatly increase.

8 For aquire, I pray thee, of the former age.

And apply thyself to that which their fathers have sinned out:

9 (For we are but of yesterday, and know nothing,

Because our days upon earth are a shadow.)

10 Shall not they teach thee, and tell thee,

And offer words out of their heart?

11 Can the Rush grow up without mire?

Can the Flag grow without water?

12 Whilst it is yet in its greenness, Can it be cut down?

It withereth before any other herb.

13 So are the paths of all that forget God;

	And the hope of the godless man shall perish;	The helpers of <sup>11</sup> Rahab <sup>12</sup> do stoop under him.	11 Or, arrogancy See Is. xxx. 7.
1 Or, be cut off	14 Whose confidence shall <sup>1</sup> break in sunder.	14 How much less shall I answer him, And choose out my words to reason with him?	12 Or, did
2 Heb. house.	And whose trust is a spider's <sup>2</sup> web.	15 Whom, though I were righteous, yet would I not answer;	13 Or, him that would judge me
	15 He shall lean upon his house, but it shall not stand;	I would make supplication to <sup>13</sup> mine adversary.
	He shall hold fast thereby, but it shall not endure.	16 If I had called, and he had answered me;
	16 He is green before the sun, And his shoots go forth over his garden.	Yet would I not believe that he hearkened unto my voice.
3 Or, beside the spring	17 His roots are wrapped <sup>3</sup> about the heap.	17 <sup>14</sup> For he breaketh me with a tempest,	14 Heb. He who.
	He beholdeth the place of stones.	And multiplieth my wounds without cause.
	18 If he be destroyed from his place, Then it shall deny him, saying, I have not seen thee.	18 He will not suffer me to take my breath.
4 Or, dust	19 Behold, this is the joy of his way, And out of the <sup>4</sup> earth shall others spring.	But filch me with bitterness.
	20 Behold, God will not cast away a perfect man.	19 <sup>15</sup> If we speak of the strength of the mighty, <sup>16</sup> lo, he is there!	15 Or, If we speak of strength, lo, he is mighty
	Neither will he uphold the evil-doers.	And if of judgement, who will appoint me a time?	16 Or, Lo, here am I, saith he; and if of judgement, Who &c.
5 Or, Till he fill	21 <sup>5</sup> He will yet fill thy mouth with laughter.	20 Though I be righteous, mine own mouth shall condemn me;	17 Or, he
	And thy lips with shouting.	Though I be perfect, <sup>17</sup> it shall prove me perverse.	18 Or, Though I be perfect, I will not re-ga-d &c.
	22 They that hate thee shall be clothed with shame;	21 <sup>18</sup> I am <sup>19</sup> perfect; I regard not myself;	19 See ch. i. 1.
	And the tent of the wicked shall be no more.	I despise my life.	20 Or, calamity
	9 Then Job answered and said,	22 It is all one; therefore I say.	21 Or, runner
6 Or, For	2 Of a truth I know that it is so:	He destroyeth the perfect and the wicked.	22 Heb. ships of reed.
7 Or, before	<sup>6</sup> But how can man be just <sup>7</sup> with God?	23 If the scourge slay suddenly, He will mock at the <sup>20</sup> trial of the innocent.	23 Heb. brighten up.
8 Or, If one should desire... he could not &c.	3 <sup>8</sup> If he be pleased to contend with him,	24 The earth is given into the hand of the wicked:	24 Another reading is, with snow.
	He cannot answer him one of a thousand.	He covereth the faces of the judges thereof;	25 Heb. cleanse my hands with lye.
	4 He is wise in heart, and mighty in strength:	If it be not he, who then is it?
	Who hath hardened himself against him, and prospered?	25 Now my days are swifter than a <sup>21</sup> post:
	5 Which removeth the mountains, and they know it not,	They flee away, they see no good.
	When he overturneth them in his anger.	26 They are passed away as the <sup>22</sup> swift ships:
	6 Which shaketh the earth out of her place,	As the eagle that swoopeth on the prey.
	And the pillars thereof tremble.	27 If I say, I will forget my complaint, I will put off my <sup>23</sup> sad countenance, and <sup>23</sup> be of good cheer:
	7 Which commandeth the sun, and it riseth not;	28 I am afraid of all my sorrows.
	And sealeth up the stars.	I know that thou wilt not hold me innocent.
9 Heb. high places.	8 Which alone stretcheth out the heavens,	29 I shall be condemned;
	And treadeth upon the <sup>9</sup> waves of the sea.	Why then do I labour in vain?
	9 Which maketh the Bear, Orion, and the Pleiades,	30 If I wash myself <sup>24</sup> with snow water, And <sup>24</sup> make my hands never so clean;
	And the chambers of the south.	31 Yet wilt thou plunge me in the ditch,
	10 Which doeth great things past finding out;	And mine own clothes shall abhor me.
	Yea, marvellous things without number.	32 For he is not a man, as I am, that I should answer him,
	11 Lo, he goeth by me, and I see him not:	That we should come together in judgement.
	He passeth on also, but I perceive him not.	33 There is no <sup>25</sup> daysman betwixt us, That might lay his hand upon us both.
	12 Behold, he seizeth the prey, who can <sup>10</sup> hinder him?	34 Let him take his rod away from me, And let not his terror make me afraid:
10 Or, turn him back	Who will say unto him, What doest thou?	35 Then would I speak, and not fear him;
	13 God will not withdraw his anger;	For I am not so in myself.

- 10 My soul is weary of my life;
I will give free course to my complaint;
I will speak in the bitterness of my soul.
2 I will say unto God, Do not condemn me;
Shew me wherefore thou contendest with me.
3 Is it good unto thee that thou shouldst oppress,
That thou shouldst despise the work of thine hands,
And shine upon the counsel of the wicked?
4 Hast thou eyes of flesh,
Or seest thou as man seeth?
5 Are thy days as the days of man,
Or thy years as man's days.
6 That thou inquest after mine iniquity,
And searchest after my sin.
7 Although thou knowest that I am not wicked;
And there is none that can deliver out of thine hand?
8 Thine hands have framed me and fashioned me
Together round about; yet thou dost destroy me.
9 Remember, I beseech thee, that thou hast fashioned me as clay;
And wilt thou bring me into dust again?
10 Hast thou not poured me out as milk,
And curdled me like cheese?
11 Thou hast clothed me with skin and flesh,
And knit me together with bones and sinews.
12 Thou hast granted me life and favour,
And thy visitation hath preserved my spirit.
13 Yet these things thou didst hide in thine heart,
I know that this is with thee:
14 If I sin, then thou markest me,
And thou wilt not acquit me from mine iniquity.
15 If I be wicked, woe unto me:
And if I be righteous, yet shall I not lift up my head:
16 For ye are filled with iniquity,
And looking upon mine affliction
And if my head exalt itself, thou hurdest me as a lion
And again thou shewest thyself marvellous upon me.
17 Thou renewest thy witnesses against me,
And increasest thine indignation upon me,
4 changes and warfare are with me.
18 Wherefore then hast thou brought me forth out of the womb?
I had given up the ghost, and no eye had seen me.
19 I should have been as though I had not been;
I should have been carried from the womb to the grave.
20 Are not my days few? <sup>5</sup>cease then.

- And let me alone, that I may <sup>6</sup>take comfort a little.
21 Before I go whence I shall not return.
Even to the land of darkness and of the shadow of death;
22 A land of thick darkness, as darkness itself;
A land of the shadow of death, without any order.
And where the light is as darkness.
11 Then answered Zophar the Naamathite, and said,
2 Should not the multitude of words be answered?
And should a man full of talk be justified?
3 Should thy sayings make men hold their peace?
And when thou mockest, shall no man make thee ashamed?
4 For thou sayest, My doctrine is pure,
And I am clean in thine eyes.
5 But Oh that God would speak,
And open his lips against thee;
6 And that he would shew thee the secrets of wisdom,
7 That it is manifold in effectual working!
Know therefore that God <sup>8</sup>exacteth of thee less than thine iniquity deserveth.
7 <sup>9</sup>Canst thou by searching find out God?
Canst thou find out the Almighty unto perfection?
8 <sup>1</sup>It is high as heaven; what canst thou do?
Deeper than <sup>11</sup>Sheol; what canst thou know?
9 The measure thereof is longer than the earth,
And broader than the sea.
10 If he pass through, and shut up,
And <sup>12</sup>call unto judgement, then who can hinder him?
11 For he knoweth vain men;
He seeth iniquity also, <sup>13</sup>even though he consider it not.
12 <sup>14</sup>But vain man is void of understanding.
Yea man is born as a wild ass's colt.
13 If thou set thine heart aright,
And stretch out thine hands toward him,
14 If iniquity be in thine hand, put it far away,
And let not unrighteousness dwell in thy tents:
15 Surely then shalt thou lift up thy face without spot:
Yea, thou shalt be steadfast, and shalt not fear.
16 For thou shalt forget thy misery:
Thou shalt remember it as waters that are passed away:
17 And <sup>15</sup>thy life shall <sup>16</sup>be clearer than the noonday:
Though there be darkness, it shall be as the morning.
18 And thou shalt be secure, because there is hope:

<sup>13</sup> Or, and him that considereth not

<sup>14</sup> Or, But on empty men will get understanding, when a wild ass's colt is born

<sup>15</sup> Or, as horn

Yea, thou shalt search about thee, and shalt take thy rest in safety.
 19 Also thou shalt lie down, and none shall make thee afraid;
 Yea, many shall make suit unto thee.
 20 But the eyes of the wicked shall fail, And <sup>1</sup>they shall have no way to flee.
 And their hope shall be the giving up of the ghost.

12 Then Job answered and said,
 2 No doubt but ye are the people, And wisdom shall die with you.
 3 But I have understanding as well as you;
 I am not inferior to you:
 Yea, who knoweth not such things as these?
 4 I am as one that is a laughing-stock to his neighbour,
 A man that called upon God, and he answered him:
 The just, the perfect man is a laughing-stock.
 5 In the thought of him that is at ease there is contempt for misfortune;
 It is ready for them whose foot slippeth.
 6 The tents of robbers prosper, And they that provoke God are secure;
 2 Into whose hand God bringeth abundantly.
 7 But ask now the beasts, and they shall teach thee;
 And the fowls of the air, and they shall tell thee:
 8 Or speak to the earth, and it shall teach thee;
 And the fishes of the sea shall declare unto thee.
 9 Who knoweth not <sup>3</sup>in all these, That the hand of the LORD hath wrought this?
 10 In whose hand is the soul of every living thing,
 And the <sup>4</sup>breath of all mankind.
 11 Doth not the ear try words,
 Even as the palate tasteth its meat?
 12 <sup>5</sup>With aged men is wisdom,
 And in length of days understanding.
 13 With him is wisdom and might;
 He hath counsel and understanding.
 14 Behold, he breaketh down, and it cannot be built again;
 He shutteth up a man, and there can be no opening.
 15 Behold, he withholdeth the waters, and they dry up;
 Again, he sendeth them out, and they overturn the earth.
 16 With him is strength and <sup>6</sup>effectual working;
 The deceived and the deceiver are his.
 17 He leadeth counsellors away spoiled, And judges maketh he fools.
 18 He looseth the bond of kings, And bindeth their loins with a girdle.
 19 He leadeth priests away spoiled, And overthroweth the mighty.
 20 He removeth the speech of the trusty,

And taketh away the understanding of the elders.
 21 He poureth contempt upon princes, And looseth the belt of the strong.
 22 He discovereth deep things out of darkness,
 And bringeth out to light the shadow of death.
 23 He increaseth the nations, and destroyeth them:
 He spreadeth the nations abroad, and <sup>7</sup>bringeth them in.
 24 He taketh away the heart of the chiefs of the people of the <sup>8</sup>earth, And causeth them to wander in a wilderness where there is no way.
 25 They grope in the dark without light,
 And he maketh them to <sup>9</sup>stagger like a drunken man.
 13 I, in mine eye hath seen all this,
 Mine ear hath heard and understood it.
 2 What ye know, the same do I know also:
 I am not inferior unto you.
 3 Surely I would speak to the Almighty,
 And I desire to reason with God.
 4 But ye are forgers of lies,
 Ye are all physicians of no value.
 5 Oh that ye would altogether hold your peace!
 And it should be your wisdom.
 6 Hear now my reasoning,
 And hearken to the pleadings of my lips.
 7 Will ye speak unrighteously for God,
 And talk deceitfully for him?
 8 Will ye <sup>10</sup>respect his person?
 Will ye contend for God?
 9 Is it good that he should search you out?
 Or as one <sup>11</sup>deceiveth a man, will ye <sup>12</sup>deceive him?
 10 He will surely reprove you,
 If ye do secretly <sup>13</sup>respect persons.
 11 Shall not his excellency make you afraid,
 And his dread fall upon you?
 12 Your memorable sayings are proverbs of ashes,
 Your defences are defences of clay.
 13 Hold your peace, let me alone, that I may speak,
 And let come on me what will.
 14 <sup>14</sup>Wherefore should I take my flesh in my teeth,
 And put my life in mine hand?
 15 <sup>15</sup>Though he slay me, yet will I wait for him;
 Nevertheless I will <sup>16</sup>maintain my ways before him.
 16 <sup>17</sup>This also shall be my salvation;
<sup>18</sup>For a godless man shall not come before him.
 17 Hear diligently my speech,
 And let my declaration be in your ears.
 18 Behold now, I have ordered my cause;
 I know that I <sup>19</sup>am righteous.
 19 Who is he that will contend with me?
 For now <sup>20</sup>shall I hold my peace and give up the ghost.

- 20 Only do not two things unto me,
Then will I not hide myself from thy face:
21 Withdraw thine hand far from me:
And let not thy terror make me afraid.
22 Then call thou, and I will answer;
Or let me speak, and answer thou
me.
23 How many are mine iniquities and sins?
Make me to know my transgression and my sin.
24 Wherefore hidest thou thy face,
And holdest me for thine enemy?
25 Wilt thou harass a driven leaf?
And wilt thou pursue the dry stubble?
26 For thou writest bitter things against me,
And makest me to inherit the in-iquities of my youth:
27 Thou puttest my feet also in the stocks, and markest all my paths:
Thou drawest thee a line about the soles of my feet:
28<sup>1</sup> Though I am like a rotten thing that consumeth,
Like a garment that is moth-eaten.
14<sup>2</sup> Man that is born of a woman
Is of few days, and full of trouble.
2 He cometh forth like a flower, and is cut down;
He fleeth also as a shadow, and continueth not.
3 And dost thou open thine eyes upon such an one,
And bringest me into judgement
with thee?
4<sup>3</sup> Who can bring a clean thing out of an unclean? not one.
5 Seeing his days are determined, the number of his months is with thee,
And thou hast appointed his bounds
that he cannot pass;
6 Look away from him, that he may rest,
Till he shall accomplish, as an hireling, his day.
7 For there is hope of a tree, if it be cut down, that it will sprout
again,
And that the tender branch thereof
will not cease.
8 Though the root thereof wax old in the earth,
And the stock thereof die in the ground;
9 Yet through the scent of water it will bud,
And put forth boughs like a plant.
10 But man dieth, and wasteth away:
Yea, man giveth up the ghost and where is he?
11<sup>4</sup> As the waters<sup>5</sup> fail from the sea,
And the river decayeth and drieth up;
12 So man lieth down and riseth not:
Till the heavens be no more, they shall not awake,
Nor be roused out of their sleep.
13 Oh that thou wouldest hide me in a secret,
That thou wouldest keep me secret,
until thy wrath be past.

- That thou wouldest appoint me a set time, and remember me!
14 If a man die, shall he live again?
All the days of my warfare<sup>10</sup> would I wait,
Till my<sup>11</sup> release should come.
15<sup>12</sup> Thou shouldest call, and I would answer thee:
Thou wouldest have a desire to the work of thine hands.
16 But now thou numberest my steps:
Dost thou not watch over my sin?
17 My transgression is sealed up in a bag,
And thou fastest up mine iniquity.
18 And surely the mountain falling cometh to nought.
And the rock is removed out of its place;
19 The waters wear the stones;
The overflows thereof wash away
the dust of the earth:
And thou destroyest the hope of man.
20 Thou prevailest for ever against him, and he passeth; Thou changest his countenance, and sendest him away.
21 His sons come to honour, and he knoweth it not;
And they are brought low, but he perceiveth it not of them.
22<sup>14</sup> But his flesh upon him hath pain,
And his soul within him mourneth.
15 Then answered Eliphaz the Temanite, and said,
2 Should a wise man make answer with<sup>15</sup> vain knowledge,
And fill his belly with the east wind?
3 Should he reason with unprofitable talk,
Or with speeches wherewith he can do no good?
4 Yea, thou deest away with fear,
And<sup>16</sup> restrainest<sup>17</sup> devotion before
God.
5 For<sup>18</sup> thine iniquity teacheth thy mouth,
And thou chooseth the tongue of the crafty.
6 Thine own mouth condemneth thee,
and not I;
Yea, thine own lips testify against
thee.
7 Art thou the first man that was born?
Or wast thou brought forth before the hills?
8<sup>19</sup> Hast thou heard the secret counsel of God?
And dost thou restrain wisdom to thyself?
9 What knowest thou, that we know not?
What understandest thou, which is not in us?
10 With us are both the gray-headed and the very aged men.
Much elder than thy father.

12 Why doth thine heart carry thee away?
And why do thine eyes wink?
13 That thou turnest thy spirit against God,
And tellest such words go out of thy mouth.
14 What is man, that he should be clean?
And he which is born of a woman, that he should be righteous?
15 Behold, he putteth no trust in his holy ones;
Yea, the heavens are not clean in his sight.
16 How much less 1 one that is abominable and corrupt,
A man that drinketh iniquity like water!
17 I will shew thee, hear thou me;
And that which I have seen I will declare:
18 (Which wise men have told From their fathers, and have not hid it;
19 Unto whom alone the land was given,
And no stranger passed among them:)
20 The wicked man travaileth with pain all his days,
2 Even the number of years that are laid up for the oppressor.
21 A sound of terrors is in his ears;
In prosperity the spoiler shall come upon him;
22 He believeth not that he shall return out of darkness.
And he is waited for of the sword;
23 He wandereth abroad for bread, saying, Where is it?
He knoweth that the day of darkness is ready at his hand:
24 Distress and anguish make him afraid;
They prevail against him, as a king ready to the battle:
25 Because he hath stretched out his hand against God,
And <sup>3</sup>behaveth himself proudly against the Almighty;
26 He runneth upon him with a stiff neck.
4 With the thick bosses of his bucklers:
27 Because he hath covered his face with his fatness,
And made collops of fat on his flanks;
28 And he hath dwelt in <sup>5</sup>desolate cities,
In houses which no man <sup>6</sup>inhabited,
Which were ready to become heaps.
29 He shall not be rich, neither shall his substance continue,
Neither shall <sup>7</sup>their produce bend to the earth.
30 He shall not depart out of darkness;
The flame shall dry up his branches,
And by the breath of his mouth shall he go away.
31 Let him not trust in vanity, deceiving himself:
For vanity shall be his recompence.
32 It shall be <sup>8</sup>accomplished before his time,

And his branch shall not be green.
33 He shall shake off his unripe grape as the vine,
And shall cast off his flower as the olive.
34 For the company of the godless shall be barren,
And fire shall consume the tents of bribery.
35 They conceive mischief, and bring forth iniquity,
And their belly prepareth deceit.
16 Then Job answered and said,
2 I have heard many such things:
<sup>9</sup>Miserable comforters are ye all.
3 Shall <sup>10</sup>vain words have an end?
Or what provoketh thee that thou answerest?
4 I also could speak as ye do;
If your soul were in my soul's stead,
I could join words together against you.
And shake mine head at you.
5 But I would strengthen you with my mouth,
And the solace of my lips should assuage your grief.
6 Though I speak, my grief is not assuaged;
And though I forbear, <sup>11</sup>what am I eased?
7 But now he hath made me weary:
Thou hast made desolate all my company.
8 And thou hast <sup>12</sup>laid fast hold on me,
which is a witness against me:
And my leanness riseth up against me, it testifieth to my face.
9 He hath torn me in his wrath, and <sup>13</sup>persecuted me;
He hath gnashed upon me with his teeth:
Mine adversary sharpeneth his eyes upon me.
10 They have gaped upon me with their mouth;
They have smitten me upon the cheek reproachfully:
They gather themselves together against me.
11 God delivereth me to the ungodly,
And casteth me into the hands of the wicked.
12 I was at ease, and he brake me asunder;
Yea, he hath taken me by the neck, and dashed me to pieces:
He hath also set me up for his mark.
13 His <sup>14</sup>archers compass me round about,
He cleaveth my reins asunder, and doth not spare;
He poureth out my gall upon the ground.
14 He breaketh me with breach upon breach;
He runneth upon me like a <sup>15</sup>giant.
15 I have sewed sackcloth upon my skin,
And have <sup>16</sup>laid my horn in the dust.

18 O earth, cover not thou my blood,
And let my cry have no resting place.
19 Even now, behold, my witness is in heaven,
And he that voucheth for me is on high.
20 My friends scorn me:
But mine eye poureth out tears unto God;
21 That he would maintain the right of a man with God,
And of a son of man with his neighbour!
22 For when a few years are come,
I shall go the way whence I shall not return.
17 My spirit is consumed, my days are extinct,
The grave is ready for me.
2 Surely there are mockers with me,
And mine eye abideth in their provocation.
3 Give now a pledge, be surety for me with thyself;
Who is there that will strike hands with me?
4 For thou hast hid thy heart from understanding:
Therefore shalt thou not exalt them.
5 He that denounceth his friends for a prey,
Even the eyes of his children shall fall.
6 He hath made me also a byword of the people;
And I am become an open abhorring.
7 Mine eye also is dim by reason of sorrow,
And all my members are as a shadow.
8 Upright men shall be astonished at this,
And the innocent shall stir up himself against the godless.
9 Yet shall the righteous hold on his way.
And he that hath clean hands shall wax stronger and stronger.
10 But return ye, all of you, and come now:
And I shall not find a wise man among you.
11 My days are past, my purposes are broken off,
Even the thoughts of my heart.
12 They change the night into day:
The light, say they, is near unto the darkness.
13 If I look for Sheol as mine house;
If I have spread my couch in the darkness;
14 If I have said to corruption, Thou art my father;
To the worm, Thou art my mother, and my sister;
15 Where then is my hope?
And as for my hope, who shall see it?
16 It shall go down to the bars of Sheol.
When once there is rest in the dust.

18 Then answered Bildad the Shuhite, and said,
2 How long will ye lay snares for words?
Consider, and afterwards we will speak.
3 Wherefore are we counted as beasts, And are become unclean in your sight?
4 Thou that tearest thyself in thine anger,
Shall the earth be forsaken for thee?
Or shall the rock be removed out of its place?
5 Yea, the light of the wicked shall be put out,
And the spark of his fire shall not shine.
6 The light shall be dark in his tent,
And his lamp above him shall be put out.
7 The steps of his strength shall be straitened,
And his own counsel shall cast him down.
8 For he is cast into a net by his own feet.
And he walketh upon the toils.
9 A gin shall take him by the heel,
And a snare shall lay hold on him.
10 A noose is hid for him in the ground,
And a trap for him in the way.
11 Terrors shall make him afraid on every side,
And shall chase him at his heels.
12 His strength shall be hungerbitten,
And calamity shall be ready for his halting.
13 It shall devour the members of his body,
Yea, the firstborn of death shall devour his members.
14 He shall be rooted out of his tent wherein he trusteth;
And he shall be brought to the king of terrors.
15 There shall dwell in his tent that which is none of his;
Brinstone shall be scattered upon his habitation.
16 His roots shall be dried up beneath,
And above shall his branch be cut off.
17 His remembrance shall perish from the earth,
And he shall have no name in the street.
18 He shall be driven from light into darkness,
And chased out of the world.
19 He shall have neither son nor son's son among his people,
Nor any remaining where he sojourned.
20 They that come after shall be astonished at his day,

And taken the crown from my head.
10 He hath broken me down on every side, and I am gone:

11 He hath also kindled his wrath against me,

I am an alien in their sight.

Though I intreat him with my mouth.
17 My breath is strange to my wife,
And <sup>5</sup> my supplication to the children <sup>6</sup> of my mother's womb.
18 Even young children despise me;
If I arise, they speak against me.
19 All <sup>7</sup> my inward friends abhor me:
And they whom I loved are turned against me.
20 My bone cleaveth to my skin and to my flesh,
And I am escaped with the skin of my teeth.
21 Have pity upon me, have pity upon me O ye my friends;
For the hand of God hath touched me.
22 Why do ye persecute me as God
And are not satisfied with my flesh?
23 Oh that my words were now written!
Oh that they were inscribed in a book!
24 That with an iron pen and lead
They were graven in the rock for ever!
25 <sup>8</sup> But I know that my <sup>9</sup> redeemer liveth,

And that he shall stand up at the last upon the <sup>10</sup> earth:
26 <sup>11</sup> And after my skin hath been thus destroyed,
Yet <sup>12</sup> from my flesh shall I see God:
27 Whom I shall see <sup>13</sup> for myself,
And mine eyes shall behold, and not <sup>14</sup> another.
My reins are consumed within me.
28 If ye say, How we will persecute him!

29 Be ye afraid of the sword:
For <sup>17</sup> wrath bringeth the punishments of the sword,
That ye may know there is a judgement.
20 Then answered Zophar the Naamathite, and said,
2 Therefore do my thoughts give answer to me,

3 I have heard the reproof which putteth me to shame,

Since man was placed upon earth,
5 That the triumphing of the wicked is short,
And the joy of the godless but for a moment?
6 Though his excellency mount up to the heavens,
And his head reach unto the clouds:
7 Yet he shall perish for ever like his own dung:
They which have seen him shall say, Where is he?
8 He shall fly away as a dream, and shall not be found:
Yea, he shall be chased away as a vision of the night.
9 The eye which saw him shall see him no more;

According to the substance<sup>1</sup> that he hath gotten, he shall not rejoice.

19 For he hath oppressed and forsaken the poor:

He hath violently taken away an house<sup>2</sup>; and he shall not build it up.

20 Because he knew no quietness<sup>3</sup> within him.

He shall not save aught of that wherein he delighteth.

21 There was nothing left that he devoured not;

Therefore his prosperity shall not endure.

22 In the fulness of his sufficiency he shall be in straits:

The hand of every one that is in misery shall come upon him.

23 When he is about to fill his belly,

God shall cast the fierceness of his wrath upon him.

And shall rain it upon him<sup>4</sup> while he is eating.

24 He shall flee from the iron weapon,

And the bow of brass shall strike him through.

25 He draweth it forth, and it cometh out of his belly;

Yea, the glittering point cometh out of his gill:

Terrors are upon him.

26 All darkness is laid up for his treasures:

A fire not blown by man shall devour him:

27 The heavens shall reveal his iniquity,

And the earth shall rise up against him.

28 The increase of his house shall depart:

His goods shall flow away in the day of his wrath.

29 This is the portion of a wicked man from God:

And the heritage appointed unto him by God.

21 Then Job answered and said,

2 Hear diligently my speech:

And let this be your consolation.

3 Suffer me, and I also will speak:

And after that I have spoken, mock on.

4 As for me, is my complaint to man?

And why should I not be impatient?

5 Mark me, and be astonished,

And lay your hand upon your mouth.

6 Ever, when I remember I am troubled,

And horror taketh hold on my flesh.

7 Wherefore do the wicked live,

Because they say, yea, wax mighty in power?

8 Their seed is established with them in their sight.

And they flourish before their eyes.

9 The reproaches are to safe from fear.

Neither is the rod of God upon them.

10 Their bull gendereth, and faileth not;

Their cow calveth, and casteth not her calf.

11 They send forth their little ones like a flock.

And their children dance.

12 They bring to the timbrel and harp.

And rejoice at the sound of the pipe.

13 They spend their days in prosperity.

And in a moment they go down to Sheol.

14 Yet they said unto God, Depart from us:

For we desire not the knowledge of thy ways.

15 What is the Almighty, that we should serve him?

And what profit should we have, if we pray unto him?

16 <sup>12</sup> Lo, their prosperity is not in their hand.

The counsel of the wicked is far from me.

17 <sup>14</sup> How oft is it that the lamp of the wicked is put out?

That their calamity cometh upon them?

That God distributeth sorrows in his anger?

18 That they are as stubble before the whirl.

And as chaff that the storm carrieth away?

19 <sup>15</sup> Ye say, God layeth up his iniquity for his children.

Let him recompense it unto himself, that he may know it.

20 Let his own eyes see his destruction.

And let him drink of the wrath of the Almighty.

21 For what pleasure hath he in his house after him.

When the number of his months is cut off in the midst?

22 Shall any teach God knowledge?

Seeing he judgeth those that are high.

23 One dieth in his full strength.

Being wholly at ease and quiet:

24 His breasts are full of milk.

And the marrow of his bones is moistened.

25 And another dieth in bitterness of soul.

And never tasteth of good.

26 They lie down alike in the dust.

And the worm covereth them.

27 Behold, I know your thoughts.

And the devices which ye wrongfully imagine against me.

28 For to say, Where is the house of the prince?

And where is the tent wherein the wicked dwelt?

29 Have we not asked them that go by the way?

And have we not known their tokens?

30 That the evil man is reserved to the day of calamity?

That they are led forth to the day of wrath?

31 Who shall declare his way to his face?

Seeing in your answers there remaineth only <sup>4</sup> falsehood?

22 Then answered Eliphaz the Temanite, and said,
2 Can a man be profitable unto God?
Surely he that is wise is profitable unto himself.
3 Is it any pleasure to the Almighty, that thou art righteous?
Or is it gain <sup>to him</sup>, that thou makest thy ways perfect?
4 Is it <sup>5</sup> for thy fear of him that he reproveth thee.
That he entereth with thee into judgement?
5 Is not thy wickedness great?
Neither is there any end to thine iniquities.
6 For thou hast taken pledges of thy brother for nought,
And stripped the naked of their clothing.
7 Thou hast not given water to the weary to drink,
And thou hast withholden bread from the hungry.
8 But as for <sup>6</sup> the mighty man, he had the <sup>7</sup> earth:
And <sup>8</sup> the honourable man, he dwelt in it.
9 Thou hast sent widows away empty,
And the arms of the fatherless have been broken.
10 Therefore snares are round about thee,
And sudden fear troubleth thee.
11 <sup>9</sup> Or darkness, that thou canst not see,
And abundance of waters cover thee.
12 Is not God in the height of heaven?
And behold the <sup>10</sup> height of the stars, how high they are!
13 And thou sayest, What doth God know?
Can he judge through the thick darkness?
14 Thick clouds are a covering to him, that he seeth not:
And he walketh <sup>11</sup> in the circuit of heaven.
15 <sup>12</sup> Wilt thou keep the old way
Which wicked men have trodden?
16 Who were snatched away before their time,
Whose foundation was poured out as a stream:
17 Who said unto God, Depart from us:
And, What can the Almighty do <sup>13</sup> for <sup>14</sup> us?
18 Yet he filled their houses with good things:

But the counsel of the wicked is far from me.
19 The righteous see it, and are glad;
And the innocent laugh them to scorn:
20 Saying, Surely they that did rise up against us are cut off.
And <sup>15</sup> the remnant of them the fire hath consumed.
21 Acquaint now thyself with him, and be at peace:
<sup>16</sup> I hereby good shall come unto thee.
22 Receive, I pray thee, <sup>17</sup> the law from his mouth.
And lay up his words in thine heart.
23 If thou return to the Almighty, thou shalt be built up;
<sup>18</sup> If thou put away unrighteousness far from thy tents.
24 And lay thou thy <sup>19</sup> treasure <sup>20</sup> in the dust.
And the gold of Ophir among the stones of the brooks;
25 And the Almighty shall be thy <sup>19</sup> treasure.
And <sup>21</sup> precious silver unto thee.
26 For then shalt thou delight thyself in the Almighty.
And shalt lift up thy face unto God.
27 Thou shalt make thy prayer unto him, and he shall hear thee;
And thou shalt pay thy vows.
28 Thou shalt also decree a thing, and it shall be established unto thee:
And light shall shine upon thy ways.
29 When they <sup>22</sup> cast thee down, thou shalt say, There is lifting up;
And <sup>24</sup> the humble person he shall save.
30 He shall deliver <sup>24</sup> even him that is not innocent:
Yea, he shall be delivered through the cleanness of thine hands.

23 Then Job answered and said,
2 Even to-day is my complaint <sup>25</sup> rebellious:
<sup>26</sup> My stroke is heavier than my groaning.
3 Oh that I knew where I might find him,
That I might come even to his seat!
4 I would order my cause before him.
And fill my mouth with arguments.
5 I would know the words which he would answer me.
And understand what he would say unto me.
6 Would he contend with me in the greatness of his power?
Nay: <sup>27</sup> but he would give heed unto me.
7 There the upright might reason with him:
So should I be delivered for ever from my judge.
8 Behold, I go forward, but he is not there;
And backward, but I cannot perceive him:

When he hath tried me, I shall come

11 My foot hath held fast to his steps;
His way have I kept, and turned not aside.

12 I have not gone back from the com-

I have treasured up the words of his mouth more than my necessary food.

13 But he is in one mind, and who can turn him?

And what his soul desireth, even that he doeth.

14 For he perfirmeth that which is appointed for me:

And many such things are with
him.

15 Therefore am I troubled at his presence;

When I consider, I am afraid of
him.

16 For God hath made my heart faint.
And the Almighty hath troubled me:

17 Because I was not cut off before the darkness,

Neither did he cover the thick darkness from my face.

24 Why are times not laid up by the Almighty?

And why do not they which know him see his days?

2 There are that remove the landmarks;

They violently take away flocks, and feed them.

3 They drive away the ass of the fatherless,

They take the widow's ox for a pledge

4 They turn the needy out of the way:
The poor of the earth hide themselves together

5 Behold, as wild asses in the desert
They go forth to their work, seeking ingently for meat.

The wilderness belcheth them fool for their children.

6 They cut their provender in the field;

And they glean the vintage of the wicked.

7 They be all night naked without clothing.

And have no covering in the cold.

8 They are wet with the showers of the mountains,

And embrace the rock for want of a 9 There are that pluck the fatherless

And take a pledge of the poor:

10 So that they go about naked without clothing

And being an-hungred they carry the sheaves:

11 They make oil within the walls of their men;

They tread their winepresses, and suffer thirst.

12 From out of the populous city men groan,

And the soul of the wounded crieth out:

Yet God imputeth it not for folly.

13 These are of them that rebel against the light:

They know not the ways thereof,
Nor abide in the paths thereof.

14 The murderer riseth with the light,
he killeth the poor and needy;

And in the night he is as a thief.

15 The eye also of the adulterer waiteth for the twilight,

Saying, No eye shall see me:

And he disguiseth his face.

16 In the dark they dig through houses:

15 They shut themselves up in the day-time:

They know not the light.

17 For the morning is to all of them
as the shadow of death:

For they know the terrors of the shaking of death.

18 He is swift upon the face of the 20 The womb shall forget him; the 21 He devoureth the barren that bear-

And doeth not good to the widow.

22 He draweth away the mighty also by his power:

He riseth up, and no man is sure of his life.

23 God giveth them to be in security, and they rest thereon.

24 And his eyes are upon their ways.

24 They are exalted; yet a little while,
and they are gone.

25 Yea, they are brought low, they are taken out of the way as all other.

And are cut off as the tops of the ears of corn.

2 How hast thou helped him that is without power!

How hast thou saved the arm that hath no strength!

3 How hast thou counselled him that hath no wisdom.

And plentifully declared sound knowledge!

4 To whom hast thou uttered words? And whose <sup>1</sup>spirit came forth from thee?

5 They that are deceased tremble Beneath the waters and the inhabitants thereof.

6 <sup>3</sup>Sheol is naked before him, And <sup>4</sup>Abaddon hath no covering.

7 He stretcheth out the north over empty space.

And hangeth the earth <sup>5</sup>upon nothing.

8 He bindeth up the waters in his thick clouds;

And the cloud is not rent under them.

9 He closeth in the face of his throne, And spreadeth his cloud upon it.

10 He hath described a boundary upon the face of the waters,

Unto the confines of light and darkness.

11 The pillars of heaven tremble And are astonished at his rebuke.

12 He <sup>8</sup>stirreth up the sea with his power.

And by his understanding he smiteth through <sup>7</sup>Rahab.

13 By his spirit the heavens are <sup>8</sup>garlished;

His hand hath pierced the <sup>9</sup>swift serpent.

14 Lo, these are but the outskirts of his ways:

And <sup>10</sup>how small a whisper <sup>11</sup>do we hear of him!

But the thunder of his <sup>12</sup>power who can understand?

27 And Job again took up his parable, and said,

2 As God liveth, who hath taken away my right;

And the Almighty, who hath <sup>13</sup>vexed my soul;

3 <sup>14</sup>For my life is yet whole in me, And the spirit of God is in my nostrils;

4 Surely my lips <sup>15</sup>shall not speak unrighteousness.

Neither <sup>16</sup>shall my tongue utter deceit.

5 God forbid that I should justify you:

Till I die I will not put away mine integrity from me.

6 My righteousness I hold fast, and will not let it go:

My heart <sup>17</sup>shall not reproach me so long as I live.

7 Let mine enemy be as the wicked, And let him that riseth up against me be as the unrighteous.

8 For what is the hope of the godless,

<sup>18</sup>though he get him gain, When God taketh away his soul?

9 Will God hear his cry.

When trouble cometh upon him?

10 Will he delight himself in the Almighty,

And call upon God at all times?

11 I will teach you concerning the hand of God;

That which is with the Almighty will I not conceal.

12 Behold, all ye yourselves have seen it;

Why then are ye become altogether vain?

13 This is the portion of a wicked man with God.

And the heritage of oppressors, which they receive from the Almighty.

14 If his children be multiplied, it is for the sword;

And his offspring shall not be satisfied with bread.

15 Those that remain of him shall be buried in death,

And his widows shall make no lamentation.

16 Though he heap up silver as the dust,

And prepare raiment as the clay;

17 He may prepare it, but the just shall put it on.

And the innocent shall divide the silver.

18 He buildeth his house as the <sup>19</sup>moth, And as a booth which the keeper maketh.

19 He lieth down rich, but he <sup>20</sup>shall not be gathered:

He openeth his eyes, and he is not.

20 Terrors overtake him like waters;

A tempest stealeth him away in the night.

21 The east wind carrieth him away, and he departeth;

And it sweepeth him out of his place.

22 For God shall hurl at him, and not spare:

He would fain flee out of his hand.

23 Men shall clap their hands at him, And shall hiss him out of his place.

28 <sup>21</sup>Surely there is a mine for silver, And a place for gold which they refine.

- 25 I chose out their way, and sat as chief.
 And dwelt as a king in the army.
 As one that comforteth the mourners.
- 30 But now they that are younger than I have me in derision.
 Whose fathers I disdained to set with the dogs of my flock.
 2 Yea, the strength of their hands, whereto should it profit me?
 Men in whom<sup>1</sup> ripe age is perished.
 3 They are gaunt with want and famine;
 2 They gnaw the dry ground, <sup>3</sup> in the gloom of wasteness and desolation.
 4 They pluck salt-wort by the bushes; And the roots of the broom are <sup>4</sup> their meat.
 5 They are driven forth from the midst of men:
 They cry after them as after a thief.
 6 <sup>5</sup> In the clefts of the valleys must they dwell.
 In holes of the earth and of the rocks.
 7 Among the bushes they bray;
 Under the <sup>6</sup> nettles they <sup>7</sup> are gathered together.
 8 They are children of fools, yea, children of <sup>8</sup> base men;
 They <sup>9</sup> were scourged out of the land.
 9 And now I am become their song.
 Yea, I am a byword unto them.
 10 They abhor me, they stand aloof from me,
 And spare not to spit <sup>10</sup> in my face.
 11 For he hath loosed <sup>11</sup> his cord, and afflicted me.
 And they have cast off the bridle before me.
 12 Upon my right hand rise the <sup>12</sup> rabble;
 They thrust aside my feet.
 And they cast up against me their ways of destruction.
 13 They <sup>13</sup> mar my path,
 They set forward my calamity.
 Even men that have no helper.
 14 <sup>14</sup> As through a wide breach they come:
 In the midst of the ruin they roll themselves upon me.
 15 Terrors are turned upon me,
<sup>15</sup> They chase <sup>16</sup> mine honour as the wind;
 And my welfare is passed away as a cloud.
 16 And now my soul is poured out <sup>17</sup> within me;
 Days of affliction have taken hold upon me.
 17 In the night season my bones are <sup>18</sup> pierced <sup>19</sup> in me,
 And <sup>20</sup> the pains that gnaw me take no rest.
 18 <sup>21</sup> By the great force of my disease is my garment disfigured;
 It bindeth me about as the collar of my coat.
 19 He hath cast me into the mire,
 And I am become like dust and ashes.
 20 I cry unto thee, and thou dost not answer me;
 I stand up, and thou lookest at me.
- 21 Thou art turned to be cruel to me:
 With the might of thy hand thou persecutest me.
 22 Thou liftest me up to the wind, thou causest me to ride upon it;
 And thou dissolvest me in the storm.
 23 For I know that thou wilt bring me to death.
 And to <sup>22</sup> the house appointed for all living.
 24 <sup>23</sup> Surely against a ruinous heap he will not put forth his hand;
 Though it be in his destruction, one may utter a cry because of these things.
 25 Did not I weep for him that was in trouble?
 Was not my soul grieved for the needy?
 26 When I looked for good, then evil came;
 And when I waited for light, there came darkness.
 27 My bowels boil, and rest not;
 Days of affliction are come upon me.
 28 I go <sup>24</sup> mourning without the sun:
 I stand up in the assembly, and cry for help.
 29 I am a brother to jackals,
 And a companion to ostriches.
 30 My skin is black, and falleth from me,
 And my bones are burned with heat.
 31 Therefore is my harp turned to mourning,
 And my pipe into the voice of them that weep.
- 31 I made a covenant with mine eyes;
 How then should I look upon a maid?
 2 <sup>25</sup> For what is the portion of God from above,
 And the heritage of the Almighty from on high?
 3 Is it not calamity to the unrighteous,
 And disaster to the workers of iniquity?
 4 Doth not he see my ways,
 And number all my steps?
 5 If I have walked with vanity,
 And my foot hath hastened to deceit;
 6 (Let me be weighed in an even balance,
 That God may know mine integrity.)
 7 If my step hath turned out of the way,
 And mine heart walked after mine eyes,
 And if any spot hath cleaved to mine hands;
 8 Then let me sow, and let another eat;
 Yea, let <sup>26</sup> the produce of my field be rooted out.
 9 If mine heart have been enticed unto a woman,
 And I have laid wait at my neighbour's door:
 10 Then let my wife grind unto another,
 And let others bow down upon her.
 11 For that were an heinous crime;
 Yea, it were an iniquity to be punished by the judges;

And would root out all mine increase.

13 If I did despise the cause of my manservant or of my maidservant, When they contended with me:

14 What then shall I do when God riseth up?

And when he visiteth, what shall I answer him?

15 Did not he that made me in the womb make him?

And did not one fashion us in the womb?

16 If I have withheld the poor from their desire,

Or have caused the eyes of the widow to fail:

17 Or have eaten my morsel alone, And the fatherless hath not eaten thereof;

18 (No, from my youth he grew up with me as with a father,

And I have been her guide from my mother's womb.)

19 If I have seen any perish for want of clothing,

Or that the needy had no covering:

20 And if his loins have not blessed me, And if he were not warmed with the fleece of my sheep;

21 If I have lifted up my hand against the fatherless,

Because I saw my help in the gate:

22 Then let my shoulder fall from the shoulder blade,

And mine arm be broken from the loins,

23 For calamity from God was a terror to me,

And by reason of his excellency I could do nothing.

24 If I have made gold my hope, And have said to the fine gold, Thou art my confidence;

25 If I rejoiced because my wealth was great,

And because mine hand had gotten much;

26 If I beheld the sun when it shined, Or the moon walking in brightness;

27 And my heart hath been secretly enticed,

And my mouth hath kissed my hand:

28 This also were an iniquity to be punished by the judges:

For I should have lied to God that is above.

29 If I rejoiced at the destruction of him that hated me,

Or lifted up myself when evil found him:

30 Yea, I suffered not my mouth to sin,

By asking his life with a curse.)

31 If the men of my tent said not, Who can find one that hath not been satisfied with his flesh?

32 The stranger did not lodge in the street;

But I opened my doors to the traveller;

33 If like Adam I covered my transgressions,

By hiding mine iniquity in my bosom;

34 Because I feared the great multitude,

And the contempt of families terrified me,

So that I kept silence, and went not out of the door—

35 Oh that I had one to hear me!

(Lo, here is my signature let the Almighty answer me.)

And what I had the indictment which mine adversary hath written!

36 Surely I would carry it upon my shoulder;

I would bind it unto me as a crown,

37 I would declare unto him the number of my steps;

As a prince would I go near unto him,

38 If my land cry out against me, And the furrows thereof weep together;

39 If I have eaten the fruits thereof without money,

Or have caused the owners thereof to lose their life:

40 Let thistles grow instead of wheat, And cockle instead of barley.

The words of Job are ended.

32 So these three men ceased to answer Job, because he was righteous in his own eyes. Then was kindled the wrath of Elihu the son of Parachel the Buzite, of the family of Ram; against Job was his wrath kindled, because he justified himself rather than God. Also against his three friends was his wrath kindled, because they had found no answer, and yet had condemned Job. Now Elihu had waited to speak unto Job because they were elder than he. And when Elihu saw that there was no answer in the mouth of these three men, his wrath was kindled.

6 And Elihu the son of Parachel the Buzite answered and said,

I am young and ye are very old:

Wherefore I held back, and durst not shew you mine opinion.

7 I said, Days should speak, And multitude of years should teach wisdom.

8 But there is a spirit in man, And the breath of the Almighty giveth them understanding.

9 It is not the great that are wise, Nor the aged that understand judgment.

10 Therefore I said, Hearken to me; I also will shew mine opinion.

11 Behold, I waited for your words, I listened for your reasons,

Whilst ye searched I out what to say.

12 Yea, I attended unto you, And beheld there was none that convicted Job.

Or that answered his words, among you.

13 Beware lest ye say, We have found wisdom;

God may vanquish him, not man;

They have not a word to say.

16 And shall I wait, because they speak not,

Because they stand still, and answer no more?

17 I also will answer my part.
I also will shew mine opinion.

18 For I am full of words;
The spirit<sup>1</sup> within me constraineth me.

19 Behold, my belly is as wine which hath no vent;

Like new<sup>2</sup> bottles<sup>3</sup> it is ready to burst.

20 I will speak, that I may<sup>4</sup> be refreshed;

I will open my lips and answer.

21 Let me not, I pray you, respect any man's person;

Neither will I give flattering titles unto any man.

22 For I know not to give flattering titles;

Else would my Maker soon take me away.

33 Howbeit, Job, I pray thee, hear my speech.

And hearken to all my words.

2 Behold now, I have opened my mouth.

My tongue hath spoken in my<sup>5</sup> mouth.

3 My words shall utter the uprightness of my heart:

And that which my lips know they shall speak sincerely.

4 The spirit of God hath made me,
And the breath of the Almighty giveth me life.

5 If thou canst, answer thou me;
Set thy words in order before me,

stand forth.

6 Behold, <sup>6</sup>I am toward God even as thou art:

I also am formed out of the clay.

7 Behold, my terror shall not make thee afraid.

Neither shall my pressure be heavy upon thee.

8 Surely thou hast spoken in mine hearing.

And I have heard the voice of thy words, saying.

9 I am clean, without transgression;
I am innocent, neither is there iniquity in me:

10 Behold, he findeth<sup>7</sup> occasions against me,

He counteth me for his enemy;

11 He putteth my feet in the stocks,
He marketh all my paths.

12 Behold, I will answer thee, in this thou art not just:

For God is greater than man.

13 Why dost thou strive against him?

For he giveth not account of any of his matters.

14 For God speaketh<sup>10</sup> once,
Yea twice, though man regardeth it not.

15 In a dream, in a vision of the night,

When deep sleep falleth upon men,
In slumberings upon the bed;

16 Then he<sup>11</sup> openeth the ears of men,
And sealeth their instruction,

17 <sup>12</sup>That he may withdraw man from his purpose,

And hide pride from man;

18 <sup>13</sup>He keepeth back his soul from the pit,

And his life from perishing by the<sup>14</sup> sword.

19 He is chastened also with pain upon his bed,

20 So that his life abhorreth bread,
And his soul dainty meat.

21 His flesh is consumed away, that it cannot be seen;

And his bones that were not seen stick out.

22 Yea, his soul draweth near unto the pit.

And his life to the destroyers.

23 If there be with him<sup>16</sup> an angel,
An interpreter, one<sup>17</sup> among a thousand,

To shew unto man<sup>18</sup> what is right for him;

24 <sup>19</sup>Then he is gracious unto him, and saith,

Deliver him from going down to the pit,

I have found a ransom.

25 His flesh shall be fresher than a child's;

He returneth to the days of his youth:

26 He prayeth unto God, and he is favourable unto him;

So that he seeth his face with joy;

And he restoreth unto man his righteousness.

27 <sup>20</sup>He singeth before men, and saith,
I have sinned, and perverted that which was right.

And <sup>21</sup>it profited me not:

28 He hath redeemed my soul from going into the pit.

And my life shall behold the light.

29 Lo, all these things doth God work,
Twice, yea thrice, with a man.

30 To bring back his soul from the pit,
That he may be enlightened with the light of<sup>22</sup> the living.

31 Mark well, O Job, hearken unto me:
Hold thy peace, and I will speak.

32 If thou hast any thing to say, answer me:

Speak, for I desire to justify thee.

33 If not, hearken thou unto me:
Hold thy peace, and I will teach thee wisdom.

34 Moreover Elihu answered and said,

And give ear unto me, ye that have knowledge.

- And God hath taken away my right:
6 Notwithstanding my right I am

8 What man is like Job,
Who drinketh up scorning like water?
9 Which goeth in company with the workers of iniquity,
And walketh with wicked men.
10 For he hath said, It profiteth a man nothing,
That he should delight himself with good.
11 Therefore hearken unto me, ye men of understanding:
Far be it from God, that he should do wickedness;
And from the Almighty, that he should commit iniquity.
12 For the work of a man shall he render unto him,
And cause every man to find according to his ways.
13 Yea, of a surety, God will not do wickedly,
Neither will the Almighty pervert
judgement.
14 Who hath him a charge over the earth?
Or who hath disposed the whole world?
15 If he set his heart upon a man,
If he gather unto himself his spirit
and his breath,
16 All flesh shall perish together,
And man shall turn again unto dust.
17 If now thou hast understanding, hear this:
Hearken to the voice of my words.
18 Shall even one that hateth right govern?
And will thou condemn him that is just and mighty?
19 If it be to say to a king, Thou art vile?
Or to nobles, Ye are wicked?
20 How much less to him that respecteth not the persons of princes, Nor regardeth the rich more than the poor?
For they all are the work of his hands.
21 In a moment they die, even at midnight;
The people are shaken and pass away,
And the mighty are taken away without hand.
22 For his eyes are upon the ways of a man,
And he watcheth all his goings.
23 There is no darkness, nor shadow of death,
Where the workers of iniquity may hide themselves.
24 For he needeth not further to consider a man:
That he should go before God in judgement.
25 He breaketh in pieces mighty men,
and setteth others in their stead.
26 Therefore he taketh knowledge of their works:
- And he overturneth them in the night, so that they are destroyed.
27 He striketh them as wicked men,
15 In the pen-sil of others:
28 Because they turned aside from following him,
And would not have regard to any of his laws:
29 So that they caused the cry of the poor to come unto him,
And he heard the cry of the afflicted.
30 When he giveth quietness, who then can condemn?
And when he hideth his face, who then can behold him?
Whether it be done unto a nation,
or unto a man, alike:
31 That the godless man reign not,
That there be none to ensnare the people.
32 For hath any said unto God,
I have borne chastisement, 15 I will not offend any more:
33 That which I see not teach thou
me,
If I have done iniquity, I will do it
no more?
34 Shall his recompence be as thou wilt, that thou refusest it?
For thou must choose, and not I: Therefore speak what thou know-est.
35 Men of understanding will say unto
me,
Yea, every wise man that heareth
me:
36 Job speaketh without knowledge,
And his words are without wisdom.
37 Would that Job were tried unto the end,
Because of his answering like wicked
men.
38 For he addeth rebellion unto his sin:
He clappeth his hands among us,
And multiplieth his words against
God.
- 35 Moreover Eliphaz answered and said,
2 Thinkest thou this to be thy right,
Or sayest thou, My righteousness is more than God's,
3 That thou savest? What advantage will it be unto thee?
And, What profit shall I have, more than if I had sinned?
4 I will answer thee,
And thy companions with thee.
5 Look out the heavens, and see:
And behold the sky which is higher than thou.
6 If thou hast sinned, what dost thou accuse him?
And if thy transgressions be multiplied, what dost thou unto him?
7 If thou be righteous, what givest thou him?
Or what receiveth he of thine
hand?
8 The wickedness may hurt a man as thou art,
And thy righteousness may profit a son of man.

9 By reason of the multitude of oppressions they cry out ;
They cry for help by reason of the arm of the mighty.

10 But none saith, Where is God my Maker,

Who giveth songs in the night ;
11 Who teacheth us more than the beasts of the earth,
And maketh us wiser than the fowls of heaven ?

12 There they cry, <sup>1</sup> but none giveth answer.

Because of the pride of evil men.

13 Surely God will not hear vanity,
Neither will the Almighty regard it.

14 How much less when thou sayest
<sup>2</sup> thou beholdest him not,
The cause is before him, and thou waitest for him !

15 But now, because he hath not visited in his anger.

16 Therefore doth Job open his mouth in vanity ;
He multiplieth words without knowledge.

36 Elihu also proceeded, and said,

For <sup>5</sup> I have yet somewhat to say on God's behalf.

3 I will fetch my knowledge from afar.

And will ascribe righteousness to my Maker.

4 For truly my words are not false :
One that is perfect in knowledge is with thee.

5 Behold, God is mighty, and despiseth not any ;

He is mighty in strength of <sup>6</sup> understanding.

6 He preserveth not the life of the wicked :

But giveth to the afflicted their right.

7 He withdraweth not his eyes from the righteous :

But with kings upon the throne
He setteth them for ever, and they are exalted.

8 And if they be bound in fetters,
And be taken in the cords of affliction ;

9 Then he sheweth them their work,
And their transgressions, that they have behaved themselves proudly.

10 He openeth also their ear to instruction,
And commandeth that they return from iniquity.

11 If they hearken and serve him,
They shall spend their days in prosperity.

And their years in <sup>7</sup> pleasures.

12 But if they hearken not, they shall perish by <sup>8</sup> the sword.

And they shall die without knowledge.

13 But they that are godless in heart lay up anger :

They cry not for help when he bindeth them.

14 <sup>9</sup> They die in youth.

And their life perisheth <sup>10</sup> among the unclean.

15 He delivereth the afflicted <sup>12</sup> by his affliction.

And openeth their ear <sup>13</sup> in oppression.

16 Yea, he would have <sup>14</sup> led thee away <sup>15</sup> out of distress

Into a broad place, where there is no straitness ;

And that which is set on thy table should be full of fatness.

17 But thou <sup>16</sup> art full of the judgement of the wicked :

Judgement and justice take hold on thee.

18 <sup>17</sup> Because there is wrath, beware lest thou be <sup>18</sup> led away by thy sufficiency ;

Neither let the greatness of the ransom turn thee aside.

19 <sup>19</sup> Will thy riches suffice, <sup>20</sup> that thou be not in distress.

Or all the forces of thy strength ?

20 Desire not the night.

When peoples <sup>21</sup> are cut off in their place.

21 Take heed, regard not iniquity :
For this hast thou chosen rather than affliction.

22 Behold, God doeth loftily in his power :

Who is a teacher like unto him ?

23 Who hath enjoined him his way ?
Or who can say, Thou hast wrought unrighteousness ?

24 Remember that thou magnify his work.

Whereof men have sung.

25 All men have looked thereon ;
Man beholdeth it afar off.

26 Behold, God is great, and we know him not ;

The number of his years is unsearchable.

27 For he draweth up the drops of water,

Which distil in rain <sup>22</sup> from <sup>23</sup> his vapour :

28 Which the skies pour down
And drop upon man abundantly.

29 Yea, can any understand the spreadings of the clouds,
The thunders of his pavilion ?

30 Behold, he spreadeth his light <sup>24</sup> around him ;

And he <sup>25</sup> covereth the bottom of the sea.

31 For by these he judgeth the peoples ;
He giveth meat in abundance.

32 He covereth his hands with the <sup>26</sup> lightning ;

And giveth it a charge <sup>27</sup> that it strike the mark.

33 The noise thereof telleth concerning <sup>28</sup> him.

The cattle also concerning <sup>29</sup> the storm that cometh up.

37 At this also my heart trembleth,
And is moved out of its place.

2 Harken ye unto the noise of his voice.

And the <sup>30</sup> sound that goeth out of his mouth.

And his lightning unto the <sup>2</sup>ends of the earth.

4 After it a voice roareth;

He thundereth with the voice of his majesty:

And he stayeth them not when his voice is heard.

5 God thundereth marvellously with his voice;

Great things doeth he, which we cannot comprehend.

6 For he saith to the snow, Fall thou on the earth:

Likewise to the shower of rain.

And to the showers of his mighty rain.

7 He sealeth up the hand of every man:

That all men whom he hath made may know it.

8 Then the beasts go into coverts, And remain in their dens.

9 Out of the chamber of the south cometh the storm:

And cold out of the <sup>4</sup>north.

10 By the breath of God ice is given: And the breadth of the waters is straitened.

11 Yea, he ladeth the thick cloud with moisture:

He spreadeth abroad the cloud of his lightning:

12 And it is turned round about by his guidance.

That they may do whatsoever he commandeth them

Upon the face of the habitable world:

13 Whether it be for correction, or for his <sup>5</sup>land.

Or formerly that he cause it to come.

14 Harken unto this, O Job:

Stand still, and consider the wondrous works of God.

15 Dost thou know how God layeth his charge upon them.

And causeth the lightning of his cloud to shine?

16 Dost thou know the balancings of the clouds.

The wondrous works of him which is perfect in knowledge?

17 How thy garments are warm.

<sup>6</sup>When the earth is still by reason of the south wind?

18 Canst thou with him spread out the sky

Which is strong as a molten mirror?

19 Tell us what we shall say unto him:

For we cannot order our speech by reason of darkness.

20 Shall it be told him that I would speak?

<sup>9</sup>Or should a man wish that he were swallowed up?

21 And may men <sup>10</sup>see not the light which is bright in the skies:

But the wind passeth, and cleanseth them.

22 Out of the north cometh <sup>11</sup>golden splendour:

God hath upon him terrible majesty.

23 Touching the Almighty, we cannot find him out; he is excellent in power:

And <sup>12</sup>in judgement and plenteous justice he will not afflict.

24 Men do therefore fear him:

He regardeth not any that are wise of heart.

38 Then the Lord answered Job out of the whirlwind, and said.

2 Who is this that darkeneth counsel By words without knowledge?

3 Gird up now thy loins like a man;

For I will demand of thee, and declare thou unto me.

4 Where wast thou when I laid the foundations of the earth?

Declare. <sup>13</sup>If thou hast understanding.

5 Who determined the measures thereof, <sup>14</sup>if thou knowest?

Or who stretched the line upon it?

6 Whereupon were the <sup>15</sup>foundations thereof <sup>16</sup>fastened?

Or who laid the corner stone thereof;

7 When the morning stars sang together.

And all the sons of God shouted for joy?

8 Or who shut up the sea with doors.

When it brake forth, <sup>17</sup>as if it had issued out of the womb;

9 When I made the cloud the garment thereof.

And thick darkness a swaddlingband for it.

10 And <sup>18</sup>prescribed for it my <sup>19</sup>decree.

And set bars and doors.

11 And said hitherto shalt thou come, but no further:

And here shall thy proud waves be stayed?

12 Hast thou commanded the morning since thy days began,

And caused the dayspring to know its place;

13 That it might take hold of the ends of the earth.

And the wicked be shaken out of it?

14 It is changed as clay under the seal:

And all things stand forth <sup>20</sup>as a garment;

15 And from the wicked their light is withholden.

And the high arm is broken.

16 Hast thou entered into the springs of the sea?

Or hast thou walked in the <sup>21</sup>recesses of the deep?

17 Have the gates of death been revealed unto thee?

Or hast thou seen the gates of the shadow of death?

18 Hast thou comprehended the breadth of the earth?

Declare, if thou knowest it all.

19 Where is the way to the dwelling of light.

Or hast thou seen the treasures of the hail.

23 Which I have reserved against the time of trouble.

Against the day of battle and war?

24 By what way is the light parted,
Or the east wind scattered upon the earth?

25 Who hath cleft a channel for the waterflood.

Or a way for the lightning of the thunder;

26 To cause it to rain on a land where no man is;

On the wilderness, wherein there is no man;

27 To satisfy the waste and desolate ground;

And to cause the <sup>2</sup>tender grass to spring forth?

28 Hath the rain a father?

Or who hath begotten the drops of dew?

29 Out of whose womb came the ice?

And the hoary frost of heaven, who hath <sup>3</sup>gendered it?

30 The waters <sup>4</sup>are hidden as with stone,
And the face of the deep <sup>5</sup>is frozen.

31 Canst thou bind the <sup>6</sup>cluster of the Pleiades.

Or loose the bands of Orion?

32 Canst thou lead forth <sup>7</sup>the Mazzaroth in their season?

Or canst thou guide the Bear with her <sup>8</sup>train?

33 Knowest thou the ordinances of the heavens?

Canst thou establish the dominion thereof in the earth?

34 Canst thou lift up thy voice to the clouds.

That abundance of waters may cover thee?

35 Canst thou send forth lightnings, that they may go.

And say unto thee, Here we are?

36 Who hath put wisdom in the <sup>9</sup>inward parts?

Or who hath given understanding to the <sup>10</sup>mind?

37 Who can number the clouds by wisdom?

Or who can <sup>11</sup>pour out the bottles of heaven.

And the clods cleave fast together?

39 Wilt thou hunt the prey for the lioness?

Or satisfy the appetite of the young lions.

40 When they couch in their dens.

And abide in the covert till it be day?

41 Who provideth for the raven his food.

When his young ones cry unto God,

And wander for lack of meat?

39 Knowest thou the time when the wild goats of the rock bring forth?

Or canst thou mark when the hinds do calve?

2 Canst thou number the months that they fulfil?

Or knowest thou the time when they bring forth?

3 They bow themselves, they bring forth their young.

They cast out their sorrows.

4 Their young ones are in good liking, they grow up in the open field;

They go forth, and <sup>12</sup>return not again.

5 Who hath sent out the wild ass free?

Or who hath loosed the bands of the wild ass?

6 Whose house I have made the wilderness.

Neither heareth he the shoutings of the <sup>13</sup>driver.

8 The range of the mountains is his pasture.

And he searcheth after every green thing.

9 Will the <sup>14</sup>wild-ox be content to serve thee?

Or will he abide by thy crib?

10 Canst thou bind the wild-ox with his band in the furrow?

Or will he harrow the valleys after thee?

11 Wilt thou trust him, because his strength is great?

Or wilt thou leave to him thy labour?

12 Wilt thou confide in him, that he will bring home thy seed.

And gather the corn of thy threshing-floor?

13 The wing of the ostrich rejoiceth;

But are her pinions and feathers <sup>15</sup>kindly?

14 For she leaveth her eggs on the earth.

And warmeth them in the dust.

15 And forgetteth that the foot may crush them.

Or that the wild beast may trample them.

16 She <sup>16</sup>is hardened against her young ones, as if they were not hers;

Though her labour be in vain, she is without fear;

17 Because God hath <sup>17</sup>deprived her of wisdom.

Neither hath he imparted to her understanding.

18 What time she <sup>18</sup>lifteth up herself on high.

She scorneth the horse and his rider.

19 Hast thou given the horse his might?

Hast thou clothed his neck with <sup>19</sup>the quivering mane?

20 Hast thou made him to leap as a locust?

- 2 Or, Neither standeth he still at ye.
- 22 He mocketh at fear, and is not dismayed;
Neither turneth he back from the sword.
- 23 The quiver rattleth <sup>1</sup> against him, The flashing spear and the javelin.
- 24 He swalloweth the ground with fierceness and rage;
<sup>2</sup> Neither believeth he that it is the voice of the trumpet.
- 25 As off as the trumpet soundeth he saith, Aha!
And he smelleth the battle afar off. The thunder of the captains, and the shouting.
- 26 Doth the hawk soar by thy wisdom,
And stretch her wings toward the south?
- 27 Doth the eagle mount up at thy command,
And make her nest on high?
- 28 She dwelleth on the rock, and hath her lodging there,
Upon the crag of the rock, and the strong hold.
- 29 From thence she spieth out the prey;
Her eyes behold it afar off.
- 30 Her young ones also suck up blood:
And where the slain are, there is she.
- 40 Moreover the LORD answered Job, and said,
2 Shall he that cavilleth contend with the Almighty?
He that argueth with God, let him answer it.
- 3 Then Job answered the LORD, and said,
4 Behold, I am of small account: what shall I answer thee?
I lay mine hand upon my mouth.
5 Once have I spoken, and I will not answer:
Yea twice, but I will proceed no further.
- 6 Then the LORD answered Job out of the whirlwind, and said,
7 Gird up thy loins now like a man:
I will demand of thee, and declare thou unto me.
- 8 Wilt thou even disannul my judgment?
Wilt thou condemn me, that thou mayest be justified?
- 9 Or hast thou an arm like God?
And canst thou thunder with a voice like him?
- 10 Deck thyself now with excellency and dignity:
And array thyself with honour and majesty.
- 11 Pour forth the overflowings of thine anger:
And look upon every one that is proud, and abase him.
- 12 Look on every one that is proud, and bring him low;
And tread down the wicked where they stand.
- 13 Hide them in the dust together:
Bind their faces in the hidden place.
- 14 Then will I also confess of thee
That thine own right hand can save thee.
- 15 Behold now <sup>3</sup> behemoth, which I made with thee;
He eateth grass as an ox.
- 16 Lo now, his strength is in his loins,
And his force is in the muscles of his belly.
- 17 He moveth his tail like a cedar:
The sinews of his thighs are knit together.
- 18 His bones are as tubes of brass;
His <sup>4</sup> limbs are like bars of iron.
- 19 He is the chief of the ways of God;
<sup>5</sup> He only that made him can make his sword to approach unto him.
- 20 Surely the mountains bring him forth food:
Where all the beasts of the field do play.
- 21 He lieth under the lotus trees,
In the covert of the reed, and the fen.
- 22 The lotus trees cover him with their shadow;
The willows of the brook compass him about.
- 23 Behold, if a river <sup>6</sup> overflow, he trembleth not:
He is confident, though Jordan swell even to his mouth.
- 24 Shall any take him when he is on the watch,
Or pierce through his nose with a snare?
- 41 Canst thou draw out <sup>7</sup> leviathan with a fish hook?
Or press down his tongue with a cord?
- 2 Canst thou put <sup>8</sup> a rope into his nose?
Or pierce his jaw through with a <sup>9</sup> hook?
- 3 Will he make many supplications unto thee?
Or will he speak soft words unto thee?
- 4 Will he make a covenant with thee,
That thou shouldest take him for a servant for ever?
- 5 Wilt thou play with him as with a bird?
Or wilt thou bind him for thy maidens?
- 6 Shall the bands of fishermen make traffic of him?
Shall they part him among the merchants?
- 7 Canst thou fill his skin with barbed irons,
Or his head with fish spears?
- 8 Lay thine hand upon him;
Remember the battle, and do so no more.
- 9 Behold, the hope of him is in vain:
Shall not one be cast down even at the sight of him?
- 10 None is so fierce that he dare stir him up:
Who then is he that can stand before me?
- 11 Who hath first given unto me, that I should repay him?

Whatsoever is under the whole heaven is mine.

12 I will not keep silence concerning his limbs.

Nor his mighty strength, nor his comely proportion.

13 Who can <sup>1</sup>strip off his outer garment?

Who shall come within his double bridle?

14 Who can open the doors of his face?

15 His <sup>3</sup>strong scales are his pride, Shut up together as with a close seal.

16 One is so near to another,

That no air can come between them.

17 They are joined one to another.

They stick together, that they cannot be sundered.

18 His neesings flash forth light.

And his eyes are like the eyelids of the morning.

19 Out of his mouth go burning torches, And sparks of fire leap forth.

20 Out of his nostrils a smoke goeth, As of a seething pot and burning rushes.

21 His breath kindleth coals.

And a flame goeth forth from his mouth.

22 In his neck abideth strength,

And terror danceth before him.

23 The flakes of his flesh are joined together:

They are firm upon him; they cannot be moved.

24 His heart is as firm as a stone;

Yea, firm as the nether millstone.

25 When he raiseth himself up, the mighty are afraid:

By reason of consternation they are beside themselves.

26 If one lay at him with the sword, it cannot avail;

Nor the spear, the dart, nor the <sup>4</sup>pointed shaft.

27 He counteth iron as straw,

And brass as rotten wood.

28 The <sup>5</sup>arrow cannot make him flee: Slingstones are turned with him into stubble.

29 Clubs are counted as stubble:

He laugheth at the rushing of the javelin.

30 His underparts are like sharp potsherd:

He spreadeth as it were a threshing wain upon the mire.

31 He maketh the deep to boil like a pot:

He maketh the sea like ointment.

32 He maketh a path to shine after him;

One would think the deep to be hoary.

33 Upon earth there is not his like,

That is made without fear.

34 He beholdeth every thing that is high:

He is king over all the <sup>6</sup>sons of pride.

42 Then Job answered the LORD, and said,

2 I know that thou canst do all things,

And that no purpose of thine can be restrained.

3 <sup>7</sup> Who is this that hideth counsel without knowledge?

Therefore have I uttered that which I understood not,

Things too wonderful for me, which I knew not.

4 Hear, I beseech thee, and I will speak;

<sup>8</sup> I will demand of thee, and declare thou unto me.

5 I had heard of thee by the hearing of the ear;

But now mine eye seeth thee.

6 Wherefore I <sup>9</sup>abhor myself, and repent

In dust and ashes.

7 And it was so, that after the LORD had spoken these words unto Job, the LORD said to Eliphaz the Temanite, My wrath is kindled against thee, and against thy two friends:

for ye have not spoken of me the thing that is right, as my servant

8 Job hath. Now therefore, take unto you seven bullocks and seven rams, and go to my servant Job, and offer up for yourselves a burnt offering; and my servant Job shall pray for you; for him will I accept, that I deal not with you after your folly; for ye have not spoken of me the thing that is right, as my

9 servant Job hath. So Eliphaz the Temanite and Bildad the Shuhite and Zophar the Naamathite went, and did according as the LORD commanded them: and the LORD accepted Job. And the LORD turned 10 the captivity of Job, when he prayed for his friends: and the LORD gave

Job twice as much as he had before. Then came there unto him

11 all his brethren, and all his sisters, and all they that had been of his acquaintance before, and did eat bread with him in his house: and they bemoaned him, and comforted him concerning all the evil that the LORD had brought upon him: every man also gave him a <sup>10</sup>piece of gold. So the LORD blessed the latter end of Job more than his beginning: and he had fourteen thousand sheep, and six thousand camels, and a thousand yoke of oxen, and a thousand she-asses.

13 He had also seven sons and three daughters. And he called the name of the first, Jemimah; and the name of the second, Keziah; and the name of the third, Keren-happuch.

15 And in all the land were no women found so fair as the daughters of Job: and their father gave them inheritance among their brethren.

16 And after this Job lived an hundred and forty years, and saw his sons, and his sons' sons, even four generations. So Job died, being old and 17 full of days.

THE PSALMS.

BOOK I.

1 Or,
Happy

1 <sup>1</sup> BLESSED is the man that walketh not in the counsel of the wicked,
Nor standeth in the way of sinners,
Nor sitteth in the seat of the scornful.

2 But his delight is in the law of the LORD;
And in his law doth he meditate day and night.

3 And he shall be like a tree planted
by the streams of water,
That bringeth forth its fruit in its season.

Whose leaf also doth not wither;
And <sup>2</sup> whatsoever he doeth shall prosper.

4 The wicked are not so;
But are like the chaff which the wind driveth away.

5 Therefore the wicked shall not stand in the judgement, Nor sinners in the congregation of the righteous.

6 For the LORD knoweth the way of
the righteous;
But the way of the wicked shall perish.

2 Or, in whatsoever he doeth he shall prosper

3 Or, turn ultuously assemble

4 Or, meditate

2 Why do the nations <sup>3</sup> rage,
And the peoples <sup>4</sup> imagine a vain thing?

2 The kings of the earth set themselves,
And the rulers take counsel together.

Against the LORD, and against his anointed, saying,

3 Let us break their bands asunder,
And cast away their cords from us.

4 He that sitteth in the heavens shall laugh;
The LORD shall have them in derision.

5 Then shall he speak unto them in his wrath,
And <sup>5</sup> vex them in his sore displeasure:

6 Yet I have set my king
Upon my holy hill of Zion.

7 I will tell of the decree:
The LORD said unto me, Thou art
my son;

This day have I begotten thee.

8 Ask of me, and I will give thee the nations for thine inheritance.

And the uttermost parts of the earth for thy possession.

9 Thou shalt break them with a rod of iron.

Thou shalt dash them in pieces like a potter's vessel.

10 Now therefore be wise, O ye kings:
Be instructed, ye judges of the earth.

5 Or, trouble

11 Serve the LORD with fear,
And rejoice with trembling.

12 <sup>6</sup> Kiss the son, lest he be angry, and ye perish in the way,
For his wrath <sup>7</sup> will soon be kindled.

<sup>1</sup> Blessed are all they that <sup>8</sup> put their trust in him.

3 A Psalm of David, when he fled from Absalom his son.

1 LORD, how are mine adversaries increased!

Many are they that rise up against
me.

2 Many there be which say <sup>9</sup> of my soul,

There is no <sup>10</sup> help for him in God. [Selah]

3 But thou, O LORD, art a shield about
me;

My glory, and the lifter up of mine
head.

4 I cry unto the LORD with my voice,

And he answereth me out of his holy hill. [Selah]

5 I laid me down and slept;
I awaked; for the LORD sustaineth
me.

6 I will not be afraid of ten thousands of the people.

That have set themselves against me round about.

7 Arise, O LORD: save me, O my God:
For thou hast smitten all mine

Thou hast broken the teeth of the

Thou hast set me at large when I was in distress:

How long will ye love vanity, and

The LORD will hear when I call

8 For the Chief Musician; set to the Gittith.
A Psalm of David.

- 1 O LORD, our Lord,
How excellent is thy name in all
the earth!
Who hast set thy glory upon the heavens.
2 Out of the mouth* of babes and sucklings hast thou established strength,
Because of thine adversaries,
That thou mightest still the enemy and the avenger.
3 When I consider thy heavens, the work of thy fingers,
The moon and the stars, which thou hast ordained;
4 What is man, that thou art mindful of him?
And the son of man, that thou visitest him?
5 For thou hast made him but little lower than God,
And crownest him with glory and honour.
6 Thou madest him to have dominion over the works of thy hands;
Thou hast put all things under his feet.
7 All sheep and oxen,
Yea, and the beasts of the field;
8 The fowl of the air, and the fish of the sea,
Whosoever passeth through the paths of the seas.
9 O LORD, our Lord,
How excellent is thy name in all
the earth!

9 For the Chief Musician; set to Muthlabben. A Psalm of David.

- 1 I will give thanks unto the LORD
with my whole heart;
I will shew forth all thy marvellous works.

- 2 I will be glad and exult in thee:
I will sing praise to thy name, O
thou Most High.
3 When mine enemies turn back,
They stumble and perish at thy presence.
4 For thou hast maintained my right and my cause;
Thou satest in the throne judging righteously.
5 Thou hast rebuked the nations,
thou hast destroyed the wicked.
Thou hast blotted out their name for ever and ever.
6 The enemy are come to an end,
they are desolate for ever;
And the cities which thou hast overthrown,
Their very memorial is perished.
7 But the LORD sitteth asking for ever:
He hath prepared his throne for judgement.
8 And he shall judge the world in righteousness,
He shall minister judgement to the peoples in uprightness.
9 The LORD also will be a high tower for the oppressed,
A high tower in times of trouble;
10 And they that know thy name will put their trust in thee;
For thou, LORD, hast not forsaken them that seek thee.

- 11 Sing praises to the LORD, which dwelleth in Zion:
Declare among the people his domes.
12 For he that maketh inquisition for blood remembereth them:
He forgetteth not the cry of the poor.
13 Have mercy upon me, O LORD:
Behold my affliction which I suffer
of them that hate me.
Thou that liftest me up from the gates of death;
14 That I may shew forth all thy praise:
In the gates of the daughter of Zion,
I will rejoice in thy salvation.
15 The nations are sunk down in the pit that they made:
In the net which they hid is their own foot taken.
16 The LORD hath made himself known, he hath executed judgment:
The wicked is snared in the work of his own hands. [Hearken, Selah] 17 The wicked shall return to Sion:
Even all the nations that forget God.
18 For the needy shall not always be forgotten.
Nor the expectation of the poor perish for ever.
19 Arise, O LORD; let not man prevail:
Let the nations be judged in thy sight.
20 Put them in fear, O LORD: Let the nations know themselves to be but men. [Selah]

2 In the pride of the wicked <sup>1</sup> the poor

4 The wicked, in the pride of his countenance, saieth, He will not

All his thoughts are, There is no God.

5 His ways are <sup>6</sup> firm at all times;
Thy judgements are far above out of his sight:

As for all his adversaries, he puffeth at them.

6 He saith in his heart, I shall not be

To all generations I shall not be in adversity.

7 His mouth is full of cursing and deceit and <sup>7</sup> oppression:

Under his tongue is mischief and iniquity.

8 He sitteth in the lurking places of the villages:

In the covert places doth he murder
the innocent:

His eyes are privily set against the <sup>8</sup> helpless.

9 He lurketh in the covert as a lion
in his den:

He lieth in wait to catch the poor:

He doth catch the poor, when he draweth him in his net.

10 <sup>9</sup> He croucheth, he boweth down,
And the <sup>8</sup> helpless fall by his strong ones.

11 He saith in his heart, God hath forgotten:

He hideth his face; he will never see it.

12 Arise, O LORD; O God, lift up thine
hand:

Forget not the <sup>10</sup> poor.

13 Wherefore doth the wicked contemn God.

And say in his heart, Thou wilt not require it?

14 Thou hast seen it; for thou beholdest <sup>11</sup> mischief and spite, to take it into thy hand:

The <sup>8</sup> helpless committeth himself
unto thee;

Thou hast been the helper of the fatherless.

15 Break thou the arm of the wicked;

And as for the evil man, seek out his wickedness till thou find none.

16 The LORD is King for ever and ever:

The <sup>12</sup> nations are perished out of his land.

17 LORD, thou hast heard the desire of the meek:

Thou wilt <sup>13</sup> prepare their heart,
thou wilt cause thine ear to hear:

18 To judge the fatherless and the oppressed,

That man which is of the earth
may be terrible no more.

But the wicked and him that loveth violence his soul hateth.

6 Upon the wicked he shall rain snares;

Fire and brimstone and burning the children of men.

2 They speak vanity every one with his neighbour:

With flattering lip, and with a double heart, do they speak.

3 The LORD shall cut off all flattering lips.

The tongue that speaketh great things:

4 Who have said, With our tongue

sighing of the needy,

14 For the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David.

- 1 The fool hath said in his heart,
There is no God.
They are corrupt, they have done abominable works;
There is none that doeth good.
2 The LORD looked down from heaven upon the children of men,
To see if there were any that did understand.
That did seek after God.
3 They are all gone aside; they are together become filthy:
There is none that doeth good, no, not one.
4 Have all the workers of iniquity no knowledge?
Who eat up my people as they eat bread,
And call not upon the LORD.
5 There were they in great fear:
For God is in the generation of the righteous.
6 Ye put to shame the counsel of the fool.
7 Because the LORD is his refuge.
8 Oh that the salvation of Israel were come out of Zion!
When the LORD bringeth back the captivity of his people,
Then shall Jacob rejoice, and Israel shall be glad.

15 A Psalm of David.

- 1 LORD, who shall sojourn in thy tabernacle?
Who shall dwell in thy holy hill?
2 He that walketh uprightly, and worketh righteousness,
And speaketh truth in his heart.
3 He that slandereth not with his tongue.
Nor doeth evil to his friend,
Nor taketh up a reproach against his neighbour.
4 In whose eyes a reprobate is despised;
But he honoureth them that fear the LORD.
5 He that warreth to his own hurt, and changeth not.
6 He that putteth not out his money to usury.
Nor taketh reward against the innocent.
He that doeth these things shall never be moved.

16 Nektam of David.

- 1 Preserve me, O God: for in thee do I put my trust.

- 2 I have said unto the LORD, Thou art my Lord:
I have no good beyond thee.
3 As for the saints that are in the earth,
They are the excellent in whom is all my delight.
4 Their sorrows shall be multiplied that exchange the LORD for another god:
Their drink offerings of blood will I not offer.
Nor take their names upon my lips.
5 The LORD is the portion of mine inheritance and of my cup:
Thou maintainest my lot.
6 The lines are fallen unto me in pleasant places:
Yea, I have a goodly heritage.
7 I will bless the LORD, who hath given me counsel.
Yea, my reins instruct me in the right seasons.
8 I have set the LORD always before me:
Because he is at my right hand, I shall not be moved.
9 Therefore my heart is glad, and my glory rejoiceth.
My flesh also shall dwell in safety.
10 For thou wilt not leave my soul to Sheol:
Neither wilt thou suffer thine holy one to see corruption.
11 Thou wilt shew me the path of life.
In thy presence is fulness of joy;
In thy right hand there are pleasures for evermore.

17 A Prayer of David.

- 1 Hear the right, O LORD, attend unto my cry;
Give ear unto my prayer, that goeth not out of feigned lips.
2 Let my sentence come forth from thy presence:
Let thine eyes look upon equity.
3 Thou hast proved mine heart; thou hast visited me in the night;
Thou hast tried me, and findest nothing;
I am purposed that my mouth shall not transgress.
4 As for the works of men by the word of thy lips,
I have kept me from the ways of the violent.
5 My steps have held fast to thy paths,
My feet have not slipped.
6 I have called upon thee, for thou wilt answer me, O God.
Incline thine ear unto me, and hear my speech.
7 Shew thy marvellous lovingkindness, O thou that saved them which put their trust in thee.
8 From those that rise up against them, be thou their right hand.
8 Keep me as the apple of the eye.
Hide me under the shadow of thy wings.
9 From the wicked that spoil me,
My deadly enemies, that compass me about.

proudly.

11 They have now compassed us in our steps:
They set their eyes to cast us down to the earth.

12 He is like a lion that is greedy of his prey,
And as it were a young lion lurking in secret places.

13 Arise, O LORD,
<sup>2</sup> Confront him, cast him down:
Deliver my soul from <sup>3</sup> the wicked
by thy sword;

14 From <sup>4</sup> men, by thy hand, O LORD.
<sup>5</sup> From men of the world, whose portion is in this life,
And whose belly thou fillest with thy treasure:
They are satisfied with children,
And leave the rest of their substance to their babes.

15 As for me, <sup>6</sup> I shall behold thy face in righteousness:
<sup>6</sup> I shall be satisfied, when I awake, with thy <sup>7</sup> likeness.

18 For the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David the servant of the Lord, <sup>8</sup> who spoke unto the Lord the words of this song in the day that the Lord delivered him from the hand of all his enemies, and from the hand of Saul:
and he said,

1 I love thee, O LORD, my strength.

2 The LORD is my rock, and my fortress, and my deliverer;
My God, my strong rock, in him will
I trust:
My shield, and the horn of my salvation, my high tower.

3 I will call upon the LORD, who is worthy to be praised:
So shall I be saved from mine enemies.

4 The cords of death compassed me,
And the floods of <sup>9</sup> ungodliness made me afraid.

5 The cords of Sheol were round about
me:

The snares of death came upon me.
6 In my distress I called upon the LORD,
And cried unto my God:
He heard my voice out of his temple,
And my cry before him came into his ears.

7 Then the earth shook and trembled,
The foundations also of the mountains moved
And were shaken, because he was wroth.

8 There went up a smoke <sup>10</sup> out of his nostrils,
And fire out of his mouth devoured:
Coals were kindled by it.

9 He bowed the heavens also, and came down;
And thick darkness was under his feet.

10 And he rode upon a cherub, and did fly:
Yea, he flew swiftly upon the wings of the wind.

11 He made darkness his hiding place,
his pavilion round about him;

Darkness of waters, thick clouds of the skies.

12 At the brightness before him his thick clouds passed,
Hailstones and coals of fire.

13 The LORD also thundered in the heavens,
And the Most High uttered his voice;
Hailstones and coals of fire.

14 And he sent out his arrows, and scattered them;
<sup>11</sup> Yea, lightnings manifold, and discomfited them.

15 Then the channels of waters appeared,
And the foundations of the world
were laid bare.
At thy rebuke, O LORD,
At the blast of the breath of thy nostrils.

16 He sent from on high, he took me;
He drew me out of <sup>12</sup> many waters.

17 He delivered me from my strong enemy,
And from them that hated me, for they were too mighty for me.

18 They came upon me in the day of my calamity:

But the LORD was my stay.

19 He brought me forth also into a large place;
He delivered me, because he delighted in me.

20 The LORD rewarded me according to my righteousness;
According to the cleanness of my hands hath he recompensed me.

21 For I have kept the ways of the LORD,
And have not wickedly departed from my God.

22 For all his judgements were before
me,
And I put not away his statutes from me.

23 I was also perfect with him,
And I kept myself from mine
iniquity.

24 Therefore hath the LORD recompensed me according to my righteousness,

According to the cleanness of my hands in his eyesight.

25 With the merciful thou wilt shew thyself merciful;

With the perfect man thou wilt shew thyself perfect;

26 With the pure thou wilt shew thyself pure;
And with the perverse thou wilt shew thyself froward.

27 For thou wilt save the afflicted
people;
But the haughty eyes thou wilt bring down.

28 For thou wilt light my lamp:
The LORD my God will lighten my darkness.

29 For by thee I run <sup>13</sup> upon a troop;
And by my God do I leap over a wall.

30 As for God, his way is perfect:
The word of the LORD is tried;
He is a shield unto all them that trust in him.

And who is a rock, beside our God?

32 The God that girdeth me with strength.

And maketh my way perfect.

33 He maketh my feet like hinds' feet;
And setteth me upon my high places.

34 He teacheth my hands to war;
So that mine arms do bend a bow of brass.

35 Thou hast also given me the shield of thy salvation:

And thy right hand hath holden me up.

And thy gentleness hath made me great.

36 Thou hast enlarged my steps under me.

And my feet have not slipped.

37 I will pursue mine enemies, and overtake them:

Neither will I turn again till they are consumed.

38 I will smite them through that they shall not be able to rise;

They shall fall under my feet.

39 For thou hast girded me with strength unto the battle:

Thou hast subdued under me these that rose up against me.

40 Thou hast also made mine enemies turn their backs unto me.

That I might cut off them that hate me.

41 They cried, but there was none to save:

Even unto the LORD, but he answered them not.

42 Then did I beat them small as the dust before the wind:

I did cast them out as the mire of the streets.

43 Thou hast delivered me from the strivings of the people;

Thou hast made me the head of the nations:

A people whom I have not known shall serve me.

44 As soon as they hear of me they shall obey me:

The strangers shall submit themselves unto me.

45 The strangers shall fade away.

And shall come trembling out of their close places.

46 The LORD liveth; and blessed be my rock;

And exalted be the God of my salvation:

47 Even the God that executeth vengeance for me.

And subdueth peoples under me.

48 He rescueth me from mine enemies:

Yea, thou hast set me up above them that rise up against me:

Thou deliverest me from the violent man.

49 Therefore I will give thanks unto thee, O LORD, among the nations.

And will sing praises unto thy name.

50 Great deliverance giveth he to his king;

And sheweth lovingkindness to his anointed.

To David and to his seed, for evermore.

19 For the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David.

1 The heavens declare the glory of God;

And the firmament sheweth his handywork.

2 Day unto day uttereth speech,

And night unto night sheweth knowledge.

3 There is no speech nor language;

Their voice cannot be heard.

4 Their line is gone out through all the earth,

And their words to the end of the world.

5 In them hath he set a tabernacle for the sun.

6 Which is as a bridegroom coming out of his chamber.

And rejoiceth as a strong man to run his course.

7 His going forth is from the end of the heaven.

And his circuit unto the ends of it:

And there is nothing hid from the heat thereof.

8 The law of the LORD is perfect, restoring the soul:

The testimony of the LORD is sure,

making wise the simple.

9 The precepts of the LORD are right, rejoicing the heart:

The commandment of the LORD is pure, enlightening the eyes.

10 The fear of the LORD is clean, enduring for ever:

The judgements of the LORD are true, and righteous altogether.

11 More to be desired are they than gold, yea, than much fine gold:

Sweeter also than honey and the honeycomb.

12 Moreover by them is thy servant warned:

In keeping of them there is great reward.

13 Who can discern his errors?

Clear thou me from hidden faults.

14 Keep back thy servant also from presumptuous sins;

Let them not have dominion over me; then shall I be perfect,

And I shall be clear from great transgression.

15 Let the words of my mouth and the meditation of my heart be acceptable in thy sight.

O LORD, my rock, and my redeemer.

David.

1 The king shall joy in thy strength,
O LORD;

And in thy salvation how greatly shall he rejoice!

2 Thou hast given him his heart's desire.

And hast not withholden the request of his lips. <sup>[Selah]</sup>

3 For thou preventest him with the blessings of <sup>3</sup>goodness:

Thou settest a crown of fine gold on his head.

4 He asked life of thee, thou gavest
it him;

Even length of days for ever and 5 His glory is great in thy salvation:

Honour and majesty dost thou lay upon him.

6 For thou <sup>4</sup>makest him most blessed
for ever:

Thou makest him glad with joy in thy presence.

7 For the king trusteth in the LORD.
And through the lovingkindness of the Most High he shall not be moved.

8 Thine hand shall find out all thine
enemies:

Thy right hand shall find out those that hate thee.

9 Thou shalt make them as a fiery furnace in the time of thine <sup>5</sup>anger.

The LORD shall swallow them up in his wrath.

And the fire shall devour them.

10 Their fruit shalt thou destroy from
the earth,

And their seed from among the children of men.

They imagined a device, which they are not able to perform.

12 For thou shalt make them turn their back.

Thou shalt make ready with thy bowstrings against the face of them.

strength:

So will we sing and praise thy power.

22 For the Chief Musician; set to <sup>6</sup>Aijeleth hash-Shahar. A Psalm of David.

1 My God, My God, why hast thou forsaken me?

<sup>7</sup>Why art thou so far from helping me, and from the words of my roaring?

2 O my God, I cry in the day-time, but thou answerest not;

And in the night season, <sup>8</sup>and am not silent.

3 But thou art holy.
O thou that <sup>9</sup>inhabitest the praises of Israel.

4 Our fathers trusted in thee:
They trusted, and thou didst deliver
them.

5 They cried unto thee, and were delivered:

They trusted in thee, and were not ashamed.

6 But I am a worm, and no man;

A reproach of men, and despised of the people.

7 All they that see me laugh me to scorn:

They shoot out the lip, they shake
the head, saying,

8 <sup>10</sup>Commit thyself unto the LORD:
let him deliver him;

Let him deliver him, seeing he delighteth in him.

9 But thou art he that took me out of the womb:

Thou didst make me trust when I was upon my mother's breasts.

10 I was cast upon thee from the womb:
Thou art my God from my mother's belly.

11 Be not far from me; for trouble is near;

For there is none to help.

12 Many bulls have compassed me:
Strong bulls of Bashan have beset me round.

13 They gape upon me with their mouth.

As a ravening and a roaring lion.

14 I am poured out like water.

And all my bones are out of joint:
My heart is like wax;

It is melted in the midst of my bowels.

15 My strength is dried up like a pot-sherd;

And my tongue cleaveth to my jaws;
And thou hast brought me into the dust of death.

16 For dogs have compassed me:
The assembly of evil-doers have inclosed me;

17 They pierced my hands and my feet.

18 I may tell all my bones;

They look and stare upon me:

19 They part my garments among them.

And upon my vesture do they cast lots.

20 But be not thou far off, O LORD:

O thou my succour, haste thee to help me.

But when he cried unto him, he heard.

Let your heart live for ever.

And all the kindreds of the nations shall worship before thee.

28 For the kingdom is the LORD's: And he is the ruler over the nations.

29 All the fat ones of the earth shall eat and worship:

All they that go down to the dust shall bow before him,

Even he that cannot keep his soul alive.

30 A seed shall serve him;

It shall be told of the Lord unto the next generation.

31 They shall come and shall declare his righteousness

Unto a people that shall be born, that he hath done it.

23 A Psalm of David.

1 The LORD is my shepherd; I shall not want.

2 He maketh me to lie down in green pastures:

He leadeth me beside the still waters,

3 He restoreth my soul:

He guideth me in the paths of righteousness for his name's sake.

4 Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death,

I will fear no evil; for thou art with me:

Thy rod and thy staff, they comfort me.

5 Thou preparest a table before me in the presence of mine enemies:

Thou hast anointed my head with oil; my cup runneth over.

6 Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life:

And I will dwell in the house of the LORD for ever.

24 A Psalm of David.

1 The earth is the LORD's, and the fulness thereof;

The world, and they that dwell therein.

2 For he hath founded it upon the seas, And established it upon the floods.

3 Who shall ascend into the hill of the LORD?

And who shall stand in his holy place?

4 He that hath clean hands, and a pure heart;

Who hath not lifted up his soul unto vanity,

And hath not sworn deceitfully.

5 He shall receive a blessing from the LORD,

And righteousness from the God of his salvation.

6 This is the generation of them that seek after him,

That seek thy face, O God of Jacob. [Selah]

7 Lift up your heads, O ye gates;

And the King of glory shall come in.

8 Who is the King of glory? The LORD strong and mighty,

The LORD mighty in battle.

9 Lift up your heads, O ye gates;

Yea, lift them up, ye everlasting doors:

And the King of glory shall come in.

10 Who is this King of glory? The LORD of hosts,

He is the King of glory. [Selah]

25 A Psalm of David.

1 Unto thee, O LORD, do I lift up my soul.

2 O my God, in thee have I trusted, Let me not be ashamed;

Let not mine enemies triumph over me.

3 Yea, none that wait on thee shall be ashamed

They shall be ashamed that deal treacherously without cause.

4 Shew me thy ways, O LORD;

Teach me thy paths.

5 Guide me in thy truth, and teach me: For thou art the God of my salvation;

On thee do I wait all the day.

6 Remember, O LORD, thy tender mercies and thy lovingkindnesses;

For they have been ever of old.

7 Remember not the sins of my youth, nor my transgressions:

According to thy lovingkindness remember thou me.

8 For thy goodness' sake, O LORD, Good and upright is the LORD:

Therefore will he instruct sinners in the way.

9 The meek will he guide in judgement

And the meek will he teach his way.

30 A Psalm; a Song at the Dedication of the House; a Psalm of David.

- 1 I will extol thee, O LORD: for thou hast <sup>7</sup>raised me up,
 And hast not made my foes to rejoice over me.
 2 O LORD my God,
 I cried unto thee, and thou hast healed me.
 3 O LORD, thou hast brought up my soul from Sheol:
 Thou hast kept me alive, <sup>8</sup>that I should not go down to the pit.
 4 Sing praise unto the LORD, O ye saints of his.
 And give thanks to his holy <sup>9</sup>name.
 5 For his anger is but for a mo-

<sup>10</sup>In his favour is life:
 Weeping <sup>11</sup>may tarry for the night,
 But joy cometh in the morning.
 6 As for me, I said in my prosperity,
 I shall never be moved.
 7 Thou, LORD, of thy favour hadst made my mountain to stand strong:
 Thou didst hide thy face; I was troubled.
 8 I cried to thee, O LORD:
 And unto the LORD I made supplication:
 9 What profit is there in my blood,
 when I go down to the pit?
 Shall the dust praise thee? shall it declare thy truth?
 10 Hear, O LORD, and have mercy
 upon me:
 LORD, be thou my helper.
 11 Thou hast turned for me my mourning into dancing;
 Thou hast loosed my sackcloth, and girded me with gladness:

My strength falleth because of mine iniquity, and my bones are wasted away.
- 11 Because of all mine adversaries I am become a reproach, Yea, unto my neighbours exceedingly, and a fear to mine acquaintance:
They that did see me without fled from me.
- 12 I am forgotten as a dead man out of mind:
I am like a broken vessel.
- 13 For I have heard the defaming of many,
Terror on every side:
While they took counsel together against me,
They devised to take away my life.
- 14 But I trusted in thee, O LORD:
I said, Thou art my God.
- 15 My times are in thy hand:
Deliver me from the hand of mine enemies, and from them that persecute me.
- 16 Make thy face to shine upon thy servant:
Save me in thy lovingkindness.
- 17 Let me not be ashamed, O LORD:
for I have called upon thee:
Let the wicked be ashamed, let them be silent in Sheol.
- 18 Let the lying lips be dumb;
Which speak against the righteous insolently,
With pride and contempt.
- 19 Oh how great is thy goodness, which thou hast laid up for them that fear thee,
Which thou hast wrought for them that put their trust in thee, before the sons of men!
- 20 In the covert of thy presence shalt thou hide them from the plottings of man:
Thou shalt keep them secretly in a pavilion from the strife of tongues.
- 21 Blessed be the LORD:
For he hath shewed me his marvellous lovingkindness in a strong city.
- 22 As for me, I said in my <sup>1</sup>haste, I am cut off from before thine eyes:
Nevertheless thou hearest the voice of my supplications when I cried unto thee.
- 23 O love the LORD, all ye his saints:
The LORD preserveth <sup>2</sup>the faithful,
And plentifully rewardeth the proud doer.

All ye that <sup>3</sup>hope in the LORD.

32 A Psalm of David. Maschil.

- 1 Blessed is he whose transgression is forgiven, whose sin is covered.
- 2 Blessed is the man unto whom the LORD imputeth not iniquity,
And in whose spirit there is no guile.
- 3 When I kept silence, my bones waxed old
Through my roaring all the day long.
- 4 For day and night thy hand was heavy upon me:
My moisture was changed <sup>4</sup>as with the drought of summer. [Selah]
- 5 I acknowledged my sin unto thee, and mine iniquity have I not hid:
I said, I will confess my transgressions unto the LORD;
And thou forgavest the iniquity of my sin. [Selah]
- 6 For this let every one that is godly pray unto thee <sup>5</sup>in a time when thou mayest be found:
Surely when the great waters overflow they shall not reach unto him.
- 7 Thou art my hiding place; thou wilt preserve me from trouble;
Thou wilt compass me about with songs of deliverance. [Selah]
- 8 I will instruct thee and teach thee in the way which thou shalt go:
I will counsel thee with mine eye upon thee.
- 9 Be ye not as the horse, or as the mule, which have no understanding:
Whose trappings must be bit and bridle to hold them in,
<sup>6</sup>Else they will not come near unto thee.
- 10 Many sorrows shall be to the wicked:
But he that trusteth in the LORD, mercy shall compass him about.
- 11 Be glad in the LORD, and rejoice, ye righteous:
And shout for joy, all ye that are upright in heart.

- 33 Rejoice in the LORD, O ye righteous:
Praise is comely for the upright.
- 2 Give thanks unto the LORD with harp:
Sing praises unto him with the psaltery of ten strings.
- 3 Sing unto him a new song;
Play skilfully with a loud noise.
- 4 For the word of the LORD is right;
And all his work is done in faithfulness.
- 5 He loveth righteousness and judgement:
The earth is full of the lovingkindness of the LORD.
- 6 By the word of the LORD were the heavens made;
And all the host of them by the breath of his mouth.
- 7 He gathereth the waters of the sea together as an heap:
He layeth up the deeps in store-houses.
- 8 Let all the earth fear the LORD:

Let all the inhabitants of the world stand in awe of him.

- 9 For he spake, and it was done;
He commanded, and it stood fast.
- 10 The LORD bringeth the counsel of the nations to nought:
He maketh the thoughts of the peoples to be of none effect.
- 11 The counsel of the LORD standeth fast for ever,
The thoughts of his heart to all generations.
- 12 Blessed is the nation whose God is the LORD;
The people whom he hath chosen for his own inheritance.
- 13 The LORD looketh from heaven;
He beholdeth all the sons of men;
- 14 From the place of his habitation he looketh forth
Upon all the inhabitants of the earth:
- 15 He that fashioneth the hearts of them all,
That considereth all their works.
- 16 There is no king saved by <sup>1</sup>the multitude of an host:
A mighty man is not delivered by great strength.
- 17 An horse is a vain thing for safety:
Neither shall he deliver any by his great power.
- 18 Behold, the eye of the LORD is upon them that fear him, Upon them that <sup>2</sup>hope in his mercy;
- 19 To deliver their soul from death,
And to keep them alive in famine.
- 20 Our soul hath waited for the LORD:
He is our help and our shield.
- 21 For our heart shall rejoice in him,
Because we have trusted in his holy name.

34 <sup>4</sup>A Psalm of David; when he <sup>3</sup>changed his behaviour before Abimelech, who drove him away, and he departed.

- 1 I will bless the LORD at all times:
His praise shall continually be in my mouth.
- 2 My soul shall make her boast in the LORD:
The meek shall hear thereof, and be glad.
- 3 O magnify the LORD with me,
And let us exalt his name together.
- 4 I sought the LORD, and he answered me,
And delivered me from all my fears.
- 5 They looked unto him, and were lightened:
And their faces shall never be confounded.
- 6 This poor man cried, and the LORD heard him,
And saved him out of all his troubles.
- 7 The angel of the LORD encampeth round about them that fear him,
And delivereth them.
- 8 O taste and see that the LORD is good:

Blessed is the man that trusteth in him.

- 9 O fear the LORD, ye his saints:
For there is no want to them that fear him.
- 10 The young lions do lack, and suffer hunger:
But they that seek the LORD shall not want any good thing.
- 11 Come, ye children, hearken unto me:
I will teach you the fear of the LORD.
- 12 What man is he that desireth life,
And loveth many days, that he may see good?
- 13 Keep thy tongue from evil,
And thy lips from speaking guile.
- 14 Depart from evil, and do good;
Seek peace, and pursue it.
- 15 The eyes of the LORD are toward the righteous,
And his ears are open unto their cry.
- 16 The face of the LORD is against them that do evil,
To cut off the remembrance of them from the earth.
- 17 The righteous cried, and the LORD heard,
And delivered them out of all their troubles.
- 18 The LORD is nigh unto them that are of a broken heart,
And saveth such as be of a contrite spirit.
- 19 Many are the afflictions of the righteous:
But the LORD delivereth him out of them all.
- 20 He keepeth all his bones:
Not one of them is broken.
- 21 Evil shall slay the wicked:
And they that hate the righteous shall be <sup>4</sup>condemned.
- 22 The LORD redeemeth the soul of his servants:
And none of them that trust in him shall be <sup>4</sup>condemned.

<sup>4</sup>A Psalm of David.

- 1 Strive thou, O LORD, with them that strive with me:
Fight thou against them that fight against me.
- 2 Take hold of shield and buckler,
And stand up for mine help.
- 3 Draw out also the spear, <sup>5</sup>and stop the way against them that pursue me:
Say unto my soul, I am thy salvation.
- 4 Let them be ashamed and brought to dishonour that seek after my soul:
Let them be turned back and confounded that devise my hurt.
- 5 Let them be as chaff before the wind,
And the angel of the LORD driving them on.
- 6 Let their way be dark and slippery,
And the angel of the LORD pursuing them.
- 7 For without cause have they hid for me <sup>7</sup>their net in a pit,
Without cause have they digged a pit for my soul.

8 Let destruction come upon him at unawares;
And let his net that he hath hid catch himself:

<sup>1</sup> With destruction let him fall therein.

9 And my soul shall be joyful in the LORD:

It shall rejoice in his salvation.

10 All my bones shall say, LORD, who is like unto thee,
Which deliverest the poor from him that is too strong for him,
Yea, the poor and the needy from him that spoileth him?

11 <sup>2</sup> Unrighteous witnesses rise up;
They ask me of things that I know not.

12 They reward me evil for good,
To the bereaving of my soul.

13 But as for me, when they were sick, my clothing was sackcloth:
I afflicted my soul with fasting;
And my prayer <sup>3</sup> returned into mine own bosom.

14 I behaved myself as though it had been my friend or my brother:
I bowed down mourning, as one that bewaileth his mother.

15 But when I halted they rejoiced, and gathered themselves together:
The <sup>4</sup> subjects gathered themselves together against me, and <sup>5</sup> I knew it not;

They did tear me, and ceased not:

16 <sup>6</sup> Like the profane mockers in feasts,
They gnashed upon me with their teeth.

17 Lord, how long wilt thou look on?
Rescue my soul from their destructions,

18 I will give thee thanks in the great congregation:

I will praise thee among <sup>8</sup> much people.

19 Let not them that are mine enemies <sup>9</sup> wrongfully rejoice over me:

Neither let them wink with the eye that hate me without a cause.

20 For they speak not peace:
But they devise deceitful words against them that are quiet in the land.

21 Yea, they opened their mouth wide against me;
They said, Aha, aha, our eye hath seen it.

22 Thou hast seen it, O LORD; keep not silence:

O Lord, be not far from me.

23 Stir up thyself, and awake to my judgement,
Even unto my cause, my God and my Lord.

24 Judge me, O LORD my God, according to thy righteousness;

And let them not rejoice over me.

25 Let them not say in their heart,
<sup>10</sup> Aha, so would we have it:
Let them not say, We have swallowed him up.

26 Let them be ashamed and confounded together that rejoice at mine hurt:

Let them be clothed with shame and dishonour that magnify themselves against me.

27 Let them shout for joy, and be glad, that <sup>11</sup> favour my righteous cause:
Yea, let them say continually, The LORD be magnified,
Which hath pleasure in the prosperity of his servant.

28 And my tongue shall talk of thy righteousness,
And of thy praise all the day long.

36 For the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David the servant of the LORD.

1 <sup>12</sup> The transgression of the wicked <sup>13</sup> saith within <sup>14</sup> my heart,
There is no fear of God before his eyes.

2 For <sup>15</sup> he flattereth himself in his own eyes, <sup>16</sup> That his iniquity shall not be found out and be hated.

3 The words of his mouth are iniquity and deceit:
He hath left off to be wise and to do good.

4 He deviseth iniquity upon his bed;
He setteth himself in a way that is not good;
He abhorreth not evil.

5 Thy lovingkindness, O LORD, is in the heavens;
Thy faithfulness reacheth unto the skies.

6 Thy righteousness is like the mountains of God;

Thy judgements are a great deep:
O LORD, thou preservest man and beast.

7 How precious is thy lovingkindness, O God!
And the children of men take refuge under the shadow of thy wings.

8 They shall be <sup>17</sup> abundantly satisfied with the fatness of thy house;
And thou shalt make them drink of the river of thy pleasures.

9 For with thee is the fountain of life:
In thy light shall we see light.

10 O continue thy lovingkindness unto them that know thee;
And thy righteousness to the upright in heart.

11 Let not the foot of pride come against me,
And let not the hand of the wicked drive me away.

12 There are the workers of iniquity fallen:
They are thrust down, and shall not be able to rise.

37 A Psalm of David.

1 Fret not thyself because of evil-doers,
Neither be thou envious against them that work unrighteousness.

2 For they shall soon be cut down like the grass,
And wither as the green herb.

3 Trust in the LORD, and do good;
<sup>18</sup> Dwell in the land, and <sup>19</sup> follow after faithfulness.

And he shall give thee the <sup>1</sup>desires

2 Commit thy way unto the LORD; Trust also in him, and he shall bring it to pass.

3 And he shall make thy righteousness to go forth as the light,
And thy judgement as the noonday.

4 Rest in the LORD, and wait patiently for him:

Fret not thyself because of him who prospereth in his way.
Because of the man who bringeth wicked devices to pass.

5 Cease from anger, and forsake wrath:

Fret not thyself, it lendeth only to evil-doing.

6 For evil-doers shall be cut off:
But those that wait upon the LORD,
they shall inherit <sup>4</sup>the land.

7 For yet a little while, and the wicked shall not be:

Yea, thou shalt diligently consider his place, and <sup>5</sup>he shall not be.

8 But the meek shall inherit the land:

And shall delight themselves in the abundance of peace.

9 The wicked plotteth against the just,

And gnasheth upon him with his teeth.

10 The LORD shall laugh at him:
For he seeth that his day is coming.

11 The wicked have drawn out the sword, and have bent their bow;

To cast down the poor and needy.
To slay such as be upright in the way:

12 Their sword shall enter into their own heart,

And their bows shall be broken.

13 Better is a little that the righteous hath

Than the abundance of many wicked.

14 For the arms of the wicked shall be broken:

But the LORD upholdeth the righteous.

15 The LORD knoweth the days of the perfect:

And their inheritance shall be for ever.

16 They shall not be ashamed in the time of evil:

And in the days of famine they shall be satisfied.

17 But the wicked shall perish,
And the enemies of the LORD shall be as <sup>6</sup>the excellency of the pastures:

They shall consume; <sup>7</sup>in smoke shall they consume away.

18 The wicked borroweth, and payeth not again:

But the righteous dealeth graciously, and giveth.

19 For such as be blessed of him shall inherit the land;

And they that be cursed of him shall be cut off.

20 A man's goings are established of
the LORD;

And he delighteth in his way.

21 Though he fall, he shall not be utterly cast down:

For the LORD <sup>8</sup>upholdeth him with his hand.

22 I have been young, and now am old:
Yet have I not seen the righteous forsaken,

Nor his seed begging their bread.

23 All the day long he dealeth graciously, and lendeth;

And his seed is blessed.

24 Depart from evil, and do good;
And dwell for evermore.

25 For the LORD loveth judgement,
And forsaketh not his saints;

They are preserved for ever:
But the seed of the wicked shall be cut off.

26 The righteous shall inherit the land,
And dwell therein for ever.

27 The mouth of the righteous talketh of wisdom,

And his tongue speaketh judgement.

28 The law of his God is in his heart;
None of his steps shall slide.

29 The wicked watcheth the righteous,
And seeketh to slay him.

30 The LORD will not leave him in his hand,

Nor condemn him when he is judged.

31 Wait on the LORD, and keep his way.

And he shall exalt thee to inherit
the land:

When the wicked are cut off, thou shalt see it.

32 I have seen the wicked in great power,

And spreading himself like a green tree in its native soil.

33 <sup>9</sup>But <sup>10</sup>one passed by, and, lo, he was not:

Yea, I sought him, but he could not be found.

34 Mark the perfect man, and behold
the upright:

For <sup>11</sup>the latter end of that man is peace.

35 As for transgressors, they shall be destroyed together:

The latter end of the wicked shall be cut off.

36 But the salvation of the righteous is of the LORD:

He is their strong hold in the time of trouble.

37 And the LORD helpeth them, and rescueth them:

He rescueth them from the wicked,
and saveth them.

Because they have taken refuge in
him.

38 A Psalm of David, <sup>12</sup>to bring to remembrance.

1 O LORD, rebuke me not in thy wrath:

Neither chasten me in thy hot displeasure.

2 For thine arrows <sup>13</sup>stick fast in me,
And thy hand <sup>14</sup>presseth me sore.

I will be sorry for my sin.

A Psalm of David.

- 1 I said, I will take heed to my ways,
That I sin not with my tongue;
I will keep <sup>4</sup>my mouth with a bridle,
While the wicked is before me.
2 I was dumb with silence, I held my peace, <sup>5</sup>even from good;
And my sorrow was stirred.
3 My heart was hot within me;
While I was musing the fire kindled:
Then spake I with my tongue:

- 4 LORD, make me to know mine end,
And the measure of my days, what it is;
Let me know how frail I am.
5 Behold, thou hast made my days as handbreadths;
And mine age is as nothing before thee:
Surely every man <sup>6</sup>at his best estate is altogether <sup>7</sup>vanity. [Selah]
6 Surely every man walketh <sup>8</sup>in a vain shew:
Surely they are disquieted <sup>9</sup>in vain:
He heapeth up riches, and knoweth not who shall gather them.
7 And now, Lord, what wait I for?
My hope is in thee.
8 Deliver me from all my transgressions:
Make me not the reproach of the foolish.
9 I was dumb, I opened not my mouth;
Because thou didst it.
10 Remove thy stroke away from me:
I am consumed by the <sup>10</sup>blow of thine hand.
11 When thou with rebukes dost correct man for iniquity,
Thou <sup>11</sup>makest his beauty to consume away like a moth:
Surely every man is <sup>7</sup>vanity. [Selah]
12 Hear my prayer, O LORD, and give ear unto my cry;
Hold not thy peace at my tears:
For I am a stranger with thee.

40 For the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David.

- 1 I waited patiently for the LORD;
And he inclined unto me, and heard my cry.
2 He brought me up also out of <sup>14</sup>an horrible pit, out of the miry clay;
And he set my feet upon a rock, and established my goings.
3 And he hath put a new song in my mouth, even praise unto our God:
Many shall see it, and fear,
And shall trust in the LORD.
4 Blessed is the man that maketh the LORD his trust,
And respecteth not the proud, nor such as <sup>15</sup>turn aside to lies.
5 Many, O LORD my God, are the wonderful works which thou hast done.
And thy thoughts which are to us-ward:
<sup>16</sup>They cannot be set in order unto thee;
If I would declare and speak of them,
They are more than can be numbered.
6 Sacrifice and <sup>17</sup>offering thou hast no delight in; upon.
<sup>18</sup>Mine ears hast thou opened:

In the roll of the book it is <sup>1</sup> written of me:

8 I delight to do thy will, O my God:

Yea, thy law is within my heart.

9 I have <sup>2</sup> published righteousness in the great congregation.

Lo, I will not refrain my lips,

O LORD, thou knowest.

10 I have not hid thy righteousness within my heart:

I have declared thy faithfulness and thy salvation:

I have not concealed thy loving-kindness and thy truth from the great congregation.

11 Withhold not thou thy tender mercies from me, O LORD:

Let thy lovingkindness and thy truth continually preserve me.

12 For innumerable evils have compassed me about,

Mine iniquities have overtaken me,

so that I am not able to look up:

They are more than the hairs of mine head, and my heart hath <sup>3</sup> failed me.

13 Be pleased, O LORD, to deliver me:

Make haste to help me, O LORD.

14 Let them be ashamed and confounded together

That seek after my soul to destroy it:

Let them be turned backward and brought to dishonour

That delight in my hurt.

15 Let them be <sup>4</sup> desolate <sup>5</sup> by reason of their shame

That say unto me, Aha, Aha.

16 Let all those that seek thee rejoice and be glad in thee:

Let such as love thy salvation say continually,

The LORD be magnified.

17 But I am poor and needy:

Yet the LORD hath upheld me:

Thou art my help and my deliverer:

Make no tarrying, O my God.

41 For the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David.

1 Blessed is he that considereth <sup>6</sup> the poor.

The LORD will deliver him in the day of evil.

2 The LORD will preserve him, and keep him alive, and he shall be blessed upon the earth:

And deliver not thou him unto the will of his enemies.

3 The LORD will support him upon the couch of languishing:

Thou <sup>10</sup> makest all his bed in his sickness.

4 I said, O LORD, have mercy upon me:

Heal my soul; for I have sinned against thee.

5 Mine enemies speak evil against me, saying,

When shall he die, and his name perish?

6 And if he come to see me, he speaketh <sup>11</sup> vanity:

His heart gathereth iniquity to itself:

When he goeth abroad, he telleth it.

7 All that hate me whisper together against me:

Against me do they devise my hurt.

8 <sup>12</sup> An evil disease, say they, <sup>13</sup> cleaveth fast unto him:

And now that he lieth he shall rise up no more.

9 Yea, mine own familiar friend, in whom I trusted, which did eat of my bread,

Hath lifted up his heel against me.

10 But thou, O LORD, have mercy upon me, and raise me up,

That I may requite them.

11 By this I know that thou delightest in me,

Because mine enemy doth not triumph over me.

12 And as for me, thou upholdest me in mine integrity,

And settest me before thy face for ever.

BOOK II.

42 For the Chief Musician. Maschil of the sons of Korah.

1 As the hart panteth after the water brooks,

So panteth my soul after thee O God.

2 My soul thirsteth for God, for the living God.

When shall I come and appear before God?

3 My tears have been my meat day and night.

While they continually say unto me,

Where is thy God?

4 These things I remember, and pour out my soul <sup>2</sup> within me,

How I went with the throng, and led them to the house of God.

With the voice of joy and praise, a multitude keeping holiday.

5 Why art thou cast down, O my soul?

And why art thou disquieted within me?

Hope thou in God: for I shall yet praise him.

For the health of his countenance.

6 O my God, my soul is cast down within me.

Therefore do I remember thee from the land of Jordan.

And the Hermons, from the hill Mizar.

According to some ancient authorities, Who is the health of my countenance, and my God. My soul &c.

6 Or, help

7 Or, the little women-tain

1 Or, cataracts

7 Deep calletth unto deep at the noise of thy <sup>1</sup> waterspouts:
All thy waves and thy billows are gone over me.

8 Yef the LORD will command his lovingkindness in the day-time,
And in the night his song shall be
with me,

Even a prayer unto the God of my life.

9 I will say unto God my rock, Why hast thou forgotten me?

Why go I mourning <sup>2</sup> because of the oppression of the enemy?

10 As with <sup>3</sup> a sword in my bones, mine adversaries reproach me;

While they continually say unto me,
Where is thy God?

11 Why art thou cast down, O my
soul?

And why art thou disquieted within me?

Hope thou in God: for I shall yet
praise him.

Who is the <sup>4</sup> health of my countenance, and my God.

43 Judge me, O God, and plead my cause against an ungodly nation:

O deliver me from the deceitful and unjust man.

2 For thou art the God of my strength; why hast thou cast me off?

Why go I mourning <sup>2</sup> because of the oppression of the enemy?

3 O send out thy light and thy truth;
let them lead me:

Let them bring me unto thy holy hill,

And to thy tabernacles.

4 Then will I go unto the altar of God,

Unto God <sup>5</sup> my exceeding joy:

And upon the harp will I praise thee, O God, my God.

5 Why art thou cast down, O my
soul?

And why art thou disquieted within
me?

Hope thou in God: for I shall yet
praise him.

Who is the <sup>4</sup> health of my countenance, and my God.

44 For the Chief Musician; a Psalm of the sons of Korah. Maschil.

1 We have heard with our ears, O God,
our fathers have told us,

What work thou didst in their days,
in the days of old.

2 Thou didst drive out the nations with thy hand, and plantdest them in;

Thou didst afflict the peoples, and <sup>6</sup> didst spread them abroad.

3 For they gat not the land in possession by their own sword,

Neither did their own arm save
them:

But thy right hand, and thine arm, and the light of thy countenance,

Because thou hadst a favour unto
them.

4 Thou art my King, O God:

Command <sup>7</sup> deliverance for Jacob.

5 Through thee will we push down
our adversaries:

Through thy name will we tread them under that rise up against us.

6 For I will not trust in my bow,
Neither shall my sword save me.

7 But thou hast saved us from our adversaries.

And hast put them to shame that hate us.

8 In God have we made our boast all the day long.

And we will give thanks unto thy name for ever. [Selah]

9 But now thou hast cast us off, and brought us to dishonour;

And goest not forth with our hosts.

10 Thou makest us to turn back from the adversary:

And they which hate us spoil for themselves.

11 Thou hast given us like sheep appointed for meat;

And hast scattered us among the nations.

12 Thou sellest thy people for nought,
And hast not increased thy wealth
by their price.

13 Thou makest us a reproach to our neighbours.

A scorn and a derision to them that are round about us.

14 Thou makest us a byword among the nations,

A shaking of the head among the peoples.

15 All the day long is my dishonour before me.

And the shame of my face hath covered me.

16 For the voice of him that reproach-eth and blasphemeth;

By reason of the enemy and the avenger.

17 All this is come upon us; yet have we not forgotten thee.

Neither have we dealt falsely in thy covenant.

18 Our heart is not turned back, Neither have our steps declined from thy way;

19 <sup>8</sup> That thou hast sore broken us in the place of jackals,

And covered us with the shadow of death.

20 If we have forgotten the name of our God,

Or spread forth our hands to a strange god;

21 Shall not God search this out?
For he knoweth the secrets of the heart.

22 Yea, for thy sake are we killed all
the day long;

We are counted as sheep for the slaughter.

23 Awake, why sleepest thou, O Lord?
Arise, cast us not off for ever.

Our belly cleaveth unto the earth.
26 Rise up for our help.
And redeem us for thy lovingkindness's sake.

45 For the Chief Musician; set to Shoshannim; a Psalm of the sons of Korah. Maschil. A Song of loves.

- 1 My heart overfloweth with a goodly matter:

2 I speak the things which I have made touching the king:

My tongue is the pen of a ready writer.

- 2 Thou art fairer than the children of men;

Grace is poured into thy lips:
Therefore God hath blessed thee for ever.

- 3 Gird thy sword upon thy thigh. O mighty one,

Thy glory and thy majesty.

- 4 And in thy majesty ride on prosperously.

Because of truth and meekness and righteousness:
And thy right hand shall teach thee terrible things.

- 5 Thine arrows are sharp;

The peoples fall under thee;
They are in the heart of the king's enemies.

- 6 Thy throne, O God, is for ever and ever:

A sceptre of equity is the sceptre of thy kingdom.

- 7 Thou hast loved righteousness, and hated wickedness:

Therefore God, thy God, hath anointed thee

With the oil of gladness above thy fellows.

- 8 All thy garments smell of myrrh, and aloes, and cassia;

Out of ivory palaces stringed instruments have made thee glad.

- 9 Kings' daughters are among thy honourable women:

At thy right hand doth stand the queen in gold of Ophir.

- 10 Harken, O daughter, and consider, and incline thine ear;

Forget not, thine own people, and thy father's house;

- 11 So shall the king desire thy beauty:

For he is thy Lord; and worship thou him.

- 12 And the daughter of Tyre shall be there with a gift;

Even the rich among the people shall intreat thy favour.

- 13 The king's daughter within the palace is at all times

Her clothing is wrought with gold.

- 14 She shall be led unto the king in broadened work:

The virgin her companions that follow her

Shall be brought unto thee.

- 15 With gladness and rejoicing shall they be led:

They shall enter into the king's palace.

- 16 Instead of thy fathers shall be thy children,
Whom thou shalt make princes in all the earth.

- 17 I will make thy name to be remembered in all generations:
Therefore shall the peoples give thee thanks for ever and ever.

46 For the Chief Musician; a Psalm of the sons of Korah; set to Alamoth. A Song.

- 1 God is our refuge and strength,

A very present help in trouble.

- 2 Therefore will we not fear, though the earth do change,

And though the mountains be moved in the heart of the seas;

- 3 Though the waters thereof roar and be troubled,

Though the mountains shake with the swelling thereof. [Selah]

- 4 There is a river, the streams whereof make glad the city of God,

The holy place of the tabernacles of the Most High.

- 5 God is in the midst of her; she shall not be moved:

God shall help her, and that right early.

- 6 The nations raged, the kingdoms were moved:

He uttered his voice, the earth melted.

- 7 The LORD of hosts is with us;

The God of Jacob is our refuge. [Selah]

- 8 Come, behold the works of the LORD,

What desolations he hath made in the earth.

- 9 He maketh wars to cease unto the end of the earth;

He breaketh the bow, and cutteth the spear in sunder;

He burneth the chariots in the fire.

- 10 Be still, and know that I am God:

I will be exalted among the nations, I will be exalted in the earth.

- 11 The LORD of hosts is with us;

The God of Jacob is our refuge. [Selah]

- 47 For the Chief Musician; a Psalm of the sons of Korah.

- 1 O clap your hands, all ye peoples;

Shout unto God with the voice of triumph.

- 2 For the LORD Most High is terrible;

He is a great King over all the earth.

- 3 He shall subdue the peoples under us,

And the nations under our feet.

- 4 He shall choose our inheritance for us,

The excellency of Jacob whom he loved. [Selah]

The LORD with the sound of a trumpet.

8 God reigneth over the nations:

God sitteth upon his holy throne.

9 The princes of the peoples are gathered together

<sup>2</sup> To be the people of the God of Abraham:

For the shields of the earth belong unto God;

He is greatly exalted.

48 A Song; a Psalm of the sons of Korah.

1 Great is the LORD, and highly to be praised.

In the city of our God, in his holy mountain.

2 Beautiful in elevation, the joy of the whole earth.

Is mount Zion, on the sides of the north,

The city of the great King.

3 God hath made himself known in her palaces for a <sup>3</sup> refuge.

4 For, lo, the kings assembled themselves.

They <sup>4</sup> passed by together.

5 They saw it, then were they amazed: They were dismayed, they <sup>5</sup> hasted away.

6 Trembling took hold of them there; Pain, as of a woman in travail.

7 <sup>6</sup> With the east wind

Thou breakest the ships of Tarshish.

8 As we have heard, so have we seen In the city of the LORD of hosts, in the city of our God:

God will establish it for ever. [Selah]

9 We have thought on thy lovingkindness, O God,

In the midst of thy temple.

10 As is thy name, O God,

So is thy praise unto the ends of the earth:

Thy right hand is full of righteousness.

11 Let mount Zion be glad,

Let the daughters of Judah rejoice, Because of thy judgements.

12 Walk about Zion, and go round about her:

Tell the towers thereof.

13 Mark ye well her bulwarks,

<sup>7</sup> Consider her palaces:

That ye may tell it to the generation following.

14 For this God is our God for ever and ever:

He will be our guide even <sup>8</sup> unto death.

49 For the Chief Musician; a Psalm of the sons of Korah.

1 Hear this, all ye peoples; Give ear, all ye inhabitants of the world:

2 Both low and high,

Rich and poor together.

3 My mouth shall speak wisdom; And the meditation of my heart shall be of understanding.

4 I will incline mine ear to a parable:

I will open my dark saying upon the harp.

5 Wherefore should I fear in the days of evil,

When <sup>9</sup> iniquity at my heels compasseth me about?

6 They that trust in their wealth, And boast themselves in the multitude of their riches;

7 None of them can by any means redeem his brother,

Nor give to God a ransom for him:

8 (For the redemption of their soul is costly,

And must be let alone for ever:)

9 That he should still live always. That he should not see <sup>10</sup> corruption.

10 <sup>11</sup> For he seeth that wise men die, The fool and the brutish together perish.

And leave their wealth to others.

11 <sup>12</sup> Their inward thought is, that their houses shall continue for ever.

And their dwelling places to all generations;

They call their lands after their own names.

12 But <sup>13</sup> man abideth not in honour: He is like the beasts that perish.

13 <sup>14</sup> This their way is <sup>15</sup> their folly: Yet after them men approve their sayings. [Selah]

14 They are appointed as a flock for Sheol;

Death shall be their shepherd: And the upright shall have dominion over them in the morning;

And their <sup>16</sup> beauty shall be for Sheol to consume, that there be no habitation for it.

15 But God will redeem my soul from the <sup>17</sup> power of Sheol:

For he shall receive me. [Selah]

16 Be not thou afraid when one is made rich,

When the <sup>18</sup> glory of his house is increased:

17 For when he dieth he shall carry nothing away;

His glory shall not descend after him.

18 Though while he lived he blessed his soul,

And men praise thee, when thou doest well to thyself.

19 <sup>19</sup> He shall go to the generation of his fathers;

20 Man that is in honour, and understandeth not,

Is like the beasts that perish.

50 A Psalm of Asaph.

And to the earth, that he may judge
his people:

5 Gather my saints together unto me;
Those that have made a covenant with me by sacrifice.

6 And the heavens <sup>2</sup> shall declare his righteousness;
For God is judge himself. [Selah

7 Hear, O my people, and I will speak;
O Israel, and I will testify <sup>3</sup> unto thee:

And pay thy vows unto the Most

What hast thou to do to declare

And that thou hast taken my covenant in thy mouth?

And castest my words behind thee.

18 When thou sawest a thief, thou consentedst with him.

And <sup>8</sup> hast been partaker with adulterers.

19 Thou givest thy mouth to evil,
And thy tongue frameth deceit.

20 Thou sittest and speakest against thy brother;

Thou <sup>9</sup> slanderest thine own mother's son.

21 These things hast thou done, and I kept silence;

Thou thoughtest that I was altogether such an one as thyself:

But I will reprove thee, and set them
in order before thine eyes.

22 Now consider this, ye that forget God, Lest I tear you in pieces, and there be none to deliver:

23 Whoso offereth the sacrifice of thanksgiving glorifieth me;

<sup>10</sup> And to him that ordereth his <sup>11</sup> conversation aright

Will I shew the salvation of God.

51 For the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David: when Nathan the prophet came unto him, after he had gone in to Bath-sheba.

1 Have mercy upon me, O God, according to thy lovingkindness:
According to the multitude of thy tender mercies blot out my transgressions.

2 Wash me thoroughly from mine iniquity,

And cleanse me from my sin.

3 For I <sup>12</sup> acknowledge my transgressions:

And my sin is ever before me.

4 Against thee, thee only, have I sinned,

And done that which is evil in thy sight:

That thou mayest be justified when thou speakest,

And be clear when thou judgest.

5 Behold, I was shapen in iniquity;
And in sin did my mother conceive
me.

6 Behold, thou desirest truth in the inward parts:

And in the hidden part thou shalt make me to know wisdom.

7 Purge me with hyssop, and I shall be clean:

Wash me, and I shall be whiter than snow.

8 Make me to hear joy and gladness;
That the bones which thou hast broken may rejoice.

9 Hide thy face from my sins,
And blot out all mine iniquities.

10 Create <sup>13</sup> in me a clean heart, O God;
And renew a <sup>14</sup> right spirit within
me.

11 Cast me not away from thy presence;

And take not thy holy spirit from
me.

12 Restore unto me the joy of thy salvation:

And uphold me with a <sup>15</sup> free spirit.

13 Then will I teach transgressors thy ways;

And sinners shall <sup>16</sup> be converted
unto thee.

14 Deliver me from bloodguiltiness, O
God, thou God of my salvation;

And my tongue shall sing aloud of thy righteousness.

15 O Lord, open thou my lips:

And my mouth shall shew forth thy praise.

16 For thou delightest not in sacrifice;
<sup>17</sup> else would I give it:

Thou hast no pleasure in burnt offering.

17 The sacrifices of God are a broken spirit:

A broken and a contrite heart, O
God, thou wilt not despise.

18 Do good in thy good pleasure unto Zion:

Build thou the walls of Jerusalem.

19 Then shalt thou delight in the sac-

Then shall they offer bullocks upon

52 For the Chief Musician. Maschil of David: when Doeg the Edomite came and told Saul, and said unto him, David is come to the house of Ahimelech.

1 Why boastest thou thyself in mischief, O mighty man?

The mercy of God endureth continually.

2 Thy tongue deviseth very wickedness;

Like a sharp razor, working deceitfully.

3 Thou lovest evil more than good: And lying rather than to speak righteousness. [Selah]

4 Thou lovest all devouring words, I O thou deceitful tongue.

5 God shall likewise <sup>2</sup> destroy thee for ever,

He shall take thee up, and pluck thee out of thy tent,

And root thee out of the land of the living. [Selah]

6 The righteous also shall see it, and fear.

And shall laugh at him, saying.

7 Lo, this is the man that made not God his <sup>3</sup> strength;

But trusted in the abundance of his riches,

And strengthened himself in his wickedness.

8 But as for me, I am like a green olive tree in the house of God:

I trust in the mercy of God for ever and ever.

9 I will give thee thanks for ever, because thou hast done it:

And I will wait on thy name, for it is good, in the presence of thy saints.

53 For the Chief Musician; set to Mahalath. Maschil of David.

1 <sup>4</sup> The fool hath said in his heart, There is no God.

Corrupt are they, and have done abominable iniquity;

There is none that doeth good.

2 God looked down from heaven upon the children of men,

To see if there were any that did <sup>5</sup> understand,

That did seek after God.

3 Every one of them is gone back; they are together become filthy;

There is none that doeth good, no, not one.

4 Have the workers of iniquity no knowledge?

Who eat up my people as they eat bread.

And call not upon God.

5 There were they in great fear, where no fear was:

For God hath scattered the bones of him that encampeth against thee;

Thou hast put them to shame, because God hath rejected them.

6 Oh that the salvation of Israel were come out of Zion!

When God <sup>6</sup> bringeth back the captivity of his people,

Then shall Jacob rejoice, and Israel shall be glad.

54 For the Chief Musician; on stringed instruments. Maschil of David: when the Ziphites came and said to Saul, Doth not David hide himself with us?

1 Save me, O God, by thy name, And judge me in thy might.

2 Hear my prayer, O God;

Give ear to the words of my mouth.

3 For <sup>7</sup> strangers are risen up against me,

And violent men have sought after my soul:

They have not set God before them. [Selah]

4 Behold, God is mine helper:

The Lord is <sup>8</sup> of them that uphold my soul.

5 <sup>9</sup> He shall requite the evil unto <sup>10</sup> mine enemies:

Destroy thou them in thy truth.

6 With a freewill offering will I sacrifice unto thee:

I will give thanks unto thy name, O Lord, for it is good.

7 For he hath delivered me out of all trouble;

And mine eye hath seen my desire upon mine enemies.

55 For the Chief Musician; on stringed instruments. Maschil of David.

1 Give ear to my prayer, O God;

And hide not thyself from my supplication.

2 Attend unto me, and answer me: I am restless in my complaint, and moan;

3 Because of the voice of the enemy, Because of the oppression of the wicked;

For they cast iniquity upon me, And in anger they persecute me.

4 My heart is sore pained within me: And the terrors of death are fallen upon me.

5 Fearfulness and trembling are come upon me,

And horror hath overwhelmed me.

6 And I said, Oh that I had wings like a dove!

Then would I fly away, and be at rest.

7 Lo, then would I wander far off, I would lodge in the wilderness. [Selah]

8 I would <sup>11</sup> haste me to a shelter From the stormy wind and tempest.

9 <sup>12</sup> Destroy, O Lord, and divide their tongue:

For I have seen violence and strife in the city.

10 Day and night they go about it upon the walls thereof:

Iniquity also and mischief are in the midst of it.

11 Wickedness is in the midst thereof:

12 For it was not an enemy that reproached me;

Then I could have borne it: Neither was it he that hated me that did magnify himself against me;

Then I would have hid myself from him:

My companion, and my familiar friend.

14 We took sweet counsel together,
We walked in the house of God with the throng.

15 <sup>1</sup> Let death come suddenly upon
them,
Let them go down alive into <sup>2</sup> the pit:
For wickedness is in their dwelling,
in <sup>3</sup> the midst of them.

16 As for me, I will call upon God;
And the LORD shall save me.

17 Evening, and morning, and at noonday, will I complain, and moan:
And he shall hear my voice.

18 He hath redeemed my soul in peace from the battle that was against
me:

For they were many that strove
with me.

19 God shall hear, and <sup>5</sup> answer them.
Even he that abideth of old. [Selah]
The men who have no changes,
And who fear not God.

20 He hath put forth his hands against such as were at peace with him:
He hath profaned his covenant.

21 His mouth was smooth as butter,
But his heart was war:
His words were softer than oil,
Yet were they drawn swords.

22 Cast <sup>6</sup> thy burden upon the LORD, and he shall sustain thee:
He shall never suffer the righteous to be moved.

23 But thou, O God, shalt bring them down into the pit of destruction:
Bloodthirsty and deceitful men shall not live out half their days:
But I will trust in thee.

58 For the Chief Musician; set to <sup>7</sup> Jonath elem rehokim. A Psalm of David: Michtam: when the Philistines took him in Gath.

1 Be merciful unto me, O God; for man would swallow me up:
All the day long he fighting oppress-eth me.

2 Mine enemies would swallow me up all the day long:
For they be many that fight proudly against me.

3 What time I am afraid,

I will put my trust in thee.

4 In God I will praise his word:

In God have I put my trust, I will not be afraid;

What can flesh do unto me?

5 All the day long they wrest my words:
All their thoughts are against me
for evil.

6 They gather themselves together,
they hide themselves,
They mark my steps.

<sup>8</sup> Even as they have waited for my soul.

7 <sup>10</sup> Shall they escape by iniquity?
In anger cast down the peoples, O
God.

8 Thou tellest my wanderings:
Put thou my tears into thy bottle;
Are they not in thy <sup>11</sup> book?

9 Then shall mine enemies turn back in the day that I call:

This I know, <sup>12</sup> that God is for
me.

10 In God will I praise his word:

In the LORD will I praise his word.

11 In God have I put my trust, I will not be afraid;

What can man do unto me?

12 Thy vows are upon me, O God:

I will render thank offerings unto
thee.

13 For thou hast delivered my soul from death:

Just thou not delivered my feet from falling?

That I may walk before God

In the light of <sup>13</sup> the living.

57 For the Chief Musician; set to Al-tashbeth. A Psalm of David: Michtam: when he fled from Saul, in the cave.

1 Be merciful unto me, O God, be merciful unto me.

For my soul taketh refuge in thee:

Yea, in the shadow of thy wings will
I take refuge.

Until these <sup>14</sup> calamities be overpast.

Unto God that performeth all things for me.

God shall send forth his mercy and his truth.

steps;

My soul is bowed down:
They have digged a pit before me;

They are fallen into the midst thereof themselves. [Selah]

is fixed:

I will sing, yea, I will sing praises.

8 Awake up, my glory; awake, psaltery and harp:

<sup>16</sup> I myself will awake right early.

9 I will give thanks unto thee, O Lord,

I will sing praises unto thee among

Do ye <sup>1</sup> judge uprightly, O ye sons of men?

2 Yea, in heart ye work wickedness: Ye weigh out the violence of your hands in the earth.

3 The wicked are estranged from the womb:

They go astray as soon as they be born, speaking lies.

4 Their poison is like the poison of a serpent:

They are like the deaf adder that stoppeth her ear;

5 Which hearkeneth not to the voice of <sup>2</sup> charmers, Charming never so wisely.

6 Break their teeth, O God, in their mouth:

Break out the great teeth of the young lions, O LORD.

7 Let them melt away as water that runneth apace:

When he almeth his arrows, let them be as though they were cut off.

8 Let them be as a snail which melteth and passeth away:

Like the untimely birth of a woman, <sup>3</sup> that hath not seen the sun.

9 Before your pots can feel the thorns.

<sup>4</sup> He shall take them away with a whirlwind, the green and the burning alike.

10 The righteous shall rejoice when he seeth the vengeance:

He shall wash his feet in the blood of the wicked.

Verily there is a God that judgeth in the earth.

59 For the Chief Musician: set to Al-tashbeth. A Psalm of David: Mich-tam: when Saul sent, and they watched the house to kill him.

1 Deliver me from mine enemies, O my God:

Set me on high from them that rise up against me.

2 Deliver me from the workers of iniquity.

And save me from the bloodthirsty men.

3 For, lo, they lie in wait for my soul: The mighty gather themselves to-gether against me:

Not for my transgression, nor for my sin, O LORD.

4 They run and prepare themselves without my fault:

Awake thou to <sup>6</sup> help me, and be-hold.

5 Even thou, O LORD God of hosts, the God of Israel.

Arise to visit all the <sup>7</sup> heathen: Be not merciful to any wicked trans-gressors. [Selah]

6 They return at evening, they make a noise like a dog.

And go round about the city.

7 Behold, they belch out with their mouth;

Swords are in their lips: For who, say they, doth hear?

8 But thou, O LORD, shalt laugh at them;

Thou shalt have all the <sup>7</sup> heathen in derision.

9 O my strength, I will wait upon thee:

For God is my high tower.

10 <sup>8</sup> The God of my mercy shall pre-vent me:

God shall let me see my desire upon <sup>10</sup> mine enemies.

11 Slay them not, lest my people forget:

<sup>11</sup> Scatter them by thy power, and bring them down,

O Lord our shield.

12 For the sin of their mouth, and the words of their lips,

Let them even be taken in their pride.

And for cursing and lying which they speak.

13 Consume them in wrath, consume them, that they be no more:

And let them know that God ruleth in Jacob,

Unto the ends of the earth. [Selah]

14 And at evening let them return, let them make a noise like a dog.

And go round about the city.

15 They shall wander up and down for meat,

And tarry all night if they be not satisfied.

16 But I will sing of thy strength: Yea, I will sing aloud of thy mercy in the morning:

For thou hast been my high tower, And a refuge in the day of my dis-tress.

17 Unto thee, O my strength, will I sing praises:

For God is my high tower, the God of my mercy.

60 For the Chief Musician: set to 12 Shu-shan Eduth: Mich-tam of David, to teach: when he strove with Ara-maharaim and with Ara-m-zobah, and Joab returned, and smote of Edom in the Valley of Salt twelve thousand.

1 O God, thou hast cast us off, thou hast broken us down;

Thou hast been angry; O restore us again.

2 Thou hast made the land to trem-ble; thou hast rent it:

Heal the breaches thereof; for it shaketh.

3 Thou hast shewed thy people hard things:

Thou hast made us to drink the wine of staggering.

4 Thou hast given a banner to them that fear thee.

<sup>13</sup> That it may be displayed because of the truth. [Selah]

5 That thy beloved may be delivered. Save with thy right hand, and an-swer <sup>14</sup> us.

6 God hath spoken in his holiness; I will exult:

I will divide Shechem, and mete out the valley of Succoth.

7 Gilead is mine, and Manasseh is mine:

Ephraim also is the defence of mine head:

Judah is my <sup>1</sup>sceptre.

8 Moab is my washpot:

Upon Edom will I cast my shoe:

Philistia, shout thou because of me.

9 Who will bring me into the strong city?

Who hath led me unto Edom?

10 Hast not thou, O God, cast us off?

And thou goest not forth, O God,

with our hosts.

11 Give us help against the adversary:

For vain is the <sup>2</sup>help of man.

12 Through God we shall do valiantly:

For he it is that shall tread down our adversaries.

61 For the Chief Musician; on a stringed instrument. A Psalm of David.

1 Hear my cry, O God;

Attend unto my prayer.

2 From the end of the earth will I call unto thee, when my heart is overwhelmed:

3 Lead me to <sup>3</sup>the rock that is higher than I.

4 For thou hast been a refuge for me,

A strong tower from the enemy.

5 I will dwell in thy <sup>4</sup>tabernacle for ever:

6 I will take refuge in the covert of thy wings. [Selah]

7 For thou, O God, hast heard my vows:

8 Thou hast <sup>5</sup>given me the heritage of those that fear thy name.

9 Thou wilt prolong the king's life:

His years shall be as many generations.

10 He shall abide before God for ever:

O prepare lovingkindness and truth,

that they may preserve him.

11 So will I sing praise unto thy name

for ever,

That I may daily perform my vows.

62 For the Chief Musician; after the manner of Jeduthun. A Psalm of David.

1 My soul <sup>6</sup>waiteth only upon God:

From him cometh my salvation.

2 He only is my rock and my salvation.

3 He is my high tower; I shall not be greatly moved.

4 How long will ye set upon a man.

That ye may slay him, all of you.

5 Like a bowing wall, like a tottering fence?

6 They only consult to thrust him down from his excellency;

They delight in lies.

7 They bless with their mouth, but they curse inwardly. [Selah]

8 My soul, <sup>7</sup>wait thou only upon God.

For my expectation is from him.

9 He only is my rock and my salvation:

10 He is my high tower; I shall not be moved.

11 With God is my salvation and my glory:

The rock of my strength, and my refuge, is in God.

12 Trust in him at all times, ye people;

Pour out your heart before him:

God is a refuge for us. [Selah]

13 Surely men of low degree are <sup>8</sup>vanity, and men of high degree are a lie:

In the balances they will go up;

They are together lighter than <sup>9</sup>vanity.

14 Trust not in oppression,

And become not vain in robbery:

If riches increase, set not your heart thereon.

15 God hath spoken once,

Twice have I heard this:

That power belongeth unto God:

16 Also unto thee, O Lord, belongeth

mercy:

For thou renderest to every man

according to his work.

63 A Psalm of David, when he was in the wilderness of Judah.

1 O God, thou art my God; <sup>10</sup>earnily

I will seek thee;

My soul thirsteth for thee, my flesh

longeth for thee,

In a dry and weary land, where no water is.

2 So have I looked upon thee in the sanctuary,

To see thy power and thy glory.

3 For thy lovingkindness is better than life:

My lips shall praise thee.

4 So will I bless thee while I live:

I will lift up my hands in thy name.

5 My soul shall be satisfied as with

<sup>11</sup>marrow and fatness:

And my mouth shall praise thee

with joyful lips:

6 When I remember thee upon my bed,

<sup>12</sup>And meditate on thee in the night watches.

7 For thou hast been my help,

And in the shadow of thy wings

will I rejoice.

8 My soul followeth hard after thee:

Thy right hand upholdeth me.

9 But those that seek my soul, <sup>13</sup>to destroy it,

Shall go into the lower parts of the earth.

10 They shall be <sup>14</sup>given over to the power of the sword:

They shall be a portion for <sup>15</sup>foxes.

11 But the king shall rejoice in God:

Every one that sweareth by him shall glory;

For the mouth of them that speak lies shall be stopped.

64 For the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David.

They commune of laying snares privily;
They say, Who shall see them?
6 They search out iniquities; <sup>1</sup> We have accomplished, say they, a diligent search:
And the inward thought of every one, and the heart, is deep.
7 But God shall shoot at them;

All that see them shall <sup>3</sup> wag the head.

And they shall declare the work of God,
And shall wisely consider of his doing.
10 The righteous shall be glad in the Lord, and shall trust in him;
And all the upright in heart shall glory.

65 For the Chief Musician. A Psalm.
A Song of David.

- 1 <sup>4</sup> Praise waltheth for thee, O God, in Zion:
And unto thee shall the vow be performed.
2 O thou that hearest prayer,
Unto thee shall all flesh come.
3 <sup>5</sup> Iniquities prevail against me:
As for our transgressions, thou shalt purge them away.
4 Blessed is the man whom thou choosest, and causest to approach unto thee,
That he may dwell in thy courts:
We shall be satisfied with the goodness of thy house,
The holy place of thy temple.
5 By terrible things thou wilt answer us in righteousness,
O God of our salvation:
Thou that art the confidence of all the ends of the earth.
6 And of them that are afar off upon the sea:
7 Which by his strength setteth fast the mountains;
Being girded about with might:
8 Which stilleth the roaring of the seas, the roaring of their waves, and the tumult of the peoples.
9 They also that dwell in the uttermost parts are afraid at thy tokens:
Thou makest the outgoings of the morning and evening to rejoice.
10 Thou visitest the earth, and waterest it,
Thou greatly enrichest it;

The river of God is full of water:
Thou providest them corn, <sup>7</sup> when thou hast so prepared <sup>8</sup> the earth.
10 Thou waterest her furrows abundantly;
Thou <sup>9</sup> settlest the ridges thereof:
Thou makest it soft with showers;
Thou blessest the springing thereof.
11 Thou crownest <sup>10</sup> the year with thy goodness;
And thy paths drop fatness.
12 <sup>11</sup> They drop upon the pastures of the wilderness:
And the hills are girded with joy.
13 The pastures are clothed with flocks;
The valleys also are covered over with corn;
They shout for joy, they also sing.

66 For the Chief Musician. A Song,
a Psalm.

- 1 Make a joyful noise unto God, all the earth:
2 Sing forth the glory of his name:
Make his praise glorious.
3 Say unto God, How terrible are thy works!
Through the greatness of thy power shall thine enemies <sup>12</sup> submit themselves unto thee.
4 All the earth shall worship thee,
And shall sing unto thee:
They shall sing to thy name. (Selah)
5 Come, and see the works of God:
He is terrible in his doing toward the children of men.
6 He turned the sea into dry land:
They went through the river on foot;
There <sup>13</sup> did we rejoice in him.
7 He ruleth by his might for ever;
His eyes observe the nations:
Let not the rebellious exalt themselves. (Selah)
8 O bless our God, ye peoples,
And make the voice of his praise to be heard:
9 Which <sup>14</sup> holdeth our soul in life,
And suffereth not our feet to be moved.
10 For thou, O God, hast proved us:
Thou hast tried us, as silver is tried.
11 Thou broughtest us into the net:
Thou laydest a sore burden upon our loins.
12 Thou hast caused men to ride over our heads;
We went through fire and through water;
But thou broughtest us out into <sup>15</sup> a wealthy place.
13 I will come into thy house with burnt offerings,
I will pay thee my vows,
14 Which my lips have uttered,
And my mouth hath spoken, when I was in distress.
15 I will offer unto thee burnt offerings of fatlings,

I will offer bullocks with goats. (Selah)

67 For the Chief Musician; on stringed instruments. A Psalm, a Song.

1 God be merciful unto us, and bless us,

And cause his face to shine upon us; [Selah]

2 That thy way may be known upon earth, Thy saving health among all nations.

3 Let the peoples<sup>5</sup> praise thee, O God;

Let all the peoples praise thee.

4 O let the nations be glad and sing for joy: For thou shalt judge the peoples with equity,

And govern the nations upon earth. [Selah]

5 Let the peoples praise thee, O God;

Let all the peoples praise thee.

6 The earth hath yielded her increase: God, even our own God, shall bless us.

7 God shall bless us; And all the ends of the earth shall fear him.

68 For the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David, a Song.

1 Let God arise, let his enemies be scattered;

Let them also that hate him flee before him.

2 As smoke is driven away, so drive them away:

As wax melteth before the fire, So let the wicked perish at the presence of God.

3 But let the righteous be glad; let them exult before God:

Yea, let them rejoice with gladness.

4 Sing unto God, sing praises to his name:

Cast up a high way for him that rideth through the deserts;

His name is JAH; and exult ye before him.

5 A father of the fatherless, and a Judge of the widows,

Is God in his holy habitation.

6 God setteth the solitary in families:

He bringeth out the prisoners into prosperity:

But the rebellious dwell in a parched land.

7 O God, when thou wentest forth before thy people,

When thou didst march through the wilderness; [Selah]

8 The earth trembled,

The heavens also dropped at the presence of God:

Even yon Sinai trembled at the presence of God, the God of Israel.

9 Thou, O God, didst send a plentiful rain,

Thou didst confirm thine inheritance, when it was weary.

10 Thy congregation dwelt therein: Thou, O God, didst prepare of thy goodness for the poor.

11 The Lord giveth the word: The women that publish the tidings are a great host.

12 Kings of armies flee, they flee: And she that tarrieth at home divideth the spoil.

It was as when it snoweth in Zalmon.

An high mountain is the mountain of Bashan.

At the mountain which God hath desired for his abode?

Yea, the Lord will dwell in it for ever.

17 The chariots of God are twenty thousand, even thousands upon thousands:

The Lord is among them, as in Sinai, in the sanctuary.

Even the God who is our salvation. [Selah]

21 But God shall smite through the head of his enemies,

The hairy scalp of such an one as goeth on still in his guiltiness.

I will bring them again from the depths of the sea:

Blessed be God.

69 For the Chief Musician; set to 8 Shoshanaim. A Psalm of David.

1 Save me, O God;
For the waters are come in unto my
soul.

2 I sink in deep mire, where there is no standing;

I am come into deep waters, where the floods overflow me.

3 I am weary with my crying; my throat is dried:

Mine eyes fall while I wait for my God.

4 They that hate me without a cause are more than the hairs of mine
head:

They that would cut me off, being mine enemies wrongfully, are mighty:

Then I restored that which I took not away.

5 O God, thou knowest my foolishness;

And my sins are not hid from thee.

6 Let not them that wait on thee be ashamed through me, O Lord God
of hosts:

Let not those that seek thee be brought to dishonour through me,
O God of Israel.

7 Because for thy sake I have borne reproach;

Shame hath covered my face.

8 I am become a stranger unto my brethren,

And an alien unto my mother's children.

9 For the zeal of thine house hath eaten me up;

And the reproaches of them that reproach thee are fallen upon me.

10 When I wept, and chastened my soul with fasting,

That was to my reproach.

11 When I made sackcloth my clothing,

I became a proverb unto them.

12 They that sit in the gate talk of me:
And I am the song of the drunkards.

13 But as for me, my prayer is unto thee, O LORD, in an acceptable time:

O God, in the multitude of thy
mercy,

Answer me in the truth of thy salvation.

14 Deliver me out of the mire, and let me not sink:

Let me be delivered from them that hate me, and out of the deep waters.

15 Let not the waterflood overwhelm
me,

Neither let the deep swallow me up;

And let not the pit shut her mouth
upon me.

16 Answer me, O LORD; for thy loving-kindness is good:

According to the multitude of thy tender mercies turn thou unto me.

17 And hide not thy face from thy servant;

For I am in distress; answer me
speedily.

18 Draw nigh unto my soul, and redeem it:

Ransom me because of mine enemies.

19 Thou knowest my reproach, and my shame, and my dishonour:

Mine adversaries are all before thee.

20 Reproach hath broken my heart;
and I am full of heaviness;

And I looked for some to take pity,
but there was none;

And for comforters, but I found none.

21 They gave me also gall for my meat;

And in my thirst they gave me vinegar to drink.

22 Let their table before them become a snare;

And when they are in peace, let it become a trap.

23 Let their eyes be darkened, that they see not;

And make their loins continually to shake.

24 Pour out thine indignation upon
them,

And let the fierceness of thine anger overtake them.

25 Let their habitation be desolate;
Let none dwell in their tents.

26 For they persecute him whom thou hast smitten;

And they tell of the sorrow of those whom thou hast wounded.

7 According to some ancient versions, a strong rock, or a strong man.

- 27 Add iniquity unto their iniquity:
And let them not come into thy righteousness.
- 28 Let them be blotted out of the book of life,
And not be written with the righteous.
- 29 But I am poor and sorrowful:
Let thy salvation, O God, set me up on high.
- 30 I will praise the name of God with a song,
And will magnify him with thanksgiving.
- 31 And it shall please the LORD better than an ox,
Or a bullock that hath horns and hoofs.
- 32 The meek have seen it, and are glad:
Ye that seek after God, let your heart live.
- 33 For the LORD heareth the needy,
And despoiseth not his prisoners.
- 34 Let heaven and earth praise him,
The seas, and every thing that moveth therein.
- 35 For God will save Zion, and build the cities of Judah:
And they shall abide there, and have it in possession.
- 36 The seed also of his servants shall inherit it,
And they that love his name shall dwell therein.

70 For the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David; 3 to bring to remembrance.

- 1 Make haste, O God, to deliver me:
Make haste to help me, O Lord.
- 2 Let them be ashamed and confounded
That seek after my soul:
Let them be turned backward and brought to dishonour
That delight in my hurt.
- 3 Let them be turned back by reason of their shame
That say, Aha, Aha.
- 4 Let all those that seek thee rejoice and be glad in thee;
And let such as love thy salvation say continually,
Let God be magnified.
- 5 But I am poor and needy:
Make haste unto me, O God:
Thou art my help and my deliverer:
O Lord, make no tarrying.

- 71 In thee, O LORD, do I put my trust:
Let me never be ashamed.
- 2 Deliver me in thy righteousness,
and rescue me:
Bow down thine ear unto me, and save me.
- 3 Be thou to me a rock of habitation,
whereunto I may continually resort.
Thou hast given commandment to save me,
For thou art my rock and my fortress.
- 4 Rescue me, O my God, out of the hand of the wicked,
Out of the hand of the unrighteous and cruel man.

- 5 For thou art my hope, O Lord God:
Thou art my trust from my youth.
- 6 By thee have I been holden up from the womb:
Thou art he that took me out of my mother's bowels:
My praise shall be continually of thee.
- 7 I am as a wonder unto many:
But thou art my strong refuge.
- 8 My mouth shall be filled with thy praise,
And with thy honour all the day.
- 9 Cast me not off in the time of old age:
Forsake me not when my strength faileth.
- 10 For mine enemies speak concerning me,
And they that watch for my soul take counsel together,
- 11 Saying, God hath forsaken him:
Pursue and take him; for there is none to deliver.
- 12 O God, be not far from me:
O my God, make haste to help me.
- 13 Let them be ashamed and consumed that are adversaries to my soul:
Let them be covered with reproach and dishonour that seek my hurt.
- 14 But I will hope continually,
And will praise thee yet more and more.

- 15 My mouth shall tell of thy righteousness,
And of thy salvation all the day:
For I know not the numbers thereof.
- 16 I will come with the mighty acts of the Lord God:
I will make mention of thy righteousness, even of thine only.
- 17 O God, thou hast taught me from my youth,
And hitherto have I declared thy wondrous works.
- 18 Yea, even when I am old and grey-headed, O God, forsake me not.
Until I have declared thy strength unto the next generation.
- 19 Thy might to every one that is to come.
- 20 Thy righteousness also, O God, is very high:
Thou who hast done great things, O God, who is like unto thee?
- 21 Thou, which hast shewed us many and sore troubles,
Shalt quicken us again.
And shalt bring us up again from the depths of the earth.
- 22 Increase thou my righteousness,
And turn again, and comfort me.
- 23 I will also praise thee with the psaltery,
Even thy truth, O my God:
Unto thee will I sing praises with the harp.
O thou Holy One of Israel.
- 24 My lips of all greatly rejoice when I sing praises unto thee:
And my soul, which thou hast redeemed.
- 25 My tongue also shall talk of thy righteousness all the day long.

A Psalm of Asaph.

- 1 <sup>1</sup>Surely God is good to Israel,
Even to such as are pure in heart.
- 2 But as for me, my feet were almost gone:
My steps had well nigh slipped.
- 3 For I was envious at the <sup>2</sup>arrogant,
When I saw the prosperity of the wicked.
- 4 For there are no <sup>3</sup>bands in their death:
But their strength is firm.
- 5 They are not <sup>4</sup>in trouble as other men;
Neither are they plagued like other men.
- 6 Therefore pride is as a chain about their neck;
Violence covereth them as a garment.
- 7 Their eyes stand out with fatness:
<sup>5</sup>They have more than heart could wish.
- 8 They scoff, and in wickedness utter oppression:
They speak <sup>6</sup>loftily.

And their tongue walketh through the earth.
- 10 Therefore <sup>8</sup>his people return hither:
And waters of a full cup are <sup>9</sup>wrung out by them.
- 11 And they say, How doth God know?
And is there knowledge in the Most High?
- 12 Behold, these are the wicked;
And, being alway at ease, they increase in riches.
- 13 Surely in vain have I cleansed my heart,
And washed my hands in innocency;
- 14 For all the day long have I been plagued,
And <sup>10</sup>chastened every morning.
- 15 If I had said, I will speak thus;
Behold, I had dealt treacherously with the generation of thy children.

- 18 Surely thou settest them in slippery places:
They are castest them down to destruction.
- 19 How are they become a desolation in a moment!
They are utterly consumed with terrors.
- 20 As a dream when one awaketh;
So, O Lord, when thou awakest, thou shalt despise their image.
- 21 For my heart was grieved,
And I was pricked in my reins;
So brutish was I, and ignorant:
I was as a beast before thee.
- 22 Nevertheless I am continually with thee.
Thou hast holden my right hand.
- 23 Thou shalt guide me with thy counsel,
And afterward receive me to glory.
- 24 When have I been in heaven? No: thou saidst, thou shalt be there.
And there is none upon earth that I desire beside thee.
- 25 My feet and my seat shall fasten:
For God is the strength of my heart,
and my portion for ever.
- 26 For I, they that are far from thee, shall perish:
Thou hast destroyed all them that go a whoring from thee.
- 27 But it is good for me to draw near unto God:
I have made the Lord God my refuge.
That I may tell of all thy works.

74 Marchall of Asaph.

- 1 O God, why hast thou cast us off for ever?
Why do thine anger and smoke against the sheep of thy pasture?
- 2 Remember the congregation, which thou hast purchased, said,
Who of them hath redeemed to be the tribe of thine inheritance;
And mount Zion, wherein thou hast dwelt.
- 3 Lift up thy feet unto the perpetual ruins.
All the evil that the enemy hath done in the sanctuary.
- 4 Thine adversaries have roared in the midst of thine assembly:
They have set up their ensigns for signs.
- 5 They seemed as men that lifted up Arx upon a thicketed tree.
- 6 And now all the carved work thereof is together.
They break down with hatchet and hammers.
- 7 They have set thy sanctuary on fire.
They have profaned the dwelling place of thy name even to the ground.
- 8 They said in their heart, Let us make havoc of them altogether.
They have burned up all the synagogues of God in the land.
- 9 We see not our sign:
There is no more any prophet;

- Neither is there among us any that knoweth how long.
- 10 How long, O God, shall the adversary reproach?
Shall the enemy blaspheme thy name for ever?
- 11 Why drawest thou back thy hand, even thy right hand?
Pluck it out of thy bosom and consume them.
- 12 Yet God is my King of old,
Working salvation in the midst of the earth.
- 13 Thou didst divide the sea by thy strength:
Thou brakest the heads of the dragons in the waters.
- 14 Thou brakest the heads of Leviathan in pieces.
Thou gavest him to be meat to the people inhabiting the wilderness.
- 15 Thou didst cleave fountain and flood.
Thou didst rise up mighty rivers.
- 16 The day is thine, the night also is thine.
Thou hast prepared the light and the sun.
- 17 Thou hast set all the borders of the earth.
Thou hast made summer and winter.
- 18 Remember this, that the enemy hath reproached, O Lord,
And that a foolish people have blasphemed thy name.
- 19 O deliver not the soul of thy turtle-dove unto the wild beast:
Forget not the affliction of thy poor for ever.
- 20 Have respect unto the covenant:
For the dark places of the earth are full of the habitations of violence.
- 21 O let not the oppressed return ashamed.
Let the poor and needy praise thy name.
- 22 Arise, O God, plead thine own cause:
Remember how the foolish man reproacheth thee all the day.
- 23 Forget not the voice of thine adversaries:
The tumult of those that rise up against thee ascendeth continually.
- 75 For the Chief Musician set to Al-tah-leth. A Psalm of Asaph a Song.
- 1 We give thanks unto thee, O God:
We give thanks, for thy name is great.
- 2 Men tell of thy wondrous works,
I will praise thy name.
- 3 The earth and all the inhabitants thereof are dissolved.
I have set up the pillars of it.
- 4 And thou, O arrogant, Deal not arrogantly.

It is full of mixture, and he poureth

I will sing praises to the God of 10 All the horns of the wicked also

But the horns of the righteous shall

76 For the Chief Musician; on stringed instruments. A Psalm of Asaph, a Song.

- 1 In Judah is God known:
His name is great in Israel.
2 In Salem also is his <sup>3</sup>tabernacle,
And his <sup>4</sup>dwelling place in Zion.
3 There he brake the <sup>5</sup>arrows of the bow;
The shield, and the sword, and the battle. [Selah]
4 Glorious art thou and excellent.
<sup>6</sup>from the mountains of prey.
5 The stouthearted are spoiled, they have slept their sleep;
And none of the men of might have found their hands.
6 At thy rebuke, O God of Jacob, Both chariot and horse are cast into a dead sleep.
7 Thou, even thou, art to be feared:
And who may stand in thy sight
when once thou art angry?
8 Thou didst cause sentence to be heard from heaven;
The earth feared, and was still,
9 When God arose to judgement,
To save all the meek of the earth. [Selah]
10 Surely the wrath of man shall praise
thee
The residue of wrath shalt thou <sup>9</sup>gird upon thee.
11 Vow, and pay unto the Lord your God:
Let all that be round about him bring presents unto him that ought to be feared.
12 He shall cut off the spirit of princes:
He is terrible to the kings of the earth.

77 For the Chief Musician; after the manner of Jeduthun. A Psalm of Asaph.

- 1 I will cry unto God with my voice;
Even unto God with my voice, and he will give ear unto me.
2 In the day of my trouble I sought
the Lord:
My hand was stretched out in the night, and slacked not;
My soul refused to be comforted.
3 I remember God, and am disquieted:
I complain, and my spirit <sup>10</sup>is overwhelmed. [Selah]
4 Thou holdest mine eyes watching:

- I am so troubled that I cannot speak.
5 I have considered the days of old,
The years of ancient times.
6 I call to remembrance my song in the night:
I commune with mine own heart:
And my spirit made diligent search.
7 Will the Lord cast off for ever?
And will he be favourable no more?
8 Is his mercy clean gone for ever?
Doth his promise fail for evermore?
9 Hath God forgotten to be gracious?
Hath he in anger shut up his tender mercies? [Selah]
10 And I said, This is my infirmity:
<sup>11</sup>But I will remember the years of the right hand of the Most High.
11 I will make mention of the deeds of <sup>12</sup>the Lord;
For I will remember thy wonders of old.
12 I will meditate also upon all thy work,
And muse on thy doings.
13 Thy way, O God, is <sup>13</sup>in the sanctuary:
Who is a great god like unto God?
14 Thou art the God that doest wonders:
Thou hast made known thy strength
among the peoples.
15 Thou hast with thine arm redeemed
thy people,
The sons of Jacob and Joseph. [Selah]
16 The waters saw thee, O God:
The waters saw thee, they <sup>14</sup>were afraid:
The depths also trembled.
17 The clouds poured out water;
The skies sent out a sound:
Thine arrows also went abroad.
18 The voice of thy thunder was in the whirlwind;
The lightnings lightened the world:
The earth trembled and shook.
19 Thy way was in the sea,
And thy paths in the great waters,
And thy footsteps were not known.
20 Thou leddest thy people like a flock,
By the hand of Moses and Aaron.

- Who should arise and tell them to their children:
7 That they might set their hope in God,
And not forget the works of God,
But keep his commandments:
8 And might not be as their fathers,
A stubborn and rebellious generation,
A generation that set not their heart aright,
And whose spirit was not steadfast with God.
9 The children of Ephraim, being armed and carrying bows,
Turned back in the day of battle.
10 They kept not the covenant of God,
And refused to walk in his law;
11 And they forgot his doings,
And his wondrous works that he had shewed them.
12 Marvellous things did he in the sight of their fathers,
In the land of Egypt, in the field of Zoan.
13 He clave the sea, and caused them to pass through;
And he made the waters to stand as an heap.
14 In the day-time also he led them with a cloud,
And all the night with a light of fire.
15 He clave rocks in the wilderness,
And gave them drink abundantly as out of the depths.
16 He brought streams also out of the rock,
And caused waters to run down like rivers.
17 Yet went they on still to sin against him,
To rebel against the Most High in the desert.
18 And they tempted God in their heart
By asking meat for their lust.
19 Yea, they spake against God:
They said, Can God prepare a table in the wilderness?
20 Behold, he smote the rock, that waters gushed out,
And streams overflowed;
Can he give bread also?
Will he provide flesh for his people?
21 Therefore the LORD heard, and was wroth:
And a fire was kindled against Jacob,
And anger also went up against Israel:
22 Because they believed not in God,
And trusted not in his salvation.
23 Yet he commanded the skies above,
And opened the doors of heaven:
24 And he rained down manna upon them to eat,
And gave them of the corn of heaven.
25 Man did eat the bread of the mighty:
He sent them meat to the full.
26 He caused the east wind to blow in the heaven:
And by his power he guided the south wind.

- 27 He rained flesh also upon them as the dust,
And winged fowl as the sand of the seas:
28 And he let it fall in the midst of their camp,
Round about their habitations.
29 So they did eat, and were well filled;
And he gave them that they lusted after.
30 They were not estranged from their lust,
Their meat was yet in their mouths,
31 When the anger of God went up against them,
And slew of the fattest of them,
And smote down the young men of Israel.
32 For all this they sinned still,
And believed not in his wondrous works.
33 Therefore their days did he consume in vanity,
And their years in terror.
34 When he slew them, then they inquired after him:
And they returned and sought God early.
35 And they remembered that God was their rock,
And the Most High God their redeemer.
36 But they flattered him with their mouth,
And lied unto him with their tongue.
37 For their heart was not right with him,
Neither were they faithful in his covenant.
38 But he, being full of compassion, forgave their iniquity, and destroyed them not:
Yea, many a time turned he his anger away,
And did not stir up all his wrath.
39 And he remembered that they were but flesh:
A wind that passeth away, and cometh not again.
40 How oft did they rebel against him in the wilderness,
And grieve him in the desert!
41 And they turned again and tempted God,
And provoked the Holy One of Israel.
42 They remembered not his hand,
Nor the day when he redeemed them from the adversary.
43 How he set his signs in Egypt,
And his wonders in the land of Zoan,
44 And turned their rivers into blood,
And their streams, that they could not drink.
45 He sent among them swarms of flies, which devoured them;
And frogs, which destroyed them.
46 He gave also their increase unto the caterpiller,
And their labour unto the locust.
47 He destroyed their vines with hail,
And their sycamore trees with frost.
48 He gave over their cattle also to the hail,
And their flocks to hot thunderbolts.

49 He cast upon them the fierceness of his anger,
Wrath, and indignation, and trouble,
1 A band of angels of evil.
50 He <sup>2</sup> made a path for his anger;
He spared not their soul from death,
But gave <sup>3</sup> their life over to the pestilence;
51 And smote all the firstborn in Egypt,
The <sup>4</sup> chief of their strength in the tents of Ham;
52 But he led forth his own people like sheep,
And guided them in the wilderness like a flock.
53 And he led them safely, so that they feared not:
But the sea overwhelmed their enemies.
54 And he brought them to <sup>5</sup> the border of his sanctuary,
To this <sup>6</sup> mountain, which his right hand had purchased.
55 He drove out the nations also before them,
And allotted them for an inheritance by line,
And made the tribes of Israel to dwell in their tents.
56 Yet they tempted and rebelled against the Most High God,
And kept not his testimonies;
57 But turned back, and dealt treacherously like their fathers:
They were turned aside like a deceitful bow.
58 For they provoked him to anger with their high places,
And moved him to jealousy with their graven images.
59 When God heard this, he was wroth,
And greatly abhorred Israel:
60 So that he forsook the tabernacle of Shiloh,
The tent which he placed among men;
61 And delivered his strength into captivity,
And his glory into the adversary's hand.
62 He gave his people over also unto the sword;
And was wroth with his inheritance.
63 Fire devoured their young men;
And their maidens had no marriage-song.
64 Their priests fell by the sword;
And their widows made no lamentation.
65 Then the Lord awaked as one out of sleep,
Like a mighty man that shouteth by reason of wine.
66 And he smote his adversaries backward:
He put them to a perpetual reproach.
67 Moreover he refused the tent of Joseph,
And chose not the tribe of Ephraim;

68 But chose the tribe of Judah,
The mount Zion which he loved.
69 And he built his sanctuary like the heights,
Like the earth which he hath established for ever.
70 He chose David also his servant,
And took him from the sheep-folds:
71 From following the ewes that give suck he brought him,
To feed Jacob his people, and Israel his inheritance.
72 So he fed them according to the integrity of his heart;
And guided them by the skilfulness of his hands.

A Psalm of Asaph.

1 O God, the <sup>7</sup> heathen are come into thine inheritance;
Thy holy temple have they defiled;
They have laid Jerusalem on heaps.
2 The dead bodies of thy servants have they given to be meat unto the fowls of the heaven,
The flesh of thy saints unto the beasts of the earth.
3 Their blood have they shed like water round about Jerusalem;
And there was none to bury them.
4 We are become a reproach to our neighbours,
A scorn and derision to them that are round about us.
5 How long, O LORD, wilt thou be angry for ever?
Shall thy jealousy burn like fire?
6 Pour out thy wrath upon the heathen that know thee not,
And upon the kingdoms that call not upon thy name.
7 For they have devoured Jacob, And laid waste his <sup>8</sup> habitation.
8 Remember not against us the iniquities of our forefathers:
Let thy tender mercies speedily prevent us:
For we are brought very low.
9 Help us, O God of our salvation, for the glory of thy name:
And deliver us, and purge away our sins, for thy name's sake.
10 Wherefore should the heathen say, Where is their God?
Let the revenging of the blood of thy servants which is shed
Be known among the heathen in our sight.
11 Let the sighing of the prisoner come before thee;
According to the greatness of <sup>9</sup> thy power preserve thou <sup>10</sup> those that are appointed to death;
12 And render unto our neighbours sevenfold into their bosom
Their reproach, wherewith they have reproached thee, O Lord.
13 So we thy people and sheep of thy pasture
Will give thee thanks for ever:
We will shew forth thy praise to all generations.

80 For the Chief Musician; set to 1 Shoshaanim Eduth. A Psalm of Asaph.

1 Give ear, O Shepherd of Israel, Thou that leadest Joseph like a flock;

Thou that <sup>2</sup>sittest upon the cherubin, shine forth.

2 Before Ephraim and Benjamin and Manasseh, stir up thy might,
And come to save us.

3 <sup>3</sup>Turn us again, O God;
And cause thy face to shine, and we shall be saved.

4 O LORD God of hosts,
How long <sup>4</sup>wilt thou be angry against the prayer of thy people?

5 Thou hast fed them with the bread of tears,
And given them tears to drink in large measure.

6 Thou makest us a strife unto our neighbours:
And our enemies laugh among themselves.

7 Turn us again, O God of hosts;
And cause thy face to shine, and we shall be saved.

8 Thou broughtest a vine out of Egypt:
Thou didst drive out the nations,
and plantdest it.

9 Thou preparedst room before it,
And it took deep root, and filled the land.

10 The mountains were covered with the shadow of it,
And <sup>5</sup>the boughs thereof were like <sup>6</sup>cedars of God.

11 She sent out her branches unto the sea,
And her shoots unto the River.

12 Why hast thou broken down her fences,
So that all they which pass by the way do pluck her?

13 The bear out of the wood doth ravage it,
And the wild beasts of the field
feed on it.

14 Turn again, we beseech thee, O God
of hosts:
Look down from heaven, and behold,
and visit this vine.

15 And <sup>7</sup>the stock which thy right hand hath planted,
And the <sup>8</sup>branch that thou madest strong for thyself.

16 It is burned with fire, it is cut down:
They perish at the rebuke of thy countenance.

17 Let thy hand be upon the man of thy right hand,
Upon the son of man whom thou madest strong for thyself.

18 So shall we not go back from
thee:
Quicken thou us, and we will call upon thy name.

19 Turn us again, O LORD God of
hosts:
Cause thy face to shine, and we shall be saved.

81 For the Chief Musician; set to the Gittith. A Psalm of Asaph.

1 Sing aloud unto God our strength:
Make a joyful noise unto the God of Jacob.

2 Take up the psalm, and <sup>9</sup>bring hither the timbrel,

The pleasant harp with the psaltery.
3 Blow up the trumpet in the new moon,

At the full moon, on our solemn feast day.

4 For it is a statute for Israel,
An ordinance of the God of Jacob.

5 He appointed it in Joseph for a testimony,
When he went out <sup>10</sup>over the land
of Egypt:

Where I heard <sup>11</sup>a language that I knew not.

6 I removed his shoulder from the burden:
His hands were freed from the basket.

7 Thou calledst in trouble, and I delivered thee;

I answered thee in the secret place
of thunder;

I proved thee at the waters of Meribah. [Selah]

8 Hear, O my people, and I will testify unto thee:

O Israel, if thou wouldest hearken unto me!

9 There shall no strange god be in thee;
Neither shalt thou worship any strange god.

10 I am the LORD thy God, Which brought thee up out of the land of Egypt:

Open thy mouth wide, and I will fill it.

11 But my people hearkened not to my voice;

And Israel would none of me.

12 So I let them go after the stubbornness of their heart,
That they might walk in their own counsels.

13 Oh that my people would hearken
unto me,
That Israel would walk in my ways!

14 I should soon subdue their enemies,
And turn my hand against their adversaries.

15 The haters of the LORD should <sup>12</sup>submit themselves unto him:
But their time should endure for ever.

16 He should feed them also with the <sup>13</sup>finest of the wheat:
And with honey out of the rock should I satisfy thee.

86 A Prayer of David.

- 1 Bow down thine ear, O LORD, and answer me;
For I am poor and needy.
- 2 Preserve my soul; for I am godly:
O thou my God, save thy servant that trusteth in thee.
- 3 Be merciful unto me, O Lord:
For unto thee do I cry all the day long.
- 4 Rejoice the soul of thy servant:
For unto thee, O Lord, do I lift up my soul.
- 5 For thou, Lord, art good, and ready to forgive,
And plenteous in mercy unto all them that call upon thee.
- 6 Give ear, O LORD, unto my prayer;
And hearken unto the voice of my supplications.
- 7 In the day of my trouble I will call upon thee:
For thou wilt answer me.
- 8 There is none like unto thee among the gods, O Lord;
Neither are there any works like unto thy works.
- 9 All nations whom thou hast made shall come and worship before thee, O Lord;
And they shall glorify thy name.
- 10 For thou art great, and doest wondrous things:
Thou art God alone.
- 11 Teach me thy way, O LORD; I will walk in thy truth:
Unto my heart to fear thy name.
- 12 I will praise thee, O LORD my God, with my whole heart;
And I will glorify thy name for evermore.
- 13 For great is thy mercy toward me;
And thou hast delivered my soul from the lowest pit.
- 14 O God, the proud are risen up against me,
And the congregation of violent men have sought after my soul,
And have not set thee before them.
- 15 But thou, O Lord, art a God full of compassion and gracious,

Slow to anger, and plenteous in mercy and truth.

- 16 O turn unto me, and have mercy upon me;
Give thy strength unto thy servant,
And save the son of thine handmaid.
- 17 Shew me a token for good;
That they which hate me may see it, and be ashamed,
Because thou, LORD, hast holpen me, and comforted me.

87 A Psalm of the sons of Korah; a Song.

- 1 His foundation is in the holy mountains.
- 2 The LORD loveth the gates of Zion
More than all the dwellings of Jacob.
- 3 Glorious things are spoken of thee, O city of God. [Selah]
- 4 I will make mention of Rahab and Babylon as among them that know me;
Behold Philistia, and Tyre, with Ethiopia;
This one was born there.
- 5 Yea, of Zion it shall be said, This one and that one was born in her;
And the Most High himself shall establish her.
- 6 The LORD shall count, when he writeth up the peoples,
This one was born there. [Selah]
- 7 They that sing as well as they that dance shall say,
All my fountains are in thee.

88 A Song, a Psalm of the sons of Korah; for the Chief Musician; set to Mahalath Leannoth. Maschil of Heman the Ezrahite.

- 1 O LORD, the God of my salvation,
I have cried day and night before thee:
- 2 Let my prayer enter into thy presence;
Incline thine ear unto my cry:
- 3 For my soul is full of troubles,
And my life draweth nigh unto Sheol.
- 4 I am counted with them that go down into the pit;
I am as a man that hath no help:
Cast off among the dead,
Like the slain that lie in the grave,
Whom thou rememberest no more;
And they are cut off from thy hand.
- 5 Thou hast laid me in the lowest pit,
In dark places, in the deeps.
- 6 Thy wrath lieth hard upon me,
And thou hast afflicted me with all thy waves. [Selah]
- 7 Thou hast put mine acquaintance far from me;
Thou hast made me an abomination unto them:
I am shut up, and I cannot come forth.
- 8 Mine eye wasteth away by reason of affliction:
I have called daily upon thee, O LORD,
I have spread forth my hands unto thee.

12 Shall thy wonders be known in the dark?

And thy righteousness in the land of forgetfulness?

13 But unto thee, O LORD, have I cried,

And in the morning shall my prayer come before thee.

14 LORD, why castest thou off my soul?

Why hidest thou thy face from me?

15 I am afflicted and ready to die from my youth up:

While I suffer thy terrors I am distracted.

16 Thy fierce wrath is gone over me; Thy terrors have cut me off.

17 They came round about me like water all the day long;

They compassed me about together.

18 Lover and friend hast thou put far from me,

And mine acquaintance <sup>3</sup> into darkness.

89 Maschil of Ethan the Ezrahite.

1 I will sing of the mercies of the LORD for ever:

With my mouth will I make known thy faithfulness to all generations.

2 For I have said, Mercy shall be built up for ever:

Thy faithfulness shalt thou establish in the very heavens.

3 I have made a covenant with my chosen,

I have sworn unto David my servant;

4 Thy seed will I establish for ever, And build up thy throne to all generations. [Selah]

5 And the heavens shall praise thy wonders, O LORD;

Thy faithfulness also in the assembly of the holy ones.

6 For who in the skies can be compared unto the LORD?

Who among the <sup>4</sup> sons of the <sup>5</sup> mighty is like unto the LORD,

7 A God very terrible in the council of the holy ones,

And to be feared above all them that are round about him?

8 O LORD God of hosts, Who is a mighty one, like unto thee, O JAH?

And thy faithfulness is round about thee.

9 Thou rulest the pride of the sea; When the waves thereof arise, thou stillest them.

10 Thou hast broken <sup>6</sup> Rahab in pieces, as one that is slain;

Thou hast scattered thine enemies with the arm of thy strength.

11 The heavens are thine, the earth also is thine:

The world and the fulness thereof, thou hast founded them.

12 The north and the south, thou hast created them:

Tabor and Hermon rejoice in thy name.

13 Thou hast <sup>7</sup> a mighty arm: Strong is thy hand, and high is thy right hand.

14 Righteousness and judgement are the foundation of thy throne:

Mercy and truth go before thy face.

15 Blessed is the people that know the <sup>8</sup> joyful sound:

They walk, O LORD, in the light of thy countenance.

16 In thy name do they rejoice all the day:

And in thy righteousness are they exalted.

17 For thou art the glory of their strength:

And in thy favour <sup>9</sup> our horn shall be exalted.

18 For our shield belongeth unto the LORD;

<sup>10</sup> And our king to the Holy One of Israel.

19 Then thou spakest in vision to thy <sup>11</sup> saints,

And saidst, I have laid help upon one that is mighty;

I have exalted one chosen out of the people.

20 I have found David my servant:

With my holy oil have I anointed him;

21 With whom my hand shall be established;

My arm also shall strengthen him.

22 The enemy shall not <sup>12</sup> exact upon him;

Nor the son of wickedness afflict him.

23 And I will beat down his adversaries before him.

And smite them that hate him.

24 But my faithfulness and my mercy shall be with him;

And in my name shall his horn be exalted.

25 I will set his hand also on the sea, And his right hand on the rivers.

26 He shall cry unto me, Thou art my father,

My God, and the rock of my salvation,

27 I also will make him <sup>13</sup> my firstborn, The highest of the kings of the earth.

28 My mercy will I keep for him for evermore,

And my covenant shall <sup>14</sup> stand fast with him.

29 His seed also will I make to endure for ever,

And his throne as the days of heaven.

30 If his children forsake my law, And walk not in my judgements;

31 If they <sup>14</sup> break my statutes, And keep not my commandments;

90 A Prayer of Moses the man of God.

- 1 Lord, thou hast been our dwelling place
In all generations.
- 2 Before the mountains were brought forth,
Or ever thou hadst formed the earth and the world,
Even from everlasting to everlasting, thou art God.
- 1 Heb. sweet birth to.

And sayest, Return, ye children of men.

4 For a thousand years in thy sight
Are but as yesterday when it is past,
And as a watch in the night.
- 3 Or, when it passeth
5 Thou carriest them away as with a flood;
they are as a sleep:
In the morning they are like grass which groweth up.
- 6 In the morning it flourisheth, and groweth up;
In the evening it is cut down, and withereth.
- 7 For we are consumed in thine anger,
And in thy wrath are we troubled.
- 8 Thou hast set our iniquities before thee,
Our secret sins in the light of thy countenance.
- 9 For all our days are passed away in thy wrath:
We bring our years to an end as a tale that is told.
- 4 Or, a sound or sigh
10 The days of our years are threescore years and ten,
Or even by reason of strength fourscore years:
Yet is their pride but labour and sorrow;
For it is soon gone, and we fly away.
- 11 Who knoweth the power of thine anger,
And thy wrath according to the fear that is due unto thee?
- 12 So teach us to number our days,
That we may get us an heart of wisdom.
- 13 Return, O LORD; how long?
And let it repent thee concerning thy servants.
- 14 O satisfy us in the morning with thy mercy;
That we may rejoice and be glad all our days.
- 15 Make us glad according to the days wherein thou hast afflicted us,
And the years wherein we have seen evil.

Yea, the work of our hands establish thou it.

91 He that dwelleth in the secret place of the Most High 2 Shall abide under the shadow of the Almighty.

2 I will say of the LORD, He is my refuge and my fortress;
My God, in whom I trust.

3 For he shall deliver thee from the snare of the fowler,
And from the noisome pestilence.

4 He shall cover thee with his pinions,
And under his wings shalt thou take refuge:

His truth is a shield and a buckler.
5 Thou shalt not be afraid for the terror by night,
Nor for the arrow that flieth by day:

6 For the pestilence that walketh in darkness,
Nor for the destruction that wasteth
at noonday.

7 A thousand shall fall at thy side,
And ten thousand at thy right hand;
But it shall not come nigh thee.

8 Only with thine eyes shalt thou behold,
And see the reward of the wicked.

9 <sup>3</sup> For thou, O LORD, art my refuge!
Thou hast made the Most High thy habitation;

10 There shall no evil befall thee, Neither shall any plague come nigh thy tent.

11 For he shall give his angels charge
over thee,
To keep thee in all thy ways.

12 They shall bear thee up in their hands,
Lest thou dash thy foot against a stone.

13 Thou shalt tread upon the lion and adder:
The young lion and the serpent shalt thou trample under feet.

14 Because he hath set his love upon me, therefore will I deliver him:
I will set him on high, because he hath known my name.

15 He shall call upon me, and I will answer him;
I will be with him in trouble:
I will deliver him, and honour
him.

16 With long life will I satisfy him,
And shew him my salvation.

92 A Psalm, a Song for the sabbath day.

1 It is a good thing to give thanks unto the LORD,
And to sing praises unto thy name,
O Most High:

2 To shew forth thy lovingkindness in the morning,
And thy faithfulness every night,

3 With an instrument of ten strings,
and with the psaltery;
With a solemn sound upon the harp.

4 For thou, LORD, hast made me glad through thy work:
I will triumph in the works of thy hands.

5 How great are thy works, O LORD!
Thy thoughts are very deep.

6 A brutish man knoweth not;
Neither doth a fool understand this:

7 When the wicked spring as the grass,
And when all the workers of iniquity do flourish;

It is that they shall be destroyed
for ever:

8 But thou, O LORD, art on high for evermore.

9 For, lo, thine enemies, O LORD,
For, lo, thine enemies shall perish;
All the workers of iniquity shall be scattered.

10 But my horn hast thou exalted like the horn of the wild-ox:
I am anointed with fresh oil.

11 Mine eye also hath seen my desire on <sup>4</sup> mine enemies, Mine ears have heard my desire of the evil-doers that rise up against
me.

12 The righteous shall flourish like the palm tree:
He shall grow like a cedar in Lebanon.

13 They that are planted in the house of the LORD
Shall flourish in the courts of our
God.

14 They shall still bring forth fruit in old age:

They shall be full of sap and green:
15 To shew that the LORD is upright;
He is my rock, and there is no unrighteousness in him.

93 The LORD reigneth; he is appa-relled with majesty:
The LORD is apparelled, he hath girded himself with strength:
The world also is stablished, that it cannot be moved.

2 Thy throne is established of old:
Thou art from everlasting.

3 The floods have lifted up, O LORD,
The floods have lifted up their
voice;

The floods lift up their <sup>5</sup> waves.

4 Above the voices of many waters,
The mighty breakers of the sea,
The LORD on high is mighty.

5 Thy testimonies are very sure:
Holiness becometh thine house,
O LORD, for evermore.

94 O LORD, thou God to whom vengeance belongeth, Thou God to whom vengeance belongeth, shine forth.

2 Lift up thyself, thou judge of the earth:

Render to the proud their desert.

3 LORD, how long shall the wicked,
How long shall the wicked triumph?

4 They prate, they speak arrogantly:

4 Or,

- 5 They break in pieces thy people, O LORD,
And afflict thine heritage.

And murder the fatherless.

- 8 Consider, ye brutish among the people:
And ye fools, when will ye be wise?

He that formed the eye, shall he not see?
- 2 Or, instructeth 10 He that <sup>2</sup> chastiseth the nations, shall not be correct,
Even he that teacheth man knowledge?
- 11 The LORD knoweth the thoughts of man, <sup>3</sup> That they are <sup>4</sup> vanity.
- 3 Or, For 12 Blessed is the man whom thou chastenest, <sup>1</sup> O LORD,
And teachest out of thy law;
- 4 Heb. a breath. 13 That thou mayest give him rest from the days of adversity,
Until the pit be digged for the wicked.
- 14 For the LORD will not cast off his people,
Neither will he forsake his inheritance.
- 15 For judgement shall return unto righteousness:
And all the upright in heart shall follow it.
- 16 Who will rise up for me against the evil-doers?
Who will stand up for me against the workers of iniquity?
- 17 Unless the LORD had been my help,
My soul had soon dwelt in silence.
- 18 When I said, My foot slippeth;
Thy mercy, O LORD, held me up.
- 5 Or, doubts 19 In the multitude of my <sup>5</sup> thoughts within me
Thy comforts delight my soul.
- 6 Or, seat 20 Shall the <sup>6</sup> throne of wickedness have fellowship with thee,
Which frameth mischief by statute?
- 21 They gather themselves together against the soul of the righteous,
And condemn the innocent blood.
- 22 But the LORD hath been my high tower;
And my God the rock of my refuge.
- 23 And he hath brought upon them their own iniquity,
And shall cut them off in their own evil:
The LORD our God shall cut them off.
- 95 O come, let us sing unto the LORD:
Let us make a joyful noise to the rock of our salvation.
- 2 Let us come before his presence with thanksgiving,
Let us make a joyful noise unto him with psalms.
- 3 For the LORD is a great God,
And a great King above all gods.
- 4 In his hand are the deep places of the earth;
The <sup>7</sup> heights of the mountains are his also.
- 5 The sea is his, and he made it;
And his hands formed the dry land.
- 6 O come, let us worship and bow down;
Let us kneel before the LORD our Maker:
- 7 For he is our God,
And we are the people of his pasture, and the sheep of his hand.
- 8 Harden not your heart, as at <sup>8</sup> Meribah,
As in the day of <sup>10</sup> Massah in the wilderness:
- 9 When your fathers tempted me,
Proved me, and saw my work.
- 10 Forty years long was I grieved with <sup>that</sup> generation,
And said, It is a people that do err in their heart,
And they have not known my ways:
- 11 Wherefore I swear in my wrath,
That they should not enter into my rest.
- 96 O sing unto the LORD a new song:
Sing unto the LORD, all the earth.
- 2 Sing unto the LORD, bless his name;
Shew forth his salvation from day to day.
- 3 Declare his glory among the nations,
His marvellous works among all the peoples.
- 4 For great is the LORD, and highly to be praised:
He is to be feared above all gods.
- 5 For all the gods of the peoples are <sup>11</sup> idols:
But the LORD made the heavens.
- 6 Honour and majesty are before him:
Strength and beauty are in his sanctuary.
- 7 Give unto the LORD, ye kindreds of the peoples,
Give unto the LORD glory and strength.
- 8 Give unto the LORD the glory due unto his name:
Bring an offering, and come into his courts.
- 9 O worship the LORD <sup>12</sup> in the beauty of holiness:
Tremble before him, all the earth.
- 10 Say among the nations, The LORD reigneth:
The world also is stablished that it cannot be moved:
He shall judge the peoples with equity.
- 11 Let the heavens be glad, and let the earth rejoice;
Let the sea roar, and the fulness thereof;
- 12 Let the field exult, and all that is therein;
Then shall all the trees of the wood sing for joy;
- 13 Before the LORD, for he cometh;
For he cometh to judge the earth:
- 7 Or, strength
- 8 Or, To-day, if ye will hear his voice, harden &c.
- 9 That is, strife.
- 10 That is, temptation.

He shall judge the world with
righteousness,
And the peoples<sup>1</sup> with his truth.

87 The Lord reigneth; let the earth rejoice;

Let this multitude of isles be glad.

2 Clouds and darkness are round about him:

Righteousness and judgement are the foundation of his throne.

3 A fire goeth before him,
And burneth up his adversaries round about.

4 His lightnings lightened the world:
The earth saw, and trembled.

5 The hills melted like wax at the presence of the Lord, at the presence of the Lord of the whole earth.

6 The heavens declare his righteousness,
And all the peoples have seen his glory.

7 Ashamed be all they that serve graven images,
That boast themselves of idols:

Worship him, all ye gods.

8 Zion heard and was glad,
And the daughters of Judah rejoiced;

Because of thy judgements, O Lord.

9 For thou, Lord, art most high above all the earth:

Thou art exalted far above all gods.

10 O ye that love the Lord, hate evil:
He preserveth the souls of his saints;

He delivereth them out of the hand of the wicked.

11 Light is sown for the righteous,
And gladness for the upright in heart.

12 Be glad in the Lord, ye righteous;
And give thanks to his holy<sup>2</sup> name.

2 Heb.

morial.

98 A Psalm.

1 O sing unto the Lord a new song:
For he hath done marvellous things:
His right hand, and his holy arm,
hath wrought salvation for him.

2 The Lord hath made known his
salvation:

His righteousness hath he openly shewed in the sight of the nations.

3 He hath remembered his mercy and his faithfulness toward the house
of Israel:

All the ends of the earth have seen the salvation of our God.

4 Make a joyful noise unto the Lord,
all the earth:

Break forth and sing for joy, ye, sing praises.

5 Sing praises unto the Lord with the harp:

With the harp and the voice of melody.

6 With trumpets and sound of cornet
Make a joyful noise before the King,
the Lord.

7 Let the sea roar, and the fulness thereof:

The world, and they that dwell
therein:

8 Let the floods clap their hands:
Let the hills sing for joy together:

9 Before the Lord, for he cometh to judge the earth:

He shall judge the world with righteousness,

And the peoples with equity.

99 The Lord reigneth; let the peoples tremble:

2 The Lord is great in Zion;
And he is high above all the peoples.

3 Let them praise thy great and terrible name:

Holy is he.

4 The king's strength also loveth
judgement;

Thou dost establish equity, Thou executest judgement and righteousness in Jacob.

5 Exalt ye the Lord our God,
And worship at his footstool:

Holy is he.

6 Moses and Aaron among his priests,
And Samuel among them that call upon his name:

They called upon the Lord, and he answered them.

7 He spake unto them in the pillar of cloud:

They kept his testimonies, and the statutes that he gave them.

8 Thou answeredst them, O Lord our God:

Thou wast a God that forgavest
them,

Though thou tookest vengeance of their doings.

9 Exalt ye the Lord our God,
And worship at his holy hill:

For the Lord our God is holy.

100 A Psalm of thanksgiving.

1 Make a joyful noise unto the Lord,
all ye lands.

2 Serve the Lord with gladness:
Come before his presence with singing.

3 Know ye that the Lord he is God:
It is he that hath made us, and we are his;

We are his people, and the sheep of his pasture,

4 Enter into his gates with thanksgiving,

And into his courts with praise;
Give thanks unto him, and bless his name.

5 For the Lord is good; his mercy
endureth for ever:

And his faithfulness unto all generations.

101 A Psalm of David.

1 I will sing of mercy and judgement unto thee, O Lord, when I sing praises.

2 I will<sup>2</sup> behave myself wisely in a

Oh when wilt thou come unto me?
I will walk within my house<sup>2</sup> with a

I hate<sup>1</sup> the work of them that turn

It shall not cleave unto me.

4 A froward heart shall depart from me:

I will know no<sup>2</sup> evil thing.

5 Whoso privily slandereth his neighbour, him will I destroy:

Him that hath an high look and a proud heart will I not suffer.

6 Mine eyes shall be upon the faithful of the land, that they may dwell
with me:

He that walketh in a perfect way,
he shall minister unto me.

7 He that worketh deceit shall not dwell within my house;

He that speaketh falsehood shall not be established before mine eyes.

8 Morning by morning will I destroy all the wicked of the land;

To cut off all the workers of iniquity from the city of the LORD.

102 A Prayer of the afflicted, when he is overwhelmed, and poureth out his complaint before the LORD.

1 Hear my prayer, O LORD,
And let my cry come unto thee.

2 Hide not thy face from me in the day of my distress:

Incline thine ear unto me;

In the day when I call answer me
speedily.

3 For my days consume away<sup>4</sup> like smoke,

And my bones are burned<sup>5</sup> as a firebrand.

4 My heart is smitten like grass, and withered;

For I forget to eat my bread.

5 By reason of the voice of my groaning

My bones cleave to my flesh.

6 I am like a pelican of the wilderness;

I am become as an owl of the waste places.

7 I watch, and am become like a sparrow that is alone upon the housetop.

8 Mine enemies reproach me all the day

They that are made against me do curse by me.

9 For I have eaten ashes like bread,
And mingled my drink with weeping.

10 Because of thine indignation and thy wrath:

For thou hast taken me up, and cast me away.

11 My days are like a shadow that declineth:

And I am withered like grass.

12 But thou, O LORD, shalt abide for ever;

And thy memorial unto all generations.

13 Thou shalt arise, and have mercy upon Zion:

For it is time to have pity upon her,
yea, the set time is come.

14 For thy servants take pleasure in her stones,

And have pity upon her dust.

15 So the nations shall fear the name
of the LORD,

And all the kings of the earth thy
glory:

16 For the LORD hath built up Zion,

He hath appeared in his glory;

17 He hath regarded the prayer of the destitute,

And hath not despised their prayer.

18 This shall be written for the generation to come:

And a people which shall be created shall praise<sup>8</sup> the LORD.

19 For he hath looked down from the height of his sanctuary;

From heaven did the LORD behold
the earth;

20 To hear the sighing of the prisoner;
To loose<sup>9</sup> those that are appointed to death;

21 That men may declare the name of the LORD in Zion,

And his praise in Jerusalem;

22 When the peoples are gathered together,

And the kingdoms, to serve the LORD.

23<sup>10</sup> He weakened my strength in the way;

He shortened my days.

24 I said, O my God, take me not away in the midst of my days:

Thy years are throughout all generations.

25 Of old hast thou laid the foundation of the earth;

And the heavens are the work of thy hands.

26 They shall perish, but thou shalt endure:

Yea, all of them shall wax old like a garment;

As a vesture shalt thou change them, and they shall be changed:

27 But thou art the same,
And thy years shall have no end.

28 The children of thy servants shall continue,

And their seed shall be established before thee.

103 A Psalm of David.

1 Bless the LORD, O my soul;

And all that is within me, bless his holy name.

2 Bless the LORD, O my soul,

And forget not all his benefits:

3 Who forgiveth all thine iniquities;

Who healeth all thine diseases;

4 Who redeemeth thy life from<sup>11</sup> destruction;

Who crowneth thee with loving-kindness and tender mercies:

5 Who satisfieth<sup>12</sup> thy mouth with

 7 He made known his ways unto Moses,
 His doings unto the children of Israel.
 8 The LORD is full of compassion and gracious,
 Slow to anger, and plenteous in mercy.
 9 He will not always chide;
 Neither will he keep his anger for ever.
 10 He hath not dealt with us after our sins,
 Nor rewarded us after our iniquities.
 11 For as the heaven is high above the earth,
 So great is his mercy toward them that fear him.
 12 As far as the east is from the west,
 So far hath he removed our transgressions from us.
 13 Like as a father pitieth his children,
 So the LORD pitieth them that fear him.
 14 For he knoweth our frame;
 He remembereth that we are dust.
 15 As for man, his days are as grass;
 As a flower of the field, so he flourisheth.
 16 For the wind passeth over it, and it is gone;
 And the place thereof shall know it no more.
 17 But the mercy of the LORD is from everlasting to everlasting upon them that fear him,
 And his righteousness unto children's children;
 18 To such as keep his covenant,
 And to those that remember his precepts to do them.
 19 The LORD hath established his throne in the heavens;
 And his kingdom ruleth over all.
 20 Bless the LORD, ye angels of his:
 Ye mighty in strength, that fulfil his word,
 Harkening unto the voice of his word.
 21 Bless the LORD, all ye his hosts;
 Ye ministers of his, that do his pleasure.
 22 Bless the LORD, all ye his works,
 In all places of his dominion:
 Bless, the LORD, O my soul.

104

- Bless the LORD, O my soul.
 O LORD my God, thou art very great;
 Thou art clothed with honour and majesty.
 2 Who coverest thyself with light as with a garment;
 Who stretchest out the heavens like a curtain:
 3 Who layeth the beams of his chambers in the waters;
 Who maketh the clouds his chariot;
 Who walketh upon the wings of the wind:
 4 Who maketh <sup>1</sup> winds his messengers;
 His ministers a flaming fire:
 5 <sup>2</sup> Who laid the foundations of the earth,

- That it should not be moved for ever.
 6 Thou coveredst it with the deep as with a vesture;
 The waters stood above the mountains.
 7 At thy rebuke they fled;
 At the voice of thy thunder they hasted away;
 8 <sup>3</sup> They went up by the mountains, they went down by the valleys,
 Unto the place which thou hadst founded for them.
 9 Thou hast set a bound that they may not pass over;
 That they turn not again to cover the earth.
 10 He sendeth forth springs into the valleys;
 They run among the mountains:
 11 They give drink to every beast of the field;
 The wild asses quench their thirst.
 12 By them the fowl of the heaven have their habitation,
 They <sup>4</sup> sing among the branches.
 13 He watereth the mountains from his chambers:
 The earth is satisfied with the fruit of thy works.
 14 He causeth the grass to grow for the cattle,
 And herb for the <sup>5</sup> service of man;
 That he may bring forth <sup>6</sup> food out of the earth:
 15 And wine that maketh glad the heart of man,
<sup>7</sup> And oil to make his face to shine,
 And bread that strengtheneth man's heart.
 16 The trees of the LORD are <sup>8</sup> satisfied;
 The cedars of Lebanon, which he hath planted;
 17 Where the birds make their nests:
 As for the stork, the fir trees are her house.
 18 The high mountains are for the wild goats;
 The rocks are a refuge for the <sup>9</sup> conies.
 19 He appointed the moon for seasons:
 The sun knoweth his going down.
 20 Thou makest darkness, and it is night;
 Wherein all the beasts of the forest do creep forth.
 21 The young lions roar after their prey,
 And seek their meat from God.
 22 The sun ariseth, they get them away,
 And lay them down in their dens.
 23 Man goeth forth unto his work
 And to his labour until the evening.
 24 O LORD, how manifold are thy works!
 In wisdom hast thou made them all:
 The earth is full of thy <sup>10</sup> riches.
 25 Yonder is the sea, great and wide,
 Wherein are things creeping innumerable,
 Both small and great beasts.
 26 There go the ships;
 There is leviathan, whom thou hast formed to <sup>11</sup> take his pasture therein.

satisfied with good.

29 Thou hidest thy face, they are troubled;

Thou <sup>1</sup> takest away their breath,
they die,

And return to their dust.

30 Thou sendest forth thy spirit, they are created;

And thou renewest the face of the ground.

31 Let the glory of the LORD endure
for ever;

Let the LORD rejoice in his works:

32 Who looketh on the earth, and it trembleth;

He toucheth the mountains, and they smoke.

33 I will sing unto the LORD as long as I live;

I will sing praise to my God while I have any being.

34 Let my meditation be sweet unto

I will rejoice in the LORD.

35 Let sinners be consumed out of the

And let the wicked be no more.

Bless the LORD, O my soul.

O give thanks unto the LORD, call
upon his name;

Make known his doings among the peoples.

2 Sing unto him, sing praises unto
him;

<sup>3</sup> Talk ye of all his marvellous works.

3 Glory ye in his holy name:

Let the heart of them rejoice that

4 Seek ye the LORD and his strength;

Seek his face evermore.

5 Remember his marvellous works that he hath done;

His wonders, and the judgements of his mouth;

6 O ye seed of Abraham his servant,
Ye children of Jacob, his chosen ones.

7 He is the LORD our God:

His judgements are in all the earth.

8 He hath remembered his covenant
for ever,

The word which he commanded to a thousand generations;

9 The covenant which he made with Abraham,

And his oath unto Isaac;

10 And confirmed the same unto Jacob for a statute,

To Israel for an everlasting covenant:

11 Saying, Unto thee will I give the land of Canaan,

The lot of your inheritance:

12 When they were but a few men in number;

Yea, very few, and sojourners in it;

13 And they went about from nation to nation,
From one kingdom to another people.

14 He suffered no man to do them wrong;

Yea, he reproveth kings for their
sakes;

15 Saying, Touch not mine anointed
ones,

And do my prophets no harm.

16 And he called for a famine upon
the land;

He brake the whole staff of bread.

17 He sent a man before them;

Joseph was sold for a servant;

18 His feet they hurt with fetters;

<sup>5</sup> He was laid in chains of iron;

19 Until the time that his word came to pass;

The word of the LORD tried him.

20 The king sent and loosed him;

Even the ruler of peoples, and let him go free.

21 He made him lord of his house,
And ruler of all his substance:

22 To bind his princes at his pleasure,
And teach his senators wisdom.

23 Israel also came into Egypt;

And Jacob sojourned in the land of Ham.

24 And he increased his people greatly,
And made them stronger than their adversaries.

25 He turned their heart to hate his people,

To deal subtilly with his servants.

26 He sent Moses his servant,
And Aaron whom he had chosen.

27 <sup>7</sup> They set among them <sup>8</sup> his signs,
And wonders in the land of Ham.

28 He sent darkness, and made it dark;

And they rebelled not against his words.

29 He turned their waters into blood,
And slew their fish.

30 Their land swarmed with frogs,
In the chambers of their kings.

31 He spake, and there came swarms of flies,

And <sup>9</sup> lice in all their borders.

32 He gave them hail for rain,
And flaming fire in their land.

33 He smote their vines also and their fig trees;

And brake the trees of their borders.

34 He spake, and the locust came,
And the cankerworm, and that without number,

35 And did eat up every herb in their land,

And did eat up the fruit of their ground.

36 He smote also all the firstborn in their land,

The <sup>10</sup> chief of all their strength.

37 And he brought them forth with silver and gold:

And there was <sup>11</sup> not one feeble person among his tribes.

38 Egypt was glad when they departed;
For the fear of them had fallen upon them.

39 He spread a cloud for a covering;
And fire to give light in the night.

- 1 Praise ye the LORD.
O give thanks unto the LORD; for he is good:
For his mercy endureth for ever.
- 2 Who can utter the mighty acts of the LORD,
Or shew forth all his praise?
- 3 Blessed are they that keep judgement,
And he that doeth righteousness at all times.
- 4 Remember me, O LORD, with the favour that thou bearest unto thy people;
O visit me with thy salvation:
- 5 That I may see the prosperity of thy chosen,
That I may rejoice in the gladness of thy nation,
That I may glory with thine inheritance.
- 6 We have sinned with our fathers,
We have committed iniquity, we have done wickedly.
- 7 Our fathers understood not thy wonders in Egypt;
They remembered not the multitude of thy mercies;
But were rebellious at the sea, even at the Red Sea.
- 8 Nevertheless he saved them for his name's sake,
That he might make his mighty power to be known.
- 9 He rebuked the Red Sea also, and it was dried up:
So he led them through the depths, as through a wilderness.
- 10 And he saved them from the hand of him that hated them,
And redeemed them from the hand of the enemy.
- 11 And the waters covered their adversaries:
There was not one of them left.
- 12 Then believed they his words;
They sang his praise.
- 13 They soon forgot his works;
They waited not for his counsel:
- 14 But lusted exceedingly in the wilderness,
And tempted God in the desert.
- 15 And he gave them their request;
But sent leanness into their soul.

- 16 They envied Moses also in the camp,
And Aaron the saint of the LORD.
- 17 The earth opened and swallowed up Dathan,
And covered the company of Abiram.
- 18 And a fire was kindled in their company;
The flame burned up the wicked.
- 19 They made a calf in Horeb,
And worshipped a molten image.
- 20 Thus they changed their glory
For the likeness of an ox that eateth grass.
- 21 They forgot God their saviour,
Which had done great things in Egypt;
- 22 Wondrous works in the land of Ham,
And terrible things by the Red Sea.
- 23 Therefore he said that he would destroy them,
Had not Moses his chosen stood before him in the breach,
To turn away his wrath, lest he should destroy them.
- 24 Yea, they despised the pleasant land,
They believed not his word:
- 25 But murmured in their tents,
And hearkened not unto the voice of the LORD.
- 26 Therefore he lifted up his hand unto them,
That he would overthrow them in the wilderness:
- 27 And that he would overthrow their seed among the nations,
And scatter them in the lands.
- 28 They joined themselves also unto Baal-peor,
And ate the sacrifices of the dead.
- 29 Thus they provoked him to anger with their doings;
And the plague brake in upon them.
- 30 Then stood up Phinehas, and executed judgement:
And so the plague was stayed.
- 31 And that was counted unto him for righteousness,
Unto all generations for evermore.
- 32 They angered him also at the waters of Meribah,
So that it went ill with Moses for their sakes:
- 33 Because they were rebellious against his spirit,
And he spake unadvisedly with his lips.
- 34 They did not destroy the peoples,
As the LORD commanded them;
- 35 But mingled themselves with the nations,
And learned their works:
- 36 And they served their idols;
Which became a snare unto them:
- 37 Yea, they sacrificed their sons and their daughters unto demons,
- 38 And shed innocent blood, even the blood of their sons and of their daughters,
Whom they sacrificed unto the idols of Canaan;

 39 Thus were they defiled with their works,
 And went a whoring in their doings.
 40 Therefore was the wrath of the Lord kindled against his people,
 And he abhorred his inheritance.
 41 And he gave them into the hand of the nations;
 And they that hated them ruled over them.
 42 Their enemies also oppressed them,
 And they were brought into subjection under their hand.
 43 Many times did he deliver them;
 But they were rebellious in their counsel,
 And were brought low in their iniquity.
 44 Nevertheless he regarded their distress,

 And repented according to the multitude of his mercies.
 46 He made them also to be pitied
 Of all those that carried them captives.

 And gather us from among the nations,

 And to triumph in thy praise.

BOOK V.

107

- O give thanks unto the Lord; for he is good:
 For his mercy endureth for ever.
 2 Let the redeemed of the Lord say so,
 Whom he hath redeemed from the hand of the adversary;
 3 And gathered them out of the lands,
 From the east and from the west,
 From the north and from the south.
 4 They wandered in the wilderness in a desert way;
 They found no city of habitation.
 5 Hungry and thirsty,
 Their soul fainted in them.
 6 Then they cried unto the Lord in their trouble,
 And he delivered them out of their distresses.
 7 He led them also by a straight way,
 That they might go to a city of habitation.
 8 Oh that men would praise the Lord for his goodness,
 And for his wonderful works to the children of men!
 9 For he satisfieth the longing soul,
 And the hungry soul he filleth with good.
 10 Such as sat in darkness and in the shadow of death,
 Being bound in affliction and iron;
 11 Because they rebelled against the words of God,
 And contemned the counsel of the Most High:
 12 Therefore he brought down their heart with labour;
 They fell down, and there was none to help.
 13 Then they cried unto the Lord in their trouble,
 And he saved them out of their distresses.
 14 He brought them out of darkness and the shadow of death,

- And brake their bands in sunder.
 15 Oh that men would praise the Lord for his goodness,
 And for his wonderful works to the children of men!
 16 For he hath broken the gates of brass,
 And cut the bars of iron in sunder.
 17 Fools because of their transgression,
 And because of their iniquities, are afflicted.
 18 Their soul abhorreth all manner of meat;
 And they draw near unto the gates of death.
 19 Then they cry unto the Lord in their trouble,
 And he saveth them out of their distresses.
 20 He sendeth his word, and healeth them,
 And delivereth them from their destructions.
 21 Oh that men would praise the Lord for his goodness,
 And for his wonderful works to the children of men!
 22 And let them offer the sacrifices of thanksgiving,
 And declare his works with singing.
 23 They that go down to the sea in ships,
 That do business in great waters;
 24 These see the works of the Lord,
 And his wonders in the deep.
 25 For he commandeth, and raiseth the stormy wind,
 Which lifteth up the waves thereof.
 26 They mount up to the heaven, they go down again to the depths:
 Their soul melteth away because of trouble.
 27 They reel to and fro, and stagger like a drunken man,

28 Then they cry unto the LORD in their trouble,
And he bringeth them out of their distresses.
29 He maketh the storm a calm,
So that the waves thereof are still.
30 Then are they glad because they be quiet;
So he bringeth them unto <sup>2</sup>the haven where they would be.
31 Oh that men would praise the LORD for his goodness,
And for his wonderful works to the children of men!
32 Let them exalt him also in the assembly of the people,
And praise him in the seat of the elders.
33 He turneth rivers into a wilderness,
And watersprings into a thirsty
ground;
34 A fruitful land into a salt desert.
For the wickedness of them that dwell therein.
35 He turneth a wilderness into a pool of water,
And a dry land into watersprings.
36 And there he maketh the hungry to dwell,
That they may prepare a city of habitation;
37 And sow fields, and plant vineyards,
And get them fruits of increase.
38 He blesseth them also, so that they are multiplied greatly;
And he suffereth not their cattle to decrease.
39 Again, they are minished and bowed down Through oppression, trouble, and sorrow.
40 He poureth contempt upon princes,
And causeth them to wander in the waste, where there is no way.
41 Yet setteth he the needy on high from affliction,
And maketh him families like a flock.
42 The upright shall see it, and be glad;
And all iniquity shall stop her
mouth.
43 Whoso is wise shall give heed to these things.
And they shall consider the mercies
of the LORD.

Ps. lvi.

4 Or, I will awake the dawn

1 <sup>3</sup>My heart is fixed, O God;
I will sing, yea, I will sing praises,
even with my glory.
2 Awake, psaltery and harp:
<sup>4</sup>I myself will awake right early.
3 I will give thanks unto thee, O
LORD, among the peoples:
And I will sing praises unto thee
among the nations.
4 For thy mercy is great above the
heavens,
And thy truth reacheth unto the skies.
5 Be thou exalted, O God, above the heavens:

And thy glory above all the earth.
6 <sup>5</sup>That thy beloved may be delivered.
Save with thy right hand, and answer <sup>6</sup>us.
7 God hath spoken in his holiness;
I will exult:
I will divide Shechem, and mete out
the valley of Succoth.
8 Gilead is mine; Manasseh is mine;
Ephraim also is the defence of mine
head;
Judah is my <sup>7</sup>sceptre.
9 Moab is my washpot;
<sup>8</sup>Upon Edom will I cast my shoe:
Over Philistia will I shout.
10 Who will bring me into the fenced city?
<sup>9</sup>Who hath led me unto Edom?
11 <sup>10</sup>Hast not thou cast us off, O God?
And thou goest not forth, O God,
with our hosts.
12 Give us help against the adversary:
For vain is the <sup>11</sup>help of man.
13 Through God we shall do valiantly:
For he it is that shall tread down
our adversaries.

109 For the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David.

1 Hold not thy peace, O God of my praise;
2 For the mouth of the wicked and the mouth of deceit have they opened against me:
They have spoken <sup>12</sup>unto me with a lying tongue.
3 They compassed me about also with words of hatred,
And fought against me without a cause.
4 For my love they are my adversaries:
But I give myself unto prayer.
5 And they have <sup>13</sup>rewarded me evil for good,
And hatred for my love.
6 Set thou a wicked man over him;
And let <sup>14</sup>an adversary stand at his right hand.
7 When he is judged, let him come forth guilty;
And let his prayer <sup>15</sup>be turned into sin.
8 Let his days be few.
And let another take his office.
9 Let his children be fatherless,
And his wife a widow.
10 Let his children be vagabonds, and beg;
And let them seek their bread <sup>16</sup>out of their desolate places.
11 Let the extortioner <sup>17</sup>catch all that he hath;
And let strangers make spoil of his labour.
12 Let there be none to <sup>18</sup>extend mercy unto him;
Neither let there be any to have pity on his fatherless children.
13 Let his posterity be cut off;
In the generation following let their name be blotted out.
14 Let the iniquity of his fathers be remembered with the LORD;

But persecuted the poor and needy man,
And the broken in heart, to slay them.
- 17 Yea, he loved cursing, and it came unto him;
And he delighted not in blessing, and it was far from him.
- 18 He clothed himself also with cursing as with his garment,
And it came into his inward parts like water,
And like oil unto his bones.
- 19 Let it be unto him as the raiment wherewith he covereth himself,
And for the girdle wherewith he is girded continually.
- 20 This is the reward of mine adversaries from the LORD,
And of them that speak evil against my soul.
- 21 But deal thou with me, O God the Lord, for thy name's sake:
Because thy mercy is good, deliver thou me,
- 22 For I am poor and needy,
And my heart is wounded within me.
- 23 I am gone like the shadow when it declineth:
I am tossed up and down as the locust.
- 24 My knees <sup>2</sup>are weak through fasting;
And my flesh faileth of fatness.
- 25 I am become also a reproach unto them:
When they see me, they shake their head.
- 26 Help me, O LORD my God;
O save me according to thy mercy:
- 27 That they may know that this is thy hand;
That thou, LORD, hast done it.
- 28 Let them curse, but bless thou:
When they arise, they shall be ashamed, but thy servant shall rejoice.
- 29 Let mine adversaries be clothed with dishonour,
And let them cover themselves with their own shame as with a mantle.
- 30 I will give great thanks unto the LORD with my mouth;
Yea, I will praise him among the multitude.
- 31 For he shall stand at the right hand of the needy,
To save him from them that judge his soul.

110

A Psalm of David.

- 1 The LORD saith unto my lord, Sit thou at my right hand,
Until I make thine enemies thy footstool.

- 2 The LORD shall <sup>4</sup>send forth the rod of thy strength out of Zion:
Rule thou in the midst of thine enemies.
- 3 Thy people <sup>5</sup>offer themselves willingly <sup>6</sup>in the day of thy <sup>7</sup>power:
<sup>8</sup>In the beauties of holiness, from the womb of the morning, <sup>9</sup>Thou hast the dew of thy youth.
- 4 The LORD hath sworn, and will not repent,
Thou art a priest for ever
After the <sup>10</sup>order of Melchizedek.
- 5 The Lord at thy right hand
<sup>11</sup>Shall strike through kings in the day of his wrath.
- 6 He shall judge among the nations,
<sup>12</sup>He <sup>13</sup>shall fill the places with dead bodies:
He <sup>14</sup>shall strike through the head in many countries.
- 7 He shall drink of the brook in the way:
Therefore shall he lift up the head.
- 111
- 15 Praise ye the LORD.
I will give thanks unto the LORD with my whole heart.
In the council of the upright, and in the congregation.
- 2 The works of the LORD are great,
Sought out of all them that have pleasure therein.
- 3 His work is honour and majesty:
And his righteousness endureth for ever.
- 4 He hath made his wonderful works to be remembered:
The LORD is gracious and full of compassion.
- 5 He hath given <sup>16</sup>meat unto them that fear him:
He will ever be mindful of his covenant.
- 6 He hath shewed his people the power of his works,
In giving them the heritage of the nations.
- 7 The works of his hands are truth and judgement;
All his precepts are sure.
- 8 They are established for ever and ever,
They are <sup>17</sup>done in truth and uprightness.
- 9 He hath sent redemption unto his people;
He hath commanded his covenant for ever:
Holy and reverend is his name.
- 10 The fear of the LORD is the beginning of wisdom:
<sup>18</sup>A good understanding have all they that do <sup>19</sup>thereafter:
His praise endureth for ever.

112

- 15 Praise ye the LORD.

O LORD, I beseech thee, deliver my soul.
5 Gracious is the LORD, and righteous;
Yea, our God is merciful.
6 The LORD preserveth the simple:
I was brought low, and he saved me.
7 Return unto thy rest, O my soul;
For the LORD hath dealt bountifully with thee.
8 For thou hast delivered my soul from death,
Mine eyes from tears,
And my feet from falling.
9 I will walk before the LORD
In the <sup>1</sup>land of the living.
10 <sup>2</sup>I believe, for I will speak:
I was greatly afflicted;
11 I said in my <sup>3</sup>haste,
All men are <sup>4</sup>a lie.
12 What shall I render unto the LORD
For all his benefits toward me?
13 I will take the cup of salvation,

15 Precious in the sight of the LORD
Is the death of his saints.
16 O LORD, truly I am thy servant:
I am thy servant, the son of thine handmaid;
Thou hast loosed my bonds.
17 I will offer to thee the sacrifice of thanksgiving,
And will call upon the name of the LORD.
18 I will pay my vows unto the LORD,
Yea, in the presence of all his people;
19 In the courts of the LORD's house,
In the midst of thee, O Jerusalem.
<sup>5</sup>Praise ye the LORD.
117
O praise the LORD, all ye nations;
Laud him, all ye peoples.
2 For his mercy is great toward us;
And the truth of the LORD endureth for ever.
<sup>5</sup>Praise ye the LORD.
118
O give thanks unto the LORD; for he is good:
For his mercy endureth for ever.
2 Let Israel now say,
That his mercy endureth for ever.
3 Let the house of Aaron now say,
That his mercy endureth for ever.
4 Let them now that fear the LORD say,
That his mercy endureth for ever.
5 Out of my distress I called upon <sup>6</sup>the LORD:
<sup>6</sup>The LORD answered me and set me in a large place.
6 The LORD is on my side; I will not fear:
What can man do unto me?
7 The LORD is on my side among them that help me:
Therefore shall I see my desire upon them that hate me.

8 It is better to trust in the LORD
Than to put confidence in man.
9 It is better to trust in the LORD
Than to put confidence in princes.
10 All nations compassed me about:
In the name of the LORD I will cut them off.
11 They compassed me about; yea,
they compassed me about:
In the name of the LORD I will cut them off.
12 They compassed me about like bees;
they are quenched as the fire of thorns:
In the name of the LORD I will cut them off.
13 Thou didst thrust sore at me that I might fall:
But the LORD helped me.
14 <sup>6</sup>The LORD is my strength and song;
And he is become my salvation.
15 The voice of rejoicing and salvation is in the tents of the righteous:
The right hand of the LORD doeth valiantly.
16 The right hand of the LORD is exalted:
The right hand of the LORD doeth valiantly.
17 I shall not die, but live,
And declare the works of <sup>8</sup>the LORD.
18 <sup>6</sup>The LORD hath chastened me sore:
But he hath not given me over unto death.
19 Open to me the gates of righteousness:
I will enter into them, I will give thanks unto <sup>8</sup>the LORD.
20 This is the gate of the LORD;
The righteous shall enter into it.
21 I will give thanks unto thee, for thou hast answered me,
And art become my salvation.
22 The stone which the builders rejected
Is become the head of the corner.
23 <sup>7</sup>This is the LORD's doing;
It is marvellous in our eyes.
24 This is the day which the LORD hath made;
We will rejoice and be glad in it.
25 Save now, we beseech thee, O LORD:
O LORD, we beseech thee, send now prosperity.
26 Blessed be he that <sup>8</sup>cometh in the name of the LORD:
We have blessed you out of the house of the LORD.
27 The LORD is God, and he hath given us light:
Bind the sacrifice with cords, even unto the horns of the altar.
28 Thou art my God, and I will give thanks unto thee:
Thou art my God, I will exalt thee.
29 O give thanks unto the LORD; for he is good:
For his mercy endureth for ever.

28 My soul<sup>3</sup> melteth for heaviness:
Strengthen thou me according unto thy word.
29 Remove from me the way of falsehood:
And grant me thy law graciously.
30 I have chosen the way of faithfulness:
Thy judgements have I set before me.
31 I cleave unto thy testimonies:
O LORD, put me not to shame.
32 I will run the way of thy commandments,
When thou shalt enlarge my heart.

5 HE.

- 33 Teach me, O LORD, the way of thy statutes:
And I shall keep it unto the end.
34 Give me understanding, and I shall keep thy law;
Yea, I shall observe it with my whole heart.
35 Make me to go in the path of thy commandments:
For therein do I delight.
36 Incline my heart unto thy testimonies,
And not to covetousness.
37 Turn away mine eyes from beholding vanity,
And quicken me in thy ways.
38 Confirm thy word unto thy servant,
Which belongeth unto the fear of thee.
39 Turn away my reproach whereof I am afraid;
For thy judgements are good.
40 Behold, I have longed after thy precepts:
Quicken me in thy righteousness.

6 VAU.

- 41 Let thy mercies also come unto me,
O LORD,
Even thy salvation, according to thy word.
42 So shall I have an answer for him that reproacheth me;
For I trust in thy word.
43 And take not the word of truth utterly out of my mouth:
For I have hoped in thy judgements.
44 So shall I observe thy law continually
For ever and ever.
45 And I will walk at liberty;
For I have sought thy precepts.
46 I will also speak of thy testimonies before kings,
And will not be ashamed.
47 And I will delight myself in thy commandments,
Which I have loved.
48 I will lift up my hands also unto thy commandments, which I have loved;

49 Remember the word unto thy servant,

1 Because thou hast made me to hope.

1 Or, Wherein

50 This is my comfort in my affliction:

2 Or, That

2<sup>d</sup> For thy word hath quickened me.

51 The proud have had me greatly in derision:

Yet have I not swerved from thy law.

52 I have remembered thy judgements of old, O LORD.

3 Or, Horror

53 <sup>3</sup> Hot indignation hath taken hold upon me,

Because of the wicked that forsake thy law.

54 Thy statutes have been my songs in the house of my pilgrimage.

55 I have remembered thy name, O LORD, in the night,

And have observed thy law.

56 This I have had,

4 Or, That I have kept

4 Because I kept thy precepts.

Π CHETH.

57 5 The LORD is my portion:

5 Or, The LORD is my portion,

I have said that I would observe thy words.

58 I intreated thy favour with my whole heart:

have I said that I may observe &c.

Be merciful unto me according to thy word.

59 I thought on my ways,

And turned my feet unto thy testimonies.

60 I made haste, and delayed not, To observe thy commandments.

61 The cords of the wicked have wrapped me round;

But I have not forgotten thy law.

62 At midnight I will rise to give thanks unto thee

Because of thy righteous judgements.

63 I am a companion of all them that fear thee,

And of them that observe thy precepts.

64 The earth, O LORD, is full of thy mercy:

Teach me thy statutes.

Θ TETH.

65 Thou hast dealt well with thy servant,

O LORD, according unto thy word.

66 Teach me good judgement and knowledge;

For I have believed in thy commandments.

67 Before I was afflicted I went astray;

But now I observe thy word.

68 Thou art good, and doest good;

Teach me thy statutes.

69 The proud have forged a lie against me:

With my whole heart will I keep thy precepts.

70 Their heart is as fat as grease;

But I delight in thy law.

71 It is <sup>14</sup> precious for me that I have been afflicted;

That I might learn thy statutes.

72 The law of thy mouth is better unto me Than thousands of gold and silver.

° JOD.

73 Thy hands have made me and <sup>6</sup> fashioned me:

6 Or, e-laboured

Give me understanding, that I may learn thy commandments.

74 They that fear thee shall see me and be glad;

Because I have hoped in thy word.

75 I know, O LORD, that thy judgements are righteous,

And that in faithfulness thou hast afflicted me.

76 Let, I pray thee, thy lovingkindness be for my comfort,

According to thy word unto thy servant.

77 Let thy tender mercies come unto me, that I may live:

For thy law is my delight.

78 Let the proud be ashamed; for they have overthrown me <sup>7</sup> wrongfully:

7 Or, with falsehood

But I will meditate in thy precepts.

79 Let those that fear thee turn unto me,

And they shall know thy testimonies.

8 Another reading is, Even they that know.

80 Let my heart be perfect in thy statutes;

That I be not ashamed.

⸔ CAPH.

81 My soul fainteth for thy salvation:

But I hope in thy word.

82 Mine eyes fail for thy word,

While I say, When wilt thou comfort me?

83 For I am become like a <sup>9</sup> bottle in the smoke;

9 Or, wine-skin

Yet do I not forget thy statutes.

84 How many are the days of thy servant?

When wilt thou execute judgement on them that persecute me?

85 The proud have digged pits for me,

Who are not after thy law.

86 All thy commandments are faithful:

They persecute me <sup>7</sup> wrongfully; help thou me.

87 They had almost consumed me upon earth:

But I forsook not thy precepts.

88 Quicken me after thy lovingkindness;

So shall I observe the testimony of thy mouth.

⸚ LAMED.

89 For ever, O LORD,

Thy word is settled in heaven.

90 Thy faithfulness is unto all generations:

Thou hast established the earth, and it abideth.

91 10 They abide this day according to thine ordinances;

10 Or, As for thy judgements, they abide this day

For all things are thy servants.

92 Unless thy law had been my delight, I should then have perished in mine affliction.

93 I will never forget thy precepts;

For with them thou hast quickened me.

94 I am thine, save me;

For I have sought thy precepts.

95 The wicked have waited for me to destroy me;

But I will consider thy testimonies.

96 I have seen an end of all perfection:
But thy commandment is exceeding broad.

MEM.

97 Oh how love I thy law!

It is my meditation all the day.

98 Thy commandments make me wiser than mine enemies;

For they are ever with me.

99 I have more understanding than all my teachers;

For thy testimonies are my meditation.

100 I understand more than the aged,
Because I have kept thy precepts.

101 I have refrained my feet from every evil way,

That I might observe thy word.

102 I have not turned aside from thy judgements;

For thou hast taught me.

103 How sweet are thy words unto my taste!

Yea, sweeter than honey to my mouth!

104 Through thy precepts I get understanding;

Therefore I hate every false way.

NUN.

105 Thy word is a lamp unto my feet,
And light unto my path.

106 I have sworn, and have confirmed it,
That I will observe thy righteous judgements.

107 I am afflicted very much:
Quicken me, O LORD, according unto thy word.

108 Accept, I beseech thee, the free-will offerings of my mouth, O LORD.

And teach me thy judgements.

109 My soul is continually in my hand;
Yet do I not forget thy law.

110 The wicked have laid a snare for me;

Yet went I not astray from thy precepts.

111 Thy testimonies have I taken as an heritage for ever;

For they are the rejoicing of my heart.

112 I have inclined mine heart to perform thy statutes,

For ever, even unto the end.

SAMECH.

113 I hate them that are of a double mind;

But thy law do I love.

114 Thou art my hiding place and my shield:

I hope in thy word.

115 Depart from me, ye evil-doers:
That I may keep the commandments of my God.

116 Uphold me according unto thy word, that I may live;
And let me not be ashamed of my hope.

117 Hold thou me up, and I shall be safe,
And shall have respect unto thy statutes continually.

118 Thou hast set at nought all them that err from thy statutes;
For their deceit is falsehood.

119 Thou puttest away all the wicked of the earth like dross:

Therefore I love thy testimonies.

120 My flesh trembleth for fear of thee;
And I am afraid of thy judgements.

AIN.

121 I have done judgement and justice:
Leave me not to mine oppressors.

122 Be surety for thy servant for good:
Let not the proud oppress me.

123 Mine eyes fail for thy salvation,
And for thy righteous word.

124 Deal with thy servant according unto thy mercy,

And teach me thy statutes.

125 I am thy servant, give me understanding;

That I may know thy testimonies.

126 It is time for the LORD to work;
For they have made void thy law.

127 Therefore I love thy commandments
Above gold, yea, above fine gold.

128 Therefore I esteem all thy precepts concerning all things to be right;
And I hate every false way.

PE.

129 Thy testimonies are wonderful:
Therefore doth my soul keep them.

130 The opening of thy words giveth light;

It giveth understanding unto the simple.

131 I opened wide my mouth, and panted;

For I longed for thy commandments.

132 Turn thee unto me, and have mercy upon me,

As thou usest to do unto those that love thy name.

133 Order my footsteps in thy word;
And let not any iniquity have dominion over me.

134 Redeem me from the oppression of man:

So will I observe thy precepts.

135 Make thy face to shine upon thy servant;

And teach me thy statutes.

136 Mine eyes run down with rivers of water,

Because they observe not thy law.

Yet do not I forget thy precepts.
142 Thy righteousness is an everlasting righteousness,

¶ KOPH.

145 I have called with my whole heart;
answer me, O LORD:
I will keep thy statutes.
146 I have called unto thee; save me,
And I shall observe thy testimonies.
147 I prevented the dawning of the morning, and cried:
I hoped in thy words.
148 Mine eyes prevented the night
watches,
That I might meditate in thy word.
149 Hear my voice according unto thy lovingkindness:
Quicken me, O LORD, according to thy judgements.
150 They draw nigh that follow after wickedness:
They are far from thy law.
151 Thou art high, O LORD:
And all thy commandments are truth.
152 Of old have I known from thy testimonies,
That thou hast founded them for ever.

¶ RESH.

153 Consider mine affliction, and deliver me;
For I do not forget thy law.
154 Plead thou my cause, and redeem
me:
Quicken me according to thy word.
155 Salvation is far from the wicked;
For they seek not thy statutes.
156 Great are thy tender mercies, O
LORD:
Quicken me according to thy judgements.
157 Many are my persecutors and mine
adversaries:
Yet have I not swerved from thy testimonies.
158 I beheld the treacherous dealers,
and was grieved;
Because they observe not thy word.
159 Consider how I love thy precepts: Quicken me, O LORD, according to thy lovingkindness.
160 The sum of thy word is truth:
And every one of thy righteous judgements endureth for ever.

¶ SHIN.

161 Princes have persecuted me without a cause;

But my heart standeth in awe of thy words.
162 I rejoice at thy word,
As one that findeth great spoil.
163 I hate and abhor falsehood;
But thy law do I love.
164 Seven times a day do I praise
thee,
Because of thy righteous judge-
ments.
165 Great peace have they which love thy law;
And they have none occasion of stumbling.
166 I have hoped for thy salvation,
O LORD,
And have done thy commandments.
167 My soul hath observed thy testimonies;
And I love them exceedingly.
168 I have observed thy precepts and thy testimonies;
For all my ways are before thee.

¶ TAU.

169 Let my cry come near before thee,
O LORD:
Give me understanding according to thy word.
170 Let my supplication come before
thee:
Deliver me according to thy word.
171 Let my lips utter praise;
For thou teachest me thy sta-
tures.
172 Let my tongue sing of thy word;
For all thy commandments are righteousness.
173 Let thine hand be ready to help
me;
For I have chosen thy precepts.
174 I have longed for thy salvation,
O LORD;
And thy law is my delight.
175 Let my soul live, and it shall praise thee;
And let thy judgements help me.
176 I have gone astray like a lost sheep;
seek thy servant;
For I do not forget thy commandments.

1 In my distress I cried unto the LORD,
And he answered me.
2 Deliver my soul, O LORD, from lying
lips,
And from a deceitful tongue.
3 What shall be given unto thee, and what shall be done more unto
thee,

- 1 I was glad when they said unto me,
Let us go unto the house of the LORD.
2 Our feet are standing Within thy gates, O Jerusalem;
3 Jerusalem, that art builded
As a city that is compact together:
4 Whither the tribes go up, even the tribes of the LORD,
For a testimony unto Israel,
To give thanks unto the name of
the LORD.
5 For there are set thrones for judgement,
The thrones of the house of David.
6 Pray for the peace of Jerusalem:
They shall prosper that love thee.
7 Peace be within thy walls,
And prosperity within thy palaces.
8 For my brethren and companions'
sakes,
I will now say, Peace be within thee.
9 For the sake of the house of the LORD our God
I will seek thy good.

123 A Song of Ascents.

- 1 Unto thee do I lift up mine eyes,
O thou that sittest in the heavens.
2 Behold, as the eyes of servants look unto the hand of their master,
As the eyes of a maiden unto the hand of her mistress;
So our eyes look unto the LORD our
God,
Until he have mercy upon us.
3 Have mercy upon us, O LORD, have mercy upon us:
For we are exceedingly filled with contempt,
4 Our soul is exceedingly filled With the scorning of those that are at ease,
And with the contempt of the proud.

124 A Song of Ascents; of David.

- 1 If it had not been the LORD who
was on our side,
Let Israel now say;
2 If it had not been the LORD who
was on our side,
When men rose up against us:
3 Then they had swallowed us up alive,
When their wrath was kindled against us:
4 Then the waters had overwhelmed
us,
The stream had gone over our soul:
5 Then the proud waters had gone over our soul.
6 Blessed be the LORD,
Who hath not given us as a prey to their teeth.
7 Our soul is escaped as a bird out of the snare of the fowlers:
The snare is broken, and we are escaped.
8 Our help is in the name of the LORD,
Who made heaven and earth.

125 A Song of Ascents.

- 1 They that trust in the LORD
Are as mount Zion, which cannot be moved, but abideth for ever.
2 As the mountains are round about Jerusalem,
So the LORD is round about his
people,
From this time forth and for ever-
more.
3 For the sceptre of wickedness shall not rest upon the lot of the righteous:
That the righteous put not forth their hands unto iniquity.
4 Do good, O LORD, unto those that be good,
And to them that are upright in their hearts.
5 But as for such as turn aside unto their crooked ways,
The LORD shall lead them forth with the workers of iniquity.
Peace be upon Israel.

- 1 When the LORD turned again the

And our tongue with singing:
Then said they among the nations,
The LORD hath done great things

3 The LORD hath done great things
for us;
Whereof we are glad.
4 Turn again our captivity, O LORD,
As the streams in the South.

- 1 Except the LORD build the house,
They labour in vain that build it:
Except the LORD keep the city,

- 1 Many a time have they afflicted
me from my youth up,
Let Israel now say:
2 Many a time have they afflicted
me from my youth up:
Yet they have not prevailed against
me.
3 The plowers plowed upon my back;
They made long their furrows.
4 The LORD is righteous:
He hath cut asunder the cords of the wicked.
5 Let them be ashamed and turned backward,
All they that hate Zion.
6 Let them be as the grass upon the

130 A Song of Ascents.

- 1 Out of the depths have I cried unto thee, O LORD.
2 Lord, hear my voice:
Let thine ears be attentive
To the voice of my supplications.
3 If thou, O LORD, shouldst mark
iniquities,
O Lord, who shall stand?
4 But there is forgiveness with thee,
That thou mayest be feared.
5 I wait for the LORD, my soul doth wait,
And in his word do I hope.
6 My soul looketh for the LORD,
More than watchmen look for the morning;
Yea, more than watchmen for the

7 O Israel, hope in the LORD;

132 A Song of Ascents.

- 1 LORD, remember for David
All his affliction;
2 How he sware unto the LORD,
And vowed unto the Mighty One
of Jacob:
3 Surely I will not come into the <sup>9</sup> tabernacle of my house,
Nor go up into <sup>10</sup> my bed.
4 I will not give sleep to mine eyes,
Or slumber to mine eyelids.
5 Until I find out a place for the LORD,
<sup>11</sup> A tabernacle for the Mighty One
of Jacob.
6 Lo, we heard of it in <sup>12</sup> Ephraim:
We found it in the field of <sup>13</sup> the wood.
7 We will go into his tabernacles;
We will worship at his footstool.
8 Arise, O LORD, into thy resting place;
Thou, and the ark of thy strength.
9 Let thy priests be clothed with righteousness;
And let thy saints shout for joy.
10 For thy servant David's sake Turn not away the face of thine anointed.

- By the rivers of Babylon,
There we sat down, yea, we wept,
When we remembered Zion.
2 Upon the willows in the midst thereof
We hanged up our harps.
3 For there they that led us captive required of us <sup>2</sup>songs,
And <sup>3</sup>they that wasted us required
of us mirth, saying,
Sing us one of the songs of Zion.
4 How shall we sing the LORD's song in a strange land?
5 If I forget thee, O Jerusalem,
Let my right hand forget her cunning.
6 Let my tongue cleave to the roof of my mouth,
If I remember thee not;
If I prefer not Jerusalem
Above my chief joy.
7 Remember, O LORD, against the children of Edom
The day of Jerusalem;

- Who said, Rase it, rase it,
Even to the foundation thereof.
8 O daughter of Babylon, <sup>4</sup>that art to be destroyed:
Happy shall he be, that rewardeth thee
As thou hast served us.
9 Happy shall he be, that taketh and dasheth thy little ones Against the rock.

A Psalm of David.

- 1 I will give thee thanks with my whole heart:
Before the gods will I sing praises unto thee.
2 I will worship toward thy holy temple,
And give thanks unto thy name for thy lovingkindness and for thy truth:
For thou hast magnified thy word above all thy name.
3 In the day that I called thou answeredst me,
Thou didst encourage me with strength in my soul.
4 All the kings of the earth shall give thee thanks, O LORD,
For they have heard the words of thy mouth.
5 Yea, they shall sing of the ways of the LORD:
For great is the glory of the LORD.
6 For though the LORD be high, yet hath he respect unto the lowly:
But the haughty he knoweth from afar.
7 Though I walk in the midst of trouble, thou wilt revive me;
Thou shalt stretch forth thine hand against the wrath of mine enemies,
And thy right hand shall save me.
8 The LORD will perfect that which concerneth me:
Thy mercy, O LORD, endureth for ever;
Forsake not the works of thine own hands.

139 For the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David.

- 1 O LORD, thou hast searched me, and known me.
2 Thou knowest my downsitting and mine uprising,
Thou understandest my thought afar off.
3 Thou <sup>5</sup>searchest out my path and my lying down,
And art acquainted with all my ways.
4 For there is not a word in my tongue,
But, lo, O LORD, thou knowest it altogether.
5 Thou hast beset me behind and before,
And laid thine hand upon me.
6 Such knowledge is too wonderful for me:
It is high, I cannot attain unto it.
7 Whither shall I go from thy spirit?
Or whither shall I flee from thy presence?

4 Or, that art laid waste

5 Or, unknownest

	8 If I ascend up into heaven, thou art there: If I make my bed in Sheol, behold, thou art there.	3 They have sharpened their tongue like a serpent; Adders' poison is under their lips. [Selah]
1 Or, cover	9 If I take the wings of the morning, And dwell in the uttermost parts of the sea;	4 Keep me, O LORD, from the hands of the wicked; Preserve me from the violent man: Who have purposed to thrust aside my steps.
2 Or, Then the night shall be light about me	10 Even there shall thy hand lead me, And thy right hand shall hold me.	5 The proud have hid a snare for me, and cords; They have spread a net by the way side; They have set gins for me. [Selah]
3 Or, formed	11 If I say, Surely the darkness shall overwhelm me, 2 And the light about me shall be night;	6 I said unto the LORD, Thou art my God: Give ear unto the voice of my supplications, O LORD.
4 Or, knit me together	12 Even the darkness hideth not from thee, But the night shineth as the day: The darkness and the light are both alike to thee.	7 O God the LORD, the strength of my salvation, Thou hast covered my head in the day of battle.
	13 For thou hast 3 possessed my reins: Thou hast 4 covered me in my mother's womb.	8 Grant not, O LORD, the desires of the wicked; Further not his evil device; lest they exalt themselves. [Selah]
	14 I will give thanks unto thee; for I am fearfully and wonderfully made: Wonderful are thy works: And that my soul knoweth right well.	9 As for the head of those that compass me about, Let the mischief of their own lips cover them.
5 Or, they were all written, even the days that were ordained	15 My frame was not hidden from thee, When I was made in secret, And curiously wrought in the lowest parts of the earth.	10 Let burning coals fall upon them: Let them be cast into the fire; Into 12 deep pits, that they rise not up again.
	16 Thine eyes did see mine unperfect substance, And in thy book 5 were all my members written, Which day by day were fashioned, When as yet there was none of them.	11 13 An evil speaker shall not be established in the earth: Evil shall hunt the violent man to overthrow him.
6 Or, Oh that thou wouldst slay	17 How precious also are thy thoughts unto me, O God! How great is the sum of them!	12 I know that the LORD will maintain the cause of the afflicted, And the right of the needy.
7 Or, utter thy name (Heb. thee) Or, as otherwise read, rebel against thee	18 If I should count them, they are more in number than the sand: When I awake, I am still with thee.	13 Surely the righteous shall give thanks unto thy name: The upright shall dwell in thy presence.
8 Or, lift themselves up against thee for vanity	19 6 Surely thou wilt slay the wicked, O God: Depart from me therefore, ye blood-thirsty men.
9 Or, do not I hate	20 For they 7 speak against thee wickedly. And thine enemies 8 take thy name in vain.	141 A Psalm of David.
10 Or, grief	21 Do not I hate them, O LORD, that hate thee? And 9 am not I grieved with those that rise up against thee?	1 LORD, I have called upon thee; make haste unto me: Give ear unto my voice, when I call unto thee.
11 Or, stir up wars	22 I hate them with perfect hatred: I count them mine enemies.	2 Let my prayer be set forth as incense before thee; The lifting up of my hands as the evening 14 sacrifice.
	23 Search me, O God, and know my heart: Try me, and know my thoughts:	3 Set a watch, O LORD, before my mouth; Keep the door of my lips.
	24 And see if there be any way of 10 wickedness in me, And lead me in the way everlasting.	4 Incline not my heart to any evil thing, To be occupied in deeds of wickedness With men that work iniquity: And let me not eat of their dainties.
	140 For the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David.	5 Let the righteous smite me, it shall be a kindness; And let him reprove me, it shall be as oil upon the head; Let not my head refuse it: 15 For even in their 16 wickedness shall my prayer continue.
	1 Deliver me, O LORD, from the evil man: Preserve me from the violent man:	6 Their judges are thrown down by the sides of the rock;
	2 Which imagine mischiefs in their heart; Continually do they 11 gather themselves together for war.

9 Keep me from the snare which they have laid for me,

And from the gins of the workers of iniquity.

142 Masehil of David, when he was in the cave; a Prayer.

1 I cry with my voice unto the LORD:

With my voice unto the LORD do I make supplication.

2 I pour out my complaint before him;

I shew before him my trouble.

3 When my prayer 5 was overwhelmed within me, thou knewest my path.

In the way wherein I walk have they hidden a snare for me.

4 6 Look on my right hand, and see; for there is no man that knoweth me:

Refuge hath failed me; no man careth for my soul.

5 I cried unto thee, O LORD;

I said, Thou art my refuge.

My portion in the land of the living.

6 Attend unto my cry; for I am brought very low:

Deliver me from my persecutors; for they are stronger than I.

7 Bring my soul out of prison, that I may give thanks unto thy name:

The righteous shall 7 compass me about;

For thou shalt deal bountifully with me.

143 A Psalm of David.

1 Hear my prayer, O LORD; give ear to my supplications:

In thy faithfulness answer me, and in thy righteousness.

2 And enter not into judgement with thy servant;

For in thy sight shall no man living be justified.

3 For the enemy hath persecuted my soul;

He hath smitten my life down to the ground:

He hath made me to dwell in dark places, as those that have been long dead.

4 Therefore 8 is my spirit overwhelmed within me;

My heart within me is desolate.

5 I remember the days of old;

I meditate on all thy doings;

I muse on the work of thy hands.

6 I spread forth my hands unto thee.

My soul thirsteth after thee, as a weary land.

7 Make haste to answer me, O LORD;

my spirit faileth:

Hide not thy face from me;

Lest I become like them that go down into the pit.

8 Cause me to hear thy lovingkindness in the morning;

For in thee do I trust:

Cause me to know the way wherein I should walk;

For I lift up my soul unto thee.

9 Deliver me, O LORD, from mine enemies:

11 I flee unto thee to hide me.

10 Teach me to do thy will; for thou art my God:

12 Thy spirit is good; lead me in 11 the land of uprightness.

11 Quicken me, O LORD, for thy name's sake:

In thy righteousness bring my soul out of trouble.

12 And in thy lovingkindness cut off mine enemies,

And destroy all them that afflict my soul:

For I am thy servant.

144 A Psalm of David.

1 Blessed be the LORD my rock,

Which teacheth my hands to war,

And my fingers to fight:

2 My lovingkindness, and my fortress,

My high tower, and my deliverer;

My shield, and he in whom I trust;

Who subdueth my people under me.

3 LORD, what is man, that thou takest knowledge of him?

Or the son of man, that thou makest account of him?

4 Man is like to 12 vanity:

His days are as a shadow that passeth away.

5 Bow thy heavens, O LORD, and come down:

Touch the mountains, and they shall smoke.

6 Cast forth lightning, and scatter them;

Send out thine arrows, and discomfit them.

7 Stretch forth thine hand from above;

Rescue me, and deliver me out of great waters,

8 Whose mouth speaketh vanity,

And their right hand is a right hand of falsehood.

9 I will sing a new song unto thee, O God:

Upon a psaltery of ten strings will I sing praises unto thee.

10 It is he that giveth salvation unto kings:

Who rescueth David his servant from the hurtful sword.

11 Rescue me, and deliver me out of the hand of strangers,

Whose mouth 8, speaketh vanity,

And their right hand is a right hand of falsehood.

2 Every day will I bless thee;
And I will praise thy name for ever and ever.
3 Great is the LORD, and highly to be praised;
And his greatness is unsearchable.
4 One generation shall laud thy works to another,
And shall declare thy mighty acts.
5 Of the glorious majesty of thine

And of thy wondrous works, will I

6 And men shall speak of the might

And I will declare thy greatness.
7 They shall utter the memory of thy great goodness,
And shall sing of thy righteousness.
8 The LORD is gracious, and full of compassion;
Slow to anger, and of great mercy.
9 The LORD is good to all;
And his tender mercies are over all his works.
10 All thy works shall give thanks unto thee, O LORD;
And thy saints shall bless thee.
11 They shall speak of the glory of thy kingdom,
And talk of thy power;
12 To make known to the sons of men
his mighty acts,
And the glory of the majesty of his kingdom.
13 Thy kingdom is an everlasting king-

THE PROVERBS.

1 THE proverbs of Solomon the son of David, king of Israel:

2 To know wisdom and instruction;
To discern the words of understanding;

3 To receive instruction in wise dealing,
In righteousness and judgement and equity;

4 To give <sup>1</sup>subtily to the simple,
To the young man knowledge and discretion:

5 That the wise man may hear, and increase in learning;
And that the man of understanding may attain unto sound counsels:

6 To understand a proverb, and <sup>2</sup>a figure;
The words of the wise, and their <sup>3</sup>dark sayings.

7 The fear of the LORD is the <sup>4</sup>beginning of knowledge:
But the foolish despise wisdom and instruction.

8 My son, hear the instruction of thy father,
And forsake not the <sup>5</sup>law of thy mother:

9 For they shall be a chaplet of grace unto thy head,
And chains about thy neck.

10 My son, if sinners entice thee,
Consent thou not.

11 If they say, Come with us,
Let us lay wait for blood.
Let us lurk privily for the innocent without cause;

12 Let us swallow them up alive as <sup>6</sup>Sheol.

13 And whole, as those that go down into the pit;

14 We shall find all precious substance,
We shall fill our houses with spoil;

15 <sup>8</sup>Thou shalt cast thy lot among us;
We will all have one purse:

16 My son, walk not thou in the way with them;

17 Refrain thy foot from their path:
For their feet run to evil,
And they make haste to shed blood.

18 In the eyes of any bird;

19 And these lay wait for their own blood,
They lurk privily for their own lives.

20 So are the ways of every one that is greedy of gain;
It taketh away the life of the owners thereof.

21 Wisdom crieth aloud in the street;
She uttereth her voice in the broad places;

22 She crieth <sup>10</sup>in the chief place of concourse;

At the entering in of the gates.

In the city, she uttereth her words:
22 How long, ye simple ones, will ye love simplicity?

And scorners delight them in scorn-
ing,

23 And fools hate knowledge?
Turn you at my reproof:

Behold, I will pour out my spirit unto you,

I will make known my words unto you.

24 Because I have called, and ye refused;

I have stretched out my hand, and no man regarded;

25 But ye have set at nought all my counsel,

And would none of my reproof;

26 I also will laugh in the day of your calamity;

I will mock when your fear cometh;

27 When your fear cometh as <sup>11</sup>a storm,
And your calamity cometh on as a whirlwind;

When distress and anguish come upon you.

28 Then shall they call upon me, but I will not answer;

They shall seek me <sup>12</sup>diligently, but they shall not find me:

29 For that they hated knowledge,
And did not choose the fear of the LORD:

30 They would none of my counsel;
They despised all my reproof:

31 Therefore shall they eat of the fruit of their own way,

And be filled with their own devices.

32 For the backsliding of the simple shall slay them,

And the <sup>13</sup>prosperity of fools shall destroy them.

33 But whoso hearkeneth unto me shall dwell securely,

And shall be quiet without fear of evil.

2 My son, if thou wilt receive my words,

And lay up my commandments with
thee;

2 So that thou incline thine ear unto wisdom,

And apply thine heart to understanding;

3 Yea, if thou cry after discernment,
And lift up thy voice for understanding;

4 If thou seek her as silver,
And search for her as for hid treasures;

5 Then shalt thou understand the fear
of the LORD,

And find the knowledge of God.

	Out of his mouth cometh knowledge and understanding: 7 He layeth up sound wisdom for the upright, 1 He is a shield to them that walk in integrity; 8 That he may guard the paths of judgement, 9 And preserve the way of his saints. 9 Then shalt thou understand righteousness and judgement. And equity, yea, every good path. 10 For wisdom shall enter into thine heart, And knowledge shall be pleasant unto thy soul; 11 Discretion shall watch over thee, Understanding shall keep thee: 12 To deliver thee from the way of <sup>4</sup> evil, From the men that speak froward things; 13 Who forsake the paths of uprightness, To walk in the ways of darkness; 14 Who rejoice to do evil, And delight in the frowardness of <sup>4</sup> evil; 15 Who are crooked in their ways, And perverse in their paths: 16 To deliver thee from the strange woman, Even from the stranger which <sup>5</sup> flattereth with her words; 17 Which forsaketh the <sup>6</sup> friend of her youth, And forgetteth the covenant of her God: 18 For <sup>7</sup> her house inclineth unto death, And her paths unto <sup>8</sup> the dead: 19 None that go unto her return again, Neither do they attain unto the paths of life: 20 That thou mayest walk in the way of good men, And keep the paths of the righteous. 21 For the upright shall dwell in the <sup>9</sup> land, And the perfect shall remain in it. 22 But the wicked shall be cut off from the <sup>9</sup> land, And they that deal treacherously shall be rooted out of it.	7 Be not wise in thine own eyes; Fear the LORD, and depart from evil: 8 It shall be health to thy navel, And <sup>14</sup> marrow to thy bones. 9 Honour the LORD with thy substance, And with the firstfruits of all thine increase: 10 So shall thy barns be filled with plenty, And thy fats shall overflow with new wine. 11 My son, despise not the <sup>15</sup> chastening of the LORD; Neither be weary of his reproof: 12 For whom the LORD loveth he reproveth; Even as a father the son in whom he delighteth. 13 Happy is the man that findeth wisdom, And the man that <sup>16</sup> getteth understanding. 14 For the merchandise of it is better than the merchandise of silver, And the gain thereof than fine gold. 15 <sup>17</sup> He is more precious than rubies: And none of the things thou canst desire are to be compared unto her. 16 Length of days is in her right hand; In her left hand are riches and honour. 17 Her ways are ways of pleasantness, And all her paths are peace. 18 She is a tree of life to them that lay hold upon her: And happy is every one that retaineth her. 19 The LORD by wisdom founded the earth; By understanding he established the heavens. 20 By his knowledge the depths were broken up, And the skies drop down the dew. 21 My son, let not them depart from thine eyes; Keep sound wisdom and discretion: 22 So shall they be life unto thy soul, And grace to thy neck. 23 Then shalt thou walk in thy way securely, And <sup>18</sup> thy foot shall not stumble. 24 When thou liest down, thou shalt not be afraid: Yea, thou shalt lie down, and thy sleep shall be sweet. 25 Be not afraid of sudden fear, Neither of the <sup>19</sup> desolation of the wicked, when it cometh: 26 For the LORD shall be thy confidence, And shall keep thy foot from being taken. 27 Withhold not good from them to whom it is due, When it is in the power of thine hand to do it. 28 Say not unto thy neighbour, Go, and come again, And to-morrow I will give; When thou hast it by thee.	14 Or, refreshing Heb. moistening. 15 Or, instruction 16 Heb. draweth forth. 17 See Job xxviii. 18.

- 29 Devise not evil against thy neighbour,
Seeing he dwelleth securely by thee.
30 Strive not with a man without cause,
If he have done thee no harm.
31 Envy thou not the man of violence,
And choose none of his ways.
32 For the perverse is an abomination to the LORD:
But his <sup>1</sup> secret is with the upright.
33 The curse of the LORD is in the house of the wicked:
But he blesseth the habitation of the righteous.
34 Surely he scorneth the scornors,
<sup>3</sup> But he giveth grace unto the lowly.
35 The wise shall inherit glory;
But <sup>4</sup> shame shall be the promotion of fools.
- 4 Hear, my sons, the instruction of a father,
And attend to know understanding:
2 For I give you good doctrine;
Forsake ye not my <sup>5</sup> law.
3 For I was a son unto my father,
Tender and <sup>6</sup> only beloved in the sight of my mother.
4 And he taught me, and said unto me,
Let thine heart retain my words;
Keep my commandments, and live:
5 Get wisdom, get understanding;
Forget it not, neither decline from the words of my mouth:
6 Forsake her not, and she shall preserve thee;
Love her, and she shall keep thee.
7 <sup>7</sup> Wisdom is the principal thing;
therefore get wisdom:
Yea, with all thou hast gotten get understanding.
8 Exalt her, and she shall promote thee:
She shall bring thee to honour, when thou dost embrace her.
9 She shall give to thine head a chaplet of grace:
A crown of <sup>8</sup> beauty shall she deliver to thee.
- 10 Hear, O my son, and receive my sayings;
And the years of thy life shall be many.
11 I have taught thee in the way of wisdom;
I have led thee in paths of uprightness.
12 When thou goest, thy steps shall not be straitened;
And if thou runnest, thou shalt not stumble.
13 Take fast hold of instruction; let her not go:
Keep her; for she is thy life.
14 Enter not into the path of the wicked,
And walk not in the way of evil men.
15 Avoid it, pass not by it;
Turn from it, and pass on.
16 For they sleep not, except they have done mischief;
And their sleep is taken away, unless they cause some to fall.
17 For they eat the bread of wickedness,

- And drink the wine of violence.
18 But the path of the righteous is as <sup>9</sup> the shining light,
That shineth more and more unto the perfect day.
19 The way of the wicked is as darkness:
They know not at what they stumble.
- 20 My son, attend to my words;
Incline thine ear unto my sayings.
21 Let them not depart from thine eyes;
Keep them in the midst of thine heart.
22 For they are life unto those that find them,
And health to all their flesh.
23 Keep thy heart <sup>10</sup> with all diligence;
For out of it are the issues of life.
24 Put away from thee a froward mouth,
And perverse lips put far from thee.
25 Let thine eyes look right on,
And let thine eyelids look straight before thee.
26 <sup>11</sup> Make level the path of thy feet,
And let all thy ways be <sup>12</sup> established.
27 Turn not to the right hand nor to the left:
Remove thy foot from evil.
- 5 My son, attend unto my wisdom:
Incline thine ear to my understanding:
2 That thou mayest preserve discretion,
And that thy lips may keep knowledge.
3 For the lips of a strange woman drop honey,
And her mouth is smoother than oil:
4 But her latter end is bitter as wormwood,
Sharp as a two-edged sword.
5 Her feet go down to death;
Her steps take hold on <sup>13</sup> Sheol:
6 <sup>14</sup> So that she findeth not the level path of life:
Her ways are unstable and <sup>15</sup> she knoweth it not.
7 Now therefore, my sons, hearken unto me,
And depart not from the words of my mouth.
8 Remove thy way far from her,
And come not nigh the door of her house:
9 Lest thou give thine honour unto others,
And thy years unto the cruel:
10 Lest strangers be filled with thy <sup>16</sup> strength;
And thy labours be in the house of an alien:
11 And thou <sup>17</sup> mourn at thy latter end,
When thy flesh and thy body are consumed.
12 And say, How have I hated instruction,
And my heart despised reproof;

	20 For why shouldest thou, my son, <sup>2</sup> be ravished with a strange woman, And embrace the bosom of a stranger?	20 My son, keep the commandment of thy father, And forsake not the <sup>16</sup> law of thy mother:	16 Or, teaching

	3 Do this now, my son, and deliver thyself, Seeing thou art come into the hand of thy neighbour;	25 Lust not after her beauty in thine heart; Neither let her take thee with her eyelids.	20 Or, a man's wife.
5 Or, bestir	Go, <sup>6</sup> humble thyself, and importune thy neighbour.	26 For on account of a whorish woman a man is brought to a piece of bread: And <sup>20</sup> the adulteress hunteth for the precious life.
6 Or, gaze	4 Give not sleep to thine eyes, Nor slumber to thine eyelids.	27 Can a man take fire in his bosom, And his clothes not be burned?	20 Heb. a man's wife.
	6 Deliver thyself as a <sup>6</sup> roe from the hand of the hunter, And as a bird from the hand of the fowler.	28 Or can one walk up on hot coals, And his feet not be scorched?
	6 Go to the ant, thou slugard; Consider her ways, and be wise:	29 So he that goeth in to his neighbour's wife; Whosoever toucheth her shall not be <sup>21</sup> unpunished.	21 Heb. held innocent.
7 Or, judge	7 Which having no <sup>7</sup> chief, Overseer, or ruler,	30 Men do not despise a thief, if he steal To satisfy his soul when he is hungry:
	8 Provide her meat in the summer, And gathereth her food in the harvest.	31 But if he be found, he shall restore sevenfold; He shall give all the substance of his house.
8 Heb. lie down.	9 How long wilt thou <sup>8</sup> sleep, O slugard? When wilt thou arise out of thy sleep?	32 He that committeth adultery with a woman is void of <sup>22</sup> understanding: He doeth it that would destroy his own soul.	22 Heb. heart.
	10 Yea a little sleep, a little slumber, A little folding of the hands to <sup>8</sup> sleep:	33 Wounds and dishonour shall he get; And his reproach shall not be wiped away.
9 Or, rove	11 So shall thy poverty come as a <sup>9</sup> robber, And thy want as <sup>10</sup> an armed man.	34 For jealousy is the rage of a man;
10 Heb. a man with a shield.	12 A worthless person, a man of iniquity; He walketh with a froward mouth;

	And he will not spare in the day of vengeance.	As a bird hasteth to the snare, And knoweth not that it is for his life.
	35 He will not regard any ransom ; Neither will he rest content, though thou givest many gifts.	24 Now therefore, my sons, hearken unto me, And attend to the words of my mouth.
1 Or, teaching	7 My son, keep my words, And lay up my commandments with thee.	25 Let not thine heart decline to her ways, Go not astray in her paths.

	5 That they may keep thee from the strange woman, <sup>1</sup> From the stranger which <sup>3</sup> flattereth with her words.	2 In the top of high places by the way, Where the paths meet, she standeth ;
3 Heb. maketh smooth her words,	6 For at the window of my house I looked forth through my lattice ;	3 Beside the gates, at the entry of the city, At the coming in at the doors, she crieth aloud :

- 23 I was set up from everlasting, from the beginning,
Or ever the earth was.
- 24 When there were no depths, I was brought forth;
When there were no fountains abounding with water.
- 25 Before the mountains were settled,
Before the hills was I brought forth:
- 26 While as yet he had not made the earth, nor the fields,
Nor the <sup>5</sup> beginning of the dust of the world.

- When he set a circle upon the face of the deep:
- 28 When he made firm the skies above:
When the fountains of the deep became strong:
- 7 Or, his decree
- 29 When he gave to the sea <sup>7</sup> its bound,
That the waters should not transgress his commandment:
- 8 Or, appointed
- When he <sup>8</sup> marked out the foundations of the earth:
- 30 Then I was by him, as a master workman:
And I <sup>9</sup> was daily his delight.
- 9 Or, had delight continually

- 10 Or, Sporting
- 31 <sup>10</sup> Rejoicing in his habitable earth;
And my delight was with the sons of men.
- 32 Now therefore, my sons, hearken unto me:
For blessed are they that keep my ways.
- 33 Hear instruction, and be wise,
And refuse it not.
- 34 Blessed is the man that heareth me,
Watching daily at my gates,
Waiting at the posts of my doors.
- 35 For whoso findeth me findeth life,
And shall <sup>11</sup> obtain favour of the Lord.
- 11 Heb. draw forth.
- 36 But he that <sup>12</sup> sinneth against me wrongeth his own soul:
All they that hate me love death.
- 9 Wisdom hath builded her house,
She hath hewn out her seven pillars:
- 2 She hath killed her beasts; she hath mingled her wine:
She hath also furnished her table.
- 3 She hath sent forth her maidens,
she crieth
Upon the highest places of the city.
- 4 Whoso is simple, let him turn in hither:
As for him that is void of understanding, she saith to him,
- 5 Come, eat ye of my bread,
And drink of the wine which I have mingled.
- 6 <sup>13</sup> Leave off, ye simple ones, and live:
And walk in the way of understanding.
- 7 He that correcteth a scorner getteth to himself shame:
And he that reproveth a wicked man getteth himself a blot.
- 8 Reprove not a scorner, lest he hate thee:
Reprove a wise man, and he will love thee.
- 9 Give instruction to a wise man, and he will be yet wiser:
Teach a righteous man, and he will increase in learning.
- 10 The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom:
And the knowledge of the Holy One is understanding.
- 11 For by me thy days shall be multiplied,
And the years of thy life shall be increased.
- 12 If thou art wise, thou art wise for thyself:
And if thou scornest, thou alone shalt bear it.
- 13 <sup>14</sup> The foolish woman is clamorous;
She is <sup>15</sup> simple, and knoweth nothing.
- 14 And she sitteth at the door of her house,
On a seat in the high places of the city.
- 15 To call to them that pass by,
Who go right on their ways,
- 16 Whoso is simple, let him turn in hither:
And as for him that is void of understanding, she saith to him,
- 17 Stolen waters are sweet,
And bread eaten in secret is pleasant.
- 18 But he knoweth not that <sup>16</sup> the dead are there:
That her guests are in the depths of Sheol.

- 10 The proverbs of Solomon.
- A wise son maketh a glad father:
But a foolish son is the heaviness of his mother.
- 2 Treasures of wickedness profit nothing:
But righteousness delivereth from death.
- 3 The Lord will not suffer the soul of the righteous to famish:
But he thrusteth away the desire of the wicked.
- 4 He becometh poor that dealeth with a slack hand:
But the hand of the diligent maketh rich.
- 5 He that gathereth in summer is <sup>17</sup> a wise son:
But he that sleepeth in harvest is a son <sup>18</sup> that causeth shame.
- 6 Blessings are upon the head of the righteous:
But <sup>19</sup> violence covereth the mouth of the wicked.
- 7 The memory of the just is blessed:
But the name of the wicked shall rot.
- 17 Or, a son that doth doth
18 Or, that doth shamefully

	8 The wise in heart will receive commandments: But <sup>1</sup> a prating fool <sup>2</sup> shall fall.	28 The hope of the righteous shall be gladness: But the expectation of the wicked shall perish.
1 Heb. the foolish of lips.	9 He that walketh uprightly walketh surely: But he that perverteth his ways shall be known.	29 The way of the LORD is a strong hold to the upright; But <sup>14</sup> it is a destruction to the workers of iniquity.	14 Or, destruction shall be to &c.
2 Or, shall be overthrown or laid low	10 He that winketh with the eye causeth sorrow: <sup>3</sup> But <sup>1</sup> a prating fool <sup>2</sup> shall fall.	30 The righteous shall never be removed: But the wicked shall not dwell in the <sup>15</sup> land.	15 Or, earth

	14 Wise men lay up knowledge: But the mouth of the foolish is a present destruction.	2 When pride cometh, then cometh shame: But with the lowly is wisdom.
	15 The rich man's wealth is his strong city: The destruction of the poor is their poverty.	3 The integrity of the upright shall guide them: But the perverseness of the treacherous shall destroy them.
	16 The labour of the righteous tendeth to life: The increase of the wicked to sin.	4 Riches profit not in the day of wrath: But righteousness delivereth from death.
6 Or, is a way	17 He <sup>6</sup> is in the way of life that heedeth <sup>7</sup> correction: But he that forsaketh reproof <sup>8</sup> erreth.	5 The righteousness of the perfect shall <sup>19</sup> direct his way: But the wicked shall fall by his own wickedness.	19 Or, make straight or plain
7 Or, instruction	18 He that hideth hatred is of lying lips: And he that uttereth a slander is a fool.	6 The righteousness of the upright shall deliver them: But they that deal treacherously shall be taken in their own mischief.
8 Or, causeth to err	19 In the multitude of words there wanteth not transgression: But he that refraineth his lips <sup>9</sup> doeth wisely.	7 When a wicked man dieth, his expectation shall perish: And the hope of <sup>20</sup> iniquity perisheth.	20 Or, strong men
9 Or, is wise	20 The tongue of the righteous is as choice silver: The heart of the wicked is little worth.	8 The righteous is delivered out of trouble, And the wicked cometh in his stead.
	21 The lips of the righteous feed many: But the foolish die for lack of <sup>5</sup> understanding.	9 With his mouth the godless man destroyeth his neighbour: But through knowledge shall the righteous be delivered.
10 Or, toil addeth nothing thereto	22 The blessing of the LORD, it maketh rich, And <sup>10</sup> he addeth no sorrow therewith.	10 When it goeth well with the righteous, the city rejoiceth: And when the wicked perish, there is shouting.
11 Or, But a man of understanding hath wisdom	23 It is as sport to a fool to do wickedness: <sup>11</sup> And so is wisdom to a man of understanding.	11 By the blessing of the upright the city is exalted: But it is overthrown by the mouth of the wicked.
12 Or, As the whirlwind passeth, so is the wicked no more	24 The fear of the wicked, it shall come upon him: And the desire of the righteous shall be granted.	12 He that despiseth his neighbour is void of <sup>6</sup> wisdom: But a man of understanding holdeth his peace.
13 Heb. addeth.	25 <sup>12</sup> When the whirlwind passeth, the wicked is no more: But the righteous is an everlasting foundation.	13 He that goeth about as a talebearer revealeth secrets: But he that is of a faithful spirit concealeth the matter.
	26 As vinegar to the teeth, and as smoke to the eyes, So is the sluggard to them that send him.	14 Where no wise guidance is, the people falter: But in the multitude of counsellors there is safety.
	27 The fear of the LORD <sup>13</sup> prolongeth days: But the years of the wicked shall be shortened.

16 A gracious woman retaineth hon-

And violent men retain riches.
17 The merciful man doeth good to his own soul:
But he that is cruel troubleth his own flesh.
18 The wicked earneth deceitful wages:
But he that soweth righteousness hath a sure reward.
19 <sup>3</sup>He that is stedfast in righteousness shall attain unto life:
And he that pursueth evil doeth it to his own death.
20 They that are perverse in heart are an abomination to the Lord:
But such as are perfect in their way are his delight.
21 <sup>4</sup>Though hand join in hand, the evil man shall not be unpunished:
But the seed of the righteous shall be delivered.
22 As a <sup>5</sup>jewel of gold in a swine's snout,
So is a fair woman which <sup>6</sup>is with-

23 The desire of the righteous is only good:
But the expectation of the wicked is <sup>7</sup>wrath.
24 There is that scattereth, and increaseth
yet more:
And there is that withholdeth <sup>8</sup>more than is meet, but it tendeth only to want.
25 The liberal soul shall be made fat:
And he that watereth shall be watered also himself.
26 He that withholdeth corn, the people shall curse him:
But blessing shall be upon the head of him that selleth it.
27 He that diligently seeketh good seeketh favour:
But he that searcheth after mis-

28 He that trusteth in his riches shall fall:
But the righteous shall flourish as the green leaf.
29 He that troubleth his own house shall inherit the wind:
And the foolish shall be servant to the wise of heart.
30 The fruit of the righteous is a tree of life:
And he that is wise winneth souls.
31 Behold, the righteous shall be recompensed in the earth:
How much more the wicked and the sinner!

12 Whoso loveth <sup>9</sup>correction loveth
knowledge:
But he that hateth reproof is brutish.
2 A good man shall obtain favour of
the Lord:
But a man of wicked devices will he condemn.
3 A man shall not be established by wickedness:

But the root of the righteous shall never be moved.
4 A virtuous woman is a crown to her husband:
But she that <sup>10</sup>maketh ashamed is as rottenness in his bones.
5 The thoughts of the righteous are just:
But the counsels of the wicked are deceit.
6 The words of the wicked <sup>12</sup>are of lying in wait for blood:
But the mouth of the upright shall deliver them.
7 <sup>13</sup>The wicked are overthrown, and are not:
But the house of the righteous shall stand.
8 A man shall be commended according to his wisdom:
But he that is of a perverse heart
shall be despised.
9 Better is he that is lightly esteemed,
and hath a servant,
Than he that honoureth himself,
and lacketh bread.
10 A righteous man regardeth the life of his beast:
But the tender mercies of the wicked are cruel.
11 He that tilleth his land shall have plenty of bread:
But he that followeth after <sup>14</sup>vain persons is void of understand-

12 The wicked desireth <sup>15</sup>the net of evil
men:
But the root of the righteous yieldeth

his own eyes:
But he that is wise hearkeneth unto

But a false witness deceit.
18 There is that speaketh rashly like the piercings of a saw:
But the tongue of the wise is health.
19 The lip of truth shall be established
for ever:
But a lying tongue is but for a moment.
20 Deceit is in the heart of them that devise evil:
But to the counsellors of peace is joy.
21 There shall no mischief happen to
the righteous:
But the wicked shall be filled with

	24 The hand of the diligent shall bear rule:	17 A wicked messenger falleth into evil:
1 Heb. slothfulness.	But <sup>1</sup> the slothful shall be put under taskwork.	But a faithful ambassador is health.

	26 The righteous is a guide to his neighbour:	19 The desire accomplished is sweet to the soul:
	But the way of the wicked causeth them to err.	But it is an abomination to fools to depart from evil.
3 Or, catcheth not his prey	27 <sup>1</sup> The slothful man <sup>3</sup> roasteth not that which he took in hunting:	20 Walk with wise men, and thou shalt be wise:	20 According to another reading. He that walketh with wise men shall be wise.
4 Or, is to be diligent	But the precious substance of men <sup>4</sup> is to the diligent.	But the companion of fools shall <sup>21</sup> smart for it.	21 Heb. be broken.

	13A wise son heareth his father's <sup>5</sup> instruction:	But the righteous shall be recompensed with good.
6 Or, from	But a scorners heareth not rebuke.	22 A good man leaveth an inheritance to his children's children;
7 Or, the desire of the treacherous is for violence	2 A man shall eat good <sup>6</sup> by the fruit of his mouth:	And the wealth of the sinner is laid up for the righteous.
	But <sup>7</sup> the soul of the treacherous shall eat violence .	23 Much food is in the <sup>22</sup> tillage of the poor:
	3 He that guardeth his mouth keepeth his life:	But there is that is destroyed by reason of injustice.
	But he that openeth wide his lips shall have destruction.	24 He that spareth his rod hateth his son:
	4 The soul of the sluggard desireth, and hath nothing:	But he that loveth him chasteneth him <sup>23</sup> betimes.
	But the soul of the diligent shall be made fat.	25 The righteous eateth to the satisfying of his soul:	23 Or, diligently
	5 A righteous man hateth lying:	But the belly of the wicked shall want.
8 Or, causeth shame and bringeth reproach	But a wicked man <sup>8</sup> is loathsome, and cometh to shame.	14 Every wise woman buildeth her house:	24 Heb. folly.
9 Heb. uprightness of way.	6 Righteousness guardeth <sup>9</sup> him that is upright in the way:	But <sup>24</sup> the foolish plucketh it down with her own hands.
10 Heb. sin.	But wickedness overthroweth <sup>10</sup> the sinner.	2 He that walketh in his uprightness feareth the LORD:
11 Or, feigneth	7 There is that <sup>11</sup> maketh himself rich, yet hath nothing:	But he that is perverse in his ways despiseth him.
12 Or, rebuke	There is that <sup>11</sup> maketh himself poor, yet hath great wealth.	3 In the mouth of the foolish is a <sup>25</sup> rod <sup>26</sup> of pride:	25 Or, shoot

15 See ch. xvi. 20.	9 The light of the righteous rejoiceth:	But much increase is by the strength of the ox.
16 Or, maketh himself a delator thereto	But the lamp of the wicked shall be put out.	5 A faithful witness will not lie:
17 Or, teaching	10 By pride cometh only contention:	But a false witness <sup>27</sup> uttereth lies.	27 Heb. breatheth out.
18 Or, getteth	But with the well advised is wisdom.	6 A scorner seeketh wisdom, and findeth it not:

	But he that feareth the commandment shall be rewarded.	9 <sup>29</sup> The foolish make a mock at <sup>30</sup> guilt:
	14 The <sup>17</sup> law of the wise is a fountain of life,	But among the upright there is <sup>31</sup> good will.
	To depart from the snares of death.	10 The heart knoweth its own bitterness;
	15 Good understanding <sup>18</sup> giveth favour:	And a stranger doth not intermeddle with its joy.

	19 The way of the sluggard is as an hedge of thorns: But the path of the upright is made an high way.	7 When a man's ways please the LORD, He maketh even his enemies to be at peace with him.
	20 A wise son maketh a glad father: But a foolish man despiseth his mother.	8 Better is a little with righteousness Than great revenues with injustice.
1 Heb. heart.	21 Folly is joy to him that is void of wisdom: But a man of understanding maketh straight his going.	9 A man's heart deviseth his way: But the LORD directeth his steps.
	22 Where there is no counsel, purposes are disappointed: But in the multitude of counsellors they are established.	10 <sup>11</sup> A divine sentence is in the lips of the king: His mouth shall not transgress in judgement.	11 Heb. Divi- nation.
	23 A man hath joy in the answer of his mouth: And a word in due season, how good is it!	11 A just balance and scales are the LORD's: All the weights of the bag are his work.
2 Or, the grave	24 To the wise the way of life goeth upward. That he may depart from <sup>2</sup> Sheol beneath.	12 It is an abomination to kings to commit wickedness: For the throne is established by righteousness.
	25 The LORD will root up the house of the proud: But he will establish the border of the widow.	13 Righteous lips are the delight of kings; And they love him that speaketh right.
	26 Evil devices are an abomination to the LORD: But <sup>3</sup> pleasant words are pure.	14 The wrath of a king is as messengers of death: But a wise man will pacify it.
3 Or, the pure speak pleasant words	27 He that is greedy of gain troubleth his own house: But he that hateth gifts shall live.	15 In the light of the king's countenance is life: And his favour is as a cloud of the latter rain.
	28 The heart of the righteous studieth to answer: But the mouth of the wicked poureth out evil things.	16 How much better is it to get wisdom than gold! Yea, to get understanding is rather to be chosen than silver.
	29 The LORD is far from the wicked: But he heareth the prayer of the righteous.	17 The high way of the upright is to depart from evil: He that keepeth his way preserveth his soul.
	30 The light of the eyes rejoiceth the heart: And good tidings make the bones fat.	18 Pride goeth before destruction, And an haughty spirit before a fall.
	31 The ear that hearkeneth to the reproof of life Shall abide among the wise.	19 Better it is to be of a lowly spirit with the <sup>12</sup> poor. Than to divide the spoil with the proud.	12 Or, meek
4 Or, in- struction	32 He that refuseth <sup>4</sup> correction despiseth his own soul: But he that hearkeneth to reproof getteth <sup>1</sup> understanding.	20 He that <sup>13</sup> giveth heed unto <sup>14</sup> the word shall find good: And whose trusteth in the LORD, happy is he.	13 Or, humbleth a matter easily
	33 The fear of the LORD is the instruction of wisdom: And before honour goeth humility.	21 The wise in heart shall be called prudent: And the sweetness of the lips increaseth learning.	14 See ch. xiii. 13.
5 Or, plans	16 The <sup>5</sup> preparations of the heart belong to man: But the answer of the tongue is from the LORD.	22 Understanding is a wellspring of life unto him that hath it: But the correction of fools is their folly.
	2 All the ways of a man are clean in his own eyes: But the LORD weigheth the spirits.	23 The heart of the wise instructeth his mouth, And addeth learning to his lips.
6 Heb. Roll.	3 <sup>6</sup> Commit thy works unto the LORD, And thy <sup>7</sup> thoughts shall be established.	24 Pleasant words are as an honeycomb, Sweet to the soul, and health to the bones.
7 Or, purposes	4 The LORD hath made every thing for <sup>8</sup> its own end: Yea, even the wicked for the day of evil.	25 <sup>15</sup> There is a way which <sup>16</sup> seemeth right unto a man, But the end thereof are the ways of death.	15 See ch. xiv. 12.
8 Or, his own purpose	5 Every one that is proud in heart is an abomination to the LORD: <sup>9</sup> Though hand join in hand, he shall not be unpunished.	26 The appetite of the labouring man laboureth for him;	16 Or, is straight before

 27 A worthless man <sup>2</sup>deviseth mischief:
 And in his lips there is as a seorch-
 ing fire.
 28 A froward man scattereth abroad
 strife:
 And a whisperer <sup>3</sup>separateth chief friends.
 29 A man of violence enticeth his neighbour.
 And leadeth him in a way that is not good.
 30 He that shutteth his eyes, it is to devise froward things:
 He that compresseth his lips bringeth evil to pass.
 31 The hoary head is a crown of <sup>5</sup>glory, 6 It shall be found in the way of righteousness.
 32 He that is slow to anger is better than the mighty:
 And he that ruleth his spirit than he that taketh a city.
 33 The lot is cast into the lap; Put the whole disposing thereof is of
 the LORD.
 17 Better is a dry morsel and quietness therewith
 Than an house full of <sup>7</sup>feasting with strife.
 2 A servant that dealeth wisely shall have rule over a son that <sup>8</sup>causeth shame,
 And shall have part in the inheritance among the brethren.
 3 The fuming pot is for silver, and the furnace for gold:
 But the LORD trieth the hearts.
 4 An evil-doer giveth heed to wicked
 lips;
 And <sup>9</sup>a liar giveth ear to a mischievous tongue.
 5 Whoso mocketh the poor reproach-eth his Maker:
 And he that is glad at calamity shall not be unpunished.
 6 The father's children are the crown of old men;
 And the glory of children are their fathers.
 7 <sup>10</sup>Excellent speech becometh not a fool:
 Much less do lying lips a prince.
 8 A gift is as a precious stone in the eyes of him that hath it:
 Whithersoever <sup>11</sup>it turneth, <sup>11</sup>it prospereth.
 9 He that covereth a transgression
 seeketh love:
 But he that harpeth on a matter
<sup>12</sup>separateth chief friends.
 10 A rebuke entereth deeper into one than hath understanding Than an hundred stripes into a fool.
 11 An evil man seeketh only rebellion:
 Therefore a cruel messenger shall be sent against him.
 12 Let a bear robbed of her whelps
 meet a man,
 Rather than a fool in his folly.
 13 Whoso rewardeth evil for good, Evil shall not depart from his house.
- 14 The beginning of strife is as when one leteeth out water:
 Therefore leave off contention, before there be quarrelling.
 15 He that justifieth the wicked, and he that condemneth the righteous,
 Both of them alike are an abomination to the LORD.
 16 Wherefore is there a price in the hand of a fool to buy wisdom, Seeing he hath no <sup>15</sup>understanding?
 17 A friend loveth at all times,
 And <sup>18</sup>a brother is born for adversity.
 18 A man void of <sup>15</sup>understanding striketh hands,
 And becometh surety in the presence of his neighbour.
 19 <sup>17</sup>He loveth transgression that loveth
 strife:
 He that raiseth high his gate seeketh destruction.
 20 He that hath a froward heart findeth
 no good:
 And he that hath a perverse tongue
 falleth into <sup>18</sup>mischiefs.
 21 He that begetteth a fool doeth it to his sorrow:
 And the father of a fool hath no
 joy.
 22 A merry heart <sup>19</sup>is a good medicine:
 But a broken spirit drieth up the bones.
 23 A wicked man taketh a gift out of the bosom,
 To pervert the ways of judgement.
 24 Wisdom is before the face of him that hath understanding:
 But the eyes of a fool are in the ends
 of the earth.
 25 A foolish son is a grief to his father.
 And bitterness to her that bare
 him.
 26 Also to <sup>20</sup>punish the righteous is not good.
 Nor to smite the noble for their uprightness.
 27 <sup>21</sup>He that spareth his words hath knowledge:
 And he that is of a cool spirit is a man of understanding.
 28 Even a fool, when he holdeth his peace, is counted wise:
 22 When he shutteth his lips, he is esteemed as prudent.
 18 He that separateth himself seeketh
 his own desire,
 And <sup>23</sup>rageth against all sound wisdom.
 2 A fool hath no delight in understanding,
 But only that his heart may reveal itself.
 3 When the wicked cometh, there cometh also contempt,
 And with ignominy cometh reproach.
 4 The words of a man's mouth are as deep waters:
 24 The wellspring of wisdom is as a flowing brook.

 is not good,

6 A fool's lips <sup>1</sup>enter into contention,
And his mouth calleth for stripes.

7 A fool's mouth is his destruction,
And his lips are the snare of his soul.

8 The words of a whisperer are as dainty morsels,
And they go down into the <sup>2</sup>inner-most parts of the belly.

9 He also that is slack in his work
Is brother to him that is a destroyer.

10 The name of the LORD is a strong tower:
The righteous runneth into it, and <sup>3</sup>is safe.

11 The rich man's wealth is his strong
city,
And as an high wall in his own imagination.

12 Before destruction the heart of man is haughty,

And before honour goeth humility.
13 He that giveth answer before he heareth,

It is folly and shame unto him.

14 The spirit of a man will sustain his infirmity;

But a broken spirit who can <sup>4</sup>bear?

15 The heart of the prudent getteth
knowledge;
And the ear of the wise seeketh
knowledge.

16 A man's gift maketh room for him,
And bringeth him before great men.

17 He that pleadeth his cause first
seemeth just;
But his neighbour cometh and searcheth him out.

18 The lot causeth contentions to cease,
And parteth between the mighty.

19 A brother <sup>5</sup>offended is harder to be won than a strong city:

And such contentions are like the bars of a castle.

20 A man's belly shall be filled with the fruit of his mouth;
With the increase of his lips shall he be satisfied.

21 Death and life are in the power of the tongue;
And they that love it shall eat the fruit thereof.

22 Whoso findeth a wife findeth a good thing,
And obtaineth favour of the LORD.

23 The poor useth intreaties:
Put the rich answereth roughly.

24 <sup>6</sup>He that maketh many friends doeth
it to his own destruction;

But there is a <sup>7</sup>friend that sticketh closer than a brother.

19 Better is the poor that walketh in his integrity
Than he that is perverse in his lips and is a fool.

2 Also, <sup>8</sup>that the soul be without knowledge is not good;

And he that hasteth with his feet
<sup>9</sup>sinneth.

3 The foolishness of man subverteth his way;

And his heart fretteth against the LORD.

4 Wealth addeth many friends;

But <sup>10</sup>the poor is separated from his friend.

5 A false witness shall not be unpunished;

And he that <sup>11</sup>uttereth lies shall not escape.

6 Many will intreat the favour of <sup>12</sup>the liberal man:

And every man is a friend to him that giveth gifts.

7 All the brethren of the poor do hate
him:

How much more do his friends go far from him!

<sup>13</sup>He pursueth them with words, but they are gone.

8 He that getteth <sup>14</sup>wisdom loveth his own soul:

He that keepeth understanding shall find good.

9 A false witness shall not be un-
punished;

And he that <sup>11</sup>uttereth lies shall perish.

10 Delicate living is not seemly for a fool;

Much less for a servant to have rule over princes.

11 The discretion of a man maketh him slow to anger;

And it is his glory to pass over a transgression.

12 The king's wrath is as the roaring of a lion;

But his favour is as dew upon the grass.

13 A foolish son is the calamity of his father:

And the contentions of a wife are a continual dropping.

14 House and riches are an inheritance from fathers:

But a prudent wife is from the LORD.

15 Slothfulness casteth into a deep sleep;

And the idle soul shall suffer hunger.

16 He that keepeth the commandment
keepeth his soul:

But he that <sup>15</sup>is careless of his ways shall die.

17 He that hath pity upon the poor lendeth unto the LORD.

And his good deed will he pay him
again.

18 Chasten thy son, seeing there is hope;

And set not thy heart on <sup>16</sup>his destruction.

19 A man of great wrath shall bear the penalty:

For if thou deliver him, thou must do it yet again.

20 Hear counsel, and receive <sup>17</sup>instruction,

That thou mayest be wise in thy latter end.

21 There are many devices in a man's heart;

But the counsel of the LORD, that shall stand.

22 <sup>18</sup>The desire of a man is the measure of his kindness:

And a poor man is better than a liar.

23 The fear of the LORD tendeth to life;

And he that hath it shall abide satisfied;

He shall not be visited with evil.

8 The way of him that is laden with guilt is exceeding crooked: But as for the pure, his work is <sup>2</sup> right.

9 It is better to dwell in the corner of the housetop, Than with a contentious woman in <sup>3</sup> a wide house.

10 The soul of the wicked desireth evil:

His neighbour findeth no favour in his eyes.

11 When the scorner is punished, the simple is made wise:

And <sup>4</sup> when the wise is instructed, he receiveth knowledge.

12 <sup>5</sup> The righteous man considereth the house of the wicked:

And the wicked are overthrown to their ruin.

13 Whoso stoppeth his ears at the cry of the poor,

He also shall cry, but shall not be heard.

14 A gift in secret <sup>6</sup> pacifieth anger, And a present in the bosom strong wrath.

15 It is joy to the righteous to do judgement:

But it is a destruction to the workers of iniquity.

16 The man that wandereth out of the way of understanding

17 He that loveth pleasure shall be a poor man:

He that loveth wine and oil shall not be rich.

18 The wicked is a ransom for the righteous;

And the treacherous cometh in the stead of the upright.

19 It is better to dwell in a desert land,

Than with <sup>9</sup> a contentious and fretful woman.

20 There is precious treasure and oil in the dwelling of the wise:

But a foolish man swalloweth it up.

21 He that followeth after righteousness and mercy

Findeth life, righteousness, and honour.

22 A wise man scaeth the city of the mighty,

And bringeth down the strength of the confidence thereof.

23 Whoso keepeth his mouth and his tongue

Keepeth his soul from troubles.

24 The proud and haughty man, scorner is his name,

He worketh in the arrogance of pride.

25 The desire of the slothful killeth him;

For his hands refuse to labour.

26 There is that coveteth greedily all the day long:

But the righteous giveth and withholdeth not.

27 The sacrifice of the wicked is an abomination:

How much more, when he bringeth it <sup>10</sup> with a wicked mind!

28 A false witness shall perish:

But the man that heareth shall speak <sup>11</sup> unchallenged.

29 A wicked man hardeneth his face:

But as for the upright, <sup>12</sup> he ordereth his ways.

30 There is no wisdom nor understanding

Nor counsel against the Lord.

31 The horse is prepared against the day of battle:

But <sup>13</sup> victory is of the Lord.

22 A good name is rather to be chosen than great riches,

And <sup>14</sup> loving favour rather than silver and gold.

2 The rich and the poor meet together:

The Lord is the maker of them all.

3 A prudent man seeth the evil, and hideth himself:

But the simple pass on, and <sup>15</sup> suffer for it.

4 The reward of humility and the fear of the Lord

Is riches, and honour, and life.

5 Thorns and snares are in the way of the froward:

He that keepeth his soul shall be far from them.

6 Train up a child <sup>16</sup> in the way he should go,

And even when he is old he will not depart from it.

7 The rich ruleth over the poor,

And the borrower is servant to the lender.

8 He that soweth iniquity shall reap <sup>17</sup> calamity:

And the rod of his wrath shall fall.

9 He that hath a <sup>18</sup> bountiful eye shall be blessed:

For he giveth of his bread to the poor.

10 Cast out the scorner, and contention shall go out:

Yea, strife and ignominy shall cease.

11 He that loveth <sup>19</sup> pureness of heart,

12 The eyes of the Lord preserve him that hath knowledge,

But he overthroweth the words of the treacherous man.

13 The sluggard saith, There is a lion without:

I shall be <sup>21</sup> murdered in the streets.

14 The mouth of strange women is a deep pit:

He <sup>22</sup> that is abhorred of the Lord shall fall therein.

15 Foolishness is bound up in the heart of a child:

But the rod of correction shall drive it far from him.

16 He that oppresseth the poor to increase his gain,

And he that giveth to the rich, cometh only to want.

17 Incline thine ear, and hear the words of the wise.
And apply thine heart unto my knowledge.

18 For it is a pleasant thing if thou keep them within thee.
If they be established together upon thy lips.

19 That thy trust may be in the LORD.
I have made them known to thee this day, even to thee.

20 Have not I written unto thee excellent things
2 Of counsels and knowledge;

21 To make thee know the certainty of the words of truth.
That thou mayest carry back words of truth to them that send thee?

22 Rob not the poor, because he is poor.
Neither oppress the afflicted in the gate;

23 For the LORD will plead their cause.
And despoil of life those that despoil them.

24 Make no friendship with a man that is given to anger;
And with a wrathful man thou shalt not go;

25 Lest thou learn his ways.
And get a snare to thy soul.

26 Be thou not one of them that strike hands,
Or of them that are sureties for debts;

27 If thou hast not wherewith to pay.
Why should he take away thy bed from under thee?

28 Remove not the ancient landmark,
Which thy fathers have set.

29 Seest thou a man diligent in his business? he shall stand before kings;
He shall not stand before mean men.

23 When thou sittest to eat with a ruler,
Consider diligently him that is before thee;

2 And put a knife to thy throat.
If thou be a man given to appetite.

3 Be not desirous of his dainties;
Seeing they are deceitful meat.

4 Weary not thyself to be rich;
Cease from thine own wisdom.

5 Wilt thou set thine eyes upon that which is not?
For riches certainly make themselves wings.

Like an eagle that fieth toward heaven,
6 Eat thou not the bread of him that hath an evil eye.

Neither desire thou his dainties;
7 For as he reckoneth within himself, so is he;

Eat and drink, saith he to thee;
But his heart is not with thee.

8 The morsel which thou hast eaten shalt thou vomit up,
And lose thy sweet words.

9 Speak not in the hearing of a fool;
For he will despise the wisdom of thy words.

10 Remove not the ancient landmark;
And enter not into the fields of the fatherless;

11 For their redeemer is strong;
He shall plead their cause against thee.

12 Apply thine heart unto instruction,
And thine ears to the words of knowledge.

13 Withhold not correction from the child;
For if thou beat him with the rod, he shall not die.

14 Thou shalt beat him with the rod,
And shalt deliver his soul from hell.

15 My son, if thine heart be wise,
My heart shall be glad, even mine;

16 Yea, my reins shall rejoice.
When thy lips speak right things.

17 Let not thine heart envy sinners;
But be thou in the fear of the LORD all the day long;

18 For surely there is a reward:
And thy hope shall not be cut off.

19 Hear thou, my son, and be wise,
And guide thine heart in the way.

20 Be not among winebibbers;
Among gluttonous eaters of flesh;

21 For the drunkard and the glutton shall come to poverty;
And drowsiness shall clothe a man with rags.

22 Harken unto thy father that begat thee,
And despise not thy mother when she is old.

23 Buy the truth, and sell it not;
Yea, wisdom, and instruction, and understanding.

24 The father of the righteous shall greatly rejoice;
And he that begetteth a wise child shall have joy of him.

25 Let thy father and thy mother be glad,
And let her that bare thee rejoice.

26 My son, give me thine heart,
And let thine eyes delight in my ways.

27 For a whore is a deep ditch;
And a strange woman is a narrow pit.

28 Yea, she hath in wait as a robber,
And increaseth the treacherous among men.

29 Who hath sorrow? who hath contentions?
Who hath complaints? who hath wounds without cause?

Who hath redness of eyes?
30 They that tarry long at the wine;
They that go to seek out mixed wine.

31 Look not thou upon the wine when it is red,
When it giveth its colour in the cup.

When it is smooth, when it moveth itself aright,
32 At the last it biteth like a serpent,
And stingeth like an adder.

35 They have stricken me, shall thou say, and I was not hurt; They have beaten me, and I felt it not;

When shall I awake? I will seek it yet again.

24 Be not thou envious against evil men.

Neither desire to be with them:

2 For their heart studieth oppression, And their lips talk of mischief.

3 Through wisdom is an house builded; And by understanding it is established:

4 And by knowledge are the chambers filled.

With all precious and pleasant riches.

5 A wise man<sup>1</sup> is strong; Yea, a man of knowledge<sup>2</sup> increaseth might.

6 For by wise guidance thou shalt make thy war; And in the multitude of counsellors there is<sup>3</sup> safety.

7 Wisdom is too high for a fool: He openeth not his mouth in the gate.

8 He that deviseth to do evil, Men shall call him a mischievous person.

9 The thought of<sup>4</sup> the foolish is sin: And the scorner is an abomination to men.

10 If thou faint in the day of adversity, Thy strength is small.

11 Deliver them that are carried away unto death.

And those that are<sup>5</sup> ready to be slain<sup>6</sup> see that thou hold back.

12 If thou sayest, Behold, we knew not<sup>7</sup> this:

Doth not he that weigheth the hearts consider it?

And he that keepeth thy soul, doth not he know it?

And shall not he render to every man according to his work?

13 My son, eat thou honey, for it is good;

And the honeycomb, which is sweet to thy taste:

14 So shalt thou know wisdom to be unto thy soul:

If thou hast found it, then shall there be a<sup>8</sup> reward.

And thy hope shall not be cut off.

15 Lay not wait,<sup>9</sup> O wicked man, against the<sup>10</sup> habitation of the righteous;

Spoil not his<sup>11</sup> resting place:

16 For a righteous man falleth seven times, and riseth up again:

But the wicked are overthrown by calamity.

17 Rejoice not when thine enemy falleth.

And let not thine heart be glad when he is overthrown:

18 Lest the Lord see it, and it displease him,

And he turn away his wrath from him.

19 Fret not thyself because of evil-doers; Neither be thou envious at the wicked:

20 For there will be no<sup>8</sup> reward to the evil man;

The lamp of the wicked shall be put out.

21 My son, fear thou the Lord and the king:

And meddle not with them that are given to change:

22 For their calamity shall rise suddenly;

And who knoweth the destruction<sup>12</sup> of them both?

23 These also are sayings of the wise.

To have respect of persons in judgement is not good.

24 He that saith unto the wicked, Thou art righteous;

Peoples shall curse him, nations shall abhor him:

25 But to them that rebuke him shall be delight.

And a good blessing shall come upon them.

28 He<sup>13</sup> kisseth the lips That giveth a right answer.

27 Prepare thy work without, And make it ready for thee in the field:

And afterwards build thine house.

28 Be not a witness against thy neighbour without cause:

<sup>14</sup> And deceive not with thy lips.

29 Say not, I will do so to him as he hath done to me;

I will render to the man according to his work.

30 I went by the field of the slothful, And by the vineyard of the man void of understanding;

31 And, lo, it was all grown over with thorns.

The face thereof was covered with<sup>15</sup> nettles,

And the stone wall thereof was broken down.

32 Then I beheld, and considered well: I saw, and received instruction.

33<sup>16</sup> Y<sup>e</sup>l a little sleep, a little slumber, A little folding of the hands to sleep:

34 So shall thy poverty come as a robber;

And thy want as an armed man.

25 These also are proverbs of Solomon, which the men of Hezekiah king of Judah copied out.

2 It is the glory of God to conceal a thing:

But the glory of kings is to search out a matter.

- 5 Take away the wicked from before the king.
And his throne shall be established in righteousness.
- 6 <sup>1</sup> Put not thyself forward in the presence of the king.
And stand not in the place of great men:
- 7 For better is it that it be said unto thee, Come up hither;
Than that thou shouldest be put lower in the presence of the prince, Whom thine eyes have seen.
- 8 Go not forth hastily to strive,
<sup>2</sup> Lest thou know not what to do in the end thereof.
When thy neighbour hath put thee to shame.
- 9 Debate thy cause with thy neighbour himself, <sup>2</sup> And disclose not the secret of another:
- 10 Lest he that heareth it revile thee,
And thine infamy turn not away.
- 11 A word is fitly spoken
Is like apples of gold in <sup>5</sup> baskets of silver.
- 12 As an earring of gold, and an ornament of fine gold,
So is a wise reprover upon an obedient ear.
- 13 As the cold of snow in the time of harvest,
So is a faithful messenger to them that send him;
For he refresheth the soul of his masters.
- 14 As clouds and wind without rain,
So is he that boasteth himself of his gifts falsely.
- 15 By long forbearing is a <sup>8</sup> ruler persuaded,
And a soft tongue breaketh the bone.
- 16 Hast thou found honey? eat so much as is sufficient for thee;
Lest thou be filled therewith, and vomit it.
- 17 Let thy foot be seldom in thy neighbour's house;
Lest he be <sup>9</sup> weary of thee, and hate thee.
- 18 A man that beareth false witness against his neighbour
Is a maul, and a sword, and a sharp arrow.
- 19 Confidence in an unfaithful man in time of trouble
Is like a broken tooth, and a foot out of joint.
- 20 As one that taketh off a garment in cold weather, and as vinegar upon <sup>10</sup> nitre,
So is he that singeth songs to an heavy heart.
- 21 If thine enemy be hungry, give him bread to eat;
And if he be thirsty, give him water to drink:
- 22 For thou shalt reap coals of fire upon his head,
And the Lord shall reward thee.
- 23 The north wind bringeth forth rain:
So doth a backbiting tongue an angry countenance.
- 24 <sup>12</sup> It is better to dwell in the corner of the housetop,
Than with a contentious woman in a wide house.
- 25 As cold waters to a <sup>13</sup> thirsty soul,
So is good news from a far country.
- 26 As a <sup>14</sup> troubled fountain, and a corrupted spring,
So is a righteous man that <sup>16</sup> giveth way before the wicked.
- 27 It is not good to eat much honey:
<sup>16</sup> So for men to search out their own glory is not glory.
- 28 <sup>17</sup> He whose spirit is without restraint
Is like a city that is broken down and hath no wall.
- 29 As snow in summer, and as rain in harvest,
So honour is not seemly for a fool.
- 30 As the sparrow in her wandering, as the swallow in her flying,
So the curse that is causeless <sup>18</sup> lighteth not.
- 31 A whip for the horse, a bridle for the ass,
And a rod for the back of fools.
- 32 Answer not a fool according to his folly,
Lest thou also be like unto him.
- 33 Answer a fool according to his folly,
Lest he be wise in <sup>19</sup> his own conceit.
- 34 He that sendeth a message by the hand of a fool
Cutteeth off his own feet, and drinketh in damage.
- 35 The legs of the lame hang loose:
So is a parable in the mouth of fools.
- 36 As a bag of gems in a heap of stones,
So is he that giveth honour to a fool.
- 37 As a thorn that goeth up into the hand of a drunkard,
So is a parable in the mouth of fools.
- 38 <sup>21</sup> As an archer that woundeth all,
So is he that hireth the fool and he that hireth them that pass by.
- 39 As a dog that returneth to his vomit,
So is a fool that repeateth his folly.
- 40 Seest thou a man wise in <sup>20</sup> his own conceit?
There is more hope of a fool than of him.
- 41 <sup>22</sup> The shepherd saith, There is a lion in the way;

	Arrows, and death; 19 So is the man that receiveth his neighbour, And saith, Am not I in sport? 20 For lack of wood the fire goeth out: And where there is no whisperer, contention ceaseth. 21 As coals are to hot embers, and wood to fire; So is a contentious man to inflame strife. 22 The words of a whisperer are as dainty morsels, And they go down into the inner- most parts of the belly. 23 Fervent lips and a wicked heart Are like an earthen vessel overlaid with silver dross. 24 He that hateth dissembleth with his lips, But he layeth up deceit within him: 25 When he speaketh fair, believe him not; For there are seven abominations in his heart: 26 Though his hatred cover itself with guile, His wickedness shall be openly shewed before the congregation. 27 Whoso diggeth a pit shall fall there- in: And he that rolleth a stone, it shall return upon him. 28 A lying tongue hateth those whom it hath wounded; And a flattering mouth worketh ruin. 29 Boast not thyself of to-morrow: For thou knowest not what a day may bring forth. 30 Let another man praise thee, and not thine own mouth; A stranger, and not thine own lips. 31 A stone is heavy, and the sand weighty; But a fool's vexation is heavier than them both. 32 Wrath is cruel, and anger is out- rageous; But who is able to stand before jealousy? 33 Better is open rebuke Than love that is hidden. 34 Faithful are the wounds of a friend: But the kisses of an enemy are profuse. 35 The full soul loatheth an honey- comb: But to the hungry soul every bitter thing is sweet. 36 As a bird that wandereth from her nest, So is a man that wandereth from his place. 37 Ointment and perfume rejoice the heart: So doth the sweetness of a man's friend that cometh of hearty coun- sel. 38 Thine own friend, and thy father's friend, forsake not; And go not to thy brother's house in the day of thy calamity: Better is a neighbour that is near than a brother far off.	11 My son, be wise, and make my heart glad, That I may answer him that re- proacheth me. 12 A prudent man seeth the evil, and hideth himself: But the simple pass on, and suffer for it. 13 Take his garment that is surety for a stranger; And hold him in pledge that is surety for a strange woman. 14 He that blesseth his friend with a loud voice, rising early in the morning, It shall be counted a curse to him. 15 A continual dropping in a very rainy day And a contentious woman are alike: 16 He that would restrain her re- straineth the wind, And his right hand encountereth oil. 17 Iron sharpeneth iron; So a man sharpeneth the counte- nance of his friend. 18 Whoso keepeth the fig tree shall eat the fruit thereof; And he that waiteth on his master shall be honoured. 19 As in water face answereth to face, So the heart of man to man. 20 Sheol and Abaddon are never satis- fied; And the eyes of man are never satis- fied. 21 The refining pot is for silver, and the furnace for gold. And a man is tried by his praise. 22 Though thou shouldst bray a fool in a mortar with a pestle among bruised corn, Yet will not his foolishness depart from him. 23 Be thou diligent to know the state of thy flocks, And look well to thy herds: 24 For riches are not for ever; And doth the crown endure unto all generations? 25 The hay is carried, and the tender grass sheweth itself, And the herbs of the mountains are gathered in. 26 The lambs are for thy clothing, And the goats are the price of the field: 27 And there will be goats' milk enough for thy food, for the food of thy household; And maintenance for thy maidens. 28 The wicked see when no man pursueth: But the righteous are bold as a lion. 29 For the transgression of a land many are the princes thereof: But by men of understanding and knowledge the state thereof shall be prolonged. 30 A needy man that oppresseth the poor Is like a sweeping rain which leav- eth no food.	3 See ch. xxii. 3.  6 See ch. xx. 16. *  7 Heb. hide. 8 Heb. hideth. 9 Or, the oint- ment of his right hand be- wrayeth itself. 10 Or, As water sheweth face to face, so the heart sheweth man to man. 11 See ch. xv. 11. 12 Or, that which he praiseth Or, that whereof he boast- eth  13 Heb. grass.  14 Or, a man  15 Heb. without food.

4 They that forsake the law praise the wicked:
But such as keep the law contend with them.

5 Evil men understand not judgement:
But they that seek the LORD understand all things.

6 <sup>1</sup> Better is the poor that walketh in his integrity,
Than he that is <sup>2</sup> perverse in his ways, though he be rich.

7 Whoso keepeth the law is a wise son:
But he that is a companion of gluttonous men shameth his father.

8 He that augmenteth his substance by usury and increase,
Gathereth it for him that hath pity on the poor.

9 He that turneth away his ear from hearing the law,
Even his prayer is an abomination.

10 Whoso causeth the upright to go astray in an evil way,
He shall fall himself into his own pit:
But the perfect shall inherit good.

11 The rich man is wise in <sup>3</sup> his own conceit:
But the poor that hath understanding searcheth him out.

12 When the righteous triumph, there is great glory:
But when the wicked rise, men <sup>4</sup> hide themselves.

13 He that covereth his transgressions shall not prosper:
But whoso confesseth and forsaketh them shall obtain mercy.

14 Happy is the man that feareth alway:
But he that hardeneth his heart shall fall into <sup>5</sup> mischief.

15 As <sup>6</sup> a roaring lion, and a ranging bear;
So is a wicked ruler over a poor people.

16 <sup>6</sup> The prince that lacketh understanding is also a great oppressor:
But he that hateth covetousness shall prolong his days.

17 A man that is laden with the blood of any person Shall fee unto the pit; let no man stay him.

18 Whoso walketh uprightly shall be delivered:
But <sup>7</sup> he that is perverse in his ways shall fall at once.

19 <sup>8</sup> He that tilleth his land shall have plenty of bread:
But he that followeth after vain persons shall have poverty enough.

20 A faithful man shall abound with blessings:
But he that maketh haste to be rich shall not be unpunished.

21 To have respect of persons is not good:
<sup>9</sup> Neither that a man should transgress for a piece of bread.

22 He that hath an evil eye hasteth after riches,
And knoweth not that want shall come upon him.

23 He that rebuketh a man shall afterward find more favour
Than he that flattereth with the tongue.

24 Whoso robbeth his father or his mother, and saith, It is no transgression;
The same is the companion of a destroyer.

25 He that is of a greedy spirit stirreth up strife:
But he that putteth his trust in the LORD shall be made fat.

26 He that trusteth in his own heart is a fool:
But whoso walketh wisely, he shall be delivered.

27 He that giveth unto the poor shall not lack:
But he that hideth his eyes shall have many a curse.

28 When the wicked rise, men hide themselves:
But when they perish, the righteous increase.

29 He that being often reproved hardeneth his neck
Shall suddenly be broken, and that without remedy.

2 When the righteous <sup>10</sup> are increased, the people rejoice:
But when a wicked man beareth rule, the people sigh.

3 Whoso loveth wisdom rejoiceth his father:
But he that keepeth company with harlots wasteth his substance.

4 The king by judgement establisheth the land:
But <sup>11</sup> he that exacteth gifts overthroweth it.

5 A man that flattereth his neighbour spreadeth a net for his steps.

6 In the transgression of an evil man there is a snare:
But the righteous doth sing and rejoice.

7 The righteous taketh knowledge of the cause of the poor:
The wicked <sup>12</sup> hath not understanding to know it.

8 Scornful men set a city in a flame:
But wise men turn away wrath.

9 If a wise man hath a controversy with a foolish man,
<sup>13</sup> Whether he be angry or laugh, there will be no rest.

10 The bloodthirsty bate him that is perfect:
<sup>14</sup> And as for the upright, they seek his life.

11 A fool uttereth all his <sup>15</sup> anger:
But a wise man keepeth it back and stilleth it.

1 THE words of <sup>1</sup>the Preacher, the son of David, king in Jerusalem.

2 Vanity of vanities, saith the Preacher; vanity of vanities, all is vanity. What profit hath man of all his labour wherein he labour-eth under the sun? One generation goeth, and another generation cometh; and the earth abideth for ever.

3 The sun also ariseth, and the sun
goeth down, and hasteth to his place

4 where he ariseth. The wind goeth toward the south, and turneth about unto the north; it turneth about continually in its course, and the wind returneth again to its circuits. All the <sup>2</sup>rivers run into the sea, yet the sea is not full; unto the place whither the rivers go,

8 thither they go again. <sup>3</sup>All things are full of weariness; man cannot utter it: the eye is not satisfied with seeing, nor the ear filled with 9 hearing. That which hath been is that which shall be; and that which hath been done is that which shall be done: and there is no new thing

under the sun. Is there a thing whereof men say, See, this is new?

10 It hath been already, in the ages
11 which were before us. There is no remembrance of the former generations; neither shall there be any remembrance of the latter generations that are to come, among those that shall come after.

12 I <sup>4</sup>the Preacher was king over 13 Israel in Jerusalem. And I applied

my heart to seek and to search out by wisdom concerning all that is done under heaven: it is a sore travail that God hath given to the sons of men to be exercised therewith.

14 I have seen all the works that are done under the sun; and, behold,

all is vanity and <sup>5</sup>a striving after wind. That which is crooked cannot be made straight: and <sup>6</sup>that which is wanting cannot be num-

16 bered. I communed with mine own heart, saying, Lo, I have gotten me great wisdom <sup>7</sup>above all that were before me <sup>8</sup>in Jerusalem: yea, my heart <sup>9</sup>hath had great experience of wisdom and knowledge. And I applied my heart to know wisdom, and to know madness and folly: I perceived that this also was a striving after wind. For in much wisdom is much grief: and he that increaseth knowledge increaseth sorrow.

2 I said in mine heart, Go to now,
I will prove thee with mirth; <sup>10</sup>therefore enjoy <sup>11</sup>pleasure: and, behold,

2 this also was vanity. I said of laughter, It is mad: and of mirth, What

3 doeth it? I searched in mine heart how to cheer my flesh with wine, mine heart yet <sup>12</sup>guiding me with wisdom, and how to lay hold on folly, till I might see what it was good for the sons of men that they should do under the heaven <sup>13</sup>all the days of their life. I made me great works; I builded me houses;

5 I planted me vineyards; I made me gardens and parks, and I planted trees in them of all kinds of 6 fruit: I made me pools of water, to water therefrom the forest where 7 trees were reared: I bought men-servants and maidens, and had servants born in my house; also I had great possessions of herds and flocks, above all that were before me in 8 Jerusalem: I gathered me also silver and gold, and the peculiar treasure of kings and of the provinces:

I gat me men singers and women singers, and the delights of the sons of men, <sup>14</sup>concubines very many.

9 So I was great, and increased more than all that were before me in Jerusalem: also my wisdom <sup>15</sup>remained with me. And whatsoever mine eyes desired I kept not from them; I withheld not my heart from any joy, for my heart rejoiced because of all my labour; and this was 11 my portion from all my labour. Then I looked on all the works that my hands had wrought, and on the labour that I had laboured to do; and,

behold, all was vanity and a striving after wind, and there was no profit

under the sun.

12 And I turned myself to behold wisdom, and madness and folly: for what can the man do that cometh 10 after the king? even that which hath been already done. Then I saw that wisdom excelleth folly, as far as light excelleth darkness. The wise man's eyes are in his head, and the fool walketh in darkness: and yet I perceived that one event hap-

15 peneth to them all. Then said I in my heart, As it happeneth to the fool, so will it happen even to me;

and why was I then more wise?

Then I said in my heart, that this also was vanity. For of the wise man, even as of the fool, there is no remembrance for ever; seeing that in the days to come all will have been already forgotten. And how doth the wise man die even as the fool! So I hated life; because the work that is wrought under the sun

12 Or, holding its course

13 Heb. the number of the days of their life.

14 Or, musical instruments, and that of all sorts

The meaning of the Hebrew is very uncertain.

15 Or, stood by me

16 Or, after the king, even him whom they made king long ago?

Or, after the king, in those things which have been already done?

was grievous unto me: for all is vanity and a striving after wind.

- 18 And I hated all my labour wherein I laboured under the sun: seeing that I must leave it unto the man that shall be after me. And who knoweth whether he shall be a wise man or a fool? yet shall he have rule over all my labour wherein I have laboured, and wherein I have shewed wisdom under the sun. This also is vanity. Therefore I turned about to cause my heart to despair concerning all the labour wherein I had laboured under the sun. For there is a man whose labour is with wisdom, and with knowledge, and with skillfulness; yet to a man that hath not laboured therein shall he leave it for his portion. This also is vanity and a great evil. For what hath a man of all his labour, and of the striving of his heart, wherein he laboureth under the sun? For all his days are but sorrows, and his travail is grief; yea, even in the night his heart taketh no rest. This also is vanity.

24 There is nothing better for a man than that he should eat and drink, and make his soul enjoy good in his labour. This also I saw, that it is from the hand of God. For who can eat, or who can have enjoyment, more than I? For to the man that pleaseth him God giveth wisdom, and knowledge, and joy: but to the sinner he giveth travail, to gather and to heap up, that he may give to him that pleaseth God. This also is vanity and a striving after wind.

- 3 To every thing there is a season, and a time to every purpose under the heaven: a time to be born, and a time to die; a time to plant, and a time to pluck up that which is planted; a time to kill, and a time to heal; a time to break down, and a time to build up; a time to weep, and a time to laugh; a time to mourn, and a time to dance; a time to cast away stones, and a time to gather stones together; a time to embrace, and a time to refrain from embracing; a time to seek, and a time to lose; a time to keep, and a time to cast away; a time to rend, and a time to sew; a time to keep silence, and a time to speak; a time to love, and a time to hate; a time for war, and a time for peace. What profit hath he that worketh in that wherein he laboureth? I have seen the travail which God hath given to the sons of men to be exercised therewith. He hath made every thing beautiful in its time: also he hath set the world in their heart, yet so that man cannot find out the work that God hath done from the beginning even to the end. I know that there is nothing better for them, than to rejoice, and to do good so long as they live. And also that every man should eat and drink, and enjoy good in all his labour, is the gift of God. I know that, whatsoever God doeth, it shall be for ever: nothing can be put to it, nor any thing taken from it: and God hath done it, that men should fear before him. That which is hath been already; and that which is to be hath already been: and God seeketh again that which is passed away.

- 16 And moreover I saw under the sun, in the place of judgement, that wickedness was there; and in the place of righteousness, that wickedness was there. I said in mine heart, God shall judge the righteous and the wicked: for there is a time there for every purpose and for every work. I said in mine heart, It is because of the sons of men, that God may prove them, and that they may see that they themselves are but as beasts. For that which befalleth the sons of men befalleth beasts; even one thing befalleth them: as the one dieth, so dieth the other; yea, they have all one breath: and man hath no preeminence above the beasts: for all is vanity. All go unto one place; all are of the dust, and all turn to dust again. Who knoweth the spirit of man, whether it goeth upward, and the spirit of the beast, whether it goeth downward to the earth? Wherefore I saw that there is nothing better, than that a man should rejoice in his works: for that is his portion: for who shall bring him back to see what shall be after him?

4 Then I returned and saw all the oppressors that are done under the sun: and behold, the tears of such as were oppressed, and they had no comforter; and on the side of their oppressors there was power, but they had no comforter. Wherefore I praised the dead which are already dead more than the living which are yet alive: yea, better than them both did I esteem him which hath not yet been, who hath not seen the evil work that is done under the sun.

- 4 Then I saw all labour and every skillful work, that is for this man is envied of his neighbour. This also is vanity and a striving after wind. The fool foldeth his hands together, and eateth his own flesh. Better is an handful with quietness, than two handfuls with labour and striving after wind.

7 Then I returned and saw vanity under the sun. There is one that is alone, and he hath not a second; yea, he hath neither son nor brother: yet is there no end of all his labour, neither are his eyes satisfied with riches. For whom then, saith he, do I labour, and deprive my soul of good? This also is vanity, yea, it is a sore travail. Two are better than one; because they have

10 a good reward for their labour. For if they fall, the one will lift up his fellow; but woe to him that is alone when he falleth, and hath not another to lift him up. Again, if two lie together, then they have warmth; but how can one be warm alone?
12 And if a man prevail against him that is alone, two shall withstand him; and a threefold cord is not quickly broken.

13 Better is a poor and wise youth than an old and foolish king, who knoweth not how to receive admonition any more. For out of prison he came forth to be king; <sup>1</sup>yea, even in his kingdom he was born poor. I saw all the living which walk under the sun, that they were with the youth, the second, that stood up in his stead. <sup>2</sup>There was no end of all the people, even of all them over whom he was: yet they that come after shall not rejoice in him. Surely this also is vanity and a striving after wind.

5 Keep thy foot when thou goest to the house of God: for to draw nigh to hear is better than to give the sacrifice of fools: for they know not that they do evil. Be not rash with thy mouth, and let not thine heart be hasty to utter <sup>3</sup>any thing before God; for God is in heaven, and thou upon earth: therefore let

3 thy words be few. For a dream cometh with a multitude of <sup>4</sup>business; and a fool's voice with a mul-

4 titude of words. When thou vowest a vow unto God, defer not to pay it; for he hath no pleasure in fools:

5 pay that which thou vowest. Better is it that thou shouldest not vow, than that thou shouldst vow

6 and not pay. Suffer not thy mouth to cause thy flesh to sin; neither say thou before the <sup>5</sup>angel, that it was an error: wherefore should God be angry at thy voice, and destroy

7 the work of thine hands? <sup>6</sup>For thus it cometh to pass through the multitude of dreams and vanities and many words: but fear thou God.

8 If thou seest the oppression of the poor, and the violent taking away of judgement and justice in <sup>7</sup>a province, marvel not at the matter: for one higher than the high regardeth; and there be higher than 9 they. <sup>8</sup>Moreover the profit of the earth is for all: the king himself is served by the field.

10 He that loveth silver shall not be satisfied with silver; nor he that loveth abundance with increase:

11 this also is vanity. When goods increase, they are increased that eat them; and what advantage is there to the owner thereof, saving the beholding of them with his eyes? The sleep of a labouring man is sweet, whether he eat little or much: but the fulness of the rich will not suffer him to sleep.

12 There is a grievous evil which I have seen under the sun, namely, riches kept by the owner thereof to his hurt; and those riches perish by evil <sup>9</sup>adventure; and if he hath begotten a son, there is nothing in 15 his hand. As he came forth of his mother's womb, naked shall he go again as he came, and shall take nothing for his labour, which he

16 may carry away in his hand. And this also is a grievous evil, that in all points as he came, so shall he go; and what profit hath he that

17 he laboureth for the wind? <sup>10</sup>All his days also he eateth in darkness, and he is sore vexed and hath sickness and wrath.

18 Behold, <sup>11</sup>that which I have seen to be good and to be comely is for one to eat and to drink, and to enjoy good in all his labour, wherein he laboureth under the sun. <sup>12</sup>All the days of his life which God hath given him: for this is his portion.

19 Every man also to whom God hath given riches and wealth, and hath given him power to eat thereof, and to take his portion, and to rejoice in his labour; this is the gift of God. For he shall not much remember

20 the days of his life; because God answereth him in the joy of his heart.

6 There is an evil which I have seen under the sun, and it is heavy upon 2 men: a man to whom God giveth riches, wealth, and honour, so that he lacketh nothing for his soul of all that he desireth, yet God giveth him not power to eat thereof, but a stranger eateth it; this is vanity.

3 and it is an evil disease. If a man beget an hundred children, and live many years, so that the days of his years be many, but his soul be not filled with good, and moreover he have no burial: I say, that an untimely birth is better than he: for it cometh in vanity, and departeth in darkness, and the name thereof

4 is covered with darkness; moreover it hath not seen the sun <sup>13</sup>nor known it: <sup>14</sup>this hath rest rather than the

6 other: yea, though he live a thousand years twice told, and yet enjoy no good: do not all go to one place?

7 All the labour of man is for his mouth, and yet the appetite is not

8 filled. For what advantage hath the wise more than the fool? <sup>15</sup>or what hath the poor man, that knoweth

9 to walk before the living? Better is the sight of the eyes than the wandering of the desire: this also is vanity and a striving after wind.

10 <sup>16</sup>Whatsoever hath been, the name thereof was given long ago, and it is known that it is <sup>17</sup>man: neither can he contend with him that is mightier than he. Seeing there be many <sup>18</sup>things that increase vanity, 12 what is man the better? For who knoweth what is good for man in his life, <sup>12</sup>all the days of his vain life which he spendeth as a shadow? for who can tell a man what shall be after him under the sun?

17 Heb. Adam.
See Gen. ii. 7.
18 Or, words

7 A good name is better than precious ointment; and the day of death than the day of one's birth.

2 It is better to go to the house of mourning, than to go to the house of feasting: for that is the end of all men; and the living will lay it to his

3 heart. Sorrow is better than laughter: for by the sadness of the countenance the heart is made glad.

4 The heart of the wise is in the house of mourning; but the heart of fools

5 is in the house of mirth. It is better to hear the rebuke of the wise, than for a man to hear the song of fools.

6 For as the crackling of thorns under a pot, so is the laughter of the fool:

7 this also is vanity. 2 Surely extortion maketh a wise man foolish; and a gift destroyeth the understanding.

8 Better is the end of a thing than the beginning thereof: and of the patient in spirit is better than the

9 proud in spirit. Be not hasty in thy spirit to be angry: for anger rest-

10 eth in the bosom of fools. Say not thou, What is the cause that the former days were better than these?

11 For thou dost not inquire wisely concerning this. Wisdom is as good as an inheritance: yea, more excellent is it for them that see the sun.

12 For wisdom is a defence, even as money is a defence; but the excellency of knowledge is, that wisdom preserveth the life of him that

13 hath it. Consider the work of God: for who can make that straight,

14 which he hath made crooked? In the day of prosperity be joyful, and in the day of adversity consider: God hath even made the one side by side with the other, to the end that man should not find out any thing that shall be after him.

15 All this have I seen in the days of my vanity: there is a righteous man that perisheth in his righteousness, and there is a wicked man that

16 prolongeth his life in his evil-doing. 10 Be not righteous over much; neither make thyself over wise: why

17 shouldest thou destroy thyself? Be not over much wicked, neither be thou foolish: why shouldest thou

18 die before thy time? It is good that thou shouldest take hold of this; yea, also from that withdraw not

19 thine hand: for he that feareth God shall come forth of them all.

19 Wisdom is a strength to the wise man more than ten rulers which are in a city. Surely there is not a righteous man upon earth, that

20 doeth good and soweth not. Also take not heed unto men, words that are spoken: lest thou hear thy

21 servant curse thee: for oftentimes a man thine own heart knoweth that thou thyself likewise hast cursed others.

21 At this house I sat and in wisdom I said I will be wise, but it was far from me. That which is far off, and exceeding deep, who can

22 find it out? I turned about, and my heart was set to know and to search out, and to seek wisdom and the reason of things, and to know

23 that wickedness is folly, and that foolishness is madness: and I find a thing more bitter than death, even

24 the woman<sup>11</sup> whose heart is snares and nets, and her hands as bands: whoso pleaseth God shall escape

25 from her: but the sinner shall be taken by her. Behold, this have I found, saith the Preacher,<sup>12</sup> laying

26 one thing to another, to find out the account: which my soul still seeketh, but I have not found: one man among a thousand have I found;

27 but a woman among all those have I not found. Behold, this only have I found, that God made man upright: but they have sought out

28 unprofitable counsels. 8 Whoso as the wise man? and who knoweth the interpretation of a thing? A man's wisdom maketh his

29 face to shine, and the hardness of his face is changed. I saw of thee,

30 Keep the king's command, and that in regard of the oath of God. Be not 31 hasty to go out of his presence; persist not in an evil thing: for he doeth whatsoever pleaseth him.

32 Because the king's word hath power; and who may say unto him, What doest thou? Whoso keepeth the 33 commandment shall know no evil thing: and a wise man's heart discerneth time and judgement: for

34 to every purpose there is a time and judgement; because the misery

35 of man is great upon him: for he knoweth not that which shall be: for who can tell him how it shall

36 be? There is no man that hath power over the spirit to retain the

37 spirit; neither hath he power over the day of death; and there is no discharge in that war: neither

38 shall wickedness deliver him that is given to it. All this have I seen, and applied my heart unto every

39 work that is done under the sun: there is a time wherein one man hath power over another to his

40 hurt. And withal I saw the wicked buried, and they came to the grave; and they that had done right went

41 away from the holy place, and were forgotten in the city: this also is vanity. Because sentence against 42 an evil work is not executed speedily, therefore the heart of the sons of men is fully set in them to do evil.

43 Though a man reeve a hundred times, and troubling his soul, yet surely I know that it shall be well

44 with them that fear God, which shall be well with the wicked neither shall he prosper in days which are as a shadow, because he feareth not

45 before God. There is a vanity which is done upon the earth; that there be righteous men, unto whom it

9 Or, has been wicked men, to whom it happeneth according to the work of the righteous: I said that this also is vanity.

- 15 Then I commended mirth, because a man hath no better thing under the sun, than to eat, and to drink, and to be merry: <sup>1</sup>for that shall abide with him in his labour all the days of his life which God hath given him under the sun.

- 16 When I applied mine heart to know wisdom, and to see the <sup>2</sup>business that is done upon the earth: (<sup>3</sup>for also there is that neither day nor night seeth sleep with his eyes:)

- 17 then I beheld all the work of God, that man cannot find out the work that is done under the sun: because however much a man labour to seek it out, yet he shall not find it; yea moreover, though a wise man think to know it, yet shall he not be able to find it. For all this I laid to my heart, even to explore all this; that the righteous, and the wise, and their works, are in the hand of God: whether it be love or hatred, man knoweth it not; all is before them.

- 2 All things come alike to all: there is one event to the righteous and to the wicked; to the good <sup>4</sup>and to the clean and to the unclean; to him that sacrificeth and to him that sacrificeth not: as is the good, so is the sinner; and he that sweareth, as he that feareth an oath. This is an evil in all that is done under the sun, that there is one event unto all: yea also, the heart of the sons of men is full of evil, and madness is in their heart while they live, and after that they go to the dead.

- 3 For to him that is joined with all the living there is hope; for a living dog is better than a dead lion. For the living know that they shall die: but the dead know not any thing, neither have they any more a reward; for the memory of them is forgotten. As well their love, as their hatred and their envy, is now perished; neither have they any more a portion for ever in any thing that is done under the sun.

- 4 Go thy way, eat thy bread with joy, and drink thy wine with a merry heart; for God hath already accepted thy works. Let thy garments be always white; and let not thy head lack ointment. <sup>5</sup>Live joyfully with the wife whom thou lovest all the days of the life of thy vanity, which he hath given thee under the sun, all the days of thy vanity: for that is thy portion in life, and in thy labour wherein thou labourst under the sun. Whatsoever thy hand <sup>7</sup>findeth to do, do it with thy might; for there is no work, nor device, nor knowledge, nor wisdom, in <sup>8</sup>the grave, whither thou goest.

- 11 I returned, and saw under the sun, that the race is not to the swift, nor the battle to the strong, neither yet bread to the wise, nor yet riches to men of understanding, nor yet favour to men of skill; but time and chance happeneth to them all. For man also knoweth not his time: as the fishes that are taken in an evil net, and as the birds that are caught in the snare, even so are the sons of men snared in an evil time, when it faileth suddenly upon them.

- 13 I have also seen wisdom under the sun on this wise, and it seemed great unto me: there was a little city, and few men within it; and there came a great king against it, and besieged it, and built great bulwarks against it: now there was found in it a poor wise man, and he by his wisdom delivered the city; yet no man remembered that same poor man. Then said I, Wisdom is better than strength: nevertheless the poor man's wisdom is despised, and his words are not heard.

- 17 The words of the wise <sup>9</sup>spoken in quiet are heard more than the cry of him that ruleth among fools.

- 18 Wisdom is better than weapons of war: but one sinner destroyeth much good. Dead flies cause the ointment of the perfumer <sup>10</sup>to send forth a stinking savour: so doth a little folly <sup>11</sup>outweigh wisdom and <sup>12</sup>honour. A wise man's heart is at his right hand; but a fool's heart at his left. Yea also, when the fool walketh by the way, his <sup>12</sup>understanding faileth him, and he saith <sup>13</sup>to every one that he is a fool. If the spirit of the ruler rise up against thee, leave not thy place; for <sup>14</sup>yielding <sup>15</sup>allayeth great offences. There is an evil which I have seen under the sun, as it were an error which proceedeth from the ruler: folly is set in great <sup>15</sup>dignity, and the rich sit in low place. I have seen servants upon horses, and princes walking as servants upon the earth. He that diggeth a pit shall fall into it; and whose breaketh through a fence, a serpent shall bite him.

- 9 Whoso <sup>16</sup>heweth out stones shall be hurt therewith; and he that cleaveth wood is endangered thereby. If the iron be blunt, and one do not whet the edge, then must he put to more strength; but wisdom is profitable to direct. <sup>17</sup>If the serpent bite <sup>18</sup>before it be charmed, then is there no advantage in <sup>19</sup>the charmer. The words of a wise man's mouth are gracious; but the lips of a fool will swallow up himself.

- 13 The beginning of the words of his mouth is foolishness; and the end of <sup>20</sup>his talk is mischiefous madness. A fool also multiplieth words: yet man knoweth not what shall be; and that which shall be after him, who can tell him? The labour of fools wearieth every one of them, for he knoweth not how to go to the city. Woe to thee, O land, when thy king is a <sup>21</sup>child,

17 Happy art thou, O land, when thy king is <sup>1</sup> the son of nobles, and thy princes eat in due season, for strength, and not for drunkenness! By slothfulness the <sup>2</sup> roof sinketh in; and through idleness of the hands the house leaketh. A feast is made for laughter, and wine maketh glad the life: and money answereth all things.
20 <sup>3</sup> Curse not the king, no, not in thy thought; and curse not the rich in thy bedchamber: for a bird of the air shall carry the voice, and that which hath wings shall tell the matter.
11 <sup>4</sup> Cast thy bread <sup>4</sup> upon the waters: for thou shalt find it after many days. <sup>5</sup> Give a portion to seven, yea, even unto eight; for thou knowest not what evil shall be upon the earth. If the clouds be full of rain, they empty themselves upon the earth: and if a tree fall <sup>6</sup> toward the south, or <sup>6</sup> toward the north, in the place where the tree falleth, there shall it be.
4 He that observeth the wind shall not sow; and he that regardeth the clouds shall not reap. As thou knowest not what is the way of the <sup>7</sup> wind, nor how the bones do grow in the womb of her that is with child; even so thou knowest not the work of God who doeth all.
6 In the morning sow thy seed, and in the evening withhold not thine hand: for thou knowest not which shall prosper, whether this or that, or whether they both shall be alike
7 good. Truly the light is sweet, and a pleasant thing it is for the eyes to behold the sun. <sup>8</sup> Yea, if a man live many years, let him rejoice in them all; <sup>9</sup> but let him remember the days of darkness, for they shall be many. All that cometh is vanity.
9 Rejoice, O young man, in thy youth: and let thy heart cheer thee in the days of thy youth, and walk in the ways of thine heart, and in the sight of thine eyes: but know thou, that for all these things God will bring thee into judgement.
10 Therefore remove <sup>10</sup> sorrow from thy heart, and put away evil from thy flesh: for youth and the prime of life are vanity. Remember also thy Creator in the days of thy youth, or ever the evil days come, and the years draw nigh, when thou shalt say, I have no pleasure in them; or ever the sun, and the light, and the moon, and the stars, be darkened, and the clouds return after the rain: in the day when the keepers of the house shall tremble, and the strong men shall bow themselves, and the <sup>11</sup> grinders cease because they are few, and those that look out of the windows be <sup>4</sup> darkened, and the doors shall be shut in the street; when the sound of the grinding is low, and one shall rise up at the voice of a bird, and all the daughters of music shall be brought low; yea, they shall be afraid <sup>12</sup> of that which is high, and terrors shall be in the way; and the almond tree shall blossom, and the grasshopper <sup>13</sup> shall be a burden, and <sup>14</sup> the caper-berry shall <sup>15</sup> fail: because man goeth to his long home, and the mourners go about the streets: or ever the silver cord be <sup>16</sup> loosed, or the golden bowl be broken, or the pitcher be broken at the fountain, or the wheel broken: <sup>7</sup> at the cistern; and the dust return to the earth as it was, and the spirit return unto God who gave it. Vanity of vanities, saith the Preacher; all is vanity.
9 And further, because the Preacher was wise, he still taught the people knowledge; yea, he <sup>17</sup> pondered, and sought out, and set in order many proverbs. The Preacher sought to find out <sup>18</sup> acceptable words, and that which was written uprightly, even words of truth.
11 The words of the wise are as goads, and as nails well fastened are the words of the <sup>19</sup> masters of assemblies, which are given from one shepherd. <sup>20</sup> And furthermore, my son, be admonished: of making many books there is no end; and much study is a weariness of the flesh.
13 <sup>21</sup> This is the end of the matter: all hath been heard: fear God, and keep his commandments; for <sup>22</sup> this is the whole duty of man. For God shall bring every work into judgement, <sup>23</sup> with every hidden thing, whether it be good or whether it be evil.

THE SONG OF SONGS.

- 1 THE Song of songs, which is Solomon's.
2 Let him kiss me with the kisses of his mouth:
For thy love is better than wine.
3 Thine ointments have a goodly fragrance;
Thy name is as ointment poured forth:
Therefore do the <sup>1</sup> virgins love thee.
4 Draw me; we will run after thee:
- 1 Or, maidens

3 The watchmen that go about the city found me:
To whom I said, Saw ye him whom my soul loveth?

4 It was but a little that I passed from them.
When I found him whom my soul loveth:
I held him, and would not let him go.
Until I had brought him into my mother's house,
And into the chamber of her that conceived me.

5 I adjure you, O daughters of Jerusalem,
By the roses, and by the hinds of the field,
That ye stir not up, nor awaken love,
Until it please

6 Who is this that cometh up out of the wilderness like pillars of smoke,
Perfumed with myrrh and frankincense,
With all powders of the merchant?

7 Behold, it is the litter of Solomon:
Threescore mighty men are about it,
Of the mighty men of Israel.

8 They all handle the sword, and are expert in war:
Every man hath his sword upon his thigh,
Because of fear in the night.

9 King Solomon made himself a palace
Of the wood of Lebanon.

10 He made the pillars thereof of silver,
The bottom thereof of gold, the seat of it of purple.
The most thereof being paved with love.

From the daughters of Jerusalem.
11 Go forth O ye daughters of Zion, and behold king Solomon.
With the crown wherewith his mother hath crowned him in the day of his espousals,
And in the day of the gladness of his heart.

4 Behold thou art fair my love: behold thou art fair.

4 Thine eyes are as doves behind thy veil.
Thy hair is as a flock of goats,
That feed along the side of mount Gilead.

2 Thy teeth are like a flock of ewes that are washed in shorn.
Which are come up from the washing:

7 Whereof every one hath twins,
And none is bereaved among them.

3 Thy lips are like a thread of scarlet,
And thy mouth is comely:
Thy temples are like a piece of a pomegranate
Behind thy veil.

4 Thy neck is like the tower of David bulwarked for an armoury,
Whereon there hang a thousand bucklers.

All the shields of the mighty men.
5 Thy two breasts are like two fawns that are twins of a fawn,
Which feed among the lilies.

6 Until the day be cool, and the shadows flee away,
I will get me to the mountain of myrrh.

And to the hill of frankincense.
7 Thou art all fair, my love;
And there is no spot in thee.

8 Come with me from Lebanon, my bride,
With me from Lebanon:

12 I look from the top of Amana.
From the top of Senir and Hermon.
From the lions' dens,
From the mountains of the leopards.

9 Thou hast ravished my heart, my sister, my bride:
Thou hast ravished my heart with one of thine eyes
With one chain of thy neck.

10 How fair is thy love, my sister, my bride!
How much better is thy love than wine!

And the smell of thine ointments than all manner of spices!

11 Thy lips, O my bride, drop as the honeycomb:
Honey and milk are under thy tongue;

And the smell of thy garments is like the smell of Lebanon.

12 A garden shut up is my sister, my bride;
A spring shut up, a fountain sealed.

13 Thy shoots are an orchard of pomegranates, with precious fruits;
Fennel with spike and pants,

14 Spikenard and saffron,
Cinnamon and cinnamon, with all trees of frankincense;

Myrrh and aloes, with all the chief spices.

15 Thou art a fountain of gardens,
A well of living waters,
And flowing streams from Lebanon.

16 Awake O north wind; and come, thou south;

Blow upon my garden, that the spices thereof may flow out.
Let my beloved come into his garden,
And eat his precious fruits.

5 I am come into my garden, my sister, my bride;

I have gathered my myrrh with my basket.

I have eaten my honeycomb with my milk.

I have drunk my wine with my milk.
Eat O friends.

Drink, yea, drink abundantly, O beloved.

That are twins of a roe.

4 Thy neck is like the tower of ivory;
Thine eyes as the pools in Heshbon,

Which looketh toward Damascus.

6 How fair and how pleasant art thou,
O love, for delights!

7 This thy stature is like to a palm tree,
And thy breasts to clusters of grapes.

8 I said, I will climb up into the palm

I will take hold of the branches

Let thy breasts be as clusters of the vine.

And the smell of thy <sup>3</sup>breath like

That goeth down <sup>5</sup>smoothly for my 10 I am my beloved's,

And his desire is toward me.

11 Come, my beloved, let us go forth into the field;

Let us lodge in the villages.

12 Let us get up early to the vine-

Let us see whether the vine hath budded, and <sup>7</sup>its blossom be open.

And the pomegranates be in flower:
There will I give thee my love.

13 The <sup>8</sup>mandrakes give forth fragrance,
And <sup>9</sup>at our doors are all manner of precious fruits, new and old.

Which I have laid up for thee, O my beloved.

8 Oh that thou wert as my brother,
That sucked the breasts of my mother!

When I should find thee without,
I would kiss thee:

Yea, and none would despise me.

2 I would lead thee, and bring thee into my mother's house.

10 Who would instruct me;

I would cause thee to drink of spiced wine,

Of the <sup>11</sup>juice of my pomegranate.

Until it please.

5 Who is this that cometh up from

Leaning upon her beloved?

Under the apple tree I awakened
thee:

There thy mother was in travail
with thee,

There was she in travail <sup>14</sup>that brought thee forth.

6 Set me as a seal upon thine heart,

For love is strong as death;
Jealousy is <sup>15</sup>cruel as <sup>16</sup>the grave:

The flashes thereof are flashes of fire.

Neither can the floods drown it:

THE BOOK OF THE PROPHET

ISAIAH.

1 The vision of Isaiah the son of Amoz, which he saw concerning Judah and Jerusalem, in the days of Uzziah, Jotham, Ahaz, and Hezekiah, kings of Judah.

2 Hear, O heavens, and give ear, O earth, for the LORD hath spoken: I have nourished and brought up children, and they have rebelled

3 against me. The ox knoweth his owner, and the ass his master's crib: but Israel doth not know, my people

4 doth not consider. Ah sinful nation, a people laden with iniquity, a seed of evil-doers, children that deal corruptly: they have forsaken the LORD, they have despised the Holy One of Israel, they are estranged

5 and gone backward. <sup>2</sup>Why will ye be still stricken, that ye revolt more and more? <sup>3</sup>The whole head is sick,

6 and <sup>3</sup>the whole heart faint. From the sole of the foot even unto the head there is no soundness in it: but wounds, and bruises, and <sup>4</sup>fester- ing sores: they have not been closed, neither bound up, neither

7 mollified with oil. Your country is desolate; your cities are burned with fire; your land, strangers devour it in your presence, and it is desolate, <sup>5</sup>as overthrown by stran- gers.

8 And the daughter of Zion is left as a booth in a vineyard, as a lodge in a garden of cucumbers, as a besieged city. Except the LORD

9 of hosts had left unto us a very small remnant, we should have been as Sodom, we should have been like unto Gomorrah.

10 Hear the word of the LORD, ye rulers of Sodom: give ear unto the law of our God, ye people of 11 Gomorrah. To what purpose is the multitude of your sacrifices unto me? saith the LORD: I am full of the burnt offerings of rams, and the fat of fed beasts: and I delight not in the blood of bullocks, or of lambs, or of he-goats. When ye come

12 to appear before me, who hath required this at your hand, to trample my courts? Bring no more vain oblations; incense is an abomination unto me: new moon and sab- bath, the calling of assemblies,—

13 I cannot away with iniquity and the solemn meeting. Your new moons and your appointed feasts my soul hateth: they are a <sup>11</sup>trouble unto me; I am weary to bear them.

14 And when ye spread forth your hands, I will hide mine eyes from you: yea, when ye make many prayers, I will not hear: your hands

15 are full of blood. Wash you, make you clean; put away the evil of your doings from before mine eyes; cease to do evil: learn to do well; seek judgement, <sup>12</sup>relieve the oppressed, judge the fatherless, plead for the widow.

16 Come now, and let us reason together, saith the LORD: though your sins be as scarlet, they shall be as white as snow; though they be red like crimson, they shall be as wool. If ye be willing and obedient, ye shall eat the good of the land: but if ye refuse and rebel, ye shall be devoured with the sword: for the mouth of the LORD hath spoken it.

17 How is the faithful city become an harlot! she that was full of judgement! righteousness lodged in her, but now murderers. Thy silver is become dross, thy wine mixed with water. Thy princes are rebellious, and companions of thieves: every one loveth gifts, and followeth after rewards: they judge not the fatherless, neither doth the cause of the widow come unto them.

18 Therefore saith the Lord, the Lord of hosts, the Mighty One of Israel, Ah, I will ease me of mine adversaries, and avenge me of mine enemies: and I will <sup>13</sup>turn my hand upon thee, and <sup>14</sup>thoroughly purge away thy dross, and will take away all thy <sup>15</sup>tin: and I will restore thy judges as at the first, and thy counsellors as at the beginning: after- ward thou shalt be called The city of righteousness, the faithful city.

19 Zion shall be redeemed with judg- ment, and <sup>16</sup>her converts with righteousness. But the <sup>17</sup>destruc- tion of the transgressors and the sinners shall be together, and they that forsake the LORD shall be con- sumed. For they shall be ashamed of the <sup>18</sup>oaks which ye have desired, and ye shall be confounded for the gardens that ye have chosen. For ye shall be as <sup>19</sup>an oak whose leaf fadeth, and as a garden that hath no water. And the strong shall be as tow, and his work as a spark; and they shall both burn together, and none shall quench them.

15 And when ye spread forth your hands, I will hide mine eyes from you: yea, when ye make many prayers, I will not hear: your hands

16 are full of blood. Wash you, make you clean; put away the evil of your doings from before mine eyes; cease to do evil: learn to do well;

17 seek judgement, <sup>12</sup>relieve the oppressed, judge the fatherless, plead for the widow.

18 Come now, and let us reason together, saith the LORD: though your sins be as scarlet, they shall be as white as snow; though they be red like crimson, they shall be as wool. If ye be willing and obedient, ye shall eat the good of the land: but if ye refuse and rebel, ye shall be devoured with the sword: for the mouth of the LORD hath spoken it.

19 How is the faithful city become an harlot! she that was full of judg- ment! righteousness lodged in her, but now murderers. Thy silver is become dross, thy wine mixed with water. Thy princes are rebellious, and companions of thieves: every one loveth gifts, and followeth after rewards: they judge not the fatherless, neither doth the cause of the widow come unto them.

21 Zion shall be redeemed with judg- ment, and <sup>16</sup>her converts with righteousness. But the <sup>17</sup>destruc- tion of the transgressors and the sinners shall be together, and they that forsake the LORD shall be con- sumed. For ye shall be as <sup>19</sup>an oak whose leaf fadeth, and as a garden that hath no water. And the strong shall be as tow, and his work as a spark; and they shall both burn together, and none shall quench them.

22 Therefore saith the Lord, the Lord of hosts, the Mighty One of Israel, Ah, I will ease me of mine adversaries, and avenge me of mine enemies: and I will <sup>13</sup>turn my hand upon thee, and <sup>14</sup>thoroughly purge away thy dross, and will take away all thy <sup>15</sup>tin: and I will restore thy judges as at the first, and thy counsellors as at the beginning: after- ward thou shalt be called The city of righteousness, the faithful city.

For ye shall be as <sup>19</sup>an oak whose leaf fadeth, and as a garden that hath no water. And the strong shall be as tow, and his work as a spark; and they shall both burn together, and none shall quench them.

For they shall be ashamed of the <sup>18</sup>oaks which ye have desired, and ye shall be confounded for the gardens that ye have chosen. For ye shall be as <sup>19</sup>an oak whose leaf fadeth, and as a garden that hath no water. And the strong shall be as tow, and his work as a spark; and they shall both burn together, and none shall quench them.

26 Therefore saith the Lord, the Lord of hosts, the Mighty One of Israel, Ah, I will ease me of mine adversaries, and avenge me of mine enemies: and I will <sup>13</sup>turn my hand upon thee, and <sup>14</sup>thoroughly purge away thy dross, and will take away all thy <sup>15</sup>tin: and I will restore thy judges as at the first, and thy counsellors as at the beginning: after- ward thou shalt be called The city of righteousness, the faithful city.

 2 Or, at the head
- 2 The word that Isaiah the son of Amoz saw concerning Judah and Jerusalem.
- 3 And it shall come to pass in the latter days, that the mountain of the Lord's house shall be established in the top of the mountains, and shall be exalted above the hills; and all nations shall flow unto it.
- 4 And many peoples shall go and say, Come ye, and let us go up to the mountain of the Lord, to the house of the God of Jacob; and he will teach us of his ways, and we will walk in his paths: for out of Zion shall go forth the law, and the word of the Lord from Jerusalem.
- 5 And he shall judge between the nations, and shall reprove many peoples; and they shall beat their swords into plowshares, and their spears into pruninghooks; nation shall not lift up sword against nation, neither shall they learn war any more.
- 6 O house of Jacob, come ye, and let us walk in the light of the Lord.
- 7 For thou hast forsaken thy people the house of Jacob, because they be filled with customs from the east, and are soothsayers like the Philistines, and they strike hands with the children of strangers. Their land also is full of silver and gold, neither is there any end of their treasures; their land also is full of horses, neither is there any end of their chariots. Their land also is full of idols; they worship the work of their own hands, that which their own fingers have made. And the mean man is bowed down, and the great man is brought low: therefore forgive them not. Enter into the rock, and hide thee in the dust, from before the terror of the Lord, and from the glory of his majesty. The lofty looks of man shall be brought low, and the haughtiness of men shall be bowed down, and the Lord alone shall be exalted in that day. For there shall be a day of the Lord of hosts upon all that is proud and haughty, and upon all that is lifted up; and it shall be brought low: and upon all the cedars of Lebanon, that are high and lifted up, and upon all the oaks of Bashan; and upon all the high mountains, and upon all the hills that are lifted up; and upon every lofty tower, and upon every fenced wall; and upon all the ships of Tarshish, and upon all pleasant imagery. And the loftiness of man shall be bowed down, and the haughtiness of men shall be brought low: and the Lord alone shall be exalted in that day. And the idols shall utterly pass away. And men shall go into the caves of the rocks, and into the holes of the earth, from before the terror of the Lord, and from the glory of his majesty, when
- 20 earth. In that day a man shall cast away his idols of silver, and his idols of gold, which they made for him to worship, to the moles and to the bats; to go into the caverns of the rocks, and into the clefts of the ragged rocks, from before the terror of the Lord, and from the glory of his majesty, when he ariseth to shake mightily the earth.
- 21 Cease ye from man, whose breath is in his nostrils: for wherein is he to be accounted of?
- 22 For, behold, the Lord, the Lord of hosts, doth take away from Jerusalem and from Judah stay and staff, the whole stay of water; the mighty man, and the man of war; the judge, and the prophet, and the diviner, and the ancient; the captain of fifty, and the honourable man, and the counsellor, and the cunning artificer, and the skilful enchanter. And I will give children to be their princes, and babes shall rule over them. And the people shall be oppressed, every one by another, and every one by his neighbour: the child shall behave himself proudly against the ancient, and the base against the honourable. When a man shall take hold of his brother in the house of his father, saying, Thou hast clothing, be thou our ruler, and let this ruin be under thy hand: in that day shall he lift up his voice, saying, I will not be an healer; for in my house is neither bread nor clothing: ye shall not make me ruler of the people. For Jerusalem is ruined, and Judah is fallen: because their tongue and their doings are against the Lord, to provoke the eyes of his glory. The shew of their countenance doth witness against them; and they declare their sin as Sodom, they hide it not. Woe unto their soul! for they have rewarded evil unto themselves. Say ye of the righteous, that it shall be well with him: for they shall eat the fruit of their doings. Woe unto the wicked! it shall be ill with him: for the reward of his hands shall be given him. As for my people, children are their oppressors, and women rule over them. O my people, they which lead thee cause thee to err, and destroy the way of thy paths. The Lord standeth up to plead, and standeth to judge the peoples. The Lord will enter into judgment with the elders of his people, and the princes thereof: It is ye that have eaten up the vineyard; the spoil of the poor is in your houses: what mean ye that ye crush my people, and grind the face of the poor? saith the Lord, the Lord of hosts.
- 23 Moreover the Lord said, Because the daughters of Zion are haughty, and walk with stretched forth necks

Lord will take away the bravery of 19 their anklets, and the <sup>1</sup>cauls, and the Lord be beautiful and glorious,

the Lord will create over <sup>10</sup>the whole habitation of mount Zion, and over her assemblies, a cloud and smoke by day, and the shining of a flaming fire by night: for over all the glory shall be spread a ca-

6 nopny. And there shall be a pavilion for a shadow in the day-time from the heat, and for a refuge and for a covert from storm and from rain.

5 Let me sing <sup>11</sup>for my wellbeloved vineyard in <sup>12</sup>a very fruitful hill:

2 and he <sup>13</sup>made a trench about it, and gathered out the stones thereof, and planted it with the choicest vine, and built a tower in the midst of it, and also hewed out a <sup>14</sup>winepress therein: and he looked that it should bring forth grapes, and 3 it brought forth wild grapes. And now, O inhabitants of Jerusalem and men of Judah, Judge, I pray

you, betwixt me and my vineyard.

4 What could have been done more to my vineyard, that I have not done in it? wherefore, when I looked that it should bring forth grapes,

5 brought it forth wild grapes? And now go to; I will tell you what

1 I will do to my vineyard: I will take away the hedge thereof, and it shall be <sup>15</sup>eaten up; I will break down the fence thereof, and it shall

6 be trodden down: and I will lay it waste; it shall not be pruned

nor hoed; but there shall come up briers and thorns: I will also command the clouds that they rain no

7 rain upon it. For the vineyard of the Lord of hosts is the house of Israel, and the men of Judah <sup>16</sup>his pleasant plant: and he looked for judgement, but behold <sup>17</sup>oppression; for righteousness, but behold

a cry.

8 Woe unto them that join house to house, that lay field to field,

all there be no room, and ye be made to dwell alone in the midst

9 of the land! In mine ears saith the Lord of hosts, Of a truth many houses shall be desolate, even great and fair, without inhabitant. For 10 ten acres of vineyard shall yield one bath, and a <sup>18</sup>homer of seed shall yield but an ephah.

11 Woe unto them that rise up early in the morning, that they may follow strong drink; that tarry late

12 into the night, till wine inflame them! And the harp and the lute, the tabret and the pipe, and wine,

are in their feasts: but they regard not the work of the Lord, neither have they considered the operation

13 of his hands. Therefore my people are gone into captivity, for lack of knowledge; and <sup>19</sup>their honourable men are famished, and their multitude are perished with thirst.

14 Therefore <sup>20</sup>hell hath enlarged her desire, and opened her mouth without measure; and their glory, and their multitude, and their <sup>21</sup>pomp,

and he that rejoiceth among them,

15 descend into it. And the mean man is bowed down, and the great man is humbled, and the eyes of the 16 lofty are humbled: but the Lord of hosts is exalted in judgement, and God the Holy One is sanctified

17 in righteousness. Then shall the lambs feed as in their pasture, and the waste places of the fat ones shall 22 wanderers eat.

18 Woe unto them that draw iniquity with cords of vanity, and sin as it were with a cart rope:

19 that say, Let him make speed, let him hasten his work, that we may see it: and let the counsel of the Holy One of Israel draw nigh and come, that we may know it!

20 Woe unto them that call evil good, and good evil; that put darkness for light, and light for darkness; that put bitter for sweet, and sweet for bitter!

21 Woe unto them that are wise in their own eyes, and prudent in their own sight!

22 Woe unto them that are mighty to drink wine, and men of strength

23 to mingle strong drink: which justify the wicked for a reward, and take away the righteousness

24 of the righteous from him! Therefore as the tongue of fire devoureth the stubble, and as the dry grass sinketh down in the flame, so their root shall be as rottenness, and their blossom shall go up as dust: because they have rejected the law of the Lord of hosts, and despised the word of the Holy One of Israel.

25 Therefore is the anger of the Lord kindled against his people, and he hath stretched forth his hand against them, and hath smitten them, and the hills did tremble, and their carcases were as refuse in the midst of the streets. For all this his anger is not turned away, but his hand

26 is stretched out still. And he will lift up an ensign to the nations from far, and will hiss for them from the end of the earth: and, behold, they shall come with speed

27 swiftly: none shall be weary nor stumble among them; none shall slumber nor sleep; neither shall the girdle of their loins be loosed, nor the latchet of their shoes be

28 broken: whose arrows are sharp, and all their bows bent: their horses' hoofs shall be counted like flint, and their wheels like a whirl-

29 wind: their roaring shall be like a lion, they shall roar like young lions: yea, they shall roar, and lay hold of the prey, and carry it away safe, and there shall be none to de-

30 liver. And they shall roar against them in that day like the roaring of the sea: and if one look unto the land, behold darkness and distress, and the light is darkened in the clouds thereof.

6 In the year that king Uzziah died I saw the Lord sitting upon a throne, high and lifted up, and his train filled the temple. Above him stood the seraphim: each one had six wings; with twain he covered his face, and with twain he covered his feet, and with twain he did fly.

3 And one cried unto another, and said, Holy, holy, holy, is the Lord of hosts: the whole earth is full of his glory. And the foundations of the thresholds were moved at the voice of him that cried, and the house was filled with smoke.

5 Then said I, Woe is me! for I am undone; because I am a man of unclean lips, and I dwell in the midst of a people of unclean lips: for mine eyes have seen the King, and the Lord of hosts. Then flew one of the seraphim unto me, having a live coal in his hand, which he

7 the altar: and he touched my mouth with it, and said, Lo, this hath touched thy lips; and thine iniquity is taken away, and thy sin is purged. And I heard the voice of the Lord saying, Whom shall I send, and who will go for us? Then

9 I said, Here am I; send me. And he said, Go, and tell this people. Hear ye indeed, but understand not; and see ye indeed, but perceive not. Make the heart of this people fat, and make their ears heavy, and shut their eyes; lest they see with their eyes, and hear with their ears, and understand with their heart, and turn again, and be healed. Then said I, Lord, how long? And he answered, Until cities be waste without inhabitant, and houses without man, and the land become utterly waste, and the Lord have removed men far away, and the forsaken places be many 13 in the midst of the land. And if there be yet a tenth in it, it shall again be eaten up: as a terebinth, and as an oak, whose stock remaineth, when they are felled: so the holy seed is the stock thereof.

7 And it came to pass in the days of Ahaz the son of Jotham, the son of Uzziah, king of Judah, that Rezin the king of Syria, and Pekah the son of Remaliah, king of Israel, went up to Jerusalem to war against it: but could not prevail

2 against it. And it was told the house of David, saying, Syria is confederate with Ephraim. And his heart was moved, and the heart of his people, as the trees of the forest are moved with the wind.

3 Then said the Lord unto Isaiah, Go forth now to meet Ahaz, thou, and Shear-jashub thy son, at the end of the conduit of the upper pool, in the high way of the fuller's field: and say unto him, Take heed, and be quiet; fear not, neither let thine heart be faint, because of these two tails of smoking firebrands, for the fierce anger of Rezin and Syria, and of the son

5 of Remaliah. Because Syria hath counselled evil against thee, Ephraim also, and the son of Remaliah, saying, Let us go up against Judah, and vex it, and let us make a breach therein for us, and set up a king in the midst of it, even the son of Tabeel: thus saith the Lord God, It shall not stand, neither shall it come to pass. For the head of Syria is Damascus, and the head of Damascus is Rezin; and within threescore and five years shall Ephraim be broken in pieces,

9 that it be not a people: and the head of Ephraim is Samaria, and the head of Samaria is Remaliah's son. If ye will not believe, surely ye shall not be established.

12 And yet shall be a tenth, and it shall return, and shall be eaten up: as a terebinth, and as an oak, whose stock remaineth, when they are felled: so the holy seed is the stock thereof.

- 12 And he said, Hear ye now, O house of David; is it a small thing for you to weary men, that ye will weary my God also? Therefore the Lord himself shall give you a sign; behold, a virgin shall conceive, and bear a son, and shall call his name Immanuel. Butter and honey shall he eat, when he knoweth to refuse the evil, and choose the good. For before the child shall know to refuse the evil, and choose the good, the land whose two kings thou abhorrest shall be forsaken.
- 13 The LORD shall bring upon thee, and upon thy people, and upon thy father's house, days that have not come, from the day that Ephraim departed from Judah; even the king of Assyria.
- 14 And it shall come to pass in that day, that the LORD shall hiss for the fly that is in the uttermost part of the rivers of Egypt, and for the bee that is in the land of Assyria. And they shall come, and shall rest all of them in the desolate valleys, and in the holes of the rocks, and upon all thorns, and upon all pastures.
- 15 In that day shall the Lord shave with a razor that is hired, which is in the parts beyond the River, even with the king of Assyria, the head and the hair of the feet: and it shall also consume the beard.
- 16 And it shall come to pass in that day, that a man shall nourish a young cow, and two sheep; and it shall come to pass, for the abundance of milk that they shall give he shall eat butter: for butter and honey shall every one eat that is left in the midst of the land.
- 17 And it shall come to pass in that day, that every place, where there were a thousand vines at a thousand silverlings, shall even be for briars and thorns. With arrows and with bow shall one come thither; because all the land shall be briars and thorns. And all the hills that were digged with the mattock, thou shalt not come thither for fear of briars and thorns, but it shall be for the sending forth of oxen, and for the treading of sheep.
- 18 And the LORD said unto me, Take thee a great tablet, and write upon it with the pen of a man. For Maher-shalal-hash-baz; and I will take unto me faithful witnesses to record, Uriah the priest, and Zechariah the son of Jeberechiah.
- 19 And I went unto the prophetess; and she conceived, and bare a son. Then said the LORD unto me, Call his name Maher-shalal-hash-baz.
- 20 For before the child shall have knowledge to cry, My father, and, My mother, the riches of Damascus and the spoil of Samaria shall be carried away before the king of Assyria.
- 21 And the LORD spake unto me yet again, saying, Forasmuch as this people hath refused the waters of Shiloah that go softly, and rejoice in Rezin and Remaliah's son; now therefore, behold, the Lord bringeth up upon them the waters of the River, strong and many, even the king of Assyria and all his glory: and he shall come up over all his channels, and go over all his banks; and he shall sweep onward into Judah; he shall overflow and pass through; he shall reach even to the neck; and the stretching out of his wings shall fill the breadth of thy land. O Immanuel.
- 22 Make an uproar, O ye peoples, and ye shall be broken in pieces; and give ear, all ye of far countries: gird yourselves, and ye shall be broken in pieces; gird yourselves, and ye shall be broken in pieces. Take counsel together, and it shall be brought to nought; speak the word, and it shall not stand: for the LORD is with us. For the LORD spake thus to me with a strong hand, and instructed me that I should not walk in the way of this people, saying, Say ye not, A conspiracy, concerning all whereof this people shall say. A conspiracy; neither fear ye their fear, nor be in dread thereof. The LORD of hosts, him shall ye sanctify; and let him be your fear, and let him be your dread. And he shall be for a sanctuary; but for a stone of stumbling and for a rock of offence to both the houses of Israel, for a gin and for a snare to the inhabitants of Jerusalem. And many shall stumble thereon, and fall, and be broken, and be snared, and be taken.
- 23 Bind thou up the testimony, seal the law among my disciples. And I will wait for the LORD, that hideth his face from the house of Jacob, and I will look for him.
- 24 Behold, I and the children whom the LORD hath given me are for signs and for wonders in Israel from the LORD of hosts, which dwelleth in mount Zion.
- 25 And when they shall say unto you, Seek unto them that have familiar spirits and unto the wizards, that chirp and that mutter: should not a people seek unto their God? on behalf of the living should they seek unto the dead? To the law and to the testimony! If they speak not according to this word, surely there is no morning for them.

9 <sup>3</sup> But there shall be no gloom to her that was in anguish. In the former time he brought into contempt the land of Zebulun and the land of Naphtali, but in the latter time hath he made it glorious, by the way of the sea, beyond Jordan, <sup>4</sup> Galilee of the nations. The people that walked in darkness have seen a great light: they that dwelt in the land of the <sup>5</sup> shadow of death, upon them hath the light shined.
2 Thou hast multiplied the nation, <sup>6</sup> thou hast increased their joy: they joy before thee according to the joy in harvest, as men rejoice when they divide the spoil. For the yoke of his burden, and the staff of his shoulder, the rod of his oppressor, thou hast broken as in the day of Midian. For <sup>7</sup> all the armour of the armed man in the tumult, and the garments rolled in blood shall even be for burning, for fuel of fire.
6 For unto us a child is born, unto us a son is given; and the government shall be upon his shoulder: and his name shall be called <sup>8</sup> Wonderful, Counsellor, Mighty God, <sup>9</sup> Everlasting Father, Prince of Peace.
7 Of the increase of his government and of peace there shall be no end, upon the throne of David, and upon his kingdom, to establish it, and to uphold it with judgement and with righteousness from henceforth even for ever. The zeal of the LORD of hosts shall perform this.
8 The LORD sent a word into Jacob, and it hath lighted upon Israel.
9 And all the people shall know, even Ephraim and the inhabitant of Samaria, that say in pride and in stoutness of heart, The bricks are fallen, but we will build with hewn stone: the sycamores are cut down, but we will change them into cedars. Therefore the LORD <sup>10</sup> shall set up on high against him the adversaries of Rezin, and <sup>11</sup> shall <sup>12</sup> stir up his enemies: the Syrians <sup>13</sup> before, and the Philistines <sup>14</sup> behind; and they <sup>15</sup> shall devour Israel with open mouth. For all this his anger is not turned away, but his hand is stretched out still.
13 Yet the people hath not turned unto him that smote them, neither have they sought the LORD of hosts.
14 Therefore the LORD <sup>16</sup> will cut off from Israel head and tail, palm-branch and rush, in one day. The <sup>17</sup> ancient and the honourable man, he is the head: and the prophet that teacheth lies, he is the tail.
16 For they that lead this people cause them to err: and they that are led of them are <sup>18</sup> destroyed. Therefore the LORD shall not rejoice over their young men, neither shall he have compassion on their fatherless and widows: for every one is profane and an evil-doer, and every mouth speaketh folly. For all this his anger is not turned away, but his hand is stretched out still.

18 For wickedness burneth as the fire: it devoureth the briars and thorns: yea, it kindleth in the thickets of the forest, and they roll upward in thick clouds of smoke.
19 Through the wrath of the LORD of hosts is the land <sup>19</sup> burnt up: the people also are as the fuel of fire; no man spareth his brother. And one shall snatch on the right hand, and be hungry; and he shall eat on the left hand, and they shall not be satisfied: they shall eat every man the flesh of his own arm: Manasseh, Ephraim; and Ephraim, Manasseh: and they together shall be against Judah. For all this his anger is not turned away, but his hand is stretched out still.

10 Woe unto them that decree unrighteous decrees, and to the <sup>2</sup> writers that write perverseness: to turn aside the needy from judgement, and to take away the right of the poor of my people, that widows may be their spoil, and that they may make the fatherless their prey!
3 And what will ye do in the day of visitation, and in the desolation which shall come from far? to whom will ye flee for help? and where will ye leave your glory?
4 <sup>20</sup> They shall only bow down under the prisoners, and shall fall under the slain. For all this his anger is not turned away, but his hand is stretched out still.

5 <sup>21</sup> Ho Assyrian, the rod of mine anger, the staff in whose hand is mine indignation! I will send him against a profane nation, and against the people of my wrath will I give him a charge, to take the spoil, and to take the prey, and <sup>22</sup> to tread them down like the mire of the streets. Howbeit he meaneth not so, neither doth his heart think so; but it is in his heart to destroy, and to cut off nations not a few.
8 For he saith, Are not my princes all of them kings? Is not Calno as Arpad? is not Samaria as Damascus?
10 As my hand hath <sup>23</sup> found the kingdoms of the idols, whose graven images did excel them of Jerusalem and of Samaria; shall I not, as I have done unto Samaria and her idols, so do to Jerusalem and her idols?
12 Wherefore it shall come to pass, that when the LORD hath performed his whole work upon mount Zion and on Jerusalem, I will <sup>24</sup> punish the fruit of the stout heart of the king of Assyria, and the glory of his high looks. For he hath said, By the strength of my hand I have done it, and by my wisdom: for I am prudent: and I have removed the bounds of the peoples, and have

Shall the axe boast itself against him that heweth therewith? shall the saw magnify itself against him that shaketh it? as if a rod should shake them that lift it up, or as if a staff should lift up him that is not wood.

16 Therefore shall the Lord, the LORD of hosts, send among his fat ones leanness; and <sup>2</sup>under his glory there shall be kindled a burning like the burning of fire. And the light of Israel shall be for a fire, and his Holy One for a flame: and it shall burn and devour his thorns and his briers in one day. And he shall consume the glory of his forest, and of his fruitful field, both soul and body: and it shall be <sup>2</sup>as when a standardbearer fainteth.

19 And the remnant of the trees of his forest shall be few, that a child may write them.
20 And it shall come to pass in that day, that the remnant of Israel, and they that are escaped of the house of Jacob, shall no more again stay upon him that smote them; but shall stay upon the Lord, the Holy One of Israel, in truth. <sup>4</sup>A remnant shall return, even the remnant of Jacob, unto the mighty God. For though <sup>5</sup>thy people Israel be as the sand of the sea, only a remnant <sup>6</sup>of them shall return: a consumption to determine I overflowing with righteousness. For a consumption, and that determined, shall the Lord, the LORD of hosts, make in the midst of all the <sup>7</sup>earth.

24 Therefore thus saith the Lord, the LORD of hosts, O my people that dwellest in Zion, be not afraid of <sup>8</sup>the Assyrian: though he smite thee with the rod, and lift up his staff against thee, after the manner of Egypt. For yet a very little while, and the indignation shall be accomplished, and <sup>9</sup>mine anger, in their destruction. And the LORD of hosts shall stir up against him a scourge, as in the slaughter of Midian at the rock of Oreb: and <sup>10</sup>his rod shall be over the sea, and he shall lift it up after the manner of Egypt. And it shall come to pass in that day, that his burden shall depart from off thy shoulder, and his yoke, from off thy neck, and the yoke shall be destroyed <sup>11</sup>because of <sup>12</sup>the anointing.

33 Behold, the Lord, the LORD of hosts, shall lop the boughs with terror: and the high ones of stature shall be hewn down, and the <sup>17</sup>lofty shall be brought low. And he shall cut down the thickets of the forest with iron, and Lebanon shall fall by a mighty one.

11 And there shall come forth a shoot out of the stock of Jesse, and a branch out of his roots shall bear fruit: and the spirit of the LORD shall rest upon him, the spirit of wisdom and understanding, the spirit of counsel and might, the spirit of knowledge and of the

3 fear of the LORD; and <sup>18</sup>his <sup>19</sup>delight shall be in the fear of the LORD: and he shall not judge after the sight of his eyes, neither <sup>20</sup>reprove after the hearing of his ears: but with righteousness shall he judge the poor, and reprove with equity for the meek of the <sup>7</sup>earth: and he shall smite the <sup>7</sup>earth with the rod of his mouth, and with the breath of his lips shall he slay the wicked.

5 And righteousness shall be the girdle of his loins, and faithfulness the girdle of his reins. And the wolf shall dwell with the lamb, and the leopard shall lie down with the kid; and the calf and the young lion and the farling together; and a little child shall lead them.
7 And the cow and the bear shall feed; their young ones shall lie down together: and the lion shall eat straw like the ox. And the sucking child shall play on the hole of the asp, and the weaned child shall put his hand on the <sup>20</sup>basilisk's den. They shall not hurt nor destroy in all my holy mountain: for the earth shall be full of the knowledge of the LORD, as the waters cover the sea.

Ephraim shall depart, and they that vex <sup>1</sup>Judah shall be cut off: Ephraim shall not envy Judah, and Judah shall not vex Ephraim.

14 And they shall fly down upon the shoulder of the Philistines on the west: together shall they spoil the children of the east: they shall put forth their hand upon Edom and Moab; and the children of Ammon shall obey them.

15 And the Lord shall <sup>2</sup>utterly destroy the tongue of the Egyptian sea; and with his <sup>3</sup>scorching wind shall he shake his hand over the River, and shall smite it into seven streams, and cause men to march over dryshod. And there shall be an high way for the remnant of his people, which shall remain, from Assyria: like as there was for Israel in the day that he came up out of the land of Egypt.

12 And in that day thou shalt say, I will give thanks unto thee, O Lord: for though thou wast angry with me, <sup>4</sup>thine anger is turned

2 away, and thou <sup>5</sup>comfortest me. Be- hold, God is my salvation; I will trust, and will not be afraid: for <sup>6</sup>the Lord JEREMIAH is my strength and song; and he is become my

3 salvation. Therefore with joy shall ye draw water out of the wells of 4 salvation. And in that day shall ye say, Give thanks unto the Lord,

6 call upon his name, declare his doings among the peoples, make mention that his name is exalted.

5 Sing unto the Lord; for he hath done <sup>7</sup>excellent things: <sup>8</sup>let this be known in all the earth. Cry aloud and shout, thou <sup>9</sup>inhabitant of Zion: for great is the Holy One of Israel in the midst of thee.

13 The <sup>10</sup>burden of Babylon, which Isaiah the son of Amoz did see.

2 Set ye up an ensign upon the bare mountain, lift up the voice unto them, wave the hand, that they may go into the gates of the nobles.

3 I have commanded my consecrated ones, yea, I have called my mighty men for mine anger, even <sup>11</sup>my

4 proudly exulting ones. The noise of a multitude in the mountains, like as of a great people: the noise of a tumult of the kingdoms of the nations gathered together: the Lord of hosts must tell, the host for the battle. They come from a far country, from the uttermost part of heaven, says the Lord, and the weapons of his indignation, to de- stroy the whole land. How joy, for the day of the Lord is at hand,

6 as destruction from <sup>12</sup>the Almighty shall it come. Therefore shall all hands be feeble, and every heart

7 of man shall melt: and they shall be as they were; <sup>13</sup>pangs and sorrows shall take hold of them, they shall be as a woman in travail: they shall be amazed one at another, their faces shall be faces of

9 flame. Behold, the day of the Lord cometh, cruel, with wrath and fierce anger: to make the land a desolation, and to destroy the sinners thereof out of it. For the stars of heaven, and the constellations thereof shall not give their light: the sun shall be darkened in his going forth, and the moon shall

11 not cause her light to shine. And I will punish the world for their evil, and the wicked for their iniquity; and I will cause the arro- gancy of the proud to cease, and will lay low the haughtiness of the terrible. I will make a man more

12 rare than fine gold, even a man than the pure gold of Ophir. There- fore I will make the heavens to tremble, and the earth shall be shaken out of her place, in the wrath of the Lord of hosts, and in the day of his fierce anger. And it shall come to pass, that as the

14 chased <sup>14</sup>roe, and as sheep that no man gathereth, they shall turn every man to his own people, and shall flee every man to his own

15 land. Every one that is found shall be thrust through; and every one that is <sup>15</sup>taken shall fall by the 16 sword. Their infants also shall be dashed in pieces before their eyes; their houses shall be spoiled, and 17 their wives ravished. Behold, I will stir up the Medes against them, which shall not regard silver, and as for gold, they shall not delight

18 in it. And their bows shall dash the young men in pieces; and they shall have no pity on the fruit of the womb; their eye shall not spare

19 children. And Babylon in the glory of kingdoms, the beauty of the Chaldeans' pride, shall be as when God overthrew Sodom and Gomo- rah. It shall never be inhabited,

20 neither shall it be dwelt in from generation to generation: neither shall the Arabian pitch tent there; neither shall shepherds make their

21 flocks to lie down there. But wild beasts of the desert shall lie there; and their houses shall be full of dole- ful creatures; and ostriches shall

22 dwell there, and satyrs shall dance there. And <sup>17</sup>wolves shall be in their castles, and jackals in the pleasant places, and her time is near to come, and her days shall

14 not be prolonged. For the Lord will have compassion on Jacob, and will yet choose Israel, and set them in their own land: and the stranger shall join himself with them, and they shall cleave to the

2 house of Jacob. And the peoples shall take them, and bring them to their place: and the house of Israel shall possess them: the land of the Lord for servants and for handmaids; and they shall take them captive, whose captives they were; and they shall rule over their oppressors.

rest from thy sorrow, and from thy trouble, and from the hard service wherein thou wast made to serve, that thou shalt take up this parable against the king of Babylon, and say, How hath the oppressor ceased! the golden city ceased! 5 The LORD hath broken the staff of the wicked, the sceptre of the rulers; 2 that smote the peoples in wrath with a continual stroke, that ruled the nations in anger, with a persecution that none restrained. 7 The whole earth is at rest, and is quiet: they break forth into singing. Yea, the fir trees rejoice at thee, and the cedars of Lebanon, saying, Since thou art laid down, no feller is come up against us. 9 Hell from beneath is moved for thee to meet thee at thy coming: it stirreth up the dead for thee, even all the chief ones of the earth; it hath raised up from their thrones all the kings of the nations. 10 All they shall answer and say unto thee, Art thou also become weak as we? art thou become like unto us? Thy pomp is brought down to hell, and the noise of thy viol: the worm is spread under thee, 12 and worms cover thee. How art thou fallen from heaven, O day star, son of the morning! how art thou cut down to the ground, which didst lay low the nations! And thou saidst in thine heart, I will ascend into heaven, I will exalt my throne above the stars of God; and I will sit upon the mount of congregation, in the uttermost parts of the north: I will ascend above the heights of the clouds; I will be like the Most High. Yet thou shalt be brought down to hell, to the uttermost parts of the pit. They that see thee shall narrowly look upon thee, they shall consider thee, saying, Is this the man that made the earth to tremble, that did shake kingdoms; that made the world as a wilderness, and overthrew the cities thereof; that let not loose his prisoners to their home? All the kings of the nations, all of them, sleep in glory, every one in his own house. But thou art cast forth away from thy sepulchre like an abominable branch, clothed with the slain, that are thrust through with the sword, that go down to the stones of the pit; as a carcase trodden under foot. Thou shalt not be joined with them in burial, because thou hast destroyed thy land, thou hast slain thy people; the seed of evil-doers shall not be named for ever. Prepare ye slaughter for his children for the iniquity of their fathers; that they rise not up, and possess the earth, and fill the face of the world with cities. And I will rise up against them, saith the LORD of hosts, and cut off from Babylon name and remnant, and son and son's son, saith the LORD. 23 I will also make it a possession for the porcupine, and pools of water: and I will sweep it with the besom of destruction, saith the LORD of hosts.

24 The LORD of hosts hath sworn, saying, Surely as I have thought, so shall it come to pass; and as I have purposed, so shall it stand: that I will break the Assyrian in my land, and upon my mountains tread him under foot; then shall his yoke depart from off them, and his burden depart from off their shoulder. 26 This is the purpose that is purposed upon the whole earth: and this is the hand that is stretched out upon all the nations. For the LORD of hosts hath purposed, and who shall disannul it? and his hand is stretched out, and who shall turn it back?

28 In the year that king Ahaz died was this burden.

29 Rejoice not, O Philistia, all of thee, because the rod that smote thee is broken: for out of the serpent's root shall come forth a basilisk, and his fruit shall be a fiery flying serpent. And the first-born of the poor shall feed, and the needy shall lie down in safety: and I will kill thy root with famine, and thy remnant shall be slain. 31 Howl, O gate; cry, O city; thou art melted away, O Philistia, all of thee; for there cometh a smoke out of the north, and none shall escape aloof at his appointed times. 32 What then shall one answer the messengers of the nation? That the LORD hath founded Zion, and in her shall the afflicted of his people take refuge.

15 The burden of Moab.

For 12 in a night Ar of Moab is laid waste, and brought to nought; for 12 in a night Kir of Moab is laid waste, and brought to nought. 2 He is gone up to 14 Bayith, and to Dibon, to the high places, to weep: Moab howleth over Nebo, and over Medeba: on all their heads is baldness, every beard is cut off. In their streets they gird themselves with sackcloth: on their housetops, and in their broad places, every one howleth, weeping abundantly. And Heshbon crieth out, and Elealeh; their voice is heard even unto Jahaz: therefore the armed men of Moab cry aloud; his soul trembleth within him. My heart crieth out for Moab; her nobles flee unto Zoar, to Eglath-shelishiyah: for by the ascent of Luhith with weeping they go up; in the way of Horonaim they raise up a cry of destruction. For the waters of Nimrim shall be desolate: for the grass is withered away, the tender grass faileth, there is no green thing. 7 Therefore the abundance they have gotten, and that which they have laid up, shall they carry away! to the brook of the willows. For the cry is gone round about the borders of Moab; the howling thereof unto Eglaim; and the howling thereof unto Beer-elim. For the waters of Dimon are full of blood: for I will bring yet more upon Dimon, a lion upon him that escapeth of Moab, and upon the remnant of the land.

16 <sup>2</sup>Send ye the lambs for the ruler of the land from <sup>3</sup>Sela <sup>4</sup>which is toward the wilderness, unto the mount of the daughter of Zion. For it shall be that, as wandering birds, as a scattered nest, so shall the daughters of Moab be at the fords of Arnon. 3 Give counsel, execute judgement; make thy shadow as the night in the midst of the noonday: hide the outcasts; bewray not the wanderer. 4 Let mine outcasts dwell with thee; as for Moab, be thou a covert to him from the face of the spoiler: for <sup>5</sup>the extortioner is brought to nought, spoiling ceaseth, <sup>7</sup>the oppressors are consumed out of the land. And a throne shall be established in mercy, and one shall sit thereon, in truth, in the tent of David; judging, and seeking judgement, and swift to do righteousness.

6 We have heard of the pride of Moab, that he is very proud; even of his arrogance, and his pride, and his wrath; his boastings are sought. 7 Therefore shall Moab howl for Moab, every one shall howl: for the <sup>8</sup>raisin-cakes of Kir-hareseth shall ye mourn, utterly stricken. 8 For the fields of Heshbon languish, and the vine of Sibmah: <sup>9</sup>the lords of the nations have broken down the choice plants thereof; they reached even unto Jazer, they wandered into the wilderness; her branches were spread abroad, they passed over the sea. Therefore I will weep with the weeping of Jazer for the vine of Sibmah. I will water thee with my tears. O Heshbon, and Elealeh: for upon thy summer fruits and upon thy harvest the battle shout is fallen. And gladness is taken away, and joy out of the fruitful field; and in the vineyards there shall be no singing, neither joyful noise; no treader shall tread out wine in the presses; I have made the vineyards shout to cease. Wherefore my bowels sound like an harp for Moab, and mine inward parts for Kir-hareseth. And it shall come to pass, when Moab presenteth himself, when he wearieth himself upon the high place, and shall come to his sanctuary to pray, that he shall not prevail.

13 This is the word that the LORD spake concerning Moab in time past. But now the LORD hath spoken, saying, Within three years, as the years of an hireling, and the glory of Moab shall be brought into contempt, with all his great multitude: and the remnant shall be very small and of no account.

17 The <sup>10</sup>burden of Damascus.

Behold, Damascus is taken away from being a city, and it shall be a ruinous heap. The cities of Arzor are forsaken: they shall be for flocks, which shall lie down, and none shall make them afraid. The fortress also shall cease from Ephraim, and the kingdom <sup>11</sup>from Damascus, and the remnant of Syria; they shall be as the glory of the children of Israel, saith the LORD of hosts.

4 And it shall come to pass in that day, that the glory of Jacob shall be made thin, and the fatness of his flesh shall wax lean. And it shall be as when the harvestman gathereth the standing corn, and his arm reapeth the ears; yea, it shall be as when one gleaneth ears in the valley of Rephaim. Yet there shall be left therein gleanings, as the <sup>12</sup>shaking of an olive tree, two or three berries in the top of the uppermost bough, four or five in the outmost branches of a fruitful tree, saith the LORD the God of Israel. In that day shall a man look unto his Maker, and his eyes shall have respect to the Holy One of Israel. And he shall not look to the altars, the work of his hands, neither shall he have respect to that which his fingers have made, either the <sup>13</sup>Ashterim, or the sun-images. In that day shall his strong cities be as the forsaken places <sup>14</sup>in the wood and on the mountain top, which were forsaken from before the children of Israel: and it shall be a desolation. For thou hast forgotten the God of thy salvation, and hast not been mindful of the rock of thy <sup>15</sup>strength: therefore thou plantest <sup>16</sup>pleasant plants, and sittest it with <sup>17</sup>strange slips: in the day of thy planting thou hedgest it in, and in the morning thou makest thy seed to blossom: but the harvest <sup>18</sup>fleeth away in the day of grief and of desperate sorrow.

12 Ah, the <sup>19</sup>uproar of many peoples, which roar like the roaring of the seas; and the rushing of nations, that rush like the rushing of mighty waters! The nations shall rush like the rushing of many waters: but he shall rebuke <sup>20</sup>them, and <sup>21</sup>they shall flee far off, and shall be chased as the chaff of the mountains before the wind, and like the whirling dust before the storm. At eventide behold terror: and before the morning <sup>22</sup>they are not. This is the portion of them that spoil us, and the lot of them that rob us.

The princes of Zoan are utterly foolish; the counsel of the wisest counsellors of Pharaoh is become brutish: how say ye unto Pharaoh, I am the son of the wise, the son of ancient kings? Where then are thy wise men? and let them tell thee now; and let them know what the LORD of hosts hath purposed concerning Egypt. The princes of Zoan are become fools, the princes of <sup>18</sup> Noph are deceived; they have caused Egypt to go astray, that are the corner stone of her tribes. The LORD hath mingled a spirit of perverseness in the midst of her; and they have caused Egypt to go astray in every work thereof, as a drunken man <sup>19</sup> staggereth in his vomit. third with Egypt and with Assyria, a blessing in the midst of the earth: 25 for that the LORD of hosts hath blessed them, saying, Blessed be Egypt my people, and Assyria the work of my hands, and Israel mine inheritance.

20 In the year that <sup>1</sup>Tartan came unto Ashdod, when Sargon the king of Assyria sent him, and he fought against Ashdod and took it: 2 at that time the LORD spake by Isaiah the son of Amoz, saying, Go, and loose the sackcloth from off thy loins, and put thy shoe from off thy foot. And he did so, walking naked and barefoot. And the LORD said, Like as my servant Isaiah hath walked naked and barefoot <sup>2</sup>three years for a sign and a wonder upon <sup>3</sup>Egypt and upon <sup>4</sup>Ethiopia; so shall the king of Assyria lead away the captives of Egypt, and the exiles of Ethiopia, young and old, naked and barefoot, and with buttocks uncovered, to the shame of Egypt. 5 And they shall be dismayed and ashamed, because of Ethiopia their expectation, and of Egypt their glory. And the inhabitant of this coastland shall say in that day, Behold, such is our expectation, whither we fled for help to be delivered from the king of Assyria: and we, how shall we escape?

21 The <sup>4</sup>burden of the wilderness of the sea.

As whirlwinds in the South sweep through, it cometh from the wilderness, from a terrible land. A <sup>6</sup>grievous vision is declared unto me; the treacherous dealer dealeth treacherously, and the spoiler spoileth. Go up, O Elam; besiege, O Media; all the sighing thereof <sup>8</sup>have I made to cease. Therefore are my loins filled with anguish; pangs have taken hold upon me, as the pangs of a woman in travail: I am <sup>9</sup>pained so that I cannot hear; I am dismayed so that I cannot see. My heart <sup>10</sup>paneth, horror hath affrighted me: the twilight that I desired hath been turned into trembling unto me. 5 They prepare the table, they <sup>11</sup>set the watch, they eat, they drink: rise up, ye princes, anoint the <sup>12</sup>shield. For thus hath the LORD said unto me, Go, set a watchman; let him declare what he seeth: 7 <sup>13</sup>and when he seeth <sup>14</sup>a troop, <sup>15</sup>hor even in pairs, <sup>16</sup>a troop of asses, <sup>17</sup>a troop of camels, he shall hearken diligently with much heed. 8 And he cried as a lion: O Lord, I stand continually upon the watch-tower in the day-time, and am set <sup>9</sup>in my ward <sup>10</sup>whole nights: and, behold, here <sup>11</sup>cometh a troop of men, <sup>12</sup>horsemen in pairs. And he answered and said, Babylon is fallen, is fallen; and all the graven images of her gods are broken unto the <sup>13</sup>ground. O thou my throning, and the <sup>15</sup>corn of my floor: that which I have heard from the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, have I declared unto you.

11 The <sup>4</sup>burden of Dumah.

One calleth unto me out of Seir, Watchman, <sup>16</sup>what of the night? Watchman, <sup>17</sup>what of the night?

12 The watchman said, The morning <sup>17</sup>cometh, and also the night: if ye will inquire, inquire ye: <sup>18</sup>turn ye, come.

13 The <sup>19</sup>burden upon Arabia.

In the <sup>20</sup>forest <sup>21</sup>in Arabia shall ye lodge, O ye travelling companies <sup>22</sup>of Dedanites. Unto him that <sup>23</sup>was thirsty they brought water; <sup>24</sup>the inhabitants of the land of Tema did meet the fugitives with their bread.

15 For they fled away from the swords, from the drawn sword, and from the grievousness of war. For thus hath the LORD said unto me, Within a year, according to the years of an hireling, and all the glory of Kedar

16 shall fall: and the residue of the number of the archers, the mighty men of the children of Kedar, shall be few: for the LORD, the God of Israel, hath spoken it.

22 The <sup>4</sup>burden of the valley of vision.

What alleth thee now, that thou art wholly gone up to the house-

2 tops? O thou that art full of shoutings, a tumultuous city, a joyous town; thy slain are not slain with the sword, neither are

3 they dead in battle. All thy rulers fled away together, they were bound <sup>24</sup>by the archers: all that were found of thee were bound toge-

4 ther, <sup>25</sup>they fled afar off. Therefore said I, Look away from me, I will weep bitterly; <sup>26</sup>labour not to comfort me, for the spoiling of the 5 daughter of my people. For it is a day of discomfiture, and of treading down, and of perplexity, from the LORD, the LORD of hosts, in the valley of vision; a breaking down of the walls, and a crying to the <sup>27</sup>mountains. And Elam bare the quiver, with <sup>28</sup>chariots of men and horsemen; and Kir uncovered the shield.

7 And it came to pass, that thy choicest valleys were full of chariots, and the horsemen set themselves in array at 8 the gate. And he took away the covering of Judah; and thou didst look in that day to the armour in the 9 house of the forest. And ye saw the breaches of the city of David, that they were many: and ye gathered together the waters of the lower pool.

10 And ye numbered the houses of Jerusalem, and ye brake down the houses

11 to fortify the wall. Ye made also a reservoir between the two walls for the water of the old pool; but ye

12 ago. And in that day did the Lord, the LORD of hosts, call to weeping, and to mourning, and to baldness, and to girding with sackcloth: and behold, joy and gladness, slaying oxen and killing sheep, eating flesh and drinking wine: let us eat and drink, for to-morrow we shall die.

14 And the LORD of hosts revealed himself in mine ears, Surely this iniquity shall not be <sup>1</sup>purged from you till ye die, saith the Lord, the LORD of hosts.

17 Behold, the LORD will hurl thee away violently <sup>3</sup>as a strong man; yea, he will <sup>4</sup>wrap thee up closely.

18 He will surely <sup>5</sup>turn and toss thee like a ball into a large country; there shalt thou die, and there shall be the chariots of thy glory, thou shalt be the chariots of thy lord's house. And I will thrust thee from thine office, and from thy station shall he pull thee down. And it shall come to pass in that day, that I will call my servant Eliakim the son of Hilkiah: and I will clothe him with thy robe, and strengthen him with thy girdle, and I will commit thy government into his hand: and he shall be a father to the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and to the house of Judah. And the key of the house of David will I lay upon his shoulder; and he shall open, and none shall shut; and he shall shut, and none shall open. And I will fasten him as a nail in a sure place; and he shall be for a throne of glory to his father's house. And they shall hang upon him all the glory of his father's house, the offspring and the issue, every small vessel, from the vessels of cups even to all the vessels of flagons. In that day, saith the LORD of hosts, shall the nail that was fastened in a sure place give way; and it shall be hewn down, and fall, and the burden that was upon it shall be cut off; for the LORD hath spoken it.

23 The <sup>6</sup>burden of Tyre.
Howl, ye ships of Tarshish; for it is laid waste, so that there is no house, no entering in: from the land of Kittim it is revealed to them. Be still, ye inhabitants of the <sup>7</sup>isle; thou whom the merchants of Zidon, that pass over the sea, have replenished. And on great waters the seed of Shihor, the harvest of the Nile, was her revenue; and she was the mart of nations. Be thou ashamed, O Zidon: for the sea hath spoken, the strong hold of the sea, saying, I have not travelled, nor brought forth, neither have I nourished young men, nor brought up virgins. <sup>8</sup>When the report cometh to Egypt, they shall be sorely pained at the report of Tyre. Pass ye over to Tarshish; howl, ye inhabitants of the <sup>7</sup>isle. Is this your joyous city, whose antiquity is <sup>9</sup>of ancient days, whose feet carried her afar off to sojourn?

8 Who hath purposed this against Tyre, <sup>10</sup>the crowning city, whose merchants are princes, whose traffickers are the honourable of the earth? The LORD of hosts hath purposed it, to <sup>11</sup>stain the pride of all glory, to bring into contempt all the honourable of the earth. <sup>12</sup>Pass through thy land as the Nile, O daughter of Tarshish; there is no girdle about thee any more. He hath stretched out his hand over the sea, he hath shaken the kingdoms: the LORD hath given commandment concerning <sup>13</sup>Canaan, to destroy the strong holds thereof. And he said, Thou shalt no more rejoice, O thou oppressed virgin daughter of Zidon: arise, pass over to Kittim; even there shalt thou have no rest. Behold, the land of the Chaldeans; this people <sup>14</sup>is no more; the Assyrian <sup>15</sup>hath appointed it for <sup>16</sup>the beasts of the wilderness: they set up <sup>17</sup>their towers, they <sup>18</sup>overthrew the palaces thereof; he made it a ruin. Howl, ye ships of Tarshish: for your strong hold is laid waste. And it shall come to pass in that day, that Tyre shall be forgotten seventy years, according to the days of one king: after the end of seventy years <sup>19</sup>it shall be unto Tyre as in the song of the harlot. Take an harp, go about the city, thou harlot that hast been forgotten; make sweet melody, sing many songs, that thou mayest be remembered. And it shall come to pass after the end of seventy years, that the LORD will visit Tyre, and she shall return to her hire, and shall play the harlot with all the kingdoms of the world upon the face of the earth. And her merchandise and her hire shall be holiness to the LORD: it shall not be treasured nor laid up; for her merchandise shall be for them that dwell before the LORD, to eat sufficiently, and for <sup>20</sup>durable clothing.

24 Behold, the LORD maketh the <sup>21</sup>earth empty, and maketh it waste, and turneth it upside down, and scattereth abroad the inhabitants thereof. And it shall be, as with the people, so with the priest; as with the servant, so with his master; as with the maid, so with her mistress; as with the buyer, so with the seller; as with the lender, so with the borrower; as with the taker of usury, so with the giver of

The earth mourneth and fadeth away, the world languisheth and fadeth away, <sup>1</sup> the lofty people of the earth do languish. The earth also is polluted under the inhabitants thereof; because they have transgressed the laws, changed the ordinance, broken the everlasting covenant. Therefore hath the curse devoured the earth, and they that dwell therein are found guilty: therefore the inhabitants of the earth are burned, and few men left. The new wine mourneth, the vine languisheth, all the merryhearted do sigh. The mirth of tabrets ceaseth, the noise of them that rejoice endeth, the joy of the harp ceaseth. They shall not drink wine with a song; strong drink shall be bitter to them that drink it. The city of <sup>2</sup> confusion is broken down; every house is shut up, that no man may come in. There is a crying in the streets because of the wine; all joy is darkened, the mirth of the land is <sup>3</sup> gone. In the city is left desolation, and the gate is smitten with destruction. For thus shall it be in the midst of the earth among the peoples, as the <sup>4</sup> shaking of an olive tree, as the grape gleanings when the vintage is done. These shall lift up their voice, they shall shout: for the majesty of the LORD they cry aloud from the sea. Wherefore glorify ye the LORD in the <sup>5</sup> east, even the name of the LORD, the God of Israel, in the <sup>6</sup> isles of the sea.

16 From the uttermost part of the earth have we heard songs, glory to the righteous. But I said, <sup>7</sup> I pine away, I pine away, woe is me! the treacherous dealers have dealt treacherously; yea, the treacherous dealers have dealt very treacherously. Fear, and the pit, and the snare, are upon thee, O inhabitant of the earth. And it shall come to pass, that he who fleeth from the noise of the fear shall fall into the pit; and he that cometh up out of the midst of the pit shall be taken in the snare: for the windows on high are opened, and the foundations of the earth do shake. The earth is utterly broken, the earth is clean dissolved, the earth is moved exceedingly. The earth shall stagger like a drunken man, and shall be moved to and fro like a hut: and the transgression thereof shall be heavy upon it, and it shall fall, and not rise again.

21 And it shall come to pass in that day, that the LORD shall <sup>8</sup> punish the host of the <sup>9</sup> high ones on high, and the kings of the earth upon the earth. And they shall be gathered together, as prisoners are gathered in the <sup>10</sup> pit, and shall be shut up in the prison, and after many days

23 shall they be <sup>11</sup> visited. Then the moon shall be confounded, and the sun ashamed; for the LORD of hosts shall reign in mount Zion, and in Jerusalem, and <sup>12</sup> before his <sup>13</sup> ancients gloriously.

25 O LORD, thou art my God; I will exalt thee, I will praise thy name: for thou hast done wonderful things, even counsels of old, in <sup>2</sup> faithfulness and truth. For thou hast made of a city an heap: of a defended city a ruin: a palace of strangers to be no city; it shall never be built. Therefore shall the strong people glorify thee, the city of the terrible nations shall fear thee. For thou hast been a strong hold to the poor, a strong hold to the needy in his distress, a refuge from the storm, a shadow from the heat, when the blast of the terrible ones is as a storm against the wall.

5 As the heat in a dry place shalt thou bring down the noise of strangers; as the heat by the shadow of a cloud, the song of the terrible ones shall be brought low. And in this mountain shall the LORD of hosts make unto all peoples a feast of fat things, a feast of wines on the lees, of fat things full of marrow, of wines on the lees well refined. And he will <sup>14</sup> destroy in this mountain the face of the covering that is cast over all peoples, and the veil that is spread over all nations. He hath swallowed up death for ever; and the LORD God will wipe away tears from off all faces; and the reproach of his people shall he take away from off all the earth: for the LORD hath spoken it.

9 And it shall be said in that day, Lo, this is our God; we have waited for him, and he will save us: this is the LORD; we have waited for him, we will be glad and rejoice in his salvation. For in this mountain shall the hand of the LORD rest, and Moab shall be trodden down in his place, even as straw is trodden down <sup>15</sup> in the water of the dunghill.

26 In that day shall this song be sung in the land of Judah: We have a strong city; salvation will he appoint for walls and bulwarks.

2 Open ye the gates, that the righteous nation which keepeth truth may enter in. <sup>21</sup> Thou wilt keep him <sup>22</sup> in perfect peace, whose <sup>23</sup> mind is stayed on thee: because he trusteth in thee. brought down them that dwell on high, the lofty city: he layeth it low, he layeth it low even to the ground; he bringeth it even to the dust. The foot shall tread it down; even the feet of the poor, and the steps of the needy. The way of the just is <sup>1</sup>uprightness: thou that art upright dost <sup>2</sup>direct the path of the just. Yea, in the way of thy judgements, O LORD, have we waited for thee; to thy name and to thy memorial is the desire of our soul. With my soul have I desired thee in the night; yea, with my spirit within me will I seek thee <sup>3</sup>early: for when thy judgements are in the earth, the inhabitants of the world learn righteousness. Let favour be shewed to the wicked, yet will he not learn righteousness; in the land of uprightness will he deal wrongfully, and will not behold the majesty of the LORD.
 11 LORD, thy hand is lifted up, yet they see not: but they shall see <sup>4</sup>thy zeal for the people, and be ashamed; yea, <sup>5</sup>fire shall devour thine adversaries. LORD, thou wilt ordain peace for us: for thou hast also wrought all our works for us.
 13 O LORD our God, other lords beside thee have had dominion over us; but by thee only will we make mention of thy name. <sup>6</sup>They are dead, they shall not live; they are <sup>7</sup>deceased, they shall not rise: therefore hast thou visited and destroyed them, and made all their memory to perish. Thou hast increased the nation, O LORD, thou hast increased the nation; thou art glorified: <sup>8</sup>thou hast enlarged all the borders of the land.
 16 LORD, in trouble have they <sup>9</sup>visited thee, they poured out a <sup>10</sup>prayer when thy chastening was upon them. Like as a woman with child, that draweth near the time of her delivery, is in pain and crieth out in her pangs; so have we been <sup>11</sup>before thee, O LORD. We have been with child, we have been in pain, we have as it were brought forth wind; we have not wrought any deliverance in the earth: <sup>12</sup>neither have the inhabitants of the world fallen.
 19 Thy dead shall live; my dead bodies shall arise. Awake and sing, ye that dwell in the dust: for thy dew is as the dew of <sup>13</sup>herbs, and the earth shall cast forth <sup>14</sup>the dead.
 20 Come, my people, enter thou into thy chambers, and shut thy doors about thee: hide thyself for a little moment, until the indignation be overpast. For, behold, the LORD cometh forth out of his place to punish the inhabitants of the earth for their iniquity: the earth also shall disclose her blood, and shall no more cover her slain.
 27 In that day the LORD with his sore and great and strong sword shall punish leviathan the <sup>15</sup>swift serpent, and leviathan the <sup>16</sup>crooked serpent; and he shall slay the dragon that is in the sea.

 2 In that day: <sup>17</sup>A vineyard of wine, sing ye <sup>18</sup>unto it. I the LORD do keep it; I will water it every moment: lest any hurt it, I will keep it night and day. Fury is not in me: would that the briars and thorns were against me in battle! I would march upon them, I would burn them together. Or else let him take hold of my strength, that he may make peace with me; yea, let him make peace with me. <sup>19</sup>In days to come shall Jacob take root; Israel shall blossom and bud: and they shall fill the face of the world with fruit.
 7 Hath he smitten him as he smote those that smote him? or is he slain according to the slaughter <sup>20</sup>of them that were slain by him? <sup>21</sup>In measure, <sup>22</sup>when thou sendest her away, thou dost contend with her; he hath removed her with his rough blast in the day of the east wind.
 9 Therefore by this shall the iniquity of Jacob be <sup>23</sup>purged, and this is all the fruit <sup>24</sup>of taking away his sin; when he maketh all the stones of the altar as chalkstones that are beaten in sunder, so that the <sup>25</sup>Ashe-rem and the sun-images shall rise no more. For the defenced city is solitary, an habitation deserted and forsaken, like the wilderness: there shall the calf feed, and there shall he lie down, and consume the branches thereof. When the boughs thereof are withered, they shall be broken off; the women shall come, and set them on fire: for it is a people of no understanding; therefore he that made them will not have compassion upon them, and he that formed them will shew them no favour.
 12 And it shall come to pass in that day, that the LORD shall <sup>26</sup>beat off his fruit, from the flood of the River unto the brook of Egypt, and ye shall be <sup>27</sup>gathered <sup>28</sup>one by one, O ye children of Israel.
 13 And it shall come to pass in that day, that a great trumpet shall be blown; and they shall come which were <sup>29</sup>ready to perish in the land of Assyria, and they that were outcasts in the land of Egypt; and they shall worship the LORD in the holy mountain at Jerusalem.
 28 Woe to the crown of pride of the drunkards of Ephraim, and to the fading flower of his glorious beauty, which is on the head of the fat valley of them that are <sup>30</sup>overcome with wine! Behold, the LORD hath a mighty and strong one; as a tempest of hail, a destroying storm, as a tempest of mighty waters overflowing, shall he cast down to the earth <sup>31</sup>with the hand. beauty, which is on the head of the fat valley, shall be as the firstripe fig before the summer; which when he that looketh upon it seeth, while it is yet in his hand he eateth it up.

5 In that day shall the Lord of hosts be for a crown of glory, and for a diadem of beauty, unto the residue of his people: and for a spirit of judgement to him that sitteth in judgement, and for strength to them that turn back the battle at the gate. But these also have erred through wine, and through strong drink are gone astray: the priest and the prophet have erred through strong drink, they are swallowed up of wine, they are gone astray through strong drink; they err in vision, they stumble in judgement. For all tables are full of vomit and filthiness, so that there is no place clean. 4 Whom will he teach knowledge? and whom will he make to understand the message? them that are weaned from the milk, and drawn from the breasts? For it is precept upon precept, precept upon precept; line upon line, line upon line; here a little, there a little. 7 Nay, but by men of strange lips and with another tongue will he speak to this people: 12 to whom he said, This is the rest, give ye rest to him that is weary; and this is the refreshing; yet they would not hear. Therefore shall the word of the Lord be unto them precept upon precept, precept upon precept; line upon line, line upon line; here a little, there a little; that they may go, and fall backward, and be broken, and snared, and taken.

14 Wherefore hear the word of the Lord, ye scornful men, that rule this people which is in Jerusalem: because ye have said, We have made a covenant with death, and with hell are we at agreement; when the overflowing scourge shall pass through, it shall not come unto us; for we have made lies our refuge, and under falsehood have we hid ourselves: therefore thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I lay in Zion for a foundation a stone, a tried stone, a precious corner stone of sure foundation: he that believeth shall not make haste. And I will make judgement the line, and righteousness the plummet: and the hail shall sweep away the refuge of lies, and the waters shall overflow the hiding place. And your covenant with death shall be disannulled, and your agreement with hell shall not stand: when the overflowing scourge shall pass through, then ye shall be trodden down by it. 19 As often as it passeth through, it shall take you; for morning by morning shall it pass through, by day and by night: and it shall be sought but not found to understand the message. For the bed is shorter than that a man can stretch himself on it; and the covering narrower than that he can wrap himself in it. For the Lord shall rise up as in mount Perazim, he shall be wroth as in the valley of Gibeon; that he may do his work, his strange work, and bring to pass his act, his strange act. Now therefore be ye not scornful, lest your hands be made strong: for a consummation, and that determined, have I heard from the Lord, the Lord of hosts, upon the whole earth.

23 Give ye ear, and hear my voice; 24 hearken, and hear my speech. Doth the plowman plow continually to sow? doth he continually open and break the clods of his ground? 25 When he hath made plain the face thereof, doth he not cast abroad the seed, and scatter the cummin, and put in the wheat in rows and the barley in the appointed place and the spelt in the border thereof? 26 For his God doth instruct him aright, and doth teach him. For the fitches are not threshed with a sharp threshing instrument, neither is a cart wheel turned about upon the cummin; but the fitches are beaten out with a staff, and the cummin with a rod. 28 Bread corn is ground: for he will not ever be threshing it: and though the wheel of his cart and his horses scatter it, he doth not grind it. This also cometh forth from the Lord of hosts, which is wonderful in counsel, and excellent in wisdom.

29 10 Ho 17 Ariel, Ariel, the city where David encamped! add ye year to year; let the feasts come round: then will I distress Ariel, and there shall be mourning and lamentation: 18 and she shall be unto me as Ariel. And I will camp against thee round about, and will lay siege against thee with a fort, and I will raise siege works against thee. And thou shalt be brought down, and shalt speak out of the ground, and thy speech shall be low out of the dust; and thy voice shall be as of one that hath a familiar spirit, out of the ground, and thy speech shall whisper out of the dust. But the multitude of thy foes shall be like small dust, and the multitude of the terrible ones as chaff that passeth away: yea, it shall be at an instant suddenly. 21 She shall be visited of the Lord of hosts with thunder, and with earthquake, and great noise, with whirlwind and tempest, and the flame of a devouring fire. And the multitude of all the nations that fight against Ariel, even all that fight against her and her strong hold, and that distress her, shall be as a dream. 8 a vision of the night. 	sanctify my name: yea, they shall sanctify the Holy One of Jacob, and shall stand in awe of the God of Israel.
	24 They also that err in spirit <sup>12</sup> shall come to understanding, and they that murmur shall learn <sup>13</sup> doctrine.
	30 Woe to the rebellious children, saith the LORD, that take counsel, but not of me; and that <sup>14</sup> cover with a covering, but not of my spirit, that they may add sin to sin: <sup>2</sup> that walk to go down into Egypt, and have not asked at my mouth; to <sup>15</sup> strengthen themselves in the strength of Pharaoh, and to trust <sup>3</sup> in the shadow of Egypt! Therefore shall the strength of Pharaoh be your shame, and the trust in the shadow of Egypt your confusion.

	5 They shall all be ashamed of a people that cannot profit them, that are not an help nor profit, but a shame, and also a reproach.
	6 The <sup>16</sup> burden of the beasts of the South.
	Through the land of trouble and anguish, from whence come the lioness and the lion, the viper and fiery flying serpent, they carry their riches upon the shoulders of young asses, and their treasures upon the bunches of camels, to a people that <sup>7</sup> shall not profit them. For Egypt helpeth in vain, and to no purpose: therefore have I <sup>17</sup> called her Rahab that sitteth still. Now go, write it before them on a tablet, and inscribe it in a book, that it may be for the time to come <sup>18</sup> for ever and ever. For it is a rebellious people, lying children, children that will not hear the <sup>19</sup> law of the LORD: which say to the seers, See not: and to the prophets, Prophesy not unto us right things, speak unto us smooth things, <sup>11</sup> prophesy deceits: get you out of the way, turn aside out of the path, cause the Holy One of Israel to cease from before us. Wherefore thus saith the Holy One of Israel, Because ye despise this word, and trust in oppression and perverseness, and stay thereon: <sup>13</sup> therefore this iniquity shall be to you as a breach ready to fall, swelling out in a high wall, whose breaking cometh suddenly at an instant. And he shall break it as a potter's vessel is broken, breaking it in pieces without sparing; so that there shall not be found among the pieces thereof a sherd to take fire from the hearth, or to take water withal out of the cistern. For thus said the Lord God, the Holy One of Israel, In returning and rest shall ye be saved; in quietness and in confidence shall be your strength: and ye would not. But ye said, No, for we will flee upon horses; therefore shall ye flee: and, We will ride upon the swift; therefore shall they that 17 pursue you be swift. One thousand shall flee at the rebuke of one; at the rebuke of five shall ye flee: till ye be left as a beacon upon the top of a mountain; and as an ensign on an hill. And therefore will the LORD wait, that he may be gracious unto you, and therefore will he be exalted, that he may have mercy upon you: for the LORD is a God of judgement; blessed are all they that wait for him.

19 For <sup>2</sup>the people shall dwell in Zion at Jerusalem: thou shalt weep no more; he will surely be gracious unto thee at the voice of thy cry; when he shall hear, he will answer thee. <sup>3</sup>And though the LORD give you the bread of adversity and the water of affliction, yet shall not thy <sup>4</sup>teachers <sup>5</sup>be hidden any more, but thine eyes shall see thy <sup>4</sup>teachers: and thine ears shall hear a word behind thee, saying, This is the way, walk ye in it; when ye turn to the right hand, and when ye turn to the left. And ye shall defile the overlaying of thy graven images of silver, and the plating of thy molten images of gold: thou shalt cast them away as an <sup>7</sup>unclean thing; thou shalt say unto it, Get thee hence. And he shall give the rain of thy seed, that thou shalt sow the ground withal; and bread of the increase of the ground, and it shall be fat and plenteous: in that day shall thy cattle feed in large pastures. The oxen likewise and the young asses that till the ground shall eat <sup>8</sup>savoury provender, which hath been winnowed with the shovel and with the fan.

25 And there shall be upon every lofty mountain, and upon every high hill, rivers and streams of waters, in the day of the great slaughter, when the towers fall. Moreover the light of the moon shall be as the light of the sun, and the light of the sun shall be sevenfold, as the light of seven days, in the day that the LORD bindeth up the hurt of his people, and healeth the stroke of their wound.

27 Behold, the name of the LORD cometh from far, burning with his anger, and in thick rising smoke; his lips are full of indignation, and his tongue is as a devouring fire: and his breath is as an overshadowing stream, that reacheth even unto the neck, to sift the nations with the sieve of <sup>9</sup>vanity: and a bridle that causeth to err shall be in the jaws of the peoples. <sup>10</sup>He shall have a song as in the night <sup>10</sup>when a holy feast is kept; and gladness of heart, as when one goeth with a pipe to come into the mountain of the LORD, to the Rock of Israel.

30 And the LORD shall cause his glorious voice to be heard, and shall shew the lighting down of his arm, with the indignation of his anger, and the flame of a devouring fire, with <sup>11</sup>a blast, and tempest, and hailstones. For through the voice of the LORD shall the Assyrian be broken in pieces, <sup>12</sup>which smote with a rod. And every <sup>13</sup>stroke of the <sup>14</sup>appointed staff, which the LORD shall lay upon him, shall be with tabrets and harps: and in battles of shaking will he fight with them. For <sup>15</sup>a Topheth is prepared of old; yea, for the king it is made ready; he hath made it deep and large: the pile thereof is fire and much wood; the breath of the LORD, like a stream of brimstone, doth kindle it.

31 Woe to them that go down to Egypt for help, and stay on horses; and trust in chariots, because they are many, and in horsemen, because they are very strong; but they look not unto the Holy One of Israel, neither seek the LORD!

2 Yet he also is wise, and will bring evil, and will not call back his words: but will arise against the house of the evil-doers, and against the help of them that work iniquity. Now the Egyptians are men, and not God; and their horses flesh, and not spirit: and when the LORD shall stretch out his hand, both he that helpeth shall stumble, and he that is holpen shall fall, and they all shall fall together. For thus saith the LORD unto me, Like as when the lion groweth and the young lion over his prey, if a multitude of shepherds be called forth against him, he will not be dismayed at their voice, nor abase himself for the noise of them: so shall the LORD of hosts come down to fight upon mount Zion, and upon the hill thereof. As birds flying, so will the LORD of hosts protect Jerusalem; he will protect and deliver it, he will pass over and preserve it.

6 Turn ye unto him <sup>17</sup>from whom <sup>18</sup>ye have deeply revolted, O children of Israel. For in that day they shall cast away every man his idols of silver, and his idols of gold, which your own hands have made unto you for a sin. Then shall the Assyrian fall with the sword, not of man; and the sword, not of men, shall devour him: and he shall see from the sword, and his young men shall become tributary. And his rock shall pass away by reason of terror, and his princes shall be dismayed at the ensign, saith the LORD, whose fire is in Zion, and his furnace in Jerusalem.

32 Behold, a king shall reign in righteousness, and princes shall rule in judgement. And a man shall be as an hiding place from the wind, and a covert from the tempest; as rivers of water in a dry place, as the shadow of a

The heart also of the <sup>2</sup>rash shall understand knowledge, and the tongue of the stammerers shall be ready to speak plainly. The <sup>3</sup>vile person shall be no more called <sup>4</sup>liberal, nor the <sup>5</sup>churl said to be bountiful. For the <sup>6</sup>vile person will speak <sup>7</sup>villany, and his heart will work iniquity, to practise profaneness, and to utter error against the LORD, to make empty the soul of the hungry, and to cause the drink of the thirsty to fail. The instruments also of the churl are evil: he deviseth wicked devices to destroy the <sup>7</sup>meek with lying words, even when the needy speaketh right. But the liberal deviseth liberal things; and <sup>8</sup>in liberal things shall he continue.

9 Rise up, ye women that are at ease, and hear my voice; ye <sup>9</sup>careless daughters, give ear unto my speech. <sup>10</sup>For days beyond a year shall ye be troubled, ye careless women: for the vintage shall fail, the ingathering shall not come. 11 Tremble, ye women that are at ease; be troubled, ye careless ones: strip you, and make you bare, and <sup>11</sup>gird sackcloth upon your loins. 12 They shall smite upon the breasts for the pleasant fields, for the fruitful vine. Upon the land of my people shall come up thorns and briers; yea, upon all the houses of joy in the joyous city: for the palace shall be forsaken; the populous city shall be deserted; <sup>12</sup>the hill and the watch-tower shall be for dens for ever, a joy of wild asses, a pasture of flocks; until the spirit be poured upon us from on high, and the wilderness become a fruitful field, and the fruitful field be counted for a forest. Then judgement shall dwell in the wilderness, and righteousness shall abide in the fruitful field. And the work of righteousness shall be peace; and the effect of righteousness quietness and confidence for ever. And my people shall abide in a peaceable habitation, and in sure dwellings, and in quiet resting places. But it shall hail, in the downfall of the forest; and the city shall be utterly laid low. Blessed are ye that sow beside all waters, that send forth the feet of the ox and the ass.

33 Woe to thee that spoilest, and thou wast not spoiled; and dealest treacherously, and they dealt not treacherously with thee! When thou hast ceased to spoil, thou shalt be spoiled; and when thou hast made an end to deal treacherously, they shall deal treacherously with thee. O LORD, be gracious unto us; we have waited for thee: be thou their arm every morning, our salvation also in the time of trouble.

3 At the noise of the tumult the peoples are fled; at the lifting up of thyself the nations are scattered. 4 And your spoil shall be gathered as the caterpillar gathereth: as locusts leap shall they leap upon it. 5 The LORD is exalted; for he dwelleth on high: he hath filled Zion with judgement and righteousness. 6 <sup>13</sup>And there shall be stability in thy times, abundance of salvation, wisdom and knowledge: the fear of the LORD is his treasure. 7 Behold, their valiant ones cry without: the ambassadors of peace weep bitterly. The high ways lie waste, the wayfaring man ceaseth: he hath broken the covenant, he hath despised the cities, he regardeth not man. The land mourneth and languisheth: Lebanon is ashamed and withereth away: Sharon is like <sup>14</sup>a desert; and Bashan and Carmel shake off their leaves. 10 Now will I arise, saith the LORD: now will I lift up myself; now will I be exalted. Ye shall conceive chaff, ye shall bring forth stubble: your breath is a fire that shall devour you. And the peoples shall be as the burnings of lime: as thorns cut down, that are burned in the fire. 13 Hear, ye that are far off, what I have done; and, ye that are near, acknowledge my might. The sinners in Zion are afraid; trembling hath surprised the godless ones. Who among us shall dwell with the devouring fire? who among us shall dwell with everlasting burnings? 15 He that walketh righteously, and speaketh uprightly; he that despiseth the gain of <sup>15</sup>oppressions, that shaketh his hands from holding of bribes, that stoppeth his ears from hearing of blood, and shutteth his eyes from looking upon evil; he shall dwell on high: his place of defence shall be the munitions of rocks: his bread shall be given him; his waters shall be sure. 17 Thine eyes shall see the king in his beauty: they shall behold <sup>16</sup>a far stretching land. Thine heart shall muse on the terror: where is <sup>17</sup>he that counted, where is he that weighed the tribute? where is he that counted the towers? Thou shalt not see the fierce people, a people of a deep speech that thou canst not perceive; of a <sup>18</sup>strange tongue that thou canst not understand. Look upon Zion, the city of our <sup>19</sup>solemnities: thine eyes shall see Jerusalem a quiet habitation, a tent that shall not be removed. The stakes whereof shall never be plucked up, neither shall any of the cords thereof be broken. But there the LORD will be with us in majesty, <sup>20</sup>a place of broad rivers and streams; wherein shall go no galley with oars, neither shall gallant ship pass thereby. For the LORD is our judge, the LORD is our lawgiver, the LORD is our king; he will save us. Thy tacklings are loosed; they could not strengthen the foot of their mast, they could not spread the sail: then was the prey of a great spoil divided: the lame took the prey. And the inhabitant shall not say, I am sick: the people that dwell therein shall be forgiven their iniquity.

34 Come near, ye nations, to hear; and hearken, ye peoples: let the earth hear, and the fulness thereof; the world, and all things that come

2 forth of it. For the LORD hath indignation against all the nations, and fury against all their host: he hath utterly destroyed them, he hath delivered them to the slaughter.

3 Their slain also shall be cast out, and the stink of their carcases shall come up, and the mountains shall be melted with their blood.

4 And all the host of heaven shall be dissolved, and the heavens shall be rolled together as a scroll: and all their host shall fade away, as the leaf fadeth from off the vine, and as a fading leaf from the fig tree.

5 For my sword hath drunk its fill in heaven; behold, it shall come down upon Edom, and upon the people of my curse, to judgment. The sword of the LORD is filled with blood, it is made fat with fatness, with the blood of lambs and goats, with the fat of the kidneys of rams: for the LORD hath a sacrifice in Bozrah, and a great

7 slaughter in the land of Edom. And the wild-oxen shall come down with them, and the bullocks with the bulls; and their land shall be drunken with blood, and their dust made fat with fatness. For it is the day of the LORD's vengeance, the year of recompence in the controversy of Zion. And the streams thereof shall be turned into pitch, and the dust thereof into brimstone, and the land thereof shall become

10 burning pitch. It shall not be quenched night nor day; the smoke thereof shall go up for ever: from generation to generation it shall lie waste; none shall pass through it.

11 for ever and ever. But the pelican and the porcupine shall possess it; and the owl and the raven shall dwell therein; and he shall stretch over it the line of confusion, and the plummet of emptiness.

12 They shall call the nobles thereof to the kingdom, but none shall be there; and all her princes shall be nothing. And thorns shall come up in her palaces, nettles and thistles in the fortresses thereof: and it shall be an habitation of jackals, a court

14 for ostriches. And the wild beasts of the desert shall meet with the wolves, and the satyr shall cry to his fellow; yea, the night-monster shall settle there, and shall

15 find her a place of rest. There shall the arrow-snake make her nest, and lay, and hatch, and gather under her shadow: yea, there shall the kites be gathered, every one with

16 her mate. Seek ye out of the book of the LORD, and read: no one of these shall be missing, none shall want her mate: for my mouth it hath commanded, and his spirit it

17 hath gathered them. And he hath cast the lot for them, and his hand hath divided it unto them by line: they shall possess it for ever, from generation to generation shall they dwell therein.

35 The wilderness and the solitary place shall be glad; and the desert shall rejoice, and blossom as the rose. It shall blossom abundantly, and rejoice even with joy and singing: the glory of Lebanon shall be given unto it, the excellency of Carmel and Sharon: they shall see the glory of the LORD, the excellency of our God.

3 Strengthen ye the weak hands, and confirm the feeble knees. Say to them that are of a fearful heart, Be strong, fear not: behold, your God will come with vengeance, with the recompence of God; he will come and save you. Then the eyes of the blind shall be opened, and the ears of the deaf shall be un-

6 stopped. Then shall the lame man leap as an hart, and the tongue of the dumb shall sing: for in the wilderness shall waters break out, and streams in the desert. And the glowing sand shall become a pool, and the thirsty ground springs of water: in the habitation of jackals, where they lay, shall be grass with

8 reeds and rushes. And an high way shall be there, and a way, and it shall be called The way of holiness; the unclean shall not pass over it; but it shall be for those: the way-faring men, yea fools, shall not err therein. No lion shall be there, nor shall any ravenous beast go up thereon, they shall not be found there; but the redeemed shall walk

10 there: and the ransomed of the LORD shall return, and come with singing unto Zion; and everlasting joy shall be upon their heads: they shall obtain gladness and joy, and sorrow and sighing shall flee away.

36 Now it came to pass in the fourteenth year of king Hezekiah, that Sennacherib king of Assyria came up against all the fenced cities of Judah, and took them.

2 And the king of Assyria sent Rabshakeh from Lachish to Jerusalem unto king Hezekiah with a great army. And he stood by the conduit of the upper pool in the high way of the fuller's field. Then came forth unto him Eliakim the son of Hilkiah, which was over the household,

4 And Rabshakeh said unto them, Say ye now to Hezekiah, Thus saith the great king, the king of Assyria, What confidence is this wherein thou trustest? I say, thy counsel and strength for the war are but vain words: now on whom dost thou trust, that thou hast rebelled against me? Behold, thou trustest upon the staff of this bruised reed, even upon Egypt; whereon if a man lean, it will go into his hand, and pierce it: so is Pharaoh king of Egypt to all that trust on him. But if thou say unto me, We trust in the LORD our God: is not that he, whose high places and whose altars Hezekiah hath taken away, and hath said to Judah and to Jerusalem, Ye shall worship before this altar? Now therefore, I pray thee, <sup>2</sup>give pledges to my master the king of Assyria, and I will give thee two thousand horses, if thou be able on thy part to set riders upon them. How then canst thou turn away the face of one captain of the least of my master's servants, and put thy trust on Egypt for chariots and for horsemen? And am I now come up without the LORD against this land to destroy it? The LORD said unto me, Go up against this land, and destroy it. Then said Eliakim and Shebna and Joah unto Rabshakeh, Speak, I pray thee, unto thy servants in the <sup>4</sup>Syrian language; for we understand it; and speak not to us in the Jews' language, in the ears of the people that are on the wall. But Rabshakeh said, Hath my master sent me to thy master, and to thee, to speak these words? hath he not sent me to the men that sit upon the wall, to eat their own dung, and to drink their own water with you?
13 Then Rabshakeh stood, and cried with a loud voice in the Jews' language, and said, Hear ye the words of the great king, the king of Assyria. Thus saith the king, Let not Hezekiah deceive you; for he shall not be able to deliver you: neither let Hezekiah make you trust in the LORD, saying, The LORD will surely deliver us; this city shall not be given into the hand of the king of Assyria. Harken not to Hezekiah: for thus saith the king of Assyria, <sup>5</sup>Make your peace with me, and come out to me; and eat ye every one of his vine, and every one of his fig tree, and drink ye every one the waters of his own cistern: until I come and take you away to a land like your own land, a land of corn and wine, a land of bread and vineyards.
18 Beware lest Hezekiah persuade you, saying, The LORD will deliver us. Hath any of the gods of the nations delivered his land out of the hand

19 of the king of Assyria? Where are the gods of Hamath and Arpad? where are the gods of Sepharvaim? and have they delivered Samaria out of my hand? Who are they among all the gods of these countries, that have delivered their country out of my hand, that the LORD should deliver Jerusalem out of my hand? But they held their peace, and answered him not a word: for the king's commandment was, saying, Answer him not.
22 Then came Eliakim the son of Hilkiah, that was over the household, and Shebna the scribe, and Joah the son of Asaph the recorder, to Hezekiah with their clothes rent, and told him the words of Rabshakeh.
37 <sup>6</sup>And it came to pass, when king Hezekiah heard it, that he rent his clothes, and covered himself with sackcloth, and went into the house of the LORD. And he sent Eliakim, who was over the household, and Shebna the scribe, and the elders of the priests, covered with sackcloth, unto Isaiah the prophet the son of Amoz. And they said unto him, Thus saith Hezekiah, This day is a day of trouble, and of rebuke, and of contumely: for the children are come to the birth, and there is not strength to bring forth. It may be the LORD thy God will hear the words of Rabshakeh, whom the king of Assyria his master hath sent to reproach the living God, and will rebuke the words which the LORD thy God hath heard: wherefore lift up thy prayer for the remnant that is left.
5 So the servants of king Hezekiah came to Isaiah. And Isaiah said unto them, Thus shall ye say to your master, Thus saith the LORD, Be not afraid of the words that thou hast heard, wherewith the servants of the king of Assyria have blasphemed me. Behold, I will put a spirit in him, and he shall hear a rumour, and shall return unto his own land; and I will cause him to fall by the sword in his own land.
8 So Rabshakeh returned, and found the king of Assyria warring against Libnah: for he had heard that he was departed from Lachish. And he heard say concerning Tirhakah king of Ethiopia, He is come out to fight against thee. And when he heard it, he sent messengers to Hezekiah, saying, Thus shall ye speak to Hezekiah king of Judah, saying, Let not thy God in whom thou trustest deceive thee, saying, Jerusalem shall not be given into the hand of the king of Assyria.
11 Behold, thou hast heard what the kings of Assyria have done to all lands, by <sup>6</sup>destroying them utterly: and shalt thou be delivered?
12 Have the gods of the nations delivered them, which my fathers have destroyed, Gozan, and Haran, and Rezeph, and the children of 13 Eden which were in Telassar? Where is the king of Hamath, and the king of Arpad, and the king of the city of Sepharvaim, of Hena, and Ivah? And Hezekiah received the letter from the hand of the messengers, and read it: and Hezekiah went up unto the house of the LORD, and spread it before the LORD. And Hezekiah prayed unto the LORD, saying, O LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, that sittest upon the cherubim, thou art the God, even thou alone, of all the kingdoms of the earth, thou hast made heaven and earth. Incline thine ear, O LORD, and hear; open thine eyes, O LORD, and see; and hear all the words of Sennacherib, which hath sent to reproach the living God. Of a truth, LORD, the kings of Assyria have laid waste all the countries, and their land, and have cast their gods into the fire: for they were no gods, but the work of men's hands, wood and stone; therefore they have destroyed them. Now therefore, O LORD our God, save us from his hand, that all the kingdoms of the earth may know that thou art the LORD, even thou only.

21 Then Isaiah the son of Amoz sent unto Hezekiah, saying, Thus saith the LORD, the God of Israel, Whereas thou hast prayed to me against Sennacherib king of Assyria, this is the word which the LORD hath spoken concerning him: The virgin daughter of Zion hath despised thee, and laughed thee to scorn; the daughter of Jerusalem hath shaken her head at thee. Whom hast thou reproached and blasphemed? and against whom hast thou exalted thy voice, and lifted up thine eyes on high? even against the Holy One of Israel. By thy servants hast thou reproached the Lord, and hast said, With the multitude of my chariots am I come up to the height of the mountains, to the innermost parts of Lebanon; and I will cut down the tall cedars thereof, and the choice fir trees thereof; and I will enter into his farthest height, the forest of his fruitful field. I have digged and drunk water, and with the sole of my feet will I dry up all the rivers of Egypt. Hast thou not heard how I have done it long ago, and formed it of ancient times? now have I brought it to pass, that thou shouldest be to lay waste fenced cities unto ruinous heaps. Therefore their inhabitants were of small power, they were dismayed and confounded; they were as the grass of the field, and as the green herb, as the grass on the housetops, and as a field of corn before it be grown up. But I know thy sitting down, and thy going out, and thy coming in, and thy raging against me. Because of thy raging against me, and for that thine arrogance is come up into mine ears, therefore will I put my hook in thy nose, and my bridle in thy lips, and I will turn thee back by the way by which thou camest. And this shall be the sign unto thee: ye shall eat this year that which groweth of itself, and in the second year that which springeth of the same; and in the third year sow ye, and reap, and plant vineyards, and eat the fruit thereof. And the remnant that is escaped of the house of Judah shall again take root downward, and bear fruit upward. For out of Jerusalem shall go forth a remnant, and out of mount Zion they that shall escape: the zeal of the LORD of hosts shall perform this. Therefore thus saith the LORD concerning the king of Assyria, He shall not come unto this city, nor shoot an arrow there, neither shall he come before it with shield, nor cast a mount against it. By the way that he came, by the same shall he return, and he shall not come unto this city, saith the LORD.

35 For I will defend this city to save it, for mine own sake, and for my servant David's sake.

36 And the angel of the LORD went forth, and smote in the camp of the Assyrians a hundred and fourscore and five thousand: and when men arose early in the morning, behold, they were all dead corpses. So Sennacherib king of Assyria departed, and went and returned, and dwelt at Nineveh. And it came to pass, as he was worshipping in the house of Nisroch his god, that Adrammelech and Sharezer his sons smote him with the sword: and they escaped into the land of Ararat. And Esar-haddon his son reigned in his stead.

38 In those days was Hezekiah sick unto death. And Isaiah the prophet the son of Amoz came to him, and said unto him, Thus saith the LORD, Set thine house in order; for thou shalt die, and not live.

2 Then Hezekiah turned his face to the wall, and prayed unto the LORD, and said, Remember now, O LORD, I beseech thee, how I have walked before thee in truth and with a perfect heart, and have done that which is good in thy sight. And Hezekiah wept sore. Then came the word of the LORD to Isaiah, saying, Go, and say to Hezekiah, Thus saith the LORD, the God of David thy father, I have heard thy prayer, I have seen thy tears: behold, I will add unto thy days fifteen years. And I will deliver thee and this city out of the hand of the king of Assyria: and I will defend this city. And this shall be the sign unto thee from the LORD, that the LORD will do this thing, that he hath spoken: behold, I will cause the shadow on the steps, which is gone down on the 4 The writing of Hezekiah king of Judah, when he had been sick, and was recovered of his sickness.

10 I said, In the 4 noon tide of my days I shall go into the gates of 5 the grave:
I am deprived of the residue of my years.
11 I said, I shall not see 6 the Lord, even 6 the LORD in the land of the living:
I shall behold man no more 7 with the inhabitants of the world.
12 Mine 8 age is removed, and is carried away from me as a shepherd's tent:
I have rolled up like a weaver my life; he will cut me off from the 9 loom:
From day even to night wilt thou make an end of me.
13 10 I quieted myself until morning; as a lion, so he breaketh all my bones:
From day even to night wilt thou make an end of me.
14 Like a swallow or a crane, so did I chatter:
I did mourn as a dove: mine eyes fail with looking upward;
O LORD, I am oppressed, be thou my surety.
15 What shall I say? he hath both spoken unto me, and himself hath done it:
I shall go 11 softly all my years because of the bitterness of my soul.
16 O Lord, by these things men live,
And wholly therein is the life of my spirit:
12 Wherefore recover thou me, and make me to live.
17 Behold, it was for my peace that I had great bitterness:
But 13 thou hast in love to my soul delivered it from the pit of 14 corruption;
For thou hast cast all my sins behind thy back.
18 For 5 the grave cannot praise thee, death cannot celebrate thee:
They that go down into the pit cannot hope for thy truth.
19 The living, the living, he shall praise thee, as I do this day:
The father to the children shall make known thy truth.
20 The LORD is ready to save me:
Therefore we will sing my songs to the stringed instruments
All the days of our life in the house of the LORD.
21 15 Now Isaiah had said, Let them take a cake of figs, and lay it for a plaister upon the boil, and he shall recover. Hezekiah also had said, What is the sign that I shall go up to the house of the LORD?
39 16 At that time Merodach-baldan the son of Baladan, king of Babylon, sent letters and a present to Hezekiah: for he heard that he had been sick, and was recovered.
2 And Hezekiah was glad of them, and shewed them the house of his 17 precious things, the silver, and the gold, and the spices, and the precious oil, and all the house of his 18 armour, and all that was found in his treasures: there was nothing in his house, nor in all his dominion, that Hezekiah shewed them 3 not. Then came Isaiah the prophet unto king Hezekiah, and said unto him, What said these men? and from whence came they unto thee? And Hezekiah said, They are come from a far country unto me, even 4 from Babylon. Then said he, What have they seen in thine house? And Hezekiah answered, All that is in mine house have they seen: there is nothing among my treasures that 5 I have not shewed them. Then said Isaiah to Hezekiah, Hear the word 6 of the LORD of hosts. Behold, the days come, that all that is in thine house, and that which thy fathers have laid up in store until this day, shall be carried to Babylon: nothing shall be left, saith the LORD.
7 And of thy sons that shall issue from thee, which thou shalt beget, shall they take away; and they shall be eunuchs in the palace of the king of Babylon. Then said Hezekiah unto Isaiah, Good is the word of the LORD which thou hast spoken. He said moreover, For there shall be peace and truth in my days.
40 Comfort ye, comfort ye my 2 people, saith your God. Speak ye 19 comfortably to Jerusalem, and cry unto her, that her 20 warfare is accomplished, that her 21 iniquity is pardoned; that she hath received of the LORD's hand double for all her sins.
3 The voice of one 22 that crieth, Prepare ye in the wilderness the way of the LORD, make 23 straight in the desert a high way for our God.
4 Every valley shall be exalted, and every mountain and hill shall be made low: and 24 the crooked shall be made straight, and the rough places 25 plain: and the glory of the LORD shall be revealed, and all flesh shall see it together: for the mouth 6 of the LORD hath spoken it. The voice of one saying, Cry, And 26 one said, What shall I cry? All flesh is grass, and all the goodness thereof 7 is as the flower of the field; the grass withereth, the flower fadeth; because the breath of the LORD bloweth upon it: surely the people 8 is grass. The grass withereth, the flower fadeth: but the word of our God shall stand for ever.

Behold, the Lord God will come as a mighty one, and his arm shall rule for him: behold, his reward is with him, and his recompence before him. He shall feed his flock like a shepherd, he shall gather the lambs in his arm, and carry them in his bosom, and shall gently lead those that give suck.

12 Who hath measured the waters in the hollow of his hand, and meted out heaven with the span, and comprehended the dust of the earth in a measure, and weighed the mountains in scales, and the hills

in a balance? Who hath directed the spirit of the LORD, or being his counsellor hath taught him? With whom took he counsel, and who instructed him, and taught him knowledge, and showed to him the way of understanding? Behold, the nations are as a drop of a bucket, and are counted as the small dust of the balance: behold, he taketh up the isles as a very little thing. And Lebanon is not sufficient to burn, nor the beasts thereof sufficient for a burnt offering. All the nations are as nothing before him: they are counted to him less than nothing, and vanity. To whom then will ye liken him? or what likeness will ye compare unto him?

19 The graven image, a workman hath melted it, and the goldsmith spreadeth it over with gold, and casteth for it silver chains. He that is too impoverished for such an oblation chooseth a tree that will not rot: he seeketh unto him a cunning workman to set up a graven image, that shall not be moved. Have ye not known? have ye not heard? hath it not been told you from the beginning? have ye not understood from the foundations of the earth?

22 It is he that sitteth upon the circle of the earth, and the inhabitants thereof are as grasshoppers; that stretcheth out the heavens as a curtain, and spreadeth them out as a tent to dwell in: that bringeth princes to nothing; he maketh the judges of the earth as vanity. Yea, they have not been seen: yea, they shall not be taken root in the earth: moreover he bloweth upon them, and they wither, and the whirlwind taketh them away as stubble. To whom then will ye liken me, that I should be equal to him? saith the Holy One. I lift up your eyes on high: and see who hath created these, that bringeth out their host by number: he calleth them by name, by the greatness of his might, and for that he is strong in power, not one is lacking.

27 Why sayest thou, O Jacob, and speakest, O Israel, My way is hid from the LORD, and my judgement is passed away from my God? Hast thou not known? hast thou not heard? the everlasting God, the LORD, the Creator of the ends of the earth, saluteth not, neither is weary: there is no searching of his understanding. He giveth power to the faint; and to him that hath no might he increaseth strength. Even the youths shall faint and be weary, and the young men shall utterly fall: but they that wait upon the LORD shall renew their strength; they shall mount up with wings as eagles; they shall run, and not be weary; they shall walk, and not faint.

41 Keep silence before me, O islands; and let the peoples renew their strength: let them come near; then let them speak: let us come near together to judgement. Who hath raised up one from the east, whom he calleth in righteousness to his foot? he giveth nations before him, and maketh him rule over kings: he giveth them as the dust to his sword, as the driven stubble to his bow. He pursueth them, and passeth on safely; even by a way that he had not gone with his feet. Who hath wrought and done it, calling the generations from the beginning? I the LORD, the first, and with the last, I am he. The isles saw, and feared; the ends of the earth trembled: they drew near, and came. They helped every one his neighbour; and every one said to his brother, Be of good courage. So the carpenter encouraged the goldsmith, and he that smootheneth with the hammer him that smiteth the anvil, saying of the soldering, It is good: and he fastened it with nails, that it should not be moved.

5 But thou, Israel, my servant, Jacob whom I have chosen, the seed of Abraham my friend; thou whom I have taken hold of from the ends of the earth, and called thee from the corners thereof, and said unto thee, Thou art my servant, I have chosen thee and not cast thee away; fear thou not, for I am with thee; be not dismayed, for I am thy God: I will strengthen thee; yea, I will help thee; yea, I will uphold thee with the right hand of my righteousness. Behold, all they that are incensed against thee shall be ashamed and confounded: they that strive with thee shall be as nothing, and shall perish. Thou shalt seek them, and shalt not find them, even them that contend with thee: they that war against thee shall be as nothing, and as a thing of nought. For I the LORD thy God will hold thy right hand, saying unto thee, Fear not; I will help thee. Fear not, thou worm Jacob, and ye men of Israel; I will help thee, saith the Lord, and thy redeemer is the Holy One of Israel. Behold, I will make thee a new sharp threshing instrument having teeth: thou shalt thresh the mountains, and beat them small, and shalt make the hills as chaff. Thou shalt fan them, and the wind shall carry them away, and the whirlwind shall scatter them: and thou shalt rejoice in the Lord, thou shalt glory in the Holy One of Israel. The poor and needy seek water and there is none, and their tongue faileth for thirst: I the Lord will answer them, I the God of Israel will not forsake them. I will open rivers on the bare heights, and fountains in the midst of the valleys: I will make the wilderness a pool of water, and the dry land springs of water. I will plant in the wilderness the cedar, the acacia tree, and the myrtle, and the oil tree: I will set in the desert the fir tree, the pine, and the box tree together: that they may see, and know, and consider, and understand together, that the hand of the Lord hath done this, and the Holy One of Israel hath created it.

21 Produce your cause, saith the Lord; bring forth your strong reasons, saith the King of Jacob. Let them bring them forth, and declare unto us what shall happen: declare ye the former things, what they be, that we may consider them, and know the latter end of them; or shew us things far to come. Declare the things that are to come hereafter, that we may know that ye are gods: yea, do good, or do evil, that we may be dismayed, and behold it together. Behold, ye are of nothing, and your work of nought: an abomination is he that chooseth you.

25 I have raised up one from the north, and he is come: from the rising of the sun one that calleth upon my name: and he shall come upon rulers as upon mortar, and as the potter treadeth clay. Who hath declared it from the beginning, that we may know? and beforetime, that we may say, He is righteous? yea, there is none that declareth, yea, there is none that sheweth, yea, there is none that heareth your words. I first will say unto Zion, Behold, behold them: and I will give to Jerusalem one that bringeth good tidings. 28 And when I look, there is no man; even among them there is no counsellor, that, when I ask of them, can answer a word. 29 Behold, all of them, their works are vanity and nought: their molten images are wind and confusion.

42 Behold my servant, whom I uphold; my chosen, in whom my soul delighteth: I have put my spirit upon him; he shall bring forth judgement to the Gentiles. He shall not cry, nor lift up, nor cause his voice to be heard in the street. 3 A bruised reed shall he not break, and the smoking flax shall he not quench: he shall bring forth judgement in truth. He shall not fail nor be discouraged, till he have set judgement in the earth; and the isles shall wait for his law. Thus saith God the Lord, he that created the heavens, and stretched them forth; he that spread abroad the earth and that which cometh out of it; he that giveth breath unto the people upon it, and spirit to them that walk therein: I the Lord have called thee in righteousness, and will hold thine hand, and will keep thee, and give thee for a covenant of the people, for a light of the Gentiles: to open the blind eyes, to bring out the prisoners from the dungeon, and them that sit in darkness out of the prison house. I am the Lord; that is my name: and my glory will I not give to another, neither my praise unto graven images. Behold, the former things are come to pass, and new things do I declare: before they spring forth I tell you of them.

10 Sing unto the Lord a new song, and his praise from the end of the earth; ye that go down to the sea, and all that is therein, the isles, and the inhabitants thereof. Let the wilderness and the cities thereof lift up their voice, the villages that Kedar doth inhabit; let the inhabitants of Sela sing, let them shout from the top of the mountains. Let them give glory unto the Lord, and declare his praise in the islands. 13 The Lord shall go forth as a mighty man; he shall stir up jealousy like a man of war: he shall cry, yea, he shall shout aloud; he shall do mightily against his enemies. I have long time holden my peace; I have been still, and refrained myself: now will I cry out like a travailing woman; I will gasp and pant together. I will make waste mountains and hills, and dry up all their herbs: and I will make the rivers islands, and will dry up the pools. And I will bring the blind by a way that they know not; in paths that they know not will I lead them: I will make darkness light before them, and crooked places straight. These things will I do, and I will not forsake them. 17 They shall be turned back, they shall be greatly ashamed, that trust in graven images, that say unto molten images, Ye are our gods.

18 Hear, ye deaf; and look, ye blind, that ye may see. Who is blind, but my servant? or deaf, as my messenger that I send? who is blind as he that is? that person with me, and blind as the Lord's servant? Thou seest many things, but thou observest not; his ears

- 21 are open, but he heareth not. It pleased the LORD, for his righteousness' sake, to magnify the law, and make it honourable. But this is a people robbed and spoiled: they are all of them snared in holes, and they are hid in prison houses: they are for a prey, and none delivereth; for a spoil, and none saith, Restore. Who is there among you that will give ear to this? that will hearken and hear for the time to come? Who gave Jacob for a spoil, and Israel to the robbers? did not the LORD? he against whom we have sinned, and in whose ways they would not walk, neither were they obedient unto his law. Therefore he poured upon him the fury of his anger, and the strength of battle: and it set him on fire round about, yet he knew not; and it burned him, yet he laid it not to heart.
- 43 But now thus saith the LORD that created thee, O Jacob, and he that formed thee, O Israel: Fear not, for I have redeemed thee; I have called thee by thy name, thou art mine. When thou passedst through the waters, I will be with thee, and through the rivers, they shall not overflow thee: when thou walkest through the fire, thou shalt not be burned, neither shall the flame kindle upon thee. For I am the LORD thy God, the Holy One of Israel, thy saviour. I have given Egypt as thy ransom, Ethiopia and Seba for thee. Since thou hast been precious in my sight, and honourable, and I have loved thee; therefore will I give men for thee, and all peoples for thy life. Fear not, for I am with thee. I will bring thy seed from the east, and gather thee from the west. I will say to the north, Give up; and to the south, Keep not back: bring my sons from far, and my daughters from the end of the earth: every one that is called by my name, and whom I have created for my glory; I have formed him: yea, I have made him. Bring forth the blind people that have eyes, and deaf that have ears. Let all the nations be gathered together, and let the peoples be assembled: who among them can declare this, and show us former things? let them bring their witnesses, that they may be justified: or let them hear and say, It is truth. Ye are my witnesses, saith the LORD, and my servant whom I have chosen: that ye may know and believe me, and understand that I am he, before me there was no God formed, neither shall there be after me.
- 11 I, even I, am the LORD, and beside me there is no saviour. I have declared, and I have saved, and I have showed, and there was no stranger god among you: therefore ye are my witnesses, saith the LORD, and I am God. Yea, since the day

- was I am he; and there is none that can deliver out of my hand: I will work, and who shall let it?
- 14 Thus saith the LORD, your redeemer, the Holy One of Israel: For your sake I have sent to Babylon, and I will bring down all of them as fugitives, even the Chaldeans, in the ships of their rejection. I am the LORD, your Holy One, the Creator of Israel, your King. Thus saith the LORD, which maketh a way in the sea, and a path in the mighty waters; which bringeth forth the chariot and horse, the army and the power: they lie down together, they shall not rise: they are extinct, they are quenched as wax. Remember ye not the former things, neither consider the things of old. Behold I will do a new thing; now shall it spring forth; shall ye not know it? I will even make a way in the wilderness, and rivers in the desert. The beasts of the field shall honour me, the jackals and the ostriches: because I give waters in the wilderness, and rivers in the desert, to give drink to my people, my chosen: the people which I formed for myself, that they might set forth my praise. Yet thou hast not called upon me, O Jacob; but thou hast been weary of me, O Israel. Thou hast not brought me the small cattle of thy burnt offerings; neither hast thou honoured me with thy sacrifices. I have not made thee to serve with offerings, nor wearied thee with frankincense. Thou hast bought me no sweet cane with money, neither hast thou filled me with the fat of thy sacrifices: but thou hast made me to serve with thine sins, thou hast wearied me with thine iniquities.
- 25 I, even I, am he that blot out thy transgressions for mine own sake; and I will not remember thy sins. Put me in remembrance; let us plead together: set thou forth thine cause, that thou mayest be justified. Thy first father sinned, and thou hast inherited his transgressions. Therefore I will profane the princes of the sanctuary, and I will make Jacob a curse, and Israel a reviling. Yet now hear, O Jacob my servant, and Israel whom I have chosen.
- 2 Thus saith the LORD that made thee, and formed thee from the womb, who will help thee. Fear not, O Jacob my servant, and thou, Jesurun, whom I have chosen.
- 3 For I will pour water upon him that is thirsty, and streams upon the dry ground: I will pour my spirit upon thy seed, and my blessing upon thine offspring: and they shall spring up among the grass, as willows by the waters.
- 5 Therefore, one shall say, I am the LORD; and another shall call himself by the name of Jacob:

6 Thus saith the LORD, the King of Israel, and his redeemer the LORD of hosts: I am the first, and I am the last; and beside me there is

7 no God. <sup>3</sup>And who, as I, shall call, and shall declare it, and set it in order for me, since I appointed the ancient people? and the things that are coming, and that shall come

8 to pass, let them <sup>4</sup>declare. Fear ye not, neither be afraid: have I not declared unto thee of old, and shewed it? and ye are my witnesses. Is there a God beside me? yea, there is no Rock: I know not any.

9 They that fashion a graven image are all of them <sup>5</sup>vainity; and their delectable things shall not profit: and their own witnesses see not, nor know: that they may be

10 ashamed. Who hath fashioned a god, or molten a graven image

11 that is profitable for nothing? Behold, <sup>6</sup>all his fellows shall be ashamed; and the workmen, they are of men: let them all be gathered together, let them stand up; they shall fear, they shall

12 be ashamed together. The smith <sup>7</sup>maketh an axe, and worketh in the coals, and fashioneth it with hammers, and worketh it with his strong arm: yea, he is hungry, and his strength faileth; he drinketh

13 no water, and is faint. The carpenter stretcheth out a line; he marketh it out with <sup>8</sup>a pencil; he shapeth it with planes, and he marketh it out with the compasses, and shapeth it after the figure of

14 a man, according to the beauty of a man, to dwell in the house. He heweth him down cedars, and taketh the holm tree and the oak, and strengtheneth for himself one among the trees of the forest: he

15 planteth <sup>9</sup>a fir tree, and the rain doth nourish it. Then shall it be for a man to burn; and he taketh thereof, and warmeth himself: yea, he kindleth it, and baketh bread: yea, he maketh a god, and worshippeth it; he maketh it a graven image,

16 and falleth down thereto. He burneth <sup>10</sup>part thereof in the fire; with <sup>10</sup>part thereof he eateth flesh; he roasteth roast, and is satisfied: yea, he warmeth himself, and saith, Aha, I am warm, I have seen the

17 fire: and the residue thereof he maketh a god, even his graven image: he falleth down unto it and worshippeth it, and prayeth unto it, and saith, Deliver me; for thou art my god. They know not, neither

18 do they consider: for he hath <sup>11</sup>shut their eyes, that they cannot see; and their hearts, that they cannot understand. And none calleth to mind, neither is there knowledge nor understanding to say, I have burned part of it in the fire; yea, also I have baked bread upon the coals thereof; I have roasted flesh and eaten it: and shall I make the residue thereof an abomination? shall I fall down to the stock of a tree? He feedeth on ashes: a deceived heart hath turned him aside, that he cannot deliver his soul, nor say, Is there not a lie in my right hand?

21 Remember these things, O Jacob; and Israel, for thou art my servant: I have formed thee; thou art my servant: O Israel, <sup>12</sup>thou shalt not be forgotten of me. I have

22 blotted out, as a thick cloud, thy transgressions, and, as a cloud, thy sins: return unto me; for I have

23 redeemed thee. Sing, O ye heavens, for the LORD hath done it; shout, ye lower parts of the earth; break forth into singing, ye mountains, O forest, and every tree therein: for the LORD hath redeemed Jacob, and will glorify himself in Israel.

24 Thus saith the LORD, thy redeemer, and he that formed thee from the womb: I am the LORD, that maketh all things; that stretcheth forth the heavens alone; that spreadeth abroad the earth; <sup>13</sup>who

25 is with me? that frustrateth the tokens of the <sup>14</sup>liars, and maketh diviners mad; that turneth wise men backward, and maketh their

26 knowledge foolish: that confirmeth the word of his servant, and performeth the counsel of his messengers; that saith of Jerusalem, She shall be inhabited; and of the cities of Judah, They shall be built, and I will raise up the waste places

27 thereof: that saith to the deep, Be dry, and I will dry up thy rivers:

28 that saith of <sup>15</sup>Cyrus, He is my shepherd, and shall perform all my pleasure: even saying of Jerusalem, She shall be built; <sup>16</sup>and to the temple, Thy foundation shall be laid.

45 Thus saith the LORD to his anointed, to Cyrus, whose right hand I have holden, to subdue nations before him, and I will loose the loins of kings; to open the doors before him, and the gates shall not

2 be shut: I will go before thee, and make the rugged places plain: I will break in pieces the doors of brass, and cut in sunder the bars of

3 iron: and I will give thee the treasures of darkness, and hidden riches of secret places, that thou mayest know that I am the LORD, which call thee by thy name, even the

4 God of Israel. For Jacob my servant's sake, and Israel my chosen, I have called thee by thy name: I have surnamed thee, though thou

5 hast not known me. I am the LORD, and there is none else; beside me there is no God: I will gird thee, though thou hast not

- 9 Woe unto him that striveth with his Maker! a potsherd among the potsherd of the earth! Shall the clay say to him that fashioneth it, What makest thou? or thy work.
- 10 He hath no hands? Woe unto him that saith unto a father, What begettest thou? or to a woman, With what travailest thou? Thus saith the LORD, the Holy One of Israel, and his Maker: Ask me of the things that are to come; concerning my sons, and concerning the work of my hands, command ye me. I have made the earth, and created man upon it: I, even my hands, have stretched out the heavens, and all their host have I commanded. I have raised him up in righteousness, and I will make straight all his ways: he shall build my city, and he shall let my exiles go free, not for price nor reward, saith the LORD of hosts.
- 14 Thus saith the LORD. The labour of Egypt, and the merchandise of Ethiopia, and the Sabeans, men of stature, shall come over unto thee, and they shall be thine; they shall go after thee; in chains they shall come over: and they shall fall down unto thee, they shall make supplication unto thee, saying, Surely God is in thee; and there is none else, there is no God. Verily thou art a God that hidest thyself, O God of Israel, the Saviour. They shall be ashamed, yea, confounded, all of them: they shall go into confusion together that are makers of idols.
- 17 But Israel shall be saved by the LORD with an everlasting salvation: ye shall not be ashamed nor confounded world without end.
- 18 For thus saith the LORD that created the heavens; he is God: that formed the earth and made it; he established it, he created it not 2 a waste, he formed it to be inhabited: I am the LORD; and there is none else. I have not spoken in secret, in a place of the land of darkness; I said not unto the seed of Jacob, Seek ye me 3 in vain: I the LORD speak righteousness, I declare things that are right. By myself have I sworn, the word is gone forth from my mouth in righteousness, and shall not return, that unto me every knee shall bow, every tongue shall swear. Only in the LORD, shall one say 7 unto me, is righteousness and strength: even to him shall men come, and all they that were incensed against him shall be ashamed. In the LORD shall all the seed of Israel be justified, and shall glory.
- 46 Bel boweth down, Nebo stoopeth; their idols are upon the beasts, and upon the cattle: the things that ye carried about are made a load, a burden to the weary 2 beast. They stoop, they bow down together; they could not deliver the burden, but themselves are gone into captivity.
- 3 Hearken unto me, O house of Jacob, and all the remnant of the house of Israel, which have been borne by me from the belly, which have been carried from the womb: 4 and even to old age I am he, and even to hoar hairs will I carry you: I have made, and I will bear; yea, I will carry, and will deliver. To whom will ye liken me, and make me equal, and compare me, that we 6 may be like? Such as lavish gold out of the bag, and weigh silver in the balance, they hire a goldsmith, and he maketh it a god; they fall 7 down, yea, they worship. They bear him upon the shoulder, they carry him, and set him in his place, and he standeth; from his place shall he not remove: yea, one shall cry unto him, yet can he not answer, nor save him out of his trouble.
- 8 Remember this, and shew yourselves men: bring it again to mind, 9 O ye transgressors. Remember the former things of old: 9 for I am God, and there is none else; I am God, and there is none like me; declaring the end from the beginning, and from ancient times things that are not yet done; saying, My counsel shall stand, and I will do all my pleasure: calling a ravenous bird from the east, the man of 10 my counsel from a far country: yea, I have spoken, I will also bring it to pass; I have purposed, I will also do it. 5 of Israel. Sit thou silent, and get thee into darkness, O daughter of the Chaldeans: for thou shalt no more be called The lady of king-6 doms. I was wroth with my people,
I profaned mine inheritance, and gave them into thine hand: thou didst shew them no mercy: upon the aged hast thou very heavily laid 7 thy yoke. And thou saidst, I shall be a lady for ever: so that thou didst not lay these things to thy heart, neither didst remember the latter end thereof.
8 Now therefore hear this, thou that art given to pleasures, that <sup>2</sup>dwell-heart, I am, and there is none else beside me: I shall not sit as a widow, neither shall I know the 9 loss of children: but these two things shall come to thee in a moment in one day, the loss of children, and widowhood: in their full measure shall they come upon thee.

10 <sup>3</sup>despite of the multitude of thy sorceries, and the great abundance of thine enchantments. For thou hast trusted in thy wickedness;
thou hast said, None seeth me; thy wisdom and thy knowledge, it hath perverted thee; and thou hast said in thine heart, I am, and there is 11 none else beside me. Therefore shall evil come upon thee; thou shalt not know <sup>4</sup>the dawning thereof: and mischief shall fall upon thee; thou shalt not be able to put it away: and desolation shall come upon thee suddenly, which thou 12 knowest not. Stand now with thine enchantments, and with the multitude of thy sorceries, wherein thou hast laboured from thy youth; if so be thou shalt be able to profit, 13 if so be thou mayest <sup>5</sup>prevail. Thou art wearied in the multitude of thy counsels: let now the <sup>6</sup>astrologers, the stargazers, the monthly pronounciators, stand up, and save thee from the things that shall come 14 upon thee. Behold, they shall be as stubble; the fire shall burn them; they shall not deliver themselves from the power of the flame:
it shall not be a coal to warm at, 15 nor a fire to sit before. Thus shall the things be unto thee wherein thou hast laboured: they that have trafficked with thee from thy youth shall wander every one to <sup>7</sup>his quarter; there shall be none to save thee.

48 Hear ye this, O house of Jacob, which are called by the name of Israel, and are come forth out of the waters of Judah: which swear by the name of the LORD, and make mention of the God of Israel, but not in 2 truth, nor in righteousness. For they call themselves of the holy city, and stay themselves upon the God of Israel; the LORD of hosts is his name.

3 I have declared the former things from of old; yea, they went forth out of my mouth, and I shewed them:
suddenly I did them, and they came 4 to pass. Because I knew that thou art obstinate, and thy neck is an iron sinew, and thy brow brass;
5 therefore I have declared it to thee from of old; before it came to pass
I shewed it thee: lest thou should-est say, Mine idol hath done them, and my graven image, and my molten image, hath commanded them.
6 Thou hast heard it; behold all this;
and ye, will ye not declare it? <sup>8</sup>I have shewed thee new things from this time, even hidden things, which 7 thou hast not known. They are created now, and not from of old; and before this day thou heardest them not; lest thou shouldst say, Behold, 8 I knew them. Yea, thou heardest not; yea, thou knewest not; yea, from of old thine ear was not opened: for I knew that thou didst deal very treacherously, and wast called 9 a transgressor from the womb. For my name's sake will I defer mine anger, and for my praise will I refrain for thee, that I cut thee not 10 off. Behold, I have refined thee, but not as silver; I have <sup>9</sup>chosen thee in the furnace of affliction. For mine own sake, for mine own sake, will I do it; for how should my name be profaned? and my glory will I not give to another.
12 Harken unto me, O Jacob, and Israel my called: I am he; I am the first, I also am the last. Yea, mine hand hath laid the foundation of the earth, and my right hand hath spread out the heavens: when I call unto them, they stand up together.
14 Assemble yourselves, all ye, and bear; which among them hath declared these things? <sup>10</sup>The LORD hath loved him: he shall perform his pleasure on Babylon, and his arm

I have brought him, and he shall near unto me, hear ye this; from the beginning I have not spoken in secret; from the time that it was, there am I: and now the Lord God

saith the LORD, thy redeemer, the Holy One of Israel: I am the LORD

20 Go ye forth of Babylon, flee ye from the Chaldeans; with a voice of singing declare ye, tell this, utter it even to the end of the earth: say ye, The LORD hath redeemed his servant Jacob. And they thirsted not when he led them through the deserts: he caused the waters to flow out of the rock for them: he clave the rock also, and the waters gushed out. There is no peace, saith the LORD, unto the wicked.

49 Listen, O isles, unto me; and hearken, ye peoples, from far: the LORD hath called me from the womb: from the bowels of my mother hath he made mention of my name; and he hath made my mouth like a sharp sword, in the shadow of his hand hath he hid me; and he hath made me a polished shaft, in his quiver hath he kept me close: and he said unto me, Thou art my servant; Israel, in whom I will be glorified. But I said, I have laboured in vain, I have spent my strength for nought and vanity: yet surely my judgement is with the LORD, and my recompence with my God. And now saith the LORD that formed me from the womb to be his servant, to bring Jacob again to him, <sup>2</sup> and that Israel be gathered unto him: (for I am honourable in the eyes of the LORD, and my God is become my strength;) yea, he saith, It is too light a thing that thou shouldest be my servant to raise up the tribes of Jacob, and to restore the preserved of Israel: I will also give thee for a light to the Gentiles, <sup>3</sup> that thou mayest be my salvation unto the end of the earth. Thus saith the LORD, the redeemer of Israel, and his Holy One, to him whom man despiseth, to him whom the nation abhorreth, to a servant of rulers; Kings shall see and arise; princes, and they shall worship; because of the LORD that is faithful, <sup>4</sup> even the Holy One of Israel, who hath chosen thee. Thus saith the LORD, In an acceptable time have I answered thee, and in a day of salvation have I helped thee: and I will preserve thee, and give thee for a covenant of the people, to <sup>4</sup> raise up the land, to make them inherit the desolate heritages; saying to them that are bound, Go forth; to them that are in darkness, Show yourselves. They shall feed in the ways, and on all bare heights shall be their pasture. They shall not hunger nor thirst; neither shall the <sup>5</sup> heat nor sun smite them: for he that hath mercy on them shall lead them, even by the springs of water shall he guide them. And I will make all my mountains a way, and my high ways shall be exalted. Lo, these shall come from far; and, lo, these from the north and from the west; and these from the land of Sinim. Sing, O heavens; and be joyful, O earth; and break forth into singing, O mountains: for the LORD hath comforted his people, and will have compassion upon his afflicted.

14 But Zion said, Jehovah hath forsaken me, and the LORD hath forgotten me. Can a woman forget her sucking child, that she should not have compassion on the son of her womb? yea, these may forget, yet will not I forget thee. Behold, I have graven thee upon the palms of my hands; thy walls are continually before me. <sup>6</sup> Thy children make haste; thy destroyers and they that made thee waste shall go forth of thee. Lift up thine eyes round about, and behold: all these gather themselves together, and come to thee. As I live, saith the LORD, thou shalt surely clothe thee with them all as with an ornament, and gird thyself with them, like a bride. For, as for thy waste and thy desolate places and thy land that hath been destroyed, surely now shalt thou be too strait for the inhabitants, and they that swallowed thee up shall be far away. The children of thy bereavement shall yet say in thine ears, The place is too strait for me: give place to me that I may dwell. Then shalt thou say in thine heart, Who hath <sup>7</sup> begotten me these, seeing I have been bereaved of my children, and am <sup>8</sup> solitary, an exile, and wandering to and fro? and who hath brought up these? Behold, I was left alone; these, where were they?

22 Thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I will lift up mine hand to the nations, and set up my ensign to the peoples; and they shall bring thy sons in their bosom, and thy daughters shall be carried upon their shoulders. And kings shall be thy nursing fathers, and their queens thy nursing mothers: they shall bow down to thee with their faces to the earth, and lick the dust of thy feet; and thou shalt know that I am the LORD, and they that wait for me shall not be ashamed. Shall the prey be taken from the mighty, or <sup>9</sup> the lawful captives be delivered? But thus saith the LORD, Even the captives of the mighty shall be taken away, and the prey of the terrible shall be delivered: for I will contend with him that contendeth with thee, and I will save thy children. And I will feed them that oppress thee with their own flesh; and they shall be drunken with their own blood, as with sweet wine: and all flesh shall know that I the LORD am thy saviour, and thy redeemer, the Mighty One of Jacob.

Wherefore, when I came, was there no man? when I called, was there none to answer? Is my hand shortened at all, that it cannot redeem? or have I no power to deliver? Behold, at my rebuke I dry up the sea, I make the rivers a wilderness; their fish stinketh, because there is no water, and dieth for thirst. I clothe the heavens with blackness, and I make sackcloth their covering.

4 The Lord God hath given me the tongue of them that are taught, that I should know how to sustain with words him that is weary: he wakeneth morning by morning, he wakeneth mine ear to hear as they that are taught. The Lord God hath opened mine ear, and I was not rebellious, neither turned away backward. I gave my back to the smiters, and my cheeks to them that plucked off the hair: I hid not my face from shame and spitting.

7 For the Lord God will help me; therefore have I not been confounded: therefore have I set my face like a flint, and I know that I shall not be ashamed. He is near that justifieth me; who will contend with me? let us stand up together: who is mine adversary?

9 Let him come near to me, Behold, the Lord God will help me; who is he that shall condemn me? behold, they all shall wax old as a garment; the moth shall eat them up.

10 Who is among you that feareth the Lord, that obeyeth the voice of his servant? He that walketh in darkness, and hath no light, let him trust in the name of the Lord, and stay upon his God. Behold, all ye that kindle a fire, that gird yourselves about with firebrands; walk ye in the flame of your fire, and among the brands that ye have kindled. This shall ye have of mine hand; ye shall lie down in sorrow.

11 Hearken to me, ye that follow after righteousness, ye that seek the Lord: look unto the rock whence ye were hewn, and to the hole of the pit whence ye were digged. Look unto Abraham your father, and unto Sarah that bare you: for when he was but one I called him, and I blessed him, and made him many. For the Lord hath comforted Zion: he hath comforted all her waste places, and hath made her wilderness like Eden, and her desert like the garden of the Lord: joy and gladness shall be found therein, thanksgiving, and the voice of melody.

4 Attend unto me, O my people; and give ear unto me, O my nation: for a law shall go forth from me, and I will make my judgement to rest for a light of the peoples. 5 My righteousness is near, my salvation is gone forth, and mine arm shall judge the peoples; the isles shall wait for me, and on mine arm shall they trust. Lift up your eyes to the heavens, and look upon the earth beneath: for the heavens shall vanish away like smoke, and the earth shall wax old like a garment, and they that dwell therein shall die like manner: but my salvation shall be for ever, and my righteousness shall not be abolished.

7 Hearken unto me, ye that know righteousness: the people in whose heart is no law; fear ye not the reproach of men, neither be ye daunted at their revilings. For the moth shall eat them up like a garment, and the worm shall eat them like wool: but my righteousness shall be for ever, and my salvation unto all generations.

8 Awake, awake, put on strength, O arm of the Lord, awake, as in the days of old, the generations of ancient times. Art thou not he that cutt'st Rahab in pieces, that piercesth the dragon? Art thou not he which dried up the sea, the waters of the great deep, that made the depths of the sea a way for the redeemed to pass over?

9 And the redeemed of the Lord shall return, and come with singing unto Zion; and everlasting joy shall be upon their heads: they shall obtain gladness and joy, and sorrow and sighing shall flee away.

12 I, even I, am he that comforteth you, who art thou, that thou art afraid of men that shall die, and of the son of man which shall be made as grass; and hast forgotten the Lord thy Maker, that stretched forth the heavens, and laid the foundations of the earth: and fearest continually all the day because of the fury of the oppressor, when he maketh ready to destroy? and where is the fury of the oppressor?

14 The captive exile shall speedily be loosed; and he shall not die, and go down into the pit, neither shall his bread fail. For I am the Lord thy God, which withholdeth up the sea, that the waves thereof roar: the Lord of hosts is his name. And I have put my word in thy mouth, and have covered thee in the shadow of mine hand: that I may plant the heavens, and lay the foundations of the earth, and say unto Zion, Thou art my people.

17 Awake, awake, stand up, O Jerusalem, which hast drunk at the hand of the Lord the cup of his fury; thou hast drunken the bowl of the cup of staggering, and drin-

ed it. There is none to guide her among all the sons whom she hath brought forth; neither is there any that taketh her by the hand thee; who shall bemoan thee? desolation and destruction, and the famine and the sword; how shall I com-20 fort thee? Thy sons have fainted, they lie at the top of all the streets,

as an antelope in a net; they are full of the fury of the Lord, the 21 rebuke of thy God. Therefore hear new this, thou afflicted, and drunk-22 en, but not with wine: thus saith thy Lord the Lord, and thy God that pleadeth the cause of his people, Behold, I have taken out of thine hand the cup of staggering, even the bowl of the cup of my fury;
thou shalt no more drink it again;
23 and I will put it into the hand of them that afflict thee; which have said to thy soul, Bow down, that we may go over: and thou hast laid thy back as the ground, and as the street, to them that go over.

52 Awake, awake, put on thy strength, O Zion; put on thy beautiful garments, O Jerusalem, the holy city: for henceforth there shall no more come into thee the uncircumcised and the unclean.

2 Shake thyself from the dust; arise,
sit thee down, O Jerusalem:
1 loose thyself from the bands of thy neck, O captive daughter of Zion.

3 For thus saith the Lord, Ye were sold for nought; and ye shall be 4 redeemed without money. For thus saith the Lord God, My people went down at the first into Egypt to sojourn there; and the Assyrian 5 oppressed them without cause. Now therefore, what do I here, saith the Lord, seeing that my people is taken away for nought? they that rule over them do howl, saith the Lord, and my name continually 6 all the day is blasphemed. Therefore my people shall know my name: therefore they shall know in that day that I am he that doth speak, behold, it is I.

7 How beautiful upon the mountains are the feet of him that bringeth good tidings, that pub-lisheth peace, that bringeth good tidings of good, that publisheth salvation; that saith unto Zion, 8 Thy God reigneth! The voice of thy watchmen! they lift up the voice, together do they sing; for they shall see, eye to eye, 9 when the Lord returneth to Zion. Break forth into joy, sing together, ye waste places of Jerusalem: for the Lord hath comforted his people, 10 he hath redeemed Jerusalem. The Lord hath made bare his holy arms in the eyes of all the nations;
and all the ends of the earth shall 11 see the salvation of our God. Depart ye, depart ye, go ye out from thence, touch no unclean thing;
go ye out of the midst of her; be ye clean, ye that bear the vessels 12 of the Lord. For ye shall not go out to lust, neither shall ye go by flight: for the Lord will go before you; and the God of Israel will be your rearward.

13 Behold, my servant shall 4 deal wisely, he shall be exalted and lifted up, and shall be very high.
14 Like as many were astonished at thee, (his visage was so marred 5 more than any man, and his form 15 more than the sons of men,) so shall he 6 sprinkle many nations;
kings shall shut their mouths 7 at him: for that which had not been told them shall they see; and that which they had not heard shall they 8 understand.

53 Who hath believed 9 our report?
and to whom hath the arm of 2 the Lord been revealed? For he grew up before him as a tender plant, and as a root out of a dry ground: he hath no form nor comeliness; 10 and when we see him, there is no beauty that we should 3 desire him. He was despised, and 11 rejected of men; a man of sorrows and acquainted with 12 grief;

and 13 as one from whom men hide their faces he was despised, and we esteemed him not.

4 Surely he hath borne our 14 griefs, and carried our sorrows: yet we did esteem him stricken, smitten

5 of God, and afflicted. But he was wounded for our transgressions, he was bruised for our iniquities: the chastisement of our peace was upon him; and with his stripes we are 6 healed. All we like sheep have gone astray; we have turned every one to his own way; and the Lord hath 10 laid on him the iniquity of us all.

7 He was oppressed, yet he humbled himself and opened not his mouth;
as a lamb that is led to the slaughter, and as a sheep that before his shearers is dumb; yea, he opened 8 not his mouth. 10 By oppression and judgement he was taken away, 11 and as for his generation, who among them considered that he was cut off out of the land of the living? for the transgression of my people 12 was he

9 stricken. And they made his grave with the wicked, and with the rich in his 10 death; 20 although he had done no violence, neither was any deceit in his mouth.

10 Yet it pleased the Lord to bruise him; he hath 21 put him to grief;
22 when thou shalt make his soul
23 an offering for sin, he shall see his seed, he shall prolong his days, and the pleasure of the Lord shall 11 be in his hand. 24 He shall see of the travail of his soul, and shall be satisfied: by his knowledge shall my righteous servant 25 justify many;
and he shall bear their iniquities.

12 Therefore will I divide him a portion with the great, and he shall divide the spoil with the strong, because he poured out his soul unto death, and was numbered

54 Sing, O barren, thou that didst not bear; break forth into singing, and cry aloud, thou that didst not travail with child; for more are the children of the desolate than the children of the married

2 wife, saith the LORD. Enlarge the place of thy tent, and let them stretch forth the curtains of thine habitations; spare not; lengthen thy cords, and strengthen thy stakes.

3 For thou shalt spread abroad on the right hand and on the left; and thy seed shall possess the nations, and make the desolate cities

4 to be inhabited. Fear not; for thou shalt not be ashamed: neither be thou confounded; for thou shalt not be put to shame: for thou shalt forget the shame of thy youth, and the reproach of thy widowhood

5 shalt thou remember no more. For thy Maker is thine husband; the LORD of hosts is his name: and the Holy One of Israel is thy redeemer; the God of the whole earth

6 shall he be called. For the LORD hath called thee as a wife forsaken and grieved in spirit, even a wife of youth, when she is cast off, saith

7 thy God. For a small moment have I forsaken thee; but with great

8 mercies will I gather thee. <sup>2</sup>In overflowing wrath I hid my face from thee for a moment; but with everlasting kindness will I have mercy on thee, saith the LORD thy redeemer.

9 <sup>3</sup>For this is as the waters of Noah unto me; for as I have sworn that the waters of Noah should no more go over the earth, so have I sworn that I would not be wroth with thee, nor rebuke

10 thee. For the mountains shall depart, and the hills be removed; but my kindness shall not depart from thee, neither shall my covenant of peace be removed, saith the LORD that hath mercy on thee.

11 O thou afflicted, tossed with tempest, and not comforted, behold, I will set thy stones in <sup>4</sup>fair colours, and lay thy foundations with sapphires. And I will make thy <sup>5</sup>pin-

12 nacles of rubies, and thy gates of carbuncles, and all thy border of pleasant stones. And all thy children shall be <sup>6</sup>taught of the LORD;

13 and great shall be the peace of thy children. In righteousness shalt thou be established: <sup>7</sup>thou shalt be far from oppression, for thou shalt not fear; and from terror, for it shall not come near thee.

14 Behold, they may <sup>8</sup>gather together, but not by me: whosoever shall <sup>9</sup>gather together against thee

15 <sup>9</sup>shall fall because of thee. Behold, I have created the smith that bloweth the fire of coals, and bringeth forth a weapon for <sup>10</sup>his work; and I have created the waster to de-

17 stroy. No weapon that is formed against thee shall prosper; and every tongue that shall rise against thee in judgement thou shalt condemn. <sup>11</sup>This is the heritage of the servants of the LORD, and <sup>12</sup>their righteousness which is of me, saith the LORD.

55 Ho, every one that thirsteth, come ye to the waters, and he that hath no money; come ye, buy, and eat; yea, come, buy wine and milk without money and without

2 price. Wherefore do ye <sup>12</sup>spend money for that which is not bread? and your <sup>13</sup>labour for that which satisfieth not? hearken diligently unto me, and eat ye that which is good, and let your soul delight

3 itself in fatness. Incline your ear, and come unto me; hear and your soul shall live: and I will make an everlasting covenant with you, even the sure mercies of David.

4 Behold, I have given him for a witness to the peoples, a <sup>14</sup>leader and commander to the peoples.

5 Behold, thou shalt call a nation that thou knowest not, and a nation that knew not thee shall run unto thee, because of the LORD thy God, and for the Holy One of Israel; for he hath glorified thee.

6 Seek ye the LORD while he may be found, call ye upon him while

7 he is near: let the wicked forsake his way, and the unrighteous man his thoughts: and let him return unto the LORD, and he will have mercy upon him; and to our God,

8 for he will abundantly pardon. For my thoughts are not your thoughts, neither are your ways my ways,

9 saith the LORD. For as the heavens are higher than the earth, so are my ways higher than your ways, and my thoughts than your thoughts.

10 For as the rain cometh down and the snow from heaven, and returneth not thither, but watereth the earth, and maketh it bring forth and bud, and giveth seed to the sower and bread to the eater; so shall my word be that goeth forth out of my mouth: it shall not return unto me void, but it shall accomplish that which I please, and it shall prosper in the thing

12 whereto I sent it. For ye shall go out with joy, and be led forth with peace: the mountains and the hills shall break forth before you into singing, and all the trees of the field shall clap their hands. Instead of the thorn shall come up the fir tree, and instead of the brier shall come up the myrtle tree: and it shall be to the LORD for a name, for an everlasting sign that shall not be cut off.

13 Thus saith the LORD, Keep ye judgement, and do righteousness: for my salvation is near to come, and my righteousness to be revealed.

fast by it; that keepeth the sabbath from profaning it, and keepeth his hand from doing any evil. Neither let the stranger, that hath joined himself to the LORD, speak, saying, The LORD will surely separate me from his people. neither let the eunuch say, Behold, I am a dry tree. For thus saith the LORD of the eunuchs that keep my sabbaths, and choose the things that please me, and hold fast by my covenant: Unto them will I give in mine house and within my walls a memorial and a name better than of sons and of daughters; I will give them an everlasting name, that shall not be cut off. Also the strangers, that join themselves to the LORD, to minister unto him, and to love the name of the LORD, to be his servants, every one that keepeth the sabbath from profaning it, and holdeth fast by my covenant: even them will I bring to my holy mountain, and make them joyful in my house of prayer: their burnt offerings and their sacrifices shall be accepted upon mine altar: for mine house shall be called an house of prayer for all peoples. The Lord God which gathereth the outcasts of Israel saith, Yet will I gather others to him, beside his own that are gathered.

9 All ye beasts of the field, come to devour, yea, all ye beasts in the forest. His watchmen are blind, they are all without knowledge; they are all dumb dogs, they cannot bark; dreaming, lying down, loving to slumber. Yea, the dogs are greedy, they can never have enough; and these are shepherds that cannot understand, they have all turned to their own way, each one to his gain, from every quarter. Come ye, say they, I will fetch wine, and we will fill ourselves with strong drink; and to-morrow shall be as this day, a day great beyond measure.

57 The righteous perisheth, and no man layeth it to heart; and merciful men are taken away, none considering that the righteous is taken away from the evil to come. He entereth into peace; they rest in their beds, each one that walketh in his uprightness.

3 But draw near hither, ye sons of the sorceress, the seed of the adulterer and the whore. Against whom do ye sport yourselves? against whom make ye a wide mouth, and draw out the tongue? are ye not children of transgression, a seed of falsehood, ye that inflame yourselves among the oaks, under every green tree, that slay the children in the valleys, under the clefts of the rocks? Among the smooth stones of the valley is thy portion; they, they are thy lot: even to them hast thou poured a drink offering, thou hast offered an oblation. Shall I be appeased for these things? Upon a high and lofty mountain hast thou set thy bed: thither also wentest thou up to offer sacrifice. And behind the doors and the posts hast thou set up thy memorial: for thou hast discovered thyself to another than me, and art gone up; thou hast enlarged thy bed, and made thee a covenant with them; thou lovedst their bed where thou sawest it. And thou wentest to the king with ointment, and didst increase thy perfumes, and didst send thine ambassadors far off, and didst debase thyself even unto hell. Thou wast wearied with the length of thy way; yet saidst thou not, There is no hope: thou didst find a quickening of thy strength; therefore thou wast not faint. And of whom hast thou been afraid and in fear, that thou liest, and hast not remembered me, nor laid it to thy heart? have not I held my peace even of long time, and thou fearest me not? I will declare thy righteousness; and as for thy works, they shall not profit thee. When thou criest, let them which thou hast gathered deliver thee; but the wind shall take them, a breath shall carry them all away: but he that putteth his trust in me shall possess the land, and shall inherit my holy mountain. And he shall say, Cast ye up, cast ye up, prepare the way, take up the stumblingblock out of the way of my people.

15 For thus saith the high and lofty One that inhabiteth eternity, whose name is Holy: I dwell in the high and holy place, with him also that is of a contrite and humble spirit, to revive the spirit of the humble, and to revive the heart of the contrite ones. For I will not contend for ever, neither will I be always wroth: for the spirit should fail before me, and the souls which I have made. For the iniquity of his covetousness was I wroth and smote him, I hid my face and was wroth: and he went on proudly in the way of his heart. I have seen his ways, and will heal him. I will lead him also, and restore comforts unto him and to his mourners. I create the fruit of the lips: Peace, peace, to him that is far off and to him that is near, saith the LORD; and I will heal him. But the wicked are like the troubled sea: for it cannot rest, and its waters cast up mire and dirt. There is no peace, saith my God, to the wicked.

58 Cry aloud, spare not, lift up thy voice like a trumpet, and declare unto my people their transgression, and to the house of Jacob their sins. Yet they seek me daily, and delight to know my ways: as a nation that did righteousness, and forsook not the ordinance of their God, they ask of thou call this a fast, and an accept-loose the bonds of wickedness, to undo the bands of the yoke, and to glory of the LORD shall be thy

 and the LORD shall answer; thou shalt cry, and he shall say, Here I am. If thou take away from the midst of thee the yoke, the putting forth of the finger, and speaking and thou shalt be like a watered garden, and like a spring of water, that shall be of thee shall build the old waste places: thou shalt raise up the foundations of many generations; and thou shalt be called turn away thy foot from the sabbath, from doing thy pleasure on my holy day; and call the sabbath a delight, and the holy of the LORD honourable; and shalt honour <sup>5</sup> it, not doing thine own ways, nor find-thou delight thyself in the LORD;

 and I will make thee to ride upon

 of the LORD hath spoken it.

 face from you, that he will not 3 hear. For your hands are defiled with blood, and your fingers with iniquity; your lips have spoken 4 lies, your tongue uttereth wickedness. None <sup>6</sup> sueth in righteousness, and none pleadeth in truth: they trust in vanity, and speak lies; they conceive mischief, and bring forth 5 iniquity. They hatch <sup>7</sup> basilisks' eggs, and weave the spider's web:
 he that eateth of their eggs dieth,
 and that which is crushed breaketh 6 out into a viper. Their webs shall not become garments, neither shall they cover themselves with their works: their works are works of iniquity, and the act of violence is 7 in their hands. Their feet run to evil, and they make haste to shed innocent blood: their thoughts are thoughts of iniquity; desolation and destruction are in their <sup>8</sup> paths.
 8 The way of peace they know not;
 and there is no <sup>9</sup> judgement in their goings: they have made them crooked paths; whosoever goeth therein doth not know peace.
 9 Therefore is judgement far from us, neither doth righteousness overtake us: we look for light, but behold darkness; for brightness, but 10 we walk in obscurity. We grope for the wall like the blind, yea, we grope as they that have no eyes:
 we stumble at noonday as in the twilight; <sup>10</sup> among them that are 11 lusty we are as dead men. We roar all like bears, and mourn sore like doves: we look for judgement,
 but there is none; for salvation, 12 but it is far off from us. For our transgressions are multiplied before thee, and our sins testify against us:
 for our transgressions are with us,
 and as for our iniquities, we know 13 them: in transgressing and denying the LORD, and turning away from following our God, speaking oppression and revolt, conceiving and uttering from the heart words of 14 falsehood. And judgement is turned away backward, and righteousness standeth afar off: for truth is fallen in the street, and uprightness 15 cannot enter. Yea, truth is lacking; and he that departeth from evil maketh himself a prey: and the LORD saw it, and it displeased him 16 that there was no judgement. And he saw that there was no man, and wondered that there was <sup>11</sup> no intercessor: therefore his own arm brought salvation unto him; and his righteousness, it upheld him.
 17 And he put on righteousness as a <sup>12</sup> breastplate, and <sup>13</sup> an helmet of salvation upon his head; and he put on garments of vengeance for clothing, and was clad with zeal 18 as a cloke. According to the <sup>14</sup> deeds, accordingly he will repay, fury to his adversaries, recompence to his enemies; to the <sup>15</sup> islands

19 he will repay recompence. So shall they fear the name of the LORD from the west, and his glory from the rising of the sun: <sup>1</sup>for he shall come as <sup>2</sup>a rushing stream, which the breath of the LORD driveth. And a redeemer shall come to Zion, and unto them that turn from transgression in Jacob, saith the LORD.
21 And as for me, this is my covenant with them, saith the LORD: my spirit that is upon thee, and my words which I have put in thy mouth, shall not depart out of thy mouth, nor out of the mouth of thy seed, nor out of the mouth of thy seed's seed, saith the LORD, from henceforth and for ever.

60 Arise, shine; for thy light is come, and the glory of the LORD is risen upon thee. For, behold, darkness shall cover the earth, and gross darkness the peoples: but the LORD shall arise upon thee, and his glory shall be seen upon thee.

3 And nations shall come to thy light, and kings to the brightness of thy rising. Lift up thine eyes round about, and see: they all gather themselves together, they come to thee: thy sons shall come from far, and thy daughters shall be <sup>3</sup>carried in the arms. Then thou shalt see and <sup>4</sup>be lightened, and thine heart shall tremble and be enlarged; because the abundance of the sea shall be turned unto thee, the wealth of the nations shall come unto thee. The multitude of camels shall cover thee, the <sup>5</sup>dromedaries of Midian and Ephah; they all shall come from Sheba: they shall bring gold and frankincense, and shall <sup>6</sup>proclaim the praises of the LORD. All the flocks of Kedar shall be gathered together unto thee, the rams of Nebaloth shall minister unto thee: they shall come up with acceptance on mine altar, and I will <sup>7</sup>glorify <sup>8</sup>the house of my glory.

8 Who are these that fly as a cloud, and as the doves to their windows?
9 Surely the isles shall wait for me, and the ships of Tarshish first, to bring thy sons from far, their silver and their gold with them, for the name of the LORD thy God, and for the Holy One of Israel, because he hath <sup>9</sup>glorified thee. And strangers shall build up thy walls, and their kings shall minister unto thee: for in my wrath I smote thee, but in my favour have I had mercy

11 on thee. Thy gates also shall be open continually; they shall not be shut day nor night; that men may bring unto thee the wealth of the nations, and their kings led <sup>12</sup>with them. For that nation and kingdom that will not serve thee shall perish; yea, those nations shall be utterly wasted. The glory of Lebanon shall come unto thee, the fir tree, <sup>10</sup>the pine, and the box tree together; to beautify the place of my sanctuary, and I will make the place of my feet glorious. And the sons of them that afflicted thee shall come bending unto thee; and all they that despised thee shall bow themselves down at the soles of thy feet; and they shall call thee The city of the LORD, The Zion of the Holy One of Israel.

15 Whereas thou hast been forsaken and hated, so that no man passed through thee, I will make thee an eternal excellency, a joy of many generations. Thou shalt also suck the milk of the nations, and shalt suck the breast of kings: and thou shalt know that I the LORD am thy saviour, and thy redeemer, the Mighty One of Jacob. For brass I will bring gold, and for iron I will bring silver, and for wood brass, and for stones iron: I will also make thy officers peace, and <sup>11</sup>thine exactors righteousness. Violence shall no more be heard in thy land, desolation nor destruction within thy borders; but thou shalt call thy walls Salvation, and thy gates Praise. The sun shall be no more thy light by day; neither for brightness shall the moon give light unto thee: but the LORD shall be unto thee an everlasting light, and thy God thy <sup>12</sup>glory. Thy sun shall no more go down, neither shall thy moon withdraw itself: for the LORD shall be thine everlasting light, and the days of thy mourning shall be ended. Thy people also shall be all righteous, they shall inherit the land for ever; the branch of my planting, the work of my hands, that I may be glorified. The little one shall become a thousand, and the small one a strong nation: I the LORD will have it in its time.

61 The spirit of the Lord God is upon me; because the LORD hath anointed me to preach good tidings unto the <sup>13</sup>meek; he hath sent me to bind up the brokenhearted, to proclaim liberty to the captives, and <sup>14</sup>the opening of the prison to them that are bound; to proclaim <sup>15</sup>the acceptable year of the LORD, and the day of vengeance of our God; to comfort all that mourn; to appoint unto them that mourn in Zion, to give unto them a garment for ashes, the oil of joy for mourning, the garment of praise for the spirit of heaviness; that they might be called trees of righteousness, the planting of the LORD, that he might be glorified. And they shall build the old wastes, they shall raise up the former desolations, and they shall repair the waste cities, the desolations of many generations. And strangers shall stand and feed your flocks, and aliens shall be your plowmen and your vinedressers. But ye shall be named the priests of the LORD: men shall call you the ministers of our God: ye shall eat the of my sanctuary, and I will make the place of my feet glorious. your shame <sup>ye shall have double</sup>;

and for confusion they shall rejoice shall acknowledge them, that they are the seed which the LORD hath

10 I will greatly rejoice in the LORD, my soul shall be joyful in my God; for he hath clothed me with the garments of salvation, he hath covered me with the robe of righteousness, as a bridegroom <sup>3</sup> decketh himself with a garland, and as a bride adorneth herself with her forth her bud, and as the garden causeth the things that are sown

in it to spring forth; so the LORD God will cause righteousness and praise to spring forth before all the righteousness, and all kings thy glory; and thou shalt be called by a new name, which the mouth of 3 the LORD shall name. Thou shalt also be a crown of beauty in the hand of the LORD, and a royal dia-4 dem in the hand of thy God. Thou shalt no more be termed Forsaken;

neither shall thy land any more be termed Desolate; but thou shalt be called <sup>4</sup> Hephzi-bah, and thy land <sup>5</sup> Beulah: for the LORD delighteth in thee, and thy land shall be mar-5 ried. For as a young man marieth a virgin, so shall thy sons marry thee; and <sup>6</sup> as the bridegroom rejoiceth over the bride, so shall thy God rejoice over thee.

6 I have set watchmen upon thy walls, O Jerusalem: they shall never hold their peace day nor night: ye that are the LORD's remembrancers.
7 Take ye no rest, and give him no rest, till he establish, and till he make Jerusalem a praise in the 8 earth. The LORD hath sworn by his right hand, and by the arm of his strength, Surely I will no more give thy corn to be meat for thine enemies; and strangers shall not drink thy <sup>9</sup> wine, for the which 9 thou hast laboured; but they that have garnered it shall eat it, and praise the LORD; and they that have gathered it shall drink it in the courts of my sanctuary.

10 Go through, go through the gates;

prepare ye the way of the people;
cast up, cast up the high way; gather out the stones; lift-up an ensign <sup>10</sup> for the peoples. Behold, the LORD hath proclaimed unto the end of the earth, Say ye to the daughter of Zion, Behold, thy salvation cometh; behold, his reward is with him, and his <sup>11</sup> recompence 12 before him. And they shall call them The holy people, The redeemed of the LORD; and thou shalt be called Sought out, A city not forsaken.

63 Who is this that cometh from Edom, with <sup>12</sup> dyed garments from Bozrah? this that is glorious in his apparel, marching in the greatness of his strength? I that speak in righteousness, mighty to save.
2 Wherefore art thou red in thine apparel, and thy garments like him 3 that treadeth in the winefat? I have trodden the winepress alone;
and of the peoples there was no man with me: yea, I <sup>13</sup> trod them in mine anger, and trampled them in my fury; and their <sup>14</sup> lifeblood <sup>15</sup> is sprinkled upon my garments, and I <sup>16</sup> have stained all my rai-4 ment. For the day of vengeance
<sup>17</sup> was in mine heart, and <sup>18</sup> the year
5 of my redeemed is come. And I looked, and there was none to help; and I wondered that there was none to uphold: therefore mine own arm brought salvation unto me; and my fury, it upheld me.
6 And <sup>19</sup> I trod down the peoples in mine anger, and <sup>20</sup> made them drunk in my fury, and I <sup>21</sup> poured out their lifeblood on the earth.

7 I will make mention of the lov-ingkindnesses of the LORD, and the praises of the LORD, according to all that the LORD hath bestowed on us; and the great goodness toward the house of Israel, which he hath bestowed on them according to his mercies, and according to the multitude of his lovingkindnesses.
8 For he said, Surely, they are my people, children that will not deal falsely: so he was their saviour.
9 <sup>22</sup> In all their affliction he was afflicted, and the angel of his presence saved them; in his love and in his pity he redeemed them; and he bare them, and carried them all the days of old. But they rebelled, and grieved his holy spirit: therefore he was turned to be their enemy, and himself fought against 11 them. <sup>23</sup> Then he remembered the days of old, Moses, and his people, saying, Where is he that brought them up out of the sea with the <sup>24</sup> shepherds of his flock? where is he that put his holy spirit in the glorious arm to go at the right

14 stumbled not? As the cattle that go down into the valley, the spirit of the LORD caused them to rest: so didst thou lead thy people, to make thyself a glorious name. Look down from heaven, and behold from the habitation of thy holiness and of thy glory: where is thy zeal and thy mighty acts? the yearning of thy bowels and thy compassions are restrained toward me. For thou art our father, though Abraham knoweth us not, and Israel doth not acknowledge us: thou, O LORD, art our father; our redeemer from everlasting is thy name. O LORD, why dost thou make us to err from thy ways, and hardenest our heart from thy fear? Return for thy servants' sake, the tribes of thine inheritance. Thy holy people possessed it but a little while; our adversaries have trodden down thy sanctuary. We are become as they over whom thou never barest rule; as they that were not called by thy name. Oh that thou wouldest rend the heavens, that thou wouldest come down, that the mountains might flow down at thy presence; as when fire kindleth the brushwood, and the fire causeth the waters to boil: to make thy name known to thine adversaries, that the nations may tremble at thy presence! When thou didst terrible things which we looked not for, thou earnest down, the mountains flowed down at thy presence. For from of old men have not heard, nor perceived by the ear, neither hath the eye seen a God beside thee, which worketh for him that waiteth for him. Thou meetest him that rejoiceth and worketh righteousness, those that remember thee in thy ways: behold, thou wast wroth, and we sinned: <sup>4</sup>In them have we been of long time, and shall we be saved? For we are all become as one that is unclean, and all our righteousnesses are as a polluted garment: and we all do fade as a leaf; and our iniquities, like the wind, take us away. And there is none that calleth upon thy name, that stirreth up himself to take hold of thee: for thou hast hid thy face from us, and <sup>5</sup>hast consumed us by means of our iniquities. But now, O LORD, thou art our father; we are the clay, and thou our potter; and we all are the work of thy hand. Be not wroth very sore, O LORD, neither remember iniquity for ever: behold, look, we beseech thee, we are all thy people. Thy holy cities are become a wilderness, Zion is become a wilderness, Jerusalem a desolation. Our holy and our beautiful house, where our fathers praised thee, is burned with fire; and all our pleasant things are laid waste. Wilt thou refrain thyself for these things, O LORD?

wilt thou hold thy peace, and afflict us very sore?

65 I am inquired of by them that asked not for me; I am found of them that sought me not: I said, Behold me, behold me, unto a nation that was not called by my name. I have spread out my hands all the day unto a rebellious people, which walketh in a way that is not good, after their own thoughts; a people that provoketh me to my face continually, sacrificing in gardens, and burning incense upon bricks; which <sup>10</sup>sit among the graves, and lodge in the secret places; which eat swine's flesh, and broth of abominable things is in their vessels; which say, Stand by thyself, come not near to me, for I am holier than thou: these are a smoke in my nose, a fire that burneth all the day. Behold, it is written before me: I will not keep silence, but will recompense, yea, I will recompense into their bosom, your own iniquities, and the iniquities of your fathers together, saith the LORD, which have burned incense upon the mountains, and blasphemed me upon the hills: therefore will I first measure their work into their bosom. Thus saith the LORD, As the new wine is found in the cluster, and one saith, Destroy it not, for a blessing is in it: so will I do for my servants' sakes, that I may not destroy them all. And I will bring forth a seed out of Jacob, and out of Judah an inheritor of my mountains: and my chosen shall inherit it, and my servants shall dwell there. And Sharon shall be a fold of flocks, and the valley of Achor a place for herds to lie down in, for my people that have sought me. But ye that forsake the LORD, that forget my holy mountain, that prepare a table for Fortune, and that fill up mingled wine unto <sup>16</sup>Destiny: I will destine you to the sword, and ye shall all bow down to the slaughter: because when I called, ye did not answer; when I spake, ye did not hear; but ye did that which was evil in mine eyes, and chose that wherein I delighted not. Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Behold, my servants shall eat, but ye shall be hungry: behold, my servants shall drink, but ye shall be thirsty: behold, my servants shall rejoice, but ye shall be ashamed: behold, my servants shall sing for joy of heart, but ye shall cry for sorrow of heart, and shall howl for vexation of spirit. And ye shall leave your name for a curse unto my chosen, and the Lord God shall slay thee; and he shall call his servants by another name: so that he who bleth himself in the earth shall bless himself in the God of truth; and he that sweareth in the earth shall swear by the God of <sup>1</sup>truth; because the former troubles are forgotten, and because they are hid from mine eyes. For, behold, I create new heavens and a new earth: and the former things shall not be remembered, nor come into mind. But be ye glad and rejoice for ever in that which I create: for, behold, I create Jerusalem a rejoicing, and her people a joy. And I will rejoice in Jerusalem, and joy in my people: and the voice of weeping shall be no more heard in her, nor the voice of crying. There shall be no more thence an infant of days, nor an old man that hath not filled his days: for the child shall die an hundred years old, and the sinner being an hundred years old shall be accursed. And they shall build houses, and inhabit them; and they shall plant vineyards, and eat the fruit of them. They shall not build, and another inhabit; they shall not plant, and another eat: for as the days of a tree shall be the days of my people, and my chosen shall long enjoy the work of their hands. They shall not labour in vain, nor bring forth for <sup>3</sup>calamity; for they are the seed of the blessed of the LORD, and their offspring <sup>4</sup>with them. And it shall come to pass that, before they call, I will answer; and while they are yet speaking, I will hear. The wolf and the lamb shall feed together, and the lion shall eat straw like the ox: and dust shall be the serpent's meat. They shall not hurt nor destroy in all my holy mountain, saith the LORD.

66 Thus saith the LORD. The heaven is my throne, and the earth is my footstool: what manner of house will ye build unto me? and what place shall be my rest? For all these things hath mine hand made, and so all these things came to be, saith the LORD: but to this man will I look, even to him that is poor and of a contrite spirit, and that trembleth at my word. He that killeth an ox as he that slayeth a man; he that sacrificeth a lamb, as he that breaketh a dog's neck; he that offereth <sup>5</sup>an oblation, as he that offereth swine's blood; he that <sup>6</sup>burneth frankincense, as he that blesseth an idol: yea, they have chosen their own ways, and their soul delighteth in their <sup>4</sup>abominations; I also will choose their <sup>7</sup>delusions, and will bring their fears upon them; because when I called, none did answer; when I spake, they did not hear: but they did that which was evil in mine eyes, and chose that wherein I delighted not.

5 Hear the word of the LORD, ye that tremble at his word: Your brethren that hate you, that cast you out for my name's sake, have said, Let the LORD be glorified, that we may see your joy; but they shall be ashamed. A voice of tumult from the city, a voice from the temple, a voice of the LORD that rendereth recompence to his enemies. Before she travailed, she brought forth; before her pain came, she was delivered of a man child. Who hath heard such a thing? who hath seen such things? Shall a land be <sup>8</sup>born in one day? shall a nation be brought forth at once? for as soon as Zion travailed, she brought forth her children. Shall I bring to the birth, and not cause to bring forth? saith the LORD: shall I that cause to bring forth shut the womb? saith thy God.

10 Rejoice ye with Jerusalem, and be glad for her, all ye that love her: rejoice for joy with her, all ye that mourn over her: that ye may suck and be satisfied with the breasts of her consolations; that ye may milk out, and be delighted with the abundance of her glory. For thus saith the LORD, Behold, I will extend peace to her like a river, and the glory of the nations like an overflowing stream, <sup>9</sup>and ye shall suck thereof; ye shall be borne upon the side, and shall be dandled upon the knees. As one whom his mother comforteth, so will I comfort you; and ye shall be comforted in Jerusalem. And ye shall see it, and your heart shall rejoice, and your bones shall flourish like the tender grass: and the hand of the LORD shall be known toward his servants, and he will have indignation against his enemies. For, behold, the LORD will come <sup>10</sup>with fire, and his chariots shall be like the whirlwind; to render his anger with fury, and his rebuke with flames of fire. For by fire will the LORD plead, and by his sword, with all flesh; and the slain of the LORD shall be many. They that sanctify themselves and purify themselves <sup>11</sup>to go unto the gardens, <sup>12</sup>behind one in the midst, eating swine's flesh, and the abomination, and the mouse; they shall come to an end together, saith the LORD. For I know their works and their thoughts; <sup>14</sup>the time cometh, that I will gather all nations and tongues; and they shall come, and shall see my glory. And I will set a sign among them, and I will send such as escape of them unto the nations, to Tarsish, Pul and Lud, that draw the bow, to Tubal and Javan, to the isles afar off, that have not heard my fame, neither have seen my glory; and they shall declare my glory among the nations. And they shall bring all your brethren out of all the nations for an offering unto the LORD, upon horses, and in chariots, and in litters, and upon mules, and upon <sup>15</sup>swift

And of them also will I take for priests and for Levites, saith the LORD. ## THE BOOK OF THE PROPHET

JEREMIAH.

1 THE words of Jeremiah the son of Hilkiah, of the priests that were in Anathoth in the land of Benjamin: 2 to whom the word of the LORD came in the days of Josiah the son of Amon, king of Judah, in the thirteenth year of his reign. It came also in the days of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah, king of Judah, unto the end of the eleventh year of Zedekiah the son of Josiah, king of Judah: unto the carrying away of Jerusalem captive in the fifth month. 4 Now the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, Before I formed thee in the belly I knew thee, and before thou camest forth out of the womb I sanctified thee; I have appointed thee a prophet unto the nations. Then said I, Ah, Lord God! behold, I cannot speak: for I am a child. But the LORD said unto me, Say not, I am a child, for I to whomsoever I shall send thee thou shalt go, and whatsoever I shall command thee thou shalt speak. Be not afraid because of them: for I am with thee to deliver thee, saith the LORD. Then the LORD put forth his hand, and touched my mouth, and the LORD said unto me, Behold, I have put my words in thy mouth: see, I have this day set thee over the nations and over the kingdoms, to pluck up and to break down, and to destroy and to overthrow; to build, and to plant.

11 Moreover the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, Jeremiah, what seest thou? And I said, I see a rod of an almond tree. Then said the LORD unto me, Thou hast well seen: for I will watch over my word to perform it. And the word of the LORD came unto me the second time, saying, What seest thou? And I said, I see a seething caldron: and the face thereof is 14 from the north. Then the LORD said unto me, Out of the north evil shall break forth upon all the 15 inhabitants of the land. For, lo, I will call all the families of the kingdoms of the north, saith the LORD, and they shall come, and they shall set every one his throne at the entering of the gates of Jerusalem, and against all the walls thereof round about, and against all the cities of Judah. And I will utter my judgements against them touching all their wickedness; in that they have forsaken me, and have burned incense unto other gods, and worshipped the works of their own hands. Thou therefore gird up thy loins, and arise, and speak unto them all that I command thee: be not dismayed at them, lest I dismay thee before them. For, behold, I have made thee this day a fenced city, and an iron pillar, and brasen walls, against the whole land, against the kings of Judah, against the princes thereof, against the priests thereof, and against the people of the land. 19 And they shall fight against thee; but they shall not prevail against thee: for I am with thee, saith the LORD, to deliver thee.

2 And the word of the LORD came 2 to me, saying, Go, and cry in the ears of Jerusalem, saying, Thus saith the LORD, I remember for thee the kindness of thy youth, the love of thine espousals; how thou wentest after me in the wilderness, 3 in a land that was not sown, Israel was holiness unto the LORD, the firstfruits of his increase: all that devour him shall be held guilty; evil shall come upon them, saith the LORD.

4 Hear ye the word of the LORD, O house of Jacob, and all the families of the house of Israel: thus saith the LORD. What unrighteousness have your fathers found in me, that they are gone far from me, and have walked after vanity, 6 and are become vain? Neither said they, Where is the LORD that brought us up out of the land of Egypt; that led us through the wilderness, through a land of deserts and of pits, through a land of drought and of the shadow of death, through a land that none passed through, and where no man dwelt? And I brought you into a plentiful land, to eat the fruit thereof and the goodness thereof; but when ye entered, ye defiled my land, and made mine heritage an abomination. The priests said not, Where is the LORD? and they that handle the law knew me not: the <sup>2</sup> rulers also transgressed against me, and the prophets prophesied by Baal, and walked after things that do not profit. Wherefore I will yet plead with you, saith the LORD, and with your children's children will I plead. For pass over to the isles of Kittim, and see; and send unto Kedar, and consider diligently; and see if there hath been such a thing. Hath a nation changed their gods, which yet are no gods? but my people have changed their glory for that which doth not profit. Be astonished, O ye heavens, at this, and be horribly afraid, be ye very desolate, saith the LORD. For my people have committed two evils; they have forsaken me the fountain of living waters, and hewed them out cisterns, broken cisterns, that can hold no water. Is Israel a servant? is he a homeborn slave? why is he become a prey? The young lions have roared upon him, and <sup>3</sup> yelled: and they have made his land waste; his cities are burned up, without inhabitant. The children also of Noph and Tahpanhes have <sup>4</sup> broken the crown of thy head. Hast thou not procured this unto thyself, in that thou hast forsaken the LORD thy God, when he led thee by the way? And now what hast thou to do in the way to Egypt, to drink the waters of <sup>5</sup> Shihor? or what hast thou to do in the way to Assyria, to drink the waters of <sup>6</sup> the River? Thine own wickedness shall correct thee, and thy backslidings shall reprove thee: know therefore and see that it is an evil thing and a bitter, that thou hast forsaken the LORD thy God, and that my fear is not in thee, saith the LORD, the LORD of hosts. For of old time <sup>7</sup> I have broken thy yoke, and burst thy bands; and thou saidst, I will not <sup>8</sup> serve; for upon every high hill and under every green tree thou didst bow thyself, playing the harlot. Yet I had planted thee a noble vine, wholly a right seed: how then art thou turned into the degenerate plant of a strange vine unto me? For though thou wash thee with lye, and take thee much soap, yet thine iniquity is marked before me, saith the LORD GOD. How canst thou say, I am not defiled, I have not gone after the Baalim? see thy way in the valley, know what thou hast done: thou art a swift <sup>9</sup> dromedary traversing her ways; a wild ass up to the wilderness, that snuffeth up the wind in her desire; in her occasion who can turn her away? all they that seek her will not weary themselves; in her month they shall find her. Withhold thy foot from being unshod, and thy throat from thirst: but thou saidst, There is no hope; no; for I have loved strangers, and after them will I go. As the thief is ashamed when he is found, so is the house of Israel ashamed; they, their kings, their princes, and their priests, and their prophets; which say to a stock, Thou art my father; and to a stone, Thou hast <sup>10</sup> brought <sup>11</sup> me forth: for they have turned their back unto me, and not their face: but in the time of their trouble they will say, Arise, and save us. But where are thy gods that thou hast made thee? let them arise, if they can save thee in the time of thy trouble; for according to the number of thy cities are thy gods, O Judah.

Wherefore will ye plead with me? ye all have transgressed against me, saith the LORD. In vain have I smitten your children; they received no <sup>12</sup> correction: your own sword hath devoured your prophets, like a destroying lion. O generation, see ye the word of the LORD. Have I been a wilderness unto Israel? or a land of <sup>13</sup> thick darkness? wherefore say my people, We are broken loose; we will come no more unto thee? Can a maid forget her ornaments, or a bride her attire? yet my people have forgotten me days without number. How trimmest thou thy way to seek love! therefore even the wicked women hast thou taught thy ways. Also in thy skirts is found the blood of the souls of the innocent poor: <sup>14</sup> I have not found it at <sup>15</sup> the place of breaking in, but upon <sup>16</sup> all these. Yet thou saidst, I am innocent; surely his anger is turned away from me. Behold, I will enter into judgement with thee, because thou sayest, I have not sinned. Why gaddest thou about so much to change thy way? thou shalt be ashamed of Egypt also, as thou wast ashamed of Assyria. From him also shalt thou go forth, with thine hands upon thine head: for the LORD hath rejected thy confidences, and thou shalt not prosper in them.

is on his way, he is gone forth from his place; to make thy land desolate, that thy cities be laid waste, without inhabitant. For this gird you with sackcloth, lament and howl: for the fierce anger of the LORD is not turned back from us. And it shall come to pass at that day, saith the LORD, that the heart of the king shall perish, and the heart of the princes; and the priests shall be astonished, and the prophets shall wonder. Then said I, Ah, Lord God! surely thou hast greatly deceived this people and Jerusalem, saying, Ye shall have peace; whereas the sword reacheth unto the soul. At that time shall it be said to this people and to Jerusalem, A hot wind from the bare heights in the wilderness toward the daughter of my people, not to fan, nor to cleanse; <sup>1a</sup> a full wind from these shall come for me: now will I also <sup>2</sup> utter judgements against them. Behold, he shall come up as clouds, and his chariots shall be as the whirlwind: his horses are swifter than eagles. Woe unto us! for we are spoiled. O Jerusalem, wash thine heart from wickedness, that thou mayest be saved. How long shall thine evil thoughts lodge within thee? For <sup>3a</sup> a voice declar-eth from Dan, and publisheth evil from the hills of Ephraim: make ye mention to the nations; behold, publish against Jerusalem, that watchers come from a far country, and give out their voice against the cities of Judah. As keepers of a field are they against her round about; because she hath been rebellious against me, saith the LORD. Thy way and thy doings have procured these things unto thee; this is thy wickedness; <sup>4</sup> for it is bitter, <sup>4a</sup> for it reacheth unto thine heart.

19 My bowels, my bowels! <sup>5</sup> I am pained at <sup>6</sup> my very heart: my heart is disquieted in me; I cannot hold my peace; because <sup>7</sup> thou hast heard, O my soul, the sound of the trumpet, the alarm of war. Destruction upon destruction is cried; for the whole land is spoiled: suddenly are my tents spoiled, and my curtains in a moment. How long shall I see the standard, and hear the sound of the trumpet? For my people is foolish, they know me not; they are sottish children, and they have none understanding: they are wise to do evil, but to do good they have no knowledge.

23 I beheld the earth, and, lo, it was <sup>8</sup> waste and void; and the heavens, and they had no light. I beheld the mountains, and, lo, they trembled, and all the hills <sup>9</sup> moved to and fro. I beheld, and, lo, there was no man, and all the birds of the heavens were fled. I beheld, and, lo, <sup>10</sup> the fruitful field was a wilderness, and all the cities thereof were broken down at the presence of the LORD, and before his fierce anger. For thus saith the LORD, The whole land shall be a desolation; yet will I not make a full end. For this shall the earth mourn, and the heavens above be black: because I have spoken it, I have purposed it, and I have not repented, neither will I turn back from it. The whole city flieth for the noise of the horsemen and bowmen; they go into the thickets, and climb up upon the rocks: every city is forsaken, and not a man dwelleth therein. And thou, when thou art spoiled, what wilt thou do? Though thou clothest thyself with scarlet, though thou deckest thee with ornaments of gold, though thou <sup>11</sup> enlargest thine eyes with paint, in vain dost thou make thyself fair; thy lovers despise thee. They seek thy life. For I have heard a voice as of a woman in travail, the anguish as of her that bringeth forth her first child, the voice of the daughter of Zion, that gaspeth for breath, that spreadeth her hands, saying, Woe is me now! for my soul fainteth before the murderers.

5 Run ye to and fro through the streets of Jerusalem, and see now, and know, and seek in the broad places thereof, if ye can find a man, if there be any that doeth justly, that seeketh <sup>12</sup> truth; and I will pardon her. And though they say, As the LORD liveth; surely they swear falsely. O LORD, <sup>13</sup> do not thine eyes look upon <sup>12</sup> truth? thou hast stricken them, but they were not grieved; thou hast consumed them, but they have refused to receive <sup>14</sup> correction: they have made their faces harder than a rock; they have refused to return. Then I said, Surely these are poor: they are foolish; for they know not the way of the LORD, nor the judgement of their God: I will get me unto the great men, and will speak unto them; for they know the way of the LORD, and the judgement of their God. But these with one accord have broken the yoke, and burst the bands. Wherefore a lion out of the forest shall slay them, a wolf of the <sup>15</sup> evenings shall spoil them, a leopard shall watch over their cities, every one that goeth out thence shall be torn in pieces: because their transgressions are many, and their backslidings are increased. How can I pardon thee? thy children have forsaken me, and sworn by them that are no gods: when I had <sup>16</sup> led them to the full, they committed adultery, and assembled themselves in troops at the harlots' houses. They were as fed horses <sup>17</sup> in the morning: every one neighed after his neighbour's wife. Shall I not visit for these things? saith the LORD: and shall not my soul be avenged on such a nation as this?

- 10 Go ye up upon her walls, and destroy; but make not a full end: take away her branches: for they 11 are not the LORD'S. For the house of Israel and the house of Judah have dealt very treacherously against me, saith the LORD. They have denied the LORD, and said, It is not he; neither shall evil come upon us; neither shall we 13 see sword nor famine: and the prophets shall become wind, and the word is not in them; thus shall 14 it be done unto them. Wherefore thus saith the LORD, the God of hosts, Because ye speak this word, behold, I will make my words in thy mouth fire, and this people wood, and it shall devour them.
15 Lo, I will bring a nation upon you from far, O house of Israel, saith the LORD: it is a mighty nation, whose language thou knowest not, neither understandest what they 16 say. Their quiver is an open sepulchre, they are all mighty men.
17 And they shall eat up thine harvest, and thy bread, which thy sons and thy daughters should eat: they shall eat up thy flocks and thine herds: they shall eat up thy vines and thy fig trees: they shall <sup>2</sup>beat down thy fenced cities, wherein 18 thou trustest, with the sword. But even in those days, saith the LORD, I will not make a full end with 19 you. And it shall come to pass, when ye shall say, Wherefore hath the LORD our God done all these things unto us? then shalt thou say unto them, Like as ye have forsaken me, and served strange gods in your land, so shall ye serve strangers in a land that is not yours.
20 Declare ye this in the house of Jacob, and publish it in Judah, saying, Hear now this, O foolish people, and without <sup>3</sup>understanding: which have eyes, and see not; which have ears, and hear not:
22 Fear ye not me? saith the LORD: will ye not tremble at my presence, which have placed the sand for the bound of the sea, <sup>4</sup>by a perpetual decree, that it cannot pass it? and though the waves thereof toss themselves, yet can they not prevail; though they roar, yet can they not pass over it. But this people hath a revolting and a rebellious heart; they are revolted and gone. Neither say they in their heart, Let us now fear the LORD our God, that giveth rain, both the former and the latter, in its season; that reserveth unto us the appointed weeks of the harvest.
25 Your iniquities have turned away these things, and your sins have withholden good from you. For among my people are found wicked men: they watch, as fowls lie in wait; they set a trap, they catch men. As a cage is full of birds, so are their houses full of deceit: therefore they are become great, and waxen rich. They are waxen fat, they shine; yea, they overpass in deeds of wickedness: they plead not the cause, the cause of the fatherless, that they should prosper; and the right of the needy do they not judge. Shall I not visit for these things? saith the LORD: shall not my soul be avenged on such a nation as this?

30 <sup>5</sup>A wonderful and horrible thing is come to pass in the land; the prophets prophesy falsely, and the priests bear rule <sup>6</sup>by their means; and my people love to have it so: and what will ye do in the end thereof?

6 Flee for safety, ye children of Benjamin, out of the midst of Jerusalem, and blow the trumpet in Tekoa, and raise up a signal on Beth-haccherem: for evil looketh forth from the north, and a great
2 destruction. The comely and delicate one, the daughter of Zion,
3 will I cut off. Shepherds with their flocks shall come unto her: they shall pitch their tents against her round about; they shall feed
4 every one in his place. <sup>7</sup>Prepare ye war against her; arise, and let us go up at noon. Woe unto us! for the day declineth, for the shadows of the evening are stretched
5 out. Arise, and let us go up by night, and let us destroy her palaces. For thus hath the LORD of hosts said, Hew ye down <sup>8</sup>trees, and cast up a mount against Jerusalem: this is the city to be visited; she is wholly oppression in the midst of her. As a well <sup>9</sup>casteth forth her waters, so she <sup>9</sup>casteth forth her wickedness: violence and spoil is heard in her; before me continually is sickness and wounds.
8 Be thou instructed, O Jerusalem, lest my soul be alienated from thee; lest I make thee a desolation, a land not inhabited.

9 Thus saith the LORD of hosts, They shall thoroughly glean the remnant of Israel as a vine: turn again thine hand as a grapegatherer
10 into the baskets. To whom shall I speak and testify, that they may hear? behold, their ear is uncircumcised, and they cannot hearken: behold, the word of the LORD is become unto them a reproach; they have no delight in it. Therefore I am full of the fury of the LORD: I am weary with holding in: pour it out upon the children in the street, and upon the assembly of young men together: for even the husband with the wife shall be taken, the aged with him that is full of days. And their houses shall be turned unto others, their fields and their wives together: for I will stretch out my hand upon the inhabitants of the land, saith

13 the LORD. For from the least of them even unto the greatest of them every one is given to covetousness; and from the prophet even unto the priest every one dealeth falsely.

14 They have healed also the hurt of my people lightly, saying, Peace, peace; when there is no peace.

15 Were they ashamed when they had committed abomination? nay, they were not at all ashamed, neither could they blush: therefore they shall fall among them that fall: at the time that I visit them they shall be cast down, saith the LORD.

16 Thus saith the LORD, Stand ye in the ways and see, and ask for the old paths, where is the good way, and walk therein, and ye shall find rest for your souls: but they said,

17 We will not walk therein. And I set watchmen over you, saying, Harken to the sound of the trumpet; but they said, We will not

18 hearken. Therefore hear, ye nations, and know, O congregation, what is among them. Hear, O

19 earth: behold, I will bring evil upon this people, even the fruit of their thoughts, because they have not hearkened unto my words; and as for my law, they have rejected it. To what purpose cometh there

20 to me frankincense from Sheba, and the sweet cane from a far country? your burnt offerings are not acceptable, nor your sacrifices

21 pleasing unto me. Therefore thus saith the LORD, Behold, I will lay stumblingblocks before this people: and the fathers and the sons together shall stumble against them: the neighbour and his friend shall perish.

22 Thus saith the LORD, Behold, a people cometh from the north country: and a great nation shall be stirred up from the uttermost parts

23 of the earth. They lay hold on bow and spear; they are cruel, and have no mercy; their voice roareth like the sea, and they ride upon horses; every one set in array, as a man to the battle, against thee.

24 O daughter of Zion. We have heard the fame thereof; our hands wax feeble: anguish hath taken hold of us, and pangs as of a woman in travail. Go not forth into the field, nor walk by the way; for there is the sword of the enemy, and terror on every side. O daughter of my people, gird thee with sackcloth, and wallow thyself in ashes: make thee mourning, as for an only son, most bitter lamentation; for the spoiler shall suddenly come upon us. I have made thee a tower and a fortress among my people; that thou mayest know and try their

25 way. They are all grievous revolters, going about with slanders; they are brass and iron: they all of them deal corruptly. The bellows blow fiercely; the lead is consumed of the fire: in vain do they go on refining; for the wicked are not plucked away. Refuse silver shall men call them, because the LORD hath rejected them.

7 The word that came to Jeremiah

2 from the LORD, saying, Stand in the gate of the LORD's house, and proclaim there this word, and say, Hear the word of the LORD, all ye of Judah, that enter in at these

3 gates to worship the LORD. Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, Amend your ways and your doings, and I will cause you

4 to dwell in this place. Trust ye not in lying words, saying, The temple of the LORD, the temple of the LORD, are these. For if ye throughly

5 amend your ways and your doings; if ye throughly execute judgement between a man and his

6 neighbour; if ye oppress not the stranger, the fatherless, and the widow, and shed not innocent blood

7 in this place, neither walk after other gods to your own hurt: then will I cause you to dwell in this

8 place, in the land that I gave to your fathers, from old even for evermore. Behold, ye trust in lying

9 words, that cannot profit. Will ye steal, murder, and commit adultery, and swear falsely, and burn

10 incense unto Baal, and walk after other gods whom ye have not

11 known, and come and stand before me in this house, which is called by my name, and say, We are delivered; that ye may do all these

12 abominations? Is this house, which is called by my name, become a den of robbers in your eyes? Behold, I, even I, have seen it, saith

13 the LORD. But go ye now unto my place which was in Shiloh, where I caused my name to dwell at the first, and see what I did to it for the wickedness of my people Israel.

14 And now, because ye have done all these works, saith the LORD, and I spake unto you, rising up early and speaking, but ye heard not; and I called you, but ye answered

15 not: therefore will I do unto the house, which is called by my name, wherein ye trust, and unto the place which I gave to you and to your fathers, as I have done to 16 Shiloh. And I will cast you out of my sight, as I have cast out all your brethren, even the whole seed of Ephraim.

17 Therefore pray not thou for this people, neither lift up cry nor prayer for them, neither make intercession to me: for I will not

18 hear thee. Seest thou not what they do in the cities of Judah and in the streets of Jerusalem? The children gather wood, and the fathers kindle the fire, and the women knead the dough, to make cakes to the queen of heaven, and to pour out drink offerings unto other gods, that they may provoke me to anger. Do they provoke me to anger? saith the LORD: do they not provoke themselves, to the confusion of their own faces? Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD: Behold, mine anger and my fury shall be poured out upon this place, upon man, and upon beast, and upon the trees of the field, and upon the fruit of the ground; and it shall burn, and shall not be quenched.

21 Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Add your burnt offerings unto your sacrifices, and eat ye flesh. For I spake not unto your fathers, nor commanded them in the day that I brought them out of the land of Egypt, concerning burnt offerings or sacrifices: but this thing I commanded them, saying, Hearken unto my voice, and I will be your God, and ye shall be my people; and walk ye in all the way that I command you, that it may be well with you. But they hearkened not, nor inclined their ear, but walked in their own counsels and in the stubbornness of their evil heart, and went backward and not forward. Since the day that your fathers came forth out of the land of Egypt unto this day, I have sent unto you all my servants the prophets, daily rising up early and sending them: yet they hearkened not unto me, nor inclined their ear, but made their neck stiff: they did worse than their fathers.

27 And thou shalt speak all these words unto them; but they will not hearken to thee: thou shalt also call unto them; but they will not answer thee. And thou shalt say unto them, This is the nation that hath not hearkened to the voice of the LORD their God, nor received instruction: truth is perished, and is cut off from their mouth.

29 Cut off thine hair, O Jerusalem, and cast it away, and take up a lamentation on the bare heights; for the LORD hath rejected and forsaken the generation of his wrath. 30 For the children of Judah have done that which is evil in my sight, saith the LORD: they have set their abominations in the house which is called by my name, to defile it. And they have built the high places of Topheth, which is in the valley of the son of Hinnom, to burn their sons and their daughters in the fire; which I commanded not, neither came it into my

32 mind. Therefore, behold, the days come, saith the LORD, that it shall no more be called Topheth, nor The valley of the son of Hinnom, but The valley of Slaughter; for they shall bury in Topheth, <sup>5</sup>thi there be no place to bury. And the carcases of this people shall be meat for the fowls of the heaven, and for the beasts of the earth; and none shall fray them away.

34 Then will I cause to cease from the cities of Judah, and from the streets of Jerusalem, the voice of mirth and the voice of gladness, the voice of the bridegroom and the voice of the bride: for the land shall become a waste.

8 At that time, saith the LORD, they shall bring out the bones of the kings of Judah, and the bones of his princes, and the bones of the priests, and the bones of the inhabitants of Jerusalem, out of their graves; and they shall spread them before the sun, and the moon, and all the host of heaven, whom they have loved, and whom they have served, and after whom they have walked, and whom they have sought, and whom they have worshipped: they shall not be gathered, nor be buried; they shall be for dung upon the face of the earth. And death shall be chosen rather than life by all the residue that remain of this evil family, which remain in all the places whither I have driven them, saith the LORD of hosts.

4 Moreover thou shalt say unto them, Thus saith the LORD: Shall men fall, and not rise up again? shall one turn away, and not return? Why then is this people of Jerusalem slidden back by a perpetual backsliding? they hold fast deceit, they refuse to return.

6 I hearkened and heard, but they spake not aright: no man repenteth him of his wickedness, saying, What have I done? every one turneth to his course, as a horse that rusheth headlong in the battle.

7 Yea, the stork in the heaven knoweth her appointed times; and the turtle and the swallow and the crane observe the time of their coming; but my people know not the Lord's

8 nance of the LORD. How do ye say, We are wise, and the law of the LORD is with us? But, behold, the falseness of the scribes hath wrought

9 falsely. The wise men are ashamed, they are dismayed and taken: lo, they have rejected the word of the LORD; and what manner of wisdom is in them? Therefore will I give their wives unto others, and their fields to them that shall possess them: for every one from the least even unto the greatest is given to covetousness, from the prophet even unto the priest

11 every one doleth falsely. <sup>2</sup>And they have healed the hurt of the daughter of my people lightly, saying, Peace, peace; when there is no peace. them that fall: in the time of their visitation they shall be cast down.
13 saith the LORD. I will utterly consume them, saith the LORD: there shall be no grapes on the vine, nor figs on the fig tree, and the leaf shall fade; and <sup>1</sup>the things that I have given them shall pass away from them. Why do we sit still? assemble yourselves, and let us enter into the defenced cities, and let us <sup>2</sup>be silent there: for the LORD our God hath <sup>3</sup>put us to silence, and given us water of <sup>4</sup>gall to drink, because we have sinned against 15 the LORD. We looked for peace, but no good came; and for a time of healing, and behold dismay! The snorting of his horses is heard from Dan: at the sound of the neighing of his strong ones the whole land trembleth; for they are come, and have devoured the land and all that is in it: the city and those that dwell therein. For, behold, I will send serpents, <sup>5</sup>basilisks, among you, which will not be charmed; and they shall bite you, saith the LORD.
18 Oh that I could comfort myself against sorrow! my heart is faint within me. Behold, the voice of the cry of the daughter of my people <sup>6</sup>from a land that is very far off: Is not the LORD in Zion? is not her King in her? Why have they provoked me to anger with their graven images, and with strange vanities? The harvest is past, the <sup>7</sup>summer is ended, and we are not saved. For the hurt of the daughter of my people am I hurt: I am <sup>8</sup>black; astonishment hath taken hold on me. Is there no balm in Gilead? is there no physician there? why then is not the <sup>9</sup>health of the daughter of my people <sup>10</sup>recovered?
9 Oh that my head were waters, and mine eyes a fountain of tears, that I might weep day and night for the slain of the daughter of my people! <sup>11</sup>Oh that I had in the wilderness a lodging place of way-faring men; that I might leave my people, and go from them! for they be all adulterers, an assembly of <sup>12</sup>treacherous men. And they bend their tongue as it were their bow for falsehood; and they are grown strong in the land, but not for <sup>13</sup>truth: for they proceed from evil to evil, and they know not me, <sup>14</sup>saith the LORD. Take ye heed every one of his neighbour, and trust ye not in any brother: for every brother will utterly supplant, and every neighbour will go about with <sup>15</sup>slanders. And they will <sup>16</sup>deceive every one his neighbour, and will not speak the truth: they have taught their tongue to speak lies; they weary themselves to commit <sup>17</sup>iniquity. Thine habitation is in the midst of deceit; through deceit they refuse to know me, saith the LORD.

7 Therefore thus saith the LORD of hosts, Behold, I will melt them, and try them; for how <sup>8</sup>else should I do, because of the daughter of my people? Their tongue is a deadly arrow; it speaketh deceit: one speaketh peaceably to his neighbour with his mouth, but in his <sup>9</sup>heart he layeth wait for him. Shall I not visit them for these things? saith the LORD: shall not my soul be avenged on such a nation as this?
10 For the mountains will I take up a weeping and wailing, and for the pastures of the wilderness a lamentation, because they are burned up, so that none passeth through; neither can men hear the voice of the cattle; both the fowl of the heavens and the beast are fled, <sup>11</sup>they are gone. And I will make Jerusalem heaps, a dwelling place of jackals; and I will make the cities of Judah a desolation, without inhabitant. Who is the wise man, that may understand this? and <sup>12</sup>who is he to whom the mouth of the LORD hath spoken, that he may declare it? wherefore is the land perished and burned up like a wilderness, so that none passeth through?
13 And the LORD saith, Because they have forsaken my law which I set before them, and have not obeyed my voice, neither walked therein; <sup>14</sup>but have walked after the stubbornness of their own heart, and after the Baalim, which their fathers taught them: therefore thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, Behold, I will feed them, even this people, with wormwood, and give them water of <sup>15</sup>gall to drink.
16 I will scatter them also among the nations, whom neither they nor their fathers have known: and I will send the sword after them, till I have consumed them.
17 Thus saith the LORD of hosts, Consider ye, and call for the mourning women, that they may come; and send for the cunning women, <sup>18</sup>that they may come; and let them make haste, and take up a wailing for us, that our eyes may run down with tears, and our eyelids gush <sup>19</sup>out with waters. For a voice of wailing is heard out of Zion, How are we spoiled! we are greatly confounded, because we have forsaken the land, because <sup>20</sup>they have cast down our dwellings. Yet hear the word of the LORD. O ye women, and let your ear receive the word of his mouth, and teach your daughters wailing, and every one her <sup>21</sup>neighbour lamentation. For death is come up into our windows, it is entered into our palaces; to cut off the children from without, and the young men from the streets. Speak, Thus saith the LORD. The carcases of men shall fall as dung upon the open

14 See ch. viii. 14.

15 Or, our dwellings have cast us out field, and as the handful after the harvestman, and none shall gather them.

- Thus saith the LORD. Let not the wise man glory in his wisdom, neither let the mighty man glory in his might, let not the rich man glory in his riches; but let him that glorieth glory in this, that he understandeth, and knoweth me, that I am the LORD which exercise lovingkindness, judgement, and righteousness, in the earth: for in these things I delight, saith the LORD. Behold, the days come, saith the LORD, that I will punish all them which are circumcised in their uncircumcision; Egypt, and Judah, and Edom, and the children of Ammon, and Moab, and all that have the corners of their hair polled, that dwell in the wilderness: for all the nations are uncircumcised, and all the house of Israel are uncircumcised in heart.

- 10 Hear ye the word which the LORD speaketh unto you, O house of Israel: thus saith the LORD, Learn not the way of the nations, and be not dismayed at the signs of heaven: for the nations are dismayed at them. For the customs of the peoples are vanity: for one cutteth a tree out of the forest, the work of the hands of the workman with the axe. They deck it with silver and with gold; they fasten it with nails and with hammers, that it move not. They are like a palm tree, of turned work, and speak not: they must needs be borne, because they cannot go. Be not afraid of them; for they cannot do evil, neither is it in them to do good. There is none like unto thee, O LORD; thou art great, and thy name is great in might. Who would not fear thee, O King of the nations? for to thee doth it appertain: forasmuch as among all the wise men of the nations, and in all their royal estate, there is none like unto thee. But they are together brutish and foolish: the instruction of idols, it is but a stock. There is silver beaten into plates which is brought from Tarshish, and gold from Uphaz, the work of the artificer and of the hands of the goldsmith; blue and purple for their clothing: they are all the work of cunning men.
- 10 But the LORD is the true God; he is the living God, and an everlasting king: at his wrath the earth trembleth, and the nations are not able to abide his indignation.
- 11 Thus shall ye say unto them. The gods that have not made the heavens and the earth, these shall perish from the earth, and from under the heavens.
- 12 He hath made the earth by his power, he hath established the world by his wisdom, and by his understanding hath he stretched out the heavens: when he uttereth his voice, there is a tumult of waters in the heavens, and he causeth the vapours to ascend from the ends of the earth; he maketh lightnings for the rain, and bringeth forth the wind out of his treasures.

- 14 Every man is become brutish and is without knowledge; every goldsmith is put to shame by his graven image: for his molten image is falsehood, and there is no breath in them. They are vanity, a work of delusion: in the time of their visitation they shall perish. The portion of Jacob is not like these; for he is the former of all things; and Israel is the tribe of his inheritance: the LORD of hosts is his name.

- 17 Gather up thy wares out of the land, thou that abidest in the siege. For thus saith the LORD, Behold, I will sling out the inhabitants of the land at this time, and will distress them, that they may feel it. Woe is me for my hurt: my wound is grievous: but I said, Truly this is my grief, and I must bear it. My tent is spoiled, and all my cords are broken: my children are gone forth of me, and they are not: there is none to stretch forth my tent any more, and to set up my curtains. For the shepherds are become brutish, and have not inquired of the LORD: therefore they have not prospered, and all their flocks are scattered. The voice of a rumour, behold it cometh, and a great commotion out of the north country, to make the cities of Judah a desolation, a dwelling place of jackals. O LORD, I know that the way of man is not in himself: it is not in man that walketh to direct his steps. O LORD, correct me, but with judgement; not in thine anger, lest thou bring me to nothing.
- 25 Pour out thy fury upon the heathen that know thee not, and upon the families that call not on thy name: for they have devoured Jacob, yea, they have devoured him and consumed him, and have laid waste his habitation.

- 11 The word that came to Jeremiah from the LORD, saying, Hear ye the words of this covenant, and speak unto the men of Judah, and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem; and say thou unto them, Thus saith the LORD, the God of Israel: Cursed be the man that heareth not the words of this covenant, which I commanded your fathers in the day that I brought them forth out of the land of Egypt, out of the iron furnace, saying, Obey my voice, and do them, according to all which I command you: so shall ye be my people, and I will be your God: that I may establish the oath which I swear unto your fathers, to give them a land flowing with

- 6 And the LORD said unto me, Proclaim all these words in the cities of Judah, and in the streets of Jerusalem, saying, Hear ye the words of this covenant, and do
7 them. For I earnestly protested unto your fathers in the day that I brought them up out of the land of Egypt, even unto this day, rising early and protesting, saying, Obey
8 my voice. Yet they obeyed not, nor inclined their ear, but walked every one in the stubbornness of their evil heart: therefore I brought upon them all the words of this covenant, which I commanded them to do, but they did them not.

9 And the LORD said unto me, A conspiracy is found among the men of Judah, and among the inhabitants of Jerusalem. They are turned back to the iniquities of their forefathers, which refused to hear my words; and they are gone after other gods to serve them: the house of Israel and the house of Judah have broken my covenant which I

11 made with their fathers. Therefore thus saith the LORD, Behold, I will bring evil upon them, which they shall not be able to escape; and they shall cry unto me, but I will not hearken unto them. Then shall the cities of Judah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem go and cry unto the gods unto whom they offer incense: but they shall not save them at all in the time of their trouble.

13 For according to the number of thy cities are thy gods, O Judah; and according to the number of the streets of Jerusalem have ye set up altars to the shameful thing, even altars to burn incense unto 14 Baal. Therefore pray not thou for this people, neither lift up cry nor prayer for them: for I will not hear them in the time that they cry unto me for their trouble.

15 What hath my beloved to do in mine house, seeing she hath wrought lewdness with many, and the holy flesh is passed from thee? when thou doest evil, then thou rejoicest. The LORD called thy name, A green olive tree, fair with goodly fruit: with the noise of a great tumult he hath kindled fire upon it, and the branches of it are

17 broken. For the LORD of hosts, that planted thee, hath pronounced evil against thee, because of the evil of the house of Israel and of the house of Judah, which they have wrought for themselves in provoking me to anger by offering incense unto Baal.

18 And the LORD gave me knowledge of it, and I knew it: then thou shewedst me their doings. But I was like a gentle lamb that is led to the slaughter; and I knew not that they had devised devices against me, saying, Let us destroy the tree with the fruit thereof, and let us cut him off from the land of the living, that his name may be no more remembered. But, O LORD of hosts, that judgest righteously, that triest the reins and the heart, let me see thy vengeance on them: for unto thee have I revealed 21 ed my cause. Therefore thus saith the LORD concerning the men of Anathoth, that seek thy life, saying, Thou shalt not prophesy in the name of the LORD, that thou die not by our hand: therefore thus saith the LORD of hosts, Behold, I will punish them: the young men shall die by the sword; their sons and their daughters shall die by famine; and there shall be no remnant unto them: for I will bring evil upon the men of Anathoth, even the year of their visitation.

12 Righteous art thou, O LORD, when I plead with thee: yet would I reason the cause with thee: wherefore doth the way of the wicked prosper? wherefore are all they at ease that deal very

2 treacherously? Thou hast planted them, yea, they have taken root; they grow, yea, they bring forth fruit: thou art near in their mouth, and far from their reins. But thou, O LORD, knowest me; thou seest me, and triest mine heart toward thee: pull them out like sheep for the slaughter, and prepare them

4 for the day of slaughter. How long shall the land mourn, and the herbs of the whole country wither? for the wickedness of them that dwell therein, the beasts are consumed, and the birds; because they said, He shall not see our latter

5 end. If thou hast run with the footmen, and they have wearied thee, then how canst thou contend with horses? and though in a land of peace thou art secure, yet how wilt thou do in the pride of Jordan?

6 For even thy brethren, and the house of thy father, even they have dealt treacherously with thee; even they have cried aloud after thee: believe them not, though they speak fair words unto thee.

7 I have forsaken mine house, I have cast off mine heritage; I have given the dearly beloved of my soul into the hand of her enemies.

8 Mine heritage is become unto me as a lion in the forest: she hath uttered her voice against me; therefore I have hated her. Is mine heritage unto me as a speckled bird of prey? are the birds of prey against her round about? go ye, assemble all the beasts of the field,

10 bring them to devour. Many shepherds have destroyed my vineyard, they have trodden my portion under foot, they have made my pleasant portion a desolate wilderness. They have made it a desolation; it mourneth unto me, being desolate; the whole land is

LORD, and put it upon my loins.
3 And the word of the LORD came unto me the second time, saying, 4 Take the girdle that thou hast bought, which is upon thy loins, and arise, go to Euphrates, and hide it there in a hole of the rock.
5 So I went and hid it by Euphrates, 6 as the LORD commanded me. And it came to pass after many days,
that the LORD said unto me, Arise, go to Euphrates, and take the girdle from thence, which I com-7 manded thee to hide there. Then I went to Euphrates, and digged, and took the girdle from the place where I had hid it: and, behold, the girdle was marred, it was pro-8 fitable for nothing. Then the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, 9 Thus saith the LORD, After this manner will I mar the pride of Judah, and the great pride of Je-10 rusalem. This evil people, which refuse to hear my words, which walk in the stubbornness of their heart, and are gone after other gods to serve them, and to worship them, shall even be as this girdle, 11 which is profitable for nothing. For as the girdle cleaveth to the loins of a man, so have I caused to cleave unto me the whole house of Israel and the whole house of Judah, saith

the LORD; that they might be unto me for a people, and for a name,
and for a praise, and for a glory:
12 but they would not hear. Therefore thou shalt speak unto them
this word: Thus saith the LORD, the God of Israel, Every <sup>2</sup> bottle shall be filled with wine: and they shall say unto thee, Do we not know that every <sup>2</sup> bottle shall be 13 filled with wine? Then shalt thou say unto them, Thus saith the LORD, Behold, I will fill all the inhabitants of this land, even the kings that sit <sup>3</sup> upon David's throne, and the priests, and the prophets, and all the inhabitants of Jerusalem, 14 with drunkenness. And I will dash them one against another, even the fathers and the sons together, saith the LORD: I will not pity, nor spare, nor have compassion, that I should not destroy them.

15 Hear ye, and give ear; be not proud: for the LORD hath spoken.
16 Give glory to the LORD your God, before <sup>4</sup> he cause darkness, and before your feet stumble upon the <sup>5</sup> dark mountains; and, while ye look for light, he turn it into <sup>6</sup> the shadow of death, and make it gross darkness. But if ye will not hear it, my soul shall weep in secret for your pride; and mine eye shall weep sore, and run down with tears, because the LORD's flock 18 is taken captive. Say thou unto the king and to the queen-mother, <sup>7</sup> Humble yourselves, sit down: for your headtires are come down, 19 even <sup>8</sup> the crown of your glory. The cities of the South are shut up, and there is none to open them: Judah is carried away captive all of it; it is wholly carried away captive.

20 Lift up your eyes, and behold them that come from the north:
where is the flock that was given thee, thy beautiful flock? <sup>9</sup> What wilt thou say, when he shall set thy friends over thee as head, seeing thou thyself hast instructed them against thee? shall not sorrows take hold of thee, as of a 22 woman in travail? And if thou say in thine heart, Wherefore are these things come upon me? for the <sup>10</sup> greatness of thine iniquity are thy skirts discovered, and thy heels suffer violence. Can the Ethiopian change his skin, or the leopard his spots? then may ye also do good,
that are <sup>11</sup> accustomed to do evil.
24 Therefore will I scatter them, as the stubble that passeth away, <sup>12</sup> by the wind of the wilderness. This is thy lot, the portion measured unto thee from me, saith the LORD;
because thou hast forgotten me, 26 and trusted in falsehood. Therefore will I also discover thy skirts <sup>13</sup> upon thy face, and thy shame shall appear. I have seen thine abominations, even thine adulteries, and thy neighings, the lewdness of thy whore-

14 The word of the LORD that came to Jeremiah concerning the drought.

2 Judah mourneth, and the gates thereof languish, they sit in black upon the ground; and the cry of

3 Jerusalem is gone up. And their nobles send their <sup>1</sup>little ones <sup>2</sup>to the waters: they come to the pits, and find no water; they return with their vessels empty: they are ashamed and confounded, and cover

4 their heads. Because of the ground which is <sup>3</sup>chapt, for that no rain hath been in the land, the plowmen are ashamed, they cover their

5 heads. Yea, the hind also in the field calveth, and forsaketh her young, because there is no grass.

6 And the wild asses stand on the bare heights, they pant for air like <sup>4</sup>jackals; their eyes fall, because there is no herbage.

7 Though our iniquities testify against us, work thou for thy name's sake. O LORD: for our backslidings are many; we have sinned against

8 thee. O thou hope of Israel, the saviour thereof in the time of trouble, why shouldest thou be as a sojourner in the land, and as a way-faring man that <sup>5</sup>turneth aside to tarry for a night? Why shouldest thou be as a man astonished, as a mighty man that cannot save? yet thou, O LORD, art in the midst of us, and we are called by thy name; leave us not.

10 Thus saith the LORD unto this people, Even so have they loved to wander; they have not refrained their feet: therefore the LORD doth not accept them; now will he remember their iniquity, and visit their sins. And the LORD said unto me, Pray not for this people for 12 their good. When they fast, I will not hear their cry; and when they offer burnt offering and <sup>6</sup>oblation, I will not accept them: but I will consume them by the sword, and by the famine, and by the pestilence.

13 Then said I, Ah, Lord God! behold, the prophets say unto them, Ye shall not see the sword, neither shall ye have famine; but I will give you <sup>7</sup>assured peace in this place. Then the LORD said unto me, The prophets prophesy lies in my name: I sent them not, neither have I commanded them, neither spake I unto them: they prophesy unto you a lying vision, and divination, and a thing of nought, and the

15 deceit of their own heart. Therefore thus saith the LORD concerning the prophets that prophesy in my name, and I sent them not, yet they say, Sword and famine shall not be in this land: By sword and famine shall those prophets be consumed. And the people to whom they prophesy shall be cast out in the streets of Jerusalem because of the famine and the sword; and they shall have none to bury them, their wives, nor their sons, nor their daughters: for I will pour

17 their wickedness upon them. And thou shalt say this word unto them, Let mine eyes run down with tears night and day, and let them not cease; for the virgin daughter of my people is broken with a great breach, with a very grievous wound.

18 If I go forth into the field, then behold the slain with the sword! and if I enter into the city, then behold <sup>8</sup>them that are sick with famine! for both the prophet and the priest <sup>9</sup>go about <sup>10</sup>in the land and have no knowledge.

19 Hast thou utterly rejected Judah? hath thy soul loathed Zion? why hast thou smitten us, and there is no healing for us? We looked for peace, but no good came; and for a time of healing, and behold dis-

20 may! We <sup>11</sup>acknowledge, O LORD, our wickedness, and the iniquity of our fathers: for we have sinned

21 against thee. Do not <sup>12</sup>abhor us, for thy name's sake; do not disgrace the throne of thy glory: remember, break not thy covenant with us.

22 Are there any among the vanities of the heathen that can cause rain? or can the heavens give showers? art not thou he, O LORD our God? therefore we will wait upon thee; for thou hast <sup>13</sup>made all these things.

15 Then said the LORD unto me, Though Moses and Samuel stood before me, yet my mind could not be toward this people: cast them out of my sight, and let them go

2 forth. And it shall come to pass, when they say unto thee, Whither shall we go forth? then thou shalt tell them, Thus saith the LORD: Such as are for death, to death; and such as are for the sword, to the sword; and such as are for the famine, to the famine; and such as are for captivity, to captivity. And I will appoint over them four <sup>14</sup>kind, saith the LORD: the sword to slay, and the dogs to

15 tear, and the fowls of the heaven, and the beasts of the earth, to devour and to destroy. And I will cause them to be tossed to and fro among all the kingdoms of the earth, because of Manasseh the son of Hezekiah king of Judah, for that which

5 he did in Jerusalem. For who shall have pity upon thee, O Jerusalem? or who shall bemoan thee? or who shall turn aside to ask of thy welfare?

6 Thou hast rejected me, saith the LORD, thou art gone backward: therefore have I stretched out my hand against thee, and destroyed thee;

7 I am weary with repenting. And I have fanned them with a fan in the gates of the land; I have bereaved them of children, I have destroyed my people; they have not returned from their ways. Their widows are increased to me above the sand of the seas: I have brought upon them against the mother of the young men a spoiler at noon-day: I have caused anguish and terrors to fall upon her suddenly.

9 She that hath borne seven languisheth; she hath given up the ghost; her sun is gone down while it was yet day; she hath been ashamed and confounded: and the residue of them will I deliver to the sword before their enemies, saith the Lord.

10 Woe is me, my mother, that thou hast borne me a man of strife and a man of contention to the whole earth! I have not lent on usury, neither have men lent to me on usury; yet every one of them doth 11 curse me. The Lord said, Verily I will strengthen thee for good; verily I will cause the enemy to make supplication unto thee in the time of evil and in the time of affliction.

12 Can one break iron, even iron from the north, and brass? Thy strength and thy treasures will I give for a spoil without price, and that for all thy sins, even in all thy borders. And I will make them to pass with thine enemies into a land which thou knowest not: for a fire is kindled in mine anger, which shall burn upon you.

13 O Lord, thou knowest: remember me, and visit me, and avenge me of my persecutors: take me not away in thy long suffering: know that for thy sake I have suffered reproach. Thy words were found, and I did eat them; and thy words were unto me a joy and the rejoicing of mine heart: for I am called by thy name, O Lord God of hosts.

14 I sat not in the assembly of them that make merry, nor rejoiced: I sat alone because of thy hand; for thou hast filled me with indignation. Why is my pain perpetual, and my wound incurable, which refuseth to be healed? wilt thou indeed be unto me as a deceitful brook, as waters that fall?

15 Therefore thus saith the Lord. If thou return, then will I bring thee again, that thou mayest stand before me; and if thou take forth the precious from the vile, thou shalt be as my mouth: they shall return unto thee, but thou shalt not return unto them. And I will make thee unto this people a fenced brazen wall; and they shall fight against thee, but they shall not prevail against thee: for I am with thee to save thee and to deliver thee, saith the Lord. And I will deliver thee out of the hand of the wicked, and I will redeem thee out of the hand of the terrible.

16 The word of the Lord came also unto me, saying, Thou shalt not take thee a wife, neither shalt thou have sons or daughters in this place.

3 For thus saith the Lord concerning the sons and concerning the daughters that are born in this place, and concerning their mothers that bare them, and concerning their fathers that begat them in

4 this land: They shall die of grievous deaths; they shall not be lamented, neither shall they be buried; they shall be as dung upon the face of the ground: and they shall be consumed by the sword, and by famine; and their carcases shall be meat for the fowls of heaven, and for the beasts of

5 the earth. For thus saith the Lord. Enter not into the house of mourning, neither go to lament, neither bemoan them: for I have taken away my peace from this people, saith the Lord, even lovingkindness and tender mercies.

6 Both great and small shall die in this land: they shall not be buried, neither shall men lament for them, nor cut themselves, nor make themselves bald for them: neither shall

7 men break bread for them in mourning, to comfort them for the dead; neither shall men give them the cup of consolation to drink for their father or for their

8 mother. And thou shalt not go into the house of feasting to sit with them, to eat and to drink.

9 For thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel: Behold, I will cause to cease out of this place, before your eyes and in your days, the voice of gladness, the voice of the bridegroom and the voice of the 10 bride. And it shall come to pass, when thou shalt shew this people all these words, and they shall say unto thee, Wherefore hath the Lord pronounced all this great evil against us? or what is our iniquity? or what is our sin that we have committed against the Lord our God?

11 Then shalt thou say unto them, Because your fathers have forsaken me, saith the Lord, and have walked after other gods, and have served them, and have worshipped them, and have forsaken me, and have

12 not kept my law; and ye have done evil more than your fathers; for, behold, ye walk every one after the stubbornness of his evil heart, so that ye hearken not unto me: therefore will I cast you forth out of this land into the land that ye have not known, neither ye nor your fathers; and there shall ye serve other gods day and night; for I will shew you no favour.

13 Therefore, behold, the days come, saith the Lord, that it shall no more be said, As the Lord liveth, that brought up the children of Israel out of the land of Egypt; but, As the Lord liveth, that brought up the children of Israel from 27 LORD. But if ye will not hearken unto me to hallow the sabbath day, and not to bear a burden and enter in at the gates of Jerusalem on the sabbath day; then will I kindle a fire in the gates thereof, and it shall devour the palaces of Jerusalem, and it shall not be quenched.

- 18 The word which came to Jeremiah from the LORD, saying,
- 2 Arise, and go down to the potter's house, and there I will cause thee
- 3 to hear my words. Then I went down to the potter's house, and, behold, he wrought his work on the wheels. And when the vessel that he made of the clay was marred in the hand of the potter, he made it again another vessel, as seemed good to the potter to make it.
- 5 Then the word of the LORD came to me, saying, O house of Israel, cannot I do with you as this potter? saith the LORD. Behold, as the clay in the potter's hand, so are ye in mine hand, O house of Israel. At what instant I shall speak concerning a nation, and concerning a kingdom, to pluck up and to break
- 8 down and to destroy it; if that nation, concerning which I have spoken, turn from their evil, I will repent of the evil that I thought to do unto them. And at what instant I shall speak concerning a nation, and concerning a kingdom,
- 10 to build and to plant it; if it do evil in my sight, that it obey not my voice, then I will repent of the good, wherewith I said I would benefit them. Now therefore go to, speak to the men of Judah, and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem, saying, Thus saith the LORD: Behold, I frame evil against you, and devise a device against you; return ye now every one from his evil way, and amend your ways and your doings.
- 12 But they say, There is no hope: for we will walk after our own devices, and we will do every one after the stubbornness of his evil heart.
- 13 Therefore thus saith the LORD: Ask ye now among the nations, who hath heard such things; the virgin of Israel hath done a very
- 14 horrible thing. Shall the snow of Lebanon fall from the rock of the field? or shall the cold waters <sup>2</sup> that flow down from afar be <sup>3</sup> dried up?
- 15 For my people hath forgotten me, they have burned incense to vanity; and they have caused them to stumble in their ways, in the ancient paths, to walk in bypaths, in a way not cast up; to make their land an astonishment, and a perpetual hissing; every one that passeth thereby shall be astonished,

17 and shake his head. I will scatter them as with an east wind before the enemy; I will <sup>4</sup> look upon their back, and not their face, in the day of their calamity.

- 18 Then said they, Come, and let us devise devices against Jeremiah; for the law shall not perish from the priest, nor counsel from the wise, nor the word from the prophet. Come, and let us smite him with the tongue, and let us not give heed to any of his words.

- 19 Give heed to me, O LORD, and hearken to the voice of them that contend with me. Shall evil be recompensed for good? for they have digged a pit for my soul. Remember how I stood before thee to speak good for them, to turn
- 21 away thy fury from them. Therefore deliver up their children to the famine, and give them over to the power of the sword; and let their wives become childless, and widows; and let their men be slain of death, and their young men
- 22 smitten of the sword in battle. Let a cry be heard from their houses, when thou shalt bring a troop suddenly upon them: for they have digged a pit to take me, and hid
- 23 snares for my feet. Yet, LORD, thou knowest all their counsel against me to slay me; forgive not their iniquity, neither blot out their sin from thy sight; but let them be <sup>5</sup> overthrown before thee; deal thou with them in the time of thine anger.

- 19 Thus said the LORD, Go, and buy a potter's earthen bottle, and take of the elders of the people, and of
- 2 the elders of the priests; and go forth unto the valley of the son of Hinnom, which is by the entry of <sup>6</sup> the gate Harsith, and proclaim there the words that I shall tell
- 3 thee: and say, Hear ye the word of the LORD, O kings of Judah, and inhabitants of Jerusalem; thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel. Behold, I will bring evil upon this place, the which whosoever heareth, his ears shall tingle.
- 4 Because they have forsaken me, and have estranged this place, and have burned incense in it unto other gods, whom they knew not, they and their fathers and the kings of Judah; and have filled this place
- 5 with the blood of innocents; and have built the high places of Baal, to burn their sons in the fire for burnt offerings unto Baal; which I commanded not, nor spake it, neither
- 6 came it into my <sup>7</sup> mind: therefore, behold, the days come, saith the LORD, that this place shall no more be called Topheth, nor The valley of the son of Hinnom, but will <sup>1</sup> make void the counsel of Judah and Jerusalem in this place; and I will cause them to fall by the sword before their enemies and by the hand of them that seek their life: and their carcases will I give to be meat for the fowls of the heaven, and for the beasts of the earth. And I will make this city an astonishment, and an hissing: every one that passeth thereby shall be astonished and hiss because of all the plagues thereof. And I will cause them to eat the flesh of their sons and the flesh of their daughters, and they shall eat every one the flesh of his friend, in the siege and in the straitness, wherewith their enemies, and they that seek their life, shall straiten them.

10 Then shalt thou break the bottle in the sight of the men that go with thee, and shalt say unto them, Thus saith the LORD of hosts: Even so will I break this people and this city, as one breaketh a potter's vessel, that cannot be made whole again; and they shall bury in Topheth, <sup>2</sup> till there be no place to bury. Thus will I do unto this place, saith the LORD, and to the inhabitants thereof, even making this city as Topheth: and the houses of Jerusalem, and the houses of the kings of Judah, which are defiled, shall be as the place of Topheth, even all the houses upon whose roofs they have burned incense unto all the host of heaven, and have poured out drink offerings unto other gods.

14 Then came Jeremiah from Topheth, whither the LORD had sent him to prophesy; and he stood in the court of the LORD's house, and said to all the people: Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, Behold, I will bring upon this city and upon all her towns all the evil that I have pronounced against it; because they have made their neck stiff, that they might not hear my words.

20 Now Pashhur the son of Immer the priest, who was chief officer in the house of the LORD, heard Jeremiah prophesying these things.

2 Then Pashhur smote Jeremiah the prophet, and put him in the stocks that were in the upper gate of Benjamin, which was in the house of the LORD. And it came to pass on the morrow, that Pashhur brought forth Jeremiah out of the stocks. Then said Jeremiah unto him, The LORD hath not called thy name

5 sword. Moreover I will give all the riches of this city, and all the gains thereof, and all the precious things thereof, yea, all the treasures of the kings of Judah will I give into the hand of their enemies, which shall spoil them, and take them, and carry them to Babylon. And thou, Pashhur, and all that dwell in thine house shall go into captivity: and thou shalt come to Babylon, and there thou shalt die, and there shalt thou be buried, thou, and all thy friends, to whom thou hast prophesied falsely.

7 O LORD, thou hast <sup>4</sup> deceived me, and I was deceived: thou art stronger than I, and hast prevailed: I am become a laughing-stock all the day, every one mocketh me.

8 For as often as I speak, I cry out; I cry, Violence and spoil: because the word of the LORD is made a reproach unto me, and a derision,

9 all the day. And if I say, I will not make mention of him, nor speak any more in his name, then there is in mine heart as it were a burning fire shut up in my bones, and I am weary with forbearing,

10 and I cannot contain. For I have heard the defaming of many, terror on every side. Denounce, and we will denounce him, say all my familiar friends, they that watch for my halting; peradventure he will be enticed, and we shall prevail against him, and we shall take our

11 revenge on him. But the LORD is with me as a mighty one and a terrible: therefore my persecutors shall stumble, and they shall not prevail: they shall be greatly ashamed, because they have not

<sup>5</sup> dealt wisely, even with an everlasting dishonour which shall never be forgotten. But, O LORD of hosts, that triest the righteous, that seest the reins and the heart, let me see thy vengeance on them; for unto thee have I revealed my cause. Sing unto the LORD, praise ye the LORD: for he hath delivered the soul of the needy from the hand of evil-doers.

14 Cursed be the day wherein I was born: let not the day wherein my mother bare me be blessed.

15 Cursed be the man who brought tidings to my father, saying, A man child is born unto thee;

16 making him very glad. And let that man be as the cities which the LORD overthrew, and repented not: and let him hear a cry in the morning,

17 and <sup>6</sup> shouting at noontide; because he slew me not from the womb; and so my mother should have been my grave, and her womb

18 always great. Wherefore came I forth out of the womb to see labour and sorrow, that my days should be consumed with shame?

3 Then said Jeremiah unto them, Thus shall ye say to Zedekiah: 4 Thus saith the LORD, the God of Israel, Behold, I will turn back the weapons of war that are in your hands, wherewith ye fight against the king of Babylon, and against the Chaldeans which besiege you, without the walls, and I will gather them into the midst

5 of this city. And I myself will fight against you with an outstretched hand and with a strong arm, even in anger, and in fury, and in great

6 wrath. And I will smite the inhabitants of this city, both man and beast: they shall die of a great pestilence.

7 And afterward, saith the LORD, I will deliver Zedekiah king of Judah, and his servants, and the people, even such as are left in this city from the pestilence, from the sword, and from the famine, into the hand of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon, and into the hand of their enemies, and into the hand of those that seek their life: and he shall smite them with the edge of the sword; he shall not spare them, neither have pity, nor have mercy.

8 And unto this people thou shalt say, Thus saith the LORD: Behold, I set before you the way of life

9 and the way of death. He that abideth in this city shall die by the sword, and by the famine, and by the pestilence: but he that goeth out, and falleth away to the Chaldeans that besiege you, he shall live, and his life shall be unto him for

10 a prey. For I have set my face upon this city for evil, and not for good, saith the LORD: it shall be given into the hand of the king of Babylon, and he shall burn it with fire.

11 And touching the house of the king of Judah, hear ye the word of

12 the LORD: O house of David, thus saith the LORD, Execute judgement in the morning, and deliver the spoiled out of the hand of the oppressor, lest my fury go forth like fire, and burn that none can quench it, because of the evil of

2 and speak there this word, and say, Hear the word of the LORD, O king of Judah, that sitteth upon the throne of David, thou, and thy servants, and thy people that enter in

3 by these gates. Thus saith the LORD: Execute ye judgement and righteousness, and deliver the spoiled out of the hand of the oppressor: and do no wrong, do no violence, to the stranger, the fatherless, nor the widow, neither shed innocent

4 blood in this place. For if ye do this thing indeed, then shall there enter in by the gates of this house kings sitting upon the throne of David, riding in chariots and on horses, he, and his servants, and

5 his people. But if ye will not hear these words, I swear by myself, saith the LORD, that this house

6 shall become a desolation. For thus saith the LORD concerning the house of the king of Judah: Thou art Gilead unto me, and the head of Lebanon: yet surely I will make thee a wilderness, and cities which

7 are not inhabited. And I will prepare destroyers against thee, every one with his weapons: and they shall cut down thy choice cedars,

8 and cast them into the fire. And many nations shall pass by this city, and they shall say every man to his neighbour, Wherefore hath the LORD done thus unto this great

9 city? Then they shall answer, Because they forsook the covenant of the LORD their God, and worshipped other gods, and served them.

10 Weep ye not for the dead, neither bemoan him: but weep sore for him that goeth away; for he shall return no more, nor see his

11 native country. For thus saith the LORD touching Shallum the son of Josiah, king of Judah, which reigned instead of Josiah his father, which went forth out of this place: He shall not return thither

12 any more; but in the place whither they have led him captive, there shall he die, and he shall see this land no more.

13 Woe unto him that buildeth his house by unrighteousness, and his chambers by injustice: that useth his neighbour's service without wages, and giveth him not his hire;

14 that saith, I will build me a wide house and spacious chambers, and cutteth him out windows; and it is ciled with cedar, and painted

15 with vermillion. Shalt thou reign, because thou strivest to excel in cedar? did not thy father eat and drink, and do judgement and justice? then it was well with him.

16 He judged the cause of the poor and needy; then it was well. Was not this to know me? saith the blood, and for oppression, and for violence, to do it. Therefore thus saith the Lord concerning Jehoiakim the son of Josiah, king of Judah: They shall not lament for him, saying, Ah my brother! or, Ah sister! they shall not lament for him, saying, Ah lord! or, Ah his glory! He shall be buried with the burial of an ass, drawn and cast forth beyond the gates of Jerusalem.

20 Go up to Lebanon, and cry; and lift up thy voice in Bashan; and cry from Abarim; for all thy lovers are destroyed. I spake unto thee in thy prosperity; but thou saidst, I will not hear. This hath been thy manner from thy youth, that thou obeyedst not my voice.

22 The wind shall <sup>1</sup> feed all thy shepherds, and thy lovers shall go into captivity: surely then shalt thou be ashamed and confounded for all thy wickedness.

23 O inhabitant of Lebanon, that makest thy nest in the cedars, <sup>2</sup> how greatly to be pitied shalt thou be when pangs come upon thee, the pain as of a woman in travail! As I live, saith the Lord, though <sup>4</sup> Coniah the son of Jehoiakim king of Judah were the signet upon my right hand, yet would I pluck thee thence;

25 and I will give thee into the hand of them that seek thy life, and into the hand of them of whom thou art afraid, even into the hand of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon, and into the hand of the Chaldeans. And I will cast thee out, and thy mother that bare thee, into another country, where ye were not born; and there shall ye die. But to the land wherunto <sup>6</sup> their soul longeth to return, thither shall they not return. Is this man Coniah a despised broken vessel? is he a vessel wherein is no pleasure? wherefore are they cast out, he and his seed, and are cast into the land which they know not? O earth, earth, earth, hear the word of the Lord. Thus saith the Lord, Write ye this man childless, a man that shall not prosper in his days: for no man of his seed shall prosper, sitting upon the throne of David, and ruling any more in Judah.

26 Woe unto the shepherds that destroy and scatter the sheep of my pasture! saith the Lord. Therefore thus saith the Lord, the God of Israel, against the shepherds that feed my people: Ye have scattered my flock, and driven them away, and have not visited them; behold, I will visit upon you the evil of your doings, saith the Lord.

28 And I will gather the remnant of my flock out of all the countries whither I have driven them, and will bring them again to their folds; and they shall be fruitful and multiply. And I will set up shepherds over them which shall feed them: and they shall fear no more, nor be dismayed, neither shall any be lacking, saith the Lord.

5 Behold, the days come, saith the Lord, that I will raise unto David a righteous <sup>8</sup> Branch, and he shall reign as king and <sup>9</sup> deal wisely, and shall execute judgement and justice in the land. In his days Judah shall be saved, and Israel shall dwell safely: and this is his name whereby he shall be called, <sup>10</sup> The Lord is our righteousness.

7 Therefore, behold, the days come, saith the Lord, that they shall no more say, As the Lord liveth, which brought up the children of Israel out of the land of Egypt; but, As the Lord liveth, which brought up and which led the seed of the house of Israel out of the north country, and from all the countries whither I had driven them; and they shall dwell in their own land.

9 Concerning the prophets. Mine heart within me is broken, all my bones shake; I am like a drunken man, and like a man whom wine hath overcome; because of the Lord, and because of his holy words. For the land is full of adulterers; for because of <sup>12</sup> swearing the land mourneth; the pastures of the wilderness are dried up; and their course is evil, and their force is not right. For both prophet and priest are profane; yea, in my house have I found their wickedness, saith the Lord. Wherefore their way shall be unto them as slippery places in the darkness; they shall be driven on, and fall therein: for I will bring evil upon them, <sup>13</sup> even the year of their visitation, saith the Lord. And I have seen folly in the prophets of Samaria; they prophesied by Baal, and caused my people Israel to err. In the prophets of Jerusalem also I have seen an horrible thing; they commit adultery, and walk in lies, and they strengthen the hands of evil-doers, that none doth return from his wickedness; they are all of them become unto me as Sodom, and the inhabitants thereof as Gomorrah.

12 Therefore thus saith the Lord of hosts concerning the prophets: Behold, I will feed them with wormwood, and make them drink the water of <sup>14</sup> gall: for from the prophets of Jerusalem is profaneness gone forth into all the land. Thus saith the Lord of hosts, Hearken not unto the words of the prophets that prophesy unto you; they teach you vanity; they speak a vision of their own heart, and not out of the mouth of the Lord. They say continually unto them <sup>15</sup> that despise me, The Lord hath said, Ye shall have peace; and unto every one that walketh in the stubbornness of his own heart they say, No evil shall come upon you. in the council of the LORD, that he should perceive and hear his word? who hath marked <sup>1</sup> my word, and heard it? Behold, the tempest of the LORD, even his fury, is gone forth, yea, a whirling tempest: it shall burst upon the head of the wicked. The anger of the LORD shall not return, until he have <sup>2</sup> executed, and till he have performed the intents of his heart: in the latter days ye shall <sup>3</sup> understand it perfectly. I sent not these prophets, yet they ran: I spake not unto them, yet they prophesied. But if they had stood in my council, then had they caused my people to hear my words, and had turned them from their evil way, and from the evil of their doings. Am I a God at hand, saith the LORD, and not a God afar off? Can any hide himself in secret places that I shall not see him? saith the LORD. Do not I fill heaven and earth? saith the LORD. I have heard what the prophets have said, that prophesy lies in my name, saying, I have dreamed. I have dreamed. How long shall this be in the heart of the prophets that prophesy lies; even the prophets of the deceit of their own heart? which think to cause my people to forget my name by their dreams which they tell every man to his neighbour, as their fathers forgot my name for Baal. The prophet that hath a dream, let him tell a dream; and he that hath my word, let him speak my word faithfully. What is the straw to the wheat? saith the LORD. Is not my word like as fire? saith the LORD: and like a hammer that breaketh the rock in pieces? Therefore, behold, I am against the prophets, saith the LORD, that steal my words every one from his neighbour. Behold, I am against the prophets, saith the LORD, that <sup>4</sup> use their tongues, and say, He saith. Behold, I am against them that prophesy lying dreams, saith the LORD, and do tell them, and cause my people to err by their lies, and by their vain boasting: yet I sent them not, nor commanded them: neither shall they profit this people at all, saith the LORD. And when this people, or the prophet, or a priest, shall ask thee, saying, What is the burden of the LORD? then shalt thou <sup>5</sup> say unto them, <sup>6</sup> What burden! I will cast you off, saith the LORD. And as for the prophet, and the priest, and the people, that shall say, The burden of the LORD, I will even punish that man and his house. Thus shall ye say every one to his neighbour, and every one to his brother, What hath the LORD answered? and, What hath the LORD spoken? And the burden of the LORD shall ye mention no more: for every man's own word <sup>7</sup> shall be his burden; for ye have perverted the words of the living God, of the LORD of hosts our God. Thus shalt thou say to the prophet, What hath the LORD answered thee? and, What hath the LORD spoken? But if ye say, The burden of the LORD; therefore thus saith the LORD: Because ye say this word, The burden of the LORD, and I have sent unto you, saying, Ye shall not say, The burden of the LORD; therefore, behold, I will <sup>8</sup> utterly forget you, and I will cast you off, and the city that I gave unto you and to your fathers, away from my presence: and I will bring an everlasting reproach upon you, and a perpetual shame, which shall not be forgotten.

<sup>24</sup> The LORD shewed me, and, behold, two baskets of figs set before the temple of the LORD; after that Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon had carried away captive Jeconiah the son of Jehoiakim, king of Judah, and the princes of Judah, with the craftsmen and smiths, from Jerusalem, and had brought them to Babylon. One basket had very good figs, like the figs that are first ripe: and the other basket had very bad figs, which could not be eaten, they were so bad. Then said the LORD unto me, What seest thou, Jeremiah? And I said, Figs; the good figs, very good; and the bad, very bad, that cannot be eaten, they are so bad. And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, Thus saith the LORD, the God of Israel: Like these good figs, so will I regard the captives of Judah, whom I have sent out of this place into the land of the Chaldeans, for good. For I will set mine eyes upon them for good, and I will bring them again to this land: and I will build them, and not pull them down; and I will plant them, and not pluck them up. And I will give them an heart to know me, that I am the LORD: and they shall be my people, and I will be their God: for they shall return unto me with their whole heart. And as the bad figs, which cannot be eaten, they are so bad: surely thus saith the LORD, So will I give up Zedekiah the king of Judah, and his princes, and the residue of Jerusalem, that remain in this land, and them that dwell in the land of Egypt: I will even give them up to be <sup>9</sup> tossed to and fro among all the kingdoms of the earth for evil; to be a reproach and a proverb, a taunt and a curse, in all places whither I shall drive them. And I will send the sword, the famine, and the pestilence, among them, till they be consumed from off the land that I gave unto them and to their fathers.

akim the son of Josiah, king of Judah; the same was the first year of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon; 2 the which Jeremiah the prophet spake unto all the people of Judah, and to all the inhabitants of Jerusalem, saying: From the thirteenth year of Josiah the son of Amon, king of Judah, even unto this day, these three and twenty years, the word of the LORD hath come unto me, and I have spoken unto you, rising up early and speaking; but ye have not hearkened. And the LORD hath sent unto you all his servants the prophets, rising up early and sending them; but ye have not hearkened, nor inclined your ear to hear; 5 saying, Return ye now every one from his evil way, and from the evil of your doings, and dwell in the land that the LORD hath given unto you and to your fathers, from of old and 6 even for evermore: and go not after other gods to serve them, and to worship them, and provoke me not to anger with the work of your hands; and I will do you no hurt. 7 Yet ye have not hearkened unto me, saith the LORD; that ye might provoke me to anger with the work of your hands to your own hurt. 8 Therefore thus saith the LORD of hosts: Because ye have not heard 9 my words, behold, I will send and take all the families of the north, saith the LORD, and I will send unto Nebuchadrezzar the king of Babylon, my servant, and will bring them against this land, and against the inhabitants thereof, and against all these nations round about; and I will utterly destroy them, and make them an astonishment, and an hissing, and perpetual desolations. Moreover I will take from them the voice of mirth and the voice of gladness, the voice of the bridegroom and the voice of the bride, the sound of the millstones, 11 and the light of the candle. And this whole land shall be a desolation, and an astonishment; and these nations shall serve the king of Babylon seventy years. And it shall come to pass, when seventy years are accomplished, that I will punish the king of Babylon, and that nation, saith the LORD, for their iniquity, and the land of the Chaldeans; and I will make it 13 desolate for ever. And I will bring upon that land all my words which I have pronounced against it, even all that is written in this book, which Jeremiah hath prophesied 14 against all the nations. For many nations and great kings shall serve themselves of them, even of them; and I will recompense them according to their deeds, and according to the work of their hands.

and cause all the nations, to whom 16 I send thee, to drink it. And they shall drink, and reel to and fro, and be mad, because of the sword that 17 I will send among them. Then took I the cup at the LORD's hand, and made all the nations to drink, unto 18 whom the LORD had sent me: to scilicet Jerusalem, and the cities of Judah, and the kings thereof, and the princes thereof, to make them a desolation, an astonishment, an hissing, and a curse; as it is this 19 day; Pharaoh king of Egypt, and his servants, and his princes, and 20 all his people; and all the mingled people, and all the kings of the land of Egypt, and all the kings of the land of the Philistines, and Ashkelon, and Gaza, and Ekron, and the remnant of Asdod; Edom, and 21 Moab, and the children of Ammon; 22 and all the kings of Tyre, and all the kings of Zidon, and the kings of the <sup>5</sup>isle which is beyond the sea; 23 Dedan, and Tema, and Buz, and all that have the corners of their hair 24 polled; and all the kings of Arabia, and all the kings of the mingled people that dwell in the wilderness; 25 and all the kings of Zimri, and all the kings of Elam, and all the kings 26 of the Medes; and all the kings of the north, far and near, one with another; and all the kingdoms of the world, which are upon the face of the earth; and the king of <sup>6</sup>She- 27 shach shall drink after them. And thou shalt say unto them, Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Drink ye, and be drunken, and spie, and fall, and rise no more, because of the sword which I will 28 send among you. And it shall be, if they refuse to take the cup at thine hand to drink, then shalt thou say unto them, Thus saith the LORD of hosts: Ye shall surely drink. 29 For, lo, I begin to work evil at the city which is called by my name, and should ye be utterly unpunished? Ye shall not be unpunished: for I will call for a sword upon all the inhabitants of the earth, saith 30 the LORD of hosts. Therefore prophesy thou against them all these words, and say unto them, The LORD shall roar from on high, and utter his voice from his holy habitation; he shall mightily roar against his <sup>7</sup>fold; he shall give a shout, as they that tread the grapes, against all the inhabitants of the 31 earth. A noise shall come even to the end of the earth; for the LORD hath a controversy with the nations, he will plead with all flesh; as for the wicked, he will give them to the sword, saith the LORD.

32 Thus saith the LORD of hosts, Behold, evil shall go forth from nation to nation, and a great tempest shall be raised up from the uttermost parts of the earth. And the slain of the LORD shall be at that day from one end of the

- earth even unto the other end of the earth: they shall not be lamented, neither gathered, nor buried; they shall be dung upon the face of the ground. Howl, ye shepherds, and cry; and wallow yourselves in ashes, ye principal of the flock: for the days of your slaughter are fully come, and I will break you in pieces, and ye shall fall like a pleasant vessel. And the shepherds shall have no way to flee, nor the principal of the flock to escape. A voice of the cry of the shepherds, and the howling of the principal of the flock! for the LORD layeth waste their pasture. And the peaceable folds are brought to silence because of the fierce anger of the LORD. He hath forsaken his covert, as the lion: for their land is become an astonishment because of the fierceness of the oppressing sword, and because of his fierce anger.
- 26 In the beginning of the reign of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah, king of Judah, came this word from the LORD, saying, Thus saith the LORD: Stand in the court of the LORD's house, and speak unto all the cities of Judah, which come to worship in the LORD's house, all the words that I command thee to speak unto them; keep not back a word. It may be they will hearken, and turn every man from his evil way; that I may repent me of the evil, which I purpose to do unto them because of the evil of their doings. And thou shalt say unto them, Thus saith the LORD: If ye will not hearken to me, to walk in my law, which I have set before you, to hearken to the words of my servants the prophets, whom I send unto you, even rising up early and sending them, but ye have not hearkened; then will I make this house like Shiloh, and will make this city a curse to all the nations of the earth. And the priests and the prophets and all the people heard Jeremiah speaking these words in the house of the LORD.
- 8 And it came to pass, when Jeremiah had made an end of speaking all that the LORD had commanded him to speak unto all the people, that the priests and the prophets and all the people laid hold on him, saying, Thou shalt surely die. Why hast thou prophesied in the name of the LORD, saying, This house shall be like Shiloh, and this city shall be desolate, without inhabitant? And all the people were gathered unto Jeremiah in the house of the LORD.
- 10 And when the princes of Judah heard these things, they came up from the king's house unto the house of the LORD; and they sat in the entry of the new gate of the LORD's house. Then spake the priests and

- the prophets unto the princes and to all the people, saying, This man is worthy of death; for he hath prophesied against this city, as ye have heard with your ears.
- 12 Then spake Jeremiah unto all the princes and to all the people, saying, The LORD sent me to prophesy against this house and against this city all the words that ye have heard. Therefore now amend your ways and your doings, and obey the voice of the LORD your God; and the LORD will repent him of the evil that he hath pronounced against you. But as for me, behold, I am in your hand: do with me as is good and right in your eyes. Only know ye for certain that, if ye put me to death, ye shall bring innocent blood upon yourselves, and upon this city, and upon the inhabitants thereof: for of a truth the LORD hath sent me unto you to speak all these words in your ears. Then said the princes and all the people unto the priests and to the prophets: This man is not worthy of death; for he hath spoken to us in the name of the LORD our God.
- 17 Then rose up certain of the elders of the land, and spake to all the assembly of the people, saying, Micajah the Morastite prophesied in the days of Hezekiah king of Judah; and he spake to all the people of Judah, saying, Thus saith the LORD of hosts: Zion shall be plowed as a field, and Jerusalem shall become heaps, and the mountain of the house as the high places of a forest.
- 19 Did Hezekiah king of Judah and all Judah put him at all to death? did he not fear the LORD, and intreat the favour of the LORD, and the LORD repented him of the evil which he had pronounced against them? Thus should we commit great evil against our own souls.
- 20 And there was also a man that prophesied in the name of the LORD, Uriah the son of Shemaiah of Kirjath-jearim; and he prophesied against this city and against this land according to all the words of Jeremiah: and when Jehoiakim the king, with all his mighty men, and all the princes, heard his words, the king sought to put him to death; but when Uriah heard it, he was afraid, and fled, and went into Egypt: and Jehoiakim the king sent men into Egypt, namely, Elnathan the son of Achbor, and certain men with him, into Egypt: and they fetched forth Uriah out of Egypt, and brought him unto Jehoiakim the king; who slew him with the sword, and cast his dead body into the graves of the common people.
- 24 But the hand of Ahikam the son of Shaphan was with Jeremiah, that they should not give him into the hand of the people to put him to death.

- 6 And now have I given all these lands into the hand of Nebuchadnezzar the king of Babylon, my servant; and the beasts of the field also have I given him to serve him.
- 7 And all the nations shall serve him, and his son, and his son's son, until the time of his own land come: and then many nations and great kings shall serve themselves of him. And <sup>8</sup>it shall come to pass, that the nation and the kingdom which will not serve the same Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, and that will not put their neck under the yoke of the king of Babylon, that nation will I punish, saith the LORD, with the sword, and with the famine, and with the pestilence, until I have consumed them by his hand. But as for you, hearken ye not to your prophets, nor to your diviners, nor to your dreams, nor to your soothsayers, nor to your sorcerers, which speak unto you, saying, Ye shall not serve the king of Babylon: for they prophesy a lie unto you, to remove you far from your land; and that I should drive you out and ye should perish. But the nation that shall bring their neck under the yoke of the king of Babylon, and serve him, that nation will I let remain in their own land, saith the LORD; and they shall till it, and dwell therein.
- 12 And I spake to Zedekiah king of Judah according to all these words, saying, Bring your necks under the yoke of the king of Babylon, and serve him and his people, and live.
- 13 Why will ye die, thou and thy people, by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence, as the LORD hath spoken concerning the nation that will not serve the king of Babylon? And hearken not unto the words of the prophets that speak unto you, saying, Ye shall not serve the king of Babylon: for they prophesy a lie unto you. For I have not sent them, saith the LORD, but they prophesy falsely in my name;

- that I might drive you out, and that ye might perish, ye, and the prophets that prophesy unto you.
- 16 Also I spake to the priests and to all this people, saying, Thus saith the LORD: Hearken not to the words of your prophets that prophesy unto you, saying, Behold, the vessels of the LORD's house shall now shortly be brought again from Babylon: for they prophesy a lie unto you. Hearken not unto them; serve the king of Babylon, and live: wherefore should this city become <sup>18</sup>a desolation? But if they be prophets, and if the word of the LORD be with them, let them now make intercession to the LORD of hosts, that the vessels which are left in the house of the LORD, and in the house of the king of Judah, and at Jerusalem, go not to Babylon. For thus saith the LORD of hosts concerning the pillars, and concerning the sea, and concerning the bases, and concerning the residue of the vessels that are left in this city,
- 20 which Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon took not, when he carried away captive Jeconiah the son of Jehoiakim, king of Judah, from Jerusalem to Babylon, and all the nobles of Judah and Jerusalem;
- 21 yea, thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, concerning the vessels that are left in the house of the LORD, and in the house of the king of Judah, and at Jerusalem: They shall be carried to Babylon, and there shall they be, until the day that I visit them, saith the LORD; then will I bring them up, and restore them to this place.
- 28 And it came to pass the same year, in the beginning of the reign of Zedekiah king of Judah, in the fourth year, in the fifth month, that Hananiah the son of Azzur the prophet, which was of Gibeon, spake unto me in the house of the LORD, in the presence of the priests and of all the people, saying, Thus speaketh the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, saying, I have broken the yoke of the king of Babylon. Within two full years will I bring again into this place all the vessels of the LORD's house, that Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon took away from this place, and I carried them to Babylon: and I will bring again to this place Jeconiah the son of Jehoiakim, king of Judah, with all the captives of Judah, that went to Babylon, saith the LORD: for I will break the yoke of the king of Babylon. Then the prophet Jeremiah said unto the prophet Hananiah in the presence of the priests, and in the presence of all the people that stood in the house of the LORD, even the prophet Jeremiah said, Amen: the LORD do so: the LORD perform thy words which thou hast prophesied, to bring again the vessels of the Lord's house, and all them of the captivity, from Babylon unto 7 this place. Nevertheless hear thou

 11 neck, and brake it. And Hananiah spake in the presence of all the people, saying, Thus saith the LORD:
 Even so will I break the yoke of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon within two full years from off the neck of all the nations.
 And the prophet Jeremiah went 12 his way. Then the word of the LORD came unto Jeremiah, after that Hananiah the prophet had broken the bar from off the neck of the prophet Jeremiah, say-13 ing, Go, and tell Hananiah, saying, Thus saith the LORD: Thou hast broken the bars of wood; but thou shalt make in their stead 14 bars of iron. For thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel:
 I have put a yoke of iron upon the neck of all these nations, that they may serve Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon; and they shall serve him:
 and I have given him the beasts of 15 the field also. Then said the prophet Jeremiah unto Hananiah the prophet, Hear now, Hananiah; the LORD hath not sent thee; but thou makest this people to trust in a lie.
 16 Therefore thus saith the LORD, Behold, I will send thee away from off the face of the earth: this year thou shalt die, because thou hast spoken rebellion against the Lord.
 17 So Hananiah the prophet died the same year in the seventh month.
 29 Now these are the words of the letter that Jeremiah the prophet sent from Jerusalem unto the residue of the elders of the captivity, and to the priests, and to the prophets, and to all the people, whom Nebuchadnezzar had carried away captive from Jerusa-2 lem to Babylon: (after that Je-coniah the king, and the queen-mother, and the eunuchs, and the princes of Judah and Jerusalem, and the craftsmen, and the smiths, were departed from Jerusalem:)
 3 by the hand of Elasah the son of Shaphan, and Gemariah the son of Hilkiah, (whom Zedekiah king of Judah sent unto Babylon to Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon,) 4 saying, Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, unto all the captivity, whom I have caused to be carried away captive from 5 Jerusalem unto Babylon: Build ye houses, and dwell in them; and plant gardens, and eat the fruit of 6 them; take ye wives, and beget sons and daughters; and take wives for your sons, and give your daughters to husbands, that they may bear sons and daughters; and multiPLY ye there, and be not dimi-7 nished. And seek the peace of the city whither I have caused you to be carried away captive, and pray unto the Lord for it: for in the peace thereof shall ye have peace.

 8 For thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Let not your prophets that be in the midst of you, and your diviners, deceive you, neither hearken ye to your dreams which ye <sup>2</sup> cause to be 9 dreamed. For they prophesy falsely unto you in my name: I have not sent them, saith the LORD.
 For thus saith the LORD, After seventy years be accomplished for Babylon,
 I will visit you, and perform my good word toward you, in causing 11 you to return to this place. For I know the thoughts that I think toward you, saith the LORD, thoughts of peace, and not of evil, to give 12 you <sup>3</sup> hope in your latter end. And ye shall call upon me, and ye shall go and pray unto me, and I will 13 hearken unto you. And ye shall seek me, and find me, when ye shall search for me with all your 14 heart. And I will be found of you, saith the LORD, and I will <sup>4</sup> turn again your captivity, and I will gather you from all the nations, and from all the places whither
 I have driven you, saith the LORD:
 and I will bring you again unto the place whence I caused you to be 15 carried away captive. For ye have said, The LORD hath raised us up 16 prophets in Babylon. For thus saith the LORD concerning the king that sitteth upon the throne of David, and concerning all the people that dwell in this city, your brethren that are not gone forth with you 17 into captivity; thus saith the LORD of hosts: Behold, I will send upon them the sword, the famine, and the pestilence, and will make them like vile figs, that cannot be eaten, 18 they are so bad. And I will pursue after them with the sword, with the famine, and with the pestilence, and will deliver them to be <sup>5</sup> tossed to and fro among all the kingdoms of the earth, to be an execration, and an astonishment, and an hissing, and a reproach, among all the nations whither I have driven 19 them: because they have not hearkened to my words, saith the LORD, wherewith I sent unto them my servants the prophets, rising up early and sending them; but ye would not hear, saith the LORD. Hear ye therefore the word of the Lord,

- 21 Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, concerning Ahab the son of Kolaiah, and concerning Zedekiah the son of Maaseiah, which prophesy a lie unto you in my name: Behold, I will deliver them into the hand of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon; and he shall slay them before your eyes; and of them shall be taken up a curse by all the captives of Judah which are in Babylon, saying, The LORD make thee like Zedekiah and like Ahab, whom the king of Babylon roasted in the fire: because they have wrought folly in Israel, and have committed adultery with their neighbours' wives, and have spoken words in my name falsely, which I commanded them not; and I am he that knoweth, and am witness, saith the LORD.

- 24 And <sup>1</sup>concerning Shemalah the Nehelamite thou shalt speak, saying, Thus speaketh the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, saying, Because thou hast sent letters in thine own name unto all the people that are at Jerusalem, and to Zephaniah the son of Maaseiah the priest, and to all the priests, saying, The LORD hath made thee priest in the stead of Jehoiada the priest, that ye should be officers in the house of the LORD, for every man that is mad, and maketh himself a prophet, that thou shouldst put him in the stocks and in <sup>2</sup>shackles. Now therefore, why hast thou not rebuked Jeremiah of Anathoth, which maketh himself a prophet to you, <sup>3</sup>forasmuch as he hath sent unto us in Babylon, saying, The captivity is long: build ye houses, and dwell in them; and plant gardens, and eat the fruit of them? And Zephaniah the priest read this letter in the ears of Jeremiah the prophet.
- 30 Then came the word of the LORD unto Jeremiah, saying, Send to all them of the captivity, saying, Thus saith the LORD concerning Shemalah the Nehelamite: Because that Shemalah hath prophesied unto you, and I sent him not, and he hath caused you to trust in a lie; therefore thus saith the LORD, Behold, I will punish Shemalah the Nehelamite, and his seed; he shall not have a man to dwell among this people, neither shall he behold the good that I will do unto my people, saith the LORD: because he hath spoken rebellion against the LORD.

- 30 The word that came to Jeremiah from the LORD, saying, 2 Thus speaketh the LORD, the God of Israel, saying, Write thee all the words that I have spoken unto thee in a book. For, lo, the days come, saith the LORD, that I will <sup>3</sup>turn again the captivity of my people Israel and Judah, saith the LORD: and I will cause them to return to the land that I gave to their fathers, and they shall possess it.

- 4 And these are the words that the LORD spake concerning Israel 5 and concerning Judah. For thus saith the LORD: We have heard a voice of trembling, <sup>4</sup>of fear, and 6 not of peace. Ask ye now, and see whether a man doth travail with child: wherefore do I see every man with his hands on his loins, as a woman in travail, and all faces 7 are turned into paleness? Alas! for that day is great, so that none is like it: it is even the time of Jacob's trouble; but he shall be saved 8 out of it. And it shall come to pass in that day, saith the LORD of hosts, that I will break his yoke from off thy neck, and will burst thy bands; and strangers shall no more serve 9 themselves of him: but they shall serve the LORD their God, and David their king, whom I will raise up unto them. Therefore fear thou not. O Jacob my servant, saith the LORD: neither be dismayed, O Israel: for, lo, I will save thee from afar, and thy seed from the land of their captivity; and Jacob shall return, and shall be quiet and at ease, and none shall make him 11 afraid. For I am with thee, saith the LORD, to save thee: for I will make a full end of all the nations whither I have scattered thee, but I will not make a full end of thee; but I will correct thee with judgement, and will in no wise <sup>6</sup>leave thee unpunished.
- 12 For thus saith the LORD, Thy hurt is incurable, and thy wound 13 grievous. There is none to plead <sup>6</sup>thy cause, <sup>7</sup>that thou mayest be bound up: thou hast no healing 14 medicines. All thy lovers have forgotten thee; they seek thee not: for I have wounded thee with the wound of an enemy, with the chastisement of a cruel one: for the <sup>8</sup>greatness of thine iniquity, because thy sins were increased. Why criest thou <sup>9</sup>for thy hurt? thy pain is incurable: for the <sup>8</sup>greatness of thine iniquity, because thy sins were increased, I have done these 16 things unto thee. Therefore all they that devour thee shall be devoured: and all thine adversaries, every one of them, shall go into captivity: and they that spoil thee shall be a spoil, and all that prey upon thee will I give for a prey. For I will restore <sup>10</sup>health unto thee, and I will heal thee of thy wounds, saith the LORD: because they have called thee an outcast, saying, It is Zion, whom 18 no man <sup>11</sup>seeketh after. Thus saith the LORD: Behold, I will <sup>3</sup>turn again the captivity of Jacob's tents, and have compassion on his dwelling places; and the city shall be 20 Their children also shall be as aforetime, and their congregation shall be established before me, and I will punish all that oppress them.

21 And their prince shall be of themselves, and their ruler shall proceed from the midst of them; and I will cause him to draw near, and he shall approach unto me: for who is he that <sup>3</sup>hath had boldness to approach unto me? saith the LORD.

22 And ye shall be my people, and I will be your God.

23 <sup>4</sup>Behold, the tempest of the LORD, even his fury, is gone forth, a <sup>5</sup>sweeping tempest: it shall burst upon the head of the wicked. The fierce anger of the LORD shall not return, until he have executed, and till he have performed the intents of his heart: in the latter days ye shall understand it.

31 At that time, saith the LORD, will I be the God of all the families of Israel, and they shall be my people. Thus saith the LORD, The people which were left of the sword <sup>6</sup>found grace in the wilderness; even Israel, <sup>7</sup>when I went to cause him to rest. The LORD appeared <sup>8</sup>of old unto me, saying, Yea, I have loved thee with an everlasting love: therefore <sup>9</sup>with lovingkindness have I drawn thee.

4 Again will I build thee, and thou shalt be built, O virgin of Israel: again shalt thou be adorned with thy tabrets, and shalt go forth in the dances of them that make merry.

5 Again shalt thou plant vineyards upon the mountains of Samaria: the planters shall plant, and shall <sup>10</sup>enjoy the fruit thereof. For there shall be a day, that the watchmen upon the hills of Ephraim shall cry, Arise ye, and let us go up to Zion unto the LORD our God.

7 For thus saith the LORD, Sing with gladness for Jacob, and shout <sup>11</sup>for the chief of the nations: publish ye, praise ye, and say, O LORD, save thy people, the remnant of Israel.

8 Behold, I will bring them from the north country, and gather them from the uttermost parts of the earth, and with them the blind and the lame, the woman with child together: a great company shall they return hither. They shall come with weeping, and with supplications will I lead them. I will <sup>12</sup>cause them to walk by rivers of waters, in a straight way wherein they shall not stumble: for I am a father to Israel, and Ephraim is my firstborn.

10 Hear the word of the LORD, O ye nations, and declare it in the isles afar off; and say, He that scattered Israel will gather him, and keep him, as a shepherd doth his flock.

11 For the LORD hath ransomed Jacob, and redeemed him from the hand of him that was stronger than he.

12 And they shall come and sing in the height of Zion, and shall flow together unto the goodness of the LORD, to the corn, and to the wine, and to the oil, and to the young of the flock and of the herd: and their soul shall be as a watered garden; and they shall not sorrow any more at all. Then shall the virgin rejoice in the dance, and the young men and the old together: for I will turn their mourning into joy, and will comfort them, and make them rejoice from their sorrow.

And I will satiate the soul of the priests with fatness, and my people shall be satisfied with my goodness, saith the LORD.

15 Thus saith the LORD: A voice is heard in Ramah, lamentation, and bitter weeping, Rachel weeping for her children; she refuseth to be comforted for her children, because they are not. Thus saith the LORD: Refrain thy voice from weeping, and thine eyes from tears: for thy work shall be rewarded, saith the LORD; and they shall come again from the land of the enemy. And there is hope for thy latter end, saith the LORD; and <sup>13</sup>thy children shall come again to their own border.

18 I have surely heard Ephraim bemoaning himself thus, Thou hast chastised me, and I was chastised, as a calf unaccustomed to the yoke: turn thou me, and I shall be turned: for thou art the LORD my God.

19 Surely after that I was turned, I repented; and after that I was instructed, I smote upon my thigh: I was ashamed, yea, even confounded, because I did bear the reproach of my youth. Is Ephraim my dear son? is he a pleasant child? for as often as I speak against him, I do earnestly remember him still: therefore my bowels <sup>14</sup>are troubled for him; I will surely have mercy upon him, saith the LORD.

21 Set thee up waymarks, make thee guide-posts: set thine heart toward the high way, even the way by which thou wentest: turn again, O virgin of Israel, turn again to these thy cities. How long wilt thou go hither and thither, O thou backsliding daughter? for the LORD hath created a new thing in the earth, A woman shall encompass a man.

23 Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Yet again shall they use this speech in the land of Judah and in the cities thereof, when I shall <sup>15</sup>bring again their captivity: The LORD bless thee, O habitation of justice, O mountain of holiness. And Judah and all the cities thereof shall dwell therein together; the husbandmen, and they that go 25 about with flocks. For I have satiated the weary soul, and every sorrowful soul have I replenished.

 26 Upon this I awaked, and beheld; and my sleep was sweet unto me.
 27 Behold, the days come, saith the LORD, that I will sow the house of Israel and the house of Judah with the seed of man, and with 28 the seed of beast. And it shall come to pass, that like as I have watched over them to pluck up and to break down, and to overthrow and to destroy, and to afflict; so will I
 29 watch over them to build and to plant, saith the LORD. In those days they shall say no more, The fathers have eaten sour grapes, and the children's teeth are set on edge.
 30 But every one shall die for his own iniquity: every man that eateth the sour grapes, his teeth shall be set on edge.
 31 Behold, the days come, saith the LORD, that I will make a new covenant with the house of Israel,
 32 and with the house of Judah: not according to the covenant that I made with their fathers in the day that I took them by the hand to bring them out of the land of Egypt; <sup>1</sup>which my covenant they brake, although I was <sup>2</sup>an husband 33 unto them, saith the LORD. But this is the covenant that I will make with the house of Israel after those days, saith the LORD: I will put my law in their inward parts, and in their heart will I write it; and I will be their God, and they 34 shall be my people: and they shall teach no more every man his neighbour, and every man his brother, saying, Know the LORD: for they shall all know me, from the least of them unto the greatest of them, saith the LORD: for I will forgive their iniquity, and their sin will 35 I remember no more. Thus saith the LORD, which giveth the sun for a light by day, and the ordinances of the moon and of the stars for a light by night, which <sup>3</sup>stirreth up the sea, that the waves thereof
 36 roar: the LORD of hosts is his name: If these ordinances depart from before me, saith the LORD, then the seed of Israel also shall cease from being a nation before 37 me for ever. Thus saith the LORD: If heaven above can be measured, and the foundations of the earth searched out beneath, then will I also cast off all the seed of Israel for all that they have done, saith 38 the LORD. Behold, the days come, saith the LORD, that the city shall be built to the LORD from the tower of Hanamel unto the gate of 39 the corner. And the measuring line shall yet go out straight onward unto the hill Gareb, and shall turn 40 about unto Goah. And the whole valley of the dead bodies, and of the ashes, and all the fields unto the brook Kidron, unto the corner of the horse gate toward the east, shall be holy unto the LORD; it shall not be plucked up, nor thrown down any more for ever.

32 The word that came to Jeremiah from the LORD in the tenth year of Zedekiah king of Judah, which was the eighteenth year of Nebuchadrezzar. Now at that time the king of Babylon's army besieged Jerusalem: and Jeremiah the prophet was shut up in the court of the guard, which was in the king of Judah's house. For Zedekiah king of Judah had shut him up, saying, Wherefore dost thou prophesy, and say, Thus saith the LORD, Behold, I will give this city into the hand of the king of Babylon, and he shall take it; and Zedekiah king of Judah shall not escape out of the hand of the Chaldeans, but shall surely be delivered into the hand of the king of Babylon, and shall speak with him mouth to mouth, and his eyes shall behold his eyes; and he shall lead Zedekiah to Babylon, and there shall he be until I visit him, saith the LORD: though ye fight with the Chaldeans, ye shall not prosper?
 4 And Jeremiah said, The word of the LORD came unto me, saying,
 5 Behold, Hanamel the son of Shalum thine uncle shall come unto thee, saying, Buy thee my field that is in Anathoth: for the right of redemption is thine to buy it. So Hanamel mine uncle's son came to me in the court of the guard according to the word of the LORD, and said unto me, Buy my field, I pray thee, that is in Anathoth, which is in the land of Benjamin: for the right of inheritance is thine, and the redemption is thine; buy it for thyself. Then I knew that this was the word of the LORD.
 6 And I bought the field that was in Anathoth of Hanamel mine uncle's son, and weighed him the money, even seventeen shekels of silver.
 7 And I subscribed the deed, and sealed it, and called witnesses, and weighed him the money in the balances. So I took the deed of the purchase, both that which was sealed, <sup>4</sup>according to the law and custom, and that which was open:
 8 and I delivered the deed of the purchase unto Baruch the son of Neriah, the son of Mahseiah, in the presence of Hanamel mine uncle's son, and in the presence of the witnesses that subscribed the deed of the purchase, before all the Jews that sat
 9 in the court of the guard. And I charged Baruch before them, saying,
 10 Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Take these deeds, this deed of the purchase, both that which is sealed, and this deed which is open, and put them in an earthen vessel; that they may continue many days. For thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Houses and fields and vineyards shall yet again be bought in this land.

16 Now after I had delivered the deed of the purchase unto Baruch the son of Neriah, I prayed unto the LORD, saying, Ah Lord God! behold, thou hast made the heaven and the earth by thy great power and by thy stretched out arm; there is nothing too hard for thee:

17 which shewest mercy unto thousands, and recompensest the iniquity of the fathers into the bosom of their children after them: the great, the mighty God, the LORD of hosts is his name: great in counsel, and mighty in work: whose eyes are open upon all the ways of the sons of men; to give every one according to his ways, and according to the fruit of his doings: which didst set signs and wonders in the land of Egypt, even unto this day:

18 both in Israel and among other men; and madest thee a name, as at this day; and didst bring forth thy people Israel out of the land of Egypt with signs, and with wonders, and with a strong hand, and with a stretched out arm, and with great terror; and gavest them this land, which thou didst swear to their fathers to give them, a land flowing with milk and honey; and they came in, and possessed it; but they obeyed not thy voice, neither walked in thy law: they have done nothing of all that thou commandedst them to do: therefore thou hast caused all this evil to come upon them: behold the mounts, they are come unto the city to take it; and the city is given into the hand of the Chaldeans that fight against it, because of the sword, and of the famine, and of the pestilence: and what thou hast spoken is come to pass; and, behold, thou seest it. And thou hast said unto me, O Lord God, Buy thee the field for money, and call witnesses; whereas the city is given into the hand of the Chaldeans.

20 And now therefore thus saith the LORD, the God of Israel, concerning this city, wherof ye say, It is given into the hand of the king of Babylon by the sword, and by the famine, and by the pestilence: Behold, I will gather them out of all the countries, whither I have driven them in mine anger, and in my fury, and in great wrath; and I will bring them again unto this place, and I will cause them to dwell safely; and they shall be my people, and I will be their God; and I will give them one heart and one way, that they may fear me for ever: for the good of them, and of their children after them: and I will make an everlasting covenant with them, that I will not turn away from them, to do them good; and I will put my fear in their hearts, that they shall not depart from me. Yea, I will rejoice over them to do them good, and I will plant them in this land assuredly with my whole heart and with my whole soul. For thus saith the LORD: Like as I have brought all this great evil upon this people, so will I bring upon them all the good that I have promised them. And fields shall be bought in this land, wherof ye say, It is desolate, without man or beast: it is given into the hand of the Chaldeans. Men shall buy fields for money, and subscribe the deeds, and seal them, and call witnesses, in the land of Benjamin, and in the places about Jerusalem, and in the cities of Judah, and in the cities of the hill country, and in the cities of the lowland, and in the cities

21 And thou hast said unto me, O Lord God, Buy thee the field for money, and call witnesses; whereas the city is given into the hand of the Chaldeans.

22 Then came the word of the LORD unto Jeremiah, saying, Behold, I am the LORD, the God of all flesh: is there any thing too hard for me?

23 Therefore thus saith the LORD: Behold, I will give this city into the hand of the Chaldeans, and into the hand of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon, and he shall take it: and the Chaldeans, that fight against this city, shall come and set this city on fire, and burn it, with the houses, upon whose roofs they have offered incense unto Baal, and poured out drink offerings unto other gods, to provoke me to anger. For the children of Israel and the children of Judah have only done that which was evil in my sight from their youth: for the children of Israel have only provoked me to anger with the work of their hands, saith the LORD. For this city hath been to me a provocation of mine anger and of my fury from the day that they built it even unto this day; that I should remove it from before my face: because of all the evil of the children of Israel and of the children of Judah, which they have done to provoke me to anger, they, their kings, their princes, their priests, and their prophets, and the men of Judah, and the inhabitants of Jerusalem. And they have turned unto me the back, and not the face: and though I taught them, rising up early and teaching them, yet they have not hearkened to receive instruction. But they set their abominations in the house which is called by my name, to defile it. And they built the high places of Baal, which are in the valley of the son of Hinnom, to cause their sons and their daughters to pass through the fire unto Molech; which I commanded them not, neither came it into my mind, that they should do this abomination; to cause Judah to sin.

31 And now therefore thus saith the LORD, the God of Israel, concerning this city, wherof ye say, It is given into the hand of the king of Babylon by the sword, and by the famine, and by the pestilence: Behold, I will gather them out of all the countries, whither I have driven them in mine anger, and in my fury, and in great wrath; and I will bring them again unto this place, and I will cause them to dwell safely; and they shall be my people, and I will be their God; and I will give them one heart and one way, that they may fear me for ever: for the good of them, and of their children after them: and I will make an everlasting covenant with them, that I will not turn away from them, to do them good; and I will put my fear in their hearts, that they shall not depart from me. Yea, I will rejoice over them to do them good, and I will plant them in this land assuredly with my whole heart and with my whole soul. For thus saith the LORD: Like as I have brought all this great evil upon this people, so will I bring upon them all the good that I have promised them. And fields shall be bought in this land, wherof ye say, It is desolate, without man or beast: it is given into the hand of the Chaldeans. Men shall buy fields for money, and subscribe the deeds, and seal them, and call witnesses, in the land of Benjamin, and in the places about Jerusalem, and in the cities of Judah, and in the cities of the hill country, and in the cities of the lowland, and in the cities

32 And they built the high places of Baal, which are in the valley of the son of Hinnom, to cause their sons and their daughters to pass through the fire unto Molech; which I commanded them not, neither came it into my mind, that they should do this abomination; to cause Judah to sin.

33 And now therefore thus saith the LORD, the God of Israel, concerning this city, wherof ye say, It is given into the hand of the king of Babylon by the sword, and by the famine, and by the pestilence: Behold, I will gather them out of all the countries, whither I have driven them in mine anger, and in my fury, and in great wrath; and I will bring them again unto this place, and I will cause them to dwell safely; and they shall be my people, and I will be their God; and I will give them one heart and one way, that they may fear me for ever: for the good of them, and of their children after them: and I will make an everlasting covenant with them, that I will not turn away from them, to do them good; and I will put my fear in their hearts, that they shall not depart from me. Yea, I will rejoice over them to do them good, and I will plant them in this land assuredly with my whole heart and with my whole soul. For thus saith the LORD: Like as I have brought all this great evil upon this people, so will I bring upon them all the good that I have promised them. And fields shall be bought in this land, wherof ye say, It is desolate, without man or beast: it is given into the hand of the Chaldeans. 34 And now therefore thus saith the LORD, the God of Israel, concerning this city, wherof ye say, It is given into the hand of the king of Babylon by the sword, and by the famine, and by the pestilence: Behold, I will gather them out of all the countries, whither I have driven them in mine anger, and in my fury, and in great wrath; and I will bring them again unto this place, and I will cause them to dwell safely; and they shall be my people, and I will be their God; and I will give them one heart and one way, that they may fear me for ever: for the good of them, and of their children after them: and I will make an everlasting covenant with them, that I will not turn away from them, to do them good; and I will put my fear in their hearts, that they shall not depart from me. of the South: for I will cause their captivity to return, saith the LORD.

- 33 Moreover the word of the LORD came unto Jeremiah the second time, while he was yet shut up in the court of the guard, saying, Thus saith the LORD that doeth it, the LORD that formeth it to establish it; the LORD is his name: Call unto me, and I will answer thee, and will shew thee great things, and I will shew thee things which thou knowest not. For thus saith the LORD, the God of Israel, concerning the houses of this city, and concerning the houses of the kings of Judah, which are broken down to make a defence against the mounts, and against the sword: They come to fight with the Chaldeans, but it is to fill them with the dead bodies of men, whom I have slain in mine anger and in my fury, and for all whose wickedness I have hid my face from this city. Behold, I will bring it health and cure, and I will cure them; and I will reveal unto them abundance of peace and truth. And I will cause the captivity of Judah and the captivity of Israel to return, and will build them, as at the first. And I will cleanse them from all their iniquity, whereby they have sinned against me; and I will pardon all their iniquities, whereby they have sinned against me, and whereby they have transgressed against me. And this city shall be to me for a name of joy, for a praise and for a glory, before all the nations of the earth, which shall hear all the good that I do unto them, and shall fear and tremble for all the good and for all the peace that I procure unto it. Thus saith the LORD: Yet again there shall be heard in this place, whereof ye say, It is waste, without man and without beast, even in the cities of Judah, and in the streets of Jerusalem, that are desolate, without man and without inhabitant and without beast, the voice of joy and the voice of gladness, the voice of the bridegroom and the voice of the bride, the voice of them that say, Give thanks to the LORD of hosts, for the LORD is good, for his mercy endureth for ever: and of them that bring sacrifices of thanksgiving into the house of the LORD. For I will cause the captivity of the land to return as at the first, saith the LORD. Thus saith the LORD of hosts: Yet again shall there be in this place, which is waste, without man and without beast, and in all the cities thereof, an habitation of shepherds causing their flocks to lie down. In the cities of the hill country, in the cities of the lowland, and in the cities of the South, and in the land of Benjamin, and in the places about Jerusalem, and in the cities of Judah, shall the flocks again pass under the hands of him that telleth them, saith the LORD.

- 14 Behold, the days come, saith the LORD, that I will perform that good word which I have spoken concerning the house of Israel and concerning the house of Judah. In those days, and at that time, will I cause a Branch of righteousness to grow up unto David; and he shall execute judgement and righteousness in the land. In those days shall Judah be saved, and Jerusalem shall dwell safely: and this is the name whereby she shall be called, The LORD is our righteousness. For thus saith the LORD: David shall never want a man to sit upon the throne of the house of Israel; neither shall the priests the Levites want a man before me to offer burnt offerings, and to burn oblations, and to do sacrifice continually. And the word of the LORD came unto Jeremiah, saying, Thus saith the LORD: If ye can break my covenant of the day, and my covenant of the night, so that there should not be day and night in their season; then may also my covenant be broken with David my servant, that he should not have a son to reign upon his throne; and with the Levites the priests, my ministers. As the host of heaven cannot be numbered, neither the sand of the sea measured; so will I multiply the seed of David my servant, and the Levites that minister unto me. And the word of the LORD came to Jeremiah, saying, Consider thou not what this people have spoken, saying, The two families which the LORD did choose, he hath cast them off: thus do they despise my people, that they should be no more a nation before them. Thus saith the LORD: If my covenant of day and night stand not, if I have not appointed the ordinances of heaven and earth; then will I also cast away the seed of Jacob, and of David my servant, so that I will not take of his seed to be rulers over the seed of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob: for I will cause their captivity to return, and will have mercy on them.

- 34 The word which came unto Jeremiah from the LORD, when Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, and all his army, and all the kingdoms of the earth that were under his dominion, and all the peoples, fought against Jerusalem, and against all the cities thereof, saying: Thus saith the LORD, the God of Israel, Go, and speak to Zedekiah king of Judah, and tell him, Thus saith the LORD, Behold, I will give this city into the hand of the king of Babylon, and he shall burn it with fire: and thou shalt not escape out of his hand, but shalt surely be taken, and delivered into his hand; and thine eyes shall behold the eyes of the king of Babylon, and he shall speak with thee mouth to mouth, and thou shalt go to Babylon. Yet hear the word of the LORD. O Zedekiah king of Judah: thus saith the LORD concerning thee, Thou shalt not die by the sword; thou shalt die in peace; and with the burnings of thy fathers, the former kings which were before thee, so shall they make a burning for thee; and they shall lament thee, saying, Ah lord! for I have spoken the word, saith the LORD. Then Jeremiah the prophet spake all these words unto Zedekiah king of Judah in Jerusalem, when the king of Babylon's army fought against Jerusalem, and against all the cities of Judah that were left, against Lachish and against Azekah; for these alone remained of the cities of Judah as fenced cities.

8 The word that came unto Jeremiah from the LORD, after that the king Zedekiah had made a covenant with all the people which were at Jerusalem, to proclaim liberty unto them; that every man should let his manservant, and every man his maidservant, being an Hebrew or an Hebrewess, go free; that none should serve himself of them, to wit, of a Jew his brother: and all the princes and all the people obeyed, which had entered into the covenant, that every one should let his manservant, and every one his maidservant, go free, that none should serve themselves of them any more; they obeyed, and let them go: but afterwards they turned, and caused the servants and the handmaids, whom they had let go free, to return, and brought them into subjection for servants and for handmaids: therefore the word of the LORD came to Jeremiah from the LORD, saying, Thus saith the LORD, the God of Israel: I made a covenant with your fathers in the day that I brought them forth out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of bondage, saying, At the end of seven years ye shall let go every man his brother that is an Hebrew, which hath been sold unto thee, and hath served thee six years, thou shalt let him go free from thee: but your fathers hearkened not unto me, neither inclined their ear. And ye were now turned, and had done that which is right in mine eyes, in proclaiming liberty every man to his neighbour: and ye had made a covenant before me in the house which is called by my name: but ye turned and profaned my name, and caused every man his servant, and every man his handmaid, whom ye had let go free at their pleasure, to return: and ye brought them into subjection, to 17 be unto you for servants and for handmaids. Therefore thus saith the LORD: Ye have not hearkened unto me, to proclaim liberty, every man to his brother, and every man to his neighbour: behold, I proclaim unto you a liberty, saith the LORD, to the sword, to the pestilence, and to the famine; and I will make you to be tossed to and fro among all the kingdoms of the earth. And I will give the men that have transgressed my covenant, which have not performed the words of the covenant which they made before me, when they cut the calf in twain and passed between the parts thereof; the princes of Judah, and the princes of Jerusalem, the eunuchs, and the priests, and all the people of the land, which passed between the parts of the calf; I will even give them into the hand of their enemies, and into the hand of them that seek their life: and their dead bodies shall be for meat unto the fowls of the heaven, and to the beasts of the earth. And Zedekiah king of Judah and his princes will I give into the hand of their enemies, and into the hand of them that seek their life, and into the hand of the king of Babylon's army, which are gone up from you. Behold, I will command, saith the LORD, and cause them to return to this city; and they shall fight against it, and take it, and burn it with fire: and I will make the cities of Judah a desolation, without inhabitant.

35 The word which came unto Jeremiah from the LORD in the days of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah, king of Judah, saying, Go unto the house of the Rechabites, and speak unto them, and bring them into the house of the LORD, into one of the chambers, and give them wine to drink. Then I took Jaazaniah the son of Jeremiah, the son of Habazziniah, and his brethren, and all his sons, and the whole house of the Rechabites; and I brought them into the house of the LORD, into the chamber of the sons of Hanan the son of Igdaiah, the man of God, which was by the chamber of the princes, which was above the chamber of Maaseiah the son of Shallum, the keeper of the door: and I set before the sons of the house of the Rechabites bowls full of wine, and cups, and I said unto them, Drink ye wine. But they said, We will drink no wine: for Jonadab the son of Rechabab our father commanded us, saying, Ye shall drink no wine, neither ye, nor your sons, for ever: neither shall ye build house, nor sow seed, nor plant vineyard, nor have any: but all your days ye shall dwell in tents; that ye may live many days in the land wherein ye sojourn. obeyed the voice of Jonadab the son of Rechab our father in all that he charged us, to drink no wine all our days, we, our wives, our sons, nor our daughters; nor to build houses for us to dwell in: neither have we vineyard, nor field, nor seed: but we have dwelt in tents, and have obeyed, and done according to all that Jonadab our father commanded us. But it came to pass, when Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon came up into the land, that we said, Come, and let us go to Jerusalem for fear of the army of the Chaldeans, and for fear of the army of the Syrians; so we dwell at Jerusalem.

12 Then came the word of the LORD unto Jeremiah, saying, Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Go, and say to the men of Judah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem, Will ye not receive instruction to hearken to my words? saith the LORD. The words of Jonadab the son of Rechab, that he commanded his sons, not to drink wine, are performed, and unto this day they drink none, for they obey their father's commandment: but I have spoken unto you, rising up early and speaking; and ye have not hearkened unto me. I have sent also unto you all my servants the prophets, rising up early and sending them, saying, Return ye now every man from his evil way, and amend your doings, and go not after other gods to serve them, and ye shall dwell in the land which I have given to you and to your fathers: but ye have not inclined your ear, nor hearkened unto me.

16 Forasmuch as the sons of Jonadab the son of Rechab have performed the commandment of their father which he commanded them, but this people hath not hearkened unto me; therefore thus saith the LORD, the God of hosts, the God of Israel: Behold, I will bring upon Judah and upon all the inhabitants of Jerusalem all the evil that I have pronounced against them: because I have spoken unto them, but they have not heard; and I have called unto them, but they have not answered. And Jeremiah said unto the house of the Rechabites, Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Because ye have obeyed the commandment of Jonadab your father, and kept all his precepts, and done according unto all that he commanded you; therefore thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Jonadab the son of Rechab shall not want a man to stand before me for ever.

36 And it came to pass in the fourth year of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah, king of Judah, that this word came unto Jeremiah from the a book, and write therein all the words that I have spoken unto thee against Israel, and against Judah, and against all the nations, from the day I spake unto thee, from the days of Josiah, even unto this day.

3 It may be that the house of Judah will hear all the evil which I purpose to do unto them; that they may return every man from his evil way; that I may forgive their iniquity and their sin. Then Jeremiah called Baruch the son of Neriah; and Baruch wrote from the mouth of Jeremiah all the words of the LORD, which he had spoken unto him, upon a roll of a book.

5 And Jeremiah commanded Baruch, saying, I am shut up; I cannot go into the house of the LORD: therefore go thou, and read in the roll, which thou hast written from my mouth, the words of the LORD in the ears of the people in the LORD's house upon the fast day: and also thou shalt read them in the ears of all Judah that come out of their cities. It may be that they will present their supplication before the LORD, and will return every one from his evil way: for great is the anger and the fury that the LORD hath pronounced against this people. And Baruch the son of Neriah did according to all that Jeremiah the prophet commanded him, reading in the book the words of the LORD in the LORD's house.

9 Now it came to pass in the fifth year of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah, king of Judah, in the ninth month, that all the people in Jerusalem, and all the people that came from the cities of Judah unto Jerusalem, proclaimed a fast before the LORD.

10 Then read Baruch in the book the words of Jeremiah in the house of the LORD, in the chamber of Gemariah the son of Shaphan the scribe, in the upper court, at the entry of the new gate of the LORD's house, in the ears of all the people. And when Micaiah the son of Gemariah, the son of Shaphan, had heard out of the book all the words of the LORD, he went down into the king's house, into the scribe's chamber: and, lo, all the princes sat there, even Elishama the scribe, and Delaiah the son of Shemaijah, and Elnathan the son of Achbor, and Gemariah the son of Shaphan, and Zedekiah the son of Hananiah, and all the princes. Then Micaiah declared unto them all the words that he had heard, when Baruch read the book in the ears of the people.

14 Therefore all the princes sent Jehudi the son of Nethaniah, the son of Shelemiah, the son of Cushi, unto Baruch, saying, Take in thine hand the roll wherein thou hast read in the ears of the people, and come. So Baruch the son of Neriah took the roll in his hand, and came 15 unto them. And they said unto him, Sit down now, and read it in our ears. So Baruch read it in their ears.

 16 Now it came to pass, when they had heard all the words, they turned in fear one toward another, and said unto Baruch, We will surely tell the king of all these words.
 17 And they asked Baruch, saying, Tell us now, How didst thou write all these words at his mouth? Then Baruch answered them, He pronounced all these words unto me with his mouth, and I wrote them with ink in the book. Then said the princes unto Baruch, Go, hide thee, thou and Jeremiah; and let no man know where ye be. And they went in to the king into the court; but they had laid up the roll in the chamber of Elishama the scribe; and they told all the words in the ears of the king. So the king sent Jehudi to fetch the roll: and he took it out of the chamber of Elishama the scribe. And Jehudi read it in the ears of the king, and in the ears of all the princes which stood beside the king.
 22 Now the king sat in the winter house in the ninth month: and there was a fire in the brasier burning before him. And it came to pass, when Jehudi had read three or four leaves, that the king cut it with the penknife, and cast it into the fire that was in the brasier, until all the roll was consumed in the fire that was in the brasier.
 24 And they were not afraid, nor rent their garments, neither the king, nor any of his servants that heard all these words. Moreover Elnathan and Delaiah and Gemariah had made intercession to the king that he would not burn the roll: but he would not hear them.
 26 And the king commanded Jerahmeel the king's son, and Seraiah the son of Azriel, and Shelemiah the son of Abdeel, to take Baruch the scribe and Jeremiah the prophet: but the LORD hid them.
 27 Then the word of the LORD came to Jeremiah, after that the king had burned the roll, and the words which Baruch wrote at the mouth of Jeremiah, saying, Take thee again another roll, and write in it all the former words that were in the first roll, which Jehoiakim the king of Judah hath burned. And concerning Jehoiakim king of Judah thou shalt say, Thus saith the LORD, Thou hast burned this roll, saying, Why hast thou written therein, saying, The king of Babylon shall certainly come and destroy this land, and shall cause to cease from thence man and beast?
 30 Therefore thus saith the LORD concerning Jehoiakim king of Judah: He shall have none to sit upon the throne of David; and his dead body shall be cast out in the day to the heat, and in the night to the frost.

31 And I will punish him and his seed and his servants for their iniquity; and I will bring upon them, and upon the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and upon the men of Judah, all the evil that I have pronounced against them, but they hearkened not. Then took Jeremiah another roll, and gave it to Baruch the scribe, the son of Neriah; who wrote therein from the mouth of Jeremiah all the words of the book which Jehoiakim king of Judah had burned in the fire: and there were added besides unto them many like words.

37 And Zedekiah the son of Josiah reigned as king, instead of Coniah the son of Jehoiakim, whom Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon made king in the land of Judah. But neither he, nor his servants, nor the people of the land, did hearken unto the words of the LORD, which he spake by the prophet Jeremiah.

8 And Zedekiah the king sent Jehucal the son of Shelemiah, and Zephaniah the son of Maaseiah the priest, to the prophet Jeremiah, saying, Pray now unto the LORD our God for us. Now Jeremiah came in and went out among the people: for they had not put him into prison. And Pharaoh's army was come forth out of Egypt: and when the Chaldeans that besieged Jerusalem heard tidings of them, they brake up from Jerusalem.
 6 Then came the word of the LORD unto the prophet Jeremiah, saying, Thus saith the LORD, the God of Israel: Thus shall ye say to the king of Judah, that sent you unto me to inquire of me; Behold, Pharaoh's army, which is come forth to help you, shall return to Egypt into their own land. And the Chaldeans shall come again, and fight against this city; and they shall take it, and burn it with fire. Thus saith the LORD: Deceive not yourselves, saying, The Chaldeans shall surely depart from us: for they shall not depart. For though ye had smitten the whole army of the Chaldeans that fight against you, and there remained but wounded men among them, yet should they rise up every man in his tent, and burn this city with fire.

11 And it came to pass that when the army of the Chaldeans was broken up from Jerusalem for fear of Pharaoh's army, then Jeremiah went forth out of Jerusalem to go into the land of Benjamin, to receive his portion there, in the midst of the people. And when he was in the gate of Benjamin, a captain of the ward was there, whose name was Irijah, the son of Shaleum, the son of Hananiah; and he laid hold on Jeremiah the prophet, saying, Thou fallest away to the Chaldeans. Then said Jeremiah, It is false; I fall not away to the Chaldeans; but he hear-ened not to him: so Irijah laid hold on Jeremiah, and brought him to the princes. And the princes were wroth with Jeremiah, and smote him, and put him in prison in the house of Jonathan the scribe: for they had made that the prison.

16 When Jeremiah was come into the <sup>1</sup>dungeon house, and into the cells, and Jeremiah had remained there many days; then Zedekiah the king sent, and fetched him; and the king asked him secretly in his house, and said, Is there any word from the LORD? And Jeremiah said, There is. He said also, Thou shalt be delivered into the hand of the king of Babylon. Moreover Jeremiah said unto king Zedekiah, Wherein have I sinned against thee, or against thy servants, or against this people, that ye have put me in prison? Where now are your prophets which prophesied unto you, saying, The king of Babylon shall not come against you, nor against this land?

20 And now hear, I pray thee, O my lord the king; let my supplication. I pray thee, <sup>2</sup>be accepted before thee; that thou cause me not to return to the house of Jonathan the scribe, lest I die there. Then Zedekiah the king commanded, and they committed Jeremiah into the court of the guard, and they gave him daily a loaf of bread out of the bakers' street, until all the bread in the city was spent. Thus Jeremiah remained in the court of the guard.

38 And Shephatiah the son of Mattan, and Gedaliah the son of Pashhur, and Jucal the son of Shelemiah, and Pashhur the son of Malchiah, heard the words that Jeremiah spake unto all the people, saying, Thus saith the LORD, He that abideth in this city shall die by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence: but he that goeth forth to the Chaldeans shall live, and his life shall be unto him for a prey, and he shall live. Thus saith the LORD, This city shall surely be given into the hand of the army of the king of Babylon, and he shall take it. Then the princes said unto the king, Let this man, we pray thee, be put to death; forasmuch as he weakeneth the hands of the men of war that remain in this city, and the hands of all the people, in speaking such words unto them: for this man seeketh not the welfare of this people, but the hurt.

5 And Zedekiah the king said, Behold, he is in your hand: for the king is not he that can do any thing against you. Then took they Jeremiah, and cast him into the <sup>3</sup>dungeon of Malchiah <sup>4</sup>the king's son, that was in the court of the guard: and they let down Jeremiah with cords. And in the dungeon there was no water, but mire: and Jer-miah sank in the mire. Now when Ebed-melech the Ethiopian, an eunuch, which was in the king's house, heard that they had put Jeremiah in the dungeon; the king then sitting in the gate of Benjamin; Ebed-melech went forth out of the king's house, and spake to the king, saying, My lord the king, these men have done evil in all that they have done to Jeremiah the prophet, whom they have cast into the dungeon; and <sup>5</sup>he is like to die in the place where he is because of the famine: for there is no more bread in the city. Then the king commanded Ebed-melech the Ethiopian, saying, Take from hence thirty men with thee, and take up Jeremiah the prophet out of the dungeon, before he die. So Ebed-melech took the men with him, and went into the house of the king under the treasury, and took thence old cast clouts and old rotten rags, and let them down by cords into the dungeon to Jeremiah.

12 And Ebed-melech the Ethiopian said unto Jeremiah, Put now these old cast clouts and rotten rags under thine armholes under the cords. And Jeremiah did so. So they drew up Jeremiah with the cords, and took him up out of the dungeon: and Jeremiah remained in the court of the guard.

14 Then Zedekiah the king sent, and took Jeremiah the prophet unto him into the third entry that is in the house of the LORD: and the king said unto Jeremiah, I will ask thee a thing; hide nothing from me. Then Jeremiah said unto Zedekiah, If I declare it unto thee, wilt thou not surely put me to death? and if I give thee counsel, thou wilt not hearken unto me.

16 So Zedekiah the king sware secretly unto Jeremiah, saying, As the LORD liveth, that made us this soul, I will not put thee to death, neither will I give thee into the hand of these men that seek thy life. Then said Jeremiah unto Zedekiah, Thus saith the LORD, the God of hosts, the God of Israel: If thou wilt go forth unto the king of Babylon's princes, then thy soul shall live, and this city shall not be burned with fire; and thou shalt live, and thine house: but if thou wilt not go forth to the king of Babylon's princes, then shall this city be given into the hand of the Chaldeans, and they shall burn it with fire, and thou shalt not escape out of their hand. And Zedekiah the king said unto Jeremiah, I am afraid of the Jews that are fallen away to the Chaldeans, lest they deliver me into their hand, and they mock me. But Jeremiah said, They shall not deliver thee. Obey, I beseech thee, the voice of the LORD, in that which I speak unto thee: so it shall be well with thee, and thy

- 21 soul shall live. But if thou refuse to go forth, this is the word that the LORD hath shewed me: Behold, all the women that are left in the king of Judah's house shall be brought forth to the king of Babylon's princes, and those women shall say, <sup>1</sup>Thy familiar friends have <sup>2</sup>set thee on, and have prevailed over thee: now that thy feet are sunk in the mire, they are turned away back. And they shall bring out all thy wives and thy children to the Chaldeans: and thou shalt not escape out of their hand, but shalt be taken by the hand of the king of Babylon: and <sup>3</sup>thou shalt cause this city to be burned with fire. Then said Zedekiah unto Jeremiah, Let no man know of these words, and thou shalt not die. But if the princes hear that I have talked with thee, and they come unto thee, and say unto thee, Declare unto us now what thou hast said unto the king: hide it not from us, and we will not put thee to death: also what the king said unto thee: then thou shalt say unto them, I <sup>4</sup>presented my supplication before the king, that he would not cause me to return to Jonathan's house, to die there.
- 27 Then came all the princes unto Jeremiah, and asked him: and he told them according to all these words that the king had commanded. So they left off speaking with him: for the matter was not <sup>5</sup>perceived. So Jeremiah abode in the court of the guard until the day that Jerusalem was taken.
- And it came to pass when Jerusalem was taken, <sup>6</sup>(in the ninth year of Zedekiah king of Judah, in the tenth month, came Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon and all his army against Jerusalem, and besieged it, in the eleventh year of Zedekiah, in the fourth month, the ninth day of the month, a breach was made in the city:) that all the princes of the king of Babylon came in, and sat in the middle gate, even Nergal-sharezer, Samgar-nebo, Sarschim, <sup>7</sup>Rab-saris, Nergal-sharezer, <sup>7</sup>Rab-mag, with all the rest of the princes of the king of Babylon. And it came to pass that when Zedekiah the king of Judah and all the men of war saw them, then they fled, and went forth out of the city by night, by the way of the king's garden by the gate betwixt the two walls: and he went out the way of the Arabah. But the army of the Chaldeans pursued after them, and overtook Zedekiah in the plains of Jericho: and when they had taken him, they brought him up to Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon to Riblah in the land of Hamath: and he gave judgment upon him. Then the king of Babylon slew the sons of Zedekiah in Riblah before his eyes: also the king of Babylon slew all the nobles of Judah. Moreover he put out Zedekiah's eyes, and bound him in fetters, to carry him to Babylon. And the Chaldeans burned the king's house, and the houses of the people, with fire, and brake down the walls of Jerusalem. Then Nebuzaradan the <sup>9</sup>captain of the guard carried away captive into Babylon the residue of the people that remained in the city, the deserters also, that fell away to him, and the residue of the people that remained. But Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard left of the poor of the people, which had nothing, in the land of Judah, and gave them vineyards and fields at the same time. Now Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon gave charge concerning Jeremiah to Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard, saying, Take him, and look well to him, and do him no harm: but do unto him even as he shall say unto thee.
- So Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard sent, and Nebushazban, Rab-saris, and Nergal-sharezer, Rab-mag, and all the chief officers of the king of Babylon: they sent, and took Jeremiah out of the court of the guard, and committed him unto Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, the son of Shaphan, that he should carry him home: so he dwelt among the people.
- Now the word of the LORD came unto Jeremiah, while he was shut up in the court of the guard, saying, Go, and speak to Ebed-melech the Ethiopian, saying, Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Behold, I will bring my words upon this city for evil, and not for good: and they <sup>10</sup>shall be accomplished before thee in that day. But I will deliver thee in that day, saith the LORD: and thou shalt not be given into the hand of the men of whom thou art afraid. For I will surely save thee, and thou shalt not fall by the sword, but thy life shall be for a prey unto thee: because thou hast put thy trust in me, saith the LORD.
- The word which came to Jeremiah from the LORD, after that Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard had let him go from Ramah, when he had taken him being bound in chains among all the captives of Jerusalem and Judah, which were carried away captive unto Babylon. And the captain of the guard took Jeremiah, and said unto him, The LORD thy God hath pronounced this evil upon this place: and the LORD hath brought it, and done according as he spake: because ye have sinned against the LORD, and have not obeyed his voice, therefore this thing is come upon you. And now, behold, I have sent thee this day from the chains which are upon thine hand.

If it seem good unto thee to come with me into Babylon, come, and I will look well unto thee; but if it seem ill unto thee to come with me into Babylon, forbear: behold, all the land is before thee; whither it seemeth good and <sup>1</sup>convenient unto thee to go, thither go. Now while he was not yet gone back, Go back then, said he, to Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, the son of Shaphan, whom the king of Babylon hath made governor over the cities of Judah, and dwell with him among the people; or go wheresoever it seemeth <sup>1</sup>convenient unto thee to go. So the captain of the guard gave him <sup>2</sup>vic-tuals and a present, and let him go. Then went Jeremiah unto Gedaliah the son of Ahikam to Mizpah, and dwelt with him among the people that were left in the land.

7 <sup>3</sup> Now when all the captains of the forces which were in the fields, even they and their men, heard that the king of Babylon had made Gedaliah the son of Ahikam governor in the land, and had committed unto him men, and women, and children, <sup>4</sup>and of the poorest of the land, of them that were not carried away captive to Babylon; then they came to Gedaliah to Mizpah, even Ishmael the son of Nethaniah, and Johanan and Jonathan the sons of Kareah, and Seraiah the son of Tanhumeth, and the sons of Ephai the Netophathite, and Jezaniah the son of the Maacathite, they and their men. And Gedaliah the son of Ahikam the son of Shaphan swore unto them and to their men, saying, Fear not to serve the Chaldeans: dwell in the land, and serve the king of Babylon, and it shall be well with you. As for me, behold, I will dwell at Mizpah, to stand before the Chaldeans, which shall come unto us: but ye, gather ye wine and summer fruits and oil, and put them in your vessels, and dwell in your cities that ye have taken. Likewise when all the Jews that were in Moab, and among the children of Ammon, and in Edom, and that were in all the countries, heard that the king of Babylon had left a remnant of Judah, and that he had set over them Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, the son of Shaphan; then all the Jews returned out of all places whither they were driven, and came to the land of Judah, to Gedaliah, unto Mizpah, and gathered wine and summer fruits very much.

13 Moreover Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces that were in the fields, came to Gedaliah to Mizpah, and said unto him, Dost thou know that Baalis the king of the children of Ammon hath sent Ishmael the son of Nethaniah to take thy life? But Gedaliah the son of Ahikam be-

15 lieved them not. Then Johanan the son of Kareah spake to Gedaliah in Mizpah secretly, saying, Let me go, I pray thee, and I will slay Ishmael the son of Nethaniah, and no man shall know it: wherefore should he take thy life, that all the Jews which are gathered unto thee should be scattered, and 16 the remnant of Judah perish? But Gedaliah the son of Ahikam said unto Johanan the son of Kareah, Thou shalt not do this thing: for thou speakest falsely of Ishmael.

41 <sup>5</sup> Now it came to pass in the seventh month, that Ishmael the son of Nethaniah, the son of Elishama, of the seed royal, and one of the chief officers of the king, and ten men with him, came unto Gedaliah the son of Ahikam to Mizpah; and there they did eat

2 bread together in Mizpah. Then arose Ishmael the son of Nethaniah, and the ten men that were with him, and smote Gedaliah the son of Ahikam the son of Shaphan with the sword, and slew him, whom the king of Babylon had made governor over the land. Ishmael also slew all the Jews that were with him, even with Gedaliah, at Mizpah, and the Chaldeans that were found

4 there, even the men of war. And it came to pass the second day after he had slain Gedaliah, and no man knew it, that there came certain from Shechem, from Shiloh, and from Samaria, even fourscore men, having their beards shaven and their clothes rent, and having cut themselves, with <sup>6</sup>oblations and frankincense in their hand, to bring them to the house of the Lord.

6 And Ishmael the son of Nethaniah went forth from Mizpah to meet them, weeping all along as he went: and it came to pass, as he met them, he said unto them, Come to Gedaliah the son of Ahikam. And it was so, when they came into the midst of the city, that Ishmael the son of Nethaniah slew them, and cast them into the midst of the pit, he, and the men that were with him. But ten men were found among them that said unto Ishmael, Slay us not: for we have stores hidden in the field, of wheat, and of barley, and of oil, and of honey. So he forbore, and slew them not among

9 their brethren. Now the pit where-in Ishmael cast all the dead bodies of the men whom he had slain, by the side of Gedaliah, (the same was that which Asa the king had made for fear of Baasha king of Israel,) Ishmael the son of Nethaniah filled it with them that were slain. Then Ishmael carried away captive all the residue of the people that were in Mizpah, even the king's daughters, and all the people that remained in Mizpah, whom Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard had committed to Gedaliah the son of Ahikam: Ishmael the son of Nethaniah carried them away captive, and departed to go over to the children of Ammon.

- 11 But when Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces that were with him, heard of all the evil that Ishmael the son of Nethaniah had done, then they took all the men, and went to fight with Ishmael the son of Nethaniah, and found him by the great waters that are in Gibeon. Now it came to pass that when all the people which were with Ishmael saw Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces that were with him, then they were glad. So all the people that Ishmael had carried away captive from Mizpah cast about and returned, and went unto Johanan the son of Kareah.
- 15 But Ishmael the son of Nethaniah escaped from Johanan with eight men, and went to the children of Ammon. Then took Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces that were with him, all the remnant of the people whom he had recovered from Ishmael the son of Nethaniah, from Mizpah, after that he had slain Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, even the men of war, and the women, and the children, and the eunuchs, whom he had brought again from Gibeon: and they departed, and dwelt in <sup>1</sup>Geruth Chimham, which is by Beth-lehem, to go to enter into Egypt, because of the Chaldeans: for they were afraid of them, because Ishmael the son of Nethaniah had slain Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, whom the king of Babylon made governor over the land.

- 42 Then all the captains of the forces, and Johanan the son of Kareah, and <sup>2</sup>Jezeaniah the son of Hoshaiah, and all the people from the least even unto the greatest, came near, and said unto Jeremiah the prophet, Let us pray thee, our supplication <sup>3</sup>be accepted before thee, and pray for us unto the LORD thy God, even for all this remnant; for we are left but a few of many, <sup>4</sup>as thine eyes do behold us: that the LORD thy God may shew us the way wherein we should walk, and the thing that we should do. Then Jeremiah the prophet said unto them, I have heard you; behold, I will pray unto the LORD your God according to your words; and it shall come to pass that whatsoever thing the LORD shall answer you, I will declare it unto you; I will keep nothing back from you.
- 5 Then they said to Jeremiah, The LORD be a true and faithful witness <sup>4</sup>amongst us, if we do not even according to all the word wherewith the LORD thy God shall send thee to us. Whether it be good, or whether it be evil, we will obey the voice of the LORD our God, to whom we send thee; that it may be well with us, when we obey the voice of the LORD our God.

- 7 And it came to pass after ten days, that the word of the LORD came unto Jeremiah. Then called he Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces which were with him, and all the people from the least even to the greatest, and said unto them, Thus saith the LORD, the God of Israel, unto whom ye sent me to <sup>5</sup>present your supplication before him: If ye will still abide in this land, then will I build you, and not pull you down, and I will plant you, and not pluck you up; for I repent me of the evil that I have done unto you. Be not afraid of the king of Babylon, of whom ye are afraid; be not afraid of him, saith the LORD: for I am with you to save you, and to deliver you from his hand. And I will grant you mercy, that he may have mercy upon you, and cause you to return to your own land. But if ye say, We will not dwell in this land; so that ye obey not the voice of the LORD your God; saying, No; but we will go into the land of Egypt, where we shall see no war, nor hear the sound of the trumpet, nor have hunger of bread; and there will we dwell: now therefore hear ye the word of the LORD, O remnant of Judah: thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, If ye wholly set your faces to enter into Egypt, and go to sojourn there; then it shall come to pass, that the sword, which ye fear, shall overtake you there in the land of Egypt, and the famine, whereof ye are afraid, <sup>6</sup>shall follow hard after you there in Egypt; and there ye shall die. So shall it be with all the men that set their faces to go into Egypt to sojourn there: they shall die by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence: and none of them shall remain or escape from the evil that I will bring upon them.
- 18 For thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: As mine anger and my fury hath been poured forth upon the inhabitants of Jerusalem, so shall my fury be poured forth upon you, when ye shall enter into Egypt: and ye shall be an execration, and an astonishment, and a curse, and a reproach; and ye shall see this place no more.
- 19 The LORD hath spoken concerning you, O remnant of Judah, Go ye not into Egypt: know certainly that I have testified unto you this day. For ye have dealt deceitfully <sup>7</sup>against your own souls; for ye sent me unto the LORD your God, saying, Pray for us unto the LORD our God; and according unto all that the LORD our God shall say, so know certainly that ye shall die by the sword, by the famine, and 43 And it came to pass that when Jeremiah had made an end of speaking unto all the people all the words of the LORD their God, wherewith the LORD their God had sent him to them, even all these

2 words, then spake Azariah the son of Hoshalah, and Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the proud men, saying unto Jeremiah, Thou speak-

 Baruch the son of Neriah setteth thee on against us, for to deliver us into the hand of the Chaldeans, that they may put us to death, and carry us away captives to Babylon.

4 So Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces, and all the people, obeyed not the voice of the LORD, to dwell in the land

5 of Judah. But Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces, took all the remnant of Ju-the nations whither they had been driven to sojourn in the land of 6 Judah; the men, and the women, and the children, and the king's Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard had left with Gedaliah the and Jeremiah the prophet, and Ba-

7 ruch the son of Neriah; and they came into the land of Egypt; for they obeyed not the voice of the LORD: and they came even to Tahpanhes. Then came the word of 8 the LORD unto Jeremiah in Tahpanhes, saying, Take great stones in thine hand, and hide them in mortar in the brickwork, which is at the entry of Pharaoh's house in Tahpanhes, in the sight of the men

9 of Judah; and say unto them, Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Behold, I will send and take Nebuchadrezzar the king of Babylon, my servant, and will set his throne upon these stones that I have hid; and he shall spread

11 his royal pavilion over them. And he shall come, and shall smite the land of Egypt; such as are for death shall be given to death, and such as are for captivity to captivity, and such as are for the 12 sword to the sword. And I will kindle a fire in the houses of the gods of Egypt; and he shall burn them, and carry them away captives: and he shall array himself with the land of Egypt, as a shepherd putteth on his garment; and he shall go forth from thence in peace. He shall also break the 13 pillars of Beth-shemesh, that is in the land of Egypt; and the houses of the gods of Egypt shall be burn with fire.

44 The word that came to Jeremiah concerning all the Jews which dwelt in the land of Egypt, which dwelt at Migdol, and at Tahpanhes, and at Noph, and in the 2 country of Pathros, saying, Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Ye have seen all the evil that I have brought upon Jerusalem, and upon all the cities of Judah; and, behold, this day they are

3 a desolation, and no man dwelleth therein; because of their wickedness which they have committed to provoke me to anger, in that they went to burn incense, and to serve other gods, whom they knew

4 not, neither they, nor ye, nor your fathers. Howbeit I sent unto you all my servants the prophets, rising up early and sending them, saying,
 Oh, do not this abominable thing

5 that I hate. But they hearkened not, nor inclined their ear to turn from their wickedness, to burn no

6 incense unto other gods. Wherefore my fury and mine anger was poured forth, and was kindled in the cities of Judah and in the streets of Jerusalem; and they are

7 wasted and desolate, as it is this day. Therefore now thus saith the LORD, the God of hosts, the God of Israel: Wherefore commit ye this great evil against your own souls, to cut off from you man and woman, infant and suckling, out of the midst of Judah, to leave you none

8 remaining; in that ye provoke me unto anger with the works of your hands, burning incense unto other gods in the land of Egypt, whither ye be gone to sojourn; that ye may be cut off, and that ye may be a curse and a reproach among all

9 the nations of the earth? Have ye forgotten the wickedness of your fathers, and the wickedness of the kings of Judah, and the wickedness of their wives, and your own wickedness, and the wickedness of your wives, which they committed in the land of Judah, and in the streets

10 of Jerusalem? They are not humbled even unto this day, neither have they feared, nor walked in my law, nor in my statutes, that I set before you and before your fathers.

11 Therefore thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Behold, I will set my face against you for evil, even to cut off all Judah. And 12 I will take the remnant of Judah,

15 Then all the men which knew that their wives burned incense unto other gods, and all the women that stood by, a great assembly, even all the people that dwell in the land of Egypt, in Pathros, 16 answered Jeremiah, saying, As for the word that thou hast spoken unto us in the name of the Lord, 17 we will not hearken unto thee. But we will certainly perform every word that is gone forth out of our mouth, to burn incense unto the queen of heaven, and to pour out drink offerings unto her, as we have done, we and our fathers, our kings and our princes, in the cities of Judah, and in the streets of Jerusalem: for then had we plenty of 2 victuals, and were well, and saw no evil. But since we left off to burn incense to the queen of heaven, and to pour out drink offerings unto her, we have wanted all things, and have been consumed by the sword and by the famine. And when we burned incense to the queen of heaven, and poured out drink offerings unto her, did we make her cakes to worship her, and pour out drink offerings unto her, with- 2 Heb.

out our husbands? Then Jeremiah said unto all the people, to the men, and to the women, even to all the people which had given him 21 that answer, saying, The incense that ye burned in the cities of Judah, and in the streets of Jerusalem, ye and your fathers, your kings and your princes, and the people of the land, did not the Lord remember them, and came it not into his mind? so that the Lord could no longer bear, because of the evil of your doings, and because of the abominations which ye have committed; therefore is your land become a desolation, and an astonishment, and a curse, without inhabitant, as it is this day. Because 22 ye have burned incense, and because ye have sinned against the Lord, and have not obeyed the voice of the Lord, nor walked in his law, nor in his statutes, nor in his testimonies; therefore this evil is hap- 23

24 Moreover Jeremiah said unto all the people, and to all the women. Hear the word of the Lord, all Judah that are in the land of Egypt: thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, saying: Ye and your wives have both spoken with your mouths, and with your hands have fulfilled it, saying, We will surely perform our vows that we have vowed, to burn incense to the queen of heaven, and to pour out drink offerings unto her: establish then your vows, and perform your vows. 25 Therefore hear ye the word of the Lord, all Judah that dwell in the land of Egypt: Behold, I have sworn by my great name, saith the Lord, that my name shall no more be named in the mouth of any man of Judah in all the land of Egypt, saying, As the Lord God liveth. Behold, I watch over them for evil, and not for good: and all the men of Judah that are in the land of Egypt shall be consumed by the sword and by the famine, until there be an end of them. And they that escape the sword shall return out of the land of Egypt into the land of Judah, few in number; and all the remnant of Judah, that are gone into the land of Egypt to sojourn there, shall know whose word shall stand, mine, or theirs. And this shall be the sign unto you, saith the Lord, that I will punish you in this place, that ye may know that my words shall surely stand against you for evil: thus saith the Lord: Behold, I will give Pharaoh Hophra king of Egypt into the hand of his enemies, and into the hand of them that seek his life; as I gave Zedekiah king of Judah into the hand of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon, his enemy, and that sought his life.

45 The word that Jeremiah the prophet spake unto Baruch the son of Neriah, when he wrote these words in a book at the mouth of Jeremiah, in the fourth year of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah, king of Judah, saying, Thus saith the Lord the God of Israel, unto thee, O 3 Baruch: Thou didst say, Woe is me now! for the Lord hath added sorrow to my pain: I am weary with my groaning, and I find no rest. 4 Thus shalt thou say unto him, Thus saith the Lord: Behold, that which I have built will I break down, and that which I have planted I will pluck up; and this in the whole 5 land. And seekest thou great things for thyself? seek them not: for, behold, I will bring evil upon all flesh, saith the Lord: but thy life will I give unto thee for a prey in all places whither thou goest.

2 Of Egypt: concerning the army of Pharaoh-neco king of Egypt, which was by the river Euphrates in Carchemish, which Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon smote in the fourth year of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah, king of Judah.

3 Order ye the buckler and shield,

4 and draw near to battle. Harness the horses, and get up, ye horsemen, and stand forth with your helmets; furbish the spears, put on the coats

5 of mail. Wherefore have I seen it? they are dismayed and are turned backward; and their mighty ones are beaten down, and are fled apace, and look not back: terror is on 6 every side, saith the LORD. Let not the swift flee away, nor the mighty man escape; in the north by the river Euphrates have they

7 stumbled and fallen. <sup>1</sup>Who is this that riseth up like the Nile, whose waters toss themselves like the rivers?

8 Egypt riseth up like the Nile, and his waters toss themselves like the rivers: and he saith, I will rise up, I will cover the earth: I will destroy the city and the inhabitants thereof. Go up, ye horses; and rage, ye chariots; and let the mighty men go forth: Cush and Put, that handle the shield; and the Ludim, that 10 handle and bend the bow. For that day is a day of the Lord, the LORD of hosts, a day of vengeance, that he may avenge him of his adversaries: and the sword shall devour and be satiate, and shall drink its fill of their blood: for the Lord, the LORD of hosts, hath a sacrifice in the north country by the river Euphrates. Go up into Gilead, and take balm, O virgin daughter of Egypt: in vain dost thou use many medicines; there is no healing for 12 thee. The nations have heard of thy shame, and the earth is full of thy cry: for the mighty man hath stumbled against the mighty, they are fallen both of them together.

13 The word that the LORD spake to Jeremiah the prophet, how that Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon should come and smite the land of Egypt.

14 Declare ye in Egypt, and publish in Migdol, and publish in Noph and in Tahpanhes: say ye, Stand forth, and prepare thee; for the sword hath devoured round about thee.

15 <sup>2</sup>Why are thy strong ones swept away? they stood not, because the LORD did drive them. He made many to stumble, yea, they fell one upon another: and they said, Arise, and let us go again to our own people, and to the land of our nativity,

17 from the oppressing sword. They cried there, Pharaoh king of Egypt is but a noise; he hath let the appointed time pass by. As I live, saith the King, whose name is the LORD of hosts, surely like Tabor among the mountains, and like Carmel by the sea, so shall he come.

19 <sup>4</sup>O thou daughter that dwellest in Egypt, <sup>5</sup>furbish thyself to go into captivity: for Noph shall become a desolation, and shall be burnt up,

20 without inhabitant. Egypt is a very fair heifer; <sup>6</sup>but <sup>7</sup>destruction out of

21 the north is come, <sup>7</sup>it is come. Also her hired men in the midst of her are like calves of the stall; for they also are turned back, they are fled away together, they did not stand: for the day of their calamity is come upon them, the time of their visitation. <sup>8</sup>The sound thereof shall go like the serpent; for they shall march with an army, and come against her with axes, as hewers

23 of wood. They shall cut down her forest, saith the LORD, <sup>9</sup>though it cannot be searched; because they are more than the locusts,

24 and are innumerable. The daughter of Egypt shall be put to shame; she shall be delivered into the hand of the people of the

25 north. The LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, saith: Behold, I will punish Amon of No, and Pharaoh, and Egypt, with her gods, and her kings; even Pharaoh, and

26 them that trust in him: and I will deliver them into the hand of those that seek their lives, and into the hand of Nebuchadrezzar king of

Babylon, and into the hand of his servants: and afterwards it shall be inhabited, as in the days of old,

27 saith the LORD. <sup>10</sup>But fear not thou, O Jacob my servant, neither be dismayed, O Israel: for, lo, I will save thee from afar, and thy seed from the land of their captivity; and Jacob shall return, and shall be quiet and at ease, and none shall make him afraid. Fear not thou, O Jacob my servant, saith the LORD; for I am with thee: for I will make a full end of all the nations whither I have driven thee, but I will not make a full end of thee; but I will correct thee with judgement, and will in no wise <sup>11</sup>leave thee unpunished.

47 The word of the LORD that came to Jeremiah the prophet concerning the Philistines, before that Pharaoh smote Gaza.

2 Thus saith the LORD: Behold, waters rise up out of the north, and shall become an overflowing stream, and shall overflow the land and all that is therein, the city and them that dwell therein: and the men shall cry, and all the inhabitants of the land shall howl. At the noise of the stamping of the hoofs of his strong ones, at the rushing of his chariots, at the rumbling of his wheels, the fathers look not back to their children for

	48 Of Moab. Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Woe unto Nebo! for it is laid waste; Kiriathaim is put to shame, it is taken: Misgab is put to shame and broken down. The praise of Moab is no more; in Heshbon they have devised evil against her. Come, and let us cut her off from being a nation. Thou also, O Madmen, shalt be brought to silence; the sword shall pursue thee. The sound of a cry from Horonaim, spoiling and great destruction! Moab is destroyed; her little ones have caused a cry to be heard. For by the ascent of Luhith with continual weeping shall they go up; for in the going down of Horonaim they have heard the distress of the cry of destruction. Flee, save your lives, and be like the heath in the wilderness. For, because thou hast trusted in thy works and in thy treasures, thou also shalt be taken: and Chemosh shall go forth into captivity, his priests and his princes together. And the spoiler shall come upon every city, and no city shall escape: the valley also shall perish, and the plain shall be destroyed: as the LORD hath spoken. Give wings unto Moab, that she may fly and get her away: and her cities shall become a desolation. Without any to dwell therein. Cursed be he that doeth the work of the LORD negligently, and cursed be he that keepeth back his sword from blood. Moab hath been at ease from his youth, and he hath settled on his lees, and hath not been emptied from vessel to vessel, neither hath he gone into captivity: therefore his taste remaineth in him, and his scent is not changed. Therefore, behold, the days come, saith the LORD, that I will send unto him them that I will send off, and they shall pour him off; and they shall empty his vessels, and break their bottles in pieces. And Moab shall be ashamed of Chemosh, as the house of Israel was ashamed of Beth-el their confidence. How say ye, We are mighty men, and valiant men for the war? All ye that are round about him, beset him, and all ye that know his name; say, How is the strong staff broken, the beautiful rod! O thou daughter that dwellest in Dibon, come down from thy glory, and sit in thirst; for the spoiler of Moab is come up against thee, he hath destroyed thy strong holds. O inhabitant of Aroer, stand by the way, and espy: ask him that flieth, and her that escapeth; say, What hath been done? Moab is put to shame; for it is broken down: howl and cry; tell ye it in Arnon, that Moab is laid waste. And judgement is come upon the plain country; upon Holon, and upon Jahzah, and upon Mephaath; and upon Dibon, and upon Nebo, and upon Bethdiblathaim; and upon Kiriathaim, and upon Beth-gamul, and upon Beth-meon; and upon Kerioth, and upon Bozrah, and upon all the cities of the land of Moab, far or near. The horn of Moab is cut off, and his arm is broken, saith the LORD. Make ye him drunken; for he magnified himself against the LORD: and Moab shall wallow in his vomit, and he also shall be in derision. For was not Israel a derision unto thee? was he found among thieves? for as often as thou speakest of him, thou waggest thy head. O ye inhabitants of Moab, leave the cities, and dwell in the rock; and be like the dove that maketh her nest in the sides of the hole's mouth. We have heard of the pride of Moab, that he is very proud; his loftiness, and his pride, and his arrogance, and his haughtiness of his heart. I know his wrath, saith the LORD, that it is nought; his boastings have wrought nothing. Therefore will I howl for Moab; yea, I will cry out for all Moab: for the men of Kir-heres shall they mourn. With more than the weeping of Jazer will I weep for thee, vine of Sibmah: thy branches passed over the sea, they reached even to the sea of Jazer: upon thy summer fruits and upon thy vintage the spoiler is fallen. And gladness and joy is taken away from the fruitful field and from the land of Moab: and I have caused wine to cease from the winepresses: none shall tread with shouting; the shouting shall be no shouting. From the cry of Heshbon even unto Elealeh, even unto Jahaz have they uttered their voice, from Zoar even unto Horonaim, to Eglath-shelishiyah: for the waters of Nimrim also shall become desolate. Moreover I will cause to cease in Moab,	17 See Is. xvi. 6.  18 See Is. xv. 5, xvi. 7, 11.  19 See Is. xvi. 8, 9.  20 See Is. xvi. 10.  21 See Is. xv. 4, &c. 22 Or, an heir of three years old 23 Heb. desolations.

- saith the LORD, him that offereth in the high place, and him that burneth incense to his gods. Therefore mine heart soundeth for Moab like pipes, and mine heart soundeth like pipes for the men of Kir-heres: therefore the abundance that he hath gotten is perished. For every head is bald, and every beard clipped: upon all the hands are cuttings, and upon the loins sackcloth.
- 38 On all the housetops of Moab and in the streets thereof there is lamentation every where: for I have broken Moab like a vessel wherein is no pleasure, saith the LORD.
- 39 How is it broken down! <sup>1</sup>how do they howl! how hath Moab turned the back with shame! so shall Moab become a derision and a dismaying to all that are round about him. For thus saith the LORD: Behold, he shall fly as an eagle, and shall spread out his wings against Moab. <sup>2</sup>Kerioth is taken, and the strong holds are surprised, and the heart of the mighty men of Moab at that day shall be as the heart of a woman in her pangs. And Moab shall be destroyed from being a people, because he hath magnified himself against the LORD. <sup>3</sup>Fear, and the pit, and the snare, are upon thee, O inhabitant of Moab, saith the LORD. He that fleeth from the fear shall fall into the pit; and he that getteth up out of the pit shall be taken in the snare: for I will bring upon her, even upon Moab, the year of their visitation.
- 45 saith the LORD. <sup>4</sup>They that fled stand without strength under the shadow of Heshbon: <sup>5</sup>for a fire is gone forth out of Heshbon, and a flame from the midst of Sihon, and hath devoured the corner of Moab, and the crown of the head of the tumultuous ones. Woe unto thee, O Moab! the people of Chemosh is undone: for thy sons are taken away captive, and thy daughters into captivity. Yet will I <sup>6</sup>bring again the captivity of Moab in the latter days, saith the LORD. Thus far is the judgement of Moab.
- 49 Of the children of Ammon. Thus saith the LORD: Hath Israel no sons? hath he no heir? why then doth <sup>7</sup>Malcam <sup>8</sup>possess Gad, and his people dwell in the cities thereof? Therefore, behold, the days come, saith the LORD, that I will cause an alarm of war to be heard against Rabbah of the children of Ammon; and it shall become a desolate <sup>9</sup>heap, and her daughters shall be burned with fire: then shall Israel <sup>10</sup>possess them that did <sup>11</sup>possess him, saith the LORD.
- 3 Howl, O Heshbon, for Ai is spoiled; cry, ye daughters of Rabbah, gird you with sackcloth: lament, and run to and fro among the fences; for <sup>12</sup>Malcam shall go into captivity, his priests and his princes together. <sup>13</sup>Wherefore gloriest thou in the valleys, thy flowing valley, O backsliding daughter? that trusted in her treasures, saying, Who shall come unto me? Behold, I will bring a fear upon thee, saith the LORD, the LORD of hosts, from all that are round about thee; and ye shall be driven out every man right forth, and there shall be none to gather up him that wandereth. But afterward I will bring again the captivity of the children of Ammon, saith the LORD.
- 7 Of Edom. Thus saith the LORD of hosts: Is wisdom no more in Teman? is counsel perished from the prudent? is their wisdom vanished? Flee ye, turn back, dwell deep, O inhabitants of Dedan; for I will bring the calamity of Esau upon him, the time that I shall visit him. If grapegatherers came to thee, <sup>11</sup>would they not leave some gleanings? if thieves by night, would they not destroy till they had enough? But I have made Esau bare, I have uncovered his secret places, and he shall not be able to hide himself: his seed is spoiled, and his brethren, and his neighbours, and he is not. Leave thy fatherless children, I will preserve them alive; and let thy widows trust in me. For thus saith the LORD: Behold, they <sup>12</sup>to whom it pertained not to drink of the cup shall assuredly drink; and art thou he that shall altogether go unpunished? thou shalt not go unpunished, but thou shalt surely drink.
- 13 For I have sworn by myself, saith the LORD, that Bozrah shall become an astonishment, a reproach, a waste, and a curse; and all the cities thereof shall be perpetual wastes. <sup>14</sup>I have heard tidings from the LORD, and an ambassador is sent among the nations, saying, Gather yourselves together, and come against her, and rise up to the battle. For, behold, I have made thee small among the nations, and despised among men.
- 16 As for thy terriblest, the pride of thine heart hath deceived thee, O thou that dwellest in the clefts of the rock, that holdest the height of the hill: though thou shouldst make thy nest as high as the eagle, I will bring thee down from thence.
- 17 saith the LORD. And Edom shall become an astonishment; every one that passeth by it shall be astonished, and shall hiss at all the plagues thereof. As in the overthrow of Sodom and Gomorrah and the neighbour cities thereof, saith the LORD, no man shall dwell there, neither shall any son of man sojourn therein. Damascus is waxed feeble, she turneth herself to flee, and trembling hath seized on her: anguish and sorrows have taken hold of her, as of a woman in travail. 28 Of Kedar, and of the kingdoms of Hazer, which Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon smote.

Thus saith the LORD: Arise ye, go up to Kedar, and spoil the children of the east. Their tents and their flocks shall they take; they shall carry away for themselves their curtains, and all their vessels, and their camels; and they shall cry unto them, Terror on every side. Flee ye, wander far off, dwell deep. O ye inhabitants of Hazer, saith the LORD; for Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon hath taken counsel against you, and hath conceived a purpose against you. Arise, get you up unto a nation that is at ease, that dwelleth without care, saith the LORD; which have neither gates nor bars, which dwell alone. And their camels shall be a booty, and the multitude of their cattle a spoil: and I will scatter unto all winds them that have the corners of their hair polled; and I will bring their calamity from every side of them, saith the LORD. And Hazer shall be a dwelling place of jackals, a desolation for ever: no man shall dwell there, neither shall any son of man sojourn therein.

34 The word of the LORD that came to Jeremiah the prophet concerning Elam in the beginning of the reign of Zedekiah king of Judah, saying, Thus saith the LORD of hosts: Behold, I will break the bow of Elam, the chief of their might. And upon Elam will I bring the four winds from the four quarters of heaven, and will scatter them toward all those winds; and there shall be no nation whither <sup>6</sup> the outcasts of Elam shall not come. 37 And I will cause Elam to be dismayed before their enemies, and before them that seek their life: and I will bring evil upon them, even my fierce anger, saith the LORD; and I will send the sword after them, till I have consumed them: and I will set my throne in Elam, and will destroy from thence king and princes, saith the LORD. 39 But it shall come to pass in the latter days, that I will bring again the captivity of Elam, saith the LORD.

50 The word that the LORD spake concerning Babylon, concerning the land of the Chaldeans, by Jeremiah the prophet.

2 Declare ye among the nations and publish, and set up a standard; publish, and conceal not: say, Babylon is taken, Bel is put to shame, Merodach is <sup>7</sup> dismayed: her images are put to shame, her idols are <sup>7</sup> dismayed. For out of the north there cometh up a nation against her, which shall make her land desolate, and none shall dwell therein: they are fled, they are gone, both man and beast. In those days and in that time, saith the LORD, the children of Israel shall come, they and the children of Judah together; they shall go on their way weeping, and shall seek the LORD their God. 5 They shall inquire concerning Zion with their faces <sup>8</sup> thitherward, saying, Come ye, and <sup>9</sup> join yourselves to the LORD in an everlasting covenant that shall not be forgotten.

6 My people hath been lost sheep: their shepherds have caused them to go astray, they have turned them away on the mountains: they have gone from mountain to hill, they have forgotten their resting place. All that found them have devoured them: and their adversaries said, We offend not, because they have sinned against the LORD, the habitation of justice, even the LORD, the hope of their fathers. 8 Flee out of the midst of Babylon, and go forth out of the land of the Chaldeans, and be as the he-goats before the flocks. it is the vengeance of the LORD:

25 LORD. The LORD hath opened his armoury, and hath brought forth the weapons of his indignation: for the LORD, the LORD of hosts, hath a work to do in the land of the Chaldeans.

27 Slay all her bullocks; let them go down to the slaughter: woe unto them! for their day is come, the time of their visitation. The voice of them that flee and escape out of the land of Babylon, to declare in Zion the vengeance of the LORD our God, the vengeance of his temple. Call together <sup>12</sup> the archers against Babylon, all them that bend the bow; camp against her round about; let none thereof escape: recompense her according to her work; according to all that she hath done, do unto her: for she hath been proud against the LORD, against the Holy One of Israel. Therefore shall her young men fall in her streets, and all her men of war shall be brought to silence in that day, saith the LORD. Behold, I am against thee, <sup>13</sup> O thou proud one, saith the LORD, the LORD of hosts: for thy day is come, the time that I will visit thee. And <sup>14</sup> the proud one shall stumble and fall, and none shall raise him up: and I will kindle a fire in his cities, and it shall devour all that are round about him.

28 Thus saith the LORD of hosts: The children of Israel and the children of Judah are oppressed together: and all that took them captives hold them fast; they refuse to let them go. Their redeemer is strong: the LORD of hosts is his name: he shall thoroughly plead their cause, that he may give rest to the earth, and disquiet the inhabitants of Babylon. A sword is upon the Chaldeans, saith the LORD, and upon the inhabitants of Babylon, and upon her princes, and upon her wise men. A sword is upon the <sup>15</sup> boasters, and they shall dote: a sword is upon her mighty men, and they shall be dismayed. A sword is upon their horses, and upon their chariots, and upon all the mingled people that are in the midst of her, and they shall become as women: a sword is upon her treasures, and they shall be robbed. A drought is upon her waters, and they shall be dried up: for it is a land of graven images, and they are mad upon <sup>16</sup> idols. <sup>17</sup> Therefore the wild beasts of the desert with the <sup>18</sup> wolves shall dwell there, and the ostriches shall dwell therein: and it shall be no more inhabited for ever; neither shall it be dwelt in from generation to generation. the LORD; so shall no man dwell there, neither shall any son of man sojourn therein. 1 Behold, a people cometh from the north, and a great nation, and many kings shall be stirred up from the uttermost parts of the earth. They lay hold on bow and spear; they are cruel, and have no mercy; their voice roareth like the sea and they ride upon horses; every one set in array, as a man to the battle, against thee, O daughter of Babylon. The king of Babylon hath heard the fame of them, and his hands wax feeble; anguish hath taken hold of him, and pangs as of a woman in travail. 2 Behold, he shall come up like a lion from the pride of Jordan against the strong habitation: but I will suddenly make them run away from her; and whoso is chosen, him will I appoint over her: for who is like me? and who will appoint me a time? and who is the shepherd that will stand before me? Therefore hear ye the counsel of the LORD, that he hath taken against Babylon; and his purposes, that he hath purposed against the land of the Chaldeans: Surely they shall drag them away, even the little ones of the flock; surely he shall make their habitation desolate with them. At the noise of the taking of Babylon the earth trembleth, and the cry is heard among the nations.

51 Thus saith the LORD: Behold, I will raise up against Babylon, and against them that dwell in 2 Leb-kamai, a destroying wind. 2 And I will send unto Babylon 4 strangers, that shall fall on her; and they shall empty her land: for in the day of trouble they shall be against her round about. 5 Let not the archer bend his bow, and let him not lift himself up in his coat of mail; and spare ye not her young men; 6 destroy ye utterly all her host. And they shall fall down slain in the land of the Chaldeans, and thrust through in her streets. 5 For Israel is not forsaken, nor Judah, of his God, of the LORD of hosts; though their land is full of guilt against the Holy One of Israel. 6 Flee out of the midst of Babylon, and save every man his life; be not cut off in her iniquity: for it is the time of the LORD's vengeance; he will render unto her a recompence. Babylon hath been a golden cup in the LORD's hand, that made all the earth drunken: the nations have drunk of her wine; therefore the nations are mad. Babylon is suddenly fallen and destroyed: howl for her, bemoan her for her pain. 9 If so be she may be healed. We would have healed Babylon, but she is not healed: forsake her, and let us go every one into his own country: for her judgement reacheth unto heaven, and is lifted up

10 even to the skies. The LORD hath brought forth our righteousness; come, and let us declare in Zion the work of the LORD our God. 11 Make 7 sharp the arrows; 8 hold firm the 9 shields: the LORD hath stirred up the spirit of the kings of the Medes; because his device is against Babylon, to destroy it, for it is the vengeance of the LORD the vengeance of his temple. Set up a standard against the walls of Babylon, make the watch strong, set the watchmen, prepare the ambushes: for the LORD hath both devised and done that which he spake concerning the inhabitants of Babylon. O thou that dwellest upon many waters, abundant in treasures, thine end is come, the measure of thy covetousness. The LORD of hosts hath sworn by himself, saying, Surely I will fill thee with men, as with the cankerworm; and they shall lift up a shout against thee. 15 11 He hath made the earth by his power, he hath established the world by his wisdom, and by his understanding hath he stretched out the heavens: when he uttereth his voice, there is a tumult of waters in the heavens, and he causeth the vapours to ascend from the ends of the earth; he maketh lightnings for the rain, and bringeth forth the wind out of his treasures. Every man is become brutish and is without knowledge; every goldsmith is put to shame by his graven image: for his molten image is falsehood, and there is no breath in them. They are vanity, a work of delusion: in the time of their visitation they shall perish. The portion of Jacob is not like these; for he is the former of all things; and Israel is the tribe of his inheritance: the LORD of hosts is his name. 20 Thou art my 12 battle axe and weapons of war: and with thee will I break in pieces the nations; and with thee will I destroy kingdoms; and with thee will I break in pieces the horse and his rider; and with thee will I break in pieces the chariot and him that rideth therein; and with thee will I break in pieces man and woman; and with thee will I break in pieces the old man and the youth; and with thee will I break in pieces the young man and the maid; and with thee will I break in pieces the shepherd and his flock; and with thee will I break in pieces the husbandman and his yokefellow; and with thee will I break in pieces 13 governors and deputies. And I will render unto Babylon and to all the inhabitants of Chaldea all their evil that they have done in Zion in your sight, saith the LORD. 25 Behold, I am against thee O destroying mountain, saith the LORD, 59 The word which Jeremiah the prophet commanded Seraiah the son of Neriah, the son of Mahseiah, when he went with Zedekiah the king of Judah to Babylon in the fourth year of his reign. Now Seraiah was <sup>2</sup> chief chamberlain. And Jeremiah wrote in <sup>3</sup> a book all the evil that should come upon Babylon, even all these words that are written concerning Babylon. And Jeremiah said to Seraiah, When thou comest to Babylon, <sup>4</sup> then see 62 that thou read all these words, and say, O LORD, thou hast spoken concerning this place, to cut it off, that none shall dwell therein, neither man nor beast: but that it 63 shall be desolate for ever. And it shall be, when thou hast made an end of reading this book, that thou shalt bind a stone to it, and cast it 64 into the midst of Euphrates: and thou shalt say, Thus shall Babylon sink, and shall not rise again because of the evil that I will bring <sup>5</sup> upon her: and they shall be weary. Thus far are the words of Jeremiah.

52 <sup>6</sup> Zedekiah was one and twenty years old when he began to reign; and he reigned eleven years in Jerusalem: and his mother's name was Hamutal the daughter of Jeremiah of Libnah. And he did that which was evil in the sight of the LORD, according to all that Jehoiakim had done. For through the anger of the LORD did it come to pass in Jerusalem and Judah, until he had cast them out from his presence: and Zedekiah rebelled against the king of Babylon. And it came to pass in the ninth year of his reign, in the tenth month, in the tenth day of the month, that Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon came, he and all his army, against Jerusalem, and encamped against it: and they built forts against it 5 round about. So the city was besieged unto the eleventh year of 6 king Zedekiah. In the fourth month, in the ninth day of the month, the famine was sore in the city, so that there was no bread for 7 the people of the land. Then a breach was made in the city, and all the men of war fled, and went forth out of the city by night by the way of the gate between the two walls, which was by the king's garden. (now the Chaldeans were against the city round about) and they went by the way of the Arabah. 8 But the army of the Chaldeans pursued after the king, and overtook Zedekiah in the plains of Jericho: and all his army was scattered from 9 him. Then they took the king, and carried him up unto the king of Babylon to Riblah in the land of Hamath: and he <sup>7</sup> gave judgement upon him. And the king of Babylon slew the sons of Zedekiah before his eyes: he slew also all the princes 11 of Judah in Riblah. And he put out the eyes of Zedekiah: and the king of Babylon bound him in fetters, and carried him to Babylon, and put him in prison till the day of his death.

12 Now in the fifth month, in the tenth day of the month, which was the nineteenth year of king Nebuchadrezzar, king of Babylon, came Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard, which stood before the king 13 of Babylon, into Jerusalem: and he burned the house of the LORD, and the king's house; and all the houses of Jerusalem, even <sup>8</sup> every great house, burned he with fire. 14 And all the army of the Chaldeans, that were with the captain of the guard, brake down all the walls of 15 Jerusalem round about. Then Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard carried away captive of the poorest sort of the people, and the residue of the people that were left in the city, and those that fell away, that fell to the king of Babylon, and 16 residue of the <sup>9</sup> multitude. But Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard left of the poorest of the land to be vinedressers and husbandmen. 17 And the pillars of brass that were in the house of the LORD, and the bases and the brasen sea that were in the house of the LORD, did the Chaldeans break in pieces, and carried all the brass of them to Babylon. The pots also, and the shovels, and the snuffers, and the basins, and the spoons, and all the vessels of brass wherewith they ministered, 19 took they away. And the cups, and the firepans, and the basins, and the pots, and the candlesticks, and the spoons, and the bowls; that which was of gold, in gold, and that which was of silver, in silver, the captain of the guard took away. 20 The two pillars, the one sea, and the twelve brasen bulls that were under the bases, which king Solomon had made for the house of the LORD: the brass of all these vessels 21 was without weight. And as for the pillars, the height of the one pillar was eighteen cubits; and a line of twelve cubits did compass it; and the thickness thereof was four fingers: it was hollow. And a chapter of brass was upon it; and the height of the one chapter was five cubits, with network and pomegranates upon the chapter round about, all of brass; and the second pillar also had like unto these, and pomegranates. 23 And there were ninety and six pomegranates <sup>10</sup> on the sides: all the pomegranates were an hundred upon the network round about.

And Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard took them, and brought them to the king of Babylon to Riblah. And the king of Babylon smote them, and put them to death at Riblah in the land of Hamath. So Judah was carried away captive out of his land. This is the people whom Nebuchadrezzar carried away captive: in the seventh year three thousand Jews and three and twenty: in the eighteenth year of Nebuchadrezzar he carried away captive from Jerusalem eight hundred thirty and 30 two persons: in the three and twentieth year of Nebuchadrezzar Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard carried away captive of the Jews seven hundred forty and five persons: all the persons were four thousand and six hundred.

31 And it came to pass in the seven and thirtieth year of the captivity of Jehoiachin king of Judah, in the twelfth month, in the five and twentieth day of the month, that Evil-merodach king of Babylon, in the first year of his reign, lifted up the head of Jehoiachin king of Judah, and brought him forth out of prison: and he spake kindly to him, and set his throne above the throne of the kings that were with him in Babylon. And he changed his prison garments, and did eat bread before him continually all the days of his life. And for his allowance, there was a continual allowance given him of the king of Babylon, every day a portion until the day of his death, all the days of his life.

THE LAMENTATIONS OF JEREMIAH.

1 How doth the city sit solitary, that was full of people!
How is she become as a widow!
She that was great among the nations, and princess among the provinces.
How is she become tributary!
2 She weepeth sore in the night, and her tears are on her cheeks;
Among all her lovers she hath none to comfort her:
All her friends have dealt treacherously with her,
They are become her enemies.
3 Judah is gone into captivity because of affliction, and because of great servitude;
She dwelleth among the heathen, she findeth no rest:
All her persecutors overtook her within the straits.
4 The ways of Zion do mourn, because none come to the solemn assembly;
All her gates are desolate, her priests do sigh:
Her virgins are afflicted, and she herself is in bitterness.
5 Her adversaries are become the head, her enemies prosper:
For the Lord hath afflicted her for the multitude of her transgressions:

Her young children are gone into captivity before the adversary.
6 And from the daughter of Zion all her majesty is departed:
Her princes are become like harts that find no pasture,
And they are gone without strength before the pursuer.
7 Jerusalem remembereth in the days of her affliction and of her miseries
All her pleasant things that were from the days of old:
When her people fell into the hand of the adversary, and none did help her.
The adversaries saw her, they did mock at her desolations.
8 Jerusalem hath grievously sinned; therefore she is become as an unclean thing:
All that honoured her despise her, because they have seen her nakedness:
Yea, she sigheth, and turneth backward.
9 Her filthiness was in her skirts: she remembered not her latter end:
Therefore is she come down wonderfully: she hath no comfort.
Behold, O Lord, my affliction; for the enemy hath magnified himself.

- 10 The adversary hath spread out his hand upon all her pleasant things: For she hath seen that the heathen are entered into her sanctuary, concerning whom thou didst command that they should not enter into thy congregation.
- 11 All her people sigh, they seek bread: They have given their pleasant things for meat to refresh the soul:
See, O LORD, and behold; for I am become vile.
- 12 Is it nothing to you, all ye that pass by?
Behold, and see if there be any sorrow like unto my sorrow, which is done unto me.
- 13 Where-with the LORD hath afflicted me in the day of his fierce anger.
- 14 From on high hath he sent fire into my bones, and it prevailed against them:
He hath spread a net for my feet, he hath turned me back:
He hath made me desolate and faint all the day.
- 15 The yoke of my transgressions is bound by his hand;
They are knit together, they are come up upon my neck; he hath made my strength to fail:
The LORD hath delivered me into their hands, against whom I am not able to stand.
- 16 The LORD hath set at naught all my mighty men in the midst of me:
He hath called a solemn assembly against me to crush my young men:
The LORD hath trodden as in a winepress the virgin daughter of Judah.
- 17 For these things I weep; mine eye, mine eye runneth down with water:
Because the comforter that should refresh my soul is far from me:
My children are desolate, because the enemy hath prevailed.
- 18 Zion spreadeth forth her hands; there is none to comfort her:
The LORD hath commanded concerning Jacob, that they that are round about him should be his adversaries:
Jerusalem is among them as an unclean thing.
- 19 The LORD is righteous; for I have rebelled against his commandment:
Hear, I pray you, all ye peoples, and behold my sorrow:
My virgins and my young men are gone into captivity.
- 20 I called for my lovers, but they deceived me:
My priests and mine elders gave up the ghost in the city.
While they sought them meat to refresh their souls.
- 21 Behold, O LORD; for I am in distress, my bowels are troubled:
Mine heart is turned within me; for I have grievously rebelled:

Abroad the sword bereaveth, at home there is as death.

- 21 They have heard that I sigh; there is none to comfort me:
All mine enemies have heard of my trouble; they are glad that thou hast done it:
Thou wilt bring the day that thou hast proclaimed, and they shall be like unto me.
- 22 Let all their wickedness come before thee:
And do unto them, as thou hast done unto me for all my transgressions:
For my sighs are many, and my heart is faint.

- 2 How hath the Lord covered the daughter of Zion with a cloud in his anger!

He hath cast down from heaven unto the earth the beauty of Israel. And hath not remembered his footstool in the day of his anger.

- 2 The Lord hath swallowed up all the habitations of Jacob, and hath not pitied;

He hath thrown down in his wrath the strong holds of the daughter of Judah;

He hath brought them down to the ground:

He hath profaned the kingdom and the princes thereof.

- 3 He hath cut off in fierce anger <sup>4</sup>all the horn of Israel;

He hath drawn back his right hand from before the enemy:

And he hath burned up Jacob like a flaming fire, which devoureth round about.

- 4 He hath bent his bow like an enemy, he hath stood with his right hand as an adversary,

And hath slain all that were pleasant to the eye:

<sup>5</sup>In the tent of the daughter of Zion he hath poured out his fury like fire.

- 5 The Lord is become as an enemy, he hath swallowed up Israel;

He hath swallowed up all her palaces, he hath destroyed his strong holds:

And he hath multiplied in the daughter of Judah mourning and lamentation.

- 6 And he hath violently taken away his <sup>6</sup>tabernacle, as if it were of a garden:

He hath destroyed his place of assembly:

The LORD hath caused <sup>7</sup>solemn assembly and sabbath to be forgotten in Zion,

And hath despised in the indignation of his anger the king and the priest.

- 7 The Lord hath cast off his altar, he hath abhorred his sanctuary.

He hath given up into the hand of the enemy the walls of her palaces: They have made a noise in the house of the LORD, as in the day of a solemn assembly.

12 They say to their mothers, Where is corn and wine?

When they swoon as the wounded
in the streets of the city,

When their soul is poured out into their mothers' bosom.

13 What shall I testify unto thee?
what shall I liken to thee, O daughter of Jerusalem?

What shall I equal to thee, that I may comfort thee, O virgin daughter of Zion?

For thy breach is great like the sea; who can heal thee?

14 Thy prophets have seen visions for thee of vanity and foolishness;

And they have not discovered thine iniquity, to bring again thy captivity:

But have seen for thee burdens of vanity and causes of banishment.

15 All that pass by clap their hands
at thee;

They hiss and wag their head at the daughter of Jerusalem, saying;

Is this the city that men called The perfection of beauty, The joy of the whole earth?

16 All thine enemies have opened their mouth wide against thee;

They hiss and gnash the teeth; they say, We have swallowed her up;

Certainly this is the day that we looked for; we have found, we have seen it.

17 The Lord hath done that which he devised;

He hath fulfilled his word that he commanded in the days of old;

He hath thrown down, and hath not pitied;

And he hath caused the enemy to rejoice over thee,

He hath exalted the horn of thine
adversaries.

18 Their heart cried unto the Lord;
O wall of the daughter of Zion, let tears run down like a river day and night;

Give thyself no respite; let not the apple of thine eye cease.

19 Arise, cry out in the night, at the beginning of the watches;

Pour out thine heart like water before the face of the Lord;

Lift up thy hands toward him for the life of thy young children,

That faint for hunger at the top of every street.

20 See, O Lord, and behold, to whom thou hast done thus!

Shall the women eat their fruit, the children that are dandled in the hands?

Shall the priest and the prophet be slain in the sanctuary of the Lord?

21 The youth and the old man lie on the ground in the streets;

My virgins and my young men are fallen by the sword:

Thou hast slain them in the day of thine anger; thou hast slaughtered, and not pitied.

22 Thou hast called, as in the day of a solemn assembly, my terrors on every side,

And there was none that escaped or remained in the day of the Lord's anger:

Those that I have dandled and brought up hath mine enemy consumed.

3 I am the man that hath seen af-liction by the rod of his wrath.

2 He hath led me and caused me to walk in darkness and not in light.

3 Surely against me he turneth his hand again and again all the day.

4 My flesh and my skin hath he made old; he hath broken my bones.

5 He hath builded against me, and compassed me with gall and travail.

6 He hath made me to dwell in dark places, as those that have been long dead.

7 He hath fenced me about, that I cannot go forth; he hath made my chain heavy.

8 Yea, when I cry and call for help,
he shutteth out my prayer.

9 He hath fenced up my ways with hewn stone, he hath made my paths crooked.

10 He is unto me as a bear lying in wait, as a lion in secret places.

11 He hath turned aside my ways, and pulled me in pieces; he hath made me desolate.

12 He hath bent his bow, and set me as a mark for the arrow.

54 Waters flowed over mine head; I said, I am cut off.

55 I called upon thy name, O LORD, out of the lowest dungeon.

- 1 Now it came to pass in the thirtieth year, in the fourth month, in the fifth day of the month, as I was among the <sup>1</sup>captives by the river Chebar, that the heavens were opened, and I saw visions of God. In the fifth day of the month, which was the fifth year of king Jehoiachin's captivity, the word of the LORD came expressly unto Ezekiel the priest, the son of Buzi, in the land of the Chaldeans by the river Chebar; and the hand of the LORD was there upon him. And I looked, and behold, a stormy wind came out of the north, a great cloud, with a fire <sup>2</sup>infoling itself, and a brightness round about it, and out of the midst thereof <sup>3</sup>as the colour of <sup>4</sup>amber, out of the midst of the fire. And out of the midst thereof came the likeness of four living creatures. And this was their appearance; they had the likeness of a man. And every one had four faces, and every one of them had four wings. And their feet were straight feet, and the sole of their feet was like the sole of a calf's foot: and they sparkled like the colour of burnished brass.
 8 And they had the hands of a man under their wings on their four sides; and they four had their faces and their wings <sup>5</sup>thus: their wings were joined one to another; they turned not when they went; they went every one straight forward.
 10 As for the likeness of their faces, they had the face of a man, and they four had the face of a lion on the right side, and they four had the face of an ox on the left side; they four had also the face of an eagle. And their faces and their wings were separate above; two were joined every one were joined one to another, and two covered their bodies. And they went every one straight forward: whether the

- spirit was to go, they went; they turned not when they went. <sup>6</sup>As for the likeness of the living creatures, their appearance was like burning coals of fire, like the appearance of torches; it went up and down among the living creatures; and the fire was bright, and out of the fire went forth lightning.
 14 And the living creatures ran and returned as the appearance of a flash of lightning. Now as I beheld the living creatures, behold one wheel upon the earth beside the living creatures, for each of the four faces thereof. The appearance of the wheels and their work was like unto the colour of a beryl; and they four had one likeness; and their appearance and their work was as it were a wheel <sup>7</sup>within a wheel. When they went, they went upon their four sides: they turned not when they went. As for their rings, they were high and dreadful; and they four had their rings full of eyes round about. And when the living creatures went, the wheels went beside them: and when the living creatures were lifted up from the earth, the wheels were lifted up. Whithersoever the spirit was to go, they went; thither was the spirit to go, and the wheels were lifted up <sup>8</sup>beside them; for the spirit <sup>9</sup>of the living creature was in the wheels. When those went, these went; and when those stood, these stood; and when those were lifted up from the earth, the wheels were lifted up <sup>10</sup>beside them; for the spirit <sup>11</sup>of the living creature was in the wheels. And over the head of the living creature there was the likeness of a firmament, like the colour of the terrible <sup>12</sup>crystal, stretched forth over their heads above. And under the firmament were their wings straight, the one toward the other:

went, I heard the noise of their wings like the noise of great wa-noise of an host: when they stood, 25 they let down their wings. And there was a voice above the firmament that was over their heads:

when they stood, they let down 26 their wings. And above the firmament that was over their heads was the likeness of a throne, as the ap-upon the likeness of the throne was a likeness as the appearance of a man colour of 2 amber, as the appear-from the appearance of his loins and upward; and from the appearance of his loins and downward I saw as it were the appearance of fire, and there was brightness round

the bow that is in the cloud in ance of the brightness round about.

This was the appearance of the likeness of the glory of the LORD.
And when I saw it, I fell upon my face, and I heard a voice of one that spake.

2 And he said unto me, Son of man, stand upon thy feet, and I will speak with thee. And the spirit entered into me when he spake unto me, and set me upon my feet; and I heard him that spake unto me.
3 And he said unto me, Son of man,
I send thee to the children of Israel, to nations that are rebellious, which have rebelled against me: they and their fathers have transgressed against me, even unto this very day.
4 And the children are impudent and stiffhearted; 4 I do send thee unto them: and thou shalt say unto them, Thus saith the Lord God.
5 And they, whether they will hear, or whether they will forbear, (for they are a rebellious house,) yet shall know that there hath been 6 a prophet among them. And thou, son of man, be not afraid of them,
neither be afraid of their words, though briers and thorns be with thee, and thou dost dwell among scorpions: be not afraid of their words, nor be dismayed at their looks, though they be a rebellious 7 house. And thou shalt speak my words unto them, whether they will hear, or whether they will forbear:
8 for they are most rebellious. But thou, son of man, hear what I say unto thee; be not thou rebellious like that rebellious house: open thy mouth, and eat that I give 9 thee. And when I looked, behold, an hand was put forth unto me;
and, lo, a roll of a book was therein;
10 and he spread it before me; and

4 Or, unto

it was written within and without:
and there was written therein lamentations, and mourning, and woe.
3 And he said unto me, Son of man,
eat that thou findest; eat this roll, and go, speak unto the house of 2 Israel. So I opened my mouth, and he caused me to eat the roll.
8 And he said unto me, Son of man, cause thy belly to eat, and fill thy bowels with this roll that I give thee. Then did I eat it; and it was in my mouth as honey for sweetness.
4 And he said unto me, Son of man, go, get thee unto the house of Israel, and speak with my words 5 unto them. For thou art not sent to a people 5 of a strange speech and of an hard language, but to 6 the house of Israel; not to many peoples of a strange speech and of an hard language, whose words thou canst not understand. Surely, if I sent thee to them, they would 7 hearken unto thee. But the house of Israel will not hearken unto thee;
for they will not hearken unto me:
for all the house of Israel are of an hard forehead and of a stiff heart.
8 Behold, I have made thy face hard against their faces, and thy forehead hard against their foreheads.
9 As an adamant harder than flint have I made thy forehead: fear them not, neither be dismayed at their looks, though they be a rebellious house. Moreover he said unto me, Son of man, all my words that I shall speak unto thee receive in thine heart, and hear with thine 11 ears. And go, get thee to them of the captivity, unto the children of thy people, and speak unto them,
and tell them, Thus saith the Lord God; whether they will hear, or whether they will forbear.
12 Then the spirit lifted me up, and I heard behind me the voice of a great rushing, saying, Blessed be the glory of the LORD from his 13 place. And I heard the noise of the wings of the living creatures as they touched one another, and the noise of the wheels 6 beside them, even the noise of a great 14 rushing. So the spirit lifted me up, and took me away: and I went in bitterness, in the heat of my spirit, and the hand of the LORD 15 was strong upon me. Then I came to them of the captivity at Tel-abib, that 7 dwelt by the river Che-bar, 8 and to where they 7 dwelt;
and I sat there astonished among them seven days.
16 And it came to pass at the end of seven days, that the word of the 17 LORD came unto me, saying, Son of man, I have made thee a watchman unto the house of Israel: therefore hear the word at my mouth, and 18 give them warning from me. When the wicked from his wicked way, to save his life; the same wicked man shall die in his iniquity; but his blood will I require at thine hand. Yet if thou warn the wicked, and he turn not from his wickedness, nor from his wicked way, he shall die in his iniquity; but thou hast delivered thy soul. Again, when a righteous man doth turn from his righteousness, and commit iniquity, and I lay a stumbling-block before him, he shall die: because thou hast not given him warning, he shall die in his sin, and his righteous deeds which he hath done shall not be remembered; but his blood will I require at thine hand. Nevertheless if thou warn the righteous man, that the righteous sin not, and he doth not sin, he shall surely live, because he took warning; and thou hast delivered thy soul.

22 And the hand of the LORD was there upon me; and he said unto me, Arise, go forth into the <sup>1</sup>plain, and I will there talk with thee. 23 Then I arose, and went forth into the <sup>1</sup>plain: and, behold, the glory of the LORD stood there, as the glory which I saw by the river Chebar: and I fell on my face. 24 Then the spirit entered into me, and set me upon my feet; and he spake with me, and said unto me, Go, shut thyself within thine house. 25 But thou, son of man, behold, they shall lay bands upon thee, and shall bind thee with them, and thou shalt not go out among them; and I will make thy tongue cleave to the roof of thy mouth, that thou shalt be dumb, and shalt not be to them a reprover: for they are a rebellious house. But when I speak with thee, I will open thy mouth, and thou shalt say unto them, Thus saith the Lord God: He that heareth, let him hear; and he that forbeareth, let him forbear: for they are a rebellious house.

4 Then also, son of man, take thee a tile, and lay it before thee, and pourtray upon it a city, even Jerusalem: and lay siege against it, and build forts against it, and cast up a mount against it: set camps also against it, and plant battering rams against it round about. And take thee, unto thee an iron <sup>2</sup>plate, and set it for a wall of iron between thee and the city: and set thy face toward it, and it shall be besieged, and thou shalt lay siege against it. This shall be a sign to the house of Israel.

4 Moreover lay thou upon thy left side and lay the iniquity of the house of Israel upon it: according to the number of the days that thou shalt lie upon it, thou shalt bear their iniquity. For I have appointed the years of their iniquity to be unto thee a number of days, even three hundred and ninety days: so shalt thou bear the iniquity of the house of Israel. And again, when thou hast accomplished these, thou shalt lie on thy right side, and shalt bear the iniquity of the house of Judah: forty days, each day for a year, have I appointed it unto thee. 7 And thou shalt set thy face toward the siege of Jerusalem, with thine arm uncovered; and thou shalt prophesy against it. And, behold, I lay bands upon thee, and thou shalt not turn thee from one side to another, till thou hast accomplished the days of thy siege. 9 Take thou also unto thee wheat, and barley, and beans, and lentils, and millet, and spelt, and put them in one vessel, and make thee bread thereof; according to the number of the days that thou shalt lie upon thy side, even three hundred and ninety days, shalt thou eat thereof. 10 And thy meat which thou shalt eat shall be by weight, twenty shekels a day: from time to time shalt thou eat it. And thou shalt drink water by measure, the sixth part of an hin: from time to time shalt thou drink. And thou shalt eat it as barley cakes, and thou shalt bake it in their sight with dung that cometh out of man. And the LORD said, Even thus shall the children of Israel eat their bread unclean, among the nations whither I will drive them. Then said I, Ah Lord God! behold, my soul hath not been polluted: for from my youth up even till now have I not eaten of that which dieth of itself, or is torn of beasts; neither came there abominable flesh into my mouth. Then he said unto me, See, I have given thee cow's dung for man's dung, and thou shalt prepare thy bread thereon. 16 Moreover he said unto me, Son of man, behold, I will break the staff of bread in Jerusalem: and they shall eat bread by weight, and with carefulness; and they shall drink water by measure, and with astonishment: that they may want bread and water, and be astonished one with another, and pine away in their iniquity.

5 And thou, son of man, take thee a sharp sword, as a barber's razor shalt thou take it unto thee, and shalt cause it to pass upon thine head and upon thy beard: then take thee balances to weigh, and divide the hair. A third part shalt thou burn in the fire in the midst of the city, when the days of the siege are fulfilled, and thou shalt take a third part and smite with the sword round about it, and a third part thou shalt scatter to the wind, and I will draw out a sword after them. And thou shalt take <sup>4</sup>thereof a few numbers, and bind them in thy skirts. And of these again shalt thou take, and cast them into the midst of the fire, and burn them in the fire;

therefrom shall a fire come forth into all the house of Israel.

- 5 Thus saith the Lord God: This is Jerusalem: I have set her in the midst of the nations, and countries
6 are round about her. And she hath rebelled against my judgements in doing wickedness more than the nations, and against my statutes more than the countries that are round about her: for they have rejected my judgements, and as for my statutes, they have not walked
7 in them. Therefore thus saith the Lord God: Because ye are turbulent more than the nations that are round about you, and have not walked in my statutes, neither have kept my judgements, neither have done after the ordinances of the nations that are round about you;
8 therefore thus saith the Lord God: Behold, I, even I, am against thee; and I will execute judgements in the midst of thee in the sight of the nations. And I will do in thee that which I have not done, and whereunto I will not do any more the like, because of all thine abominations. Therefore the fathers shall eat the sons in the midst of thee, and the sons shall eat their fathers; and I will execute judgements in thee, and the whole remnant of thee will I scatter unto all 9 the winds. Wherefore, as I live, saith the Lord God, surely, because thou hast defiled my sanctuary with all thy detestable things, and with all thine abominations, therefore will I also diminish thee; neither shall mine eye spare, and I also will 12 have no pity. A third part of thee shall die with the pestilence, and with famine shall they be consumed in the midst of thee; and a third part shall fall by the sword round about thee; and a third part I will scatter unto all the winds, and will
13 draw out a sword after them. Thus shall mine anger be accomplished, and I will satisfy my fury upon them, and I will be comforted; and they shall know that I the Lord have spoken in my zeal, when I have accomplished my fury upon 14 them. Moreover I will make thee a desolation and a reproach, among the nations that are round about thee, in the sight of all that pass by.
15 So it shall be a reproach and a taunt, an instruction and an astonishment, unto the nations that are round about thee, when I shall execute judgements in thee in anger and in fury, and in furious rebukes:
16 I the Lord have spoken it: when I shall send upon them the evil arrows of famine, that are for destruction, which I will send to destroy you; and I will increase the famine upon you, and will break
17 your staff of bread; and I will send upon you famine and evil beasts, and they shall bereave thee; and pestilence and blood shall pass through thee; and I will bring the sword upon thee: I the Lord have spoken it.

- 6 And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying, Son of man, set thy face toward the mountains of Israel, and prophesy unto them,
3 and say, Ye mountains of Israel, hear the word of the Lord God: Thus saith the Lord God to the mountains and to the hills, to the watercourses and to the valleys:
4 Behold, I, even I, will bring a sword upon you, and I will destroy your high places. And your altars shall become desolate, and your sun-images shall be broken: and I will cast down your slain men before
5 your idols. And I will lay the carcasses of the children of Israel before their idols; and I will scatter your bones round about your altars. In all your dwelling places the cities shall be laid waste, and the high places shall be desolate; that your altars may be laid waste and made desolate, and your idols may be broken and cease, and your sun-images may be hewn down, and
7 your works may be abolished. And the slain shall fall in the midst of you, and ye shall know that I am
8 the Lord. Yet will I leave a remnant, in that ye shall have some that escape the sword among the nations, when ye shall be scattered 9 through the countries. And they that escape of you shall remember me among the nations whither they shall be carried captives, how that 10 I have been broken with their whorish heart, which hath departed from me, and with their eyes, which go a whoring after their idols; and they shall loathe themselves in their own sight for the evils which they have committed in all their abominations.
10 And they shall know that I am the Lord: I have not said in vain that I would do this evil unto them.
11 Thus saith the Lord God: Smite with thine hand, and stamp with thy foot, and say, Alas! because of all the evil abominations of the house of Israel: for they shall fall by the sword, by the famine, and 12 by the pestilence. He that is far off shall die of the pestilence; and he that is near shall fall by the sword; and he that remaineth and is besieged shall die by the famine: thus will I accomplish my fury upon 13 them. And ye shall know that I am the Lord, when their slain men shall be among their idols round about their altars, upon every high hill, in all the tops of the mountains, and under every green tree, and under every thick oak, the place where they did offer sweet 14 savour to all their idols. And I will stretch out my hand upon them, and make the land desolate and waste,

- 7 Moreover the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, And thou, son of man, thus saith the LORD God unto the land of Israel, An end: the end is come upon the four corners of the land. Now is the end upon thee, and I will send mine anger upon thee, and will judge thee according to thy ways; and I will bring upon thee all thine abominations. And mine eye shall not spare thee, neither will I have pity: but I will bring thy ways upon thee, and thine abominations shall be in the midst of thee: and ye shall know that I am the LORD.

5 Thus saith the LORD God: An evil, an only evil, behold, it cometh. An end is come, the end is come, it awaketh against thee; behold,

7 it cometh. <sup>11</sup>Thy doom is come unto thee, O inhabitant of the land: the time is come, the day is near; a day of tumult, and not of joyful shouting, <sup>2</sup>upon the mountains. Now

8 will I shortly pour out my fury upon thee, and accomplish mine anger against thee, and will judge thee according to thy ways, and I will bring upon thee all thine

9 abominations. And mine eye shall not spare, neither will I have pity: I will bring upon thee according to thy ways, and thine abominations shall be in the midst of thee; and ye shall know that I the LORD do smite. Behold, the day, behold, it

10 cometh: <sup>2</sup>thy doom is gone forth; the rod hath blossomed, pride hath budded. Violence is risen up into a rod of wickedness, <sup>3</sup>none of them

11 shall remain, nor of their multitude, nor of their wealth: neither shall there be preeminence among them.

12 The time is come, the day draweth near: let not the buyer rejoice, nor the seller mourn: for wrath is upon

13 all the multitude thereof. For the seller shall not return to that which is sold, although they be yet alive; for the vision is touching the whole multitude thereof, <sup>7</sup>none shall return: neither shall any strengthen himself <sup>8</sup>in the iniquity of his life.

14 They have blown the trumpet, and have made all ready; but none goeth to the battle: for my wrath is upon all the multitude thereof.

15 The sword is without and the pestilence and the famine within: he that is in the field shall die with the sword; and he that is in the city, famine and pestilence shall

16 devour him. But they that escape of them shall escape, and shall be on the mountains like doves of the valleys, all of them mourning every

17 one in his iniquity. All hands shall be feeble, and all knees shall be

18 weak as water. They shall also gird themselves with sackcloth, and horror shall cover them, and shame shall be upon all faces, and

19 baldness upon all their heads. They shall cast their silver in the streets, and their gold shall be as an unclean thing; their silver and their gold shall not be able to deliver them in the day of the wrath of the LORD; they shall not satisfy their souls, neither fill their bowels: because it hath been the stumbling-

20 block of their iniquity. As for the beauty of his ornament, <sup>9</sup>he set it in majesty: but they made the images of their abominations and their detestable things <sup>10</sup>therein: therefore have I made it unto them

21 as an unclean thing. And I will give it into the hands of the strangers for a prey, and to the wicked of the earth for a spoil; and they

22 shall profane it. My face will I turn also from them, and they shall profane my <sup>11</sup>secret place: and robbers shall enter into it, and profane it.

23 I. Make the chain: for the land is full of bloody crimes and the city is full of violence. Wherefore I will

24 bring the worst of the heathen, and they shall possess their houses: I will also make the pride of the strong to cease; and <sup>13</sup>their holy

25 places shall be profaned. <sup>14</sup>Destruction cometh; and they shall seek peace, and there shall be none.

26 Mischief shall come upon mischief, and rumour shall be upon rumour; and they shall seek a vision of the prophet: but the law shall perish from the priest, and counsel from the ancients. The king shall mourn,

27 and the prince shall be clothed with desolation, and the hands of the people of the land shall be troubled: I will do unto them after their way, and according to their deserts will I judge them; and they shall know that I am the LORD.

image of jealousy in the entry.
6 And he said unto me, Son of man, seest thou what they do? even the great abominations that the house of Israel do commit here, <sup>1</sup> that I should go far off from my sanctuary? but <sup>2</sup> thou shalt again see yet other great abominations. And he brought me to the door of the court; and when I looked, behold
8 a hole in the wall. Then said he unto me, Son of man, dig now in the wall; and when I had digged
9 in the wall, behold a door. And he said unto me, Go in, and see the wicked abominations that they do here. So I went in and saw; and behold every form of creeping things, and abominable beasts, and all the idols of the house of Israel, portrayed upon the wall round about.
11 And there stood before them seventy men of the elders of the house of Israel, and in the midst of them stood Jaazaniah the son of Shaphan, with every man his censer in his hand; and the odour of the cloud
12 of incense went up. Then said he unto me, Son of man, hast thou seen what the elders of the house of Israel do in the dark, every man in his chambers of images? for they say, The LORD seeth us not; the LORD hath forsaken the <sup>3</sup> earth.
13 He said also unto me, Thou shalt again see yet other great abomi-14 nations which they do. Then he brought me to the door of the gate of the LORD's house which was toward the north; and behold, there sat the women weeping for 15 Tammuz. Then said he unto me, Hast thou seen this, O son of man? thou shalt again see yet greater 16 abominations than these. And he brought me into the inner court of the LORD's house, and behold, at the door of the temple of the LORD, between the porch and the altar, were about five and twenty men, with their backs toward the temple of the LORD, and their faces toward the east; and they worshipped the sun toward the east.
17 Then he said unto me, Hast thou seen this, O son of man? Is it a light thing to the house of Judah that they commit the abominations which they commit here? for they have filled the land with violence, and have turned again to provoke me to anger: and lo, they put the 18 branch to their nose. Therefore will I also deal in fury: mine eye shall not spare, neither will I have pity: and though they cry in mine ears with a loud voice, yet will I not hear them.
9 Then he cried in mine ears with a loud voice, saying, <sup>4</sup> Cause ye them that have charge over the city to draw near, every man with his de-
2 stroying weapon in his hand. And behold, six men came from the way of the upper gate, which lieth toward the north, every man with his <sup>5</sup> slaughter weapon in his hand; and one man in the midst of them clothed in linen, with a writer's inkhorn <sup>6</sup> by his side. And they went in, and stood beside the brasen

3 altar. And the glory of the God of Israel was gone up from the cherub, whereupon it was, to the threshold of the house; and he called to the man clothed in linen, which had the writer's inkhorn <sup>6</sup> by his side.
4 And the LORD said unto him, Go through the midst of the city, through the midst of Jerusalem, and set a mark upon the foreheads of the men that sigh and that cry for all the abominations that be
5 done in the midst thereof. And to the others he said in mine hearing, Go ye through the city after him, and smite: let not your eye spare,
6 neither have ye pity: slay <sup>7</sup> utterly the old man, the young man and the maiden, and little children and women; but come not near any man upon whom is the mark; and begin at my sanctuary. Then they began at the <sup>8</sup> ancient men which
7 were before the house. And he said unto them, Defile the house, and fill the courts with the slain: go ye forth. And they went forth, and 8 smote in the city. And it came to pass, while they were smiting, and I was left, that I fell upon my face, and cried, and said, Ah LORD God! wilt thou destroy all the residue of Israel in thy pouring out of thy 9 fury upon Jerusalem? Then said he unto me, The iniquity of the house of Israel and Judah is exceeding great, and the land is full of blood, and the city full of <sup>9</sup> wresting of judgement: for they say, The LORD hath forsaken the <sup>3</sup> earth, 10 and the LORD seeth not. And as for me also, mine eye shall not spare, neither will I have pity, but I will bring their way upon their 11 head. And behold, the man clothed in linen, which had the inkhorn by his side, reported the matter, saying, I have done as thou hast commanded me.
10 Then I looked, and behold, in the firmament that was over the head of the cherubim, there appeared above them as it were a sapphire stone, as the appearance
2 of the likeness of a throne. And he spake unto the man clothed in linen, and said, Go in between the whirling wheels, even under the cherub, and fill both thine hands with coals of fire from between the cherubim, and <sup>10</sup> scatter them over the city. And he went in in my
3 sight. Now the cherubim stood on the right side of the house, when the man went in; and the cloud filled
4 the inner court. And the glory of the LORD mounted up from the cherub, and stood over the threshold of the house; and the house was filled with the cloud, and the court was full of the brightness of the LORD's glory.

5 And the sound of the wings of the cherubim was heard even to the outer court, as the voice of <sup>1</sup> God Almighty when he speak-
6 eth. And it came to pass, when he commanded the man clothed in linen, saying, Take fire from between the whirling wheels, from between the cherubim, that he went in, and stood beside a 7 wheel. And the cherub stretched forth his hand from between the cherubim unto the fire that was between the cherubim, and took thereof, and put it into the hands of him that was clothed in linen.
8 who took it and went out. And there appeared in the cherubim the form of a man's hand under 9 their wings. And I looked, and behold, four wheels beside the cherubim, one wheel beside one cherub, and another wheel beside another cherub: and the appearance of the wheels was <sup>2</sup> as the colour of a 10 <sup>3</sup> beryl stone. And as for their appearance, they four had one likeness, as if a wheel had been <sup>4</sup> with-
11 in a wheel. When they went, they went <sup>5</sup> upon their four sides: they turned not as they went, but to the place whither the head looked they followed it: they turned not as they 12 went. And their whole body, and their backs, and their hands, and their wings, and the wheels, were full of eyes round about, even the 13 wheels that they four had. As for the wheels, they were called in my 14 hearing, the whirling wheels. And every one had four faces: the first face was the face of the cherub, and the second face was the face of a man, and the third the face of a lion, and the fourth the face
15 of an eagle. And the cherubim mounted up: this is the living creature that I saw by the river Chebar.
16 And when the cherubim went, the wheels went beside them: and when the cherubim lifted up their wings to mount up from the earth, the wheels also turned not from beside 17 them. When they stood, these stood; and when they mounted up, these mounted up with them: for the spirit <sup>6</sup> of the living creature was 18 in them. And the glory of the Lord went forth from over the threshold of the house, and stood over the 19 cherubim. And the cherubim lifted up their wings, and mounted up from the earth in my sight when they went forth, and the wheels <sup>7</sup> beside them: and they stood at the door of the east gate of the Lord's house, and the glory of the God of Israel was over them above.
20 This is the living creature that I saw under the God of Israel by the river Chebar: and I knew that they 21 were cherubim. Every one had four faces apiece, and every one four wings, and the likeness of the hands of a man was under their 22 wings. And as for the likeness of their faces, they were the faces which I saw by the river Chebar: their appearances and themselves; they went every one straight forward.

11 Moreover the spirit lifted me up, and brought me unto the east gate of the Lord's house, which looketh eastward: and behold, at the door of the gate five and twenty men; and I saw in the midst of them Jaazaniah the son of Azzur, and Pelatiah the son of Benaiah, princes
2 of the people. And he said unto me, Son of man, these are the men that devise iniquity, and that give 3 wicked counsel in this city: which say, <sup>8</sup> The time is not near to build houses: this city is the caldron, and 4 we be the flesh. Therefore prophesy against them, prophesy, O son of 5 man. And the spirit of the Lord fell upon me, and he said unto me, Speak, Thus saith the Lord: Thus have ye said, O house of Israel; for I know the things that come 6 into your mind. Ye have multiplied your slain in this city, and ye have filled the streets thereof with the 7 slain. Therefore thus saith the Lord God: Your slain whom ye have laid in the midst of it, they are the flesh, and this city is the caldron: but <sup>9</sup> ye shall be brought 8 forth out of the midst of it. Ye have feared the sword; and I will bring the sword upon you, saith
9 the Lord God. And I will bring you forth out of the midst thereof, and deliver you into the hands of strangers, and will execute judgements
10 among you. Ye shall fall by the sword: I will judge you in the border of Israel: and ye shall know 11 that I am the Lord. This city shall not be your caldron, neither shall ye be the flesh in the midst thereof: I will judge you in the border of 12 Israel: and ye shall know that I am the Lord: for ye have not walked in my statutes, neither have ye executed my judgements, but have done after the <sup>10</sup> ordinances of the nations that are round about 13 you. And it came to pass, when I prophesied, that Pelatiah the son of Benaiah died. Then fell I down upon my face, and cried with a loud voice, and said, Ah Lord God! wilt thou make a full end of the remnant of Israel?
14 And the word of the Lord came
15 unto me, saying, Son of man, thy brethren, even thy brethren, the men of thy <sup>11</sup> kindred, and all the house of Israel, all of them, are they unto whom the inhabitants of Jerusalem have said, Get you far from the Lord: unto us is this land
16 given for a possession: therefore say, Thus saith the Lord God: Whereas I have removed them far off among the nations, and whereas I have scattered them among the countries, yet will I be to them a sanctuary for a little while in the countries where they are

And they shall come thither, and they shall take away all the detestable things thereof and all the abominations thereof from thence. And I will give them one heart, and I will put a new spirit within you; and I will take the stony heart out of their flesh, and will give them an heart of flesh: that they may walk in my statutes, and keep mine ordinances, and do them: and they shall be my people, and I will be their God.

21 But as for them whose heart walketh after the heart of their detestable things and their abominations, I will bring their way upon their own heads, saith the Lord God.

22 Then did the cherubim lift up their wings, and the wheels were<sup>1</sup> beside them; and the glory of the God of Israel was over them above. And the glory of the Lord went up from the midst of the city, and stood upon the mountain which is on the east side of the city. And the spirit lifted me up, and brought me in the vision by the spirit of God into Chaldea, to them of the captivity. So the vision that I had seen went up from me. Then I spake unto them of the captivity all the things that the Lord had shewed me.

12 The word of the Lord also came unto me, saying, Son of man, thou dwellest in the midst of the rebellious house, which have eyes to see, and see not, which have ears to hear, and hear not; for they are a rebellious house. Therefore, thou son of man, prepare thee stuff for removing, and remove by day in their sight: and thou shalt remove from thy place to another place in their sight: it may be they will consider, though they be a rebellious house.

4 And thou shalt bring forth thy stuff by day in their sight, as stuff for removing: and thou shalt go forth thyself at even in their sight, as when men go forth into exile. Dig thou through the wall in their sight, and carry out thereby. In their sight shalt thou bear it upon thy shoulder, and carry it forth in the dark: thou shalt cover thy face, that thou see not the ground: for I have set thee for a sign unto the house of Israel.

7 And I did so as I was commanded: I brought forth my stuff by day, as stuff for removing, and in the even I digged through the wall with mine hand; I brought it forth in the dark, and bare it upon my shoulder in their sight. And in the morning came the word of the Lord unto me, saying, Son of man, hath not the house of Israel, the rebellious house, said unto thee, What doest thou? Say thou unto them, Thus saith the Lord God: This burden concerneth the prince in Jerusalem, and all the house of Israel among whom they are. Say, I am your sign: like as I have done, so shall it be done unto them: they shall go into exile, into captivity.

12 And the prince that is among them shall bear upon his shoulder in the dark, and shall go forth: they shall dig through the wall to carry out thereby: he shall cover his face, because he shall not see the ground with his eyes. My net also will I spread upon him, and he shall be taken in my snare: and I will bring him to Babylon to the land of the Chaldeans; yet shall he not see it, though he shall die there. And I will scatter toward every wind all that are round about him to help him, and all his bands; and I will draw out the sword after them.

15 And they shall know that I am the Lord, when I shall disperse them among the nations, and scatter them through the countries. But I will leave a few men of them from the sword, from the famine, and from the pestilence: that they may declare all their abominations among the nations whither they come; and they shall know that I am the Lord.

17 Moreover the word of the Lord came to me, saying, Son of man, eat thy bread with quaking, and drink thy water with trembling and with carefulness; and say unto the people of the land, Thus saith the Lord God concerning the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and the land of Israel: They shall eat their bread with carefulness, and drink their water with astonishment, that her land may be desolate from fall that is therein, because of the violence of all them that dwell therein. And the cities that are inhabited shall be laid waste, and the land shall be a desolation; and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

21 And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying, Son of man, what is this proverb that ye have in the land of Israel, saying, The days are prolonged, and every vision faileth? Tell them therefore, Thus saith the Lord God: I will make this proverb to cease, and they shall no more use it as a proverb in Israel; but say unto them, The days are at hand, and the effect of every vision.

24 For there shall be no more any vain vision nor flattering divination within the house of Israel.

25 For I am the Lord: I will speak, and the word that I shall speak shall be performed: it shall be no more deferred: for in your days, O rebellious house, will I speak the word, and will perform it, saith the Lord God.

27 to me, saying, Son of man, behold, they of the house of Israel say, The vision that he seeth is for many days to come, and he prophesieth of times that are far off. Therefore say unto them, Thus saith the Lord God: There shall none of my words be deferred any more, but the word which I shall speak shall be performed, saith the Lord God.

13 And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying, Son of man, prophesy against the prophets of Israel that prophesy, and say thou unto them that prophesy out of their own heart. Hear ye the word of the Lord: Thus saith the Lord God: Woe unto the foolish prophets, that follow their own spirit,

4 and have seen nothing! O Israel, thy prophets have been like foxes in the waste places. Ye have not gone up into the camps, neither made up the fence for the house of Israel, to stand in the battle in the day of the Lord. They have seen vanity and lying divination, that say, The Lord saith; and the Lord hath not sent them: and they have made men to hope that the word should be confirmed. Have ye not seen a vain vision, and have ye not spoken a lying divination, whereas ye say, The Lord saith; albeit I have not spoken?

6 Therefore thus saith the Lord God: Because ye have spoken vanity, and seen lies, therefore, behold, I am against you, saith the Lord God. And mine hand shall be against the prophets that see vanity, and that divine lies: they shall not be in the council of my people, neither shall they be written in the writing of the house of Israel, neither shall they enter into the land of Israel; and ye shall know that I am the Lord God. Because, even because they have seduced my people, saying, Peace; and there is no peace; and when one buildeth up a wall, behold, they daub it with untempered mortar: say unto them which daub it with untempered mortar, that it shall fall: there shall be an overflowing shower; and ye, O great hailstones, shall fall; and a stormy wind shall rend it.

12 I, when the wall is fallen, shall it not be said unto you, Where is the daubing wherewith ye have daubed it? Therefore thus saith the Lord God: I will even rend it with a stormy wind in my fury; and there shall be an overflowing shower in mine anger, and great hailstones in fury to consume it.

13 So will I break down the wall that ye have daubed with untempered mortar, and bring it down to the ground, so that the foundation thereof shall be discovered: and it shall fall, and ye shall be consumed in the midst thereof, and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

14 Then came certain of the elders of Israel unto me, and sat before me. And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying, Son of man, these men have taken their idols into their heart, and put the stumblingblock of their iniquity before their face: should I be inquired of at all by them? Therefore speak unto them, and say unto them, Thus saith the Lord God: Every man of the house of Israel that taketh his idols into his heart, and putteth the stumblingblock of his iniquity before his face, and cometh to the prophet, I the Lord will answer him therein according to the multitude of his idols: that I may take the house of Israel in their own heart, because they are all estranged from me through their idols. Therefore say unto the house of Israel, Thus saith the Lord God: Return ye, and turn yourselves from your idols; and turn away your faces from all your abominations. For

15 Thus will I accomplish my fury upon the wall, and upon them that have daubed it with untempered mortar; and I will say unto you, The wall is no more, neither they that daubed it: to wit, the prophets of Israel which prophesy concerning Jerusalem, and which see visions of peace for her, and there is no peace, saith the Lord God.

17 And thou, son of man, set thy face against the daughters of thy people, which prophesy out of their own heart; and prophesy thou against them, and say, Thus saith the Lord God: Woe to the women that sew pillows upon all elbows, and make kerchiefs for the head of persons of every stature to hunt souls! Will ye hunt the souls of my people, and save souls alive for yourselves? And ye have profaned me among my people for handfuls of barley and for pieces of bread, to slay the souls that should not die, and to save the souls alive that should not live, by your lying to my people that hearken unto lies.

20 Wherefore thus saith the Lord God: Behold, I am against your pillows, wherewith ye there hunt the souls to make them fly, and I will tear them from your arms; and I will let the souls go, even the souls that ye hunt to make them fly. Your kerchiefs also will I tear, and deliver my people out of your hand, and they shall be no more in your hand to be hunted; and ye shall know that I am the Lord. Because with lies ye have grieved the heart of the righteous, whom I have not made sad; and strengthened the hands of the wicked, that he should not return from his wicked way, and be saved alive; therefore ye shall no more see vanity, nor divine divinations: and I will deliver my people out of your hand; and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

22 Then came certain of the elders of Israel unto me, and sat before me. And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying, Son of man, these men have taken their idols into their heart, and put the stumblingblock of their iniquity before their face: should I be inquired of at all by them? Therefore speak unto them, and say unto them, Thus saith the Lord God: Every man of the house of Israel that taketh his idols into his heart, and putteth the stumblingblock of his iniquity before his face, and cometh to the prophet, I the Lord will answer him therein according to the multitude of his idols: that I may take the house of Israel in their own heart, because they are all estranged from me through their idols. Therefore say unto the house of Israel, Thus saith the Lord God: Return ye, and turn yourselves from your idols; and turn away your faces from all your abominations. For 21 ye hunt to make them fly. Your kerchiefs also will I tear, and deliver my people out of your hand, and they shall be no more in your hand to be hunted; and ye shall know that I am the Lord. every one of the house of Israel, or of the strangers that sojourn in Israel, which separateth himself from me, and taketh his idols into his heart, and putteth the stumblingblock of his iniquity before his face, and cometh to the prophet to inquire <sup>1</sup>for himself of me; I the LORD will answer him by myself: and I will set my face against that man, and will make him an astonishment, for a sign and a proverb, and I will cut him off from the midst of my people; and ye shall know that I am the LORD.

9 And if the prophet be <sup>2</sup>deceived and speaketh a word, I the LORD have deceived that prophet, and I will stretch out my hand upon him, and will destroy him from the midst of my people Israel. And they shall bear <sup>3</sup>their iniquity: the iniquity of the prophet shall be even as the iniquity of him that seeketh unto

11 him; that the house of Israel may go no more astray from me, neither defile themselves any more with all their transgressions; but that they may be my people, and I may be their God, saith the Lord God.

12 And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, Son of man, when a land sinneth against me by committing a trespass, and I stretch out mine hand upon it, and break the staff of the bread thereof, and send famine upon it, and cut off from it man and beast; though these three men, Noah, Daniel, and Job, were in it, they should deliver but their own souls by their righteousness, saith the Lord God. If I cause noisome beasts to pass through the land, and they <sup>4</sup>spoil it, so that it be desolate, that no man may pass through because of the beasts; though these three men were in it, as I live, saith the Lord God, they shall deliver neither sons nor daughters; they only shall be delivered, but the land shall be desolate. Or if I bring a sword upon that land, and say, <sup>5</sup>Sword, go through the land; so that I cut off from it man and beast; though these three men were in it, as I live, saith the Lord God, they shall deliver neither sons nor daughters, but they only shall be delivered themselves. Or if I send a pestilence into that land, and pour out my fury upon it in blood, to cut off from it man and beast: though Noah, Daniel, and Job, were in it, as I live, saith the Lord God, they shall deliver neither son nor daughter; they shall but deliver their own souls by their righteousness. For thus saith the Lord God: How much more when I send my four sore judgements upon Jerusalem, the sword, and the famine, and the noisome beasts, and the pestilence, to cut off from it man and beast? Yet, behold, there shall be left <sup>6</sup>a remnant that shall be carried forth, both sons and daughters: behold, they shall come forth unto you, and ye shall see their way and their doings: and ye shall be comforted concerning the evil that I have brought upon Jerusalem, even concerning all that I have brought upon it. And they shall comfort you, when ye see their way and their doings: and ye shall know that I have not done without cause all that I have done in it, saith the Lord God.

15 And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, Son of man, what is the vine tree more than any tree, the vine branch which <sup>8</sup>is among the trees of the forest? Shall wood be taken thereof to make any work? or will men take a pin of it to hang any vessel thereon? Behold, it is cast into the fire for fuel: the fire hath devoured both the ends of it, and the midst of it is burned; is it profitable for any work? Behold, when it was whole, it was <sup>9</sup>meet for no work: how much less, when the fire hath devoured it, and it is burned, shall it yet be <sup>9</sup>meet for any work? Therefore thus saith the Lord God: As the vine tree among the trees of the forest, which I have given to the fire for fuel, so <sup>10</sup>will I give the inhabitants of Jerusalem. And I will set my face against them; they <sup>11</sup>shall go forth from the fire, but the fire shall devour them; and ye shall know that I am the LORD, when I set my face against them. And I will make the land desolate, because they have committed a trespass, saith the Lord God.

16 Again the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, Son of man, cause Jerusalem to know her abominations, and say, Thus saith the Lord God unto Jerusalem: <sup>12</sup>Thy birth and thy nativity is of the land of the Canaanite; the Amorite was thy father, and thy mother was an Hittite. And as for thy nativity, in the day thou wast born thy navel was not cut, neither wast thou washed in water to cleanse thee; thou wast not salted at all. Nor swaddled at all. None eye pitied thee, to do any of these unto thee, to have compassion upon thee; but thou wast cast out in the open field, for that thy person was abhorred, in the day that thou wast born.

6 And when I passed by thee, and saw thee weltering in thy blood, I said unto thee, Though thou art in thy blood, live; yea, I said unto thee, Though thou art in thy blood, live. I <sup>13</sup>caused thee to multiply as the bud of the field, and thou didst increase and wax great, and thou attainedst to <sup>14</sup>excellent ornament: thy breasts were fashioned, and thine hair was grown; yet thou wast naked and bare. thee, and covered thy nakedness: yea, I sware unto thee, and entered into a covenant with thee, saith the Lord God, and thou becamest mine. Then washed I thee with water; yea, I thoroughly washed away thy blood from thee, and I anointed thee with oil. I clothed thee also with brodered work, and shod thee with sealskin, and I girded thee about with fine linen, and covered thee with silk. I decked thee also with ornaments, and I put bracelets upon thy hands, and a chain on thy neck. And I put a ring upon thy nose, and earrings in thine ears, and a beautiful crown upon thine head. Thus wast thou decked with gold and silver; and thy raiment was of fine linen, and silk, and brodered work; thou didst eat fine flour, and honey, and oil, and thou wast exceeding beautiful, and thou didst prosper unto royal estate. And thy renown went forth among the nations for thy beauty; for it was perfect, through my majesty which I had put upon thee, saith the Lord God.

But thou didst trust in thy beauty, and playedst the harlot because of thy renown, and pouredst out thy whoredoms on every one that passed by; his it was. And thou didst take of thy garments, and madest for thee high places decked with divers colours, and playedst the harlot upon them: the life things shall not come, neither shall it be so. Then didst also take thy fair jewels of my gold and of my silver, which I had given thee, and madest for thee images of men, and didst play the harlot with them; and thou tookest thy brodered garments, and coveredst them, and didst set mine oil and mine incense before them. My bread also which I gave thee, fine flour, and oil, and honey, wherewith I fed thee, thou didst even set it before them for a sweet savour, and thus it was; saith the Lord God. Moreover thou hast taken thy sons and thy daughters, whom thou hast borne unto me, and these hast thou sacrificed unto them to be devoured. Were thy whoredoms a small matter, that thou hast slain my children, and delivered them up, in causing them to pass through the fire unto them? And in all thine abominations and thy whoredoms thou hast not remembered the days of thy youth, when thou wast naked and bare, and wast weltering in thy blood. And it is come to pass after all thy wickedness, (woe, woe unto thee! saith the Lord God,) that thou hast built unto thee an eminent place, and hast made thee a lofty place in every street. Thou hast built thy lofty place at every head of the way, and hast made thy beauty an abomination, and hast opened thy feet to every one that passed by, and multiplied thy whoredom. Thou hast also committed fornication with the Egyptians, thy neighbours great of flesh; and hast multiplied thy whoredom, to provoke me to anger. Behold, therefore, I have stretched out my hand over thee, and have diminished thine ordinary food, and delivered thee unto the will of them that hate thee, the daughters of the Philistines, which are ashamed of thy lewd way. Thou hast played the harlot also with the Assyrians, because thou wast unsatiable; yea, thou hast played the harlot with them, and yet thou wast not satisfied. Thou hast moreover multiplied thy whoredom in the land of Canaan, unto Chaldea; and yet thou wast not satisfied herewith.

How weak is thine heart, saith the Lord God, seeing thou doest all these things, the work of an impenitent whorish woman; in that thou buildest thine eminent place in the head of every way, and makest thy lofty place in every street; and hast not been as an harlot, who in that thou seemest hire, a wife that committeth adultery, that taketh strangers instead of her husband! They give gifts to all harlots; but thou gavest thy gifts to all thy lovers, and brabest them that they may come unto thee on every side for thy whoredoms. And the contrary is in thee from other women in thy whoredoms, in that none followeth thee to commit whoredom; and whereas thou givest hire, and no hire is given unto thee, therefore thou art contrary.

Wherefore O harlot hear the word of the Lord: Thus saith the Lord God, Because thou hast been proud, and thy nakedness discovered through thy whoredoms with thy lovers; and because of all the idols of thy abominations, and for the blood of thy children, which thou didst give unto them; therefore behold, I will gather all thy lovers, with whom thou hast taken pleasure, and all them that thou hast loved, with all them that thou hast hated; I will even gather them against thee on every side, and will discover thy nakedness unto them, that they may see all thy nakedness. And I will judge thee, as women that break wedlock and shed blood are judged; and I will bring upon thee the blood of fury and jealousy. I will also give thee into their hand, and they shall throw down thine eminent place, and break down thy lofty places, and they shall strip thee of thy clothes, and take thy fair jewels: and they shall leave thee naked and bare. They shall also bring up an assembly against thee, and they shall stone thee with stones, and thrust thee through with their swords. And they shall burn thine houses with fire, and execute judgements upon thee in the sight of many women; and I will cause thee to cease from playing the harlot, and thou shalt also give no hire any more. So will I <sup>1</sup>satisfy my fury <sup>2</sup>upon thee, and my jealousy shall depart from thee, and I will be quiet, and will be no more angry. Because thou hast not remembered the days of thy youth, but hast fretted me in all these things; therefore behold, I also will bring thy way upon thine head, saith the Lord God: and <sup>3</sup>thou shalt not commit this lewdness above all thine abominations.

44 Behold, every one that useth proverbs shall use this proverb against thee, saying, As is the mother, so is her daughter. Thou art thy mother's daughter, that loatheth her husband and her children; and thou art the sister of thy sisters, which loathed their husbands and their children: your mother was an Hittite, and your father an Amorite. And thine elder sister is Samaria, that dwelleth at thy left hand, she and her daughters: and thy younger sister, that dwelleth at thy right hand, is Sodom and her daughters. Yet hast thou not walked in their ways, nor done after their abominations; but, as if that were a very little thing, thou wast more corrupt than they in all thy ways. As I live, saith the Lord God, Sodom thy sister hath not done, she nor her daughters, as thou hast done, thou and thy daughters. 49 Behold, this was the iniquity of thy sister Sodom; pride, fulness of bread, and prosperous ease was in her and in her daughters; neither did she strengthen the hand of the 50 poor and needy. And they were haughty, and committed abomination before me; therefore I took 51 them away <sup>4</sup>as I saw good. Neither hath Samaria committed half of thy sins; but thou hast multiplied thine abominations more than they, and hast justified thy sisters by all thine abominations which thou hast 52 done. Thou also, bear thine own shame, in that thou hast given judgement for thy <sup>5</sup>sisters; through thy sins that thou hast committed more abominable than they, they are more righteous than thou: yea, be thou also confounded, and bear thy shame, in that thou hast justified 53 thy sisters. And I will <sup>6</sup>turn again their captivity, the captivity of Sodom and her daughters, and the captivity of Samaria and her daughters, and the captivity of thy 54 captives in the midst of them: that thou mayest bear thine own shame, and mayest be ashamed because of all that thou hast done, in that 55 thou art a comfort unto them. And thy sisters, Sodom and her daughters, shall return to their former estate, and Samaria and her daughters shall return to their former estate, and thou and thy daughters shall return to your former estate. 56 For thy sister Sodom was not mentioned by thy mouth in the day of thy pride; before thy wickedness was discovered, as at the time of the reproach of the daughters of Syria, and of all that are round about her, the daughters of the Philistines, which do despite unto 58 thee round about. Thou hast borne thy lewdness and thine abominations, saith the Lord. For thus saith the Lord God: I will even deal with thee as thou hast done, which hast despised the oath in 60 breaking the covenant. Nevertheless I will remember my covenant with thee in the days of thy youth, and I will establish unto thee an 61 everlasting covenant. Then shalt thou remember thy ways, and be ashamed, when thou shalt receive thy sisters, thine elder sisters and thy younger: and I will give them unto thee for daughters, but not 62 by thy covenant. And I will establish my covenant with thee; and thou shalt know that I am the 63 LORD: that thou mayest remember, and be confounded, and never open thy mouth any more, because of thy shame; when I have forgiven thee all that thou hast done, saith the Lord God.

17 And the word of the Lord came 2 unto me, saying, Son of man, put forth a riddle, and speak a parable 3 unto the house of Israel: and say, Thus saith the Lord God: A great eagle with great wings and long pinions, full of feathers, which had divers colours, came unto Lebanon, 4 and took the top of the cedar: he cropped off the topmost of the young twigs thereof, and carried it into <sup>7</sup>a land of traffic; he set 5 it in a city of merchants. He took also of the seed of the land, and planted it in <sup>8</sup>a fruitful soil; he placed it beside <sup>9</sup>many waters; he 6 set it as a willow tree. And it grew, and became a spreading vine of low stature, whose branches turned toward him, and the roots thereof were under him: so it became a vine, and brought forth branches, 7 and shot forth sprigs. There was also another great eagle with great wings and many feathers: and, behold, this vine did bend its roots toward him, and shot forth its branches toward him, from the beds of its plantation, that he 8 might water it. It was planted in a good <sup>10</sup>soil by <sup>9</sup>many waters, that it might bring forth branches, and that it might bear fruit, that it might 9 be a goodly vine. Say thou, Thus saith the Lord God: Shall it prosper? shall he not pull up the roots thereof, and cut off the fruit thereof, that it may wither; that all its fresh springing leaves may wither; even without great power or much 11 people to pluck it up by the roots

11 Moreover the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, Say now to the rebellious house, Know ye not what these things mean? tell them, Behold, the king of Babylon came to Jerusalem, and took the king thereof, and the princes thereof, and brought them to him to Babylon; and he took of the seed royal, and made a covenant with him; he also brought him under an oath, and took away the mighty

14 of the land: that the kingdom might be <sup>1</sup>base, that it might not lift itself up, but that by keeping of his covenant it might stand. But he rebelled against him in sending his ambassadors into Egypt, that they might give him horses and much people. Shall he prosper? shall he escape that doeth such things? shall he break the covenant, and yet escape? As I live,

16 saith the Lord God, surely in the place where the king dwelleth that made him king, whose oath he despised, and whose covenant he brake, even with him in the midst of Babylon he shall die. Neither shall Pharaoh with his mighty army and great company make for him in the war, when they cast up mounds and build forts, to cut off many

18 persons. For he hath despised the oath by breaking the covenant; and behold, he had given his hand, and yet hath done all these things;

19 he shall not escape. Therefore thus saith the Lord God: As I live, surely mine oath that he hath despised, and my covenant that he hath broken, I will even bring it upon his own head. And I will spread my net upon him, and he shall be taken in my snare, and I will bring him to Babylon, and will plead with him there for his trespass that he hath trespassed against me. And all his fugitives in all his bands shall fall by the sword, and they that remain shall be scattered toward every wind: and ye shall know that I the Lord have spoken it.

20 upon his own head. And I will spread my net upon him, and he shall be taken in my snare, and I will bring him to Babylon, and will plead with him there for his trespass that he hath trespassed against me. And all his fugitives in all his bands shall fall by the sword, and they that remain shall be scattered toward every wind: and ye shall know that I the Lord have spoken it.

22 Thus saith the Lord God: I will also take of the lofty top of the cedar, and will set it; I will crop off from the topmost of his young twigs a tender one, and I will plant it upon an high mountain and eminent: in the mountain of the height of Israel will I plant it: and it shall bring forth boughs, and bear fruit, and be a goodly cedar: and under it shall dwell all fowl of every wing; in the shadow of the branches thereof shall they

24 dwell. And all the trees of the field shall know that I the Lord have brought down the high tree, have exalted the low tree, have dried up the green tree, and have made the dry tree to flourish: I the Lord have spoken and have done it.

18 The word of the Lord came unto

2 me again, saying, What mean ye, that ye use this proverb <sup>2</sup>concerning the land of Israel, saying, The fathers have eaten sour grapes, and the children's teeth are set on edge?

3 As I live, saith the Lord God, ye shall not have occasion any more to use this proverb in Israel. Behold, all souls are mine; as the soul of the father, so also the soul of the son is mine: the soul that

5 sinneth, it shall die. But if a man be just, and do <sup>3</sup>that which is lawful and right, and hath not eaten upon the mountains, neither hath lifted up his eyes to the idols of the house of Israel, neither hath defiled his neighbour's wife, neither hath come near to a woman in her

7 separation; and hath not wronged any, but hath restored to the debtor his pledge, hath spoiled none by violence, hath given his bread to the hungry, and hath covered the

8 naked with a garment; he that hath not given forth upon usury, neither hath taken any increase, that hath withdrawn his hand from iniquity, hath executed true judge-

9 ment between man and man, hath walked in my statutes, and hath kept my judgements, to deal truly; he is just, he shall surely live, saith the Lord God. If he beget a son that is a robber, a shedder of blood, and <sup>4</sup>that doeth any one of these

11 things, and that doeth not any of those duties, but even hath eaten upon the mountains, and defiled his neighbour's wife, hath wronged the poor and needy, hath spoiled by violence, hath not restored the

13 pledge, and hath lifted up his eyes to the idols, hath committed abomination, hath given forth upon usury, and hath taken increase: shall he then live? he shall not live: he hath done all these abominations: he shall surely <sup>5</sup>die; his blood shall

15 be upon him. Now, lo, if he beget a son, that seeth all his father's sins, which he hath done, and <sup>6</sup>fear-eth, and doeth not such like, that hath not eaten upon the mountains, neither hath lifted up his eyes to the idols of the house of Israel, hath not defiled his neighbour's wife, neither hath wronged any, hath not taken ought to pledge, neither hath spoiled by violence, but hath given his bread to the hungry, and hath covered the naked

17 with a garment, that hath withdrawn his hand from the poor, that hath not received usury nor increase, hath executed my judgements, hath walked in my statutes; he shall not die for the iniquity of his father, he shall surely live.

When the son hath done that which is lawful and right, and hath kept all my statutes, and hath done them, he shall surely live. The soul that sinneth, it shall die: the son shall not bear the iniquity of the father, neither shall the father bear the iniquity of the son: the righteousness of the righteous shall be upon him, and the wickedness of the wicked shall be upon him. But if the wicked turn from all his sins that he hath committed, and keep all my statutes, and do that which is lawful and right, he shall surely live, he shall not die. None of his transgressions that he hath committed shall be remembered against him: in his righteousness that he hath done he shall live. Have I any pleasure in the death of the wicked? saith the Lord God: and not rather that he should return from his way, and live? But when the righteous turneth away from his righteousness, and committeth iniquity, and doeth according to all the abominations that the wicked man doeth, shall he live? None of his righteous deeds that he hath done shall be remembered: in his trespass that he hath transgressed, and in his sin that he hath sinned, in them shall he die. Yet ye say, The way of the Lord is not equal. Hear now, O house of Israel: Is not my way equal? are not your ways unequal? When the righteous man turneth away from his righteousness, and committeth iniquity, <sup>2</sup> and dieth <sup>3</sup> therein; <sup>1</sup> in his iniquity that he hath done shall he die. Again, when the wicked man turneth away from his wickedness that he hath committed, and doeth that which is lawful and right, he shall save his soul alive. Because he considereth, and turneth away from all his transgressions that he hath committed, he shall surely live, he shall not die. Yet saith the house of Israel, The way of the Lord is not equal. O house of Israel, are not my ways equal? are not your ways unequal? Therefore I will judge you, O house of Israel, every one according to his ways, saith the Lord God. Return ye, and turn yourselves from all your transgressions; <sup>4</sup> so iniquity shall not be your <sup>5</sup> ruin. Cast away from you all your transgressions, wherein ye have transgressed; and make you a new heart and a new spirit: for why will ye die, O house of Israel? For I have no pleasure in the death of him that dieth, saith the Lord God: wherefore turn yourselves, and live.

A lioness: she couched among lions, in the midst of the young lions she nourished her whelps. And she brought up one of her whelps; he became a young lion: and he learned to catch the prey, he devoured men. The nations also heard of him; he was taken in their pit: and they brought him with hooks unto the land of Egypt. Now when she saw that she had waited, and her hope was lost, then she took another of her whelps, and made him a young lion. And he went up and down among the lions, he became a young lion: and he learned to catch the prey, he devoured men. And he knew their <sup>6</sup> palaces, and laid waste their cities; and the land was desolate, and the fulness thereof, because of the noise of his roaring. Then the nations set against him on every side from the provinces: and they spread their net over him; he was taken in their pit. And they put him in a cage with hooks, and brought him to the king of Babylon; they brought him into strong holds, that his voice should no more be heard upon the mountains of Israel.

Thy mother was like a vine, <sup>7</sup> in thy blood, planted by the waters: she was fruitful and full of branches by reason of many waters. And she had strong rods for the sceptres of them that bare rule, and <sup>8</sup> their stature was exalted among the <sup>9</sup> thick boughs, and <sup>10</sup> they were seen in <sup>8</sup> their height with the multitude of <sup>8</sup> their branches. But she was plucked up in fury, she was cast down to the ground, and the east wind dried up her fruit: her strong rods were broken off and withered; the fire consumed them. And now she is planted in the wilderness, in a dry and thirsty land. And fire is gone out of <sup>11</sup> the rods of her branches, it hath devoured her fruit, so that there is in her no strong rod to be a sceptre to rule. This is a lamentation, and shall be for a lamentation.

11 Or, a rod

20 And it came to pass in the seventh year, in the fifth month, the tenth day of the month, that certain of the elders of Israel came to inquire of the Lord, and sat before me. And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying, Son of man, speak unto the elders of Israel, and say unto them, Thus saith the Lord God: Are ye come to inquire of me? As I live, saith the Lord God, I will not be inquired of by you. Wilt thou judge them, son of man, wilt thou judge them? cause them to know the abominations of their fathers; and say unto them, Thus saith the Lord God: In the day when I chose Israel, and lifted up mine hand unto the seed of the house of Jacob, and made myself known unto them in the land of Egypt, when I lifted up mine hand unto them, saying, I am the LORD 6 your God: in that day I lifted up mine hand unto them, to bring them forth out of the land of Egypt into a land that I had espied for them, flowing with milk and honey, which is the glory of all 7 lands: and I said unto them, Cast ye away every man the abominations of his eyes, and defile not yourselves with the idols of Egypt:

 8 I am the LORD your God. But they rebelled against me, and would not hearken unto me; they did not every man cast away the abominations of their eyes, neither did they forsake the idols of Egypt: then
 I said I would pour out my fury
 upon them, to accomplish my anger against them in the midst of the 9 land of Egypt. But I wrought for my name's sake, that it should not be profaned in the sight of the nations, among whom they were, in whose sight I made myself known unto them, in bringing them forth 10 out of the land of Egypt. So I caused them to go forth out of the land of Egypt, and brought them into 11 the wilderness. And I gave them my statutes, and I showed them my judgements, which if a man do, 12 he shall live <sup>2</sup> in them. Moreover also I gave them my sabbaths, to be a sign between me and them, that they might know that <sup>3</sup> I am 13 the LORD that sanctify them. But the house of Israel rebelled against me in the wilderness: they walked not in my statutes, and they rejected my judgements, which if a man do, he shall live <sup>2</sup> in them; and my sabbaths they greatly profaned:
 then I said I would pour out my fury upon them in the wilderness, 14 to consume them. But I wrought for my name's sake, that it should not be profaned in the sight of the nations, in whose sight I brought 15 them out. Moreover also I lifted up my hand unto them in the wilderness, that I would not bring them into the land which I had given them, flowing with milk and honey, which is the glory of all 16 lands: because they rejected my judgements, and walked not in my statutes, and profaned my sabbaths:
 for their heart went after their 17 idols. Nevertheless mine eye spared them from destroying them, neither did I make a full end of them in 18 the wilderness. And I said unto their children in the wilderness, Walk ye not in the statutes of your fathers, neither observe their judg-19 ments, nor defile yourselves with their idols: I am the LORD your God: walk in my statutes, and keep 20 my judgements, and do them; and hallow my sabbaths; and they shall be a sign between me and you, that ye may know that I am the 21 LORD your God. But the children rebelled against me; they walked not in my statutes, neither kept my judgements to do them, which if a man do, he shall live <sup>2</sup> in them;

 they profaned my sabbaths: then
 I said I would pour out my fury
 upon them, to accomplish my anger
 against them in the wilderness.
 22 Nevertheless I withdrew mine hand,
 and wrought for my name's sake, that it should not be profaned in the sight of the nations, in whose 23 sight I brought them forth. Moreover I lifted up mine hand unto them in the wilderness, that I would scatter them among the nations, and disperse them through the coun-24 tries: because they had not executed my judgements, but had rejected my statutes, and had profaned my sabbaths, and their eyes 25 were after the fathers' idols. Moreover also I gave them statutes that were not good, and judgements 26 <sup>4</sup> wherein they should not live; and I polluted them in their own gifts, in that they caused to pass through the fire all that I commanded them to do, that I might make them desolate, to the end that they might know that I am the LORD.
 27 Therefore, son of man, speak unto the house of Israel, and say unto them, Thus saith the Lord God: In this moreover have your fathers blasphemed me, in that they have committed a trespass against me.
 28 For when I had brought them into the land, which I lifted up mine hand to give unto them, then they <sup>5</sup> saw every high hill and every thick tree, and they offered there their sacrifices, and there they presented the provocation of their offering, there also they made their sweet savour, and they poured out there their 29 drink offerings. Then I said unto them, What meaneth the high; place <sup>7</sup> whereunto ye go? So the name thereof is called Panah unto this 30 day. Wherefore say unto the house of Israel, Thus saith the Lord God:
 Do ye pollute yourselves after the manner of your fathers? and go ye a whoring after their abominations?
 31 and when ye offer your gifts, when ye make your sons to pass through the fire, do ye pollute yourselves with all your idols, unto this day?
 and shall I be inquired of by you,
 O house of Israel? As I live, saith the Lord God, I will not be inquired 32 of by you: and that which cometh into your mind shall not be at all;
 in that ye say, We will be as the nations as the families of the coun-33 tries, to serve wood and stone. As I live saith the Lord God, surely with a mighty hand, and with a stretched out arm, and with fury 34 poured out, will I be king over you:
 and I will bring you out from the peoples and will gather you out of the countries wherein ye are scat-35 tered, with a mighty hand, and with a stretched out arm, and with fury poured out: and I will bring you in-

there will I plead with you face to face. Like as I pleaded with your fathers in the wilderness of the land of Egypt, so will I plead with you, saith the Lord God. And I will cause you to pass under the rod, and I will bring you into the bond of the covenant; and I will purge out from among you the rebels, and them that transgress against me: I will bring them forth out of the land where they sojourn, but they shall not enter into the land of Israel: and ye shall know that I am the Lord. As for you, O house of Israel, thus saith the Lord God: Go ye, serve every one his idols, and hereafter also, if ye will not hearken unto me: but my holy name shall ye no more profane with your gifts, and with your idols. For in mine holy mountain, in the mountain of the height of Israel, saith the Lord God, there shall all the house of Israel, all of them, serve me in the land: there will I accept them, and there will I require your offerings, and the 2 firstfruits of your 3 oblations, with all your holy things. 4 As a sweet savour will I accept you, when I bring you out from the peoples, and gather you out of the countries whither ye have been scattered; and I will be sanctified in you in the sight of the nations. And ye shall know that I am the Lord, when I shall bring you into the land of Israel, into the country which I lifted up mine hand to give unto your fathers. And there shall ye remember your ways, and all your doings, wherein ye have polluted yourselves; and ye shall loathe yourselves in your own sight for all your evils that ye have committed. And ye shall know that I am the Lord, when I have wrought with you for my name's sake, not according to your evil ways, nor according to your corrupt doings, O ye house of Israel, saith the Lord God.

45 And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying, Son of man, set thy face toward the south, and drop thy word toward the south, and prophesy against the forest of the field in the South; and say to the forest of the South, Hear the word of the Lord: Thus saith the Lord God: Behold, I will kindle a fire in thee, and it shall devour every green tree in thee, and every dry tree: the flaming flame shall not be quenched, and all faces from the south to the north shall be burnt thereby.

48 And all flesh shall see that I the Lord have kindled it: it shall not be quenched. Then said I, Ah Lord God! they say of me, Is he not a speaker of parables?

21 And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying, Son of man, set thy face toward Jerusalem, and drop thy word toward the sanctuaries, and prophesy against the land of Israel;

3 and say to the land of Israel, Thus saith the Lord: Behold, I am against thee, and will draw forth my sword out of its sheath, and will cut off from thee the righteous and the wicked. Seeing then that I will cut off from thee the righteous and the wicked, therefore shall my sword go forth out of its sheath against all flesh from the south to the north: and all flesh shall know that I the Lord have drawn forth my sword out of its sheath; it shall not return any more. Sigh therefore, thou son of man; with the breaking of thy loins and with bitterness shalt thou sigh before their eyes. And it shall be, when they say unto thee, Wherefore sighest thou? that thou shalt say, Because of the tidings, for it cometh; and every heart shall melt, and all hands shall be feeble, and every spirit shall faint, and all knees shall be weak as water: behold, it cometh, and it shall be done, saith the Lord God.

8 And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying, Son of man, prophesy, and say, Thus saith the Lord: Say, A sword, a sword, it is sharpened, and also furbished: it is sharpened that it may make a slaughter; it is furbished that it may be as lightning: shall we then make mirth? 6 the rod of my son, it contemneth every tree. And it is given to be furbished, that it may be handled: the sword, it is sharpened yea, it is furbished, to give it into the hand of the slayer. Cry and howl, son of man: for it is upon my people, it is upon all the princes of Israel: they are delivered over to the sword with my people: smite therefore upon thy thigh. For there is a trial; and what if even the rod that contemneth shall be no more? saith the Lord God. Thou therefore, son of man, prophesy, and smite thine hands together; and let the sword be doubled the third time, the sword of the deadly wounded: it is the sword of the great one that is deadly wounded, which entereth into their chambers. I have set the joint of the sword against all their gates, that their heart may melt, and their stumbings be multiplied: ah! it is made as lightning, it is pointed for slaughter. Gather thee together, go to the right; set thyself in array, go to the left; 12 whither soever thy face is set, I will also smite mine hands together, and I will satisfy my fury: I the Lord have spoken it.

18 The word of the Lord came unto me again, saying, Also, thou son of man, appoint thee two ways, that the sword of the king of Babylon may come; they twain shall come forth out of one land; and mark out a place, mark it out at the head of the way to the city. 8 Or, and

Ammon, and to Judah in Jerusalem the defended. For the king of Babylon stood at the parting of the way, at the head of the two ways, to use divination: he shook the arrows to and fro, he consulted the teraphim, he looked in the liver.

22 In his right hand was the divination for Jerusalem, to set battering rams, to open the mouth <sup>1</sup> in the slaughter, to lift up the voice with shouting, to set battering rams against the gates, to cast up mounds, to build forts.

23 And it shall be unto them as a vain divination in their sight, which have sworn oaths unto them: but he bringeth iniquity to remembrance, that they may be taken.

24 Therefore thus saith the Lord God: Because ye have made your iniquity to be remembered, in that your transgressions are discovered, so that in all your doings your sins do appear; because that ye are come to remembrance, ye shall be taken with the hand. And thou O deadly wounded wicked one, the prince of Israel, whose day is come, in the time of the <sup>2</sup> iniquity of the end; thus saith the Lord God: <sup>3</sup> Remove the mitre, and take off the crown: this shall be <sup>4</sup> no more the same: exalt that which is low, and abase that which is high. <sup>5</sup> I will overturn, overturn, overturn it: this also shall be no more, until he come whose right it is; and I will give it him.

25 And thou, son of man, prophesy, and say Thus saith the Lord God concerning the children of Ammon, and concerning their reproach; and say thou, A sword is drawn, for the slaughter it is furnished <sup>6</sup> to cause it to devour, that it may be as lightning: whiles they see vanity unto thee, whiles they divine lies unto thee, to lay thee upon the necks of the wicked that are deadly wounded, whose day is come, in the time of the <sup>2</sup> iniquity of the end.

26 Cause it to return into its sheath. In the place where thou wast created, in the land of thy birth, will I judge thee. And I will pour out mine indignation upon thee; I will blow upon thee with the fire of my wrath, and I will deliver thee into the hand of brutish men, skillful to destroy. Thou shalt be for fuel to the fire; thy blood shall be in the midst of the land; thou shalt be no more remembered: for I the Lord have spoken it.

22 Moreover the word of the Lord came unto me, saying, And thou, son of man, wilt thou judge? wilt thou judge the bloody city? <sup>7</sup> then cause her to know all her abominations. And thou shalt say, Thus saith the Lord God: A city that sheddeth blood in the midst of her, that her time may come, and that maketh idols against herself to defile her! Thou art become filthy in thy blood that thou hast shed, and art defiled in thine idols which thou hast made; and thou hast caused thy days to draw near, and art come even unto thy years: therefore have I made thee a reproach unto the nations, and a mocking to all the countries. Those that be near, and those that be far from thee, shall mock thee, thou <sup>9</sup> infamous one and full of tumult. Behold, the princes of Israel, every one according to his <sup>10</sup> power, have been in thee to shed blood. In thee have they set light by father and mother; in the midst of thee have they dealt by oppression with the stranger: in thee have they wronged the fatherless and the widow. Thou hast despised mine holy things, and hast profaned my sabbaths. Slandrous men have been in thee to shed blood; and in thee they have eaten upon the mountains: in the midst of thee they have committed lewdness. In thee have they discovered their fathers' nakedness, in thee have they humbled her that was unclean in her separation.

11 And one hath committed abomination with his neighbour's wife; and another hath lewdly defiled his daughter in law; and another in thee hath humbled his sister, his father's daughter. In thee have they taken bribes to shed blood; thou hast taken usury and increase, and thou hast greedily gained of thy neighbours by oppression, and hast forgotten me, saith the Lord God.

12 Behold, therefore, I have smitten mine hand at thy dishonest gain which thou hast made, and at thy blood which hath been in the midst of thee. Can thine heart endure, or can thine hands be strong, in the days that I shall deal with thee? I the Lord have spoken it and will do it. And I will scatter thee among the nations, and disperse thee through the countries; and I will consume thy filthiness out of thee. And thou shalt be profaned in thyself, in the sight of the nations; and thou shalt know that I am the Lord.

13 And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying, Son of man, the house of Israel is become dross unto me, all of them are brass and tin and iron and lead in the midst of the furnace; they are the dross of silver. Therefore thus saith the Lord God: Because ye are all become dross, therefore behold, I will gather you into the midst of Jerusalem. As they gather silver and brass and iron and lead and tin into the midst of the furnace, to blow the fire upon it, to melt it: so will I gather you in mine anger and in my fury, and I will lay you there, and melt you. Yea, I will gather you, and blow upon you with the fire of my wrath, and ye shall be melted in the midst thereof. As silver is melted in the midst of the furnace, so shall ye be melted in the midst thereof; and ye shall know that I the LORD have poured out my fury upon you.

- 23 And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, Son of man, say unto her, Thou art a land that is not cleansed, nor rained upon in the day of indignation. There is a conspiracy of her prophets in the midst thereof, like a roaring lion ravening the prey: they have devoured souls; they take treasure and precious things; they have made her widows many in the midst thereof. Her priests have done violence to my law, and have profaned mine holy things: they have put no difference between the holy and the common, neither have they caused men to discern between the unclean and the clean, and have hid their eyes from my sabbaths, and I am profaned among them. Her princes in the midst thereof are like wolves ravening the prey; to shed blood, and to destroy souls, that they may get dishonest gain. And her prophets have daubed for them with untempered mortar, seeing vanity, and divining lies unto them, saying, Thus saith the LORD God, when the LORD hath not spoken. The people of the land have used oppression, and exercised robbery; yea, they have vexed the poor and needy, and have oppressed the stranger wrongfully. And I sought for a man among them, that should make up the fence, and stand in the gap before me for the land, that I should not destroy it: but I found none. Therefore have I poured out mine indignation upon them; I have consumed them with the fire of my wrath: their own way have I brought upon their heads, saith the LORD God.

23 The word of the LORD came again unto me, saying, Son of man, there were two women, the daughters of one mother: and they committed whoredoms in Egypt; they committed whoredoms in their youth: there were their breasts pressed, and there they bruised the teats of their virginity. And the names of them were Oholah the older, and Oholibah her sister; and they became mine, and they bare sons and daughters. And as for their names, Samaria is <sup>1</sup>Oholah, and Jerusalem <sup>2</sup>Oholibah. And Oholah played the harlot <sup>3</sup>when she was mine; and she doted on her lovers, on the Assyrians her neighbours, which were clothed with blue, governors and <sup>4</sup>rulers, all of them desirable young men, horsemen riding upon horses. And she bestowed her whoredoms upon them, the choicest men of Assyria all of them: and on whomsoever she doted, with all their idols she defiled herself. Neither hath she left her whoredoms, <sup>5</sup>since the days of Egypt; for in her youth they lay

- with her, and they bruised the teats of her virginity: and they poured out their whoredom upon her. Wherefore I delivered her into the hand of her lovers, into the hand of the Assyrians, upon whom she doted. These discovered her nakedness: they took her sons and her daughters, and her they slew with the sword: and she became a byword among women; for they executed judgements upon her. And her sister Oholibah saw this, yet was she more corrupt in her doting than she, and in her whoredoms which were more than the whoredoms of her sister. She doted upon the Assyrians, governors and rulers, her neighbours, clothed most gorgeously, horsemen riding upon horses, all of them desirable young men. And I saw that she was defiled; they both took one way. And she increased her whoredoms; for she saw men portrayed upon the wall, the images of the Chaldeans portrayed with vermillion, girded with girdles upon their loins, exceeding in dyed attire upon their heads, all of them princes to look upon, after the likeness of the Babylonians <sup>6</sup>in Chaldea, the land of their nativity. And <sup>7</sup>as soon as she saw them she doted upon them, and sent messengers unto them into Chaldea. And the Babylonians came to her into the bed of love, and they defiled her with their whoredom, and she was polluted with them, and her soul was alienated from them. So she discovered her whoredoms, and discovered her nakedness: then my soul was alienated from her, like as my soul was alienated from her sister. Yet she multiplied her whoredoms, remembering the days of her youth, wherein she had played the harlot in the land of Egypt. And she doted upon their paramours, whose flesh is as the flesh of asses, and whose issue is like the issue of horses. Thus thou calledst to remembrance the lowliness of thy youth, in the bruising of thy teats by the Egyptians for the breasts of thy youth. Therefore, O Oholibah, thus saith the LORD God: Behold, I will raise up thy lovers against thee, from whom thy soul is alienated, and I will bring them against thee on every side: the Babylonians and all the Chaldeans, Pekod and Shea and Kon, and all the Assyrians with them: desirable young men, governors and rulers all of them, princes and <sup>8</sup>men of renown, all of them riding upon horses. And they shall come against thee with weapons, chariots, and <sup>9</sup>wagons, and with an assembly of peoples; they shall set themselves against thee with buckler and shield and helmet round about; and I will commit the judgement unto them, and they shall judge thee accord-

And I will set my jealousy against thee, and they shall deal with thee in fury; they shall take away thy nose and thine ears; and thy residue shall fall by the sword: they shall take thy sons and thy daughters; and thy residue shall be devoured by the fire. They shall also strip thee of thy clothes, and take away thy fair jewels. Thus will I make thy lewdness to cease from thee, and thy whoredom <sup>1</sup>brought from the land of Egypt; so that thou shalt not lift up thine eyes unto them, nor remember Egypt any more.

26 For thus saith the Lord God: Behold, I will deliver thee into the hand of them whom thou hatest, into the hand of them from whom thy soul is alienated; and they shall deal with thee in hatred, and shall take away all thy labour, and shall leave thee naked and bare; and the nakedness of thy whoredoms shall be discovered, both thy lewdness and thy whoredoms. These things shall be done unto thee, for that thou hast gone a whoring after the heathen, and because thou art polluted with their idols. Thou hast walked in the way of thy sister; therefore will I give her cup into thine hand. Thus saith the Lord God: Thou shalt drink of thy sister's cup, which is deep and large: thou shalt be laughed to scorn and had in derision; <sup>2</sup>it containeth much. Thou shalt be filled with drunkenness and sorrow, with the cup of astonishment and desolation, with the cup of thy sister Ramah. Thou shalt even drink it and drain it out, and thou shalt gnaw the sherds thereof, and shalt tear thy breasts: for I have spoken it, saith the Lord God.

27 Therefore thus saith the Lord God: Because thou hast forgotten me, and cast me behind thy back, therefore bear thou also thy lewdness and thy whoredoms.

28 The Lord said moreover unto me: Son of man, wilt thou judge Oholah and Oholibah? then declare unto them their abominations, for they have committed adultery, and blood is in their hands, and with their idols have they committed adultery; and they have also <sup>3</sup>caused their sons, whom they have unto me, to pass through the fire unto them to be devoured. Moreover this they have done unto me: they have defiled my sanctuary in the same day, and have profaned my sabbaths. For when they had slain their children to their gods, then they came the same day unto my sanctuary to profane it; and, lo, thus have they done in the midst of mine house. And furthermore ye have sent for men <sup>4</sup>that come from far: unto whom a messenger was sent, and, lo, they came for whom thou didst wash thyself, and deckedst thyself with ornaments; and satest upon a stately bed, with a table prepared before it, whereupon thou didst set mine incense and mine oil. And the voice of a multitude being at ease was with her; and with men of the common sort were brought drunkards from the wilderness; and they put bracelets upon the hands of them <sup>5</sup>tean, and beautiful crowns upon their heads. Then said I <sup>6</sup>of her that was old in adulteries, Now will they commit <sup>7</sup>whoredoms with her, and she <sup>8</sup>with them. And they went in unto her, as they go in unto an harlot: so went they in unto Oholah and unto Oholibah, the lewd women.

29 And righteous men, they shall judge them with the judgement of adulteresses, and with the judgement of women that shed blood; because they are adulteresses, and blood is in their hands. For thus saith the Lord God: I will bring up an assembly against them, and will give them to be tossed to and fro and spoiled. And the assembly shall stone them with stones, and despatch them with their swords; they shall slay their sons and their daughters, and burn up their houses with fire. Thus will I cause lewdness to cease out of the land, that all women may be taught not to do after your lewdness. And they shall recompense your lewdness upon you, and ye shall bear the sins of your idols: and ye shall know that I am the Lord God.

30 Again, in the ninth year, in the tenth month, in the tenth day of the month, the word of the Lord came unto me, saying, Son of man, write thee the name of the day, even of this selfsame day: the king of Babylon drew close unto Jerusalem this selfsame day. And utter a parable unto the rebellious house, and say unto them, Thus saith the Lord God, Set on the caldron, set it on, and also pour water into it; gather the pieces thereof into it, even every good piece, the thigh, and the shoulder, and all with the choice bones. Take the choice of the flock, and also the bones under it, make it boil well: yea, let the bones thereof be seethed in the midst of it.

31 Whereas thus saith the Lord God: Woe to the bloody city, to the caldron whose rust is therein, and whose rust is not gone out of it, being it out piece by piece; no lot is fallen upon it. For her blood is in the midst of her, she set it upon the bare rock, she poured it not upon the ground to cover it with dust, that it might cause fury to come up to take vengeance. I have set her blood upon the bare rock, that it should not be covered. Therefore thus saith the Lord God: Woe to the bloody city!

Then set it empty upon the coals thereof, that it may be hot, and the brass thereof may burn, and that the filthiness of it may be molten in it, that the rust of it may be consumed. She hath wearied <sup>1</sup>herself with toil; yet her great rust goeth not forth out of her; her rust <sup>2</sup>goeth not forth by fire. <sup>3</sup>In thy filthiness is leanness: because I have purged thee and thou wast not purged, thou shalt not be purged from thy filthiness any more, till I have <sup>4</sup>satisfied my fury <sup>5</sup>upon thee. I the Lord have spoken it: it shall come to pass, and I will do it: I will not go back, neither will I spare, neither will I repent: according to thy ways, and according to thy doings, shall they judge thee, saith the Lord God.

15 Also the word of the Lord came unto me, saying, Son of man, behold, I take away from thee the desire of thine eyes with a stroke: yet neither shalt thou mourn nor weep, neither shalt thy tears run down. Sigh, <sup>6</sup>but not aloud; make no mourning for the dead, bind thy headtire upon thee, and put thy shoes upon thy feet, and cover not thy lips, and <sup>7</sup>eat not the bread of men. So I spake unto the people in the morning; and at even my wife died: and I did in the morning as I was commanded. And the people said unto me, Wilt thou not tell us what these things are to us, that thou doest so?
 20 Then I said unto them, The word of the Lord came unto me, saying,
 21 Speak unto the house of Israel, Thus saith the Lord God: Behold, I will profane my sanctuary, the pride of your power, the desire of your eyes, and <sup>8</sup>that which your soul pitieth: and your sons and your daughters whom ye have left behind shall fall by the sword, and ye shall do as I have done: ye shall not cover your lips, nor eat the bread of men. And your tires shall be upon your heads, and your shoes upon your feet, ye shall not mourn nor weep: but ye shall pine away in your iniquities, and <sup>9</sup>moan one toward another. Thus shall Ezekiel be unto you a sign: according to all that he hath done shall ye do; when this cometh, then shall ye know that I am the Lord God.

25 And thou, son of man, shall it not be in the day when I take from them their <sup>10</sup>strength, the joy of their <sup>11</sup>glory, the desire of their eyes, and <sup>12</sup>that whereupon they set their heart, their sons and their daughters, that in that day he that escapeth shall come unto thee, to cause thee to hear it with thine ears? In that day shall thy mouth be opened 12 to him which is escaped, and thou shalt speak, and be no more dumb: so shalt thou be a sign unto them; and they shall know that I am the Lord.

25 And the word of the Lord

2 came unto me, saying, Son of man, set thy face toward the children of Ammon, and prophesy <sup>3</sup>against them: and say unto the children of Ammon, Hear the word of the Lord God: Thus saith the Lord God: Because thou saidst, Aha, against my sanctuary, when it was profaned; and against the land of Israel, when it was made desolate; and against the house of Judah, when they went into captivity: therefore behold, I will deliver thee to the children of the east for a possession, and they shall set their encampments in thee, and make their dwellings in thee; they shall eat thy fruit, and they shall <sup>4</sup>drink thy milk. And I will make Rabbah a stable for camels, and the children of Ammon a couching place for flocks: and ye shall know <sup>5</sup>that I am the Lord. For thus saith the Lord God: Because thou hast clapped thine hands, and stamped with the feet, and rejoiced with all the despite of thy soul against <sup>6</sup>the land of Israel: therefore behold, I have stretched out mine hand upon thee, and will deliver thee for a spoil to the nations; and I will cut thee off from the peoples, and I will cause thee to perish out of the countries: I will destroy thee; and thou shalt know that I am the Lord.

8 Thus saith the Lord God: Because that Moab and Seir do say, Behold, the house of Judah is like <sup>9</sup>unto all the nations: therefore behold, I will open the side of Moab from the cities from his cities which are <sup>10</sup>on his frontiers, the glory of the country, Peth-jeshimoth, Baal-men, and Kirjathaim, <sup>11</sup>unto the children of the east, to go against the children of Ammon, and I will give them for a possession, that the children of Ammon may not be remembered among the nations: and I will execute judgements upon Moab: and they shall know that I am the Lord.

12 Thus saith the Lord God: Because that Edom hath dealt against the house of Judah by taking vengeance, and hath greatly offended, and revenged himself upon them; <sup>13</sup>therefore thus saith the Lord God, I will stretch out mine hand upon Edom, and will cut off man and beast from it: and I will make it desolate from Teman; even unto Dedar, shall they fall by the sword. <sup>14</sup>And I will lay my vengeance upon Edom by the hand of my people Israel: and they shall do in Edom according to mine anger and according to my fury: and they shall

26 And it came to pass in the eleventh year, in the first day of the month, that the word of the

2 Lord came unto me, saying Son of man, because that Tyre hath said against Jerusalem, Ah, she is broken that was the gate of the peoples; she is turned unto me. I shall be replenished, now that she

3 is laid waste: therefore thus saith the Lord God: Behold, I am against thee, O Tyre, and will cause many nations to come up against thee, as the sea causeth his waves to

4 come up. And they shall destroy the walls of Tyre, and break down her towers: I will also scrape her dust from her, and make her a bare

5 rock. She shall be a place for the spreading of nets in the midst of the sea; for I have spoken it, saith the Lord God: and she shall become a spoil to the nations. And her daughters which are in the field shall be slain with the sword: and they shall know that I am the

7 Lord. For thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I will bring upon Tyre Nebuchadnezzar King of Babylon, king of kings, from the north, with horses, and with chariots, and with horsemen, and a company, and

8 much people. He shall slay with the sword thy daughters in the field: and he shall make forts against thee, and cast up a mount against thee, and raise up the buckler against thee. And he shall set his battering engines against thy walls, and with his axes he shall

10 break down thy towers. By reason of the abundance of his horses their dust shall cover thee: thy walls shall shake at the noise of the horsemen, and of the wagons, and of the chariots, when he shall enter into thy gates, as men enter into a city wherein is made a breach.

11 With the hoofs of his horses shall he tread down all thy streets: he shall slay thy people with the sword, and the pillars of thy strength shall go down to the ground. And they shall make a spoil of thy riches, and make a prey of thy merchandise, and they shall break down thy walls, and destroy thy pleasant houses: and they shall lay thy stones and thy timber and thy dust in the 13 midst of the waters. And I will cause the noise of thy songs to cease; and the sound of thy harps shall be no more heard. And I will make thee a bare rock: thou shalt be a place for the spreading of nets; thou shalt be built no more: for I the Lord have spoken it, saith the Lord God.

15 Thus saith the Lord God to Tyre: Shall not the isles shake at the sound of thy fall, when the wounded groan, when the slaughter is made in the

16 midst of thee? Then all the princes of the sea shall come down from their thrones, and lay aside their robes, and strip off their brodered garments: they shall clothe themselves with trembling; they shall sit upon the ground, and shall tremble every moment, and be astonished

17 at thee. And they shall take up a lamentation for thee, and say to thee, How art thou destroyed, that wast inhabited of seafaring men, the renowned city, which wast strong in the sea, she and her inhabitants, which caused their terror to be on all that haunt it!

18 Now shall the isles tremble in the day of thy fall: yea, the isles that are in the sea shall be dismayed

19 at thy departure. For thus saith the Lord God: When I shall make thee a desolate city, like the cities that are not inhabited; when I shall bring up the deep upon thee, and the great waters shall cover thee;

20 then will I bring thee down with them that descend into the pit, to the people of old time, and will make thee to dwell in the nether parts of the earth. In the places that are desolate of old, with them that go down to the pit, that thou be not inhabited; and I will set

21 glory in the land of the living: I will make thee a terror, and thou shalt be no more: though thou be sought for, yet shalt thou never be found again, saith the Lord God.

27 The word of the Lord came again unto me, saying And thou, son of man, take up a lamentation for

3 Tyre; and say unto Tyre, O thou that dwellest at the entry of the sea, which art the merchant of the peoples unto many isles, thus saith the Lord God: Thou, O Tyre, hast

The <sup>1</sup>ancients of Gebal and the wise men thereof were in thee thy calkers: all the ships of the sea with thy mariners were in thee to <sup>2</sup>occupy thy merchandise. The men of Arvad with thine army were upon thy walls round about, and <sup>3</sup>the Gammadim were in thy towers: they hanged their shields upon thy walls round about; they have perfected thy beauty. Tarshish was thy merchant by reason of the multitude of all kinds of riches; with silver, iron, tin, and lead, they traded for thy wares. Javan, Tubal, and Meshech, they were thy traffickers: they traded the persons of men and vessels of brass for thy merchandise. They of the house of Togarmah traded for thy wares with horses and war-horses and mules. The men of Dedan were thy traffickers: many isles were the mart of thine hand: they brought thee <sup>4</sup>in exchange horns of ivory and ebony. Syria was thy merchant by reason of the multitude of thy handiworks: they traded for thy wares with <sup>5</sup>emeralds, purple, and broidered work, and fine linen, and coral, and rubies. Judah, and the land of Israel, they were thy traffickers: they traded for thy merchandise wheat of Minnith, and <sup>6</sup>pannag, and honey, and oil, and balm. Damascus was thy merchant for the multitude of thy handiworks, by reason of the multitude of all kinds of riches; with the wine of Helbon, and white wool. Vedan and Javan traded <sup>7</sup>with yarn for thy wares: <sup>8</sup>bright iron, cassia, and calamus, were among thy merchandise. Dedan was thy trafficker in precious cloths for riding. Arabia, and all the princes of Kedar, they were the merchants of thy hand; in lambs, and rams, and goats. <sup>9</sup>These were they thy merchants. The traffickers of Sheba and Raamah, they were thy traffickers: they traded for thy wares with chief of all spices, and with all precious stones, and gold. Haran and Canneh and Eden, the traffickers of Sheba, Asshur and Chilmad, were thy traffickers. These were thy traffickers in choice wares, in <sup>9</sup>wrappings of blue and broidered work, and in chests of rich apparel, bound with cords and made of cedar, among thy merchandise. The ships of Tarshish were thy caravans for thy merchandise: and thou wast replenished, and made very glorious in the heart of the seas. Thy rowers have brought thee into great waters: the east wind hath broken thee in the heart of the seas. Thy riches, and thy wares, thy merchandise, thy mariners, and	thy pilots, thy calkers, and the <sup>10</sup>occupiers of thy merchandise, and all thy men of war, that are in thee, <sup>11</sup>with all thy company which is in the midst of thee, shall fall into the heart of the seas in the day of thy ruin. At the sound of the cry of thy pilots the <sup>12</sup>suburbs shall shake. And all that handle the oar, the mariners, and all the pilots of the sea, shall come down from their ships, they shall stand upon the land, and shall cause their voice to be heard over thee, and shall cry bitterly, and shall cast up dust upon their heads, they shall wallow themselves in the ashes: and they shall make themselves bald for thee, and gird them with sackcloth, and they shall weep for thee in bitterness of soul with bitter mourning. And in their wailing they shall take up a lamentation for thee, and lament over thee, saying, Who is there like Tyre, like her that is brought to silence in the midst of the sea? When thy wares went forth out of the seas, thou fillest many peoples; thou didst enrich the kings of the earth with the multitude of thy riches and of thy merchandise. <sup>24</sup><sup>13</sup>In the time that thou wast broken by the seas in the depths of the waters, thy merchandise and all thy company did fall in the midst of thee. All the inhabitants of the isles are astonished at thee, and their kings are horribly afraid, they are troubled in their countenance. 11 Moreover the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, Son of man, take up a lamentation for the king of Tyre, and say unto him, Thus saith the Lord God: Thou sealest up the <sup>2</sup>sum, full of wisdom, and perfect in beauty. Thou wast in Eden the garden of God; every precious stone was thy covering, the <sup>3</sup>sardius, the topaz, and the diamond, the beryl, the onyx, and the jasper, the sapphire, the <sup>4</sup>emerald, and the <sup>5</sup>carbuncle, and gold: the workmanship of thy tabrets and of thy pipes was in thee; in the day that thou wast created they

14 were prepared. Thou wast the anointed cherub that covereth: and I set thee, so that thou wast upon the holy mountain of God; thou hast walked up and down in the midst of the stones of fire. Thou wast perfect in thy ways from the day that thou wast created, till unrighteousness was found in thee.

16 By the multitude of thy traffic they filled the midst of thee with violence, and thou hast sinned: therefore have I cast thee as profane out of the mountain of God; and I have destroyed thee, O covering cherub, from the midst of the stones of fire.

17 Thine heart was lifted up because of thy beauty, thou hast corrupted thy wisdom by reason of thy brightness: I have cast thee to the ground, I have laid thee before kings, that

18 they may behold thee. By the multitude of thine iniquities, in the unrighteousness of thy traffic, thou hast profaned thy sanctuaries; therefore have I brought forth a fire from the midst of thee, it hath devoured thee, and I have turned thee to ashes upon the earth in the sight

19 of all them that behold thee. All they that know thee among the peoples shall be astonished at thee: thou art become <sup>8</sup>a terror, and thou shalt never be any more.

20 And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, Son of man, set thy face toward Zidon, and prophesy against it, and say, Thus saith the Lord God: Behold, I am against thee, O Zidon: and I will be glorified in the midst of thee; and they shall know that I am the LORD, when I shall have executed judgements in her, and shall be sanctified in her. For I will send into her pestilence and blood in her streets; and the wounded shall <sup>7</sup>fall in the midst of her, with the sword upon her on every side; and they shall know that I am the LORD. And there shall be no more a pricking brier unto the house of Israel, nor a grieving thorn of any that are round about them, that did despise unto them; and they shall know that I am the LORD God.

25 Thus saith the Lord God: When I shall have gathered the house of Israel from the peoples among whom they are scattered and shall be sanctified in them in the sight of the nations, then shall they dwell in their own land which I gave to my servant Jacob. And they shall dwell securely therein; yea, they shall build houses, and plant vineyards, and shall dwell securely; when I have executed judgements upon all those that do them despite round about them; and they shall know that I am the LORD their God.

26 In the tenth year, in the tenth month, in the twelfth day of the month, the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, Son of man, set thy face against Ithraoh king of Egypt, and prophesy against him, and against all Egypt: speak, and say, Thus saith the Lord God: Behold, I am against thee, Ithraoh king of Egypt, the great dragon that lieth in the midst of his rivers, which hath said, My river is mine own, and I have made it for myself.

4 And I will put hooks in thy jaws, and I will cause the fish of thy rivers to stick unto thy scales; and I will bring thee up out of the midst of thy rivers, with all the fish of thy rivers which stick unto thy scales. And I will leave thee <sup>9</sup>thrown into the wilderness, thee and all the fish of thy rivers: thou shalt fall upon the <sup>10</sup>open field: thou shalt not be brought together, nor gathered: I have given thee for meat to the beasts of the earth and to the fowls of the heaven. And all the inhabitants of Egypt shall know that I am the LORD, because they have been a staff of reed to the house of Israel. When they took hold of thee <sup>11</sup>by thy hand, thou didst break, and didst rend all their shoulders; and when they leaned upon thee, thou brakest, and madest all their loins to <sup>12</sup>be at a stand.

8 Therefore thus saith the Lord God: Behold, I will bring a sword upon thee, and will cut off from thee man and beast. And the land of Egypt shall be a desolation and a waste; and they shall know that I am the LORD: because he hath said, The river is mine, and I have made it. Therefore behold, I am against thee, and against thy rivers, and I will make the land of Egypt an utter waste and desolation, <sup>13</sup>from the tower of Sevechen even unto the border of Ethiopia. No foot of man shall pass through it, nor foot of beast shall pass through it, neither shall it be inhabited forty years.

12 And I will make the land of Egypt a desolation in the midst of the countries that are desolate, and her cities among the cities that are laid waste shall be a desolation forty years: and I will scatter

the Egyptians among the nations, and will disperse them through the countries. For thus saith the Lord God: At the end of forty years will I gather the Egyptians from the peoples whither they were scattered: and I will bring again the captivity of Egypt, and will cause them to return into the land of Pathros, into the land of their birth; and they shall be there a base kingdom. It shall be the basest of the kingdoms; neither shall it any more lift itself up above the nations: and I will diminish them, that they shall no more rule over the nations. And it shall be no more the confidence of the house of Israel, bringing iniquity to remembrance, when they turn to look after them: and they shall know that I am the Lord God.

And it came to pass in the seven and twentieth year, in the first month, in the first day of the month, the word of the Lord came unto me, saying, Son of man, Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon caused his army to serve a great service against Tyre: every head was made bald, and every shoulder was peeled: yet had he no wages, nor his army, from Tyre, for the service that he had served against it: therefore thus saith the Lord God: Behold, I will give the land of Egypt unto Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon: and he shall carry off her multitude, and take her spoil, and take her prey: and it shall be the wages for his army. I have given him the land of Egypt as his recompence for which he served, because they wrought for me, saith the Lord God.

In that day will I cause an horn to bud forth unto the house of Israel, and I will give thee the opening of the mouth in the midst of them; and they shall know that I am the Lord.

The word of the Lord came again unto me, saying, Son of man, prophesy, and say, Thus saith the Lord God: How! ye, Woe worth the day! For the day is near, even the day of the Lord is near, a day of clouds; it shall be the time of the heathen. And a sword shall come upon Egypt, and anguish shall be in Ethiopia, when the slain shall fall in Egypt; and they shall take away her multitude, and her foundations shall be broken down. Ethiopia, and Put, and Lud, and all the mingled people, and Cub, and the children of the land that is in league, shall fall with them by the sword.

Thus saith the Lord: They also that uphold Egypt shall fall, and the pride of her power shall come down: from the tower of Seveh shall they fall in it by the sword. saith the Lord God. And they shall be desolate in the midst of the countries that are desolate, and her cities shall be in the midst of the cities that are wasted. And they shall know that I am the Lord, when I have set a fire in Egypt, and all her helpers are destroyed. In that day shall messengers go forth from before me in ships to make the careless Ethiopians afraid; and there shall be anguish upon them, as in the day of Egypt; for, lo, it cometh.

Thus saith the Lord God: I will also make the multitude of Egypt to cease, by the hand of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon. He and his people with him, the terrible of the nations, shall be brought in to destroy the land; and they shall draw their swords against Egypt, and fill the land with the slain. And I will make the rivers dry, and will sell the land into the hand of evil men; and I will make the land desolate, and all that is therein, by the hand of strangers: I the Lord have spoken it.

Thus saith the Lord God: I will also destroy the idols, and I will cause the images to cease from Noph; and there shall be no more a prince out of the land of Egypt: and I will put a fear in the land of Egypt. And I will make Pathros desolate, and will set a fire in Zoan, and will execute judgements in No. And I will pour my fury upon Sin, the strong hold of Egypt; and I will cut off the multitude of No. And I will set a fire in Egypt: Sin shall be in great anguish, and No shall be broken up: and Noph shall have adversaries in the day-time. The young men of Aven and of Pi-beseth shall fall by the sword: and these cities shall go into captivity. At Tehaphneches also the day shall withdraw itself, when I shall break there the yokes of Egypt, and the pride of her power shall cease in her: as for her, a cloud shall cover her, and her daughters shall go into captivity. Thus will I execute judgements in Egypt: and they shall know that I am the Lord.

And it came to pass in the eleventh year, in the first month, in the seventh day of the month, that the word of the Lord came unto me, saying, Son of man, I have broken the arm of Pharaoh king of Egypt; and, lo, it hath not been bound up to apply healing medicines, to put a roller to bind it, that it be strong to hold the sword. Therefore thus saith the Lord God: Behold, I am against Pharaoh king of Egypt, and will break his arms, the strong, and that which was broken; and I will cause the sword to fall out of his hand. And I will scatter the Egyptians among the nations, and will disperse them through the countries. And I will strengthen the arms of the king of Babylon, and put my sword in his hand: but I will break the arms of

And I will scatter the Egyptians among the nations, and disperse them through the countries; and they shall know that I am the LORD.

31 And it came to pass in the eleventh year, in the third month, in the first day of the month, that the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, Son of man, say unto I haraoh king of Egypt, and to his multitude; Whom art thou like in thy greatness? Behold, the Assyrian was a cedar in Lebanon with fair branches, and with a shadowing shroud, and of an high stature; and his top was among the thick

4 boughs. The waters nourished him, the deep made him to grow: her rivers ran round about her plantation; and she sent out her channels unto all the trees of the field.

5 Therefore his stature was exalted above all the trees of the field; and his boughs were multiplied, and his branches became long by reason of

2 Or, great

2 many waters, when he shot them forth. All the fowls of heaven made their nests in his boughs, and under his branches did all the beasts of the field bring forth their young, and under his shadow dwelt all

7 great nations. Thus was he fair in his greatness, in the length of his branches: for his root was by

8 waters. The cedars in the garden of God could not hide him: the fir trees were not like his boughs, and the plane trees were not as his branches; nor was any tree in the garden of God like unto him in his

9 beauty. I made him fair by the multitude of his branches: so that all the trees of Eden, that were in the garden of God, envied him.

3 Or, saith

10 Therefore thus said the Lord God: Because thou art exalted in stature, and he hath set his top among the thick boughs, and his heart is lifted up in his height; I will even deliver him into the hand of the mighty one of the nations; he shall surely deal with him: I have driven him out for his wicked-

12 ness. And strangers, the terrible of the nations, have cut him off, and have left him: upon the mountains and in all the valleys his branches are fallen, and his boughs are broken by all the watercourses of the land; and all the peoples of the earth are gone down from his 13 shadow, and have left him. Upon his ruin all the fowls of the heaven shall dwell, and all the beasts of the field shall be upon his branches:

14 to the end that none of all the trees

by the waters exalt themselves in their stature, neither set their top among the thick boughs, nor that their mighty ones stand up in their height, even all that drink water: for they are all delivered unto death, to the nether parts of the earth, in the midst of the children of men, with them that go down to the pit.

15 Thus saith the Lord God: In the day when he went down to hell I caused a mourning; I covered the deep for him, and I restrained the rivers thereof, and the great waters were stayed: and I caused Lebanon

4 Heb. Sheol.

5 to mourn for him, and all the trees of the field fainted for him. I made the nations to shake at the sound of his fall, when I cast him down to hell with them that descend into the pit: and all the trees of Eden, the choice and best of Lebanon, all that drink water, were comforted in 17 the nother parts of the earth. They also went down into hell with him unto them that be slain by the sword; yea, they that were his arm, that dwelt under his shadow in the midst of the nations.

18 To whom art thou thus like in glory and in greatness among the trees of Eden? yet shalt thou be brought down with the trees of Eden unto the nether parts of the earth: thou shalt lie in the midst of the uncircumcised, with them that be slain by the sword. This is Pharaoh and all his multitude, saith the Lord God.

32 And it came to pass in the twelfth year, in the twelfth month, in the first day of the month, that the word of the LORD came unto

2 me, saying, Son of man, take up a lamentation for Pharaoh king of Egypt, and say unto him, Thou wast likened unto a young lion of the nations: yet art thou as a dragon in the seas; and thou brakest forth with thy rivers, and troubledst the waters with thy feet, and foulest

4 up in my net. And I will leave thee upon the land. I will cast thee forth upon the open field, and will cause all the fowls of the heaven to settle upon thee, and I will satisfy the beasts of the whole earth with

5 thee. And I will lay thy flesh upon the mountains, and fill the valleys with thy height. I will also water with thy blood the land wherein thou swimdest, even to the mountains; and the watercourses shall be

8 Or, to mourn

8 her light. All the bright lights of heaven will I make dark over thee, and set darkness upon thy land, saith the Lord God. I will also vex the hearts of many peoples, when I shall bring thy destruction among the nations, into the countries which thou hast not known. Yea, I will make many peoples amazed at thee, and their kings shall be horribly afraid for thee, when I shall brandish my sword before them; and they shall tremble at every moment, every man for his own life, in the day of thy fall. For thus saith the Lord God: The sword of the king of Babylon shall come upon thee. By the swords of the mighty will I cause thy multitude to fall; the terrible of the nations are they all; and they shall spoil the pride of Egypt, and all the multitude thereof shall be destroyed. I will destroy also all the beasts thereof from beside many waters; neither shall the foot of man trouble them any more, nor the hoofs of beasts trouble them. Then will I make their waters clear, and cause their rivers to run like oil, saith the Lord God. When I shall make the land of Egypt desolate and waste, a land destitute of that whereof it was full, when I shall smite all them that dwell therein, then shall they know that I am the Lord. This is the lamentation wherewith they shall lament; the daughters of the nations shall lament therewith: for Egypt, and for all her multitude, shall they lament therewith, saith the Lord God.

It came to pass also in the twelfth year, in the fifteenth day of the month, that the word of the Lord came unto me, saying, Son of man, wail for the multitude of Egypt, and cast them down, even her, and the daughters of the famous nations, unto the nether parts of the earth, with them that go down into the pit. Whom dost thou pass in beauty? go down, and be thou laid with the uncircumcised. They shall fall in the midst of them that are slain by the sword: she is delivered to the sword: draw her away and all her multitudes. The strong among the mighty shall speak to him out of the midst of hell with them that help him: they are gone down, they lie still, even the uncircumcised, slain by the sword. Asshur is there and all her company; his graves are round about him: all of them slain, fallen by the sword: whose graves are set in the uttermost parts of the pit, and her company is round about her grave: all of them slain, fallen by the sword, which caused terror in the land of the living.

There is Elam and all her multitude round about her grave: all of them slain, fallen by the sword, which are gone down uncircumcised into the nether parts of the earth, which caused their terror in the land of the living, and have borne their shame with them that go down to the pit. They have set her a bed in the midst of the slain with all her multitude; her graves are round about her: all of them uncircumcised, slain by the sword; for their terror was caused in the land of the living, and they have borne their shame with them that go down to the pit: he is put in the midst of them that be slain. There is Meshech, Tubal, and all her multitude; her graves are round about her: all of them uncircumcised, slain by the sword; for they caused their terror in the land of the living. And they shall not lie with the mighty that are fallen of the uncircumcised, which are gone down to hell with their weapons of war, and have laid their swords under their heads, and their iniquities are upon their bones; for they were the terror of the mighty in the land of the living. But thou shalt be broken in the midst of the uncircumcised, and shalt lie with them that are slain by the sword. There is Edom, her kings and all her princes, which in their might are laid with them that are slain by the sword: they shall lie with the uncircumcised, and with them that go down to the pit. There be the princes of the north, all of them, and all the Zidonians, which are gone down with the slain; in the terror which they caused by their might they are ashamed; and they lie uncircumcised with them that are slain by the sword, and bear their shame with them that go down to the pit. Pharaoh shall see them, and shall be comforted over all his multitude: even Pharaoh and all his army, slain by the sword, saith the Lord God. For I have put his terror in the land of the living; and he shall be laid in the midst of the uncircumcised, with them that are slain by the sword, even Pharaoh and all his multitude, saith the Lord God.

33 And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying, Son of man, speak to the children of thy people, and say unto them, When I bring the sword upon a land, if the people of the land take a man from among them, and set him for their watchman: if, when he seeth the sword come upon the land, he blow the trumpet, and warn the people; then whosoever heareth the sound of the trumpet, and taketh not warning, if the sword come, and take him away, his blood shall be upon his own head. He heard the sound of the trumpet, and took not warning; his blood shall be upon him: whereas if he had taken warning he should have delivered his soul. But if the watchman see the sword come, and blow not the trumpet, and the people be not warned, and the sword come, and take any person from among them; he is taken away in his iniquity, but his blood will I

When I say unto the wicked, O wicked man, thou shalt surely die, and thou dost not speak to warn the wicked from his way; that wicked man shall die<sup>1</sup> in his iniquity, but his blood will I require at thine hand. Nevertheless, if thou warn the wicked of his way to turn from it, and he turn not from his way; he shall die<sup>1</sup> in his iniquity, but thou hast delivered thy soul.

10 And thou, son of man, say unto the house of Israel: Thus ye speak, saying, 2 Our transgressions and our sins are upon us, and we pine away<sup>3</sup> in them; how then should we live?

11 Say unto them, As I live, saith the Lord God, I have no pleasure in the death of the wicked; but that the wicked turn from his way and live: turn ye, turn ye from your evil ways; for why will ye die, O house of Israel? And thou, son of man, say unto the children of thy people,

12 The righteousness of the righteous shall not deliver him in the day of his transgression; and as for the wickedness of the wicked, he shall not fall thereby in the day that he turneth from his wickedness: neither shall he that is righteous be able to live thereby in the day that he sinneth. When I say to the righteous, that he shall surely live; if he trust to his righteousness, and commit iniquity, none of his righteous deeds shall be remembered; but<sup>1</sup> in his iniquity that he hath committed,

13 therein shall he die. Again, when I say unto the wicked, Thou shalt surely die; if he turn from his sin, and do<sup>4</sup> that which is lawful and right; if the wicked restore the pledge, give again that he had taken by robbery, walk in the statutes of life, committing no iniquity; he shall surely live, he shall not die.

16 None of his sins that he hath committed shall be remembered against him: he hath done that which is lawful and right; he shall surely live. Yet the children of thy people say, The way of the Lord is not equal: but as for them, their way is not equal. When the righteous turneth from his righteousness, and committeth iniquity, he shall even die<sup>5</sup> therein. And when the wicked turneth from his wickedness, and doeth that which is lawful and right, he shall live thereby. Yet ye say, The way of the Lord is not equal. O house of Israel, I will judge you every one after his ways.

21 And it came to pass in the twelfth year of our captivity, in the tenth month, in the fifth day of the month, that one that had escaped out of Jerusalem came unto me, saying, The city is smitten. Now the hand of the Lord had been upon me in the evening, afore he that was escaped came; and he had opened my mouth, until he came to me in the morning; and my mouth was opened, and I was no more dumb. And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying, Son of man, they that inhabit those waste places in the land of Israel speak, saying, Abraham was one, and he inherited the land: but we are many; the land is given us for inheritance. Wherefore say unto them, Thus saith the Lord God: Ye eat with the blood, and lift up your eyes unto your idols, and shed blood; and shall ye possess the land? Ye stand upon your sword, ye work abomination, and ye defile every one his neighbour's wife; and shall ye possess the land? Thus shalt thou say unto them, Thus saith the Lord God: As I live, surely they that are in the waste places shall fall by the sword, and him that is in the open field will I give to the beasts to be devoured, and they that be in the strong holds and in the caves shall die of the pestilence.

25 And I will make the land a desolation and an astonishment, and the pride of her power shall cease; and the mountains of Israel shall be desolate, that none shall pass through. Then shall they know that I am the Lord, when I have made the land a desolation and an astonishment, because of all their abominations which they have committed. And as for thee, son of man, the children of thy people talk of thee by the walls and in the doors of the houses, and speak one to another, every one to his brother, saying, Come, I pray you, and hear what is the word that cometh forth from the Lord. And they come unto thee as the people cometh, and they sit before thee as my people, and they hear thy words, but do them not: for with their mouth they shew much love, but their heart goeth after their gain.

32 And lo, thou art unto them as a very lovely song of one that hath a pleasant voice, and can play well on an instrument: for they hear thy words, but they do them not. And when this cometh to pass, (behold, it cometh,) then shall they know that a prophet hath been among them.

34 And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying, Son of man, prophesy against the shepherds of Israel, prophesy, and say unto them, even to the shepherds, Thus saith the Lord God: Woe unto the shepherds of Israel that do feed themselves! should not the shepherds feed the sheep? And they were scattered, because there was no shepherd; and they became meat to all the beasts of the field, and were scattered. My sheep wandered through all the mountains, and upon every high hill: yea, my sheep were scattered upon all the face of the earth; and there was none that did search or seek after them. Therefore, ye shepherds, hear the word of the Lord: As I live, saith the Lord God, surely forasmuch as my sheep became a prey, and my sheep became meat to all the beasts of the field, because there was no shepherd, neither did my shepherds search for my sheep, but the shepherds fed themselves, and fed not my sheep; therefore, ye shepherds, hear the word of the Lord: Thus saith the Lord God: Behold, I am against the shepherds; and I will require my sheep at their hand, and cause them to cease from feeding the sheep; neither shall the shepherds feed themselves any more; and I will deliver my sheep from their mouth, that they may not be meat for them. For thus saith the Lord God: Behold, I myself, even I, will search for my sheep, and will seek them out. As a shepherd seeketh out his flock in the day that he is among his sheep that are scattered abroad, so will I seek out my sheep; and I will deliver them out of all places whither they have been scattered in the cloudy and dark day. And I will bring them out from the peoples, and gather them from the countries, and will bring them into their own land; and I will feed them upon the mountains of Israel, by the water-courses, and in all the inhabited places of the country. I will feed them with good pasture, and upon the mountains of the height of Israel shall their fold be: there shall they lie down in a good fold, and on fat pasture shall they feed upon the mountains of Israel. I myself will feed my sheep, and I will cause them to lie down, saith the Lord God. I will seek that which was lost, and will bring again that which was driven away, and will bind up that which was broken, and will strengthen that which was sick; and the fat and the strong I will destroy; I will feed them in judgment. And as for you, O my flock, thus saith the Lord God: Behold, I judge between cattle and cattle, as well the rams as the he-goats. Seemeth it a small thing unto you to have fed upon the good pasture, but ye must tread down with your feet the residue of your pasture? and to have drunk of the clear waters, but ye must foul the residue with your feet? And as for my sheep, they eat that which ye have trodden with your feet, and they drink that which ye have fouled with your feet. Therefore thus saith the Lord God unto them: Behold, I, even I, will judge between the fat cattle and the lean cattle. Because ye thrust with side and with shoulder, and push all the diseased with your horns, till ye have scattered them abroad; therefore will I save my flock, and they shall no more be a prey; and I will judge between cattle and cattle. And I will set up one shepherd over them, and he shall feed them, even my servant David; he shall feed them, and he shall be their shepherd. And I the Lord will be their God, and my servant David prince among them; I the Lord have spoken it. And I will make with them a covenant of peace, and will cause evil beasts to cease out of the land: and they shall dwell securely in the wilderness, and sleep in the woods. And I will make them and the places round about my hill a blessing; and I will cause the shower to come down in its season; there shall be showers of blessing. And the tree of the field shall yield its fruit, and the earth shall yield her increase, and they shall be secure in their land; and they shall know that I am the Lord, when I have broken the bars of their yoke, and have delivered them out of the hand of those that served themselves of them. And they shall no more be a prey to the heathen, neither shall the beast of the earth devour them; but they shall dwell securely, and none shall make them afraid. And I will raise up unto them a plantation for renown, and they shall be no more consumed with famine in the land, neither bear the shame of the heathen any more. And they shall know that I the Lord their God am with them, and that they, the house of Israel, are my people, saith the Lord God. And ye my sheep, the sheep of my pasture, are men, and I am your God, saith the Lord God.

35 Moreover the word of the Lord came unto me, saying, Son of man, set thy face against mount Seir, and prophesy against it, and say unto it, Thus saith the Lord God: Behold, I am against thee, O mount Seir, and I will stretch out mine hand against thee, and I will make thee a desolation and an astonishment. I will lay thy cities waste, and thou shalt be desolate; and thou shalt know that I am the Lord. Because thou hast had a perpetual enmity, and hast given over the children of Israel to the power of the sword in the time of their calamity, yourselves against me with your mouth, and have multiplied your words against me: I have heard house of Israel, because it was de-

they shall know that I am the 36 And thou, son of man, prophesy unto the mountains of Israel, and say, Ye mountains of Israel, hear 2 the word of the Lord. Thus saith the Lord God: Because the enemy hath said against you, Aha! and

The ancient high places are ours
3 in possession: therefore prophesy, and say, Thus saith the Lord God, Because, even because they have made you desolate, and swallowed you up on every side, that ye might be a possession unto the residue of the nations, and ye are taken up in the lips of talkers, and the evil 4 report of the people: therefore, ye mountains of Israel, hear the word of the Lord God: Thus saith the Lord God to the mountains and to the hills, to the watercourses and to the valleys, to the desolate wastes and to the cities that are forsaken, which are become a prey and derision to the residue of the 5 nations that are round about: therefore thus saith the Lord God:
Surely in the fire of my jealousy have I spoken against the residue of the nations, and against all Eddom, which have appointed my land unto themselves for a possession with the joy of all their heart, with despite of soul, to cast it out for 6 a prey: therefore prophesy concerning the land of Israel, and say unto the mountains and to the hills, to the watercourses and to the valleys. Thus saith the Lord God: Behold, I have spoken in my jealousy and in my fury, because ye have borne the shame of the heathen:

7 therefore thus saith the Lord God:
I have lifted up mine hand, saying,
Surely the heathen that are round about you, they shall bear their 8 shame. But ye, O mountains of Israel, ye shall shoot forth your branches, and yield your fruit to my people Israel: for they are at 9 hand to come. For behold, I am for you, and I will turn unto you,
and ye shall be tilled and sown:
10 and I will multiply men upon you, all the house of Israel, even all of it: and the cities shall be inhabited, and the waste places shall 11 be builded: and I will multiply upon you man and beast: and they shall increase and be fruitful: and I will cause you to be inhabited after your former estate, and will do better unto you than at your beginnings: and ye shall know that 12 I am the Lord. Yea, I will cause men to walk upon you, even my people Israel: and they shall possess thee, and thou shalt be their inheritance, and thou shalt no more hereafter bereave them of child-13 dren. Thus saith the Lord God:
Because they say unto you, Thou land art a devourer of men, and hast been a devourer of thy <sup>7</sup>nation: therefore thou shalt devour men no more, neither <sup>8</sup>bereave thy any more the shame of the heathen, neither shalt thou bear the reproach of the peoples any more, neither shalt thou cause thy <sup>7</sup>nation to their way and by their doings: their way before me was as the uncleanness fury upon them for the blood which they had poured out upon the land, and because they had scattered them among the nations, and they were dispersed through the countries: according to their

These are the people of the LORD, and are gone forth out of his land. But I had pity for mine holy name, which the house of Israel had profaned among the nations, whither they went. Therefore say unto the house of Israel, Thus saith the Lord God: <sup>1</sup>I do not <sup>this</sup> for your sake, O house of Israel, but for mine holy name, which ye have profaned among the nations, whither ye went. And I will sanctify my great name, which hath been profaned among the nations, which ye have profaned in the midst of them; and the nations shall know that I am the LORD, saith the Lord God, when I shall be sanctified in you before <sup>2</sup>their eyes. For I will take you from among the nations, and gather you out of all the countries, and will bring you into your own land. And I will sprinkle clean water upon you, and ye shall be clean: from all your filthiness, and from all your idols, will I cleanse you. A new heart also will I give you, and a new spirit will I put within you: and I will take away the stony heart out of your flesh, and I will give you an heart of flesh. And I will put my spirit within you, and cause you to walk in my statutes, and ye shall keep my judgments, and do them. And ye shall dwell in the land that I gave to your fathers; and ye shall be my people, and I will be your God. And I will save you from all your uncleannesses: and I will call for the corn, and will multiply it, and lay no famine upon you. And I will multiply the fruit of the tree, and the increase of the field, that ye shall receive no more the reproach of famine among the nations. Then shall ye remember your evil ways, and your doings that were not good; and ye shall loathe yourselves in your own sight for your iniquities and for your abominations. Not for your sake <sup>3</sup>do I <sup>this</sup>, saith the Lord God, be it known unto you: be ashamed and confounded for your ways, O house of Israel. Thus saith the Lord God: In the day that I cleanse you from all your iniquities, I will cause the cities to be inhabited, and the waste places shall be builded, and the land that was desolate shall be tilled, whereas it was a desolation in the sight of all that passed by. And they shall say, This land that was desolate is become like the garden of Eden; and the waste and desolate and ruined cities are fenced and inhabited. Then the nations that are left round about you shall know that I the LORD have builded the ruined places, and planted that which was desolate: I the LORD have spoken it, and I will do it.

37 Thus saith the Lord God: For this moreover will I be inquired of by the house of Israel, to do it for them: I will increase them with men like a flock. As the <sup>4</sup>flock for sacrifice, as the flock of Jerusalem in her appointed feasts; so shall the waste cities be filled with flocks of men: and they shall know that I am the LORD.

37 The hand of the LORD was upon me, and he carried me out in the spirit of the LORD, and set me down in the midst of the valley; and it was full of bones; and he caused me to pass by them round about: and behold, there were very many <sup>5</sup>in the open valley; and lo, they were very dry. And he said unto me, Son of man, can these bones live? And I answered, O Lord God, thou knowest. Again he said unto me, Prophecy over these bones, and say unto them, O ye dry bones, hear the word of the LORD. Thus saith the Lord God unto these bones: Behold, I will cause <sup>6</sup>breath to enter into you, and ye shall live. And I will lay sinews upon you, and will bring up flesh upon you, and cover you with skin, and put breath in you, and ye shall live: and ye shall know that I am the LORD. So I prophesied as I was commanded; and as I prophesied, there was a <sup>7</sup>noise, and behold an earthquake, and the bones came together, bone to his bone. And I beheld, and lo, there were sinews upon them, and flesh came up, and skin covered them above: but there was no breath in them. Then said he unto me, Prophecy unto the <sup>8</sup>wind, prophecy, son of man, and say to the <sup>8</sup>wind, Thus saith the Lord God: Come from the four winds, O <sup>9</sup>breath, and breathe upon these slain, that they may live. So I prophesied as he commanded me, and the breath came into them, and they lived, and stood up upon their feet, an exceeding great army.

11 Then he said unto me, Son of man, these bones are the whole house of Israel: behold, they say, Our bones are dried up, and our hope is lost; we are clean cut off. Therefore prophecy, and say unto them, Thus saith the Lord God: Behold, I will open your graves, and cause you to come up out of your graves, O my people; and I will bring you into the land of Israel. And ye shall know that I am the LORD, when I have opened your graves, and caused you to come up out of your graves, O my people. And I will put my <sup>10</sup>spirit in you, and ye shall live, and I will place you in your own land: and ye shall know that I the LORD have spoken it, and performed it, saith the LORD.

15 The word of the LORD came again unto me, saying, And thou, son of man, take thee one stick, and write upon it, For Judah, and for the children of Israel his companions: then take another stick, and write upon it,

Be thou prepared, yea, prepare thyself, thou, and all thy companies that are assembled unto thee, and be thou a <sup>8</sup>guard unto them. After many days thou shalt be visited: in the latter years thou shalt come into the land that is <sup>9</sup>brought back from the sword, that is gathered out of many peoples, upon the mountains of Israel, which have been a continual waste: but it is brought forth out of the peoples, and they shall dwell securely, all of them. And thou shalt ascend, thou shalt come like a storm, thou shalt be like a cloud to cover the land, thou, and all thy hordes, and many peoples with thee.

10 Thus saith the Lord God: It shall come to pass in that day, that things shall come into thy mind, and thou shalt devise an evil device: and thou shalt say, I will go up to <sup>10</sup>the land of unwalled villages; I will go to them that are at quiet, that dwell securely, all of them dwelling without walls, and having neither bars nor gates: to take the spoil and to take the prey; to turn thine hand against the waste places that are now inhabited, and against the people that are gathered out of the nations, which have gotten cattle and goods, that dwell in the <sup>11</sup>middle of the earth, Sheba, and Dedan, and the merchants of Tarshish, with all the young lions thereof, shall say unto thee, Art thou come to take the spoil? hast thou assembled thy company to take the prey? to carry away silver and gold, to take away cattle and goods, to take great spoil?

for many years that I would bring thee against them? And it shall come to pass in that day, when Gog shall come against the land of Israel, saith the Lord God, that my fury shall come up into my nostrils. For in my jealousy and in the fire of my wrath have I spoken, Surely in that day there shall be a great shaking in the land of Israel; so that the fishes of the sea, and the fowls of the heaven, and the beasts of the field, and all creeping things that creep upon the earth, and all the men that are upon the face of the earth, shall shake at my presence, and the mountains shall be thrown down, and the steep places shall fall, and every wall shall fall to the ground.

21 And I will call for a sword against him unto all my mountains, saith the Lord God: every man's sword shall be against his brother. And I will plead against him with pestilence and with blood; and I will rain upon him, and upon his hordes, and upon the many peoples that are with him, an overflowing shower, and great hailstones, fire, and brimstone. And I will magnify myself, and sanctify myself, and I will make myself known in the eyes of many nations; and they shall know that I am the Lord.

39 And thou, son of man, prophesy against Gog, and say, Thus saith the Lord God: Behold, I am against thee, O Gog, <sup>1</sup>prince of Rosh, Meshech, and Tubal; and I will turn thee about, and will lead thee on, and will cause thee to come up from the uttermost parts of the north; and I will bring thee upon the mountains of Israel: and I will smite thy bow out of thy left hand, and will cause thine arrows to fall out of thy right hand. Thou shalt fall upon the mountains of Israel, thou, and all thy hordes, and the peoples that are with thee: I will give thee unto the ravenous birds of every sort, and to the beasts of the field to be devoured. Thou shalt fall upon the open field: for I have spoken it, saith the Lord God. And I will send a fire on Magog, and on them that dwell securely in the islands: and they shall know that I am the Lord. And my holy name will I make known in the midst of my people Israel; neither will I suffer my holy name to be profaned any more, and the nations shall know that I am the Lord, the Holy One in Israel. Behold, it cometh, and it shall be done, saith the Lord God: this is the day whereof I have spoken. And they that dwell in the cities of Israel shall go forth, and shall make fires of the weapons and burn them, both the shields and the bucklers, the bows and the arrows, and the handstaves, and the spears, and they shall make fires of them seven years: so that they shall take no wood out of the field, neither cut down any out of the forests: for they shall make fires of the weapons: and they shall spoil those that spoiled them, and rob those that robbed them, saith the Lord God.

11 And it shall come to pass in that day, that I will give unto Gog a place for burial in Israel, the valley of them that pass through <sup>3</sup>on the east of the sea: and it shall stop them that pass through: and there shall they bury Gog and all his multitude: and they shall call it

12 The valley of <sup>4</sup>Hamon-gog. And seven months shall the house of Israel be burying of them, that they may cleanse the land. Yea, all the people of the land shall bury them; and it shall be to them a renown, in the day that I shall be glorified.

14 saith the Lord God. And they shall never out men of continual employment, that shall pass through the land to bury <sup>5</sup>them <sup>6</sup>that pass through, that remain upon the face of the land, to cleanse it: after the end of seven months shall they search. And they that pass through the land shall pass through; and when any seeth a man's bone, then shall he <sup>7</sup>set up a sign by it, till the buriers have buried it in the valley of Hamon-gog. And <sup>8</sup>Hamonah shall also be the name of a city. Thus shall they cleanse the land.

17 And thou, son of man, thus saith the Lord God: Speak unto the birds of every sort, and to every beast of the field, Assemble yourselves, and come; gather yourselves on every side to my sacrifice that I do sacrifice for you, even a great sacrifice upon the mountains of Israel, that ye may eat flesh and drink blood.

18 Ye shall eat the flesh of the mighty, and drink the blood of the princes of the earth, of rams, of lambs, and of goats, of bullocks, all of them fatlings of Bashan. And ye shall eat fat till ye be full, and drink blood till ye be drunken, of my sacrifice which I have sacrificed for you.

20 And ye shall be filled at my table with horses and chariots, with mighty men, and with all men of war, saith the Lord God. And I will set my glory among the nations, and all the nations shall see my judgement that I have executed, and my hand that I have laid upon them. So the house of Israel shall know that I am the Lord their God, from that day and forward. And the nations shall know that the house of Israel went into captivity for their iniquity; because they trespassed against me, and I hid my face from them: so I gave them into the hand of their adversaries, and they fell all of them by the sword. According to their uncleanness and according to their transgressions did I unto them; and I hid my face from them.

25 Therefore thus saith the Lord God: Now will I bring again the captivity of Jacob, and have mercy upon the whole house of Israel: and I will be jealous for my holy name. And they shall bear their shame, and all their trespasses whereby they have trespassed against me, when they shall dwell securely in their land, and none shall make them afraid; when I have brought them again from the peoples, and gathered them out of their enemies' lands, and am sanctified in them in the sight of many nations. And they shall know that I am the LORD their God, in that I caused them to go into captivity among the nations, and have gathered them unto their own land; and I will leave none of them any more there; neither will I hide my face any more from them: for I have poured out my spirit upon the house of Israel, saith the Lord God.

40 In the five and twentieth year of our captivity, in the beginning of the year, in the tenth day of the month, in the fourteenth year after that the city was smitten, in the selfsame day, the hand of the LORD was upon me, and he brought me thither. In the visions of God brought he me into the land of Israel, and set me down upon a very high mountain, whereon was as it were the frame of a city on the south. And he brought me thither, and behold, there was a man, whose appearance was like the appearance of brass, with a line of flax in his hand, and a measuring reed; and he stood in the gate. And the man said unto me, Son of man, behold with thine eyes, and hear with thine ears, and set thine heart upon all that I shall shew thee; for to the intent that I might shew them unto thee art thou brought hither: declare all that thou seest to the house of Israel.

5 And behold, a wall on the outside of the house round about, and in the man's hand a measuring reed of six cubits long, of a cubit and an handbreadth each: so he measured the thickness of the building, one reed; and the height, one reed. 6 Then came he unto the gate which looketh toward the east, and went up the steps thereof: and he measured the threshold of the gate, one reed broad: 7 and the other threshold, one reed broad. And every lodge was one reed long, and one reed broad: and the space between the lodges was five cubits: and the threshold of the gate by the porch of the gate toward the house was one reed. 8 He measured also the porch of the gate toward the house, one reed. Then measured he the porch of the gate, eight cubits; and the 4 posts thereof, two cubits;

and the porch of the gate was toward the house. And the lodges of the gate eastward were three on this side, and three on that side; they three were of one measure: and the posts had one measure on this side and on that side. And he measured the breadth of the opening of the gate, ten cubits; and the length of the gate, thirteen cubits: and a border before the lodges, one cubit on this side, and a border, one cubit on that side; and the lodges, six cubits on this side, and six cubits on that side. And he measured the gate from the roof of the one lodge to the roof of the other, a breadth of five and twenty cubits; door against door. He made also posts, threescore cubits; and the court reached unto the post, the gate being round about. And from the forefront of the gate at the entrance unto the forefront of the inner porch of the gate were fifty cubits. And there were closed windows to the lodges, and to their posts within the gate round about, and likewise to the arches; and windows were round about inward; and upon each post were palm trees. 17 Then brought he me into the outer court, and, lo, there were chambers and a pavement, made for the court round about: thirty chambers were upon the pavement. 18 And the pavement was by the side of the gates, answerable unto the length of the gates, even the lower pavement. Then he measured the breadth from the forefront of the lower gate unto the forefront of the inner court without, an hundred cubits, both on the east and on the north. And the gate of the outer court whose prospect is toward the north, he measured the length thereof and the breadth thereof. And the lodges thereof were three on this side and three on that side; and the posts thereof and the arches thereof were after the measure of the first gate: the length thereof was fifty cubits, and the breadth five and twenty cubits. 22 And the windows thereof, and the arches thereof, and the palm trees thereof, were after the measure of the gate whose prospect is toward the east; and they went up unto it by seven steps; and the arches thereof were before them. And there was a gate to the inner court over against the other gate, both on the north and on the east; and he measured from gate to gate an hundred cubits. And he led me toward the south, and behold a gate toward the south; and he measured the posts thereof and the arches thereof according to these measures. And there were windows in it and in the arches thereof round about, like those windows; the length was fifty cubits, and 26 And there were seven steps to go up to it: and the arches thereof were before them: and it had palm trees, one on this side, and another on that side, upon the posts thereof. And there was a gate to the inner court toward the south: and he measured from gate to gate toward the south an hundred cubits.

27 Then he brought me to the inner court by the south gate: and he measured the south gate according

28 to these measures; and the lodges thereof, and the posts thereof, and the arches thereof, according to these measures: and there were windows in it and in the arches thereof round about: it was fifty cubits long, and five and twenty cubits broad. And there were arches

30 round about, five and twenty cubits long, and five cubits broad. And the arches thereof were toward the

31 outer court; and palm trees were upon the posts thereof: and the

32 going up to it had eight steps. And he brought me into the inner court toward the east: and he measured the gate according to these mea-

33 sures; and the lodges thereof, and the posts thereof, and the arches thereof, according to these measures: and there were windows therein and in the arches thereof round about: it was fifty cubits long, and

34 five and twenty cubits broad. And the arches thereof were toward the outer court: and palm trees were upon the posts thereof, on this side, and on that side: and the going

35 up to it had eight steps. And he brought me to the north gate: and he measured it according to these

36 measures: the lodges thereof, the posts thereof, and the arches thereof; and there were windows therein round about: the length was fifty cubits, and the breadth five and

37 twenty cubits. And the posts thereof were toward the outer court; and palm trees were upon the posts thereof, on this side, and on that side: and the going up to it had eight steps.

38 And a chamber with the door thereof was by the posts at the gates: there they washed the burnt offering. And in the porch of the 39 gate were two tables on this side, and two tables on that side, to slay thereon the burnt offering and the sin offering and the guilt offering.

40 And on the one side without, <sup>2</sup>as one goeth up to the entry of the gate toward the north, were two tables; and on the other side, which belonged to the porch of the gate,

41 were two tables. Four tables were on this side, and four tables on that side, by the side of the gate; eight tables, whereupon they slew the

42 sacrifices. And there were four tables for the burnt offering, of hewn stone, a cubit and an half long, and a cubit and an half broad, and one cubit high: whereupon they laid the instruments wherewith they slew the burnt offering and the sacrifice. And the <sup>3</sup>books, an handbreadth long, were fastened <sup>4</sup>within round about: and upon the tables was the flesh

44 of the oblation. <sup>5</sup>And without the inner gate were chambers for the singers in the inner court, which was at the side of the north gate; and their prospect was toward the south: one at the side of the east gate having the prospect toward

45 the north. And he said unto me, This chamber, whose prospect is toward the south, is for the priests, the keepers of the charge of the

46 house. And the chamber whose prospect is toward the north is for the priests, the keepers of the charge of the altar: these are the sons of Zadok, which from among the sons of Levi come near to the Lord to minister unto him.

47 And he measured the court, an hundred cubits long, and an hundred cubits broad, foursquare: and the altar was before the house.

48 Then he brought me to the porch of the house, and measured each post of the porch, five cubits on this side, and five cubits on that side: and the breadth of the gate was three cubits on this side, and

49 three cubits on that side. The length of the porch was twenty cubits, and the breadth eleven cubits; seven by the steps whereby they went up to it: and there were pillars by the posts, one on this side, and another on that side.

50 And he brought me to the temple, and measured the posts, six cubits broad on the one side, and six cubits broad on the other side, which was the breadth of the

2 tabernacle. And the breadth of the entrance was ten cubits; and the <sup>8</sup>sides of the entrance were five cubits on the one side, and five cubits on the other side: and he measured the length thereof, forty cubits, and the breadth, twenty

3 cubits. Then went he inward, and measured each post of the entrance, two cubits: and the entrance, six cubits; and the breadth of the en-

4 trance, seven cubits. And he measured the length thereof, twenty cubits, and the breadth, twenty cubits, before the temple: and he said unto me, This is the most holy

5 place. Then he measured the wall of the house, six cubits; and the breadth of every side-chamber, four cubits, round about the house on

6 every side. And the side-chambers were in three stories, one over another, and thirty in order; and they entered into the wall which belonged to the house for the side-chambers round about, that they might

7 have hold therein, and not have hold in the wall of the house. And <sup>10</sup>the side-chambers were broader as they encompassed the house higher and higher; for the <sup>8</sup>encompassing of the house went higher and higher round about the house; therefore the breadth of the house continued upward; and so one went up from the lowest chamber to the highest

8 by the middle chamber. I saw also

9 that the house had <sup>2</sup>a raised basement round about: the foundations of the side-chambers were a full reed <sup>3</sup>of six great cubits. The thickness of the wall, which was for the side-chambers, on the outside, was five cubits: <sup>4</sup>and that which was left was the place of the side-chambers that belonged to the house.

10 And between the chambers was a breadth of twenty cubits round

11 about the house on every side. And the doors of the side-chambers were toward the place that was left, one door toward the north, and another door toward the south, and the breadth of the place that was left

12 was five cubits round about. And the building that was before the separate place at the side toward the west was seventy cubits broad, and the wall of the building was five cubits thick round about, and the length thereof ninety cubits.

13 So he measured the house, an hundred cubits long; and the separate place, and the building, with the walls thereof, an hundred cubits

14 long; also the breadth of the face of the house, and of the separate place toward the east, an hundred cubits.

15 And he measured the length of the building before the separate place which was at the back thereof, and the galleries thereof on the one side and on the other side, an hundred cubits; and the inner temple, and the porches of the court,

16 the thresholds, and the closed windows, and the galleries round about on their three stories, over against the threshold, circle with wood round about, and from the ground up to the windows; now the windows were

17 covered; to the space above the door, even into the inner house, and without, and by all the wall round about within and without, by measure.

18 And it was made with cherubim and palm trees, and a palm tree was between cherub and cherub, and every cherub had two faces;

19 so that there was the face of a man toward the palm tree on the one side, and the face of a young lion toward the palm tree on the other side; thus was it made through all the house round about. From the ground unto above the door were cherubim and palm trees made:

20 thus was the wall of the temple.

21 As for the temple the door posts were square, and as for the face of the sanctuary the appearance of the top was as the appearance of the temple. The altar was of wood,

22 three cubits high, and the length thereof two cubits; and <sup>8</sup>the corners thereof, and the <sup>9</sup>length thereof, and the walls thereof, were of wood; and he said unto me, This is the table that is before the Lord. And the temple and the sanctuary had

23 two doors. And the doors had two leaves apiece, two turning leaves;

24 two leaves for the one door, and two leaves for the other. And there were made on them, on the doors of the temple, cherubim and palm trees, like as were made upon the walls; and there were thick beams of wood

25 upon the face of the porch within.

26 And there were closed windows and palm trees on the one side and on the other side, on the sides of the porch; thus were the side-chambers of the house, and the thick beams.

42. Then he brought me forth into the outer court, the way toward the north; and he brought me into the chamber that was over against the separate place, and which was over against the building toward

2 the north. Before the length of <sup>11</sup>an hundred cubits was the north door, and the breadth was fifty cubits.

3 Over against the twenty cubits which belonged to the inner court, and over against the pavement which belonged to the outer court, was gallery against gallery <sup>12</sup>in the third story.

4 And before the chambers was a walk of ten cubits breadth inward, a way of <sup>13</sup>one cubit; and their doors

5 were toward the north. Now the upper chambers were shorter; for the galleries took away from these, more than from the lower and the middlemost of the building. For they were in three stories and they had not pillars as the pillars of the courts; therefore the uppermost was shorter than the middlemost, and the middlemost from the ground

6 And the wall that was set out by the side of the chambers toward the outer court, before the chambers, the length thereof was fifty cubits. For the length of the chambers that were in the outer court was fifty cubits, and so, before the temple

9 were an hundred cubits. And from under the chambers came the stairs on the east side, as one goeth up to them from the outer court. In the thickness of the wall of the court toward the east, before the separate place, and before the building there, were pillars.

11 And the way leading there was like the appearance of the door of the chambers which were toward the north; according to their breadth, so was their breadth; and their gates out were both, according to their fashions and according to their doors. And according to the doors of the chambers that were toward the south was a door in the head of the way, even the way directly before the wall toward the east, as one entereth

13 into them. Then said he unto me, The north chambers and the south chambers, which are before the separate place, they be the holy chambers, where the priests that are near unto the LORD shall eat the most holy things: there shall they lay the most holy things, and the meal offering, and the sin offering, and the guilt offering: for the place is holy. When the priests enter in, then shall they not go out of the holy place into the outer court, but there they shall lay their garments wherein they minister: for they are holy: and they shall put on other garments, and shall approach to that which pertaineth to the people.

15 Now when he had made an end of measuring the inner house, he brought me forth by the way of the gate whose prospect is toward the east, and measured it round about.

16 He measured on the east<sup>1</sup> side with the measuring reed, five hundred reeds, with the measuring reed round about. He measured on the north<sup>1</sup> side, five hundred reeds, with the

17 measuring reed round about. He measured on the south<sup>1</sup> side, five hundred reeds, with the measuring

18 reed. He turned about to the west<sup>1</sup> side, and measured five hundred reeds with the measuring reed. He measured it<sup>2</sup> on the four sides: it had a wall round about, the length five hundred, and the breadth five hundred, to make a separation between that which was holy and that which was common.

43 Afterward he brought me to the gate, even the gate that looketh toward the east: and behold, the glory of the God of Israel came from the way of the east: and his voice was like the sound of many waters: and the earth shined with his glory.

3 And it was according to the appearance of the vision which I saw, even according to the vision that I saw when I came to destroy the city; and the visions were like the vision that I saw by the river Chebar: and I fell upon my face. And the glory of the LORD came into the house by the way of the gate whose prospect is toward the east. And the spirit took me up, and brought me into the inner court; and behold, the glory of the LORD filled the house. And I heard one speaking unto me out of the house; and a man stood by me. And he said unto me, Son of man, this is the place of my throne, and the place of the soles of my feet, where I will dwell in the midst of the children of Israel for ever: and the house of Israel shall no more defile my holy name, neither they, nor their kings, by their whoredom, and by the carcasses of their kings<sup>3</sup> in their high places; in their setting of their threshold by my threshold, and their door post beside my door post, and there was but the wall between me and them; and they have defiled my holy name by their abominations which they have committed: wherefore I have consumed them<sup>9</sup> in mine anger. Now let them put away their whoredom, and the carcasses of their kings, far from me, and I will dwell in the midst of them for ever.

10 Thou, son of man, shew the house to the house of Israel, that they may be ashamed of their iniquities: and let them measure the<sup>4</sup> pattern. And if they be ashamed of all that they have done, make known unto them the form of the house, and the fashion thereof, and the goings out thereof, and the comings in thereof, and all the forms thereof, and all the ordinances thereof, and all the forms thereof, and all the laws thereof, and write it in their sight: that they may keep the whole form thereof, and all the ordinances thereof, and do them. This is the law of the house: upon the top of the mountain the whole limit thereof round about shall be most holy. Behold, this is the law of the house.

11 And these are the measures of the altar by cubits: (the cubit is a cubit and an handbreadth:) the<sup>5</sup> bottom shall be a cubit, and the breadth a cubit, and the border thereof by the edge thereof round about a span: and this shall be the<sup>6</sup> base of the altar. And from the bottom<sup>7</sup> upon the ground to the lower<sup>8</sup> settle shall be two cubits, and the breadth one cubit; and from the lesser settle to the greater settle shall be four cubits, and the breadth a cubit. And the<sup>9</sup> upper altar shall be four cubits; and from the<sup>10</sup> altar hearth and upward there shall be four horns. And the altar hearth shall be twelve cubits long by twelve broad, square in the four sides thereof. And the settle shall be fourteen cubits long by fourteen broad in the four sides thereof; and the border about it shall be half a cubit; and the bottom thereof shall be a cubit about; and the steps thereof shall look toward the east.

12 And he said unto me, Son of man, thus saith the Lord God: These are the ordinances of the altar in the day when they shall make it, to offer burnt offerings thereon, and to sprinkle blood thereon. Thou shalt give to the priests the Levites that be of the seed of Zadok, which are near unto me, to minister unto me, saith the Lord God, a young bullock for a sin offering. And thou shalt take of the blood thereof, and put it on the four horns of it, and on the four corners of the settle, and upon the border round about: thus shalt thou cleanse it and make atonement for it. Thou shalt also take the bullock of the sin offering, and he shall burn it in the day thou shalt offer a he-goat without shall cleanse the altar, as they did 23 cleanse it with the bullock. When thou hast made an end of cleansing it, thou shalt offer a young bullock without blemish, and a ram out of 24 the flock without blemish. And thou shalt bring them near before the LORD, and the priests shall cast salt upon them, and they shall offer them up for a burnt offering unto 25 the LORD. Seven days shalt thou prepare every day a goat for a sin offering; they shall also prepare a

 they have accomplished the days, it shall be that upon the eighth day, and forward, the priests shall make your burnt offerings upon the altar, and your peace offerings;
 and I will accept you, saith the Lord God.

44 Then he brought me back the way of the outer gate of the sanctuary, which looketh toward the east;
 2 and it was shut. And the LORD said unto me, This gate shall be shut, it shall not be opened, neither shall any man enter in by it, for the LORD, the God of Israel, hath entered in by 3 it: therefore it shall be shut. As for the prince, he shall sit therein as prince to eat bread before the LORD;
 he shall enter by the way of the porch of the gate, and shall go out 4 by the way of the same. Then he brought me the way of the north gate before the house; and I looked,
 and behold, the glory of the LORD filled the house of the LORD; and 5 I fell upon my face. And the LORD said unto me, Son of man, <sup>2</sup>mark well, and behold with thine eyes, and hear with thine ears all that I say unto thee concerning all the ordinances of the house of the LORD, and all the laws thereof; and <sup>2</sup>mark
 well the entering in of the house, with every going forth of the sanc-6 tuary. And thou shalt say to the rebellious, even to the house of Israel, Thus saith the Lord God: O
 ye house of Israel, let it suffice you 7 of all your abominations, in that ye have brought in aliens, uncircumcised in heart and uncircumcised in flesh, to be in my sanctuary, to profane it, even my house, when ye offer my bread, the fat and the blood, and <sup>3</sup>they have broken my covenant, <sup>4</sup>to add unto all your abominations.
 8 And ye have not kept the charge of mine holy things: but ye have set keepers of my charge in my sanc-9 tuary for yourselves. Thus saith the Lord God, No alien, uncircumcised in heart and uncircumcised in flesh, shall enter into my sanctuary, of any alien that is among the children of Israel. But the Levites that went far from me, when Israel went astray, which went astray from me after their idols; they shall bear 11 their iniquity. Yet they shall be ministers in my sanctuary, having oversight at the gates of the house, and ministering in the house: they shall slay the burnt offering and the sacrifice for the people, and they shall stand before them to minister 12 unto them. Because they ministered unto them before their idols, and became a stumblingblock of iniquity unto the house of Israel; therefore have I lifted up mine hand against them, saith the Lord God, and they 13 shall bear their iniquity. And they shall not come near unto me, to execute the office of priest unto me, nor to come near to any of my holy things, unto the things that are most holy: but they shall bear their shame, and their abomi-nations which they have commit-14 ted. Yet will I make them keepers of the charge of the house, for all the service thereof, and for all that shall be done therein.

15 But the priests the Levites, the sons of Zadok, that kept the charge of my sanctuary when the children of Israel went astray from me, they shall come near to me to minister unto me; and they shall stand before me to offer unto me the fat and 16 the blood, saith the Lord God: they shall enter into my sanctuary, and they shall come near to my table, to minister unto me, and they shall 17 keep my charge. And it shall be that when they enter in at the gates of the inner court, they shall be clothed with linen garments; and no wool shall come upon them, whiles they minister in the gates of 18 the inner court, and <sup>5</sup>within. They shall have linen ties upon their heads, and shall have linen breeches upon their loins; they shall not gird themselves with any thing that caus-19 eth sweat. And when they go forth into the outer court, even into the outer court to the people, they shall put off their garments wherein they minister, and lay them in the holy chambers, and they shall put on other garments, that they sanctify not the people with their garments.
 20 Neither shall they shave their heads, nor suffer their locks to grow long;
 they shall only poll their heads.
 21 Neither shall any priest drink wine, when they enter into the inner 22 court. Neither shall they take for their wives a widow, nor her that is put away: but they shall take virgins of the seed of the house of Israel, or a widow that is the widow 23 of a priest. And they shall teach my people the difference between the holy and the common, and cause them to discern between the un-24 clean and the clean. And in a controversy they shall stand to judge; according to my judgments shall they judge it: and they shall keep my laws and my statutes in all my appointed feasts: and they shall hallow my sabbaths. And they shall come at no dead person to defile themselves: but for father, or for mother, or for son, or for daughter, for brother, or for sister that hath had no husband, they may defile themselves. And after he is cleansed, they shall reckon unto him seven days. And in the day that he goeth into the sanctuary, into the inner court, to minister in the sanctuary, he shall offer his sin offering, saith the Lord God. And they shall have an inheritance: I am their inheritance: and ye shall give them no possession in Israel; I am their possession. They shall eat the meal offering, and the sin offering, and the guilt offering: and every devoted thing in Israel shall be theirs. And the first of all the firstfruits of every thing, and every <sup>1</sup>oblation of every thing, of all your oblations, shall be for the priests: ye shall also give unto the priest the first of your <sup>2</sup>dough, to cause a blessing to rest on this house. The priests shall not eat of any thing that dieth of itself, or is torn, whether it be fowl or beast.

Moreover, when ye shall divide by lot the land for inheritance, ye shall offer an oblation unto the Lord, <sup>3</sup>an holy portion of the land: the length shall be the length of five and twenty thousand <sup>4</sup>reeds, and the breadth shall be <sup>5</sup>ten thousand: it shall be holy in all the border thereof round about. Of this there shall be for the holy place five hundred in length by five hundred in breadth, square round about; and fifty cubits for the <sup>6</sup>suburbs thereof round about. And of this measure shalt thou measure, a length of five and twenty thousand, and a breadth of ten thousand; and in it shall be the sanctuary, which is most holy. It is an holy portion of the land: it shall be for the priests, the ministers of the sanctuary, which come near to minister unto the Lord; and it shall be a place for their houses, and an holy place for the sanctuary. And five and twenty thousand in length, and ten thousand in breadth, shall be unto the Levites, the ministers of the house, for a possession unto themselves, for <sup>7</sup>twenty chambers. And ye shall appoint the possession of the city five thousand broad, and five and twenty thousand long, side by side with the oblation of the holy portion: it shall be for the whole house of Israel. And <sup>8</sup>whatsoever is for the prince shall be on the one side and on the other side of the holy oblation and of the possession of the city, in front of the holy oblation and in front of the possession of the city, on the west side westward, and on the east side eastward: and in length answerable unto one of the portions, from the west border unto the east border.

7 In the land it shall be to him for a possession in Israel: and my princes shall no more oppress my people; but they shall give the land to the house of Israel according to their tribes.

9 Thus saith the Lord God: Let it suffice you, O princes of Israel: remove violence and spoil, and execute judgement and justice; take away your exactions from my people.

10 saith the Lord God. Ye shall have just balances, and a just ephah, and

11 a just bath. The ephah and the bath shall be of one measure, that the bath may contain the tenth part of an homer, and the ephah the tenth part of an homer: the measure thereof shall be after the homer.

12 And the shekel shall be twenty gerahs: twenty shekels, five and twenty shekels, fifteen shekels, shall be your

13 maneh. This is the oblation that ye shall offer: the sixth part of an ephah from an homer of wheat, and ye shall give the sixth part of an

14 ephah from an homer of barley: and the set portion of oil, of the bath of oil, shall be the tenth part of a bath out of the cor, <sup>9</sup>which is ten baths, even an homer; for ten baths are an

15 homer: and one lamb of the flock, out of two hundred, from the <sup>10</sup>fat pastures of Israel; for a meal offering, and for a burnt offering, and for peace offerings, to make atonement for them, saith the Lord

16 God. All the people of the land <sup>11</sup>shall give unto this oblation for 17 the prince in Israel. And it shall be the prince's part to give the burnt offerings, and the meal offerings, and the drink offerings, in the feasts, and in the new moons, and in the sabbaths, in all the appointed feasts of the house of Israel: he shall prepare the sin offering, and the meal offering, and the burnt offering, and the peace offerings, to make atonement for the house of Israel.

18 Thus saith the Lord God: In the first month, in the first day of the month, thou shalt take a young bullock without blemish; and thou shalt cleanse the sanc-

19 tuary. And the priest shall take of the blood of the sin offering, and put it upon the door posts of the house, and upon the four corners of the <sup>12</sup>settles of the altar, and upon the posts of the gate

20 of the inner court. And so thou shalt do <sup>13</sup>on the seventh day of the month for every one that erreth, and for him that is simple; so shall ye make atonement for the house.

21 In the first month, in the fourteenth day of the month, ye shall have the passover, a feast of seven days; unleavened bread shall be eaten. And upon that day shall the prince prepare for himself and for all the people of the land a bullock for

24 for a sin offering. And he shall prepare a meal offering, an ephah for a bullock, and an ephah for a ram, and 25 an hin of oil to an ephah. In the seventh month, in the fifteenth day of the month, in the feast, shall he do the like the seven days; according to the sin offering, according to the burnt offering, and according to the meal offering, and according to the oil.

46 Thus saith the Lord God: The gate of the inner court that looketh toward the east shall be shut the six working days; but on the sabbath day it shall be opened, and in the day of the new moon it shall
2 be opened. And the prince shall enter by the way of the porch of the gate without, and shall stand by the post of the gate, and the priests shall prepare his burnt offering and his peace offerings, and he shall worship at the threshold of the gate; then he shall go forth: but the gate shall not be shut until
3 the evening. And the people of the land shall worship at the door of that gate before the LORD in the sabbaths and in the new moons.

4 And the burnt offering that the prince shall offer unto the LORD shall be in the sabbath day six lambs without blemish and a ram
5 without blemish; and the meal offering shall be an ephah for the ram, and the meal offering for the lambs as he is able to give, and an
6 hin of oil to an ephah. And in the day of the new moon it shall be a young bullock without blemish; and six lambs, and a ram; they shall be 7 without blemish; and he shall prepare a meal offering, an ephah for the bullock, and an ephah for the ram, and for the lambs according as
1 he is able, and an hin of oil to an

2 ephah. And when the prince shall enter, he shall go in by the way of the porch of the gate, and he shall
3 go forth by the way thereof. But when the people of the land shall come before the LORD in the appointed feasts, he that entereth by the way of the north gate to worship shall go forth by the way of the south gate; and he that entereth by the way of the south gate shall go forth by the way of the north gate: he shall not return by the way of the gate whereby he came in, but shall go forth straight before him.

10 And the prince, when they go in, shall go in in the midst of them; and when they go forth, they shall 11 go forth together. And in the feasts and in the solemnities the meal offering shall be an ephah for a bullock, and an ephah for a ram, and for the lambs as he is able to give,
12 and an hin of oil to an ephah. And when the prince shall prepare a freewill offering, a burnt offering or peace offerings as a freewill offering unto the LORD, one shall open for him the gate that looketh toward the east, and he shall prepare his burnt offering and his peace offerings, as he doth on the sabbath day: then he shall go forth; and after his going forth one shall shut the gate.

13 And thou shalt prepare a lamb of the first year without blemish for a burnt offering unto the LORD daily: morning by morning shalt thou pre-

14 pare it. And thou shalt prepare a meal offering with it morning by morning, the sixth part of an ephah, and the third part of an hin of oil, to moisten the fine flour; a meal offering unto the LORD continually by 15 a perpetual ordinance. Thus shall they prepare the lamb, and the meal offering, and the oil, morning by morning, for a continual burnt offering.

16 Thus saith the Lord God: If the prince give a gift unto any of his sons, it is his inheritance, it shall belong to his sons; it is their possession by inheritance. But if he give of his inheritance a gift to one of his servants, it shall be his to the year of liberty; then it shall return to the prince: but as for his inheritance, it shall be for his 18 sons. Moreover the prince shall not take of the people's inheritance, to thrust them out of their possession; he shall give inheritance to his sons out of his own possession: that my people be not scattered every man from his possession.

19 Then he brought me through the entry, which was at the side of the gate, into the holy chambers for the priests, which looked toward the north: and behold, there was a place on the hinder part west-

20 ward. And he said unto me, This is the place where the priests shall boil the guilt offering and the sin offering, where they shall bake the meal offering; that they bring them not forth into the outer court.

21 to sanctify the people. Then he brought me forth into the outer court, and caused me to pass by the four corners of the court; and behold, in every corner of the court there was a court. In the four corners of the court there were courts
22 inclosed, forty cubits long and thirty broad: these four in the 23 corners were of one measure. And there was a row of building round about in them, round about the four, and it was made with boiling places under the rows round about.

24 Then said he unto me, These are the boiling houses, where the ministers of the house shall boil the sacrifice of the people.

47 And he brought me back unto the door of the house: and behold, waters issued out from under the threshold of the house eastward, for the forefront of the house was toward the east; and the waters came down from under, from the right side of the house, on the south of the altar. Then brought he me out by the way of the gate northward, and led me round by the way without unto the outer gate, by the way of the gate that looketh toward the east; and behold, there ran out waters on the right side.

3 When the man went forth eastward with the line in his hand, he measured a thousand cubits, and he caused me to pass through the waters, waters that were to the ankles.

4 Again he measured a thousand, and caused me to pass through the waters, waters that were to the knees. Again he measured a thousand, and caused me to pass through the waters, waters that were to the loins. Afterward he measured a thousand; and it was a river that I could not pass through: for the waters were risen, waters to swim in, a river that could not be passed through. And he said unto me,

5 Son of man, hast thou seen this? Then he brought me, and caused me to return to the bank of the river. Now when I had returned, behold, upon the bank of the river were very many trees on the one

6 side and on the other. Then said he unto me, These waters issue forth toward the eastern region, and shall go down into the Arabah; and they shall go toward the sea; into the sea shall the waters go which were made to issue forth; and the

7 waters shall be healed. And it shall come to pass, that every living creature which swarmeth, in every place whither the rivers come, shall live; and there shall be a very great multitude of fish: for these waters are come thither, and the waters of the sea shall be healed, and every thing shall live whither-

8 soever the river cometh. And it shall come to pass, that fishers shall stand by it: from En-gedi even unto En-eglaïm shall be a place for the spreading of nets; their fish shall be after their kinds, as the fish of the great sea, exceeding

9 many. But the miry places thereof, and the marshes thereof, shall not be healed; they shall be given up to salt. And by the river upon the bank thereof, on this side and on that side, shall grow every tree for meat, whose leaf shall not wither, neither shall the fruit thereof fail: it shall bring forth new fruit every month, because the waters thereof issue out of the sanctuary; and the fruit thereof shall be for meat, and the leaf thereof for healing.

10 Thus saith the Lord God: This shall be the border, whereby ye shall divide the land for inheritance according to the twelve tribes of Israel: Joseph shall have 5 portions. 14 And ye shall inherit it, one as well as another; concerning the which I lifted up mine hand to give it unto your fathers; and this land shall fall unto you for inheritance.

15 And this shall be the border of the land: on the north side, from the great sea, by the way of Hethlon, unto the entering in of Zedad;

16 Hamath, Berothai, Sibraim, which is between the border of Damascus and the border of Hamath; Hazerhatticon, which is by the border of Hauran. And the border from the sea shall be Hazar-enon at the border of Damascus, and on the north northward is the border of Hamath. This is the north side.

18 And the east side, between Hauran and Damascus and Gilead, and the land of Israel, shall be Jordan; from the north border unto the east sea shall ye measure. This is the east side. And the west side shall be the great sea, from the south border as far as over against the entering in of Hamath. This is the west side. So shall ye divide this land unto you according to the tribes of Israel. # THE BOOK OF DANIEL.

1 In the third year of the reign of Jehoiakim king of Judah came Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon unto Jerusalem, and besieged it. And the Lord gave Jehoiakim king of Judah into his hand, with part of the vessels of the house of God; and he carried them into the land of Shinar to the house of his god: and he brought the vessels into the treasure house of his god. And the king spake unto Ashpenaz the master of his eunuchs, that he should bring in certain of the children of Israel, even of the seed royal and of the nobles; youths in whom was no blemish, but well favoured, and skilful in all wisdom, and cunning in knowledge, and understanding sciences, and such as had ability to stand in the king's palace; and that he should teach them the learning and the tongue of the Chaldeans.

5 And the king appointed for them a daily portion of the king's meat, and of the wine which he drank, and that they should be nourished three years; that at the end thereof they might stand before the king.

6 Now among these were, of the children of Judah, Daniel, Hananiah, 7 Michael, and Azariah. And the prince of the eunuchs gave names unto them: unto Daniel he gave the name of Belteshazzar; and to Hananiah, of Shadrach; and to Michael, of Meshach; and to Azariah, of Abed-nego. But Daniel purposed in his heart that he would not defile himself with the king's meat, nor with the wine which he drank; therefore he requested of the prince of the eunuchs that he might not defile himself. Now God made Daniel to find favour and compassion in the sight of the prince of the eunuchs. And the prince of the eunuchs said unto Daniel, I fear my lord the king, who hath appointed your meat and your drink: for why should he see your faces worse liking than the youths which are of your own race? so should ye endanger my head with the king. Then said Daniel to the steward, whom the prince of the eunuchs had appointed over Daniel, Hananiah, Michael, and Azariah: Prove thy servants, I beseech thee, ten days: and let them give us pulse to eat, and water to drink. Then let our countenances be looked upon before thee, and the countenance of the youths that eat of the king's meat; and as thou seest, 14 deal with thy servants. So he hearkened unto them in this matter, and 15 proved them ten days. And at the end of ten days their countenances appeared fairer, and they were fatter in flesh, than all the youths which did eat of the king's meat.

16 So the steward took away their meat, and the wine that they should drink, and gave them pulse. Now as for these four youths, God gave them knowledge and skill in all learning and wisdom; and Daniel had understanding in all visions and dreams. And at the end of the days which the king had appointed for bringing them in, the prince of the eunuchs brought them in before 10 Nebuchadnezzar. And the king communed with them; and among them all was found none like Daniel, Hananiah, Michael, and Azariah: therefore stood they before the 20 king. And in every matter of wisdom and understanding, concerning which the king inquired of them, he found them ten times better than all the magicians and enchanters that were in all his realm. And Daniel continued even unto the first year of king Cyrus.

2 And in the second year, of the reign of Nebuchadnezzar Nebuchadnezzar dreamed dreams; and his spirit was troubled, and his sleep brake from him. Then the king commanded to call the magicians, and the enchanters, and the sorcerers, and the Chaldeans, for to tell the king his dreams. So they came in and stood before the king. 3 And the king said unto them, I have dreamed a dream, and my spirit is troubled to know the dream. Then spake the Chaldeans to the king 5 in the Syrian language, 6 O king, live for ever: tell thy servants the dream, and we will shew the interpretation. The king answered and said to the Chaldeans, 7 The thing is gone from me: if ye make not known unto me the dream and the interpretation thereof, ye shall be cut in pieces, and your houses shall be made a dunghill. But if ye shew the dream and the interpretation thereof, ye shall receive of me gifts and rewards and great honour; therefore shew me the dream and 7 the interpretation thereof. They answered the second time and said, Let the king tell his servants the dream, and we will shew the interpretation. The king answered and said, I know of a certainty that ye would gain time, because ye see 9 the thing is gone from me. But if ye make not known unto me the dream, there is but one law for you: for ye have prepared lying and corrupt words to speak before me, till the time be changed: therefore tell me the dream, and I shall know that ye can shew me the interpretation thereof. The Chaldeans answered before the king, and said, There is not a man upon the earth that can shew the king's matter: forasmuch as no king, lord, nor ruler, hath asked such a thing of any magician, or enchanter, or Chaldean. And it is a rare thing that the king requireth, and there is none other that can shew it before the king, except the gods, whose dwelling is not with flesh. For this cause the king was angry and very furious, and commanded to destroy all the wise men of Babylon. So the decree went forth, and the wise men were to be slain: and they sought Daniel and his companions to be slain. Then Daniel returned answer with counsel and prudence to Arioch the captain of the king's guard, which was gone forth to slay the wise men of Babylon: he answered and said to Arioch the king's captain, Wherefore is the decree so urgent from the king? Then Arioch made the thing known to Daniel.

And Daniel went in, and desired of the king that he would appoint him a time, and he would shew the king the interpretation.

Then Daniel went to his house, and made the thing known to Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah, his companions: that they would desire mercies of the God of heaven concerning this secret; that Daniel and his companions should not perish with the rest of the wise men of Babylon. Then was the secret revealed unto Daniel in a vision of the night. Then Daniel blessed the God of heaven. Daniel answered and said, Blessed be the name of God for ever and ever: for wisdom and might are his: and he changeth the times and the seasons, he removeth kings and setteth up kings: he giveth wisdom unto the wise, and knowledge to them that know understanding: he revealeth the deep and secret things: he knoweth what is in the darkness, and the light dwelleth with him.

I thank thee, and praise thee, O thou God of my fathers, who hast given me wisdom and might, and hast now made known unto me what we desired of thee: for thou hast made known unto us the king's matter. Therefore Daniel went in unto Arioch, whom the king had appointed to destroy the wise men of Babylon: he went and said thus unto him; Destroy not the wise men of Babylon: bring me in before the king, and I will shew unto the king the interpretation.

Then Arioch brought in Daniel before the king in haste: and said thus unto him, I have found a man of the children of the captivity of Judah, that will make known unto the king the interpretation. The king answered and said to Daniel, whose name was Belteshazzar, Art thou able to make known unto me the dream which I have seen, and the interpretation thereof? Daniel answered before the king, and said, The secret which the king hath demanded can neither wise men, enchanter, magicians, nor soothsayers, shew unto the king; but there is a God in heaven that revealeth secrets, and he hath made known to the king Nebuchadnezzar what shall be in the latter days. Thy dream, and the visions of thy head upon thy bed, are these: as for thee, O king thy thoughts came into thy mind upon thy bed, what should come to pass hereafter: and he that revealeth secrets hath made known to thee what shall come to pass. But as for me, this secret is not revealed to me for any wisdom that I have more than any living, but to the intent that the interpretation may be made known to the king, and that thou mayest know the thoughts of thy heart. Thou, O king, sawest, and behold a great image. This image which was mighty, and whose brightness was excellent, stood before thee: and the aspect thereof was terrible.

As for this image, his head was of fine gold, his breast and his arms of silver, his belly and his thighs of brass, his legs of iron, his feet part of iron, and part of clay. Thou sawest till that a stone was cut out without hands, which smote the image upon his feet that were of iron and clay, and brake them in pieces. Then was the iron, the clay, the brass, the silver, and the gold, broken in pieces together and became like the chaff of the summer threshing floors: and the wind carried them away that no place was found for them: and the stone that smote the image became a great mountain, and filled the whole earth. This is the dream; and we will tell the interpretation thereof before the king. Thou, O king, art king of kings, unto whom the God of heaven hath given the kingdom, the power, and the strength, and the glory; and wheresoever the children of men dwell, the beasts of the field and the fowls of the heaven hath he given into thine hand, and hath made thee to rule over them all; thou art the head of gold. And after thee shall arise another kingdom inferior to thee; and another third kingdom of brass, which shall bear rule over all the earth.

And the fourth kingdom shall be strong as iron: forasmuch as iron breaketh in pieces and subdueth all things: and as iron that crusheth all these, shall it break in pieces and crush. And whereas thou sawest the feet and toes, part of potters' clay, and part of iron, it shall be a divided kingdom; but there shall be in it of the strength of the iron, forasmuch as thou sawest the iron mixed with 42 <sup>1</sup> miry clay. And as the toes of the feet were part of iron, and part of clay, so the kingdom shall be partly strong, and partly <sup>2</sup> broken. And whereas thou sawest the iron mixed with <sup>1</sup> miry clay, they shall mingle themselves <sup>3</sup> with the seed of men; but they shall not cleave one to another, even as iron doth not 44 mingle with clay. And in the days of those kings shall the God of heaven set up a kingdom, which shall never be destroyed, nor shall the sovereignty thereof be left to another people; but it shall break in pieces and consume all these kingdoms, and it shall stand for 45 ever. Forasmuch as thou sawest that a stone was cut out of the mountain without hands, and that it brake in pieces the iron, the brass, the clay, the silver, and the gold; the great God hath made known to the king what shall come to pass hereafter: and the dream is certain, and the interpretation

46 thereof sure. Then the king Nebuchadnezzar fell upon his face, and worshipped Daniel, and commanded that they should offer an oblation and sweet odours unto him. The king answered unto Daniel, and said, Of a truth your God is the God of gods, and the Lord of kings, and a revealer of secrets, seeing thou hast been able to reveal this secret.
48 Then the king made Daniel great, and gave him many great gifts, and made him to rule over the whole province of Babylon, and to be chief governor over all the wise men of 49 Babylon. And Daniel requested of the king, and he appointed Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, over the affairs of the province of Babylon: but Daniel was <sup>4</sup> in the gate of the king.
3 Nebuchadnezzar the king made an image of gold, whose height was threescore cubits, and the breadth thereof six cubits: he set it up in the plain of Dura, in the province
2 of Babylon. Then Nebuchadnezzar the king sent to gather together the satraps, the deputies, and the governors, the <sup>5</sup> judges, the treasurers, the counsellors, the <sup>6</sup> sheriffs, and all the rulers of the provinces, to come to the dedication of the image which Nebuchadnezzar the king had set up. Then the satraps, the deputies, and the governors, the <sup>5</sup> judges, the treasurers, the counsellors, the <sup>6</sup> sheriffs, and all the rulers of the provinces, were gathered together unto the dedication of the image that Nebuchadnezzar the king had set up; and they stood before the image that Nebuchadnezzar had set up. Then the herald cried aloud, To you it is commanded, O peoples, nations, and 5 languages, that at what time ye hear the sound of the cornet, flute, harp, sackbut, psaltery, <sup>7</sup> dulcimer, and all kinds of music, ye fall down and worship the golden image that Nebuchadnezzar the king hath set

6 up: and whoso falleth not down and worshippeth shall the same hour be cast into the midst of a 7 burning fiery furnace. Therefore at that time, when all the peoples heard the sound of the cornet, flute, harp, sackbut, psaltery, and all kinds of music, all the peoples, the nations, and the languages, fell down and worshipped the golden image that Nebuchadnezzar the king had
■ set up. Wherefore at that time certain Chaldeans came near, and brought accusation against the Jews.
9 They answered and said to Nebuchadnezzar the king, O king, live for 10 ever. Thou, O king, hast made a decree, that every man that shall hear the sound of the cornet, flute, harp, sackbut, psaltery, and dulcimer, and all kinds of music, shall fall down and worship the golden 11 image: and whoso falleth not down and worshippeth, shall be cast into the midst of a burning fiery furnace.
12 There are certain Jews whom thou hast appointed over the affairs of the province of Babylon, Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego; these men, O king, have not regarded thee: they serve not thy gods, nor worship the golden image which 13 thou hast set up. Then Nebuchadnezzar in his rage and fury commanded to bring Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego. Then they brought these men before the king.
14 Nebuchadnezzar answered and said unto them, Is it of purpose, O Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, that ye serve not my god, nor worship the golden image which I have 15 set up? Now if ye be ready that at what time ye hear the sound of the cornet, flute, harp, sackbut, psaltery, and dulcimer, and all kinds of music, ye fall down and worship the image which I have made, well: but if ye worship not, ye shall be cast the same hour into the midst of a burning fiery furnace; and who is that god that shall deliver you out of my hands? Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, answered and said to the king, O Nebuchadnezzar, <sup>8</sup> we have no need to answer thee in this matter. <sup>9</sup> If it be so, our God whom we serve is able to deliver us from the burning fiery furnace; and he will deliver us out of thine hand, O king. But if not, be it known unto thee, O king, that we will not serve thy gods, nor worship the golden image which thou therefore he spake, and commanded that they should heat the furnace seven times more than it was wont to be heated. And he commanded certain mighty men that were in his army to bind Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, and to cast them into the burning fiery furnace. Then these men were bound in their hosen, their tunics, and their mantles, and their other garments, and were cast into the midst of the burning fiery furnace. Therefore because the king's commandment was urgent, and the furnace exceeding hot, the flame of the fire slew those men that took up Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego.

And these three men, Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, fell down bound into the midst of the burning fiery furnace. Then Nebuchadnezzar the king was astonished, and rose up in haste: he spake and said unto his counsellors, Did not we cast three men bound into the midst of the fire? They answered and said unto the king, True, O king. He answered and said, Lo, I see four men loose, walking in the midst of the fire, and they have no hurt; and the aspect of the fourth is like a son of the gods. Then Nebuchadnezzar came near to the mouth of the burning fiery furnace: he spake and said, Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, ye servants of the Most High God, come forth, and come hither. Then Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego came forth out of the midst of the fire. And the satraps, the deputies, and the governors and the king's counsellors, being gathered together, saw these men, that the fire had no power upon their bodies, nor was the hair of their head singed, neither were their hosen changed, nor had the smell of fire passed on them. Nebuchadnezzar spake and said, Blessed be the God of Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, who hath sent his angel, and delivered his servants that trusted in him, and have changed the king's word, and have yielded their bodies, that they might not serve nor worship any god, except their own God. Therefore I make a decree, that every people, nation, and language, which speak any thing amiss against the God of Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, shall be cut in pieces, and their houses shall be made a dunghill: because there is no other god that is able to deliver after this sort. Then the king promoted Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, in the province of Babylon.

4 Nebuchadnezzar the king, unto all the peoples, nations, and languages, that dwell in all the earth; peace be multiplied unto you. It hath seemed good unto me to shew the signs and wonders that the Most High God hath wrought toward me. How great are his signs! and how mighty are his wonders! his kingdom is an everlasting kingdom, and his dominion is from generation to generation.

4 I Nebuchadnezzar was at rest in mine house, and flourishing in my palace. I saw a dream which made me afraid; and the thoughts upon my bed and the visions of my head troubled me. Therefore made I a decree to bring in all the wise men of Babylon before me, that they might make known unto me the interpretation of the dream. Then came in the magicians, the enchanters, the Chaldeans, and the soothsayers, and I told the dream before them; but they did not make known unto me the interpretation thereof. But at the last Daniel came in before me, whose name was Belteshazzar, according to the name of my god, and in whom is the spirit of the holy gods; and I told the dream before him, saying, O Belteshazzar, master of the magicians, because I know that the spirit of the holy gods is in thee, and no secret troubleth thee, tell me the visions of my dream that I have seen and the interpretation thereof. Thus were the visions of my head upon my bed: I saw, and behold a tree in the midst of the earth, and the height thereof was great. The tree grew, and was strong, and the height thereof reached unto heaven, and the sight thereof to the end of all the earth. The leaves thereof were fair, and the fruit thereof much, and in it was meat for all: the beasts of the field had shadow under it, and the fowls of the heaven dwelt in the branches thereof, and all flesh was fed of it. I saw in the visions of my head upon my bed, and behold, a watcher and an holy one came down from heaven. He cried aloud, and said thus, Hew down the tree, and cut off his branches, shake off his leaves, and scatter his fruit: let the beasts get away from under it, and the fowls from his branches. Nevertheless leave the stump of his roots in the earth, even with a band of iron and brass, in the tender grass of the field, and let it be wet with the dew of heaven, and let his portion be with the beasts in the grass of the earth: let his heart be changed from man's, and let a beast's heart be given unto him; and let seven times pass over him. The sentence is by the decree of the watchers, and the demand by the word of the holy ones, to the intent that the living may know that the Most High ruler in the kingdom of men, and giveth it to whosoever he will, and setteth up over him the lowest of men. This dream I king Nebuchadnezzar have seen: and thou,

O Belteshazzar, declare the interpretation, forasmuch as all the wise men of my kingdom are not able to make known unto me the interpretation; but thou art able, for the spirit of the holy gods is in thee.

- 19 Then Daniel, whose name was Belteshazzar, was astonished for a while, and his thoughts troubled him. The king answered and said, Belteshazzar, let not the dream, or the interpretation, trouble thee. Belteshazzar answered and said, My lord, the dream be to them that hate thee, and the interpretation thereof to thine adversaries. The tree that thou sawest, which grew, and was strong, whose height reached unto the heaven, and the sight thereof to all the earth; whose leaves were fair and the fruit thereof much, and in it was meat for all; under which the beasts of the field dwelt, and upon whose branches the fowls of the heaven had their habitation: it is thou, O king, that art grown and become strong: for thy greatness is grown, and reacheth unto heaven, and thy dominion to the end of the earth. And whereas the king saw a watcher and an holy one coming down from heaven, and saying, Hew down the tree, and destroy it; nevertheless leave the stump of the roots thereof in the earth, even with a band of iron and brass, in the tender grass of the field; and let it be wet with the dew of heaven, and let his portion be with the beasts of the field, till seven times pass over him; this is the interpretation, O king, and it is the decree of the Most High, which is come upon my lord the king: that thou shalt be driven from men, and thy dwelling shall be with the beasts of the field, and thou shalt be made to eat grass as oxen, and shalt be wet with the dew of heaven, and seven times shall pass over thee; till thou know that the Most High ruleth in the kingdom of men, and giveth it to whomsoever he will. And whereas they commanded to leave the stump of the tree roots; thy kingdom shall be sure unto thee, after that thou shalt have known that the heavens do rule. Wherefore, O king, let my counsel be acceptable unto thee, and <sup>1</sup>break off thy sins by righteousness, and thine iniquities by shewing mercy to the poor; if there may be <sup>2</sup>a lengthening of thy tranquillity. All this came upon the king Nebuchadnezzar. At the end of twelve months he was walking <sup>3</sup>in the royal palace of Babylon.
- 30 The king spake and said, Is not this great Babylon, which I have built for the royal dwelling place, by the might of my power and for the glory of my majesty? While the word was in the king's mouth, there fell a voice from heaven, saying, O king Nebuchadnezzar, to thee

- 32 it is spoken: the kingdom is departed from thee. And thou shalt be driven from men, and thy dwelling shall be with the beasts of the field; thou shalt be made to eat grass as oxen, and seven times shall pass over thee; until thou know that the Most High ruleth in the kingdom of men, and giveth it to whomsoever he will. The same hour was the thing fulfilled upon Nebuchadnezzar: and he was driven from men, and did eat grass as oxen, and his body was wet with the dew of heaven, till his hair was grown like eagles' feathers, and his nails like birds' claws. And at the end of the days I Nebuchadnezzar lifted up mine eyes unto heaven, and mine understanding returned unto me, and I blessed the Most High, and I praised and honoured him that liveth for ever; for his dominion is an everlasting dominion, and his kingdom from generation to generation: and all the inhabitants of the earth are reputed as nothing; and he doeth according to his will in the army of heaven and among the inhabitants of the earth: and none can stay his hand, or say unto him, What doest thou? At the same time mine understanding returned unto me; and for the glory of my kingdom, my majesty and brightness returned unto me; and my counsellors and my lords sought unto me; and I was established in my kingdom, and excellent greatness was added unto me. Now I Nebuchadnezzar praise and extol and honour the King of heaven; for all his works are truth, and his ways judgement: and those that walk in pride he is able to abase.

- 5 Belshazzar the king made a great feast to a thousand of his lords, and drank wine before the thousand. Belshazzar, while he tasted the wine, commanded to bring the golden and silver vessels which Nebuchadnezzar his father had taken out of the temple which was in Jerusalem; that the king and his lords, his wives and his concubines, might drink therein. Then they brought the golden vessels that were taken out of the temple of the house of God which was at Jerusalem; and the king and his lords, his wives and his concubines, drank in them. They drank wine, and praised the gods of gold, and of silver, of brass, of iron, of wood, and of stone. In the same hour came forth the fingers of a man's hand, and wrote over against the candlestick upon the plaister of the wall of the king's palace: and the king saw the part of the hand that

The king spake and said to the wise men of Babylon, Whosoever shall read this writing, and shew me the interpretation thereof, shall be clothed with purple, and have a chain of gold about his neck, and shall be the third ruler in the kingdom. Then came in all the king's wise men: but they could not read the writing, nor make known to the king the interpretation. Then was king Belshazzar greatly troubled, and his countenance was changed in him, and his lords were perplexed. <sup>1</sup>Now the queen by reason of the words of the king and his lords came into the banquet house: the queen spake and said, O king, live for ever; let not thy thoughts trouble thee, nor let thy countenance be changed: there is a man in thy kingdom, in whom is the spirit of the holy gods; and in the days of thy father light and understanding and wisdom, like the wisdom of the gods, was found in him; and the king Nebuchadnezzar thy father, <sup>2</sup>the king, I say, thy father, made him master of the magicians, enchanters, Chaldeans, and soothsayers; forasmuch as an excellent spirit, and knowledge, and understanding, interpreting of dreams, and shewing of dark sentences, and dissolving of doubts, were found in the same Daniel, whom the king named Belteshazzar. Now let Daniel be called, and he will shew the interpretation.

13 Then was Daniel brought in before the king. The king spake and said unto Daniel, Art thou that Daniel, which art of the children of the captivity of Judah, whom the king my father brought out of Judah? I have heard of thee, that the spirit of the gods is in thee, and that light and understanding and excellent wisdom is found in thee.

15 And now the wise men, the enchanters, have been brought in before me, that they should read this writing, and make known unto me the interpretation thereof: but they could not shew the interpretation of the thing. But I have heard of thee, that thou canst give interpretations, and dissolve doubts: now if thou canst read the writing, and make known to me the interpretation thereof, thou shalt be clothed with purple, and have a chain of gold about thy neck, and shalt be the third ruler in the kingdom.

17 Then Daniel answered and said before the king, Let thy gifts be to thyself, and give thy rewards to another: nevertheless I will read the writing unto the king, and make known to him the interpretation.

18 O thou king, the Most High God gave Nebuchadnezzar thy father the kingdom, and greatness, and glory, and majesty: and because of the greatness that he gave him, all the peoples, nations, and languages trembled and feared before him: whom he would he slew, and whom he would he kept alive; and whom he would he raised up, and whom he would he put down.

20 But when his heart was lifted up, and his spirit was hardened that he dealt proudly, he was deposed from his kingly throne, and they took his glory from him: and he was driven from the sons of men; and his heart was made like the beasts, and his dwelling was with the wild asses; he was fed with grass like oxen, and his body was wet with the dew of heaven: until he knew that the Most High God ruleth in the kingdom of men, and that he setteth up over it whomsoever he will. And thou his son, O Belshazzar, hast not humbled thine heart, though thou knewest all this; but hast lifted up thyself against the Lord of heaven; and they have brought the vessels of his house before thee, and thou and thy lords, thy wives and thy concubines, have drunk wine in them; and thou hast praised the gods of silver, and gold, of brass, iron, wood, and stone, which see not, nor hear, nor know: and the God in whose hand thy breath is, and whose are all thy ways, hast thou not glorified: then was the part of the hard sent from before him, and this writing was inscribed. And this is the writing that was inscribed, <sup>3</sup>MENE, <sup>4</sup>MENE, TEKEL, UPHARSIN. This is the interpretation of the thing: MENE; God hath numbered thy kingdom, and brought it to an end. TEKEL; thou art weighed in the balances, and art found wanting. <sup>5</sup>PERES; thy kingdom is divided, and given to the Medes and Persians. Then commanded Belshazzar, and they clothed Daniel with purple, and put a chain of gold about his neck, and made proclamation concerning him, that he should be the third ruler in the kingdom. In that night Belshazzar the Chaldean king was slain. And Darius the Mede received the kingdom, being about threescore and two years old.

6 It pleased Darius to set over the kingdom an hundred and twenty satraps, which should be throughout the whole kingdom; and over them three presidents, of whom Daniel was one; that these satraps might give account unto them, and that the king should have no damage. Then this Daniel was distinguished above the presidents and the satraps, because an excellent spirit was in him; and the king thought to set him over the whole realm. Then the presidents and the satraps sought to find occasion against

Daniel as touching the kingdom; but they could find none occasion nor fault; forasmuch as he was faithful, neither was there any error or fault found in him. Then said these men, We shall not find any occasion against this Daniel, except we find it against him concerning the law of his God. Then these presidents and satraps <sup>1</sup>assembled together to the king, and said thus unto him, King Darius, live for ever. All the presidents of the kingdom, the deputies and the satraps, the counsellors and the governors, have consulted together <sup>2</sup>to establish a royal statute, and to make a strong interdict, that whosoever shall ask a petition of any god or man for thirty days, save of thee, O king, he shall be cast into the den of lions. Now, O king, establish the interdict, and sign the writing, that it be not changed, according to the law of the Medes and Persians, which <sup>3</sup>altereth not. Wherefore king Darius signed the writing and the interdict. And when Daniel knew that the writing was signed, he went into his house; (now his windows were open in his chamber toward Jerusalem;) and he kneeled upon his knees three times a day, and prayed, and gave thanks before his God, as he did aforetime. Then these men assembled together, and found Daniel making petition and supplication before his God. Then they came near, and spake before the king concerning the king's interdict; Hast thou not signed an interdict, that every man that shall make petition unto any god or man within thirty days, save unto thee, O king, shall be cast into the den of lions? The king answered and said, The thing is true, according to the law of the Medes and Persians, which <sup>4</sup>altereth not. Then answered they and said before the king, That Daniel, which is of the children of the captivity of Judah, regardeth not thee, O king, nor the interdict that thou hast signed, but maketh his petition three times a day. Then the king, when he heard these words, was sore displeased, and set his heart on Daniel to deliver him; and he laboured till the going down of the sun to rescue him. Then these men assembled together unto the king, and said unto the king, Know, O king, that it is a law of the Medes and Persians, that no interdict nor statute which the king establisheth may be changed. Then the king commanded, and they brought Daniel, and cast him into the den of lions. Now the king spake and said unto Daniel, Thy God whom thou servest continually, he will deliver thee. And a stone was brought, and laid upon the mouth of the den; and the king sealed it with his own signet, and with the signet of his lords; <sup>5</sup>that nothing might be changed concerning Daniel. Then the king went to his palace, and passed the night fasting; neither were <sup>6</sup>instruments of music brought before him: and his sleep fled from him. Then the king arose very early in the morning, and went in haste unto the den of lions. And when he came near unto the den to Daniel, he cried with a lamentable voice: the king spake and said to Daniel, O Daniel, servant of the living God, is thy God, whom thou servest continually, able to deliver thee from the lions? Then said Daniel unto the king, O king, live for ever. My God hath sent his angel, and hath shut the lions' mouths, and they have not hurt me: forasmuch as before him innocency was found in me; and also before thee, O king, have I done no hurt. Then was the king exceeding glad, and commanded that they should take Daniel up out of the den. So Daniel was taken up out of the den, and no manner of hurt was found upon him, because he had trusted in his God. And the king commanded, and they brought those men which had accused Daniel, and they cast them into the den of lions, them, their children, and their wives; and the lions had the mastery of them, and brake all their bones in pieces, or ever they came at the bottom of the den. Then king Darius wrote unto all the peoples, nations, and languages, that dwell in all the earth; Peace be multiplied unto you. I make a decree, that in all the dominion of my kingdom men tremble and fear before the God of Daniel: for he is the living God, and steadfast for ever, and his kingdom that which shall not be destroyed, and his dominion shall be even unto the end: he delivereth and rescueth, and he worketh signs and wonders in heaven and in earth; who hath delivered Daniel from the power of the lions. So this Daniel prospered in the reign of Darius, and in the reign of Cyrus the Persian. In the first year of Belshazzar king of Babylon Daniel <sup>7</sup>had a dream and visions of his head upon his bed: then he wrote the dream and told the sum of the matters. Daniel spake and said, I saw in my vision by night, and behold, the four winds of the heaven brake forth upon the great sea. And four great beasts came up from the sea, diverse one from another. The first was like a lion, and had eagle's wings: I beheld till the wings thereof were plucked, and it was lifted up from the earth, and made to stand upon two feet as a man, and a man's heart was given to it. And behold another beast, a second, like to a bear, and <sup>8</sup>it was raised up on one side, and three ribs were in his mouth between his teeth :

and they said thus unto it, Arise, devour much flesh. After this I beheld, and lo another, like a leopard,
which had upon the back of it four wings of a fowl ; the beast had also four heads ; and dominion was given to it. After this I saw in the night visions, and behold a fourth beast, terrible and <sup>1</sup> powerful, and strong exceedingly ; and it had great iron teeth : it devoured and brake in pieces, and stamped the residue with his feet : and it was diverse from all the beasts that were before it ; and it had ten horns. I considered the horns, and, behold, there came up among them another horn, a little one, before which three of the first horns were plucked up by the roots : and, behold, in this horn were eyes like the eyes of a man, and a mouth speaking great things.
I beheld till thrones were <sup>2</sup> placed,
and one that was ancient of days did sit : his raiment was white as snow, and the hair of his head like pure wool ; his throne was fiery flames, and the wheels thereof burning fire. A fiery stream issued and came forth from before him : thousand thousands ministered unto him, and ten thousand times ten thousand stood before him : the judgement was set, and the books were opened. I beheld at that time because of the voice of the great words which the horn spake ; I beheld even till the beast was slain, and his body destroyed, and he was given <sup>3</sup> to be burned with fire. And as for the rest of the beasts, their dominion was taken away : yet their lives were prolonged for a season and a time. I saw in the night visions, and, behold, there came with the clouds of heaven one like unto a son of man, and he came even to the ancient of days, and they brought him near before him. And there was given him dominion, and glory, and a kingdom, that all the peoples, nations, and languages should serve him : his dominion is an everlasting dominion, which shall not pass away, and his kingdom that which shall not be destroyed.

15 As for me Daniel, my spirit was grieved in the midst of <sup>4</sup> my body, and the visions of my head troubled me. I came near unto one of them that stood by, and asked him the truth concerning all this. So he told me, and made me know the interpretation of the things. These great beasts, which are four, are four kings, which shall arise out of the earth. But the saints of the Most High shall receive the kingdom, and possess the kingdom for ever, even for ever and ever. Then I desired to know the truth concerning the fourth beast, which was diverse from all of them, exceeding terrible, whose teeth were of iron, and his nails of brass ; which devoured, brake in pieces, and stamped the residue with his feet ; and concerning the ten horns that were on his head, and the other horn which came up, and before which three fell ; even that horn that had eyes, and a mouth that spake great things, whose look was more stout than his fellows. I beheld, and the same horn made war with the saints, and prevailed against them ;

until the ancient of days came, and judgement was given <sup>5</sup> to the saints of the Most High ; and the time came that the saints possessed the kingdom. Thus he said, The fourth beast shall be a fourth kingdom upon earth, which shall be diverse from all the kingdoms, and shall devour the whole earth, and shall <sup>6</sup> tread it down, and break it in pieces. And as for the ten horns, out of this kingdom shall ten kings arise : and another shall arise after them : and he shall be diverse from the former, and he shall put down three kings. And he shall speak words against the Most High, and shall wear out the saints of the Most High ; and he shall think to change the times and the law ; and they shall be given into his hand until a time and times and half a time. But the judgement shall sit, and they shall take away his dominion, to consume and to destroy it unto the end. And the kingdom and the dominion, and the greatness of the kingdoms under the whole heaven, shall be given to the people of the saints of the Most High : his kingdom is an everlasting kingdom, and all dominions shall serve and obey him. <sup>7</sup> Here is the end of the matter. As for me Daniel, my thoughts much troubled me, and my <sup>8</sup> countenance was changed in me : but I kept the matter in my heart.

8 In the third year of the reign of king Belshazzar a vision appeared unto me, even unto me Daniel, after that which appeared unto me at the first. And I saw in the vision ;
now it was so, that when I saw,
I was in Shushan the <sup>9</sup> palace,
which is in the province of Elam ;
and I saw in the vision, and I was by the river Ulai. Then I lifted up mine eyes, and saw, and, behold, there stood before the river a ram which had two horns : and the two horns were high ; but one was higher than the other, and the higher came up last. I saw the ram pushing westward, and northward, and southward ; and no beasts could stand before him, neither was there any that could deliver out of his hand ; but he did according to his will, and magnified himself.

5 And as I was considering, behold, an he-goat came from the west
over the face of the whole earth, and <sup>10</sup> touched not the ground :

and the goat had a notable horn between his eyes. And he came to the ram that had the two horns, which I saw standing before the river, and ran upon him in the fury of his power. And I saw him come close unto the ram, and he was moved with choler against him, and smote the ram, and brake his two horns; and there was no power in the ram to stand before him: but he cast him down to the ground, and trampled upon him; and there was none that could deliver the ram out of his hand. And the he-goat magnified himself exceedingly; and when he was strong, the great horn was broken; and instead of it there came up four notable horns toward the four winds of heaven. And out of one of them came forth a little horn, which waxed exceeding great, toward the south, and toward the east, and toward the glorious land. And it waxed great, even to the host of heaven; and some of the host and of the stars it cast down to the ground, and trampled upon them. Yea, it magnified itself, even to the prince of the host; and it took away from him the continual burnt offering, and the place of his sanctuary was cast down. And the host was given over to it together with the continual burnt offering through transgression; and it cast down truth to the ground, and it did its pleasure and prospered. Then I heard a holy one speaking; and another holy one said unto that certain one which spake, How long shall be the vision concerning the continual burnt offering, and the transgression that maketh desolate, to give both the sanctuary and the host to be trodden under foot? And he said unto me, Unto two thousand and three hundred evenings and mornings; then shall the sanctuary be cleansed. And it came to pass, when I, even I Daniel, had seen the vision, that I sought to understand it; and, behold, there stood before me as the appearance of a man. And I heard a man's voice between the banks of Ulai, which called, and said, Gabriel, make this man to understand the vision. So he came near where I stood; and when he came, I was affrighted, and fell upon my face; but he said unto me, Understand, O son of man; for the vision belongeth to the time of the end. Now as he was speaking with me, I fell into a deep sleep with my face toward the ground; but he touched me, and set me upright. And he said, Behold, I will make thee know what shall be in the latter time of the indignation: for it belongeth to the appointed time of the end. The ram which thou sawest that had the two horns, they are the kings of Media and Persia. And the rough

he-goat is the king of Greece; and the great horn that is between his eyes is the first king. And as for that which was broken, in the place whereof four stood up, four kingdoms shall stand up out of the nation, but not with his power. And in the latter time of their kingdom, when the transgressors are come to the full, a king of fierce countenance, and understanding dark sentences, shall stand up. And his power shall be mighty, but not by his own power; and he shall destroy wonderfully, and shall prosper and do his pleasure: and he shall destroy the mighty ones and the holy people. And through his policy he shall cause craft to prosper in his hand; and he shall magnify himself in his heart, and in their security shall he destroy many: he shall also stand up against the prince of princes; but he shall be broken without hand. And the vision of the evenings and mornings which hath been told is true; but shut thou up the vision; for it belongeth to many days to come. And I Daniel fainted, and was sick certain days; then I rose up, and did the king's business: and I was astonished at the vision, but none understood it.

In the first year of Darius the son of Ahasuerus, of the seed of the Medes, which was made king over the realm of the Chaldeans; in the first year of his reign I Daniel understood by the books the number of the years, whereof the word of the Lord came to Jeremiah the prophet, for the accomplishing of the desolations of Jerusalem, even seventy years. And I set my face unto the Lord God, to seek by prayer and supplications, with fasting, and sackcloth, and ashes. And I prayed unto the Lord my God, and made confession, and said, O Lord, the great and dreadful God, which keepeth covenant and mercy with them that love him, and keep his commandments; we have sinned, and have dealt perversely, and have done wickedly, and have rebelled, even turning aside from thy precepts and from thy judgements: neither have we hearkened unto thy servants the prophets, which spake in thy name to our kings, our princes, and our fathers, and to all the people of the land. O Lord, righteousness belongeth unto thee, but unto us confusion of face, as at this day; to the men of Judah, and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and unto all Israel, that are near, and that are far off, through all the countries whither thou hast driven them, because of their trespass that they have trespassed against thee. O Lord, to us belongeth confusion of face, to our kings, to our princes, and to our fathers, because

9 we have sinned against thee. To the Lord our God belong mercies and forgivenesses; <sup>1</sup> for we have rebelled against him; neither have we obeyed the voice of the Lord our God, to walk in his laws, which he set before us by his servants the prophets. Yea, all Israel have transgressed thy law, even turning aside, that they should not obey thy voice: therefore hath the curse been poured out upon us, and the oath that is written in the law of Moses the servant of God; for we have sinned against him. And he hath confirmed his words, which he spake against us, and against our judges that judged us, by bringing upon us a great evil: for under the whole heaven hath not been done as hath been done upon Jerusalem. As it is written in the law of Moses, all this evil is come upon us: yet have we not intreated the favour of the Lord our God, that we should turn from our iniquities, and <sup>2</sup> have discernment in thy truth. Therefore hath the Lord watched over the evil, and brought it upon us: for the Lord our God is righteous in all his works which he doeth, and we have not obeyed his voice. And now, O Lord our God, that hast brought thy people forth out of the land of Egypt with a mighty hand, and hast gotten thee renown, as at this day: we have sinned, we have done wickedly. O Lord, according to all thy <sup>3</sup> righteousness, let thine anger and thy fury. I pray thee, be turned away from thy city Jerusalem, thy holy mountain: because for our sins, and for the iniquities of our fathers, Jerusalem and thy people are become a reproach to all that are round about us. Now therefore, O our God, hearken unto the prayer of thy servant, and to his supplications, and cause thy face to shine upon thy sanctuary that is desolate, for the Lord's sake. O my God, incline thine ear, and hear; open thine eyes, and behold our desolations, and the city which is called by thy name: for we do not <sup>4</sup> present our supplications before thee for our righteousnesses, but for thy great mercies. O Lord hear; O Lord, forgive; O Lord, hearken and do; defer not: for thine own sake. O my God, because thy city and thy people are called by thy name.

20 And whiles I was speaking, and praying, and confessing my sin and the sin of my people Israel, and presenting my supplication before the Lord my God for the holy mountain of my God; yea whiles I was speaking in prayer, the man Gabriel, whom I had seen in the vision at the beginning, <sup>5</sup> being caused to fly swiftly, <sup>6</sup> touched me about the time of the evening oblation. And he <sup>7</sup> instructed me, and talked with me, and said, O Daniel,

I am now come forth to make thee skilful of understanding. At the beginning of thy supplications the commandment went forth, and I am come to tell thee; for thou art <sup>8</sup> greatly beloved: therefore consider the matter, and understand the vision.

24 Seventy weeks are decreed upon thy people and upon thy holy city, <sup>9</sup> to finish <sup>10</sup> transgression, and <sup>11</sup> to make an end of sins, and to <sup>12</sup> make reconciliation for iniquity, and to bring in everlasting righteousness, and to seal up vision and <sup>13</sup> prophecy, and to anoint <sup>14</sup> the most holy.

25 Know therefore and discern, that from the going forth of the commandment to restore and to build Jerusalem unto <sup>15</sup> the anointed one, the prince, shall be <sup>16</sup> seven weeks: and threescore and two weeks, it shall be built again, with street and moat, <sup>26</sup> even in troublous times. And after the threescore and two weeks shall the anointed one be cut off, and <sup>17</sup> shall have nothing; and the people of the prince that shall come shall destroy the city and the sanctuary; and <sup>18</sup> his end shall be with a flood, and even unto the end shall be war; desolations are determined.

27 And he shall make a firm covenant with many for one week: and <sup>19</sup> for the half of the week he shall cause the sacrifice and the <sup>20</sup> oblation to cease; and <sup>21</sup> upon the wing of abominations shall come one that maketh desolate; and even unto the consummation, and that determined, shall <sup>22</sup> wrath be poured out upon the <sup>22</sup> desolator.

10 In the third year of Cyrus king of Persia a thing was revealed unto Daniel, whose name was called Belteshazzar; and the thing was true, even a great warfare: and he understood the thing, and had <sup>2</sup> understanding of the vision. In those days I Daniel was mourning three whole weeks. I ate no pleasant bread, neither came flesh nor wine in my mouth, neither did I anoint myself at all, till three whole weeks <sup>4</sup> were fulfilled. And in the four and twentieth day of the first month, as I was by the side of the great river, which is <sup>23</sup> Hiddekel, I lifted up mine eyes, and looked, and behold a man clothed in linen, whose joints were girded with pure gold <sup>6</sup> of Uphaz: his body also was like the beryl, and his face as the appearance of lightning, and his eyes as lamps of fire, and his arms and his feet like in colour to burnished brass, and the voice of his words <sup>7</sup> like the voice of a multitude. And I Daniel alone saw the vision: for the men that were with me saw not the vision; but a great quaking fell upon them, and they fled to <sup>8</sup> hide themselves. So I was left alone, and saw this great vision, and there remained no strength in me; for my comeliness was turned in me into corruption, and I retained no

10 And, behold, a hand touched me, which <sup>1</sup>set me upon my knees and 11 upon the palms of my hands. And he said unto me, O Daniel, thou man greatly beloved, understand the words that I speak unto thee, and stand upright; for unto thee am I now sent: and when he had spoken this word unto me, I stood trembling. Then said he unto me, Fear not, Daniel; for from the first day that thou didst set thine heart to understand, and to humble thyself before thy God, thy words were heard: and I am come for thy words' sake. But the prince of the kingdom of Persia withstood me one and twenty days; but lo, Michael, one of the chief princes, came to help me: and I <sup>2</sup>remained there with the kings of Persia. Now I am come to make thee understand what shall befall thy people in the latter days: for the vision is yet
15 for many days. And when he had spoken unto me according to these words, I set my face toward the ground, and was dumb. And, behold, one like the similitude of the sons of men touched my lips: then I opened my mouth, and spake and said unto him that stood before me, O my lord, by reason of the vision my sorrows are turned upon me, and I retain no strength. For how can the servant of this my lord talk with this my lord? for as for me, straightway there remained no strength in me, neither
18 was there breath left in me. Then there touched me again one like the appearance of a man, and he strengthened me. And he said, O man greatly beloved, fear not: peace be unto thee, be strong, yea, be strong. And when he spake unto me, I was strengthened, and said, Let my lord speak; for thou hast
20 strengthened me. Then said he, Knowest thou wherefore I am come unto thee? and now will I return to fight with the prince of Persia: and when I go forth, lo, the prince 21 of <sup>3</sup>Greece shall come. But I will tell thee that which is inscribed in the writing of truth: and there is none that <sup>4</sup>holdeth with me <sup>5</sup>against these, but Michael your 11 prince. And as for me, in the first year of Darius the Mede, I stood up to confirm and strengthen him.
2 And now will I shew thee the truth. Behold, there shall stand up yet three kings in Persia; and the fourth shall be far richer than they all: and when he is waxed strong through his riches, <sup>6</sup>he shall stir up all against the realm of 3 <sup>3</sup>Greece. And a mighty king shall stand up, that shall rule with great dominion, and do according to his

4 will. And when he shall stand up, his kingdom shall be broken, and shall be divided toward the four winds of heaven; but not to his posterity, nor according to his dominion wherewith he ruled; for his kingdom shall be plucked up, even
5 for others beside these. And the king of the south <sup>7</sup>shall be strong, and one of his princes; and he shall be strong above him, and have dominion; his dominion shall be a 6 great dominion. And at the end of years they shall join themselves together; and the daughter of the king of the south shall come to the king of the north to make <sup>8</sup>an agreement: but she shall not retain the strength of her arm; neither shall he stand, nor his arm; but she shall be given up, and they that brought her, and he that begat her, and he that strengthened her in 7 those times. But out of a shoot from her roots shall one stand up in his <sup>9</sup>place, which shall come 10 unto the army, and shall enter into the fortress of the king of the north, and shall deal against them,
8 and shall prevail: and also their gods, with their <sup>11</sup>molten images, and with their goodly vessels of silver and of gold, shall he carry captive into Egypt; and he shall 12 refrain some years from the king
9 of the north. And he shall come into the realm of the king of the south, but he shall return into his 10 own land. And his sons shall war, and shall assemble a multitude of great forces, <sup>13</sup>which shall come on, and overflow, and pass through: and 14 they shall return and war, even to 11 his fortress. And the king of the south shall be moved with choler, and shall come forth and fight with him, even with the king of the north: and he shall set forth a great multitude, and the multitude shall be 12 given into his hand. And the multitude shall <sup>15</sup>be lifted up, and his heart shall be exalted: and he shall cast down tens of thousands,
13 but he shall not prevail. And the king of the north shall return, and shall set forth a multitude greater than the former; and he shall come on at the end of the times, <sup>even</sup> <sup>16</sup>of years, with a great army and with 14 much substance. And in those times there shall many stand up against the king of the south: also the children of the violent among thy people shall lift themselves up to establish the vision: but they shall 15 fall. So the king of the north shall come, and cast up a mount, and take <sup>17</sup>a well fenced city: and the arms of the south shall not withstand, neither his chosen people, neither shall there be any 16 strength to withstand. But he that cometh against him shall do according to his own will, and none shall stand before him: and he shall stand in the glorious land, and in his

Then he shall turn his face toward the fortresses of his own land: but he shall stumble and fall, and shall not be found. Then shall stand up in his <sup>8</sup>place one that shall cause an extractor to pass through the glory of the kingdom: but within few days he shall be <sup>9</sup>destroyed, neither in anger, nor in battle. And in his <sup>10</sup>place shall stand up a contemptible person, to whom they had not given the honour of the kingdom: but he shall come in time of security, and shall obtain the kingdom by flatteries. And with the arms of a flood shall they be swept away from before him, and shall be broken; yea, also the prince of <sup>11</sup>the covenant. And after the league made with him he shall work deceitfully: for he shall come up, and shall become strong, with a small people. In time of security shall he come even upon the fittest places of the province; and he shall do that which his fathers have not done, nor his fathers' fathers; he shall scatter among them prey, and spoil, and substance; yea, he shall devise his devices against the strong holds, even for a time. And he shall stir up his power and his courage against the king of the south with a great army; and the king of the south shall war in battle with an exceeding great and mighty army: but he shall not stand, for they shall devise devices against him. Yea, they that eat of his <sup>12</sup>meat shall <sup>13</sup>destroy him, and his army shall overflow: and many shall fall down slain. And as for both these kings, their hearts shall be to do mischief, and they shall speak lies at one table: but it shall not prosper; for yet the end shall be at the time appointed. Then shall he return into his land with great substance; and his heart shall be against the holy covenant; and he shall do his pleasure, and return to his own land. At the time appointed he shall return, and come into the south: but it shall not be in the latter time as it was in the former. For ships of Kittim shall come against him; therefore he shall be grieved, and shall return, and have indignation against the holy covenant, and shall do his pleasure: he shall even return, and have regard unto them that forsake <sup>14</sup>the holy covenant. And arms shall stand on his part, and they shall profane the sanctuary, even the fortress, and shall take away the continual burnt offering, and they shall set up the abomination that maketh desolate. And such as do wickedly against the covenant shall he <sup>15</sup>pervert by flatteries: but the people that know their God shall be strong, and do exploits. And <sup>16</sup>they that be wise among the people shall instruct many: yet they shall fall by the sword and by flame, by captivity and by spoil, many days. Now when they shall fall, they shall be holpen with a little help: but many shall join themselves unto them with flatteries. And some of <sup>17</sup>them that be wise shall fail, to refine them, and to purify, and to make them white, even to the time of the end: because it is yet for the time appointed. And the king shall do according to his will; and he shall exalt himself, and magnify himself above every god, and shall speak marvellous things against the God of gods: and he shall prosper till the indignation be accomplished: for that which is determined shall be done. Neither shall he regard the gods of his fathers, nor the desire of women, nor regard any god: for he shall magnify himself above all. But in his <sup>18</sup>place shall he honour the god of fortresses: and a god whom his fathers knew not shall he honour with gold, and silver, and with precious stones, and pleasant things. And he shall deal with the strongest fortresses by the help of a strange god; <sup>19</sup>whosoever acknowledgeth him he will increase with glory: and he shall cause them to rule over many, and shall divide the land for a price. And at the time of the end shall the king of the south <sup>20</sup>contend with him: and the king of the north shall come against him like a whirlwind, with chariots, and with horsemen, and with many ships; and he shall enter into the countries, and shall overflow and pass through. He shall enter also into the glorious land, and many countries shall be overthrown: but these shall be delivered out of his hand, Edom, and Moab, and the chief of the children of Ammon. He shall stretch forth his hand also upon the countries: and the land of Egypt shall not escape. But he shall have power over the treasures of gold and of silver, and over all the precious things of Egypt: and the Libyans and the Ethiopians shall be at his steps. But tidings out of the east and out of the north shall trouble him; and he shall go forth with great fury to destroy, and utterly to make away many. And he shall plant the tents of his palace <sup>21</sup>between the sea and the glorious holy mountain; yet he shall come to his end, and none shall help him.

And many of them that sleep in the dust of the earth shall awake, some to everlasting life, and some to shame and everlasting contempt. And one said to the man clothed in linen, which was above the waters of the river, How long shall it be to the end of these wonders? And I heard the man clothed in linen, which was above

HOSEA.

- 1 THE word of the LORD that came unto Hosea the son of Beeri, in the days of Uzziah, Jotham, Ahaz, and Hezekiah, kings of Judah, and in the days of Jeroboam the son of Joash, king of Israel.
- 2 When the LORD spake at the first <sup>1</sup>by Hosea, the LORD said unto Hosea, Go, take unto thee a wife of whoredom and children of whoredom: for the land doth commit great whoredom, departing from the LORD. So he went and took Gomer the daughter of Diblaim; and she conceived, and bare him a son. And the LORD said unto him, Call his name Jezreel; for yet a little while, and I will <sup>2</sup>avenge the blood of Jezreel upon the house of Jehu, and will cause the kingdom of the house of Israel to cease. And it shall come to pass at that day, that I will break the bow of Israel in the valley of Jezreel. And she conceived again, and bare a daughter. And the LORD said unto him, Call her name <sup>3</sup>Lo-ruhamah: for I will no more have mercy upon the house of Israel, that I should in any wise pardon them. But I will have mercy upon the house of Judah, and will save them by the LORD their God, and will not save them by bow, nor by sword, nor by battle, by horses, nor by horsemen.

8 Now when she had weaned Lo-ruhamah, she conceived, and bare a son. And the LORD said, Call his name <sup>4</sup>Lo-ammi: for ye are not my people, and I will not be <sup>5</sup>your God.

10 Yet the number of the children of Israel shall be as the sand of the sea, which cannot be measured nor numbered; and it shall come to pass that, <sup>6</sup>in the place where it was said unto them, Ye are not my people, it shall be said unto them, Ye are the sons of the living God. And the children of Judah and the children of Israel shall be gathered together, and they shall appoint themselves one head, and shall go up from the land: for great shall be the day of Jezreel.

2 Say ye unto your brethren, <sup>7</sup>Ammi; and to your sisters, <sup>8</sup>Ruhamah.

2 Plead with your mother, plead; for she is not my wife, neither am I her husband: and let her put away her whoredoms from her face, and her adulteries from between her breasts: lest I strip her naked, and set her as in the day that she was born, and make her as a wilderness, and set her like a dry land, and slay her with thirst; yea, upon her children will I have no mercy; 5 for they be children of whoredom. For their mother hath played the harlot: she that conceived them hath done shamefully: for she said, I will go after my lovers, that give me my bread and my water, my wool and my flax, mine oil and my drink. 6 Therefore, behold, I will hedge up thy way with thorns, and I will make a fence against her, that she shall not find her paths. And she shall follow after her lovers, but she shall not overtake them; and she shall seek them, but shall not find them: then shall she say, I will go and return to my first husband; for then was it better with me than 8 now. For she did not know that I gave her the corn, and the wine, and the oil, and multiplied unto her silver and gold, which they used for Baal. 9 Therefore will I take back my corn in the time thereof, and my wine in the season thereof, and will pluck away my wool and my flax which should have covered her nakedness. And now will I discover her lewdness in the sight of her lovers, and none shall deliver her out of mine hand. I will also cause all her mirth to cease, her feasts, her new moons, and her sabbaths, and all her solemn assemblies. 12 And I will lay waste her vines and her fig trees, whereof she hath said, These are my hire that my lovers have given me: and I will make them a forest, and the beasts of the field shall eat them. And I will visit upon her the days of the Baalim, 6 unto which she burned incense; when she decked herself with her earrings and her jewels, and went after her lovers, and forgot me, 14 saith the LORD. Therefore, behold, I will allure her, and bring her into the wilderness, and speak 8 comfort-ably unto her. And I will give her her vineyards from thence, and the valley of 9 Achor for a door of hope: and she shall 10 make answer there, as in the days of her youth, and as in the day when she came up out of the land of Egypt. And it shall be at that day, saith the LORD, that thou shalt call me 11 Ishi; and shalt call me no more 12 Baalim. For I will take away the names of the Baalim out of her mouth, and they shall no more be 13 mentioned by their name. And in that day will I make a covenant for them with the beasts of the field, and with the fowls of heaven, and with the creeping things of the ground: and I will break the bow and the sword and the battle out of the land, and will make them to lie down safely. And I will betroth thee unto me for ever, yea, I will betroth thee unto me in righteousness, and in judgment, and in lovingkindness, and in mercy. I will even betroth thee unto me in faithfulness: and thou shalt know 21 the LORD. And it shall come to pass in that day, I will answer, saith the LORD, I will answer the heavens, and they shall answer the earth; 22 and the earth shall answer the corn, and the wine, and the oil: and they shall answer 14 Jezreel. And I will sow her unto me in the 15 earth: and I will have mercy upon 16 her that had not obtained mercy; and I will say to 17 them which were not my people, Thou art my people; and they shall say, Thou art my God. 3 And the LORD said unto me, Go yet, love a woman beloved 18 of her friend and an adulteress, even as the LORD loveth the children of Israel, though they turn unto other gods, and 19 love cakes of raisins. 2 So I bought her to me for 15 pieces of silver, and an homer of barley, and an 20 half homer of barley: 3 and I said unto her, Thou shalt abide for me many days; thou shalt not play the harlot, and thou shalt not be any man's wife: so will I also be toward thee. For the children of Israel shall abide many days without king, and without prince, and without sacrifice, and without 21 pillar, and without ephod or teraphim: afterward shall the children of Israel return, and seek the LORD their God, and David their king: and shall come with fear unto the LORD and to his goodness in the latter days.

4 Hear the word of the LORD, ye children of Israel: for the LORD hath a controversy with the inhabitants of the land, because there is no truth, nor mercy, nor know-ledge of God in the land. There is nought but swearing and breaking faith, and killing, and stealing, and committing adultery: they break out, and blood toucheth blood. 3 Therefore shall the land mourn, and every one that dwelleth therein shall languish, with the beasts of the field and the fowls of heaven; yea, the fishes of the sea also shall be taken 4 away. Yet let no man strive, neither let any man reprove, for thy people are as they that strive with the priest. And thou shalt stumble in the day, and the prophet also shall stumble with thee in the night; 6 and I will destroy thy mother. My people are destroyed for lack of knowledge: because thou hast re-jected knowledge, - I will also re-ject thee: that thou shalt be no priest to me: seeing thou hast forgotten the law of thy God, I also will forget thy children. As they were multi-plied, so they sinned against me: I will change their glory into shame. 8 They feed on the sin of my people, and set their heart on their iniquity. 9 And it shall be like people like priest, and I will punish them for their ways and will reward them their doings. And they shall eat, and not have enough; they shall commit whoredom, and shall not increase; because they have left off 11 to take heed to the LORD. Whoredom and wine and new wine take 12 away the <sup>1</sup> understanding. My people ask counsel at their stock, and their staff declareth unto them: for the spirit of whoredom hath caused them to err, and they have gone

a whoring from under their God.
13 They sacrifice upon the tops of the mountains, and burn incense upon the hills, under oaks and poplars and terebinths, because the shadow thereof is good: therefore your daughters commit whoredom, and your <sup>2</sup> brides commit adultery.
14 I will not punish your daughters when they commit whoredom, nor your <sup>2</sup> brides when they commit adultery; for they themselves go apart with whores, and they sacrifice with the <sup>3</sup> harlots: and the people that doth not understand shall be 15 overthrown. Though thou, Israel, play the harlot, yet let not Judah <sup>4</sup> offend; and come not ye unto Gilgal, neither go ye up to Beth-aven, nor swear. As the LORD liveth.
16 For Israel hath behaved himself stubbornly, like a stubborn heifer: now will the LORD feed them as a lamb 17 in a large place. Ephraim is joined to idols; let him alone. <sup>5</sup> Their drink is become sour: they commit whoredom continually: <sup>6</sup> her <sup>7</sup> rulers 18 dearly love shame. The wind hath wrapped her up in its <sup>8</sup> wings; and <sup>9</sup> they shall be ashamed because of their sacrifices.
5 Hear this, O ye priests, and hearken, ye house of Israel, and give ear,
O house of the king, for <sup>10</sup> unto you pertaineth the judgement; for ye have been a snare at Mizpah, and 2 a net spread upon Tabor. And the revolters are gone deep <sup>11</sup> in making slaughter; but I am <sup>12</sup> a rebuker of 3 them all. I know Ephraim, and Israel is not hid from me: for now,
O Ephraim, thou hast committed 4 whoredom, Israel is defiled. <sup>13</sup> Their doings will not suffer them to turn unto their God: for the spirit of whoredom is <sup>14</sup> within them, and they 5 know not the LORD. And the <sup>15</sup> pride of Israel doth testify to his face:
therefore Israel and Ephraim shall stumble in their iniquity; Judah 6 also shall stumble with them. They shall go with their flocks and with their herds to seek the LORD; but they shall not find him: he hath 7 withdrawn himself from them. They have dealt treacherously against the LORD; for they have <sup>16</sup> borne strange children: now shall <sup>17</sup> the new moon devour them with their 18 fields.
8 Blow ye the cornet in Gibeah, and the trumpet in Ramah: sound an alarm at Beth-aven; <sup>19</sup> behind thee, 9 O Benjamin. Ephraim shall become a desolation in the day of rebuke:
among the tribes of Israel have I made known that which shall surely 10 be. The princes of Judah are like them that remove the landmark:

I will pour out my wrath upon them
11 like water. Ephraim is oppressed, he is crushed in judgement; because he was content to walk after <sup>20</sup> the 12 command. <sup>21</sup> Therefore am I unto Ephraim as a moth, and to the 13 house of Judah as rottenness. When Ephraim saw his sickness, and Judah <sup>22</sup> saw his wound, then went Ephraim to Assyria, and sent to <sup>23</sup> King Jareb: but he is not able to heal you, neither shall he cure you of 14 your wound. For I will be unto Ephraim as a lion, and as a young lion to the house of Judah: I, even I, will tear and go away; I will carry off, and there shall be none to de-15 liver. I will go and return to my place, till they <sup>24</sup> acknowledge their offence, and seek my face:
in their affliction they will seek me
<sup>24</sup> earnestly.
6 Come, and let us return unto the LORD: for he hath torn, and he will heal us; he hath smitten, and he will bind us up. After two days will he revive us: on the third day he will raise us up,
and we shall live before him.
3 And let us know, let us follow on to know the LORD: his going forth is sure as the morning: and he shall come unto us as the rain, as the latter rain that watereth the earth.
4 O Ephraim, what shall I do unto thee? O Judah, what shall I do unto thee? for your <sup>25</sup> goodness is as a morning cloud, and as the dew 5 that goeth early away. Therefore have I hewed them by the prophets; I have slain them by the words of my mouth: <sup>26</sup> and thy judgements are as the light that 6 goeth forth. For I desire <sup>25</sup> mercy, and not sacrifice: and the knowledge of God more than burnt offerings. But they <sup>27</sup> like <sup>28</sup> Adam have transgressed the covenant: there have they dealt treacherously a-8 gainst me. Gilead is a city of them that work iniquity, it is stained with 9 blood. <sup>29</sup> And as troops of robbers wait for a man, so the company of priests murder in the way toward Shechem: yea, they have commit-
10 ted lewdness. In the house of Israel
I have seen an horrible thing: there whoredom is found in Ephraim, Israel is defiled. Also, O Judah, there is an harvest appointed for thee, when I bring again the captivity of my people.
7 When I would heal Israel, then is the iniquity of Ephraim discovered, and the wickedness of Samaria; for they commit falsehood: and the thief entereth in, and the troop of robbers
2 <sup>30</sup> spoileth without. And they consider not in their hearts that I remember all their wickedness; now have their own doings beset them 3 about; they are before my face. They make the king glad with their wickedness, and the princes with their

On the day of our king the princes <sup>1</sup>made themselves sick with the heat of wine; he stretched out his hand with scorners. For they have <sup>2</sup>made ready their heart like an oven, whiles they lie in wait: <sup>3</sup>their baker sleepeth all the night; in the morning it burneth as a flaming fire. They are all hot as an oven, and devour their judges; all their kings are fallen: there is none among them that calleth unto me. Ephraim, he mixeth himself among the peoples; Ephraim is a cake not turned. Strangers have devoured his strength, and he knoweth it not: yea, gray hairs are <sup>4</sup>here and there upon him, and he knoweth it not. And the <sup>5</sup>pride of Israel doth testify to his face: yet they have not returned unto the LORD their God, nor sought him, for all this. And Ephraim is like a silly dove, without <sup>6</sup>understanding: they call unto Egypt, they go to Assyria. When they shall go, I will spread my net upon them; I will bring them down as the fowls of the heaven: I will chastise them, <sup>7</sup>as their congregation hath heard.

13 Woe unto them! for they have wandered from me: destruction unto them! for they have trespassed against me: though I would redeem them, yet they have spoken lies against me. And they have not cried unto me with their heart, but they howl upon their beds: <sup>8</sup>they assemble themselves for corn and wine.

15 they rebel against me. Though I have <sup>9</sup>taught and strengthened their arms, yet do they imagine mischief against me. They return, but not to him that is on high; they are like a deceitful bow: their princes shall fall by the sword for the rage of their tongue: this shall be their derision in the land of Egypt.

8 <sup>10</sup>Set the trumpet to thy mouth. As an eagle he cometh against the house of the LORD: because they have transgressed my covenant, and trespassed against my law. They shall cry unto me, My God, we Israel know thee. Israel hath cast off that which is good: the enemy shall pursue him. They have set up kings, but not by me; <sup>12</sup>they have made princes, and I knew it not: of their silver and their gold have they made them idols, that they may be cut off. He hath cast off thy calf, O Samaria, mine anger is kindled against them: how long will it be ere they attain to innocency? For from Israel is even this: the workman made it, and it is no God; yea, the calf of Samaria shall be broken in pieces. For they sow the wind, and they shall reap the whirlwind: <sup>13</sup>he hath no standing corn; the blade shall yield no meal; if so be it yield, strangers

8 shall swallow it up. Israel is swallowed up: now are they among the nations as a vessel wherein is no pleasure. For they are gone up to Assyria, like a wild ass alone by himself; Ephraim hath hired <sup>14</sup>lovers.

10 Yea, though they hire among the nations, now will I gather them; and they <sup>15</sup>begin to be diminished by reason of the burden of the <sup>16</sup>king of princes. Because Ephraim hath multiplied altars to sin, altars have been unto him to sin. <sup>17</sup>Though I write for him my law in ten thousand precepts, they are counted as a strange thing. As for the sacrifices of mine offerings, they sacrifice flesh and eat it; but the LORD accepteth them not: now will he remember their iniquity, and visit their sins; <sup>18</sup>they shall return to Egypt. For Israel hath forgotten his Maker, and builded <sup>19</sup>palaces; and Judah hath multiplied fenced cities: but I will send a fire upon his cities, and it shall devour the <sup>20</sup>castles thereof.

9 Rejoice not, O Israel, <sup>21</sup>for joy, like the peoples; <sup>22</sup>for thou hast gone a whoring from thy God, thou hast loved hire upon every cornfield.

2 The threshing-floor and the winepress shall not feed them, and the new wine shall fail her. They shall not dwell in the LORD's land: but Ephraim shall return to Egypt, and they shall eat unclean food in Assyria. They shall not pour out wine offerings to the LORD, <sup>23</sup>neither shall they be pleasing unto him: their sacrifices shall be unto them as the bread of mourners; all that eat thereof shall be polluted: for their bread shall be for their appetite; it shall not come into the house of the LORD. What will ye do in the day of solemn assembly, and in the day of the feast of the LORD? For, lo, they are gone away from destruction, yet Egypt shall gather them up, Memphis shall bury them: their pleasant things of silver, nettles shall possess them: thorns shall be in their tents.

7 The days of visitation are come, the days of recompence are come; Israel shall know it: the prophet is a fool, the man that hath the spirit is mad, for the multitude of thine iniquity.

8 and because the enmity is great. Ephraim <sup>24</sup>as a watchman with my God: as for the prophet, a fowler's snare is in all his ways, and enmity is in the house of his God. They have deeply corrupted themselves, as in the days of Gilead: he will remember their iniquity, he will visit their sins. I found Israel like grapes in the wilderness: I saw your fathers as the firstripe in the fig tree at her first season; but they came to Baal-peor, and <sup>25</sup>consecrated themselves unto the shameful thing, and became abominable like that which they <sup>26</sup>loved. As for Ephraim, their glory shall fly away like a bird: there shall be no birth, and none with child, and 13 I depart from them! Ephraim, I like as I have seen Tyre, is planted in a pleasant place: but Ephraim shall bring out his children to the slayer.

14 Give them, O LORD: what wilt thou give? give them a miscarrying womb and dry breasts. All their wickedness is in Gilgal; for there I hated them: because of the wickedness of their doings I will drive them out of mine house: I will love them no more; all their princes 15 are revolvers. Ephraim is smitten, their root is dried up, they shall bear no fruit: yea, though they bring forth, yet will I slay the beloved fruit of their womb.
16 My God will cast them away, because they did not hearken unto him: and they shall be wanderers among the nations.
17 Israel is a luxuriant vine, which putteth forth his fruit: according to the multitude of his fruit he hath multiplied his altars; according to the goodness of his land they have made goodly pillars.
18 Their heart is divided; now shall they be found guilty: he shall smite their altars, he shall spoil their pillars. Surely now shall they say, We have no king: for we fear not the LORD: and the king what can he do for us? They speak vain words, swearing falsely in making covenants. therefore judgement springeth up as a henlock in the furrows of the field. The inhabitants of Samaria shall be in terror for the calves of Beth-aven: for the people thereof shall mourn over it, and the priests thereof that rejoiced over it, for the glory thereof
19 of, because it is departed from it. It also shall be carried unto Assyria for a present to king Jareb: Ephraim shall receive shame, and Israel shall be ashamed of his own counsel.
20 As for Samaria, her king is cut off, as foam upon the water. The high places also of Aven, the sin of Israel, shall be destroyed: the thorn and the thistle shall come up on their altars: and they shall say to the mountains, Cover us; and to the hills, Fall on us. O Israel, thou hast sinned from the days of Gibeah: there they stood: that the battle against the children of iniquity should not overtake them in Gibeah.
21 When it is my desire, I will chastise them; and the peoples shall be gathered against them, when they are bound to their two transgressions. And Ephraim is an heifer that is taught, that loveth to tread out the corn; but I have passed over upon her fair neck: I will set a rider on Ephraim; Judah shall plow, Jacob shall break his clods. Sow to yourselves in righteousness, reap according to mercy; break up your fallow ground: for it is time to seek the LORD, till he come and rain righteousness upon you. Ye have plowed wickedness, ye have reaped iniquity; ye have eaten the fruit of lies: for thou didst trust in thy way, in the multitude of thy mighty men.

12 Therefore shall a tumult arise among thy people, and all thy fortresses shall be spoiled, as Shalman spoiled Peth-arbel in the day of battle: the mother was dashed in pieces with her children.
13 So shall Beth-el do unto you because of your great wickedness: at day-break shall the king of Israel be utterly cut off.
14 When Israel was a child, then I loved him, and called my son out of Egypt. As they called them, so they went from them: they sacrificed unto the Baalim, and burned incense to graven images. Yet I taught Ephraim to go: I took them on my arms; but they knew not that I healed them. I drew them with cords of a man, with bands of love: and I was to them as they that take off the yoke on their jaws, and I laid meat before them. He shall not return into the land of Egypt: but the Assyrian shall be his king, because they refused to return. And the sword shall fall upon his cities, and shall consume his bars, and devour them, because of their own counsels. And my people are bent to backsliding from me; though they call them to him that is on high, none at all will exalt him. How shall I give thee up, Ephraim? how shall I deliver thee, Israel? how shall I make thee as Admah? how shall I set thee as Zeboim? mine heart is turned within me, my compassions are kindled together. I will not execute the fierceness of mine anger, I will not return to destroy Ephraim: for I am God, and not man; the Holy One in the midst of thee; and I will not enter into the city. They shall walk after the LORD, who shall roar like a lion: for he shall roar, and the children shall come trembling from the west. They shall come trembling as a bird out of Egypt, and as a dove out of the land of Assyria: and I will make them to dwell in their houses, saith the LORD.
12 Ephraim compasseth me about with falsehood, and the house of Israel with deceit: but Judah yet ruleth with God, and is faithful with the Holy One. Ephraim feedeth on wind, and followeth after the east wind: he continually multiplieth lies and desolation; and they make a covenant with Assyria, and oil is carried into Egypt. womb he took his brother by the heel; and in his <sup>1</sup>manhood he <sup>2</sup>had power with God: yea, he had power over the angel, and prevailed: he wept, and made supplication unto him: he found him at Beth-el, and there he spake with us; <sup>3</sup>even the LORD, the God of hosts; the LORD is his memorial. Therefore turn thou to thy God: keep mercy and judgement, and wait on thy God continually.

7 <sup>4</sup>He is <sup>5</sup>a trafficker, the balances of deceit are in his hand: he loveth to <sup>6</sup>oppress. And Ephraim said, Surely I am become rich, I have found me wealth: in all my labours they shall find in me none iniquity that were sin. But I am the LORD thy God from the land of Egypt: I will yet again make thee to dwell in tents, as in the days of the solemn feast. I have also spoken unto the prophets, and I have multiplied visions; and <sup>7</sup>by the ministry of the prophets have I used similitudes. Is Gilead iniquity? they are altogether vanity; in Gilgal they sacrifice bullocks: yea, their altars <sup>8</sup>are as heaps in the furrows of the field. And Jacob fled into the field of Aram, and Israel served for a wife, and for a wife he kept sheep. And by a prophet the LORD brought Israel out of Egypt, and by a prophet was he <sup>9</sup>preserved. Ephraim hath provoked to anger most bitterly: therefore shall his blood be left upon him, and his reproach shall his LORD return unto him.

13 When Ephraim <sup>10</sup>spake, there was trembling; he exalted himself in Israel: but when he <sup>11</sup>offended in Baal, he died. And now they sin more and more, and have made them molten images of their silver, even idols according to their own understanding, all of them the work of the craftsmen: they say of them, Let <sup>12</sup>the men that sacrifice kiss the calves. Therefore they shall be as the morning cloud, and as the dew that passeth early away, as the chaff that is driven with the whirlwind out of the threshing-floor, and as the smoke out of the chimney. Yet I am the LORD thy God from the land of Egypt; and thou <sup>13</sup>shalt know no god but me, and beside me there is no saviour. I did know thee in the wilderness, in the land of great drought. According to their pasture, so were they filled; they were filled, and their heart was exalted: therefore have they forgotten me. Therefore am I unto them as a lion; as a leopard will I watch by the way: <sup>14</sup>I will meet them as a bear that is bereaved of her whelps, and will rend the caul of their heart: and there will I devour them like a lion; the wild beast shall tear them. <sup>14</sup>It is thy destruction, O Israel, <sup>15</sup>that thou art against me, against thy help.

10 Where now is thy king, that he may save thee in all thy cities? and thy judges, of whom thou saidst, Give me a king and princes? I have given thee a king in mine anger, and have taken him away in my wrath. 12 The iniquity of Ephraim is bound up; his sin is laid up in store. The sorrows of a travelling woman shall come upon him: he is an unwise son; <sup>16</sup>for it is time he should not tarry in the place of the breaking forth of children. I will ransom them from the <sup>17</sup>power of <sup>18</sup>the grave; I will redeem them from death: O death, <sup>19</sup>where are thy plagues? O <sup>18</sup>grave, <sup>19</sup>where is thy destruction? <sup>20</sup>repentance shall be hid from mine eyes. 15 Though he be fruitful among his brethren, an east wind shall come, the <sup>20</sup>breath of the LORD coming up from the wilderness, and his spring shall become dry, and his fountain shall be dried up; <sup>21</sup>he shall spoil the treasure of all pleasant vessels. Samaria shall <sup>22</sup>bear her guilt; for she hath rebelled against her God: they shall fall by the sword; their infants shall be dashed in pieces, and their women with child shall be ripped up.

14 O Israel, return unto the LORD thy God; for thou hast fallen by thine iniquity. Take with you words, and return unto the LORD: say unto him, Take away all iniquity, and <sup>23</sup>accept that which is good: so will we render <sup>24</sup>as bullocks the offering of our lips. 3 Asshur shall not save us; we will not ride upon horses: neither will we say any more to the work of our hands, Ye are our gods: for in thee the fatherless findeth mercy. I will heal their backsliding, I will love them freely: for mine anger is turned away from him. I will be as the dew unto Israel: he shall blossom as the lily, and cast forth his roots as Lebanon. His branches shall spread, and his beauty shall be as the olive tree, and his smell as Lebanon. They that dwell under his shadow shall return; they shall revive as the corn, and blossom as the vine: <sup>25</sup>the scent thereof shall be as the wine of Lebanon. <sup>26</sup>Ephraim shall say, What have I to do any more with idols? I have answered, and will regard him: I am like a green fir tree; from me is thy fruit found. Who is wise, and he shall understand these things? prudent, and he shall know them? for the ways of the LORD are right, and the just shall walk in them; but transgressors shall fall therein.

JOEL.

1 THE word of the LORD that came to Joel the son of Pethuel.

2 Hear this, ye old men, and give ear, all ye inhabitants of the land. Hath this been in your days, or in the

3 days of your fathers? Tell ye your children of it, and let your children tell their children, and their children

4 another generation. That which the palmerworm hath left hath the locust eaten; and that which the locust hath left hath the cankerworm eaten; and that which the cankerworm hath left hath the cater-

5 pillar eaten. Awake, ye drunkards, and weep; and howl, all ye drinkers of wine, because of the sweet wine;

for it is cut off from your mouth. 6 For a nation is come up upon my land, strong, and without number;

his teeth are the teeth of a lion, and he hath the jaw teeth of a great

7 lion. He hath laid my vine waste, and barked my fig tree: he hath made it clean bare, and cast it away; the branches thereof are made

8 white. Lament like a virgin girded with sackcloth for the husband of her youth. The meal offering and the drink offering is cut off from the house of the LORD; the priests,

10 the LORD's ministers, mourn. The field is wasted, the land mourneth; for the corn is wasted, the new wine is dried up, the oil languisheth.

11 Be ashamed, O ye husbandmen, howl, O ye vinedressers, for the wheat and for the barley; for the harvest of the field is perished. The vine is withered, and the fig tree languisheth; the pomegranate tree, the palm tree also, and the apple tree, even all the trees of the field are withered: for joy is withered

12 away from the sons of men. Gird yourselves with sackcloth, and lament, ye priests; howl, ye ministers of the altar; come, lie all night in sackcloth, ye ministers of my God: for the meal offering and the drink offering is withholden from the house

14 of your God. Sanctify a fast, call a solemn assembly, gather the old men and all the inhabitants of the land unto the house of the LORD your God, and cry unto the LORD.

15 Alas for the day! for the day of the LORD is at hand, and as destruction from the Almighty shall it come.

16 Is not the meat cut off before our eyes, yea, joy and gladness from the house of our God? The seeds rot under their clods; the garners are laid desolate, the barns are broken down; for the corn is withered.

18 How do the beasts groan! the herds of cattle are perplexed, because they have no pasture; yea, the flocks of sheep are made desolate. O LORD,

19 to thee do I cry: for the fire hath devoured the pastures of the wilderness, and the flame hath burned

20 all the trees of the field. Yea, the beasts of the field pant unto thee: for the water brooks are dried up, and the fire hath devoured the pastures of the wilderness.

2 Blow ye the trumpet in Zion, and sound an alarm in my holy mountain; let all the inhabitants of the land tremble: for the day of the LORD cometh, for it is nigh at hand;

2 a day of darkness and gloominess, a day of clouds and thick darkness, as the dawn spread upon the mountains; a great people and a strong,

there hath not been ever the like, neither shall be any more after them, even to the years of many generations. A fire devoureth before them;

and behind them a flame burneth: the land is as the garden of Eden before them, and behind them a desolate wilderness; yea, and none

4 hath escaped them. The appearance of them is as the appearance of horses; and as horsemen, so do

5 they run. Like the noise of chariots on the tops of the mountains do they leap, like the noise of a flame of fire that devoureth the stubble, as a strong people set in battle array.

6 At their presence the peoples are in anguish: all faces are waxed pale. They run like mighty men;

they climb the wall like men of war; and they march every one on his ways, and they break not their

8 ranks. Neither doth one thrust another; they march every one in his path: and they burst through the weapons, and break not off

9 their course. They leap upon the city; they run upon the wall; they climb up into the houses; they enter in at the windows like a thief.

10 The earth quaketh before them; the heavens tremble: the sun and the moon are darkened, and the stars withdraw their shining; and the LORD uttereth his voice before his army; for his camp is very great; for he is strong that executeth his word: for the day of the LORD is great and very terrible; and who

12 can abide it? Yet even now, saith the LORD, turn ye unto me with all your heart, and with fasting, and with weeping, and with mourning;

13 and rend your heart, and not your garments, and turn unto the LORD your God: for he is gracious and full of compassion, slow to anger, and plenteous in mercy, and repenteth

15 Blow the trumpet in Zion, sanctify a fast, call a solemn assembly: gather the people, sanctify the congregation, assemble the old men, gather the children, and those that suck the breasts: let the bridegroom go forth of his chamber, and the

17 bride out of her closet. Let the priests, the ministers of the LORD, weep between the porch and the altar, and let them say, Spare thy people, O LORD, and give not thine heritage to reproach, that the nations should rule over them: wherefore should they say among the peoples, Where is their God?

18 Then was the LORD jealous for his land, and had pity on his people.

19 And the LORD answered and said unto his people, Behold, I will send you corn, and wine, and oil, and ye shall be satisfied therewith: and I will no more make you a reproach among the nations: but I will remove far off from you the northern army, and will drive him into a land barren and desolate, <sup>3</sup>his forepart

20 into the eastern sea, and his hinder part <sup>4</sup>into the western sea; and his stink shall come up, and his ill savour shall come up, because he

21 hath done great things. Fear not, O land, be glad and rejoice; for the LORD hath done great things. Be not afraid, ye beasts of the field; for the pastures of the wilderness do spring, for the tree beareth her fruit, the fig tree and the vine do

23 yield their strength. Be glad then, ye children of Zion, and rejoice in the LORD your God: for he giveth you the former rain <sup>5</sup>in just measure, and he causeth to come down for you the rain, the former rain and the latter rain, <sup>6</sup>in the first month. And the floors shall be full of wheat, and the fats shall overflow with wine and oil. And I will restore to you the years that

25 the locust hath eaten, the cankerworm, and the caterpillar, and the palmerworm, my great army which

26 I sent among you. And ye shall eat in plenty and be satisfied, and shall praise the name of the LORD your God, that hath dealt wondrously with you: and my people shall never be ashamed. And ye shall know that I am in the midst of Israel, and that I am the LORD your God, and there is none else: and my people shall never be ashamed.

27 And it shall come to pass afterward, that I will pour out my spirit upon all flesh: and your sons and your daughters shall prophesy, your old men shall dream dreams, your

29 young men shall see visions: and also upon the servants and upon the handmaids in those days will I

30 pour out my spirit. And I will shew wonders in the heavens and in the earth, blood, and fire, and pillars of smoke. The sun shall be turned into darkness, and the moon into blood, before the great and terrible day

32 of the LORD come. And it shall come to pass, that whosoever shall call on the name of the LORD shall be delivered: for in mount Zion and in Jerusalem there shall be those that escape, as the LORD hath said, and <sup>8</sup>among the remnant those whom the LORD doth call. For, behold, in those days, and in that time, when I shall bring again the captivity of Judah and Jerusalem.

2 I will gather all nations, and will bring them down into <sup>9</sup>the valley of Jehoshaphat: and I will plead with them there for my people and for my heritage Israel, whom they have scattered among the nations, and parted my land. And they have cast lots for my people: and have given a boy for an harlot, and sold a girl for wine, that they might

4 drink. Yea, and what are ye to me, O Tyre, and Zidon, and all the regions of Philistia? <sup>10</sup>will ye render me a recompence? and if ye recompense me, swiftly and speedily will I return your <sup>11</sup>recompence upon your own head. Forasmuch as ye have taken my silver and my gold, and have carried into your temples

6 my goodly pleasant things: the children also of Judah and the children of Jerusalem have ye sold unto the sons of the Grecians, that ye might remove them far from their border:

7 behold, I will stir them up out of the place whither ye have sold them, and will return your <sup>12</sup>recompence upon your own head: and I will sell your sons and your daughters into the hand of the children of Judah, and they shall sell them to the men of Sheba, to a nation far off: for the LORD hath spoken it.

9 I proclaim ye this among the nations: <sup>12</sup>prepare war: stir up the mighty men; let all the men of war draw near, let them come up. Beat your plowshares into swords, and your pruninghooks into spears; let the weak say, I am strong. <sup>13</sup>Haste ye, and come, all ye nations round about, and gather yourselves together: thither cause thy mighty ones to come down, O LORD. Let the nations bestir themselves, and come up to the valley of <sup>14</sup>Jehoshaphat: for there will I sit to judge all the nations round about. Put ye in the sickle, for the <sup>15</sup>harvest is ripe: come, <sup>16</sup>tread ye; for the winepress is full, the fats overflow; for their wickedness is great. Multitudes, multitudes in the valley of decision! for the day of the LORD is near in the valley of decision. The sun and the moon are darkened, and the stars withdraw their shining. - 1 THE words of Amos, who was among the herdmen of Tekoa, which he saw concerning Israel in the days of Uzziah king of Judah, and in the days of Jeroboam the son of Joash king of Israel, two years before the earthquake.

- 2 And he said, The LORD shall roar from Zion, and utter his voice from Jerusalem; and the pastures of the shepherds shall mourn, and the top of Carmel shall wither.

- 3 Thus saith the LORD: For three transgressions of Damascus, yea, for four, I will not turn away the punishment thereof; because they have threshed Gilead with threshing

- instruments of iron: but I will send a fire into the house of Hazael, and it shall devour the palaces of Ben-hadad. And I will break the bar of Damascus, and cut off the inhabitant from the valley of Aven, and him that holdeth the sceptre from the house of Eden: and the people of Syria shall go into captivity unto Kir, saith the LORD.

- 4 Thus saith the LORD: For three transgressions of Gaza, yea, for four, I will not turn away the punishment thereof; because they carried away captive the whole people, to deliver them up to Edom: but I will send a fire on the wall of Gaza, and it shall devour the palaces thereof.

- 5 And I will cut off the inhabitant from Ashdod, and him that holdeth the sceptre from Ashkelon; and I will turn mine hand against Ekron, and the remnant of the Philistines shall perish, saith the Lord God.

- 6 Thus saith the LORD: For three transgressions of Tyre, yea, for four, I will not turn away the punishment thereof; because they delivered up the whole people to Edom, and remembered not the brotherly covenant: but I will send a fire on the wall of Tyre, and it shall devour the palaces thereof.

- 7 Thus saith the LORD: For three transgressions of Edom, yea, for four, I will not turn away the punishment thereof; because they have sold the righteous for silver, and the needy

- four, I will not turn away the punishment thereof; because he did pursue his brother with the sword, and did cast off all pity, and his anger did rear perpetually, and he kept his wrath for ever: but I will send a fire upon Teman, and it shall devour the palaces of Bozrah.

- 8 Thus saith the LORD: For three transgressions of the children of Ammon, yea, for four, I will not turn away the punishment thereof; because they have ripped up the women with child of Gilead, that they might enlarge their border:

- 9 but I will kindle a fire in the wall of Rabbah, and it shall devour the palaces thereof, with shouting in the day of battle, with a tempest in the day of the whirlwind: and their king shall go into captivity, he and his princes together, saith the LORD.

- 10 Thus saith the LORD: For three transgressions of Moab, yea, for four, I will not turn away the punishment thereof; because he burned the bones of the king of Edom into lime: but I will send a fire upon Moab, and it shall devour the palaces of Kerioth; and Moab shall die with tumult, with shouting, and with the sound of the trumpet: and I will cut off the judge from the midst thereof, and will slay all the princes thereof with him, saith the LORD.

- 11 Thus saith the LORD: For three transgressions of Judah, yea, for four, I will not turn away the punishment thereof; because they have rejected the law of the LORD, and have not kept his statutes, and their lies have caused them to err, after the which their fathers did walk: but I will send a fire upon Judah, and it shall devour the palaces of Jerusalem.

Yet destroyed I the Amorite before them, whose height was like the height of the cedars, and he was strong as the oaks; yet I destroyed his fruit from above, and his roots from beneath. Also I brought you up out of the land of Egypt, and led you forty years in the wilderness, to possess the land of the Amorite.
11 And I raised up of your sons for prophets, and of your young men for Nazirites. Is it not even thus, O ye children of Israel? saith the 12 Lord. But ye gave the Nazirites wine to drink; and commanded the prophets, saying, Prophecy not. Behold<sup>3</sup> I will press you in your place, as a cart presseth that is full of sheaves. And I might shall perish from the swift, and the strong shall not strengthen his force, neither shall the mighty deliver<sup>4</sup> himself:
15 neither shall he stand that handleth the bow; and he that is swift of foot shall not deliver himself: neither shall he that rideth the horse deliver himself: and he that is courageous among the mighty shall flee away naked in that day, saith the Lord.
3 Hear this word that the Lord hath spoken against you, O children of Israel, against the whole family which I brought up out of the land of Egypt, saying, You only have I known of all the families of the earth: therefore I will visit upon you all your iniquities. Shall two walk together, except they have
4 agreed? Will a lion roar in the forest, when he hath no prey? will a young lion cry out of his den, if he have taken nothing? Can a bird fall in a snare upon the earth, where no gin is set for him? shall a snare spring up from the ground, and 6 have taken nothing at all? Shall the trumpet be blown in a city, and the people not be afraid? shall evil befall a city, and the Lord hath
7 not done it? Surely the Lord God will do nothing, but he revealeth his secret unto his servants the prophets. The lion hath roared, who will not fear? the Lord God hath spoken, who can but prophesy?
9 Publish ye<sup>7</sup> in the palaces at Ashdod, and<sup>7</sup> in the palaces in the land of Egypt, and say, Assemble yourselves upon the mountains of Samaria, and behold what great tumults are therein, and what oppressions in the midst thereof. For they know not to do right, saith the Lord, who store up violence and robbery in

11 their places. Therefore thus saith the Lord God: An adversary there shall be, even round about the land: and he shall bring down thy strength from thee, and thy palaces shall be 12 spoiled. Thus saith the Lord: As the shepherd rescueth out of the mouth of the lion two legs, or a piece of an ear; so shall the children of Israel be rescued that sit in Samaria in the corner of a couch, and<sup>8</sup> on the silken cushions of a 13 bed. Hear ye, and testify against the house of Jacob, saith the Lord
14 God, the God of hosts. For in the day that I shall visit the transgressions of Israel upon him, I will also visit the altars of Beth-el, and the horns of the altar shall be cut off, and fall to the ground. And I will smite<sup>9</sup> the winter house with<sup>10</sup> the summer house; and the houses of ivory shall perish, and<sup>11</sup> the great houses shall have an end, saith the Lord.
4 Hear this word, ye kine of Bashan, that are in the mountain of Samaria, which oppress the poor, which crush the needy, which say unto their lords, Bring, and let us drink.
2 The Lord God hath sworn by his holiness, that, lo, the days shall come upon you, that they shall take you away with hooks, and your residue
3 with fish hooks. And ye shall go out at the breaches, every one straight before her:<sup>12</sup> and ye shall cast yourselves into Harmon, saith the Lord.
4 Come to Beth-el, and transgress; to Gilgal, and multiply transgression, and bring your sacrifices every morning, and your tithes every three days;
5 and<sup>13</sup> offer a sacrifice of thanksgiving of that which is leavened, and proclaim freewill offerings and publish them; for this liketh you, O ye children of Israel, saith the Lord
6 God. And I also have given you cleanness of teeth in all your cities, and want of bread in all your places: yet have ye not returned unto me,
7 saith the Lord. And I also have withheld the rain from you, when there were yet three months to the harvest: and I caused it to rain upon one city, and caused it not to rain upon another city: one piece was rained upon, and the piece whereupon it rained not withered.
8 So two or three cities wandered unto one city to drink water, and were not satisfied: yet have ye not returned unto me, saith the Lord.
9 I have smitten you with blasting and mildew: the multitude of your gardens, and your vineyards and your fig trees and your olive trees hath the palmerworm devoured: yet have ye not returned unto me, nostrils: yet have ye not returned unto me, saith the LORD. I have overthrown some among you, as when God overthrew Sodom and Gomorrah, and ye were as a brand plucked out of the burning: yet have ye not returned unto me, saith the LORD. Therefore thus will I do unto thee, O Israel: and because I will do this unto thee, prepare to meet thy God, O Israel. For, lo, he that formeth the mountains, and createth the wind, and declareth unto man what is his thought, that maketh the morning darkness, and treadeth upon the high places of the earth; the LORD, the God of hosts, is his name.

5 Hear ye this word which I take up for a lamentation over you, O house of Israel. The virgin of Israel is fallen; she shall no more rise: she <sup>1</sup> is cast down upon her land; there is none to raise her up. For thus saith the Lord God: The city that went forth a thousand shall have an hundred left, and that which went forth an hundred shall have ten left, to the house of Israel. For thus saith the LORD unto the house of Israel,

6 Seek ye me, and ye shall live: but seek not Beth-el, nor enter into Gilgal, and pass not to Beer-sheba: for Gilgal shall surely go into captivity, and Beth-el shall <sup>2</sup> come to nought.

7 Seek the LORD, and ye shall live; lest he break out like fire in the house of Joseph, and it devour and there be none to quench it in Beth-el: ye who turn judgement to wormwood, and cast down righteousness

8 to the earth; seek him that maketh the Pleiades and Orion, and turneth <sup>3</sup> the shadow of death into the morning, and maketh the day dark with night; that calleth for the waters of the sea, and poureth them out upon the face of the earth; the

9 LORD is his name; that <sup>4</sup> bringeth sudden destruction upon the strong, so that destruction cometh upon the fortress. They hate him that reproveth in the gate, and they abhor him that speaketh uprightly.

11 Forasmuch therefore as ye trample upon the poor, and take exactions from him of wheat: ye have built houses of hewn stone, but ye shall not dwell in them; ye have planted pleasant vineyards, but ye shall not drink the wine thereof. For I know how manifold are your transgressions and how mighty are your sins; ye that afflict the just, that take a bribe, and that turn aside the needy in the gate from their right. Therefore he that is prudent shall keep silence in such a time; for it is an evil time. Seek good, and not evil, that ye may live: and so the LORD, the God of hosts, shall be with you,

15 as ye say. Hate the evil, and love the good, and establish judgement in the gate: it may be that the LORD, the God of hosts, will be gracious unto the remnant of Joseph. Therefore thus saith the LORD, the God of hosts, the Lord: Wailing shall be in all the broad ways; and they shall say in all the streets, Alas! alas! and they shall call the husbandman to mourning, <sup>5</sup> and such as are skil-

17 ful of lamentation to wailing. And in all vineyards shall be wailing: for I will pass through the midst of 18 thee, saith the LORD. Woe unto you that desire the day of the LORD! wherefore would ye have the day of the LORD? it is darkness, and not 19 light. As if a man did flee from a lion, and a bear met him; <sup>6</sup> or went into the house and leaned his hand on the wall, and a serpent bit him.

20 Shall not the day of the LORD be darkness, and not light? even very 21 dark, and no brightness in it? I hate, I despise your feasts, and I

7 will take no delight in your solemn 22 assemblies. Yea, though ye offer me <sup>8</sup> your burnt offerings and meal offerings, I will not accept them: neither will I regard the <sup>9</sup> peace of-

23 ferings of your fat beasts. Take thou away from me the noise of thy songs; for I will not hear the melody of thy viols. But let judg-

24 ment roll down as waters, and righteousness as a <sup>10</sup> mighty stream. Did ye bring unto me sacrifices and <sup>11</sup> offer-

25 ings in the wilderness forty years, 26 O house of Israel? Yea, ye <sup>12</sup> have borne <sup>13</sup> Siccuth your king and <sup>14</sup> Chiun your images, the star of your god, which ye made to your-

27 selves. Therefore will I cause you to go into captivity beyond Damascus, saith the LORD, whose name is the God of hosts.

6 Woe to them that are at ease in Zion, and to them that are secure in the mountain of Samaria, the notable men of the chief of the nations, to whom the house of Israel come! Pass ye unto Calneh, and see; and from thence go ye to Hamath the great: then go down to Gath of the Philistines: be they better than these kingdoms? or is their border greater than your border? Ye that put far away the evil day, and cause the <sup>15</sup> seat of violence

4 to come near; that lie upon beds of ivory, and stretch themselves upon their couches, and eat the lambs out of the flock, and the calves out of the midst of the stall;

5 that sing idle songs to the sound of the viol; that devise for themselves instruments of music, <sup>16</sup> like David; that drink <sup>17</sup> wine in bowls, and anoint themselves with the chief ointments: but they are not grieved for the affliction of Joseph. Therefore now shall they go captive with the first that go captive, and the revelry of them that stretched themselves

8 shall pass away. The Lord God hath sworn by himself, saith the LORD, the God of hosts: I abhor the <sup>18</sup> excellency of Jacob, and hate his palaces: therefore will I deliver up the city with all that is therein.

And when a man's uncle shall take him up, even he that burieth him, to bring out the bones out of the house, and shall say unto him, that is in the lattermost parts of the house, is there yet any with thee? and he shall say, No, then shall he say, Hold thy peace; for we may not make mention of the name of the LORD.
- 10 For behold, the LORD commandeth, and the great house shall be smitten with breaches, and the little house with clefts. Shall horses run upon the rock? will one plow there with oxen? that ye have turned judgement into tears, and the fruit of righteousness into wormwood: ye which rejoice in a thing of nought, which say, Have we not taken to us horns by our own strength? For, behold, I will raise up against you a nation, O house of Israel, saith the LORD, the God of hosts, and they shall afflict you from the entering in of Hamath unto the brook of the Arabah.
- 7 Thus the Lord God shewed me: and behold, he formed locusts in the beginning of the shooting up of the latter growth; and lo, it was the latter growth after the king's mowings. And it came to pass that when they made an end of eating the grass of the land, then I said, O Lord God, forgive, I beseech thee, how shall Jacob stand? for he is small. The Lord repented concerning this: It shall not be, saith the Lord.
- 8 Thus the Lord God shewed me: and behold, the Lord God called to contend by fire, and it devoured the great deep, and would have eaten up the land. And then said the Lord God, cease, I beseech thee; how shall Jacob stand? for he is small. The Lord repented concerning this: This also shall not be, saith the Lord God.
- 9 Thus he shewed me: and behold, the Lord stood beside a wall made by a plumbline, with a plumbline in his hand. And the Lord said unto me, Amos, what seest thou? And I said, A plumbline. Then said the Lord, Behold, I will set a plumbline in the midst of my people Israel; I will not again pass by them any more: and the high places of Isaac shall be desolate, and the sanctuaries of Israel shall be left waste: and I will rise against the house of Jeroboam with the sword.
- 10 Then Amaziah the priest of Beth-el sent to Jeroboam king of Israel, saying, Amaziah hath conspired against thee in the midst of the house of Israel; the land is not able to bear all his words. For thus Amos saith, Jeroboam shall die by the sword, and Israel shall surely be led away captive out of his land. Also Amaziah said unto Amos, O thou seer, go far thee away into the land of Judah, and there eat bread, and prophesy there: but prophesy not again any more at Beth-el: for it is the king's sanctuary, and it is a royal house. Then answered Amos, and said to Amaziah, I was no prophet, neither was I a prophet's son; but I was an herdsman and a dresser of sycamore trees: and the LORD took me from following the flock, and the LORD said unto me, Go, prophesy unto my people Israel. Now therefore hear thou the word of the LORD: Thou sayest, I prophesy not against Israel, and drop not thy word against the house of Isaac; therefore thus saith the LORD: Thy wife shall be an harlot in the city, and thy sons and thy daughters shall fall by the sword, and thy land shall be divided by line; and thou thyself shalt die in a land that is unclean, and Israel shall surely be led away captive out of his land.
- 8 Thus the Lord God shewed me: and behold, a basket of summer fruit. And he said Amos, what seest thou? And I said, A basket of summer fruit. Then said the Lord unto me, The end is come upon my people Israel; I will not again pass by them any more. And the songs of the temple shall be howlings in that day, saith the Lord God: the dead bodies shall be many; in every place shall they cast them forth with silence. Hear this O ye that would swindle up the needy, and cause the poor of the land to fail, saying, When will the new moon be? and that we may sell corn? and the sabbath that we may set forth wheat? make the ephah small, and the shekel great, and dealing falsely with balances of deceit, that we may buy the poor for silver, and the needy for a pair of shoes, and sell the refuse of the wheat. The Lord hath sworn by the excellency of Jacob, Surely I will never forget any of their works. Shall not the land tremble for this, and every one mourn, that dwelleth therein? yea, it shall rise up like the River, and it shall be troubled, and sink again like the River of Egypt.
- 9 And it shall come to pass in that day, saith the Lord God, that I will cause the sun to go down at noon, and I will darken the earth in the clear day. And I will turn your feasts into mourning, and all your songs into lamentation: and I will bring up sackcloth upon all loins, and I will make it as the mourning for an only son, and the end thereof as a bitter day. In that day shall the fair virgins and the young men faint for thirst. 9 I saw the Lord standing <sup>2</sup> beside the altar; and he said, Smite the chapters, that the thresholds may shake: and break them in pieces on the head of all of them; and I will slay the last of them with the sword: <sup>3</sup> there shall not one of them flee away, and there shall not one of them escape. Though they dig into <sup>4</sup> hell, thence shall mine hand take them; and though they climb up to heaven, and though they climb up to heaven, and though they hide themselves in the top of Carmel, I will search and take them out thence; and though they be hid from my sight in the bottom of the sea, thence will I command the serpent, and he shall bite them. And though they go into captivity before their enemies, thence will I command the sword, and it shall slay them; and I will set mine eyes upon them for evil, and not for good.

The pride of thine heart hath deceived thee, O thou that dwellest in the clefts of <sup>2</sup> the rock, whose habitation is high; that saith in his heart, Who shall bring me down to the ground? Though thou mount on high as the eagle, and though thy nest be set among the stars, I will bring thee down from thence, saith the LORD. If thieves came to thee, if robbers by night, (how art thou cut off!) would they not steal till they had enough? if grapegatherers came to thee, would they not leave some gleanings? How are <sup>3</sup> the things of Esau searched out! how are his hidden treasures sought up! I not in that day, saith the LORD, and understanding out of the mount of Esau? And thy mighty men, O Teman, shall be dismayed, to the end that every one may be cut off drunk upon my holy mountain, so shall all the nations drink continu-they had not been. But in mount Zion there shall be those that es-possessions, and the house of Jacob shall be a fire, and the house of Jo-for stubble, and they shall burn a-there shall not be any remaining to the house of Esau; for the LORD hath spoken it. And they of the South shall possess the mount of Esau; and they of the lowland the Philistines; and they shall possess the field of Ephraim, and the field of Samaria; and Benjamin shall pos-

this <sup>9</sup>host of the children of Israel, <sup>10</sup>which are among the Canaanites, shall possess even unto Zarephath;
and the captivity of Jerusalem, which

JONAH.

1 Or, hurled

1 Now the word of the LORD came unto Jonah the son of Amittai, saying, Arise, go to Nineveh, that great city, and cry against it; for their wickedness is come up before me.
2 But Jonah rose up to flee unto Tarshish from the presence of the LORD; and he went down to Joppa, and found a ship going to Tarshish:
so he paid the fare thereof, and went down into it, to go with them unto Tarshish from the presence 4 of the LORD. But the LORD <sup>1</sup>sent out a great wind into the sea, and there was a mighty tempest in the sea, so that the ship was like to 5 be broken. Then the mariners were afraid, and cried every man unto his god; and they cast forth the wares that were in the ship into the sea to lighten it unto them. But Jonah was gone down into the innermost parts of the ship; and 6 he lay, and was fast asleep. So the shipmaster came to him, and said unto him, What meanest thou,
O sleeper? arise, call upon thy God,
if so be that God will think upon 7 us, that we perish not. And they said every one to his fellow, Come,

and let us cast lots, that we may know for whose cause this evil is upon us. So they cast lots, and 8 the lot fell upon Jonah. Then said they unto him, Tell us, we pray thee, for whose cause this evil is upon us; what is thine occupation?
and whence comest thou? what is thy country? and of what people 9 art thou? And he said unto them,
I am an Hebrew; and I fear the LORD, the God of heaven, which hath made the sea and the dry 10 land. Then were the men exceedingly afraid, and said unto him,
What is this that thou hast done?
For the men knew that he fled from the presence of the LORD, 11 because he had told them. Then said they unto him, What shall we do unto thee, that the sea may be calm unto us? for the sea grew 12 more and more tempestuous. And he said unto them, Take me up, and cast me forth into the sea;
so shall the sea be calm unto you: for I know that for my sake this great tempest is upon you. Nevertheless the men rowed hard to get them back to the land; but they could not: for the sea grew more and more tempestuous against them. Wherefore they cried unto the LORD, and said, We beseech thee, O LORD, we beseech thee, let us not perish for this man's life, and lay not upon us innocent blood: for thou, O LORD, hast done as it pleased thee. So they took up Jonah, and cast him forth into the sea: and the sea ceased from her raging. Then the men feared the LORD exceedingly; and they offered a sacrifice unto the LORD, and made vows.

17 And the LORD prepared a great fish to swallow up Jonah: and Jonah was in the belly of the fish three days and three nights. Then Jonah prayed unto the LORD his God out of the fish's belly. And he said,

2 I called<sup>1</sup> by reason of mine affliction unto the LORD,
And he answered me;
Out of the belly of<sup>2</sup> hell cried I,
And thou heardest my voice.

3 For thou didst cast me into the depth, in the heart of the seas,
And the flood was round about me;

All thy waves and thy billows passed over me.

4 And I said, I am cast out from before thine eyes;
Yet I will look again toward thy holy temple.

5 The waters compassed me about, even to the soul;
The deep was round about me:
The weeds were wrapped about my head.

6 I went down to the bottoms of the mountains;
The earth with her bars closed upon me for ever:

Yet hast thou brought up my life from<sup>3</sup> the pit, O LORD my God.

7 When my soul fainted within me, I remembered the LORD:
And my prayer came in unto thee, into thine holy temple.

8 They that regard lying vanities Forsake their own mercy.

9 But I will sacrifice unto thee with the voice of thanksgiving;
I will pay that which I have vowed.

Salvation is of the LORD.

10 And the LORD spake unto the fish, and it vomited out Jonah upon the dry land.

3 And the word of the LORD came unto Jonah the second time, saying,

2 Arise, go unto Nineveh, that great city, and<sup>4</sup> preach unto it that

3 preaching that I bid thee. So Jonah arose, and went unto Nineveh, according to the word of the LORD.

Now Nineveh was<sup>5</sup> an exceeding great city, of three days' journey.

4 And Jonah began to enter into the city a day's journey, and he cried, and said, Yet forty days, and Nineveh shall be overthrown. And the people of Nineveh believed God;

and they proclaimed a fast, and put on sackcloth, from the greatest of them even to the least of them.

6<sup>6</sup> And the tidings reached the king of Nineveh, and he arose from his throne, and laid his robe from him, and covered him with sackcloth, and sat in ashes. And he made proclamation, and<sup>7</sup> published through Nineveh by the decree of the king and his nobles, saying, Let neither man nor beast, herd nor flock, taste any thing: let them not feed, nor

8 drink water: but let them be covered with sackcloth, both man and beast, and let them cry mightily unto God: yea, let them turn every one from his evil way, and from the violence that is in their hands.

9 Who knoweth whether God will not turn and repent, and turn away from his fierce anger, that we perish not? And God saw their works, that they turned from their evil way; and God repented of the evil, which he said he would do unto them; and he did it not. But it displeased Jonah exceedingly, and he was angry.

2 And he prayed unto the LORD, and said, I pray thee, O LORD, was not this my saying, when I was yet in my country? Therefore I<sup>8</sup> hasted to flee unto Tarshish: for I knew that thou art a gracious God, and full of compassion, slow to anger, and plenteous in mercy, and repentest thee of the evil.

3 Therefore now, O LORD, take, I beseech thee, my life from me: for it is better for me to die than<sup>4</sup> to live. And the LORD said,<sup>9</sup> Doest thou well to be angry? Then Jonah went out of the city, and sat on the east side of the city, and there made him a booth, and sat under it in the shadow, till he might see

6 what would become of the city. And the LORD God prepared a<sup>10</sup> gourd, and made it to come up over Jonah, that it might be a shadow over his head, to deliver him from his evil case. So Jonah was exceeding

7 glad because of the gourd. But God prepared a worm when the morning rose the next day, and it smote the gourd, that it withered.

8 And it came to pass, when the sun arose, that God prepared a sultry east wind; and the sun beat upon the head of Jonah, that he fainted, and requested for himself that he might die, and said, It is better

9 for me to die than to live. And God said to Jonah, Doest thou well to be angry for the gourd? And he said, I do well to be angry even unto death. And the LORD said, 10 Thou hast had pity on the gourd, for the which thou hast not laboured, neither madest it grow; which came up in a night, and perished in a night: and should not I have pity on Nineveh, that great city, wherein are more than sixscore thousand persons that cannot discern between their right hand and their left hand; and also much cattle?

MICAH.

1 THE word of the LORD that came to Micah the Morastite in the days of Jotham, Ahaz, and Hezekiah, kings of Judah, which he saw concerning Samaria and Jerusalem.

2 Hear, ye peoples, all of you; hearken, O earth, and all that therein is: and let the Lord God be witness

2 against you, the Lord from his holy temple. For, behold, the Lord cometh forth out of his place, and will come down, and tread upon the

4 high places of the earth. And the mountains shall be molten under him, and the valleys shall be cleft, as wax before the fire, as waters that are poured down a steep place.

5 For the transgression of Jacob is all this, and for the sins of the house of Israel. What is the transgression of Jacob? is it not Samaria? and what are the high places of Judah?

6 are they not Jerusalem? Therefore I will make Samaria as a heap of the field, and as the plantings of a vineyard: and I will pour down the stones thereof into the valley, and I will discover the foundations

7 thereof. And all her graven images shall be beaten to pieces, and all her hires shall be burned with fire, and all her idols will I lay desolate: for of the hire of an harlot hath she gathered them, and unto the hire

8 of an harlot shall they return. For this will I wail and howl, I will go stripped and naked: I will make a wailing like the jackals, and a mourning like the ostriches. For her wounds are incurable: for it is come even unto Judah, it reacheth

9 unto the gate of my people, even to Jerusalem. Tell it not in Gath, weep not at all: at Beth-e-

11 Aphrah I have rolled myself in the dust. Pass ye away O inhabitant of Shaphir, in nakedness and shame: the inhabitant of Zaanan is not come forth: the wailing of Beth-ezel shall take from you the 12 thereof. For the inhabitant of Marith waiteth anxiously for good: because evil is come down from the Lord unto the gate of Jerusalem.

13 Bind the chariot to the swift steed. O inhabitant of Lachish: she was the beginning of sin to the daughter of Zion: for the transgressions of Israel were found in thee. There-

14 fore shalt thou give a parting gift to Moresheth-gath: the houses of Achzib shall be a deceitful thing unto the kings of Israel: I will not bring unto thee, O inhabitant of Maroth, him that shall possess thee: the glory of Israel shall come

15 even unto Adullam. Make thee bald, and poll thee for the children of thy

2 delight: enlarge thy baldness as the eagle: for they are gone into captivity from thee.

3 Wee to them that devise iniquity and work evil upon their beds: when the morning is light, they practise it, because it is in the power of their

2 hand. And they covet fields, and seize them; and houses, and take them away: and they oppress a man and his house, even a man and his heritage. Therefore thus saith the LORD: Behold, against this family do I devise an evil from which ye shall not remove your necks, neither shall ye walk haughtily: for it is an evil time. In that day shall they take up a parable against you, and lament with a doleful lamentation, and say, We be utterly spoiled: he changeth the portion of my people: how doth he remove it from me! to the rebellious he divideth our fields. Therefore thou shalt have none that shall cast the line by lot in the congregation of the LORD. <sup>12</sup>Prophecy ye not thus their prophecy. They shall not prophesy to these: reproaches shall not depart. <sup>13</sup>Shall it be said, O house of Jacob, Is the spirit of the LORD straitened? are these his doings? Do not my words do good to him that walketh uprightly? But of late my people is risen up as an enemy: ye strip the robe from off the garment from them that pass by securely as men averse from war.

9 The women of my people ye cast out from their pleasant houses, from their young children ye take away my glory for ever. Arise ye, and depart: for this is not your rest: because of unbelief <sup>17</sup>that destroyeth, even with a grievous destruction. If a man walking in wind and falsehood do he, saying, I will prophesy unto thee of wine and of strong drink: he shall even be the prophet of this people.

12 I will surely assemble, O Jacob, all of thee, I will surely gather the remnant of Israel. I will put them together as the sheep of Bozrah: as a flock in the midst of their pasture, they shall make great noise by reason of the multitude of men.

13 The breaker is gone up before them: they have broken forth and passed on to the gate, and are gone out thereat: and their king is passed on before them, and the LORD at the head of them.

- 2 to know judgement? who hate the good, and love the evil; who pluck off their skin from off them, and
 3 their flesh from off their bones; who also eat the flesh of my people; and they slay their skin from off them, and break their bones: yea, they chop them in pieces, as for the pot, and as flesh within the caldron.
 4 Then shall they cry unto the LORD, but he will not answer them: yea, he will hide his face from them at that time, according as they have wrought evil in their doings. Thus saith the LORD concerning the prophets that make my people to err; that bite with their teeth and cry, Peace: and whoso putteth not into their mouths, they even <sup>1</sup>prepare
 6 war against him: Therefore it shall be night unto you, that ye shall have no vision; and it shall be dark unto you, that ye shall not divine; and the sun shall go down upon the prophets, and the day shall be black over them. And the seers shall be ashamed, and the diviners confounded; yea, they shall all cover their lips: for there is no answer of God.
 8 But I truly am full of power <sup>2</sup>by the spirit of the LORD, and of judgement, and of might, to declare unto Jacob his transgression, and to Israel his sin. Hear this, I pray you, ye heads of the house of Jacob, and rulers of the house of Israel, that abhor judgement, and pervert all equity. They build up Zion with blood, and Jerusalem with iniquity.
 11 The heads thereof judge for reward, and the priests thereof teach for hire, and the prophets thereof divine for money: yet will they lean upon the LORD, and say, Is not the LORD in the midst of us? no evil shall come upon us. Therefore shall Zion for your sake be plowed as a field, and Jerusalem shall become heaps, and the mountain of the house as the high places of a forest.
 4 <sup>3</sup>But in the latter days it shall come to pass, that the mountain of the LORD's house shall be established <sup>4</sup>in the top of the mountains, and it shall be exalted above the hills; and peoples shall flow unto it. And many nations shall go and say, Come ye, and let us go up to the mountain of the LORD, and to the house of the God of Jacob; and he will teach us of his ways, and we will walk in his paths: for out of Zion shall go forth <sup>5</sup>the law, and the word of the LORD from Jerusalem. And he shall judge <sup>6</sup>between many peoples, and shall <sup>7</sup>reprove strong nations afar off; and they shall beat their swords into plowshares, and their spears into pruninghooks: nation shall not lift up sword against nation, neither shall they learn war any more. But they shall sit every man under his vine and under his fig tree; and none shall make them afraid: for the mouth of the LORD of hosts hath
 5 spoken it. For all the peoples <sup>9</sup>will walk every one in the name of his god, and we will walk in the name of the LORD our God for ever and ever.
 6 In that day, saith the LORD, will I assemble her that is driven away, and her that I have afflicted; and I will make her that halted a remnant, and her that was cast far off a strong nation: and the LORD shall reign over them in mount Zion from henceforth even for ever. And thou, O tower of <sup>10</sup>the flock, <sup>11</sup>the hill of the daughter of Zion, unto thee shall it come; yea, the former dominion shall come, the kingdom of the daughter of Jerusalem. Now why dost thou cry out aloud? Is there no king in thee, is thy counsellor perished, that pangs have taken hold of thee as of a woman in travail? Be in pain, and labour to bring forth, O daughter of Zion, like a woman in travail: for now shalt thou go forth out of the city, and shalt dwell in the field, and shalt come even unto Babylon; there shalt thou be rescued; there shall the LORD redeem thee from the hand of thine enemies. And now many nations are assembled against thee, that say, Let her be defiled, and let our eye <sup>12</sup>see its desire upon Zion. But they know not the thoughts of the LORD, neither understand they his counsel: for he hath gathered them as the sheaves to the threshing-floor. Arise and thresh, O daughter of Zion: for I will make thine horn iron, and I will make thy hoofs brass: and thou shalt beat in pieces many peoples: and <sup>13</sup>thou shalt devote their gain unto the LORD, and their substance unto the Lord of the whole earth.
 5 Now shalt thou gather thyself in troops, O daughter of troops: he hath laid siege against us: they shall smite the judge of Israel with a rod upon the cheek.
 2 But thou, Beth-lehem Ephrathah, which art little to be among the <sup>14</sup>thousands of Judah, out of thee shall one come forth unto me that is to be ruler in Israel; whose goings forth are from of old, <sup>15</sup>from everlasting. Therefore will he give them up, until the time that she which travaileth hath brought forth: then the residue of his brethren shall return <sup>16</sup>unto the children of Israel.
 4 And he shall stand, and shall feed his flock in the strength of the LORD, in the majesty of the name of the LORD his God: and they shall abide; for now shall he be great unto the ends of the earth. And this man shall be our peace: when the Assyrian shall come into our land, and when he shall tread in our palaces, then shall we raise against him seven shepherds, and eight <sup>17</sup>principal men. the sword, and the land of Nimrod in the entrances thereof: and he shall deliver us from the Assyrian, when he cometh into our land, and when he treadeth within our border. And the remnant of Jacob shall be in the midst of many peoples as dew from the LORD, as showers upon the grass; that tarrieth not for man, nor waiteth for the sons of men. And the remnant of Jacob shall be among the nations, in the midst of many peoples, as a lion among the beasts of the forest, as a young lion among the flocks of sheep: who, if he go through, treadeth down and teareth in pieces, and there is none to deliver. Let thine hand be lifted up above thine adversaries, and let all thine enemies be cut off. And it shall come to pass in that day, saith the LORD, that I will cut off thy horses out of the midst of thee, and will destroy thy chariots: and I will cut off the cities of thy land, and will throw down all thy strong holds: and I will cut off witchcrafts out of thine hand; and thou shalt have no more sooth-sayers: and I will cut off thy graven images, and thy pillars out of the midst of thee; and thou shalt no more worship the work of thine hands. And I will pluck up thine Asherim out of the midst of thee: and I will destroy thy cities. And I will execute vengeance in anger and fury upon the nations which hearkened not.

6 Hear ye now what the LORD saith: Arise, contend thou before the mountains, and let the hills hear thy voice. Hear, O ye mountains, the LORD's controversy, and ye enduring foundations of the earth: for the LORD hath a controversy with his people, and he will plead with Israel. O my people, what have I done unto thee? and wherein have I wearied thee? testify against me. 4 For I brought thee up out of the land of Egypt, and redeemed thee out of the house of bondage; and I sent before thee Moses, Aaron, and Miriam. O my people, remember now what Balak king of Moab consulted, and what Balaam the son of Beor answered him: remember from Shittim unto Gilgal, that ye may know the righteous acts of the LORD. Wherewith shall I come before the LORD, and bow myself before the high God? shall I come before him with burnt offerings, with calves of a year old? Will the LORD be pleased with thousands of rams, or with ten thousands of rivers of oil? shall I give my firstborn for my transgression, the fruit of my body for the sin of my soul? He hath shewed thee, O man, what is good; and what doth the LORD require of thee, but to do justly, and to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God?

9 The voice of the LORD crieth unto the city, and the man of wisdom will see thy name: hear ye the rod, and who hath appointed it. Are there yet the treasures of wickedness in the house of the wicked, and the scant measure that is abominable? 11 Shall I be pure with wicked balances, and with a bag of deceitful weights? 12 For the rich men thereof are full of violence, and the inhabitants thereof have spoken lies, and their tongue is deceitful in their mouth. Therefore I also have smitten thee with a grievous wound; I have made thee desolate because of thy sins. Thou shalt eat, but not be satisfied; and thy humiliation shall be in the midst of thee: and thou shalt remove, but shalt not carry away safe; and that which thou carriest away will I give up to the sword. 15 Thou shalt sow, but shalt not reap: thou shalt tread the olives, but shalt not anoint thee with oil; and the vintage, but shalt not drink the wine. For the statutes of (mri) are kept, and all the works of the house of Ahab, and ye walk in their counsels: that I should make thee a desolation, and the inhabitants thereof an hissing; and ye shall bear the reproach of my people.

7 Woe is me! for I am as when they have gathered the summer fruits as the grape gleanings of the vintage: there is no cluster to eat; my soul desireth the fistripe fig. 2 The godly man is perished out of the earth, and there is none upright among men: they all lie in wait for blood; they hunt every man his brother with a net. 10 Their hands are upon that which is evil to do it diligently; the prince asketh, and the judge is ready for a reward; and the great man, he uttereth the mischief of his soul: thus they weave it together. The best of them is as a briar: the most upright is worse than a thorn hedge: the day of thy watchmen, even thy visitation, is come; now shall be their perplexity. 5 Trust ye not in a friend, put ye not confidence in a guide: keep the doors of thy mouth from her that lieth in thy bosom. For the son dishonoureth the father, the daughter riseth up against her mother, the daughter in law against her mother in law; a man's enemies are the men of his own house.

7 But as for me, I will look unto the LORD; I will wait for the God of my salvation: my God will hear me. 8 Repose not against me, O mine enemy: when I fall, I shall arise; when I sit in darkness, the LORD shall be a light unto me. I will bear the indignation of the LORD, because I have sinned against him: until he plead my cause, and excite judgement for me: he will bring me forth to the light, and I shall behold his righteousness. In that day shall they come unto thee, from Assyria and the cities of <sup>4</sup>Egypt, and from <sup>4</sup>Egypt even to the River, and from sea to sea, and from mountain to mountain. Yet shall the land be desolate because of them that dwell therein, for the fruit of their doings. <sup>14</sup> <sup>5</sup>Feed thy people with thy rod, the flock of thine heritage, which dwell solitarily, in the forest in the midst of Carmel: let them feed in Bashan and Gilead, as in the days of old. As in the days of thy coming forth out of the land of Egypt will I shew unto him marvellous things.

16 The nations shall see and be ashamed of all their might: they shall lay their hand upon their mouth, their ears shall be deaf. They shall lick the dust like a serpent; like crawling things of the earth they shall come trembling out of their close places: they shall come with fear unto the LORD our God, and shall be afraid because of thee. Who is a God like unto thee, that pardoneth iniquity, and passeth by the transgression of the remnant of his heritage? he retaineth not his anger for ever, because he delighteth in mercy. He will turn again and have compassion upon us; he will <sup>6</sup>tread our iniquities under foot: and thou wilt cast all their sins into the depths of the sea. <sup>7</sup>Thou wilt <sup>8</sup>perform the truth to Jacob, and the mercy to Abraham, which thou hast sworn unto our fathers from the days of old.

NAHUM.

1 Or, oracle concerning

saith the LORD: Though they be in full strength, and likewise many, even so shall they be cut down, and he shall pass away. <sup>5</sup> Though I have afflicted thee, I will afflict thee no more. And now will I break his yoke from off thee, and will burst thy bonds in sunder. And the LORD hath given commandment concerning thee, that no more of thy name be sown: out of the house of thy gods will I cut off the graven image and the molten image; I will make thy grave; for thou art vile. Behold, upon the mountains the feet of him that bringeth good tidings, that publisheth peace! Keep thy feasts, O Judah, perform thy vows: for <sup>6</sup>the wicked one shall no more pass through thee; he is utterly cut off.

<sup>2</sup> He that dasheth in pieces is come up before thy face: keep the munition, watch the way, make thy loins strong, fortify thy power mightily. For the LORD bringeth again the excellency of Jacob, as the excellency of Israel: for the emptiers have emptied them out, and marred their vine branches. The shield of his mighty men is made red, the valiant men are in scarlet: the charlots flash with steel in the day of his preparation, and the <sup>8</sup>spears are shaken terribly. The charlots rage in the streets, they justle one against another in the broad ways: the appearance of them is like torches, they run like the lightnings. He remembereth his worthies: they stumble in their march; they make haste to the wall thereof, and the mantelet is prepared.

10 She is empty, and void, and waste: and the heart melteth, and the knees smite together, and anguish is in all loins, and the faces of them
11 all are waxed pale. Where is the den of the lions, and the feeding place of the young lions, where the lion <sup>7</sup>and the lioness walked, the lion's whelp, and none made them

13 Behold, I am against thee, saith the Lord of hosts and I will burn her chariots in the smoke, and the sword shall devour thy young lions: and I will cut off thy prey from the earth, and the voice of thy messengers shall no more be heard.
3 Woe to the bloody city! it is all full of lies and rapine; the prey departeth not. The noise of the whip, and the noise of the rattling of wheels, and the prancing horses, and jumping chariots: the horseman <sup>8</sup>mounting, and the flashing sword, and the glittering spear; and a multitude of slain, and a great heap of carcases, and there is none end of the corpses: they stumble
4 upon their corpses: because of the multitude of the whoredoms of the web, favoured harlot, the mistress of witchcrafts, that selleth nations through her whoredoms, and families through her witchcrafts. Be-
5 hold I am against thee, saith the Lord of hosts, and I will discover thy skirts upon thy face; and I will shew the nations thy nakedness, and the kingdoms thy shame.
6 And I will cast abominable filth upon thee, and make thee vile, and 7 will set thee as a gazingstock. And it shall come to pass, that all they that look upon thee shall flee from thee, and say, Nineveh is laid waste: who will bemoan her? whence shall I seek comforters for thee? Art thou better than No-amon, that was situated among the <sup>10</sup>rivers, that had the waters round about her; whose rampart was <sup>11</sup>the sea, and her wall <sup>12</sup>was of the sea? Ethiopia and Egypt were her strength, and it was infinite; Put and Lubim were thy helpers. Yet was she carried away, she went into captivity: her young children also were dashed in pieces at the top of all the streets: and they cast lots for her honourable men, and all her great men were bound in chains. Thou also shalt be drunken, thou shalt be hid; thou also shalt seek <sup>13</sup>a strong hold because of the enemy. All thy fortresses shall be like fig trees with the firstripe figs: if they be shaken, they fall into the mouth of the eater. Behold, thy people in the midst of thee are women: the gates of thy land are set wide open unto thine enemies: the fire hath devoured thy bars. Draw thee water for the siege, strengthen thy fortresses: go into the clay, and tread the mortar,
15 <sup>14</sup>make strong the brickkiln. There shall the fire devour thee; the sword shall cut thee off, it shall devour thee like the cankerworm: make thyself many as the cankerworm, make thyself many as the locust. Thou hast multiplied thy merchants above the stars of heaven: the cankerworm
17 <sup>15</sup>spoileth, and flieth away. Thy crowned are as the locusts, and thy <sup>16</sup>marshals as the swarms of grasshoppers, which camp in the <sup>17</sup>hedges in the cold day, but when the sun ariseth they flee away, and their place is not known where they are.
18 Thy shepherds slumber, O king of Assyria: thy wardens are at rest; thy people are scattered upon the mountains, and there is none to gather them. There is no assuaging of thy hurt; thy wound is grievous: all that hear the bruit of thee clap the hands over thee, for upon whom hath not thy wickedness passed continually?

tions, and regard, and wonder marvellously: for <sup>1</sup>I work a work in your days, which ye will not believe though it be told you. For, lo, I raise up the Chaldeans, that bitter and hasty nation: which march through the breadth of the earth, to possess dwelling places that are not theirs. <sup>2</sup>They are terrible and dreadful: their judgement and their dignity proceed from themselves.
<sup>3</sup>Their horses also are swifter than leopards, and are more fierce than the evening wolves; and their horsemen <sup>3</sup>spread themselves: yea, their horsemen come from far: they fly
as an eagle that hasteth to devour.
<sup>4</sup>They come all of them for violence; <sup>4</sup>their faces are set eagerly <sup>5</sup>as the east wind: and they gather captives as the sand. <sup>6</sup>Yea, he scoffeth at kings, and princes are a derision unto him: he derideth every strong hold: for he heareth up dust, and taketh it. <sup>7</sup>Then shall he sweep by as a wind, and shall <sup>8</sup>pass over, and be gully: even he whose might is his
god. Art not thou from everlasting, O LORD my God, mine Holy One? <sup>9</sup>We shall not die. O LORD, thou hast ordained him for judgement: and thou, O <sup>10</sup>Rock, hast established him for correction. Thou that art of purer eyes than to behold evil, and that canst not look on pervaseness, wherefore lookest thou upon them that deal treacherously, and holdest thy peace when the wicked swalloweth up the man that is more righteous than he; and maketh men as the fishes of the sea, as the creeping things, that have no ruler over them? He taketh up all of them with the angle, he catcheth them in his net, and ga-thereth them in his drag: therefore he rejoiceth and is glad. Therefore he sacrificeth unto his net, and burneth incense unto his drag; because by them his portion is <sup>11</sup>fat, and his meat <sup>11</sup>plenteous. Shall he therefore empty his net, and not spare to slay the nations continually?
<sup>2</sup> I will stand upon my watch, and set me upon the <sup>12</sup>tower, and will look forth to see what he will speak
<sup>13</sup>with me, and what I shall answer <sup>2</sup> concerning my complaint. And the LORD answered me, and said, Write the vision, and make it plain upon tables, that he may run that read-eth it. For the vision is yet for the appointed time, and it <sup>14</sup>hasteth toward the end, and shall not lie:
though it tarry wait for it: because it will surely come, it will not delay.
<sup>4</sup> Behold, his soul is puffed up, it is not <sup>15</sup>upright in him: but the just shall <sup>5</sup>live <sup>16</sup>by his faith. <sup>17</sup>Yea, moreover, wine is a treacherous dealer, a haughty man, and <sup>18</sup>that keepeth not at home; who enlargeth his desire as <sup>19</sup>hell, and he is as death, and cannot be satisfied, but gathereth unto him all nations, and heareth unto him all peoples. Shall not all these take up a parable against him, and a taunting <sup>20</sup>proverb against him, and say, Woe to him that increaseth that which is not his! how long? and that ladeth himself with <sup>7</sup>pledges! Shall they not rise up suddenly that shall <sup>21</sup>bite thee, and awake that shall <sup>22</sup>vex thee, and thou <sup>8</sup>shalt be for booties unto them? Because thou hast spoiled many nations, all the remnant of the peoples shall spoil thee: because of men's blood, and for the violence done to the land, to the city and to all that

dwell therein.
<sup>9</sup> Woe to him that getteth an evil gain for his house, that he may set his nest on high, that he may be delivered from the hand of evil!
<sup>10</sup> Thou hast consulted shame to thy house, by cutting off many peoples, and hast sinned against thy soul.
<sup>11</sup> For the stone shall cry out of the wall, and the beam out of the timber shall answer it.
<sup>12</sup> Woe to him that buildeth a town with blood, and stablisheth a city by iniquity! Behold, it is not of the LORD of hosts that the peoples labour for the fire, and the nations <sup>14</sup>weary themselves for vanity? For the earth shall be filled with the knowledge of the glory of the LORD,
as the waters cover the sea.
<sup>15</sup> Woe unto him that giveth his neighbour drink, that <sup>23</sup>addeth thy <sup>24</sup>venom thereto, and maketh him drunken also, that thou mayest <sup>16</sup>look on their nakedness! Thou art filled with shame for glory: drink thou also, and <sup>25</sup>be as one uncircumcised: the cup of the LORD's right hand shall be turned unto thee, and foul shame shall be upon <sup>17</sup>thy glory. For the violence done to Lebanon shall cover thee, and the destruction of the beasts, <sup>26</sup>which made them afraid: because of men's blood, and for the violence done to the land, to the city and to all that
dwell therein.
<sup>18</sup> What profiteth the graven image, that the maker thereof hath graven it; the molten image, and the teacher of lies, that the maker of <sup>27</sup>his work trusteth therein to make <sup>19</sup>dumb idols? Woe unto him that saith to the wood, Awake: to the dumb stone, Arise! Shall this teach?
Behold, it is laid over with gold and silver, and there is no breath at <sup>20</sup>all in the midst of it. But the all the earth keep silence before

- 1 THE word of the LORD which came unto Zephaniah the son of Cushi, the son of Gedaliah, the son of Amariah, the son of Hezekiah, in the days of Josiah the son of Amon, king of Judah.
- 2 I will utterly consume all things from off the face of the ground, saith the LORD. I will consume man and beast; I will consume the fowls of the heaven, and the fishes of the sea, and the stumblingblocks with the wicked; and I will cut off man from off the face of the ground,
- 3 saith the LORD. And I will stretch out mine hand upon Judah, and upon all the inhabitants of Jerusalem; and I will cut off the remnant of Baal from this place, and the name of the<sup>1</sup> Chemarim with the priests; and them that worship the host of heaven upon the housetops; and them that worship, which swear to the LORD and swear by<sup>2</sup> Molech, and them that are turned back from following the LORD, and those that have not sought the LORD, nor inquired after him.

7 Hold thy peace at the presence of the Lord God: for the day of the Lord is at hand: for the Lord hath prepared a sacrifice, he hath<sup>1</sup> sanctified his guests. And it shall come to pass in the day of the Lord's sacrifice, that I will<sup>2</sup> punish the princes, and the king's sons, and all such as are clothed with foreign apparel. And in that day I will<sup>2</sup> punish all those that leap over the threshold which fill their master's house with violence and deceit. And in that day, saith the Lord, there shall be the noise of a cry from the fish gate, and an howling from the<sup>3</sup> second quarter, and a great crash-
11 Ing from the hills. Howl, ye inhabitants of<sup>4</sup> Maktesh, for all<sup>5</sup> the people of Canaan are undone: all they that were laden with silver 12 are cut off. And it shall come to pass at that time, that I will search Jerusalem with<sup>6</sup> candles; and I will<sup>2</sup> punish the men that are 7 settled on their lees, that say in their heart. The Lord will not do good, neither will he do evil.
13 And their wealth shall become a spoil, and their houses a desolation: yea, they shall build houses, but shall not inhabit them; and they shall plant vineyards, but shall not drink the wine thereof.
14 The great day of the Lord is near, it is near and hasteth greatly, even the voice of the day of the Lord: the mighty man crieth there bitterly.
15 ly. That day is a day of wrath, a day of trouble and distress, a day of wateness and desolation, a day of darkness and gloominess, a day of clouds and thick darkness, a day of the trumpet and alarm, against the fenced cities, and against the high
17 <sup>8</sup> battlements. And I will bring distress upon men, that they shall walk like blind men, because they have sinned against the Lord: and their blood shall be poured out as dust,
18 and their flesh as dung. Neither their silver nor their gold shall be able to deliver them in the day of the Lord's wrath: but the whole land shall be devoured by the fire of his jealousy: for he shall make an end, yea, a<sup>9</sup> terrible end, of all them that dwell in the land.
2 Gather yourselves together, yea, gather together, O nation that hath
2 no<sup>10</sup> shame: before the decree bring forth<sup>11</sup> before the day pass as the chaff, before the fierce anger of the Lord come upon you, before the day of the Lord's anger come upon
3 you. Seek ye the Lord, all ye meek of the earth, which have wrought his judgement: seek righteousness, seek meekness: it may be ye shall be hid in the day of the Lord's 4 anger. For Gaza shall be forsaken, and Ashkelon a desolation: they shall drive out Ashdod at the noon-day, and Ekron shall be rooted up.
5 Woe unto the inhabitants of<sup>12</sup> the sea coast, the nation of the Cherethites! The word of the Lord is against you, O Canaan, the land of the Philistines: I will destroy thee, that there shall be no inhabitant.

6 And the sea coast shall be pastures, with<sup>13</sup> cottages for shepherds and folds for flocks. And the coast shall be for the remnant of the house of Judah: they shall feed their flocks thereupon: in the houses of Ashkelon shall they lie down in the evening: for the Lord their God shall visit them, and bring again their captivity.
8 I have heard the reproach of Moab, and the revilings of the children of Ammon, wherewith they have reproached my people, and magnified themselves against their
9 border. Therefore as I live, saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, Surely Moab shall be as Sodom, and the children of Ammon as Gomorrah, a possession of<sup>14</sup> nettles, and salt pits, and a perpetual desolation: the residue of my people shall spoil them, and the remnant of my nation shall inherit them. This shall they have for their pride, because they have reproached and magnified themselves against the people of the Lord of hosts. The Lord will be terrible unto them: for he will fanish all the gods of the earth: and men shall worship him, every one from his place, even all the<sup>15</sup> isles of the nations. Ye Ethiopians also, ye shall 13 be slain by my sword. And he will stretch out his hand against the north, and destroy Assyria: and will make Nineveh a desolation, and dry like the wilderness. And herds shall lie down in the midst of her,<sup>16</sup> all the beasts of the nations: both the pelican and the porcupine shall lodge in the chapters thereof: their voice shall sing in the windows: <sup>17</sup> desolation shall be in the thresholds: for he hath laid bare the cedar work.
15 This is the joyous city that dwelt carelessly, that said in her heart, I am, and there is none else beside me: how is she become a desolation, a place for beasts to lie down in! every one that passeth by her shall hiss, and wag his hand.
3 Woe to her that is rebellious and
2 polluted, that to the oppressing city! She obeyed not the voice: she received not<sup>18</sup> correction: she trusted not in the Lord: she drew not near
3 to her God. Her princes in the midst of her are roaring lions; her judges are evening wolves: they
4 <sup>19</sup> leave nothing till the morrow. Her prophets are light and treacherous persons: her priests have profaned the sanctuary, they have done violence to the law. The Lord in the midst of her is righteous; he will not do iniquity: <sup>20</sup> every morning doth he bring his judgement to light, he faileth not: but the un-

I said, Surely thou wilt fear me, thou wilt receive <sup>1</sup> correction; so her dwelling should not be cut off, <sup>2</sup> according to all that I have appointed concerning her: but they rose early and corrupted all their doings. Therefore wait ye for me, saith the LORD, until the day that I rise up to the prey: for my <sup>3</sup> determination is to gather the nations, that I may assemble the kingdoms, to pour upon them mine indignation, even all my fierce anger; for all the earth shall be devoured with the fire of my jealousy. For then will I turn to the peoples a pure <sup>4</sup> language, that they may all call upon the name of the LORD, to serve him with one <sup>5</sup> consent. From beyond the rivers of Ethiopia <sup>6</sup> my suppliants, even the daughter of my dispersed, shall bring mine offering. In that day shalt thou not be ashamed for all thy doings, wherein thou hast transgressed against me: for then I will take away out of the midst of thee <sup>7</sup> thy proudly exulting ones. and thou shalt no more be haughty in my holy mountain. But I will leave in the midst of thee an afflicted and poor people, and they shall trust in the name of the LORD. The remnant of Israel shall not do iniquity, nor speak lies; neither shall a deceitful tongue be found in their mouth: for they shall feed and lie down, and none shall make them afraid. Sing, O daughter of Zion; shout, O Israel: be glad and rejoice with all the heart, O daughter of Jerusalem. The LORD hath taken away thy judgements, he hath cast out thine enemy: the king of Israel, even the LORD, is in the midst of thee: thou shalt not <sup>8</sup> fear evil any more. In that day it shall be said to Jerusalem, Fear thou not: <sup>9</sup> O Zion, let not thine hands be slack. 17 The LORD thy God is in the midst of thee, a mighty one who will save: he will rejoice over thee with joy, he will <sup>10</sup> rest in his love, he will joy over thee with singing. 11 I will gather them that <sup>12</sup> sorrow for the solemn assembly, who were of thee: <sup>13</sup> <sup>10</sup> whom the burden upon 19 <sup>14</sup> her was a reproach. Behold, at that time I will deal with all them that afflict thee: and I will save her that halteth, and gather her that was driven away; and I will make them a praise and a name, whose shame hath been in all the earth. At that time will I bring you in, and at that time will I gather you: for I will make you a name and a praise among all the peoples of the earth, when I bring again your captivity before your eyes, saith the LORD.

1 In the second year of Darius the king, in the sixth month, in the first day of the month, came the word of the LORD by Haggai the prophet unto Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel, governor of Judah, and to Joshua the son of Jehozadak. 2 the high priest, saying, Thus speaketh the LORD of hosts saying, This people say, <sup>1</sup> It is not the time for us to come, the time for the LORD's house to be built. Then came the word of the LORD by Haggai the prophet, saying, Is it a time for you yourselves to dwell in your cieled houses, while this house lieth waste? 5 Now therefore thus saith the LORD of hosts: <sup>2</sup> Consider your ways. Ye have sown much, and bring in little; ye eat, but ye have not enough; ye drink, but ye are not filled with drink, ye clothe you, but there is none warm, and he that earneth wages earneth wages to put it into a bag with holes. Thus saith the LORD of hosts: <sup>2</sup> Consider your ways. 8 Go up to the <sup>3</sup> mountain, and bring wood, and build the house; and I will take pleasure in it, and I will be glorified, saith the LORD. Ye looked for much, and, lo, it came to little; and when ye brought it home, I did <sup>4</sup> blow upon it. Why? saith the LORD of hosts. Because of mine house that lieth waste, while ye run every man to his own house. Therefore <sup>5</sup> for your sake the heaven is stayed from dew, and the earth is stayed from her fruit. 11 And I called for a drought upon the land, and upon the mountains, and upon the corn, and upon the wine, and upon the oil, and upon that which the ground bringeth forth, and upon men, and upon cattle, and upon all the labour of the hands. 12 Then Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel, and Joshua the son of Jehozadak, the high priest, with all the remnant of the people, obeyed the voice of the LORD their God, and the words of Haggai the prophet, as the LORD their God had sent him; and the people did fear before the LORD. - 2 In the seventh month, in the one and twentieth day of the month, came the word of the LORD by Haggai the prophet, saying, Speak now to Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel, governor of Judah, and to Joshua the son of Jehozadak, the high priest, and to the remnant of the people, saying, Who is left among you that saw this house in its former glory? and how do ye see it now? is it not in your eyes as nothing?

- 4 Yet now be strong, O Zerubbabel, saith the LORD; and be strong, O Joshua, son of Jehozadak, the high priest; and be strong, all ye people of the land, saith the LORD, and work; for I am with you, saith the LORD of hosts, <sup>1</sup>according to the word that I covenanted with you when ye came out of Egypt, and my spirit <sup>2</sup>abode among you: fear ye not. For thus saith the LORD of hosts: Yet once, it is a little while, and I will shake the heavens, and the earth, and the sea, and the dry land; and I will shake all nations, and <sup>3</sup>the desirable things of all nations shall come, and I will fill this house with glory.

- 10 In the four and twentieth day of the ninth month, in the second year of Darius, came the word of the LORD by Haggai the prophet, saying, Thus saith the LORD of hosts: Ask now the priests concerning the

- 12 law, saying, If one bear holy flesh in the skirt of his garment, and with his skirt do touch bread, or pottage, or wine, or oil, or any meat, shall it become holy? And the priests answered and said, No. Then said Haggai, If one that is unclean by a dead body touch any of these, shall it be unclean? And the priests answered and said, It shall be unclean. Then answered Haggai and said, So is this people, and so is this nation before me, saith the LORD; and so is every work of their hands; and that which they offer there is unclean. And now, I pray you, consider from this day and upward, from before a stone was laid upon a stone in the temple of the LORD: <sup>4</sup>through all that time, when one came to an heap of twenty measures, there were but ten; when one came to the winefat for to draw out fifty vessels, there were but twenty. I smote you with blasting and with mildew and with hail in all the work of your hands; yet ye turned not to me, saith the LORD. Consider, I pray you, from this day and upward, from the four and twentieth day of the ninth month, since the day that the foundation of the LORD's temple was laid, consider it. Is the seed yet in the barn? yea, the vine, and the fig tree, and the pomegranate, and the olive tree hath not brought forth; from this day will I bless you.
- 20 And the word of the LORD came the second time unto Haggai in the four and twentieth day of the month, saying, Speak to Zerubbabel, governor of Judah, saying, I will shake the heavens and the earth: and I will overthrow the throne of kingdoms, and I will destroy the strength of the kingdoms of the nations; and I will overthrow the chariots, and those that ride in them, and the horses and their riders shall come down, every one by the sword of his brother. In that day, saith the LORD of hosts, will I take thee, O Zerubbabel, my servant, the son of Shealtiel, saith the LORD, and will make thee as a signet: for I have chosen thee, saith the LORD of hosts.

ZECHARIAH.

- 1 In the eighth month, in the second year of Darius, came the word of the LORD unto Zechariah the son of Berechiah, the son of Iddo, the prophet, saying, The LORD hath been sore displeased with your fathers. Therefore say thou unto them, Thus saith the LORD of hosts: Return unto me, saith the LORD of hosts, and I will return unto you, saith the LORD of hosts. Be ye not as your fathers, unto whom the former prophets cried, saying, Thus saith the LORD of hosts, Return ye now from your evil ways, and from your evil doings: but they did not hear, nor hearken unto me, saith the LORD.

5 Your fathers, where are they? and the prophets, do they live for ever?

6 But my words and my statutes, which I commanded my servants the prophets, did they not overtake your fathers? and they turned and said, Like as the LORD of hosts thought to do unto us, according to our ways, and according to our doings, so hath he dealt with us.

7 Upon the four and twentieth day of the eleventh month, which is the month Shebat, in the second year of Darius, came the word of the LORD unto Zechariah the son of Berechiah, the son of Iddo, the prophet, saying, I saw in the night,

8 and behold a man riding upon a red horse, and he stood among the myrtle trees that were in the bottom; and behind him there were

9 horses, red, sorrel, and white. Then said I, O my lord, what are these?

And the angel that talked with me said unto me, I will shew thee what

10 these be. And the man that stood among the myrtle trees answered and said, These are they whom the LORD hath sent to walk to and fro

11 through the earth. And they answered the angel of the LORD that stood among the myrtle trees, and said, We have walked to and fro through the earth, and, behold, all the earth sitteth still, and is at rest.

12 Then the angel of the LORD answered and said, O LORD of hosts, how long wilt thou not have mercy on Jerusalem and on the cities of Judah, against which thou hast had indignation these threescore and ten

13 years? And the LORD answered the angel that talked with me with good

14 words, even comfortable words. So the angel that talked with me said unto me, Cry thou, saying, Thus saith the LORD of hosts: I am jealous for Jerusalem and for Zion

15 with a great jealousy. And I am very sore displeased with the nations that are at ease: for I was but a 16 little displeased and they helped forward the affliction. Therefore thus saith the LORD: I am returned to Jerusalem with mercies: my house shall be built in it, saith the LORD of hosts, and a line shall be

17 stretched forth over Jerusalem. Cry yet again, saying, Thus saith the LORD of hosts: My cities through prosperity shall yet be spread abroad, and the LORD shall yet comfort Zion, and shall yet choose Jerusalem.

18 And I lifted up mine eyes, and saw and behold four horns.

19 And I said unto the angel that talked with me, What be these? And he answered me, These are the horns which have scattered Judah, Israel, and Jerusalem. And the LORD shewed me four smiths. Then said I,

20 What come these to do? And he spake, saying, These are the horns which scattered Judah, so that no man did lift up his head: but these are come to fray them, to cast down the horns of the nations, which lifted up their horn against the land of Judah to scatter it.

2 And I lifted up mine eyes, and saw, and behold a man with a measuring

2 line in his hand. Then said I, Whither goest thou? And he said unto me, To measure Jerusalem, to see what is the breadth thereof, and

3 what is the length thereof. And, behold the angel that talked with me went forth, and another angel

4 went out to meet him, and said unto him, Run, speak to this young man, saying, Jerusalem shall be inhabited as villages without walls, by reason of the multitude of men and

5 cattle therein. For I, saith the LORD, will be unto her a wall of fire round about, and I will be the glory in the

6 midst of her. Ho, ho, flee from the land of the north, saith the LORD; for I have spread you abroad as the four winds of the heaven, saith the

7 LORD. Ho Zion, escape, thou that dwellest with the daughter of Babylon. For thus saith the LORD of

8 hosts: After glory hath he sent me unto the nations which spoiled you: for he that toucheth you toucheth

9 the apple of his eye. For, behold, I will shake mine hand over them, and they shall be a spoil to those that served them: and ye shall know that the LORD of hosts hath

10 sent me. Sing and rejoice, O daughter of Zion: for, lo, I come, and I will dwell in the midst of thee, saith

11 the LORD. And many nations shall join themselves to the LORD in that day, and shall be my people: and I will dwell in the midst of thee, and thou shalt know that the LORD of hosts hath sent me unto thee.

12 And the LORD shall inherit Judah as his portion in the holy land, and shall yet choose Jerusalem. Be silent, all flesh, before the LORD: for he is waked up out of his holy habitation.

3 And he shewed me Joshua the high priest standing before the angel of the LORD, and Satan standing at his right hand to be his

2 adversary. And the LORD said unto Satan, The LORD rebuke thee, O Satan: yea, the LORD that hath chosen Jerusalem rebuke thee, is not this a brand plucked out of the

3 fire? Now Joshua was clothed with filthy garments, and stood before

4 the angel. And he answered and spake unto those that stood before him, saying, Take the filthy garments from off him. And unto him he said, Behold, I have caused thine iniquity to pass from thee, and I will clothe thee with rich apparel.

5 And I said, Let them set a fair mitre upon his head. So they set a fair mitre upon his head, and clothed him with garments;

and the angel of the LORD stood by.
6 And the angel of the LORD protested
7 unto Joshua, saying, Thus saith the LORD of hosts: If thou wilt walk in my ways, and if thou wilt keep my charge, then thou also shalt judge my house, and shalt also keep my courts, and I will give thee a place of access among these that stand by. Hear now, O Joshua the high priest, thou and thy fellows that sit before thee; for they are men which are a <sup>2</sup>sign: for, behold,
I will bring forth my servant the 9 <sup>3</sup>Branch. For behold, the stone that I have set before Joshua: upon one stone are seven eyes: behold, I will engrave the graving thereof, saith the LORD of hosts, and I will remove the iniquity of that land in one day.
10 In that day, saith the LORD of hosts, shall ye call every man his neighbour under the vine and under the fig tree.

4 And the angel that talked with me came again, and waked me, as a man that is wakened out of his 2 sleep. And he said unto me, What seest thou? And I said, I have seen, and behold, a candlestick all of gold,
with its bowl upon the top of it,
and its seven lamps thereon; 4 there are seven pipes to each of the lamps, 3 which are upon the top thereof: and two olive trees by it, one upon the right side of the bowl, and the other 4 upon the left side thereof. And I answered and spake to the angel that talked with me, saying, What 5 are these, my lord? Then the angel that talked with me answered and said unto me, Knowest thou not what these be? And I said, No, my 6 lord. Then he answered and spake unto me, saying, This is the word of the LORD unto Zerubbabel, saying, Not by <sup>5</sup>might nor by power, but by my spirit, saith the LORD of 7 hosts. Who art thou, O great mountain? before Zerubbabel thou shalt become a plain: and he shall bring forth the head stone with shoutings 8 of Grace, grace unto it. Moreover the word of the LORD came unto 9 me, saying, The hands of Zerub-babel have laid the foundation of this house; his hands shall also finish it: and thou shalt know that the LORD of hosts hath sent me 10 unto you. For who hath despised the day of small things? for they shall rejoice, and shall see the plummet in the hand of Zerubbabel, even these seven, which are the eyes of the LORD; they run to and fro 11 through the whole earth. Then answered I, and said unto him,
What are these two olive trees upon the right side of the candlestick and 12 upon the left side thereof? And I answered the second time, and said unto him, What be these two olive branches, <sup>6</sup>which are beside the two golden spouts, that empty <sup>7</sup>the golden oil out of themselves? And he answered me and said, Knowest thou not what these be? And I 14 said, No, my lord. Then said he,

These are the two sons of oil, that stand by the Lord of the whole
earth.

5 Then again I lifted up mine eyes,
and saw, and behold, a flying roll.
2 And he said unto me, What seest thou? And I answered, I see a flying roll; the length thereof is twenty 3 cubits, and the breadth thereof ten cubits. Then said he unto me, This is the curse that goeth forth over the face of the whole land: for every one that stealeth shall be purged out <sup>8</sup>on the one side according to it: and every one that sweareth shall be purged out <sup>8</sup>on the other 4 side according to it. I will cause it to go forth, saith the LORD of hosts, and it shall enter into the house of the thief, and into the house of him that sweareth falsely by my name:
and it shall abide in the midst of his house, and shall consume it with the timber thereof and the stones thereof.

5 Then the angel that talked with me went forth and said unto me,
Lift up now thine eyes, and see what 6 is this that goeth forth. And I said, What is it? And he said, This is the ephah that goeth forth. He said moreover, This is their <sup>9</sup>resemblance in all the land: (and behold, there was lifted up a <sup>10</sup>talent of lead;) and this is a woman sitting 8 in the midst of the ephah. And he said, This is Wickedness; and he cast her down into the midst of the ephah: and he cast the weight of 9 lead upon the mouth thereof. Then lifted I up mine eyes, and saw, and behold, there came forth two women, and the wind was in their wings: now they had wings like the wings of a stork: and they lifted up the ephah between the earth 10 and the heaven. Then said I to the angel that talked with me, Whither 11 do these bear the ephah? And he said unto me, To build her an house in the land of Shinar: and when it is <sup>11</sup>prepared, she shall be set there 12 in her own place.

6 And again I lifted up mine eyes, and saw, and behold, there came four chariots out from between 13 two mountains; and the mountains
2 were mountains of brass. In the first chariot were red horses, and in the second chariot black horses;
3 and in the third chariot white horses;
and in the fourth chariot grised 4 bay horses. Then I answered and said unto the angel that talked with me, What are these, my lord?
5 And the angel answered and said unto me, These are the four <sup>15</sup>winds of heaven, which go forth from 16 standing before the Lord of all 6 the earth. The chariot wherein are the black horses goeth forth toward the north country: and the white went forth after them; and the grised went forth toward the south

So they walked to and fro through the earth. Then cried he upon me, and spake unto me, saying Behold, they that go toward the north country have quieted my spirit in the north country.

9 And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, Take of them of the captivity, even of Heidal, of Tobijah, and of Jedaiah: and come thou the same day, and go into the house of Josiah the son of Zephaniah, whither they are come from

11 Babylon: yea, take of them silver and gold, and make <sup>2</sup> crowns, and set them upon the head of Joshua the son of Jehozadak, the high

12 priest: and speak unto him, saying, Thus saith the LORD of hosts, saying Behold, the man <sup>3</sup> whose name is the Branch, and he shall <sup>4</sup> grow up out of his place, and he shall

13 build the temple of the LORD: even he shall build the temple of the LORD: and he shall bear the glory, and shall sit and rule upon his throne: and he shall be a priest upon his throne: and the counsel of peace shall be between them

14 both. And the crowns shall be to Helem and to Tobiah, and to Jedaiah, and to Hen the son of Zedekiah, for a memorial in the 15 temple of the LORD. And they that are far off shall come and build in the temple of the LORD, and ye shall know that the LORD of hosts hath sent me unto you. And they shall come to pass if ye will diligently obey the voice of the LORD your God.

7 And it came to pass in the fourth year of king Darius, that the word of the LORD came unto Zechariah in the fourth day of the ninth month,

2 even in this say. Now he, of Beth-el had sent Sharezer and Regem-melech, and their men, to intreat

3 the favour of the LORD, and to speak unto the priests of the house of the LORD of hosts, and to the prophets, saying, Should I weep in the fifth month, separating myself as I have

4 done these so many years? Then came the word of the LORD of hosts

5 unto me, saying, Speak unto all the people of the land, and to the priests, saying, When ye fasted and mourned in the fifth and in the seventh month even those seventy years, did ye at all fast unto me, even to me?

6 And when ye eat and when ye drink, do not eat for yourselves, and 7 drink for yourselves. Should ye not hear the words which the LORD hath cried by the former prophets, when Jerusalem was inhabited and in prosperity, and the cities thereof round about her, and the south and the low land were inhabited?

8 And the word of the LORD came

9 unto Zechariah, saying, Thus hath the LORD of hosts spoken, saying, Execute true judgement, and shew mercy and compassion every man to

10 his brother: and oppress not the widow, nor the fatherless, the stranger, nor the poor: and let none of you inagine evil against his brother

11 in your heart. But they refused to hearken, and <sup>11</sup> pulled away the shoulder, and <sup>12</sup> stopped their ears.

12 That they should not hear. Yea, they made their hearts as an adamant stone, lest they should hear the law, and the words which the LORD of hosts had sent by his spirit by the hand of the former prophets: therefore came there great wrath

13 from the LORD of hosts. And it came to pass that, as he cried, and they would not hear; so they shall cry, and I will not hear, said the 14 LORD of hosts: but I will scatter them with a whirlwind among all the nations whom they have not known. Thus the land was desolate after them, that no man passed through nor returned: for they laid the <sup>12</sup> pleasant land desolate.

8 And the word of the LORD of hosts came to me, saying, Thus saith the LORD of hosts: I am jealous for Zion with great jealousy, and I am jealous

9 for her with great fury. Thus saith the LORD: I am returned unto Zion, and will dwell in the midst of Jerusalem: and Jerusalem shall be called The city of truth; and the mountain of the LORD of hosts The holy

4 mountain. Thus saith the LORD of hosts: There shall yet old men and old women dwell in the streets of Jerusalem every man with his staff in his hand for very age.

5 And the streets of the city shall be full of boys and girls playing in the streets thereof. Thus saith the LORD of hosts. If it be marvellous in the eyes of the remnant of this people in those days, should it also be marvellous in mine eyes? saith

7 the LORD of hosts. Thus saith the LORD of hosts: I will save my people from the east country, and from the west country: and I will bring them, and they shall dwell in the midst of Jerusalem: and they shall be my people, and I will be their God, in truth and in righteousness.

9 Thus saith the LORD of hosts: Let your hands be strong, ye that hear in these days these words from the mouth of the prophets, which were in the day that the foundation of the house of the LORD of hosts was laid: even the temple that it might be built. For before those days there was no hire for man, nor any hire for beast, neither was there any peace to him that went out or came in because of the adversary:

10 for I set all men every one against his neighbour. But now I will not be unto the remnant of this people as in the former days, 13 And it shall come to pass that, as ye were a curse among the nations.

O house of Judah and house of Israel, so will I save you, and ye shall be a blessing: fear not, but 14 let your hands be strong. For thus saith the LORD of hosts; As I thought to do evil unto you, when your fathers provoked me to wrath, saith the LORD of hosts, and I repented not; so again have I thought in these days to do good unto Jerusalem and to the house of Judah:

15 fear ye not. These are the things that ye shall do: Speak ye every man the truth with his neighbour;

16 execute the judgement of truth and peace in your gates: and let none of you imagine evil in your hearts against his neighbour; and love no false oath: for all these are things that I hate, saith the LORD.

17 And the word of the LORD of hosts came unto me, saying, Thus saith the LORD of hosts: The fast of the fourth month, and the fast of the fifth, and the fast of the seventh, and the fast of the tenth, shall be to the house of Judah joy and gladness, and cheerful feasts; therefore

18 love truth and peace. Thus saith the LORD of hosts: It shall yet come to pass, that there shall come peoples, and the inhabitants of many

19 cities: and the inhabitants of one city shall go to another, saying, Let us go speedily to intreat the favour of the LORD, and to seek the LORD

20 of hosts: I will go also. Yea, many peoples and strong nations shall come to seek the LORD of hosts in Jerusalem, and to intreat the favour of 21 the LORD. Thus saith the LORD of hosts: In those days it shall come to pass, that ten men shall take hold, out of all the languages of the nations, shall even take hold of the skirt of him that is a Jew, saying, We will go with you, for we have heard that God is with you.

22 The burden of the word of the LORD upon the land of Hadrach, and Damascus shall be its resting place: for the eye of man and of all the tribes of Israel is toward the 23 LORD: and Hamath also which bordereth thereon: Tyre and Zidon, because she is very wise. And Tyre did build herself a strong hold, and heaped up silver as the dust, and fine gold as the mire of the streets.

24 Behold, the LORD will dispossess her, and he will smite her power in the sea; and she shall be devoured

25 with fire. Ashkelon shall see it, and fear; Gaza also, and shall be sore pained; and Ekron, for her expectation shall be ashamed: and the king shall perish from Gaza, and Ashke-

6 lon shall not be inhabited. And a bastard shall dwell in Ashdod, and I will cut off the pride of the Philis-

7 tines. And I will take away his blood out of his mouth, and his abominations from between his teeth; and he also shall be a remnant for our God: and he shall be as a chieftain in Judah, and Ekron as a Je-

8 busite. And I will encamp about mine house against the army, that none pass through or return: and no oppressor shall pass through them any more: for now have I seen with mine eyes.

9 Rejoice greatly, O daughter of Zion; shout, O daughter of Jerusalem: behold, thy king cometh unto thee: he is just, and having

10 salvation; lowly, and riding upon an ass, even upon a colt the foal of an ass. And I will cut off the chariot from Ephraim, and the horse from Jerusalem, and the battle bow shall be cut off; and he shall speak peace unto the nations: and his dominion shall be from sea to sea, and from the River to the ends of the earth. As for thee also, because of the blood of thy covenant I have sent forth thy prisoners out of the 11 pit wherein is no water. Turn you to the strong hold, ye prisoners of hope: even to-day do I declare that I will render double unto thee. For I have bent Judah for me, I have filled the bow with Ephraim; and I will stir up thy sons, O Zion, against thy sons, O Greece, and will make thee as the sword of a mighty man.

12 And the LORD shall be seen over them, and his arrow shall go forth as the lightning: and the LORD God shall blow the trumpet, and shall go with whirlwinds of the south. The 13 LORD of hosts shall defend them; and they shall devour, and shall tread down the sling stones; and they shall drink, and make a noise as through wine: and they shall be filled like bowls, like the corners of the altar. And the LORD their God shall save them in that day as the flock of his people: for they shall be as the stones of a crown, lifted on high over his land. For how great is his goodness, and how great is his beauty! corn shall make the young men flourish, and new wine the maids.

14 Ask ye of the LORD rain in the time of the latter rain, even of the LORD that maketh lightnings; and he shall give them showers of rain, and to every one grass in the field. For the teraphim have spoken vanity, and the diviners have seen a lie; and they have told false dreams, they comfort in vain: therefore they go their way like sheep, they are afflicted, because there is no shepherd.

15 Mine anger is kindled against the shepherds, and I will punish the he-goats: for the LORD of hosts hath visited his flock the house of Judah, and shall make them as his goodly

And they shall be as mighty men, treading down their enemies in the mire of the streets in the battle; and they shall fight, because the LORD is with them; and the riders on horses shall be confounded. And I will strengthen the house of Judah, and I will save the house of Joseph, and I will <sup>2</sup>bring them again, for I have mercy upon them; and they shall be as though I had not cast them off: for I am the LORD their God, and I will hear them. And they of Ephraim shall be like a mighty man, and their heart shall rejoice as through wine: yea, their children shall see it, and rejoice; their heart shall be glad in the LORD. I will hiss for them, and gather them; for I have redeemed them; and they shall increase as they have increased. <sup>3</sup>And I will sow them among the peoples; and they shall remember me in far countries: and they shall live with their children, and shall return. I will bring them again also out of the land of Egypt, and gather them out of Assyria; and I will bring them into the land of Gilead and Lebanon; and place shall not be found for them. And he shall pass through the sea of affliction, and shall smite <sup>4</sup>the waves in the sea, and all the depths of the Nile shall dry up: and the pride of Assyria shall be brought down, and the sceptre of Egypt shall depart away. And I will strengthen them in the LORD; and they shall walk up and down in his name, saith the LORD.

11 Open thy doors, O Lebanon, that the fire may devour thy cedars. 2 Howl, O fir tree, for the cedar is fallen, because the <sup>5</sup>goodly ones are spoiled: howl, O ye oaks of Bashan, for the <sup>6</sup>strong forest is come down. 3 A voice of the howling of the shepherds<sup>1</sup> for their glory is spoiled: a voice of the roaring of young lions! for the pride of Jordan is spoiled. 4 Thus said the LORD my God: Feed 5 the flock of slaughter; whose <sup>7</sup>possessors slay them, and hold themselves not guilty; and they that sell them say, Blessed be the LORD: for I am rich: and <sup>8</sup>their own shepherds pity them not. For I will no more pity the inhabitants of the land, saith the LORD: but, lo, I will deliver the men every one into his neighbour's hand, and into the hand of his king: and they shall smite the land, and out of their hand I will not deliver them. So I fed the flock of slaughter, verily <sup>9</sup>the poor of the flock. And I took unto me two staves, the one I called <sup>10</sup>Beauty, and the other I called <sup>11</sup>Bands; and I fed the flock, And I cut off the three shepherds in one month, for my soul was weary of them, and 9 their soul also loathed me. Then said I, I will not feed you: that that dieth, let it die; and <sup>12</sup>that that is to be cut off, let it be cut off; and let them which are left eat every one the flesh of another. And I took my staff Beauty, and cut it asunder, that I might break my covenant which I had made with all the peoples. And it was broken in that day: and <sup>13</sup>thus <sup>9</sup>the poor of the flock that gave heed unto me knew that it was the word of the LORD. And I said unto them, If ye think good, give me my hire: and if not, forbear. So they weighed for my hire thirty pieces of silver. And the LORD said unto me, Cast it <sup>14</sup>unto the potter, the goodly price that I was prized at of them. And I took the thirty pieces of silver, and cast them <sup>14</sup>unto the potter, in the house of the LORD. Then I cut asunder mine other staff, even Bands, that I might break the brotherhood between Judah and Israel.

15 And the LORD said unto me, Take unto thee yet again the instruments of a foolish shepherd. For, lo, I will raise up a shepherd in the land, which shall not <sup>15</sup>visit those that be <sup>16</sup>cut off, neither shall seek <sup>17</sup>those that be scattered, nor heal that that is broken; neither shall he feed that which <sup>18</sup>is sound, but he shall eat the flesh of the fat, and shall tear their hoofs in pieces. Woe to the worthless shepherd that leaveth the flock! the sword shall be upon his arm, and upon his right eye: his arm shall be clean dried up, and his right eye shall be utterly darkened.

12 The <sup>19</sup>burden of the word of the LORD concerning Israel.

Thus saith the LORD, which stretcheth forth the heavens, and layeth the foundation of the earth, and formeth the spirit of man within him: 2 Behold, I will make Jerusalem a cup of reeling unto all the peoples round about, and <sup>20</sup>upon Judah also <sup>21</sup>shall it be in the siege against 3 Jerusalem. And it shall come to pass in that day that I will make Jerusalem a burdensome stone for all the peoples; all that burden themselves with it shall be sore wounded; and all the nations of the earth shall be gathered together against it. In that day, saith the LORD, I will smite every horse with astonishment, and his rider with madness: and I will open mine eyes upon the house of Judah, and will smite every horse of the peoples with blindness. And the chieftains of Judah shall say in their heart, The inhabitants of Jerusalem are my strength in the LORD of hosts their God. 6 In that day will I make the chieftains of Judah like a pan of fire among wood, and like a torch of fire among sheaves; and they shall devour all the peoples round about, on the right hand and on the left: and Jerusalem shall yet again dwell in her own place, even in Jerusalem. 7 The LORD also shall save the tents of Judah first, that the glory of the house of David and the glory of the inhabitants of Jerusalem be not magnified above Judah. 8 In that day shall the LORD defend the inhabitants of Jerusalem; and he<sup>1</sup> that is feeble among them at that day shall be as David; and the house of David shall be as God, as the angel of the LORD before them. 9 And it shall come to pass in that day, that I will seek to destroy all the nations that come against Jerusalem. And I will pour upon the house of David, and upon the inhabitants of Jerusalem, the spirit of grace and of supplication; and they shall look unto<sup>2</sup> me whom they have pierced: and they shall mourn for him, as one mourneth for his only son, and shall be in bitterness for him, as one that is in bitterness for his firstborn. 11 In that day shall there be a great mourning in Jerusalem, as the mourning of Hadadrimmon in the valley of Megiddon. 12 And the land shall mourn, every family apart; the family of the house of David apart, and their wives apart; the family of the house of Nathan apart, and their wives apart; the family of the house of Levi apart, and their wives apart; the family of the Shimeites apart, and their wives apart; all the families that remain, every family apart, and their wives apart. 13 In that day there shall be a fountain opened to the house of David and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem, for sin and for uncleanness. And it shall come to pass in that day, saith the LORD of hosts, that I will cut off the names of the idols out of the land, and they shall no more be remembered; and also I will cause the prophets and the unclean spirit to pass out of the land. And it shall come to pass that, when any shall yet prophesy, then his father and his mother that begat him shall say unto him, Thou shalt not live; for thou speakest lies in the name of the LORD: and his father and his mother that begat him shall thrust him through when he prophesieth. 4 And it shall come to pass in that day, that the prophets shall be ashamed every one of his vision, when he prophesieth; neither shall they wear a hairy mantle to deceive: but he shall say, I am no prophet, I am a tiller of the ground; for I have been made a bondman from my youth. And one shall say unto him, What are these wounds between thine<sup>3</sup> arms? Then he shall answer, Those with which I was wounded in the house of my<sup>4</sup> friends.

7 Awake, O sword, against my shepherd, and against the man that is my fellow, saith the LORD of hosts: smite the shepherd, and the sheep shall be scattered: and I will turn mine<sup>5</sup> hand upon the little ones. And it shall come to pass, that in all the land, saith the LORD, two parts therein shall be cut off and die; but the third shall be left therein. 9 And I will bring the third part through the fire, and will refine them as silver is refined, and will try them as gold is tried: they shall call on my name, and I will hear them: I will say, It is my people; and they shall say, The LORD is my God. 14 Behold, a day of the LORD cometh, when thy spoil shall be divided in the midst of thee. For I will gather all nations against Jerusalem to battle; and the city shall be taken, and the houses rifled, and the women ravished: and half of the city shall go forth into captivity, and the residue of the people shall not be cut off from the city. 3 Then shall the LORD go forth, and fight against those nations, as when he fought in the day of battle. And his feet shall stand in that day upon the mount of Olives, which is before Jerusalem on the east, and the mount of Olives shall cleave in the midst thereof toward the east and toward the west, and there shall be a very great valley; and half of the mountain shall remove toward the north, and half of it toward the<sup>6</sup> south. And<sup>7</sup> ye shall flee<sup>8</sup> by the valley of<sup>9</sup> my mountains; for the valley of the mountains shall reach unto Azel: yea, ye shall flee, like as ye fled from before the earthquake in the days of Uzziah king of Judah: and the LORD my God shall come, and all the holy ones with<sup>10</sup> thee. And it shall come to pass in that day, that<sup>11</sup> the light shall not be<sup>12</sup> with brightness and with gloom: but it shall be one day which is known unto the LORD; not day, and not night: but it shall come to pass, that at evening time there shall be<sup>13</sup> light. And it shall come to pass in that day, that living waters shall go out from Jerusalem; half of them toward the eastern sea, and half of them toward the western sea: in summer and in winter shall it be. And the LORD shall be king over all the earth: in that day shall the LORD be one, and his name one. 10 All the land shall be turned as the Arabah, from Geba to Rimmon south of Jerusalem; and she shall be lifted up, and shall dwell in her place, from Benjamin's gate unto the place of the first gate, unto the corner gate, and from the tower of Hananel unto the king's winepresses. And men shall dwell therein, and there shall be no more<sup>14</sup> curse; but Jerusalem

- 13 And it shall come to pass in that day, that a great <sup>1</sup> tumult in the LORD shall be among them; and they shall lay hold every one on the hand of his neighbour, and his hand shall rise up against the hand of his neighbour. And Judah also shall fight <sup>2</sup> against Jerusalem; and the wealth of all the nations round about shall be gathered together, gold, and silver, and apparel, in great abundance. And so shall be the plague of the horse, of the mule, of the camel, and of the ass, and of all the beasts that shall be in those camps, as this plague. ## MALACHI.

- 1 THE <sup>1</sup> burden of the word of the LORD to Israel by <sup>2</sup> Malachi.
- 2 I have loved you, saith the LORD. Yet ye say, Wherein hast thou loved us? <sup>3</sup> Was not Esau Jacob's brother? saith the LORD: yet I loved Jacob, but Esau I hated, and made his mountains a desolation, and gave his heritage to the jackals of the wilderness. <sup>4</sup> Whereas Edom saith, We are <sup>5</sup> beaten down, but we will return and build the waste places; thus saith the LORD of hosts, They shall build, but I will throw down; and men shall call them The border of wickedness, and The people against whom the LORD hath indignation for ever. And your eyes shall see, and ye shall say, The LORD <sup>6</sup> hath magnified <sup>7</sup> beyond the border of Israel.
- 6 A son honoureth his father, and a servant his master: if then I be a father where is mine honour? and if I be a master where is my fear? saith the LORD of hosts unto you, O priests, that despise my name. And ye say, Wherein have we despised thy name? Ye offer polluted bread upon mine altar. And ye say, Wherein have we polluted thee? In that ye say, The table of the LORD is contemptible. And when ye offer the blind for sacrifice, it is no evil; and when ye offer the

And now, I pray you, In-treat the favour of God, that he may be gracious unto us: this hath been <sup>8</sup> by your means: will he <sup>9</sup> accept any of your persons? saith the LORD of hosts. Oh that there were one among you that would shut the doors, that ye might not kindle fire on mine altar in vain! I have no pleasure in you, saith the LORD of hosts, neither will I accept an offering at your hand. For from the rising of the sun even unto the going down of the same my name <sup>10</sup> is great among the Gentiles, and in every place <sup>11</sup> incense is offered unto my name, and a pure offering: for my name <sup>12</sup> is great among the Gentiles, saith the LORD of hosts. But ye profane it, in that ye say, The table of the LORD is polluted, and the fruit thereof, even his meat, is contemptible. Ye say also, Behold what a weariness is it! and ye have snuffed at it, saith the LORD of hosts; and ye have brought that which was taken by violence, and the lame, and the sick, thus ye bring the offering: should I accept this of your hand? saith the LORD. But cursed be the deceiver, which hath in his flock a male, and voweth, and sacrificeth unto the Lord a blemished thing: for I am a great king, saith the LORD of hosts, and my name is terrible among the Gentiles.

2 And now, O ye priests, this commandment is for you. If ye will not hear, and if ye will not lay it to heart, to give glory unto my name, saith the LORD of hosts, then will I send the curse upon you, and I will curse your blessings: yea, I have cursed them already, because

3 ye do not lay it to heart. Behold, I will rebuke the seed for your sake, and will spread dung upon your faces, even the dung of your sacrifices; and ye shall be taken

4 away with it. And ye shall know that I have sent this commandment unto you, that my covenant might be with Levi, saith the LORD of

5 hosts. My covenant was with him of life and peace; and I gave them to him that he might fear, and he feared me, and stood in awe of my name. The law of truth was in his mouth, and unrighteousness was not found in his lips: he walked with me in peace and uprightness, and did turn many away from iniquity.

7 For the priest's lips should keep knowledge, and they should seek the law at his mouth: for he is the messenger of the LORD of hosts.

8 But ye are turned aside out of the way; ye have caused many to stumble in the law; ye have corrupted the covenant of Levi, saith the LORD of hosts. Therefore have I also made you contemptible and base before all the people, according as ye have not kept my ways, but have had respect of persons in the law.

10 Have we not all one father? hath not one God created us? why do we deal treacherously every man against his brother, profaning the

11 covenant of our fathers? Judah hath dealt treacherously, and an abomination is committed in Israel and in Jerusalem; for Judah hath profaned the holiness of the LORD which he loveth, and hath married

12 the daughter of a strange god. The LORD will cut off to the man that doeth this him that waketh and him that answereth, out of the tents of Jacob, and him that offereth an offering unto the LORD of hosts.

13 And this again ye do: ye cover the altar of the LORD with tears, with weeping, and with sighing, insomuch that he regardeth not the offering any more, neither receiveth it with

14 good will at your hand. Yet ye say, Wherefore? Because the LORD hath been witness between thee and the wife of thy youth, against whom thou hast dealt treacherously, though she is thy companion, and the wife of thy covenant. And did he not make

15 one, although he had the residue of the spirit? And wherefore one? He sought a godly seed. Therefore take heed to your spirit, and let none deal treacherously against the wife of his youth. For I hate putting away, saith the LORD, the God of Israel, and him that covereth his garment with violence, saith the LORD of hosts: therefore take heed to your spirit, that ye deal not treacherously.

17 Ye have wearied the LORD with your words. Yet ye say, Wherein have we wearied him? In that ye say, Every one that doeth evil is good in the sight of the LORD, and he delighteth in them; or where is the God of judgement? Behold,

3 I send my messenger, and he shall prepare the way before me: and the LORD, whom ye seek, shall suddenly come to his temple; and the messenger of the covenant, whom ye delight in, behold, he cometh, saith the LORD of hosts. But

2 who may abide the day of his coming? and who shall stand when he appeareth? for he is like a refiner's fire, and like fullers' soap: and he shall sit as a refiner and purifier of silver, and he shall purify the sons of Levi, and purge them as gold and silver; and they shall offer unto the LORD offerings in righteousness.

4 Then shall the offering of Judah and Jerusalem be pleasant unto the LORD, as in the days of old, and as in ancient years. And I will come near to you to judgement; and I will be a swift witness against the sorcerers, and against the adulterers, and against false swearers; and against those that oppress the hireling in his wages, the widow, and the fatherless, and that turn aside the stranger from his right, and fear not me, saith the LORD of hosts.

6 For I the LORD change not; therefore ye, O sons of Jacob, are not consumed.

7 From the days of your fathers ye have turned aside from mine ordinances, and have not kept them. Return unto me, and I will return unto you, saith the LORD of hosts.

But ye say, Wherein shall we return? Will a man rob God? yet ye rob me. But ye say, Wherein have we robbed thee? In tithes

9 and offerings. Ye are cursed with the curse; for ye rob me, even this whole nation. Bring ye the whole tithe into the storehouse, that there may be meat in mine house, and prove me now herewith, saith the LORD of hosts, if I will not open you the windows of heaven, and pour you out a blessing, that there shall not be room enough to receive

11 it. And I will rebuke the devourer for your sakes, and he shall not destroy the fruits of your ground; neither shall your vine cast her fruit before the time in the field, saith the LORD of hosts. And all nations shall call you happy: for ye shall be a delightful land, saith the LORD of hosts.

PREFACE.

THE English Version of the New Testament here presented to the reader is a Revision of the Translation published in the year of Our Lord 1611, and commonly known by the name of the Authorised Version.

That Translation was the work of many hands and of several generations. The foundation was laid by William Tyndale. His translation of the New Testament was the true primary Version. The Versions that followed were either substantially reproductions of Tyndale's translation in its final shape, or revisions of Versions that had been themselves almost entirely based on it. Three successive stages may be recognised in this continuous work of authoritative revision: first, the publication of the Great Bible of 1539-41 in the reign of Henry VIII; next, the publication of the Bishops' Bible of 1568 and 1572 in the reign of Elizabeth; and lastly, the publication of the King's Bible of 1611 in the reign of James I. Besides these, the Genevan Version of 1560, itself founded on Tyndale's translation, must here be named; which, though not put forth by authority, was widely circulated in this country, and largely used by King James' Translators. Thus the form in which the English New Testament has now been read for 270 years was the result of various revisions made between 1525 and 1611; and the present Revision is an attempt, after a long interval, to follow the example set by a succession of honoured predecessors.

1. Of the many points of interest connected with the Translation of 1611, two require special notice; first, the Greek Text which it appears to have represented; and secondly, the character of the Translation itself.

1. With regard to the Greek Text, it would appear that, if to some extent the Translators exercised an independent judgement, it was mainly in choosing amongst readings contained in the principal editions of the Greek Text that had appeared in the sixteenth century. Wherever they seem to have followed a reading which is not found in any of those editions, their rendering may probably be traced to the Latin Vulgate. Their chief guides appear to have been the later editions of Stephanus and of Beza, and also, to a certain extent, the Complutensian Polyglott. All these were founded for the most part on manuscripts of late date, few in number, and used with little critical skill. But in those days it could hardly have been otherwise. Nearly all the more ancient of the documentary authorities have become known only within the last two centuries; some of the most important of them, indeed, within the last few years. Their publication has called forth not only improved editions of the Greek Text, but a succession of instructive discussions on the variations which have been brought to light, and on the best modes of distinguishing original readings from changes introduced in the course of transcription. While therefore it has long been the opinion of all scholars that the commonly received text needed thorough revision, it is but recently that materials have been acquired for executing such a work with even approximate completeness.

2. The character of the Translation itself will be best estimated by considering the leading rules under which it was made, and the extent to which these rules appear to have been observed.

The primary and fundamental rule was expressed in the following terms:—'The ordinary Bible read in the Church, commonly called the Bishops' Bible, to be followed, and as little altered as the truth of the Original will permit.' There was, however, this subsequent provision:—'These translations to be used, when they agree better with the text than the Bishops' Bible: Tindale's, Matthew's, Coverdale's, Whitchurch's, Geneva.' The first of these rules, which was substantially the same as that laid down at the revision of the Great Bible in the reign of Elizabeth, was strictly observed. The other rule was but partially followed. The Translators made much use of the Genevan Version. They do not however appear to have frequently returned to the renderings of the other Versions named in the rule, where those Versions differed from the Bishops' Bible. On the other hand, their work shews evident traces of the influence of a Version not specified in the rules, the Rhemish, made from the Latin Vulgate, but by scholars conversant with the Greek Original.

Another rule, on which it is stated that those in authority laid great stress, related to the rendering of words that admitted of different interpretations. It was as follows:—'When a word hath divers significations, that to be kept which hath been most commonly used by the most of the ancient fathers, being agreeable to the propriety of the place and the analogy of the faith.' With this rule was associated the following, on which equal stress appears to have been laid:—'The old ecclesiastical words to be kept, viz. the word Church not to be translated Congregation, &c.' This latter rule was for the most part carefully observed; but it may be doubted whether, in the case of words that admitted of different meanings, the instructions were at all closely followed. In dealing with the more difficult words of this class, the Translators appear to have paid much regard to traditional interpretations, and especially to the authority of the Vulgate; but, as to the large residue of words which might properly fall under the rule, they used considerable freedom. Moreover they profess in their Preface to have studiously adopted a variety of expression which would now be deemed hardly consistent with the requirements of faithful translation. They seem to have been guided by the feeling that their Version would secure for the words they used a lasting place in the language; and they express a fear lest they should 'be charged (by scoffers) with some unequal dealing towards a great number of good English words,' which, without this liberty on their part, would not have a place in the pages of the English Bible. Still it cannot be doubted that they carried this liberty too far, and that the studied avoidance of uniformity in the rendering of the same words, even when occurring in the same context, is one of the blemishes in their work.

A third leading rule was of a negative character, but was rendered necessary by the experience derived from former Versions. The words of the rule are as follows:—'No marginal notes at all to be affixed, but only for the explanation of the Hebrew or Greek words which cannot without some circumlocution so briefly and fitly be expressed in the text.' Here again the Translators used some liberty in their application of the rule. Out of more than 760 marginal notes originally appended to the Authorised Version of the New Testament, only a seventh part consists of explanations or literal renderings; the great majority of the notes being devoted to the useful and indeed necessary purpose of placing before the reader alternative renderings which it was judged that the passage or the words would fairly admit. The notes referring to variations in the Greek Text amount to about thirty-five.

Of the remaining rules it may be sufficient to notice one, which was for the most part consistently followed:—‘The names of the prophets and the holy writers, with the other names of the text, to be retained, as nigh as may be, accordingly as they were vulgarly used.’ The Translators had also the liberty, in ‘any place of special obscurity,’ to consult those who might be qualified to give an opinion.

Passing from these fundamental rules, which should be borne in mind by any one who would rightly understand the nature and character of the Authorised Version, we must call attention to the manner in which the actual work of the translation was carried on. The New Testament was assigned to two separate Companies, the one consisting of eight members, sitting at Oxford, the other consisting of seven members, sitting at Westminster. There is no reason to believe that these Companies ever sat together. They communicated to each other, and likewise to the four Companies to which the Old Testament and the Apocrypha had been committed, the results of their labours; and perhaps afterwards reconsidered them: but the fact that the New Testament was divided between two separate bodies of men involved a grave inconvenience, and was beyond all doubt the cause of many inconsistencies. These probably would have been much more serious, had it not been provided that there should be a final supervision of the whole Bible, by selected members from Oxford, Cambridge, and Westminster, the three centres at which the work had been carried on. These supervisors are said by one authority to have been six in number, and by another twelve. When it is remembered that this supervision was completed in nine months, we may wonder that the incongruities which remain are not more numerous.

The Companies appear to have been occupied in the actual business of revision about two years and three quarters.

Such, so far as can be gathered from the rules and modes of procedure, is the character of the time-honoured Version which we have been called upon to revise. We have had to study this great Version carefully and minutely, line by line; and the longer we have been engaged upon it the more we have learned to admire its simplicity, its dignity, its power, its happy turns of expression, its general accuracy, and, we must not fail to add, the music of its cadences, and the felicities of its rhythm. To render a work that had reached this high standard of excellence still more excellent, to increase its fidelity without destroying its charm, was the task committed to us. Of that task, and of the conditions under which we have attempted its fulfilment, it will now be necessary for us to speak.

II. The present Revision had its origin in action taken by the Convocation of the Province of Canterbury in February 1870, and it has been conducted throughout on the plan laid down in Resolutions of both Houses of the Province, and, more particularly, in accordance with Principles and Rules drawn up by a special Committee of Convocation in the following May. Two Companies, the one for the revision of the Authorised Version of the Old Testament, and the other for the revision of the same Version of the New Testament, were formed in the manner specified in the Resolutions, and the work was commenced on the twenty-second day of June 1870. Shortly afterwards, steps were taken, under a resolution passed by both Houses of Convocation, for inviting the co-operation of American scholars; and eventually two Committees were formed in America, for the purpose of acting with the two English Companies, on the basis of the Principles and Rules drawn up by the Committee of Convocation.

The fundamental Resolutions adopted by the Convocation of Canterbury on the third and fifth days of May 1870 were as follows:—

'1. That it is desirable that a revision of the Authorised Version of the Holy Scriptures be undertaken.

'2. That the revision be so conducted as to comprise both marginal renderings and such emendations as it may be found necessary to insert in the text of the Authorised Version.

'3. That in the above resolutions we do not contemplate any new translation of the Bible, or any alteration of the language, except where in the judgement of the most competent scholars such change is necessary.

'4. That in such necessary changes, the style of the language employed in the existing Version be closely followed.

'5. That it is desirable that Convocation should nominate a body of its own members to undertake the work of revision, who shall be at liberty to invite the co-operation of any eminent for scholarship, to whatever nation or religious body they may belong.'

The Principles and Rules agreed to by the Committee of Convocation on the twenty-fifth day of May 1870 were as follows:—

'1. To introduce as few alterations as possible into the Text of the Authorised Version consistently with faithfulness.

'2. To limit, as far as possible, the expression of such alterations to the language of the Authorised and earlier English Versions.

'3. Each Company to go twice over the portion to be revised, once provisionally, the second time finally, and on principles of voting as hereinafter is provided.

'4. That the Text to be adopted be that for which the evidence is decidedly preponderating; and that when the Text so adopted differs from that from which the Authorised Version was made, the alteration be indicated in the margin.

'5. To make or retain no change in the Text on the second final revision by each Company, except two thirds of those present approve of the same, but on the first revision to decide by simple majorities.

'6. In every case of proposed alteration that may have given rise to discussion, to defer the voting thereupon till the next Meeting, whensoever the same shall be required by one third of those present at the Meeting, such intended vote to be announced in the notice for the next Meeting.

'7. To revise the headings of chapters and pages, paragraphs, italics, and punctuation.

'8. To refer, on the part of each Company, when considered desirable, to Divines, Scholars, and Literary Men, whether at home or abroad, for their opinions.'

These rules it has been our endeavour faithfully and consistently to follow. One only of them we found ourselves unable to observe in all particulars. In accordance with the seventh rule, we have carefully revised the paragraphs, italics, and punctuation. But the revision of the headings of chapters and pages would have involved so much of indirect, and indeed frequently of direct interpretation, that we judged it best to omit them altogether.

Our communications with the American Committee have been of the following nature. We transmitted to them from time to time each several portion of our First Revision, and received from them in return their criticisms and suggestions. These we considered with much care and attention during the time we were engaged on our Second Revision. We then sent over to them the various portions of the Second Revision as they were completed, and received further suggestions, which, like the former, were closely and carefully considered. Last of all, we forwarded to them the Revised Version in its final form; and a list of those passages in which they desire to place on record their preference of other readings and renderings will be found at the end of the volume. We gratefully acknowledge their care, vigilance, and accuracy; and we humbly pray that their labours and our own, thus happily united, may be permitted to bear a blessing to both countries, and to all English-speaking people throughout the world.

The whole time devoted to the work has been ten years and a half. The First Revision occupied about six years; the Second, about two years and a half. The remaining time has been spent in the consideration of the suggestions from America on the Second Revision, and of many details and reserved questions arising out of our own labours. As a rule, a session of four days has been held every month (with the exception of August and September) in each year from the commencement of the work in June 1870. The average attendance for the whole time has been sixteen each day; the whole Company consisting at first of twenty-seven, but for the greater part of the time of twenty-four members, many of them residing at great distances from London. Of the original number four have been removed from us by death.

At an early stage in our labours, we entered into an agreement with the Universities of Oxford and Cambridge for the conveyance to them of our copyright in the work. This arrangement provided for the necessary expenses of the undertaking; and procured for the Revised Version the advantage of being published by Bodies long connected with the publication of the Authorised Version.

III. We now pass onward to give a brief account of the particulars of the present work. This we propose to do under the four heads of Text, Translation, Language, and Marginal Notes.

1. A revision of the Greek text was the necessary foundation of our work; but it did not fall within our province to construct a continuous and complete Greek text. In many cases the English rendering was considered to represent correctly either of two competing readings in the Greek, and then the question of the text was usually not raised. A sufficiently laborious task remained in deciding between the rival claims of various readings which might properly affect the translation. When these were adjusted, our deviations from the text presumed to underlie the Authorised Version had next to be indicated, in accordance with the fourth rule; but it proved inconvenient to record them in the margin. A better mode however of giving them publicity has been found, as the University Presses have undertaken to print them in connexion with complete Greek texts of the New Testament.

In regard of the readings thus approved, it may be observed that the fourth rule, by requiring that 'the text to be adopted' should be 'that for which the evidence is decidedly preponderating,' was in effect an instruction to follow the authority of documentary evidence without deference to any printed text of modern times, and therefore to employ the best resources of criticism for estimating the value of evidence. Textual criticism, as applied to the Greek New Testament, forms a special study of much intricacy and difficulty, and even now leaves room for considerable variety of opinion among competent critics. Different schools of criticism have been represented among us, and have together contributed to the final result. In the early part of the work every various reading requiring consideration was discussed and voted on by the Company. After a time the precedents thus established enabled the process to be safely shortened; but it was still at the option of every one to raise a full discussion on any particular reading, and the option was freely used. On the first revision, in accordance with the fifth rule, the decisions were arrived at by simple majorities. On the second revision, at which a majority of two thirds was required to retain or introduce a reading at variance with the reading presumed to underlie the Authorised Version, many readings previously adopted were brought again into debate, and either re-affirmed or set aside.

Many places still remain in which, for the present, it would not be safe to accept one reading to the absolute exclusion of others. In these cases we have given alternative readings in the margin, wherever they seem to be of sufficient importance or interest to deserve notice. In the introductory formula, the phrases 'many ancient authorities,' 'some ancient authorities,' are used with some latitude to denote a greater or lesser proportion of those authorities which have a distinctive right to be called ancient. These ancient authorities comprise not only Greek manuscripts, some of which were written in the fourth and fifth centuries, but versions of a still earlier date in different languages, and also quotations by Christian writers of the second and following centuries.

2. We pass now from the Text to the Translation. The character of the Revision was determined for us from the outset by the first rule, 'to introduce as few alterations as possible, consistently with faithfulness.' Our task was revision, not re-translation.

In the application however of this principle to the many and intricate details of our work, we have found ourselves constrained by faithfulness to introduce changes which might not at first sight appear to be included under the rule.

The alterations which we have made in the Authorised Version may be roughly grouped in five principal classes. First, alterations positively required by change of reading in the Greek Text. Secondly, alterations made where the Authorised Version appeared either to be incorrect, or to have chosen the less probable of two possible renderings. Thirdly, alterations of obscure or ambiguous renderings into such as are clear and express in their import. For it has been our principle not to leave any translation, or any arrangement of words, which could adapt itself to one or other of two interpretations, but rather to express as plainly as was possible that interpretation which seemed best to deserve a place in the text, and to put the other in the margin.

There remain yet two other classes of alterations which we have felt to be required by the same principle of faithfulness. These are,—Fourthly, alterations of the Authorised Version in cases where it was inconsistent with itself in the rendering of two or more passages confessedly alike or parallel. Fifthly, alterations rendered necessary by consequence, that is, arising out of changes already made, though not in themselves required by the general rule of faithfulness. Both these classes of alterations call for some further explanation.

The frequent inconsistencies in the Authorised Version have caused us much embarrassment from the fact already referred to, namely, that a studied variety of rendering, even in the same chapter and context, was a kind of principle with our predecessors, and was defended by them on grounds that have been mentioned above. The problem we had to solve was to discriminate between varieties of rendering which were compatible with fidelity to the true meaning of the text, and varieties which involved inconsistency, and were suggestive of differences that had no existence in the Greek. This problem we have solved to the best of our power, and for the most part in the following way.

Where there was a doubt as to the exact shade of meaning, we have looked to the context for guidance. If the meaning was fairly expressed by the word or phrase that was before us in the Authorised Version, we made no change, even where rigid adherence to the rule of translating, as far as possible, the same Greek word by the same English word might have prescribed some modification.

There are however numerous passages in the Authorised Version in which, whether regard be had to the recurrence (as in the first three Gospels) of identical clauses and sentences, to the repetition of the same word in the same passage, or to the characteristic use of particular words by the same writer, the studied variety adopted by the Translators of 1611 has produced a degree of inconsistency that cannot be reconciled with the principle of faithfulness. In such cases we have not hesitated to introduce alterations, even though the sense might not seem to the general reader to be materially affected.

The last class of alterations is that which we have described as rendered necessary by consequence; that is, by reason of some foregoing alteration. The cases in which these consequential changes have been found necessary are numerous and of very different kinds. Sometimes the change has been made to avoid tautology; sometimes to obviate an unpleasing alliteration or some other infelicity of sound; sometimes, in the case of smaller words, to preserve the familiar rhythm; sometimes for a convergence of reasons which, when explained, would at once be accepted, but until so explained might never be surmised even by intelligent readers.

This may be made plain by an example. When a particular word is found to recur with characteristic frequency in any one of the Sacred Writers, it is obviously desirable to adopt for it some uniform rendering. Again, where, as in the case of the first three Evangelists, precisely the same clauses or sentences are found in more than one of the Gospels, it is no less necessary to translate them in every place in the same way. These two principles may be illustrated by reference to a word that perpetually recurs in St. Mark's Gospel, and that may be translated either 'straightway,' 'forthwith,' or 'immediately.' Let it be supposed that the first rendering is chosen, and that the word, in accordance with the first of the above principles, is in that Gospel uniformly translated 'straightway.' Let it be further supposed that one of the passages of St. Mark in which it is so translated is found, word for word, in one of the other Gospels, but that there the rendering of the Authorised Version happens to be 'forthwith' or 'immediately.' That rendering must be changed on the second of the above principles; and yet such a change would not have been made but for this concurrence of two sound principles, and the consequent necessity of making a change on grounds extraneous to the passage itself.

This is but one of many instances of consequential alterations which might at first sight appear unnecessary, but which nevertheless have been deliberately made, and are not at variance with the rule of introducing as few changes in the Authorised Version as faithfulness would allow.

There are some other points of detail which it may be here convenient to notice. One of these, and perhaps the most important, is the rendering of the Greek aorist. There are numerous cases, especially in connexion with particles ordinarily expressive of present time, in which the use of the indefinite past tense in Greek and English is altogether different; and in such instances we have not attempted to violate the idiom of our language by forms of expression which it could not bear. But we have often ventured to represent the Greek aorist by the English preterite, even where the reader may find some passing difficulty in such a rendering, because we have felt convinced that the true meaning of the original was obscured by the presence of the familiar auxiliary. A remarkable illustration may be found in the seventeenth chapter of St. John's Gospel, where the combination of the aorist and the perfect shews, beyond all reasonable doubt, that different relations of time were intended to be expressed.

Changes of translation will also be found in connexion with the aorist participle, arising from the fact that the usual periphrasis of this participle in the Vulgate, which was rendered necessary by Latin idiom, has been largely reproduced in the Authorised Version by 'when' with the past tense (as for example in the second chapter of St. Matthew's Gospel), even where the ordinary participial rendering would have been easier and more natural in English.

In reference to the perfect and the imperfect tenses but little needs to be said. The correct translation of the former has been for the most part, though with some striking exceptions, maintained in the Authorised Version: while with regard to the imperfect, clear as its meaning may be in the Greek, the power of expressing it is so limited in English, that we have been frequently compelled to leave the force of the tense to be inferred from the context. In a few instances, where faithfulness imperatively required it, and especially where, in the Greek, the significance of the imperfect tense seemed to be additionally marked by the use of the participle with the auxiliary verb, we have introduced the corresponding form in English. Still, in the great majority of cases we have been obliged to retain the English preterite, and to rely either on slight changes in the order of the words, or on prominence given to the accompanying temporal particles, for the indication of the meaning which, in the Greek, the imperfect tense was designed to convey.

On other points of grammar it may be sufficient to speak more briefly.

Many changes, as might be anticipated, have been made in the case of the definite article. Here again it was necessary to consider the peculiarities of English idiom, as well as the general tenor of each passage. Sometimes we have felt it enough to prefix the article to the first of a series of words to all of which it is prefixed in the Greek, and thus, as it were, to impart the idea of definiteness to the whole series, without running the risk of overloading the sentence. Sometimes, conversely, we have had to tolerate the presence of the definite article in our Version, when it is absent from the Greek, and perhaps not even grammatically latent; simply because English idiom would not allow the noun to stand alone, and because the introduction of the indefinite article might have introduced an idea of oneness or individuality, which was not in any degree traceable in the original. In a word, we have been careful to observe the use of the article wherever it seemed to be idiomatically possible: where it did not seem to be possible, we have yielded to necessity.

As to the pronouns and the place they occupy in the sentence, a subject often overlooked by our predecessors, we have been particularly careful; but here again we have frequently been baffled by structural or idiomatic peculiarities of the English language which precluded changes otherwise desirable.

In the case of the particles we have met with less difficulty, and have been able to maintain a reasonable amount of consistency. The particles in the Greek Testament are, as is well known, comparatively few, and they are commonly used with precision. It has therefore been the more necessary here to preserve a general uniformity of rendering, especially in the case of the particles of causality and inference, so far as English idiom would allow.

Lastly, many changes have been introduced in the rendering of the prepositions, especially where ideas of instrumentality or of mediate agency, distinctly marked in the original, had been confused or obscured in the translation. We have however borne in mind the comprehensive character of such prepositions as 'of' and 'by,' the one in reference to agency and the other in reference to means, especially in the English of the seventeenth century; and have rarely made any change where the true meaning of the original as expressed in the Authorised Version would be apparent to a reader of ordinary intelligence.

3. We now come to the subject of Language.

The second of the rules, by which the work has been governed, prescribed that the alterations to be introduced should be expressed, as far as possible, in the language of the Authorised Version or of the Versions that preceded it.

To this rule we have faithfully adhered. We have habitually consulted the earlier Versions; and in our sparing introduction of words not found in them or in the Authorised Version we have usually satisfied ourselves that such words were employed by standard writers of nearly the same date, and had also that general hue which justified their introduction into a Version which has held the highest place in the classical literature of our language. We have never removed any archaisms, whether in structure or in words, except where we were persuaded either that the meaning of the words was not generally understood, or that the nature of the expression led to some misconception of the true sense of the passage. The frequent inversions of the strict order of the words, which add much to the strength and variety of the Authorised Version, and give an archaic colour to many felicities of diction, have been seldom modified. Indeed, we have often adopted the same arrangement in our own alterations; and in this, as in other particulars, we have sought to assimilate the new work to the old.

In a few exceptional cases we have failed to find any word in the older stratum of our language that appeared to convey the precise meaning of the original. There, and there only, we have used words of a later date; but not without having first assured ourselves that they are to be found in the writings of the best authors of the period to which they belong.

In regard of Proper Names no rule was prescribed to us. In the case of names of frequent occurrence we have deemed it best to follow generally the rule laid down for our predecessors. That rule, it may be remembered, was to this effect, 'The names of the prophets and the holy writers, with the other names of the text, to be retained, as high as may be, accordingly as they were vulgarly used.' Some difficulty has been felt in dealing with names less familiarly known. Here our general practice has been to follow the Greek form of names, except in the case of persons and places mentioned in the Old Testament; in this case we have followed the Hebrew.

4. The subject of the Marginal Notes deserves special attention. They represent the results of a large amount of careful and elaborate discussion, and will, perhaps, by their very presence, indicate to some extent the intricacy of many of the questions that have almost daily come before us for decision. These Notes fall into four main groups: first, notes specifying such differences of reading as were judged to be of sufficient importance to require a particular notice; secondly, notes indicating the exact rendering of words to which, for the sake of English idiom, we were obliged to give a less exact rendering in the text; thirdly, notes, very few in number, affording some explanation which the original appeared to require; fourthly, alternative renderings in difficult or debateable passages. The notes of this last group are numerous, and largely in excess of those which were admitted by our predecessors. In the 270 years that have passed away since their labours were concluded, the Sacred Text has been minutely examined, discussed in every detail, and analysed with a grammatical precision unknown in the days of the last Revision. There has thus been accumulated a large amount of materials that have prepared the way for different renderings, which necessarily came under discussion. We have therefore placed before the reader in the margin other renderings than those which were adopted in the text, wherever such renderings seemed to deserve consideration. The rendering in the text, where it agrees with the Authorised Version, was supported by at least one third, and, where it differs from the Authorised Version, by at least two thirds of those who were present at the second revision of the passage in question.

A few supplementary matters have yet to be mentioned. These may be thus enumerated,—the use of Italics, the arrangement in Paragraphs, the mode of printing Quotations from the Poetical Books of the Old Testament, the Punctuation, and, last of all, the Titles of the different Books that make up the New Testament, all of them particulars on which it seems desirable to add a few explanatory remarks.

(a) The determination, in each place, of the words to be printed in italics

has not been by any means easy; nor can we hope to be found in all cases perfectly consistent. In the earliest editions of the Authorised Version the use of a different type to indicate supplementary words not contained in the original was not very frequent, and cannot easily be reconciled with any settled principle. A review of the words so printed was made, after a lapse of some years, for the editions of the Authorised Version published at Cambridge in 1629 and 1638. Further, though slight, modifications were introduced at intervals between 1638 and the more systematic revisions undertaken respectively by Dr. Paris in the Cambridge Edition of 1762, and by Dr. Blayney in the Oxford Edition of 1769. None of them however rest on any higher authority than that of the persons who from time to time superintended the publication. The last attempt to bring the use of italics into uniformity and consistency was made by Dr. Scrivener in the Paragraph Bible published at Cambridge in 1870-73. In succeeding to these labours, we have acted on the general principle of printing in italics words which did not appear to be necessarily involved in the Greek. Our tendency has been to diminish rather than to increase the amount of italic printing; though, in the case of difference of readings, we have usually marked the absence of any words in the original which the sense might nevertheless require to be present in the Version; and again, in the case of inserted pronouns, where the reference did not appear to be perfectly certain, we have similarly had recourse to italics. Some of these cases, especially when there are slight differences of reading, are of singular intricacy, and make it impossible to maintain rigid uniformity.

(b) We have arranged the Sacred Text in paragraphs, after the precedent of the earliest English Versions, so as to assist the general reader in following the current of narrative or argument. The present arrangement will be found, we trust, to have preserved the due mean between a system of long portions which must often include several separate topics, and a system of frequent breaks which, though they may correctly indicate the separate movements of thought in the writer, often seriously impede a just perception of the true continuity of the passage. The traditional division into chapters, which the Authorised Version inherited from Latin Bibles of the later middle ages, is an illustration of the former method. These paragraphs, for such in fact they are, frequently include several distinct subjects. Moreover they sometimes, though rarely, end where there is no sufficient break in the sense. The division of chapters into verses, which was introduced into the New Testament for the first time in 1551, is an exaggeration of the latter method, with its accompanying inconveniences. The serious obstacles to the right understanding of Holy Scripture, which are interposed by minute subdivision, are often overlooked; but if any one will consider for a moment the injurious effect that would be produced by breaking up a portion of some great standard work into separate verses, he will at once perceive how necessary has been an alteration in this particular. The arrangement by chapters and verses undoubtedly affords facilities for reference: but this advantage we have been able to retain by placing the numerals on the inside margin of each page.

(c) A few words will suffice as to the mode of printing quotations from the Poetical Books of the Old Testament. Wherever the quotation extends to two or more lines, our practice has been to recognise the parallelism of their structure by arranging the lines in a manner that appears to agree with the metrical divisions of the Hebrew original. Such an arrangement will be found helpful to the reader; not only as directing his attention to the poetical character of the quotation, but as also tending to make its force and pertinence more fully felt. We have treated in the same way the hymns in the first two chapters of the Gospel according to St. Luke.

(d) Great care has been bestowed on the punctuation. Our practice has been to maintain what is sometimes called the heavier system of stopping, or,

In other words, that system which, especially for convenience in reading aloud, suggests such pauses as will best ensure a clear and intelligent setting forth of the true meaning of the words. This course has rendered necessary, especially in the Epistles, a larger use of colons and semicolons than is customary in modern English printing.

(e) We may in the last place notice one particular to which we were not expressly directed to extend our revision, namely, the titles of the Books of the New Testament. These titles are no part of the original text; and the titles found in the most ancient manuscripts are of too short a form to be convenient for use. Under these circumstances, we have deemed it best to leave unchanged the titles which are given in the Authorised Version as printed in 1611.

We now conclude, humbly commending our labours to Almighty God, and praying that his favour and blessing may be vouchsafed to that which has been done in his name. We recognised from the first the responsibility of the undertaking; and through our manifold experience of its abounding difficulties we have felt more and more, as we went onward, that such a work can never be accomplished by organised efforts of scholarship and criticism, unless assisted by Divine help.

We know full well that defects must have their place in a work so long and so arduous as this which has now come to an end. Blemishes and imperfections there are in the noble Translation which we have been called upon to revise; blemishes and imperfections will assuredly be found in our own Revision. All endeavours to translate the Holy Scriptures into another tongue must fall short of their aim, when the obligation is imposed of producing a Version that shall be alike literal and idiomatic, faithful to each thought of the original, and yet, in the expression of it, harmonious and free. While we dare to hope that in places not a few of the New Testament the introduction of slight changes has cast a new light upon much that was difficult and obscure, we cannot forget how often we have failed in expressing some finer shade of meaning which we recognised in the original, how often idiom has stood in the way of a perfect rendering, and how often the attempt to preserve a familiar form of words, or even a familiar cadence, has only added another perplexity to those which already beset us.

Thus, in the review of the work which we have been permitted to complete, our closing words must be words of mingled thanksgiving, humility, and prayer. Of thanksgiving, for the many blessings vouchsafed to us throughout the unbroken progress of our corporate labours; of humility, for our failings and imperfections in the fulfilment of our task; and of prayer to Almighty God, that the Gospel of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ may be more clearly and more freshly shewn forth to all who shall be readers of this Book.

2 Abraham begat Isaac; and Isaac begat Jacob; and Jacob begat Judah and his brethren; and Judah begat Perez and Zerah of Tamar: and Perez begat Hezron; and Hezron begat <sup>3</sup>Ram; and <sup>3</sup>Ram begat Amminadab; and Amminadab begat Nahshon; and Nahshon begat Salmon; and Salmon begat Boaz of Rahab; and Boaz begat Obed of Ruth; and Obed begat Jesse; and Jesse begat David the king.

And David begat Solomon of her <sup>7</sup>that had been the wife of Uriah; and Solomon begat Rehoboam; and Rehoboam begat Abijah; and Abijah begat <sup>4</sup>Asa; and <sup>4</sup>Asa begat Jehoshaphat; and Jehoshaphat begat Joram; and Joram begat Uzziah; and Uzziah begat Jotham; and Jotham begat Ahaz; and Ahaz begat Hezekiah; and Hezekiah begat Manasseh; and Manasseh begat <sup>6</sup>Amon; and <sup>6</sup>Amon begat Josiah; and Josiah begat Jechoniah and his brethren, at the time of the <sup>6</sup>carrying away to Babylon.

And after the <sup>6</sup>carrying away to Babylon, Jechoniah begat <sup>7</sup>Shealtiel; and <sup>7</sup>Shealtiel begat Zerubbabel; and Zerubbabel begat Abiud; and Abiud begat Eliakim; and Eliakim begat Azor; and Azor begat Sadoc; and Sadoc begat Achim; and Achim begat Eliud; and Eliud begat Eleazar; and Eleazar begat Matthew; and Matthew begat Jacob; and Jacob begat Joseph the husband of Mary, of whom was born Jesus, who is called Christ.

17 So all the generations from Abraham unto David are fourteen generations; and from David unto the <sup>6</sup>carrying away to Babylon fourteen generations; and from the <sup>6</sup>carrying away to Babylon unto the Christ fourteen generations.

18 Now the <sup>9</sup>birth <sup>9</sup>of Jesus Christ was on this wise: When his mother Mary had been betrothed to Joseph, before they came together she was found with child of the <sup>11</sup>Holy Ghost.

19 And Joseph her husband, being a righteous man, and not willing to make her a public example, was minded to put her away privily.

20 But when he thought on these things, behold, an angel of the Lord appeared unto him in a dream, saying, Joseph, thou son of David, fear not to take unto thee Mary thy wife: for that which is <sup>11</sup>conceived in her

21 is of the Holy Ghost. And she shall bring forth a son; and thou shalt call his name JESUS; for it is he that shall save his people from their sins. Now all this is come to pass, that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the Lord through the prophet, saying,

23 Behold, the virgin shall be with child, and shall bring forth a son,

And they shall call his name <sup>12</sup>Immanuel;

24 which is, being interpreted, God with us. And Joseph arose from his sleep, and did as the angel of the Lord commanded him, and took unto him his wife; and knew her not till she had brought forth a son; and he called his name JESUS.

2 Now when Jesus was born in Bethlehem of Judaea in the days of Herod the king, behold, <sup>13</sup>wise men from the east came to Jerusalem, saying, <sup>14</sup>Where is he that is born King of the Jews? for we saw his star in the east, and are come to worship him. And when Herod the king heard it, he was troubled, and <sup>15</sup>all Jerusalem with him. And gathering together all the chief priests and scribes of the people, he inquired of them where the Christ should be born. And they said unto him, In Bethlehem of Judaea: for thus it is written <sup>15</sup>by the prophet,

6 And thou Bethlehem, land of Judah,

Art in no wise least among the princes of Judah:

For out of thee shall come forth a governor,

Which shall be shepherd of my people Israel.

7 Then Herod privily called the <sup>13</sup>wise men, and learned of them carefully

8 <sup>16</sup>what time the star appeared. And he sent them to Bethlehem, and said, Go and search out carefully concerning the young child; and when ye have found him, bring me word, that I also may come and worship him. And they, having heard the king, went their way; and lo, the star, which they saw in the east, went before them, till it came and stood over where the young child was. And when they saw the star, they rejoiced with exceeding great joy. And they came into the house and saw the young child with Mary his mother; and they fell down and worshipped him; and opening their treasures they offered unto him gifts, gold and

13 Now when they were departed, behold, an angel of the Lord appeareth to Joseph in a dream, saying, Arise and take the young child and his mother, and flee into Egypt, and be thou there until I tell thee; for Herod will seek the young child

14 to destroy him. And he arose and took the young child and his mother by night, and departed into Egypt:

15 and was there until the death of Herod: that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the Lord

16 of Egypt did I call my son. Then Herod, when he saw that he was mocked of the <sup>1</sup>wise men, was exceeding wroth, and sent forth, and slew all the male children that were in Bethlehem, and in all the borders thereof, from two years old and under, according to the time which he had carefully learned of the <sup>1</sup>wise

17 men. Then was fulfilled that which was spoken <sup>2</sup>by Jeremiah the prophet, saying,

18 A voice was heard in Ramah, Weeping and great mourning, Rachel weeping for her children; And she would not be comforted, because they are not.

19 But when Herod was dead, behold, an angel of the Lord appeareth in a

20 dream to Joseph in Egypt, saying, Arise and take the young child and his mother, and go into the land of 21 Israel: for they are dead that sought the young child's life. And he arose and took the young child and his

22 mother, and came into the land of Israel. But when he heard that

Archelaus was reigning over Judæa in the room of his father Herod, he was afraid to go thither; and being warned of God in a dream, he withdrew into the parts of Galilee, and came and dwelt in a city

23 called Nazareth: that it might be fulfilled which was spoken <sup>2</sup>by the prophets, that he should be called a Nazarene.

3 And in those days cometh John the Baptist, preaching in the wil-

2 derness of Judæa, saying, Repent ye; for the kingdom of heaven

3 is at hand. For this is he that was spoken of <sup>2</sup>by Isaiah the prophet, saying,

The voice of one crying in the wilderness,

Make ye ready the way of the Lord,

Make his paths straight.

4 Now John himself had his raiment of camel's hair, and a leathern girdle about his loins; and his food was locusts and wild honey.

5 Then went out unto him Jerusalem, and all Judæa, and all the region

6 round about Jordan; and they were baptized of him in the river Jordan,

7 confessing their sins. But when he saw many of the Pharisees and Sadducees coming to his baptism, he said unto them, Ye offspring of vipers, who warned you to flee from 8 the wrath to come? Bring forth therefore fruit worthy of <sup>3</sup>repent-

9 ance: and think not to say within yourselves, We have Abraham to our father: for I say unto you, that God is able of these stones to raise 10 up children unto Abraham. And even now is the axe laid unto the root of the trees: every tree therefore that bringeth not forth good fruit is hewn down, and cast into 11 the fire. I indeed baptize you <sup>4</sup>with water unto repentance; but he that cometh after me is mightier than

I, whose shoes I am not <sup>5</sup>worthy to bear: he shall baptize you <sup>4</sup>with 12 the Holy Ghost and with fire: whose fan is in his hand, and he will thoroughly cleanse his threshing-floor; and he will gather his wheat into the garner, but the chaff he will burn up with unquenchable fire.

13 Then cometh Jesus from Galilee to the Jordan unto John, to be 14 baptized of him. But John would have hindered him, saying, I have need to be baptized of thee, and comest thou to me? But Jesus answering said unto him, Suffer <sup>6</sup>it now: for thus it becometh us to fulfil all 15 righteousness. Then he suffereth him. And Jesus, when he was 16 baptized, went up straightway from the water: and lo, the heavens were opened <sup>7</sup>unto him, and he saw the Spirit of God descending as a dove,

17 and coming upon him; and lo, a voice out of the heavens, saying,

<sup>8</sup>This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased.

4 Then was Jesus led up of the Spirit into the wilderness to be

2 tempted of the devil. And when he had fasted forty days and forty

3 nights, he afterward hungered. And the tempter came and said unto him, If thou art the Son of God, command that these stones become 4 <sup>9</sup>bread. But he answered and said, It is written, Man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth

5 of God. Then the devil taketh him into the holy city; and he set him on the <sup>10</sup>pinnacle of the temple, and saith unto him, If thou art the 6 Son of God, cast thyself down: for it is written,

He shall give his angels charge concerning thee:

And on their hands they shall bear thee up,

Lest haply thou dash thy foot against a stone.

7 Jesus said unto him, Again it is written, Thou shalt not tempt the 8 Lord thy God. Again, the devil taketh him unto an exceeding high mountain, and sheweth him all the kingdoms of the world, and the

Then saith Jesus unto him, Get thee hence, Satan: for it is written, Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and him only shalt thou serve. Then the devil leaveth him; and behold, angels came and ministered unto him.

12 Now when he heard that John was delivered up, he withdrew into Galilee: and leaving Nazareth, he came and dwelt in Capernaum, which is by the sea, in the borders of Zebulun and Naphtali: that it might be fulfilled which was spoken<sup>1</sup> by Isaiah the prophet, saying,

15 The land of Zebulun and the land of Naphtali,

16 The people which sat in darkness saw a great light.

And to them which sat in the region and shadow of death, To them did light spring up.

17 From that time began Jesus to preach, and to say, Repent ye: for the kingdom of heaven is at hand.

18 And walking by the sea of Galilee, he saw two brethren, Simon who is called Peter, and Andrew his brother, casting a net into the sea; for they were fishers. And he saith unto them, Come ye after me, and I will make you fishers of men. And they straightway left the nets, and followed him.

21 And going on from thence he saw other two brethren, <sup>4</sup> James the son of Zebedee, and John his brother, in the boat with Zebedee their father, mending their nets; and he called them. And they straightway left the boat and their father, and followed him.

22 And <sup>5</sup> Jesus went about in all Galilee, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the <sup>6</sup> gospel of the kingdom, and healing all manner of disease and all manner of sickness among the people. And the report of him went forth into all Syria: and they brought unto him all that were sick, holden with divers diseases and torments, <sup>7</sup> possessed with devils, and epileptic, and palsied; and he healed them.

25 And there followed him great multitudes from Galilee and Decapolis and Jerusalem and Judaea and from beyond Jordan.

5 And seeing the multitudes, he went up into the mountain: and when he had sat down, his disciples came unto him: and he opened his mouth and taught them, saying,

3 Blessed are the poor in spirit: for theirs is the kingdom of heaven.

4 <sup>8</sup> Blessed are they that mourn: for they shall be comforted.

5 Blessed are the meek: for they shall inherit the earth.

6 Blessed are they that hunger and thirst after righteousness: for they shall be filled.

7 Blessed are the merciful: for they shall obtain mercy.

8 Blessed are the pure in heart: for they shall see God.

9 Blessed are the peacemakers: for they shall be called sons of God.

10 Blessed are they that have been persecuted for righteousness' sake: for theirs is the kingdom of heaven.

11 Blessed are ye when men shall reproach you, and persecute you, and say all manner of evil against you falsely, for my sake. Rejoice, and be exceeding glad: for great is your reward in heaven: for so persecuted they the prophets which were before you.

13 Ye are the salt of the earth: but if the salt have lost its savour, wherewith shall it be salted? it is thenceforth good for nothing, but to be cast out and trodden under foot of men. Ye are the light of the world. A city set on a hill

15 cannot be hid. Neither do men light a lamp, and put it under the bushel, but on the stand; and it shineth unto all that are in the house. Even so let your light shine before men, that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father which is in heaven.

17 Think not that I came to destroy the law or the prophets: I came not to destroy, but to fulfil. For verily I say unto you, Till heaven and earth pass away, one jot or one tittle shall in no wise pass away from the law, till all things be accomplished. Whosoever therefore shall break one of these least commandments, and shall teach men so, shall be called least in the kingdom of heaven: but whosoever shall do and teach them, he shall be called great in the kingdom of heaven.

19 For I say unto you, that except your righteousness shall exceed the righteousness of the scribes and Pharisees, ye shall in no wise enter into the kingdom of heaven.

21 Ye have heard that it was said to them of old time, Thou shalt not kill; and whosoever shall kill shall be in danger of the judgement:

22 But I say unto you, that every one who is angry with his brother <sup>9</sup> shall be in danger of the judgement; and whosoever shall say to his brother, <sup>10</sup> Raca, shall be in danger of the council; and whosoever shall say, <sup>11</sup> Thou fool, shall be in danger <sup>12</sup> of the <sup>13</sup> hell of fire. If therefore thou art offering thy gift at the altar, and there rememberest that thy brother hath ought against thee,

24 leave there thy gift before the altar, and go thy way, first be reconciled to thy brother, and then come and offer thy gift. Agree with thine adversary quickly, whiles thou art with him in the way; lest haply the adversary deliver thee to the judge, and the judge <sup>14</sup> deliver thee to the officer, and thou be cast into prison. shalt by no means come out thence, till thou have paid the last farthing.

27 Ye have heard that it was said, Thou shalt not commit adultery: 28 but I say unto you, that every one that looketh on a woman to lust after her hath committed adultery with her already in his heart. And if thy right eye causeth thee to stumble, pluck it out, and cast it from thee: for it is profitable for thee that one of thy members should perish, and not thy whole body be cast into <sup>1</sup>hell. And if thy right hand causeth thee to stumble, cut it off, and cast it from thee: for it is profitable for thee that one of thy members should perish, and not thy whole body go into <sup>1</sup>hell.

31 It was said also, Whosoever shall put away his wife, let him give her a writing of divorcement: but I say unto you, that every one that putteth away his wife, saving for the cause of fornication, maketh her an adulteress: and whosoever shall marry her when she is put away committeth adultery.

33 Again, ye have heard that it was said to them of old time, Thou shalt not forswear thyself, but shalt perform unto the Lord thine oaths:

34 but I say unto you, Swear not at all: neither by the heaven, for it is the throne of God; nor by the earth, for it is the footstool of his feet; nor <sup>2</sup>by Jerusalem, for it is the city of the great King. Neither shalt thou swear by thy head, for thou canst not make one hair white

37 or black. <sup>3</sup>But let your speech be, Yea, yea: Nay, nay: and whatsoever is more than these is of <sup>4</sup>the evil one.

38 Ye have heard that it was said, An eye for an eye, and a tooth for a tooth: but I say unto you, Resist not <sup>5</sup>him that is evil: but whosoever smiteth thee on thy right cheek,

40 turn to him the other also. And if any man would go to law with thee, and take away thy coat, let him

41 have thy cloke also. And whosoever shall <sup>6</sup>compel thee to go one mile,

42 go with him twain. Give to him that asketh thee, and from him thou wilt borrow of thee turn not thou away.

43 Ye have heard that it was said, Thou shalt love thy neighbour, and hate thine enemy: but I say unto you, Love your enemies, and pray for them that persecute you: that ye may be sons of your Father which is in heaven: for he maketh his sun to rise on the evil and the good, and sendeth rain on the just and the unjust. For if ye love them that love you, what reward have ye? do not even the <sup>7</sup>publicans have the same? And if ye salute your brethren only, what do ye more than others? do not even the Gentiles have the same? Ye therefore shall be perfect, as your heavenly Father is perfect.

6 Take heed that ye do not your righteousness before men, to be seen of them: else ye have no reward with your Father which is in heaven.

2 When therefore thou doest alms, sound not a trumpet before thee, as the hypocrites do in the synagogues and in the streets, that they may have glory of men. Verily I say unto you, They have received their 3 reward. But when thou doest alms, let not thy left hand know what 4 thy right hand doeth: that thine alms may be in secret: and thy Father which seeth in secret shall recompense thee.

5 And when ye pray, ye shall not be as the hypocrites: for they love to stand and pray in the synagogues and in the corners of the streets, that they may be seen of men. Verily I say unto you, They have

6 received their reward. But thou, when thou prayest, enter into thine inner chamber, and having shut thy door, pray to thy Father which is in secret, and thy Father which seeth in secret shall recompense

7 thee. And in praying use not vain repetitions, as the Gentiles do: for they think that they shall be heard

8 for their much speaking. Be not therefore like unto them: for <sup>8</sup>your Father knoweth what things ye have need of, before ye ask him.

9 After this manner therefore pray ye: Our Father which art in heaven, Hallowed be thy name. Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done,

11 as in heaven, so on earth. Give us 12 this day <sup>9</sup>our daily bread. And forgive us our debts, as we also have

13 forgiven our debtors. And bring us not into temptation, but deliver us from <sup>10</sup>the evil one. <sup>11</sup>For if ye forgive men their trespasses, your heavenly Father will also forgive

15 you. But if ye forgive not men their trespasses, neither will your Father forgive your trespasses.

16 Moreover when ye fast, be not, as the hypocrites, of a sad countenance: for they disfigure their faces, that they may be seen of men to fast. Verily I say unto you, They

17 have received their reward. But thou, when thou fastest, anoint thy

18 head, and wash thy face: that thou be not seen of men to fast, but of thy Father which is in secret: and thy Father, which seeth in secret, shall recompense thee.

20 thieves <sup>12</sup>break through and steal: but lay up for yourselves treasures in heaven, where neither moth nor rust doth consume, and where 21 thieves do not <sup>12</sup>break through nor steal: for where thy treasure is,

22 there will thy heart be also. The lamp of the body is the eye: if 23 therefore thine eye be single, thy whole body shall be full of light.

23 But if thine eye be evil, thy whole body shall be full of darkness. If therefore the light that is in thee be darkness, how great is the darkness! No man can serve two masters: for either he will hate the one, and love the other; or else he will hold to one, and despise the other. Ye cannot serve God and mammon. Therefore I say unto you, Be not anxious for your life, what ye shall eat, or what ye shall drink; nor yet for your body, what ye shall put on. Is not the life more than the food, and the body than the raiment? Behold the birds of the heaven, that they sow not, neither do they reap, nor gather into barns; and your heavenly Father feedeth them. Are not ye of much more value than they? And which of you by being anxious can add one cubit unto his stature? And why are ye anxious concerning raiment? Consider the lilies of the field, how they grow; they toil not, neither do they spin: yet I say unto you, that even Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these. But if God doth so clothe the grass of the field, which to-day is, and to-morrow is cast into the oven, shall he not much more clothe you, O ye of little faith? Be not therefore anxious, saying, What shall we eat? or, What shall we drink? or, Where withal shall we be clothed? For after all these things do the Gentiles seek; for your heavenly Father knoweth that ye have need of all these things. But seek ye first his kingdom, and his righteousness; and all these things shall be added unto you. Be not therefore anxious for the morrow: for the morrow will be anxious for itself. Sufficient unto the day is the evil thereof.

7 Judge not, that ye be not judged. For with what judgement ye judge, ye shall be judged: and with what measure ye mete, it shall be measured unto you. And why beholdest thou the mote that is in thy brother's eye, but considerest not the beam that is in thine own eye? Or how wilt thou say to thy brother, Let me cast out the mote out of thine eye; and lo, the beam is in thine own eye? Thou hypocrite, cast out first the beam out of thine own eye; and then shalt thou see clearly to cast out the mote out of thy brother's eye.

6 Give not that which is holy unto the dogs, neither cast your pearls before the swine, lest haply they trample them under their feet, and turn and rend you.

7 Ask, and it shall be given you; seek, and ye shall find; knock, and it shall be opened unto you: for every one that asketh receiveth; and he that seeketh findeth; and to him that knocketh it shall be opened. Or what man is there of you, who, if his son shall ask him for a loaf, will give him a stone; or if he shall ask for a fish, will give him a serpent? If ye then, being evil, know how to give good gifts unto your children, how much more shall your Father which is in heaven give good things to them that ask him? All things therefore whatsoever ye would that men should do unto you, even so do ye also unto them: for this is the law and the prophets.

18 Enter ye in by the narrow gate: for wide is the gate, and broad is the way, that leadeth to destruction, and many be they that enter therein. <sup>2</sup>For narrow is the gate, and straitened the way, that leadeth unto life, and few be they that find it.

15 Beware of false prophets, which come to you in sheep's clothing, but inwardly are ravening wolves. By their fruits ye shall know them. Do men gather grapes of thorns, or figs of thistles? Even so every good tree bringeth forth good fruit; but the corrupt tree bringeth forth evil fruit. A good tree cannot bring forth evil fruit, neither can a corrupt tree bring forth good fruit. Every tree that bringeth not forth good fruit is hewn down, and cast into the fire. Therefore by their fruits ye shall know them. Not every one that saith unto me, Lord, Lord, shall enter into the kingdom of heaven; but he that doeth the will of my Father which is in heaven. Many will say to me in that day, Lord, Lord, did we not prophesy by thy name, and by thy name cast out devils, and by thy name do many mighty works? And then will I profess unto them, I never knew you: depart from me, ye that work iniquity. Every one therefore which heareth these words of mine, and doeth them, shall be likened unto a wise man, which built his house upon the rock: and the rain descended, and the floods came, and the winds blew, and beat upon that house; and it fell not: for it was founded upon the rock. And every one that heareth these words of mine, and doeth them not, shall be likened unto a foolish man, which built his house upon the sand: and the rain descended, and the floods came, and the winds blew, and smote upon that house; and it fell: and great was the fall thereof.

28 And it came to pass, when Jesus ended these words, the multitudes were astonished at his teaching: for he taught them as one having authority, and not as their scribes.

8 And when he was come down from the mountain, great multitudes followed him. And behold, there came to him a leper and worshipped him, saying, Lord, if thou wilt, thou canst make me clean. And he stretched forth his hand, and touched him, saying, I will; be thou made clean. And straightway his leprosy was cleansed. And Jesus saith unto him, See thou tell no man; but go thy way, shew thyself to the priest, and offer the gift that Moses commanded, for a testimony unto them.

5 And when he was entered into Capernaum, there came unto him

6 a centurion, beseeching him, and saying, Lord, my <sup>1</sup>servant lieth in the house sick of the palsy, griev-

7 ously tormented. And he saith unto him, I will come and heal him.

8 And the centurion answered and said, Lord, I am not <sup>2</sup>worthy that thou shouldst come under my roof; but only say <sup>3</sup>the word, and my

9 <sup>1</sup>servant shall be healed. For I also am a man <sup>4</sup>under authority, having under myself soldiers: and I say to this one, Go, and he goeth; and to another, Come, and he com-

10 eth; and to my <sup>5</sup>servant, Do this, and he doeth it. And when Jesus heard it, he marvelled, and said to them that followed, Verily I say

11 unto you, <sup>6</sup>I have not found so great faith, no, not in Israel. And I say unto you, that many shall

12 come from the east and the west, and shall <sup>7</sup>sit down with Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob, in the

13 kingdom of heaven: but the sons of the kingdom shall be cast forth into the outer darkness: there shall be the weeping and gnashing of

14 teeth. And Jesus said unto the centurion, Go thy way; as thou hast believed, so be it done unto thee. And the <sup>1</sup>servant was healed in that hour.

15 And when Jesus was come into Peter's house, he saw his wife's mother lying sick of a fever. And he touched her hand, and the fever

16 left her; and she arose, and ministered unto him. And when even was come, they brought unto him many <sup>8</sup>possessed with devils; and he cast out the spirits with a word,

17 and healed all that were sick: that it might be fulfilled which was spoken <sup>9</sup>by Isaiah the prophet, saying, Himself took our infirmities, and bare our diseases.

18 Now when Jesus saw great multitudes about him, he gave commandment to depart unto the other

22 to go and bury my father. But Jesus saith unto him, Follow me; and leave the dead to bury their own

23 dead. And when he was entered into a boat, his disciples followed him.

24 And behold, there arose a great tempest in the sea, inasmuch that the boat was covered with the waves: but he was asleep. And they came to him, and awoke him,

25 saying, Save, Lord; we perish. And he saith unto them, Why are ye fearful, O ye of little faith? Then he arose, and rebuked the winds

26 and the sea; and there was a great calm. And the men marvelled, saying, What manner of man is this, that even the winds and the sea

27 obey him?

28 And when he was come to the other side into the country of the Gadarenes, there met him two <sup>9</sup>pos-

29 sessed with devils, coming forth out of the tombs, exceeding fierce, so that no man could pass by that way.

30 And behold, they cried out, saying, What have we to do with thee, thou Son of God? art thou come hither to torment us before the 31 time? Now there was afar off from them a herd of many swine feeding.

32 And the <sup>13</sup>devils besought him, saying, If thou cast us out, send us away into the herd of swine. And he said unto them, Go. And they came out, and went into the swine;

33 and behold, the whole herd rushed down the steep into the sea, and

34 perished in the waters. And they that fed them fled, and went away into the city, and told everything, and what was befallen to them that

35 were <sup>9</sup>possessed with devils. And behold, all the city came out to meet Jesus: and when they saw him, they besought him that he would depart from their borders.

9 And he entered into a boat, and crossed over, and came into his own

2 city. And behold, they brought to him a man sick of the palsy, lying on a bed: and Jesus seeing their faith said unto the sick of the palsy,

14 Son, be of good cheer; thy sins are forgiven. And behold, certain of the scribes said within themselves,

4 This man blasphemeth. And Jesus <sup>15</sup>knowing their thoughts said, Wherefore think ye evil in your

5 hearts? For whether is easier, to say, Thy sins are forgiven; or to

6 say, Arise, and walk? But that ye may know that the Son of man hath <sup>16</sup>power on earth to forgive

7 sins (then saith he to the sick of the palsy), Arise, and take up thy

8 bed, and go unto thy house. And he arose, and departed to his house.

9 But when the multitudes saw it, they were afraid, and glorified God, which had given such <sup>16</sup>power unto men.

10 And as Jesus passed by from thence, he saw a man, called Mat-

12 And it came to pass, as he <sup>17</sup>sat at meat in the house, behold, many publicans and sinners came and sat down with Jesus and his disciples.

But go ye and learn what this meaneth, I desire mercy, and not sacrifice: for I came not to call the righteous, but sinners.

14 Then come to him the disciples of John, saying, Why do we and the Pharisees fast <sup>3</sup>oft, but thy disciples fast not? And Jesus said unto them, Can the sons of the bride-chamber mourn, as long as the bridegroom is with them? but the days will come, when the bridegroom shall be taken away from them, and then will they fast. And no man putteth a piece of an undressed cloth upon an old garment; for that which should fill it up taketh from the garment, and a worse rent is made. Neither do men put new wine into old <sup>4</sup>wine-skins: else the skins burst, and the wine is spilled, and the skins perish: but they put new wine into fresh wine-skins, and both are preserved.

18 While he spake these things unto them, behold, there came <sup>5</sup>a ruler, and worshipped him, saying, My daughter is even now dead: but come and lay thy hand upon her, and she shall live. And Jesus arose, and followed him, and so did his disciples. And behold, a woman, who had an issue of blood twelve years, came behind him, and touched the border of his garment: for she said within herself, If I do but touch his garment, I shall be <sup>6</sup>made whole. But Jesus turning and seeing her said, Daughter, be of good cheer; thy faith hath <sup>7</sup>made thee whole. And the woman was <sup>8</sup>made whole from that hour. And when Jesus came into the ruler's house, and saw the flute-players, and the crowd making a tumult, he said, Give place: for the damsel is not dead, but sleepeth. And they laughed him to scorn. But when the crowd was put forth, he entered in, and took her by the hand; and the damsel arose. And <sup>8</sup>the same hereof went forth into all that land.

27 And as Jesus passed by from thence, two blind men followed him, crying out, and saying, Have mercy on us, thou son of David. 28 And when he was come into the house, the blind men came to him: and Jesus saith unto them, Believe ye that I am able to do this? They say unto him, Yea, Lord. Then touched he their eyes, saying, According to your faith be it done unto you. And their eyes were opened. And Jesus <sup>9</sup>strictly charged them, saying, See that no man know it. But they went forth, and spread abroad his fame in all that land.

32 And as they went forth, behold,

there was brought to him a dumb man possessed with a <sup>10</sup>devil. And when the <sup>10</sup>devil was cast out, the dumb man spake: and the multitudes marvelled, saying, It was never so seen in Israel. But the Pharisees said, <sup>11</sup>By the prince of the <sup>12</sup>devils casteth he out <sup>12</sup>devils. 35 And Jesus went about all the cities and the villages, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the gospel of the kingdom, and healing all manner of disease and all manner of sickness. But when he saw the multitudes, he was moved with compassion for them, because they were distressed and scattered, as sheep not having a shepherd. Then saith he unto his disciples, The harvest truly is plenteous, but the labourers are few. Pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest, that he send forth <sup>10</sup>labourers into his harvest. And he called unto him his twelve disciples, and gave them authority over unclean spirits, to cast them out, and to heal all manner of disease and all manner of sickness.

2 Now the names of the twelve apostles are these: The first, Simon, who is called Peter, and Andrew his brother: James the son of Zebedee, and John his brother; Philip, and Bartholomew; Thomas, and Matthew the publican; James the son of Alphæus, and Thaddæus; 4 Simon the <sup>13</sup>Cananean, and Judas Iscariot, who also <sup>14</sup>betrayed him. 5 These twelve Jesus sent forth, and charged them, saying,

Go not into any way of the Gentiles, and enter not into any city of the Samaritans: but go rather to the lost sheep of the house of Israel. 7 And as ye go, preach, saying, The kingdom of heaven is at hand. Heal the sick, raise the dead, cleanse the lepers, cast out <sup>12</sup>devils: freely ye received, freely give. Get you no gold, nor silver, nor brass in your <sup>15</sup>purses: no wallet for your journey, neither two coats, nor shoes, nor staff: for the labourer is worthy of his food. And into whatsoever city or village ye shall enter, search out who in it is worthy; and there abide till ye go forth. And as ye enter into the house, salute it. And if the house be worthy, let your peace come upon it: but if it be not worthy, let your peace return to you. And whosoever shall not receive you, nor hear your words, as ye go forth out of that house or that city, shake off the dust of your feet. Verily I say unto you, It shall be more tolerable for the land of Sodom and Gomorrah in the day of judgement, than for that city.

16 Behold, I send you forth as sheep in the midst of wolves: be ye therefore wise as serpents, and <sup>16</sup>harmless as doves. But beware of men: for they will deliver you up to councils, and in their synagogues they will scourge you; yea and before governors and kings shall ye be brought for my sake, for a testimony to them and to the Gentiles.

19 But when they deliver you up, be not anxious how or what ye shall speak: for it shall be given you in that hour what ye shall speak. For it is not ye that speak, but the Spirit of your Father that speaketh in you. And brother shall deliver up brother to death, and the father his child; and children shall rise up against parents, and <sup>1</sup> cause them to be put to death. And ye shall be hated of all men for my name's sake: but he that endureth to the end, the same shall be saved. But when they persecute you in this city, flee into the next: for verily I say unto you, Ye shall not have gone through the cities of Israel, till the Son of man be come.
24 A disciple is not above his <sup>2</sup> master, nor a <sup>3</sup> servant above his lord.
25 It is enough for the disciple that he be as his <sup>2</sup> master, and the <sup>3</sup> servant as his lord. If they have called the master of the house <sup>4</sup> Beelzebub, how much more shall they call them of his household! Fear them not therefore: for there is nothing covered, that shall not be revealed; and hid, that shall not be known.
27 What I tell you in the darkness, speak ye in the light: and what ye hear in the ear, proclaim upon the housetops. And be not afraid of them which kill the body, but are not able to kill the soul: but rather fear him which is able to destroy both soul and body in <sup>5</sup> hell. Are not two sparrows sold for a farthing? and not one of them shall fall on the ground without your Father: but the very hairs of your head are all numbered. Fear not therefore; ye are of more value than many sparrows. Every one therefore who shall confess <sup>6</sup> me before men, <sup>7</sup> him will I also confess before my Father which is in heaven. But whosoever shall deny me before men, him will I also deny before my Father which is in heaven.
34 Think not that I came to <sup>8</sup> send peace on the earth: I came not to <sup>8</sup> send peace, but a sword. For I came to set a man at variance against his father, and the daughter against her mother, and the daughter in law against her mother in law: and a man's foes shall be they of his own household. He that loveth father or mother more than me is not worthy of me; and he that loveth son or daughter more than me is not worthy of me.
38 And he that doth not take his cross and follow after me, is not worthy of me. He that <sup>9</sup> findeth his <sup>10</sup> life shall lose it; and he that <sup>11</sup> loseth his <sup>10</sup> life for my sake shall find it.
40 He that receiveth you receiveth me, and he that receiveth me receiveth him that sent me. He that receiveth a prophet in the name of a prophet shall receive a prophet's reward; and he that receiveth a righteous man in the name of a righteous man shall receive a righteous man's reward. And whosoever shall give to drink unto one of these little ones a cup of cold water only, in the name of a disciple, verily I say unto you, he shall in no wise lose his reward.

11 And it came to pass, when Jesus had made an end of commanding his twelve disciples, he departed thence to teach and preach in their cities.

2 Now when John heard in the prison the works of the Christ, he sent by his disciples, and said unto him, Art thou he that cometh, or look we for another? And Jesus answered and said unto them, Go your way and tell John the things which ye do hear and see: the blind receive their sight, and the lame walk, the lepers are cleansed, and the deaf hear, and the dead are raised up, and the poor have <sup>12</sup> good tidings preached to them. And blessed is he, whosoever shall find none occasion of stumbling in me. And as these went their way, Jesus began to say unto the multitudes concerning John, What went ye out into the wilderness to behold? a reed shaken with the wind? But what went ye out for to see? a man clothed in soft raiment? Behold, they that wear soft raiment are in kings' houses. <sup>13</sup> But wherefore went ye out? to see a prophet? Yea, I say unto you, and much more than 10 a prophet. This is he, of whom it is written,

Behold, I send my messenger before thy face,

Who shall prepare thy way before thee.

11 Verily I say unto you, Among them that are born of women there hath not arisen a greater than John the Baptist: yet he that is <sup>14</sup> but little in the kingdom of heaven is greater than he. And from the days of John the Baptist until now the kingdom of heaven suffereth violence, and men of violence take it by force.
13 For all the prophets and the law prophesied until John. And if ye are willing to receive <sup>15</sup> it, this is Elijah, which is to come. He that hath ears <sup>16</sup> to hear, let him hear.
16 But whereunto shall I liken this generation? It is like unto children sitting in the marketplaces, which call unto their fellows, and say, We piped unto you, and ye did not dance; we wailed, and ye did not mourn. For John came neither eating nor drinking, and they say, He hath a <sup>18</sup> devil. The Son of man came eating and drinking, and they say, Behold, a gluttonous man, and a winebibber, a friend of publicans and sinners! And wisdom <sup>19</sup> is justified by her <sup>20</sup> works.

12 At that season Jesus went on the sabbath day through the cornfields; and his disciples were an hungry, and began to pluck ears of corn, and to eat. But the Pharisees, when they saw it, said unto him, Behold, thy disciples do that which it is not lawful to do upon the sabbath. But he said unto them, Have ye not read what David did, when he was an hungry, and they that were with him; how he entered into the house of God, and <sup>2</sup> did eat the shewbread, which it was not lawful for him to eat, neither for them that were with him, but only for the priests? Or have ye not read in the law, how that on the sabbath day the priests in the temple profane the sabbath, and are guiltless? But I say unto you that <sup>1</sup> one greater than the temple is here. 9 And he departed thence, and went into their synagogue: and behold, a man having a withered hand. And they asked him, saying, Is it lawful to heal on the sabbath day? that they might accuse him. And he said unto them, What man shall there be of you, that shall have one sheep, and if this fall into a pit on the sabbath day, will he not lay hold on it, and lift it out? How much then is a man of more value than a sheep! Wherefore it is lawful to do good on the sabbath day. Then saith he to the man, Stretch forth thy hand. And he stretched it forth: and it was restored whole, as the other. But the Pharisees went out, and took counsel against him, how they might destroy him. And Jesus perceiving it withdrew from thence: and many followed him; and he healed them all, and charged them that they should not make him known: that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by Isaiah the prophet, saying,

18 Behold, my servant whom I have chosen;
My beloved in whom my soul is well pleased:
I will put my Spirit upon him,
And he shall declare judgement to the Gentiles.

19 He shall not strive, nor cry aloud;
Neither shall any one hear his voice in the streets.

20 A bruised reed shall he not break,
And smoking fax shall he not quench,
Till he send forth judgement unto victory.

21 And in his name shall the Gentiles hope.

22 Then was brought unto him <sup>2</sup> one possessed with a devil, blind and dumb: and he healed him, inasmuch that the dumb man spake and saw. And all the multitudes were amazed, and said, Is this the son of David? But when the Pharisees heard it, they said, This man doth not cast out devils, but <sup>10</sup> by Beelzebub the prince of the devils.

23 And knowing their thoughts he said unto them, Every kingdom divided against itself is brought to desolation: and every city or house divided against itself shall not stand:

26 and if Satan casteth out Satan, he is divided against himself: how then shall his kingdom stand? and if I <sup>10</sup> by Beelzebub cast out devils,

10 by whom do your sons cast them out? therefore shall they be your judges. But if I <sup>10</sup> by the Spirit of God cast out devils, then is the kingdom of God come upon you. 13 On that day went Jesus out of the house, and sat by the sea side. 2 And there were gathered unto him great multitudes, so that he entered into a boat, and sat; and all the multitude stood on the beach. And he spake to them many things in parables, saying, Behold, the sower went forth to sow; and as he sowed, some seeds fell by the way side, and the birds came and devoured them: 5 and others fell upon the rocky places, where they had not much earth: and straightway they sprang up, because they had no deepness of earth: 6 and when the sun was risen, they were scorched; and because they had no root, they withered away. 7 And others fell upon the thorns; and the thorns grew up, and choked them: and others fell upon the good ground, and yielded fruit, some a hundredfold, some sixty, some thirty. 9 He that hath ears<sup>8</sup>, let him hear. 10 And the disciples came, and said unto him, Why speakest thou unto them in parables? And he answered and said unto them, Unto you it is given to know the mysteries of the kingdom of heaven, but to them it is not given. For whosoever hath, to him shall be given, and he shall have abundance: but whosoever hath not, from him shall be taken away even that which he hath. 13 Therefore speak I to them in parables; because seeing they see not, and hearing they hear not, neither do they understand. And unto them is fulfilled the prophecy of Isaiah, which saith, By hearing ye shall hear, and shall in no wise understand; And seeing ye shall see, and shall in no wise perceive: 15 For this people's heart is waxed gross, And their ears are dull of hearing, And their eyes they have closed; Lest haply they should perceive with their eyes, And hear with their ears, And understand with their heart, And should turn again, And I should heal them. 16 But blessed are your eyes, for they see; and your ears, for they hear. 17 For verily I say unto you, that many prophets and righteous men desired to see the things which ye see, and saw them not; and to hear the things which ye hear, and heard them not. Hear then ye the parable of the sower. When any one heareth the word of the kingdom, and understandeth it not, then cometh the evil one, and snatcheth away that which hath been sown in his heart. This is he that was sown by the way side. And he that was sown upon the rocky places, this is he that heareth the word, and straightway with joy receiveth it; yet hath he not root in himself, but endureth for a while; and when tribulation or persecution ariseth

As therefore the tares are gathered up and burned with fire; so shall it be in <sup>8</sup> the end of the world. The Son of man shall send forth his angels, and they shall gather out of his kingdom all things that cause stumbling, and them that do iniquity, and shall cast them into the furnace of fire: there shall be the weeping and gnashing of teeth. Then shall the righteous shine forth as the sun in the kingdom of their Father. He that hath ears, let him hear.
1 Or, age	24 Another parable set he before them, saying, The kingdom of heaven is likened unto a man that sowed good seed in his field: but while men slept, his enemy came and sowed <sup>2</sup> tares also among the wheat, and went away. But when the blade sprang up, and brought forth fruit, then appeared the tares also. And the <sup>3</sup> servants of the householder came and said unto him, Sir, didst thou not sow good seed in thy field? whence then hath it tares?	44 The kingdom of heaven is like unto a treasure hidden in the field; which a man found, and hid; and <sup>9</sup> in his joy he goeth and selleth all that he hath, and buyeth that field.	9 Or, for joy thereof
2 Or, darnel	25 And he said unto them, <sup>4</sup> An enemy hath done this. And the <sup>5</sup> servants say unto him, Wilt thou then that we go and gather them up? But he saith, Nay; lest haply while ye gather up the tares, ye root up the wheat with them. Let both grow together until the harvest: and in the time of the harvest I will say to the reapers, Gather up first the tares, and bind them in bundles to burn them: but gather the wheat into my barn.	45 Again, the kingdom of heaven is like unto a man that is a merchant seeking goodly pearls; and having found one pearl of great price, he went and sold all that he had, and bought it.
3 Gr. bondservants.	31 Another parable set he before them, saying, The kingdom of heaven is like unto a grain of mustard seed, which a man took, and sowed in his field: which indeed is less than all seeds; but when it is grown, it is greater than the herbs, and becometh a tree, so that the birds of the heaven come and lodge in the branches thereof.	46 Again, the kingdom of heaven is like unto a <sup>10</sup> net, that was cast into the sea, and gathered of every kind: which, when it was filled, they drew up on the beach; and they sat down, and gathered the good into vessels, and but the bad they cast away. 4 Gr. A man that is an enemy.	33 Another parable spake he unto them; The kingdom of heaven is like unto leaven, which a woman took, and hid in three <sup>6</sup> measures of meal, till it was all leavened.	51 Have ye understood all these things? They say unto him, Yea.
	34 All these things spake Jesus in parables unto the multitudes: and without a parable spake he nothing unto them: that it might be fulfilled which was spoken <sup>6</sup> by the prophet, saying, I will open my mouth in parables: I will utter things hidden from the foundation <sup>7</sup> of the world.	52 And he said unto them, Therefore every scribe who hath been made a disciple to the kingdom of heaven is like unto a man that is a householder, which bringeth forth out of his treasure things new and old.
5 The word in the Greek denotes the Hebrew seah, a measure containing nearly a peck and a half.	35 Then he left the multitudes, and went into the house: and his disciples came unto him, saying, Explain unto us the parable of the tares of the field. And he answered and said, He that soweth the good seed is the Son of man; and the field is the world; and the good seed, these are the sons of the kingdom; and the tares are the sons of the evil one; and the enemy that sowed them is the devil: and the harvest is <sup>8</sup> the	53 And it came to pass, when Jesus had finished these parables, he departed thence. And coming into his own country he taught them in their synagogue, inasmuch that they were astonished, and said, Whence hath this man this wisdom, and these <sup>11</sup> mighty works? Is not this the carpenter's son? Is not his mother called Mary? and his brethren, James, and Joseph, and Simon, and Judas? And his sisters, are they not all with us? Whence then hath this man all these things? And they were <sup>12</sup> offended in him. But Jesus said unto them, A prophet is not without honour, save in his own country, and in his own house.  5 And when he would have put him to death, he feared the multitude, because they counted him as a prophet. But when Herod's birthday came, the daughter of Herodias danced in the midst, and pleased
 7 Herod. Whereupon he promised with an oath to give her whatsoever she should ask. And she, being put forward by her mother, saith, Give me here in a charger the head of John the Baptist. And the king was grieved; but for the sake of his oaths, and of them which sat at meat with him, he commanded it to be given; and he sent, and beheaded John in the prison. And his head was brought in a charger, and given to the damsel; and she brought it to her mother. And his disciples came, and took up the corpse, and buried him; and they went and told Jesus.
 13 Now when Jesus heard it, he withdrew from thence in a boat, to a desert place apart: and when the multitudes heard thereof, they followed him 1 on foot from the cities.
 14 And he came forth, and saw a great multitude, and he had compassion on them, and healed their sick.
 15 And when even was come, the disciples came to him, saying, The place is desert, and the time is already past; send the multitudes away, that they may go into the villages, and buy themselves food.
 16 But Jesus said unto them, They have no need to go away; give ye them to eat. And they say unto him, We have here but five loaves, and two fishes. And he said, Bring them hither to me. And he commanded the multitudes to <sup>2</sup>sit down on the grass; and he took the five loaves, and the two fishes, and looking up to heaven, he blessed, and brake and gave the loaves to the disciples, and the disciples to the multitudes. And they did all eat, and were filled: and they took up that which remained over of the broken pieces, twelve baskets full.
 21 And they that did eat were about five thousand men, beside women and children.
 22 And straightway he constrained the disciples to enter into the boat, and to go before him unto the other side, till he should send the multitudes away. And after he had sent the multitudes away, he went up into the mountain apart to pray: and when even was come, he was there alone.
 24 But the boat <sup>3</sup>was now in the midst of the sea, distressed by the waves; for the wind was contrary.
 25 And in the fourth watch of the night he came unto them, walking upon the sea. And when the disciples saw him walking on the sea, they were troubled, saying, It is an apparition; and they cried out in fear.
 27 But straightway Jesus spake unto them, saying, Be of good cheer; it is I; be not afraid. And Peter answered him and said, Lord, if it be thou, bid me come unto thee upon the waters. And he said, Come. And Peter went down from the boat, and walked upon the waters, <sup>4</sup>to come to Jesus. But when he saw the wind <sup>5</sup>, he was afraid; and beginning to sink, he cried out, saying, Lord, save me.

 31 And immediately Jesus stretched forth his hand, and took hold of him, and saith unto him, O thou of little faith, wherefore didst thou doubt? And when they were gone up into the boat, the wind ceased.
 33 And they that were in the boat worshipped him, saying, Of a truth thou art the Son of God.
 34 And when they had crossed over, they came to the land, unto Genesaret. And when the men of that place knew him, they sent into all that region roundabout, and brought unto him all that were sick; and they besought him that they might only touch the border of his garment: and as many as touched were made whole.

15 Then there come to Jesus from Jerusalem Pharisees and scribes, saying, Why do thy disciples transgress the tradition of the elders? for they wash not their hands when they eat bread. And he answered and said unto them, Why do ye also transgress the commandment of God because of your tradition? For God said, Honour thy father and thy mother: and, He that speaketh evil of father or mother, let him <sup>6</sup>die the death. But ye say, Whosoever shall say to his father or his mother, That wherewith thou mightest have been profited by me is given <sup>7</sup>to God; he shall not honour his father? And ye have made void the word of God because of your tradition. Yehypocrites, well did Isaiah prophesy of you, saying,
 8 This people honoureth me with their lips; But their heart is far from me.
 9 But in vain do they worship me, Teaching as their doctrines the precepts of men.
 10 And he called to him the multitude, and said unto them, Hear, and understand: Not that which entereth into the mouth defileth the man; but that which proceedeth out of the mouth, this defileth the man.
 12 Then came the disciples, and said unto him, Knowest thou that the Pharisees were <sup>8</sup>offended, when they heard this saying? But he answered and said, Every <sup>9</sup>plant which my heavenly Father planted not, shall be rooted up. Let them alone: they are blind guides. And if the blind guide the blind, both shall fall into a pit.
 15 And Peter answered and said unto him, Declare unto us the parable. And he said, Are ye also even yet without understanding? Perceive ye not, that whatsoever goeth into the mouth passeth into the belly, and is cast out into the draught? But the things which proceed out of the mouth come forth out of the heart; and they defile the man. For out of the heart come forth evil thoughts, murders, adulteries, fornications, thefts, false witness, railings: these are the things which defile the man: but to eat with unwashen hands defileth not the man.

21 And Jesus went out thence, and withdrew into the parts of Tyre and Sidon. And behold, a Canaanitish woman came out from those borders, and cried, saying, Have mercy on me, O Lord, thou son of David: my daughter is grievously vexed with a devil. But he answered her not a word. And his disciples came and besought him, saying, Send her away: for she crieth after us. But he answered and said, I was not sent but unto the lost sheep of the house of Israel. But she came and worshipped him, saying, Lord, help me. And he answered and said, It is not meet to take the children's bread and cast it to the dogs. But she said, Yea, Lord: for even the dogs eat of the crumbs which fall from their masters' table. Then Jesus answered and said unto her, O woman, great is thy faith: be it done unto thee even as thou wilt. And her daughter was healed from that hour.

23 And Jesus departed thence, and came nigh unto the sea of Galilee: and he went up into the mountain, and sat there. And there came unto him great multitudes, leaving with them the lame, blind, dumb, maimed, and many others: and they cast them down at his feet: and he healed them: insomuch that the multitude wondered, when they saw the dumb speaking, the maimed walking, and the blind seeing: and they glorified the God of Israel.

32 And Jesus called unto him his disciples, and said, I have compassion on the multitude, because they continue with me now three days, and have nothing to eat: and I would not send them away fasting, lest haply they faint in the way. And the disciples say unto him, Whence should we have so many loaves in a desert place, as to fill so great a multitude? And Jesus saith unto them, How many loaves have ye? And they said, Seven, and a few small fishes. And he commanded the multitude to sit down on the ground, and he took the seven loaves and the fishes, and he gave thanks and brake, and gave to the disciples, and the disciples to the multitudes. And they did all eat, and were filled: and they took up that which remained over of the broken pieces, seven baskets full.

38 And they that did eat were four thousand men, beside women and children. And he sent away the multitudes, and entered into the boat, and came into the borders of Magadan.

16 And the Pharisees and Sadducees came, and tempting him asked him to shew them a sign from heaven. But he answered and said unto them, When it is evening, ye say, It will be fair weather: for the heaven is red. And in the morning, It will be foul weather to-day: for the heaven is red and lowring. Ye know how to discern the face of the heaven; but ye cannot discern the signs of the times. An evil and adulterous generation seeketh after a sign, and there shall no sign be given unto it, but the sign of Jonah. And he left them, and departed.

5 And the disciples came to the other side and forgot to take bread. 6 And Jesus said unto them, Take heed and beware of the leaven of the Pharisees and Sadducees. And they reasoned among themselves, 8 saying, We took no bread. And Jesus perceiving it said, O ye of little faith, why reason ye among yourselves, because ye have no bread? Do ye not yet perceive, neither remember the five loaves of the five thousand, and how many baskets ye took up? Neither the seven loaves of the four thousand, and how many baskets ye took up? 11 How is it that ye do not perceive that I spake not to you concerning bread? But beware of the leaven of the Pharisees and Sadducees. Then understood they how that he bade them not beware of the leaven of bread, but of the teaching of the Pharisees and Sadducees.

13 Now when Jesus came into the parts of Caesarea Philippi, he asked his disciples, saying, Who do men say that the Son of man is? And they said, Some say John the Baptist; some, Elijah, and others, Jeremiah, or one of the prophets. He saith unto them, But who say ye that I am? And Simon Peter answered and said, Thou art the Christ, the Son of the living God. 17 And Jesus answered and said unto him, Blessed art thou, Simon Bar-Jonah: for flesh and blood hath not revealed it unto thee, but my Father which is in heaven. And I also say unto thee, that thou art Peter, and upon this rock I will build my church: and the gates of Hades shall not prevail against it. 19 I will give unto thee the keys of the kingdom of heaven: and whatsoever thou shalt bind on earth shall be bound in heaven, and whatsoever thou shalt loose on earth shall be loosed in heaven. Then charged he the disciples that they should tell no man that he was the Christ.

21 From that time began Jesus to shew unto his disciples, how that he must go unto Jerusalem, and suffer many things of the elders and chief priests and scribes, and be killed, and the third day be raised up.

22 And Peter took him, and began to rebuke him, saying, I Be it far from thee, Lord: this shall never be unto thee. But he turned, and said unto Peter, Get thee behind me, Satan: thou art a stumblingblock unto me: for thou mindest not the things of God, but the things of men. Then said Jesus unto his disciples, If any man would come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross, and follow me. For whosoever would save his <sup>2</sup>life shall lose it: and whosoever shall lose his <sup>2</sup>life for my sake shall find it. For what shall a man be profited, if he shall gain the whole world, and forfeit his <sup>2</sup>life? or what shall a man give in exchange for his <sup>2</sup>life? For the Son of man shall come in the glory of his Father with his angels; and then shall he render unto every man according to his <sup>3</sup>deeds. Verily I say unto you, There be some of them that stand here, which shall in no wise taste of death, till they see the Son of man coming in his kingdom.

17 And after six days Jesus taketh with him Peter, and James, and John his brother, and bringeth them up into a high mountain apart: and he was transfigured before them: and his face did shine as the sun, and his garments became white as the light. And behold, there appeared unto them Moses and Elijah talking with him. And Peter answered, and said unto Jesus, Lord, it is good for us to be here: if thou wilt, I will make here three <sup>4</sup>tabernacles: one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elijah. While he was yet speaking, behold, a bright cloud overshadowed them: and behold, a voice out of the cloud, saying, This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased; hear ye him.
6 And when the disciples heard it, they fell on their face, and were sore afraid. And Jesus came and touched them and said, Arise, and be not afraid. And lifting up their eyes, they saw no one, save Jesus only.
9 And as they were coming down from the mountain, Jesus commanded them, saying, Tell the vision to no man, until the Son of man be risen from the dead. And his disciples asked him, saying, Why then say the scribes that Elijah must first come? And he answered and said, Elijah indeed cometh, and shall restore all things: but I say unto you, that Elijah is come already, and they knew him not, but did unto him whatsoever they listed. Even so shall the Son of man also suffer of them. Then understood the disciples that he spake unto them of John the Baptist.

14 And when they were come to the multitude, there came to him a man, kneeling to him, and saying,
15 Lord, have mercy on my son: for he is epileptic, and suffereth grievously: for oft-times he falleth into the fire, and oft-times into the water.
16 And I brought him to thy disciples, and they could not cure him. And Jesus answered and said, O faithless and perverse generation, how long shall I be with you? how long shall I bear with you? bring him hither to me. And Jesus rebuked him; and the <sup>5</sup>devil went out from him; and the boy was cured from that hour.
19 Then came the disciples to Jesus apart, and said, Why could not we cast it out? And he saith unto them, Because of your little faith: for verily I say unto you, If ye have faith as a grain of mustard seed, ye shall say unto this mountain, Remove hence to yonder place; and it shall remove; and nothing shall be impossible unto you.<sup>6</sup>

22 And while they <sup>7</sup>abode in Galilee, Jesus said unto them, The Son of man shall be delivered up into the hands of men: and they shall kill him, and the third day he shall be raised up. And they were exceedingly sorry.

24 And when they were come to Capernaum, they that received the <sup>8</sup>half-shekel came to Peter, and said, Doth not your <sup>9</sup>master pay the <sup>8</sup>half-shekel? He saith, Yea. And when he came into the house, Jesus spake first to him, saying, What thinkest thou, Simon? the kings of the earth, from whom do they receive toll or tribute? from their sons, or from strangers? And when he said, From strangers, Jesus said unto him, Therefore the sons are free. But, lest we cause them to stumble, go thou to the sea, and cast a hook, and take up the fish that first cometh up; and when thou hast opened his mouth, thou shalt find a <sup>10</sup>shekel: that take, and give unto them for me and thee.

18 In that hour came the disciples unto Jesus, saying, Who then is <sup>11</sup>greatest in the kingdom of heaven? And he called to him a little child, and set him in the midst of them, and said, Verily I say unto you, Except ye turn, and become as little children, ye shall in no wise enter into the kingdom of heaven.
4 Whosoever therefore shall humble himself as this little child, the same is the <sup>11</sup>greatest in the kingdom of heaven. And whoso shall receive one such little child in my name
6 receiveth me: but whoso shall cause one of these little ones which believe on me to stumble, it is profitable for him that <sup>12</sup>a great millstone should be hanged about his neck, and that he should be sunk in the depth of the sea. 14 Even so it is not<sup>3</sup> the will of<sup>4</sup> your Father which is in heaven, that one of these little ones should perish.

15 And if thy brother sin<sup>5</sup> against thee, go, shew him his fault between thee and him alone: if he hear thee,

21 Then came Peter, and said to him, Lord, how oft shall my brother sin against me, and I forgive him? until seven times? Jesus saith unto him, I say not unto thee, Until seven times; but, Until<sup>7</sup> seventy times

22 seven. Therefore is the kingdom of heaven likened unto a certain king, which would make a reckoning with his<sup>8</sup> servants. And when he had begun to reckon, one was brought unto him, which owed him ten thousand

23 talents. But forasmuch as he had not wherewith to pay, his lord commanded him to be sold, and his wife, and children, and all that he had, and payment to be made.

24 The<sup>10</sup> servant therefore fell down and worshipped him, saying, Lord, have patience with me, and I will pay thee all. And the lord of that

25 servant, being moved with compassion, released him, and forgave him the<sup>11</sup> debt. But that<sup>10</sup> servant went out, and found one of his fellow-servants, which owed him a hundred<sup>12</sup> pence: and he laid hold on him, and took him by the throat, saying, Pay what thou owest. So his fellow-servant fell down and besought him, saying, Have patience with me, and I will pay thee. And he would not: but went and cast him into prison, till he should pay that which was due. So when his fellow-servants saw what was done, they were exceeding sorry, and came and told unto their lord all that was done. Then his lord called him unto him, and saith to him, Thou wicked<sup>10</sup> servant, I forgave thee all that debt, because thou besoughtest me: shouldst not thou also have had mercy on thy fellow-servant, even as I had mercy on thee? And his lord was wroth, and delivered him to the tormentors, till he should pay all that was due. So shall also my heavenly Father do unto you, if ye forgive not every one his brother from your hearts.

3 And there came unto him<sup>13</sup> Pharisees, tempting him, and saying, Is it lawful for a man to put away his wife for every cause? And he answered and said, Have ye not read, that he which<sup>14</sup> made them from the beginning made them male and female, and said, For this cause shall a man leave his father and mother, and shall cleave to his wife: and the twain shall become one flesh? So that they are no more twain, but one flesh. What therefore God hath joined together, let

7 not man put asunder. They say unto him, Why then did Moses command to give a bill of divorce, and to put her away? He saith unto them, Moses for your hardness of heart suffered you to put away your wives: but from the beginning it hath not been so. And I say unto you, Whosoever shall put away his wife, except for fornication, and shall marry another, committeth adultery: and he that marrieth her when she is put away committeth adultery. The disciples say unto him, If the case of the man is so with his wife, it is not expedient to marry. But he said unto them, All men cannot receive this saying, but they to whom it is given. For there are eunuchs, which were so born from their mother's womb: and there are eunuchs, which were made eunuchs by men: and there are eunuchs, which made themselves eunuchs for the kingdom of heaven's sake. He that is able to receive it, let him receive it.

13 Then were there brought unto him little children, that he should lay his hands on them, and pray: and the disciples rebuked them. But Jesus said, Suffer the little children, and forbid them not, to come unto me: for of such is the kingdom of heaven. And he laid his hands on them, and departed thence.

16 And behold, one came to him and said, <sup>12</sup> Master, what good thing shall I do, that I may have eternal life? And he said unto him, <sup>3</sup> Why askest thou me concerning that which is good? One there is who is good: but if thou wouldest enter into life, keep the commandments.

18 He saith unto him, Which? And Jesus said, Thou shalt not kill, Thou shalt not commit adultery, Thou shalt not steal, Thou shalt not bear false witness, Honour thy father and thy mother: and, Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself. The young man saith unto him, All these things have I observed: what lack I yet?

21 Jesus said unto him, If thou wouldest be perfect, go, sell that thou hast, and give to the poor, and thou shalt have treasure in heaven: and come, follow me. But when the young man heard the saying, he went away sorrowful: for he was one that had great possessions.

23 And Jesus said unto his disciples, Verily I say unto you, It is hard for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of heaven. And again I say unto you, It is easier for a camel to go through a needle's eye, than for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of God. And when the disciples heard it, they were astonished exceedingly, saying, Who then can be saved? And Jesus looking upon them said to them, With men this is impossible: but with God all things are possible. Then answered Peter and said unto him, Lo, we have left all, and followed thee; what then shall we have? And Jesus said unto them, Verily I say unto you, that ye which have followed me, in the regeneration when the Son of man shall sit on the throne of his glory, ye also shall sit upon twelve thrones, judging the twelve tribes of Israel.

20 And every one that hath left houses, or brethren, or sisters, or father, or mother, <sup>4</sup> or children, or lands, for my name's sake, shall receive <sup>5</sup> a hundredfold, and shall inherit eternal life. But many shall be last that are first; and first that are last.

20 For the kingdom of heaven is like unto a man that is a householder, which went out early in the morning to hire labourers into his vineyard. And when he had agreed with the labourers for a <sup>6</sup> penny a day, he sent them into his vineyard.

3 And he went out about the third hour, and saw others standing in the marketplace idle; and to them he said, Go ye also into the vineyard, and whatsoever is right I will give you. And they went their way.

5 Again he went out about the sixth and the ninth hour, and did likewise. And about the eleventh hour he went out, and found others standing; and he saith unto them, Why stand ye here all the day idle? They say unto him, Because no man hath hired us. He saith unto them, Go ye also into the vineyard. And when even was come, the lord of the vineyard saith unto his steward, Call the labourers, and pay them their hire, beginning from the last unto the first. And when they came that were hired about the eleventh hour, they received every man a <sup>6</sup> penny. And when the first came, they supposed that they would receive more; and they likewise received every man a <sup>6</sup> penny. And when they received it, they murmured against the householder, saying, These last have spent but one hour, and thou hast made them equal unto us, which have borne the burden of the day and the scorching heat. But he answered and said to one of them, Friend, I do thee no wrong: didst not thou agree with me for a <sup>6</sup> penny? Take up that which is thine, and go thy way; it is my will to give unto this last, even as unto thee. Is it not lawful for me to do what I will with mine own? or is thine eye evil, because I am good? So the last shall be first, and the first last.

17 And as Jesus was going up to Jerusalem, he took the twelve disciples apart, and in the way he said unto them, Behold, we go up to Jerusalem; and the Son of man shall be delivered unto the chief priests and scribes; and they shall condemn him to death, and shall deliver him unto the Gentiles to mock, and to scourge, and to crucify: and the third day he shall be raised up.

20 Then came to him the mother of the sons of Zebedee with her sons, worshipping him, and asking a certain thing of him. And he said unto her, What wouldest thou? She saith unto him, Command that these my two sons may sit, one on thy right hand, and one on thy left hand, in thy kingdom. But Jesus answered and said, Ye know not what ye ask. Are ye able to drink the cup that I am about to drink? They say unto him, We are able. He saith unto them, My cup indeed ye shall drink: but to sit on my right hand, and on my left hand, is not mine to give, but it is for them for whom it hath been prepared of my Father. And when the ten heard it, they were moved with indignation concerning the two brethren. But Jesus called them unto him, and said, Ye know that the rulers of the Gentiles lord it over them, and their great ones exercise authority over them. Not so shall it be among you: but whosoever would become great among

27 you shall be your <sup>1</sup> minister; and whosoever would be first among you shall be your <sup>2</sup> servant: even as the Son of man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister, and to give his life a ransom for many.

29 And as they went out from Jericho, a great multitude followed him. And behold, two blind men sitting by the way side, when they heard that Jesus was passing by, cried out, saying, Lord, have mercy on us, thou son of David. And the multitude rebuked them, that they should hold their peace: but they cried out the more, saying, Lord, have mercy on us, thou son of David. And Jesus stood still, and called them, and said, What will ye that I should do unto you? They say unto him, Lord, that our eyes may be opened. And Jesus, being moved with compassion, touched their eyes: and straightway they received their sight, and followed him.

21 And when they drew nigh unto Jerusalem, and came unto Bethphage, unto the mount of Olives, <sup>2</sup> then Jesus sent two disciples, saying unto them, Go into the village that is over against you, and straightway ye shall find an ass tied, and a colt with her: loose them, and bring them unto me. And if any one say aught unto you, ye shall say, The Lord hath need of them: and straightway he will send them. Now this is come to pass, that it might be fulfilled which was spoken <sup>3</sup> by the prophet, saying,

5 Tell ye the daughter of Zion, Behold, thy King cometh unto thee, Meek, and riding upon an ass, And upon a colt the foal of an ass.

6 And the disciples went, and did even as Jesus appointed them, and brought the ass, and the colt, and put on them their garments; and he sat thereon. And the most part of the multitude spread their garments in the way; and others cut branches from the trees, and spread them in the way. And the multitudes that went before him, and that followed, cried, saying, Hosanna to the son of David: Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord; Hosanna in the highest. And when he was come into Jerusalem, all the city was stirred, saying, Who is this? And the multitudes said, This is the prophet, Jesus, from Nazareth of Galilee.

12 And Jesus entered into the temple <sup>4</sup> of God, and cast out all them that sold and bought in the temple, and overthrew the tables of the money-changers, and the seats of them that sold the doves; and he saith unto them, It is written, My house shall be called a house of prayer: but ye have made it a den of robbers. And the blind and the lame came to him in the temple: and he healed them.

15 But when the chief priests and the scribes saw the wonderful things that he did, and the children that were crying in the temple and saying, Hosanna to the son of David; they were moved with indignation. 16 And said unto him, Hearst thou what these are saying? And Jesus saith unto them, Yea: did ye never read, Out of the mouth of babes and sucklings thou hast perfected praise? And he left them, and went forth out of the city to Bethany, and lodged there.

18 Now in the morning as he returned to the city, he hungered. And seeing <sup>5</sup> a fig tree by the way side, he came to it, and found nothing thereon, but leaves only; and he saith unto it, Let there be no fruit from thee henceforward for ever. And immediately the fig tree withered away. And when the disciples saw it, they marvelled, saying, How did the fig tree immediately wither away? And Jesus answered and said unto them, Verily I say unto you, If ye have faith, and doubt not, ye shall not only do what is done to the fig tree, but even if ye shall say unto this mountain, Be thou taken up and cast into the sea, it shall be done. And all things, whatsoever ye shall ask in prayer, believing, ye shall receive.

23 And when he was come into the temple, the chief priests and the elders of the people came unto him as he was teaching, and said, By what authority doest thou these things? and who gave thee this authority? And Jesus answered and said unto them, I also will ask you one <sup>6</sup> question, which if ye tell me, I likewise will tell you by what authority I do these things. The baptism of John, whence was it? from heaven or from men? And they reasoned with themselves, saying, If we shall say, From heaven; he will say unto us, Why then did ye not believe him? But if we shall say, From men; we fear the multitude; for all hold John as a prophet. And they answered Jesus, and said, We know not. He also said unto them, Neither tell I you by what authority I do these things. But what think ye? A man had two sons; and he came to the first, and said, <sup>7</sup> Son, go work to-day in the vineyard. And he answered and said, I will not: but afterward he repented himself, and went. And he came to the second, and said likewise. And he answered and said, I go, sir, and went not. Whether of the two did the will of his father? They say, The first. Jesus saith unto them, Verily I say unto you, that the publicans and the harlots go into the kingdom of God before you. For John came unto you in the way of righteousness, and ye believed him not: but the publicans and the harlots believed him: and ye, when ye saw it, did not even repent yourselves afterward, that ye might believe him.

- 33 Hear another parable: There was a man that was a householder, which planted a vineyard, and set a hedge about it, and digged a winepress in it, and built a tower, and let it out to husbandmen, and went into another country. And when the season of the fruits drew near, he sent his <sup>1</sup>servants to the husbandmen, to receive <sup>2</sup>his fruits.
- 35 And the husbandmen took his <sup>1</sup>servants, and beat one, and killed another, and stoned another. Again, he sent other <sup>1</sup>servants more than the first: and they did unto them in like manner. But afterward he sent unto them his son, saying,
- 38 They will reverence my son. But the husbandmen, when they saw the son, said among themselves, This is the heir; come, let us kill him, and take his inheritance.
- 39 And they took him, and cast him forth out of the vineyard, and killed him. When therefore the lord of the vineyard shall come, what will he do unto those husbandmen? They say unto him, He will miserably destroy those miserable men, and will let out the vineyard unto other husbandmen, which shall render him the fruits in their seasons. Jesus saith unto them, Did ye never read in the scriptures,

The stone which the builders rejected,

The same was made the head of the corner:

This was from the Lord,

And it is marvellous in our eyes?

- 43 Therefore say I unto you, The kingdom of God shall be taken away from you, and shall be given to a nation bringing forth the fruits thereof. <sup>3</sup>And he that falleth on this stone shall be broken to pieces: but on whomsoever it shall fall, it will scatter him as dust. And when the chief priests and the Pharisees heard his parables, they perceived that he spake of them. And when they sought to lay hold on him, they feared the multitudes, because they took him for a prophet.

- 22 And Jesus answered and spake again in parables unto them, saying, The kingdom of heaven is likened unto a certain king, which made a marriage feast for his son, and sent forth his <sup>1</sup>servants to call them that were bidden to the marriage feast: and they would not come. Again he sent forth other <sup>1</sup>servants, saying, Tell them that are bidden, Behold, I have made ready my dinner: my oxen and my fatlings are killed, and all things are ready: come to the marriage feast. But they made light of it, and went their ways, one to his own farm, another to his merchandise: and the rest laid hold on his <sup>1</sup>servants, and entreated them

- 7 shamefully, and killed them. But the king was wroth; and he sent his armies, and destroyed those murderers, and burned their city. Then saith he to his <sup>1</sup>servants, The wedding is ready, but they that were bidden were not worthy. Go ye therefore unto the partings of the highways, and as many as ye shall find, bid to the marriage feast. And those <sup>1</sup>servants went out into the highways, and gathered together all as many as they found, both bad and good: and the wedding was filled with guests. But when the king came in to behold the guests, he saw there a man which had not on a wedding-garment: and he saith unto him, Friend, how camest thou in hither not having a wedding-garment? And he was speechless.
- 13 Then the king said to the <sup>4</sup>servants, Bind him hand and foot, and cast him out into the outer darkness; there shall be the weeping and gnashing of teeth. For many are called, but few chosen.
- 15 Then went the Pharisees, and took counsel how they might ensnare him in his talk. And they send to him their disciples, with the Herodians, saying, <sup>5</sup>Master, we know that thou art true, and teachest the way of God in truth, and carest not for any one: for thou regardest not the person of men. Tell us therefore, What thinkest thou? Is it lawful to give tribute unto Cæsar, or not? But Jesus perceived their wickedness, and said, Why tempt ye me, ye hypocrites? Shew me the tribute money. And they brought unto him a <sup>6</sup>penny. And he saith unto them,

- Whose is this image and superscription? They say unto him, Cæsar's. Then saith he unto them, Render therefore unto Cæsar the things that are Cæsar's; and unto God the things that are God's. And when they heard it, they marvelled, and left him, and went their way.
- 23 On that day there came to him Sadducees, <sup>7</sup>which say that there is no resurrection: and they asked him, saying, <sup>8</sup>Master, Moses said, If a man die, having no children, his brother <sup>9</sup>shall marry his wife, and raise up seed unto his brother. Now there were with us seven brethren: and the first married and deceased, and having no seed left his wife unto his brother; in like manner the second also, and the third, unto the <sup>10</sup>seventh. And after them all the woman died. In the resurrection therefore whose wife shall she be of the seven? for they all had her. But Jesus answered and said unto them, Ye do err, not knowing the scriptures, nor the power of God. For in the resurrection they neither marry, nor are given in marriage, but are as angels <sup>10</sup>in heaven.
- 31 But as touching the resurrection of the dead, have ye not read that which was spoken unto you by God, saying,

32 I am the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob? God is not the God of the dead, but of the living. And when the multitudes heard it, they were astonished at his teaching.

34 But the Pharisees, when they heard that he had put the Sadducees to silence, gathered themselves together. And one of them, a lawyer, asked him a question, tempting him, <sup>1</sup> Master, which is the great commandment in the law? And he said unto him, Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind. This is the great and first commandment.

39 <sup>2</sup> And a second like unto it is this, Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself. On these two commandments hangeth the whole law, and the prophets.

41 Now while the Pharisees were gathered together, Jesus asked them a question, saying, What think ye of the Christ? whose son is he? They say unto him, The son of David. He saith unto them, How then doth David in the Spirit call him Lord, saying,

44 The Lord said unto my Lord, Sit thou on my right hand. Till I put thine enemies underneath thy feet?

45 If David then calleth him Lord, how is he his son? And no one was able to answer him a word, neither durst any man from that day forth ask him any more questions.

23 Then spake Jesus to the multitudes and to his disciples, saying,

2 The scribes and the Pharisees sit on Moses' seat: all things therefore whatsoever they bid you, these do and observe: but do not ye after their works; for they say, and do not. Yes, they bind heavy burdens

3 and grievous to be borne, and lay them on men's shoulders; but they themselves will not move them with

5 their finger. But all their works they do for to be seen of men: for they make broad their phylacteries, and enlarge the borders of their garments, and love the chief place at feasts, and the chief seats in the

7 synagogues, and the salutations in the marketplaces, and to be called

8 of men, Rabbi. But be not ye called Rabbi: for one is your teacher,

9 and all ye are brethren. And call no man your father on the earth: for one is your Father, <sup>4</sup> which is in 10 heaven. Neither be ye called masters: for one is your master, even 11 the Christ. But he that is <sup>5</sup> greatest among you shall be your <sup>6</sup> servant.

12 And whosoever shall exalt himself shall be humbled; and whosoever shall humble himself shall be exalted.

13 But woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! because ye shut the kingdom of heaven <sup>7</sup> against men: for ye enter not in yourselves, neither suffer ye them that are entering in to enter. <sup>8</sup>

15 Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye compass sea and land to make one proselyte; and when he is become so, ye make him twofold more a son of <sup>9</sup> hell than yourselves.

16 Woe unto you, ye blind guides, which say, Whosoever shall swear by the <sup>10</sup> temple, it is nothing; but whosoever shall swear by the gold of the <sup>10</sup> temple, he is <sup>11</sup> a debtor.

17 Ye fools and blind: for whether is greater, the gold, or the <sup>10</sup> temple that hath sanctified the gold? And,

18 Whosoever shall swear by the altar, it is nothing; but whosoever shall swear by the gift that is upon it, he is <sup>11</sup> a debtor. Ye blind: for whether is greater, the gift, or the altar that sanctifieth the gift? He there-

19 fore that sweareth by the altar, sweareth by it, and by all things thereon. And he that sweareth by the <sup>10</sup> temple, sweareth by it, and

22 by him that dwelleth therein. And he that sweareth by the heaven, sweareth by the throne of God, and by him that sitteth thereon.

23 Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye tithe mint and <sup>12</sup> anise and cummin, and have left undone the weightier matters of the law, judgement, and mercy, and faith: but these ye ought to have done, and not to have left the other undone. Ye blind guides, which strain out the gnat, and swallow the camel.

25 Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye cleanse the outside of the cup and of the platter, but within they are full

26 of extortion and excess. Thou blind Pharisee, cleanse first the inside of the cup and of the platter, that the outside thereof may become clean also.

27 Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye are like unto whitened sepulchres, which outwardly appear beautiful, but inwardly are full of dead men's bones, and of all uncleanness. Even so ye also outwardly appear righteous unto men, but inwardly ye are full of hypocrisy and iniquity.

29 Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye build the sepulchres of the prophets, and garnish the tombs of the righteous,

30 and say, If we had been in the days of our fathers, we should not have been partakers with them in the blood of the prophets. Wherefore ye witness to yourselves, that ye are sons of them that slew the prophets. Fill ye up then the measure of your fathers. 37 O Jerusalem, Jerusalem, which killeth the prophets, and stoneth them that are sent unto her! how often would I have gathered thy children together, even as a hen gathereth her chickens under her wings, and ye would not! Behold, your house is left unto you <sup>1</sup> desolate. For I say unto you, Ye shall not see me henceforth, till ye shall say, Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord.

24 And Jesus went out from the temple, and was going on his way; and his disciples came to him to shew him the buildings of the temple. But he answered and said unto them, See ye not all these things? verily I say unto you, There shall not be left here one stone upon another, that shall not be thrown down.

3 And as he sat on the mount of Olives, the disciples came unto him privately, saying, Tell us, when shall these things be? and what shall be the sign of thy <sup>2</sup> coming.

4 And of <sup>3</sup> the end of the world? And Jesus answered and said unto them, Take heed that no man lead you astray. For many shall come in my name, saying, I am the Christ; and shall lead many astray. And ye shall hear of wars and rumours of wars: see that ye be not troubled: for these things must needs come to pass; but the end is not yet. For nation shall rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom: and there shall be famines and earthquakes in divers places. But all these things are the beginning of travail. Then shall they deliver you up unto tribulation, and shall kill you: and ye shall be hated of all the nations for my name's sake.

10 And then shall many stumble, and shall deliver up one another, and shall hate one another. And many false prophets shall arise, and shall lead many astray. And because iniquity shall be multiplied, the love of the many shall wax cold. But he that endureth to the end, he shall be saved. And <sup>4</sup> this gospel of the kingdom shall be preached in the whole <sup>5</sup> world for a testimony unto all the nations; and then shall the end come.

15 When therefore ye see the abomination of desolation, which was spoken of <sup>6</sup> by Daniel the prophet, standing in <sup>7</sup> the holy place (let him that readeth understand), then let them that are in Judaea flee unto the mountains: let him that is on the housetop not go down to take out the things that are in his house: and let him that is in the field not return back to take his cloak. But woe unto them that are with child and to them that give suck in those days! And pray ye that your flight be not in the winter, neither on a sabbath: for then shall be great tribulation, such as hath not been from the beginning of the world until now, no, nor ever shall be. And except those days had been shortened, no flesh would have been saved: but for the elect's sake those days shall be shortened. Then if any man shall say unto you, Lo, here is the Christ, or, Here, believe <sup>8</sup> it not. For there shall arise false Christs, and false prophets, and shall shew great signs and wonders; so as to lead astray, if possible, even the elect. Behold, I have told you beforehand. If therefore they shall say unto you, Behold, he is in the wilderness; go not forth: Behold, he is in the inner chambers; believe <sup>9</sup> it not. For as the lightning cometh forth from the east, and is seen even unto the west; so shall be the <sup>2</sup> coming of the Son of man. Wheresoever the carcase is, there will the <sup>10</sup> eagles be gathered together.

29 But immediately, after the tribulation of those days, the sun shall be darkened, and the moon shall not give her light, and the stars shall fall from heaven, and the powers of the heavens shall be shaken: and then shall appear the sign of the Son of man in heaven: and then shall all the tribes of the earth mourn, and they shall see the Son of man coming on the clouds of heaven with power and great glory. And he shall send forth his angels <sup>11</sup> with <sup>12</sup> a great sound of a trumpet, and they shall gather together his elect from the four winds, from one end of heaven to the other.

32 Now from the fig tree learn her parable: when her branch is now become tender, and putteth forth its leaves, ye know that the summer is nigh; even so ye also, when ye see all these things, know ye that <sup>13</sup> he is nigh, even at the doors.

34 Verily I say unto you, This generation shall not pass away, till all these things be accomplished. Heaven and earth shall pass away, but my words shall not pass away. But of that day and hour knoweth no one, not even the angels of heaven, <sup>14</sup> neither the Son, but the Father only. And as were the days of Noah, so shall be the <sup>2</sup> coming of the Son of man. For as in those days which were before the flood they were eating and drinking, marrying and giving in marriage, until the day that Noah entered into the ark, and they knew not until the flood came, and his goods. And unto one he gave five talents, to another two, to another one; to each according to his that received the two gained other went away and digged in the earth,

after a long time the lord of those received the five talents came and brought other five talents, saying, Lord, thou deliverdest unto me five talents: lo, I have gained other 21 five talents. His lord said unto him, Well done, good and faithful 4 servant: thou hast been faithful over a few things, I will set thee over many things: enter thou into 22 the joy of thy lord. And he also that received the two talents came and said, Lord, thou deliverdest unto me two talents: lo, I have 23 gained other two talents. His lord said unto him, Well done, good and faithful 4 servant: thou hast been faithful over a few things, I will set thee over many things: enter thou

24 into the joy of thy lord. And he also that had received the one talent came and said, Lord, I knew thee that thou art a hard man, reaping where thou didst not sow, and gathering where thou didst not scatter:

25 and I was afraid, and went away and hid thy talent in the earth: lo, thou hast thine own.

26 But his lord answered and said unto him, Thou wicked and slothful 4 servant, thou knewest that I reap where I sowed not, and gather-where I did not scatter; thou oughtest therefore to have put my money to the bankers, and at my coming I should have received back 28 mine own with interest. Take ye away therefore the talent from him, and give it unto him that hath the 29 ten talents. For unto every one that hath shall be given, and he shall have abundance: but from him that hath not, even that which 30 he hath shall be taken away. And cast ye out the unprofitable 4 servant into the outer darkness: there shall be the weeping and gnashing of teeth.

31 But when the Son of man shall come in his glory, and all the angels with him, then shall he sit on the 32 throne of his glory: and before him shall be gathered all the nations:

and he shall separate them one from another, as the shepherd sepa-rateth the sheep from the 8 goats:

33 and he shall set the sheep on his right hand, but the 8 goats on the left. Then shall the King say unto them on his right hand, Come, ye blessed of my Father, inherit the kingdom prepared for you from the foundation of the world: for I was an hungry, and ye gave me meat: I was thirsty, and ye gave me drink: I was a stranger, and ye these good

I was in prison, and ye came unto 37 me. Then shall the righteous answer him, saying, Lord, when saw we thee an hungred, and fed thee?
or athirst, and gave thee drink?
38 And when saw we thee a stranger, and took thee in? or naked, and 39 clothed thee? And when saw we thee sick, or in prison, and came 40 unto thee? And the King shall answer and say unto them, Verily I say unto you, Inasmuch as ye did it unto one of these my brethren, even 41 these least, ye did it unto me. Then shall he say also unto them on the left hand, <sup>1</sup>Depart from me, ye cursed, into the eternal fire which is prepared for the devil and his 42 angels: for I was an hungred, and ye gave me no meat: I was thirsty, 43 and ye gave me no drink: I was a stranger, and ye took me not in;
naked, and ye clothed me not; sick,
and in prison, and ye visited me 44 not. Then shall they also answer, saying, Lord, when saw we thee an hungred, or athirst, or a stranger, or naked, or sick, or in prison, and 45 did not minister unto thee? Then shall he answer them, saying, Verily
I say unto you, Inasmuch as ye did it not unto one of these least, ye did 46 it not unto me. And these shall go away into eternal punishment: but the righteous into eternal life.
26 And it came to pass, when Jesus had finished all these words, he 2 said unto his disciples, Ye know that after two days the passover cometh, and the Son of man is de-3 livered up to be crucified. Then were gathered together the chief priests, and the elders of the people, unto the court of the high priest, who was called Caiaphas;
4 and they took counsel together that they might take Jesus by 5 subtilty, and kill him. But they said, Not during the feast, lest a tumult arise among the people.
6 Now when Jesus was in Bethany, in the house of Simon the leper, 7 there came unto him a woman having <sup>2</sup>an alabaster cruse of exceeding precious ointment, and she poured it upon his head, as he 8 sat at meat. But when the disciples saw it, they had indignation, saying, 9 To what purpose is this waste? For this ointment might have been sold for much, and given to the poor.
10 But Jesus perceiving it said unto them, Why trouble ye the woman?
for she hath wrought a good work 11 upon me. For ye have the poor always with you; but me ye have 12 not always. For in that she <sup>3</sup>poured this ointment upon my body, she did it to prepare me for burial.
13 Verily I say unto you, Wherso-ever <sup>4</sup>this gospel shall be preached in the whole world, that also which this woman hath done shall be spoken of for a memorial of her.
14 Then one of the twelve, who was called Judas Iscariot, went unto the 15 chief priests, and said, What are ye willing to give me, and I will deliver him unto you? And they weighed unto him thirty pieces of silver.

16 And from that time he sought opportunity to deliver him unto them.
17 Now on the first day of unleavened bread the disciples came to Jesus, saying, Where wilt thou that we make ready for thee to eat the 18 passover? And he said, Go into the city to such a man, and say unto him, The <sup>5</sup>Master saith, My time is at hand: I keep the passover at thy house with my disciples.
19 And the disciples did as Jesus appointed them; and they made ready 20 the passover. Now when even was come, he was sitting at meat with 21 the twelve <sup>6</sup>disciples; and as they were eating, he said, Verily I say unto you, that one of you shall be-22 tray me. And they were exceeding sorrowful, and began to say unto 23 him every one, Is it I, Lord? And he answered and said, He that dipped his hand with me in the dish, the same shall betray me.
24 The Son of man goeth, even as it is written of him: but woe unto that man through whom the Son of man is betrayed! good were it 25 for that man if he had not been born. And Judas, which betrayed him, answered and said, Is it I, Rabbi? He saith unto him, Thou 26 hast said. And as they were eating, Jesus took <sup>7</sup>bread, and blessed, and brake it; and he gave to the disciples, and said, Take, eat; this 27 is my body. And he took <sup>8</sup>a cup, and gave thanks, and gave to them.
28 saying, Drink ye all of it; for this is my blood of <sup>9</sup>the <sup>10</sup>covenant, which is shed for many unto re-29 mission of sins. But I say unto you,
I will not drink henceforth of this fruit of the vine, until that day when I drink it new with you in my Father's kingdom.
30 And when they had sung a hymn, they went out unto the mount of Olives.
31 Then saith Jesus unto them, All ye shall be <sup>12</sup>offended in me this night: for it is written, I will smite the shepherd, and the sheep of the 32 flock shall be scattered abroad. But after I am raised up, I will go before 33 you into Galilee. But Peter answered and said unto him, If all shall be <sup>12</sup>offended in thee, I will never 34 be <sup>12</sup>offended. Jesus said unto him, Verily I say unto thee, that this night, before the cock crow, thou 35 shalt deny me thrice. Peter saith unto him, Even if I must die with thee, yet will I not deny thee. Likewise also said all the disciples.
36 Then cometh Jesus with them unto <sup>13</sup>a place called Getisemane, and saith unto his disciples, Sit ye here, while I go yonder and 37 pray. And he took with him Peter and the two sons of Zebedee, and

And he went forward a little, and fell on his face, and prayed, saying, O my Father, if it be possible, let this cup pass away from me: nevertheless, not as I will, but as thou wilt. And he cometh unto the disciples, and findeth them sleeping, and saith unto Peter, What could ye not watch with me one hour? Watch and pray, that ye enter not into temptation: the spirit indeed is willing, but the flesh is weak. Again a second time he went away and prayed, saying, O my Father, if this cannot pass away, except I drink it, thy will be done. And he came again and found them sleeping, for their eyes were heavy. And he left them again, and went away, and prayed a third time, saying again the same words. Then cometh he to the disciples, and saith unto them, Sleep on now, and take your rest: behold, the hour is at hand, and the Son of man is betrayed unto the hands of sinners. Arise, let us be going: behold, he is at hand that betrayeth me. And while he yet spake, lo, Judas, one of the twelve, came, and with him a great multitude with swords and staves, from the chief priests and elders of the people. Now he that betrayed him gave them a sign, saying, Whomsoever I shall kiss, that is he: take him. And straightway he came to Jesus, and said Hail, Rabbi, and kissed him. And Jesus said unto him, Friend, do that for which thou art come. Then they came and laid hands on Jesus, and took him. And behold, one of them that were with Jesus stretched out his hand, and drew his sword, and smote the servant of the high priest, and struck off his ear. Then said Jesus unto him, Put up again thy sword into its place: for all they that take the sword shall perish with the sword. Or thinkest thou that I cannot beseech my Father, and he shall even now send me more than twelve legions of angels? How then should the scriptures be fulfilled, that thus it must be? In that hour said Jesus to the multitudes, Are ye come out as against a robber with swords and staves to seize me? I sat daily in the temple teaching, and ye took me not. But all this is come to pass, that the scriptures of the prophets might be fulfilled. Then all the disciples left him, and fled. And they that had taken Jesus led him away to the house of Caiaphas the high priest, where the scribes and the elders were gathered together. But Peter followed him afar off unto the court of the high priest, and entered in, as I sat with the officers, to see the end. Now the chief priests and the whole council sought false witness against Jesus, that they might put him to death; and they found it not, though many false witnesses came. But afterward came two, and said, This man said, I am able to destroy the temple of God, and to build it in three days. And the high priest stood up, and said unto him, Answerest thou nothing? what is it which these witness against thee? But Jesus held his peace. And the high priest said unto him, I adjure thee by the living God, that thou tell us whether thou be the Christ, the Son of God. Jesus saith unto him, Thou hast said: nevertheless I say unto you, Henceforth ye shall see the Son of man sitting at the right hand of power, and coming on the clouds of heaven. Then the high priest rent his garments, saying, He hath spoken blasphemy: what further need have we of witnesses? behold, now ye have heard the blasphemy: what think ye? They answered and said, He is worthy of death. Then did they spit in his face and buffed him: and some smote him with the palms of their hands, saying, Prophecy unto us, thou Christ: who is he that struck thee?

Now Peter was sitting without in the court: and a maid came unto him, saying, Thou also wast with Jesus the Galilean. But he denied before them all, saying, I know not what thou sayest. And when he was gone out into the porch, another maid saw him, and saith unto them that were there, This man also was with Jesus the Nazarene. And again he denied with an oath, I know not the man. And after a little while they that stood by came and said to Peter, Of a truth thou also art one of them: for thy speech bewrayeth thee. Then began he to curse and to swear, I know not the man. And straightway the cock crew. And Peter remembered the word which Jesus had said, Before the cock crew, thou shalt deny me thrice. And he went out, and wept bitterly.

27 Now when morning was come, all the chief priests and the elders of the people took counsel against Jesus to put him to death: and they bound him, and led him away, and delivered him up to Pilate the governor.

Then Judas, which betrayed him, when he saw that he was condemned, repented himself and brought back the thirty pieces of silver to the chief priests and elders, saying, I have sinned in that I betrayed innocent blood. But they said, What is that to us? see thou to it. And he cast down the pieces of silver into the sanctuary and departed; and he went away and hanged himself. And the chief priests took the pieces of silver, and said, It is not lawful to put them into the <sup>1</sup>treasury, since it is the price of blood. And they took counsel, and bought with them the potter's field, to bury strangers in. Wherefore that field was called, The field of blood, unto this day. Then was fulfilled that which was spoken <sup>2</sup>by Jeremiah the prophet, saying, And <sup>3</sup>they took the thirty pieces of silver, the price of him that was priced, <sup>4</sup>whom certain of the children of Israel did price; and <sup>5</sup>they gave them for the potter's field, as the Lord appointed me.

11 Now Jesus stood before the governor: and the governor asked him, saying, Art thou the King of the Jews? And Jesus said unto him, Thou sayest. And when he was accused by the chief priests and elders, he answered nothing. Then saith Pilate unto him, Hearest thou not how many things they witness against thee? And he gave him no answer, not even to one word: inasmuch that the governor marvelled greatly. Now at <sup>6</sup>the feast the governor was wont to release unto the multitude one prisoner, whom they would. And they had then a notable prisoner, called Barabbas. 17 When therefore they were gathered together, Pilate said unto them, Whom will ye that I release unto you? Barabbas, or Jesus which is called Christ? For he knew that for envy they had delivered him up. 19 And while he was sitting on the judgement-seat, his wife sent unto him, saying, Have thou nothing to do with that righteous man: for I have suffered many things this day in a dream because of him. Now the chief priests and the elders persuaded the multitudes that they should ask for Barabbas, and destroy Jesus. But the governor answered and said unto them, Whether of the twain will ye that I release unto you? And they said, Barabbas. 22 Pilate saith unto them, What then shall I do unto Jesus which is called Christ? They all say, Let him be crucified. And he said, Why, what evil hath he done? But they cried out exceedingly, saying, Let him be crucified. So when Pilate saw that he prevailed nothing, but rather that a tumult was arising, he took water, and washed his hands before the multitude, saying, I am innocent <sup>7</sup>of the blood of this righteous man: see ye to it. And all the people answered and said, His blood be on us, and on our children. Then released he unto them Barabbas: but Jesus he scourged and delivered to be crucified.

27 Then the soldiers of the governor took Jesus into the <sup>8</sup>palace, and gathered unto him the whole <sup>9</sup>band. And they <sup>10</sup>stripped him, and put on him a scarlet robe. And they plaited a crown of thorns and put it upon his head, and a reed in his right hand; and they kneeled down before him, and mocked him, saying, Hail, King of the Jews! And they spat upon him, and took the reed and smote him on the head. 31 And when they had mocked him, they took off from him the robe, and put on him his garments, and led him away to crucify him.

32 And as they came out, they found a man of Cyrene, Simon by name: him they <sup>11</sup>compelled to go with them, that he might bear his cross. 33 And when they were come unto a place called Golgotha, that is to say, The place of a skull, they gave him wine to drink mingled with gall: and when he had tasted it, he would not drink. And when they had crucified him, they parted his garments among them, casting lots: 36 and they sat and watched him there. 37 And they set up over his head his accusation written, THIS IS JESUS THE KING OF THE JEWS. Then are there crucified with him two robbers, one on the right hand, and one on the left. And they that passed by rallied on him, wagging their heads, and saying, Thou that destroyest the <sup>12</sup>temple, and buildest it in three days, save thyself: if thou art the Son of God, come down from the cross. In like manner also the chief priests mocking him, with the scribes and elders, said, He saved others; <sup>13</sup>himself he cannot save. He is the King of Israel: let him now come down from the cross, and we will believe on him. He trusteth on God: let him deliver him now, if he desireth him: for he said, I am the Son of God. And the robbers also that were crucified with him cast upon him the same reproach.

45 Now from the sixth hour there was darkness over all the <sup>14</sup>land until the ninth hour. And about the ninth hour Jesus cried with a loud voice, saying, Eli, Eli, lama sabachthani? that is, My God, my God, <sup>15</sup>why hast thou forsaken me? 47 And some of them that stood there, when they heard it, said, This man calleth Elijah. And straightway one of them ran, and took a sponge, and filled it with vinegar, and put it on a reed, and gave him to drink. 49 And the rest said, Let be; let us see whether Elijah cometh to save him. <sup>16</sup>And Jesus cried again with a loud voice, and yielded up his spirit. And behold, the veil of the <sup>12</sup>temple was rent in twain from the top to the bottom; and the earth did quake; and the rocks were rent; and the tombs were opened; and many bodies of the saints that had fallen asleep were raised; and coming forth out of the tombs after his resurrection they entered into the holy city and appeared unto many. the earthquake, and the things that were done, feared exceedingly, saying, Truly this was <sup>1</sup>the Son of God. And many women were there beholding from afar, which had followed Jesus from Galilee, ministering unto him: among whom was Mary Magdalene, and Mary the mother of James and Josès, and the mother of the sons of Zebedee.

And when even was come, there came a rich man from Arimathæa, named Joseph, who also himself was Jesus' disciple: this man went to Pilate, and asked for the body of Jesus. Then Pilate commanded it to be given up. And Joseph took the body, and wrapped it in a clean linen cloth, and laid it in his own new tomb, which he had hewn out in the rock: and he rolled a great stone to the door of the tomb, and departed. And Mary Magdalene was there, and the other Mary, sitting over against the sepulchre.

Now on the morrow, which is the day after the Preparation, the chief priests and the Pharisees were gathered together unto Pilate, saying, Sir, we remember that that deceiver said, while he was yet alive, After three days I rise again. Command therefore that the sepulchre be made sure until the third day, lest haply his disciples come and steal him away, and say unto the people, He is risen from the dead: and the last error will be worse than the first. Pilate said unto them, <sup>2</sup>Ye have a guard: go your way. <sup>3</sup>make it as sure as ye can. So they went, and made the sepulchre sure, sealing the stone, the guard being with them.

Now late on the sabbath day, as it began to dawn toward the first day of the week, came Mary Magdalene and the other Mary to see the sepulchre. And behold, there was a great earthquake; for an angel of the Lord descended from heaven, and came and rolled away the stone, and sat upon it. His appearance was as lightning, and his raiment white as snow: and for fear of him the watchers did quake, and became as dead men. And the angel answered and said unto the women, Fear not ye: for I know that ye seek Jesus, which hath been crucified. He is not here; for he is risen, even as he said. Come, see the place <sup>4</sup>where the Lord lay. And go quickly, and tell his disciples, He is risen from the dead; and lo, he goeth before you into Galilee; there shall ye see him: lo, I have told you. And they departed quickly from the tomb with fear and great joy, and ran to bring his disciples word. And behold, Jesus met them, saying, All hail. And they came and took hold of his feet, and worshipped him. Then saith Jesus unto them, Fear not: go tell my brethren that they depart into Galilee, and there shall they see me.

Now while they were going, behold, some of the guard came into the city, and told unto the chief priests all the things that were come to pass. And when they were assembled with the elders, and had taken counsel, they gave large money unto the soldiers, saying, Say ye, His disciples came by night, and stole him away while we slept. And if this <sup>5</sup>come to the governor's ears, we will persuade him, and rid you of care. So they took the money, and did as they were taught: and this saying was spread abroad among the Jews, and continueth until this day.

But the eleven disciples went into Galilee, unto the mountain where Jesus had appointed them. And when they saw him, they worshipped him: but some doubted. And Jesus came to them and spake unto them, saying, All authority hath been given unto me in heaven and on earth. Go ye therefore, and make disciples of all the nations, baptizing them into the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Ghost: teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I commanded you: and lo, I am with you <sup>6</sup>alway, even unto <sup>7</sup>the end of the world.

1 Some ancient authorities omit the Son of God.

3 Gr. sufficient.
4 Or, in
5 Or, Holy Spirit; and so throughout this book.
6 Gr. into.

- 1 THE beginning of the gospel of Jesus Christ, <sup>1</sup> the Son of God.
- 2 Even as it is written <sup>2</sup> in Isaiah the prophet,
Behold, I send my messenger before thy face,
Who shall prepare thy way;
- 3 The voice of one crying in the wilderness,
Make ye ready the way of the Lord.
Make his paths straight;
- 4 John came, who baptized in the wilderness and preached the baptism of repentance unto remission of sins. And there went out unto him all the country of Judaea, and all they of Jerusalem; and they were baptized of him in the river Jordan, confessing their sins. And John was clothed with camel's hair, and had a leathern girdle about his loins, and did eat locusts and wild honey.
- 7 And he preached, saying, There cometh after me he that is mightier than I, the latchet of whose shoes I am not <sup>3</sup> worthy to stoop down
- 8 and unloose. I baptized you <sup>4</sup> with water; but he shall baptize you <sup>4</sup> with the <sup>5</sup> Holy Ghost.
- 9 And it came to pass in those days, that Jesus came from Nazareth of Galilee, and was baptized of John <sup>6</sup> in the Jordan. And straightway coming up out of the water, he saw the heavens rent asunder, and the Spirit as a dove descending upon him: and a voice came out of the heavens, Thou art my beloved Son, in thee I am well pleased.
- 12 And straightway the Spirit driveth him forth into the wilderness.
- 13 And he was in the wilderness forty days tempted of Satan; and he was with the wild beasts; and the angels ministered unto him.
- 14 Now after that John was delivered up, Jesus came into Galilee, preaching the gospel of God, and saying, The time is fulfilled, and the kingdom of God is at hand: repent ye, and believe in the gospel.
- 16 And passing along by the sea of Galilee, he saw Simon and Andrew the brother of Simon casting a net in the sea: for they were fishers.
- 17 And Jesus said unto them, Come ye after me, and I will make you
- 18 to become fishers of men. And straightway they left the nets, and
- 19 followed him. And going on a little further, he saw James the son of Zebedee, and John his brother, who also were in the boat mending the
- 20 nets. And straightway he called them: and they left their father

- Zebedee in the boat with the hired servants, and went after him.
- 21 And they go into Capernaum; and straightway on the sabbath day he entered into the synagogue and
- 22 taught. And they were astonished at his teaching: for he taught them as having authority, and not as the
- 23 scribes. And straightway there was in their synagogue a man with an unclean spirit; and he cried out,
- 24 saying, What have we to do with thee, thou Jesus of Nazareth? art thou come to destroy us? I know thee who thou art, the Holy One of
- 25 God. And Jesus rebuked <sup>7</sup> him, saying, Hold thy peace, and come out
- 26 of him. And the unclean spirit, <sup>8</sup> tearing him and crying with a loud voice, came out of him. And they were all amazed, inasmuch that they questioned among themselves, saying, What is this? a new teaching! with authority he commandeth even the unclean spirits, and they obey him. And the report of him went out straightway everywhere into all the region of Galilee round about.
- 29 And straightway, <sup>9</sup> when they were come out of the synagogue, they came into the house of Simon and Andrew, with James and John. Now Simon's wife's mother lay sick of a fever; and straightway they tell
- 31 him of her: and he came and took her by the hand, and raised her up; and the fever left her, and she ministered unto them.
- 32 And at even, when the sun did set, they brought unto him all that were sick, and them that were
- 33 <sup>10</sup> possessed with devils. And all the city was gathered together at the door. And he healed many that were sick with divers diseases, and cast out many <sup>11</sup> devils; and he suffered not the <sup>11</sup> devils to speak, because they knew him <sup>12</sup>.
- 35 And in the morning, a great while before day, he rose up and went out, and departed into a desert place, and there prayed. And Simon and they that were with him followed after him; and they found him, and say unto him, All are seeking thee. And he saith unto them, Let us go elsewhere into the next towns, that I may preach there also: for to this end came I forth. And he went into their synagogues throughout all Galilee, preaching and casting out <sup>11</sup> devils.

And straightway the leprosy departed from him, and he was made clean. 43 And he <sup>1</sup>strictly charged him, and 44 straightway sent him out, and saith unto him, See thou say nothing to any man: but go thy way, shew thyself to the priest, and offer for thy cleansing the things which Moses commanded, for a testimony unto them. But he went out, and began to publish it much, and to spread abroad the <sup>2</sup>matter, insomuch that <sup>3</sup>Jesus could no more openly enter into <sup>4</sup>a city, but was without in desert places: and they came to him from every quarter.

2 And when he entered again into Capernaum after some days, it was noised that he was <sup>5</sup>in the house. 2 And many were gathered together, so that there was no longer room for them, no, not even about the door: and he spake the word unto them. And they came, bringing unto him a man sick of the palsy, borne 4 of four. And when they could not <sup>6</sup>come nigh unto him for the crowd, they uncovered the roof where he was: and when they had broken it up, they let down the bed whereon the sick of the palsy lay. 5 And Jesus seeing their faith saith unto the sick of the palsy, <sup>7</sup>Son, 6 thy sins are forgiven. Put there were certain of the scribes sitting there, and reasoning in their hearts, 7 Why doth this man thus speak? he blasphemeth: who can forgive sins 8 but one, <sup>8</sup>even God? And straightway Jesus, perceiving in his spirit that they so reasoned within themselves, saith unto them, Why reason ye these 9 things in your hearts? Whether is easier, to say to the sick of the palsy, Thy sins are forgiven; or to say, Arise, and take up thy bed, and walk? But that ye may know that the Son of man hath <sup>9</sup>power on earth to forgive sins (he saith to the sick of the palsy), I say unto thee, Arise, take up thy bed, and 12 go unto thy house. And he arose, and straightway took up the bed, and went forth before them all: insomuch that they were all amazed, and glorified God, saying, We never saw it on this fashion.

13 And he went forth again by the sea side; and all the multitude resorted unto him, and he taught them. And as he passed by, he saw Levi the son of Alphaeus sitting at the place of toll, and he saith unto him, Follow me. And he arose and followed him. And it came to pass, that he was sitting at meat in his house, and many <sup>10</sup>publicans and sinners sat down with Jesus and his disciples: for there were many, and they followed him. And the scribes <sup>11</sup>of the Pharisees, when they saw that he was eating with the sinners and publicans, said unto his disciples, <sup>11</sup>He eateth <sup>12</sup>and drinketh with publicans and sinners. And when Jesus heard it, he saith unto them, They that are <sup>13</sup>whole have no need of a physician, but they that are sick: I came not to call the righteous, but sinners.

18 And John's disciples and the Pharisees were fasting: and they come and say unto him, Why do John's disciples and the disciples of the Pharisees fast, but thy disciples fast not? And Jesus said unto them, Can the sons of the bride-chamber fast, while the bridegroom is with them? as long as they have the bridegroom with them, they cannot fast. But the days will come, when the bridegroom shall be taken away from them, and then will they fast in that day. No man seweth a piece of undressed cloth on an old garment: else that which should fill it up taketh from it, the new from the old, and a worse rent is made. And no man putteth new wine into old wine-skins: else the wine will burst the skins, and the wine perishesth, and the skins: but they put new wine into fresh wine-skins.

23 And it came to pass, that he was going on the sabbath day through the cornfields; and his disciples <sup>14</sup>began, as they went, to pluck the ears of corn. And the Pharisees said unto him, Behold, why do they on the sabbath day that which is not lawful? And he said unto them, Did ye never read what David did, when he had need, and was an hungered, he, and they that were with him? How he entered into the house of God <sup>15</sup>when Abiathar was high priest, and did eat the shewbread, which it is not lawful to eat save for the priests, and gave also to them that were with him? And he said unto them, The sabbath was made for man, and not man for the sabbath: so that the Son of man is lord even of the sabbath.

3 And he entered again into the synagogue; and there was a man there which had his hand withered. 2 And they watched him, whether he would heal him on the sabbath day: 3 that they might accuse him. And he saith unto the man that had his 4 hand withered, <sup>16</sup>Stand forth. And he saith unto them, Is it lawful on the sabbath day to do good, or to do harm? to save a life, or to kill? But they held their peace. 5 And when he had looked round about on them with anger, being grieved at the hardening of their heart, he saith unto the man, Stretch forth thy hand. And he stretched it forth: and his hand was restored. 6 And the Pharisees went out, and straightway with the Herodians took counsel against him, how they might destroy him.

1 multitude from Galilee followed: and 2 from Judæa, and from Jerusalem, and from Idumæa, and beyond Jordan, and about Tyre and Sidon, a 3 great multitude, hearing what great 4 things he did, came unto him. And 5 he spake to his disciples, that a little 6 boat should wait on him because of 7 the crowd, lest they should throng
8 him: for he had healed many; in-
9 so much that as many as had <sup>2</sup>plagues 10 <sup>3</sup>pressed upon him that they might 11 touch him. And the unclean spirits,
12 whensoever they beheld him, fell 13 down before him, and cried, saying, 14 Thou art the Son of God. And he 15 charged them much that they should 16 not make him known.

17 And he goeth up into the moun-18 tain, and calleth unto him whom he 19 himself would: and they went unto 20 him. And he appointed twelve, <sup>4</sup>that 21 they might be with him, and that 22 he might send them forth to preach,
23 and to have authority to cast out
24 <sup>5</sup>devils: <sup>6</sup>and Simon he surnamed
25 Peter; and James the son of Zebe-26 dee, and John the brother of James;
27 and them he surnamed Boanerges, 28 which is, Sons of thunder: and An-
29 drew, and Philip, and Bartholomew, 30 and Matthew, and Thomas, and 31 James the son of Alphæus, and 32 Thaddæus, and Simon the <sup>7</sup>Can-33 anæan, and Judas Iscariot, which also betrayed him.

And he cometh <sup>8</sup>into a house.
20 And the multitude cometh together
21 again, so that they could not so 22 much as eat bread. And when his 23 friends heard it, they went out to 24 lay hold on him: for they said, He 25 is beside himself. And the scribes
26 which came down from Jerusalem
27 said, He hath Beelzebub, and, <sup>9</sup>By 28 the prince of the <sup>5</sup>devils casteth he 29 out the <sup>5</sup>devils. And he called them 30 unto him, and said unto them in 31 parables, How can Satan cast out
32 Satan? And if a kingdom be divided 33 against itself, that kingdom cannot 34 stand. And if a house be divided 35 against itself, that house will not 36 be able to stand. And if Satan hath 37 risen up against himself, and is di-38 vided, he cannot stand, but hath an 39 end. But no one can enter into the 40 house of the strong man, and spoil 41 his goods, except he first bind the 42 strong man; and then he will spoil
43 his house. Verily I say unto you, 44 All their sins shall be forgiven unto 45 the sons of men, and their blas-46 phemies wherewith soever they 47 shall blaspheme: but whosoever 48 shall blaspheme against the Holy 49 Spirit hath never forgiveness, but 50 is guilty of an eternal sin: because 51 they said, He hath an unclean spirit.
52 And there come his mother and 53 his brethren; and, standing with-54 out, they sent unto him, calling 55 him. And a multitude was sitting 56 about him; and they say unto him,
57 Behold, thy mother and thy brethren 58 without seek for thee. And he an-swereth them, and saith, Who is my 34 mother and my brethren? And look-35 ing round on them which sat round

36 about him, he saith, Behold, my mo-
37 ther and my brethren! For whoso-
38 ever shall do the will of God, the same 39 is my brother, and sister, and mother.

40 And again he began to teach by 41 the sea side. And there is gathered 42 unto him a very great multitude, 43 so that he entered into a boat, and 44 sat in the sea; and all the multitude 45 were by the sea on the land. And 46 he taught them many things in 47 parables, and said unto them in his 48 teaching, Hearken: Behold, the sow-49 er went forth to sow: and it came 50 to pass, as he sowed, some seed fell 51 by the way side, and the birds came 52 and devoured it. And other fell on 53 the rocky ground, where it had not 54 much earth; and straightway it
55 sprang up, because it had no deep-56 ness of earth: and when the sun
57 was risen, it was scorched; and be-58 cause it had no root, it withered
59 away. And other fell among the 60 thorns, and the thorns grew up, and 61 choked it, and it yielded no fruit.
62 And others fell into the good ground,
63 and yielded fruit, growing up and 64 increasing; and brought forth, thirty-65 fold, and sixtyfold, and a hundred-
66 fold. And he said, Who hath ears
67 to hear, let him hear.

68 And when he was alone, they that 69 were about him with the twelve 70 asked of him the parables. And 71 he said unto them, Unto you is 72 given the mystery of the kingdom
73 of God: but unto them that are 74 without, all things are done in 75 parables: that seeing they may see,
76 and not perceive; and hearing they 77 may hear, and not understand; lest 78 haply they should turn again, and 79 it should be forgiven them. And 80 he saith unto them, Know ye not 81 this parable? and how shall ye
82 know all the parables? The sower 83 soweth the word. And these are 84 they by the way side, where the 85 word is sown; and when they have 86 heard, straightway cometh Satan, 87 and taketh away the word which 88 hath been sown in them. And these 89 in like manner are they that are 90 sown upon the rocky places, who,
91 when they have heard the word,
92 straightway receive it with joy; and 93 they have no root in themselves, but 94 endure for a while; then, when tri-95 bulation or persecution ariseth be-96 cause of the word, straightway they 97 stumble. And others are they that 98 are sown among the thorns; these 99 are they that have heard the word, 100 and the cares of the <sup>10</sup>world, and the 101 deceitfulness of riches, and the lusts
102 of other things entering in, choke
103 the word, and it becometh unfruit-104 ful. And those are they that were 105 sown upon the good ground; such 106 as hear the word, and accept it, and 107 bear fruit, thirtyfold, and sixtyfold, 108 and a hundredfold.

10 Or, age

21 And he said unto them, Is the lamp brought to be put under the bushel, or under the bed, and not to be put on the stand? For there is nothing hid, save that it should be manifested; neither was any-thing made secret, but that it should come to light. If any man hath ears to hear, let him hear. And he said unto them, Take heed what ye hear: with what measure ye mete it shall be measured unto you: and more shall be given unto you. For he that hath, to him shall be given: and he that hath not, from him shall be taken away even that which he hath.

26 And he said, So is the kingdom of God, as if a man should cast seed upon the earth; and should sleep and rise night and day, and the seed should spring up and grow, he knoweth not how. The earth <sup>1</sup> beareth fruit of herself; first the blade, then the ear, then the full corn in the ear. But when the fruit <sup>2</sup> is ripe, straightway he <sup>3</sup> putteth forth the sickle, because the harvest is come.

30 And he said, How shall we liken the kingdom of God? or in what parable shall we set it forth? <sup>4</sup> It is like a grain of mustard seed, which, when it is sown upon the earth, though it be less than all the seeds that are upon the earth, yet when it is sown, groweth up, and becometh greater than all the herbs, and putteth out great branches; so that the birds of the heaven can lodge under the shadow thereof.

33 And with many such parables spake he the word unto them, as they were able to hear it: and without a parable spake he not unto them: but privately to his own disciples he expounded all things.

35 And on that day, when even was come, he saith unto them, Let us go over unto the other side. And leaving the multitude, they take him with them, even as he was, in the boat. And other boats were with him. And there ariseth a great storm of wind, and the waves beat into the boat, insomuch that the boat was now filling. And he himself was in the stern, asleep on the cushion: and they awake him, and say unto him, <sup>5</sup> Master, carest thou not that we perish? And he awoke, and rebuked the wind, and said unto the sea, Peace, be still. And the wind ceased, and there was a great calm.

40 And he said unto them, Why are ye fearful? have ye not yet faith? 41 And they feared exceedingly, and said one to another, Who then is this, that even the wind and the sea obey him?

5 And they came to the other side of the sea, into the country of the 2 Gerasenes. And when he was come out of the boat, straightway there met him out of the tombs a man 3 with an unclean spirit, who had his dwelling in the tombs: and no man could any more bind him, no,

4 not with a chain; because that he had been often bound with fetters and chains, and the chains had been rent asunder by him, and the fetters broken in pieces: and no man had strength to tame him.

5 And always, night and day, in the tombs and in the mountains, he was crying out, and cutting himself with stones. And when he saw Jesus from afar, he ran and worshipped him; and crying out with a loud voice, he saith, What have I to do with thee, Jesus, thou Son of the Most High God? I adjure thee by

8 God, torment me not. For he said unto him, Come forth, thou unclean spirit, out of the man. And he asked him, What is thy name? And he saith unto him, My name is Legion:

10 for we are many. And he besought him much that he would not send them away out of the country. Now there was there on the mountain side a great herd of swine feeding.

12 And they besought him, saying, Send us into the swine, that we may enter into them. And he gave them leave. And the unclean spirits came out, and entered into the swine: and the herd rushed down the steep into the sea, in number about two thousand; and they were choked in the sea.

14 And they that fed them fled, and told it in the city, and in the country. And they came to see what it was that had come to pass. And they came to Jesus, and behold

6 him that was possessed with devils sitting, clothed and in his right mind, even him that had the legion: and they were afraid. And they that saw it declared unto them how it befell 6 him that was possessed with devils, and concerning the swine.

17 And they began to beseech him to depart from their borders. And as he was entering into the boat, he that had been possessed with 7 devils besought him that he might be with him. And he suffered him not, but saith unto him, Go to thy house unto thy friends, and tell them how great things the Lord hath done for thee, and how he had mercy on thee.

20 And he went his way, and began to publish in Decapolis how great things Jesus had done for him: and all men did marvel.

21 And when Jesus had crossed over again in the boat unto the other side, a great multitude was gathered unto him: and he was by the sea.

22 And there cometh one of the rulers of the synagogue, Jairus by name; and seeing him, he falleth at his feet, and beseecheth him much, saying, My little daughter is at the point of death: I pray thee, that thou come and lay thy hands on her, that she may be 8 made whole, and live. And he went with him; and a great multitude followed him, and they thronged him.

For she said, If I touch but his garments, I shall be <sup>1</sup> made whole. And straightway the fountain of her blood was dried up; and she felt in her body that she was healed of her <sup>2</sup> plague. And straightway Jesus, perceiving in himself that the power proceeding from him had gone forth, turned him about in the crowd, and said, Who touched my garments? And his disciples said unto him, Thou seest the multitude thronging thee, and sayest thou, Who touched me? And he looked round about to see her that had done this thing. But the woman fearing and trembling, knowing what had been done to her, came and fell down before him, and told him all the truth. 	35 While he yet spake, they come from the ruler of the synagogue's house, saying, Thy daughter is dead: why troublest thou the <sup>4</sup> Master any further? But Jesus, <sup>5</sup> not heeding the word spoken, saith unto the ruler of the synagogue, Fear not, only believe. And he suffered no man to follow with him, save Peter, and James, and John the brother of James. And they come to the house of the ruler of the synagogue; and he beholdeth a tumult, and many weeping and wailing greatly. And when he was entered in, he saith unto them, Why make ye a tumult, and weep? the child is not dead, but sleepeth. And they laughed him to scorn. But he, having put them all forth, taketh the father of the child and her mother and them that were with him, and goeth in where the child was. And taking the child by the hand, he saith unto her, Talitha cumi; which is, being interpreted, Damsel, I say unto thee, Arise. And straightway the damsel rose up, and walked; for she was twelve years old. And they were amazed straightway with a great amazement. And he could there do no <sup>9</sup> mighty work, save that he laid his hands upon a few sick folk, and healed them. And he marvelled because of their unbelief. And he went round about the villages teaching.
	7 And he called unto him the twelve, and began to send them forth by two and two; and he gave them authority over the unclean spirits; and he charged them that they should take nothing for their journey, save a staff only; no bread, no wallet, no <sup>10</sup> money in their <sup>11</sup> purse; <sup>9</sup> but to go shod with sandals: and <sup>10</sup> said he, put not on two coats. For Herod himself had sent forth and laid hold upon John, and bound him in prison for the sake of Herodias, his brother Philip's wife: for he had married her. For John said unto Herod, It is not lawful for thee to have thy brother's wife. And Herodias set herself against him, and desired to kill him; and she could not; for Herod feared John, knowing that he was a righteous man and a holy, and kept him safe. And when he heard him, he <sup>15</sup> was much perplexed; and he heard him gladly. And when a convenient day was come, that Herod on his birthday made a supper to his lords, and the <sup>16</sup> high captains, and the chief men of Galilee; and when <sup>17</sup> the daughter of Herodias herself came in and danced, <sup>18</sup> she pleased Herod and them that sat at meat with him; and the king said unto the damsel, Ask of me whatsoever thou wilt, and I will give it thee. And straightway the king sent forth a soldier of his guard, and commanded to bring his head; and he went and beheaded him in the prison, and brought his head in a charger, and gave it to the damsel; and the damsel gave it to her mother. And the apostles gather themselves together unto Jesus; and they told him all things, whatsoever they had done, and whatsoever they had taught. And he saith unto them, Come ye yourselves apart into a desert place, and rest a while. For there were many coming and going, and they had no leisure so much as to eat. And they went away in the boat to a desert place apart. And the people saw them going, and many knew them, and they ran there together on foot from all the cities, and outwent them. And he came forth and saw a great multitude, and he had compassion on them, because they were as sheep not having a shepherd: and he began to teach them many things. And when the day was now far spent, his disciples came unto him, and said, The place is desert, and the day is now far spent: send them away, that they may go into the country and villages round about, and buy themselves somewhat to eat. But he answered and said unto them, Give ye them to eat. And they say unto him, Shall we go and buy two hundred<sup>3</sup> pennyworth of bread, and give them to eat? And he saith unto them, How many loaves have ye? go and see. And when they knew, they say, Five, and two fishes.

And he commanded them that all should<sup>4</sup> sit down by companies upon the green grass. And they sat down in ranks, by hundreds, and by fifties. And he took the five loaves and the two fishes, and looking up to heaven, he blessed, and brake the loaves; and he gave to the disciples to set before them; and the two fishes divided he among them all. And they did all eat, and were filled. And they took up broken pieces, twelve basketfuls, and also of the fishes. And they that ate the loaves were five thousand men.

And straightway he constrained his disciples to enter into the boat, and to go before him unto the other side to Bethsaida, while he himself<sup>5</sup> sendeth the multitude away. And after he had taken leave of them, he departed into the mountain to pray. And when even was come, the boat was in the midst of the sea, and he alone on the land. And seeing them distressed in rowing, for the wind was contrary unto them, about the fourth watch of the night he cometh unto them, walking on the sea: and he would have passed by them: but they, when they saw him walking on the sea, supposed that it was an apparition, and cried out: for they all saw him, and were troubled. But he straightway spake with them, and saith unto them, Be of good cheer: it is I; be not afraid. And he went up unto them into the boat; and the wind ceased: and they were sore amazed in themselves; for they understood not concerning the loaves, but their heart was hardened. And when they had<sup>6</sup> crossed over, they came to the land unto Genesaret, and moored to the shore. And when they were come out of the boat, straightway the people knew him, and ran round about that whole region, and began to carry about on their beds those that were sick, where they heard he was. And whosoever he entered, into villages, or into cities, or into the country, they laid the sick in the marketplaces, and besought him that they might touch if it were but the border of his garment: and as many as touched<sup>6</sup> him were made whole.

7 And there are gathered together unto him the Pharisees, and certain of the scribes, which had come from Jerusalem, and had seen that some of his disciples ate their bread with<sup>7</sup> defiled, that is, unwashen, hands. For the Pharisees, and all the Jews, except they wash their hands<sup>8</sup> diligently, eat not, holding the tradition of the elders: and when they come from the marketplace, except they<sup>9</sup> wash themselves, they eat not: and many other things there be, which they have received to hold, washings of cups, and pots, and brasen vessels<sup>10</sup>. And the Pharisees and the scribes ask him, Why walk not thy disciples according to the tradition of the elders, but eat their bread with<sup>7</sup> defiled hands? And he said unto them, Well did Isaiah prophesy of you hypocrites, as it is written,

8 Ye leave the commandment of God, and hold fast the tradition of men.
9 And he said unto them, Full well do ye reject the commandment of God, that ye may keep your tradition. For Moses said, Honour thy father and thy mother; and, He that speaketh evil of father or mother, let him<sup>12</sup> die the death: but ye say, If a man shall say to his with thou mightest have been pro-

12 say, Given to God; ye no longer suffer him to do ought for his fa-13 ther or his mother; making void
the word of God by your tradition, which ye have delivered: and many 14 such like things ye do. And he called to him the multitude again, and said unto them, Hear me all of you, 15 and understand: there is nothing from without the man, that going into him can defile him: but the things which proceed out of the man are those that defile the man.<sup>1</sup> 17 And when he was entered into the house from the multitude, his disciples asked of him the parable.
18 And he saith unto them, Are ye so without understanding also? Perceive ye not, that whatsoever from without goeth into the man, it cannot defile him; because it goeth not 19 into his heart, but into his belly, and goeth out into the draught?<sup>2</sup>
This he said, making all meats clean.
20 And he said, That which proceedeth out of the man, that defileth the 21 man. For from within, out of the heart of men, <sup>2</sup>evil thoughts proceed, fornications, thefts, murders, 22 adulteries, covetings, wickednesses,
deceit, lasciviousness, an evil eye, 23 railing, pride, foolishness: all these evil things proceed from within, and defile the man.
24 And from thence he arose, and went away into the borders of Tyre and Sidon. And he entered into a house, and would have no man know 25 it; and he could not be hid. But straightway a woman, whose little daughter had an unclean spirit, having heard of him, came and fell 26 down at his feet. Now the woman was a <sup>4</sup>Greek, a Syrophenician by race. And she besought him that he would cast forth the <sup>5</sup>devil out 27 of her daughter. And he said unto her, Let the children first be filled:
for it is not meet to take the children's <sup>6</sup>bread, and cast it to the 28 dogs. But she answered and saith unto him, Yea, Lord: even the dogs under the table eat of the children's 29 crumbs. And he said unto her, For this saying go thy way: the <sup>6</sup>devil is gone out of thy daughter. And 30 she went away unto her house, and found the child laid upon the bed, and the <sup>6</sup>devil gone out.
31 And again he went out from the borders of Tyre, and came through Sidon unto the sea of Galilee, through the midst of the borders 32 of Decapolis. And they bring unto him one that was deaf, and had an impediment in his speech; and they beseech him to lay his hand 33 upon him. And he took him aside from the multitude privately, and put his fingers into his ears, and he spat, and touched his tongue;
34 and looking up to heaven, he sighed, and saith unto him, Ephphatha,

35 that is, Be opened. And his ears were opened, and the bond of his tongue was loosed, and he spake 36 plain. And he charged them that they should tell no man: but the more he charged them, so much the more a great deal they pub-37 lished it. And they were beyond measure astonished, saying, He hath done all things well: he maketh even the deaf to hear, and the dumb to speak.

8 In those days, when there was again a great multitude, and they had nothing to eat, he called unto him his disciples, and saith unto 2 them, I have compassion on the multitude, because they continue with me now three days, and have 3 nothing to eat: and if I send them away fasting to their home, they will faint in the way; and some 4 of them are come from far. And his disciples answered him, Whence shall one be able to fill these men with <sup>7</sup>bread here in a desert place?
5 And he asked them, How many loaves have ye? And they said, Se-6 ven. And he commandeth the multitude to sit down on the ground:
and he took the seven loaves, and having given thanks, he brake, and gave to his disciples, to set before 7 the multitude. And they had a few small fishes: and having blessed them, he commanded to set these 8 also before them. And they did eat, and were filled: and they took up, of broken pieces that remained 9 over, seven baskets. And they were about four thousand: and he sent 10 them away. And straightway he entered into the boat with his disciples, and came unto the parts of Dalmanutha.
11 And the Pharisees came forth, and began to question with him,
seeking of him a sign from hea-12 ven, tempting him. And he sighed deeply in his spirit, and saith, Why doth this generation seek a sign?
verily I say unto you, There shall no sign be given unto this genera-13 tion. And he left them, and again entering into the boat departed to the other side.

14 And they forgot to take bread:
and they had not in the boat with 15 them more than one loaf. And he charged them, saying, Take heed, beware of the leaven of the Pharisees and the leaven of Herod.
16 And they reasoned one with another, <sup>8</sup>saying, <sup>9</sup>We have no bread.
17 And Jesus perceiving it saith unto them, Why reason ye, because ye have no bread? do ye not yet perceive, neither understand? have ye 18 your heart hardened? Having eyes, see ye not? and having ears, hear ye not? and do ye not remember?
19 When I brake the five loaves among the five thousand, how many <sup>10</sup>baskets full of broken pieces took ye up? They say unto him, Twelve.

22 And they come unto Bethsaida.

23 And they bring to him a blind man, and beseech him to touch him. And he took hold of the blind man by the hand, and brought him out of the village; and when he had spit on his eyes, and laid his hands upon him, he asked him, Seest thou

24 aught? And he looked up, and said, I see men; for I behold them as

25 trees, walking. Then again he laid his hands upon his eyes; and he looked stedfastly, and was restored,

26 and saw all things clearly. And he sent him away to his home, saying, Do not even enter into the village.

27 And Jesus went forth, and his disciples, into the villages of Caesarea Philippi; and in the way he asked his disciples, saying unto them, Who do men say that I am? And they

28 told him, saying, John the Baptist: and others, Elijah; but others, One of the prophets. And he asked them,

29 But who say ye that I am? Peter answereth and saith unto him, Thou

30 art the Christ. And he charged them that they should tell no man of him.

31 And he began to teach them, that the Son of man must suffer many things, and be rejected by the elders, and the chief priests, and the scribes, and be killed, and after three days

32 rise again. And he spake the saying openly. And Peter took him, and 33 began to rebuke him. But he turning about, and seeing his disciples, rebuked Peter, and saith, Get thee behind me, Satan: for thou mindest not the things of God, but the things

34 of men. And he called unto him the multitude with his disciples, and said unto them, If any man would come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross, and 35 follow me. For whosoever would save his <sup>2</sup> life shall lose it; and whosoever shall lose his <sup>2</sup> life for my sake and the gospel's shall save

36 it. For what doth it profit a man, to gain the whole world, and forfeit his <sup>2</sup> life? For what should a man

37 give in exchange for his <sup>2</sup> life? For whosoever shall be ashamed of me and of my words in this adulterous and sinful generation, the Son of 38 man also shall be ashamed of him, when he cometh in the glory of his Father with the holy angels. And he said unto them, Verily I say unto you, There be some here of them that stand by, which shall in no wise taste of death, till they see the kingdom of God come with power.

9 And after six days Jesus taketh with him Peter, and James, and John, and bringeth them up into a high mountain apart by themselves; and he was transfigured before them: and his garments became glistering, exceeding white; so as no fuller on earth can whiten them.

4 And there appeared unto them Elijah with Moses; and they were talking with Jesus. And Peter answereth and saith to Jesus, Rabbi, it is

5 good for us to be here; and let us make three <sup>3</sup> tabernacles; one for thee, and one for Moses, and one

6 for Elijah. For he wist not what to answer; for they became sore

7 afraid. And there came a cloud overshadowing them: and there came a voice out of the cloud, This is my beloved Son: hear ye him.

8 And suddenly looking round about, they saw no one any more, save Jesus only with themselves.

9 And as they were coming down from the mountain, he charged them that they should tell no man what things they had seen, save when the Son of man should have risen again from the dead. And they kept the saying, questioning among themselves what the rising again from the dead should mean.

11 And they asked him, saying, <sup>4</sup> The scribes say that Elijah must first come. And he said unto them, Elijah indeed cometh first, and restoreth all things: and how is it written of the Son of man, that he should suffer many things and be set at nought? But I say unto you, that Elijah is come, and they have also done unto him whatsoever they listed, even as it is written of him.

14 And when they came to the disciples, they saw a great multitude about them, and scribes questioning

15 with them. And straightway all the multitude, when they saw him, were greatly amazed, and running to him

16 saluted him. And he asked them, What question ye with them? And one of the multitude answered him,

Master, I brought unto thee my son, which hath a dumb spirit; and wheresoever it taketh him, it <sup>5</sup> dasheth him down: and he foameth, and grindeth his teeth, and pineth away: and I spake to thy disciples that they should cast it out; and they were not

19 able. And he answereth them and saith, O faithless generation, how long shall I be with you? how long shall I bear with you? bring him unto me. And they brought him unto him: and when he saw him, straightway the spirit <sup>7</sup> tare him grievously; and he fell on the ground, and

21 wallowed foaming. And he asked his father, How long time is it since this hath come unto him? And he said, From a child. And oft-times it hath cast him both into the fire and into the waters, to destroy him; but if thou canst do anything, have

23 compassion on us, and help us. And Jesus said unto him, If thou canst! All things are possible to him that

tude came running together, he re-

26 And enter no more into him. And having cried out, and <sup>1</sup>torn him much, he came out: and the child became as one dead: inasmuch that 27 the more part said, He is dead. But Jesus took him by the hand, and 28 raised him up; and he arose. And when he was come into the house,
his disciples asked him privately,
<sup>2</sup>saying, We could not cast it out.
29 And he said unto them, This kind can come out by nothing, save by prayer<sup>3</sup>.
30 And they went forth from thence,
and passed through Galilee; and he would not that any man should 31 know it. For he taught his disciples, and said unto them, The Son of man is delivered up into the hands of men, and they shall kill him;
and when he is killed, after three 32 days he shall rise again. But they understood not the saying, and were afraid to ask him.
33 And they came to Capernaum:
and when he was in the house he asked them, What were ye reason-34 ing in the way? But they held their peace: for they had disputed one with another in the way, who 35 was the <sup>4</sup>greatest. And he sat down, and called the twelve; and he saith unto them, If any man would be 36 first, he shall be last of all, and minister of all. And he took a little child, and set him in the midst of them; and taking him in his arms, 37 he said unto them, Whosoever shall receive one of such little children in my name, receiveth me: and whosoever receiveth me, receiveth not me, but him that sent me.
38 John said unto him, <sup>5</sup>Master, we saw one casting out <sup>6</sup>devils in thy name: and we forbade him, because he followed not us. But Jesus said, 39 Forbid him not: for there is no man which shall do a <sup>7</sup>mighty work in my name, and be able quickly to 40 speak evil of me. For he that is not against us is for us. For whosoever 41 shall give you a cup of water to drink, <sup>8</sup>because ye are Christ's, verily I say unto you, he shall in no 42 wise lose his reward. And whosoever shall cause one of these little ones that believe <sup>9</sup>on me to stumble, it were better for him if <sup>10</sup>a great millstone were hanged about his neck, and he were cast into the 43 sea. And if thy hand cause thee to stumble, cut it off: it is good for thee to enter into life maimed, rather than having thy two hands to go into 44 hell, into the unquenchable fire.
45 And if thy foot cause thee to stumble, cut it off: it is good for thee to enter into life halt, rather than having thy two feet to be cast into 46 hell. And if thine eye cause thee to stumble, cast it out: it is good for thee to enter into the kingdom of God with one eye, rather than having two eyes to be cast into 48 hell: where their worm dieth not,

and the fire is not quenched.
49 For every one shall be salted with fire.
50 Salt is good: but if the salt have lost its saltiness, wherewith will ye season it? Have salt in yourselves, and be at peace one with another.
10 And he arose from thence, and cometh into the borders of Judaea and beyond Jordan: and multitudes come together unto him again; and,
as he was wont, he taught them again. And there came unto him Pharisees, and asked him, Is it lawful for a man to put away his wife?
3 tempting him. And he answered and said unto them, What did Moses 4 command you? And they said, Moses suffered to write a bill of di-vorcement, and to put her away.
5 But Jesus said unto them, For your hardness of heart he wrote you this 6 commandment. But from the beginning of the creation, Male and 7 female made he them. For this cause shall a man leave his father and mother, <sup>14</sup>and shall cleave to his wife: and the twain shall become one flesh: so that they are no more 9 twain, but one flesh. What therefore God hath joined together, let 10 not man put asunder. And in the house the disciples asked him again 11 of this matter. And he saith unto them, Whosoever shall put away his wife, and marry another, com-mitteth adultery against her: and if she herself shall put away her husband, and marry another, she committeth adultery.
13 And they brought unto him little children, that he should touch them: and the disciples rebuked 14 them. But when Jesus saw it, he was moved with indignation, and said unto them, Suffer the little children to come unto me; forbid them not: for of such is the king-15 dom of God. Verily I say unto you, Whosoever shall not receive the kingdom of God as a little child,
he shall in no wise enter therein.
16 And he took them in his arms and blessed them, laying his hands upon
them.
17 And as he was going forth <sup>15</sup>into the way, there ran one to him, and kneeled to him, and asked him,
Good <sup>5</sup>Master, what shall I do that 18 I may inherit eternal life? And Jesus said unto him, Why callest thou me good? none is good save 19 one, even God. Thou knowest the commandments. Do not kill. Do not commit adultery. Do not steal. Do not bear false witness. Do not defraud. Honour thy father and mo-

23 And Jesus looked round about, and saith unto his disciples, How hardly shall they that have riches enter into the kingdom of God!

24 And the disciples were amazed at his words. But Jesus answereth again, and saith unto them, Children, how hard is it <sup>1</sup> for them that trust in riches to enter into the kingdom of God! It is easier for a camel to go through a needle's eye, than for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of God. And they were astonished exceedingly, saying <sup>2</sup> unto him, Then who can be saved?

25 Jesus looking upon them saith, With men it is impossible, but not with God: for all things are possible with God. Peter began to say unto him, Lo, we have left all, and have followed thee. Jesus said, Verily I say unto you, There is no man that hath left house, or brethren, or sisters, or mother, or father, or children, or lands, for my sake, and for the gospel's sake, but he shall receive a hundredfold now in this time, houses, and brethren, and sisters, and mothers, and children, and lands, with persecutions; and in the <sup>3</sup> world to come eternal life.

26 But many that are first shall be last: and the last first.

27 And they were in the way, going up to Jerusalem; and Jesus was going before them: and they were amazed: <sup>4</sup> and they that followed were afraid.

28 And he took again the twelve, and began to tell them the things that were to happen unto him, saying, Behold, we go up to Jerusalem; and the Son of man shall be delivered unto the chief priests and the scribes; and they shall condemn him to death, and shall deliver him unto the Gentiles: and they shall mock him, and shall spit upon him, and shall scourge him, and shall kill him; and after three days he shall rise again.

29 And there come near unto him James and John, the sons of Zebedee, saying unto him, <sup>5</sup> Master, we would that thou shouldest do for us whatsoever we shall ask of thee.

30 And he said unto them, What would ye that I should do for you? And they said unto him, Grant unto us that we may sit, one on thy right hand, and one on thy left hand, in thy glory. But Jesus said unto them, Ye know not what ye ask. Are ye able to drink the cup that I drink? or to be baptized with the baptism that I am baptized with? And they said unto him, We are able. And Jesus said unto them, The cup that I drink ye shall drink; and with the baptism that I am baptized withal shall ye be baptized: but to sit on my right hand or on my left hand is not mine to give: but it is for them for whom it hath been prepared.

41 And when the ten heard it, they began to be moved with indignation concerning James and John.

42 And Jesus called them to him, and saith unto them, Ye know that they which are accounted to rule over the Gentiles lord it over them: and their great ones exercise authority over them. But it is not so among you: but whosoever would become great among you, shall be your

43 minister: and whosoever would be first among you, shall be <sup>6</sup> servant of all. For verily the Son of man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister, and to give his life a ransom for many.

44 And they come to Jericho: and as he went out from Jericho, with his disciples and a great multitude, the son of Timæus, Bartimæus, a blind beggar, was sitting by the way side.

45 And when he heard that it was Jesus of Nazareth, he began to cry out, and say, Jesus, thou son of David, have mercy on me. And many rebuked him, that he should hold his peace: but he cried out the more a great deal, Thou son of David, have mercy on me. And Jesus stood still, and said, Call ye him. And they call the blind man, saying unto him, Be of good cheer: rise, he calleth thee. And he, casting away his garment, sprang up, and came to Jesus. And Jesus answered him, and said, What wilt thou that I should do unto thee? And the blind man said unto him, <sup>7</sup> Rabbi, that I may receive my sight. And Jesus said unto him, Go thy way: thy faith hath <sup>8</sup> made thee whole. And straightway he received his sight, and followed him in the way.

46 And when they draw nigh unto Jerusalem, unto Bethphage and Bethany, at the mount of Olives, he sendeth two of his disciples, and saith unto them, Go your way into the village that is over against you: and straightway as ye enter into it, ye shall find a colt tied, whereon no man ever yet sat; loose him, and 47 bring him. And if any one say unto you, Why do ye this? say ye, The Lord hath need of him; and straightway he <sup>9</sup> will send him <sup>10</sup> back hither. And they went away, and found a colt tied at the door without in the open street; and they loose him.

48 And certain of them that stood there said unto them, What do ye loosing the colt? And they said unto them even as Jesus had said: and they let 49 them go. And they bring the colt unto Jesus, and cast on him their garments; and he sat upon him.

50 And many spread their garments upon the way; and others <sup>11</sup> branches, which they had cut from the fields.

51 And they that went before, and they that followed, cried, Hosanna: Blessed is he that cometh in the 11 And he entered into Jerusalem, into the temple; and when he had looked round about upon all things, it being now eventide, he went out unto Bethany with the twelve.

12 And on the morrow, when they were come out from Bethany, he 13 hungered. And seeing a fig tree afar off having leaves, he came, if haply he might find anything thereon: and when he came to it, he found nothing but leaves; for it was not 14 the season of figs. And he answered and said unto it, No man eat fruit from thee henceforward for ever. And his disciples heard it.

15 And they come to Jerusalem: and he entered into the temple, and began to cast out them that sold and them that bought in the temple, and overthrew the tables of the money-changers, and the seats of them that 16 sold the doves; and he would not suffer that any man should carry a vessel through the temple. And he taught, and said unto them, Is it not written, My house shall be called a house of prayer for all the nations? but ye have made it a den of robbers. And the chief priests and the scribes heard it, and sought how they might destroy him: for they feared him, for all the multitude was astonished at his teaching.

19 And <sup>1</sup>every evening <sup>2</sup>he went forth out of the city,

20 And as they passed by in the morning, they saw the fig tree withered away from the roots. And Peter calling to remembrance saith unto him, Rabbi, behold, the fig tree which thou cursedst is withered away. And Jesus answering saith 23 unto them, Have faith in God. Verily I say unto you, Whosoever shall say unto this mountain, Be thou taken up and cast into the sea; and shall not doubt in his heart, but shall believe that what he saith cometh to pass; he shall have it.

24 Therefore I say unto you, All things whatsoever ye pray and ask for, believe that ye have received them, 25 and ye shall have them. And whosoever ye stand praying, forgive, if ye have ought against any one; that your Father also which is in heaven may forgive you your trespasses.<sup>3</sup>

27 And they come again to Jerusalem: and as he was walking in the temple, there come to him the chief priests, and the scribes, and the elders; and they said unto him, By what authority doest thou these things? or who gave thee this authority to do these things? And Jesus said unto them, I will ask of you one 29 question, and answer me, and I will tell you by what authority I do 30 these things. The baptism of John, was it from heaven, or from men?

31 answer me. And they reasoned with themselves, saying, If we shall say, From heaven; he will say, Why then did ye not believe him? <sup>5</sup>But should we say, From men—they feared the people: <sup>6</sup>for all verily held John to be a prophet. And they answered Jesus and say, We know not. And Jesus saith unto them, Neither tell I you by what authority I do these things.

12 And he began to speak unto them in parables. A man planted a vineyard, and set a hedge about it, and digged a pit for the wine-press, and built a tower, and let it out to husbandmen, and went into 2 another country. And at the season he sent to the husbandmen a <sup>7</sup>servant, that he might receive from the husbandmen of the fruits of 3 the vineyard. And they took him, and beat him, and sent him away 4 empty. And again he sent unto them another <sup>7</sup>servant; and him they wounded in the head, and handled 5 shamefully. And he sent another; and him they killed: and many others; beating some, and killing 6 some. He had yet one, a beloved son: he sent him last unto them, saying, They will reverence my son. 7 But those husbandmen said among themselves, This is the heir; come, let us kill him, and the inheritance 8 shall be ours. And they took him, and killed him, and cast him forth 9 out of the vineyard. What therefore will the lord of the vineyard do? he will come and destroy the husbandmen, and will give the vineyard un- 10 to others. Have ye not read even this scripture;

The stone which the builders rejected,

The same was made the head of the corner.

11 This was from the Lord, And it is marvellous in our eyes? 12 And they sought to lay hold on him; and they feared the multitude; for they perceived that he spake the parable against them; and they left him, and went away.

13 And they send unto him certain of the Pharisees and of the Herodians, that they might catch him in talk. And when they were come, they say unto him, <sup>8</sup>Master, we know that thou art true, and carest not for any one: for thou regardest not the person of men, but of a truth teachest the way of God: Is it lawful to give tribute unto Caesar, 15 or not? Shall we give, or shall we not give? But he, knowing their hypocrisy, said unto them, Why tempt ye me? bring me a <sup>9</sup>penny, that I 16 may see it. And they brought it. And he saith unto them, Whose is this image and superscription? And they said unto him, Caesar's. And Jesus said unto them, Render unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's, and unto God the things that are God's. And they marvelled greatly at him.

18 And there come unto him Sadducees, which say that there is no resurrection; and they asked him, saying, <sup>1</sup> Master, Moses wrote unto us, If a man's brother die, and leave a wife behind him, and leave no child, that his brother should take his wife, and raise up seed unto his brother. There were seven brethren: and the first took a wife, and dying left no seed; and the second took her, and died, leaving no seed behind him; and the third likewise: and the seven left no seed. Last of all the woman also died. In the resurrection whose wife shall she be of them? for the seven had her to wife. Jesus said unto them, Is it not for this cause that ye err, that ye know not the scriptures, nor the power of God? For when they shall rise from the dead, they neither marry, nor are given in marriage; but are as angels in heaven. But as touching the dead, that they are raised; have ye not read in the book of Moses, in the place concerning the Bush, how God spake unto him, saying, I am the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob? He is not the God of the dead, but of the living: ye do greatly err.

28 And one of the scribes came, and heard them questioning together, and knowing that he had answered them well, asked him, What commandment is the first of all? Jesus answered, The first is, Hear, O Israel: <sup>2</sup> The Lord our God, the Lord is one: and thou shalt love the Lord thy God <sup>3</sup> with all thy heart, and <sup>4</sup> with all thy soul, and <sup>5</sup> with all thy mind, and <sup>6</sup> with all thy strength. The second is this, Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself. There is none other commandment greater than these. And the scribe said unto him, Of a truth, <sup>1</sup> Master, thou hast well said that he is one; and there is none other but he: and to love him with all the heart, and with all the strength, and to love his neighbour as himself, is much more than all whole burnt offerings and sacrifices. And when Jesus saw that he answered discreetly, he said unto him, Thou art not far from the kingdom of God. And no man after that durst ask him any question.

35 And Jesus answered and said, as he taught in the temple, How say the scribes that the Christ is the son of David? David himself said in the Holy Spirit,

The Lord said unto my Lord, Sit thou on my right hand, Till I make thine enemies <sup>4</sup> the footstool of thy feet.

37 David himself calleth him Lord; and whence is he his son? And <sup>5</sup> the common people heard him gladly.

38 And in his teaching he said, Beware of the scribes, which desire to walk in long robes, and to have salutations in the marketplaces, and chief seats in the synagogues, and chief places at feasts: they which devour widows' houses, and for a pretence make long prayers; these shall receive greater condemnation.

41 And he sat down over against the treasury, and beheld how the multitude cast <sup>7</sup> money into the treasury: and many that were rich cast in much. And there came <sup>8</sup> a poor widow, and she cast in two mites, which make a farthing. And he called unto him his disciples, and said unto them, Verily I say unto you, This poor widow cast in more than all they which are casting into the treasury: for they all did cast in of their superfluity; but she of her want did cast in all that she had, even all her living.

13 And as he went forth out of the temple, one of his disciples saith unto him, <sup>1</sup> Master, behold, what manner of stones and what manner of buildings! And Jesus said unto him, Seest thou these great buildings? there shall not be left here one stone upon another, which shall not be thrown down.

3 And as he sat on the mount of Olives over against the temple, Peter and James and John, and Andrew asked him privately, Tell us, when shall these things be? and what shall be the sign when these things are all about to be accomplished? And Jesus began to say unto them, Take heed that no man lead you astray. Many shall come in my name, saying, I am he; and shall lead many astray. And when ye shall hear of wars and rumours of wars, be not troubled: these things must needs come to pass; but the end is not yet. For nation shall rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom: there shall be earthquakes in divers places; there shall be famines; these things are the beginning of travail.

9 But take ye heed to yourselves: for they shall deliver you up to councils; and in synagogues shall ye be beaten; and before governors and kings shall ye stand for my sake, for a testimony unto them. And the gospel must first be preached unto all the nations. 11 And when they lead you to judgment, and deliver you up, be not anxious beforehand what ye shall speak: but whatsoever shall be given you in that hour, that speak ye: for it is not ye that speak, but the Holy Ghost. And brother shall deliver up brother to death, and the father his child; and children shall rise up against parents, and cause them to be put to death. 13 And ye shall be hated of all men for my name's sake; but he that

14 But when ye see the abomination of desolation standing where he ought not (let him that readeth understand), then let them that are in Judæa flee unto the

16 his house: and let him that is in the field not return back to take

18 give suck in those days! And pray ye that it be not in the winter.

19 For those days shall be tribulation, such as there hath not been the like from the beginning of the creation which God created until now,

20 and never shall be. And except the Lord had shortened the days, no flesh would have been saved: but for the elect's sake, whom he chose,

21 he shortened the days. And then if any man shall say unto you, Lo, here is the Christ; or, Lo, there;

22 believe <sup>1</sup>if not: for there shall arise false Christs and false prophets, and shall shew signs and wonders, that they may lead astray, if possible, the elect. But take ye heed: behold, I have told you all things beforehand.

24 But in those days, after that tribulation, the sun shall be darkened, and the moon shall not give

3 And while he was in Bethany in the house of Simon the leper, as he sat at meat, there came a woman having <sup>5</sup>an alabaster cruse of ointment of <sup>6</sup>spikenard very costly; and she brake the cruse, and poured it over his head. But there were some that had indignation among themselves, saying, To what purpose hath this waste of the ointment been made? For this ointment might have been sold for above three hundred <sup>7</sup>pence, and given to the poor. And they murmured against her. But Jesus said,

Let her alone; why trouble ye her? she hath wrought a good work on me. For ye have the poor always with you, and whosoever ye will ye can do them good: but me ye have not always. She hath done what she could: she hath anointed my body aforehand for the bury-

10 And Judas Iscariot, <sup>8</sup>he that was one of the twelve, went away unto the chief priests, that he might

12 And on the first day of unleavened bread, when they sacrificed the passover, his disciples say unto him,

Where wilt thou that we go and make ready that thou mayest eat shall meet you a man bearing a pitcher of water: follow him; and wheresoever he shall enter in, say to the goodman of the house, The over with my disciples? And he will himself shew you a large upper room furnished and ready: and there make ready for us. And the disciples went forth, and came into the city, and found as he had said unto them: and they made ready the passover.

27 And Jesus saith unto them, All ye shall be <sup>5</sup>offended: for it is written, I will smite the shepherd, and the sheep shall be scattered abroad. Howbeit, after I am raised up, I will go before you into Galilee. But Peter said unto him, Although all shall be <sup>5</sup>offended, yet will not I. And Jesus saith unto him, Verily I say unto thee, that thou to-day, even this night, before the cock crow twice, shalt deny me thrice. But he spake exceeding vehemently, If I must die with thee, I will not deny thee. And in like manner also said they all.

32 And they come unto <sup>6</sup>a place which was named Gethsemane: and he saith unto his disciples,

33 Sit ye here, while I pray. And he taketh with him Peter and James and John, and began to be greatly

34 amazed, and sore troubled. And he saith unto them, My soul is exceeding sorrowful even unto death:

35 abide ye here, and watch. And he went forward a little, and fell on the ground, and prayed that, if it were

36 possible the hour might pass away from him. And he said, Abba, Father all things are possible unto thee: remove this cup from me: howbeit not what I will, but what 37 thou wilt. And he cometh, and findeth them sleeping, and saith unto Peter, Simon, sleepest thou? couldest thou not watch one hour?

38 <sup>7</sup>Watch and pray, that ye enter not into temptation: the spirit indeed is willing, but the flesh is 39 weak. And again he went away, and prayed, saying the same words.

40 And again he came, and found them sleeping, for their eyes were very heavy: and they wist not what

41 to answer him. And he cometh the third time, and saith unto them Sleep on now, and take your rest: it is enough; the hour is come; behold, the Son of man is betrayed into the hands of sinners. 42 Arise, let us be going: behold, he that betrayeth me is at hand.

43 And straightway, while he yet spake, cometh Judas, one of the twelve, and with him a multitude with swords and staves from the chief priests and the scribes and the elders. Now he that betrayed

44 him had given them a token, saying, Whomsoever I shall kiss, that is he; take him, and lead him

45 away safely. And when he was come, straightway he came to him, and saith, Rabbi; and <sup>8</sup>kissed him.

46 And they laid hands on him, and took him. But a certain one of them that stood by drew his sword,

47 and smote the <sup>9</sup>servant of the high priest, and struck off his ear. And Jesus answered and said unto them,

48 Are ye come out, as against a robber, with swords and staves to seize me? I was daily with you in the temple teaching, and ye took me

49 not: but this is done that the scriptures might be fulfilled. And they all left him, and fled.

51 And a certain young man followed with him, having a linen cloth cast about him, over his naked

52 body: and they lay hold on him; but he left the linen cloth, and fled naked.

53 And they led Jesus away to the high priest: and there come together with him all the chief

54 priests and the elders and the scribes. And Peter had followed him afar off, even within, into the court of the high priest; and he was sitting with the officers,

55 and warming himself in the light of the fire. Now the chief priests and the whole council sought witness against Jesus to put him to 56 death; and found it not. For many bare false witness against him and their witness agreed not together.

57 And there stood up certain, and bare false witness against him, saying,

58 We heard him say, I will destroy this <sup>10</sup>temple that is made with hands, and in three days I will build another made without

59 hands. And not even so did their witness agree together. And the 60 high priest stood up in the midst, and asked Jesus, saying, Answerest thou nothing? what is it which these witness against thee? But he 61 held his peace, and answered nothing. Again the high priest asked him, and saith unto him, Art thou the Christ the Son of the Blessed?

62 And Jesus said, I am: and ye shall see the Son of man sitting at the right hand of power, and coming

63 with the clouds of heaven. And the high priest rent his clothes, and saith, What further need have

64 we of witnesses? Ye have heard the blasphemy: what think ye? And they all condemned him to be

66 And as Peter was beneath in the court, there cometh one of the maids of the high priest; and seeing Peter warming himself, she looked upon him, and saith, Thou also wast with the Nazarene, even Jesus. But he denied, saying, I neither know, nor understand what thou sayest; and he went out into the porch; and the cock crew. And the maid saw him, and began again to say to them that stood by, This is one of them.

70 But he again denied it. And after a little while again they that stood by said to Peter, Of a truth thou art one of them; for thou art a Galilean. But he began to curse, and to swear, I know not this man of whom ye speak. And straightway the second time the cock crew. And Peter called to mind the word, how that Jesus said unto him, Before the cock crew twice, thou shalt deny me thrice. And when he thought thereon, he wept.

72 And straightway in the morning the chief priests with the elders and scribes, and the whole council, hold a consultation, and bound Jesus, and carried him up to Pilate, and delivered him up to Pilate.

2 late. And Pilate asked him, Art thou the King of the Jews? And he answering saith unto him, Thou sayest. And the chief priests accused him of many things. And Pilate again asked him, saying, Answerest thou nothing? behold how many things they accuse thee of.

5 But Jesus no more answered anything; inasmuch that Pilate marvelled.

6 Now at the feast he used to release unto them one prisoner, whom they asked of him. And there was one called Barabbas, lying bound with them that had made insurrection, men who in the insurrection had committed murder. And the multitude went up and began to ask him to do as he was wont to do unto them. And Pilate answered them, saying, Will ye that I release unto you the King of the Jews? For he perceived that for envy the chief priests had delivered him up.

10 But the chief priests stirred up the multitude, that he should rather release Barabbas unto them. And Pilate again answered and said unto them, What then shall I do unto him whom ye call the King of the Jews? And they cried out again, Crucify him.

14 And Pilate said unto them, Why, what evil hath he done? But they cried out exceedingly, Crucify him.

16 And Pilate, wishing to content the multitude, released unto them Barabbas, and delivered Jesus, when he had scourged him, to be crucified.

18 And the soldiers led him away within the court, which is the Praetorium; and they call together the whole band. And they clothe him with purple, and plaiting a crown of thorns, they put it on him, and they began to salute him Hail, King of the Jews! And they smote his head with a reed, and did spit upon him, and bowing their knees worshipped him. And when they had mocked him, they took off from him the purple, and put on him his garments. And they lead him out to crucify him.

21 And they compel one passing by, Simon of Cyrene, coming from the country, the father of Alexander and Rufus, to go with them, that he might bear his cross. And they bring him unto the place Golgotha, which is, being interpreted, The place of a skull. And they offered him wine mingled with myrrh; but he received it not. And they crucified him, and part his garments among them, casting lots upon them, what each should take. And it was the third hour, and they crucified him. And the superscription of his accusation was written over, THE KING OF THE JEWS. And with him they crucified two robbers; one on his right hand, and one on his left.

26 And they that passed by, rallied on him, wagging their heads, and saying, Hail thou that destroyest the temple, and buiddest it in three days, save thyself, and come down from the cross. And likewise also the chief priests mocking him among themselves with the scribes said, He saved others; himself he cannot save. Let the Christ, the King of Israel, now come down from the cross, that we may see and believe. And they that were crucified with him reproached him.

33 And when the sixth hour was come, there was darkness over the whole land until the ninth hour. And at the ninth hour Jesus cried with a loud voice, Eli, Eli, lama sabachthani? which is, being interpreted, My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me? And some of them that stood by, when they heard it, said, Behold, he calleth Elijah. And one ran, and filling a sponge full of vinegar, put it on a reed, and gave him to drink, saying, Let him be; let us see whether Elijah cometh to take him down. And Jesus uttered a loud voice, and gave up the ghost. And the veil of the temple was rent in twain from the top to the bottom.

39 And when the centurion, which stood by over against him, saw that he thus gave up the ghost, he said, Truly this man was the Son of God. And there were also women beholding from afar, among whom were both Mary Magdalene, and looking for the kingdom of God;

and he boldly went in unto Pilate,
and asked for the body of Jesus.

44 And Pilate marvelled if he were already dead, and calling in to him the centurion, he asked him whether he 2 had been any while dead.

45 And when he learned it of the cen-turion, he granted the corpse to 46 Joseph. And he bound it in a sheet, and laying him down, wound him in the linen cloth, and laid him in a tomb which had been hewn out of a rock, and he rolled a stone round the door of the 47 tomb. And Mary Magdalene and Mary the mother of James beheld where he was laid.

16 And when the sabbath was past, Mary Magdalene, and Mary the mother of James and Salome, bought spices, that they might come and anoint him. And very early on the first day of the week, they came to the tomb when the sun was risen.

3 And they were saying among themselves, Who shall roll us away the stone from the door of the tomb?

4 And looking up, they see that the stone is rolled back: for it was exceeding great. And entering into the tomb, they saw a young man sitting on the right side, arrayed in a white robe, and they were 5 amazed. And he saith unto them,

Be not amazed: ye seek Jesus, the Nazarene, which hath been crucified: he is risen: he is not here:

6 behold, the place where they laid him. But go, tell his disciples and Peter. He goeth before you into 7 the Galilee, there shall ye see him, as he said unto you. And they went out, and fled from the tomb; for trembling and astonishment had come upon them; and they said nothing to any one; for they were afraid.

8 Now when he was risen early on the first day of the week, he appeared first to Mary Magdalene, from whom he had cast out seven devils. She went and told them that had been with him, as they mourned and wept. And they, when they heard that he was alive, and had been seen of her, disbelieved.

9 And after these things he was manifested in another form unto two of them, as they walked, on their way into the country. And they went away and told it unto the rest: neither believed they them.

10 And afterward he was manifested unto the eleven themselves as they sat at meat, and he shewed them with their unbelief and hardness of heart, because they believed not them which had seen him after he was risen. And he said unto them, Go ye into all the world, and preach
the gospel to the whole creation.

11 He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved, but he that dis-believeth shall be condemned. And these signs shall follow them that believe: In my name shall they cast out devils: they shall speak with new tongues: they shall take up serpents, and if they drink any deadly thing, it shall in no wise hurt them: they shall lay hands on the sick, and they shall recover.

12 So then the Lord Jesus, after he had spoken unto them, was received up into heaven, and sat down at the right hand of God. And they went forth and preached everywhere, the Lord working with them, and confirming the word by the signs that followed. Amen.

THE GOSPEL ACCORDING TO S. LUKE.

1 FORASMUCH as many have taken in hand to draw up a narrative concerning those matters which have been fulfilled among us, even as they delivered them unto us, which from the beginning were eyewitnesses and ministers of the word, it seemed good to me also, having traced the course of all things accurately from the first, to write unto thee in order, most excellent Theophilus, that thou mightest know

2 the certainty concerning the things wherein thou wast instructed.

3 THERE was in the days of Herod, king of Judaea, a certain priest named Zacharias, of the course of Abiath, and he had a wife of the daughters of Aaron, and her name was Elisabeth. And they were both righteous before God, walking in all the commandments and ordinances
of the Lord blameless. And they

4 had no child, because Elisabeth was barren, and they both were advanced in years.

5 And when they were both righteous before God, walking in all
the commandments and ordinances
of the Lord blameless. And they

barren, and they both were advanced

7 And when they were both righteous before God, walking in all
the commandments and ordinances
of the Lord blameless. And they

8 had no child, because Elisabeth was barren, and they both were advanced
in years.

9 And when they were both righteous before God, walking in all
the commandments and ordinances
of the Lord blameless. And they

10 had no child, because Elisabeth was barren, and they both were advanced
in years.

- 8 Now it came to pass, while he executed the priest's office before God in the order of his course, according to the custom of the priest's office, his lot was to enter into the temple of the Lord and burn incense. And the whole multitude of the people were praying without at the hour of incense. And there appeared unto him an angel of the Lord standing on the right side of the altar of incense. And Zacharias was troubled when he saw him, and fear fell upon him. But the angel said unto him, Fear not, Zacharias: because thy supplication is heard, and thy wife Elisabeth shall bear thee a son, and thou shalt call his name John. And thou shalt have joy and gladness; and many shall rejoice at his birth. For he shall be great in the sight of the Lord, and he shall drink no wine nor strong drink; and he shall be filled with the Holy Ghost, even from his mother's womb. And many of the children of Israel shall he turn unto the Lord their God. And he shall go before his face in the spirit and power of Elijah, to turn the hearts of the fathers to the children, and the disobedient to walk in the wisdom of the just; and to make ready for the Lord a people prepared for him. And Zacharias said unto the angel, Whereby shall I know this? for I am an old man, and my wife well stricken in years. And the angel answering said unto him, I am Gabriel, that stand in the presence of God; and I was sent to speak unto thee, and to bring thee these good tidings. And behold, thou shalt be silent and not able to speak, until the day that these things shall come to pass, because thou believedst not my words, which shall be fulfilled in their season. And the people were waiting for Zacharias, and they marvelled while he tarried in the temple. And when he came out, he could not speak unto them: and they perceived that he had seen a vision in the temple: and he continued making signs unto them, and remained dumb. And it came to pass, when the days of his ministration were fulfilled, he departed unto his house. And after these days Elisabeth his wife conceived; and she hid herself five months, saying, Thus hath the Lord done unto me in the days wherein he looked upon me, to take away my reproach among men. Now in the sixth month the angel Gabriel was sent from God unto a city of Galilee, named Nazareth, to a virgin betrothed to a man whose name was Joseph, of the house of David; and the virgin's name was Mary. And he came in unto her,

- and said, Hail, thou that art highly favoured, the Lord is with thee. But she was greatly troubled at the saying, and cast in her mind what manner of salutation this might be. And the angel said unto her, Fear not, Mary: for thou hast found favour with God. And behold, thou shalt conceive in thy womb, and bring forth a son, and shalt call his name JESUS. He shall be great, and shall be called the Son of the Most High; and the Lord God shall give unto him the throne of his father David: and he shall reign over the house of Jacob for ever; and of his kingdom there shall be no end. And Mary said unto the angel, How shall this be, seeing I know not a man? And the angel answered and said unto her, The Holy Ghost shall come upon thee, and the power of the Most High shall overshadow thee; wherefore also that which is to be born shall be called holy, the Son of God. And behold, Elisabeth thy kinswoman, she also hath conceived a son in her old age; and this is the sixth month with her that was called barren. For no word from God shall be void of power. And Mary said, Behold, the handmaid of the Lord; be it unto me according to thy word. And the angel departed from her. And Mary arose in these days and went into the hill country with haste, into a city of Judah; and entered into the house of Zacharias, and saluted Elisabeth. And it came to pass, when Elisabeth heard the salutation of Mary, the babe leaped in her womb; and Elisabeth was filled with the Holy Ghost; and she lifted up her voice with a loud cry, and said, Blessed art thou among women, and blessed is the fruit of thy womb. And whence is this to me, that the mother of my Lord should come unto me? For behold, when the voice of thy salutation came into mine ears, the babe leaped in my womb for joy. And blessed is she that believed; for there shall be a fulfilment of the things which have been spoken to her from the Lord. And Mary said, My soul doth magnify the Lord, and my spirit hath rejoiced in God my Saviour. For he hath looked upon the low estate of his handmaiden: for behold, from henceforth all generations shall call me blessed. For he that is mighty hath done to me great things; and holy is his name. And his mercy is unto generations and generations. On them that fear him. He hath shewed strength with his arm; He hath scattered the proud in the imagination of their heart. it wondered at the things which were spoken unto them by the 19 shepherds. But Mary kept all these sayings, pondering them in her 20 heart. And the shepherds returned, glorifying and praising God for all the things that they had heard and seen, even as it was spoken unto them.

21 And when eight days were fulfilled for circumcising him, his name was called JESUS, which was so called by the angel before he was conceived in the womb.

22 And when the days of their puriwere fulfilled, they brought him up to Jerusalem, to present him to the 23 Lord (as it is written in the law of the Lord, Every male that openeth

according to that which is said in the law of the Lord. A pair of turtle-behold, there was a man in Jerusalem, whose name was Simeon;

26 and this man was righteous and devout, looking for the consolation of Israel: and the Holy Spirit was 27 upon him. And it had been revealed unto him by the Holy Spirit, that he should not see death, before he had seen the Lord's Christ. And he came 28 in the Spirit into the temple: and when the parents brought in the child Jesus, that they might do concerning him after the custom of 29 the law, then he received him into his arms, and blessed God, and said, 29 Now lettest thou thy <sup>2</sup>servant

depart, O <sup>3</sup>Lord.

30 According to thy word, in peace;
For mine eyes have seen thy
salvation,

31 Which thou hast prepared before the face of all peoples;
32 A light for <sup>4</sup>revelation to the Gentiles.

33 And the glory of thy people Israel.
And his father and his mother were marvelling at the things which were 34 spoken concerning him; and Simeon blessed them, and said unto Mary his mother, Behold, this child is set for the falling and rising up of 35 many in Israel; and for a sign which is spoken against; yea and a sword shall pierce through thine own soul; that thoughts out of 36 many hearts may be revealed. And there was one Anna, a prophetess, the daughter of Phanuel, of the tribe of Asher (she was <sup>5</sup>of a great age, having lived with a husband

37 seven years from her virginity, and she had been a widow even for fourscore and four years), which departed not from the temple, worshipping with fastings and supplications night and day. And coming up at that very hour she gave thanks unto God, and spake of him to all them that were looking for the redemption of Jerusalem. And when they had accomplished all things that were according to the law of the Lord, they returned into Galilee, to their own city Nazareth.

40 And the child grew, and waxed strong, <sup>6</sup>filled with wisdom; and the grace of God was upon him.

41 And his parents went every year to Jerusalem at the feast of the 42 passover. And when he was twelve years old, they went up after the 43 custom of the feast; and when they had fulfilled the days, as they were returning, the boy Jesus tarried behind in Jerusalem; and his parents

44 knew it not; but supposing him to be in the company, they went a day's journey; and they sought for him among their kinsfolk and ac-45 quaintance: and when they found him not, they returned to Jerusalem,

46 seeking for him. And it came to pass, after three days they found him in the temple, sitting in the midst of the <sup>7</sup>doctors, both hearing

47 them, and asking them questions:
and all that heard him were amazed at his understanding and his an-48 swers. And when they saw him, they were astonished; and his mother said unto him, <sup>8</sup>Son, why hast thou thus dealt with us? behold, thy father and I sought thee sor-49 rowing. And he said unto them,

How is it that ye sought me? wist
ye not that I must be <sup>9</sup>in my 50 Father's house? And they understood not the saying which he spake 51 unto them. And he went down with them, and came to Nazareth; and he was subject unto them: and his mother kept all these <sup>1</sup>sayings in her heart.

52 And Jesus advanced in wisdom and <sup>10</sup>stature, and in <sup>11</sup>favour with God and men.

3 Now in the fifteenth year of the reign of Tiberius Caesar, Pontius Pilate being governor of Judaea, and Herod being tetrarch of Galilee, and his brother Philip tetrarch of the region of Iturea and Trachonitis,

2 and Lysanias tetrarch of Abilene, in the high-priesthood of Annas and Caiaphas, the word of God came unto John the son of Zacharias in 3 the wilderness. And he came into all the region round about Jordan, preaching the baptism of repent-4 ance unto remission of sins; as it is written in the book of the words of Isaiah the prophet,

The voice of one crying in the wilderness,
Make ye ready the way of the

Make his paths straight.

tudes that went out to be baptized of him. Ye offspring of vipers, who warned you to flee from the wrath to come? Bring forth therefore fruits worthy of <sup>1</sup>repentance, and begin not to say within yourselves, We have Abraham our father: for I say unto you, that God is able of these stones to raise up children unto Abraham. And even now is the axe also laid unto the root of the trees: every tree therefore that bringeth not forth good fruit is hewn down, and cast into the fire.

10 And the multitudes asked him, saying, What then must we do? And he answered and said unto them, He that hath two coats, let him impart to him that hath none; and he that hath food, let him do likewise. And there came also <sup>2</sup>publicans to be baptized, and they said unto him, <sup>3</sup>Master, what must we do? And he said unto them, Extort no more than that which is appointed you. And <sup>4</sup>soldiers also asked him, saying, And we, what must we do? And he said unto them, Do violence to no man, neither <sup>5</sup>exact anything wrongfully; and be content with your wages.

15 And as the people were in expectation, and all men reasoned in their hearts concerning John, whether <sup>6</sup>happily he were the Christ; John answered, saying unto them all, I indeed baptize you with water: but there cometh he that is mightier than I, the latchet of whose shoes I am not <sup>6</sup>worthy to unloose: he shall baptize you <sup>7</sup>with the Holy Ghost and with fire: whose fan is in his hand, thoroughly to cleanse his threshing-floor, and to gather the wheat into his garner; but the chaff he will burn up with unquenchable fire.

18 With many other exhortations therefore preached he <sup>8</sup>good tidings unto the people; but Herod the tetrarch, being reproved by him for Herodias his brother's wife, and for all the evil things which Herod had done, added yet this above all, that he shut up John in prison.

21 Now it came to pass, when all the people were baptized, that Jesus also having been baptized, and praying, the heaven was opened, and the Holy Ghost descended in a bodily form, as a dove, upon him, and a voice came out of heaven, Thou art my beloved Son; in thee I am well pleased.

23 And Jesus himself, when he began to teach, was about thirty years of age, being the son (as was supposed) of Joseph, the son of Heli, the son of Matthat, the son of Levi, the son of Melchi, the son of Jannai, the son of Joseph, the son of Mattathias, the son of Amos, the son of Nahum, the son of Esli, the son of Naggai, the son of Maath, the son of Matathias, the son of Semein, the son of Josech, the son of Joda, the son of Joanan, the son of Rhesa, the son of Zerubbabel, the son of Shealtiel, the son of Neri, the son of Melchi, the son of Addi, the son of Cosam, the son of Elmadam, the son of Er, the son of Jesus, the son of Eliezer, the son of Jorim, the son of Matthat, the son of Levi, the son of Symeon, the son of Judas, the son of Joseph, the son of Jonam, the son of Eliakim, the son of Melea, the son of Menna, the son of Mattatha, the son of Nathan, the son of David, the son of Jesse, the son of Obed, the son of Boaz, the son of <sup>10</sup>Salmon, the son of Nahshon, the son of Amminadab, <sup>11</sup>the son of <sup>12</sup>Arni, the son of Bezron, the son of Perez, the son of Judah, the son of Jacob, the son of Isaac, the son of Abraham, the son of Terah, the son of Nahor, the son of Serug, the son of Reu, the son of Peleg, the son of Eber, the son of Shelah, the son of Calnan, the son of Arphaxad, the son of Shem, the son of Noah, the son of Lamech, the son of Methuselah, the son of Enoch, the son of Jared, the son of Mahalaleel, the son of Calnan, the son of Enos, the son of Seth, the son of Adam, the son of God.

4 And Jesus, full of the Holy Spirit, returned from the Jordan, and was led <sup>13</sup>by the Spirit in the wilderness 2 during forty days, being tempted of the devil. And he did eat nothing in those days: and when they were 3 completed, he hungered. And the devil said unto him, If thou art the Son of God, command this stone 4 that it become <sup>14</sup>bread. And Jesus answered unto him, It is written, Man shall not live by bread alone. 5 And he led him up, and shewed him all the kingdoms of <sup>15</sup>the world in a moment of time: And the devil said unto him, To thee will I give all this authority, and the glory of them: for it hath been delivered unto me; and to whomsoever I will 7 I give it. If thou therefore wilt worship before me, it shall all be 8 thine. And Jesus answered and said unto him, It is written, Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and him 9 only shalt thou serve. And he led him to Jerusalem, and set him on the <sup>16</sup>pinnacle of the temple, and said unto him, If thou art the Son of God, cast thyself down from 10 hence: for it is written,

He shall give his angels charge concerning thee, to guard thee:

11 and, On their hands they shall bear thee up, Lest haply thou dash thy foot against a stone.

12 And Jesus answering said unto him, It is said, Thou shalt not tempt the Lord thy God.

13 And when the devil had completed every temptation, he departed from him <sup>17</sup>for a season.

of the Spirit into Galilee: and a fame went out concerning him through all the region round about.

15 And he taught in their synagogues, being glorified of all.

16 And he came to Nazareth, where he had been brought up: and he entered, as his custom was, into the synagogue on the sabbath day, and stood up to read. And there was delivered unto him <sup>1</sup> the book of the prophet Isaiah. And he opened the <sup>2</sup> book, and found the place where it was written.

18 The Spirit of the Lord is upon me, <sup>3</sup> Because he anointed me to preach <sup>4</sup> good tidings to the poor:

He hath sent me to proclaim release to the captives, And recovering of sight to the blind,

To set at liberty them that are bruised.

19 To proclaim the acceptable year of the Lord.

20 And he closed the <sup>2</sup> book, and gave it back to the attendant, and sat down: and the eyes of all in the synagogue were fastened on him.

21 And he began to say unto them, To-day hath this scripture been fulfilled in your ears. And all bare him witness, and wondered at the words of grace which proceeded out of his mouth: and they said,

23 Is not this Joseph's son? And he said unto them, Doubtless ye will say unto me this parable, Physician, heal thyself: whatsoever we have heard done at Capernaum, do also here in thine own country. And he said, Verily I say unto you, No prophet is acceptable in his own country.

25 But of a truth I say unto you, There were many widows in Israel in the days of Elijah, when the heaven was shut up three years and six months, when there came a great famine over all the land: and unto none of them was Elijah sent, but only to <sup>2</sup> Zarephath, in the land of Sidon, unto a woman that

24 was a widow. And there were many lepers in Israel in the time of Elisha the prophet; and none of them was cleansed, but only Naaman the Syrian. And they were all filled with wrath in the synagogue, as they heard these things; and they rose up, and cast him forth out of the city, and led him unto the brow of the hill whereon their city was built, that they might throw him down headlong. But he passing through the midst of them went his way.

31 And he came down to Capernaum, a city of Galilee. And he was teaching them on the sabbath day: and they were astonished at his teaching; for his word was with authority.

33 And in the synagogue there was a man, which had a spirit of an unclean <sup>6</sup> devil; and he cried out with a loud voice, <sup>7</sup> Ah! what have we to do with thee, thou Jesus of Nazareth? art thou come to destroy us? I know thee who thou art, the Holy One of God. And Jesus rebuked him, saying, Hold thy peace, and come out of him. And when the <sup>8</sup> devil had thrown him down in the midst, he came out of him, having done him no hurt.

36 And amazement came upon all, and they spake together, one with another, saying, What is <sup>8</sup> this word? for with authority and power he commandeth the unclean spirits, and they come out. And there went forth a rumour concerning him into every place of the region round about.

38 And he rose up from the synagogue, and entered into the house of Simon. And Simon's wife's mother was holden with a great fever; and they besought him for her.

39 And he stood over her, and rebuked the fever; and it left her: and immediately she rose up and ministered unto them.

40 And when the sun was setting, all they that had any sick with divers diseases brought them unto him; and he laid his hands on every one of them, and healed them. And <sup>9</sup> devils also came out from many, crying out, and saying, Thou art the Son of God. And rebuking them, he suffered them not to speak, because they knew that he was the Christ.

42 And when it was day, he came out and went into a desert place: and the multitudes sought after him, and came unto him, and would have stayed him, that he should not go from them. But he said unto them, I must preach the <sup>10</sup> good tidings of the kingdom of God to the other cities also: for therefore was I sent.

44 And he was preaching in the synagogues of <sup>11</sup> Galilee.

5 Now it came to pass, while the multitude pressed upon him and heard the word of God, that he was standing by the lake of Gennesaret; and he saw two boats standing by the lake: but the fishermen had gone out of them, and were washing their nets. And he entered into one of the boats, which was Simon's, and asked him to put out a little from the land. And he sat down and taught the multitudes out of the boat. And when he had left speaking, he said unto Simon, Put out into the deep, and let down your nets for a draught. And Simon answered and said, Master, we toiled all night, and took nothing: but at thy word I will let down the nets.

6 And when they had this done, they inclosed a great multitude of fishes; and their nets were breaking; and they beckoned unto their partners in the other boat, that they should come and help them. And they came, and filled both the boats, so that they began to sink. But Simon and Peter, and the other partners of the boats, gathered together, and drew the boats up to the land, for they were full of fishes.

7 And when Simon Peter saw that he followed him, he said unto him, Behold, we have toiled all night, and have taken nothing, and yet thou hast taken many fishes at this word. And he said unto him, Fear not, for henceforth thou shalt catch men. And when they had said these things, he got up into the boat, and sat down, and the boats were full of fishes.

8 And when Simon Peter saw that he followed him, he said unto him, Behold, we have toiled all night, and have taken nothing, and yet thou hast taken many fishes at this word. And he said unto him, Fear not, for henceforth thou shalt catch men. And when they had said these things, he got up into the boat, and sat down, and the boats were full of fishes.

9 And when Simon Peter saw that he followed him, he said unto him, Behold, we have toiled all night, and have taken nothing, and yet thou hast taken many fishes at this word. And he said unto him, Fear not, for henceforth thou shalt catch men. And when they had said these things, he got up into the boat, and sat down, and the boats were full of fishes.

mon Peter, when he saw it, fell down at Jesus' knees, saying, Depart from me; for I am a sinful man, O Lord. For he was amazed, and all that were with him, at the draught of the fishes which they had taken; and so were also James and John, sons of Zebedee, which were partners with Simon. And Jesus said unto Simon, Fear not; from henceforth thou shalt catch men. And when they had brought their boats to land, they left all, and followed him.

And it came to pass, while he was in one of the cities, behold, a man full of leprosy: and when he saw Jesus, he fell on his face, and besought him, saying, Lord, if thou wilt, thou canst make me clean. And he stretched forth his hand, and touched him, saying, I will: be thou made clean. And straightway the leprosy departed from him. And he charged him to tell no man: but go thy way, and shew thyself to the priest, and offer for thy cleansing, according as Moses commanded, for a testimony unto them. But so much the more went abroad the report concerning him: and great multitudes came together to hear, and to be healed of their infirmities. But he withdrew himself in the deserts, and prayed.

And it came to pass on one of those days, that he was teaching; and there were Pharisees and doctors of the law sitting by, which were come out of every village of Galilee and Judaea and Jerusalem: and the power of the Lord was with him, to heal. And behold, men bring on a bed a man that was palsied: and they sought to bring him in, and to lay him before him.

And not finding by what way they might bring him in because of the multitude, they went up to the housetop, and let him down through the tiles with his couch into the midst before Jesus. And seeing their faith, he said, Man, thy sins are forgiven thee. And the scribes and the Pharisees began to reason, saying, Who is this that speaketh blasphemies? Who can forgive sins, but God alone? But Jesus perceiving their reasonings, answered and said unto them, What reason ye in your hearts? Whether is easier, to say, Thy sins are forgiven thee; or to say, Arise and walk? But that ye may know that the Son of man hath power on earth to forgive sins (he said unto him that was palsied), I say unto thee, Arise, and take up thy couch, and go unto thy house. And immediately he rose up before them, and took up that whereon he lay, and departed to his house, glorifying God. And amazement took hold on all, and they glorified God; and they were filled with fear, saying, We have seen strange things to-day.

And after these things he went forth, and beheld a publican, named Levi, sitting at the place of toll, and said unto him, Follow me. And he forsook all, and rose up and followed him. And Levi made him a great feast in his house; and there was a great multitude of publicans and of others that were sitting at meat with them. And the Pharisees and their scribes murmured against his disciples, saying, Why do ye eat and drink with the publicans and sinners? And Jesus answering said unto them, They that are whole have no need of a physician; but they that are sick. I am not come to call the righteous but sinners to repentance. And they said unto him, The disciples of John fast often, and make supplications; likewise also the disciples of the Pharisees; but thine eat and drink. And Jesus said unto them, Can ye make the sons of the bride-chamber fast, while the bridegroom is with them? But the days will come; and when the bridegroom shall be taken away from them, then will they fast in those days. And he spake also a parable unto them; No man rendeth a piece from a new garment and putteth it upon an old garment; else he will rend the new, and also the piece from the new will not agree with the old. And no man putteth new wine into old wineskins; else the new wine will burst the skins, and itself will be spilled, and the skins will perish. But new wine must be put into fresh wineskins. And no man having drunk old wine desireth new: for he saith, The old is good.

Now it came to pass on a sabbath, that he was going through the cornfields; and his disciples plucked the ears of corn, and did eat, rubbing them in their hands. But certain of the Pharisees said, Why do ye that which it is not lawful to do on the sabbath day? And Jesus answering them said, Have ye not read even this, what David did, when he was an hungred, he, and they that were with him; how he entered into the house of God, and did take and eat the shewbread, and gave also to them that were with him; which it is not lawful to eat save for the priests alone? And he said unto them, The Son of man is lord of the sabbath.

And it came to pass on another sabbath, that he entered into the synagogue and taught: and there was a man there, and his right hand was withered. And the scribes and the Pharisees watched him, whether he would heal on the sabbath; that they might find how to accuse him. But he knew their thoughts; and he said to the man that had his hand withered, Rise up, and stand forth in the midst.

9 And he arose and stood forth. And Jesus said unto them, I ask you, is it lawful on the sabbath to do good, or to do harm? to save a life, or to destroy it? And he looked round about on them all, and said unto him, Stretch forth thy hand. And he did so: and his hand was restored. But they were filled with <sup>1</sup>madness; and communed one with another what they might do to Jesus.

12 And it came to pass in these days, that he went out into the mountain to pray: and he continued all night in prayer to God. And when it was day, he called his disciples; and he chose from them twelve, whom also

14 he named apostles; Simon, whom he also named Peter, and Andrew his brother, and James and John, and Philip and Bartholomew, and Matthew and Thomas, and James <sup>the son of</sup> Alphaeus, and Simon which

16 was called the Zealot, and Judas <sup>the</sup> <sup>son of</sup> James, and Judas Iscariot,

17 which was the traitor; and he came down with them, and stood on a level place, and a great multitude of his disciples, and a great number of the people from all Judæa and Jerusalem, and the sea coast of Tyre and Sidon, which came to hear him, and to be healed of their diseases; and they that were troubled with unclean spirits were healed. And all the multitude sought to touch him: for power came forth from him, and healed them all.

20 And he lifted up his eyes on his disciples, and said, Blessed are ye poor: for yours is the kingdom of God. Blessed are ye that hunger now: for ye shall be filled. Blessed are ye that weep now: for ye shall laugh. Blessed are ye, when men shall hate you, and when they shall separate you from their company, and reproach you, and cast out your name as evil, for the Son of man's sake. Rejoice in that day, and leap for joy: for behold, your reward is great in heaven: for in the same manner did their fathers unto the 24 prophets. But woe unto you that are rich! for ye have received your consolation. Woe unto you, ye that are full now! for ye shall hunger. Woe unto you, ye that laugh now! for ye shall mourn and weep. Woe unto you, when all men shall speak well of you! for in the same manner did their fathers to the false prophets.

27 But I say unto you which hear, Love your enemies, do good to them that hate you, bless them that curse you, pray for them that despitefully use you. To him that smiteth thee on the one cheek offer also the other; and from him that taketh away thy cloak withhold not thy coat also. Give to every one that asketh thee; and of him that taketh away thy goods ask them

31 not again. And as ye would that men should do to you, do ye also to them likewise. And if ye love them that love you, what thank have ye? for even sinners love those that love them. And if ye do good to them that do good to you, what thank have ye? for even sinners do the same. And if ye lend to them of whom ye hope to receive, what thank have ye? even sinners lend to sinners, to receive again as much.

35 But love your enemies, and do them good, and lend, <sup>2</sup>never despairing; and ye shall be sons of the Most High: for he is kind toward the unthankful and evil. Be ye merciful, even as your Father is merciful. And judge not, and ye shall not be judged: and condemn not, and ye shall not be condemned: release, and ye shall be released:

38 give, and it shall be given unto you; good measure, pressed down, shaken together, running over, shall they give into your bosom. For with what measure ye mete it shall be measured to you again.

39 And he spake also a parable unto them, Can the blind guide the blind? shall they not both fall into a pit?

40 The disciple is not above his <sup>4</sup>master: but every one when he is perfected shall be as his <sup>4</sup>master. And why beholdest thou the mote that is in thy brother's eye, but considerest not the beam that is in thine own eye? Or how canst thou say to thy brother, Brother, let me cast out the mote that is in thine eye, when thou thyself beholdest not the beam that is in thine own eye? Thou hypocrite, cast out first the beam out of thine own eye, and then shalt thou see clearly to cast out the mote that is in thy brother's

43 eye. For there is no good tree that bringeth forth corrupt fruit; nor again a corrupt tree that bringeth forth good fruit. For each tree is known by its own fruit. For of thorns men do not gather figs, nor of a bramble bush gather they grapes. The good man out of the good treasure of his heart bringeth forth that which is good; and the evil man out of the evil treasure bringeth forth that which is evil: for out of the abundance of the heart his mouth speaketh.

46 And why call ye me, Lord, Lord, and do not the things which I say?

47 Every one that cometh unto me, and heareth my words, and doeth them, I will shew you to whom he

48 is like: he is like a man building a house, who digged and went deep, and laid a foundation upon the rock: and when a flood arose, the stream brake against that house, and could not shake it: <sup>5</sup>because it

49 had been founded upon the rock: but he that heareth, and doeth not, is like a man that built a house upon the earth without a foundation; against which the stream brake, and straightway it fell in; and the ruin of that house was great.

7 After he had ended all his sayings in the ears of the people, he entered into Capernaum.

2 And a certain centurion's <sup>1</sup>servant, who was <sup>2</sup>dear unto him, was sick and at the point of death. And

3 when he heard concerning Jesus, he sent unto him elders of the Jews, asking him that he would come and

4 save his <sup>1</sup>servant. And they, when they came to Jesus, besought him earnestly, saying, He is worthy that

5 thou shouldest do this for him: for he loveth our nation, and himself

6 built us our synagogue. And Jesus went with them. And when he was now not far from the house, the centurion sent friends to him, saying unto him, Lord, trouble not thyself: for I am not <sup>2</sup>worthy that

7 thou shouldest come under my roof: wherefore neither thought I myself

8 worthy to come unto thee: but <sup>4</sup>say the word, and my <sup>3</sup>servant shall be healed. For I also am a man set under authority, having under myself soldiers: and I say to this one, Go, and he goeth; and to another, Come, and he cometh; and to my

<sup>1</sup>servant, Do this, and he doeth it. 9 And when Jesus heard these things, he marvelled at him, and turned and said unto the multitude that followed him, I say unto you, I have not found so great faith, no, not in Israel. And they that were sent, returning to the house, found the

<sup>1</sup>servant whole. 11 And it came to pass <sup>3</sup>soon afterwards, that he went to a city called Nain; and his disciples went with him, and a great multitude. Now when he drew near to the gate of the city, behold, there was carried out one that was dead, the only son of his mother, and she was a widow: and much people of the city was with her. And when the Lord saw her, he had compassion on her, and said unto her, Weep not. And he came nigh and touched the bier: and the bearers stood still. And he said, Young man, I say unto thee, Arise. And he that was dead sat up, and began to speak. And he gave him to his mother. And fear took hold on all: and they glorified God, saying, A great prophet is arisen among us: and God hath visited his people. And this report went forth concerning him in the whole of Judaea, and all the region round about.

18 And the disciples of John told him of all these things. And John calling unto him <sup>2</sup>two of his disciples sent them to the Lord, saying,

Art thou he that cometh, or look we for another? And when the men were come unto him, they said, John the Baptist hath sent us unto thee, saying, Art thou he that cometh, or look we for another? In that hour he cured many of diseases and many that were blind he bestowed sight. And he answered and said unto them, Go your way, and tell John what things ye have seen and heard: the blind receive their sight, the lame walk, the lepers are cleansed, and the deaf hear, the dead are raised up, the poor have <sup>2</sup>good tidings preached to them. And blessed is he, whosoever shall find none occasion of stumbling in me.

<sup>8</sup>plagues and evil spirits, and on

24 And when the messengers of John were departed, he began to say unto the multitudes concerning John, What went ye out into the wilderness to behold? a reed shaken with the wind? But what went ye out to see? a man clothed in soft raiment? Behold, they which are gorgeously apparelled, and have delicately, are in kings' courts. But what went ye out to see? a prophet? Yea, I say unto you, and much more than a prophet. This is he of whom it is written,

Behold, I send my messenger before thy face.

Who shall prepare thy way before thee.

28 I say unto you, Among them that are born of women there is none greater than John: yet <sup>1</sup>he that is

<sup>19</sup>but little in the kingdom of God is greater than he. And all the people when they heard and the publicans, justified God, <sup>2</sup>being baptized with the baptism of John. But the Pharisees and the lawyers rejected for themselves the counsel of God, <sup>12</sup>being not baptized of him. Whereunto then shall I liken the men of this generation, and to what are they

32 like? They are like unto children that sit in the marketplace, and call one to another; which say, We piped unto you, and ye did not dance; we

33 wept, and ye did not weep. For John the Baptist is come eating no bread nor drinking wine; and ye say, He hath a <sup>13</sup>devil. The Son of man is come eating and drinking; and ye say, Behold, a gluttonous man, and a winebibber, a friend of publicans and sinners! And wisdom

<sup>14</sup>is justified of all her children. 36 And one of the Pharisees desired him that he would eat with him. And he entered into the Pharisee's house, and sat down to meat. And behold, a woman which was in the city, a sinner; and when she knew that he was sitting at meat in the Pharisee's house, she brought <sup>15</sup>an

38 alabaster cruse of ointment, and standing behind at his feet, weeping, she began to wet his feet with her tears, and wiped them with the hair of her head, and kissed his feet, and anointed them with the ointment. Now when the Pharisee which had bidden him saw it, he spake within himself, saying, This man, if he were <sup>17</sup>a prophet, would have perceived who and what manner of woman this is which toucheth

40 him, that she is a sinner. And Jesus answering said unto him, Simon, I have somewhat to say unto thee.

41 And he saith, <sup>1</sup>Master, say on. A certain lender had two debtors: the one owed five hundred <sup>2</sup>pence, and the other fifty. When they had not <sup>3</sup>wherewith to pay, he forgave them both. Which of them therefore 42 will love him most? Simon answered and said, He, I suppose, to whom he forgave the most. And he said unto him, Thou hast rightly
43 judged. And turning to the woman, he said unto Simon, Seest thou this woman? I entered into thine house, thou gavest me no water for my feet: but she hath wetted my feet with her tears, and wiped them 44 with her hair. Thou gavest me no kiss: but she, since the time I came in, hath not ceased to <sup>4</sup>kiss my feet.
45 My head with oil thou didst not anoint: but she hath anointed my feet with ointment. Wherefore I say unto thee, Her sins, which are many, are forgiven; for she loved much: but to whom little is forgiven, <sup>5</sup>the same loveth little. And he said unto her, Thy sins are forgiven.
46 And they that sat at meat with him began to say <sup>6</sup>within themselves, Who is this that even forgiveth sins? And he said unto the woman, Thy faith hath saved thee; go in peace.
8 And it came to pass soon afterwards, that he went about through cities and villages, preaching and bringing the <sup>7</sup>good tidings of the kingdom of God, and with him the
2 twelve, and certain women which had been healed of evil spirits and infirmities, Mary that was called Magdalene, from whom seven <sup>8</sup>devils had gone out, and Joanna the wife of Chuza Herod's steward, and Susanna, and many others, which ministered unto <sup>9</sup>them of their substance.
4 And when a great multitude came together, and they of every city resorted unto him, he spake by a parable: The sower went forth to sow his seed: and as he sowed, some fell by the way side; and it was trodden under foot, and the birds of the 6 heaven devoured it. And other fell on the rock; and as soon as it grew, it withered away, because it had no
7 moisture. And other fell amidst the thorns; and the thorns grew with it, and choked it. And other fell into the good ground, and grew, and brought forth fruit a hundred-fold. As he said these things, he cried, He that hath ears to hear, let him hear.
9 And his disciples asked him what this parable might be. And he said, Unto you it is given to know the mysteries of the kingdom of God: but to the rest in parables; that seeing they may not see, and hearing they may not understand. Now the parable is this: The seed is the 12 word of God. And those by the way side are they that have heard; then cometh the devil, and taketh away the word from their heart, that they may not believe and be saved.

13 And those on the rock are they which, when they have heard, receive the word with joy; and these have no root, which for a while believe, and in time of temptation fall away. And that which fell among the thorns, these are they that have heard, and as they go on their way they are choked with cares and riches and pleasures of <sup>10</sup>this life, and bring no fruit to perfection. And that in the good ground, these are such as in an honest and good heart, having heard the word, hold it fast, and bring forth fruit with patience.
16 And no man, when he hath lighted a lamp, covereth it with a vessel, or putteth it under a bed; but putteth it on a stand, that they which
17 enter in may see the light. For nothing is hid, that shall not be made manifest; nor <sup>11</sup>anything secret, that shall not be known and come to light. Take heed therefore how ye hear: for whosoever hath, to him shall be given; and whosoever hath not, from him shall be taken away even that which he <sup>12</sup>thinketh he hath.
19 And there came to him his mother and brethren, and they could not come at him for the crowd. And it was told him, Thy mother and thy brethren stand without, desiring to see thee. But he answered and said unto them, My mother and my brethren are these which hear the word of God, and do it.
22 Now it came to pass on one of those days, that he entered into a boat, himself and his disciples; and he said unto them, Let us go over unto the other side of the lake: and they launched forth. But as they sailed he fell asleep: and there came down a storm of wind on the lake: and they were filling <sup>13</sup>with water, and were in jeopardy. And they came to him, and awoke him, saying, Master, master, we perish. And he awoke, and rebuked the wind and the raging of the water: and they ceased, and there was a calm. And he said unto them, Where is your faith? And being afraid they marvelled, saying one to another, Who then is this, that he commandeth even the winds and the water, and they obey him?
26 And they arrived at the country of the <sup>14</sup>Gerasenes, which is over against Galilee. And when he was come forth upon the land, there met him a certain man out of the city, who had <sup>15</sup>devils; and for a long time he had worn no clothes, and abode not in <sup>16</sup>any house, but in the 28 tombs. And when he saw Jesus, he cried out, and fell down before him, and with a loud voice said, What have I to do with thee, Jesus, thou Son of the Most High God? I be-

29 seeth thee, torment me not. For he commanded the unclean spirit to come out from the man. For oftentimes it had seized him: and he was kept under guard, and bound with chains and fetters; and breaking the bands asunder, he was driven of the <sup>2</sup>devil into the deserts.

30 And Jesus asked him, What is thy name? And he said, Legion; for many <sup>2</sup>devils were entered into him.

31 And they intreated him that he would not command them to depart

32 into the abyss. Now there was there a herd of many swine feeding on the mountain: and they intreated him that he would give them leave to enter into them. And he gave them

33 leave. And the <sup>3</sup>devils came out from the man, and entered into the swine: and the herd rushed down the steep into the lake, and were

34 choked. And when they that fed them saw what had come to pass, they fled, and told it in the city and

35 in the country. And they went out to see what had come to pass; and they came to Jesus, and found the man, from whom the <sup>3</sup>devils were gone out, sitting, clothed and in his right mind, at the feet of Jesus: and they were afraid. And they that

36 saw it told them how he that was possessed with <sup>3</sup>devils was <sup>4</sup>made whole. And all the people of the country of the Gerasenes round about asked him to depart from

37 them; for they were holden with great fear: and he entered into a boat, and returned. But the man from whom the <sup>3</sup>devils were gone out prayed him that he might be with him; but he sent him away,

38 saying, Return to thy house, and declare how great things God hath done for thee. And he went his way, publishing throughout the whole city how great things Jesus had

39 done for him. And as Jesus returned, the multitude welcomed him; for they were all waiting for him. And behold, there came a man named Jairus, and he was a ruler of the synagogue: and he fell down at Jesus' feet, and besought him to come into his 40 house; for he had an only daughter, about twelve years of age, and she lay a dying. But as he went the multitudes thronged him.

41 And a woman having an issue of blood twelve years, which <sup>5</sup>had spent all her living upon physicians, and could not be healed of any,

42 came behind him, and touched the border of his garment; and immediately the issue of her blood stanch-ed. And Jesus said, Who is it that touched me? And when all denied, Peter said, <sup>6</sup>and they that were with him, Master, the multitudes

43 press thee and crush thee. But Jesus said, Some one did touch me: for I perceived that power had gone forth from me. And when the woman saw that she was not hid, she 44 came trembling, and falling down before him declared in the presence of all the people for what cause she touched him, and how she was healed immediately. And he said unto her, Daughter, thy faith hath <sup>7</sup>made thee whole; go in peace.

45 While he yet spake, there cometh one from the ruler of the synagogue's house, saying, Thy daughter is dead; trouble not the <sup>8</sup>Master. But Jesus hearing it, answered him, Fear not; only believe, and she shall

46 be <sup>4</sup>made whole. And when he came to the house, he suffered not any man to enter in with him, save Peter, and John, and James, and the father of the maiden and her mother. And all were weeping, and bewailing her: but he said, Weep not; for she is not dead, but sleep-eth. And they laughed him to scorn,

47 knowing that she was dead. But he, taking her by the hand, called, saying, Maiden, arise. And her spirit returned, and she rose up immediately: and he commanded that <sup>9</sup>some-thing be given her to eat. And her parents were amazed: but he charged them to tell no man what had been done.

9 And he called the twelve together, and gave them power and authority over all <sup>2</sup>devils, and to cure diseases. And he sent them forth to preach the kingdom of God, and to

3 heal <sup>10</sup>the sick. And he said unto them, Take nothing for your journey, neither staff, nor wallet, nor bread, nor money; neither have two coats. And into whatsoever house ye enter, there abide, and thence depart. And as many as receive you not, when ye depart from that city, shake off the dust from your feet for a testi-

4 mony against them. And they departed, and went throughout the villages, preaching the gospel, and healing everywhere.

5 Now Herod the tetrarch heard of all that was done; and he was much perplexed, because that it was said by some, that John was risen from the dead; and by some, that Elijah had appeared; and by others, that one of the old prophets was risen again. And Herod said, John I be-headed: but who is this, about whom I hear such things? And he sought to see him.

6 And the apostles, when they were returned, declared unto him what things they had done. And he took them, and withdrew apart to a city called Bethsaida. But the multitudes perceiving it followed him: and he welcomed them, and spake to them of the kingdom of God, and them that had need of healing he healed. And the day began to wear away; and the twelve came, and said unto him, Send the multitude away, that they may go into the villages and country round about, and lodge, and get victuals: for we

For they were about five thousand men. And he said unto his disciples, Make them <sup>1</sup> sit down in companies, about fifty each. And they did so, and made them all <sup>1</sup> sit down. And he took the five loaves and the two fishes, and looking up to heaven, he blessed them, and brake; and gave to the disciples to set before the multitude. 17 And they did eat, and were all filled: and there was taken up that which remained over to them of broken pieces, twelve baskets. 18 And it came to pass, as he was praying alone, the disciples were with him: and he asked them, saying, Who do the multitudes say that I am? And they answering said, John the Baptist; but others say, Elijah; and others, that one of the old prophets is risen again. And he said unto them, But who say ye that I am? And Peter answering said, The Christ of God. But he charged them, and commanded them to tell this to no man; saying, The Son of man must suffer many things, and be rejected of the elders and chief priests and scribes, and be killed, and the third day be raised up. And he said unto all, If any man would come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross daily, and follow me. For whosoever would save his <sup>2</sup> life shall lose it; but whosoever shall lose his <sup>2</sup> life for my sake, the same shall save it. 25 For what is a man profited, if he gain the whole world, and lose or forfeit his own self? For whosoever shall be ashamed of me and of my words, of him shall the Son of man be ashamed, when he cometh in his own glory, and the glory of the Father, and of the holy angels. 27 But I tell you of a truth, There be some of them that stand here, which shall in no wise taste of death, till they see the kingdom of God. 28 And it came to pass about eight days after these sayings, he took with him Peter and John and James, and went up into the mountain to pray. And as he was praying, the fashion of his countenance was altered, and his raiment became white and dazzling. And behold, there talked with him two men, which were Moses and Elijah; who appeared in glory, and spake of his <sup>3</sup> decease which he was about to accomplish at Jerusalem. Now Peter and they that were with him were heavy with sleep: but <sup>4</sup> when they were fully awake, they saw his glory, and the two men that stood with him. 33 And it came to pass, as they were parting from him, Peter said unto Jesus, Master, it is good for us to be here: and let us make three <sup>5</sup> tabernacles; one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elijah: not knowing what he said. And while he said these things, there came a cloud, and overshadowed them: and they feared as they entered into the cloud. And a voice came out of the cloud, saying, This is my Son, my <sup>6</sup> chosen: hear ye him. And when the voice <sup>7</sup> came, Jesus was found alone. And they held their peace, and told no man in those days any of the things which they had seen. 37 And it came to pass, on the next day, when they were come down from the mountain, a great multitude met him. And behold, a man from the multitude cried, saying, <sup>8</sup> Master, I beseech thee to look upon my son; for he is mine only child: and behold, a spirit taketh him, and he suddenly crieth out; and it <sup>9</sup> teareth him that he foameth, and it hardly departeth from him, bruising him sorely. And I besought thy disciples to cast it out; and they could not. And Jesus answered and said, O faithless and perverse generation, how long shall I be with you, and bear with you? bring hither thy son. And as he was yet a coming, the <sup>10</sup> devil <sup>11</sup> dashed him down, and <sup>12</sup> tare him grievously. But Jesus rebuked the unclean spirit, and healed the boy, and gave him back to his father. 43 And they were all astonished at the majesty of God. But while all were marvelling at all the things which he did, he said unto his disciples, Let these words sink into your ears: for the Son of man shall be delivered up into the hands of men. But they understood not this saying, and it was concealed from them, that they should not perceive it: and they were afraid to ask him about this saying. 46 And there arose a reasoning among them, which of them should be <sup>13</sup> greatest. But when Jesus saw the reasoning of their heart, he took a little child, and set him by his side, and said unto them, Whosoever shall receive this little child in my name receiveth me; and whosoever shall receive me receiveth him that sent me: for he that is <sup>14</sup> least among you all, the same is great. 49 And John answered and said, Master, we saw one casting out <sup>15</sup> devils in thy name; and we forbade him, because he followeth not with us. 50 But Jesus said unto him, Forbid him not: for he that is not against you is for you. 51 And it came to pass, when the days <sup>16</sup> were well-nigh come that he should be received up, he stedfastly set his face to go to Jerusalem, and sent messengers before his face: and they went, and entered into a village of the Samaritans, to make ready for him. And they did not receive him, because his face was as though he were going to Jerusalem. And when his disciples James and John saw this, they said, Lord, wilt thou that we bid fire to come down from heaven, and consume them<sup>1</sup>? But he turned, and rebuked them<sup>2</sup>. And they went to another village.

57 And as they went in the way, a certain man said unto him, I will follow thee whithersoever thou goest. And Jesus said unto him, The foxes have holes, and the birds of the heaven have<sup>3</sup> nests; but the Son of man hath not where to lay his head. And he said unto another, Follow me. But he said, Lord, suffer me first to go and bury my father. But he said unto him, Leave the dead to bury their own dead; but go thou and publish abroad the kingdom of God. And another also said, I will follow thee, Lord; but first suffer me to bid farewell to them that are at my house. But Jesus said unto him, No man, having put his hand to the plough, and looking back, is fit for the kingdom of God.

10 Now after these things the Lord appointed seventy<sup>4</sup> others, and sent them two and two before his face into every city and place, whither he himself was about to come.

2 And he said unto them, The harvest is plenteous, but the labourers are few: pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest, that he send forth labourers into his harvest. Go your ways: behold, I send you forth as lambs in the midst of wolves. Carry no purse, no wallet, no shoes: and salute no man on the way. And into whatsoever house ye shall<sup>5</sup> enter, first say, Peace be to this house.

6 And if a son of peace be there, your peace shall rest upon<sup>6</sup> him: but if not, it shall turn to you again. And in that same house remain, eating and drinking such things as they give: for the labourer is worthy of his hire. Go not from house to house. And into whatsoever city ye enter, and they receive you, eat such things as are set before you: and heal the sick that are therein, and say unto them, The kingdom of God is come nigh unto you. But into whatsoever city ye shall enter, and they receive you not, go out into the streets thereof and say, Even the dust from your city, that cleaveth to our feet, we do wipe off against you: howbeit know this, that the kingdom of God is come nigh.

12 I say unto you, It shall be more tolerable in that day for Sodom, than for that city. Woe unto thee, Chorazin! woe unto thee, Bethsaida! for if the<sup>7</sup> mighty works had been done in Tyre and Sidon, which were done in you, they would have repented long ago, sitting in sackcloth and ashes. Howbeit it shall be more tolerable for Tyre and Sidon in the judgment, than for you. And thou, Capernaum, shalt thou be exalted unto heaven? thou shalt be brought down unto Hades. He that heareth you heareth me; and he that rejecteth you rejecteth me; and he that rejecteth me rejecteth him that sent me.

17 And the seventy returned with joy, saying, Lord, even the<sup>8</sup> devils are subject unto us in thy name.

18 And he said unto them, I beheld Satan fallen as lightning from heaven. Behold, I have given you authority to tread upon serpents and scorpions, and over all the power of the enemy: and nothing shall in any wise hurt you. Howbeit in this rejoice not, that the spirits are subject unto you; but rejoice that your names are written in heaven.

21 In that same hour he rejoiced<sup>9</sup> in the Holy Spirit, and said, I thank thee, O Father, Lord of heaven and earth, that thou didst hide these things from the wise and understanding, and didst reveal them unto babes: yea, Father; for so it was well-pleasing in thy sight. All things have been delivered unto me of my Father: and no one knoweth who the Son is, save the Father; and who the Father is, save the Son, and he to whomsoever the Son willeth to reveal him. And turning to the disciples, he said privately, Blessed are the eyes which

22 see the things that ye see: for I say unto you, that many prophets and kings desired to see the things which ye see, and saw them not; and to hear the things which ye hear, and heard them not.

25 And behold, a certain lawyer stood up and tempted him, saying, <sup>12</sup>Master, what shall I do to inherit eternal life? And he said unto him, What is written in the law? how readest thou? And he answering said, Thou shalt love the Lord thy God<sup>13</sup> with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy strength, and with all thy mind; and thy neighbour as thyself. And he said unto him, Thou hast answered right: this do, and thou shalt live. But he, desiring to justify himself, said unto Jesus, And who is my neighbour? Jesus made answer and said, A certain man was going down from Jerusalem to Jericho; and he fell among robbers, which both stripped him and beat him, and departed, leaving him half dead. And by chance a certain priest was going down that way: and when he saw him, he passed by on the other side. And in like manner a Levite also, when he came to the place, and saw him, passed by on the other side. But a certain Samaritan, as he journeyed, came where he was: and when he saw him, he was moved with compassion, and came to him, and bound up his wounds, pouring on them oil and wine: and he set him on his own beast, and brought him to an inn, and took care of him. on the morrow he took out two pence, and gave them to the host, and said, Take care of him; and whatsoever thou spendest more, I, when I come back again, will repay thee. Which of these three, thinkest thou, proved neighbour unto him that fell among the robbers? And he said, He that shewed mercy on him. And Jesus said unto him, Go, and do thou likewise.

Now as they went on their way, he entered into a certain village: and a certain woman named Martha received him into her house. And she had a sister called Mary, which also sat at the Lord's feet, and heard his word. But Martha was <sup>2</sup>cumbered about much serving; and she came up to him, and said, Lord, dost thou not care that my sister did leave me to serve alone? bid her therefore that she help me.
 But the Lord answered and said unto her, <sup>3</sup>Martha, Martha, thou art anxious and troubled about many things: <sup>4</sup>but one thing is needful: for Mary hath chosen the good part, which shall not be taken away from her.

And it came to pass, as he was praying in a certain place, that when he ceased, one of his disciples said unto him, Lord, teach us to pray, even as John also taught his disciples. And he said unto them, When ye pray, say, <sup>5</sup>Father, Hallowed be thy name. Thy kingdom come. <sup>6</sup>Give us day by day <sup>7</sup>our daily bread. And forgive us our sins; for we ourselves also forgive every one that is indebted to us. And bring us not into temptation.<sup>8</sup>

And he said unto them, Which of you shall have a friend, and shall go unto him at midnight, and say to him, Friend, lend me three loaves; for a friend of mine is come to me from a journey, and I have nothing to set before him; and he from within shall answer and say, Trouble me not: the door is now shut, and my children are with me in bed; I cannot rise and give thee?

I say unto you, Though he will not rise and give him, because he is his friend, yet because of his importunity he will arise and give him <sup>9</sup>as many as he needeth. And I say unto you, Ask, and it shall be given you; seek, and ye shall find; knock, and it shall be opened unto you.

For every one that asketh receiveth; and he that seeketh findeth; and to him that knocketh it shall be opened. And of which of you that is a father shall his son ask <sup>10</sup>a loaf, and he give him a stone? or a fish, and he for a fish give him a serpent? Or if he shall ask an egg, will he give him a scorpion? If ye then, being evil, know how to give good gifts unto your children, how much more shall your heavenly Father give the Holy Spirit to them that ask him?

And he was casting out a <sup>11</sup>devil which was dumb. And it came to pass, when the <sup>11</sup>devil was gone out, the dumb man spake; and the multitudes marvelled. But some of them said, <sup>12</sup>By Beelzebub the prince of the <sup>12</sup>devils casteth he out <sup>13</sup>devils.

And others, tempting him, sought of him a sign from heaven. But he, knowing their thoughts, said unto them, Every kingdom divided against itself is brought to desolation; <sup>14</sup>and a house divided against a house falleth. And if Satan also is divided against himself, how shall his kingdom stand? because ye say that I cast out <sup>13</sup>devils <sup>12</sup>by Beelzebub. And if I <sup>12</sup>by Beelzebub cast out <sup>13</sup>devils, by whom do your sons cast them out? therefore shall they be your judges. But if I by the finger of God cast out <sup>13</sup>devils, then is the kingdom of God come upon you. When the strong man fully armed guardeth his own court, his goods are in peace: but when a stronger than he shall come upon him, and overcome him, he taketh from him his whole armour wherein he trusted, and divideth his spoils.

He that is not with me is against me; and he that gathereth not with me scattereth. The unclean spirit when <sup>15</sup>he is gone out of the man, passeth through waterless places, seeking rest; and finding none, <sup>15</sup>he saith, I will turn back unto my house whence I came out. And when <sup>15</sup>he is come, <sup>15</sup>he findeth it swept and garnished. Then goeth <sup>15</sup>he, and taketh to him seven other spirits more evil than <sup>16</sup>himself; and they enter in and dwell there: and the last state of that man becometh worse than the first.

And it came to pass, as he said these things, a certain woman out of the multitude lifted up her voice, and said unto him, Blessed is the womb that bare thee, and the breasts which thou didst suck. But he said, Yea rather, blessed are they that hear the word of God, and keep it.

And when the multitudes were gathering together unto him, he began to say, This generation is an evil generation: it seeketh after a sign; and there shall no sign be given to it but the sign of Jonah.

For even as Jonah became a sign unto the Ninevites, so shall also the Son of man be to this generation. The queen of the south shall rise up in the judgement with the men of this generation, and shall condemn them: for she came from the ends of the earth to hear the wisdom of Solomon; and behold, <sup>17</sup>a greater than Solomon is here. The men of Nineveh shall stand up in the judgement with this generation, and shall condemn it: for they repented at the preaching of Jonah; and behold, <sup>17</sup>a greater than Jonah is here.

6 And he spake this parable; A certain man had a fig tree planted in his vineyard; and he came seeking fruit thereon, and found none. And he said unto the vine-dresser, Behold, these three years I come seeking fruit on this fig tree, and find none: cut it down; why doth it also cumber the ground?

8 And he answering saith unto him, Lord, let it alone this year also, till I shall dig about it, and dung it;

9 and if it bear fruit thenceforth, well; but if not, thou shalt cut it down.

10 And he was teaching in one of the synagogues on the sabbath day.

11 And behold, a woman which had a spirit of infirmity eighteen years; and she was bowed together, and could in no wise lift herself up.

12 And when Jesus saw her, he called her, and said to her, Woman, thou art loosed from thine infirmity.

13 And he laid his hands upon her: and immediately she was made straight, and glorified God. And the ruler of the synagogue, being moved with indignation because Jesus had healed on the sabbath, answered and said to the multitude, There are six days in which men ought to work: in them therefore come and be healed, and not on the day of the sabbath. But the Lord answered him, and said, Ye hypocrites, doth not each one of you on the sabbath loose his ox or his ass from the <sup>2</sup> stall, and lead him away to watering? And ought not this woman, being a daughter of Abraham, whom Satan had bound, lo, these eighteen years, to have been loosed from this bond on the day of the sabbath? And as he said these things, all his adversaries were put to shame: and all the multitude rejoiced for all the glorious things that were done by him.

18 He said therefore, Unto what is the kingdom of God like? and whereunto shall I liken it? It is like unto a grain of mustard seed, which a man took, and cast into his own garden; and it grew, and became a tree; and the birds of the heaven lodged in the branches thereof. And again he said, Whereunto shall I liken the kingdom of God? It is like unto leaven, which a woman took and hid in three <sup>3</sup> measures of meal, till it was all leavened.

22 And he went on his way through cities and villages, teaching, and journeying on unto Jerusalem. And one said unto him, Lord, are they few that be saved? And he said unto them, Strive to enter in by the narrow door: for many, I say unto you, shall seek to enter in, and shall not be able. When once the master of the house is risen up, and hath shut to the door, and ye begin to stand without, and to knock at the door, saying, Lord, open to us; and he shall answer and say to you, I know you not.

26 whence ye are; then shall ye begin to say, We did eat and drink in thy presence, and thou didst teach in our streets; and he shall say, I tell you, I know not whence ye are; depart from me, all ye workers of iniquity. There shall be the weeping and gnashing of teeth, when ye shall see Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob, and all the prophets, in the kingdom of God, and yourselves cast forth without.

29 And they shall come from the east and west, and from the north and south, and shall <sup>5</sup> sit down in the kingdom of God. And behold, there are last which shall be first, and there are first which shall be last.

31 In that very hour there came certain Pharisees, saying to him, Get thee out, and go hence: for Herod would fain kill thee. And he said unto them, Go and say to that fox, Behold, I cast out <sup>6</sup> devils and perform cures to-day and to-morrow, and the third day I am perfected.

33 Howbeit I must go on my way to-day and to-morrow and the day following: for it cannot be that a prophet perish out of Jerusalem. O Jerusalem, Jerusalem, which killeth the prophets, and stoneth them that are sent unto her! how often would I have gathered thy children together, even as a hen gathereth her own brood under her wings, and ye would not! Behold, your house is left unto you desolate: and I say unto you, Ye shall not see me, until ye shall say, Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord.

14 And it came to pass, when he went into the house of one of the rulers of the Pharisees on a sabbath to eat bread, that they were watching him. And behold, there was before him a certain man which had the dropsy. And Jesus answering spake unto the lawyers and Pharisees, saying, Is it lawful to heal on the sabbath, or not? But they held their peace. And he took him, and healed him, and let him go. And he said unto them, Which of you shall have an ass or an ox fallen into a well, and will not straightway draw him up on a sabbath day? And they could not answer again unto these things.

those which were bidden, when he marked how they chose out the chief seats; saying unto them, 8 When thou art bidden of any man to a marriage feast, <sup>1</sup> sit not down in the chief seat; lest haply a more honourable man than thou be bidden of him, and he that bade thee and him shall come and say to thee, Give this man place; and then thou shalt begin with shame to take the lowest place. But when thou art bidden, go and sit down in the lowest place; that when he that hath bidden thee cometh, he may say to thee, Friend, go up higher: then shalt thou have glory in the presence of all that sit at meat with thee. For every one that exalteth himself shall be humbled; and he that humbleth himself shall be exalted.

12 And he said to him also that had bidden him, When thou makest a dinner or a supper, call not thy friends, nor thy brethren, nor thy kinsmen, nor rich neighbours; lest haply they also bid thee again, and a recompense be made thee. But when thou makest a feast, bid the poor, the maimed, the lame, the blind: and thou shalt be blessed; because they have not wherewith to recompense thee: for thou shalt be recompensed in the resurrection of the just.

15 And when one of them that sat at meat with him heard these things, he said unto him, Blessed is he that shall eat bread in the kingdom of God. But he said unto him, A certain man made a great supper; and he bade many: and he sent forth his <sup>2</sup>servant at supper time to say to them that were bidden, Come; for all things are now ready. And they all with one consent began to make excuse. The first said unto him, I have bought a field, and I must needs go out and see it: I pray thee have me excused. And another said, I have bought five yoke of oxen, and I go to prove them: I pray thee have me excused. And another said, I have married a wife, and therefore I cannot come. And the <sup>2</sup>servant came, and told his lord these things. Then the master of the house being angry said to his <sup>2</sup>servant, Go out quickly into the streets and lanes of the city, and bring in hither the poor and maimed and blind and lame. And the <sup>2</sup>servant said, Lord, what thou didst command is done, and yet there is room. For which of you, desiring to build a tower, doth not first sit down and count the cost, whether he have wherewith to complete it? So therefore whosoever he be of you that renounceth not all that he hath, he cannot be my disciple. 15 Now all the publicans and sinners were drawing near unto him 2 for to hear him. And both the Pharisees and the scribes murmured, saying, This man receiveth sinners, and eateth with them.

8 And he spake unto them this 4 parable, saying, What man of you, having a hundred sheep, and having lost one of them, doth not leave the ninety and nine in the wilderness, and go after that which is 5 lost, until he find it? And when he hath found it, he layeth it on his 6 shoulders, rejoicing. And when he cometh home, he calleth together his friends and his neighbours, saying unto them, Rejoice with me, for I have found my sheep which was 7 lost. I say unto you, that even so there shall be joy in heaven over one sinner that repenteth, more than over ninety and nine righteous persons, which need no repentance.

8 Or what woman having ten 3 pieces of silver, if she lose one piece, doth not light a lamp, and sweep the house, and seek diligently until she find it? And when she hath found it, she calleth together her friends and neighbours, saying, Rejoice with me, for I have found the piece which I had lost.

10 Even so, I say unto you, there is joy in the presence of the angels of God over one sinner that repenteth.

11 And he said, A certain man had 12 two sons: and the younger of them said to his father, Father, give me

21 beggar named Lazarus was laid at his gate, full of sores, and desiring to be fed with the crumbs that fell from the rich man's table; yea, even the dogs came and licked his
 22 sores. And it came to pass, that the beggar died, and that he was carried away by the angels into Abraham's bosom: and the rich man also died, and was buried.
 23 And in Hades he lifted up his eyes, being in torments, and seeth Abraham afar off, and Lazarus in his bosom. And he cried and said, Father Abraham, have mercy on me, and send Lazarus, that he may dip the tip of his finger in water, and cool my tongue; for I am in 24 anguish in this flame. But Abraham said, <sup>1</sup> Son, remember that thou in thy lifetime receivedst thy good things, and Lazarus in like manner evil things: but now here he is comforted, and thou art in 25 anguish. And <sup>2</sup> beside all this, between us and you there is a great gulf fixed, that they which would pass from hence to you may not be able, and that none may cross
 26 over from thence to us. And he said, I pray thee therefore, father, that thou wouldest send him to my 27 father's house; for I have five brethren; that he may testify unto them, lest they also come into this place of torment. But Abraham saith, They have Moses and the prophets: let them hear them. And he said, Nay, father Abraham: but 28 if one go to them from the dead, they will repent. And he said unto him, If they hear not Moses and the prophets, neither will they be persuaded, if one rise from the dead.
 17 And he said unto his disciples, It is impossible but that occasions of stumbling should come: but woe unto him, through whom
 2 they come! It were well for him if a millstone were hanged about his neck, and he were thrown into the sea, rather than that he should cause one of these little ones to
 3 stumble. Take heed to yourselves: if thy brother sin, rebuke him; and 4 if he repent, forgive him. And if he sin against thee seven times in the day, and seven times turn again to thee, saying, I repent; thou shalt forgive him.
 5 And the apostles said unto the Lord, Increase our faith. And the Lord said, If ye have faith as a grain of mustard seed, ye would say unto this sycamine tree, Be thou rooted up, and be thou planted in the sea;
 7 and it would have obeyed you. But who is there of you, having a <sup>3</sup> servant plowing or keeping sheep, that will say unto him, when he is come in from the field, Come straightway
 8 and sit down to meat; and will not rather say unto him, Make ready wherewith I may sup, and gird thyself, and serve me, till I have eaten and drunken; and afterward thou

 10 things that were commanded? Even so ye also, when ye shall have done all the things that are commanded you, say, We are unprofitable <sup>4</sup> servants; we have done that which it was our duty to do.
 11 And it came to pass, <sup>5</sup> as they were on the way to Jerusalem, that he was passing <sup>6</sup> through the midst of Samaria and Galilee. And as he entered into a certain village, there met him ten men that were lepers, which stood afar off: and they lifted up their voices, saying, Jesus, Master, have mercy on us. And when he saw them, he said unto them, Go and shew yourselves unto the priests. And it came to pass, as they went, they were cleansed. And one of them, when he saw that he was healed, turned back, with a 16 loud voice glorifying God; and he fell upon his face at his feet, giving him thanks: and he was a Samaritan. And Jesus answering said, Were not the ten cleansed? but 18 where are the nine? <sup>7</sup> Where there none found that returned to give glory to God, save this <sup>8</sup> stranger? And he said unto him, Arise, and go thy way: thy faith hath <sup>9</sup> made thee whole.
 20 And being asked by the Pharisees, when the kingdom of God cometh, he answered them and said, The kingdom of God cometh not with 21 observation: neither shall they say, Lo, here! or, There! for lo, the kingdom of God is <sup>10</sup> within you.
 22 And he said unto the disciples, The days will come, when ye shall desire to see one of the days of the Son of man, and ye shall not see it.
 23 And they shall say to you, Lo, there! Lo, here! go not away, nor follow 24 after them: for as the lightning, when it lighteneth out of the one part under the heaven, shineth unto the other part under heaven; so shall the Son of man be <sup>11</sup> in his day.
 25 But first must he suffer many things and be rejected of this generation.
 26 And as it came to pass in the days of Noah, even so shall it be also in the days of the Son of man. They ate, they drank, they married, they were given in marriage, until the day that Noah entered into the ark, and the flood came, and destroyed them all. Likewise even as it came to pass in the days of Lot; they ate, they drank, they bought, they sold, they planted, they builded; but in the day that Lot went out from Sodom it rained fire and brimstone from heaven, and destroyed them all: after the same manner shall it be in the day that the Son of man is revealed. In that day, he which shall be on the housetop, and his goods in the house, let him not go down to take them away: and let him that is in the field likewise not 32 return back. Remember Lot's wife.

18 And he spake a parable unto them to the end that they ought always to pray, and not to faint; saying, There was in a city a judge, which feared not God, and regarded not man: and there was a widow in that city; and she came oft unto him, saying, <sup>5</sup>Avenge me of mine adversary. And he would not for a while: but afterward he said within himself, Though I fear not God, nor regard man; yet because this widow troubleth me, I will <sup>6</sup>avenge her, lest she <sup>6</sup>wear me out by her continual coming. And the Lord said, Hear what <sup>7</sup>the unrighteous judge saith. And shall not God <sup>8</sup>avenge his elect, which cry to him day and night, and he is longsuffering over them? I say unto you, that he will <sup>9</sup>avenge them speedily. Howbeit when the Son of man cometh, shall he find <sup>8</sup>faith on the earth?

9 And he spake also this parable unto certain which trusted in themselves that they were righteous, and set <sup>9</sup>all others at nought: Two men went up into the temple to pray; the one a Pharisee, and the other a publican. The Pharisee stood and prayed thus with himself, God, I thank thee, that I am not as the rest of men, extortioners, unjust, adulterers, or even as this publican. I fast twice in the week; I give tithes of all that I get. But the publican, standing afar off, would not lift up so much as his eyes unto heaven, but smote his breast, saying, God, <sup>10</sup>be merciful to me <sup>11</sup>a sinner. I say unto you, This man went down to his house justified rather than the other: for every one that exalteth himself shall be humbled; but he that humbleth himself shall be exalted.

15 And they brought unto him also their babes, that he should touch them: but when the disciples saw it, they rebuked them. But Jesus called them unto him, saying, Suffer the little children to come unto me, and forbid them not: for of such is the kingdom of God. Verily I say unto you, Whosoever shall not receive the kingdom of God as a little child, he shall in no wise enter therein.

18 And a certain ruler asked him, saying, Good <sup>12</sup>Master, what shall I do to inherit eternal life? And Jesus said unto him, Why callest thou me good? none is good, save one, even God. Thou knowest the commandments. Do not commit adultery, Do not kill, Do not steal, Do not bear false witness, Honour thy father and mother. And he said, All these things have I observed from my youth up. And when Jesus heard it, he said unto him, One thing thou lackest yet: sell all that thou hast, and distribute unto the poor, and thou shalt have treasure in heaven: and come, follow me. But when he heard these things, he became exceedingly sorrowful; for he was very rich. And Jesus seeing him said, How hardly shall they that have riches enter into the kingdom of God! For it is easier for a camel to enter in through a needle's eye, than for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of God. And they that heard it said, Then who can be saved? But he said, The things which are impossible with men are possible with God. And Peter said, Lo, we have left <sup>13</sup>our own, and followed thee. And he said unto them, Verily I say unto you, There is no man that hath left house, or wife, or brethren, or parents, or children, for the kingdom of God's sake, who shall not receive manifold more in this time, and in the <sup>14</sup>world to come eternal life.

31 And he took unto him the twelve, and said unto them, Behold, we go up to Jerusalem, and all the things that are written <sup>15</sup>by the prophets shall be accomplished unto the Son of man. For he shall be delivered up unto the Gentiles, and shall be mocked, and shamefully entreated, and spit upon; and they shall scourge and kill him: and the third day he shall rise again. And they understood none of these things; and this saying was hid from them, and they perceived not the things that were said.

35 And it came to pass, as he drew nigh unto Jericho, a certain blind man sat by the way side begging: and hearing a multitude going by, he inquired what this meant. And they told him, that Jesus of Nazareth passeth by. And he cried, saying, Jesus, thou son of David, have mercy on me. And they that went before rebuked him, that he should hold his peace: but he cried out the more a great deal, Thou son of David, have mercy on me. And Jesus stood, and commanded him to be brought unto him: and when he was come near, he asked him, What wilt thou that I should do unto thee? And he said, Lord, that I may receive my sight. And Jesus said unto him, Receive thy sight: thy faith hath <sup>16</sup>made thee whole. And immediately he received his sight, and followed him, glorifying God: and all the people, when they saw it, gave praise unto God.

19 And he entered and was passing 2 through Jericho. And behold, a man called by name Zacchæus; and he was a chief publican, and he was 3 rich. And he sought to see Jesus who he was; and could not for the crowd, because he was little of stature.
 4 And he ran on before, and climbed up into a sycamore tree to see him: for he was to pass that 5 way. And when Jesus came to the place, he looked up, and said unto him, Zacchæus, make haste, and come down; for to-day I must abide 6 at thy house. And he made haste, and came down, and received him
 7 joyfully. And when they saw it, they all murmured, saying, He is gone in to lodge with a man that 8 is a sinner. And Zacchæus stood, and said unto the Lord, Behold, Lord, the half of my goods I give to the poor; and if I have wrongfully exacted aught of any man, I 9 restore fourfold. And Jesus said unto him, To-day is salvation come to this house, forasmuch as he also 10 is a son of Abraham. For the Son of man came to seek and to save that which was lost.
 11 And as they heard these things, he added and spake a parable, because he was nigh to Jerusalem, and because they supposed that the kingdom of God was immediately 12 to appear. He said therefore, A certain nobleman went into a far country, to receive for himself a 13 kingdom, and to return. And he called ten <sup>1</sup>servants of his, and gave them ten <sup>2</sup>pounds, and said unto them, Trade ye herewith till I come.
 14 But his citizens hated him, and sent an ambassage after him, saying, We will not that this man reign over us.
 15 And it came to pass, when he was come back again, having received the kingdom, that he commanded these <sup>1</sup>servants, unto whom he had given the money, to be called to him, that he might know what they 16 had gained by trading. And the first came before him saying, Lord, thy pound hath made ten pounds more.
 17 And he said unto him, Well done, thou good <sup>3</sup>servant: because thou wast found faithful in a very little,
 have thou authority over ten cities.
 18 And the second came, saying, Thy pound, Lord, hath made five pounds.
 19 And he said unto him also, Be thou 20 also over five cities. And <sup>4</sup>another came, saying, Lord, behold, here is thy pound, which I kept laid up in 21 a napkin: for I feared thee, because thou art an austere man; thou takest up that thou laydest not down, and 22 reapest that thou didst not sow. He saith unto him, Out of thine own mouth will I judge thee, thou wicked <sup>3</sup>servant. Thou knewest that I am an austere man, taking up that I laid not down, and reaping that 23 I did not sow; then wherefore gavest thou not my money into the bank, and <sup>5</sup>I at my coming should have 24 required it with interest? And he said unto them that stood by, Take away from him the pound, and give it unto him that hath the ten pounds.

 25 And they said unto him, Lord, he 26 hath ten pounds. I say unto you, that unto every one that hath shall be given; but from him that hath not, even that which he hath shall 27 be taken away from him. Howbeit these mine enemies, which would not that I should reign over them, bring hither, and slay them before
 me.
 28 And when he had thus spoken, he went on before, going up to Jerusalem.
 29 And it came to pass, when he drew nigh unto Bethphage and Bethany, at the mount that is called the mount of Olives, he sent two of the disciples, 30 saying, Go your way into the village over against you; in the which as ye enter ye shall find a colt tied, whereon no man ever yet sat: loose him, 31 and bring him. And if any one ask you, Why do ye loose him? thus shall ye say, The Lord hath need of him.
 32 And they that were sent went away, and found even as he had said unto 33 them. And as they were loosing the colt, the owners thereof said unto 34 them, Why loose ye the colt? And they said, The Lord hath need of 35 him. And they brought him to Jesus:
 and they threw their garments
 upon the colt, and set Jesus thereon.
 36 And as he went, they spread their 37 garments in the way. And as he was now drawing nigh, even at the descent of the mount of Olives, the whole multitude of the disciples began to rejoice and praise God with a loud voice for all the <sup>6</sup>mighty 38 works which they had seen; saying, Blessed is the King that cometh in the name of the Lord: peace in heaven, and glory in the highest.
 39 And some of the Pharisees from the multitude said unto him, <sup>7</sup>Master, 40 rebuke thy disciples. And he answered and said, I tell you that, if these shall hold their peace, the stones will cry out.
 41 And when he drew nigh, he saw
 42 the city and wept over it, saying, <sup>8</sup>If thou hadst known in this day, even thou, the things which belong unto peace! but now they are hid 43 from thine eyes. For the days shall come upon thee, when thine enemies shall cast up a <sup>9</sup>bank about thee, and compass thee round, and keep 44 thee in on every side, and shall dash thee to the ground, and thy children within thee; and they shall not leave in thee one stone upon another; because thou knewest not the time of thy visitation.
 45 And he entered into the temple,
 and began to cast out them that sold, 46 saying unto them, It is written, And my house shall be a house of prayer:
 but ye have made it a den of robbers.

the scribes and the principal men of the people sought to destroy him: and they could not find what they might do; for the people all hung upon him, listening.

20 And it came to pass, on one of the days, as he was teaching the people in the temple, and preaching the gospel, there came upon him the chief priests and the scribes with the elders; and they spake, saying unto him, Tell us: By what authority doest thou these things? or who is he that gave thee this authority? And he answered and said unto them, I also will ask you a question; and tell me: The baptism of John, was it from heaven, or from men? And they reasoned with themselves, saying, If we shall say, From heaven: he will say, Why did ye not believe him? But if we shall say, From men; all the people will stone us: for they be persuaded that John was a prophet. And they answered, that they knew not whence it was. And Jesus said unto them, Neither tell I you by what authority I do these things.

9 And he began to speak unto the people this parable: A man planted a vineyard, and let it out to husbandmen, and went into another country for a long time. And at the season he sent unto the husbandmen a servant, that they should give him of the fruit of the vineyard: but the husbandmen beat him, and sent him away empty. And he sent yet another servant: and him also they beat, and handled him shamefully, and sent him away empty. And he sent yet a third: and him also they wounded, and cast him forth. 13 And the lord of the vineyard said, What shall I do? I will send my beloved son: it may be they will reverence him. But when the husbandmen saw him, they reasoned one with another, saying, This is the heir: let us kill him, that the inheritance may be ours. And they cast him forth out of the vineyard, and killed him. What therefore will the lord of the vineyard do unto them? He will come and destroy these husbandmen, and will give the vineyard unto others. And when they heard it, they said, God forbid. But he looked upon them, and said, What then is this that is written,

The stone which the builders rejected,

The same was made the head of the corner?

18 Every one that falleth on that stone shall be broken to pieces; but on whomsoever it shall fall, it will scatter him as dust.

19 And the scribes and the chief priests sought to lay hands on him in that very hour; and they feared the people: for they perceived that he spake this parable against them.

20 And they watched him, and sent forth spies, which feigned themselves to be righteous, that they might take hold of his speech, so as to deliver him up to the rule and to the authority of the governor. And they asked him, saying, 4 Master, we know that thou sayest and teachest rightly, and acceptest not the person of any, but of a truth teachest the way of God: Is it lawful for us to give tribute unto Cæsar, or not? But he perceived their craftiness, and said unto them, Shew me a penny. Whose image and superscription hath it? And they said, Cæsar's. And he said unto them, Then render unto Cæsar the things that are Cæsar's, and unto God the things that are God's. And they were not able to take hold of the saying before the people: and they marvelled at his answer, and held their peace.

27 And there came to him certain of the Sadducees, they which say that there is no resurrection; and they asked him, saying, 4 Master, Moses wrote unto us, that if a man's brother die, having a wife, and he be childless, his brother should take the wife, and raise up seed unto his brother. There were therefore seven brethren: and the first took a wife, and died childless; and the second; and the third took her; and likewise the seven also left no children, and died. Afterward the woman also died. In the resurrection therefore whose wife of them shall she be? for the seven had her to wife. And Jesus said unto them, The sons of this world marry, and are given in marriage: but they that are accounted worthy to attain to that world, and the resurrection from the dead, neither marry, nor are given in marriage: for neither can they die any more: for they are equal unto the angels; and are sons of God, being sons of the resurrection. But that the dead are raised, even Moses shewed, in the place concerning the Bush, when he calleth the Lord the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob. Now he is not the God of the dead, but of the living: for all live unto him. And certain of the scribes answering said, 4 Master, thou hast well said. For they durst not any more ask him any question.

41 And he said unto them, How say they that the Christ is David's son? 42 For David himself saith in the book of Psalms,

The Lord said unto my Lord, Sit thou on my right hand,

43 Till I make thine enemies the footstool of thy feet.

44 David therefore calleth him Lord, and how is he his son?

45 And in the hearing of all the people he said unto his disciples, Beware of the scribes, which desire to walk in long robes, and love salutations in the marketplaces, and chief seats in the synagogues, and chief places at feasts; which devour widows' houses, and for a pretence make long prayers: these shall receive greater condemnation.

21 And he looked up, and saw the rich men that were casting their gifts into the treasury. And he saw a certain poor widow casting in thither two mites. And he said, Of a truth I say unto you, This poor widow cast in more than they all: for all these did of their superfluity cast in unto the gifts: but she of her want did cast in all the living that she had.

5 And as some spake of the temple, how it was adorned with goodly stones and offerings, he said, As for these things which ye behold, the days will come, in which there shall not be left here one stone upon another, that shall not be thrown down. And they asked him, saying, Master, when therefore shall these things be? and what shall be the sign when these things are about to come to pass? And he said, Take heed that ye be not led astray: for many shall come in my name, saying, I am he; and, The time is at hand: go ye not after them. And when ye shall hear of wars and tumults, be not terrified: for these things must needs come to pass first; but the end is not immediately.

10 Then said he unto them, Nation shall rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom: and there shall be great earthquakes, and in divers places famines and pestilences; and there shall be terrors and great signs from heaven. But before all these things, they shall lay their hands on you, and shall persecute you, delivering you up to the synagogues and prisons, bringing you before kings and governors for my name's sake. It shall turn unto you for a testimony. 14 Settle it therefore in your hearts, not to meditate beforehand how to answer: for I will give you a mouth and wisdom, which all your adversaries shall not be able to withstand or to gainsay. But ye shall be delivered up even by parents, and brethren, and kinsfolk, and friends; and some of you shall they cause to be put to death. And ye shall be hated of all men for my name's sake. And not a hair of your head shall perish. In your patience ye shall win your souls.

20 But when ye see Jerusalem compassed with armies, then know that her desolation is at hand. Then let them that are in Judæa flee unto the mountains; and let them that are in the midst of her depart out; and let not them that are in the country enter therein. For these are days of vengeance, that all things which are written may be fulfilled.

23 Woe unto them that are with child and to them that give suck in those days! for there shall be great distress upon the land, and wrath unto this people. And they shall fall by the edge of the sword, and shall be led captive into all the nations: and Jerusalem shall be trodden down of the Gentiles, until the times of the Gentiles be fulfilled. 25 And there shall be signs in sun and moon and stars; and upon the earth distress of nations, in perplexity for the roaring of the sea and the billows; men fainting for fear, and for expectation of the things which are coming on the world: for the powers of the heavens shall be shaken. And then shall they see the Son of man coming in a cloud with power and great glory. But when these things begin to come to pass, look up, and lift up your heads; because your redemption draweth nigh.

29 And he spake to them a parable: Behold the fig tree, and all the trees; when they now shoot forth, ye see it and know of your own selves that the summer is now nigh. 31 Even so ye also, when ye see these things coming to pass, know ye that the kingdom of God is nigh. Verily I say unto you, This generation shall not pass away, till all things be accomplished. Heaven and earth shall pass away: but my words shall not pass away. 34 But take heed to yourselves, lest haply your hearts be overcharged with surfeiting, and drunkenness, and cares of this life, and that day come on you suddenly as a snare: for so shall it come upon all them that dwell on the face of all the earth. But watch ye at every season, making supplication, that ye may prevail to escape all these things that shall come to pass, and to stand before the Son of man.

37 And every day he was teaching in the temple; and every night he went out, and lodged in the mount that is called the mount of Olives. 38 And all the people came early in the morning to him in the temple, to hear him. 22 Now the feast of unleavened bread drew nigh, which is called the Passover. And the chief priests and the scribes sought how they might put him to death; for they feared the people.

3 And Satan entered into Judas who was called Iscariot, being of the number of the twelve. And he went away, and communed with the chief priests and captains, how he might deliver him unto them. And they were glad, and covenanted to give him money. And he consented, and sought opportunity to deliver him unto them in the absence of the multitude.

7 And the day of unleavened bread came, on which the passover must

And he said unto them, Behold, when ye are entered into the city there shall meet you a man bearing a pitcher of water: follow him into the house where-into he goeth. And ye shall say unto the goodman of the house, The Master saith unto thee, Where is the guest-chamber, where I shall eat the passover with my disciples? And he will shew you a large upper room furnished: there make ready. And they went, and found as he had said unto them: and they made ready the passover.

14 And when the hour was come he sat down, and the apostles with him. And he said unto them, With desire I have desired to eat this passover with you before I suffer: for I say unto you, I will not eat it, until it be fulfilled in the kingdom of God. And he received a cup, and when he had given thanks, he said, Take this, and divide it among yourselves: for I say unto you, I will not drink from henceforth of the fruit of the vine, until the kingdom of God shall come.

19 And he took bread, and when he had given thanks, he brake it, and gave to them, saying, This is my body which is given for you: this do in remembrance of me. And the cup in like manner after supper, saying, This cup is the new covenant in my blood, even that which is poured out for you. But behold, the hand of him that betrayeth me is with me on the table. For the Son of man, thus it is written, and thus must it be unto him that is betrayed: but who is he that betrayeth him? And they began to question among themselves, which of them it was that should do this thing.

24 And there arose also a contention among them, which of them is accounted to be greatest. And he said unto them, The kings of the Gentiles have lordship over them; and they that have authority over them are called Benefactors. But ye shall not be so: but he that is the greater among you, let him be as the younger; and he that is chief, as he that doth serve.

27 For whether is greater, he that sitteth at meat, or he that serveth? Is not he that sitteth at meat? but I am in the midst of you as he that serveth. But ye are they which have continued with me in my temptation, and I appoint unto you a kingdom, even as my Father appointed unto me, that ye may eat and drink at my table in my kingdom, and ye shall sit on thrones judging the twelve tribes of Israel. Simon, Simon, behold, Satan asked to have you, that he

32 might sift you as wheat: but I made supplication for thee, that thy faith fail not: and do thou, when once thou hast turned again, stablish thy brethren. And he said unto him, Lord, with thee I am ready to go both to prison and to death. And he said, I tell thee, Peter, the cock shall not crow this day until thou shalt thrice deny that thou knowest me.

35 And he said unto them, When I sent you forth without purse, and wallet, and shoes, lacked ye anything? And they said, Nothing. And he said unto them, But now, he that hath a purse, let him take it, and likewise a wallet: and he that hath none, let him sell his cloke, and buy a sword. For I say unto you, that this which is written must be fulfilled in me, And he was reckoned with transgressors: for that which concerneth me hath fulfilment. And they said, Lord, behold, here are two swords. And he said unto them, It is enough.

39 And he came out, and went, as his custom was, unto the mount of Olives: and the disciples also followed him. And when he was at the place, he said unto them, Pray that ye enter not into temptation. And he was parted from them about a stone's cast: and he kneeled down and prayed, saying, Father, if thou be willing, remove this cup from me: nevertheless not my will, but thine, be done. And there appeared unto him an angel from heaven, strengthening him. And being in an agony he prayed more earnestly, and his sweat became as it were great drops of blood falling down upon the ground. And when he rose up from his prayer, he came unto the disciples, and found them sleeping for sorrow, and said unto them, Why sleep ye? rise and pray, that ye enter not into temptation.

47 While he yet spake, behold, a multitude, and he that was called Judas, one of the twelve, went before them: and he drew near unto Jesus to kiss him. But Jesus said unto him, Judas, betrayest thou the Son of man with a kiss? And when they that were about him saw what would follow, they said, Lord, shall we smite with the sword?

50 And a certain one of them smote the servant of the high priest, and struck off his right ear. But Jesus answered and said, Suffer ye thus far. And he touched his ear and healed him. And Jesus said unto the chief priests and captains of the temple and elders, which were come against him, Are ye come out, as against a robber, with swords and staves? When I was daily with you in the temple, ye stretched not forth your hands against me: but this is your hour, and the power of darkness.

64 And they seized him, and led him away, and brought him into the high priest's house. But Peter followed afar off. And when they had kindled a fire in the midst of the court, and had sat down together, Peter sat in the midst of them.

65 And a certain maid seeing him as he sat in the light of the fire, and looking stedfastly upon him, said,

66 This man also was with him. But he denied, saying, Woman, I know him not. And after a little while another saw him, and said, Thou also art one of them. But Peter said, Man, I am not. And after the space of about one hour another confidently affirmed, saying, Of a truth this man also was with him: for he is a Galilean. But Peter said, Man, I know not what thou sayest. And immediately, while he yet spake, the cock crew. And the Lord turned, and looked upon Peter. And Peter remembered the word of the Lord, how that he said unto him, Before the cock crow this day, thou shalt deny me thrice.

67 And he went out, and wept bitterly.

68 And the men that held <sup>1</sup>Jesus

69 mocked him, and beat him. And they blindfolded him, and asked him, saying, Prophecy: who is he that struck thee? And many other things spake they against him, reviling him.

70 And as soon as it was day, the assembly of the elders of the people was gathered together, both chief priests and scribes; and they led him away unto their council.

71 saying, If thou art the Christ, tell us. But he said unto them, If I tell you, ye will not believe; and if I ask you, ye will not answer. But from henceforth shall the Son of man be seated at the right hand of the power of God. And they all said, Art thou then the Son of God? And he said unto them, <sup>2</sup>Ye say that I am. And they said, What further need have we of witness? for we ourselves have heard from his own mouth.

72 And the whole company of them rose up, and brought him before

73 Pilate. And they began to accuse him, saying, We found this man perverting our nation, and forbidding to give tribute to Caesar, and saying that he himself is <sup>3</sup>Christ

74 a king. And Pilate asked him, saying, Art thou the King of the Jews? And he answered him and said, Thou sayest. And Pilate said unto the chief priests and the multitudes, I find no fault in this man.

75 But they were the more urgent, saying, He stirreth up the people, teaching throughout all Judaea, and beginning from Galilee even unto this place. But when Pilate heard it, he asked whether the man were

76 a Galilean. And when he knew that he was of Herod's jurisdiction, he sent him unto Herod, who himself also was at Jerusalem in these days.

8 Now when Herod saw Jesus, he was exceeding glad: for he was of a long time desirous to see him, because he had heard concerning him; and he hoped to see some

9 miracle done by him. And he questioned him in many words;

10 but he answered him nothing. And the chief priests and the scribes stood, vehemently accusing him.

11 And Herod with his soldiers set him at nought, and mocked him, and arraying him in gorgeous apparel sent him back to Pilate. And Herod and Pilate became friends with each other that very day: for before they were at enmity between themselves.

12 And Pilate called together the chief priests and the rulers and the people, and said unto them, Ye brought unto me this man, as one that perverteth the people: and behold, I, having examined him before you, found no fault in this man touching those things whereof ye accuse him: no, nor yet Herod: for he sent him back unto us; and behold, nothing worthy of death hath been done by him. I will therefore chastise him, and release him.

13 But they cried out all together, saying, Away with this man, and release unto us Barabbas: one who for a certain insurrection made in the city, and for murder, was cast into prison. And Pilate spake unto them again, desiring to release Jesus; but they shouted, saying, Crucify, crucify him. And he said unto them the third time, Why, what evil hath this man done? I have found no cause of death in him: I will therefore chastise him, and release him. But they were instant with loud voices, asking that he might be crucified. And their voices prevailed. And Pilate gave sentence that what they asked for should be done. And he released him that for insurrection and murder had been cast into prison, whom they asked for; but Jesus he delivered up to their will.

20 And when they led him away, they laid hold upon one Simon of Cyrene, coming from the country, and laid on him the cross, to bear it after Jesus.

21 And there followed him a great multitude of the people, and of women who bewailed and lamented him. But Jesus turning unto them said, Daughters of Jerusalem, weep not for me, but weep for yourselves, and for your children.

22 For behold, the days are coming, in which they shall say, Blessed are the barren, and the wombs that never bare, and the breasts that never gave suck. Then shall they begin to say to the mountains, Fall on us; and to the hills, Cover us.

32 And there were also two others, malefactors, led with him to be put to death.

33 And when they came unto the place which is called <sup>1</sup>The skull, there they crucified him, and the malefactors, one on the right hand

34 and the other on the left. <sup>2</sup>And Jesus said, Father, forgive them; for they know not what they do. And parting his garments among 35 them, they cast lots. And the people stood beholding. And the rulers also scoffed at him, saying, He saved others; let him save himself, if this is the Christ of God, his chosen.

36 And the soldiers also mocked him, coming to him, offering him vinegar, and saying, if thou art the King of the Jews, save thyself. And there was also a superscription over him, THIS IS THE KING OF THE JEWS.

37 And one of the malefactors which were hanged railed on him, saying, Art not thou the Christ? save thyself and us. But the other answered, and rebuking him said, Dost thou not even fear God, seeing thou art in the same condemnation? And we indeed justly; for we receive the due reward of our deeds: but this man hath done nothing amiss.

42 And he said, Jesus, remember me when thou comest <sup>3</sup>in thy kingdom. And he said unto him, Verily I say unto thee, To-day shalt thou be with me in Paradise.

44 And it was now about the sixth hour, and a darkness came over the whole <sup>4</sup>land until the ninth hour, <sup>5</sup>the sun's light failing; and the veil of the <sup>6</sup>temple was rent in the midst.

45 And when Jesus had cried with a loud voice, he said, Father, into thy hands I commend my spirit: and having said this, he gave up the ghost.

47 And when the centurion saw what was done, he glorified God, saying, Certainly this was a righteous man. And all the multitudes that came together to this sight, when they beheld the things that were done, returned smiting their breasts. And all his acquaintance, and the women that followed with him from Galilee, stood afar off, seeing these things.

50 And behold, a man named Joseph, who was a councillor, a good man and a righteous (he had not consented to their counsel and deed), a man of Arimathæa, a city of the Jews, who was looking for the kingdom of God: this man went to Pilate, and asked for the body

53 of Jesus. And he took it down, and wrapped it in a linen cloth, and laid him in a tomb that was hewn in stone, where never man had yet lain. And it was the day of the Preparation, and the sabbath <sup>8</sup>drew on.

56 And the women, which had come with him out of Galilee, followed after, and beheld the tomb, and how his body was laid. And they returned, and prepared spices and ointments.

And on the sabbath they rested according to the commandment.

24 But on the first day of the week, at early dawn, they came unto the tomb, bringing the spices which

2 they had prepared. And they found the stone rolled away from the tomb. And they entered in, and found not the body <sup>9</sup>of the Lord

4 Jesus. And it came to pass, while they were perplexed thereabout, behold, two men stood by them in

5 dazzling apparel; and as they were affrighted, and bowed down their faces to the earth, they said unto them, Why seek ye <sup>10</sup>the living

6 among the dead? <sup>11</sup>He is not here, but is risen: remember how he spake unto you when he was yet

7 in Galilee, saying that the Son of man must be delivered up into the hands of sinful men, and be crucified, and the third day rise again.

8 And they remembered his words, and returned <sup>12</sup>from the tomb, and told all these things to the eleven, and to all the rest. Now they were Mary Magdalene, and Joanna, and Mary the mother of James: and the other women with them told these

10 things unto the apostles. And these words appeared in their sight as idle talk; and they disbelieved

12 them. <sup>13</sup>But Peter arose, and ran unto the tomb; and stooping and looking in, he saeth the linen cloths by themselves; and he <sup>14</sup>departed to his home, wondering at that which was come to pass.

18 And behold, two of them were going that very day to a village named Emmaus, which was threescore furlongs from Jerusalem. And they communed with each other of all these things which had happened.

15 And it came to pass, while they communed and questioned together, that Jesus himself drew near, and went with them. But their eyes were hidden that they should not

17 know him. And he said unto them, <sup>15</sup>What communications are these that ye have one with another, as ye walk? And they stood still, look-

18 ing sad. And one of them named Cleopas, answering said unto him, Dost thou alone sojourn in Jerusa-

16 lem and not know the things which are come to pass there in these days?

19 And he said unto them, What things? And they said unto him, The things concerning Jesus of Nazareth, which was a prophet mighty in deed and word before God and all the people:

20 and how the chief priests and our rulers delivered him up to be condemned to death, and crucified him.

21 But we hoped that it was he which should redeem Israel. Yea and beside all this, it is now the third day since these things came to pass.

is risen indeed, and hath appeared how he was known of them in the breaking of the bread.

36 And as they spake these things, he himself stood in the midst of them, and saith unto them, Peace be unto affrighted, and supposed that they 38 beheld a spirit. And he said unto them, Why are ye troubled? and wherefore do reasonings arise in 39 your heart? See my hands and my feet, that it is I myself: handle me, and see: for a spirit hath not flesh and bones, as ye behold me having.

40 And when he had said this, he shewed them his hands and his feet.

them, Have ye here anything to eat?

while I was yet with you, how that all things must needs be fulfilled, which are written in the law of 44 Moses, and the prophets, and the psalms, concerning me. Then opened he their mind, that they might 45 understand the scriptures; and he said unto them, Thus it is written, that the Christ should suffer, and 46 rise again from the dead the third day; and that repentance <sup>6</sup> and remi-sion of sins should be preached in

THE GOSPEL ACCORDING TO S. JOHN.

1 IN the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the 2 Word was God. The same was in the beginning with God. All things were made <sup>1</sup> by him; and without him <sup>2</sup> was not anything made that 4 hath been made. In him was life; and the life was the light of men.
5 And the light shineth in the darkness; and the darkness <sup>3</sup> apprehend-6 ed it not. There came a man, sent from God, whose name was John.
7 The same came for witness, that he might bear witness of the light, that 8 all might believe through him. He was not the light, but came that he might bear witness of the light.
9 There was the true light, even the light which lighteth <sup>5</sup> every man.

10 coming into the world. He was in the world, and the world was made 1 by him, and the world knew him 11 not. He came unto <sup>6</sup> his own, and they that were his own received him 12 not. But as many as received him, to them gave he the right to become children of God, even to them 13 that believe on his name: which were <sup>7</sup> born, not of <sup>8</sup> blood, nor of the will of the flesh, nor of the will 14 of man, but of God. And the Word became flesh, and <sup>9</sup> dwelt among us (and we beheld his glory, glory as of 15 the only begotten from the Father), full of grace and truth. John saying, <sup>1</sup>This was he of whom I said, He that cometh after me is become before me: for he was <sup>2</sup>before me. For of his fulness we all received, and grace for grace. For the law was given <sup>3</sup>by Moses; grace and truth came <sup>4</sup>by Jesus Christ. No man hath seen God at any time; <sup>4</sup>the only begotten Son, which is in the bosom of the Father, he hath declared him.

19 And this is the witness of John, when the Jews sent unto him from Jerusalem priests and Levites to ask him, Who art thou? And he confessed, and denied not; and he confessed, I am not the Christ. And they asked him, What then? Art thou Elijah? And he saith, I am not. Art thou the prophet? And he answered, No. They said therefore unto him, Who art thou? that we may give an answer to them that sent us. What sayest thou of thyself? He said, I am the voice of one crying in the wilderness, Make straight the way of the Lord, as said Isaiah the prophet. <sup>6</sup>And they had been sent from the Pharisees. And they asked him, and said unto him, Why then baptizest thou, if thou art not the Christ, neither Elijah, neither the prophet? John answered them, saying, I baptize <sup>6</sup>with water: in the midst of you standeth one whom ye know not, even he that cometh after me, the latchet of whose shoe I am not worthy to unloose. These things were done in <sup>7</sup>Bethany beyond Jordan, where John was baptizing.

29 On the morrow he seeth Jesus coming unto him, and saith, Behold, the Lamb of God, which <sup>8</sup>taketh away the sin of the world! This is he of whom I said, After me cometh a man which is become before me: for he was <sup>2</sup>before me. And I knew him not; but that he should be made manifest to Israel, for this cause came I baptizing <sup>6</sup>with water. And John bare witness, saying, I have beheld the Spirit descending as a dove out of heaven; and it abode upon him. And I knew him not: but he that sent me to baptize <sup>6</sup>with water, he said unto me, Upon whomsoever thou shalt see the Spirit descending, and abiding upon him, the same is he that baptizeth <sup>6</sup>with the Holy Spirit. And I have seen, and have borne witness that this is the Son of God.

35 Again on the morrow John was standing, and two of his disciples; and he looked upon Jesus as he walked, and saith, Behold, the Lamb of God! And the two disciples heard him speak, and they followed Jesus. And Jesus turned, and beheld them following, and saith unto them, What seek ye? And they said unto him, Rabbi (which is to say, being interpreted, <sup>9</sup>Master), where abidest thou? He saith unto them, Come, and ye shall see. They came therefore and saw where he abode; and they abode with him that day: it was about the tenth hour. One of the two that heard John speak, and followed him, was Andrew, Simon Peter's brother. He findeth first his own brother Simon, and saith unto him, We have found the Messiah (which is, being interpreted, <sup>10</sup>Christ). He brought him unto Jesus. Jesus looked upon him, and said, Thou art Simon the son of <sup>11</sup>John; thou shalt be called Cephas (which is by interpretation, <sup>12</sup>Peter). On the morrow he was minded to go forth into Galilee, and he findeth Philip: and Jesus saith unto him, Follow me. Now Philip was from Bethsaida, of the city of Andrew and Peter. Philip findeth Nathanael, and saith unto him, We have found him, of whom Moses in the law, and the prophets, did write, Jesus of Nazareth, the son of Joseph. And Nathanael said unto him, Can any good thing come out of Nazareth? Philip saith unto him, Come and see. Jesus saw Nathanael coming to him, and saith of him, Behold, an Israelite indeed, in whom is no guile! Nathanael saith unto him, Whence knowest thou me? Jesus answered and said unto him, Before Philip called thee, when thou wast under the fig tree, I saw thee. Nathanael answered him, Rabbi, thou art the Son of God; thou art King of Israel. Jesus answered and said unto him, Because I said unto thee, I saw thee underneath the fig tree, believest thou? thou shalt see greater things than these. And he saith unto him, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Ye shall see the heaven opened, and the angels of God ascending and descending upon the Son of man.

2 And the third day there was a marriage in Cana of Galilee; and the mother of Jesus was there; and Jesus also was bidden, and his disciples, to the marriage. And when the wine failed, the mother of Jesus saith unto him, They have no wine. And Jesus saith unto her, Woman, what have I to do with thee? mine hour is not yet come. His mother saith unto the servants, Whatsoever he saith unto you, do it. Now there were six water-pots of stone set there after the Jews' manner of purifying, containing two or three firkins a piece. Jesus saith unto them, Fill the waterpots with water. And they filled them up to the brim. And he saith unto them, Draw out now, and bear unto the <sup>13</sup>ruler of the feast. And they bare it. And when the ruler of the feast tasted the water <sup>14</sup>now become wine, and knew not whence it was (but the servants which had drawn the water knew), the ruler of the feast calleth the bridegroom, and saith unto him, Every man setteth on first the good wine; and when men have drunk freely, then that which is worse:

11 thou hast kept the good wine until now. This beginning of his signs did Jesus in Cana of Galilee, and manifested his glory; and his disciples believed on him.

12 After this he went down to Capernaum, he, and his mother, and his brethren, and his disciples: and there they abode not many days.

13 And the passover of the Jews was at hand, and Jesus went up to Jerusalem.

14 And he found in the temple those that sold oxen and sheep and doves, and the changers of money

15 sitting: and he made a scourge of cords, and cast all out of the temple, both the sheep and the oxen; and he poured out the changers' money,

16 and overthrew their tables; and to them that sold the doves he said, Take these things hence; make not my Father's house a house of merchandise.

17 His disciples remembered that it was written, The zeal of thine house shall eat me up. The Jews therefore answered and said unto him, What sign shewest thou unto us, seeing that thou doest these

18 things? Jesus answered and said unto them, Destroy this <sup>1</sup> temple, and in three days I will raise it up.

19 The Jews therefore said, Forty and six years was this <sup>1</sup> temple in building, and wilt thou raise it up in three days? But he spake of the 20 <sup>1</sup> temple of his body. When therefore he was raised from the dead, his disciples remembered that he spake this; and they believed the scripture, and the word which Jesus had said.

21 Now when he was in Jerusalem at the passover, during the feast, many believed on his name, beholding his signs which he did. But Jesus did not trust himself unto them, for that

22 he knew all men, and because he needed not that any one should bear witness concerning <sup>2</sup> man; for he himself knew what was in man.

23 Now there was a man of the Pharisees, named Nicodemus, a ruler of the Jews: the same came unto him by night, and said to him, Rabbi, we know that thou art a teacher come from God: for no man can do these signs that thou doest, except

24 God be with him. Jesus answered and said unto him, Verily, verily, I say unto thee, Except a man be born <sup>3</sup> anew, he cannot see the kingdom

25 of God. Nicodemus saith unto him, How can a man be born when he is old? can he enter a second time into his mother's womb, and be

26 born? Jesus answered, Verily, verily, I say unto thee, Except a man be born of water and the Spirit, he cannot enter into the kingdom of

27 God. That which is born of the flesh is flesh; and that which is born of the Spirit is spirit. Marvel not that I said unto thee, Ye must

28 be born <sup>3</sup> anew. <sup>4</sup> The wind bloweth where it listeth, and thou hearest the voice thereof, but knowest not whence it cometh, and whither it goeth: so is every one that is born of the Spirit. Nicodemus answered and said unto him, How can these things be? Jesus answered and said unto him, Art thou the teacher of Israel, and understandest not these 11 things? Verily, verily, I say unto thee, We speak that we do know, and bear witness of that we have seen; and ye receive not our witness.

12 If I told you earthly things, and ye believe not, how shall ye believe, if I tell you heavenly things?

13 And no man hath ascended into heaven, but he that descended out of heaven, even the Son of man,

14 <sup>5</sup> which is in heaven. And as Moses lifted up the serpent in the wilderness, even so must the Son of man be lifted up: that whosoever <sup>6</sup> believeth may in him have eternal life.

15 For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth on him should not perish, but have eternal life.

16 For God sent not the Son into the world to judge the world; but that the world should be saved through him. He that believeth on him is not judged: he that believeth not hath been judged already, because he hath not believed on the name of the only begotten Son of God. And this is the judgement, that the light is come into the world, and men loved the darkness rather than the light; for their works were evil.

17 For every one that <sup>7</sup> doeth ill hateth the light, and cometh not to the light, lest his works should be <sup>8</sup> re-

18 proved. But he that doeth the truth cometh to the light, that his works may be made manifest, <sup>9</sup> that they have been wrought in God.

19 After these things came Jesus and his disciples into the land of Judaea; and there he tarried with them, and was baptized. And John also was baptizing in Aenon near to Salim, because there <sup>10</sup> was much water there; and they came, and were baptized.

20 For John was not yet cast into prison. There arose therefore a questioning on the part of John's disciples with a Jew about purifying.

21 And they came unto John, and said to him, Rabbi, he that was with thee beyond Jordan, to whom thou hast borne witness, behold, the same baptizeth, and all men come to him.

22 John answered and said, A man can receive nothing, except it have been given him from heaven. Ye yourselves bear me witness, that I said, I am not the Christ, but, that I am sent before him. He that hath the bride is the bridegroom: but the friend of the bridegroom, which standeth and heareth him, rejoiceth greatly because of the bridegroom's voice: this my joy therefore is fulfilled. He must increase, but I must decrease.

of the earth, and of the earth he speaketh : <sup>1</sup> he that cometh from heaven is above all. What he hath seen and heard, of that he beareth witness; and no man receiveth his witness. He that hath received his witness hath set his seal to this, that God is true. For he whom God hath sent speaketh the words of God : for he giveth not the Spirit by measure. The Father loveth the Son, and hath given all things into his hand. He that believeth on the Son hath eternal life; but he that <sup>2</sup> obeyeth not the Son shall not see life, but the wrath of God abideth on him.

4 When therefore the Lord knew how that the Pharisees had heard that Jesus was making and baptizing more disciples than John (although Jesus himself baptized not, but his disciples), he left Judæa, and departed again into Galilee. And he must needs pass through Samaria. So he cometh to a city of Samaria, called Sychar, near to the parcel of ground that Jacob gave to his son Joseph : and Jacob's well was there. Jesus therefore, being wearied with his journey, sat thus by the well. It was about the sixth hour. There cometh a woman of Samaria to draw water : Jesus saith unto her, Give me to drink. For his disciples were gone away into the city to buy food. The Samaritan woman therefore saith unto him, How is it that thou, being a Jew, askest drink of me, which am a Samaritan woman? (For Jews have no dealings with Samaritans.) Jesus answered and said unto her, If thou knewest the gift of God, and who it is that saith to thee, Give me to drink; thou wouldest have asked of him, and he would have given thee living water. The woman saith unto him, Sir, thou hast nothing to draw with, and the well is deep : from whence then hast thou that living water? Art thou greater than our father Jacob, which gave us the well, and drank thereof himself. And his sons, and his cattle? Jesus answered and said unto her, Every one that drinketh of this water shall thirst again : but whosoever drinketh of the water that I shall give him shall never thirst; but the water that I shall give him shall become in him a well of water springing up unto eternal life. The woman saith unto him, Sir, give me this water, that I thirst not, neither come all the way hither to draw. Jesus saith unto her, Go, call thy husband, and come hither. The woman answered and said unto him, I have no husband. Jesus saith unto her, Thou saidst well, I have no husband : for thou hast had five husbands; and he whom thou now hast is not thy husband : this hast thou said truly. The woman saith unto him, Sir, I perceive that thou art a prophet. Our fathers worshipped in this mountain; and ye say, that in Jerusalem is the place where men ought to worship. Jesus saith unto her, Woman, believe me, the hour cometh, when neither in this mountain, nor in Jerusalem, shall ye worship the Father. Ye worship that which ye know not : we worship that which we know : for salvation is from the Jews. But the hour cometh, and now is, when the true worshippers shall worship the Father in spirit and truth : for such doth the Father seek to be his worshippers. God is a Spirit : and they that worship him must worship in spirit and truth. The woman saith unto him, I know that Messiah cometh (which is called Christ) : when he is come, he will declare unto us all things. Jesus saith unto her, I that speak unto thee am he. And upon this came his disciples; and they marvelled that he was speaking with a woman; yet no man said, What seekest thou? or, Why speakest thou with her? So the woman left her waterpot, and went away into the city, and saith to the men, Come, see a man, which told me all things that ever I did : can this be the Christ? They went out of the city, and were coming to him. In the mean while the disciples prayed him, saying, Rabbi, eat. But he said unto them, I have meat to eat that ye know not. The disciples therefore said one to another, Hath any man brought him ought to eat? Jesus saith unto them, My meat is to do the will of him that sent me, and to accomplish his work. Say not ye, There are yet four months, and then cometh the harvest? behold, I say unto you, Lift up your eyes, and look on the fields, that they are white already unto harvest. He that reapeth receiveth wages, and gathereth fruit unto life eternal; that he that soweth and he that reapeth may rejoice together. For herein is the saying true, One soweth, and another reapeth. I sent you to reap that whereon ye have not laboured : others have laboured, and ye are entered into their labour. And from that city many of the Samaritans believed on him because of the word of the woman, who testified. He told me all things that ever I did. So when the Samaritans came unto him, they besought him to abide with them : and he abode there two days. And many more believed because of his word; and they said to the woman, Now we believe, not because of thy speaking : for we have heard for ourselves, and know that this is indeed the Saviour of the world. And after the two days he went forth from thence into Galilee. For Jesus himself testified, that a prophet hath no honour in his own country. So when he came into Galilee, the Galilæans received him, having seen all the things that he did in Jerusalem at the feast: for they also went unto the feast.

46 He came therefore again unto Cana of Galilee, where he made the water wine. And there was a certain nobleman, whose son was sick at Capernaum. When he heard that Jesus was come out of Judæa into Galilee, he went unto him, and besought him that he would come down, and heal his son: for he was at the point of death.

47 Jesus therefore said unto him, Except ye see signs and wonders, ye will in no wise believe.

48 The nobleman saith unto him, Sir, come down ere my child die.

49 Jesus saith unto him, Go thy way: thy son liveth. The man believed the word that Jesus spake unto him, and he went his way. And as he was now going down, his servants met him, saying, that his son lived. So he inquired of them the hour when he began to amend. They said therefore unto him, Yesterday at the seventh hour the fever left him. So the father knew that it was at that hour in which Jesus said unto him, Thy son liveth: and himself believed, and his whole house. This is again the second sign that Jesus did, having come out of Judæa into Galilee.

50 After these things there was a feast of the Jews; and Jesus went up to Jerusalem.

51 Now there is in Jerusalem by the sheep gate a pool, which is called in Hebrew Bethesda, having five porches. In these lay a multitude of them that were sick, blind, halt, withered. And a certain man was there, which had been thirty and eight years in his infirmity. When Jesus saw him lying, and knew that he had been now a long time in that case, he saith unto him, Wouldst thou be made whole? The sick man answered him, Sir, I have no man, when the water is troubled, to put me into the pool: but while I am coming, another steppeth down before me. Jesus saith unto him, Arise, take up thy bed, and walk. And straightway the man was made whole, and took up his bed and walked.

52 Now it was the sabbath on that day. So the Jews said unto him that was cured, It is the sabbath, and it is not lawful for thee to take up thy bed. But he answered them, He that made me whole, the same said unto me, Take up thy bed, and walk. They asked him, Who is the man that said unto thee, Take up thy bed, and walk? But he that was healed wist not who it was: for Jesus had conveyed himself away, a multitude being in the place. Afterward Jesus findeth him in the temple, and said unto him, Behold, thou art made whole: sin no more, lest a worse thing befall thee. The man went away, and told the Jews that it was Jesus which had made him whole. And for this cause did the Jews persecute Jesus, because he did these things on the sabbath.

14 But Jesus answered them, My Father worketh even until now, and I work. For this cause therefore the Jews sought the more to kill him, because he not only brake the sabbath, but also called God his own Father, making himself equal with God.

15 Jesus therefore answered and said unto them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, The Son can do nothing of himself, but what he seeth the Father doing: for what things soever he doeth, these the Son also doeth in like manner. For the Father loveth the Son, and sheweth him all things that himself doeth: and greater works than these will he shew him, that ye may marvel. For as the Father raiseth the dead and quickeneth whom he will, For neither doth the Father judge any man, but he hath given all judgement unto the Son: that all may honour the Son, even as they honour the Father. He that honoureth not the Son honoureth not the Father which sent him. Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that heareth my word, and believeth him that sent me, hath eternal life, and cometh not into judgement, but hath passed out of death into life.

16 Verily, verily, I say unto you, The hour cometh, and now is, when the dead shall hear the voice of the Son of God; and they that hear shall live. For as the Father hath life in himself, even so gave he to the Son also to have life in himself: and he gave him authority to execute judgement, because he is the Son of man. Marvel not at this: for the hour cometh, in which all that are in the tombs shall hear his voice, and shall come forth: they that have done good, unto the resurrection of life; and they that have done ill, unto the resurrection of judgement.

17 I can of myself do nothing: as I hear, I judge: and my judgement is righteous: because I seek not mine own will, but the will of him that sent me. If I bear witness of myself, my witness is not true. It is another that beareth witness of me; and I know that the witness which he witnesseth of me is true. Ye have sent unto John, and he hath borne witness unto the truth. But the witness which I receive is not from man: howbeit I say these things, that ye may be saved. He

7 Or, a son of man

8 Or, practised

7 Or, a son of man

was the lamp that burneth and shineth: and ye were willing to rejoice for a season in his light.

36 But the witness which I have is greater than that of John: for the works which the Father hath given me to accomplish, the very works that I do, bear witness of me, that 37 the Father hath sent me. And the Father which sent me, he hath borne witness of me. Ye have neither heard his voice at any time, 38 nor seen his form. And ye have not his word abiding in you: for whom he sent, him ye believe not.

39 <sup>1</sup>Ye search the scriptures, because ye think that in them ye have eternal life; and these are they which 40 bear witness of me; and ye will not come to me, that ye may have 41 life. I receive not glory from men.
42 But I know you, that ye have not 43 the love of God in yourselves. I am come in my Father's name, and ye receive me not: if another shall come in his own name, him ye will 44 receive. How can ye believe, which receive glory one of another, and 45 the glory that cometh from <sup>2</sup>the only God ye seek not? Think not that I will accuse you to the Father: there is one that accuseth you, even Moses, on whom ye have 46 set your hope. For if ye believed Moses, ye would believe me; for he 47 wrote of me. But if ye believe not his writings, how shall ye believe my words?

6 After these things Jesus went away to the other side of the sea of Galilee, which is the sea of Tiberias. And a great multitude followed him, because they beheld the signs which he did on them that
3 were sick. And Jesus went up into the mountain, and there he sat
4 with his disciples. Now the passover, the feast of the Jews, was at 5 hand. Jesus therefore lifting up his eyes, and seeing that a great multitude cometh unto him, saith unto Philip, Whence are we to buy 6 bread, that these may eat? And thus he said to prove him: for he himself knew what he would do.
7 Philip answered him, Two hundred pennyworth of bread is not sufficient for them, that every one may 8 take a little. One of his disciples, Andrew, Simon Peter's brother, 9 saith unto him, There is a lad here, which hath five barley loaves, and two fishes: but what are these 10 among so many? Jesus said, Make the people sit down. Now there was much grass in the place. So the men sat down, in number about five thousand. Jesus therefore took the loaves; and having given thanks, he distributed to them that were set down; likewise also of the fishes as much as they would.
12 And when they were filled, he saith unto his disciples, Gather up the broken pieces which remain over,
13 that nothing be lost. So they gathered them up, and filled twelve baskets with broken pieces from the five barley loaves, which remained over unto them that had 14 eaten. When therefore the people saw the <sup>5</sup>sign which he did, they said, This is of a truth the prophet that cometh in to the world.

15 Jesus therefore perceiving that they were about to come and take him by force, to make him king, withdrew again into the mountain himself alone.

16 And when evening came, his disciples went down unto the sea; and they entered into a boat, and were going over the sea unto Capernaum. And it was now dark, and Jesus had not yet come to 18 them. And the sea was rising by reason of a great wind that blew.
19 When therefore they had rowed about five and twenty or thirty furlongs, they beheld Jesus walking on the sea, and drawing nigh unto the boat: and they were afraid.
20 But he saith unto them, It is I; be not afraid. They were willing therefore to receive him into the boat: and straightway the boat was at the land whither they were going.

22 On the morrow the multitude which stood on the other side of the sea saw that there was none other <sup>6</sup>boat there, save one, and that Jesus entered not with his disciples into the boat, but that his
23 disciples went away alone (howbeit there came <sup>7</sup>boats from Tiberias nigh unto the place where they ate the bread after the Lord had given thanks): when the multitude therefore saw that Jesus was not there, neither his disciples, they themselves got into the <sup>7</sup>boats, and came to Capernaum, seeking Jesus.

25 And when they found him on the other side of the sea, they said unto him, Rabbi, when camest thou hither? Jesus answered them and said, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Ye seek me, not because ye saw signs, but because ye ate of the 27 loaves, and were filled. Work not for the meat which perisheth, but for the meat which abideth unto eternal life, which the Son of man shall give unto you: for him the 28 Father, even God, hath sealed. They said therefore unto him, What must we do, that we may work the works of God? Jesus answered and said unto them, This is the work of God, that ye believe on him whom <sup>8</sup>he hath sent. They said therefore unto him, What then doest thou for a sign, that we may see, and believe thee? what willest thou? Our fathers ate the manna in the wilderness; as it is written, He gave them bread out of heaven to eat.
32 Jesus therefore said unto them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, It was not Moses that gave you the bread out of heaven; but my Father giveth you the true bread out

33 of heaven. For the bread of God is that which cometh down out of heaven, and giveth life unto the 34 world. They said therefore unto him, Lord, evermore give us this 35 bread. Jesus said unto them, I am the bread of life: he that cometh to me shall not hunger, and he that believeth on me shall never 36 thirst. But I said unto you, that ye have seen me, and yet believe 37 not. All that which the Father giveth me shall come unto me; and him that cometh to me I will in 38 no wise cast out. For I am come down from heaven, not to do mine own will, but the will of him that 39 sent me. And this is the will of him that sent me, that of all that which he hath given me I should 40 lose nothing, but should raise it up at the last day. For this is the will of my Father, that every one that be-41 holdeth the Son, and believeth on him, should have eternal life: and I will raise him up at the last day.

41 The Jews therefore murmured concerning him, because he said, I am the bread which came down out of heaven. And they said, Is not this Jesus, the son of Joseph, whose father and mother we know? how doth he now say, I am come down out of heaven? Jesus answered and said unto them, Murmur
44 not among yourselves. No man can come to me, except the Father which sent me draw him: and I will raise him up in the last day.
45 It is written in the prophets, And they shall all be taught of God. Every one that hath heard from the Father, and hath learned, cometh unto me. Not that any man hath seen the Father, save he which is from God, he hath seen 47 the Father. Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that believeth hath 48 eternal life. I am the bread of life. Your fathers did eat the 49 manna in the wilderness, and they died. This is the bread which cometh down out of heaven, that a man may eat thereof, and not die.
51 I am the living bread which came down out of heaven: if any man eat of this bread, he shall live for ever: yea, and the bread which I will give is my flesh, for the life of the world.

52 The Jews therefore strove one with another, saying, How can this man give us his flesh to eat?
53 Jesus therefore said unto them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Except ye eat the flesh of the Son of man and drink his blood, ye have 54 not life in yourselves. He that eateth my flesh and drinketh my blood 55 hath eternal life; and I will raise him up at the last day. For my 56 flesh is <sup>2</sup>meat indeed, and my blood 57 is <sup>3</sup>drink indeed. He that eateth my flesh and drinketh my blood 57 bideth in me, and I in him. As the living Father sent me, and I live because of the Father; so he that eateth me, he also shall live because of me. This is the bread which came down out of heaven: not as the fathers did eat, and died: he that eateth this bread 59 shall live for ever. These things said he in <sup>4</sup>the synagogue, as he taught in Capernaum.

60 Many therefore of his disciples, when they heard this, said, This is a hard saying; who can hear 61 it? But Jesus knowing in himself that his disciples murmured at this, said unto them, Doth this cause you to stumble? What then if ye should behold the Son of man ascending where he was before? It is the spirit that quickeneth; the flesh profiteth nothing: the words that I have spoken unto you are 64 spirit, and are life. But there are some of you that believe not. For Jesus knew from the beginning who they were that believed not, and who it was that should betray him.
65 And he said, For this cause have I said unto you, that no man can come unto me, except it be given unto him of the Father.

66 Upon this many of his disciples went back, and walked no more with him. Jesus said therefore unto the twelve, Would ye also go away? Simon Peter answered him, Lord, to whom shall we go? thou <sup>6</sup>hast the words of eternal 69 life. And we have believed and know that thou art the Holy One of God. Jesus answered them, Did not I choose you the twelve, and one of you is a devil? Now he spake of Judas the son of Simon Iscariot, for he it was that should betray him, being one of the twelve.

7 And after these things Jesus walked in Galilee: for he would not walk in Judaea, because the Jews sought to kill him. Now the feast of the Jews, the feast of tabernacles, was
3 at hand. His brethren therefore said unto him, Depart hence, and go into Judaea, that thy disciples also may behold thy works which thou doest.
4 For no man doeth anything in secret, <sup>7</sup>and himself seeketh to be known openly. If thou doest these things, manifest thyself to the world.
5 For even his brethren did not believe on him. Jesus therefore saith unto them, My time is not yet come; but your time is always ready. The world cannot hate you; but me it hateth, because I testify of it, that
8 its works are evil. Go ye up unto the feast: I go not up <sup>8</sup>yet unto this feast: because my time is not yet fulfilled. And having said these things unto them, he abode still in Galilee.

10 But when his brethren were gone up unto the feast, then went he also up, not publicly, but as it were in secret. The Jews therefore sought him at the feast, and said, Where is 12 he? And there was much murmuring among the multitudes concerning him: some said, He is a good man; others said, Not so, but he leadeth the multitude astray. Howbeit no man spake openly of him for fear of the Jews.

14 But when it was now the midst of the feast Jesus went up into the temple, and taught. The Jews therefore marvelled, saying, How knoweth this man letters, having never learned? Jesus therefore answered them, and said, My teaching is not mine, but his that sent me. If any man willet to do his will, he shall know of the teaching, whether it be of God, or whether I speak from myself. He that speaketh from himself seeketh his own glory; but he that seeketh the glory of him that sent him, the same is true, and no unrighteousness is in him. Did not Moses give you the law, and yet none of you doeth the law? Why seek ye to kill me? The multitude answered, Thou hast a<sup>1</sup> devil: who seeketh to kill thee? Jesus answered and said unto them, I did one work, and ye all<sup>2</sup> marvel. For this cause hath Moses given you circumcision (not that it is of Moses, but of the fathers); and on the sabbath ye circumcise a man. If a man receiveth circumcision on the sabbath, that the law of Moses may not be broken; are ye wroth with me, because I made a man every whit whole on the sabbath? Judge not according to appearance, but judge righteous judgement.

25 Some therefore of them of Jerusalem said, Is not this he whom they seek to kill? And lo, he speaketh openly, and they say nothing unto him. Can it be that the rulers indeed know that this is the Christ? 27 Howbeit we know this man whence he is: but when the Christ cometh, no one knoweth whence he is. Jesus therefore cried in the temple, teaching and saying, Ye both know me, and know whence I am; and I am not come of myself, but he that sent me is true, whom ye know not. I know him; because I am from him, and he sent me. They sought therefore to take him; and no man laid his hand on him, because his hour was not yet come. 31 But of the multitude many believed on him; and they said, When the Christ shall come, will he do more signs than those which this man hath done? The Pharisees heard the multitude murmuring these things concerning him, and the chief priests and the Pharisees sent officers to take him. Jesus therefore said, Yet a little while am I with you, and I go unto him that sent me. Ye shall seek me, and shall not find me; and where I am, ye cannot come. The Jews therefore said among themselves, Whither will this man go that we shall not find him? will he go unto the Dispersion<sup>3</sup> among the Greeks, and teach the Greeks? What is this word that he said, Ye shall seek me, and shall not find me; and where I am, ye cannot come?

37 Now on the last day, the great day of the feast, Jesus stood and cried, saying, If any man thirst, let him come unto me, and drink. He that believeth on me, as the scripture hath said, out of his belly shall flow rivers of living water. 39 But this spake he of the Spirit, which they that believed on him were to receive: <sup>4</sup>for the Spirit was not yet given; because Jesus was not yet glorified. Some of the multitude therefore, when they heard these words, said, This is of a truth the prophet. Others said, This is the Christ. But some said, What, doth the Christ come out of Galilee? Hath not the scripture said that the Christ cometh of the seed of David, and from Bethlehem, the village where David was? 43 So there arose a division in the multitude because of him. And some of them would have taken him; but no man laid hands on him.

45 The officers therefore came to the chief priests and Pharisees; and they said unto them, Why did ye not bring him? The officers answered, Never man so spake. The Pharisees therefore answered them, Are ye also led astray? Hath any of the rulers believed on him, or of the Pharisees? But this multitude which knoweth not the law are accursed. Nicodemus saith unto them (he that came to him before, being one of them), Doth our law judge a man, except it first hear from himself and know what he doeth? They answered and said unto him, Art thou also of Galilee? Search, and see that out of Galilee ariseth no prophet.

53 <sup>5</sup>[And they went every man unto his own house; but Jesus went unto the mount of Olives. And early in the morning he came again into the temple, and all the people came unto him; and he sat down, and taught them. And the scribes and the Pharisees bring a woman taken in adultery; and having set her in the midst, they say unto him, <sup>6</sup>Master, this woman hath been taken in adultery, in the very act. Now in the law Moses commanded us to stone such: what then sayest thou of her? And this they said, <sup>7</sup>tempting him that they might have whereof to accuse him. But Jesus stooped down, and with his finger wrote on the ground. But when they continued asking him, he lifted up himself and said unto them, He that is without sin among you, let him first cast a stone at her. And again he

10 she was, in the midst. And Jesus lifted up himself, and said unto her,
Woman, where are they? did no
11 man condemn thee? And she said,
No man, Lord. And Jesus said, Neither do I condemn thee: go thy way;
from henceforth sin no more.]

12 Again therefore Jesus spake unto them, saying, I am the light of the world: he that followeth me shall not walk in the darkness, but shall 13 have the light of life. The Pharisees therefore said unto him, Thou bear-est witness of thyself; thy witness is 14 not true. Jesus answered and said unto them, Even if I bear witness of myself, my witness is true; for
I know whence I came, and whither
I go; but ye know not whence I 15 come, or whither I go. Ye judge after the flesh; I judge no man.
16 Yea and if I judge, my judgement is true; for I am not alone, but I 17 and the Father that sent me. Yea and in your law it is written, that 18 the witness of two men is true. I am he that beareth witness of myself, and the Father that sent me 19 beareth witness of me. They said therefore unto him, Where is thy Father? Jesus answered, Ye know neither me, nor my Father: if ye 20 knew me, ye would know my Father also. These words spake he in the treasury, as he taught in the temple: and no man took him; because his hour was not yet come.

21 He said therefore again unto them, I go away, and ye shall seek me, and shall die in your sin; whi-22 ther I go, ye cannot come. The Jews therefore said, Will he kill himself, that he saith, Whither I go, ye can-23 not come? And he said unto them, Ye are from beneath; I am from above: ye are of this world; I am 24 not of this world. I said therefore unto you, that ye shall die in your sins: for except ye believe that I am he, ye shall die in your sins.
25 They said therefore unto him, Who art thou? Jesus said unto them, 26 Even that which I have also spoken unto you from the beginning.
I have many things to speak and to judge concerning you: howbeit he that sent me is true; and the things which I heard from him,
these speak I <sup>2</sup> unto the world.

27 They perceived not that he spake
28 to them of the Father. Jesus therefore said, When ye have lifted up the Son of man, then shall ye know that I am he, and that I do nothing of myself, but as the Father taught me, I speak these things.

29 And he that sent me is with me;

he hath not left me alone; for I do always the things that are pleas-30 ing to him. As he spake these things, many believed on him.

31 Jesus therefore said to those Jews which had believed him, If ye abide in my word, then are ye truly my 32 disciples; and ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make 33 you free. They answered unto him,
We be Abraham's seed, and have never yet been in bondage to any man: how sayest thou, Ye shall be

34 made free? Jesus answered them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Every one that committeth sin is the bond-35 servant of sin. And the bondservant abideth not in the house for ever:
36 the son abideth for ever. If therefore the Son shall make you free,

37 ye shall be free indeed. I know that ye are Abraham's seed; yet ye seek to kill me, because my word <sup>6</sup> hath 38 not free course in you. I speak the things which I have seen with <sup>6</sup> my Father: and ye also do the things which ye heard from your father.

39 They answered and said unto him,
Our father is Abraham. Jesus saith unto them, If ye <sup>7</sup> were Abraham's children, <sup>8</sup> ye would do the works

40 of Abraham. But now ye seek to kill me, a man that hath told you
the truth, which I heard from God:

41 this did not Abraham. Ye do the works of your father. They said unto him, We were not born of fornication; we have one Father, even

42 God. Jesus said unto them, If God were your Father, ye would love me: for I came forth and am come from God; for neither have I come

43 of myself, but he sent me. Why do ye not <sup>9</sup> understand my speech?
Even because ye cannot hear my 44 word. Ye are of your father the devil, and the lusts of your father it is your will to do. He was a murderer from the beginning, and 10 stood not in the truth, because there is no truth in him. <sup>11</sup> When he speaketh a lie, he speaketh of his own: for he is a liar, and the 45 father thereof. But because I say 46 the truth, ye believe me not. Which of you convicteth me of sin? If I say truth, why do ye not believe

47 me? He that is of God heareth the words of God: for this cause ye hear them not, because ye are not

48 of God. The Jews answered and said unto him, Say we not well that thou art a Samaritan, and 49 hast a <sup>12</sup> devil? Jesus answered, I have not a <sup>12</sup> devil; but I honour

my Father, and ye dishonour me.

50 But I seek not mine own glory:
there is one that seeketh and judg-

greater than our father Abraham, which is dead? and the prophets are dead: whom makest thou thyself? Jesus answered. If I glorify myself, my glory is nothing: it is my Father that glorifieth me; of whom ye say, that he is your God; and ye have not known him: but I know him; and if I should say, I know him not, I shall be like unto you, a liar: but I know him, and keep his word. Your father Abraham rejoiced to see my day: and he saw it, and was glad. The Jews therefore said unto him, Thou art not yet fifty years old, and hast thou seen Abraham? Jesus said unto them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Before Abraham <sup>2</sup>was, I am. They took up stones therefore to cast at him: but Jesus <sup>3</sup>hid himself, and went out of the temple.

<sup>4</sup> And as he passed by, he saw a man blind from his birth. And his disciples asked him, saying, Rabbi, who did sin, this man, or his parents, that he should be born blind? Jesus answered, Neither did this man sin, nor his parents: but that the works of God should be made manifest in him. We must work the works of him that sent me, while it is day: the night cometh, when no man can work. When I am in the world, I am the light of the world. When he had thus spoken, he spat on the ground, and made clay of the spittle, and anointed his eyes with the clay, and said unto him, Go, wash in the pool of Siloam (which is by interpretation, Sent). He went away therefore, and washed, and came seeing.

The neighbours therefore, and they which saw him aforetime, that he was a beggar, said, Is not this he that sat and begged? Others said, It is he: others said, No, but he is like him. He said, I am he. They said therefore unto him, How then were thine eyes opened? He answered, The man that is called Jesus made clay, and anointed mine eyes, and said unto me, Go to Siloam, and wash: so I went away and washed, and I received sight.

And they said unto him, Where is he? He saith, I know not.

They bring to the Pharisees him that aforetime was blind. Now it was the sabbath on the day when Jesus made the clay, and opened his eyes. Again therefore the Pharisees also asked him how he received his sight. And he said unto them, He put clay upon mine eyes, and I washed, and do see. Some therefore of the Pharisees said, This man is not from God, because he keepeth not the sabbath. But others said, How can a man that is a sinner do such signs? And there was a division among them. They say therefore unto the blind man again, What sayest thou of him, in that he opened thine eyes? And he said,

He is a prophet. The Jews therefore did not believe concerning him, that he had been blind, and had received his sight, until they called the parents of him that had received his sight, and asked them, saying, Is this your son, who ye say was born blind? how then doth he now see? His parents answered and said, We know that this is our son, and that he was born blind: but how he now seeth, we know not; or who opened his eyes, we know not: ask him; he is of age; he shall speak for himself. These things said his parents, because they feared the Jews: for the Jews had agreed already, that if any man should confess him to be Christ, he should be put out of the synagogue. Therefore said his parents, He is of age; ask him. So they called a second time the man that was blind, and said unto him, Give glory to God: we know that this man is a sinner. He therefore answered, Whether he be a sinner, I know not: one thing I know, that, whereas I was blind, now I see. They said therefore unto him, What did he to thee? how opened he thine eyes? He answered them, I told you even now, and ye did not hear: wherefore would ye hear it again? would ye also become his disciples? And they reviled him, and said, Thou art his disciple: but we are disciples of Moses. We know that God hath spoken unto Moses: but as for this man, we know not whence he is. The man answered and said unto them, Why, herein is the marvel, that ye know not whence he is, and yet he opened mine eyes. We know that God heareth not sinners: but if any man be a worshipper of God, and do his will, him he heareth. Since the world began it was never heard that any one opened the eyes of a man born blind. If this man were not from God, he could do nothing. They answered and said unto him, Thou wast altogether born in sin, and dost thou teach us? And they cast him out.

Jesus heard that they had cast him out; and finding him, he said, Dost thou believe on <sup>6</sup>the Son of God? He answered and said, And who is he, Lord, that I may believe on him? Jesus said unto him, Thou hast both seen him, and he it is that speaketh with thee. And he said, Lord, I believe. And he worshipped him. And Jesus said, For judgement came I into this world, that they which see not may see; and that they which see may become blind. Those of the Pharisees which were with him heard these things, and said unto him, Are we also blind? Jesus said unto them, If ye were blind, ye would have no sin: but now ye say, We see: your sin remaineth.

10 Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that entereth not by the door into the fold of the sheep, but climbeth up some other way, the same is a thief and a robber. But he that entereth in by the door is the shepherd of the sheep. To him the porter openeth; and the sheep hear his voice: and he calleth his own sheep by name, and leadeth them out. When he hath put forth all his own, he goeth before them, and the sheep follow him: for they know his voice. And a stranger will they not follow, but will flee from him: for they know not the voice of strangers. This <sup>2</sup>parable spake Jesus unto them: but they understood not what things they were which he spake unto them.

7 Jesus therefore said unto them again, Verily, verily, I say unto you, I am the door of the sheep. All that came before me are thieves and robbers: but the sheep did not hear them. I am the door: by me if any man enter in, he shall be saved, and shall go in and go out, and shall find pasture. The thief cometh not, but that he may steal, and kill, and destroy: I came that they may have life, and may <sup>3</sup>have it abundantly.

11 I am the good shepherd: the good shepherd layeth down his life for the sheep. He that is a hireling, and not a shepherd, whose own the sheep are not, beholdeth the wolf coming, and leaveth the sheep, and fleeth, and the wolf snatcheth them, and scattereth them: <sup>he fleeth</sup> because he is a hireling, and careth not for the sheep. I am the good shepherd: and I know mine own, and mine own know me, even as the Father knoweth me, and I know the Father; and I lay down my life for the sheep. And other sheep I have, which are not of this fold: them also I must <sup>4</sup>bring, and they shall hear my voice; and <sup>5</sup>they shall become one flock, one shepherd. Therefore doth the Father love me, because I lay down my life, that I may take it again. No one <sup>6</sup>taketh it away from me, but I lay it down of myself. I have <sup>7</sup>power to lay it down, and I have <sup>7</sup>power to take it again. This commandment received I from my Father.

19 There arose a division again among the Jews because of these words. And many of them said, He hath a <sup>8</sup>devil, and is mad; why hear ye him? Others said, These are not the sayings of one possessed with a <sup>8</sup>devil. Can a <sup>8</sup>devil open the eyes of the blind?

22 And it was the feast of the dedication at Jerusalem: it was winter; and Jesus was walking in the temple in Solomon's porch. The Jews therefore came round about him, and said unto him, How long dost thou hold us in suspense? If thou art the Christ, tell us plainly. Jesus answered them, I told you, and ye believe not: the works that I do in my Father's name, these bear witness of me. But ye believe not, because ye are not of my sheep. My sheep hear my voice, and I know them, and they follow me: and I give unto them eternal life; and they shall never perish, and no one shall snatch them out of my hand. <sup>10</sup>My Father, which hath given them unto me, is greater than all; and no one is able to snatch them out of the Father's hand. I and the Father are one. The Jews took up stones again to stone him. Jesus answered them, Many good works have I shewed you from the Father; for which of those works do ye stone me? The Jews answered him, For a good work we stone thee not, but for blasphemy; and because that thou, being a man, makest thyself God. Jesus answered them, Is it not written in your law, I said, Ye are gods? If he called them gods, unto whom the word of God came (and the scripture cannot be broken), say ye of him, whom the Father <sup>12</sup>sanctified and sent into the world, Thou blasphemest; because I said, I am the Son of God? If I do not the works of my Father, believe me not. But if I do them, though ye believe not me, believe the works: that ye may know and understand that the Father is in me, and I in the Father. They sought again to take him: and he went forth out of their hand.

40 And he went away again beyond Jordan into the place where John was at the first baptizing; and there he abode. And many came unto him; and they said, John indeed did no sign: but all things whatsoever John spake of this man were true. And many believed on him there.

11 Now a certain man was sick, Lazarus of Bethany, of the village of Mary and her sister Martha. And it was that Mary which anointed the Lord with ointment, and wiped his feet with her hair, whose brother Lazarus was sick. The sisters therefore sent unto him, saying, Lord, behold, he whom thou lovest is sick. But when Jesus heard it, he said, This sickness is not unto death, but for the glory of God, that the Son of God may be glorified thereby.

5 Now Jesus loved Martha, and her sister, and Lazarus. When therefore he heard that he was sick, he abode at that time two days in the place where he was. Then after this he saith to the disciples, Let us go into Judæa again. The disciples say unto him, Rabbi, the Jews were but now seeking to stone thee: and goest thou thither again? Jesus answered, Are there not twelve hours in the day? If a man walk in the day, he stumbleth not, because he seeth the light of this world. But if a man walk in the night, he stumbleth, be-

The disciples therefore said unto him, Lord, if he is fallen asleep, he will recover. Now Jesus had spoken of his death: but they thought that he spake of taking rest in sleep. Then Jesus therefore said unto them plainly, Lazarus is dead. And I am glad for your sakes that I was not there, to the intent ye may believe; nevertheless let us go unto him.

16 Thomas therefore, who is called Didymus, said unto his fellow-disciples, Let us also go, that we may die with him.

17 So when Jesus came, he found that he had been in the tomb four days already. Now Bethany was nigh unto Jerusalem, about fifteen furlongs off; and many of the Jews had come to Martha and Mary, to console them concerning their brother.

20 Martha therefore, when she heard that Jesus was coming, went and met him; but Mary still sat in the house. Martha therefore said unto Jesus, Lord, if thou hadst been here, my brother had not died. And even now I know that, whatsoever thou shalt ask of God, God will give thee. Jesus saith unto her, Thy brother shall rise again. Martha saith unto him, I know that he shall rise again in the resurrection at the last day. Jesus said unto her, I am the resurrection, and the life: he that believeth on me, though he die, yet shall he live: and whosoever liveth and believeth on me shall never die. Believest thou this? She saith unto him, Yea, Lord: I have believed that thou art the Christ, the Son of God, even because thou comest into the world. And when she had said this, she went away, and called Mary her sister secretly, saying, The Master is here, and calleth thee.

20 And she, when she heard it, arose quickly, and went unto him. (Now Jesus was not yet come into the village, but was still in the place where Martha met him.) The Jews then which were with her in the house, and were comforting her, when they saw Mary, that she rose up quickly and went out, followed her, supposing that she was going unto the tomb to weep there. Mary therefore, when she came where Jesus was, and saw him, fell down at his feet, saying unto him, Lord, if thou hadst been here, my brother had not died. When Jesus therefore saw her weeping, and the Jews also weeping which came with her, he groaned in the spirit, and was troubled, and said, Where have ye laid him? They say unto him, Lord, come and see. Jesus wept. The Jews then said, beholding how he loved him! But some of them said, Could not this man, which opened the eyes of him that was blind, have caused that this man also should not die?

38 Jesus therefore again groaning in himself cometh to the tomb. Now it was a cave, and a stone lay against it. Jesus saith, Take ye away the stone. Martha, the sister of him that was dead, saith unto him, Lord, by this time he stinketh: for he hath been dead four days. Jesus saith unto her, Said I not unto thee, that, if thou believedst, thou shouldst see the glory of God? So they took away the stone. And Jesus lifted up his eyes, and said, Father, I thank thee that thou hearest me. And I knew that thou hearest me always: but because of the multitude which standeth around I said it, that they may believe that thou didst send me.

43 And when he had thus spoken, he cried with a loud voice, Lazarus, come forth. He that was dead came forth, bound hand and foot with grave-clothes; and his face was bound about with a napkin. Jesus saith unto them, Loose him, and let him go.

45 Many therefore of the Jews, which came to Mary and beheld that which he did, believed on him.

46 But some of them went away to the Pharisees, and told them the things which Jesus had done.

47 The chief priests therefore and the Pharisees gathered a council, and said, What do we? for this man doeth many signs. If we let him thus alone, all men will believe on him: and the Romans will come and take away both our place and our nation.

48 But a certain one of them, Caiaphas, being high priest that year, said unto them, Ye know nothing at all, nor do ye take account that it is expedient for you that one man should die for the people, and that the whole nation perish not. Now this he said not of himself: but being high priest that year, he prophesied that Jesus should die for the nation; and not for the nation only, but that he might also gather together into one the children of God that are scattered abroad. So from that day forth they took counsel that they might put him to death.

54 Jesus therefore walked no more openly among the Jews, but departed thence into the country near to the wilderness, into a city called Ephraim; and there he tarried with the disciples. Now the passover of the Jews was at hand; and many went up to Jerusalem out of the country before the passover, to purify themselves. They sought therefore for Jesus, and spake one with another, as they stood in the temple, What think ye? That he will not come to the feast? Now the chief priests and the Pharisees had given commandment, that, if any man knew where he was, he should shew it, that they might take him.

- 12 Jesus therefore six days before the passover came to Bethany, where Lazarus was, whom Jesus raised from the dead. So they made him a supper there: and Martha served; but Lazarus was one of them that sat at meat with him.
- 3 Mary therefore took a pound of ointment of <sup>1</sup>spikenard, very precious, and anointed the feet of Jesus, and wiped his feet with her hair: and the house was filled with the odour of the ointment. But Judas Iscariot, one of his disciples, which should betray him, saith, Why was not this ointment sold for three hundred <sup>2</sup>pence, and given to the poor? Now this he said, not because he cared for the poor: but because he was a thief, and having the <sup>3</sup>bag took away what was put therein.
- 7 Jesus therefore said, <sup>5</sup>Suffer her to keep it against the day of my burying. For the poor ye have always with you; but me ye have not always.
- 9 The common people therefore of the Jews learned that he was there: and they came, not for Jesus' sake only, but that they might see Lazarus also, whom he had raised from the dead. But the chief priests took counsel that they might put Lazarus also to death: because that by reason of him many of the Jews went away, and believed on Jesus.
- 12 On the morrow <sup>6</sup>a great multitude that had come to the feast, when they heard that Jesus was coming to Jerusalem, took the branches of the palm trees, and went forth to meet him, and cried out, Hosanna: Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord, even the King of Israel. And Jesus, having found a young ass, sat thereon; as it is written, Fear not, daughter of Zion: behold, thy King cometh, sitting on an ass's colt. These things understood not his disciples at the first: but when Jesus was glorified, then remembered they that these things were written of him, and that they had done these things unto him.
- 17 The multitude therefore that was with him when he called Lazarus out of the tomb, and raised him from the dead, bare witness. For this cause also the multitude went and met him, for that they heard that he had done this sign. The Pharisees therefore said among themselves, <sup>7</sup>Behold how ye prevail nothing: lo, the world is gone after him.
- 20 Now there were certain Greeks among those that went up to worship at the feast: these therefore came to Philip, which was of Bethsaida of Galilee, and asked him, saying, Sir, we would see Jesus. Philip cometh and telleth Andrew: Andrew cometh, and Philip, and they tell Jesus. And Jesus answereth them, saying, The hour is come, that the Son of man should be glorified.

- 24 Verily, verily, I say unto you. Except a grain of wheat fall into the earth and die, it abideth by itself alone; but if it die, it beareth much fruit. He that loveth his <sup>8</sup>life loseth it; and he that hateth his <sup>8</sup>life in this world shall keep it unto life eternal. If any man serve me, let him follow me; and where I am, there shall also my servant be: if any man serve me, him will the Father honour. Now is my soul troubled; and what shall I say? Father, save me from this <sup>9</sup>hour. But for this cause came I unto this hour. Father, glorify thy name. There came therefore a voice out of heaven, saying, I have both glorified it, and will glorify it again.
- 29 The multitude therefore, that stood by, and heard it, said that it had thundered: others said, An angel hath spoken to him. Jesus answered and said, This voice hath not come for my sake, but for your sakes.
- 31 Now is <sup>10</sup>the judgement of this world: now shall the prince of this world be cast out. And I, if I be lifted up <sup>11</sup>from the earth, will draw all men unto myself. But this he said, signifying by what manner of death he should die. The multitude therefore answered him, We have heard out of the law that the Christ abideth for ever: and how sayest thou The Son of man must be lifted up? who is this Son of man? Jesus therefore said unto them, Yet a little while is the light <sup>12</sup>among you. Walk while ye have the light, that darkness overtake you not: and he that walketh in the darkness knoweth not whither he goeth. While ye have the light, believe on the light, that ye may become sons of light.
- These things spake Jesus, and he departed and <sup>13</sup>hid himself from them. But though he had done so many signs before them, yet they believed not on him: that the word of Isaiah the prophet might be fulfilled, which he spake, Lord, who hath believed our report? And to whom hath the arm of the Lord been revealed?
- 39 For this cause they could not believe, for that Isaiah said again, He hath blinded their eyes, and he hath hardened their heart: Lest they should see with their eyes, and perceive with their heart, And should turn.
- And I should heal them.
- 41 These things said Isaiah, because he saw his glory; and he spake of him. Nevertheless even of the rulers many believed on him; but because of the Pharisees they did not confess <sup>14</sup>it, lest they should be put out of the synagogue: for they loved the glory of men more than the glory of God.

And if any man hear my sayings, and keep them not, I judge him not: for I came not to judge the world, but to save the world. He that rejecteth me, and receiveth not my sayings, hath one that judgeth him: the word that I spake, the same shall judge him in the last day.

49 For I spake not from myself; but the Father which sent me, he hath given me a commandment, what I should say, and what I should speak. And I know that his commandment is life eternal: the things therefore which I speak, even as the Father hath said unto me, so I speak.

13 Now before the feast of the passover, Jesus knowing that his hour was come that he should depart out of this world unto the Father, having loved his own which were in the world, he loved them<sup>1</sup> unto the end.

2 And during supper, the devil having already put into the heart of Judas Iscariot, Simon's son, to betray him,

3 Jesus, knowing that the Father had given all things into his hands, and that he came forth from God, and

4 goeth unto God, riseth from supper, and layeth aside his garments, and he took a towel, and girded himself.

5 Then he poureth water into the bason, and began to wash the disciples' feet, and to wipe them with the towel wherewith he was girded.

6 So he cometh to Simon Peter. He saith unto him, Lord, dost thou wash my feet? Jesus answered and said unto him, What I do thou knowest not now; but thou shalt

8 understand hereafter. Peter saith unto him, Thou shalt never wash my feet. Jesus answered him, If I wash thee not, thou hast no part with me. Simon Peter saith unto him, Lord, not my feet only, but also my hands and my head. Jesus saith to him, He that is bathed needeth not<sup>2</sup> save to wash his feet, but is clean every whit: and ye are clean, but not all. For he knew him that should betray him; therefore said he, Ye are not all clean.

12 So when he had washed their feet, and taken his garments, and<sup>3</sup> sat down again, he said unto them, Know ye what I have done to you?

13 Ye call me, Master, and, Lord: and ye say well; forso I am. If I then, the Lord and the Master, have washed your feet, ye also ought to wash one another's feet. For I have given you an example, that ye also should do as I have done to you. Verily, verily, I say unto you, A servant is not greater than his lord; neither one that is sent greater than he that sent him. If ye know these things, 18 blessed are ye if ye do them. I speak not of you all: I know whom I have chosen: but that the scripture may be fulfilled, He that eateth<sup>6</sup> my bread lifted up his heel against me. From henceforth I tell you before it come to pass, that, when it is come to pass, ye may believe that<sup>9</sup> I am he.

20 Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that receiveth whomsoever I send receiveth me; and he that receiveth me receiveth him that sent me.

21 When Jesus had thus said, he was troubled in the spirit, and testified, and said, Verily, verily, I say unto you, that one of you shall betray me.

22 The disciples looked one on another, doubting of whom he spake. There was at the table reclining in Jesus' bosom one of his disciples, whom Jesus loved, Simon Peter therefore beckoneth to him, and saith unto him, Tell us who it is of whom he speaketh. He leaning back, as he was, on Jesus' breast saith unto him, Lord, who is it? Jesus therefore answereth, He it is, for whom I shall dip the sop, and give it him. So when he had dipped the sop, he taketh and giveth it to Judas, the son of Simon Iscariot. And after the sop, then entered Satan into him. Jesus therefore saith unto him, That thou doest, do quickly.

28 Now no man at the table knew for what intent he spake this unto him. For some thought, because Judas had the<sup>10</sup> bag, that Jesus said unto him, Buy what things we have need of for the feast; or, that he should give something to the poor. He then having received the sop went out straightway: and it was night.

31 When therefore he was gone out, Jesus saith, Now<sup>11</sup> is the Son of man glorified, and God<sup>11</sup> is glorified in him; and God shall glorify him in himself, and straightway shall he glorify him. Little children, yet a little while I am with you. Ye shall seek me: and as I said unto the Jews, Whither I go, ye cannot come; so now I say unto you. A new commandment I give unto you, that ye love one another;<sup>12</sup> even as I have loved you, that ye also love one another. By this shall all men know that ye are my disciples, if ye have love one to another.

36 Simon Peter saith unto him, Lord, whither goest thou? Jesus answered, Whither I go, thou canst not follow me now; but thou shalt follow afterwards. Peter saith unto him, Lord, why cannot I follow thee even now? Jesus will lay down my life for thee. Jesus answereth, Wilt thou lay down thy life for me? Verily, verily, I say unto thee, The cock shall not crow, till thou hast denied me thrice.

14 Let not your heart be troubled: ye believe in God, believe also in me. In my Father's house are many<sup>14</sup> mansions; if it were not so, I would have told you; for I go to prepare a place for you. And if I go and prepare a place for you, I will come again, and will receive you unto myself; that where I am, there that I am in my Father, and ye in commandments, and keepeth them, he it is that loveth me: and he that loveth me shall be loved of my Father, and I will love him, and will 22 manifest myself unto him. Judas (not Iscariot) saith unto him, Lord, what is come to pass that thou wilt manifest thyself unto us, and not 23 unto the world? Jesus answered and said unto him, If a man love me, he will keep my word: and my Father will love him, and we will come unto him, and make our a-24 bode with him. He that loveth me not keepeth not my words: and the word which ye hear is not mine,

but the Father's who sent me.

25 These things have I spoken unto you, while yet abiding with you.
26 But the 5 Comforter, even the Holy Spirit, whom the Father will send in my name, he shall teach you all things, and bring to your remembrance all that I said unto you.
27 Peace I leave with you; my peace

I give unto you: not as the world giveth, give I unto you. Let not your heart be troubled, neither let 28 it be fearful. Ye heard how I said to you, I go away, and I come unto you. If ye loved me, ye would have rejoiced, because I go unto the Father: for the Father is greater than 29 I. And now I have told you before it come to pass, that, when it is 30 come to pass, ye may believe. I will no more speak much with you, for the prince of the world cometh: and 31 he hath nothing in me; but that the world may know that I love the Father, and as the Father gave me commandment, even so I do. Arise, let us go hence.

15 I am the true vine, and my Fa-2 ther is the husbandman. Every branch in me that beareth not fruit, he taketh it away: and every branch that beareth fruit, he cleanseth it, 3 that it may bear more fruit. Already ye are clean because of the word which I have spoken unto 4 you. Abide in me, and I in you.
As the branch cannot bear fruit of itself, except it abide in the vine;
so neither can ye, except ye abide 5 in me. I am the vine, ye are the branches: He that abideth in me, and I in him, the same beareth much fruit: for apart from me ye 6 can do nothing. If a man abide not in me, he is cast forth as a branch, and is withered; and they gather them, and cast them into the fire, 7 and they are burned. If ye abide in me, and my words abide in you, ask whatsoever ye will, and it shall be 8 done unto you. Herein 8 is my Father glorified, 9 that ye bear much fruit; and so shall ye be my dis-9 ciples. Even as the Father hath loved me, I also have loved you:
10 abide ye in my love. If ye keep my commandments, ye shall abide in my love; even as I have kept my Father's commandments, and 11 abide in his love. These things have I spoken unto you, that my joy may be in you, and that your 12 joy may be fulfilled. This is my commandment, that ye love one another, even as I have loved you.
13 Greater love hath no man than this,
that a man lay down his life for his 14 friends. Ye are my friends, if ye do the things which I command 15 you. No longer do I call you 10 servants; for the 11 servant knoweth not what his lord doeth: but I have called you friends; for all things that I heard from my Father I have 16 made known unto you. Ye did not choose me, but I chose you, and appointed you, that ye should go and bear fruit, and that your fruit should abide: that whatsoever ye shall ask of the Father in my name, 17 he may give it you. These things I command you, that ye may love

thy Son, that the Son may glorify thee: even as thou gavest him authority over all flesh, that whatsoever thou hast given him, to them he should give eternal life. And this is life eternal, that they should know thee the only true God, and him whom thou didst send, even Jesus Christ. I glorified thee on the earth, having accomplished the work which thou hast given me to do. And now, O Father, glorify thou me with thine own self with the glory which I had with thee before the world was. I manifested thy name unto the men whom thou gavest me out of the world: thine they were, and thou gavest them to me; and they have kept thy word. Now they know that all things whatsoever thou hast given me are from thee: for the words which thou gavest me I have given unto them; and they received them, and knew of a truth that I came forth from thee, and they believed that thou didst send me. I pray for them: I pray not for the world, but for those whom thou hast given me; for they are thine; and all things that are mine are thine, and thine are mine; and I am glorified in them. And I am no more in the world, and these are in the world, and I come to thee. Holy Father, keep them in thy name which thou hast given me, that they may be one, even as we are. While I was with them, I kept them in thy name which thou hast given me; and I guarded them, and not one of them perished, but the son of perdition; that the scripture might be fulfilled. But now I come to thee: and these things I speak in the world, that they may have my joy fulfilled in themselves. I have given them thy word; and the world hated them, because they are not of the world, even as I am not of the world. I pray not that thou shouldst take them from the world, but that thou shouldst keep them from the evil one. They are not of the world, even as I am not of the world. Sanctify them in the truth: thy word is truth. As thou didst send me into the world, even so sent I them into the world. And for their sakes I sanctify myself, that they themselves also may be sanctified in truth. Neither for these only do I pray, but for them also that believe on me through their word; that they may all be one; even as thou, Father, art in me, and I in thee, that they also may be in us: that the world may believe that thou didst send me. And the glory which thou hast given me I have given unto them; that they may be one, even as we are one; I in them, and thou in me, that they may be perfected into one; that the world may know that thou didst send me, and lovedst them, 24 even as thou lovedst me. Father, that which thou hast given me, I will that, where I am, they also may be with me; that they may behold my glory, which thou hast given me: for thou lovedst me before the foundation of the world. O righteous Father, the world knew thee not, but I knew thee; and these knew that thou didst send me; and I made known unto them thy name, and will make it known; that the love wherewith thou lovedst me may be in them, and I in them.

18 When Jesus had spoken these words, he went forth with his disciples over the brook Kidron, where was a garden, into the which he entered, himself and his disciples. Now Judas also, which betrayed him, knew the place: for Jesus oft-times resorted thither with his disciples. Judas then, having received the band of soldiers, and officers from the chief priests and the Pharisees, cometh thither with lanterns and torches and weapons. Jesus therefore, knowing all the things that were coming upon him, went forth, and saith unto them, Whom seek ye? They answered him, Jesus of Nazareth. Jesus saith unto them, I am he. And Judas also, which betrayed him, was standing with them. When therefore he said unto them, I am he, they went backward, and fell to the ground. Again therefore he asked them, Whom seek ye? And they said, Jesus of Nazareth. Jesus answered, I told you that I am he: if therefore ye seek me, let these go their way: that the word might be fulfilled which he spake, Of those whom thou hast given me I lost not one. Simon Peter therefore having a sword drew it, and struck the high priest's servant, and cut off his right ear. Now the servant's name was Malchus. Jesus therefore said unto Peter, Put up the sword into the sheath: the cup which the Father hath given me, shall I not drink it?

12 So the band and the chief captain, and the officers of the Jews, seized Jesus and bound him, and led him to Annas first; for he was father in law to Caiaphas, which was high priest that year. Now Caiaphas was he which gave counsel to the Jews, that it was expedient that one man should die for the people.

15 And Simon Peter followed Jesus, and so did another disciple. Now that disciple was known unto the high priest, and entered in with Jesus into the court of the high priest; but Peter was standing at the door without. So the other disciple, which was known unto the high priest, went out and spake unto her that kept the door, and brought in Peter. The maid therefore that kept the door saith unto Peter, Art thou

The high priest therefore asked Jesus of his disciples, and of his teaching. Jesus answered him, I have spoken openly to the world; I ever taught in <sup>3</sup>synagogues, and in the temple, where all the Jews come together; and in secret spake

I nothing. Why askest thou me? ask them that have heard me, what I spake unto them: behold, these know the things which I said. And when he had said this, one of the officers standing by struck Jesus with his hand, saying, Answerest thou the high priest so? Jesus answered him, If I have spoken evil, bear witness of the evil: but if well, why smitest thou me? Annas therefore sent him bound unto Caiaphas the high priest.

Now Simon Peter was standing and warming himself. They said therefore unto him, Art thou also one of his disciples? He denied, and said, I am not. One of the <sup>1</sup>servants of the high priest, being a kinsman of him whose ear Peter cut off, saith, Did not I see thee in the garden with him? Peter therefore denied again: and straightway the cock crew.

They lead Jesus therefore from Caiaphas into the <sup>5</sup>palace: and it was early; and they themselves entered not into the <sup>6</sup>palace, that they might not be defiled, but might eat the passover. Pilate therefore went out unto them, and saith,

What accusation bring ye against this man? They answered and said unto him, If this man were not an evil-doer, we should not have delivered him up unto thee. Pilate therefore said unto them, Take him yourselves, and judge him according to your law. The Jews said unto him, It is not lawful for us to put any man to death: that the word of Jesus might be fulfilled, which he spake, signifying by what manner of death he should die.

Pilate therefore entered again into the <sup>5</sup>palace, and called Jesus, and said unto him, Art thou the King of the Jews? Jesus answered, Sayest thou this of thyself, or did others tell it thee concerning me? Pilate answered, Am I a Jew? Thine own nation and the chief priests delivered thee unto me: what hast thou done? Jesus answered, My kingdom is not of this world: if my kingdom were of this world, then would my <sup>6</sup>servants fight, that I should not be delivered to the Jews:

but now is my kingdom not from hence. Pilate therefore said unto him, Art thou a king then? Jesus answered, Thou sayest that I am a king. To this end have I been born, and to this end am I come into the world, that I should bear witness unto the truth. Every one that is of the truth heareth my voice. Pilate saith unto him, What is truth?

And when he had said this, he went out again unto the Jews, and saith unto them, I find no crime in him. But ye have a custom, that I should release unto you one at the passover: will ye therefore that I release unto you the King of the Jews? They cried out therefore again, saying, Not this man, but Barabbas. Now Barabbas was a robber.

Then Pilate therefore took Jesus, and scourged him. And the soldiers plaited a crown of thorns, and put it on his head, and arrayed him in a purple garment;

and they came unto him, and said, Hail, King of the Jews! and they struck him with their hands. And Pilate went out again, and saith unto them, Behold, I bring him out to you, that ye may know that I find no crime in him. Jesus therefore came out, wearing the crown of thorns and the purple garment. And Pilate saith unto them, Behold, the man! When therefore the chief priests and the officers saw him, they cried out, saying, Crucify him, crucify him. Pilate saith unto them,

Take him yourselves, and crucify him: for I find no crime in him.

The Jews answered him, We have a law, and by that law he ought to die, because he made himself the Son of God. When Pilate therefore heard this saying, he was the more afraid; and he entered into the <sup>5</sup>palace again, and saith unto Jesus, Whence art thou? But Jesus gave him no answer. Pilate therefore saith unto him, Speakest thou not unto me? knowest thou not that I have <sup>9</sup>power to release thee, and have <sup>10</sup>power to crucify thee? Jesus answered him, Thou wouldest have no <sup>11</sup>power against me, except it were given thee from above: there- fore he that delivered me unto thee hath greater sin. Upon this Pilate sought to release him: but the Jews cried out, saying, If thou release this man, thou art not Caesar's friend: every one that maketh himself a king <sup>12</sup>speaketh against Caesar. When Pilate therefore heard these words, he brought Jesus out, and sat down on the judgement-seat at a place called The Pavement, but in Hebrew, Gabbatha.

Now it was the Preparation of the passover: it was about the sixth hour. And he saith unto the Jews,

Behold, your King! They therefore cried out, Away with him, away with him, crucify him. Pilate saith unto them, Shall I crucify your King? The chief priests answered, 16 We have no king but Cæsar. Then therefore he delivered him unto them to be crucified.

17 They took Jesus therefore; and he went out, bearing the cross for himself, unto the place called The place of a skull, which is called in Hebrew

18 Golgotha: where they crucified him, and with him two others, on either side one, and Jesus in the midst.

19 And Pilate wrote a title also, and put it on the cross. And there was written, JESUS OF NAZARETH, THE

20 KING OF THE JEWS. This title therefore read many of the Jews: <sup>1</sup>for the place where Jesus was crucified was nigh to the city: and it was written in Hebrew, and in

21 Latin, and in Greek. The chief priests of the Jews therefore said to Pilate, Write not, The King of the Jews: but, that he said, I am King

22 of the Jews. Pilate answered, What I have written I have written.

23 The soldiers therefore, when they had crucified Jesus, took his garments, and made four parts, to every soldier a part; and also the 24 coat: now the <sup>2</sup>coat was without seam, woven from the top throughout. They said therefore one to another, Let us not rend it, but cast lots for it, whose it shall be: that the scripture might be fulfilled, which saith,

They parted my garments among them,

And upon my vesture did they cast lots.

These things therefore the soldiers did. But there were standing by the cross of Jesus his mother, and his mother's sister, Mary the wife of 26 Clopas, and Mary Magdalene. When Jesus therefore saw his mother, and the disciple standing by, whom he loved, he saith unto his mother, 27 Woman, behold, thy son! Then saith he to the disciple, Behold, thy mother! And from that hour the disciple took her unto his own home.

28 After this Jesus, knowing that all things are now finished, that the scripture might be accomplished, saith, I thirst. There was set there a vessel full of vinegar: so they put a sponge full of the vinegar upon hyssop, and brought it to his mouth.

30 When Jesus therefore had received the vinegar, he said, It is finished: and he bowed his head, and gave up his spirit.

31 The Jews therefore, because it was the Preparation, that the bodies should not remain on the cross upon the sabbath (for the day of that sabbath was a high day), asked of Pilate that their legs might be broken, and that they might be taken away. The soldiers therefore came, and brake the legs of the first, and of the other which was crucified with him: but when they came to Jesus, and saw that he was dead already, they brake not his legs: 34 howbeit one of the soldiers with a spear pierced his side, and straightway there came out blood and water. And he that hath seen hath borne witness, and his witness is true; and he knoweth that he saith true, that ye also may believe. For these things came to pass, that the scripture might be fulfilled. A bone of him shall not be <sup>3</sup>broken.

37 And again another scripture saith, They shall look on him whom they pierced.

38 And after these things Joseph of Arimathea, being a disciple of Jesus, but secretly for fear of the Jews, asked of Pilate that he might take away the body of Jesus: and Pilate gave him leave. He came therefore, and took away his body. And there came also Nicodemus, he who at the first came to him by night, bringing a <sup>4</sup>mixture of myrrh and aloes, about a hundred pound weight.

40 So they took the body of Jesus, and bound it in linen cloths with the spices, as the custom of the Jews is to bury. Now in the place where he was crucified there was a garden; and in the garden a new tomb wherein was never man yet laid.

42 There then because of the Jews' Preparation (for the tomb was nigh at hand) they laid Jesus.

20 Now on the first day of the week cometh Mary Magdalene early, while it was yet dark, unto the tomb, and seeth the stone taken

2 away from the tomb. She runneth therefore, and cometh to Simon Peter, and to the other disciple, whom Jesus loved, and saith unto them, They have taken away the Lord out of the tomb, and we know not where

3 they have laid him. Peter therefore went forth, and the other disciple, and they went toward the

4 tomb. And they ran both together: and the other disciple outran Peter, and came first to the tomb; and stooping and looking in, he seeth the linen cloths lying; yet entered he not in. Simon Peter therefore also cometh, following him, and entered into the tomb; and he be-

7 holdeth the linen cloths lying, and the napkin, that was upon his head, not lying with the linen cloths, but rolled up in a place by itself. Then entered in therefore the other disciple also, which came first to the tomb, and he saw, and believed.

9 For as yet they knew not the scripture, that he must rise again from the dead. So the disciples went away again unto their own home.

11 But Mary was standing without at the tomb weeping: so, as she wept, she stooped and looked into the

12 tomb; and she beholdeth two angels in white sitting, one at the head, and one at the feet, where the body of Jesus had lain. And they say unto her, Woman, why weepest thou? She saith unto them, Because they have taken away my Lord, and I know not where they

14 have laid him. When she had thus said, she turned herself back, and beheldeth Jesus standing, and knew not that it was Jesus. Jesus saith unto her, Woman, why weepest thou? whom seekest thou? She, supposing him to be the gardener, saith unto him, Sir, if thou hast borne him hence, tell me where thou hast laid him, and I will take him away. Jesus saith unto her, Mary. She turneth herself, and saith unto him in Hebrew, Rabboni; which is to say, Master. Jesus saith to her, Touch me not; for I am not yet ascended unto the Father: but go unto my brethren, and say to them, I ascend unto my Father and your Father, and my God and your God. Mary Magdalene cometh and telleth the disciples: I have seen the Lord; and how that he had said these things unto her.

19 When therefore it was evening, on that day, the first day of the week, and when the doors were shut where the disciples were, for fear of the Jews, Jesus came and stood in the midst, and saith unto them, Peace be unto you. And when he had said this, he shewed unto them his hands and his side. The disciples therefore were glad, when they saw the Lord. Jesus therefore said to them again, Peace be unto you: as the Father hath sent me, even so send I you. And when he had said this, he breathed on them, and saith unto them, Receive ye the Holy Ghost: whose soever sins ye forgive, they are forgiven unto them: whose soever sins ye retain, they are retained.

24 But Thomas, one of the twelve, called Didymus, was not with them when Jesus came. The other disciples therefore said unto him, We have seen the Lord. But he said unto them, Except I shall see in his hands the print of the nails, and put my finger into the print of the nails, and put my hand into his side, I will not believe.

26 And after eight days again his disciples were within, and Thomas was with them. Jesus cometh, the doors being shut, and stood in the midst, and said, Peace be unto you. Then saith he to Thomas, Reach hither thy finger, and see my hands: and reach hither thy hand, and put it into my side: and be not faithless, but believing. Thomas answered and said unto him, My Lord and my God. Jesus saith unto him, Because thou hast seen me, thou hast believed: blessed are they that have not seen, and yet have believed.

30 Many other signs therefore did Jesus in the presence of the disciples, which are not written in this book: but these are written, that ye may believe that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God; and that believing ye may have life in his name.

21 After these things Jesus manifested himself again to the disciples at the sea of Tiberias; and he manifested himself on this wise.

2 There were together Simon Peter, and Thomas called Didymus, and Nathanael of Cana in Galilee, and the sons of Zebedee, and two other of his disciples. Simon Peter saith unto them, I go a fishing. They say unto him, We also come with thee. They went forth, and entered into the boat; and that night they took nothing. But when day was now breaking, Jesus stood on the beach; howbeit the disciples knew not that it was Jesus. Jesus therefore saith unto them, Children, have ye caught to eat? They answered him, No. And he said unto them, Cast the net on the right side of the boat, and ye shall find. They cast therefore, and now they were not able to draw it for the multitude of fishes. That disciple therefore whom Jesus loved saith unto Peter, It is the Lord. So when Simon Peter heard that it was the Lord, he girt his coat about him (for he was naked), and cast himself into the sea. But the other disciples came in the little boat (for they were not far from the land, but about two hundred cubits off), dragging the net full of fishes. So when they got out upon the land, they see a fire of coals there, and fish laid thereon, and bread. Jesus saith unto them, Bring of the fish which ye have now taken. Simon Peter therefore went up and drew the net to land, full of great fishes, a hundred and fifty and three; and for all there were so many, the net was not rent. Jesus saith unto them, Come and break your fast. And none of the disciples durst inquire of him, Who art thou? knowing that it was the Lord. Jesus cometh, and taketh the bread, and giveth them, and the fish likewise. This is now the third time that Jesus was manifested to the disciples, after that he was risen from the dead.

15 So when they had broken their fast, Jesus saith to Simon Peter, Simon, son of John, lovest thou me more than these? He saith unto him, Yea, Lord; thou knowest that I love thee. He saith unto him, Feed my lambs. He saith to him again a second time, Simon, son of John, lovest thou me? He saith unto him, Yea, Lord; thou knowest that I love thee. He saith unto him, Tend my sheep. He saith unto him the third time, Simon, son of John, lovest thou me? Peter was grieved because he said unto him the third time, Lovest thou me? And he said unto him, Lord, thou knowest all things; thou knowest that I love thee. Jesus saith unto him, Feed my sheep.

 19 wouldest not. Now this he spake, signifying by what manner of death he should glorify God. And when he had spoken this, he saith unto 20 him, Follow me. Peter, turning about, seeth the disciple whom Jesus loved following; which also leaned back on his breast at the supper, and said, Lord, who is he tarry till I come, what is that to thee? follow thou me. This saying therefore went forth among the brethren, that that disciple should not die: yet Jesus said not unto him, that he should not die; but, If I will that he tarry till I come, what is that to thee?

 24 This is the disciple which beareth witness of these things, and wrote these things: and we know that his witness is true.
 25 And there are also many other things which Jesus did, the which if they should be written every one, I suppose that even the world itself would not contain the books that should be written.

THE ACTS OF THE APOSTLES.

1 Gr. first. 1 THE former treatise I made, O Theophilus, concerning all that Jesus began both to do and to teach, until the day in which he was received up, after that he had given commandment through the 2 Holy Ghost unto the apostles whom he had chosen: to whom he also 3 shewed himself alive after his passion by many proofs, appearing unto them by the space of forty days, and speaking the things concerning the 4 kingdom of God: and, 4 being assembled together with them, he charged them not to depart from Jerusalem, but to wait for the promise of the Father, which, said he, ye heard from me: for John indeed baptized with water; but ye shall be baptized 5 with the Holy Ghost not many days hence.
 6 They therefore, when they were come together, asked him, saying, Lord, dost thou at this time restore the kingdom to Israel? And he said unto them, It is not for you to know times or seasons, which the Father hath 6 set within his own authority.
 8 But ye shall receive power, when the Holy Ghost is come upon you: and ye shall be my witnesses both in Jerusalem, and in all Judaea and Samaria, and unto the uttermost 9 part of the earth. And when he had said these things, as they were looking, he was taken up; and a cloud received him out of their 10 sight. And while they were looking stedfastly into heaven as he went, behold, two men stood by them in 11 white apparel; which also said, Ye men of Galilee, why stand ye looking into heaven? this Jesus, which was received up from you into heaven, shall so come in like manner as ye beheld him going into heaven.
 12 Then returned they unto Jerusalem from the mount called Olivet, which is nigh unto Jerusalem, a sabbath day's journey off. And when they were come in, they went up into the upper chamber, where they were abiding; both Peter and John and James and Andrew, Philip and Thomas, Bartholomew and Matthew, James the son of Alphaeus, and Simon the Zealot, and Judas the 7 son of James. These all with one accord continued stedfastly in prayer, 8 with the women, and Mary the mother of Jesus, and with his brethren.

 15 And in these days Peter stood up in the midst of the brethren, and said (and there was a multitude of 9 persons gathered together, about a hundred and twenty), Brethren, it was needful that the scripture should be fulfilled, which the Holy Ghost spake before by the mouth of David concerning Judas, who was guide to them that took Jesus. For he was numbered among us, and received his 10 portion in this ministry. (Now this man obtained a field with the reward of his iniquity; and falling headlong, he burst asunder in the midst, and all his bowels gushed out. And it became known to all the dwellers at Jerusalem: insomuch that in their language that field was called Akeldama, that is, The field of blood.) For it is written in the book of Psalms, Let his habitation be made desolate,
 And let no man dwell therein:
 and, His 11 office let another take.
 21 Of the men therefore which have accompanied with us all the time that the Lord Jesus went in and went out

And they prayed, and said, Thou, Lord, which knowest the hearts of all men, shew of these two the one whom thou hast chosen, to take the place in this ministry and apostleship, from which Judas fell away, that he might go to his own place. And they gave lots <sup>1</sup>for them; and the lot fell upon Matthias; and he was numbered with the eleven apostles. 2 And when the day of Pentecost <sup>2</sup>was now come, they were all together in one place. And suddenly there came from heaven a sound as of the rushing of a mighty wind, and it filled all the house where they were sitting. And there appeared unto them tongues <sup>3</sup>parting asunder, like as of fire; and it sat upon each one of them. And they were all filled with the Holy Spirit, and began to speak with other tongues, as the Spirit gave them utterance. 5 Now there were dwelling at Jerusalem Jews, devout men, from every nation under heaven. And when this sound was heard, the multitude came together, and were confounded, because that every man heard them speaking in his own language. And they were all amazed and marvelled, saying, Behold, are not all these which speak Galilæans? And how hear we, every man in our own language, where in we were born? Parthians and Medes and Elamites, and the dwellers in Mesopotamia, in Judæa and Cappadocia, in Pontus and Asia, in Phrygia and Pamphylia, in Egypt and the parts of Libya about Cyrene, and sojourners from Rome, both Jews and proselytes, Cretans and Arabians, we do hear them speaking in our tongues the mighty works of God. And they were all amazed, and were perplexed, saying one to another, What meaneth this? But others mocking said, They are filled with new wine. 14 But Peter, standing up with the eleven, lifted up his voice, and spake forth unto them, saying, Ye men of Judæa, and all ye that dwell at Jerusalem, be this known unto you, and give ear unto my words. 15 For these are not drunken, as ye suppose; seeing it is but the third hour of the day; but this is that which hath been spoken <sup>4</sup>by the prophet Joel; 17 And it shall be in the last days, saith God, I will pour forth of my Spirit upon all flesh; And your sons and your daughters shall prophesy, And your young men shall see visions, And your old men shall dream dreams:	18 Yea and on my <sup>5</sup>servants and on my <sup>6</sup>handmaidens in those days Will I pour forth of my Spirit; and they shall prophesy. 19 And I will shew wonders in the heaven above, And signs on the earth beneath; Blood, and fire, and vapour of smoke: 20 The sun shall be turned into darkness, And the moon into blood, Before the day of the Lord come, That great and notable day: 21 And it shall be, that whosoever shall call on the name of the Lord shall be saved. 22 Ye men of Israel, hear these words: Jesus of Nazareth, a man approved of God unto you by <sup>7</sup>mighty works and wonders and signs, which God did by him in the midst of you, even as ye yourselves know; him, being delivered up by the determinate counsel and foreknowledge of God, ye by the hand of <sup>8</sup>lawless men did crucify and slay; whom God raised up, having loosed the pangs of death; because it was not possible that he should be holden of it. For David saith concerning him, I beheld the Lord always before my face; For he is on my right hand, that I should not be moved: 26 Therefore my heart was glad, and my tongue rejoiced; Moreover my flesh also shall <sup>9</sup>dwell in hope: 27 Because thou wilt not leave my soul in Hades, Neither wilt thou give thy Holy One to see corruption. 28 Thou madest known unto me the ways of life; Thou shalt make me full of gladness <sup>10</sup>with thy countenance. 29 Brethren, I may say unto you freely of the patriarch David, that he both died and was buried, and his tomb is with us unto this day. Being therefore a prophet, and knowing that God had sworn with an oath to him, that of the fruit of his loins <sup>11</sup>he would set one upon his throne; he foreseeing this spake of the resurrection of the Christ, that neither was he left in Hades, nor did his flesh see corruption. 32 This Jesus did God raise up, <sup>12</sup>whereof we all are witnesses. Being therefore <sup>13</sup>by the right hand of God exalted, and having received of the Father the promise of the Holy Ghost, he hath poured forth this, which ye see and hear. For David ascended not into the heavens: but he saith himself, The Lord said unto my Lord, Sit thou on my right hand, Till I make thine enemies the footstool of thy feet. 36 Let <sup>14</sup>all the house of Israel therefore know assuredly, that God hath made him both Lord and Christ, this Jesus whom ye crucified.	5 Gr. bondmen. 6 Gr. bondmaidens. 7 Gr. powers. 8 Or, men without the law 9 Or, tabernacle 10 Or, in thy presence 11 Or, one should sit 12 Or, of whom 13 Or, at 14 Or, every house

87 Now when they heard this, they were pricked in their heart, and said unto Peter and the rest of the apostles, Brethren, what shall we 38 do? And Peter said unto them, Repent ye, and be baptized every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ unto the remission of your sins; and ye shall receive the gift of the 39 Holy Ghost. For to you is the promise, and to your children, and to all that are afar off, even as many as the Lord our God shall call unto 40 him. And with many other words he testified, and exhorted them, saying, Save yourselves from this 41 crooked generation. They then <sup>1</sup>that received his word were baptized: and there were added unto them in that day about three thousand souls.
42 And they continued stedfastly in the apostles' teaching and <sup>2</sup>fellowship, in the breaking of bread and the prayers.
43 And fear came upon every soul: and many wonders and signs were 44 done <sup>3</sup>by the apostles<sup>4</sup>. And all that believed were together, and all 45 had all things common; and they sold their possessions and goods, and parted them to all, according 46 as any man had need. And day by day, continuing stedfastly with one accord in the temple, and breaking bread at home, they did take their food with gladness and singleness
47 of heart, praising God, and having favour with all the people. And the Lord added <sup>5</sup>to them day by day those that were being saved.

3 Now Peter and John were going up into the temple at the hour of
2 prayer, being the ninth hour. And a certain man that was lame from his mother's womb was carried, whom they laid daily at the door of the temple which is called Beautiful, to ask alms of them that en-
3 tered into the temple; who seeing Peter and John about to go into the temple, asked to receive an 4 alms. And Peter, fastening his eyes upon him, with John, said, Look 5 on us. And he gave heed unto them, expecting to receive some-
6 thing from them. But Peter said, Silver and gold have I none; but what I have, that give I thee. In the name of Jesus Christ of Naza-
7 reth, walk. And he took him by the right hand, and raised him up; and immediately his feet and his ankle-bones received strength.
8 And leaping up, he stood, and began to walk; and he entered with them into the temple, walking, and 9 leaping, and praising God. And all the people saw him walking and 10 praising God: and they took knowledge of him, that it was he which sat for alms at the Beautiful Gate of the temple: and they were filled with wonder and amazement at that which had happened unto him.
11 And as he held Peter and John, all the people ran together unto them in the <sup>6</sup>porch that is called Solomon's, greatly wondering. And when Peter saw it, he answered unto the people, Ye men of Israel, why marvel ye at this <sup>7</sup>man? or why fasten ye your eyes on us, as though by our own power or godliness we had made him to walk?

13 The God of Abraham, and of Isaac, and of Jacob, the God of our fathers, hath glorified his <sup>8</sup>Servant Jesus; whom ye delivered up, and denied before the face of Pilate, when he had determined to release
14 him. But ye denied the Holy and Righteous One, and asked for a mur-
15 derer to be granted unto you, and killed the <sup>9</sup>Prince of life; whom God raised from the dead; <sup>10</sup>where-16 of we are witnesses. And <sup>11</sup>by faith in his name hath his name made this man strong, whom ye behold and know: yea, the faith which is through him hath given him this perfect soundness in the presence of 17 you all. And now, brethren, I wot that in ignorance ye did it, as did 18 also your rulers. But the things which God foreshewed by the mouth of all the prophets, that his Christ should suffer, he thus fulfilled. Repent ye therefore, and turn again, that your sins may be blotted out, that so there may come seasons of refreshing from the presence of the 20 Lord; and that he may send the Christ who hath been appointed for 21 you, even Jesus: whom the heaven must receive until the times of restoration of all things, whereof God spake by the mouth of his holy prophets which have been since 22 the world began. Moses indeed said, A prophet shall the Lord God raise up unto you from among your bre-
23 thren, <sup>12</sup>like unto me; to him shall ye hearken in all things whatsoever he shall speak unto you. And it shall be, that every soul, which shall not hearken to that prophet, shall be utterly destroyed from a-
24 mong the people. Yea and all the prophets from Samuel and them that followed after, as many as have spoken, they also told of these 25 days. Ye are the sons of the prophets, and of the covenant which God <sup>13</sup>made with your fathers, saying unto Abraham, And in thy seed shall all the families of the earth
26 be blessed. Unto you first God, having raised up his Servant, sent him to bless you, in turning away every one of you from your iniquities.

4 And as they spake unto the people, <sup>14</sup>the priests and the captain of the temple and the Sadducees came upon them, being sore troubled because they taught the people, and proclaimed in Jesus the resurrection from the dead. And they laid hands on them, and put them in ward unto the morrow;

lieved; and the number of the men came to be about five thousand.

5 And it came to pass on the morrow, that their rulers and elders and scribes were gathered together in Jerusalem; and Annas the high priest was there, and Calaphas, and John, and Alexander, and as many as were of the kindred of the high priest. And when they had set them in the midst, they inquired, By what power, or in what name, 8 have ye done this? Then Peter, filled with the Holy Ghost, said unto them, Ye rulers of the people, and 9 elders, If we this day are examined concerning a good deed done to an impotent man, <sup>1</sup> by what means this man is <sup>2</sup> made whole; be it known unto you all, and to all the people of Israel, that in the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth, whom ye crucified, whom God raised from the dead, even in him doth this man stand here before you whole. 11 He is the stone which was set at nought of you the builders, which was made the head of the corner. 12 And in none other is there salvation: for neither is there any other name under heaven, that is given among men, wherein we must be saved.

13 Now when they beheld the boldness of Peter and John, and had perceived that they were unlearned and ignorant men, they marvelled; and they took knowledge of them, that they had been with Jesus. 14 And seeing the man which was healed standing with them, they could say nothing against it. But when they had commanded them to go aside out of the council, they conferred among themselves, saying, What shall we do to these men? for that indeed a notable <sup>4</sup> miracle hath been wrought through them, is manifest to all that dwell in Jerusalem; and we cannot deny it. 17 But that it spread no further among the people, let us threaten them, that they speak henceforth to no man in this name. And they called them, and charged them not to speak at all nor teach in the name of Jesus. But Peter and John answered and said unto them, Whether it be right in the sight of God to hearken unto you rather than unto God, judge ye: for we cannot but speak the things which we saw and heard. And they, when they had further threatened them, let them go, finding nothing how they might punish them, because of the people; for all men glorified God for that which was done. For the man was more than forty years old, on whom this <sup>4</sup> miracle of healing was wrought.

23 And being let go, they came to their own company, and reported all that the chief priests and the elders had said unto them. And they, when they heard it, lifted up their voice to God with one accord, and said, O <sup>5</sup> Lord, <sup>6</sup> thou that didst make the heaven and the earth and the sea, and all that in them is: 25 <sup>7</sup> who by the Holy Ghost, by the mouth of our father David thy servant, didst say,

Why did the Gentiles rage,
And the peoples <sup>8</sup> imagine vain things?

26 The kings of the earth set themselves in array,
And the rulers were gathered together,

Against the Lord, and against his <sup>9</sup> Anointed:

27 for of a truth in this city against thy holy Servant Jesus, whom thou didst anoint, both Herod and Pontius Pilate, with the Gentiles and the peoples of Israel, were gathered together, to do whatsoever thy hand and thy counsel foreordained to come to pass. And now, Lord, look upon their threatenings: and grant unto thy <sup>10</sup> servants to speak thy word with all boldness, while thou stretchest forth thy hand to heal; and that signs and wonders may be done through the name of thy holy Servant Jesus. And when they had prayed, the place was shaken where in they were gathered together; and they were all filled with the Holy Ghost, and they spake the word of God with boldness.

32 And the multitude of them that believed were of one heart and soul: and not one of them said that aught of the things which he possessed was his own; but they had all things common. And with great power gave the apostles their witness of the resurrection of the Lord Jesus: and great grace was upon them all. For neither was there among them any that lacked: for as many as were possessors of lands or houses sold them, and brought the prices of the things that were sold, and laid them at the apostles' feet: and distribution was made unto each, according as any one had need.

36 And Joseph, who by the apostles was surnamed Barnabas (which is, being interpreted, Son of <sup>12</sup> exhortation), a Levite, a man of Cyprus by race, having a field, sold it, and brought the money, and laid it at the apostles' feet.

5 But a certain man named Ananias, with Sapphira his wife, sold a possession, and kept back part of the price, his wife also being privy to it, and brought a certain part, and laid it at the apostles' feet. 3 But Peter said, Ananias, why hath Satan filled thy heart to <sup>13</sup> lie to the Holy Ghost, and to keep back part of the price of the land? Whiles it remained, did it not remain thine own? and after it was sold, was it not in thy power? How is it that thou hast conceived this thing in thy heart? thou hast not lied unto

7 And it was about the space of three hours after, when his wife, not knowing what was done, came in. And Peter answered unto her, Tell me whether ye sold the land for so much. And she said, Yea, for so much. But Peter said unto her, How is it that ye have agreed together to tempt the Spirit of the Lord? behold, the feet of them which have buried thy husband are at the door, and they shall carry thee out. And she fell down immediately at his feet, and gave up the ghost: and the young men came in and found her dead, and they carried her out and buried her by her husband. And great fear came upon the whole church, and upon all that heard these things.

12 And by the hands of the apostles were many signs and wonders wrought among the people; and they were all with one accord in Solomon's porch. But of the rest durst no man join himself to them; howbeit the people magnified them; and believers were the more added to the Lord, multitudes both of men and women; inasmuch that they even carried out the sick into the streets, and laid them on beds and couches, that, as Peter came by, at the least his shadow might overshadow some one of them. And there also came together the multitude from the cities round about Jerusalem, bringing sick folk, and them that were vexed with unclean spirits: and they were healed every one.

17 But the high priest rose up, and all they that were with him (which is the sect of the Sadducees), and they were filled with jealousy, and laid hands on the apostles, and put them in public ward. But an angel of the Lord by night opened the prison doors, and brought them out, and said, Go ye, and stand and speak in the temple to the people all the words of this Life. And when they heard this, they entered into the temple about daybreak, and taught. But the high priest came, and they that were with him, and called the council together, and all the senate of the children of Israel, and sent to the prison-house to have them brought. But the officers that came found them not in the prison; and they returned, and told, saying, The prison-house we found shut in all safety, and the keepers standing at the doors: but when we had opened, we found no man within. Now when the captain of the temple and the chief priests heard these words, they were much perplexed concerning them where-25 unto this would grow. And there came one and told them, Behold, the men whom ye put in the prison are in the temple standing and 26 teaching the people. Then went the captain with the officers, and brought them, but without violence; for they feared the people.

27 lest they should be stoned. And when they had brought them, they set them before the council. And the high priest asked them, saying,
28 We straitly charged you not to teach in this name; and behold, ye have filled Jerusalem with your teaching, and intend to bring this man's blood upon us. But Peter and the apostles answered and said, 29 We must obey God rather than men. The God of our fathers raised up Jesus, whom ye slew, hanging 30 him on a tree. Him did God exalt<sup>3</sup> with his right hand to be a Prince and a Saviour, for to give repentance to Israel, and remission of 32 sins. And we are witnesses<sup>4</sup> of these<sup>5</sup> things; and so is the Holy Ghost, whom God hath given to them that obey him.

33 But they, when they heard this, were cut to the heart, and were 34 minded to slay them. But there stood up one in the council, a Pharisee, named Gamaliel, a doctor of the law, had in honour of all the people, and commanded to put the men forth a little while. And he said unto them, Ye men of Israel, take heed to yourselves as touching these men, what ye are about to do. For before these days rose up Theudas, giving himself out to be 36 somebody; to whom a number of men, about four hundred, joined themselves: who was slain; and all, as many as obeyed him, were dispersed, and came to nought.

37 After this man rose up Judas of Galilee in the days of the enrolment, and drew away some of the people after him: he also perished; and all, as many as obeyed him, 38 were scattered abroad. And now I say unto you, Refrain from these men, and let them alone: for if this counsel or this work be of 39 men, it will be overthrown: but if it is of God, ye will not be able to overthrow them; lest haply ye be found even to be fighting against 40 God. And to him they agreed: and when they had called the apostles unto them, they beat them and charged them not to speak in the name of Jesus, and let them go.

41 They therefore departed from the presence of the council, rejoicing that they were counted worthy to suffer dishonour for the Name. And every day, in the temple and at home, they ceased not to teach and to preach Jesus as the Christ.

6 Now in these days, when the number of the disciples was multiplying, there arose a murmuring of the <sup>1</sup>Grecian Jews against the Hebrews, because their widows were neglected in the daily ministration. And the twelve called the multitude of the disciples unto them, and said, It is not <sup>2</sup>fit that we should forsake the word of God,

2 And <sup>3</sup>serve tables. <sup>4</sup>Look ye out therefore, brethren, from among you seven men of good report, full of the Spirit and of wisdom, whom we may appoint over this business.

3 But we will continue stedfastly in prayer, and in the ministry of the word. And the saying pleased the whole multitude: and they chose Stephen, a man full of faith and of the Holy Spirit, and Philip, and Prochorus, and Nicanor, and Timon, and Parmenas, and Nicolas a proselyte of Antioch: whom they set before the apostles: and when they had prayed, they laid their hands on them.

4 And the word of God increased; and the number of the disciples multiplied in Jerusalem exceedingly; and a great company of the priests were obedient to the faith.

5 And Stephen, full of grace and power, wrought great wonders and signs among the people. But there arose certain of them that were of the synagogue called the synagogue of the Libertines, and of the Cyrenians, and of the Alexandrians, and of them of Cilicia and Asia, disputing with Stephen. And they were not able to withstand the wisdom and the Spirit by which he spake. Then they suborned men, which said, We have heard him speak blasphemous words against Moses, and against God. And they stirred up the people, and the elders, and the scribes, and came upon him, and seized him, and brought him into the council, and set up false witnesses, which said, This man ceaseth not to speak words against this holy place, and the law: for we have heard him say, that this Jesus of Nazareth shall destroy this place, and shall change the customs which Moses delivered unto us. And all that sat in the council, fastening their eyes on him, saw his face as it had been the face of an angel.

6 And the high priest said, Are these things so? And he said, Brethren and fathers, hearken. The God of glory appeared unto our father Abraham, when he was in Mesopotamia, before he dwelt in Haran, and said unto him, Get thee out of thy land, and from thy kindred, and come into the land which I shall shew thee. Then came he out of the land of the Chaldeans, and dwelt in Haran: and from thence, when his father was dead, God removed him into this land, wherein ye now dwell: and he gave him none inheritance in it, no, not so much as to set his foot on: and he promised that he would give it to him in possession, and to his seed after him, when as yet he had no child. And God spake on this wise, that his seed should sojourn in a strange land, and that they should bring them into bondage, and entreat them evil, four hundred years.

7 And the nation to which they shall be in bondage will I judge, said God: and after that shall they come forth, and serve me in this place. And he gave him the covenant of circumcision: and so Abraham begat Isaac, and circumcised him the eighth day; and Isaac begat Jacob, and Jacob the twelve patriarchs. And the patriarchs, moved with jealousy against Joseph, sold him into Egypt: and God was with him, and delivered him out of all his afflictions, and gave him favour and wisdom before Pharaoh king of Egypt; and he made him governor over Egypt and all his house. Now there came a famine over all Egypt and Canaan, and great affliction: and our fathers found no sustenance. But when Jacob heard that there was corn in Egypt, he sent forth our fathers the first time.

8 And at the second time Joseph was made known to his brethren; and Joseph's race became manifest unto Pharaoh. And Joseph sent, and called to him Jacob his father, and all his kindred, threescore and fifteen souls. And Jacob went down into Egypt; and he died, himself, and our fathers; and they were carried over unto Shechem, and laid in the tomb that Abraham bought for a price in silver of the sons of <sup>5</sup>Hammor in Shechem. But as the time of the promise drew nigh, which God vouchsafed unto Abraham, the people grew and multiplied in Egypt, till there arose another king over Egypt, which knew not Joseph.

9 The same dealt subtly with our race, and evil entreated our fathers, that <sup>6</sup>they should cast out their babes to the end they might not live. At which season Moses was born, and was <sup>7</sup>exceeding fair: and he was nourished three months in his father's house: and when he was cast out, Pharaoh's daughter took him up, and nourished him for her own son. And Moses was instructed in all the wisdom of the Egyptians; and he was mighty in his words and works. But when he was well-nigh forty years old, it came into his heart to visit his brethren the children of Israel. And seeing one of them suffer wrong, he defended him, and avenged him that was oppressed, smiting the Egyptian: and he supposed that his brethren understood how that God by his hand was giving them <sup>8</sup>deliverance, but they understood not. And the day following he appeared unto them as they strove, and would have set them at one again, saying, Sirs, ye are brethren; why do ye wrong one to another? But he that did his neighbour wrong thrust him away, saying, Who made thee a ruler and a judge over us? Wouldest thou kill me, as thou killedst the Egyptian yesterday? And Moses fled at this saying, and became a sojourner in the land of Midian, where he begat two sons. And when forty years were fulfilled, an angel appeared to him in the wilderness of mount Sinai, in a flame of fire in a bush. 31 And when Moses saw it, he wondered at the sight: and as he drew near to behold, there came a voice of the Lord, I am the God of thy fathers, the God of Abraham, and of Isaac, and of Jacob. And Moses trembled, and durst not behold. 33 And the Lord said unto him, Loose the shoes from thy feet: for the place whereon thou standest is holy ground. I have surely seen the affliction of my people which is in Egypt, and have heard their groaning, and I am come down to deliver them: and now come, I will send thee into Egypt. This Moses whom they refused, saying, Who made thee a ruler and a judge? him hath God sent to be both a ruler and a deliverer with the hand of the angel which appeared to him in the bush. 36 This man led them forth, having wrought wonders and signs in Egypt, and in the Red sea, and in the wilderness forty years. This is that Moses, which said unto the children of Israel, A prophet shall God raise up unto you from among your brethren, <sup>2</sup>like unto me. This is he that was in the <sup>3</sup>church in the wilderness with the angel which spake to him in the mount Sinai, and with our fathers: who received living oracles to give unto us: to whom our fathers would not be obedient, but thrust him from them, and turned back in their hearts unto Egypt, saying unto Aaron, Make us gods which shall go before us: for as for this Moses, which led us forth out of the land of Egypt, we 41 wot not what is become of him. And they made a calf in those days, and brought a sacrifice unto the idol, and rejoiced in the works of their hands. But God turned, and gave them up to serve the host of heaven; as it is written in the book of the prophets.

Did ye offer unto me slain beasts and sacrifices
Forty years in the wilderness, O house of Israel?

43 And ye took up the tabernacle of Moloch,
And the star of the god Rephan,
The figures which ye made to worship them:

And I will carry you away beyond Babylon.

44 Our fathers had the tabernacle of the testimony in the wilderness, even as he appointed who spake unto Moses, that he should make it according to the figure that he

45 had seen. Which also our fathers, in their turn, brought in with <sup>4</sup>Joshua when they entered on the possession of the nations, which God thrust out before the face of our fathers, unto the days of David; 46 who found favour in the sight of God, and asked to find a habitation 47 for the God of Jacob. But Solomon 48 built him a house. Howbeit the Most High dwelleth not in houses made with hands; as saith the prophet,

49 The heaven is my throne,
And the earth the footstool of my feet:

What manner of house will ye build me? saith the Lord:

Or what is the place of my rest? 50 Did not my hand make all these things?

51 Ye stiffnecked and uncircumcised in heart and ears, ye do always resist the Holy Ghost: as your fathers did, so do ye. Which of the prophets did not your fathers persecute? and they killed them which shewed before of the coming of the Righteous One; of whom ye have now become 53 betrayers and murderers; ye who received the law <sup>5</sup>as it was ordained by angels, and kept it not.

54 Now when they heard these things, they were cut to the heart, and they gnashed on him with their teeth.

55 But he, being full of the Holy Ghost, looked up stedfastly into heaven, and saw the glory of God, and Jesus standing on the right hand of God,

56 and said, Behold, I see the heavens opened, and the Son of man standing on the right hand of God.

57 But they cried out with a loud voice, and stopped their ears, and rushed upon him with one accord; and they cast him out of the city, and stoned him: and the witnesses laid down their garments at the feet

58 of a young man named Saul. And they stoned Stephen, calling upon the Lord, and saying, Lord Jesus, receive my spirit. And he kneeled down, and cried with a loud voice, 60 Lord, lay not this sin to their charge. And when he had said this, he fell asleep. And Saul was consenting unto his death.

8 And there arose on that day a great persecution against the church which was in Jerusalem; and they were all scattered abroad throughout the regions of Judæa, and Samaria, except the apostles. And devout men buried Stephen, and made great lamentation over him.

3 But Saul laid waste the church, entering into every house, and haling men and women committed them to prison.

4 They therefore that were scattered abroad went about preaching the word. And Philip went down to the city of Samaria, and proclaimed unto them the Christ. And the multitudes gave heed with one accord unto the things that were spoken by Philip, when they heard, and saw the signs which he did. <sup>1</sup> For from many of those which had unclean spirits, they came out crying with a loud voice: and many that were palsied, and that were lame, were healed. And there was much joy in that city.

9 But there was a certain man, Simon by name, which beforetime in the city used sorcery, and amazed the <sup>2</sup> people of Samaria, giving out that himself was some great one: to whom they all gave heed, from the least to the greatest saying, This man is that power of God which is called Great. And they gave heed to him, because that of long time he had amazed them with his sorceries. But when they believed Philip preaching good tidings concerning the kingdom of God and the name of Jesus Christ, they were baptized, both men and women. 13 And Simon also himself believed: and being baptized, he continued with Philip: and beholding signs and great <sup>3</sup> miracles wrought, he was amazed.

14 Now when the apostles which were at Jerusalem heard that Samaria had received the word of God, they sent unto them Peter and John: who, when they were come down, prayed for them, that they might receive the Holy Ghost: for as yet he was fallen upon none of them: only they had been baptized into the name of the Lord Jesus. Then laid they their hands on them, and they received the Holy Ghost. Now when Simon saw that through the laying on of the apostles' hands the <sup>4</sup> Holy Ghost was given, he offered them money, saying, Give me also this power, that on whomsoever I lay my hands, he may receive the Holy Ghost. But Peter said unto him, Thy silver perish with thee, because thou hast thought to obtain the gift of God with money. 21 Thou hast neither part nor lot in this <sup>5</sup> matter: for thy heart is not right before God. Repent therefore of this thy wickedness, and pray the Lord if perhaps the thought of thy heart shall be forgiven thee. For I see that thou <sup>6</sup> art in the gall of bitterness and in the bond of iniquity. And Simon answered and said, Pray ye for me to the Lord, that none of the things which ye have spoken come upon me.

25 They therefore when they had testified and spoken the word of the Lord, returned to Jerusalem, and preached the gospel to many villages of the Samaritans.

26 But an angel of the Lord spake unto Philip saying, Arise and go <sup>7</sup> toward the south unto the way that goeth down from Jerusalem unto Gaza: the same is desert. And he arose and went: and behold a man of Ethiopia, a eunuch of great authority under Candace, queen of the Ethiopians, who was over all her treasure, who had come to Jerusalem for to worship; and he was returning and sitting in his chariot, and was reading the prophet Isaiah. 29 And the Spirit said unto Philip, Go near, and join thyself to this chariot. And Philip ran to him, and heard him reading Isaiah the prophet, and said, Understandest thou what thou readest? And he said, How can I, except some one shall guide me? And he besought Philip to come up and sit with him. Now the place of the scripture which he was reading was this,

He was led as a sheep to the slaughter;
And as a lamb before his shearer is dumb,
So he openeth not his mouth:
In his humiliation his judgement was taken away:
His generation who shall declare?
For his life is taken from the earth.

34 And the eunuch answered Philip, and said, I pray thee, of whom speaketh the prophet this? of himself, or of some other? And Philip opened his mouth, and beginning from this scripture, preached unto him Jesus. And as they went on the way, they came unto a certain water; and the eunuch saith, Behold, here is water, what doth hinder me to be baptized? <sup>8</sup> And he commanded the chariot to stand still: and they both went down into the water, both Philip and the eunuch; and he baptized him. And when they came up out of the water, the Spirit of the Lord caught away Philip; and the eunuch saw him no more for he went on his way rejoicing. But Philip was found at Azotus: and passing through he preached the gospel to all the cities, till he came to Caesarea.

9 But Saul, yet breathing threatening and slaughter against the disciples of the Lord, went unto the high priest, and asked of him letters to Damascus unto the synagogues, that if he found any that were of the Way, whether men or women, he might bring them bound to Jerusalem. And as he journeyed, it came to pass that he drew nigh unto Damascus: and suddenly there shone round about him a light out of heaven; and he fell upon the earth, and heard a voice saying unto him, Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me? And he said, Who art thou, Lord? And he said, I am Jesus whom thou persecutest: but rise, and enter into the city and it shall be told thee what thou must do. And the men that journeyed with him stood speechless, hearing the voice, but beholding no man. 8 And Saul arose from the earth; and when his eyes were opened, he saw nothing; and they led him by the hand, and brought him into Damascus. And he was three days without sight, and did neither eat nor drink.

10 Now there was a certain disciple at Damascus, named Ananias; and the Lord said unto him in a vision, Ananias. And he said, Behold, I am here, Lord. And the Lord said unto him, Arise, and go to the street which is called Straight, and inquire in the house of Judas for one named Saul, a man of Tarsus: for he hath seen a man named Ananias coming in, and laying his hands on him, that he might receive his sight.

13 But Ananias answered, Lord, I have heard from many of this man, how much evil he did to thy saints at Jerusalem: and here he hath authority from the chief priests to bind all that call upon thy name.

15 But the Lord said unto him, Go thy way: for he is a <sup>1</sup>chosen vessel unto me, to bear my name before the Gentiles and kings, and the children of Israel: for I will shew him how many things he must suffer for my name's sake. And Ananias departed, and entered into the house: and laying his hands on him said, Brother Saul, the Lord, even Jesus, who appeared unto thee in the way which thou camest, hath sent me, that thou mayest receive thy sight, and be filled with the Holy Ghost. And straightway there fell from his eyes as it were scales, and he received his sight; and he arose and was baptized; and he took food and was strengthened.

And he was certain days with the disciples which were at Damascus.

20 And straightway in the synagogues he proclaimed Jesus, that he is the Son of God. And all that heard him were amazed, and said, Is not this he that in Jerusalem made havoc of them which called on this name? and he had come hither for this intent, that he might bring them bound before the chief priests. But Saul increased the more in strength, and confounded the Jews which dwelt at Damascus, proving that this is the Christ.

23 And when many days were fulfilled, the Jews took counsel together to kill him: but their plot became known to Saul. And they watched the gates also day and night that they might kill him: but his disciples took him by night, and let him down through the wall, lowering him in a basket.

26 And when he was come to Jerusalem, he assayed to join himself to the disciples: and they were all afraid of him, not believing that he was a disciple. But Barnabas took him, and brought him to the apostles, and declared unto them how he had seen the Lord in the way, and that he had spoken to him, and how at Damascus he had preached boldly in the name of Jesus. And he was with them going in and going out at Jerusalem, preaching boldly in the name of the Lord: and he spake and disputed against the <sup>2</sup>Grecian Jews; but they went about to kill him. And when the brethren knew it, they brought him down to Caesarea, and sent him forth to Tarsus.

31 So the church throughout all Judæa and Galilee and Samaria had peace, being <sup>3</sup>edified; and, walking <sup>4</sup>in the fear of the Lord and <sup>4</sup>in the comfort of the Holy Ghost, was multiplied.

32 And it came to pass, as Peter went throughout all parts, he came down also to the saints which dwelt at Lydda. And there he found a certain man named Æneas, which had kept his bed eight years; for he was palsied. And Peter said unto him, Æneas, Jesus Christ healeth thee: arise, and make thy bed. And straightway he arose. And all that dwelt at Lydda and in Sharon saw him, and they turned to the Lord.

36 Now there was at Joppa a certain disciple named Tabitha, which by interpretation is called <sup>5</sup>Dorcas: this woman was full of good works and almsdeeds which she did. And it came to pass in those days, that she fell sick, and died; and when they had washed her, they laid her in an upper chamber. And as Lydda was nigh unto Joppa, the disciples, hearing that Peter was there, sent two men unto him, intreating him.

39 Delay not to come on unto us. And Peter arose and went with them. And when he was come, they brought him into the upper chamber: and all the widows stood by him weeping, and shewing the coats and garments which Dorcas made, while she was with them. But Peter put them all forth, and kneeled down, and prayed; and turning to the body, he said, Tabitha, arise. And she opened her eyes; and when she saw Peter, she sat up. And he gave her his hand, and raised her up; and calling the saints and widows, he presented her alive. And it became known throughout all Joppa: and many believed on the Lord. And it came to pass, that he abode many days in Joppa with one Simon a tanner.

10 Now there was a certain man in Caesarea, Cornelius by name, a centurion of the band called the Italian <sup>2</sup>band, a devout man, and one that feared God with all his house, who gave much alms to the people, and prayed to God alway. He saw in a vision openly, as it were about the ninth hour of the day, an angel of God coming in unto him, and saying to him, Cornelius. And he, fastening his eyes upon him, and being affrighted, said, What is it, Lord? And he said unto him, Thy prayers and thine alms are gone up for a

6 send men to Joppa, and fetch one 7 Simon, who is surnamed Peter: he 8 lodgeth with one Simon a tanner, 9 whose house is by the sea side. And 10 when the angel that spake unto him
11 was departed, he called two of his 12 household-servants, and a devout
13 soldier of them that waited on him
14 continually; and having rehearsed
15 all things unto them, he sent them
16 to Joppa.

17 Now on the morrow, as they were 18 on their journey, and drew nigh un-19 to the city, Peter went up upon the 20 housetop to pray, about the sixth 21 hour: and he became hungry, and 22 desired to eat: but while they made 23 ready, he fell into a trance: and he 24 beheldeth the heaven opened, and a 25 certain vessel descending, as it were 26 a great sheet, let down by four cor-27 ners upon the earth: wherein were 28 all manner of fourfooted beasts and 29 creeping things of the earth and 30 fowls of the heaven. And there 31 came a voice to him, Rise, Peter;
32 kill and eat. But Peter said, Not so, 33 Lord: for I have never eaten any-34 thing that is common and unclean.

35 And a voice came unto him again the 36 second time, What God hath cleansed, 37 make not thou common. And this 38 was done thrice: and straightway the 39 vessel was received up into heaven.
40 Now while Peter was much per-
41 plexed in himself what the vision
42 which he had seen might mean, be-43 hold, the men that were sent by 44 Cornelius, having made inquiry for 45 Simon's house, stood before the gate,
46 and called and asked whether Si-
47 mon, which was surnamed Peter,
48 were lodging there. And while Peter 49 thought on the vision, the Spirit
50 said unto him, Behold, three men
51 seek thee. But arise, and get thee
52 down, and go with them nothing
53 doubting: for I have sent them.
54 And Peter went down to the men,
55 and said, Behold, I am he whom ye
56 seek: what is the cause wherefore
57 ye are come? And they said, Corne-58 lius a centurion, a righteous man
59 and one that feareth God, and well 60 reported of by all the nation of the 61 Jews, was warned of God by a holy 62 angel to send for thee into his house,
63 and to hear words from thee. So 64 he called them in and lodged them.

65 And on the morrow he arose and 66 went forth with them, and certain 67 of the brethren from Joppa accom-
68 panied him. And on the morrow 69 they entered into Caesarea. And 70 Cornelius was waiting for them, hav-71 ing called together his kinsmen and 72 his near friends. And when it came 73 to pass that Peter entered, Cornelius 74 met him, and fell down at his feet,
75 and worshipped him. But Peter 76 raised him up, saying, Stand up; I 77 myself also am a man. And as he 78 talked with him, he went in, and 79 findeth many come together: and 80 he said unto them, Ye yourselves know how that it is an unlawful thing for a man that is a Jew to join himself or come unto one of another nation; and yet unto me hath God shewed that I should not call any 29 man common or unclean: wherefore also I came without gainsaying, when I was sent for. I ask therefore with what intent ye sent for me.

30 And Cornelius said, Four days ago, until this hour, I was keeping the ninth hour of prayer in my house;
and behold, a man stood before me 31 in bright apparel, and saith, Cornelius, thy prayer is heard, and thine alms are had in remembrance in 32 the sight of God. Send therefore to Joppa, and call unto thee Simon, who is surnamed Peter; he lodgeth 33 by the sea side. Forthwith therefore I sent to thee; and thou hast well done that thou art come. Now therefore we are all here present in the sight of God, to hear all things that have been commanded thee of 34 the Lord. And Peter opened his mouth, and said,

Of a truth I perceive that God 35 is no respecter of persons: but in every nation he that feareth him, and worketh righteousness, is ac-36 ceptable to him. 37 The word which he sent unto the children of Israel, preaching 38 good tidings of peace
by Jesus Christ (he is Lord of all) 39—that saying ye yourselves know, which was published throughout all Judaea, beginning from Galilee, after the baptism which John preached:
40 even Jesus of Nazareth, how that God anointed him with the Holy Ghost and with power: who went about doing good, and healing all that were oppressed of the devil; 41 for God was with him. And we are witnesses of all things which he did both in the country of the Jews, and in Jerusalem; whom also they 42 slew, hanging him on a tree. Him
God raised up the third day, and 43 gave him to be made manifest, not to all the people, but unto witnesses that were chosen before of God, even to us, who did eat and drink with him after he rose from the dead.
44 And he charged us to preach unto the people, and to testify that this is he which is ordained of God to 45 be the Judge of quick and dead. To him bear all the prophets witness, that through his name every one that believeth on him shall receive remission of sins.

46 While Peter yet spake these words, the Holy Ghost fell on all them which 47 heard the word. And they of the circumcision which believed were amazed, as many as came with Peter, because that on the Gentiles also was poured out the gift of the 48 Holy Ghost. For they heard them speak with tongues, and magnify 49 God. Then answered Peter, Can any man forbid the water, that these should not be baptized, which have received the Holy Ghost as well as 11 Now the apostles and the brethren that were in Judæa heard that the Gentiles also had received 2 the word of God. And when Peter was come up to Jerusalem, they that were of the circumcision contended 3 with him, saying, Thou wentest in to men uncircumcised, and didst eat 4 with them. But Peter began, and expounded the matter unto them in 5 order, saying, I was in the city of Joppa praying: and in a trance I saw a vision, a certain vessel descending, as it were a great sheet let down from heaven by four corners; 6 and it came even unto me: upon the which when I had fastened mine eyes, I considered, and saw the four-footed beasts of the earth and wild beasts and creeping things and fowls 7 of the heaven. And I heard also a voice saying unto me, Rise, Peter;

8 kill and eat. But I said, Not so,
Lord: for nothing common or unclean hath ever entered into my 9 mouth. But a voice answered the second time out of heaven, What God hath cleansed, make not thou 10 common. And this was done thrice:
and all were drawn up again in-11 to heaven. And behold, forthwith three men stood before the house in which we were, having been sent 12 from Cæsarea unto me. And the Spirit bade me go with them, making no distinction. And these six brethren also accompanied me; and we entered into the man's house:
13 and he told us how he had seen the angel standing in his house, and saying, Send to Joppa, and fetch Simon, 14 whose surname is Peter; who shall speak unto thee words, whereby thou shalt be saved, thou and all 15 thy house. And as I began to speak, the Holy Ghost fell on them, even as on us at the beginning. And I remembered the word of the Lord, 16 how that he said, John indeed baptized with water; but ye shall be 17 baptized <sup>1</sup> with the Holy Ghost. If then God gave unto them the like gift as he did also unto us, when we believed on the Lord Jesus Christ, who was I, that I could withstand 18 God? And when they heard these things, they held their peace, and glorified God, saying, Then to the Gentiles also hath God granted repentance unto life.
19 They therefore that were scattered abroad upon the tribulation that arose about Stephen travelled as far as Phœnicia, and Cyprus, and Antioch, speaking the word to none save only to Jews. But there were some 20 of them, men of Cyprus and Cyrene, who, when they were come to Antioch, spake unto the <sup>2</sup> Greeks also, 21 preaching the Lord Jesus. And the hand of the Lord was with them: and a great number that believed turned 22 unto the Lord. And the report concerning them came to the ears of the church which was in Jerusalem:

and they sent forth Barnabas as far 23 as Antioch: who, when he was come, and had seen the grace of God, was glad; and he exhorted them all,
3 that with purpose of heart they 24 would cleave unto the Lord: for he was a good man, and full of the Holy Ghost and of faith: and much people was added unto the Lord.
25 And he went forth to Tarsus to seek 26 for Saul: and when he had found him, he brought him unto Antioch.
And it came to pass, that even for a whole year they were gathered together <sup>4</sup> with the church, and taught much people; and that the disciples were called Christians first in Antioch.
27 Now in these days there came down prophets from Jerusalem un-28 to Antioch. And there stood up one of them named Agabus, and signified by the Spirit that there should be a great famine over all <sup>5</sup> the world: which came to pass in the days of Claudius. And the disciples, 29 every man according to his ability, determined to send <sup>6</sup> relief unto the 30 brethren that dwelt in Judæa: which also they did, sending it to the elders by the hand of Barnabas and Saul.

12 Now about that time Herod the king put forth his hands to afflict 2 certain of the church. And he killed James the brother of John with 3 the sword. And when he saw that it pleased the Jews, he proceeded to seize Peter also. And those were 4 the days of unleavened bread. And when he had taken him, he put him in prison, and delivered him to four quaternions of soldiers to guard him; intending after the Passover
5 to bring him forth to the people.
6 Peter therefore was kept in the prison: but prayer was made earnestly of the church unto God for 7 him. And when Herod was about to bring him forth, the same night
Peter was sleeping between two soldiers, bound with two chains: and guards before the door kept the 8 prison. And behold, an angel of the Lord stood by him, and a light shined in the cell: and he smote
Peter on the side, and awoke him, 9 saying, Rise up quickly. And his chains fell off from his hands. And the angel said unto him, Gird thyself, and bind on thy sandals. And he did so. And he saith unto him, Cast thy garment about thee, and 10 follow me. And he went out, and followed; and he wist not that it was true which was done <sup>7</sup> by the angel, but thought he saw a vision.
11 And when they were past the first and the second ward, they came unto the iron gate that leadeth into the city; which opened to them of its own accord: and they went out, and passed on through one street; and straightway the angel departed from him. And when Peter was come to himself, he said, Now I know of a truth, that the Lord hath sent forth his angel and delivered me out of the hand of Herod, and from all the expectation of the people of the Jews. And when he had considered the thing, he came to the house of Mary the mother of John whose surname was Mark; where many were gathered together and were praying. And when he knocked at the door of the gate, a maid came to answer, named Rhoda. And when she knew Peter's voice, she opened not the gate for joy, but ran in, and told that Peter stood before the gate. And they said unto her, Thou art mad. But she confidently affirmed that it was even so. And they said, It is his angel. But Peter continued knocking; and when they had opened, they saw him, and were amazed. But he, beckoning unto them with the hand to hold their peace, declared unto them how the Lord had brought him forth out of the prison. And he said, Tell these things unto James, and to the brethren. And he departed, and went to another place. Now as soon as it was day, there was no small stir among the soldiers, what was become of Peter. And when Herod had sought for him, and found him not, he examined the guards, and commanded that they should be put to death. And he went down from Judæa to Cæsarea, and tarried there.

Now he was highly displeased with them of Tyre and Sidon: and they came with one accord to him, and, having made Blastus the king's chamberlain their friend, they asked for peace, because their country was fed from the king's country. And upon a set day Herod arrayed himself in royal apparel, and sat on the throne, and made an oration unto them. And the people shouted, saying, The voice of a god, and not of a man. And immediately an angel of the Lord smote him, because he gave not God the glory: and he was eaten of worms, and gave up the ghost.

And Barnabas and Saul returned from Jerusalem, when they had fulfilled their ministration, taking with them John whose surname was Mark.

Now there were at Antioch, in the church that was there, prophets and teachers, Barnabas, and Symeon that was called Niger, and Lucius of Cyrene, and Manaen the foster-brother of Herod the tetrarch, and Saul. And as they ministered to the Lord, and fasted, the Holy Ghost said, Separate me Barnabas and Saul for the work whereunto I have called them. Then, when they had fasted and prayed and laid their hands on them, they sent them away.

So they, being sent forth by the Holy Ghost, went down to Seleucia; and from thence they sailed to Cyprus.

And when they were at Salamis, they proclaimed the word of God in the synagogues of the Jews: and they had also John as their attendant. And when they had gone through the whole island unto Paphos, they found a certain sorcerer, a false prophet, a Jew, whose name was Bar-Jesus; which was with the proconsul, Sergius Paulus, a man of understanding. The same called unto him Barnabas and Saul, and sought to hear the word of God.

But Elymas the sorcerer (for so is his name by interpretation) withstood them, seeking to turn aside the proconsul from the faith. But Saul, who is also called Paul, filled with the Holy Ghost, fastened his eyes on him, and said, O full of all guile and all villany, thou son of the devil, thou enemy of all righteousness, wilt thou not cease to pervert the right ways of the Lord?

And now, behold, the hand of the Lord is upon thee, and thou shalt be blind, not seeing the sun for a season. And immediately there fell on him a mist and a darkness; and he went about seeking some to lead him by the hand. Then the proconsul, when he saw what was done, believed, being astonished at the teaching of the Lord.

Now Paul and his company set sail from Paphos, and came to Perga in Pamphylia: and John departed from them and returned to Jerusalem. But they, passing through from Perga, came to Antioch of Pisidia; and they went into the synagogue on the sabbath day, and sat down.

And after the reading of the law and the prophets the rulers of the synagogue sent unto them saying, Brethren, if ye have any word of exhortation for the people, say on. And Paul stood up, and beckoning with the hand said,

Men of Israel, and ye that fear God, hearken. The God of this people Israel chose our fathers, and exalted the people when they sojourned in the land of Egypt, and with a high arm led them forth out of it. And for about the time of forty years he suffered he their manners in the wilderness. And when he had destroyed seven nations in the land of Canaan, he gave them their land for an inheritance, for about four hundred and fifty years: and after these things he gave them judges until Samuel the prophet. And afterward they asked for a king: and God gave unto them Saul the son of Kish, a man of the tribe of Benjamin, for the space of forty years. And when he had re-

29 And when they had fulfilled all things that were written of him,
they took him down from the tree,
and laid him in a tomb. But God raised him from the dead: and he was seen for many days of them that came up with him from Galilee to Jerusalem, who are now his witnesses unto the people. And we bring you good tidings of the promise made unto the fathers, how that God hath fulfilled the same unto our children, in that he raised up Jesus: as also it is written in the second psalm, Thou art my Son, this day have I begotten thee. And as concerning that he raised him up from the dead, now no more to return to corruption, he hath spoken on this wise. I will give you the holy and sure blessings of David.

35 Because he saith also in another psalm, Thou wilt not give thy Holy One to see corruption. For David, after he had <sup>3</sup> in his own generation served the counsel of God, fell on sleep, and was laid unto his fathers, and saw corruption: but he whom God raised up saw no corruption. Be it known unto you therefore, brethren, that through this man is proclaimed unto you remission of sins: and by him every one that believeth is justified from all things, from which ye could not be justified by the law of Moses.

40 Beware therefore, lest that come upon you, which is spoken in the prophets:

41 Behold, ye despisers, and wonder,
and <sup>4</sup> perish;
For I work a work in your days,
A work which ye shall in no wise believe, if one declare it unto you.

42 And as they went out, they besought that these words might be spoken to them the next sabbath.

43 Now when the synagogue broke up,

many of the Jews and of the devout proselytes followed Paul and Barnabas: who, speaking to them, urged them to continue in the grace of God.

44 And the next sabbath almost the whole city was gathered together to hear the word of <sup>5</sup> God. But when the Jews saw the multitudes, they were filled with jealousy, and contradicted the things which were spoken by Paul, and <sup>6</sup> blasphemed.

46 And Paul and Barnabas spake out boldly, and said, It was necessary that the word of God should first be spoken to you. Feeling ye thrust it from you, and judge yourselves unworthy of eternal life, lo, we turn to the Gentiles. For so hath the Lord commanded us, saying,

I have set thee for a light of the Gentiles,
That thou shouldst be for salvation unto the uttermost part of the earth.

48 And as the Gentiles heard this, they were glad, and glorified the word of <sup>5</sup> God: and as many as were ordained to eternal life believed. And the word of the Lord was spread abroad throughout all the region. But the Jews urged on the devout women of honourable estate, and the chief men of the city, and stirred up a persecution against Paul and Barnabas, and cast them out of their borders. But they shook off the dust of their feet against them, and came unto Iconium. And the disciples were filled with joy and with the Holy Ghost.

14 And it came to pass in Iconium, that they entered together into the synagogue of the Jews, and so spake, that a great multitude both of Jews and of Greeks believed. But the Jews that were disobedient stirred up the souls of the Gentiles, and made them evil affected against the brethren. Long time therefore they tarried there speaking boldly in the Lord, which bare witness unto the word of his grace, granting signs and wonders to be done by their hands. But the multitude of the city was divided; and part held with the Jews, and part with the apostles. And when there was made an onset both of the Gentiles and of the Jews with their rulers, to entreat them shamefully, and to stone them, they became aware of it, and fled unto the cities of Lycaonia, Lystra and Derbe, and the region round about: and there they preached the gospel.

8 And at Lystra there sat a certain man, impotent in his feet, a cripple from his mother's womb, who never had walked. The same heard Paul speaking: who, fastening his eyes upon him, and seeing that he had faith to be <sup>7</sup> made whole, said with a loud voice, Stand upright on thy feet. And he leaped up and walked.

11 And when the multitudes saw what

Paul had done, they lifted up their voice, saying in the speech of Lycaonia, The gods are come down to us in the likeness of men. And they called Barnabas, <sup>1</sup>Jupiter; and Paul, <sup>2</sup>Mercury, because he was the chief speaker. And the priest of <sup>1</sup>Jupiter whose temple was before the city, brought oxen and garlands unto the gates, and would have done sacrifice with the multitudes. But when the apostles, Barnabas and Paul, heard of it, they rent their garments, and sprang forth among the multitude, crying out and saying, Sirs, why do ye these things? We also are men of like <sup>2</sup>passions with you, and bring you good tidings, that ye should turn from these vain things unto the living God, who made the heaven and the earth and the sea, and all that in them is: who in the generations gone by suffered all the nations to walk in their own ways. And yet he left not himself without witness, in that he did good, and gave you from heaven rains and fruitful seasons, filling your hearts with food and gladness. And with these sayings scarce restrained they the multitudes from doing sacrifice unto them.

19 But there came Jews thither from Antioch and Iconium: and having persuaded the multitudes, they stoned Paul, and dragged him out of the city, supposing that he was dead. But as the disciples stood round about him, he rose up, and entered into the city: and on the morrow he went forth with Barnabas to Derbe. And when they had preached the gospel to that city, and had made many disciples, they returned to Lystra, and to Iconium, and to Antioch, confirming the souls of the disciples, exhorting them to continue in the faith, and that through many tribulations we must enter into the kingdom of God. And when they had appointed for them elders in every church, and had prayed with fasting, they commended them to the Lord, on whom they had believed. And they passed through Pisidia, and came to Pamphylia. And when they had spoken the word in Perga, they went down to Attalia; and thence they sailed to Antioch, from whence they had been committed to the grace of God for the work which they had fulfilled.

27 And when they were come, and had gathered the church together, they rehearsed all things that God had done with them, and how that he had opened a door of faith unto the Gentiles. And they tarried no little time with the disciples.

15 And certain men came down from Judaea and taught the brethren, saying, Except ye be circumcised after the custom of Moses, ye cannot be saved. And when

Paul and Barnabas had no small dissension and questioning with them, the brethren appointed that Paul and Barnabas, and certain other of them, should go up to Jerusalem unto the apostles and elders about this question. They therefore, being brought on their way by the church, passed through both Phoenicia and Samaria, declaring the conversion of the Gentiles; and they caused great joy unto all the brethren. And when they were come to Jerusalem, they were received of the church and the apostles and the elders, and they rehearsed all things that God had done with them. But there rose up certain of the sect of the Pharisees who believed, saying, It is needful to circumcise them, and to charge them to keep the law of Moses.

6 And the apostles and the elders were gathered together to consider of this matter. And when there had been much questioning, Peter rose up, and said unto them,

Brethren, ye know how that 4a good while ago God made choice among you, that by my mouth the Gentiles should hear the word of the gospel, and believe. And God, which knoweth the heart, bare them witness, giving them the Holy Ghost, even as he did unto us; and he made no distinction between us and them, cleansing their hearts by faith. Now therefore why tempt ye God, that ye should put a yoke upon the neck of the disciples, which neither our fathers nor we were able to bear? But we believe that we shall be saved through the grace of the Lord Jesus, in like manner as they.

12 And all the multitude kept silence; and they hearkened unto Barnabas and Paul rehearsing what signs and wonders God had wrought among the Gentiles by them. And after they had held their peace, James answered, saying,

14 Brethren, hearken unto me: Symeon hath rehearsed how first God did visit the Gentiles, to take out of them a people for his name. And to this agree the words of the prophets; as it is written,

16 After these things I will return, And I will build again the tabernacle of David, which is fallen;

And I will build again the ruins thereof.

And I will set it up:

17 That the residue of men may seek after the Lord,

And all the Gentiles, upon whom my name is called.

18 Saith the Lord, <sup>5</sup>who maketh these things known from the beginning of the world.

19 Wherefore my judgement is, that we trouble not them which from among the Gentiles turn to God;

20 but that we <sup>1</sup>write unto them, that they abstain from the pollutions of idols, and from fornication, and from what is strangled, and from blood. For Moses from generations of old hath in every city them that preach him, being read in the synagogues every sabbath.

22 Then it seemed good to the apostles and the elders, with the whole church, to choose men out of their company, and send them to Antioch with Paul and Barnabas; namely, Judas called Barsabbas, and Silas, chief men among the brethren:

23 and they wrote thus by them, The apostles and the elder brethren unto the brethren which are of the Gentiles in Antioch and Syria and

24 Cilicia, greeting: Forasmuch as we have heard that certain <sup>2</sup>which went out from us have troubled you with words, subverting your souls: to whom we gave no commandment; it seemed good unto us, having come to one accord, to choose out men and send them unto you with our beloved Barnabas and Paul, men that have

25 hazarded their lives for the name of our Lord Jesus Christ. We have sent therefore Judas and Silas, who themselves also shall tell you the same things by word of mouth. For it seemed good to the Holy Ghost, and to us, to lay upon you no greater burden than these necessary things: that ye abstain from things sacrificed to idols, and from blood, and from things strangled, and from fornication; from which if ye keep yourselves, it shall be well with you. Fare ye well.

26 So they, when they were dismissed, came down to Antioch: and having gathered the multitude together, they delivered the epistle.

27 And when they had read it, they rejoiced for the <sup>3</sup>consolation. And Judas and Silas, being themselves also prophets, <sup>4</sup>exhorted the brethren with many words, and confirmed them. And after they had spent some time there, they were dismissed in peace from the brethren unto those that had sent them forth.<sup>5</sup>

28 But Paul and Barnabas tarried in Antioch, teaching and preaching the word of the Lord, with many others also.

29 And after some days Paul said unto Barnabas, Let us return now and visit the brethren in every city wherein we proclaimed the word of the Lord, and see how they fare.

30 And Barnabas was minded to take with them John also, who was called Mark. But Paul thought not good to take with them him who withdrew from them from Pamphylia, and went not with them to the work. And there arose a sharp contention, so that they parted asunder one from the other, and Barnabas took Mark with him, and

31 sailed away unto Cyprus; but Paul

32 chose Silas, and went forth, being commended by the brethren to the grace of the Lord. And he went through Syria and Cilicia, confirming the churches.

33 And he came also to Derbe and to Lystra: and behold, a certain disciple was there, named Timothy, the son of a Jewess which believed; but his father was a Greek. The same was well reported of by the brethren that were at Lystra and Iconium. Him would Paul have to go forth with him; and he took and circumcised him because of the Jews that were in those parts: for they all knew that his father was 34 a Greek. And as they went on their way through the cities, they delivered them the decrees for to keep, which had been ordained of the apostles and elders that were at Jerusalem. So the churches were strengthened in the faith, and increased in number daily.

35 And they went through the region of Phrygia and Galatia, having been forbidden of the Holy Ghost to speak the word in Asia; and when they were come over against Mysia, they assayed to go into Bithynia; and the Spirit of Jesus suffered them not: and passing by Mysia, they came down to Troas.

36 And a vision appeared to Paul in the night: There was a man of Macedonia standing, beseeching him, and saying, Come over into Macedonia, and help us. And when he had seen the vision, straightway we sought to go forth into Macedonia, concluding that God had called us for to preach the gospel unto them.

37 Setting sail therefore from Troas, we made a straight course to Samothrace, and the day following to Neapolis; and from thence to Philippi, which is a city of Macedonia, the first of the district, a Roman colony: and we were in this city tarrying certain days. And on the sabbath day we went forth without the gate by a river side, where we supposed there was a place of prayer: and we sat down, and spake unto the women which were come

38 together. And a certain woman named Lydia, a seller of purple, of the city of Thyatira, one that worshipped God, heard us: whose heart the Lord opened, to give heed unto the things which were spoken by 39 Paul. And when she was baptized, and her household, she besought us, saying, If ye have judged me to be faithful to the Lord, come into my house, and abide there. And she constrained us.

40 And it came to pass, as we were going to the place of prayer, that a certain maid having <sup>6</sup>a spirit of divination met us, which brought her masters much gain by soothsaying. The same following after Paul and us cried out, saying, These men are <sup>7</sup>servants of the Most High

18 God, which proclaim unto you <sup>1</sup> the way of salvation. And this she did for many days. But Paul, being sore troubled, turned and said to the spirit, I charge thee in the name of Jesus Christ to come out of her. And it came out that very hour.

19 But when her masters saw that the hope of their gain was <sup>2</sup> gone, they laid hold on Paul and Silas, and dragged them into the marketplace before the rulers, and when they had brought them unto the <sup>3</sup> magistrates, they said, These men, being Jews, do exceedingly trouble our city, and set forth customs which it is not lawful for us to receive, or to observe, being Romans. And the multitude rose up together against them: and the <sup>4</sup> magistrates rent their garments off them, and commanded to beat them with rods. And when they had laid many stripes upon them, they cast them into prison, charging the jailor to keep them safely: <sup>5</sup> who, having received such a charge, cast them into the inner prison, and made their feet fast in the stocks. But about midnight Paul and Silas were praying and singing hymns unto God, and the prisoners were listening to them; and suddenly there was a great earthquake, so that the foundations of the prison-house were shaken: and immediately all the doors were opened; and every one's bands were loosed. And the jailor being roused out of sleep, and seeing the prison doors open, drew his sword, and was about to kill himself, supposing that the prisoners had escaped. But Paul cried with a loud voice, saying, Do thyself no harm: for we are all here. And he called for lights, and sprang in, and trembling for fear, fell down before Paul and Silas, and brought them out, and said, Sirs, what must I do to be saved? And they said, Believe on the Lord Jesus, and thou shalt be saved, thou and thy house. And they spake the word of <sup>6</sup> the Lord unto him, with all that were in his house. And he took them the same hour of the night, and washed their stripes; and was baptized, he and all his, immediately. And he brought them up into his house, and set <sup>7</sup> meat before them, and rejoiced greatly, with all his house, <sup>8</sup> having believed in God.

35 But when it was day, the <sup>9</sup> magistrates sent the <sup>10</sup> sergeants, saying, Let those men go. And the jailor reported the words to Paul, saying, The <sup>11</sup> magistrates have sent to let you go: now therefore come forth, and go in peace. But Paul said unto them, They have beaten us publicly, uncondemned, men that are Romans, and have cast us into prison: and do they now cast us out privily? nay verily; but let them come themselves and bring us out. And the <sup>12</sup> sergeants reported these words unto the <sup>13</sup> magistrates: and they feared, when they heard that they were Romans; and they came and besought them; and when they had brought them out, they asked them to go away from the city. And they went out of the prison, and entered into the house of Lydia: and when they had seen the brethren, they <sup>14</sup> comforted them, and departed.

17 Now when they had passed through Amphipolis and Apollonia, they came to Thessalonica, where was a synagogue of the Jews: <sup>2</sup> and Paul, as his custom was, went in unto them, and for three <sup>3</sup> sabbath days reasoned with them from the scriptures, opening and alleging, that it behoved the Christ to suffer, and to rise again from the dead; and that this Jesus, whom <sup>4</sup> said he, I proclaim unto you, is the Christ. And some of them were persuaded, and consorted with Paul and Silas; and of the devout Greeks a great multitude, and of the chief women not a few. But the Jews, being moved with jealousy, took unto them certain vile fellows of the rabble, and gathering a crowd, set the city on an uproar; and assaulting the house of Jason, they sought to bring them forth to the people. And when they found them not, they dragged Jason and certain brethren before the rulers of the city, crying, These that have turned <sup>5</sup> the world upside down are come hither also; whom Jason hath received: and these all act contrary to the decrees of Caesar, saying that there is another king, <sup>6</sup> one Jesus. And they troubled the multitude and the rulers of the city, when they heard these things. And when they had taken security from Jason and the rest, they let them go.

10 And the brethren immediately sent away Paul and Silas by night unto Berea: who when they were come thither went into the synagogue of the Jews. Now these were more noble than those in Thessalonica, in that they received the word with all readiness of mind, examining the scriptures daily, whether these things were so. Many of them therefore believed; also of the Greek women of honourable estate, and of men, not a few. But when the Jews of Thessalonica had knowledge that the word of God was proclaimed of Paul at Berea also, they came thither likewise, stirring up and troubling the multitudes. And then immediately the brethren sent forth Paul to go as far as to the sea: and Silas and Timothy abode there still. But they that conducted Paul brought him as far as Athens: and receiving a commandment unto Silas and Timothy that they should come to him with all speed, they departed.

16 Now while Paul waited for them at Athens, his spirit was provoked within him, as he beheld the city full of idols. So he reasoned in the

17 synagogue with the Jews and the devout persons, and in the market-place every day with them that

18 met with him. And certain also of the Epicurean and Stoic philosophers encountered him. And some said, What would this babblers say? other some, He seemeth to be a setter forth of strange gods: because

19 he preached Jesus and the resurrection. And they took hold of him,

20 and brought him <sup>2</sup>unto <sup>3</sup>the Areopagus, saying, May we know what this new teaching is, which is spoken by thee? For thou bringest

21 certain strange things to our ears: we would know therefore what these things mean. (Now all the Athenians and the strangers sojourning there <sup>4</sup>spent their time in nothing else, but either to tell or to hear

22 some new thing.) And Paul stood in the midst of the Areopagus, and said,

Ye men of Athens, in all things I perceive that ye are somewhat <sup>5</sup>superstitious. For as I passed along, and observed the objects of your worship, I found also an altar with this inscription, <sup>6</sup>TO AN UNKNOWN GOD. What therefore ye worship in ignorance, this set I forth unto you.

23 The God that made the world and all things therein, he, being Lord of heaven and earth, dwelleth not

24 in <sup>7</sup>temples made with hands; neither is he served by men's hands, as though he needed anything, seeing he himself giveth to all life, and

25 breath, and all things; and he made of one every nation of men for to dwell on all the face of the earth,

26 having determined their appointed seasons, and the bounds of their habitation; that they should seek

27 God, if haply they might feel after him, and find him, though he is not far from each one of us: for in him we live, and move, and have our being; as certain even of your own poets have said, For we are also

28 his offspring. Being then the offspring of God, we ought not to think that <sup>8</sup>the Godhead is like unto gold, or silver, or stone, graven by art

29 and device of man. The times of ignorance therefore God overlooked: but now he <sup>9</sup>commandeth men that they should all everywhere

30 repent: inasmuch as he hath appointed a day, in the which he will judge <sup>10</sup>the world in righteousness <sup>11</sup>by <sup>12</sup>the man whom he hath ordained; whereof he hath given assurance unto all men, in that he hath raised him from the dead.

31 Now when they heard of the resurrection of the dead, some mocked; but others said, We will hear thee concerning this yet again.

33 Thus Paul went out from among them. But certain men clave unto him, and believed: among whom 34 also was Dionysius the Areopagite, and a woman named Damaris, and others with them.

18 After these things he departed from Athens, and came to Corinth. And he found a certain Jew named Aquila, a man of Pontus

2 by race, lately come from Italy, with his wife Priscilla, because Claudius had commanded all the Jews to depart from Rome: and he

3 came unto them; and because he was of the same trade, he abode with them, and they wrought; for by their trade they were tent-

4 makers. And he reasoned in the synagogue every sabbath, and <sup>13</sup>persuaded Jews and Greeks.

5 But when Silas and Timothy came down from Macedonia, Paul was constrained by the word, testifying to the Jews that Jesus was the

6 Christ. And when they opposed themselves, and <sup>14</sup>blasphemed, he shook out his raiment, and said unto them, Your blood be upon your own heads; I am clean: from henceforth I will go unto the Gen-

7 tiles. And he departed thence, and went into the house of a certain man named Titus Justus, one that worshipped God, whose house joined hard to the synagogue. And 8 Crispus, the ruler of the synagogue, <sup>15</sup>believed in the Lord with all his house; and many of the Corinthians hearing believed, and were baptized.

9 And the Lord said unto Paul in the night by a vision, Be not afraid, but speak, and hold not thy peace: for I am with thee, and no man shall set on thee to harm thee: for I have 10 much people in this city. And he dwelt there a year and six months, teaching the word of God among them.

11 But when Gallio was proconsul of Achaia, the Jews with one accord rose up against Paul, and brought 12 him before the judgement-seat, saying, This man persuadeth men to worship God contrary to the law.

13 But when Paul was about to open his mouth, Gallio said unto the Jews, If indeed it were a matter of wrong or of wicked villany, O ye Jews, reason would that I should

14 bear with you: but if they are questions about words and names and your own law, look to it yourselves; I am not minded to be a judge of these matters. And he drave them from the judgement-seat. And they all laid hold on Sosthenes, the ruler of the synagogue, and beat him before the judgement-seat. And Gallio cared for none of these things.

15 And Paul, having tarried after this yet many days, took his leave of the brethren, and sailed thence for Syria, and with him Priscilla and Aquila; having shorn his head

In Cenchreae: for he had a vow. 19 And they came to Ephesus, and he left them there: but he himself entered into the synagogue, and reasoned with the Jews. And when they asked him to abide a longer time, 20 he consented not; but taking his leave of them, and saying, I will return again unto you, if God will, 21 he set sail from Ephesus. And when he had landed at Caesarea, he went up and saluted the church, and 22 went down to Antioch. And having spent some time there, he departed, and went through the region of Galatia and Phrygia in order, establishing all the disciples.

24 Now a certain Jew named Apollos, an Alexandrian by race, <sup>1</sup>a learned man, came to Ephesus; and he was mighty in the scriptures.

25 This man had been <sup>2</sup>instructed in the way of the Lord; and being fervent in spirit, he spake and taught carefully the things concerning Jesus, knowing only the baptism of John: and he began to speak boldly in the synagogue. But when Priscilla and Aquila heard him, they took him unto them, and expounded unto him the way of God more carefully. And when he was minded to pass over into Achaia, the brethren encouraged him, and wrote to the disciples to receive him: and when he was come, he <sup>3</sup>helped them much which had believed through grace: for he powerfully confuted the Jews, <sup>4</sup>and that publicly, shewing by the scriptures that Jesus was the Christ.

19 And it came to pass, that, while Apollos was at Corinth, Paul having passed through the upper country came to Ephesus, and found 2 certain disciples: and he said unto them, Did ye receive the Holy Ghost when ye believed? And they said unto him, Nay, we did not so much as hear whether <sup>5</sup>the Holy Ghost 3 was given. And he said, Into what then were ye baptized? And they said, Into John's baptism. And Paul said, John baptized with the baptism of repentance, saying unto the people, that they should believe on him which should come after him, 5 that is, on Jesus. And when they heard this, they were baptized into the name of the Lord Jesus. And when Paul had laid his hands upon them, the Holy Ghost came on them; and they spake with tongues, 7 and prophesied. And they were in all about twelve men.

8 And he entered into the synagogue, and spake boldly for the space of three months, reasoning and persuading <sup>as to</sup> the things concerning the kingdom of God.

9 But when some were hardened and disobedient, speaking evil of the Way before the multitude, he departed from them, and separated the disciples, reasoning daily in the 10 school of Tyrannus. And this continued for the space of two years: so that all they which dwell in Asia heard the word of the Lord, both 11 Jews and Greeks. And God wrought special <sup>6</sup>miracles by the hands of 12 Paul: inasmuch that unto the sick were carried away from his body handkerchiefs or aprons, and the diseases departed from them, and the evil spirits went out. But certain also of the strolling Jews, exorcists, took upon them to name over them which had the evil spirits the name of the Lord Jesus, saying, 13 I adjure you by Jesus whom Paul 14 preacheth. And there were seven sons of one Sceva, a Jew, a chief priest, which did this. And the evil spirit answered and said unto them, 15 Jesus I <sup>7</sup>know, and Paul I know; 16 but who are ye? And the man in whom the evil spirit was leaped on them, and mastered both of them, and prevailed against them, so that they fled out of that house naked 17 and wounded. And this became known to all, both Jews and Greeks, that dwelt at Ephesus; and fear fell upon them all, and the name of the Lord Jesus was magnified. Many also of them that had believed came, confessing, and declaring their deeds. 18 And not a few of them that practised <sup>8</sup>curious arts brought their books together, and burned them in the sight of all: and they counted the price of them, and found it fifty thousand pieces of silver. So mightily grew the word of the Lord and prevailed.

21 Now after these things were ended, Paul purposed in the spirit, when he had passed through Macedonia and Achaia, to go to Jerusalem, saying, After I have been there, I must also see Rome. And having sent into Macedonia two of them that ministered unto him, Timothy and Erastus, he himself stayed in Asia for a while.

23 And about that time there arose no small stir concerning the Way. 24 For a certain man named Demetrius, a silversmith, which made silver shrines of <sup>9</sup>Diana, brought no little business unto the craftsmen; whom he gathered together, with the workmen of like occupation, and said, Sirs, ye know that by this business we have our wealth.

26 And ye see and hear, that not alone at Ephesus, but almost throughout all Asia, this Paul hath persuaded and turned away much people, saying that they be no gods, which are made with hands: and not only is there danger that this our trade come into disrepute; but also that the temple of the great goddess <sup>9</sup>Diana be made of no account, and that she should even be deposed from her magnificence, whom all Asia and <sup>10</sup>the world worshippeth. 28 And when they heard this, they were filled with wrath, and cried out, saying, Great is <sup>9</sup>Diana of the

29 Ephesians. And the city was filled with the confusion: and they rushed with one accord into the theatre, having seized Gaius and Aristarchus, men of Macedonia, Paul's companions in travel. And when Paul was minded to enter in unto the people, the disciples suffered him not. And certain also of the chief officers of Asia, being his friends, sent unto him, and besought him not to adventure himself into the theatre. 30 Some therefore cried one thing, and some another: for the assembly was in confusion; and the more part knew not wherefore they were come together. 31 And they brought Alexander out of the multitude, the Jews putting him forward. And Alexander beckoned with the hand, and would have made a defence unto the people. But when they perceived that he was a Jew, all with one voice about the space of two hours cried out, Great is Diana of the Ephesians. And when the townclerk had quieted the multitude, he saith, Ye men of Ephesus, what man is there who knoweth not how that the city of the Ephesians is temple-keeper of the great Diana, and of the image which fell down from Jupiter? Seeing then that these things cannot be gainsaid, ye ought to be quiet, and to do nothing rash. For ye have brought hither these men, which are neither robbers of temples nor blasphemers of our goddess. If therefore Demetrius, and the craftsmen that are with him, have a matter against any man, let the courts be open, and there are proconsuls: let them accuse one another. But if ye seek anything about other matters, it shall be settled in the regular assembly. For indeed we are in danger to be accused concerning this day's riot, there being no cause for it: and as touching it we shall not be able to give account of this concourse. 41 And when he had thus spoken, he dismissed the assembly.

20 And after the uproar was ceased, Paul having sent for the disciples and exhorted them, took leave of them, and departed for to go into Macedonia. And when he had gone through those parts, and had given them much exhortation, he came into Greece. And when he had spent three months there, and a plot was laid against him by the Jews, as he was about to set sail for Syria, he determined to return through Macedonia. And there accompanied him as far as Asia Sopater of Berea, the son of Pyrrhus; and of the Thessalonians, Aristarchus and Secundus; and Gaius of Derbe, and Timothy; and of Asia, Tychicus and Trophimus. But these had gone before, and were waiting for us at Troas. And we sailed away from Philippi after the days of unleavened bread, and came unto them to Troas in five days; where we tarried seven days.

7 And upon the first day of the week, when we were gathered together to break bread, Paul discoursed with them, intending to depart on the morrow; and prolonged his speech until midnight. 8 And there were many lights in the upper chamber, where we were gathered together. And there sat in the window a certain young man named Eutychus, borne down with deep sleep; and as Paul discoursed yet longer, being borne down by his sleep he fell down from the third story, and was taken up dead. And Paul went down, and fell on him, and embracing him said, Make ye no ado; for his life is in him. And when he was gone up, and had broken the bread, and eaten, and had talked with them a long while, even till break of day, so he departed. And they brought the lad alive, and were not a little comforted. 13 But we, going before to the ship, set sail for Assos, there intending to take in Paul: for so had he appointed, intending himself to go by land. And when he met us at Assos, we took him in, and came to Mitylene. And sailing from thence, we came the following day over against Chios; and the next day we touched at Samos; and the day after we came to Miletus. For Paul had determined to sail past Ephesus, that he might not have to spend time in Asia; for he was hastening, if it were possible for him, to be at Jerusalem the day of Pentecost. 17 And from Miletus he sent to Ephesus, and called to him the elders of the church. And when they were come to him, he said unto them, Ye yourselves know, from the first day that I set foot in Asia, after what manner I was with you all the time, serving the Lord with all lowliness of mind, and with tears, and with trials which befell me by the plots of the Jews: how that I shrank not from declaring unto you anything that was profitable, and from teaching you publicly, and from house to house, testifying both to Jews and to Greeks repentance toward God, and faith toward our Lord Jesus Christ. And now, behold, I go bound in the spirit unto Jerusalem, not knowing the things that shall befall me there: save that the Holy Ghost testifieth unto me in every city, saying that bonds and afflictions abide me. But I hold not my life of any account, as dear unto myself, so that I may accomplish my course, and the ministry which I received from the Lord Jesus, to testify the gospel of the grace of God. And now, behold, I know that ye all, among whom I went about preaching the kingdom, shall see my face no more. 26 Wherefore I testify unto you this day, that I am pure from the blood of all men. For I shrank not from declaring unto you the whole counsel of God. Take heed unto yourselves, and to all the flock, in the which the Holy Ghost hath made you <sup>1</sup>bishops, to feed the church of <sup>2</sup>God, which he <sup>3</sup>purchased with his own blood. I know that after my departing grievous wolves shall enter in among you, not sparing the flock; and from among your own selves shall men arise, speaking perverse things, to draw away the disciples after them. Wherefore watch ye, remembering that by the space of three years I ceased not to admonish every one night and day with tears. And now I commend you to <sup>4</sup>God, and to the word of his grace, which is able to build you up, and to give you the inheritance among all them that are sanctified. <sup>5</sup>I coveted no man's silver, or gold, or apparel. Ye yourselves know that these hands ministered unto my necessities, and to them that were with me. In all things I gave you an example, how that so labouring ye ought to help the weak, and to remember the words of the Lord Jesus, how he himself said, It is more blessed to give than to receive.

36 And when he had thus spoken, he kneeled down, and prayed with them all. And they all wept sore, and fell on Paul's neck, and kissed him, sorrowing most of all for the word which he had spoken, that they should behold his face no more. And they brought him on his way unto the ship.

21 And when it came to pass that we were parted from them, and had set sail, we came with a straight course unto Cos, and the next day unto Rhodes, and from thence unto <sup>2</sup>Patara: and having found a ship crossing over unto Phœnicia, we <sup>3</sup>went aboard, and set sail. And when we had come in sight of Cyprus, leaving it on the left hand, we sailed unto Syria, and landed at Tyre: for there the ship was to <sup>4</sup>unlade her burden. And having found the disciples, we tarried there seven days: and these said to Paul through the Spirit, that he should not set <sup>5</sup>foot in Jerusalem. And when it came to pass that we had accomplished the days, we departed and went on our journey; and they all, with wives and children, brought us on our way, till we were out of the city: and kneeling down on the <sup>6</sup>beach, we prayed, and bade each other farewell; and we went on board the ship, but they returned home again.

7 And when we had finished the voyage from Tyre, we arrived at Ptolemais; and we saluted the brethren, and abode with them one <sup>8</sup>day. And on the morrow we departed, and came unto Cæsarea: and entering into the house of Philip the evangelist, who was one of the <sup>9</sup>seven, we abode with him. Now this man had four daughters, virgins, which did prophesy. And as we tarried there <sup>6</sup>many days, there came down from Judæa a certain prophet, named Agabus. And coming to us, and taking Paul's girdle, he bound his own feet and hands, and said, Thus saith the Holy Ghost, So shall the Jews at Jerusalem bind the man that owneth this girdle, and shall deliver him into the hands of the Gentiles. And when we heard these things, both we and they of that place besought him not to go up to Jerusalem. Then Paul answered, What do ye, weeping and breaking my heart? for I am ready not to be bound only, but also to die at Jerusalem for the name of the Lord Jesus. And when he would not be persuaded, we ceased, saying, The will of the Lord be done.

15 And after these days we <sup>8</sup>took up our baggage, and went up to Jerusalem. And there went with us also <sup>6</sup>certain of the disciples from Cæsarea, bringing with them one Mnason of Cyprus, an early disciple, with whom we should lodge.

17 And when we were come to Jerusalem, the brethren received us gladly. And the day following Paul went in with us unto James; and all the elders were present. And when he had saluted them, he rehearsed one by one the things which God had wrought among the Gentiles by his ministry. And they, when they heard it, glorified God; and they said unto him, Thou seest, brother, how many <sup>7</sup>thousands there are among the Jews of them which have believed; and they are all zealous for the law; and they have been informed concerning thee, that thou teachest all the Jews which are among the Gentiles to forsake Moses, telling them not to circumcise their children, neither to walk after the customs.

22 What is it therefore? they will certainly hear that thou art come. Do therefore this that we say to thee: We have four men which have a <sup>24</sup>vow on them; these take, and purify thyself with them, and be at charges for them, that they may shave their heads: and all shall know that there is no truth in the things whereof they have been informed concerning thee; but that thou thyself also walkest orderly, <sup>25</sup>keeping the law. But as touching the Gentiles which have believed, we <sup>8</sup>wrote, giving judgement that they should keep themselves from things sacrificed to idols, and from blood, and from what is strangled, and from fornication. Then Paul <sup>9</sup>took the men, and the next day purifying himself with them went into the temple, declaring the fulfilment of the days of purification,

- 27 And when the seven days were almost completed, the Jews from Asia, when they saw him in the temple, stirred up all the multitude, and laid hands on him, crying out, Men of Israel, help: This is the man, that teacheth all men everywhere against the people, and the law, and this place: and moreover he brought Greeks also into the temple, and hath defiled this holy place. For they had before seen with him in the city Trophimus the Ephesian, whom they supposed that Paul had brought into the temple. And all the city was moved, and the people ran together: and they laid hold on Paul, and dragged him out of the temple: and straightway the doors were shut.
- 31 And as they were seeking to kill him, tidings came up to the chief captain of the band, that all Jerusalem was in confusion. And forthwith he took soldiers and centurions, and ran down upon them: and they, when they saw the chief captain and the soldiers, left off beating Paul. Then the chief captain came near, and laid hold on him, and commanded him to be bound with two chains; and inquired who he was, and what he had done. And some shouted one thing, some another, among the crowd: and when he could not know the certainty for the uproar, he commanded him to be brought into the castle. And when he came upon the stairs, so it was, that he was borne of the soldiers for the violence of the crowd: for the multitude of the people followed after, crying out, Away with him.
- 37 And as Paul was about to be brought into the castle, he saith unto the chief captain, May I say something unto thee? And he said, Dost thou know Greek? Art thou not then the Egyptian, which before these days stirred up to sedition and led out into the wilderness the four thousand men of the Assassins? But Paul said, I am a Jew, of Tarsus in Cilicia, a citizen of no mean city: and I beseech thee, give me leave to speak unto the people. And when he had given him leave, Paul, standing on the stairs, beckoned with the hand unto the people; and when there was made a great silence, he spake unto them in the Hebrew language, saying,

22 Brethren and fathers, hear ye the defence which I now make unto you.

2 And when they heard that he spake unto them in the Hebrew language, they were the more quiet: and he saith,

3 I am a Jew, born in Tarsus of Cilicia, but brought up in this city, at the feet of Gamaliel, instructed according to the strict manner of the law of our fathers, being zealous for God, even as ye all are this day: and I persecuted this Way unto the death, binding and delivering into prisons both men and women. As also the high priest doth bear me witness, and all the estate of the elders: from whom also I received letters unto the brethren, and journeyed to Damascus, to bring them also which were there unto Jerusalem in bonds, for to be punished.

6 And it came to pass, that, as I made my journey, and drew nigh unto Damascus, about noon, suddenly there shone from heaven a great light round about me. And I fell unto the ground, and heard a voice saying unto me, Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me? And I answered, Who art thou, Lord? And he said unto me, I am Jesus of Nazareth, whom thou persecutest.

9 And they that were with me beheld indeed the light, but they heard not the voice of him that spake to me.

10 And I said, What shall I do, Lord? And the Lord said unto me, Arise, and go into Damascus; and there it shall be told thee of all things which are appointed for thee to do.

11 And when I could not see for the glory of that light, being led by the hand of them that were with me,

12 I came into Damascus. And one Ananias a devout man according to the law, well reported of by all the Jews that dwell there, came unto me, and standing by me said unto me, Brother Saul, receive thy sight. And in that very hour I

14 looked up on him. And he said, The God of our fathers hath appointed thee to know his will, and to see the Righteous One and to hear a voice from his mouth. For thou shalt be a witness for him unto all men of what thou hast seen and heard. And now why tarriest thou? arise, and be baptized, and wash away thy sins, calling on his name. And it came to pass, that, when I had returned to Jerusalem, and while I prayed in the temple, I fell into a trance, and saw him saying unto me, Make haste, and get thee quickly out of Jerusalem: because they will not receive of thee testimony concerning me. And I said, Lord, they themselves know that I imprisoned and beat in every synagogue them that believed on thee: and when the blood of Stephen thy witness was shed, I also was standing by, and consenting, and keeping the garments of them that slew him.

21 And he said unto me, Depart: for I will send thee forth far hence unto the Gentiles.

22 And they gave him audience unto this word; and they lifted up their voice, and said, Away with such a fellow from the earth: for it is not fit that he should live. And as they cried out, and threw off their garments, and cast dust into the air, the chief captain commanded him to be brought into the castle, bidding that he should be examined by scourging, that he might know for what cause they so shouted against him. And when they had tied him up with the thongs, Paul said unto the centurion that stood by, Is it lawful for you to scourge a man that is a Roman, and uncondemned? And when the centurion heard it, he went to the chief captain, and told him, saying, What art thou about to do? for this man is a Roman. And the chief captain came, and said unto him, Tell me, art thou a Roman? And he said, Yea. And the chief captain answered, With a great sum obtained I this citizenship. And Paul said, But I am a Roman born. They then which were about to examine him straightway departed from him: and the chief captain also was afraid, when he knew that he was a Roman, and because he had bound him.

But on the morrow, desiring to know the certainty, wherefore he was accused of the Jews, he loosed him, and commanded the chief priests and all the council to come together, and brought Paul down, and set him before them.

And Paul, looking stedfastly on the council, said, Brethren, I have lived before God in all good conscience until this day. And the high priest Ananias commanded them that stood by him to smite him on the mouth. Then said Paul unto him, God shall smite thee, thou whited wall: and sittest thou to judge me according to the law, and commandest me to be smitten contrary to the law? And they that stood by said, Revilest thou God's high priest? And Paul said, I wist not, brethren, that he was high priest: for it is written, Thou shalt not speak evil of a ruler of thy people. But when Paul perceived that the one part were Sadducees, and the other Pharisees, he cried out in the council, Brethren, I am a Pharisee, a son of Pharisees: touching the hope and resurrection of the dead I am called in question. And when he had so said, there arose a dissension between the Pharisees and Sadducees: and the assembly was divided. For the Sadducees say that there is no resurrection, neither angel, nor spirit: but the Pharisees confess both. And there arose a great clamour: and some of the scribes of the Pharisees' part stood up, and strove, saying, We find no evil in this man: and what if a spirit hath spoken to him, or an angel? And when there arose a great dissension, the chief captain, fearing lest Paul should be torn in pieces by them, commanded the soldiers to go down and take him by force from among them, and bring him into the castle.

And the night following the Lord stood by him, and said, Be of good cheer: for as thou hast testified concerning me at Jerusalem, so must thou bear witness also at Rome.

And when it was day, the Jews banded together, and bound themselves under a curse, saying that they would neither eat nor drink till they had killed Paul. And they were more than forty which made this conspiracy. And they came to the chief priests and the elders, and said, We have bound ourselves under a great curse, to taste nothing until we have killed Paul. Now therefore do ye with the council signify to the chief captain that he bring him down unto you, as though ye would judge of his case more exactly: and we, or ever he come near, are ready to slay him. But Paul's sister's son heard of their lying in wait, and he came and entered into the castle, and told Paul. And Paul called unto him one of the centurions, and said, Bring this young man unto the chief captain: for he hath some thing to tell him. So he took him, and brought him to the chief captain, and saith, Paul the prisoner called me unto him, and asked me to bring this young man unto thee, who hath something to say to thee. And the chief captain took him by the hand, and going aside asked him privately, What is that thou hast to tell me? And he said, The Jews have agreed to ask thee to bring down Paul to-morrow unto the council, as though thou wouldst inquire somewhat more exactly concerning him. Do not thou therefore yield unto them: for there lie in wait for him of them more than forty men, which have bound themselves under a curse, neither to eat nor to drink till they have slain him: and now are they ready, looking for the promise from thee. So the chief captain let the young man go, charging him, Tell no man that thou hast signified these things to me. And he called unto him two of the centurions, and said, Make ready two hundred soldiers to go as far as Cæsarea, and horsemen threescore and ten, and spearmen two hundred, at the third hour of the night: and he bade them provide beasts, that they might set Paul thereon, and bring him safe unto Felix the governor. And he wrote a letter after this form:

Claudius Lysias unto the most excellent governor Felix, greeting.

This man was seized by the Jews, and was about to be slain of them, when I came upon them with the soldiers, and rescued him, having learned that he was a Roman. And desiring to know the cause wherefore they accused him, <sup>1</sup> I brought him down unto their council: whom I found to be accused about questions of their law, but to have nothing laid to his charge worthy of death or of bonds. And when it was shewn to me that there would be a plot against the man, I sent him to thee forthwith, charging his accusers also to speak against him before thee.<sup>2</sup>

31 So the soldiers, as it was commanded them, took Paul, and brought him by night to Antipatris. But on the morrow they left the horsemen to go with him, and returned to the castle: and they, when they came to Cæsarea, and delivered the letter to the governor, presented Paul also before him. And when he had read it, he asked of what province he was; and when he understood that he was of Cilicia, I will hear thy cause, said he, when thine accusers also are come: and he commanded him to be kept in Herod's <sup>3</sup> palace.

24 And after five days the high priest Ananias came down with certain elders; and with an orator, one Tertullus; and they informed <sup>2</sup> the governor against Paul. And when he was called, Tertullus began to accuse him, saying,

Seeing that by thee we enjoy much peace, and that by thy providence evils are corrected for this nation, we accept it in all ways and in all places, most excellent Felix, 4 with all thankfulness. But, that I be not further tedious unto thee, I intreat thee to hear us of thy clemency a few words. For we have found this man a pestilent fellow, and a mover of insurrections among all the Jews throughout <sup>4</sup> the world, and a ringleader of the sect of the Nazarenes: who moreover assayed to profane the temple: on whom 6 also we laid hold: <sup>5</sup> from whom thou wilt be able, by examining him thyself, to take knowledge of all these things, whereof we accuse him. And the Jews also joined in the charge, affirming that these things were so.

10 And when the governor had beckoned unto him to speak, Paul answered,

Forasmuch as I know that thou hast been of many years a judge unto this nation, I do cheerfully make my defence: seeing that thou canst take knowledge, that it is not more than twelve days since I went up to worship at Jerusalem: and neither in the temple did they find me disputing with any man or stirring up a crowd, nor in the synagogues, nor in the city. Neither can they prove to thee the things 14 whereof they now accuse me. But this I confess unto thee, that after the Way which they call <sup>6</sup> a sect, so serve I the God of our fathers, believing all things which are according to the law, and which are written in the prophets: having hope toward God, which these also themselves <sup>7</sup> look for, that there shall be a resurrection both of the just and 16 unjust. Herein do I also exercise myself to have a conscience void of offence toward God and men always. 17 Now after <sup>8</sup> many years I came to bring alms to my nation, and offerings: <sup>9</sup> amidst which they found me purified in the temple, with no crowd, nor yet with tumult: but there were 19 certain Jews from Asia—who ought to have been here before thee, and to make accusation, if they had 20 aught against me. Or else let these men themselves say what wrong-doing they found, when I stood before the council, except it be for this one voice, that I cried standing among them, Touching the resurrection of the dead I am called in question before you this day.

22 But Felix, having more exact knowledge concerning the Way, deferred them, saying, When Lyrias the chief captain shall come down, I will determine your matter. And he gave order to the centurion that he should be kept in charge, and should have indulgence; and not to forbid any of his friends to minister unto him.

24 But after certain days, Felix came with Drusilla, <sup>10</sup> his wife, which was a Jewess, and sent for Paul, and heard him concerning the faith in Christ Jesus. And as he reasoned of righteousness, and <sup>11</sup> temperance, and the judgement to come, Felix was terrified, and answered, Go thy way for this time; and when I have a convenient season, I will call thee 26 unto me. He hoped withal that money would be given him of Paul: wherefore also he sent for him the oftener, and communed with him. 27 But when two years were fulfilled, Felix was succeeded by Porcius Festus; and desiring to gain favour with the Jews, Felix left Paul in bonds.

25 Festus therefore, <sup>12</sup> having come into the province, after three days went up to Jerusalem from 2 Cæsarea. And the chief priests and the principal men of the Jews informed him against Paul; and they 3 besought him, asking favour against him, that he would send for him to Jerusalem; laying wait to kill 4 him on the way. Howbeit Festus answered, that Paul was kept in charge at Cæsarea, and that he himself was about to depart thither 5 shortly. Let them therefore, saith he, which are of power among you, go down with me, and if there is anything amiss in the man, let them accuse him.

6 And when he had tarried among them not more than eight or ten days, he went down unto Cæsarea; and on the morrow he sat on the judgement-seat, and commanded

But Festus, desiring to gain favour with the Jews, answered Paul, and said, Wilt thou go up to Jerusalem, and there be judged of these things before me? But Paul said, I am standing before Cæsar's judgement-seat, where I ought to be judged: to the Jews have I done no wrong, as thou also very well knowest. If then I am a wrong-doer, and have committed anything worthy of death, I refuse not to die: but if none of those things is true, whereof these accuse me, no man can give me up unto them. I appeal unto Cæsar.
- 12 Then Festus, when he had conferred with the council, answered, Thou hast appealed unto Cæsar: unto Cæsar shalt thou go.
- 13 Now when certain days were passed, Agrippa the king and Bernice arrived at Cæsarea, and saluted Festus. And as they tarried there many days, Festus laid Paul's case before the king, saying, There is a certain man left a prisoner by Felix: about whom, when I was at Jerusalem, the chief priests and the elders of the Jews informed me, asking for sentence against him. To whom I answered, that it is not the custom of the Romans to give up any man, before that the accused have the accusers face to face, and have had opportunity to make his defence concerning the matter laid against him. When therefore they were come together here, I made no delay, but on the next day sat down on the judgement-seat, and commanded the man to be brought.
- 18 Concerning whom, when the accusers stood up, they brought no charge of such evil things as I supposed: but had certain questions against him of their own religion, and of one Jesus, who was dead, whom Paul affirmed to be alive.
- 20 And I, being perplexed how to inquire concerning these things, asked whether he would go to Jerusalem, and there be judged of these matters. But when Paul had appealed to be kept for the decision of the emperor, I commanded him to be kept till I should send him to Cæsar. And Agrippa said unto Festus, I also could wish to hear the man myself. To-morrow, saith he, thou shalt hear him.
- 26 So on the morrow, when Agrippa was come, and Bernice, with great pomp, and they were entered into the place of hearing, with the chief captains, and the principal men of the city, at the command of Festus

- 24 Paul was brought in. And Festus saith, King Agrippa, and all men which are here present with us, ye behold this man, about whom all the multitude of the Jews made suit to me, both at Jerusalem and here, crying that he ought not to live any longer. But I found that he had committed nothing worthy of death: and as he himself appealed to the emperor I determined to send him.
- 26 Of whom I have no certain thing to write unto my lord. Wherefore I have brought him forth before you, and specially before thee, king Agrippa, that, after examination had, I may have somewhat to write. For it seemeth to me unreasonable, in sending a prisoner, not withal to signify the charges against him.
- 26 And Agrippa said unto Paul, Thou art permitted to speak for thyself. Then Paul stretched forth his hand, and made his defence:
- 2 I think myself happy, king Agrippa, that I am to make my defence before thee this day touching all the things whereof I am accused by the Jews: especially because thou art expert in all customs and questions which are among the Jews: wherefore I beseech thee to hear me patiently. My manner of life then from my youth up, which was from the beginning among mine own nation, and at Jerusalem, know all the Jews: having knowledge of me from the first, if they be willing to testify, how that after the straitest sect of our religion I lived a Pharisee. And now I stand here to be judged for the hope of the promise made of God unto our fathers: unto which promise our twelve tribes, earnestly serving God night and day, hope to attain. And concerning this hope I am accused by the Jews, O king!
- 8 Why is it judged incredible with you, if God doth raise the dead? I verily thought with myself, that I ought to do many things contrary to the name of Jesus of Nazareth.
- 10 And this I also did in Jerusalem: and I both shut up many of the saints in prisons, having received authority from the chief priests, and when they were put to death, I gave my vote against them. And punishing them oftentimes in all the synagogues, I strove to make them blaspheme: and being exceedingly mad against them, I persecuted them even unto foreign cities.
- 12 Whereupon as I journeyed to Damascus with the authority and commission of the chief priests, at midday, O king, I saw on the way a light from heaven, above the brightness of the sun, shining round about me and them that journeyed with me. And when we were all fallen to the earth, I heard a voice saying unto me in the Hebrew language, Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me? it is hard for thee to kick against the goad. And I said, Who art thou, Lord? And the Lord said, I am Jesus whom thou persecutest. But arise, and stand upon thy feet: for to this end have I appeared unto thee, to appoint thee a minister and a witness both of the things wherein thou hast seen me, and of the things wherein I will appear unto thee; delivering thee from the people, and from the Gentiles, unto whom I send thee, to open their eyes, <sup>2</sup> that they may turn from darkness to light, and from the power of Satan unto God, that they may receive remission of sins and an inheritance among them that are sanctified by faith in me.

19 Wherefore, O king Agrippa, I was not disobedient unto the heavenly vision: but declared both to them of Damascus first, and at Jerusalem, and throughout all the country of Judaea, and also to the Gentiles, that they should repent and turn to God, doing works worthy of <sup>3</sup> repentance.

21 For this cause the Jews seized me in the temple, and assayed to kill me. Having therefore obtained the help that is from God, I stand unto this day testifying both to small and great, saying nothing but what the prophets and Moses did say should come; <sup>4</sup> how that the Christ <sup>5</sup> must suffer, and <sup>4</sup> how that he first by the resurrection of the dead should proclaim light both to the people and to the Gentiles.

24 And as he thus made his defence, Festus saith with a loud voice, Paul, thou art mad; thy much learning doth turn thee to madness. But Paul saith, I am not mad, most excellent Festus; but speak forth words of truth and soberness. For the king knoweth of these things, unto whom also I speak freely: for I am persuaded that none of these things is hidden from him; for this hath not been done in a corner.

27 King Agrippa, believest thou the prophets? I know that thou believest. And Agrippa said unto Paul, With but little persuasion thou wouldest fain make me a Christian. And Paul said, I would to God, that whether with little or with much, not thou only, but also all that hear me this day, might become such as I am, except these bonds.

30 And the king rose up, and the governor, and Bernice, and they that sat with them: and when they had withdrawn, they spake one to another, saying, This man doeth nothing worthy of death or of bonds.

32 And Agrippa said unto Festus, This man might have been set at liberty, if he had not appealed unto Caesar.

27 And when it was determined that we should sail for Italy, they delivered Paul and certain other prisoners to a centurion named Julius, of the Augustan band. And embarking in a ship of Adramyttium, which was about to sail unto the places on the coast of Asia, we put to sea, Aristarchus, a Macedonian of Thessalonica, being with us.

3 And the next day we touched at Sidon: and Julius treated Paul kindly, and gave him leave to go unto his friends and <sup>7</sup> refresh himself.

4 And putting to sea from thence, we sailed under the lee of Cyprus, because the winds were contrary. And when we had sailed across the sea which is off Cilicia and Pamphylia, we came to Myra, a city of Lycia.

6 And there the centurion found a ship of Alexandria sailing for Italy; and he put us therein. And when we had sailed slowly many days, and were come with difficulty over against Cnidus, the wind not <sup>8</sup> further suffering us, we sailed under the lee of Crete, over against Salmone; and with difficulty coasting along it we came unto a certain place called Fair Havens; nigh whereunto was the city of Lasea.

9 And when much time was spent, and the voyage was now dangerous, because the Fast was now already gone by, Paul admonished them, and said unto them, Sirs, I perceive that the voyage will be with injury and much loss, not only of the lading and the ship, but also of our lives. But the centurion gave more heed to the master and to the owner of the ship, than to those things which were spoken by Paul.

12 And because the haven was not commodious to winter in, the more part advised to put to sea from thence, if by any means they could reach Phoenix, and winter there; which is a haven of Crete, looking

13 <sup>9</sup> north-east and south-east. And when the south wind blew softly, supposing that they had obtained their purpose, they weighed anchor and sailed along Crete, close in shore. But after no long time there beat down from it a tempestuous wind, which is called Euraquillo:

15 and when the ship was caught, and could not face the wind, we gave way to it, and were driven.

16 And running under the lee of a small island called <sup>10</sup> Cauda, we were able, with difficulty, to secure the boat: and when they had hoisted it up, they used helps, undergirding the ship; and, fearing lest they should be cast upon the Syrtis, they lowered the gear, and so were driven.

18 And as we laboured exceedingly with the storm, the next day they began to throw the freight overboard; and the third day they cast out with their own hands the <sup>11</sup> tackling of the ship. And when neither sun nor stars shone upon us for many days, and no small tempest lay on us, all hope that we should be saved was now taken away. And when they had been long without food, then Paul stood forth in the midst of them, and said, Sirs, ye should have hearkened unto me, and not have set sail from Crete, and have gotten this injury and loss. And now I exhort you to be of good cheer: for there shall be no loss of life among you, but only of the ship.

For there stood by me this night an angel of the God whose I am, whom also I serve, saying, Fear not, Paul; thou must stand before Cæsar: and lo, God hath granted thee all them that sail with thee. Wherefore, sirs, be of good cheer: for I believe God, that it shall be even so as it hath been spoken unto me. Howbeit we must be cast upon a certain island.

But when the fourteenth night was come, as we were driven to and fro in the sea of Adria, about midnight the sailors surmised that they were drawing near to some country: and they sounded, and found twenty fathoms: and after a little space, they sounded again, and found fifteen fathoms. And fearing lest haply we should be cast ashore on rocky ground, they let go four anchors from the stern, and wished for the day. And as the sailors were seeking to flee out of the ship, and had lowered the boat into the sea, under colour as though they would lay out anchors from the foreship, Paul said to the centurion and to the soldiers, Except these abide in the ship, ye cannot be saved. Then the soldiers cut away the ropes of the boat, and let her fall off. And while the day was coming on, Paul besought them all to take some food, saying, This day is the fourteenth day that ye wait and continue fasting, having taken nothing. Wherefore I beseech you to take some food: for this is for your safety: for there shall not a hair perish from the head of any of you. And when he had said this, and had taken bread, he gave thanks to God in the presence of all: and he brake it, and began to eat. Then were they all of good cheer, and themselves also took food. And we were in all in the ship two hundred threescore and sixteen souls.

And when they had eaten enough, they lightened the ship, throwing out the wheat into the sea. And when it was day, they knew not the land: but they perceived a certain bay with a beach, and they took counsel whether they could drive the ship upon it. And casting off the anchors, they left them in the sea, at the same time loosing the bands of the rudders; and hoisting up the foresail to the wind, they made for the beach. But lighting upon a place where two seas met, they ran the vessel aground; and the foreship struck and remained unmoveable, but the stern began to break up by the violence of the waves. And the soldiers' counsel was to kill the prisoners, lest any of them should swim out, and escape. But the centurion, desiring to save Paul, stayed them from their purpose; and commanded that they which could swim should cast themselves overboard, and get first to the land: and the rest, some on planks, and some on other things from the ship. And so it came to pass, that they all escaped safe to the land.

And when we were escaped, then we knew that the island was called Melita. And the barbarians shewed us no common kindness: for they kindled a fire, and received us all, because of the present rain, and because of the cold. But when Paul had gathered a bundle of sticks, and laid them on the fire, a viper came out by reason of the heat, and fastened on his hand. And when the barbarians saw the beast hanging from his hand, they said one to another, No doubt this man is a murderer, whom, though he hath escaped from the sea, yet Justice hath not suffered to live. Howbeit he shook off the beast into the fire, and took no harm. But they expected that he would have swollen, or fallen down dead suddenly: but when they were long in expectation, and beheld nothing amiss come to him, they changed their minds, and said that he was a god.

Now in the neighbourhood of that place were lands belonging to the chief man of the island, named Publius: who received us, and entertained us three days courteously. And it was so, that the father of Publius lay sick of fever and dysentery: unto whom Paul entered in, and prayed, and laying his hands on him healed him. And when this was done, the rest also which had diseases in the island came, and were cured: who also honoured us with many honours; and when we sailed, they put on board such things as we needed.

And after three months we set sail in a ship of Alexandria, which had wintered in the island, whose sign was The Twin Brothers. And touching at Syracuse, we tarried there three days. And from thence we made a circuit, and arrived at Rhegium: and after one day a south wind sprang up, and on the second day we came to Puteoli: where we found brethren, and were intreated to tarry with them seven days: and so we came to Rome. And from thence the brethren, when they heard of us, came to meet us as far as The Market of Appius, and The Three Taverns: whom when Paul saw, he thanked God, and took courage.

And when we entered into Rome, Paul was suffered to abide by himself with the soldier that guarded him.

And it came to pass, that after three days he called together those that were the chief of the Jews; and when they were come together, he said unto them, I, brethren, though

I had done nothing against the people, or the customs of our fathers, yet was delivered prisoner from Jerusalem into the hands of the 18 Romans: who, when they had examined me, desired to set me at liberty, because there was no cause 19 of death in me. But when the Jews spake against it, I was constrained to appeal unto Caesar: not that I had ought to accuse my nation of.
20 For this cause therefore did I intreat you to see and to speak with me: for because of the hope of Israel I am bound with this chain.
21 And they said unto him, We neither received letters from Judæa concerning thee, nor did any of the brethren come hither and report
22 or speak any harm of thee. But we desire to hear of thee what thou thinkest: for as concerning this sect, it is known to us that everywhere it is spoken against.
23 And when they had appointed him a day, they came to him into his lodging in great number; to whom he expounded the matter, testifying the kingdom of God, and persuading them concerning Jesus, both from the law of Moses and from the prophets, from morning till evening.
24 And some believed the things which were spoken, and some disbelieved.

25 And when they agreed not among themselves, they departed, after that Paul had spoken one word, Well spake the Holy Ghost <sup>2</sup> by Isaiah the prophet unto your fathers, saying,
Go thou unto this people, and say, By hearing ye shall hear, and shall in no wise understand; And seeing ye shall see, and shall in no wise perceive:
27 For this people's heart is waxed gross, And their ears are dull of hearing, And their eyes they have closed: Lest haply they should perceive with their eyes, And hear with their ears, And understand with their heart, And should turn again, And I should heal them.
28 Be it known therefore unto you, that this salvation of God is sent unto the Gentiles: they will also hear.<sup>3</sup>

1 PAUL, a <sup>1</sup>servant of Jesus Christ, called to be an apostle, separated
2 unto the gospel of God, which he promised afore <sup>2</sup> by his prophets in the holy scriptures, concerning his Son, who was born of the seed of 4 David according to the flesh, who was <sup>3</sup> declared to be the Son of God <sup>4</sup> with power, according to the spirit of holiness, by the resurrection of the dead; even Jesus Christ our
5 Lord, through whom we received grace and apostleship, unto obedience <sup>5</sup> of faith among all the nations, for his name's sake: among 6 whom are ye also, called to be Jesus Christ's: to all that are in Rome, beloved of God, called to be saints: Grace to you and peace from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.
8 First, I thank my God through Jesus Christ for you all, <sup>6</sup> that your faith is proclaimed throughout the 9 whole world. For God is my witness, whom I serve in my spirit in the gospel of his Son, how unceasingly I make mention of you, always in my prayers making request, if by any means now at length 10 I may be prospered <sup>7</sup> by the will of God to come unto you. For I long to see you, that I may impart unto you some spiritual gift, to the end

12 ye may be established: that is, that I with you may be comforted in you, each of us by the other's faith,
13 both yours and mine. And I would not have you ignorant, brethren, that oftentimes I purposed to come unto you (and was hindered hitherto), that I might have some fruit in you also, even as in the rest of the Gentiles. I am debtor both to 14 Greeks and to Barbarians, both to the wise and to the foolish. So, as much as in me is, I am ready to preach the gospel to you also that 15 are in Rome. For I am not ashamed of the gospel: for it is the power of God unto salvation to every one that believeth: to the Jew first, and 17 also to the Greek. For therein is revealed a righteousness of God <sup>8</sup> by faith unto faith: as it is written, But the righteous shall live <sup>9</sup> by faith.
18 For <sup>9</sup> the wrath of God is revealed from heaven against all ungodliness and unrighteousness of men, who <sup>10</sup> hold down the truth in 19 righteousness: because that which may be known of God is manifest in them; for God manifested it unto 20 them. For the invisible things of him since the creation of the world are clearly seen, being perceived through the things that are made, even his everlasting power and divinity: that they may be without excuse: because that, knowing God, they glorified him not as God, neither gave thanks; but became vain in their reasonings, and their senseless heart was darkened. Professing themselves to be wise, they became fools, and changed the glory of the incorruptible God for the likeness of an image of corruptible man, and of birds, and fourfooted beasts, and creeping things.

Wherefore God gave them up in the lusts of their hearts unto uncleanness, that their bodies should be dishonoured among themselves: for that they exchanged the truth of God for a lie, and worshipped and served the creature rather than the Creator, who is blessed for ever. Amen.

For this cause God gave them up unto vile passions: for their women changed the natural use into that which is against nature: and likewise also the men, leaving the natural use of the woman, burned in their lust one toward another, men with men working unseemliness, and receiving in themselves that recompense of their error which was due.

And even as they refused to have God in their knowledge, God gave them up unto a reprobate mind to do those things which are not fitting; being filled with all unrighteousness, wickedness, covetousness, maliciousness; full of envy, murder, strife, deceit, malignity; whisperers, backbiters, hateful to God, insolent, haughty, boastful, inventors of evil things, disobedient to parents, without understanding, covenant-breakers, without natural affection, unmerciful: who, knowing the ordinance of God, that they which practise such things are worthy of death, not only do the same, but also consent with them that practise them.

Wherefore thou art without excuse, O man, whosever thou art that judgest: for wherein thou judgest another, thou condemnest thyself: for thou that judgest dost practise the same things.

And we know that the judgement of God is according to truth against them that practise such things. And reckonest thou this O man: who judgest them that practise such things and dost the same, that thou shalt escape the judgement of God? Or despisest thou the riches of his goodness and forbearance and longsuffering, not knowing that the goodness of God leadeth thee to repentance? but after thy hardness and impenitent heart treasurest up unto thyself wrath in the day of wrath and revelation of the righteous judgement of God;

who will render to every man according to his works: to them that by patience in well-doing seek for glory and honour and incorruption, eternal life: but unto them that are factious, and obey not the truth, but obey unrighteousness, shall be wrath and indignation, tribulation and anguish, upon every soul of man that worketh evil, of the Jew first, and also of the Greek; but glory and honour and peace to every man that worketh good, to the Jew first, and also to the Greek: for there is no respect of persons with God. For as many as have sinned without law shall also perish without law: and as many as have sinned under law shall be judged by law; for not the hearers of a law are justified before God, but the doers of a law shall be justified: for when Gentiles which have no law do by nature the things of the law, these, having no law, are a law unto themselves; in that they shew the work of the law written in their hearts, their conscience bearing witness therewith, and their thoughts one with another accusing or else excusing them; in the day when God shall judge the secrets of men, according to my gospel, by Jesus Christ.

But if thou bearest the name of a Jew, and retest upon the law, and gloriest in God, and knowest his will, and approvest the things that are excellent, being instructed out of the law, and art confident that thou thyself art a guide of the blind, a light of them that are in darkness, a teacher of babes, having in the law the form of knowledge and of the truth: thou therefore that teachest another, teachest thou not thyself? thou that preachest a man should not steal, dost thou steal? thou that sayest a man should not commit adultery, dost thou commit adultery? thou that abhorrest idols, dost thou rob temples? thou who gloriest in the law, through thy transgression of the law dishonourest thou God? For the name of God is blasphemed among the Gentiles because of you, even as it is written. For circumcision indeed profiteth, if thou be a doer of the law: but if thou be a transgressor of the law, thy circumcision is become uncircumcision. If therefore the uncircumcision keep the ordinances of the law, shall not his uncircumcision be reckoned for circumcision? and shall not the uncircumcision which is by nature, if it fulfil the law, judge thee who with the letter and circumcision art a transgressor of the law? For he is not a Jew, which is one outwardly, neither is that circumcision, which is outward in the flesh; but he is a Jew, which is one inwardly; and circumcision is that of the heart, in the spirit, not in the letter; whose praise is not of men, but of God.

7 cording to his works: to them that by patience in well-doing seek for glory and honour and incorruption, eternal life: but unto them that are factious, and obey not the truth, but obey unrighteousness, shall be wrath and indignation, tribulation and anguish, upon every soul of man that worketh evil, of the Jew first, and also of the Greek; but glory and honour and peace to every man that worketh good, to the Jew first, and also to the Greek: for there is no respect of persons with God. For as many as have sinned without law shall also perish without law: and as many as have sinned under law shall be judged by law; for not the hearers of a law are justified before God, but the doers of a law shall be justified: for when Gentiles which have no law do by nature the things of the law, these, having no law, are a law unto themselves; in that they shew the work of the law written in their hearts, their conscience bearing witness therewith, and their thoughts one with another accusing or else excusing them; in the day when God shall judge the secrets of men, according to my gospel, by Jesus Christ.

3 What advantage then hath the Jew? or what is the profit of circumcision? Much every way: first of all, that they were intrusted with the oracles of God. For what if some were without faith? shall their want of faith make of none effect the faithfulness of God? <sup>1</sup> God forbid: yea, let God be found true, but every man a liar; as it is written.

That thou mightest be justified in thy words.

And mightest prevail when thou comest into judgement.

5 But if our unrighteousness commendeth the righteousness of God, what shall we say? Is God unrighteous who visiteth with wrath? (I speak after the manner of men.)

6 God forbid: for then how shall God judge the world? <sup>2</sup> But if the truth of God through my lie abounded unto his glory, why am I also still judged as a sinner? and why not (as we be slanderously reported, and as some affirm that we say), Let us do evil, that good may come? whose condemnation is just.

9 What then? <sup>3</sup> are we in worse case than they? No, in no wise: for we before laid to the charge both of Jews and Greeks, that they are all under sin; as it is written,

There is none righteous, no, not one;

11 There is none that understandeth, There is none that seeketh after God;

12 They have all turned aside, they are together become unprofitable; There is none that doeth good, no, not so much as one:

13 Their throat is an open sepulchre: With their tongues they have used deceit;

The poison of asps is under their lips:

14 Whose mouth is full of cursing and bitterness:

15 Their feet are swift to shed blood; Destruction and misery are in their ways;

17 And the way of peace have they not known:

18 There is no fear of God before their eyes.

19 Now we know that what things soever the law saith, it speaketh to them that are under the law; that every mouth may be stopped, and all the world may be brought under the judgement of God: because

4 by <sup>5</sup> the works of the law shall no flesh be <sup>6</sup> justified in his sight: for

7 through the law cometh the knowledge of sin. But now apart from the law a righteousness of God hath been manifested, being witnessed by the law and the prophets; even the righteousness of God through faith

8 in Jesus Christ unto all <sup>9</sup> them that believe; for there is no distinction; for all have sinned, and fall

23

24 short of the glory of God: being justified freely by his grace through the redemption that is in Christ Jesus: whom God <sup>10</sup> set forth <sup>11</sup> to be a propitiation, through <sup>12</sup> faith, by his blood, to shew his righteousness, because of the passing over of the sins done aforetime, in the forbear-

26 ance of God; for the shewing, I say, of his righteousness at this present season: that he might himself be <sup>13</sup> just, and the <sup>13</sup> justifier of him that <sup>14</sup> hath faith <sup>8</sup> in Jesus. Where then is the glorying? It is excluded. By what manner of law? of works? Nay: but by a law of faith.

28 <sup>15</sup> We reckon therefore that a man is justified by faith apart from <sup>5</sup> the works of the law. Or is God the God of Jews only? is he not the God of Gentiles also? Yea, of Gentiles

30 also: if so be that God is one, and he shall justify the circumcision <sup>4</sup> by faith, and the uncircumcision

31 <sup>16</sup> through faith. Do we then make <sup>17</sup> the law of none effect <sup>16</sup> through faith? God forbid: nay, we establish <sup>17</sup> the law.

4 What then shall we say <sup>18</sup> that Abraham, our forefather according <sup>2</sup> to the flesh, hath found? For if Abraham was justified <sup>4</sup> by works, he hath whereof to glory; but not toward God. For what saith the scripture? And Abraham believed God, and it was reckoned unto him

4 for righteousness. Now to him that worketh, the reward is not reckoned <sup>5</sup> as of grace, but as of debt. But to him that worketh not, but believeth on him that justifieth the ungodly, his faith is reckoned for right-

6 eousness. Even as David also pronounceth blessing upon the man, unto whom God reckoneth right-

7 eousness apart from works, saying, Blessed are they whose iniquities are forgiven,

And whose sins are covered. 8 Blessed is the man to whom the Lord will not reckon sin.

9 Is this blessing then pronounced upon the circumcision, or upon the uncircumcision also? for we say, To Abraham his faith was reckoned

10 for righteousness. How then was it reckoned? when he was in circum-

11 cision, or in uncircumcision? Not in circumcision, but in uncircum-

12 cision: and he received the sign of circumcision, a seal of the righteousness of the faith which he had while he was in uncircumcision: that he might be the father of all them that believe, though they be in uncircumcision, that righteousness might be reckoned unto them; and the father of circumcision to them who not only are of the circum-

13 cision, but who also walk in the steps of that faith of our father Abraham which he had in uncircumcision. For not <sup>7</sup> through the law was the promise to Abraham or to his seed, that he should be heir of the world, but through the right-

14 eousness of faith. For if they which are of the law be heirs, faith is made void, and the promise is made of none effect: for the law worketh wrath; but where there is no law, neither is there transgression. For this cause it is of faith, that it may be according to grace; to the end that the promise may be sure to all the seed; not to that only which is of the law, but to that also which is of the faith of Abraham, who is the father of us all (as it is written, A father of many nations have I made thee) before him whom he believed, even God, who quickeneth the dead, and calleth the things that are not, as though they were. Who in hope believed against hope, to the end that he might become a father of many nations, according to that which had been spoken. So shall thy seed be. And without being weakened in faith he considered his own body <sup>1</sup> now as good as dead (he being about a hundred years old), and the deadness of Sarah's womb: yea, looking unto the promise of God, he wavered not through unbelief, but waxed strong through faith, giving glory to God, and being fully assured that what he had promised, he was able also to perform. Wherefore also it was reckoned unto him for righteousness. Now it was not written for his sake alone, that it was reckoned unto him; but for our sake also unto whom it shall be reckoned, who believe on him that raised Jesus our Lord from the dead, who was delivered up for our trespasses, and was raised for our justification.

5 Being therefore justified <sup>2</sup> by faith, <sup>3</sup> let us have peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ; through whom also we have had our access <sup>4</sup> by faith into this grace wherein we stand; and <sup>5</sup> let us also <sup>6</sup> rejoice in hope of the glory of God. And not only so, but <sup>7</sup> let us also <sup>8</sup> rejoice in our tribulations: knowing that tribulation worketh patience; and patience, probation; and probation, hope; and hope putteth not to shame; because the love of God hath been shed abroad in our hearts through the <sup>9</sup> Holy Ghost which was given unto us. For while we were yet weak, in due season Christ died for the ungodly. For scarcely for a righteous man will one die: for peradventure for <sup>10</sup> the good man some one would even dare to die. But God commendeth his own love toward us, in that, while we were yet sinners, Christ died for us. Much more then being now justified <sup>11</sup> by his blood, shall we be saved from the wrath of God through him. For if, while we were enemies, we were reconciled to God through the death of his Son, much more, being reconciled, shall we be saved <sup>12</sup> by his life: and not only so, <sup>13</sup> but we also rejoice in God through our Lord Jesus Christ, through whom we have now received the reconciliation.

12 Therefore, as through one man sin entered into the world, and death through sin; and so death passed unto all men, for that all sinned:— 13 for until the law sin was in the world: but sin is not imputed when there is no law. Nevertheless death reigned from Adam until Moses, even over them that had not sinned after the likeness of Adam's transgression, who is a figure of him that was to come. But not as the trespass, so also is the free gift. For if by the trespass of the one the many died, much more did the grace of God, and the gift by the grace of the one man, Jesus Christ, abound unto the many. And not as through one that sinned, so is the gift: for the judgement came of one unto condemnation, but the free gift came of many trespasses unto <sup>14</sup> justification. For if, by the trespass of the one, death reigned through the one; much more shall they that receive the abundance of grace and <sup>15</sup> of the gift of righteousness reign in life through the one, even Jesus Christ. So then as through one trespass the judgement came unto all men to condemnation; even so through one act of righteousness the free gift came unto all men to justification of life. For as through the one man's disobedience the many were made sinners, even so through the obedience of the one shall the many be made righteous. And <sup>16</sup> the law came in beside that the trespass might abound, but where sin abounded grace did abound more exceeding-ly: that, as sin reigned in death, even so might grace reign through righteousness unto eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord.

6 What shall we say then? Shall we continue in sin, that grace may abound? God forbid. We who died to sin, how shall we any longer live therein? Or are ye ignorant that all we who were baptized into Christ Jesus were baptized into his death? 4 We were buried therefore with him through baptism into death: that like as Christ was raised from the dead through the glory of the Father, so we also might walk in newness of life. For if we have become <sup>5</sup> united with him by the likeness of his death, we shall be also by the likeness of his resurrection. 6 Knowing this, that our old man was crucified with him, that the body of sin might be done away, that so we should no longer be in bondage to sin: for he that hath died is justified from sin. But if we died with Christ, we believe that we shall also live with him; knowing that Christ being raised from the dead dieth no more; death no more hath dominion over him. For <sup>16</sup> the death that he died, he died unto sin <sup>17</sup> once; but <sup>18</sup> the life that he liveth, he liveth

11 eth unto God. Even so reckon ye also yourselves to be dead unto sin, but alive unto God in Christ Jesus.

12 Let not sin therefore reign in your mortal body, that ye should obey the lusts thereof; neither present your members unto sin as <sup>1</sup> instruments of unrighteousness; but present yourselves unto God, as alive from the dead, and your members as <sup>1</sup> instruments of righteousness unto God. For sin shall not have dominion over you: for ye are not under law, but under grace.

15 What then? shall we sin, because we are not under law, but under grace? God forbid. Know ye not, that to whom ye present yourselves as <sup>2</sup> servants unto obedience, his <sup>2</sup> servants ye are whom ye obey; whether of sin unto death, or of obedience unto righteousness? But thanks be to God, <sup>3</sup> that, whereas ye were <sup>2</sup> servants of sin, ye became obedient from the heart to that <sup>4</sup> form of teaching whereunto ye <sup>2</sup> were delivered; and being made free from sin, ye became <sup>2</sup> servants of righteousness. I speak after the manner of men because of the infirmity of your flesh: for as ye presented your members as servants to uncleanness and to iniquity unto iniquity, even so now present your members as servants to righteousness unto sanctification. For when ye were <sup>2</sup> servants of sin, ye were free in regard of righteousness. What fruit then had ye at that time in the things whereof ye are now ashamed? for the end of those things is death. But now being made free from sin, and become servants to God, ye have your fruit unto sanctification, and the end eternal life.

23 For the wages of sin is death; but the free gift of God is eternal life in Christ Jesus our Lord.

7 Or are ye ignorant, brethren (for I speak to men that know <sup>5</sup> the law), how that the law hath dominion over a man for so long time as he liveth? For the woman that hath a husband is bound by law to the husband while he liveth; but if the husband die, she is discharged <sup>3</sup> from the law of the husband. So then if, while the husband liveth, she be joined to another man, she shall be called an adulteress: but if the husband die, she is free from the law, so that she is no adulteress, though she be joined to another <sup>4</sup> man. Wherefore, my brethren, ye also were made dead to the law through the body of Christ: that ye should be joined to another, even to him who was raised from the dead, that we might bring forth <sup>5</sup> fruit unto God. For when we were in the flesh, the <sup>6</sup> sinful passions, which were through the law, wrought in our members to bring forth fruit unto death. But now we have been discharged from the law, having died to that wherein we were holden; so that we serve in newness of the spirit, and not in oldness of the letter.

7 What shall we say then? Is the law sin? God forbid. Howbeit, I had not known sin, except through <sup>5</sup> the law: for I had not known <sup>7</sup> coveting, except the law had said, <sup>8</sup> Thou shalt not <sup>7</sup> covet: but sin, finding occasion, wrought in me through the commandment all manner of <sup>7</sup> coveting: for apart from <sup>5</sup> the law sin is dead. And I was alive apart from <sup>5</sup> the law once: but when the commandment came, sin revived, and I died; and the commandment, which <sup>5</sup> was unto life, this I found to <sup>11</sup> be unto death: for sin, finding occasion, through the commandment beguiled me, and through it slew me. <sup>12</sup> So that the law is holy, and the commandment holy, and righteous, and good. Did then that which is good become death unto me? God forbid. But sin, that it might be shewn to be sin, by working death to me through that which is good: —that through the commandment sin might become exceeding sinful.

14 For we know that the law is spiritual: but I am carnal, sold under sin. For that which I <sup>8</sup> do I know not: for not what I would, that do I practise; but what I hate, that I do. But if what I would not, that I do, I consent unto the law that it is good. So now it is no more I that <sup>8</sup> do it, but sin which dwelleth in me. For I know that in me, that is, in my flesh, dwelleth no good thing: for to will is present with me, but to <sup>8</sup> do that which is good is not. For the good which I would I do not: but the evil which I would not, that I practise. But if what I would not, that I do, it is no more I that <sup>8</sup> do it, but sin which dwelleth in me. I find then <sup>9</sup> the law, that, to me who would do good, evil is present. For I delight <sup>10</sup> in the law of God after the inward man: but I see a different law in my members, warring against the law of my mind, and bringing me into captivity <sup>11</sup> under the law of sin which is in my members. O wretched man that I am! who shall deliver me out of <sup>12</sup> the body of this death?

25 <sup>13</sup> I thank God through Jesus Christ our Lord. So then I myself with the mind serve the law of God; but with the flesh the law of sin.

8 There is therefore now no condemnation to them that are in Christ Jesus. For the law of the Spirit of life in Christ Jesus made me free from the law of sin and of death.

3 For what the law could not do, <sup>14</sup> in that it was weak through the flesh, God, sending his own Son in the likeness of <sup>15</sup> sinful flesh <sup>16</sup> and as an offering for sin, condemned sin in <sup>4</sup> the flesh: that the <sup>17</sup> ordinance of the law might be fulfilled in us, who walk not after the flesh, but after the spirit. For they that are after the flesh do mind the things of the flesh; but they that are after the spirit the things of the spirit.

 6 For the mind of the flesh is death; but the mind of the spirit is life
 7 and peace: because the mind of the flesh is enmity against God; for it is not subject to the law of God,
 8 neither indeed can it be: and they that are in the flesh cannot please 9 God. But ye are not in the flesh, but in the spirit, if so be that the Spirit of God dwelleth in you. But if any man hath not the Spirit of 10 Christ, he is none of his. And if Christ is in you, the body is dead because of sin; but the spirit is life
 11 because of righteousness. But if the Spirit of him that raised up Jesus from the dead dwelleth in you, he that raised up Christ Jesus from the dead shall quicken also your mortal bodies through his Spirit that dwelleth in you.

12 So then, brethren, we are debtors, not to the flesh, to live after the flesh: for if ye live after the flesh, ye must die; but if by the spirit ye
 13 mortify the deeds of the body, ye shall live. For as many as are led by the Spirit of God, these are sons 14 of God. For ye received not the spirit of bondage again unto fear; but ye received the spirit of adoption, whereby we cry, Abba, Father.
 15 The Spirit himself beareth witness with our spirit, that we are children of God: and if children, then heirs; heirs of God, and joint-heirs with Christ; if so be that we suffer with him, that we may be also glorified with him.

16 For I reckon that the sufferings of this present time are not worthy to be compared with the glory which 17 shall be revealed to us-ward. For the earnest expectation of the creation waiteth for the revealing of the sons of God. For the creation was subjected to vanity, not of its own will, but by reason of him who subjected it, in hope that the creation 18 itself also shall be delivered from the bondage of corruption into the liberty of the glory of the children of God. For we know that the whole 19 creation groaneth and travaileth in pain together until now. And not only so, but ourselves also, which have the firstfruits of the Spirit, even we ourselves groan within ourselves, waiting for our adoption, to wit, the redemption of our body.
 20 For by hope we were saved: but hope that is seen is not hope: for who hopeth for that which he seeth? But if we hope for that which we see not, then do we with patience wait for it.

21 And in like manner the Spirit also helpeth our infirmity: for we know not how to pray as we ought; but the Spirit himself maketh intercession for us with groanings which cannot be uttered: and he that searcheth the hearts knoweth what is the mind of the Spirit, because he maketh intercession for the saints according to the will of God. And we know that to them that love God all things work together for good, even to them that are called according to his purpose. For whom he foreknew, he also foreordained to be conformed to the image of his Son, that he might be the firstborn among many brethren: and whom he foreordained, them he also called: and whom he called, them he also justified: and whom he justified, them he also glorified.

11 What then shall we say to these things? If God is for us, who is against us? He that spared not his own Son, but delivered him up for us all, how shall he not also with him freely give us all things? Who shall lay anything to the charge of God's elect? It is God that justifieth: who is he that condemneth? It is Christ Jesus that died, yea rather, that was raised from the dead, who is at the right hand of God, who also maketh intercession for us. Who shall separate us from the love of Christ? shall tribulation, or anguish, or persecution, or famine, or nakedness, or peril, or sword? Even as it is written,

For thy sake we are killed all the day long;

We were accounted as sheep for the slaughter.

12 Nay, in all these things we are more than conquerors through him that loved us. For I am persuaded, that neither death, nor life, nor angels, nor principalities, nor things present, nor things to come, nor powers, nor height, nor depth, nor any other creature, shall be able to separate us from the love of God, which is in Christ Jesus our Lord.

13 I say the truth in Christ, I lie not, my conscience bearing witness with me in the Holy Ghost, that I have great sorrow and unceasing pain in my heart. For I could wish that I myself were anathema from Christ for my brethren's sake, my kinsmen according to the flesh: who are Israelites; whose is the adoption, and the glory, and the covenants, and the giving of the law, and the service of God, and the promises; whose are the fathers, and of whom is Christ as concerning the flesh, who is over all, God blessed for ever. Amen. But it is not as though the word of God hath come to nought. For they are not all Israel, which are of Israel: neither, because they are Abraham's seed, are they all children: but, in Isaac shall thy seed be called. That is, it is not the children of the flesh that are children of God; but the children of the promise are reckoned for a seed. For this is a word of promise. According to this season will I come, and Sarah shall have a son. And not only so; but Rebecca also having conceived by one, even

11 by our father Isaac—for the children being not yet born, neither having done anything good or bad, that the purpose of God according to election might stand, not of works, but of him that calleth, it was said unto her, The elder shall serve the younger. Even as it is written, Jacob I loved, but Esau I hated.

14 What shall we say then? Is there unrighteousness with God? God forbid. For he saith to Moses, I will have mercy on whom I have mercy, and I will have compassion on whom I have compassion. So then it is not of him that willeth, nor of him that runneth, but of God that hath mercy.

17 For the scripture saith unto Pharaoh, For this very purpose did I raise thee up, that I might shew in thee my power, and that my name might be published abroad in all the earth. So then he hath mercy on whom he will, and whom he will he hardeneth.

19 Thou wilt say then unto me, Why doth he still find fault? For who withstandeth his will? Nay but, O man, who art thou that repliest against God? Shall the thing formed say to him that formed it, Why didst thou make me thus? Or hath not the potter a right over the clay, from the same lump to make one part a vessel unto honour, and another unto dishonour? What if God, willing to shew his wrath, and to make his power known, endured with much longsuffering vessels of wrath fitted unto destruction: and that he might make known the riches of his glory upon vessels of mercy, which he afore prepared unto glory, even us, whom he also called, not from the Jews only, but also from the Gentiles? As he saith also in Hosea,

I will call that my people, which was not my people;
And her beloved, which was not beloved.

26 And it shall be, that in the place where it was said unto them, Ye are not my people,
There shall they be called sons of the living God.

27 And Isaiah crieth concerning Israel, If the number of the children of Israel be as the sand of the sea, it is the remnant that shall be saved:
28 for the Lord will execute his word upon the earth, finishing it and cutting it short. And, as Isaiah hath said before,

Except the Lord of Sabaoth had left us a seed,

We had become as Sodom, and had been made like unto Gomorrah.

30 What shall we say then? That the Gentiles, which followed not after righteousness, attained to righteousness, even the righteousness which

31 is of faith: but Israel, following after a law of righteousness, did not arrive at that law. Wherefore? <sup>2</sup>Because they sought it not by faith, but as it were by works. They stumbled at the stone of stumbling; even as it is written,

Behold, I lay in Zion a stone of stumbling and a rock of offence: And he that believeth on <sup>3</sup>him shall not be put to shame.

10 Brethren, my heart's desire and my supplication to God is for them, that they may be saved. For I bear them witness that they have a zeal for God, but not according to knowledge. For being ignorant of God's righteousness, and seeking to establish their own, they did not subject themselves to the righteousness of God. For Christ is the end of the law unto righteousness to every one that believeth. For Moses writeth that the man that doeth the righteousness which is of the law shall live thereby. But the righteousness which is of faith saith thus, Say not in thy heart, Who shall ascend into heaven? (that is, to bring Christ down:) or, Who shall descend into the abyss? (that is, to bring Christ up from the dead.) But what saith it? The word is nigh thee, in thy mouth, and in thy heart: that is, the word of faith, which we preach:

9 because if thou shalt confess with thy mouth Jesus as Lord, and shalt believe in thy heart that God raised him from the dead, thou shalt be saved: for with the heart man believeth unto righteousness; and with the mouth confession is made unto salvation. For the scripture saith, Whosoever believeth on him shall not be put to shame. For there is no distinction between Jew and Greek: for the same Lord is Lord of all, and is rich unto all that call upon him: for, Whosoever shall call upon the name of the Lord shall be saved. How then shall they call on him in whom they have not believed? and how shall they believe in him whom they have not heard? and how shall they hear without a preacher? and how shall they preach, except they be sent? even as it is written, How beautiful are the feet of them that bring glad tidings of good things!

16 But they did not all hearken to the glad tidings. For Isaiah saith, Lord, who hath believed our report? So belief cometh of hearing, and hearing by the word of Christ. But I say, Did they not hear? Yea, verily,

Their sound went out into all the earth,

And their words unto the ends of the world.

19 But I say, Did Israel not know? First Moses saith,

I will provoke you to jealousy with that which is no nation. With a nation void of understanding will I anger you.

21 But as to Israel he saith, All the day long did I spread out my hands unto a disobedient and gainsaying people.

11 I say then, Did God cast off his people? God forbid. For I also am an Israelite, of the seed of Abraham, of the tribe of Benjamin. God did not cast off his people which he foreknew. Or wot ye not what the scripture saith <sup>1</sup> of Elijah? how he pleadeth with God against Israel.

3 Lord, they have killed thy prophets, they have digged down thine altars; and I am left alone, and they seek

4 my life. But what saith the answer of God unto him? I have left for myself seven thousand men, who have not bowed the knee to Baal.

5 Even so then at this present time also there is a remnant according

6 to the election of grace. But if it is by grace, it is no more of works; otherwise Grace is no more grace.

7 What then? That which Israel seeketh for, that he obtained not; but the election obtained it, and the

8 rest were hardened: according as it is written, God gave them a spirit of stupor, eyes that they should not see, and ears that they should not

9 hear, unto this very day. And David saith,

Let their table be made a snare, and a trap,

And a stumblingblock, and a recompense unto them:

10 Let their eyes be darkened, that they may not see,

And bow thou down their back alway.

11 I say then, Did they stumble that they might fall? God forbid: but by their <sup>2</sup> fall salvation is come unto the Gentiles, for to provoke them

12 to jealousy. Now if their fall is the riches of the world, and their loss the riches of the Gentiles; how much more their fulness?

13 But I speak to you that are Gentiles. Inasmuch then as I am an apostle of Gentiles, I glorify my

14 ministry: if by any means I may provoke to jealousy them that are of my flesh, and may save some of them. For if the casting away of

15 them is the reconciling of the world, what shall the receiving of them be, but life from the dead? And if the

16 firstfruit is holy, so is the lump; and if the root is holy, so are

17 the branches. But if some of the branches were broken off, and thou, being a wild olive, wast grafted in among them, and didst become partaker with them <sup>3</sup> of the root of the 18 fatness of the olive tree; glory not over the branches; but if thou gloryest it is not thou that bearest the root, but the root thee. Thou wilt

19 say then, Branches were broken off, that I might be grafted in. Well;

20 by their unbelief they were broken off, and thou standest by thy faith.

21 Be not highminded, but fear: for if God spared not the natural branches,

22 neither will he spare thee. Behold then the goodness and severity of God: toward them that fell, severity;

23 but toward thee, God's goodness, if thou continue in his goodness: otherwise thou also shalt be

24 cut off. And they also, if they continue not in their unbelief, shall be grafted in: for God is able to graft

25 them in again. For if thou wast cut out of that which is by nature

26 a wild olive tree, and wast grafted contrary to nature into a good olive tree: how much more shall these,

27 which are the natural branches, be grafted into their own olive tree?

28 For I would not, brethren, have you ignorant of this mystery, lest ye be wise in your own conceits,

29 that a hardening in part hath befallen Israel, until the fulness of the Gentiles be come in; and so

30 all Israel shall be saved: even as it is written,

There shall come out of Zion the Deliverer;

He shall turn away <sup>4</sup> ungodliness from Jacob:

27 And this is <sup>5</sup> my covenant unto them,

When I shall take away their sins.

28 As touching the gospel, they are enemies for your sake: but as touching the election, they are

29 beloved for the fathers' sake. For the gifts and the calling of God

30 are <sup>6</sup> without repentance. For as ye in time past were disobedient to God, but now have obtained mercy

31 by their disobedience, even so have these also now been disobedient,

32 that by the mercy shewn to you they also may now obtain mercy.

33 For God hath shut up all unto disobedience, that he might have mercy upon all.

34 O the depth <sup>7</sup> of the riches <sup>8</sup> both of the wisdom and the knowledge of God! how unsearchable are his judgements, and his ways past tracing out!

35 For who hath known the mind of the Lord? or who hath been his counsellor? or who hath 36 first given to him, and it shall be recompensed unto him again? For of him, and through him, and unto him, are all things. To him be the glory <sup>9</sup> for ever. Amen.

12 I beseech you therefore, brethren, by the mercies of God, to present your bodies a living sacrifice, holy, <sup>10</sup> acceptable to God, which

2 is your <sup>11</sup> reasonable <sup>12</sup> service. And be not fashioned according to this

13 world; but be ye transformed by the renewing of your mind, that ye may prove what is <sup>14</sup> the good and

8 Or, it

according as God hath dealt to each 4 man a measure of faith. For even as we have many members in one body, and all the members have not

5 the same office: so we, who are many, are one body in Christ, and severally gifts one of another.

6 And having gifts differing according to the grace that was given to us, whether prophecy, let us prophesy

7 according to the proportion of our faith; or ministry, let us give our- selves to our ministry; or he that

8 teacheth, to his teaching; or he that exhorteth, to his exhorting; he that giveth, let him do it with 2 liberality;

9 he that ruleth, with diligence; he that sheweth mercy, with cheerfulness.
Let love be without hypocrisy.

10 Abhor that which is evil; cleave to that which is good. In love of the brethren be tenderly affectioned

11 one another; in diligence not slothful;
fervent in spirit; serving 3 the 12 Lord; rejoicing in hope; patient in tribulation; continuing stedfast-ly in prayer; communicating to the 13 necessities of the saints; 4 given to hospitality. Bless them that persecute you; bless, and curse not.

14 Rejoice with them that rejoice;
weep with them that weep. Be of the same mind one toward another.

15 Set not your mind on high things, but 5 condescend to 6 things that are lowly. Be not wise in your own

16 conceits. Render to no man evil for evil. Take thought for things honourable in the sight of all men.

17 If it be possible, as much as in you lieth, be at peace with all men.

18 Avenge not yourselves, beloved, but give place unto 7 wrath: for it is written. Vengeance belongeth unto me; I will recompense. saith

19 the Lord. But if thine enemy hunger, feed him; if he thirst, give him to drink: for in so doing thou shalt heap coals of fire upon his 20 head. Be not overcome of evil, but overcome evil with good.

21 13 Let every soul be in subjection to the higher powers; for there is no power but of God; and the

2 powers that be are ordained of God.
Therefore he that resisteth the power, withstandeth the ordinance

3 of God: and they that withstand shall receive to themselves judgment. For rulers are not a terror

4 to the good work, but to the evil.
And wouldest thou have no fear of the power? do that which is 5 good, and thou shalt have praise from the same: for 8 he is a minister of God to thee for good. But 6 if thou do that which is evil, be afraid: for 9 he beareth not the sword in vain: for 10 he is a minister of God, an avenger for wrath to him

11 that doeth evil. Wherefore ye must needs be in subjection, not only because of the wrath, but also for 6 conscience sake. For for this cause ye pay tribute also; for they are ministers of God's service, attending continually upon this very 7 thing. Render to all their dues:

tribute to whom tribute is due; custom to whom custom; fear to whom fear; honour to whom honour.

8 Owe no man anything, save to love one another: for he that loveth 9 his neighbour hath fulfilled 10 the 9 law. For this, Thou shalt not commit adultery. Thou shalt not kill,

Thou shalt not steal, Thou shalt

10 not covet, and if there be any other commandment, it is summed up in this word, namely, Thou shalt

11 love thy neighbour as thyself. Love worketh no ill to his neighbour;
love therefore is the fulfilment of 12 the law.

13 And this, knowing the season, that now it is high time for you to awake out of sleep: for now is 11 salvation

14 nearer to us than when we first believed. The night is far spent, and the day is at hand: let us

15 therefore cast off the works of darkness, and let us put on the armour of light. Let us walk honestly, as 16 in the day; not in revelling and drunkenness, not in chambering and wantonness, not in strife and 17 jealousy. But put ye on the Lord Jesus Christ, and make not provision for the flesh, to fulfil the lusts

18 thereof.

19 14 But him that is weak in faith receive ye, yet not 12 to doubtful

20 disputations. One man hath faith to eat all things; but he that is 3 weak eateth herbs. Let not him

4 that eateth set at nought him that eateth not; and let not him that eateth not judge him that eateth:

5 for God hath received him. Who art thou that judgest the 13 servant
of another? to his own lord he 6 standeth or falleth. Yes, he shall be made to stand: for the Lord hath power to make him stand. One man

7 esteemeth one day above another:
another esteemeth every day alike.
Let each man be fully assured in 8 his own mind. He that regardeth the day, regardeth it unto the Lord;

and he that eateth, eateth unto the 9 Lord, for he giveth God thanks; and he that eateth not, unto the Lord he eateth not, and giveth God

10 thanks. For none of us liveth to himself, and none dieth to himself.

11 For whether we live, we live unto the Lord; or whether we die, we die unto the Lord: whether we live

12 therefore, or die, we are the Lord's.
9 For to this end Christ died, and lived again, that he might be Lord

13 of both the dead and the living.
10 But thou, why dost thou judge thy brother? or thou again, why dost thou set at nought thy brother? for we shall all stand before the judgement-seat of God. For it is written,
As I live, saith the Lord, to me
every knee shall bow.
And every tongue shall 14 confess to God.

12 So then each one of us shall give account of himself to God.

13 Let us not therefore judge one another any more: but judge ye this rather, that no man put a stumblingblock in his brother's way, or an occasion of falling. I know, and am persuaded in the Lord Jesus, that nothing is unclean of itself: save that to him who accounteth anything to be unclean, to him it is unclean. For if because of meat thy brother is grieved, thou walkest no longer in love. Destroy not with thy meat him for whom Christ died. Let not then your good be evil spoken of:

for the kingdom of God is not eating and drinking, but righteousness and peace and joy in the Holy Ghost.

18 For he that herein serveth Christ is well-pleasing to God, and approved of men. So then let us follow after things which make for peace, and things whereby we may edify one another. Overthrow not for meat's sake the work of God. All things indeed are clean; howbeit it is evil for that man who eateth with offence. It is good not to eat flesh, nor to drink wine, nor to do anything whereby thy brother stumbleth<sup>2</sup>. The faith which thou hast, have thou to thyself before God. Happy is he that judgeth not himself in that which he

<sup>3</sup>approveth. But he that doubteth is condemned if he eat, because he eateth not of faith; and whatsoever is not of faith is sin.<sup>4</sup>

15 Now we that are strong ought to bear the infirmities of the weak, and not to please ourselves.

2 Let each one of us please his neighbour for that which is good, unto

3 edifying. For Christ also pleased not himself; but, as it is written, The reproaches of them that re-

4 proached thee fell upon me. For whatsoever things were written aforetime were written for our learning, that through patience and through comfort of the scriptures

5 we might have hope. Now the God of patience and of comfort grant you to be of the same mind one with another according to Christ

6 Jesus: that with one accord ye may with one mouth glorify the

God and Father of our Lord Jesus

7 Christ. Wherefore receive ye one another, even as Christ also received<sup>5</sup> you, to the glory of God.

8 For I say that Christ hath been made a minister of the circumcision for the truth of God, that he might confirm the promises

9 given unto the fathers, and that the Gentiles might glorify God for his mercy; as it is written,

Therefore will I give praise unto thee among the Gentiles,
And sing unto thy name.

10 And again he saith,
Rejoice, ye Gentiles, with his people.

11 And again,

Praise the Lord, all ye Gentiles;
And let all the peoples praise him.

12 And again, Isaiah saith,

There shall be the root of Jesse,
And he that ariseth to rule over the Gentiles;

On him shall the Gentiles hope.

13 Now the God of hope fill you with all joy and peace in believing, that ye may abound in hope, in the power of the Holy Ghost.

14 And I myself also am persuaded of you, my brethren, that ye yourselves are full of goodness, filled with all knowledge, able also to

15 admonish one another. But I write the more boldly unto you in some measure, as putting you again in remembrance, because of the grace

16 that was given me of God, that I should be a minister of Christ Jesus unto the Gentiles, ministering the gospel of God, that the offering up of the Gentiles might be made acceptable, being sanctified by the 17 Holy Ghost. I have therefore my glorying in Christ Jesus in things

18 pertaining to God. For I will not dare to speak of any<sup>8</sup> things save those which Christ wrought through me, for the obedience of the Gentiles, by word and deed, in the power of signs and wonders, in the power of<sup>9</sup> the Holy Ghost; so that from Jerusalem, and round about even unto Illyricum, I have<sup>10</sup> fully 20 preached the gospel of Christ: yea, making it my aim so to preach the gospel, not where Christ was already named, that I might not build upon another man's founda-

21 tion; but, as it is written,

They shall see, to whom no tidings of him came.

And they who have not heard shall understand.

22 Wherefore also I was hindered these many times from coming to you.

23 but now, having no more any place in these regions, and having these many years a longing to come unto

24 you, whensoever I go unto Spain (for I hope to see you in my journey, and to be brought on my way

thitherward by you, if first in some measure I shall have been satisfied

25 with your company)—but now, I say, I go unto Jerusalem, minister-

26 ing unto the saints. For it hath been the good pleasure of Macedonia and Achaia to make a certain contri-

27 bution for the poor among the saints that are at Jerusalem. Yea, it hath been their good pleasure; and their debtors they are. For if the Gentiles have been made partakers of their spiritual things, they owe it to them also to minister unto 28 them in carnal things. When therefore I have accomplished this, and have sealed to them this fruit. I

29 will go on by you unto Spain. And I know that, when I come unto you, I shall come in the fulness of the blessing of Christ.

For they that are such serve not our Lord Christ, but their own belly; and by their smooth and fair speech they beguile the hearts of the innocent.
19 For your obedience is come abroad unto all men. I rejoice therefore over you: but I would have you wise unto that which is good, and simple unto that which is evil.

1 PAUL, called to be an apostle of Jesus Christ through the will of God, and Sothenes<sup>1</sup> our brother,
2 unto the church of God which is at Corinth, even them that are sanctified in Christ Jesus, called to be saints, with all that call upon the name of our Lord Jesus Christ in every place, their Lord and ours:
3 Grace to you and peace from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.
4 I thank my God always concerning you, for the grace of God which was given you in Christ Jesus; that in everything ye were enriched in him, in all utterance and all knowledge; even as the testimony of Christ was confirmed in you: so that ye come behind in no gift; waiting for the revelation of our Lord Jesus Christ: who shall also confirm you unto the end, that ye be unreprouvable in the day of our Lord Jesus Christ. into the fellowship of his Son Jesus Christ our Lord.

10 Now I beseech you, brethren, through the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that ye all speak the same thing, and that there be no divisions among you; but that ye be perfected together in the same mind and in the same judgement.

11 For it hath been signified unto me concerning you, my brethren, by them which are of the household of Chloe, that there are contentions among you. Now this I mean, that each one of you saith, I am of Paul; and I of Apollos; and I of Cephas; and I of Christ. <sup>1</sup>Is Christ divided?

12 was Paul crucified for you? or were ye baptized into the name of Paul?

13 I thank God that I baptized none of you, save Crispus and Gaius;

14 lest any man should say that ye were baptized into my name. And I baptized also the household of Stephanas: besides, I know not whether I baptized any other. For Christ sent me not to baptize, but to preach the gospel: not in wisdom of words, lest the cross of Christ should be made void.

15 For the word of the cross is to them that are perishing foolishness; but unto us which are being saved it is the power of God. For it is written,

I will destroy the wisdom of the wise.

And the prudence of the prudent will I reject.

16 Where is the wise? where is the scribe? where is the disputer of this <sup>2</sup>world? hath not God made foolish the wisdom of the world?

17 For seeing that in the wisdom of God the world through its wisdom knew not God, it was God's good pleasure through the foolishness of the <sup>3</sup>preaching to save them that believe. Seeing that Jews ask for signs, and Greeks seek after wisdom: but we preach <sup>4</sup>Christ crucified, unto Jews a stumblingblock, 18 and unto Gentiles foolishness; but unto <sup>5</sup>them that are called, both Jews and Greeks, (Christ the power of God, and the wisdom of God. Because the foolishness of God is wiser than men; and the weakness of God is stronger than men.

19 For <sup>6</sup>behold your calling, brethren, how that not many wise after the flesh, not many mighty,

20 not many noble, <sup>7</sup>are called: but God chose the foolish things of the world, that he might put to shame them that are wise; and God chose the weak things of the world, that he might put to shame the things that are strong; and the base things of the world, and the things that are despised, did God choose, <sup>8</sup>yea

21 and the things that are not, that he might bring to nought the things that are: that no flesh should glory before God. But of him are ye in Christ Jesus, who was made unto us wisdom from God, <sup>9</sup>and righteousness and sanctification, and redemption: that, according as it is written, He that glorieth, let him glory in the Lord.

2 And I, brethren, when I came unto you, came not with excellency of <sup>10</sup>speech or of wisdom, proclaiming to you the <sup>11</sup>mystery of God. For I determined not to know anything among you, save Jesus Christ, and him crucified. And I was with you in weakness, and in fear, and in much trembling.

3 And my <sup>12</sup>speech and my <sup>13</sup>preaching were not in persuasive words of wisdom, but in demonstration of the Spirit and of power: that your faith should not <sup>14</sup>stand in the wisdom of men, but in the power of God.

4 Howbeit we speak wisdom among the <sup>15</sup>perfect: yet a wisdom not of this <sup>16</sup>world, nor of the rulers of this <sup>17</sup>world, which are coming to nought: but we speak God's wisdom in a mystery, even the wisdom that hath been hidden, which God foreordained before the worlds unto

5 our glory: which none of the rulers of this world knoweth: for had they known it, they would not have crucified the Lord of glory: but as it is written,

Things which eye saw not, and ear heard not,

And which entered not into the heart of man.

Whatsoever things God prepared for them that love him.

6 But unto us God revealed <sup>18</sup>them through the Spirit: for the Spirit searcheth all things, yea, the deep things of God. For who among men knoweth the things of a man, save the spirit of the man, which is in him? even so the things of God none knoweth, save the Spirit of God. But we received, not the spirit of the world, but the spirit which is of God; that we might know the things that are freely given to us by God. Which things also we speak, not in words which man's wisdom teacheth, but which the Spirit teacheth; <sup>19</sup>and comparing spiritual things with spiritual. Now the natural man receiveth not the things of the Spirit of God: for they are foolishness unto him; and he cannot know them, because they are spiritually <sup>20</sup>judged. But he that is spiritual <sup>21</sup>judgeth all things; and he himself is <sup>22</sup>judged of no man.

7 For who hath known the mind of the Lord, that he should instruct him? But we have the mind of Christ.

3 And I, brethren, could not speak unto you as unto spiritual, but as unto carnal, as unto babes in Christ.

2 I fed you with milk, not with meat; for ye were not yet able to bear it:

3 nay, not even now are ye able: for ye are yet carnal: for whereas there is among you jealousy and strife, are ye not carnal, and walk after the 4 manner of men? For when one saith, I am of Paul; and another,

 I am of Apollos; are ye not men?
 5 What then is Apollos? and what is Paul? Ministers through whom ye believed; and each as the Lord gave 6 to him. I planted, Apollos water-7 ed; but God gave the increase. So then neither is he that planteth anything, neither he that water-8 eth; but God that giveth the increase. Now he that planteth and he that watereth are one: but each shall receive his own reward ac-9 cording to his own labour. For we are God's fellow-workers: ye are God's husbandry, God's building.
 10 According to the grace of God which was given unto me, as a wise masterbuilder I laid a foundation; and another buildeth thereon.
 11 But let each man take heed how he buildeth thereon. For other foundation can no man lay than 12 that which is laid, which is Jesus Christ. But if any man buildeth on the foundation gold, silver, costly 13 stones, wood, hay, stubble; each man's work shall be made mani-14 fest: for the day shall declare it, because it is revealed in fire; and the fire itself shall prove each 15 man's work of what sort it is. If any man's work shall abide which he built thereon, he shall receive a 16 reward. If any man's work shall be burned, he shall suffer loss: but he himself shall be saved; yet so as through fire.
 16 Know ye not that ye are a temple of God, and that the Spirit of 17 God dwelleth in you? If any man destroyeth the temple of God, him shall God destroy; for the temple of God is holy, which temple ye 18 are.
 18 Let no man deceive himself. If any man thinketh that he is wise among you in this world, let him become a fool, that he may become 19 wise. For the wisdom of this world is foolishness with God. For it is written, He that taketh the wise in 20 their craftiness: and again, The Lord knoweth the reasonings of the 21 wise, that they are vain. Wherefore let no one glory in men. For all 22 things are yours; whether Paul, or Apollos, or Cephas, or the world, or 23 life, or death, or things present, or things to come: all are yours; and ye are Christ's; and Christ is God's.
 4 Let a man so account of us, as of ministers of Christ, and stew-2 ards of the mysteries of God. Here, moreover, it is required in stewards, that a man be found faithful.
 3 But with me it is a very small thing that I should be judged of you, or of man's judgement: yea, I judge 4 not mine own self. For I know nothing against myself: yet am I not hereby justified: but he that judg-5 eth me is the Lord. Wherefore judge nothing before the time, until the Lord come, who will both bring to light the hidden things of darkness, and make manifest the counsels of the hearts; and then shall each man have his praise from God.

6 Now these things, brethren, I have in a figure transferred to myself and Apollos for your sakes; that in us ye might learn not to go beyond the things which are written; that no one of you be puffed up for the one 7 against the other. For who maketh thee to differ? and what hast thou that thou didst not receive? but if thou didst receive it, why dost thou glory, as if thou hadst not received 8 it? Already are ye filled, already ye are become rich, ye have reigned without us: yea and I would that ye did reign, that we also might reign 9 with you. For, I think, God hath set forth us the apostles last of all,
 as men doomed to death: for we are made a spectacle unto the world, 10 and to angels, and to men. We are fools for Christ's sake, but ye are wise in Christ; we are weak,
 but ye are strong; ye have glory, 11 but we have dishonour. Even unto this present hour we both hunger, and thirst, and are naked, and are buffeted, and have no certain dwell-12 ingplace; and we toil, working with our own hands: being reviled, we bless; being persecuted, we endure; 13 being defamed, we intreat: we are made as the filth of the world, the offscouring of all things, even until now.

14 I write not these things to shame you, but to admonish you as my beloved children. For though ye should have ten thousand tutors in Christ, yet have ye not many fa-
 15 thers: for in Christ Jesus I begat 16 you through the gospel. I beseech you therefore, be ye imitators of 17 me. For this cause have I sent unto you Timothy, who is my beloved and faithful child in the Lord, who shall put you in remembrance of my ways which be in Christ, even as I teach everywhere in every 18 church. Now some are puffed up, as though I were not coming to you.
 19 But I will come to you shortly, if the Lord will; and I will know, not the word of them which are 20 puffed up, but the power. For the kingdom of God is not in word, but 21 in power. What will ye? shall I come unto you with a rod, or in love and a spirit of meekness?

5 It is actually reported that there is fornication among you, and such fornication as is not even among the Gentiles, that one of you hath 2 his father's wife. And ye are puffed up, and did not rather mourn, that he that had done this deed might be taken away from our Lord Jesus, ye being gathered together, and my spirit, with the power of our Lord Jesus, to deliver such a one unto Satan for the destruction of the flesh, that the spirit may be saved in the day of the Lord Jesus. Your glorying is not good. Know ye not that a little leaven leaveneth the whole lump?

Purge out the old leaven, that ye may be a new lump, even as ye are unleavened. For our passover also hath been sacrificed, even Christ:

wherefore let us keep the feast, not with old leaven, neither with the leaven of malice and wickedness, but with the unleavened bread of sincerity and truth.

I wrote unto you in my epistle to have no company with fornicators; not altogether with the fornicators of this world, or with the covetous and extortioners, or with idolaters; for then must ye needs go out of the world: but now I write unto you not to keep company. If any man that is named a brother be a fornicator, or covetous, or an idolater, or a reviler, or a drunkard, or an extortioner; with such a one no, not to eat.

For what have I to do with judging them that are without? Do not ye judge them that are within, whereas as they that are without God judgeth? Put away the wicked man from among yourselves.

Dare any of you, having a matter against his neighbour, go to law before the unrighteous, and not before the saints? Or know ye not that the saints shall judge the world? and if the world is judged by you, are ye unworthy to judge the smallest matters? Know ye not that we shall judge angels? how much more, things that pertain to this life? If then ye have to judge things pertaining to this life, do ye set them to judge who are of no account in the church? I say this to move you to shame. Is it so, that there cannot be found among you one wise man, who shall be able to decide between his brethren, but brother goeth to law with brother, and that before unbelievers? Nay, already it is altogether a defect in you, that ye have lawsuits one with another. Why not rather take wrong? why not rather be defrauded? Nay, but ye yourselves do wrong, and defraud, and that your brethren. Or know ye not that the unrighteous shall not inherit the kingdom of God? Be not deceived: neither fornicators, nor idolaters, nor adulterers, nor effeminate, nor abusers of themselves with men, nor thieves, nor covetous, nor drunkards, nor revilers, nor extortioners, shall inherit the kingdom of God. And such were some of you; but ye were washed, but ye were sanctified, but ye were justified in the name of the Lord Jesus Christ, and in the Spirit of our God.

All things are lawful for me; but not all things are expedient. All things are lawful for me; but I will not be brought under the power of any. Meats for the belly, and the belly for meats; but God shall bring to nought both it and them. But the body is not for fornication, but for the Lord; and the Lord for the body; and God both raised the Lord, and will raise up us through his power. Know ye not that your bodies are members of Christ? shall I then take away the members of Christ, and make them members of a harlot? God forbid. Or know ye not that he that is joined to a harlot is one body? For, the twain, saith he, shall become one flesh.

But he that is joined unto the Lord is one spirit. Flee fornication. Every sin that a man doeth is without the body; but he that committeth fornication sinneth against his own body. Or know ye not that your body is a temple of the Holy Ghost which is in you, which ye have from God? and ye are not your own; for ye were bought with a price; glorify God therefore in your body.

Now concerning the things whereof ye wrote: It is good for a man not to touch a woman. But, because of fornications, let each man have his own wife, and let each woman have her own husband. Let the husband render unto the wife her due: and likewise also the wife unto the husband. The wife hath not power over her own body, but the husband; and likewise also the husband hath not power over his own body, but the wife. Defraud ye not one the other, except it be by consent for a season, that ye may give yourselves unto prayer, and may be together again, that Satan tempt you not because of your incontinency. But this I say by way of permission, not of commandment.

Yet I would that all men were even as I myself. Howbeit each man hath his own gift from God, one after this manner, and another after that.

But I say to the unmarried and to widows. It is good for them if they abide even as I. But if they have not continency, let them marry: for it is better to marry than to burn. But unto the married I give charge, ye not I, but the Lord, That the wife depart not from her husband (but and if she depart, let her remain unmarried, or else be reconciled to her husband); and that the husband leave not his wife.

But to the rest say I, not the Lord: If any brother hath an unbelieving wife, and she is content to dwell with him, let him not leave her.

And the woman which hath an unbelieving husband, and he is content to dwell with her, let her not believing husband is sanctified in the wife, and the unbelieving wife is sanctified in the brother: else were your children unclean; but now are 15 they holy. Yet if the unbelieving departeth, let him depart: the brother or the sister is not under bondage in such cases: but God hath 16 called us in peace. For how know-est thou, O wife, whether thou shalt save thy husband? or how knowest 17 thou, O husband, whether thou shalt save thy wife? Only, as the Lord hath distributed to each man, as God hath called each, so let him walk. And so ordain I in all the 18 churches. Was any man called being circumcised? let him not become uncircumcised. Hath any been called in uncircumcision? let 19 him not be circumcised. Circumcision is nothing, and uncircumcision is nothing; but the keeping 20 of the commandments of God. Let each man abide in that calling 21 wherein he was called. Wast thou called being a bondservant? care not for it: <sup>2</sup> but if thou canst be-22 come free, use it rather. For he that was called in the Lord, being a bondservant, is the Lord's freedman: likewise he that was called,

being free, is Christ's bondservant.
23 Ye were bought with a price; become not bondservants of men.
24 Brethren, let each man, wherein he was called, therein abide with God.
25 Now concerning virgins I have no commandment of the Lord: but I give my judgement, as one that hath obtained mercy of the Lord to 26 be faithful. I think therefore that this is good by reason of the present distress, namely, that it is good for 27 a man <sup>3</sup> to be as he is. Art thou bound unto a wife? seek not to be loosed. Art thou loosed from a wife?
28 seek not a wife. But and if thou marry, thou hast not sinned; and if a virgin marry, she hath not sinned. Yet such shall have tribula-29 tion in the flesh; and I would spare
you. But this I say, brethren, the time <sup>4</sup> is shortened, that henceforth both those that have wives may be 30 as though they had none; and those that weep, as though they wept not;
and those that rejoice, as though they rejoiced not; and those that buy, as though they possessed not; 31 and those that use the world, as not <sup>5</sup> abusing it: for the fashion of this world passeth away. But I would have you to be free from 32 cares. He that is unmarried is careful for the things of the Lord, how 33 he may please the Lord: but he that is married is careful for the things of the world, how he may 34 please his <sup>6</sup> wife. And there is a difference also between the wife and the virgin. She that is unmarried is careful for the things of the Lord, that she may be holy both in body and in spirit: but she that is married is careful for the things of the world, how she may please her husband. And this I say for your 35 own profit; not that I may cast a <sup>7</sup> snare upon you, but for that which is seemly, and that ye may attend upon the Lord without distraction.

36 But if any man thinketh that he behaveth himself unseemly toward his <sup>8</sup> virgin daughter, if she be past the flower of her age, and if need so requireth, let him do what he will; he sinneth not; let them mar-37 ry. But he that standeth stedfast in his heart, having no necessity, but hath power as touching his own will, and hath determined this in his own heart, to keep his own 38 <sup>9</sup> virgin daughter, shall do well. So then both he that giveth his own <sup>10</sup> virgin daughter in marriage doeth well; and he that giveth her not in marriage shall do better. A wife is 39 bound for so long time as her husband liveth; but if the husband be <sup>11</sup> dead, she is free to be married to whom she will; only in the Lord.
40 But she is happier if she abide as she is, after my judgement; and I think that I also have the Spirit of God.

8 Now concerning things sacrificed to idols: We know that we all have knowledge. Knowledge puffeth up, 2 but love <sup>10</sup> edifieth. If any man thinketh that he knoweth anything, he knoweth not yet as he ought to 3 know; but if any man loveth God,
4 the same is known of him. Concerning therefore the eating of things sacrificed to idols, we know that no idol is anything in the world, and that there is no God 5 but one. For though there be that are called gods, whether in heaven or on earth; as there are gods many,
6 and lords many; yet to us there is one God, the Father, of whom are all things, and we unto him;
and one Lord, Jesus Christ, through whom are all things, and we through 7 him. Howbeit in all men there is not that knowledge: but some, being used until now to the idol, eat
as of a thing sacrificed to an idol;
and their conscience being weak is 8 defiled. But meat will not commend us to God: neither, if we eat not,
11 are we the worse; nor, if we eat,
9 12 are we the better. But take heed lest by any means this <sup>13</sup> liberty of yours become a stumblingblock to 10 the weak. For if a man see thee which hast knowledge sitting at meat in an idol's temple, will not his conscience, if he is weak, <sup>14</sup> be emboldened to eat things sacrificed 11 to idols? For <sup>15</sup> through thy knowledge he that is weak perisheth, the brother for whose sake Christ died.
12 And thus, sinning against the brethren, and wounding their conscience when it is weak, ye sin 13 against Christ. Wherefore, if meat maketh my brother to stumble, I

- 9 Am I not free? am I not an apostle? have I not seen Jesus our Lord? are not ye my work in the Lord? If to others I am not an apostle, yet at least I am to you: for the seal of mine apostleship are ye in the Lord. My defence to them that examine me is this. Have we no right to eat and to drink? Have we no right to lead about a wife that is a <sup>1</sup>believer, even as the rest of the apostles, and the brethren of the Lord, and Cephas? Or I only and Barnabas, have we not a right to forbear working? What soldier ever serveth at his own charges? who planteth a vineyard, and eateth not the fruit thereof? or who feedeth a flock, and eateth not of the milk of the flock? Do I speak these things after the manner of men? or saith not the law also the same? For it is written in the law of Moses, Thou shalt not muzzle the ox when he treadeth out the corn. Is it for the oxen that God careth, or <sup>2</sup>saith he it altogether for our sake? Yea, for our sake it was written: because he that ploweth ought to plow in hope, and he that thresheth, to thresh in hope of partaking. If we sowed unto you spiritual things, is it a great matter if we shall reap your carnal things? If others partake of this right over you, do not we yet more? Nevertheless we did not use this right; but we bear all things, that we may cause no hindrance to the gospel of Christ. Know ye not that they which minister about sacred things eat of the things of the temple, and they which wait upon the altar have their portion with the altar? Even so did the Lord ordain that they which proclaim the gospel should live of the gospel. But I have used none of these things: and I write not these things that it may be so done in my case: for it were good for me rather to die, than that any man should make my glorying void. For if I preach the gospel, I have nothing to glory of; for necessity is laid upon me: for woe is unto me, if I preach not the gospel. For if I do this of mine own will, I have a reward: but if not of mine own will, I have a stewardship intrusted to me. What then is my reward? That, when I preach the gospel, I may make the gospel without charge, so as not to use to the full my right in the gospel. For though I was free from all men, I brought myself under bondage to all, that I might gain the more. And to the Jews I became as a Jew, that I might gain Jews: to them that are under the law, as under the law, not being myself under the law, that I might gain them that are under the law; to them that are without law, as without law, not being without law to God, but under law to Christ, that I might gain them that are without law. To the weak I became weak, that I might gain the weak: I am become all things to all men, that I may by all means save some. And I do all things for the gospel's sake, that I may be a joint partaker thereof. Know ye not that they which run in a <sup>3</sup>race run all, but one receiveth the prize? Even so run, that ye may attain. And every man that striveth in the games is temperate in all things. Now they do it to receive a corruptible crown; but we an incorruptible. I therefore so run, as not uncertainly; so <sup>4</sup>fight I, as not beating the air: but I <sup>5</sup>buffet my body, and bring it into bondage: lest by any means, after that I have preached to others, I myself should be rejected.

- 10 For I would not, brethren, have you ignorant, how that our fathers were all under the cloud, and all <sup>2</sup>passed through <sup>6</sup>the sea; and were all baptized <sup>6</sup>unto Moses in the cloud and in the sea; and did all eat the same spiritual meat; and did all drink the same spiritual drink: for they drank of a spiritual rock that followed them: and the rock was Christ. Howbeit with most of them God was not well pleased: for they were overthrown in the wilderness. Now <sup>7</sup>these things were our examples, to the intent we should not lust after evil things as they also lusted. Neither be ye idolaters, as were some of them; as it is written. The people sat down to eat and drink, and rose up to play. Neither let us commit fornication, as some of them committed, and fell in one day three <sup>9</sup>and twenty thousand. Neither let us tempt the <sup>8</sup>Lord, as some of them tempted, and perished by the serpents. Neither murmur ye, as some of them murmured, and perished by the destroyer. Now these things happened unto them <sup>9</sup>by way of example; and they were written for our admonition, upon whom the ends of the ages are come. Wherefore let him that thinketh he standeth take heed lest he fall. There hath no temptation taken you but such as man can bear: but God is faithful, who will not suffer you to be tempted above that ye are able; but will with the temptation make also the way of escape, that ye may be able to endure it. Wherefore, my beloved, flee from idolatry. I speak as to wise men: judge ye what I say. The cup of blessing which we bless, is it not a <sup>10</sup>communion of the blood of Christ? The <sup>11</sup>bread which we break, is it not a <sup>10</sup>communion of the body of Christ? <sup>12</sup>seeing that we, who are many, are one <sup>11</sup>bread, one body: for we all partake <sup>12</sup>of

What say I then? that a thing sacrificed to idols is anything. 20 or that an idol is anything? But I say, that the things which the Gentiles sacrifice, they sacrifice to<sup>2</sup> devils, and not to God: and I would not that ye should have communion with<sup>2</sup> devils. Ye cannot drink the cup of the Lord, and the cup of<sup>2</sup> devils: ye cannot partake of the table of the Lord, and of the table of<sup>2</sup> devils. Or do we provoke the Lord to jealousy? are we stronger than he?

23 All things are lawful; but all things are not expedient. All things are lawful; but all things<sup>3</sup> edify not. Let no man seek his own, but each his neighbour's good. Whatsoever is sold in the shambles, eat, asking no question for conscience sake: for the earth is the Lord's, and the fulness thereof. If one of them that believe not biddeth you to a feast, and ye are disposed to go; whatsoever is set before you, eat, asking no question for conscience sake. But if any man say unto you, This hath been offered in sacrifice, eat not, for his sake that shewed it, and for conscience sake: conscience, I say, not thine own, but the other's; for why is my liberty judged by another's conscience? 4 If I by grace partake, why am I evil spoken of for that for which I give thanks? 31 Whether therefore ye eat, or drink, or whatsoever ye do, do all to the glory of God. Give no occasion of stumbling, either to Jews, or to Greeks, or to the church of God: 33 even as I also please all men in all things, not seeking mine own profit, but the profit of the many, that they may be saved. Be ye imitators of me, even as I also am of Christ.

2 Now I praise you that ye remember me in all things, and hold fast the traditions, even as I delivered them to you. But I would have you know, that the head of every man is Christ; and the head of the woman is the man: and the head of Christ is God. Every man praying or prophesying, having his head covered, dishonoureth his head. But every woman praying or prophesying with her head unveiled dishonoureth her head: for it is one and the same thing as if she were shaven. For if a woman is not veiled, let her also be shorn: but if it is a shame to a woman to be shorn or shaven, let her be veiled. For a man indeed ought not to have his head veiled, forasmuch as he is the image and glory of God: but the woman is the glory of the man. For the man is not of the woman, but the woman is of the man: for neither was the man created for the woman; but the woman for the man: for this cause ought the woman to<sup>5</sup> have a sign of authority on her head, because of the angels. Howbeit neither is the woman without the man, nor the man without the woman, in the Lord. For as the woman is of the man, so is the man also by the woman; but all things are of God. Judge ye<sup>6</sup> in yourselves: is it seemly that a woman pray unto God unveiled? Doth not even nature itself teach you, that if a man have long hair, it is a dishonour to him? But if a woman have long hair, it is a glory to her: for her hair is given her for a covering. But if any man seemeth to be contentious, we have no such custom, neither the churches of God.

17 But in giving you this charge, I praise you not, that ye come together not for the better but for the worse. For first of all, when ye come together<sup>7</sup> in the church, I hear that<sup>8</sup> divisions exist among you; and I partly believe it. For there must be also<sup>9</sup> heresies among you, that they which are approved may be made manifest among you. 20 When therefore ye assemble yourselves together, it is not possible to eat the Lord's supper: for in your eating each one taketh before other his own supper; and one is hungry, and another is drunken. 22 What? have ye not houses to eat and to drink in? or despise ye the church of God, and put them to shame that<sup>11</sup> have not? What shall I say to you? 12 shall I praise you in this? I praise you not. For I received of the Lord that which also I delivered unto you, how that the Lord Jesus in the night in which he was betrayed took bread; and when he had given thanks, he brake it, and said, This is my body, which is for you: this do in remembrance of me. In like manner also the cup, after supper, saying, This cup is the new<sup>14</sup> covenant in my blood: this do, as oft as ye drink it, in remembrance of me. For as often as ye eat this bread, and drink the cup, ye proclaim the Lord's death till he come. Wherefore whosoever shall eat the bread or drink the cup of the Lord unworthily, shall be guilty of the body and the blood of the Lord. But let a man prove himself, and so let him eat of the bread, and drink of the cup. For he that eateth and drinketh, eateth and drinketh judgement unto himself, if he<sup>15</sup> discern not the body. For this cause many among you are weak and sickly, and not a few sleep. But if we<sup>16</sup> discerned ourselves, we should not be judged. But<sup>17</sup> when we are judged, we are chastened of the Lord, that we may not be condemned with the world. 33 Wherefore, my brethren, when ye come together to eat, wait one for another. If any man is hungry, let him eat at home: that your coming together be not unto judgement. And 12 Now concerning spiritual gifts, brethren, I would not have you ignorant. Ye know that when ye were Gentiles ye were led away unto those dumb idols, howsoever ye might be led. Wherefore I give you to understand, that no man speaking in the Spirit of God saith, Jesus is anathema; and no man can say, Jesus is Lord but in the Holy Spirit.

4 Now there are diversities of gifts, 5 but the same Spirit. And there are diversities of ministrations, and the same Lord. And there are diversities of workings, but the same God, who worketh all things in all. 7 But to each one is given the manifestation of the Spirit to profit withal. 8 <sup>1</sup>For to one is given through the Spirit the word of wisdom; and to another the word of knowledge, 9 according to the same Spirit; to another faith, in the same Spirit; 10 and to another gifts of healings; and to another workings of miracles; and to another discernings of spirits; to another divers kinds of tongues; and to another the interpretation of tongues; 11 but all these worketh the one and the same Spirit, dividing to each one severally even as he will.

12 For as the body is one, and hath many members, and all the members of the body, being many, are one body; so also is Christ. For in one Spirit were we all baptized into one body, whether Jews or Greeks, whether bond or free; and were all made to drink of one Spirit. 14 For the body is not one member, 15 but many. If the foot shall say, Because I am not the hand, I am not of the body; it is not therefore 16 not of the body. And if the ear shall say, Because I am not the eye, I am not of the body; it is not therefore 17 not of the body. If the whole body were an eye, where were the hearing? If the whole were hearing, 18 where were the smelling? But now hath God set the members each one of them in the body, even as it pleased him. And if they were all one member, 19 where were the body? But now they are many members, but one 20 body. And the eye cannot say to the hand, I have no need of thee; or again the head to the feet, I have no need of you. Nay, much rather, those members of the body which seem to be more feeble are necessary, 23 and these parts of the body which we think to be less honourable, upon these we bestow more abundant honour, and our uncleanliness, whereas our comely parts have no need: but God tempered the body together, giving more abundant honour to that part which lacked, that there should be no schism in the body; but that the members should have the same care one for another. And whether one member suffereth, all the members suffer with it; or one member is honoured, all the members rejoice with it. Now ye are the body of Christ, and severally members thereof. And God hath set some in the church, first apostles, secondly prophets, thirdly teachers, then miracles, then gifts of healings, helps, governments divers kinds of tongues. Are all apostles? are all prophets? are all teachers? are all workers of miracles? have all gifts of healings? do all speak with tongues? do all interpret? But desire earnestly the greater gifts. And a still more excellent way shew I unto you.

13 If I speak with the tongues of men and of angels, but have not love, I am become sounding brass, 2 or a clanging cymbal. And if I have the gift of prophecy and know all mysteries and all knowledge; and if I have all faith, so as to remove mountains, but have not love I am 3 nothing. And if I bestow all my goods to feed the poor, and if I give my body to be burned, but have not love, it profiteth me nothing. 4 Love suffereth long, and is kind; love envieth not; love vaunteth not itself, is not puffed up, doth not behave itself unseemly, seeketh not its own, is not provoked to take not account of evil; rejoiceth not in unrighteousness, but rejoiceth with 7 the truth; beareth all things, believeth all things, hopeth all things, 8 endureth all things. Love never faileth, but whether there be prophecies, they shall be done away; whether there be tongues, they shall cease; whether there be knowledge, it shall 9 be done away. For we know in part, 10 and we prophesy in part; but when that which is perfect is come, that which is in part shall be done away. 11 When I was a child, I spake as a child, I felt as a child, I thought as a child; now that I am become a man, I have put away childish things. For now we see in a mirror, 12 darkly; but then face to face; now I know in part; but then shall I know even as also I have been 13 known. But now abideth faith, hope, love, these three. And the greatest of these is love.

14 Follow after love, yet desire earnestly spiritual gifts, but rather that ye may prophesy. For he that speaketh in a tongue speaketh not unto men but unto God, for no man understandeth; but in the spirit he speaketh mysteries. But he that prophesieth speaketh unto men edification, and comfort, and consolation. He that speaketh in a tongue edifieth himself, but he that prophesieth edifieth the church. Now I would have you all speak with tongues, but rather

- that ye should prophesy: and greater is he that prophesieth than he that speaketh with tongues, except he interpret, that the church may receive edifying. But now, brethren, if I come unto you speaking with tongues, what shall I profit you, unless I speak to you either by way of revelation, or of knowledge, or of prophesying, or of teaching?
- 7 Even things without life, giving a voice, whether pipe or harp, if they give not a distinction in the sounds, how shall it be known what is piped or harped? For if the trumpet give an uncertain voice, who shall prepare himself for war? So also ye, unless ye utter by the tongue speech easy to be understood, how shall it be known what is spoken? for ye will be speaking into the air. There are, it may be, so many kinds of voices in the world, and <sup>1</sup>no kind is without signification. If then I know not the meaning of the voice, I shall be to him that speaketh a barbarian, and he that speaketh will be to me a barbarian. So also ye, since ye are zealous of <sup>2</sup>spiritual gifts, seek that ye may abound unto the edifying of the church. Wherefore let him that speaketh in a tongue pray that he may interpret. For if I pray in a tongue, my spirit prayeth, but my understanding is unfruitful. What is it then? I will pray with the spirit, and I will pray with the understanding also: I will sing with the spirit, and I will sing with the understanding also. Else if thou bless with the spirit, how shall he that filleth the place of <sup>4</sup>the unlearned say the Amen at thy giving of thanks, seeing he knoweth not what thou sayest? For thou verily givest thanks well, but the other is not <sup>5</sup>edified. I thank God, I speak with tongues more than you all: howbeit in the church I had rather speak five words with my understanding, that I might instruct others also, than ten thousand words in a tongue.
- 20 Brethren, be not children in mind: howbeit in malice be ye babes, but in mind be <sup>6</sup>men. In the law it is written, By men of strange tongues and by the lips of strangers will I speak unto this people; and not even thus will they hear me, saith the Lord. Wherefore tongues are for a sign, not to them that believe, but to the unbelieving: but prophesying is for a sign, not to the unbelieving, but to them that believe.
- 23 If therefore the whole church be assembled together, and all speak with tongues, and there come in men unlearned or unbelieving, will they not say that ye are mad? But if all prophesy, and there come in one unbelieving or unlearned, he is <sup>7</sup>reproved by all, he is judged by all: the secrets of his heart are made manifest; and so he will fall down on his face and worship God, declaring that God is <sup>8</sup>among you indeed.
- 26 What is it then, brethren? When ye come together, each one hath a psalm, hath a teaching, hath a revelation, hath a tongue, hath an interpretation. Let all things be done unto edifying. If any man speaketh in a tongue, let it be by two, or at the most three, and that in turn; and let one interpret: but if there be no interpreter, let him keep silence in the church; and let him speak to himself, and to God. And let the prophets speak by two or three, and let the others <sup>9</sup>discern. But if a revelation be made to another sitting by, let the first keep silence. For ye all can prophesy one by one, that all may learn, and all may be <sup>10</sup>comforted; and the spirits of the prophets are subject to the prophets; for God is not a God of confusion, but of peace; as in all the churches of the saints.
- 34 Let the women keep silence in the churches: for it is not permitted unto them to speak; but let them be in subjection, as also saith the law. And if they would learn anything, let them ask their own husbands at home: for it is shameful for a woman to speak in the church.
- 36 What? was it from you that the word of God went forth? or came it unto you alone?
- 37 If any man thinketh himself to be a prophet, or spiritual, let him take knowledge of the things which I write unto you, that they are the commandment of the Lord. <sup>11</sup>But if any man is ignorant, let him be ignorant.
- 39 Wherefore, my brethren, desire earnestly to prophesy, and forbid not to speak with tongues. But let all things be done decently and in order.
- 15 Now I make known unto you, brethren, the gospel which I preached unto you, which also ye received, wherein also ye stand, by which also ye are <sup>12</sup>saved; I make known, I say. <sup>13</sup>In what words I preached it unto you, if ye hold it fast, except ye believed <sup>14</sup>in vain.
- 3 For I delivered unto you first of all that which also I received, how that Christ died for our sins according to the scriptures; and that he was buried; and that he hath been raised on the third day according to the scriptures; and that he appeared to Cephas; then to the twelve; then he appeared to above five hundred brethren at once, of whom the greater part remain until now, but some are fallen asleep; then he appeared to James; then to all the apostles; and last of all, as unto one born out of due time, he appeared to me also. For I am the least of the apostles, that am not meet to be called an apostle, because I persecuted the church of God.
- 10 But by the grace of God I am what

22 Or, when he shall have said, All things are put in subjection

20 But now hath Christ been raised from the dead, the firstfruits of them that are asleep. For since by man came death, by man came also the resurrection of the dead. For as in Adam all die, so also in <sup>3</sup> Christ shall all be made alive. But each in his own order: Christ the firstfruits; then they that are Christ's,

24 at his <sup>2</sup> coming. Then cometh the end, when he shall deliver up the kingdom to <sup>6</sup> God, even the Father; when he shall have abolished all rule and all authority and power. For he must reign, till he hath put all his enemies under his feet. The last enemy that shall be abolished is death. For, he put all things in subjection under his feet. <sup>7</sup> But when he saith, All things are put in subjection, it is evident that he is excepted who did subject all things unto him. And when all things have been subjected unto him, then shall the Son also himself be subjected to him that did subject all things unto him, that God may be all in all.

29 Else what shall they do which are baptized for the dead? If the dead are not raised at all, why then are they baptized for them? why do we also stand in jeopardy every hour? I protest by <sup>8</sup> that glorying in you, brethren, which I have in Christ Jesus our Lord, I die daily. If after the manner of men I fought with beasts at Ephesus, <sup>9</sup> what doth it profit me? If the dead are not raised, let us eat and drink, for to-morrow we die. Be not deceived: Evil company doth corrupt good manners. <sup>10</sup> Awake up righteously, and sin not; for some have no knowledge of God: I speak <sup>11</sup> this to move you to shame.

35 But some one will say, How are the dead raised? and with what manner of body do they come? Thou foolish one, that which thou thyself sowest is not quickened, except it die: and that which thou sowest, thou sowest not the body that shall be, but a bare grain, it may chance of wheat, or of some other kind; but God giveth it a body even as it pleased him, and to each seed a body of its own. All flesh is not the same flesh: but there is one flesh of men, and another flesh of beasts, and another flesh of birds, and another of fishes. There are also celestial bodies, and bodies terrestrial: but the glory of the celestial is one, and the glory of the terrestrial is another. There is one glory of the sun, and another glory of the moon, and another glory of the stars; for one star differeth from another star in glory. So also is the resurrection of the dead. It is sown in corruption; it is raised in incorruption: it is sown in dishonour; it is raised in glory: it is sown in weakness; it is raised in power: it is sown a natural body; it is raised a spiritual body. If there is a natural body, there is also a spiritual body. So also it is written, The first man Adam became a living soul. The last Adam became a life-giving spirit. Howbeit that is not first which is spiritual, but that which is natural; then that which is spiritual. The first man is of the earth, earthy: the second man is of heaven. As is the earthy, such are they also that are earthy: and as is the heavenly, such are they also that are heavenly. And as we have borne the image of the earthy, <sup>11</sup> we shall also bear the image of the heavenly.

50 Now this I say, brethren, that flesh and blood cannot inherit the kingdom of God; neither doth corruption inherit incorruption. Behold, I tell you a mystery: We shall not all sleep, but we shall all be changed, in a moment, in the twinkling of an eye, at the last trumpet: for the trumpet shall sound, and the dead shall be raised incorruptible, and we shall be changed. For this corruptible must put on incorruption, and this mortal must put on immortality. But when <sup>12</sup> this corruptible shall have put on incorruption, and this mortal shall have put on immortality, then shall come to pass the saying that is written, Death is swallowed up <sup>13</sup> in victory. O death, where is thy victory? O death, where is thy sting? The sting of death is sin; and the power of sin is the law: but thanks be to God, which giveth us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ. Wherefore, my beloved brethren, be ye steadfast, unmovable, always abounding in the work of the Lord, forasmuch as ye know that your labour is not <sup>1</sup> vain in the Lord.

Upon the first day of the week let each one of you lay by him in store, as he may prosper, that no collections be made when I come. 3 And when I arrive, I whomsoever ye shall approve by letters, them will I send to carry your bounty unto Jerusalem: and if it be meet for me to go also, they shall go with me. But I will come unto you, when I shall have passed through Macedonia; for I do pass through Macedonia; but with you it may be that I shall abide, or even winter, that ye may set me forward on my journey whithersoever I go. For I do not wish to see you now by the way; for I hope to tarry a while with you, if the Lord permit. But I will tarry at Ephesus until Pentecost; for a great door and effectual is opened unto me, and there are many adversaries. 10 Now if Timothy come, see that he be with you without fear; for he worketh the work of the Lord, as I also do: let no man therefore despise him. But set him forward on his journey in peace, that he may come unto me: for I expect him with the brethren. But as touching Apollos the brother, I besought him much to come unto you with the brethren: and it was not at all <sup>2</sup>his will to come now; but he will come when he shall have opportunity.

13 Watch ye, stand fast in the faith, 14 quit you like men, be strong. Let all that ye do be done in love.

15 Now I beseech you, brethren (ye know the house of Stephanas, that it is the firstfruits of Achaia, and that they have set themselves to minister unto the saints), that ye also be in subjection unto such, and to every one that helpeth in the work and 17 laboureth. And I rejoice at the <sup>3</sup>coming of Stephanas and Fortunatus and Achaicus: for that which was lacking on your part they supplied. For they refreshed my spirit and yours: acknowledge ye therefore them that are such.

THE SECOND EPISTLE OF PAUL THE APOSTLE

TO THE ## CORINTHIANS.

1 Or, the brother.

1 PAUL, an apostle of Christ Jesus through the will of God, and Timothy <sup>1</sup>our brother, unto the church of God which is at Corinth, with all the saints which are in the whole of Achaia: Grace to you and peace from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ. 3 Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of mercies and God of all comfort; 4 who comforteth us in all our affliction, that we may be able to comfort them that are in any affliction, through the comfort wherewith we ourselves are comforted of God. For as the sufferings of Christ abound unto us, even so our comfort also aboundeth through Christ. But whether we be afflicted, it is for your comfort and salvation; or whether we be comforted, it is for your comfort, which worketh in the patient enduring of the same 7 sufferings which we also suffer: and our hope for you is steadfast; knowing that, as ye are partakers of the sufferings, so also are ye of the comfort. For we would not have you ignorant, brethren, concerning our affliction which befell us in Asia, that we were weighed down exceedingly, beyond our power, insomuch

9 that we despaired even of life: <sup>2</sup>yea, we ourselves have had the <sup>3</sup>answer of death within ourselves, but in God which raiseth the dead; who delivered us out of so great a death, and will deliver: on whom we have <sup>4</sup>set our hope that he will also still 11 deliver us; ye also helping together on our behalf by your supplication; that, for the gift bestowed upon us by means of many, thanks may be given by many persons on our behalf.

12 For our glorying is this, the testimony of our conscience, that in holiness and sincerity of God, not in fleshly wisdom but in the grace of God, we behaved ourselves in the world, and more abundantly to you- 13 ward. For we write none other things unto you, than what ye read or even acknowledge, and I hope ye 14 will acknowledge unto the end: as also ye did acknowledge us in part, that we are your glorying, even as

2 Or, but we ourselves

3 Or, sentence

4 Some ancient authorities read set our hope; and still will he deliver us.

ye also are ours, in the day of our Lord Jesus.

- 15 And in this confidence I was minded to come before unto you, that ye might have a second <sup>1</sup> benefit; and by you to pass into Macedonia, and again from Macedonia to come unto you, and of you to be set forward on my journey unto Judæa. When I therefore was thus minded, did I shew fickleness? or the things that I purpose, do I purpose according to the flesh, that with me there should be the yea yea and the nay nay? But as God is faithful, our word toward you is not yea and nay.
- 16 For the Son of God, Jesus Christ, who was preached among you <sup>2</sup> by us, even <sup>2</sup> by me and Silvanus and Timothy, was not yea and nay, but in him is yea. For how many soever be the promises of God, in him is the yea: wherefore also through him is the Amen, unto the glory of God through us. Now he that stablisheth us with you <sup>3</sup> in Christ, and anointed us, is God; <sup>4</sup> who also sealed us, and gave us the earnest of the Spirit in our hearts.
- 23 But I call God for a witness upon my soul, that to spare you I forbore to come unto Corinth. Not that we have lordship over your faith, but are helpers of your joy; for by <sup>5</sup> faith ye stand. <sup>6</sup> But I determined this for myself, that I would not come again to you with sorrow. For if I make you sorry, who then is he that maketh me glad, but he that I made sorry by me? And I wrote this very thing, lest, when I came, I should have sorrow from them of whom I ought to rejoice; having confidence in you all, that my joy is the joy of you all. For out of much affliction and anguish of heart I wrote unto you with many tears; not that ye should be made sorry, but that ye might know the love which I have more abundantly unto you.
- 5 But if any hath caused sorrow, he hath caused sorrow, not to me, but in part (that I press not too heavily) to you all. Sufficient to such a one is this punishment which was inflicted by <sup>7</sup> the many; so that contrariwise ye should <sup>8</sup> rather forgive him and comfort him, lest by any means such a one should be swallowed up with his overmuch sorrow. Wherefore I beseech you to confirm your love toward him. For to this end also did I write, that I might know the proof of you, whether ye are obedient in all things. But to whom ye forgive anything, I forgive also; for what I also have forgiven, if I have forgiven anything, for your sakes have I forgiven it in the <sup>10</sup> person of Christ; that no advantage may be gained over us by Satan: for we are not ignorant of his devices.
- 12 Now when I came to Troas for the gospel of Christ, and when a door was opened unto me in the Lord, I had no relief for my spirit, because I found not Titus my brother: but taking my leave of them, I went forth into Macedonia. But thanks be unto God, which always leadeth us in triumph in Christ, and maketh manifest through us the savour of his knowledge in every place. For we are a sweet savour of Christ unto God, in them that are being saved, and in them that are perishing; to the one a savour from death unto death; to the other a savour from life unto life. And who is sufficient for these things? For we are not as the many, <sup>11</sup> corrupting the word of God; but as of sincerity, but as of God, in the sight of God, speak we in Christ.

- 3 Are we beginning again to commend ourselves? or need we, as do some, epistles of commendation to you or from you? Ye are our epistle, written in our hearts, known and read of all men; being made manifest that ye are an epistle of Christ, ministered by us, written not with ink, but with the Spirit of the living God; not in tables of stone, but in tables that are hearts of flesh. And such confidence have we through Christ to God-ward: not that we are sufficient of ourselves, to account anything as from ourselves; but our sufficiency is from God; who also made us sufficient as ministers of a new <sup>12</sup> covenant; not of the letter, but of the spirit: for the letter killeth, but the spirit giveth life. But if the ministration of death, <sup>13</sup> written, and engraven on stones, came <sup>14</sup> with glory, so that the children of Israel could not look stedfastly upon the face of Moses for the glory of his face; which glory <sup>15</sup> was passing away: how shall not rather the ministration of the spirit be with glory?
- 9 For if the ministration of condemnation is glory, much rather doth the ministration of righteousness exceed in glory. For verily that which hath been made glorious hath not been made glorious in this respect, by reason of the glory that surpasseth. For if that which <sup>17</sup> passeth away was <sup>18</sup> with glory, much more that which remaineth is in glory.
- 12 Having therefore such a hope, we use great boldness of speech, and are not as Moses, who put a veil upon his face, that the children of Israel should not look stedfastly <sup>19</sup> on the end of that which <sup>20</sup> was passing away; but their <sup>21</sup> minds were hardened: for until this very day at the reading of the old <sup>22</sup> covenant the same veil <sup>23</sup> remaineth unlifted; which veil is done away in Christ. But unto this day, whensoever Moses is read, a veil lieth upon their heart. But whensoever <sup>24</sup> it shall turn to the Lord the veil is taken away. Now the Lord is the

 with unveiled face <sup>1</sup>reflecting as a mirror the glory of the Lord, are transformed into the same image from glory to glory, even as from 2 the Lord the Spirit.

4 Therefore seeing we have this ministry, even as we obtained mer-2 cy, we faint not; but we have renounced the hidden things of shame, not walking in craftiness, nor handling the word of God deceitfully;
 but by the manifestation of the truth commending ourselves to every man's conscience in the sight 3 of God. But and if our gospel is ve-lled, it is veiled in them that are 4 perishing: in whom the god of this world hath blinded the <sup>4</sup>minds of the unbelieving, <sup>5</sup>that the <sup>6</sup>light of the gospel of the glory of Christ, who is the image of God, should 5 not dawn upon them. For we preach not ourselves, but Christ Jesus as Lord, and ourselves as your <sup>7</sup>servants <sup>8</sup>for Jesus' sake. Seeing it is 6 God, that said, Light shall shine out of darkness, who shined in our hearts, to give the <sup>6</sup>light of the knowledge of the glory of God in the face of Jesus Christ.

7 But we have this treasure in earthen vessels, that the exceeding greatness of the power may be of 8 God, and not from ourselves; we are pressed on every side, yet not straitened; perplexed, yet not unto 9 despair; pursued, yet not forsaken;
 smitten down, yet not destroyed;
 10 always bearing about in the body the <sup>10</sup>dying of Jesus, that the life also of Jesus may be manifested in 11 our body. For we which live are alway delivered unto death for Jesus' sake, that the life also of Jesus may be manifested in our mortal 12 flesh. So then death worketh in us, 13 but life in you. But having the same spirit of faith, according to that which is written, I believed, and therefore did I speak; we also believe, and therefore also we speak;
 14 knowing that he which raised up 11 the Lord Jesus shall raise up us also with Jesus, and shall present us with you. For all things are for 15 your sakes, that the grace, being multiplied through <sup>12</sup>the many, may cause the thanksgiving to abound unto the glory of God.

16 Wherefore we faint not; but though our outward man is decaying, yet our inward man is renewed day by 17 day. For our light affliction, which is for the moment, worketh for us more and more exceedingly an eter-18 nal weight of glory; while we look not at the things which are seen, but at the things which are not seen: for the things which are seen are temporal; but the things which are not seen are eternal.

5 For we know that if the earthly house of our <sup>13</sup>tabernacle be dissolved, we have a building from God, a house not made with hands,

 2 eternal, in the heavens. For verily in this we groan, longing to be clothed upon with our habitation 3 which is from heaven: if so be that being clothed we shall not be 4 found naked. For indeed we that are in this <sup>13</sup>tabernacle do groan, 14 being burdened; not for that we would be unclothed, but that we would be clothed upon, that what is mortal may be swallowed up of 5 life. Now he that wrought us for this very thing is God, who gave unto us the earnest of the Spirit.
 6 Being therefore always of good courage, and knowing that, whilst we are at home in the body, we are 7 absent from the Lord (for we walk 8 by faith, not by <sup>15</sup>sight); we are of good courage, I say, and are willing rather to be absent from the body,
 and to be at home with the Lord.
 9 Wherefore also we <sup>16</sup>make it our aim, whether at home or absent, to 10 be well-pleasing unto him. For we must all be made manifest before the judgement-seat of Christ; that each one may receive the things 11 done <sup>17</sup>in the body, according to what he hath done, whether it be good or bad.

11 Knowing therefore the fear of the Lord, we persuade men, but we are made manifest unto God; and I hope that we are made manifest 12 also in your consciences. We are not again commending ourselves unto you, but speak as giving you occasion of glorying on our behalf, that ye may have wherewith to answer them that glory in appear-13 ance, and not in heart. For whether we <sup>18</sup>are beside ourselves, it is unto God; or whether we are of sober 14 mind, it is unto you. For the love of Christ constraineth us; because we thus judge, that one died for 15 all, therefore all died; and he died for all, that they which live should no longer live unto themselves, but unto him who for their sakes died 16 and rose again. Wherefore we henceforth know no man after the flesh;
 even though we have known Christ
 after the flesh, yet now we know 17 him so no more. Wherefore if any man is in Christ, <sup>19</sup>he is a new creature: the old things are passed away; behold, they are become 18 new. But all things are of God, who reconciled us to himself through Christ, and gave unto us the minis-19 try of reconciliation; to wit, that God was in Christ reconciling the world unto himself, not reckoning unto them their trespasses, and having <sup>20</sup>committed unto us the word of reconciliation.

20 We are ambassadors therefore on behalf of Christ, as though God were intreating by us; we beseech you on behalf of Christ, be ye reconciled to God. Him who knew no sin he made to be sin on our

10 killed; as sorrowful, yet always re-

Corinthians, our heart is enlarged.

are straitened in your own affec-

13 like kind (I speak as unto my chil-

14 Be not unequally yoked with unrighteousness and iniquity? or what

15 communion hath light with darkness? And what concord hath Christ with <sup>3</sup>Belial? or what portion hath 16 a believer with an unbeliever? And what agreement hath a <sup>4</sup>temple of God with idols? for we are a <sup>4</sup>temple of the living God: even as God said, I will dwell in them, and walk in them; and I will be their God, and they shall be my people. Wherefore

Come ye out from among them,

saith the Lord,

And touch no unclean thing;
And I will receive you.

18 And will be to you a Father, daughters,

7 saith the Lord Almighty. Having therefore these promises, beloved let us cleanse ourselves from all defilement of flesh and spirit, perfecting holiness in the fear of God.

2 <sup>8</sup>Open your hearts to us: we wronged no man, we corrupted no man, we took advantage of no man.

3 I say it not to condemn you: for I have said before, that ye are in our hearts to die together and live together. Great is my boldness of speech toward you, great is my glorifying on your behalf. I am filled with comfort, I overflow with joy in all our affliction.

5 For even when we were come into Macedonia, our flesh had no relief,
but ~~we were~~ afflicted on every side;
without ~~were~~ fightings, within ~~were~~

6 fears. Nevertheless he that com-forteth the lowly, ~~even~~ God, comforted us by the <sup>6</sup>coming of Titus;

7 and not by his <sup>6</sup>coming only, but also by the comfort wherewith he was comforted in you, while he told us your longing, your mourning,
your zeal for me; so that I rejoiced

8 yet more. For though I made you sorry with my epistle, I do not regret it, though I did regret: <sup>7</sup>for
I see that that epistle made you

9 sorry, though but for a season. Now
I rejoice, not that ye were made sorry, but that ye were made sorry unto repentance: for ye were made sorry after a godly sort, that ye might suffer loss by us in nothing.

10 For godly sorrow worketh repentance <sup>8</sup>unto salvation, a repentance which bringeth no regret: but the sorrow of the world worketh death.

11 For behold, this selfsame thing, that ye were made sorry after a godly sort, what earnest care it wrought in you, yea, what clearing of yourselves, yea, what indignation, yea, what fear, yea, what longing, yea, what zeal, yea, what avenging! In everything ye approved yourselves to be pure in the matter.

12 So although I wrote unto you, I erote not for his cause that did the wrong, nor for his cause that suffered the wrong, but that your earnest care for us might be made manifest unto you in the sight of 13 God. Therefore we have been comforted: and in our comfort we joyed the more exceedingly for the joy of Titus, because his spirit hath been refreshed by you all. For if in anything I have gloried to him on your behalf, I was not put to shame; but as we spake all things to you in truth, so our glorifying also, which I made before Titus, was found to be truth. And his inward affection is more abundantly toward you, whilst he remembereth the obedience of you all, how with fear and trembling ye received him.

16 I rejoice that in everything I am of good courage concerning you.

8 Moreover, brethren, we make known to you the grace of God which hath been given in the 6 and to us by the will of God. Inasmuch that we exhorted Titus, that as he had made a beginning before, so he would also complete in you this grace also. But as ye abound in everything, in faith, and utterance, and knowledge, and in all earnestness, and in your love to us, see that ye abound in this grace also. I speak not by way of commandment, but as proving through the earnestness of others the sincerity also of your love. For ye know the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ, that, though he was rich, yet for your sakes he became poor, that ye through his poverty might become rich. And herein I give my judgement: for this is expedient for you, who were the first to make a beginning a year ago, not only to do, but also to will. But now complete the doing also; that as there was the readiness to will, so there may be the completion also out of your ability. For if the readiness is there, it is acceptable according as a man hath, not according as he hath not. For I say not this, that others may be eased, and ye distressed: but by equality; your abundance being a supply at this present time for their want, that their abundance also may become a supply for your want: that there may be equality: as it is written, He that gathered much had nothing over; and he that gathered little had no lack.

16 But thanks be to God, which putteth the same earnest care for you into the heart of Titus. For indeed he accepted our exhortation; but being himself very earnest, he went forth unto you of his own accord.

18 And we have sent together with him the brother whose praise in the gospel is spread through all the churches; and not only so, but who was also appointed by the churches to travel with us in the matter of this grace, which is ministered by us to the glory of the Lord, and to shew our readiness: avoiding this, that any man should blame us in the matter of this bounty which is ministered by us: for we take thought for things honourable, not only in the sight of the Lord, but also in the sight of men. And we have sent with them our brother, whom we have many times proved earnest in many things, but now much more earnest, by reason of the great confidence which he hath in you. Whether any inquire about Titus, he is my partner and my fellow-worker to you-ward; or our brethren, they are the messengers of the churches, they are the glory of Christ. Shew ye therefore unto them in the face of the churches the proof of your love, and of our glorying on your behalf.

9 For as touching the ministering to the saints, it is superfluous for

2 me to write to you: for I know your readiness, of which I glory on your behalf to them of Macedonia, that Achaea hath been prepared for a year past; and your zeal hath stirred up very many of them.

3 But I have sent the brethren, that our glorying on your behalf may not be made void in this respect; that, even as I said, ye may be prepared: lest by any means, if there come with me any of Macedonia, and find you unprepared, we (that we say not, ye) should be put to shame in this confidence. I thought it necessary therefore to intreat the brethren, that they would go before unto you, and make up beforehand your aforepromised bounty, that the same might be ready, as a matter of bounty, and not of extortion.

6 But this I say. He that soweth sparingly shall reap also sparingly; and he that soweth bountifully shall reap also bountifully. Let each man do according as he hath purposed in his heart; not grudgingly, or of necessity: for God loveth a cheerful giver. And God is able to make all grace abound unto you; that ye, having always all sufficiency in everything, may abound unto every good work: as it is written,

He hath scattered abroad, he hath given to the poor; His righteousness abideth for ever.

10 And he that supplieth seed to the sower and bread for food, shall supply and multiply your seed for sowing, and increase the fruits of your righteousness: ye being enriched in everything unto all liberality, which worketh through us thanksgiving to God. For the ministration of this service not only filleth up the measure of the wants of the saints, but aboundeth also through many thanksgivings unto God; seeing that through the proving of you by this ministration they glorify God for the obedience of your confession unto the gospel of Christ, and for the liberality of your contribution unto them and unto all; while they themselves also, with supplication on your behalf, long after you by reason of the exceeding grace of God in you.

15 Thanks be to God for his unspeakable gift.

10 Now I Paul myself intreat you by the meekness and gentleness of Christ, I who in your presence am lowly among you, but being absent am of good courage toward you: yea, I beseech you, that I may not when present shew courage with the confidence wherewith I count to be bold against some, which count of us as if we walked according to the flesh. For though we walk in the flesh, we do not war according to the flesh (for the weapons of our warfare are not of the flesh, but mighty before God to the casting down of strong holds); casting down <sup>1</sup>imaginations, and every high thing that is exalted against the knowledge of God, and bringing every thought into captivity to the obedience of Christ; and being in readiness to avenge all disobedience, when your obedience shall be fulfilled. <sup>2</sup>Ye look at the things that are before your face. If any man trusteth in himself that he is Christ's, let him consider this again with himself, that, even as he is Christ's, so also are we. For though I should glory somewhat abundantly concerning our authority (which the Lord gave for building you up, and not for casting you down), I shall not be put to shame: that I may not seem as if I would terrify you by my letters. For, His letters, they say, are weighty and strong; but his bodily presence is weak, and his speech of no account. Let such a one reckon this, that, what we are in word by letters when we are absent, such are we also in deed when we are present. For we are not bold <sup>2</sup>to number or compare ourselves with certain of them that commend themselves; but they themselves, measuring themselves by themselves, and comparing themselves with themselves, are without understanding. But we will not glory beyond our measure, but according to the measure of the <sup>4</sup>province which God apportioned to us as a measure, to reach even unto you. For we stretch not ourselves overmuch, as though we reached not unto you: for we <sup>5</sup>came even as far as unto you in the gospel of Christ: not glorying beyond our measure, but having hope that, as your faith groweth, we shall be magnified in you according to our <sup>4</sup>province unto further abundance. So as to preach the gospel even unto the parts beyond you, and not to glory in another's <sup>4</sup>province in regard of things ready to our hand. But he that glorieth, let him glory in the Lord. For not he that commendeth himself is approved, but whom the Lord commendeth. 11 Would that ye could bear with me in a little foolishness: <sup>6</sup>may I indeed bear with me. For I am jealous over you with <sup>7</sup>a godly jealousy: for I espoused you to one husband, that I might present you as a pure virgin to Christ. But I fear, lest by any means, as the serpent beguiled Eve in his craftiness, your <sup>8</sup>minds should be corrupted from the simplicity and the purity that is toward Christ. For if he that cometh preacheth another Jesus, whom we did not preach, or if ye receive a different spirit, which ye did not receive, or a different gospel, which ye did not accept, ye do well to bear with him. For I reckon that I am not a whit behind <sup>9</sup>the very chiefest apostles. But though I be rude in speech, yet am I not in knowledge; nay, in everything we have made it manifest among all men to you-ward. Or did I commit a sin in abasing myself that ye might be exalted, because I preached to you the gospel of God for nought? I robbed other churches, taking wages of them that I might minister unto you; and when I was present with you and was in want, I was not a burden on any man; for the brethren, when they came from Macedonia, supplied the measure of my want; and in everything I kept myself from being burdensome unto you, and so will I keep myself. As the truth of Christ is in me, no man shall stop me of this glorying in the regions of Achaia. Wherefore? because I love you not? God knoweth. But what I do, that I will do, that I may cut off <sup>10</sup>occasion from them which desire an occasion; that wherein they glory, they may be found even as we. For such men are false apostles, deceitful workers, fashioning themselves into apostles of Christ. And no marvel; for even Satan fashioned himself into an angel of light. It is no great thing therefore if his ministers also fashion themselves as ministers of righteousness; whose end shall be according to their works. I say again, Let no man think me foolish; but if ye do, yet as foolish receive me, that I also may glory a little. That which I speak, I speak not after the Lord, but as in foolishness, in this confidence of glorying. Seeing that many glory after the flesh, I will glory also. For ye bear with the foolish gladly, being wise yourselves. For ye bear with a man, if he bringeth you into bondage, if he devoureth you, if he taketh you captive, if he exalteth himself, if he smiteth you on the face. I speak by way of disparagement, as though we had been weak. Yet whereinssoever any is bold (I speak in foolishness), I am bold also. Are they Hebrews? so am I. Are they Israelites? so am I. Are they the seed of Abraham? so am I. Are they ministers of Christ? (I speak as one beside himself) I more; in labours more abundantly, in prisons more abundantly, in stripes above measure, in deaths oft. Of the Jews five times received I forty stripes save one. Thrice was I beaten with rods, once was I stoned, thrice I suffered shipwreck, a night and a day have I been in the deep; in journeyings often, in perils of rivers, in perils of robbers, in perils from my <sup>11</sup>countrymen, in perils from the Gentiles, in perils in the city, in perils in the wilderness, in perils in the sea, in perils among false that are without, there is that which presseth upon me daily, anxiety for all the churches. Who is weak, and I am not weak? who is made to stumble, and I burn not? If I must needs glory, I will glory of the things that concern my weakness. The God and Father of the Lord Jesus, he who is blessed <sup>2</sup>for evermore, knoweth that I lie not; or whether out of the body, I know not; God know-

apart from the body, I know not;
God knoweth), how that he was caught up into Paradise, and heard unspeakable words, which it is not lawful for a man to utter. On behalf of such a one will I glory; but on mine own behalf I will not glory, save in my weaknesses. For if I should desire to glory, I shall not be foolish; for I shall speak the truth: but I forbear, lest any man should account of me above that which he seeth me to be, or hear-eth from me. And by reason of the exceeding greatness of the revelations—wherefore, that I should not be exalted overmuch, there was given to me a <sup>4</sup>thorn in the flesh,
a messenger of Satan to buffet me,
that I should not be exalted over-much. Concerning this thing I besought the Lord thrice, that it might depart from me. And he hath said unto me, My grace is sufficient for thee: for my power is made perfect in weakness. Most gladly therefore will I rather glory in my weaknesses, that the strength of Christ may <sup>5</sup>rest upon me. Wherefore I take pleasure in weaknesses, in injuries, in necessities, in persecutions, in distresses, for Christ's sake: for
when I am weak, then am I strong.

12 <sup>3</sup>I must needs glory, though it is not expedient; but I will come to visions and revelations of the Lord. I know a man in Christ, fourteen years ago (whether in the body, I know not; or whether out of the body, I know not; God knoweth), such a one caught up even to the third heaven. And I know such a man (whether in the body, or apart from the body, I know not;
God knoweth), how that he was caught up into Paradise, and heard unspeakable words, which it is not

exceeding greatness of the revelations—wherefore, that I should not be exalted overmuch, there was given to me a <sup>4</sup>thorn in the flesh,
a messenger of Satan to buffet me,
that I should not be exalted over-
much. Concerning this thing I be-

will I rather glory in my weak-

take pleasure in weaknesses, in in-

when I am weak, then am I strong.

14 Behold, this is the third time I am ready to come to you; and I will not be a burden to you: for I seek not yours, but you: for the children ought not to lay up for the parents, but the parents for the children. And I will most gladly spend and be <sup>8</sup>spent for your souls.

If I love you more abundantly, am I loved the less? But be it so, I did not myself burden you; but, being crafty, I caught you with guile. Did I take advantage of you by any one of them whom I have sent unto you? I exhorted Titus, and I sent the brother with him.
Did Titus take any advantage of you? walked we not by the same Spirit? walked we not in the same steps?

19 <sup>9</sup>Ye think all this time that we are excusing ourselves unto you. In the sight of God speak we in Christ.
But all things, beloved, are for your edifying. For I fear, lest by any means, when I come, I should find you not such as I would, and should myself be found of you such as ye would not; lest by any means there should be strife, jealousy, wraths, factions, backbitings, whisperings, swellings, <sup>10</sup>tumults; lest, when I come again, my God should humble me before you, and I should mourn for many of them that have sinned heretofore, and repented not of the uncleanness and fornication and lasciviousness which they committed.

13 This is the third time I am coming to you. At the mouth of two witnesses or three shall every word be established. I have said <sup>11</sup>beforehand, and I do say <sup>12</sup>beforehand, <sup>13</sup>as when I was present the second time, so now, being absent, to them that have sinned heretofore, and to all the rest, that, if I come again, I will not spare; seeing that ye seek a proof of Christ that speaketh in me; who to you-ward is not weak, but is powerful in you: for he was crucified through weakness, yet he liveth through the power of God.
For we also are weak <sup>13</sup>in him, but we shall live with him through the power of God toward you. Try your own selves, whether ye be in the faith; prove your own selves. Or know ye not as to your own selves, that Jesus Christ is in you? unless indeed ye be reprobate. But I hope that ye shall know that we are not reprobate. Now we pray to God that ye do no evil; not that we may appear approved, but that ye may do that which is honourable. <sup>14</sup>Though we be as reprobate. For we can do nothing against the truth, but for the truth. For we rejoice, when we are weak, and ye are strong: this we also pray for, even your perfecting. For this cause I write these things while absent, that I may not when present deal sharply, according to the authority which the Lord gave me for building up, and not for casting down.

But though we, or an angel from heaven, should preach <sup>5</sup>unto you any gospel <sup>6</sup>other than that which we preached unto you, let him be anathema. As we have said before, so say I now again, If any man preacheth unto you any gospel other than that which ye received, let him be anathema. For am I now persuading men, or God? or am I seeking to please men? If I were still pleasing men, I should not be a <sup>7</sup>servant of Christ.

For neither did I receive it from <sup>1</sup>man, nor was I taught it, but it <sup>11</sup>came to me through revelation of Jesus Christ. For ye have heard of my manner of life in time past in the Jews' religion, how that beyond measure I persecuted the church of God, and made havoc of it: and I advanced in the Jews' religion beyond many of mine own age: among my countrymen, being more exceedingly zealous for the traditions of my fathers. But when it was the good pleasure of God, who separated me even from my mother's womb, and called me through his grace, to reveal his Son in me, that I might preach him among the Gentiles: immediately I conferred not with flesh and blood: neither went I up to Jerusalem to them which were apostles before me: but I went away into Arabia; and again I returned unto Damascus.

20 Now touching the things which I write unto you, behold, before God, I lie not. Then I came into the <sup>22</sup>regions of Syria and Cilicia. And I was still unknown by face unto the churches of Judaea which were in Christ: but they only heard say, He that once persecuted us now preacheth the faith of which he <sup>24</sup>once made havoc; and they glorified God in me.

But not even Titus, who was with me, being a Greek, was compelled to be circumcised:

But from those who <sup>14</sup>were reputed to be somewhat (<sup>15</sup>whatsoever they were, I say, who were of repute imparted nothing to me: but contrariwise, when they saw that I had been intrusted with the gospel of the uncircumcision, even as Peter with the gospel of the circumcision (for he that wrought for Peter unto the apostleship of the circumcision wrought for me <sup>9</sup>also unto the Gentiles: and when they perceived the grace that was given unto me, James and Cephas and John, they who <sup>12</sup>were reputed to be pillars, gave to me and Barnabas the right hands of fellowship, that we should go unto the Gentiles, and they unto the circumcision;

I resisted him to the face, because 12 he stood condemned. For before that certain came from James, he did eat with the Gentiles; but when they came, he drew back and separated himself, fearing them that 13 were of the circumcision. And the rest of the Jews dissembled likewise with him; insomuch that even Barnabas was carried away with their 14 dissimulation. But when I saw that they walked not uprightly according to the truth of the gospel, I said unto Cephas before them all,
 If thou, being a Jew, livest as do the Gentiles, and not as do the Jews,
 how compellest thou the Gentiles 15 to live as do the Jews? We being Jews by nature, and not sinners of the Gentiles, yet knowing that a 16 man is not justified by <sup>1</sup>the works of the law, <sup>2</sup>save through faith in Jesus Christ, even we believed on Christ Jesus, that we might be justified by faith in Christ, and not by the works of the law: because by the works of the law shall no flesh 17 be justified. But if, while we sought to be justified in Christ, we ourselves also were found sinners, is Christ a 18 minister of sin? God forbid. For if I build up again those things which I destroyed, I prove myself a trans-19 gressor. For I through <sup>3</sup>the law died unto <sup>3</sup>the law, that I might 20 live unto God. I have been crucified with Christ; <sup>4</sup>yet I live; <sup>4</sup>and yet no longer I, but Christ liveth in me: and that life which I now live in the flesh I live in faith, the faith which is in the Son of God, who loved me, and gave himself 21 up for me, I do not make void
 the grace of God: for if righteousness is through <sup>5</sup>the law, then Christ died for nought.

3 O foolish Galatians, who did be-witch you, before whose eyes Jesus Christ was openly set forth cruci-2 fied? This only would I learn from you, Received ye the Spirit by <sup>1</sup>the works of the law, or by the <sup>1</sup>hear-3 ing of faith? Are ye so foolish?
 having begun in the Spirit, <sup>2</sup>are 4 ye now perfected in the flesh? Did ye suffer so many things in vain?
 5 If it be indeed in vain. He therefore that supplieth to you the Spirit, and worketh <sup>7</sup>miracles <sup>8</sup>among you, doeth he it by the works of the law, or by the <sup>5</sup>hearing of faith?
 6 Even as Abraham believed God, and it was reckoned unto him for right-7 eousness. <sup>9</sup>Know therefore that they which be of faith, the same are sons 8 of Abraham. And the scripture, foreseeing that God <sup>10</sup>would justify the <sup>11</sup>Gentiles by faith, preached the gospel beforehand unto Abraham, saying, In thee shall all the nations 9 be blessed. So then they which be of faith are blessed with the faithful 10 Abraham. For as many as are of <sup>1</sup>the works of the law are under a curse: for it is written, Cursed is every one which continueth not in all things that are written in the 11 book of the law, to do them. Now that no man is justified <sup>12</sup>by the law in the sight of God, is evident:

 for, The righteous shall live by faith; 12 and the law is not of faith; but, He that doeth them shall live in them.
 13 Christ redeemed us from the curse of the law, having become a curse for us: for it is written, Cursed is every one that hangeth on a tree; 14 that upon the Gentiles might come the blessing of Abraham in Christ Jesus; that we might receive the promise of the Spirit through faith.
 15 Brethren, I speak after the manner of men: Though it be but a man's <sup>13</sup>covenant, yet when it hath been confirmed, no one maketh it 16 void, or addeth thereto. Now to Abraham were the promises spoken, and to his seed. He saith not, And to seeds, as of many; but as of one,
 And to thy seed, which is Christ.
 17 Now this I say; A <sup>13</sup>covenant confirmed beforehand by God, the law, which came four hundred and thirty years after, doth not disannul, so as to make the promise of none effect.
 18 For if the inheritance is of the law,
 it is no more of promise: but God hath granted it to Abraham by pro-19 mise. What then is the law? It was added because of transgressions, till the seed should come to whom the promise hath been made; and it was ordained through angels by the 20 hand of a mediator. Now a mediator is not a mediator of one; but 21 God is one. Is the law then against the promises of God? God forbid:
 for if there had been a law given which could make alive, verily righteousness would have been of 22 the law. Howbeit the scripture hath shut up all things under sin, that the promise by faith in Jesus Christ might be given to them that believe.

23 But before <sup>14</sup>faith came, we were kept in ward under the law, shut up unto the faith which should 24 afterwards be revealed. So that the law hath been our tutor to bring us unto Christ, that we might be 25 justified by faith. But now that faith is come, we are no longer 26 under a tutor. For ye are all sons of God, through faith, in Christ Jesus. For as many of you as were baptized into Christ did put on 28 Christ. There can be neither Jew nor Greek, there can be neither bond nor free, there can be no male and female: for ye all are 29 one man in Christ Jesus. And if ye are Christ's, then are ye Abraham's seed, heirs according to promise.

4 But I say that so long as the heir is a child, he differeth nothing from a bondservant, though he is lord of 2 all; but is under guardians and stewards until the term appointed 3 of the father. So we also, when we were children, were held in bondage under the <sup>16</sup>rudiments of the world:

4 but when the fulness of the time came, God sent forth his Son born of a woman, born under the law, 5 that he might redeem them which were under the law, that we might 6 receive the adoption of sons. And because ye are sons, God sent forth the Spirit of his Son into our hearts, 7 crying Abba, Father. So that thou art no longer a bondservant, but a son; and if a son, then an heir through God.

8 Howbeit at that time, not knowing God, ye were in bondage to them 9 which by nature are no gods: but now that ye have come to know God, or rather to be known of God, how turn ye back again to the weak and beggarly rudiments, whereunto ye desire to be in bondage 10 over again? Ye observe days, and 11 months, and seasons, and years. I am afraid of you, lest by any means I have bestowed labour upon you in vain.

12 I beseech you, brethren, be as I am, for I am as ye are. Ye did me 13 no wrong: but ye know that because of an infirmity of the flesh I preached the gospel unto you the 14 2<sup>d</sup> time, and that which was a temptation to you in my flesh ye despised not, nor 2<sup>d</sup> rejected; but ye received me as an angel of God,

15 even as Christ Jesus. Where then is that gratulation of yourselves? for I bear you witness, that, if possible, ye would have plucked out your eyes and given them to me.

16 So then am I become your enemy, 17 because I tell you the truth? They zealously seek you in no good way; nay, they desire to shut you out,

18 that ye may seek them. But it is good to be zealously sought in a good matter at all times, and not only when I am present with you.

19 My little children, of whom I am again in travail until Christ be 20 formed in you, yea, I could wish to be present with you now, and to change my voice; for I am perplexed about you.

21 Tell me, ye that desire to be under the law, do ye not hear the law?

22 For it is written, that Abraham had two sons, one by the handmaid, 23 and one by the freewoman. Howbeit the son by the handmaid is born after the flesh; but the son by the freewoman is born through

24 promise. Which things contain an allegory: for these women are two covenants; one from mount Sinai bearing children unto bondage, which is Hagar.

25 Now this Hagar is mount Sinai in Arabia, and answereth to the Jerusalem that now is: for she is in bondage with her children. But the Jerusalem that is above is free, which is our mother.

26 For it is written, Begone thou barren that bearest not, Break forth and cry, thou that travailest not:

27 For it is written, Begone thou barren that bearest not, Break forth and cry, thou that travailest not:

For more are the children of the desolate than of her which hath the husband.

28 Now we, brethren, as Isaac was, 29 are children of promise. But as then he that was born after the flesh persecuted him that was born after the Spirit, even so it is now,

30 Howbeit what saith the scripture? Cast out the handmaid and her son: for the son of the handmaid shall not inherit with the son of the freewoman. Wherefore, brethren, we are not children of a handmaid, but of the freewoman.

5 3 With freedom did Christ set us free: stand fast therefore, and be not entangled again in a yoke of bondage.

2 Behold, I Paul say unto you, that, if ye receive circumcision, Christ 3 will profit you nothing. Yea, I testify again to every man that receiveth circumcision, that he is a 4 debtor to do the whole law. Ye are 5 severed from Christ, ye who would be justified by the law: ye are fallen 6 away from grace. For we through the Spirit by faith wait for the hope 7 of righteousness. For in Christ Jesus neither circumcision availeth anything, nor uncircumcision; but 8 faith working through love. Ye were running, well: who did hinder you that ye should not obey the 9 truth? This persuasion came not of him that calleth you. A little leaven leaveneth the whole lump. I have confidence to you-ward in the Lord that ye will be none otherwise minded, but he that troubleth you shall bear his judgment, who-soever he be. But I brethren, if I still preach circumcision, why am I still persecuted? then hath the stumblingblock of the cross been 12 done away. I would that they which unsettle you would even 11 cut themselves off.

13 For ye, brethren, were called for freedom: only use not your freedom for an occasion to the flesh, but through love be servants one to another. For the whole law is fulfilled in one word even in this, Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself.

14 But if ye bite and devour one another take heed that ye be not consumed one of another.

15 But I say, Walk by the Spirit, and ye shall not fulfil the lust of the 16 flesh. For the flesh lusteth against the Spirit, and the Spirit against the flesh: for these are contrary the one to the other: that ye may not do the things that ye would. But if ye are led by the Spirit, ye are 17 not under the law. Now the works of the flesh are manifest, which are these, fornication, uncleanness, lasciviousness, idolatry, sorcery, enmities, strife, jealousies, wraths, factions, divisions, 18 envies, drinkings, revellings, and such like: of the which I 15 forewarn you, even as I did 12 forewarn you, that they which practise such things shall not inherit the kingdom of 22 God. But the fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, longsuffering, kindness, goodness, faithfulness, meekness, 1 temperance: against such 24 there is no law. And they that are of Christ Jesus have crucified the flesh with the passions and the lusts thereof.

25 If we live by the Spirit, by the 26 Spirit let us also walk. Let us not be vainglorious, provoking one another, envying one another.

6 Brethren, even if a man be overtaken in any trespass, ye which are spiritual, restore such a one in a spirit of meekness; looking to thyself, lest thou also be tempted.

2 Bear ye one another's burdens, and 3 so fulfil the law of Christ. For if a man thinketh himself to be something, when he is nothing, he deceiveth himself. But let each man

4 prove his own work, and then shall he have his glorying in regard of himself alone, and not of 2 his neighbour. For each man shall bear his own 3 burden.

6 But let him that is taught in the word communicate unto him that 7 teacheth in all good things. Be not deceived; God is not mocked: for whatsoever a man soweth, that shall

8 he also reap. For he that soweth unto his own flesh shall of the flesh reap corruption; but he that sow-

11 See with how large letters I 4 have written unto you with mine own 12 hand. As many as desire to make a fair show in the flesh, they compel you to be circumcised; only that they may not be persecuted

13 5 for the cross of Christ. For not even they who 6 receive circumcision do themselves keep 7 the law; but they desire to have you circumcised, that they may glory in your flesh. But far be it from me to glory, save in the cross of our Lord Jesus Christ, through 8 which the world hath been crucified unto me, 15 and I unto the world. For neither is circumcision anything, nor uncircumcision, but a new 9 creature. And as many as shall walk by this rule, peace be upon them, and mercy, and upon the Israel of God.

17 From henceforth let no man trouble me: for I bear branded on my body the marks of Jesus.

3 Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, who hath blessed us with every spiritual blessing in the heavenly places

4 in Christ: even as he chose us in him before the foundation of the world, that we should be holy and without blemish before 2 him in

11 the earth; in him, I say, in whom also we were made a heritage, having been foreordained according to the purpose of him who worketh all things after the counsel of his

12 will; to the end that we should be unto the praise of his glory, we who 7 had before hoped in Christ:

13 in whom ye also, having heard the word of the truth, the gospel of your salvation,—in whom, having

God of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of glory, may give unto you a spirit of wisdom and revelation in the knowledge of him; having the eyes of your heart enlightened, that ye may know what is the hope of his calling, what the riches of the glory of his inheritance in the saints, and what the exceeding greatness of his power to us-ward who believe, according to that working of the strength of his might which he wrought in Christ, when he raised him from the dead, and made him to sit at his right hand in the heavenly places, far above all rule, and authority, and power, and dominion, and every name that is named, not only in this <sup>1</sup> world, but also in that which is to come: and he put all things in subjection under his feet, and gave him to be head over all things to the church, which is his body, the fulness of him that filleth all in all.

2 And you did he quicken, when ye were dead through your trespasses and sins, wherein aforetime ye walked according to the <sup>2</sup> course of this world, according to the prince of the power of the air, of the spirit that now worketh in the sons of disobedience: among whom we also all once lived in the lusts of our flesh, doing the desires of the flesh and of the <sup>3</sup> mind, and were by nature children of wrath, even as the rest:—but God, being rich in mercy, for his great love wherewith he loved us, even when we were dead through our trespasses, quickened us together <sup>4</sup> with Christ (by grace have ye been saved), and raised us up with him, and made us to sit with him in the heavenly places, in Christ Jesus: that in the ages to come he might shew the exceeding riches of his grace in kindness toward us in Christ Jesus: for by grace have ye been saved through faith; and that not of yourselves: <sup>9</sup> it is the gift of God: not of works, that no man should glory. For we are his workmanship, created in Christ Jesus for good works, which God afore prepared that we should walk in them.

11 Wherefore remember, that aforetime ye, the Gentiles in the flesh, who are called Uncircumcision by that which is called Circumcision, in the flesh, made by hands; that ye were at that time separate from Christ, alienated from the commonwealth of Israel, and strangers from the covenants of the promise, having no hope and without God in the world. But now in Christ Jesus ye that once were far off are made nigh in the blood of Christ. For he is our peace, who made both one, and brake down the middle wall of partition, having abolished in his flesh the enmity, even the law of commandments contained in ordinances; that he might create in himself of the twain one new man, <sup>16</sup> so making peace; and might reconcile them both in one body unto God through the cross, having slain the enmity thereby: and he came and <sup>9</sup> preached peace to you that were far off, and peace to them that were nigh: for through him we both have our access in one Spirit unto the Father. So then ye are no more strangers and sojourners, but ye are fellow-citizens with the saints, and of the household of God, being built upon the foundation of the apostles and prophets, Christ Jesus himself being the chief corner stone; in whom <sup>6</sup> each several building, fitly framed together, groweth into a holy <sup>7</sup> temple in the Lord; in whom ye also are builded together <sup>8</sup> for a habitation of God in the Spirit.

3 For this cause I Paul, the prisoner of Christ Jesus in behalf of you Gentiles,—if so be that ye have heard of the <sup>9</sup> dispensation of that grace of God which was given me to you-ward; how that by revelation was made known unto me the mystery, <sup>4</sup> as I wrote afore in few words, whereby, when ye read, ye can perceive my understanding in the mystery of Christ; which in other generations was not made known unto the sons of men, as it hath now been revealed unto his holy apostles and prophets in the Spirit; to wit, that the Gentiles are fellow-heirs, and fellow-members of the body, and fellow-partakers of the promise in Christ Jesus through the gospel, <sup>7</sup> whereof I was made a minister, according to the gift of that grace of God which was given me according to the working of his power. Unto me, who am less than the least of all saints, was this grace given, to preach unto the Gentiles the unsearchable riches of Christ; and to <sup>10</sup> make all men see what is the <sup>9</sup> dispensation of the mystery which from all ages hath been hid in God who created all things; to the intent that now unto the principalities and the powers in the heavenly places might be made known through the church the manifold wisdom of God, according to the <sup>11</sup> eternal purpose which he purposed in Christ Jesus our Lord: in whom we have boldness and access in confidence through <sup>12</sup> our faith in him. Wherefore I ask that <sup>13</sup> ye faint not at my tribulations for you, which <sup>14</sup> are your glory.

14 For this cause I bow my knees unto the Father, from whom every <sup>15</sup> family in heaven and on earth is named, that he would grant you, according to the riches of his glory, that ye may be strengthened with power through his Spirit in the inward man; that Christ may dwell in your hearts through faith; to the end that ye, being rooted and grounded in love, may be strong to apprehend with all the saints what is the breadth and length and height and depth, and to know the love of Christ which passeth knowledge, that ye may be filled unto all the fulness of God.

20 Now unto him that is able to do exceeding abundantly above all that we ask or think, according to the power that worketh in us, unto him be the glory in the church and in Christ Jesus unto all generations for ever and ever. Amen.

4 I therefore, the prisoner in the Lord, beseech you to walk worthily of the calling wherewith ye were called, with all lowliness and meekness, with longsuffering, forbearing one another in love: giving diligence to keep the unity of the Spirit in the bond of peace. There is one body, and one Spirit, even as also ye were called in one hope of your calling; one Lord, one faith, one baptism, one God and Father of all, who is over all, and through all, and in all. But unto each one of us was the grace given according to the measure of the gift of Christ.

8 Wherefore he saith,
When he ascended on high, he led captivity captive,
And gave gifts unto men.

9 (Now this, He ascended, what is it but that he also descended <sup>2</sup>into the lower parts of the earth? He that descended is the same also that ascended far above all the heavens, that he might fill all things.) And he gave some to be apostles; and some, prophets; and some, evangelists; and some, pastors and teachers; for the perfecting of the saints, unto the work of ministering, unto the building up of the body of Christ: till we all attain unto the unity of the faith, and of the knowledge of the Son of God, unto a full-grown man, unto the measure of the stature of the fulness of Christ: that we may be no longer children, tossed to and fro and carried about with every wind of doctrine, by the sleight of men, in craftiness, after the wiles of error; but <sup>3</sup>speaking truth in love, may grow up in all things into him, which is the head, even Christ; from whom all the body fitly framed and knit together <sup>4</sup>through that which every joint supplieth, according to the working in due measure of each several part, maketh the increase of the body unto the building up of itself in love.

17 This I say therefore, and testify in the Lord, that ye no longer walk as the Gentiles also walk, in the vanity of their mind, being darkened in their understanding, alienated from the life of God because of the ignorance that is in them, because of the hardening of their heart; who being past feeling gave themselves up to lasciviousness, to work all uncleanness with greediness. But ye did not so learn Christ;

21 if so he that ye heard him, and were taught in him, even as truth is in Jesus: that ye put away, as concerning your former manner of life, the old man, which waxeth corrupt after the lusts of deceit; and that ye be renewed in the spirit of your mind, and put on the new man, <sup>7</sup>which after God hath been created in righteousness and holiness of truth.

25 Wherefore, putting away falsehood, speak ye truth each one with his neighbour: for we are members one of another. Be ye angry, and sin not: let not the sun go down upon your <sup>8</sup>wrath: neither give place to the devil. Let him that stole steal no more: but rather let him labour, working with his hands the thing that is good, that he may have whereof to give to him that hath need. Let no corrupt speech proceed out of your mouth, but such as is good for edifying as the need may be, that it may give grace to them that hear. And grieve not the Holy Spirit of God, in whom ye were sealed unto the day of redemption. Let all bitterness, and wrath, and anger, and clamour, and railing, be put away from you, with all malice: and be ye kind one to another, tenderhearted, forgiving each other, even as God also in Christ forgave you.

5 Be ye therefore imitators of God, as beloved children; and walk in love, even as Christ also loved you, and gave himself up for us, an offering and a sacrifice to God for an odour of a sweet smell. But fornication, and all uncleanness, or covetousness, let it not even be named among you, as becometh saints; nor filthiness, nor foolish talking, or jesting, which are not befitting: but rather giving of thanks. For this ye know of a surety, that no fornicator, nor uncleanness person, nor covetous man, which is an idolater, hath any inheritance in the kingdom of Christ and God. Let no man deceive you with empty words: for because of these things cometh the wrath of God upon the sons of disobedience. Be not ye therefore partakers with them; for ye were once darkness, but are now light in the Lord: walk as children of light (for the fruit of the light is in all goodness and righteousness and truth), proving what is well-pleasing unto the Lord; and have no fellowship with the unfruitful works of darkness, but rather even <sup>12</sup>reprove them; for the things which are done by them in secret it is a shame even to speak of. But all things when they are <sup>13</sup>reproved are made manifest by the light: for everything that is made manifest is light. Wherefore he saith, Awake, thou that sleepest, and arise from the dead, and Christ shall shine upon thee.

15 Look therefore carefully how ye walk, not as unwise, but as wise; 16 redeeming the time, because the 17 days are evil. Wherefore be ye not foolish, but understand what the 18 will of the Lord is. And be not drunken with wine, wherein is riot, but be filled <sup>2</sup> with the Spirit; 19 speaking <sup>3</sup> one to another in psalms and hymns and spiritual songs, singing and making melody with your heart to the Lord; giving thanks always for all things in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ to <sup>4</sup> God, 21 even the Father; subjecting yourselves one to another in the fear of Christ.

22 Wives, be in subjection unto your own husbands, as unto the Lord. 23 For the husband is the head of the wife, as Christ also is the head of the church, being himself the 24 saviour of the body. But as the church is subject to Christ, <sup>5</sup> so let the wives also be to their husbands in everything. Husbands, love your wives, even as Christ also loved the church, and gave himself up for it; that he might sanctify it, having cleansed it by the <sup>6</sup> washing of water with the word, that he might present the church to himself a glorious church, not having spot or wrinkle or any such thing; but that it should be 28 holy and without blemish. Even so ought husbands also to love their own wives as their own bodies. He that loveth his own wife loveth himself; for no man ever hated his own flesh; but nourisheth and cherisheth it, even as Christ also the 30 church; because we are members 31 of his body. For this cause shall a man leave his father and mother, and shall cleave to his wife; and the twain shall become one flesh. 32 This mystery is great: but I speak in regard of Christ and of the church. 33 Nevertheless do ye also severally love each one his own wife even as himself; and let the wife see that she fear her husband.

6 Children, obey your parents in the 2 Lord: for this is right. Honour thy father and mother (which is the first commandment with promise). 3 that it may be well with thee, and thou <sup>7</sup> mayest live long on the 4 <sup>8</sup> earth. And, ye fathers, provoke not your children to wrath: but nurture them in the chastening and admonition of the Lord. 5 <sup>9</sup> Servants, be obedient unto them that according to the flesh are your 10 masters, with fear and trembling, in singleness of your heart, as unto 6 Christ; not in the way of eyeservice, as men-pleasers; but as <sup>9</sup> servants of Christ, doing the will of 7 God from the <sup>11</sup> heart; with good will doing service, as unto the Lord, 8 and not unto men; knowing that whatsoever good thing each one doeth, the same shall he receive again from the Lord, whether he 9 be bond or free. And, ye <sup>10</sup> masters, do the same things unto them, and forbear threatening: knowing that both their Master and yours is in heaven, and there is no respect of persons with him.

10 <sup>12</sup> Finally, <sup>13</sup> be strong in the Lord, and in the strength of his 11 might. Put on the whole armour of God, that ye may be able to stand 12 against the wiles of the devil. For our wrestling is not against flesh and blood, but against the principalities, against the powers, against the world-rulers of this darkness, against the spiritual hosts of wickedness in the 13 heavenly places. Wherefore take up the whole armour of God, that ye may be able to withstand in the evil day, and, having done all, to 14 stand. Stand therefore, having girded your loins with truth, and having put on the breastplate of 15 righteousness, and having shod your feet with the preparation of the gospel of peace; withal taking up the shield of faith, wherewith ye shall be able to quench all the fiery darts of the evil one. And take the helmet of salvation, and the sword of the Spirit, which is the word of God: 16 with all prayer and supplication praying at all seasons in the Spirit, and watching thereunto in all perseverance and supplication for all 17 the saints, and on my behalf, that utterance may be given unto me 14 in opening my mouth, to make known with boldness the mystery 20 of the gospel, for which I am an ambassador in <sup>15</sup> chains; that in it I may speak boldly, as I ought to speak.

21 But that ye also may know my affairs, how I do, Tychicus, the beloved brother and faithful minister in the Lord, shall make known 22 to you all things: whom I have sent unto you for this very purpose, that ye may know our state, and that he may comfort your hearts. 23 Peace be to the brethren, and love with faith, from God the Father and the Lord Jesus Christ. 24 Grace be with all them that love our Lord Jesus Christ in uncorruptness.

2 Or,
overseers

1 PAUL and Timothy, <sup>1</sup>servants of Christ Jesus, to all the saints in Christ Jesus which are at Philippi, with the <sup>2</sup>bishops and deacons:

2 Grace to you and peace from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

3 I thank my God upon all my remembrance of you, always in every supplication of mine on behalf of you all making my supplication with joy, for your fellowship in furtherance of the gospel from the first day until now; being confident of this very thing, that he which began a good work in you will perfect it until the day of Jesus Christ:

7 even as it is right for me to be thus minded on behalf of you all, because

<sup>8</sup>I have you in my heart, inasmuch as, both in my bonds and in the defence and confirmation of the gospel, ye all are partakers with me of grace. For God is my witness, how I long after you all in the 9 tender mercies of Christ Jesus. And this I pray, that your love may abound yet more and more in knowledge and all discernment; so that ye may <sup>4</sup>approve the things that are excellent; that ye may be sincere and void of offence unto the

10 day of Christ; being filled with the 11 <sup>5</sup>fruits of righteousness, which are through Jesus Christ, unto the glory and praise of God.

12 Now I would have you know, brethren, that the things which happened unto me have fallen out rather unto the progress of the

13 gospel; so that my bonds became manifest in Christ <sup>6</sup>throughout the whole prætorian guard, and to all

14 the rest; and that most of the brethren in the Lord, <sup>7</sup>being confident through my bonds, are more abundantly bold to speak the word

15 of God without fear. Some indeed preach Christ even of envy and strife; and some also of good will:

16 the one do it of love, knowing that I am set for the defence of the gospel: but the other proclaim Christ of faction, not sincerely, thinking to raise up affliction for me in my bonds. What then? only that in every way, whether in pretence or in truth, Christ is proclaimed: and therein I rejoice, yea, and will rejoice. For I know that this shall turn to my salvation, through your supplication and the supply of the 20 Spirit of Jesus Christ, according to my earnest expectation and hope, that in nothing shall I be put to shame, but that with all boldness, as always, so now also Christ shall be magnified in my body, whether 21 by life, or by death. For to me to live is Christ, and to die is gain.

22 <sup>8</sup>But if to live in the flesh, — <sup>9</sup>this is the fruit of my work, then <sup>10</sup>what I shall choose

23 I wot not. But I am in a strait betwixt the two, having the desire to depart and be with Christ; for it is very far better:

24 yet to abide in the flesh is more needful for your sake. And having this confidence, I know that I shall abide, yea, and abide with you all, for your progress and joy <sup>11</sup>in the

26 faith; that your glorying may abound in Christ Jesus in me through my presence with you again. Only <sup>12</sup>let your manner of life be worthy of the gospel of Christ: that, whether I come and see you or be absent, I may hear of your state, that ye stand fast in one spirit, with one soul striving <sup>13</sup>for the

28 faith of the gospel; and in nothing affrighted by the adversaries: which is for them an evident token of perdition, but of your salvation, and that from God; because to you it hath been granted in the behalf of Christ, not only to believe on him, but also to suffer in his behalf: having the same conflict which ye saw in me, and now hear to be in me.

29 If there is therefore any comfort in Christ, if any consolation of love, if any fellowship of the Spirit, if any tender mercies and compassions, fulfil ye my joy, that ye be of the same mind, having the same love, being of one accord, <sup>14</sup>of one

30 mind; doing nothing through faction or through vainglory, but in lowliness of mind each counting

4 other better than himself; not looking each of you to his own things, but each of you also to the things of others. Have this mind in you, which was also in

6 Christ Jesus: who, <sup>15</sup>being in the form of God, counted it not <sup>16</sup>a prize to be on an equality with God, but emptied himself, taking the form of a <sup>17</sup>servant. <sup>18</sup>Being made

8 in the likeness of men; and being found in fashion as a man, he humbled himself, becoming obedient even unto death, yea, the death of the cross. Wherefore also God highly exalted him, and gave unto him the name which is above every

10 name; that in the name of Jesus every knee should bow, of things in heaven and things on earth and

11 <sup>19</sup>things under the earth, and that every tongue should confess that Jesus Christ is Lord, to the glory of God the Father.

12 So then, my beloved, even as ye have always obeyed, not as in my presence only, but now much more in my absence, work out your own salvation with fear and trembling; 13 for it is God which worketh in you both to will and to work, for his good pleasure. Do all things without murmurings and disputings; 14 that ye may be blameless and harmless, children of God without blemish in the midst of a crooked and perverse generation, among whom ye are seen as 2 lights in the world, holding forth the word of life: that I may have whereof to glory in the day of Christ, that I did not run in vain neither labour in vain. Yea, and if I am 3 offered upon the sacrifice and service of your faith, I joy, and rejoice with you all; and in the same manner do ye also joy, and rejoice with me.

19 But I hope in the Lord Jesus to send Timothy shortly unto you, that I also may be of good comfort, when 20 I know your state. For I have no man likeminded, who will care 21 4 truly for your state. For they all seek their own, not the things of Jesus Christ. But ye know the proof of him, that, as a child serveth a father, so he served with me in 23 furtherance of the gospel. Him therefore I hope to send forthwith, so soon as I shall see how it will 24 go with me: but I trust in the Lord that I myself also shall come shortly. 25 But I counted it necessary to send to you Epaphroditus, my brother and fellow-worker and fellow-soldier, and your 5 messenger and minister to my need, since he longed after you all, and was sore troubled, because ye had heard 27 that he was sick: for indeed he was sick nigh unto death, but God had mercy on him; and not on him only, but on me also, that I might not 28 have sorrow upon sorrow. I have sent him therefore the more diligently that, when ye see him again, ye may rejoice, and that I may be the less sorrowful. Receive him therefore in the Lord with all joy; and hold such in honour: because 30 for the work of Christ he came nigh unto death, hazarding his life to supply that which was lacking in your service toward me.

3 Finally, my brethren, 8 rejoice in the Lord. To write the same things to you, to me indeed is not irksome, 2 but for you it is safe. Beware of the dogs, Beware of the evil workers, 3 beware of the concision: for we are the circumcision, who worship by the Spirit of God, and glory in Christ Jesus, and have no confidence in the flesh, though I myself might have confidence even in the flesh, if any other man 4 thinketh to have confidence in the flesh, I yet more:

5 circumcised the eighth day, of the stock of Israel, of the tribe of Benjamin, a Hebrew of Hebrews; as 6 touching the law, a Pharisee; as touching zeal, persecuting the church; as touching the righteousness which is in the law, found blameless. Howbeit what things were 10 to me, these have I counted loss for Christ. Yea verily, and I count all things to be loss for the excellency of the knowledge of Christ Jesus my Lord: for whom I suffered the loss of all things, and do count them but 11 dung, that I may gain Christ, and be found in him, 12 not having a righteousness of mine own, even that which is of the law, but that which is through faith in Christ, the righteousness which is of God 13 by faith: that I may know him, and the power of his resurrection and the fellowship of his sufferings, becoming conformed 11 unto his death; if by any means I may attain unto the resurrection 12 from the dead. Not that I have already obtained, or am already made perfect: but I press on, if so be that I may 14 apprehend that for which also I was apprehended by Christ Jesus. Brethren, I count not myself 15 yet to have apprehended: but one thing I do, forgetting the things which are behind, and stretching forward to the things 14 which are before, I press on toward the goal unto the prize of the 15 high calling of God in Christ Jesus. Let us therefore, as many as be perfect, be thus minded: and if in anything ye are otherwise minded, even this 16 shall God reveal unto you: only, whereunto we have already attained, by that same rule let us walk.

17 Brethren, be ye imitators together of me, and mark them which so walk even as ye have us for an example. For many walk, of whom I told you often, and now tell you even weeping, that they are the enemies of the cross of Christ: whose end is perdition, whose god is the belly, and whose glory is in their shame, who mind earthly things. 20 For our 17 citizenship is in heaven; from whence also we wait for a Saviour, the Lord Jesus Christ: 21 who shall fashion anew the body of our humiliation, that it may be conformed to the body of his glory, according to the working whereby he is able even to subject all things unto himself.

4 Wherefore, my brethren beloved and longed for, my joy and crown, so stand fast in the Lord, my beloved.

2 I exhort Euodia and I exhort Syntyche, to be of the same mind in the Lord. Yea, I beseech thee also, true yokefellow, help these women, for they laboured with me in the gospel, with Clement also, and the rest of my fellow-workers, whose names are in the book of life.

And ye yourselves also know, ye Philippians, that in the beginning of the gospel, when I departed from Macedonia, no church had fellowship with me in the matter of giving and receiving, but ye only; for even in Thessalonica ye sent once and again unto my need. Not that I seek for the fruit that gift; but I seek for the fruit that increaseth to your account. But I have all things, and abound: I am filled, having received from Epaphroditus the things that came from you, an odour of a sweet smell, a sacrifice acceptable, well-pleasing to God. And my God shall fulfil every need of yours according to his riches in glory in Christ Jesus. Now unto our God and Father be the glory <sup>8</sup> for ever and ever. Amen.

3 We give thanks to God the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, praying

9 For this cause we also, since the day we heard it, do not cease to pray and make request for you, that ye may be filled with the knowledge of his will in all spiritual wisdom
10 and understanding, to walk worth-

- ily of the Lord <sup>4</sup> unto all pleasing, bearing fruit in every good work, and increasing <sup>5</sup> in the knowledge of God; <sup>6</sup> strengthened <sup>7</sup> with all power, according to the might of his glory, unto all patience and longsuffering with joy; giving thanks unto the Father, who made <sup>8</sup> us meet to be partakers of the inheritance of the saints in light; <sup>9</sup> who delivered us out of the power of darkness, and translated us into the kingdom of the Son of his love; <sup>10</sup> in whom we have our redemption, the forgiveness of our sins: who is the image of the Invisible God, the firstborn of all creation; for in him were all things created, in the heavens and upon the earth, things visible and things invisible, whether thrones or dominions or principalities or powers; all things have been created through him, and unto him; and he is before all things, and in him all things <sup>9</sup> consist. And he is the head of the body, the church: who is the beginning, the firstborn from the dead: <sup>10</sup> that in all things he might have the pre-eminence. <sup>11</sup> For it was the good pleasure of the Father that in him should all the fulness dwell; and through him to reconcile all things 1 unto <sup>2</sup> himself, having made peace through the blood of his cross;

through him, I say, whether things upon the earth, or things in the 21 heavens. And you, being in time past alienated and enemies in your mind in your evil works, yet 22 now <sup>3</sup> hath he reconciled in the body of his flesh through death, to present you holy and without blemish and unproveable before 23 him: if so be that ye continue in the faith, grounded and stedfast, and not moved away from the hope of the gospel which ye heard, which was preached in all creation under heaven; whereof I Paul was made a minister.

24 Now I rejoice in my sufferings for your sake, and fill up on my part that which is lacking of the afflictions of Christ in my flesh for his body's sake, which is the church;
25 whereof I was made a minister, according to the <sup>4</sup> dispensation of God which was given me to you-ward, 26 to fulfil the word of God, even the mystery which hath been hid <sup>5</sup> from all ages and generations: but now hath it been manifested to his saints, 27 to whom God was pleased to make known what is the riches of the glory of this mystery among the Gentiles, which is Christ in you, the 28 hope of glory: whom we proclaim, admonishing every man and teaching every man in all wisdom, that we may present every man perfect 29 in Christ: whereunto I labour also, striving according to his working,
which worketh in me <sup>6</sup> mightily.

2 For I would have you know how greatly I strive for you, and for them at Laodicea, and for as many as have not seen my face in the flesh:
3 that their hearts may be comforted,
they being knit together in love, and unto all riches of the <sup>7</sup> full assurance of understanding, that they may know the mystery of God.
3 <sup>8</sup> even Christ, in whom are all the treasures of wisdom and knowledge 4 hidden. This I say, that no one may delude you with persuasiveness 5 of speech. For though I am absent in the flesh, yet am I with you in the spirit, joying and beholding your order, and the stedfastness of your faith in Christ.

6 As therefore ye received Christ
Jesus the Lord, so walk in him, 7 rooted and builded up in him, and established <sup>9</sup> in your faith, even as ye were taught, abounding <sup>10</sup> in thanksgiving.

8 <sup>11</sup> Take heed lest there shall be any one that maketh spoil of you through his philosophy and vain deceit, after the tradition of men,
after the <sup>12</sup> rudiments of the world.
9 and not after Christ: for in him
dwelleth all the fulness of the Godhead bodily, and in him ye are made full, who is the head of all 11 principality and power: in whom ye were also circumcised with a circumcision not made with hands, in the putting off of the body of the flesh, in the circumcision of Christ; 12 having been buried with him in baptism, wherein ye were also raised with him through faith in the working of God, who raised him 13 from the dead. And you, being dead through your trespasses and the uncircumcision of your flesh,

you, I say, did he quicken together with him, having forgiven us all our trespasses; having blotted out 14 the bond written in ordinances that was against us, which was contrary to us: and he hath taken it out of the way, nailing it to the 15 cross; <sup>14</sup> having put off from himself the principalities and the powers,
he made a show of them openly,
triumphing over them in it.

16 Let no man therefore judge you in meat, or in drink, or in respect of a feast day or a new moon or a 17 sabbath day: which are a shadow of the things to come; but the body 18 is Christ's. Let no man rob you of your prize <sup>15</sup> by a voluntary humility and worshipping of the angels.
<sup>16</sup> dwelling in the things which he hath <sup>17</sup> seen, vainly puffed up by his fleshly mind, and not holding fast 19 the Head, from whom all the body, being supplied and knit together through the joints and bands, increaseth with the increase of God.

20 If ye died with Christ from the <sup>12</sup> rudiments of the world, why, as though living in the world, do ye subject yourselves to ordinances.
21 Handle not, nor taste, nor touch 22 (all which things are to perish with the using), after the precepts and doctrines of men? Which things have indeed a show of wisdom in will-worship, and humility, and severity to the body; but are not of any 18 value against the indulgence of the flesh.

3 If then ye were raised together with Christ, seek the things that are above, where Christ is, seated 2 on the right hand of God. Set your mind on the things that are above, not on the things that are upon the 3 earth. For ye died, and your life is 4 hid with Christ in God. When Christ, who is <sup>12</sup> our life, shall be manifested, then shall ye also with him be manifested in glory.

5 <sup>2</sup> Mortify therefore your members which are upon the earth: fornication, uncleanness, passion, evil desire, and covetousness, the which is 6 idolatry: for which things' sake cometh the wrath of God <sup>21</sup> upon 7 the sons of disobedience; <sup>22</sup> in the which ye also walked aforetime 8 when ye lived in these things. But now put ye also away all these:
anger, wrath, malice, railing, shame-9 ful speaking out of your mouth: lie not one to another, seeing that ye man, which is being renewed unto knowledge after the image of him that created him: where there cannot be Greek and Jew, circumcision and uncircumcision, barbarian, Scythian, bondman, freeman: but Christ is all, and in all.

12 Put on therefore, as God's elect, holy and beloved, a heart of compassion, kindness, humility, meekness, longsuffering; forbearing one another, and forgiving each other, if any man have a complaint against any; even as <sup>1</sup> the Lord forgave you, so also do ye: and above all these things put on love, which

15 is the bond of perfectness. And let the peace of Christ <sup>2</sup> rule in your hearts, to the which also ye were called in one body: and be ye thankful. Let the word of <sup>3</sup> Christ dwell in you richly in all wisdom; teaching and admonishing <sup>4</sup> one another with psalms and hymns and spiritual songs, singing with grace in your hearts unto God. And whatsoever ye do, in word or in deed, do all in the name of the Lord Jesus, giving thanks to God the Father through him.

18 Wives, be in subjection to your husbands, as is fitting in the Lord. Husbands, love your wives, and be not bitter against them. Children, obey your parents in all things, for this is well-pleasing in the Lord. Fathers, provoke not your children, that they be not discouraged. <sup>5</sup> Servants, obey in all things them that are your <sup>6</sup> masters according to the flesh; not with eyeservice, as men-pleasers, but in singleness of heart, fearing the Lord: whatsoever ye do, work <sup>7</sup> heartily, as unto the Lord, and not unto men; knowing that from the Lord ye shall receive the recompense of the inheritance: ye serve the Lord Christ. For he that doeth wrong shall <sup>8</sup> receive again for the wrong that he hath done: and there is no respect of persons. <sup>9</sup> Masters, render unto your <sup>10</sup> servants that which is just and <sup>11</sup> equal; knowing that ye also have a Master in heaven.

23 Continue steadfastly in prayer, watching therein with thanksgiving; withal praying for us also, that God may open unto us a door for the word, to speak the mystery of Christ, for which I am also in bonds; that I may make it manifest, as I ought to speak. Walk in wisdom toward them that are without, <sup>10</sup> regarding the time. Let your speech be always with grace, seasoned with salt, that ye may know how ye ought to answer each one.

25 All my affairs shall Tychicus make known unto you, the beloved brother and faithful minister and fellow-servant in the Lord: whom I have sent unto you for this very purpose, that ye may know our estate, and that he may comfort your hearts; together with Onesimus, the faithful and beloved brother, who is one of you. They shall make known unto you all things that are done here.

26 Aristarchus my fellow-prisoner saluteth you, and Mark, the cousin of Barnabas (touching whom ye received commandments; if he come unto you, receive him), and Jesus, which is called Justus, who are of the circumcision: these only are my fellow-workers unto the kingdom of God, men that have been a comfort unto me. Epaphras, who is one of you, a <sup>11</sup> servant of Christ Jesus, saluteth you, always striving for you in his prayers, that ye may stand perfect and fully assured in all the will of God. For I bear him witness, that he hath much labour for you, and for them in Laodicea, and for them in Hierapolis. Luke, the beloved physician, and Demas, salute you. Salute the brethren that are in Laodicea, and <sup>12</sup> Nymphas, and the church that is in <sup>13</sup> their house. And when <sup>14</sup> this epistle hath been read among you, cause that it be read also in the church of the Laodiceans; and that ye also read the epistle from Laodicea. 1 PAUL, and Silvanus, and Timothy, unto the church of the Thessalonians in God the Father and the Lord Jesus Christ: Grace to you and peace.

2 We give thanks to God always for you all, making mention of you in our prayers; remembering without ceasing your work of faith and labour of love and patience of hope in our Lord Jesus Christ, before our God and Father; knowing, brethren beloved of God, your election.

shewed ourselves toward you for 6 your sake. And ye became imitators of us, and of the Lord, having received the word in much afflic-tion, with joy of the <sup>1</sup> Holy Ghost; 7 so that ye became an ensample to all that believe in Macedonia and 8 in Achaia. For from you hath sounded forth the word of the Lord,
not only in Macedonia and Achaia,
but in every place your faith to God-ward is gone forth; so that we 9 need not to speak anything. For they themselves report concerning us what manner of entering in we had unto you: and how ye turned 10 unto God from idols, to serve a living and true God, and to wait for his Son from heaven, whom he raised from the dead, even Jesus, which delivereth us from the wrath to come.

2 For yourselves, brethren, know our entering in unto you, that it 2 hath not been found vain: but having suffered before and been shamefully entreated, as ye know, at Philippi, we waxed bold in our God to 3 speak unto you the gospel of God in much conflict. For our exhortation is not of error, nor of uncleanness, 4 nor in guile: but even as we have been approved of God to be intrusted with the gospel, so we speak:
5 not as pleasing men, but God which provethe our hearts. For neither at any time were we found using words of flattery, as ye know, nor a cloke
6 of covetousness, God is witness: nor seeking glory of men, neither from you, nor from others, when we might have been burdensome, as 7 apostles of Christ. But we were gentle in the midst of you, as when a nurse cherisheth her own chil-8 dren: even so, being affectionately desirous of you, we were well pleased to impart unto you, not the gospel of God only, but also our own souls:

because ye were become very dear 9 to us. For ye remember, brethren, our labour and travail: working night and day, that we might not burden any of you, we preached un-10 to you the gospel of God. Ye are witnesses, and God also, how holily and righteously and unblameably
we behaved ourselves toward you 11 that believe: as ye know how we dealt with each one of you, as a father with his own children, exhorting you, and encouraging you, and 12 testifying, to the end that ye should walk worthily of God, who calleth you into his own kingdom and 13 glory.

And for this cause we also thank God without ceasing, that, when ye received from us <sup>2</sup> the word of the message, even the word of God, ye accepted it not as the word of men, but, as it is in truth, the word of God which also worketh in you 14 that believe. For ye, brethren, became imitators of the churches of God which are in Judaea in Christ

Jesus: for ye also suffered the same things of your own countrymen, 15 even as they did of the Jews; who both killed the Lord Jesus and the prophets, and drove out us, and please not God, and are contrary to 16 all men: forbidding us to speak to the Gentiles that they may be saved; to fill up their sins alway: but the wrath is come upon them to the uttermost.

17 But we, brethren, being bereaved of you for <sup>6</sup> a short season, in presence, not in heart, endeavoured the more exceedingly to see your 18 face with great desire: because we would fain have come unto you. I Paul once and again: and Satan 19 hindered us. For what is our hope, or joy, or crown of glorying? Are not even ye, before our Lord Jesus 20 at his <sup>7</sup> coming? For ye are our glory and our joy.

3 Wherefore when we could no longer forbear, we thought it good to be left behind at Athens alone;
2 and sent Timothy, our brother and <sup>8</sup> God's minister in the gospel of Christ, to establish you, and to con-3 fort you concerning your faith: that no man be moved by these afflictions: for yourselves know that 4 hereunto we are appointed. For verily, when we were with you, we told you <sup>9</sup> beforehand that we are to suffer affliction: even as it came 5 to pass, and ye know. For this cause I also, when I could no longer forbear, sent that I might know your faith, lest by any means the tempter had tempted you, and our 6 labour should be in vain. But when Timothy came even now unto us from you, and brought us glad tidings of your faith and love, and that ye have good remembrance of us always longing to see us, even as 7 we also to see you: for this cause, brethren, we were comforted over you in all our distress and affliction 8 through your faith: for now we live, if ye stand fast in the Lord.
9 For what thanksgiving can we render again unto God for you, for all the joy wherewith we joy for your 10 sakes before our God: night and day praying exceedingly that we may see your face, and may perfect that which is lacking in your faith?

11 Now may our God and Father himself, and our Lord Jesus, direct 12 our way unto you: and the Lord make you to increase and abound in love one toward another, and toward all men, even as we also do 13 toward you: to the end he may stablish your hearts unblameable in holiness before our God and Father, at the <sup>7</sup> coming of our Lord Jesus with all his saints.

4 Finally then, brethren, we beseech and exhort you in the Lord Jesus, that as ye received of us how ye ought to walk and to please God, even as ye do walk,—that ye abound
2 more and more. For ye know what

1 charge we gave you through the 3 Lord Jesus. For this is the will of God, even your sanctification, that 4 ye abstain from fornication; that each one of you know how to possess himself of his own vessel in 5 sanctification and honour, not in the passion of lust, even as the Gentiles which know not God; that no 6 man <sup>2</sup>transgress, and wrong his brother in the matter: because the Lord is an avenger in all these things, as also we <sup>3</sup>forewarned you 7 and testified. For God called us not for uncleanness, but in sanctifica-8 tion. Therefore he that rejecteth, rejecteth not man, but God, who giveth his Holy Spirit unto you.
9 But concerning love of the brethren ye have no need that one write unto you: for ye yourselves are taught of God to love one another; 10 for indeed ye do it toward all the brethren which are in all Macedonia.
But we exhort you, brethren, that 11 ye abound more and more; and that ye <sup>4</sup>study to be quiet, and to do your own business, and to work with your hands, even as we charg-12 ed you; that ye may walk honestly toward them that are without, and may have need of nothing.
13 But we would not have you ignorant, brethren, concerning them that fall asleep; that ye sorrow not,
even as the rest, which have no 14 hope. For if we believe that Jesus died and rose again, even so them also that are fallen asleep <sup>5</sup>in Jesus will God bring with him. For 15 this we say unto you by the word of the Lord, that we that are alive, that are left unto the <sup>6</sup>coming of the Lord, shall in no wise precede 16 them that are fallen asleep. For the Lord himself shall descend from heaven, with a shout, with the voice of the archangel, and with the trump of God: and the dead in Christ shall 17 rise first: then we that are alive, that are left, shall together with them be caught up in the clouds, to meet the Lord in the air: and so shall we ever be with the Lord.
18 Wherefore <sup>7</sup>comfort one another with these words.
5 But concerning the times and the seasons, brethren, ye have no need that ought be written unto you.
2 For yourselves know perfectly that the day of the Lord so cometh as a 3 thief in the night. When they are saying, Peace and safety, then sudden destruction cometh upon them,

as travail upon a woman with child;
and they shall in no wise escape.
4 But ye, brethren, are not in darkness, that that day should overtake 5 you <sup>8</sup>as a thief: for ye are all sons of light, and sons of the day: we are not of the night, nor of dark-6 ness; so then let us not sleep, as do the rest, but let us watch and be 7 sober. For they that sleep sleep in the night; and they that be drunk-8 en are drunken in the night. But let us, since we are of the day, be sober, putting on the breastplate of faith and love; and for a helmet, 9 the hope of salvation. For God appointed us not unto wrath, but unto the obtaining of salvation through 10 our Lord Jesus Christ, who died for us, that, whether we <sup>9</sup>wake or sleep,
we should live together with him.
11 Wherefore <sup>10</sup>exhort one another, and build each other up, even as also ye do.
12 But we beseech you, brethren, to know them that labour among you, and are over you in the Lord, and 13 admonish you; and to esteem them exceeding highly in love for their work's sake. Be at peace among 14 yourselves. And we exhort you, brethren, admonish the disorderly,
encourage the fainthearted, support the weak, be longsuffering toward 15 all. See that none render unto any one evil for evil; but always follow after that which is good, one toward another, and toward all. Re-16 joice always; pray without ceasing; 17 in everything give thanks: for this is the will of God in Christ Je-18 sus to you-ward. Quench not the 19 Spirit; despise not prophesyings;
20 <sup>11</sup>prove all things; hold fast that 21 which is good; abstain from every 12 form of evil.
23 And the God of peace himself sanctify you wholly; and may your spirit and soul and body be preserved entire, without blame at the 24 <sup>6</sup>coming of our Lord Jesus Christ.
Faithful is he that calleth you, who will also do it.
Brethren, pray for us <sup>13</sup>.
25 Salute all the brethren with a that this epistle be read unto all the

THE SECOND EPISTLE OF PAUL THE APOSTLE

TO THE

THESSALONIANS.

1 PAUL, and Silvanus, and Timothy, unto the church of the Thessalonians in God our Father and the

2 Lord Jesus Christ: Grace to you and peace from God the Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

3 We are bound to give thanks to God alway for you brethren, even as it is meet, for that your faith groweth exceedingly, and the love of each one of you all toward one

4 another aboundeth; so that we ourselves glory in you in the churches of God for your patience and faith in all your persecutions and in the

5 afflictions which ye endure; which is a manifest token of the righteous judgement of God; to the end that ye may be counted worthy of the kingdom of God, for which ye also

6 suffer: it so be that it is a righteous thing with God to recompense affliction to them that afflict you, and to you that are afflicted rest with us, at the revelation of the Lord Jesus from heaven with the angels of his

7 power in flaming fire, rendering vengeance to them that know not God, and to them that obey not the

8 gospel of our Lord Jesus, who shall suffer punishment, even eternal destruction from the face of the Lord, and from the glory of his might,

9 when he shall come to be glorified in his saints, and to be marvelled at in all them that believed (because our testimony unto you was

10 believed) in that day. To which end we also pray always for you, that our God may count you worthy of your calling, and fulfil every desire of goodness and every work of faith,

11 with power, that the name of our Lord Jesus may be glorified in you, and ye in him, according to the grace of our God and the Lord Jesus Christ.

12 Now we beseech you, brethren, to recognize the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ, and our gathering together unto him, to the end that ye be not quickly shaken in your mind, nor yet be troubled, either by spirit, or by word, or by epistle as from us, as that the day of the 13 Lord is now present: let no man beguile you in any wise: for it will not be, except the falling away come first, and the man of sin be revealed, the son of perdition, he that opposeth and exalteth himself against all that is called God or Lord: he is worshipped; so that he sitteth in the temple of God, sitting himself forth as God. Remember ye not, that, when I was yet with you, I told you these things? And now ye know that which restraineth, to the end that he may be revealed in his own season. For the mystery of lawlessness doth already work: only there is one that restraineth now, until he be taken out of the way. And then shall be revealed the lawless one, whom the Lord Jesus shall slay with the breath of his mouth, and bring to nought by the manifestation of his coming, even he, whose coming is according to the working of Satan with all power and signs and lying wonders, and with all deceit of unrighteousness for them that are perishing: because they received not the love of the truth, that they might be saved. And for this cause God sendeth them a working of error, that they should believe a lie: that they all might be judged who believed not the truth, but had pleasure in unrighteousness.

14 But we are bound to give thanks to God alway for you, brethren beloved of the Lord, for that God chose you from the beginning unto salvation in sanctification of the Spirit and belief of the truth: wherein we be thankful you through our gospel, to the obtaining of the glory of our Lord Jesus Christ. So then, brethren, stand fast, and hold the traditions which ye were taught, whether by word, or by epistle of ours.

15 Now our Lord Jesus Christ himself, and God our Father which loved us and gave us eternal comfort and good hope through grace, comfort your hearts and stablish them in every good work and word.

16 Finally, brethren, pray for us, that the word of the Lord may run and be glorified, even as also it is with you; and that we may be delivered from unreasonable and evil men: for all have not faith.

17 But the Lord is faithful, who shall stablish you and guard you from all the evil one. And we have confidence in the Lord touching you, that ye both do and will do the things which we command. And the Lord direct your hearts into the love of God, and into the patience of Christ.

18 Now we commend you, brethren, in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that ye withdraw yourselves from every brother that walketh

5 ting himself forth as God. Remember ye not, that, when I was yet with you, I told you these things?

6 And now ye know that which restraineth, to the end that he may be revealed in his own season. For the mystery of lawlessness doth already work: only there is one that restraineth now, until he be taken

7 out of the way. And then shall be revealed the lawless one, whom the Lord Jesus shall slay with the

9 wonders, and with all deceit of unrighteousness for them that are perishing: because they received not the love of the truth, that they

10 might be saved. And for this cause God sendeth them a working of error, that they should believe a 11 lie: that they all might be judged who believed not the truth, but had pleasure in unrighteousness.

12 But we are bound to give thanks to God alway for you, brethren beloved of the Lord, for that God chose you from the beginning unto salvation in sanctification of the Spirit and belief of the truth: wherein we be thankful you through our gospel, to the obtaining of the glory of our Lord Jesus Christ. So then, brethren, stand fast, and hold the traditions which ye were taught, whether by word, or by epistle of ours.

- 1 PAUL, an apostle of Christ Jesus
according to the commandment of God our Saviour, and Christ Jesus
2 our hope: unto Timothy, my true child in faith: Grace, mercy, peace, from God the Father and Christ
Jesus our Lord.
3 As I exhorted thee to tarry at Ephesus, when I was going into Macedonia, that thou mightest charge certain men not to teach 4 a different doctrine, neither to give heed to fables and endless genea-logies, the which minister question-ings, rather than a <sup>1</sup> dispensation of God which is in faith: so do I 5 now. But the end of the charge is love out of a pure heart and a good 6 conscience and faith unfeigned: from which things some having <sup>2</sup> swerved have turned aside unto vain talk-7 ing: desiring to be teachers of the law, though they understand neither what they say, nor whereof 8 they confidently affirm. But we know that the law is good, if a man 9 use it lawfully, as knowing this,
that law is not made for a righteous man, but for the lawless and unruly, for the ungodly and sinners, for the unholy and profane, for 10 murderers of fathers and <sup>3</sup> murderers of mothers, for manslayers, for fornicators, for abusers of themselves with men, for men-stealers, for liars, for false swearers, and if there be any other thing contrary to the 11 <sup>4</sup> sound <sup>5</sup> doctrine: according to the gospel of the glory of the blessed God, which was committed to my trust.
12 I thank him that <sup>6</sup> enabled me, even Christ Jesus our Lord, for that he counted me faithful, appointing 13 me to his service; though I was before a blasphemer, and a persecutor, and injurious: howbeit I

- obtained mercy, because I did it 14 ignorantly in unbelief; and the grace of our Lord abounded exceedingly with faith and love which is in Christ Jesus. Faithful is the 15 saying, and worthy of all acceptation, that Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners; of whom 16 I am chief: howbeit for this cause
I obtained mercy, that in me as chief might Jesus Christ shew forth all his longsuffering, for an ensample of them which should hereafter believe on him unto eternal life.
17 Now unto the King <sup>7</sup> eternal, incorruptible, invisible, the only God, be honour and glory <sup>8</sup> for ever and ever. Amen.
18 This charge I commit unto thee, my child Timothy, according to the prophecies which <sup>9</sup> went before on thee, that by them thou mayest 19 war the good warfare; holding faith and a good conscience: which some having thrust from them made ship-20 wreck concerning the faith: of whom is Hymenæus and Alexander; whom I delivered unto Satan, that they might be taught not to blaspheme.
2 I exhort therefore, first of all,
10 that supplications, prayers, inter-cessions, thanksgivings, be made for 2 all men; for kings and all that are in high place: that we may lead a tranquil and quiet life in all god-3 liness and gravity. This is good and acceptable in the sight of God our 4 Saviour; who willet that all men should be saved, and come to the 5 knowledge of the truth. For there is one God, one mediator also between God and men, himself man, 6 Christ Jesus, who gave himself a ransom for all; the testimony to 7 he borne in its own times; whereunto I was appointed a <sup>11</sup> preacher and an apostle (I speak the truth, I lie not), a teacher of the Gentiles in faith and truth.

8 I desire therefore that the men pray in every place, lifting up holy hands, without wrath and disputing. In like manner, that women adorn themselves in modest apparel, with shamefastness and sobriety; not with braided hair, and gold or pearls or costly raiment; but (which becometh women professing godliness) through good works. Let a woman learn in quietness with all subjection. But I permit not a woman to teach, nor to have dominion over a man, but to be in quietness. For Adam was first formed, then Eve; and Adam was not beguiled, but the woman being beguiled hath fallen into transgression: but she shall be saved through the childbearing, if they continue in faith and love and sanctification with sobriety.

3 Faithful is the saying. If a man seeketh the office of a bishop, he desireth a good work. The bishop therefore must be without reproach, the husband of one wife, temperate, soberminded, orderly, given to hospitality, apt to teach: no brawler, no striker; but gentle, not contentious, no lover of money; one that ruleth well his own house, having his children in subjection with all gravity; (but if a man knoweth not how to rule his own house, how shall he take care of the church of God?) not a novice, lest being puffed up he fall into the condemnation of the devil. Moreover he must have good testimony from them that are without; lest he fall into reproach and the snare of the devil. 8 Deacons in like manner must be grave, not doubletongued, not given to much wine, not greedy of filthy lucre; holding the mystery of the faith in a pure conscience. And let these also first be proved; then let them serve as deacons, if they be blameless. Women in like manner must be grave, not slanderers, temperate, faithful in all things. Let deacons be husbands of one wife, ruling their children and their own houses well. For they that have served well as deacons gain to themselves a good standing, and great boldness in the faith which is in Christ Jesus.

14 These things write I unto thee, hoping to come unto thee shortly; but if I tarry long, that thou mayest know how men ought to behave themselves in the house of God, which is the church of the living God, the pillar and ground of the truth. And without controversy great is the mystery of godliness: He who was manifested in the flesh, justified in the spirit, seen of angels, preached among the nations, believed on in the world, received up in glory.

4 But the Spirit saith expressly, that in later times some shall fall away from the faith, giving heed to seducing spirits and doctrines of devils, through the hypocrisy of men that speak lies, branded in their own conscience as with a hot iron; forbidding to marry, and commanding to abstain from meats, which God created to be received with thanksgiving by them that believe and know the truth. For every creature of God is good, and nothing is to be rejected, if it be received with thanksgiving: for it is sanctified through the word of God and prayer.

6 If thou put the brethren in mind of these things, thou shalt be a good minister of Christ Jesus, nourished in the words of the faith, and of the good doctrine which thou hast followed until now; but refuse profane and old wives' fables. And exercise thyself unto godliness: for bodily exercise is profitable for a little; but godliness is profitable for all things, having promise of the life which now is, and of that which is to come. Faithful is the saying, 10 and worthy of all acceptance. For to this end we labour and strive, because we have our hope set on the living God, who is the Saviour of all men, specially of them that believe. These things command and teach. Let no man despise thy youth; but be thou an ensample to them that believe, in word, in manner of life, in love, in faith, in purity. Till I come, give heed to reading, to exhortation, to teaching. Neglect not the gift that is in thee, which was given thee by prophecy, with the laying on of the hands of the presbytery. Be diligent in these things; give thyself wholly to them; that thy progress may be manifest unto all. Take heed to thyself, and to thy teaching. Continue in these things; for in doing this thou shalt save both thyself and them that hear thee.

5 Rebuke not an elder, but exhort him as a father; the younger men as brethren; the elder women as mothers; the younger as sisters, in all purity. Honour widows that are widows indeed. But if any widow hath children or grandchildren, let them learn first to shew piety towards their own family, and to requite their parents: for this is acceptable in the sight of God. Now she that is a widow indeed, and desolate, hath her hope set on God, and continueth in supplications and prayers night and day. But she that giveth herself to pleasure is dead while she liveth. These things also command, that they may be without reproach. But if any provideth not for his own, and specially his own household, he hath denied the faith, and is worse than an unbeliever. a widow under threescore years old, having been the wife of one man, well reported of for good works; If she hath brought up children, if she hath used hospitality to strangers, if she hath washed the saints' feet, if she hath relieved the afflicted, if she hath diligently followed every good work. But younger widows refuse: for when they have waxed wanton against Christ, they desire to marry; having condemnation, because they have rejected their first faith. And withal they learn also to be idle, going about from house to house; and not only idle, but tattlers also and busybodies, speaking things which they ought not. I desire therefore that the younger <sup>1</sup>widows marry, bear children, rule the household, give none occasion to the adversary for reviling: for already some are turned aside after Satan. If any woman that belloveth hath widows, let her relieve them, and let not the church be burdened; that it may relieve them that are widows indeed.

Let the elders that rule well be counted worthy of double honour, especially those who labour in the word and in teaching. For the scripture saith, Thou shalt not muzzle the ox when he treadeth out the corn. And, The labourer is worthy of his hire. Against an elder receive not an accusation, except at the mouth of two or three witnesses. Them that sin reprove in the sight of all, that the rest also may be in fear. I charge thee in the sight of God, and Christ Jesus, and the elect angels, that thou observe these things without <sup>2</sup>prejudice, doing nothing by partiality. Lay hands hastily on no man, neither be partaker of other men's sins; keep thyself pure. Be no longer a drinker of water, but use a little wine for thy stomach's sake and thine often infirmities. Some men's sins are evident, going before unto judgement; and some men also they follow after. In like manner also <sup>3</sup>there are good works that are evident; and such as are otherwise cannot be hid.

Let as many as are <sup>4</sup>servants under the yoke count their own masters worthy of all honour, that the name of God and the doctrine be not blasphemed. And they that have believing masters, let them not despise them, because they are brethren; but let them serve them the rather, because they that <sup>5</sup>partake of the benefit are believing and beloved. These things teach and exhort.

If any man teacheth a different doctrine, and consenteth not to sound words, even the words of our Lord Jesus Christ, and to the doctrine which is according to godliness; he is puffed up, knowing nothing, but <sup>7</sup>dotting about questionings and disputes of words, whereof cometh envy, strife, railings, evil surmisings, wranglings of men corrupted in mind and bereft of the truth, supposing that godliness is a way of gain. But godliness with contentment is great gain: for we brought nothing into the world, for neither can we carry anything out; but having food and covering <sup>8</sup>we shall be therewith content. But they that desire to be rich fall into a temptation and a snare and many foolish and hurtful lusts, such as drown men in destruction and perdition. For the love of money is a root of all <sup>9</sup>kinds of evil: which some reaching after have been led astray from the faith, and have pierced themselves through with many sorrows.

But thou, O man of God, flee these things; and follow after righteousness, godliness, faith, love, patience, meekness. Fight the good fight of the faith, lay hold on the life eternal, whereunto thou wast called, and didst confess the good confession in the sight of many witnesses. I charge thee in the sight of God, who <sup>10</sup>quickeneth all things, and of Christ Jesus, who before Pontius Pilate witnessed the good confession; that thou keep the commandment, without spot, without reproach, until the appearing of our Lord Jesus Christ: which in <sup>11</sup>its own times he shall shew, who is the blessed and only Potentate, the King of <sup>12</sup>kings, and Lord of <sup>13</sup>lords; who only hath immortality, dwelling in light unapproachable; whom no man hath seen, nor can see: to whom be honour and power eternal. Amen. Charge them that are rich in this present <sup>14</sup>world, that they be not highminded, nor have their hope set on the uncertainty of riches, but on God, who giveth us richly all things to enjoy; that they do good, that they be rich in good works, that they be ready to distribute, <sup>15</sup>willing to communicate; laying up in store for themselves a good foundation against the time to come, that they may lay hold on the life which is life indeed. O Timothy, guard <sup>16</sup>that which is committed unto thee, turning away from the profane babblings and oppositions of the knowledge which is falsely so called; which some professing have <sup>17</sup>erred concerning the faith.

the house of Onesiphorus: for he oft refreshed me, and was not ashamed of my chain; but, when he was in Rome, he sought me diligently, and found me (the Lord grant unto him to find mercy of the Lord in that day); and in how many things he ministered at Ephesus, thou knowest very well.

Thou therefore, my child, be strengthened in the grace that is in Christ Jesus. And the things which thou hast heard from me among many witnesses, the same commit thou to faithful men, who shall be able to teach others also.

Suffer hardship with me, as a good soldier of Christ Jesus. No soldier on service entangleth himself in the affairs of this life; that he may please him who enrolled him as a soldier. And if also a man contend in the games, he is not crowned, except he have contended lawfully.

The husbandman that laboureth must be the first to partake of the fruits. Consider what I say; for the Lord shall give thee understanding in all things. Remember Jesus Christ, risen from the dead, of the seed of David, according to my gospel: wherein I suffer hardship unto bands, as a malefactor; but the word of God is not bound. Therefore I endure all things for the elect's sake, that they also may obtain the salvation which is in Christ Jesus with eternal glory.

Faithful is the saying: For if we died with him, we shall also live with him: if we endure, we shall also reign with him: if we shall deny him, he also will deny us: if we are faithless, he abideth faithful; for he cannot deny himself.

Of these things put them in remembrance, charging them in the sight of the Lord, that they strive not about words, to no profit, to the subverting of them that hear.

Give diligence to present thyself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, handling aright the word of truth.

But shun profane babblings: for they will proceed further in ungodliness, and their word will eat as doth a gangrene: of whom is Hymenæus and Philetus; men who concerning the truth have errored, saying that the resurrection is past already, and overthrow the faith of some. Howbeit the firm foundation of God standeth, having this seal, The Lord knoweth them that are his; and, Let every one that nameth the name of the Lord depart from unrighteousness. Now in a great house there are not only vessels of gold and of silver, but also of wood and of earth; and

23 But foolish and ignorant questionings refuse, knowing that they generate strifes. And the Lord's servant must not strive, but be gentle towards all, apt to teach, forbearing, in meekness correcting them that oppose themselves; if peradventure God may give them repentance unto the knowledge of the truth, and they may recover themselves out of the snare of the devil, having been taken captive by the Lord's servant unto the will of God.

3 But know this, that in the last days grievous times shall come. For men shall be lovers of self, lovers of money, boastful, haughty, railers, disobedient to parents, unthankful, unholty, without natural affection, implacable, slanderers, without self-control, fierce, no lovers of good, traitors, headstrong, puffed up, lovers of pleasure rather than lovers of God; holding a form of godliness, but having denied the power thereof: from these also turn away. For of these are they that creep into houses, and take captive silly women laden with sins, led away by divers lusts, ever learning, and never able to come to the knowledge of the truth. And like as Jannes and Jambres withstood Moses, so do these also withstand the truth: men corrupted in mind, reprobate concerning the faith. But they shall proceed no further: for their folly shall be evident unto all men, as theirs also came to be. But thou didst follow my teaching, conduct, purpose, faith, longsuffering, love, patience, persecutions, sufferings; what things befell me at Antioch, at Iconium, at Lystra; what persecutions I endured; and out of them all the Lord delivered me. Yea, and all that would live godly in Christ Jesus shall suffer persecution. But evil men and impostors shall wax worse and worse, deceiving and being deceived. But abide thou in the things which thou hast learned and hast been assured of, knowing of whom thou hast learned them; and that from a babe thou hast known the sacred writings which are able to make thee wise unto salvation through faith which is in Christ Jesus. Every scripture inspired of God is also profitable for teaching, for reproof, for correction, for instruction which is in righteousness: that the man of God may be complete, furnished completely unto every good work.

4 I charge thee in the sight of God, and of Christ Jesus, who shall judge the quick and the dead, and by his appearing and his kingdom: preach the word; be instant in season, out of season; reprove, rebuke, exhort, with all longsuffering and teaching.
3 For the time will come when they will not endure the sound doctrine; but, having itching ears, will heap to themselves teachers after their own lusts; and will turn away their ears from the truth, and turn aside unto fables. But be thou sober in all things, suffer hardship, do the work of an evangelist, fulfil thy ministry. For I am already being offered, and the time of my departure is come. I have fought the good fight, I have finished the course, I have kept the faith: henceforth there is laid up for me the crown of righteousness, which the Lord, the righteous judge, shall give to me at that day: and not only to me, but also to all them that have loved his appearing.

9 Do thy diligence to come shortly unto me: for Demas forsook me, having loved this present world, and went to Thessalonica; Crescens to Galatia, Titus to Dalmatia. Only Luke is with me. Take Mark, and bring him with thee: for he is useful to me for ministering. But Tychicus I sent to Ephesus. The cloak that I left at Troas with Carpus, bring when thou comest, and the books, especially the parchments.
14 Alexander the coppersmith did me much evil: the Lord will render to him according to his works: of whom be thou ware also; for he greatly withstood our words. At my first defence no one took my part, but all forsook me: may it not be laid to their account. But the Lord stood by me, and strengthened me; that through me the message might be fully proclaimed, and that all the Gentiles might hear: and I was delivered out of the mouth of the lion. The Lord will deliver me from every evil work, and will save me unto his heavenly kingdom: to whom be the glory for ever and ever. Amen.
19 Salute Prisca and Aquila, and the house of Onesiphorus. Erastus abode at Corinth: but Trophimus I left at Miletus sick. Do thy diligence to come before winter. Eubulus saluteth thee, and Pudens, and Linus, and Claudia, and all the brethren.

1 PAUL, a <sup>1</sup>servant of God, and an apostle of Jesus Christ, according to the faith of God's elect, and the knowledge of the truth which is
2 according to godliness, in hope of eternal life, which God, who cannot lie, promised before times eternal;
3 but in <sup>2</sup>his own seasons manifested his word in the <sup>3</sup>message, wherewith I was intrusted according to the commandment of God our Saviour; to Titus, my true child after a common faith: Grace and peace from God the Father and Christ Jesus our Saviour.
4 For this cause left I thee in Crete, that thou shouldest set in order the things that were wanting, and appoint elders in every city, as I gave thee charge; if any man is blameless, the husband of one wife, having children that believe, who are not accused of riot or unruly. For the <sup>4</sup>bishop must be blameless, as God's steward; <sup>5</sup>not selfwilled, not soon angry, <sup>6</sup>no brawler, no striker, not greedy of filthy lucre; but given to hospitality, a lover of good, sober-minded, just, holy, temperate; holding to the faithful word which is according to the teaching, that he may be able both to exhort in the <sup>6</sup>sound <sup>7</sup>doctrine, and to convict the gainsayers.
10 For there are many unruly men, vain talkers and deceivers, specially they of the circumcision, whose mouths must be stopped; men who overthrow whole houses, teaching things which they ought not, for filthy lucre's sake. One of themselves, a prophet of their own, said, Cretans are always liars, evil beasts, idle <sup>8</sup>gluttons. This testimony is true. For which cause reprove them sharply, that they may be <sup>9</sup>sound in the faith, not giving heed to Jewish fables, and commandments of men who turn away from the 15 truth. To the pure all things are pure; but to them that are defiled and unbelieving nothing is pure; but both their mind and their conscience are defiled. They profess that they know God; but by their works they deny him, being abominable and disobedient, and unto every good work reprobate.
2 But speak thou the things which
2 befit the <sup>2</sup>sound <sup>2</sup>doctrine: that aged men be temperate, grave, sober-minded, <sup>3</sup>sound in faith in love, in patience: that aged women likewise be reverent in demeanour, not slanderers nor enslaved to much wine, teachers of that which is good;

4 that they may train the young women to love their husbands, to love
5 their children, to be sober-minded, chaste, workers at home, kind, being in subjection to their own husbands, that the word of God be not
6 blasphemed: the younger men likewise exhort to be sober-minded: in all things shewing thyself an example of good works; in thy doctrine shewing uncorruptness, gravity, sound speech, that cannot be condemned; that he that is of the contrary part may be ashamed, having no evil thing to say of us.
9 Exhort <sup>10</sup>servants to be in subjection to their own masters, and to be well-pleasing to them in all things;
10 not gainsaying; not purloining, but shewing all good fidelity; that they may adorn the doctrine of God our 11 Saviour in all things. For the grace of God <sup>11</sup>hath appeared, bringing salvation to all men, instructing us
12 to the intent that, denying ungodliness and worldly lusts, we should live soberly and righteously and 13 godly in this present <sup>12</sup>world; looking for the blessed hope and appearing of the glory <sup>13</sup>of our great God and Saviour Jesus Christ; who gave himself for us, that he might redeem us from all iniquity, and purify unto himself a people for his own possession, zealous of good works.
15 These things speak and exhort and reprove with all <sup>14</sup>authority. Let no man despise thee.
3 Put them in mind to be in subjection to rulers, to authorities, to be obedient, to be ready unto every
2 good work, to speak evil of no man, not to be contentious, to be gentle, shewing all meekness toward all
3 men. For we also were aforetime foolish, disobedient, deceived, serving divers lusts and pleasures, living in malice and envy, hateful, hating
4 one another. But when the kindness of God our Saviour, and his love
5 toward man, appeared, not by works done in righteousness, which we did ourselves, but according to his mercy he saved us, through the <sup>15</sup>washing of regeneration <sup>16</sup>and renewing of the <sup>17</sup>Holy Ghost, which he poured out upon us richly, through Jesus Christ our Saviour; that being justified by his grace, we might be made <sup>18</sup>heirs according to the hope 8 of eternal life. Faithful is the saying, and concerning these things I will that thou affirm confidently, to the end that they which have believed God may be careful to 19 maintain good works. These things

- 1 PAUL, a prisoner of Christ Jesus, and Timothy <sup>1</sup>our brother, to Philemon our beloved and fellow-worker, and to Apphia <sup>2</sup>our sister, and to Archippus our fellow-soldier, and to the church in thy house: Grace to you and peace from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.
4 I thank my God always, making mention of thee in my prayers,
5 hearing of <sup>3</sup>thy love, and of the faith which thou hast toward the Lord Jesus, and toward all the saints; that the fellowship of thy faith may become effectual, in the knowledge of every good thing which 7 is in <sup>4</sup>you, unto Christ. For I had much joy and comfort in thy love, because the hearts of the saints have been refreshed through thee, brother.
8 Wherefore, though I have all boldness in Christ to enjoin thee that 9 which is befitting, yet for love's sake I rather beseech, being such a one as Paul <sup>5</sup>the aged, and now a prisoner also of Christ Jesus: I beseech thee for my child, whom I have begotten in my bonds, <sup>6</sup>Onesimus, who was aforetime unprofitable to thee, but now is profitable
12 to thee and to me: whom I have sent back to thee in his own person, that is, my very heart; whom I would fain have kept with me, that in thy behalf he might minis-

- ter unto me in the bonds of the 14 gospel: but without thy mind I would do nothing; that thy goodness should not be as of necessity, 15 but of free will. For perhaps he was therefore parted from thee for a season, that thou shouldst have 16 him for ever; no longer as a <sup>7</sup>servant, but more than a <sup>7</sup>servant, a brother beloved, specially to me, but how much rather to thee, both in the flesh and in the Lord. If then thou countest me a partner, 18 receive him as myself. But if he hath wronged thee at all, or oweth <sup>8</sup>thee ought, put that to mine account; I Paul write it with mine own hand, I will repay it: that I say not unto thee how that thou owest to me even thine own self besides. Yea, brother, let me have 20 <sup>9</sup>joy of thee in the Lord: refresh
21 my heart in Christ. Having confidence in thine obedience I write unto thee, knowing that thou wilt do even beyond what I say. But withal prepare me also a lodging: for I hope that through your prayers I shall be granted unto you.
23 Epaphras, my fellow-prisoner in Christ Jesus, saluteth thee; and so do Mark, Aristarchus, Demas, Luke, my fellow-workers.

Thou art my Son.
This day have I begotten thee?
and again,
I will be to him a Father,
And he shall be to me a Son?
- 2 And when he again bringeth in the firstborn into the world he saith, And let all the angels of God worship him. And of the angels he saith,
Who maketh his angels winds,
And his ministers a flame of fire:
- 3 but of the Son he saith,
Thy throne, O God, is for ever and ever;
And the sceptre of uprightness is the sceptre of thy kingdom.
- 4 Thou hast loved righteousness, and hated iniquity;
Therefore God, thy God, hath appointed thee
With the oil of gladness above thy fellows.
- 5 And,
Thou, Lord, in the beginning hast laid the foundation of the earth,
And the heavens are the works of thy hands:
- 6 They shall perish; but thou continuest:
And they all shall wax old as doth a garment;
And as a mantle shalt thou roll them up,
As a garment, and they shall be changed:
But thou art the same,
And thy years shall not fall.
- 7 But of which of the angels hath he said at any time,
Sit thou on my right hand,
Till I make thine enemies the footstool of thy feet?
- 8 Are they not all ministering spirits, sent forth to do service for the sake of them that shall inherit salvation?
- 9 Therefore we ought to give the more earnest heed to the things that were heard, lest haply we drift away from them. For if the word spoken through angels proved steadfast, and every transgression and disobedience received a just recompense of reward; how shall we escape, if we neglect so great salvation? which having at the first been spoken through the Lord, was confirmed unto us by them that heard;
- 10 God also bearing witness with them, both by signs and wonders, and by manifold powers, and by gifts of the Holy Ghost, according to his own will.
- 11 For not unto angels did he subject the world to come, whereof we speak. But one hath somewhere testified, saying,
What is man, that thou art mindful of him?
Or the son of man, that thou visitest him?
- 12 Thou madest him a little lower than the angels;
Thou crownedst him with glory and honour,
And didst set him over the works of thy hands:
- 13 Thou didst put all things in subjection under his feet.
For in that he subjected all things unto him, he left nothing that is not subject to him. But now we see not yet all things subjected to him. But we behold him who hath been made a little lower than the angels, even Jesus, because of the suffering of death crowned with glory and honour, that by the grace of God he should taste death for every man. For it became him, for whom are all things, and through whom are all things, to make the author of their salvation perfect through sufferings. For both he that sanctifieth and they that are sanctified are all of one: for which cause he is not ashamed to call them brethren, saying,
I will declare thy name unto my brethren.
In the midst of the congregation will I sing thy praise.
- 14 And again, I will put my trust in him. And again, Behold, I and the children which God hath given me.
- 15 Since then the children are sharers in flesh and blood, he also himself in like manner partook of the same; that through death he might bring to nought him that had the power of death, that is, the devil; and might deliver all them who through fear of death were all their lifetime subject to bondage. For verily not of angels doth he take hold, but he taketh hold of the seed of Abraham. Wherefore it becometh him in all things to be made like unto his brethren, that he might be a merciful and faithful high priest in things pertaining to God, to make propitiation for the sins of the people.
- 16 For in that he himself hath suffered being tempted, he is able to succour them that are tempted.
- 17 Wherefore, holy brethren, partakers of a heavenly calling, consider the Apostle and High Priest of our confession, even Jesus; who was faithful to him that appointed him, as also was Moses in all his house. For he hath been counted worthy of more glory than Moses, by so much as he that built the house hath more honour than the house. For every house is built by some one; but he that built all things is God. And Moses indeed was faithful in all his house as a servant, for a testimony of those things which were afterwards to be spoken; but Christ as a son, over his house; whose house are we, if we hold fast our boldness and the glorying of our hope firm

7 unto the end. Wherefore, even as the Holy Ghost saith,

To-day if ye shall hear his voice,
8 Harden not your hearts, as in the provocation,

Like as in the day of the temptation in the wilderness,

9 <sup>1</sup>Wherewith your fathers tempted me by proving me,
And saw my works forty years.

10 Wherefore I was displeased with this generation.

And said, They do alway err in their heart:

But they did not know my ways;
11 As I sware in my wrath,

12 Take heed, brethren, lest haply there shall be in any one of you an evil heart of unbelief, in falling

13 away from the living God: but exhort one another day by day, so long as it is called To-day; lest any one of you be hardened by the deceitfulness of sin: for we are become partakers <sup>3</sup> of Christ, if we hold fast the beginning of our confidence firm unto the end: while it is said,

To-day if ye shall hear his voice,
Harden not your hearts, as in the provocation.

16 For who, when they heard, did provoke? nay, did not all they that came out of Egypt by Moses? And with whom was he displeased forty years? was it not with them that sinned, whose <sup>4</sup>carcasses fell in the wilderness? And to whom sware he that they should not enter into his rest, but to them that were disobedient? And we see that they were not able to enter in because of unbelief.

18 Let us fear therefore, lest haply, a promise being left of entering into his rest, any one of you should

2 seem to have come short of it. For indeed we have had <sup>5</sup>good tidings preached unto us, even as also they: but the word of hearing did not profit them, because <sup>6</sup>they were not united by faith with them that

3 heard. <sup>7</sup>For we which have believed do enter into that rest; even as he hath said,

As I sware in my wrath,
<sup>2</sup>They shall not enter into my rest:

although the works were finished from the foundation of the world.

4 For he hath said somewhere of the seventh day on this wise, And God rested on the seventh day from all his works; and in this place again,

6 Seeing therefore it remaineth that some should enter therein, and they to whom <sup>8</sup>the good tidings were before preached failed to enter

7 in because of disobedience, he again defineth a certain day, <sup>9</sup>saying in David, after so long a time, To-day, as it hath been before said,

To-day if ye shall hear his voice,
Harden not your hearts.

8 For if <sup>10</sup>Joshua had given them rest, he would not have spoken afterward of another day. There remaineth therefore a sabbath rest for the 10 people of God. For he that is entered into his rest hath himself also rested from his works, as God did

11 from him. Let us therefore give diligence to enter into that rest, that no man fall <sup>11</sup>after the same example of disobedience. For the word of God is living, and active, and sharper than any two-edged sword, and piercing even to the dividing of soul and spirit, of both joints and marrow, and quick to discern the thoughts and intents of the heart.

13 And there is no creature that is not manifest in his sight: but all things are naked and laid open before the eyes of him with whom we have to do.

14 Having then a great high priest, who hath passed through the heavens, Jesus the Son of God, let us hold fast our confession. For we have not a high priest that cannot be touched with the feeling of our infirmities; but one that hath been in all points tempted like as we are, yet without sin. Let us therefore draw near with boldness unto the throne of grace, that we may receive mercy, and may find grace to help us in time of need.

5 For every high priest, being taken from among men, is appointed for men in things pertaining to God, that he may offer both gifts and

2 sacrifices for sins: who can bear gently with the ignorant and erring, for that he himself also is compassed with infirmity; and by reason thereof is bound, as for the people, so also for himself, to offer for sins.

4 And no man taketh the honour unto himself, but when he is called

5 of God, even as was Aaron. So Christ also glorified not himself to be made a high priest, but he that spake unto him,

Thou art my Son,
This day have I begotten thee:

6 as he saith also in another place, Thou art a priest for ever

After the order of Melchizedek.

7 Who in the days of his flesh, having offered up prayers and supplications with strong crying and tears unto him that was able to save him <sup>12</sup>from death, and having been heard for his godly fear, though he was a Son, yet learned obedience by the things which he suffered; and having been made perfect, he became unto all them that obey him the <sup>13</sup>author of eternal salvation;

have need again <sup>1</sup>that some one teach you the rudiments of the <sup>2</sup>first principles of the oracles of God; and are become such as have need of milk, and not of solid food.

13 For every one that partaketh of milk is without experience of the word of righteousness; for he is a 14 babe. But solid food is for <sup>3</sup>full-grown men, even those who by reason of use have their senses exercised to discern good and evil.

6 Wherefore let us <sup>4</sup>cease to speak of the first principles of Christ, and press on unto <sup>5</sup>perfection; not laying again a foundation of repentance from dead works, and of faith

2 toward God, <sup>6</sup>of the teaching of 7 baptisms, and of laying on of hands, and of resurrection of the dead, and of eternal judgement.

3 And this will we do, if God permit.

4 For as touching those who were once enlightened <sup>8</sup>and tasted of the heavenly gift, and were made <sup>9</sup>partakers of the Holy Ghost, and <sup>5</sup>tasted the good word of God, and

6 the powers of the age to come, and then fell away, it is impossible to renew them again unto repentance:

<sup>10</sup>seeing they crucify to themselves
the Son of God afresh, and put him 7 to an open shame. For the land which hath drunk the rain that cometh oft upon it, and bringeth forth herbs meet for them for whose sake it is also tilled, receiveth blessing from God: but if it beareth thorns and thistles, it is rejected and nigh unto a curse; whose end is to be burned.

9 But, beloved, we are persuaded better things of you, and things that <sup>11</sup>accompany salvation, though

10 we thus speak: for God is not unrighteous to forget your work and the love which ye shewed toward his name, in that ye ministered unto the saints, and still do minister.

11 And we desire that each one of you may shew the same diligence unto the <sup>12</sup>fullness of hope even to the end:

12 that ye be not sluggish, but imitators of them who through faith and patience inherit the promises.

13 For when God made promise to Abraham, since he could swear by none greater, he sware by himself,

14 saying, Surely blessing I will bless thee, and multiplying I will multiply thee. And thus, having patiently endured, he obtained the 15 promise. For men swear by the greater: and in every dispute of theirs the oath is final for confirmation. Wherein God, being mind-

16 ed to shew more abundantly unto the heirs of the promise the immutability of his counsel, <sup>13</sup>interposed

17 with an oath: that by two immutable things, in which it is impossible for God to lie, we may have a strong encouragement, who have 18 fled for refuge to lay hold of the hope set before us; which we have as an anchor of the soul, a hope both sure and steadfast and entering into that which is within the veil;

20 whither as a forerunner Jesus entered for us, having become a high priest for ever after the order of Melchizedek.

7 For this Melchizedek, king of Salem, priest of God Most High, who met Abraham returning from the slaughter of the kings, and blessed

2 him, to whom also Abraham divided a tenth part of all (being first, by interpretation, King of righteousness, and then also King of Salem,

3 which is, King of peace; without father, without mother, without genealogy, having neither beginning of days nor end of life, but made like unto the Son of God), abideth a priest continually.

4 Now consider how great this man was, unto whom Abraham, the patriarch, gave a tenth out of the chief

5 spoils. And they indeed of the sons of Levi that receive the priest's office have commandment to take tithes of the people according to the law, that is, of their brethren, though these have come out of the 6 loins of Abraham: but he whose genealogy is not counted from them hath taken tithes of Abraham, and hath blessed him that hath the 7 promises. But without any dispute the less is blessed of the better.

8 And here men that die receive tithes; but there one, of whom it 9 is witnessed that he liveth. And so to say, through Abraham even Levi,

who receiveth tithes, hath paid 10 tithes; for he was yet in the loins of his father, when Melchizedek met him.

11 Now if there was perfection through the Levitical priesthood (for under it hath the people received the law), what further need was there that another priest should arise after the order of Melchizedek, and not be reckoned after the order of Aaron?

12 For the priesthood being changed, there is made of necessity a change also <sup>14</sup>of the law. For he of whom these things are said <sup>15</sup>belongeth to another tribe, from which no man hath given attendance at the altar.

14 For it is evident that our Lord hath sprung out of Judah; as to which tribe Moses spake nothing concern-

15 ing priests. And what we say is yet more abundantly evident, if after the likeness of Melchizedek there

16 ariseth another priest, who hath been made, not after the law of a carnal commandment, but after the 17 power of an <sup>16</sup>endless life: for it is witnessed of him,

Thou art a priest for ever

After the order of Melchizedek.

18 For there is a disannulling of a foregoing commandment because of its weakness and unprofitableness (for the law made nothing perfect), and a bringing in thereupon of a better hope, through which we draw

20 nigh unto God. And inasmuch as it is not without the taking of an oath 21 (for they indeed have been made priests without an oath; but he with an oath <sup>1</sup> by him that saith <sup>2</sup> of him,

The Lord sware and will not repent himself,

Thou art a priest for ever);

22 by so much also hath Jesus become the surety of a better <sup>3</sup> covenant.

23 And they indeed have been made priests many in number, because that by death they are hindered from continuing; but he, because he abideth for ever, <sup>4</sup> hath his priesthood <sup>5</sup> unchangeable. Wherefore also he is able to save <sup>6</sup> to the utter-most them that draw near unto God through him, seeing he ever liveth to make intercession for them.

26 For such a high priest became us, holy, guileless, undefiled, separated from sinners, and made higher than the heavens; who needeth not daily,

27 like those high priests, to offer up sacrifices, first for his own sins, and then for the sins of the people: for this he did once for all, when he offered up himself. For the law

28 appointeth men high priests, having infirmity; but the word of the oath, which was after the law, ap-pointeth a Son, perfected for evermore.

8 <sup>7</sup> Now <sup>8</sup> in the things which we are saying the chief point is this: We have such a high priest, who sat down on the right hand of the throne of the Majesty in the heavens.

2 a minister of <sup>9</sup> the sanctuary, and of the true tabernacle, which the Lord

3 pitched, not man. For every high priest is appointed to offer both gifts and sacrifices: wherefore it is necessary that this high priest also have 4 somewhat to offer. Now if he were on earth, he would not be a priest at all, seeing there are those who offer the gifts according to the law;

5 who serve that which is a copy and shadow of the heavenly things, even as Moses is warned of God when he is about to <sup>10</sup> make the tabernacle:

for, See, saith he, that thou make all things according to the pattern that was shewed thee in the mount.

6 But now hath he obtained a ministry the more excellent, by how much also he is the mediator of a better <sup>2</sup> covenant, which hath been enact-

7 ed upon better promises. For if that first covenant had been faultless, then would no place have been 8 sought for a second. For finding fault with them, he saith,

Behold, the days come, saith the Lord,

That I will <sup>11</sup> make a new <sup>3</sup> covenant with the house of Israel and with the house of Judah:

9 Not according to the <sup>3</sup> covenant that I made with their fathers.
In the day that I took them by the hand to lead them forth
out of the land of Egypt;

For they continued not in my <sup>2</sup> covenant,

And I regarded them not, saith
the Lord.

10 For this is the <sup>3</sup> covenant that <sup>12</sup> I will make with the house of Israel

After those days saith the Lord;
I will put my laws into their mind.

And on their heart also will I write them:

And I will be to them a God.

And they shall be to me a people;

11 And they shall not teach every man his fellow-citizen.

And every man his brother, saying, Know the Lord:

For all shall know me.

From the least to the greatest of
them.

12 For I will be merciful to their
iniquities,

And their sins will I remember
no more.

13 In that he saith, A new covenant, he hath made the first old. But that which is becoming old and waxeth aged is nigh unto vanishing away.

9 Now even the first covenant had ordinances of divine service, and its sanctuary, a sanctuary of this

2 world. For there was a tabernacle prepared, the first, wherein <sup>13</sup> were the candlestick, and the table, and <sup>14</sup> the shewbread; which is called

3 the Holy place. And after the second veil, the tabernacle which is 4 called the Holy of holies; having a golden <sup>15</sup> censer, and the ark of the covenant overlaid round about with gold, wherein <sup>16</sup> was a golden pot holding the manna, and Aaron's rod that budded, and the tables of the 5 covenant; and above it cherubim of glory overshadowing <sup>17</sup> the mercy-seat; of which things we cannot

6 now speak severally. Now these things having been thus prepared,

the priests go in continually into the first tabernacle, accomplishing

7 the services; but into the second the high priest alone, once in the year, not without blood, which he offereth for himself, and for the 8 errors of the people: the Holy Ghost this signifying, that the way into the holy place hath not yet been made manifest, while as the first tabernacle is yet standing;

9 which is a parable for the time now present; according to which are offered both gifts and sacrifices that cannot, as touching the conscience,

10 make the worshipper perfect, being only (with meats and drinks and divers washings) carnal ordinances, imposed until a time of reformation.

11 But Christ having come a high priest of <sup>19</sup> the good things to come, through the greater and more perfect tabernacle, not made with hands, that is to say, not of this creation, nor yet through the blood of goats and calves, but through his own blood, entered in once for all into the holy place, having obtain-

13 ed eternal redemption. For if the blood of goats and bulls, and the ashes of a heifer sprinkling them that have been defiled, sanctify unto the cleanness of the flesh; how much more shall the blood of Christ, who through the eternal Spirit offered himself without blemish unto God, cleanse your conscience from dead works to serve the living God?

15 And for this cause he is the mediator of a new <sup>2</sup>covenant, that a death having taken place for the redemption of the transgressions that were under the first <sup>2</sup>covenant, they that have been called may receive the promise of the eternal inheritance. For where a <sup>2</sup>testament is, there must of necessity <sup>3</sup>be the death of him that made it. For a <sup>2</sup>testament is of force <sup>4</sup>where there hath been death: <sup>5</sup>for doth it ever avail while he that made it liveth?

18 Wherefore even the first <sup>2</sup>covenant hath not been dedicated without blood. For when every commandment had been spoken by Moses unto all the people according to the law he took the blood of the calves and the goats, with water and scarlet wool and hyssop, and sprinkled both the book itself, and all the people, saying, This is the blood of the <sup>2</sup>covenant which God commanded to you-ward. Moreover the tabernacle and all the vessels of the ministry he sprinkled in like manner with the blood. And according to the law I may almost say, all things are cleansed with blood, and apart from shedding of blood there is no remission.

23 It was necessary therefore that the copies of the things in the heavens should be cleansed with these; but the heavenly things themselves with better sacrifices than these. For Christ entered not into a holy place made with hands, like in pattern to the true; but into heaven itself, now to appear before the face of God for us: nor yet that he should offer himself often; as the high priest entereth into the holy place year by year with blood not his own, else must he often have suffered since the foundation of the world: but now once at the <sup>6</sup>end of the ages hath he been manifested to put away sin <sup>7</sup>by the sacrifice of himself.

27 And inasmuch as it is <sup>8</sup>appointed unto men once to die, and after this cometh judgment: so Christ also having been once offered to bear the sins of many, shall appear a second time apart from sin to them that wait for him, unto salvation.

10 For the law having a shadow of the good things to come, not the very image of the things, they can never with the same sacrifices year by year, which they offer continually, make perfect them that draw nigh. Else would they not have ceased to be offered, because the worshippers, having been once cleansed, would have had no more conscience of sins? But in those sacrifices there is a remembrance made of sins year by year. For it is impossible that the blood of bulls and goats should take away sins. Wherefore when he cometh into the world, he saith, Sacrifice and offering thou wouldst not,

But a body didst thou prepare for me;

6 In whole burnt offerings and sacrifices for sin thou hadst no pleasure:

7 Then said I, Lo, I am come (In the roll of the book it is written of me)

To do thy will, O God.

8 Saying above, Sacrifices and offerings and whole burnt offerings and sacrifices for sin thou wouldst not neither hadst pleasure therein (the which are offered according to the law), then hath he said, Lo, I am come to do thy will. He taketh away the first, that he may establish the second.

10 By which will we have been sanctified through the offering of the body of Jesus Christ once

11 for all. And every <sup>11</sup>priest indeed standeth day by day ministering and offering oftentimes the same sacrifices, the which can never take away sins: but he, when he had offered one sacrifice for <sup>12</sup>sins for ever, sat down on the right hand of God;

13 from henceforth expecting till his enemies be made the footstool of his feet. For by one offering he hath perfected for ever them that are sanctified. And the Holy Ghost also beareth witness to us: for after he hath said,

16 This is the <sup>13</sup>covenant that I will make with them

After those days, saith the Lord; I will put my laws in their heart, And upon their mind also will I write them;

then saith he,

17 And their sins and their iniquities will I remember no more.

18 Now where remission of these is, there is no more offering for sin.

19 Having therefore brethren, boldness to enter into the holy place by the blood of Jesus, by the way which he dedicated for us, a new and living way, through the veil, that is to say, his flesh; and having a great priest over the house of

22 God; let us draw near with a true heart in <sup>15</sup>fullness of faith, having our hearts sprinkled from an evil

16 conscience, and our body washed with pure water: let us hold fast the confession of our hope that it waver not; for he is faithful that promised: and let us consider one another to provoke unto love and good works: not forsaking the assembling of ourselves together, as the custom of some is, but exhorting one another; and so much the more, as ye see the day drawing nigh.

26 For if we sin wilfully after that we have received the knowledge of the truth, there remaineth no more 27 a sacrifice for sins, but a certain fearful expectation of judgement, and a <sup>1</sup> fierceness of fire which shall devour the adversaries. A man that hath set at nought Moses' law dieth without compassion on the word of 29 two or three witnesses: of how much sorer punishment, think ye, shall he be judged worthy, who hath trodden under foot the Son of God, and hath counted the blood of the covenant, wherewith he was sanctified, <sup>2</sup> an unholy thing, and hath done despite unto the Spirit of grace? For we know him that said, Vengeance belongeth unto me, I will recompense. And again, The Lord shall judge his people. It is a fearful thing to fall into the hands of the living God.
 32 But call to remembrance the former days, in which, after ye were enlightened, ye endured a great conflict of sufferings; partly, being made a gazingstock both by reproaches and afflictions; and partly, becoming partakers with them
 34 that were so used. For ye both had compassion on them that were in bonds, and took joyfully the spoiling of your possessions, knowing <sup>3</sup> that <sup>4</sup> ye yourselves have a better possession and an abiding one. Cast not away therefore your boldness, which hath great recompense of reward. For ye have need of patience, that, having done the will of God, ye may receive the promise.
 37 For yet a very little while, He that cometh shall come, and shall not tarry.
 38 But <sup>5</sup> my righteous one shall live by faith: And if he shrink back, my soul hath no pleasure in him.
 39 But we are not <sup>6</sup> of them that shrink back unto perdition; but of them that have faith unto the <sup>7</sup> saving of the soul.
 11 Now faith is <sup>8</sup> the assurance of things hoped for, the <sup>9</sup> proving of things not seen. For therein the elders had witness borne to them. By faith we understand that the <sup>10</sup> worlds have been framed by the word of God, so that what is seen hath not been made out of things which do appear. By faith Abel offered unto God a more excellent sacrifice than Cain, through which he had witness borne to him that he was righteous, <sup>11</sup> God bearing witness <sup>12</sup> in respect of his gifts: and through it he being dead yet <sup>5</sup> speaketh. By faith Enoch was translated that he should not see death; and he was not found, because God translated him: for before his translation he hath had witness borne to him that he had been well-pleasing unto God: and without faith it is impossible to be well-pleasing unto him: for he that cometh to God must believe that he is, and that he is a rewarder of them that seek 7 after him. By faith Noah, being warned of God concerning things not seen as yet, moved with godly fear, prepared an ark to the saving of his house; through which he condemned the world, and became heir of the righteousness which is according to faith. By faith Abraham, when he was called, obeyed to go out unto a place which he was to receive for an inheritance; and he went out, not knowing whither he went. By faith he became a sojourner in the land of promise, as in a land not his own, <sup>13</sup> dwelling in tents, with Isaac and Jacob, the heirs with him of the same promise: for he looked for the city which hath the foundations, whose <sup>14</sup> builder and maker is God. By faith even Sarah herself received power to conceive seed when she was past age, since she counted him faithful who had promised: wherefore also there sprang of one, and him as good as dead, so many as the stars of heaven in multitude, and as the sand, which is by the sea shore, innumerable.

 18 These all died <sup>15</sup> in faith, not having received the promises, but having seen them and greeted them from afar, and having confessed that they were strangers and pilgrims on the earth. For they that say such things make it manifest that they are seeking after a country of their own. And if indeed they had been mindful of that country from which they went out, they would have had opportunity to return. But now they desire a better country, that is, a heavenly; wherefore God is not ashamed of them, to be called their God: for he hath prepared for them a city.
 17 By faith Abraham, being tried, <sup>16</sup> offered up Isaac: yea, he that had gladly received the promises was offering up his only begotten son; <sup>18</sup> even he <sup>17</sup> to whom it was said, In Isaac shall thy seed be called: accounting that God is able to raise up, even from the dead; from whence he did also in a parable receive him back. By faith Isaac blessed Jacob and Esau, even concerning things to come. By faith Jacob, when he was a dying, blessed each of the sons of Joseph; and worshipped, leaning upon the top of his staff. By faith Joseph, when his end was nigh, made mention of the departure of the children of Israel; and gave commandment concerning his bones. By faith Moses, when he was born, was hid three months by his parents, because they saw he was a goodly child; and they were not afraid of the king's commandment. By faith Moses, when he was grown up, refused to be called the son of Pharaoh's daughter; choosing rather to be evil entreated with the people of God, than to enjoy the

By faith he forsook Egypt, not fearing the wrath of the king: for he endured, as seeing him who is invisible. By faith he <sup>2</sup>kept the passover, and the sprinkling of the blood, that the destroyer of the firstborn should not touch them. By faith the walls of Jericho fell down, after they had been compassed about for seven days. By faith Rahab the harlot perished not with them that were disobedient, having received the spies with peace. And what shall I more say? for the time will fall me if I tell of Gideon, Barak, Samson, Jephthah; of David and Samuel and the prophets: who through faith subdued kingdoms, wrought righteousness, obtained promises, stopped the mouths of lions, quenched the power of fire, escaped the edge of the sword, from weakness were made strong, waxed mighty in war, turned to flight armies of aliens. Women received their dead by a resurrection: and others were <sup>3</sup>tortured, not accepting <sup>4</sup>their deliverance; that they might obtain a better resurrection: and others had trial of mockings and scourgings, yea, moreover of bonds and imprisonment: they were stoned, they were sawn asunder, they were tempted, they were slain with the sword: they went about in sheepskins, in goatskins; being destitute, afflicted, evil entreated (of whom the world was not worthy), wandering in deserts and mountains and caves, and the holes of the earth. And these all, having had witness borne to them through their faith, received not the promise, God having <sup>5</sup>provided some better thing concerning us, that apart from us they should not be made perfect.

12 Therefore let us also, seeing we are compassed about with so great a cloud of witnesses, lay aside <sup>6</sup>every weight, and the sin which <sup>7</sup>doth so easily beset us, and let us run with patience the race that is set before us, looking unto Jesus the <sup>8</sup>author and perfecter of our faith, who for the joy that was set before him endured the cross, despising shame, and hath sat down at the right hand of the throne of God. For consider him that hath endured such gain saying of sinners against <sup>9</sup>himself, that ye wax not weary, fainting in your souls. Ye have not yet resisted unto blood, striving against sin: and ye have forgotten the exhortation, which reasoneth with you as with sons,

My son, regard not lightly the chastening of the Lord,

Nor faint when thou art reproved of him;

6 For whom the Lord loveth he chasteneth,
And scourgeth every son whom he receiveth.

7 10 It is for chastening that ye endure; God dealeth with you as with sons; for what son is there whom his father chasteneth not? But if ye are without chastening, whereof all have been made partakers, then are ye bastards, and not sons. Furthermore, we had the fathers of our flesh to chasten us, and we gave them reverence: shall we not much rather be in subjection unto the Father of <sup>11</sup>spirits, and live? For they verily for a few days chastened us as seemed good to them; but he for our profit, that we may be partakers of his holiness. All chastening seemeth for the present to be not joyous, but grievous; yet afterward it yieldeth peaceable fruit unto them that have been exercised thereby, even the fruit of righteousness. 12 Wherefore <sup>12</sup>lift up the hands that hang down, and the palsied knees; and make straight paths for your feet, that that which is lame be not <sup>13</sup>turned out of the way, but rather be healed.

14 Follow after peace with all men, and the sanctification without which no man shall see the Lord: looking carefully <sup>14</sup>lest there be any man that <sup>15</sup>falleth short of the grace of God; lest any root of bitterness springing up trouble you, and thereby the many be defiled; <sup>16</sup>lest there be any fornicator, or profane person, as Esau, who for one mess of meat sold his own birthright. For ye know that even when he afterward desired to inherit the blessing, he was rejected (for he found no place of repentance), though he sought it diligently with tears.

18 For ye are not come unto <sup>18a</sup>a mount that might be touched, and that burned with fire, and unto blackness, and darkness, and tempest, and the sound of a trumpet, and the voice of words; which voice they that heard intreated that no word more should be spoken unto them: for they could not endure that which was enjoined, if even a beast touch the mountain, it shall be stoned; and so fearful was the appearance, that Moses said, I exceedingly fear and quake; but ye are come unto mount Zion, and unto the city of the living God, the heavenly Jerusalem, <sup>17</sup>and to <sup>18</sup>innumerable hosts of angels, to the general assembly and church of the firstborn who are enrolled in heaven, and to God the Judge of all, and to the spirits of just men made perfect, and to Jesus the mediator of a new <sup>19</sup>covenant, and to the blood of sprinkling that speaketh better <sup>20</sup>than that of Abel. And this word, Yet once more, signifieth the removing of those things that are shaken, as of things that have been made, that those things which are not shaken may remain. For we have not here an abiding city, but we seek after the <sup>15</sup>city which is to come. Through him <sup>9</sup>then let us offer up a sacrifice of praise to God continually, that is, the fruit of lips which make confession to his name. But to do good and to communicate forget not: for with such sacrifices God is well pleased. And let patience have its perfect work, that ye may be perfect and entire, lacking in nothing. 5 But if any of you lacketh wisdom, let him ask of God, who giveth to	all liberally and upbraideth not; and 6 it shall be given him. But let him ask in faith, nothing doubting: for he that doubteth is like the surge of the sea driven by the wind and 7 tossed. For let not that man think <sup>4</sup>that he shall receive anything of the Lord; a doubleminded man, unstable in all his ways. 9 But let the brother of low degree glory in his high estate: and the rich, in that he is made low: because as the flower of the grass he	4 Or, that a double-minded man, unstable in all his ways, shall receive anything of the Lord.

11 shall pass away. For the sun ariseth with the scorching wind, and withereth the grass; and the flower thereof falleth, and the grace of the fashion of it perisheth: so also shall the rich man fade away in his goings.

12 Blessed is the man that endureth temptation: for when he hath been approved, he shall receive the crown of life, which the Lord promised to 13 them that love him. Let no man say when he is tempted, I am tempted of God: for God cannot be tempted with evil, and he him-

14 self tempteth no man: but each man is tempted, when he is drawn away

15 by his own lust, and enticed. Then the lust, when it hath conceived, beareth sin: and the sin, when it is fullgrown, bringeth forth death.

16 He not deceived, my beloved brethren. Every good gift and every perfect boon is from above, coming down from the Father of lights,

17 with whom can be no variation, neither shadow that is cast by turning. Of his own will he brought us

18 forth by the word of truth, that we should be a kind of firstfruits of his creatures.

19 Ye know this, my beloved brethren. But let every man be swift to hear, slow to speak, slow to wrath:

20 for the wrath of man worketh not the righteousness of God. Wherefore putting away all filthiness and overflowing of wickedness, receive 21 with meekness the implanted word, which is able to save your souls.

22 But be ye doers of the word, and not hearers only, deluding your own selves. For if any one is a

23 hearer of the word, and not a doer, he is like unto a man beholding his natural face in a mirror: for

24 he beholdeth himself, and goeth away, and straightway forgetteth what manner of man he was. But

25 he that looketh into the perfect law, the law of liberty, and so continueth, being not a hearer that forgetteth, but a doer that worketh,

26 this man shall be blessed in his doing. If any man thinketh himself to be religious, while he bridleth not his tongue but deceiveth his

27 heart, this man's religion is vain. Pure religion and undefiled before our God and Father is this, to visit

28 the fatherless and widows in their affliction, and to keep himself unspotted from the world.

2 My brethren, hold not the faith of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Lord of glory with respect of persons.

2 For if there come into your synagogue a man with a gold ring, in fine clothing, and there come in also

3 a poor man in vile clothing, and ye have regard to him that weareth the fine clothing, and say, Sit thou

here in a good place, and ye say to the poor man, Stand thou there, or sit under my footstool: are ye not divided in your own mind, and become judges with evil thoughts? 5 Harken, my beloved brethren; did not God choose them that are poor as to the world to be rich in faith, and heirs of the kingdom

6 which he promised to them that love him? But ye have dishonoured the poor man. Do not the rich

7 oppress you, and themselves drag you before the judgement-seats?

7 Do not they blaspheme the honourable name by the which ye

8 are called? Howbeit if ye fulfil the royal law, according to the scrip-

9 ture, Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself, ye do well: but if ye

10 have respect of persons, ye commit sin, being convicted by the law as

11 transgressors. For whosoever shall keep the whole law, and yet stumble in one point, he is become guilty

12 of all. For he that said, Do not commit adultery, said also, Do not

13 kill. Now if thou dost not commit adultery, but killest, thou art become a transgressor of the law. So speak

14 ye, and so do, as men that are to be judged by a law of liberty. For 15 judgement is without mercy to him that hath shewed no mercy: mercy glorieth against judgement.

16 What doth it profit, my brethren, if a man say he hath faith, but have not works? can that faith save

17 him? If a brother or sister be naked, and in lack of daily food,

18 and one of you say unto them, Go in peace, be ye warmed and filled; and yet ye give them not the things

19 needful to the body; what doth it profit? Even so faith, if it have not

20 works, is dead in itself. Yea, a man will say, Thou hast faith, and I have works: shew me thy faith

21 apart from thy works, and I by my works will shew thee my faith.

22 Thou believest that God is one; thou doest well: the devils also

23 believe, and shudder. But wilt thou know, O vain man, that faith apart

24 from works is barren? Was not Abraham our father justified by 25 works, in that he offered up Isaac his son upon the altar? Thou

26 seest that faith wrought with his works, and by works was faith made perfect: and the scripture was

27 fulfilled which saith, And Abraham believed God, and it was reckoned unto him for righteousness; and he was called the friend of God.

28 Ye see that by works a man is justified, and not only by faith.

29 And in like manner was not also Rahab the harlot justified by works, in that she received the messengers,

30 and sent them out another way? For as the body apart from the spirit is dead, even so faith apart

31 from works is dead. 3 Be not many teachers, my brethren, knowing that we shall receive

32 heavier judgement. For in many things we all stumble. If any stumbleth not in word, the same is a perfect man, able to bridle the

3 whole body also. Now if we put the horses' bridles into their mouths, that they may obey us, we turn 4 about their whole body also. Behold, the ships also, though they are so great, and are driven by rough winds, are yet turned about by a very small rudder, whither the impulse of the steersman will.
5 eth. So the tongue also is a little member, and boasteth great things. Behold, how much wood is kindled by how small a fire! And the tongue is 2 a fire: 3 the world of iniquity among our members is the tongue, which defileth the whole body, and setteth on fire the wheel of nature, and is set on fire by hell.
7 For every kind of beasts and birds, of creeping things and things in the sea, is tamed, and hath been tamed
8 by mankind: but the tongue can no man tame; it is a restless evil, it is full of deadly poison. Therewith bless we the Lord and Father; and therewith curse we men, which are made after the likeness of God:
10 out of the same mouth cometh forth blessing and cursing. My brethren, these things ought not so to be.
11 Doth the fountain send forth from the same opening sweet water and bitter? can a fig tree, my brethren, yield olives, or a vine figs? neither can salt water yield sweet.
13 Who is wise and understanding among you? let him shew by his good life his works in meekness of wisdom. But if ye have bitter jealousy and faction in your heart, glory not and lie not against the truth. This wisdom is not a wisdom that cometh down from above, but is earthly, sensual, devilish.
16 For where jealousy and faction are, there is confusion and every vile deed. But the wisdom that is from above is first pure, then peaceable, gentle, easy to be intreated, full of mercy and good fruits, without variance, without hypocrisy. And the fruit of righteousness is sown in peace 11 for them that make peace.
4 Whence come wars and whence come fightings among you? come they not hence, even of your pleasures that war in your members?
2 Ye lust, and have not: ye kill, and 12 covet, and cannot obtain: ye fight and war; ye have not, because ye ask not. Ye ask, and receive not, because ye ask amiss, that ye may spend it in your pleasures. Ye adulteresses, know ye not that the friendship of the world is enmity with God? Whosoever therefore would be a friend of the world maketh himself an enemy of God. Or think ye that the scripture 13 speaketh in vain? 14 Doth the spirit which 15 he made to dwell in us long unto envying? But he giveth 16 more grace. Wherefore the scripture saith, God resisteth the proud, but giveth grace to the humble. Be subject therefore unto God; but resist the devil,

8 and he will flee from you. Draw nigh to God, and he will draw nigh to you. (Cleanse your hands, ye sinners; and purify your hearts, ye doubleminded. Be afflicted, and mourn, and weep: let your laughter be turned to mourning, and your joy to heaviness. Humble yourselves in the sight of the Lord, and he shall exalt you.)
11 Speak not one against another, brethren. He that speaketh against a brother, or judgeth his brother, speaketh against the law, and judgeth the law: but if thou judgest the law, thou art not a doer of the law, but a judge. One only is the lawgiver and judge, even he who is able to save and to destroy: but who art thou that judgest thy neighbour?
13 Go to now, ye that say, To-day or to-morrow we will go into this city, and spend a year there, and trade, and get gain: whereas ye know not what shall be on the morrow. What is your life? For ye are a vapour, that appeareth for a little time, and then vanisheth away. 17 For that ye ought to say, If the Lord will, we shall both live, and do this or that.
16 But now ye glory in your vanities: 17 all such glorying is evil. To him therefore that knoweth to do good, and doeth it not, to him it is sin.
5 Go to now, ye rich, weep and howl for your miseries that are coming upon you. Your riches are corrupted, and your garments are moth-eaten. Your gold and your silver are rusted; and their rust shall be for a testimony 18 against you, and shall eat your flesh as fire. Ye have laid up your treasure in the 4 last days. Behold, the hire of the labourers who mowed your fields, which is of you kept back by fraud, crieth out: and the cries of them that reaped have entered into the ears of the Lord of Sabaoth. Ye have lived delicately on the earth, and taken your pleasure: ye have nourished your hearts in a day of 6 slaughter. Ye have condemned, ye have killed the righteous one; he doth not resist you.
7 Be patient therefore, brethren, until the 19 coming of the Lord. Behold, the husbandman waiteth for the precious fruit of the earth, being patient over it, until 20 it receive the early and latter rain. Be ye also patient: stablish your hearts: for the 19 coming of the Lord is at hand.
9 Murmur not, brethren, one against another, that ye be not judged: behold, the judge standeth before the 10 doors. Take, brethren, for an example of suffering and of patience, the prophets who spake in the name of the Lord. Behold, we call them blessed which endured: ye have heard of the 21 patience of Job, and have seen the end of the Lord, how that the Lord is full of pity, and merciful.

14 let him call for the elders of the church; and let them pray over him, anointing him with oil in

THE FIRST EPISTLE GENERAL OF PETER.

1 PETER, an apostle of Jesus Christ, to the elect who are sojourners of the Dispersion in Pontus, Galatia,

2 Cappadocia, Asia, and Bithynia, according to the foreknowledge of God the Father, in sanctification of the Spirit, unto obedience and sprinkling of the blood of Jesus Christ: Grace to you and peace be multiplied.

3 Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, who according to his great mercy begat us again unto a living hope by the resurrection of Jesus Christ from

4 the dead, unto an inheritance incorruptible, and undefiled, and that fadeth not away, reserved in heaven

5 for you, who by the power of God are guarded through faith unto a salvation ready to be revealed in

6 the last time. Wherein ye greatly rejoice, though now for a little while, if need be, ye have been put to grief in manifold <sup>1</sup>temptations,

7 <sup>2</sup>that the proof of your faith, being more precious than gold that perisheth, though it is proved by fire, might be found unto praise and glory and honour at the revelation of Jesus

8 Christ: whom not having seen ye love; on whom, though now ye see him not, yet believing, ye rejoice greatly with joy unspeakable and

9 <sup>3</sup>full of glory: receiving the end of your faith, even the salvation of

10 your souls. Concerning which salvation the prophets sought and searched diligently, who prophesied of the grace that should come

11 unto you: searching what time or what manner of time the Spirit of Christ which was in them did point unto, when it testified beforehand the sufferings <sup>4</sup>of Christ, and the glories that should follow them. To whom it was revealed, that not unto themselves, but unto you, did they minister these things, which now have been announced unto you through them that preached the gospel unto you

12 <sup>5</sup>by the <sup>6</sup>Holy Ghost sent forth from heaven; which things angels desire to look into.

13 Wherefore girding up the loins of your mind, be sober and set your hope perfectly on the grace that

14 <sup>7</sup>is to be brought unto you at the revelation of Jesus Christ; as children of obedience, not fashioning yourselves according to your former

15 lusts in the time of your ignorance: but <sup>8</sup>like as he which called you is holy, let ye yourselves also be holy in

16 all manner of living: because it is written, Ye shall be holy: for I am holy. And if ye call on him as

17 Father, who without respect of persons judgeth according to each man's work, pass the time of your sojourn-18 ing in fear: knowing that ye were redeemed, not with corruptible things, with silver or gold, from your vain manner of life handed down from

19 your fathers; but with precious blood, as of a lamb without blemish and without spot, even the blood of

20 Christ: who was foreknown indeed before the foundation of the world, but was manifested at the end of the

21 times for your sake, who through him are believers in God, which raised him from the dead, and gave him glory; so that your faith and

22 hope might be in God. Seeing ye have purified your souls in your obedience to the truth unto unfeigned love of the brethren, love one another <sup>9</sup>from the heart fervently: having been begotten again, not of corruptible seed, but of incorruptible, through the word of 23 <sup>10</sup>God, which liveth and abideth.

For this is <sup>16</sup> acceptable, if for conscience <sup>17</sup> toward God a man endureth griefs, suffering wrong- fully. For what glory is it, if, when ye sin, and are buffeted for it, ye shall take it patiently? but if, when ye do well, and suffer for it, ye shall take it patiently, this is <sup>16</sup> acceptable with God. For hereunto were ye called: because Christ also suffered for you, leaving you an example. 22 that ye should follow his steps: who did no sin, neither was guile found 23 in his mouth: who, when he was reviled, reviled not again; when he suffered, threatened not; but com- mitted <sup>15</sup> himself to him that judgeth righteously: who his own self <sup>18</sup> bare our sins in his body upon the tree, that we, having died unto sins, might live unto righteousness; by whose 25 stripes ye were healed. And his ears unto their supplication:

But the face of the Lord is upon them that do evil.

13 And who is he that will harm you, if ye be zealous of that which

14 is good? But and if ye should suffer for righteousness' sake, blessed are ye:

and fear not their fear, neither 15 be troubled; but sanctify in your hearts Christ as Lord: being ready always to give answer to every man that asketh you a reason concerning the hope that is in you, yet with meekness and fear: having a good conscience; that, wherein ye are spoken against, they may be put to shame who revile your good

17 manner of life in Christ. For it is better, if the will of God should so will, that ye suffer for well-doing

18 than for evil-doing. Because Christ also <sup>1</sup>suffered for sins once, the righteous for the unrighteous, that he might bring us to God; being put to death in the flesh, but quick-

19 ened in the spirit; in which also he went and preached unto the spirits in prison, which aforetime were disobedient, when the long-

suffering of God waited in the days of Noah, while the ark was a preparing, <sup>2</sup>wherein few, that is, eight souls, were saved through water:

21 which also <sup>3</sup>after a true likeness doth now save you, even baptism, not the putting away of the filth of the flesh, but the <sup>4</sup>interrogation of a good conscience toward God, through the resurrection of Jesus

22 Christ; who is on the right hand of God, having gone into heaven; angels and authorities and powers being made subject unto him.

4 Forasmuch then as Christ suffered in the flesh, arm ye yourselves also with the same <sup>5</sup>mind; for he that hath suffered in the flesh hath

2 ceased <sup>6</sup>from sin; that <sup>7</sup>ye no longer should live the rest of your time in the flesh to the lusts of

3 men, but to the will of God. For the time past may suffice to have wrought the desire of the Gentiles, and to have walked in lascivious-

ness, lusts, winebibblings, revellings, carousings, and abominable idolatries: wherein they think it strange

4 that ye run not with them into the same <sup>8</sup>excess of riot, speaking evil of you: who shall give account to him that is ready to judge the quick

5 and the dead. For unto this end <sup>9</sup>was the gospel preached even to the dead, that they might be judged according to men in the flesh, but live according to God in the spirit.

7 But the end of all things is at hand: be ye therefore of sound mind, and be sober unto <sup>10</sup>prayer:

8 above all things being fervent in your love among yourselves; for love covereth a multitude of sins:

9 using hospitality one to another

10 without murmuring: according as each hath received a gift, ministering it among yourselves, as good stewards of the manifold grace of

11 God; if any man speaketh, speaking as it were oracles of God; if any man ministereth, ministering as of the strength which God supplieth:

that in all things God may be glorified through Jesus Christ, whose is the glory and the dominion <sup>11</sup>for ever and ever. Amen.

12 Beloved, think it not strange concerning the fiery trial among you, which cometh unto you to prove you, as though a strange thing happened unto you: but inasmuch as ye are partakers of Christ's sufferings, rejoice, that at the revelation of his glory also ye may rejoice with

14 exceeding joy. If ye are reproached <sup>12</sup>for the name of Christ, blessed are ye; because the Spirit of glory and the Spirit of God resteth upon

15 you. For let none of you suffer as a murderer, or a thief, or an evil-doer, or as a meddler in other men's matters: but if a man suffer as a Christian, let him not be ashamed; but let him glorify God in this

17 name. For the time is come for judgement to begin at the house of God: and if it begin first at us, what shall be the end of them that

18 obey not the gospel of God? And if the righteous is scarcely saved, where shall the ungodly and sinner

19 appear? Wherefore let them also that suffer according to the will of God commit their souls in well-doing unto a faithful Creator.

5 The elders therefore among you I exhort, who am a fellow-elder, and a witness of the sufferings of Christ, who am also a partaker of the glory that shall be revealed:

2 Tend the flock of God which is among you, <sup>13</sup>exercising the oversight, not of constraint, but willingly, <sup>14</sup>according unto God; nor yet for filthy lucre, but of a ready

3 mind; neither as lording it over the charge allotted to you, but making yourselves ensamples to the

4 flock. And when the chief Shepherd shall be manifested, ye shall receive the crown of glory that fadeth not

5 away. <sup>15</sup>Likewise, ye younger, be subject unto the elder. Yea, all of you gird yourselves with humility, to serve one another: for God resisteth the proud, but giveth grace

6 to the humble. Humble yourselves therefore under the mighty hand of God, that he may exalt you in

7 due time; casting all your anxiety upon him, because he careth for you. Be sober, be watchful: your adversary the devil, as a roaring lion, walketh about, seeking whom

9 he may devour: whom withstand stedfast in <sup>16</sup>your faith, knowing that the same sufferings are <sup>17</sup>accomplished in your <sup>18</sup>brethren who are in the world. And the God of all grace, who called you unto his

1 <sup>1</sup>SIMON Peter, a <sup>2</sup>servant and apostle of Jesus Christ, to them that have obtained <sup>3</sup>a like precious faith with us in the righteousness of <sup>4</sup>our
2 God and Saviour Jesus Christ: Grace to you and peace be multiplied in the knowledge of God and of Jesus
3 our Lord; seeing that his divine power hath granted unto us all things that pertain unto life and godliness, through the knowledge of him that called us <sup>5</sup>by his own
4 glory and virtue; whereby he hath granted unto us his precious and exceeding great promises; that through these ye may become partakers of
5 the divine nature, having escaped from the corruption that is in the world by lust. Yea, and for this very cause adding on your part all diligence, in your faith supply virtue; and in your virtue knowledge;
6 and in your knowledge <sup>7</sup>temperance; and in your <sup>8</sup>temperance patience; and in your patience godliness; and in your godliness love of the brethren; and in your love
8 of the brethren love. For if these things are yours and abound, they make you to be not idle nor unfruitful unto the knowledge of our 9 Lord Jesus Christ. For he that lacketh these things is blind, <sup>9</sup>seeing only what is near, having forgotten the cleansing from his old 10 sins. Wherefore, brethren, give the more diligence to make your calling and election sure: for if ye do these 11 things, ye shall never stumble: for thus shall be richly supplied unto you the entrance into the eternal kingdom of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ.
12 Wherefore I shall be ready always to put you in remembrance of these things, though ye know them, and are established in the truth which 13 is with you. And I think it right, as long as I am in this tabernacle, to stir you up by putting you in 14 remembrance; knowing that the putting off of my tabernacle cometh swiftly, even as our Lord Jesus
15 Christ signified unto me. Yea, I will give diligence that at every time ye may be able after my <sup>10</sup>decease to call these things to remembrance. For we did not follow cunningly devised fables, when we made known unto you the power and <sup>10</sup>coming of our Lord Jesus Christ, but we were eyewitnesses of his 17 majesty. For he <sup>11</sup>received from God the Father honour and glory, when there <sup>12</sup>came such a voice to him from the excellent glory, This is my beloved Son, in whom I am

18 well pleased: and this voice we ourselves heard <sup>13</sup>come out of heaven, when we were with him in the
19 holy mount. And we have the word of prophecy made more sure; whereunto ye do well that ye take heed, as unto a lamp shining in a <sup>14</sup>dark place, until the day dawn, and the day-star arise in your hearts: knowing this first, that no prophecy of scripture is of <sup>15</sup>private interpretation. For no prophecy ever <sup>16</sup>came by the will of man: but men spake from God, being moved by the <sup>17</sup>Holy Ghost.
2 But there arose false prophets also among the people, as among you also there shall be false teachers, who shall privily bring in <sup>18</sup>destructive heresies, denying even the Master that bought them, bringing upon
2 themselves swift destruction. And many shall follow their lascivious doings; by reason of whom the way of the truth shall be evil spoken of.
3 And in covetousness shall they with feigned words make merchandise of you: whose sentence now from of old lingereth not, and their destruction slumbereth not. For if God spared not angels when they sinned, but <sup>19</sup>cast them down to <sup>20</sup>hell, and committed them to <sup>21</sup>pits of darkness, to be reserved unto judgment; and spared not the ancient world, but preserved Noah with seven others, <sup>22</sup>a preacher of righteousness, when he brought a flood upon the world of the ungodly; and turning the cities of Sodom and Gomorrah into ashes condemned them with an overthrow, having made them an example unto those among them, in seeing and hearing, <sup>1</sup>vexed his righteous soul from day to day with their lawless deeds): the Lord knoweth how to deliver the godly out of temptation, and to keep the unrighteous under punishment unto the day of judgement: but chiefly them that walk after the flesh in the lust of defilement, and despise dominion. Daring, self-willed, they tremble not to rail at <sup>2</sup>dignities: whereas angels, though greater in might and power, bring not a railing judgement against them before the Lord. But these, as creatures without reason, born <sup>3</sup>mere animals <sup>4</sup>to be taken and destroyed, railing in matters whereof they are ignorant, shall in their <sup>5</sup>destroying surely be destroyed, suffering wrong as the hire of wrongdoing; men that count it pleasure to revel in the day-time, spots and blemishes, revelling in their <sup>6</sup>love-feasts while they feast with you; having eyes full of <sup>7</sup>adultery, and that cannot cease from sin; enticing unstedfast souls; having a heart exercised in covetousness; children of cursing; forsaking the right way, they went astray, having followed the way of Balaam the son of <sup>8</sup>Bosor, who loved the hire of wrongdoing; but he was rebuked for his own transgression: a dumb ass spake with man's voice and stayed the madness of the prophet. These are springs without water, and mists driven by a storm; for whom the blackness of darkness hath been reserved. For, uttering great swelling words of vanity, they entice in the lusts of the flesh, by lasciviousness, those who are just escaping from them that live in error; promising them liberty, while they themselves are bondservants of corruption; for of <sup>9</sup>whom a man is overcome, of the same is he also brought into bondage. For if, after they have escaped the defilements of the world through the knowledge of <sup>10</sup>the Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ, they are again entangled therein and overcome, the last state is become worse with them than the first. 21 For it were better for them not to have known the way of righteousness, than, after knowing it, to turn back from the holy commandment delivered unto them. It has happened unto them according to the true proverb. The dog turning to his own vomit again, and the sow that had washed to wallowing in the mire. 3 This is now, beloved, the second epistle that I write unto you; and in both of them I stir up your sincere mind by putting you in remembrance; that ye should remember the words which were spoken before by the holy prophets, and the commandment of the Lord and Saviour 3 through your apostles: knowing this first, that <sup>11</sup>in the last days mockers shall come with mockery, walking after their own lusts, and saying, Where is the promise of his <sup>12</sup>coming? for, from the day that the fathers fell asleep, all things continue as they were from the beginning of the creation. For this they wilfully forget, that there were heavens from of old, and an earth compacted out of water and <sup>13</sup>amidst water, by the word of God; by which means the world that then was, being overflowed with water, perished: but the heavens that now are, and the earth, by the same word have been <sup>14</sup>stored up for fire, being reserved against the day of judgement and destruction of ungodly men. 8 But forget not this one thing, beloved, that one day is with the Lord as a thousand years, and a thousand years as one day. The Lord is not slack concerning his promise, as some count slackness; but is long-suffering to you-ward, not wishing that any should perish, but that all should come to repentance. But the day of the Lord will come as a thief; in the which the heavens shall pass away with a great noise, and the <sup>15</sup>elements shall be dissolved with fervent heat, and the earth and the works that are therein shall be <sup>16</sup>burned up. Seeing that these things are thus all to be dissolved, what manner of persons ought ye to be in all holy living and godliness, looking for and <sup>17</sup>earnestly desiring the <sup>12</sup>coming of the day of God, by reason of which the heavens being on fire shall be dissolved, and the <sup>15</sup>elements shall melt with fervent heat? But, according to his promise, we look for new heavens and a new earth, wherein dwelleth righteousness. 14 Wherefore, beloved, seeing that ye look for these things, give diligence that ye may be found in peace, without spot and blameless in his sight. And account that the long-suffering of our Lord is salvation: even as our beloved brother Paul also, according to the wisdom given unto him, wrote unto you; as also in all his epistles, speaking in them of these things; wherein are some things hard to be understood, which the ignorant and unstedfast wrest, as they do also the other scriptures, unto their own destruction. Ye therefore, beloved, knowing these things beforehand, beware lest, being carried away with the error of the wicked, ye fall from your own stedfastness. But grow in the grace and knowledge of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ. To him be the glory both now and <sup>18</sup>for ever. Amen.

THE FIRST EPISTLE GENERAL OF JOHN.

1 THAT which was from the beginning, that which we have heard, that which we have seen with our eyes, that which we beheld, and our hands handled, concerning the
2 <sup>1</sup> Word of life (and the life was manifested, and we have seen, and bear witness, and declare unto you the life, the eternal life, which was with the Father, and was manifested unto us); that which we have seen and heard declare we unto you also, that ye also may have fellowship with us: yea, and our fellowship is with the Father, and with his Son Jesus
4 Christ: and these things we write, that <sup>2</sup> our joy may be fulfilled.
5 And this is the message which we have heard from him, and announce unto you, that God is light, and in him is no darkness at all. If we say that we have fellowship with him, and walk in the darkness, we lie,
7 and do not the truth: but if we walk in the light, as he is in the light, we have fellowship one with another, and the blood of Jesus his 8 Son cleanseth us from all sin. If we say that we have no sin, we deceive ourselves, and the truth is not 9 in us. If we confess our sins, he is faithful and righteous to forgive us our sins, and to cleanse us from all 10 unrighteousness. If we say that we have not sinned, we make him a liar, and his word is not in us.
2 My little children, these things write I unto you, that ye may not sin. And if any man sin, we have an <sup>3</sup> Advocate with the Father, Jesus Christ the righteous: and he is the propitiation for our sins; and not for ours only, but also for the 3 whole world. And hereby know we that we know him, if we keep his 4 commandments. He that saith, I know him, and keepeth not his commandments, is a liar, and the 5 truth is not in him: but whose keepeth his word, in him verily hath the love of God been perfected. Hereby know we that we are 6 in him: he that saith he abideth in him ought himself also to walk even as he walked.
7 Beloved, no new commandment write I unto you, but an old commandment which ye had from the beginning: the old commandment
8 is the word which ye heard. Again, a new commandment write I unto you, which thing is true in him and in you; because the darkness is passing away, and the true light 9 already shineth. He that saith he is in the light, and hateth his brother, is in the darkness even until 10 now. He that loveth his brother abideth in the light, and there is none occasion of stumbling in him.

11 But he that hateth his brother is in the darkness, and walketh in the darkness, and knoweth not whither he goeth, because the darkness hath 12 blinded his eyes.
12 I write unto you, my little children, because your sins are forgiven
13 you for his name's sake. I write unto you, fathers, because ye know him which is from the beginning. I write unto you, young men, because ye have overcome the evil one. <sup>4</sup> I have written unto you, little children, because ye know the 14 Father. <sup>4</sup> I have written unto you, fathers, because ye know him which is from the beginning. <sup>4</sup> I have written unto you, young men, because ye are strong, and the word of God abideth in you, and ye have 15 overcome the evil one. Love not the world, neither the things that are in the world. If any man love the world, the love of the Father 16 is not in him. For all that is in the world, the lust of the flesh, and the lust of the eyes, and the vain-glory of life, is not of the Father, but is of the world. And the world
17 passeth away, and the lust thereof: but he that doeth the will of God abideth for ever.
18 Little children, it is the last hour: and as ye heard that antichrist cometh, even now have there arisen many antichrists; whereby we know
19 that it is the last hour. They went out from us, but they were not of us; for if they had been of us, they would have continued with us: but 20 they went out, that they might be made manifest <sup>5</sup> how that they all are not of us. And ye have an anointing from the Holy One, <sup>6</sup> and 21 ye know all things. I have not written unto you because ye know not the truth, but because ye know it, and <sup>7</sup> because no lie is of the truth.
22 Who is the liar but he that denieth that Jesus is the Christ? This is the antichrist, even he that denieth the 23 Father and the Son. Whosoever denieth the Son, the same hath not the Father: he that confesseth the 24 Son hath the Father also. As for you, let that abide in you which ye heard from the beginning. If that which ye heard from the beginning abide in you, ye also shall abide in the Son, and in the Father. And this is the promise which he promised <sup>8</sup> us, even the life eternal.

And now, my little children, abide in him; that, if he shall be manifested, we may have boldness, and not be ashamed before him at his coming. If ye know that he is righteous, ye know that every one also that doeth righteousness is begotten of him.

3 Be-told what manner of love the Father hath bestowed upon us, that we should be called children of God: and such we are. For this cause the world knoweth us not, because it knew him not. Beloved, now are we children of God, and it is not yet made manifest what we shall be. We know that, if he shall be manifested, we shall be like him; for we shall see him even as he is. And every one that hath this hope set on him purifieth himself, even as he is pure. Every one that doeth sin doeth also lawlessness: and sin is lawlessness. And ye know that he was manifested to take away sin; and in him is no sin. Whosoever abideth in him sinneth not: whosoever sinneth hath not seen him, neither knoweth him. My little children, let no man lead you astray: he that doeth righteousness is righteous, even as he is righteous: he that doeth sin is of the devil; for the devil sinneth from the beginning. To this end was the Son of God manifested, that he might destroy the works of the devil. Whosoever is begotten of God doeth not sin, because his seed abideth in him, and he cannot sin, because he is begotten of God. In this the children of God are manifest, and the children of the devil: whosoever doeth not righteousness is not of God, neither he that loveth not his brother. For this is the message which ye heard from the beginning, that we should love one another, because Cain was of the evil one, and slew his brother. And wherefore slew he him? Because his works were evil, and his brother's righteous.

13 Marvel not, brethren, if the world hate you. We know that we have passed out of death into life, because we love the brethren. He that loveth not abideth in death. Whosoever hateth his brother is a murderer, and ye know that no murderer hath eternal life abiding in him. Hereby know we him, because he laid down his life for us, and we ought to lay down our lives for the brethren. But whoso hath the world's goods, and beholdeth his brother in need, and shutteth up his compassion from him, how doth the love of God abide in him? My little children, let us not love in word, neither with the tongue; but in deed and truth. Hereby shall we know that we are of the truth, and shall assure our heart before him, whereinsoever our heart condemn us; because God is greater than our heart, and knoweth all things. Beloved, if our heart condemn us not, we have boldness toward God; and whatsoever we ask, we receive of him, because we keep his commandments, and do the things that are pleasing in his sight. And this is his commandment, that we should believe in the name of his Son Jesus Christ, and love one another, even as he gave us commandment. And he that keepeth his commandments abideth in him, and he in him. And hereby we know that he abideth in us, by the Spirit which he gave us.

4 Beloved, believe not every spirit, but prove the spirits, whether they are of God: because many false prophets are gone out into the world. Hereby know ye the Spirit of God: every spirit which confesseth that Jesus Christ is come in the flesh is of God: and every spirit which confesseth not Jesus is not of God; and this is the spirit of the antichrist, whereof ye have heard that it cometh; and now it is in the world already. Ye are of God, my little children, and have overcome them: because greater is he that is in you than he that is in the world. They are of the world: therefore speak they as of the world, and the world heareth them. We are of God: he that knoweth God heareth us; he who is not of God heareth us not. By this we know the spirit of truth, and the spirit of error.

7 Beloved, let us love one another: for love is of God; and every one that loveth is begotten of God, and knoweth God. He that loveth not knoweth not God; for God is love. Herein was the love of God manifested in us, that God hath sent his only begotten Son into the world, that we might live through him. Herein is love, not that we loved God, but that he loved us, and sent his Son to be the propitiation for our sins. Beloved, if God so loved us, we also ought to love one another. No man hath beheld God at any time: if we love one another, God abideth in us, and his love is perfected in us: hereby know we that we abide in him, and he in us, because he hath given us of his Spirit. And we have beheld and bear witness that the Father hath sent the Son to be the Saviour of the world. Whosoever shall confess that Jesus is the Son of God, God abideth in him, and he in God. And we know and have believed the love which God hath in us. God is 9 Gr. persuaded.

10 Gr. believe the name.

12 Or, in

love; and he that abideth in love abideth in God, and God abideth in him. Herein is love made perfect with us, that we may have boldness in the day of judgement; because as he is, even so are we in this world. There is no fear in love; but perfect love casteth out fear, because fear hath punishment; and he that feareth is not made perfect in love. We love, because he first loved us. If a man say, I love God, and hateth his brother, he is a liar: for he that loveth not his brother whom he hath seen, <sup>1</sup> cannot love God whom he hath not seen. And this commandment have we from him, that he who loveth God love his brother also.

5 Whosoever believeth that Jesus is the Christ is begotten of God; and whosoever loveth him that begat loveth him also that is begotten of him. Hereby we know that we love the children of God, when we love God, and do his commandments. For this is the love of God, that we keep his commandments; and his commandments are not grievous. For whatsoever is begotten of God overcometh the world; and this is the victory that hath overcome the world, even our faith. 5 And who is he that overcometh the world, but he that believeth that Jesus is the Son of God? This is he that came by water and blood, even Jesus Christ: not <sup>2</sup> with the water only, but <sup>2</sup> with the water and <sup>2</sup> with the blood. And it is the Spirit that beareth witness, because the Spirit is the truth. For there are three who bear witness, the Spirit, and the water, and the blood: and the three agree in one. If we receive the witness of men, the witness of God is greater: for the witness of God is this, that he hath borne witness concerning his Son. He that believeth on the Son of God hath the witness in him: he that believeth not God hath made him a liar; because he hath not believed in the witness that God hath borne concerning his Son. And the witness is this, that God gave unto us eternal life, and this life is in his Son. He that hath the Son hath the life; he that hath not the Son of God hath not the life.

13 These things have I written unto you, that ye may know that ye have eternal life, even unto you that believe on the name of the Son of God. And this is the boldness which we have toward him, that, if we ask anything according to his will, he heareth us: and if we know that he heareth us whatsoever we ask, we know that we have the petitions which we have asked of him. If any man see his brother sinning a sin not unto death, <sup>3</sup> he shall ask, and God will give him life for them that sin not unto death. There is <sup>4</sup> a sin unto death: not concerning this do I say that he should make request. All unrighteousness is sin: and there is <sup>4</sup> a sin not unto death.

18 We know that whosoever is begotten of God sinneth not; but he that was begotten of God keepeth <sup>5</sup> him, and the evil one toucheth him not. We know that we are of God, and the whole world lieth in the evil one. And we know that the Son of God is come, and hath given us an understanding, that we know him that is true, and we are in him that is true, even in his Son Jesus Christ. This is the true God, and eternal life. My little children, guard yourselves from idols.

THE SECOND EPISTLE OF JOHN.

1 THE elder unto the elect lady and her children, whom I love in truth; and not I only, but also all they that know the truth; for the truth's sake which abideth in us, and it shall be with us for ever: Grace, mercy, peace shall be with us, from God the Father, and from Jesus Christ, the Son of the Father, in truth and love.

4 I rejoice greatly that I have found certain of thy children walking in truth, even as we received commandment from the Father. And now I beseech thee, lady, not as though I wrote to thee a new commandment, but that which we had from the beginning, that we love one another. And this is love, that we should walk after his commandments. This is the commandment, even as ye heard from the beginning, that ye should walk in it. For many deceivers are gone forth into the world, even they that confess not that Jesus Christ cometh in the flesh. This is the deceiver and the antichrist. Look to yourselves, that ye <sup>1</sup> lose not the things which we have wrought, but that ye receive a full reward. Whosoever <sup>2</sup> goeth onward and abideth not in the teaching of Christ, hath not God: he that abideth in the teaching, the same hath both the Father and the Son. If any one cometh unto you, and bringeth not this teaching, receive him not into your house, and

3 Or, these things, that I may hear

- 1 THE elder unto Galus the beloved, whom I love in truth.
- 2 Beloved, I pray that in all things thou mayest prosper and be in health, even as thy soul prospereth.
- 3 For I rejoiced greatly, when brethren came and bare witness unto thy truth, even as thou walkest in truth. Greater joy have I none than this, to hear of my children walking in the truth.
- 5 Beloved, thou doest a faithful work in whatsoever thou doest toward them that are brethren and strangers withal: who bare witness to thy love before the church: whom thou wilt do well to set forward on their journey worthily of God: because that for the sake of the Name they went forth, taking nothing of the Gentiles. We therefore ought to welcome such, that we may be fellow-workers with the truth.
- 9 I wrote somewhat unto the church: but Diotrephes, who lov-

eth to have the preeminence among them, receiveth us not. Therefore, if I come, I will bring to remembrance his works which he doeth, prating against us with wicked words, and not content therewith, neither doth he himself receive the brethren, and them that would he fortiddeth, and casteth them out of the church. Beloved, imitate not that which is evil, but that which is good. He that doeth good is of God: he that doeth evil hath not seen God.

12 Demetrius hath the witness of all men, and of the truth itself; yea, we also bear witness; and thou knowest that our witness is true.

13 I had many things to write unto thee, but I am unwilling to write them to thee with ink and pen: but I hope shortly to see thee, and we shall speak face to face. Peace be unto thee. The friends salute thee. Salute the friends by name.

- 2 Mercy unto you and peace and love be multiplied.
- 3 Beloved, while I was giving all diligence to write unto you of our common salvation, I was constrained to write unto you exhorting you to contend earnestly for the faith which was once for all delivered unto the saints. For there are certain men crept in privily, even they who were of old set forth unto this condemnation, ungodly men, turning the grace of our God into lasciviousness, and denying our only Master and Lord, Jesus Christ.
- 5 Now I desire to put you in remembrance, though ye know all things once for all, how that the Lord having saved a people out of the land of Egypt afterward destroyed them that believed not. And angels which kept not their own principality, but left their proper habitation, he hath kept in everlasting bonds under darkness unto the judgement of the great day.

7 Even as Sodom and Gomorrah, and the cities about them, having in like manner with these given themselves over to fornication, and gone after strange flesh, are set forth as an example, suffering the punishment of eternal fire. Yet in like manner these also in their dreamings defile the flesh, and set at nought dominion, and rail at dignities. But Michael the archangel, when contending with the devil he disputed about the body of Moses, durst not bring against him a railing judgement, but said, The Lord rebuke thee. But these rail at whatsoever things they know not, and what they understand naturally, like the creatures without reason. In these things are they destroyed.

11 Woe unto them! for they went in the way of Cain, and ran riotously in the error of Balaam for hire, and perished in the gainsaying of Korah.

- 15 of his holy ones, to execute judgement upon all, and to convict all the ungodly of all their works of ungodliness which they have ungodly wrought, and of all the hard things which ungodly sinners have spoken against him. These are murmurers, complainers, walking after their lusts (and their mouth speaketh great swelling words), shewing respect of persons for the sake of advantage.
- 17 But ye, beloved, remember ye the words which have been spoken before by the apostles of our Lord
- 18 Jesus Christ; how that they said to you, In the last time there shall be mockers, walking after <sup>4</sup>their own ungodly lusts. These are they who make separations, <sup>5</sup>sensual,

I was in the Spirit on the Lord's day, and I heard behind me a great voice, as of a trumpet saying, What thou seest, write in a book, and send it to the seven churches; unto Ephesus, and unto Smyrna, and unto Pergamum, and unto Thyatira, and unto Sardis, and unto Philadelphia, and unto Laodicea. And I turned to see the voice which spake with me, and having turned I saw seven golden <sup>10</sup>candlesticks; and in the midst of the <sup>10</sup>candlesticks one like unto <sup>11</sup>a son of man, clothed with a garment down to the foot, and girt about at the breasts with a golden girdle.

14 And his head and his hair were white as white wool, white as snow; and his eyes were as a flame of fire; and his feet like unto burnished brass, as if it had been refined in a furnace; and his voice as the voice of many waters. And he had in his right hand seven stars: and out of his mouth proceeded a sharp two-edged sword; and his countenance was as the sun shineth in his strength. And when I saw him, I fell at his feet as one dead. And he laid his right hand upon me, saying, Fear not; I am the first and the last, and the Living one; and I was dead, and behold, I am alive for evermore, and I have the keys of death and of Hades. Write therefore the things which thou sawest, and the things which are, and the things which shall come to pass hereafter; the mystery of the seven stars which thou sawest in my right hand, and the seven golden candlesticks. The seven stars are the angels of the seven churches; and the seven candlesticks are seven churches.

2 To the angel of the church in Ephesus write;

These things saith he that holdeth the seven stars in his right hand, he that walketh in the midst of the seven golden candlesticks: I know thy works, and thy toil and patience, and that thou canst not bear evil men, and didst try them which call themselves apostles, and they are not, and didst find them false; and thou hast patience and didst bear for my name's sake, and hast not grown weary. But I have this against thee, that thou didst leave thy first love. Remember therefore from whence thou art fallen, and repent, and do the first works; or else I come to thee, and will move thy candlestick out of its place, except thou repent. But this thou hast, that thou hatest the works of the Nicolaitans, which I also hate. He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith to the churches. To him that overcometh, to him will I give to eat of the tree of life, which is in the Paradise of God.

3 And to the angel of the church in Smyrna write;

These things saith the first and the last, which was dead, and lived again: I know thy tribulation, and thy poverty (but thou art rich), and the blasphemy of them which say they are Jews, and they are not, but are a synagogue of Satan. Fear not the things which thou art about to suffer: behold, the devil is about to cast some of you into prison, that ye may be tried; and ye shall have tribulation ten days. Be thou faithful unto death, and I will give thee the crown of life. He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith to the churches. He that overcometh shall not be hurt of the second death.

4 And to the angel of the church in Pergamum write;

These things saith he that hath the sharp two-edged sword: I know where thou dwellest, even where Satan's throne is; and thou holdest fast my name, and didst not deny my faith, even in the days of Antipas my witness, my faithful one, who was killed among you, where Satan dwelleth. But I have a few things against thee, because thou hast there some that hold the teaching of Balaam, who taught Balak to cast a stumblingblock before the children of Israel, to eat things sacrificed to idols, and to commit fornication. So hast thou also some that hold the teaching of the Nicolaitans in like manner. Repent therefore; or else I come to thee quickly, and I will make war against them with the sword of my mouth. He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith to the churches. To him that overcometh, to him will I give of the hidden manna, and I will give him a white stone, and upon the stone a new name written, which no one knoweth but he that receiveth it.

5 And to the angel of the church in Thyatira write;

These things saith the Son of God, who hath his eyes like a flame of fire, and his feet are like unto burnished brass: I know thy works, and thy love and faith and ministry and patience, and that thy last works are more than the first. But I have this against thee, that thou sufferest the woman Jezebel, which calleth herself a prophetess; and she teacheth and seduceth my servants to commit fornication, and to eat things sacrificed to idols. And I gave her time that she should repent; and she willeth not to repent of her fornication. Behold, I do cast her into a bed, and them that commit adultery with her into great tribulation, except they repent of her works. And I will kill her children with death; and all the churches shall know that I am he which searcheth the reins and hearts: and I will give unto each one of you according to your works. But to you I say, to the rest that are in Thyatira, as many as have not this teaching, which know not the deep things of Satan, as they say; I cast upon you none other burden. Howbeit that which ye have, hold fast till I come. And he that overcometh, and he that keepeth my works unto the end, to him will I give authority over the nations: and he shall rule them with a rod of iron, as the vessels of the potter are broken to shivers; as I also have received of my Father; and I will give him the morning star. He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith to the churches.

6 And to the angel of the church in Sardis write;

These things saith he that hath the seven Spirits of God, and the seven stars: I know thy works, that thou hast a name that thou livest, and thou art dead. Be thou watchful, and stablish the things that remain, which were ready to die; for I have found no works of thine fulfilled before my God. Remember therefore how thou hast received and didst hear; and keep it, and repent. If therefore thou shalt not watch, I will come as a thief, and thou shalt not know what hour I will come 4 upon thee. But thou hast a few names in Sardis which did not defile their garments: and they shall walk with me in white; for they are

 5 worthy. He that overcometh shall thus be arrayed in white garments; and I will in no wise blot his name out of the book of life, and I will confess his name before my Father,
 6 and before his angels. He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith to the churches.

7 And to the angel of the church in Philadelphia write;

These things saith he that is holy, he that is true, he that hath the key of David, he that openeth, and none shall shut, and that shutteth, and none openeth: I know thy works (behold, I have <sup>1</sup>set before thee a door opened, which none can shut), that thou hast a little power, and didst keep my word, and didst not deny my name. Behold, I give of the synagogue of Satan, of them which say they are Jews, and they are not, but do lie; behold, I will make them to come and worship before thy feet, and to know that I have 10 loved thee. Because thou didst keep the word of my patience, I also will keep thee from the hour of <sup>2</sup>trial, that <sup>3</sup>hour which is to come upon the whole <sup>3</sup>world, to <sup>4</sup>try them that dwell upon the earth. I come quickly: hold fast that which thou hast, 12 that no one take thy crown. He that overcometh, I will make him a pillar in the <sup>5</sup>temple of my God, and he shall go out thence no more: and I will write upon him the name of my God, and the name of the city of my God, the new Jerusalem, which cometh down out of heaven from my God, and mine own new 13 name. He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith to the churches.

14 And to the angel of the church in Laodicea write:

These things saith the Amen, the faithful and true witness, the beginning of the creation of God: I know thy works, that thou art neither cold nor hot: I would thou wert cold or hot. So because thou art lukewarm, and neither hot nor cold, I will spew thee out of my mouth. Because thou sayest, I am rich, and have gotten riches, and have need of nothing; and knowest not that thou art the wretched one and miserable and poor and blind and naked: I counsel thee to buy of me gold refined by fire, that thou mayest become rich; and white garments, that thou mayest clothe thyself, and that the shame of thy nakedness be not made manifest; and eyesalve to anoint thine eyes, that thou mayest see. As many as I love, I reprove and chasten: be zealous 20 therefore, and repent. Behold, I stand at the door and knock: if any man hear my voice and open the door, I will come in to him, and will sup with him, and he with me. He that overcometh, I will give to him to sit down with me in my throne, as I also overcame, and sat down with my Father in his throne. He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith to the churches.

4 After these things I saw, and behold, a door opened in heaven, and the first voice which I heard, a voice as of a trumpet speaking with me, one saying, Come up hither, and I will shew thee the things which must <sup>6</sup>come to pass hereafter. Straightway I was in the Spirit: and behold, there was a throne set in heaven, and one sitting upon the throne; and he that sat ~~was~~ to look upon like a jasper stone and a sardius: and there was a rainbow round about the throne,
 4 like an emerald to look upon. And round about the throne ~~were~~ four and twenty thrones: and upon the thrones I ~~saw~~ four and twenty elders sitting, arrayed in white garments; and on their heads crowns
 5 of gold. And out of the throne proceed lightnings and voices and thunders. And there ~~were~~ seven lamps of fire burning before the throne, which are the seven Spirits
 6 of God; and before the throne, as it were a glassy sea like unto crystal: and in the midst of the throne, and round about the throne, four living creatures full of eyes before
 7 and behind. And the first creature ~~was~~ like a lion, and the second creature like a calf, and the third creature had a face as of a man, and the fourth creature ~~was~~ like a flying
 8 eagle. And the four living creatures, having each one of them six wings, are full of eyes round about and within: and they have no rest day and night, saying, Holy, holy, holy, is the Lord God, the Almighty, which was and which is and <sup>7</sup>which is to come. And when the living creatures shall give glory and honour and thanks to him that sitteth on the throne, to him that liveth
 10 <sup>8</sup>for ever and ever, the four and twenty elders shall fall down before him that sitteth on the throne, and shall worship him that liveth <sup>8</sup>for ever and ever, and shall cast their crowns before the throne, saying,
 11 Worthy art thou, our Lord and our God, to receive the glory and the honour and the power: for thou didst create all things, and because of thy will they were, and were created.

5 And I saw <sup>9</sup>in the right hand of him that sat on the throne a book written within and on the back, 2 close sealed with seven seals. And I saw a strong angel proclaiming with a great voice, Who is worthy to open the book, and to loose the 3 seals thereof? And no one in the heaven, or on the earth, or under the earth, was able to open the 4 book, or to look thereon. And I wept much, because no one was found worthy to open the book, or 5 to look thereon: and one of the elders saith unto me, Weep not: behold, the Lion that is of the tribe of Judah, the Root of David, hath overcome, to open the book and the 6 seven seals thereof. And I saw in the midst of the throne and of the four living creatures, and in the midst of the elders, a Lamb standing, as though it had been slain, having seven horns, and seven eyes, which are the 1 seven Spirits of God, sent forth into all the earth.

7 And he came, and he 2 taketh it out of the right hand of him that sat on the throne. And when he had taken the book, the four living creatures and the four and twenty elders fell down before the Lamb, having each one a harp, and golden bowls full of incense, which are the prayers of 9 the saints. And they sing a new song, saying, Worthy art thou to take the book, and to open the seals thereof: for thou wast slain, and didst purchase unto God with thy blood 10 men of every tribe, and tongue, and people, and nation, and madest them to be unto our God a kingdom and priests; and they reign upon 11 the earth. And I saw, and I heard a voice of many angels round about the throne and the living creatures and the elders; and the number of them was ten thousand times ten thousand, and thousands of thou- 12 sands; saying with a great voice, Worthy is the Lamb that hath been slain to receive the power, and riches, and wisdom, and might, and 13 honour, and glory, and blessing. And every created thing which is in the heaven, and on the earth, and under the earth, and on the sea, and all things that are in them, heard I saying, Unto him that sitteth on the throne, and unto the Lamb, be the blessing, and the honour, and the glory, and the dominion, 3 for 14 ever and ever. And the four living creatures said, Amen. And the elders fell down and worshipped.

6 And I saw when the Lamb opened one of the seven seals, and I heard one of the four living creatures saying as with a voice of thunder, 2 Come 4. And I saw, and behold, a white horse, and he that sat thereon had a bow; and there was given unto him a crown: and he came forth conquering, and to conquer.

3 And when he opened the second seal, I heard the second living creature saying, Come 4. And another horse came forth, a red horse: and to him that sat thereon it was given to take 5 peace from the earth, and that they should slay one another: and there was given unto him a great sword.

5 And when he opened the third seal, I heard the third living creature saying, Come 4. And I saw, and behold, a black horse; and he that sat thereon had a balance in his 6 hand. And I heard as it were a voice in the midst of the four living creatures saying, A 6 measure of wheat for a 7 penny, and three measures of barley for a 7 penny; and the oil and the wine hurt thou not.

7 And when he opened the fourth seal, I heard the voice of the fourth 8 living creature saying, Come 4. And I saw, and behold, a pale horse: and he that sat upon him, his name was Death; and Hades followed with him. And there was given unto them authority over the fourth part of the earth, to kill with sword, and with famine, and with 8 death, and by the wild beasts of the earth.

9 And when he opened the fifth seal, I saw underneath the altar the souls of them that had been slain for the word of God, and for the testimony which they held: and they cried with a great voice, saying, How long, O Master, the holy and true, dost thou not judge and avenge our blood on them that dwell on the earth? 10 And there was given them to each one a white robe; and it was said unto them, that they should rest yet for a little time, until their fellow-servants also and their brethren, which should be killed even as they were, should 9 be fulfilled.

12 And I saw when he opened the sixth seal, and there was a great earthquake; and the sun became black as sackcloth of hair, and the whole moon became as blood; and the stars of the heaven fell unto the earth, as a fig tree casteth her unripe figs, when she is shaken of a 13 great wind. And the heaven was removed as a scroll when it is rolled up; and every mountain and island were moved out of their places.

15 And the kings of the earth, and the princes, and the 10 chief captains, and the rich, and the strong, and every bondman and freeman, hid themselves in the caves and in the rocks 16 of the mountains; and they say to the mountains and to the rocks, Fall on us, and hide us from the face of him that sitteth on the throne, and 17 from the wrath of the Lamb: for the great day of their wrath is come; and who is able to stand?

7 After this I saw four angels standing at the four corners of the earth, holding the four winds of the earth, that no wind should blow on the earth, or on the sea, or upon any 2 tree. And I saw another angel ascend from the sunrise, having the seal of the living God: and he cried with a great voice to the four angels, to whom it was given to hurt 3 the earth and the sea, saying, Hurt not the earth, neither the sea, nor the trees, till we shall have sealed the servants of our God on their 4 foreheads. And I heard the number of them which were sealed, a hundred and forty and four thousand, sealed out of every tribe of the children of Israel.

- 5 Of the tribe of Judah were sealed twelve thousand:
Of the tribe of Reuben twelve thousand:
Of the tribe of Gad twelve thousand:
6 Of the tribe of Asher twelve thousand:
Of the tribe of Naphtali twelve thousand:
Of the tribe of Manasseh twelve thousand:
7 Of the tribe of Simeon twelve thousand:
Of the tribe of Levi twelve thousand:
Of the tribe of Issachar twelve thousand:
8 Of the tribe of Zebulun twelve thousand:
Of the tribe of Joseph twelve thousand:
Of the tribe of Benjamin were sealed twelve thousand.

9 After these things I saw, and behold, a great multitude, which no man could number, out of every nation, and of all tribes and peoples and tongues, standing before the throne and before the Lamb, arrayed in white robes, and palms in their hands; and they cry with a great voice, saying, Salvation unto our God which sitteth on the throne, 11 and unto the Lamb. And all the angels were standing round about the throne, and about the elders and the four living creatures; and they fell before the throne on their faces, 12 and worshipped God, saying, Amen:

1 Blessing, and glory, and wisdom, and thanksgiving, and honour, and power, and might, be unto our God 13 for ever and ever. Amen. And one of the elders answered, saying unto me, These which are arrayed in the white robes, who are they, and whence came they? And I 14 say unto him, My lord, thou knowest. And he said to me, These are they which come out of the great tribulation, and they washed their robes, and made them white in the blood of the Lamb. Therefore are they 15 before the throne of God; and they serve him day and night in his temple: and he that sitteth on the throne shall spread his tabernacle over them. They shall hunger no more, neither thirst any more; neither shall the sun strike upon 17 them, nor any heat: for the Lamb which is in the midst of the throne shall be their shepherd, and shall guide them unto fountains of waters of life: and God shall wipe away every tear from their eyes.

8 And when he opened the seventh seal, there followed a silence in heaven about the space of half an 2 hour. And I saw the seven angels which stand before God; and there were given unto them seven trumpets.

3 And another angel came and stood over the altar, having a golden censer; and there was given unto him much incense, that he should 5 add it unto the prayers of all the saints upon the golden altar which 4 was before the throne. And the smoke of the incense, 6 with the prayers of the saints, went up before God out of the angel's hand. 5 And the angel 7 taketh the censer; and he filled it with the fire of the altar, and cast it 8 upon the earth: and there followed thunders, and voices, and lightnings, and an earthquake.

6 And the seven angels which had the seven trumpets prepared themselves to sound.

7 And the first sounded, and there followed hail and fire, mingled with blood, and they were cast 8 upon the earth: and the third part of the earth was burnt up, and the third part of the trees was burnt up, and all green grass was burnt up.

8 And the second angel sounded, and as it were a great mountain burning with fire was cast into the sea: and the third part of the sea

9 became blood; and there died the third part of the creatures which were in the sea, even they that had life; and the third part of the ships was destroyed.

10 And the third angel sounded, and there fell from heaven a great star, burning as a torch, and it fell upon the third part of the rivers, and upon the fountains of the waters; 11 and the name of the star is called Wormwood: and the third part of the waters became wormwood; and many men died of the waters, because they were made bitter.

12 And the fourth angel sounded, and the third part of the sun was smitten, and the third part of the moon, and the third part of the stars: that the third part of them should be darkened, and the day should not shine for the third part of it, and the night in like manner.

13 And I saw, and I heard 2 an eagle, flying in mid heaven, saying with a great voice, Woe, woe, woe, for them that dwell on the earth, by reason of the other voices of the trumpet of the three angels, who are yet to sound.

9 And the fifth angel sounded, and I saw a star from heaven fallen unto the earth: and there was given to him the key of the pit of the abyss.

2 And he opened the pit of the abyss; and there went up a smoke out of the pit, as the smoke of a great furnace; and the sun and the air were darkened by reason of the

3 smoke of the pit. And out of the smoke came forth locusts upon the earth; and power was given them, as the scorpions of the earth have 4 power. And it was said unto them that they should not hurt the grass of the earth, neither any green thing, neither any tree, but only such men as have not the seal of God on their foreheads. And it was given them that they should not kill them, but that they should be tormented five months: and their torment was as the torment of a scorpion, when it striketh a man. And in those days men shall seek death, and shall in no wise find it; and they shall desire to die, and death fleeth from them. And the <sup>1</sup>shapes of the locusts were like unto horses prepared for war: and upon their heads as it were crowns like unto gold, and their faces were as men's faces. And they had hair as the hair of women, and their teeth were as <sup>2</sup>the teeth of lions. And they had breastplates, as it were breastplates of iron; and the sound of their wings was as the sound of chariots, of many horses rushing to war. And they have tails like unto scorpions, and stings; and in their tails is their power to hurt men five months. They have over them as king the angel of the abyss: his name in Hebrew is Abaddon, and in the Greek tongue he hath the name <sup>2</sup>Apollyon.

<sup>12</sup> The first Woe is past: behold, there come yet two Woës hereafter. <sup>13</sup> And the sixth angel sounded, and I heard <sup>3</sup>a voice from the horns of the golden altar which is before God, one saying to the sixth angel, which had the trumpet, Loose the four angels which are bound at the great river Euphrates. And the four angels were loosed, which had been prepared for the hour and day and month and year, that they should kill the third part of men. And the number of the armies of the horsemen was twice ten thousand times ten thousand: I heard the number of them. And thus I saw the horses in the vision, and them that sat on them, having breastplates as of fire and of hyacinth and of brimstone: and the heads of the horses are as the heads of lions; and out of their mouths proceedeth fire and smoke and brimstone. By these three plagues was the third part of men killed, by the fire and the smoke and the brimstone, which proceeded out of their mouths. For the power of the horses is in their mouth, and in their tails: for their tails are like unto serpents, and have heads: and with them they do hurt. And the rest of mankind, which were not killed with these plagues, repented not of the works of their hands, that they should not worship <sup>4</sup>devils, and the idols of gold, and of silver, and of brass, and of stone, and of wood; which can neither see, nor hear, nor walk: and they repented not of their murders, nor of their sorceries, nor of their fornication, nor of their thefts.

<sup>10</sup> And I saw another strong angel coming down out of heaven, arrayed with a cloud; and the rainbow was upon his head, and his face was as the sun, and his feet as pillars of fire; and he had in his hand a little book open: and he set his right foot upon the sea, and his left upon the earth; and he cried with a great voice, as a lion roareth; and when he cried, the seven thunders uttered their voices. And when the seven thunders uttered <sup>5</sup>their voices, I was about to write: and I heard a voice from heaven saying, Seal up the things which the seven thunders uttered, and write them not. And the angel which I saw standing upon the sea and upon the earth lifted up his right hand to heaven, and sware by him that liveth <sup>6</sup>for ever and ever, who created the heaven and the things that are therein, and the earth and the things that are therein, <sup>6</sup>and the sea and the things that are therein, that there shall be <sup>7</sup>time no longer: <sup>7</sup>but in the days of the voice of the seventh angel, when he is about to sound, then is finished the mystery of God, according to the good tidings which he declared to his servants the prophets. And the voice which I heard from heaven, I heard it again speaking with me, and saying, Go, take the book which is open in the hand of the angel that standeth upon the sea and upon the earth. And I went unto the angel, saying unto him that he should give me the little book. And he saith unto me, Take it, and eat it up; and it shall make thy belly bitter, but in thy mouth it shall be sweet as honey. And I took the little book out of the angel's hand, and ate it up; and it was in my mouth sweet as honey: and when I had eaten it, my belly was made bitter. And they say unto me, Thou must prophesy again <sup>8</sup>over many peoples and nations and tongues and kings.

<sup>11</sup> And there was given me a reed like unto a rod: <sup>9</sup>and one said, Rise, and measure the temple of God, and the altar, and them that worship therein. And the court which is without the temple <sup>10</sup>leave without, and measure it not; for it hath been given unto the nations: and the holy city shall they tread under foot forty and two months. And I will give unto my two witnesses, and they shall prophesy a thousand two hundred and threescore days, clothed in sackcloth. These are the two olive trees and the two <sup>11</sup>candelsticks, standing before the Lord of the earth. And if any man desireth to hurt them, fire proceedeth out of their mouth, and devoureth their enemies: and if any man shall desire to hurt them, in this manner must he be killed. their prophecy: and they have power over the waters to turn them into blood, and to smite the earth with every plague, as often as they shall desire. And when they shall have finished their testimony, the beast that cometh up out of the abyss shall make war with them, and overcome them, and kill them. And their <sup>1</sup> dead bodies lie in the street of the great city, which spiritually is called Sodom and Egypt, where also their Lord was crucified. And from among the peoples and tribes and tongues and nations do men look upon their <sup>1</sup> dead bodies three days and a half, and suffer not their dead bodies to be laid in a tomb. And they that dwell on the earth rejoice over them, and make merry; and they shall send gifts one to another; because these two prophets tormented them that dwell on the earth. And after the three days and a half the breath of life from God entered into them, and they stood upon their feet; and great fear fell upon them which beheld them. And they heard a great voice from heaven saying unto them, Come up hither. And they went up into heaven in the cloud; and their enemies beheld them. And in that hour there was a great earthquake, and the tenth part of the city fell; and there were killed in the earthquake <sup>2</sup> seven thousand persons; and the rest were affrighted, and gave glory to the God of heaven.

14 The second Woe is past: behold, the third Woe cometh quickly.

15 And the seventh angel sounded; and there followed great voices in heaven, and they said, The kingdom of the world is become the kingdom of our Lord, and of his Christ: and he shall reign <sup>3</sup> for ever and ever.

16 And the four and twenty elders, which sit before God on their thrones, fell upon their faces, and worshipped God, saying, We give thee thanks, O Lord God, the Almighty, which art and which wast; because thou hast taken thy great power, and didst reign. And the nations were wroth, and thy wrath came, and the time of the dead to be judged, and the time to give their reward to thy servants the prophets, and to the saints, and to them that fear thy name, the small and the great; and to destroy them that destroy the earth.

19 And there was opened the temple of God that is in heaven; and there was seen in his temple the ark of his <sup>4</sup> covenant; and there followed lightnings, and voices, and thunders, and an earthquake, and great hail.

12 And a great sign was seen in heaven; a woman arrayed with the sun, and the moon under her feet, and upon her head a crown of twelve stars; and she was with child; and she crieth out, travail-

ing in birth, and in pain to be delivered. And there was seen another sign in heaven: and behold, a great red dragon, having seven heads and ten horns, and upon his heads seven diadems. And his tail draweth the third part of the stars of heaven, and did cast them to the earth: and the dragon stood before the woman which was about to be delivered, that when she was delivered, he might devour her child. And she was delivered of a son, a man child, who is to rule all the nations with a rod of iron; and her child was caught up unto God, and unto his throne. And the woman fled into the wilderness, where she hath a place prepared of God, that there they may nourish her a thousand two hundred and threescore days.

7 And there was war in heaven: Michael and his angels going forth to war with the dragon; and the dragon warred and his angels; and they prevailed not, neither was their place found any more in heaven.

9 And the great dragon was cast down, the old serpent, he that is called the Devil and Satan, the deceiver of the whole <sup>5</sup> world; he was cast down to the earth, and his angels were cast down with him.

10 And I heard a great voice in heaven, saying, <sup>6</sup> Now is come the salvation, and the power, and the kingdom of our God, and the authority of his Christ: for the accuser of our brethren is cast down, which accuseth them before our God day and night. And they overcame him because of the blood of the Lamb, and because of the word of their testimony; and they loved not their life even unto death. Therefore rejoice, O heavens, and ye that <sup>7</sup> dwell in them. Woe for the earth and for the sea: because the devil is gone down unto you, having great wrath, knowing that he hath but a short time.

13 And when the dragon saw that he was cast down to the earth, he persecuted the woman which brought forth the man child. And there were given to the woman the two wings of the great eagle, that she might fly into the wilderness unto her place, where she is nourished for a time, and times, and half a time, from the face of the serpent.

15 And the serpent cast out of his mouth after the woman water as a river, that he might cause her to be carried away by the stream.

16 And the earth helped the woman, and the earth opened her mouth, and swallowed up the river which the dragon cast out of his mouth.

17 And the dragon waxed wroth with the woman, and went away to make war with the rest of her seed, which keep the commandments of God, and hold the testimony of Jesus:

And I saw a beast coming up out of the sea, having ten horns and seven heads, and upon his heads names of blasphemy. And the beast which I saw was like unto a leopard, and his feet were as the feet of a bear, and his mouth as the mouth of a lion: and the dragon gave him his power, and his throne, and great authority. And I saw one of his heads as though it had been smitten unto death: and his death-stroke was healed: and the whole earth wondered after the beast; and they worshipped the dragon, because he gave his authority unto the beast; and they worshipped the beast, saying, Who is like unto the beast? and who is able to war with him? and there was given to him a mouth speaking great things and blasphemies; and there was given to him authority <sup>2</sup>to continue forty and two months. And he opened his mouth for blasphemies against God, to blaspheme his name, and his tabernacle, even them that dwell 7 in the heaven. <sup>4</sup>And it was given unto him to make war with the saints, and to overcome them; and there was given to him authority over every tribe and people and tongue and nation. And all that dwell on the earth shall worship him, every one whose name hath not been <sup>5</sup>written in the book of life of the Lamb that hath been slain from the foundation of the world. If any man hath an ear, let him hear. <sup>6</sup>If any man <sup>7</sup>is for captivity, into captivity he goeth; if any man shall kill with the sword, with the sword must he be killed. Here is the patience and the faith of the saints.

11 And I saw another beast coming up out of the earth; and he had two horns like unto a lamb, and he spake as a dragon. And he exerciseth all the authority of the first beast in his sight. And he maketh the earth and them that dwell therein to worship the first beast, whose death-stroke was healed. And he doeth great signs, that he should even make fire to come down out of heaven upon the earth in the sight of men. And he deceiveth them that dwell on the earth by reason of the signs which it was given him to do in the sight of the beast; saying to them that dwell on the earth, that they should make an image to the beast, who hath the stroke of the sword, and lived. And it was given unto him to give breath to it, even to the image of the beast, <sup>8</sup>that the image of the beast should both speak, and cause that as many as should not worship the image of the beast should be killed. And he causeth all the small and the great, and the rich and the poor, and the free and the bond, that there be given them a mark on their right hand, or upon their forehead; and that no man should be able to buy or to sell, save he that hath the mark, even the name of the beast or the number of his name. Here is wisdom. He that hath understanding, let him count the number of the beast; for it is the number of a man: and his number is <sup>9</sup>Six hundred and sixty and six.

14 And I saw, and behold, the Lamb standing on the mount Zion, and with him a hundred and forty and four thousand, having his name, and the name of his Father, written on their foreheads. And I heard a voice from heaven, as the voice of many waters, and as the voice of a great thunder: and the voice which I heard was as the voice of harpers <sup>3</sup>harping with their harps; and they sing as it were a new song before the throne, and before the four living creatures and the elders: and no man could learn the song save the hundred and forty and four thousand, even they that had been <sup>4</sup>purchased out of the earth. These are they which were not defiled with women: for they are virgins. These are they which follow the Lamb whithersoever he goeth. These were purchased from among men, to be the firstfruits unto God and unto the Lamb. And in their mouth was found no lie: they are without blemish.

6 And I saw another angel flying in mid heaven, having an eternal gospel to proclaim unto them that dwell on the earth, and unto every nation and tribe and tongue and people, and he saith with a great voice, Fear God, and give him glory; for the hour of his judgement is come: and worship him that made the heaven and the earth and sea and fountains of waters.

8 And another, a second angel, followed, saying, Fallen, fallen is Babylon the great, which hath made all the nations to drink of the wine of the wrath of her fornication.

9 And another angel a third, followed them, saying with a great voice, If any man worshippeth the beast and his image, and receiveth a mark on his forehead, or upon his hand, he also shall drink of the wine of the wrath of God, which is prepared unmixed in the cup of his anger: and he shall be tormented with fire and brimstone in the presence of the holy angels, and in the presence of the Lamb, and the smoke of their torment goeth up <sup>12</sup>for ever and ever: and they have no rest day and night, they that worship the beast and his image, and whose receiveth the mark of his name. Here is the patience of the saints, they that keep the commandments of God, and the faith of Jesus.

came victorious from the beast, and from his image, and from the number of his name, standing<sup>5</sup> by the glassy sea, having harps of God.

21 And they sing the song of Moses the servant of God, and the song of the Lamb, saying, Great and marvellous are thy works, O Lord God, the Almighty; righteous and true are thy ways, thou King of the<sup>6</sup> ages. Who shall not fear, O Lord, and glorify thy name? for thou only art holy; for all the nations shall come and worship before thee: for thy righteous acts have been made manifest.

22 And after these things I saw, and the temple of the tabernacle of the testimony in heaven was opened: 23 and there came out from the temple the seven angels that had the seven plagues, arrayed<sup>7</sup> with precious stone, pure and bright, and girt about their breasts with golden girdles. And one of the four living creatures gave unto the seven angels seven golden bowls full of the wrath of God, who liveth<sup>8</sup> for ever and ever. And the temple was filled with smoke from the glory of God, and from his power; and none was able to enter into the temple, till the seven plagues of the seven angels should be finished.

16 And I heard a great voice out of the temple, saying to the seven angels, Go ye, and pour out the seven bowls of the wrath of God into the earth.

2 And the first went, and poured out his bowl into the earth; and it became a noisome and grievous sore upon the men which had the mark of the beast, and which worshipped his image,

3 And the second poured out his bowl into the sea; and it became blood as of a dead man; and every living soul died, even the things that were in the sea.

4 And the third poured out his bowl into the rivers and the fountains of the waters; and it became blood. And I heard the angel of the waters saying, Righteous art thou, which art and which wast,

5 thou Holy One, because thou didst thus<sup>12</sup> judge: for they poured out the blood of saints and prophets, and blood hast thou given them to drink: they are worthy. And I heard the altar saying, Yea, O Lord God, the Almighty, true and righteous are thy judgements.

6 And the fourth poured out his bowl upon the sun; and it was given unto<sup>13</sup> it to scorch men with fire.

9 And men were scorched with great heat; and they blasphemed the name of the God which hath the power over these plagues; and they repented not to give him glory.

10 And the fifth poured out his bowl upon the throne of the beast; and his kingdom was darkened; and they gnawed their tongues for pain, and they blasphemed the God of heaven because of their pains and their sores; and they repented not of their works.

12 And the sixth poured out his bowl upon the great river, the river Euphrates; and the water thereof was dried up, that the way might be made ready for the kings that come from the sunrising. And I saw coming out of the mouth of the dragon, and out of the mouth of the beast,
and out of the mouth of the false prophet, three unclean spirits, as it were frogs: for they are spirits of<sup>14</sup> devils, working signs; which go forth<sup>15</sup> unto the kings of the whole world, to gather them together unto the war of the great day of God.

15 The Almighty. (Behold, I come as a thief. Blessed is he that watcheth, and keepeth his garments, lest he walk naked, and they see his shame.) 16 And they gathered them together into the place which is called in Hebrew Har-Magedon.

17 And the seventh poured out his bowl upon the air; and there came forth a great voice out of the temple, from the throne, saying, It is done: and there were lightnings, and voices, and thunders; and there was a great earthquake, such as was not since <sup>1</sup>there were men upon the earth, so great an earthquake, <sup>19</sup>so mighty. And the great city was divided into three parts, and the cities of the nations fell: and Babylon the great was remembered in the sight of God, to give unto her the cup of the wine of the fierceness of his wrath. And every island fled away, and the mountains were not <sup>20</sup>found. And great hail, every stone about the weight of a talent, cometh down out of heaven upon men: and men blasphemed God because of the plague of the hail; for the plague thereof is exceeding great.

<sup>17</sup> And there came one of the seven angels that had the seven bowls, and spake with me, saying, Come hither, I will shew thee the judgement of the great harlot that sitteth upon many waters; with whom the kings of the earth committed fornication, and they that dwell in the earth were made drunken with the <sup>3</sup>wine of her fornication. And he carried me away in the Spirit into a wilderness: and I saw a woman sitting upon a scarlet-coloured beast, <sup>2</sup>full of names of blasphemy, having seven heads and ten horns. And the woman was arrayed in purple and scarlet, and <sup>3</sup>decked with gold and precious stone and pearls, having in her hand a golden cup full of abominations, <sup>4</sup>even the unclean things of her fornication, and upon her forehead a name written, <sup>5</sup>MYSTERY, BABYLON THE GREAT, THE MOTHER OF THE HARLOTS AND OF THE ABOMINATIONS OF THE EARTH. And I saw the woman drunken with the blood of the saints, and with the blood of the <sup>6</sup>martyrs of Jesus. And when I saw her, I wondered with a

<sup>7</sup>great wonder. And the angel said unto me, Wherefore didst thou wonder? I will tell thee the mystery of the woman, and of the beast that carrieth her, which hath the seven <sup>8</sup>heads and the ten horns. The beast that thou sawest was, and is not; and is about to come up out of the abyss, <sup>7</sup>and to go into perdition. And they that dwell on the earth shall wonder, they whose name hath not been written <sup>8</sup>in the book of life from the foundation of the world, when they behold the beast, how that he was, and is not, and <sup>9</sup>shall come. Here is the <sup>10</sup>mind which I hath wisdom. The seven heads are seven mountains, on which the woman sitteth: and <sup>11</sup>they are seven kings: the five are fallen, the one is, the other is not yet come; and when he cometh, he must continue a little while. And the beast that was, and is not, is himself also an eighth, and is of the seven; and he goeth into <sup>12</sup>perdition. And the ten horns that thou sawest are ten kings, which have received no kingdom as yet; but they receive authority as kings, <sup>13</sup>with the beast, for one hour. These have one mind, and they give their power and authority unto the beast.

<sup>14</sup> These shall war against the Lamb, and the Lamb shall overcome them, for he is Lord of lords, and King of kings; and they also shall overcome that are with him, called and chosen and faithful. And he saith unto me, The waters which thou sawest, where the harlot sitteth, are peoples, and multitudes, and nations, <sup>16</sup>and tongues. And the ten horns which thou sawest, and the beast, these shall hate the harlot, and shall make her desolate and naked, and shall eat her flesh, and shall burn <sup>17</sup>her utterly with fire. For God did put in their hearts to do his mind, and to come to one mind, and to give their kingdom unto the beast, until the words of God should be accomplished. And the woman whom thou sawest is the great city, which <sup>12</sup>reigneth over the kings of the earth.

<sup>4</sup> And I heard another voice from heaven, saying, Come forth, my people, out of her, that ye have no fellowship with her sins, and that ye <sup>5</sup>receive not of her plagues: for her sins <sup>18</sup>have reached even unto heaven, and God hath remembered her <sup>6</sup>iniquities. Render unto her even as she rendered, and double unto her the double according to her works: in the cup which she mingled, mingle unto her double. How much soever she glorified herself, and waxed <sup>19</sup>wanton, so much give her of torment and mourning: for she saith in her heart, I sit a queen, and am no widow, and shall in no wise see <sup>8</sup>mourning. Therefore in one day shall her plagues come, death, and mourning, and famine: and she shall be utterly burned with fire; for strong is <sup>20</sup>the Lord God which judged her. And the kings of the earth, who committed fornication and lived <sup>21</sup>wantonly with her, shall weep and wail over her, when they look upon the smoke of her burning, <sup>10</sup>standing afar off for the fear of her torment, saying, Woe, woe, the great city, Babylon, the strong city! for in one hour is thy judgement come. <sup>11</sup> And the merchants of the earth weep and mourn over her, for no man buyeth their <sup>22</sup>merchandise kings of the earth, and their armies, gathered together to make war against him that sat upon the horse, and against his army. And the beast was taken, and with him the false prophet that wrought the signs in his sight, wherewith he deceived them that had received the mark of the beast, and them that worshipped his image: they twain were cast alive into the lake of fire that burneth with brimstone: and the rest were killed with the sword of him that sat upon the horse, even the sword which came forth out of his mouth: and all the birds were filled with their flesh.

20 And I saw an angel coming down out of heaven, having the key of the abyss and a great chain <sup>1</sup> in his hand. And he laid hold on the dragon, the old serpent, which is the Devil and Satan, and bound him for a thousand years, and cast him into the abyss, and shut it, and sealed it over him, that he should deceive the nations no more, until the thousand years should be finished: after this he must be loosed for a little time.

4 And I saw thrones, and they sat upon them, and judgement was given unto them: and I saw the souls of them that had been beheaded for the testimony of Jesus, and for the word of God, and such as worshipped not the beast, neither his image, and received not the mark upon their forehead and upon their hand; and they lived, and reigned with Christ a thousand years. The rest of the dead lived not until the thousand years should be finished. This is the first resurrection. Blessed and holy is he that hath part in the first resurrection: over these the second death hath no <sup>2</sup> power; but they shall be priests of God and of Christ, and shall reign with him <sup>3</sup> a thousand years.

7 And when the thousand years are finished, Satan shall be loosed out of his prison, and shall come forth to deceive the nations which are in the four corners of the earth, Gog and Magog, to gather them together to the war: the number of whom is as the sand of the sea. And they went up over the breadth of the earth, and compassed the camp of the saints about, and the beloved city: and fire came down <sup>4</sup> out of heaven, and devoured them. And the devil that deceived them was cast into the lake of fire and brimstone, where are also the beast and the false prophet: and they shall be tormented day and night <sup>5</sup> for ever and ever.

11 And I saw a great white throne, and him that sat upon it, from whose face the earth and the heaven fled away: and there was found no place for them. And I saw the dead, the great and the small, standing before the throne: and books were opened: and another book was opened, which is the book of life: and the dead were judged out of the things which were written in the books, according to their works.

13 And the sea gave up the dead which were in it; and death and Hades gave up the dead which were in them: and they were judged every man according to their works. And death and Hades were cast into the lake of fire. This is the second death, even the lake of fire. And if any was not found written in the book of life, he was cast into the lake of fire.

21 And I saw a new heaven and a new earth: for the first heaven and the first earth are passed away; and the sea is no more. And I saw <sup>6</sup> the holy city, new Jerusalem, coming down out of heaven from God, made ready as a bride adorned for her husband. And I heard a great voice out of the throne saying, Behold, the tabernacle of God is with men, and he shall <sup>7</sup> dwell with them, and they shall be his peoples, and God himself shall be with them, and <sup>8</sup> be their God: and he shall wipe away every tear from their eyes; and death shall be no more; neither shall there be mourning, nor crying, nor pain, any more: the first things are passed away.

5 And he that sitteth on the throne said, Behold, I make all things new. And he saith, <sup>9</sup> Write: for these words are faithful and true. And he said unto me, They are come to pass. I am the Alpha and the Omega, the beginning and the end. I will give unto him that is athirst of the fountain of the water of life freely. He that overcometh shall inherit these things; and I will be his God, and he shall be my son. 8 But for the fearful, and unbelieving, and abominable, and murderers, and fornicators, and sorcerers, and idolaters, and all liars, their part shall be in the lake that burneth with fire and brimstone; which is the second death.

9 And there came one of the seven angels who had the seven bowls, who were laden with the seven last plagues; and he spake with me, saying, Come hither, I will shew thee the bride, the wife of the Lamb. 10 And he carried me away in the Spirit to a mountain great and high, and shewed me the holy city Jerusalem, coming down out of heaven from God, having the glory of God: her <sup>10</sup> light was like unto a stone most precious, as it were a jasper stone, clear as crystal: having a wall great and high; having twelve <sup>11</sup> gates, and at the <sup>11</sup> gates twelve angels; and names written thereon, which are the names of the twelve tribes of the children of Israel: on the east were three <sup>11</sup> gates; and on the north three <sup>11</sup> gates; and on the a golden reed to measure the city, and the <sup>1</sup> gates thereof, and the wall square, and the length thereof is as great as the breadth: and he measured the city with the reed, twelve thousand furlongs: the length and the breadth and the height thereof are equal. And he measured the wall

17 thereof, a hundred and forty and four cubits, according to the measure of a man, that is, of an angel. And the building of the wall thereof was 18 jasper: and the city was pure gold, like unto pure glass. The foundations of the wall of the city were adorned with all manner of precious

21 And the twelve <sup>1</sup> gates were twelve pearls; each one of the several <sup>1</sup> gates was of one pearl: and the street of the city was pure gold, <sup>4</sup> as 22 it were transparent glass. And I saw no temple therein: for the Lord

God the Almighty, and the Lamb, 23 are the temple thereof. And the city hath no need of the sun, neither of the moon, to shine upon it: for the glory of God did lighten it, <sup>5</sup> and the lamp thereof is the Lamb. And the nations shall walk <sup>6</sup> amidst the 24 light thereof: and the kings of the earth do bring their glory into it.

25 And the <sup>1</sup> gates thereof shall in no wise be shut by day (for there shall 26 be no night there): and they shall bring the glory and the honour of the nations into it: and there shall in no wise enter into it anything

27 <sup>7</sup> unclean, or he that <sup>8</sup> maketh an abomination and a lie: but only they which are written in the book of life.

shewed me a river of water of life, bright as crystal, proceeding out of the throne of God and of <sup>10</sup> the Lamb.

29 In the midst of the street thereof.
And on this side of the river and on that was <sup>11</sup> the tree of life, bearing twelve <sup>12</sup> manner of fruits, yielding

30 its fruit every month: and the leaves of the tree were for the healing of the nations. And there shall be <sup>13</sup> no curse any more: and the throne of 31 God and of the Lamb shall be therein: and his servants shall do him service; and they shall see his face;

and his name shall be on their fore-32 heads. And there shall be night no more; and they need no light of lamp, neither light of sun; for the Lord God shall give them light: and they shall reign <sup>14</sup> for ever and ever.

33 And he said unto me, These words are faithful and true: and the Lord, the God of the spirits of the prophets, sent his angel to shew unto 34 his servants the things which must shortly come to pass. And behold, I come quickly. Blessed is he that keepeth the words of the prophecy of this book.

35 And I John am he that heard and saw these things. And when I heard and saw, I fell down to worship before the feet of the angel which 36 shewed me these things. And he saith unto me, See thou do it not:

I am a fellow-servant with thee and with thy brethren the prophets, and with them which keep the words of 37 this book: worship God.

38 And he saith unto me, Seal not up the words of the prophecy of this book: for the time is at hand. He 39 that is unrighteous, let him do unrighteousness <sup>15</sup> still: and he that is filthy, let him be made filthy <sup>16</sup> still:

and he that is righteous, let him do

40 righteousness <sup>17</sup> still: and he that is holy, let him be made holy <sup>18</sup> still.
41 Behold, I come quickly: and my <sup>19</sup> reward is with me, to render to each man according as his work is.

42 I am the Alpha and the Omega, the first and the last, the beginning and the end. Blessed are they that wash their robes, that they may have <sup>20</sup> the 43 right to come to the tree of life, and may enter in by the <sup>1</sup> gates into the city. Without are the dogs, and the sorcerers, and the fornicators, and the murderers, and the idolaters, and every one that loveth and <sup>21</sup> maketh

44 a lie.
45 I Jesus have sent mine angel to testify unto you these things <sup>22</sup> for the churches. I am the root and the offspring of David, the bright,
the morning star.

say, Come. And he that heareth, let him say, Come. And he that is a-thirst, let him come: he that will,
let him take the water of life freely.

47 I testify unto every man that heareth the words of the prophecy of this book. If any man shall add <sup>23</sup> unto them, God shall add <sup>24</sup> unto him the plagues which are written

48 in this book: and if any man shall take away from the words of the book of this prophecy, God shall
